TRAIN TRAVELS SLOWLY

Night Is Spent on Journey Out of Georgia—Day Devoted to Jacksonville

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Oct. 21.—The President and his party arrived here at 10:30 o'clock today.

Brief Stop at Folkston FOLKSTON, Ga., Oct. 21.—The President's train stopped here for a few moments this morning.

Trains All Night JESSUP, Ga., Oct. 21.—President Roosevelt will spend Sunday in Florida.

His special train, scheduled to stop here, spent ten minutes. On its arrival at 5:40 o'clock this morning engines were changed.

In order to insure the comfort of the presidential party during the overnight trip the special was timed to run slowly and almost seven hours and a half were consumed in covering the 145 miles from Macon, the last stop made last night.

Jacksonville was the objective point today, the train being scheduled to reach there at 10:30 a. m. From that hour until 4:30 the moments were crowded with ceremony and entertainment.

The President first reviewed the civic and military parade, in which state troops participated. Before leaving the review stand the President delivered an address.

He was then carried off to the rooms of the Board of Trade for an elaborate luncheon.

This eve, a drive through the city followed. Incidents of the drive were the review of the grammar school children and an address to the pupils of the Florida Colonial Baptist Academy and colored people generally.

St. Augustine, where the President will spend Sunday, will be reached at 6 o'clock tonight.

Thousands of cheering people gathered at the depot and on the arrival of the train a special reception committee of 100 leading citizens lined up, making a passage way through the depot to the street, where the carriages were in waiting.

A special committee consisting of Governor Broward, Mayor Nolin, Vice President Warner of the Board of Trade, United States Senators Tullifer and Mallory, and Congressmen Spaulding, Lamar and Clark and Editors Wilson and Carter then proceeded to the president's car and gave him a cordial greeting.

The weather was ideal. There were no formal exercises at the station, although the President occupied was drawn by a magnificent pair of white horses and in the presidential carriage were the President, Governor Broward, Mayor Nolin and Secretary Iock.

After driving through the principal streets, the President was taken to the Sembole Club on the principal square in the city, where thousands of people greeted him with rousing cheers as he made his appearance on the balcony.

Governor Broward presented the President to the multitude. After the President concluded his address he was driven to the Jacksonville Board of Trade, President Warner of the Board of Trade then took the distinguished visitor in charge, and the President's entrance to the beautifully decorated auditorium was the signal for the most enthusiastic outburst the President has yet received.

The interior of the large auditorium was decorated in typical Florida manner, with flowers, national colors, oranges and alligators. Luncheon was then served.

After the speaking, the President drove over the city, calling at the Colored Baptist Academy, where he made a ten-minute speech to thousands of negroes.

WENT HALF ROUND WORLD TO ELOPE

Pennsylvania Girl Surprised Even Members of Family by Journey From Greece to New York

OXFORD, Pa., Oct. 21.—Traveling half way around the world to elope with her fiance, Miss Josephine Lovett surprised all her friends by suddenly appearing in Oxford as the bride of Clyde Menough, a well known young man of this place.

Both persons are members of prominent families in this section, the bride being a niece of John W. Woodside, the Philadelphia millionaire. She had been to Athens, Greece, with her family, expecting to spend a year, but after three months she insisted upon returning to this country.

Her fiance met her in New York and they were married at once. They came on to Oxford, surprising even their parents, who had not been let into the secret.

Their engagement had been announced for some time, and as there was no opposition the romantic young couple found only a royal welcome awaiting them upon their return home.

ENGLAND CELEBRATES GREAT NAVAL VICTORY

Hundredth Anniversary of Admiral Nelson's Victory at Cape Trafalgar

LONDON, Oct. 21.—In every part of the British empire and wherever a British man of war floats the one-hundredth anniversary of Nelson's victory over the combined fleets of France and Spain off Cape Trafalgar is being celebrated today.

On all ships of the navy at a given hour flags are dipped, while the bands play the dead march. Nelson's old flagship Victoria, lying in the Portsmouth harbor, is decked from stem to stern with bunting and thousands of electric lights are strung everywhere for the night illumination of the battleship.

It was proposed to illuminate the Nelson monument on Trafalgar Square here but fearing a tremendous crush of people with the accompanying accidents, the authorities forbade it.

In London the day's celebration began with a torch light parade on the Nelson column. Immense crowds assembled when Nelson's famous signal: "England expects this day that every man shall do his duty" was unfurled and a military review was up.

The day is cold and threatening, but this did not deter the people from coming out to participate in the nation's holiday. Trafalgar is elaborately decorated and naturally the center of interest is being manifested in the thousands of wreaths from the colonies, provinces and various cities of the empire which are being sent in masses to the base of Nelson's column.

The column itself has been covered with laurels and streamers stretching from the tip of the statue to its base. The boys of the naval colleges, who were held at Portsmouth during the morning and after saluting the column by presenting arms, placed on it a wreath from Admiral Toke. The services, which all largely attended, were held at midnight in St. Paul's Cathedral, where Nelson lies buried, and in other churches.

All informed the chiefs who are assisting the federal troops in effecting the capture that he is now preparing to meet and kill them. Provisional companies of troops have taken the field for a vigorous campaign, aided by friendly natives.

Cunliffe Spends Most of the Night Answering Questions of Pinkerton Detectives

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 21.—Edward A. Cunliffe, who committed a $101,000 theft from the Adams Express Company and who was captured Thursday at Bridgeport, Conn., is a thoroughly exhausted and fatigued person today. Upon his arrival from the court last night at 8 o'clock he was immediately taken to the local office of the Pinkerton detective agency where he was put through a process of "sweating" by the officials, that lasted until 4:30 of this morning. Whether it was productive and disclosed the whereabouts of the remainder of the $101,000 could not be learned. Cunliffe was lodged in a cell at the Central police station at 5 o'clock where he slept for some time.

SOUTHERN WOMAN ACCIDENT VICTIM

Coroner's Refusal of Death Certificate Leads to Disclosure Regarding Fatal Injury of Miss Susan Saunders

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Rejection of the death certificate of Miss Susan E. Saunders, a member of a prominent southern family, has led to an official investigation by the coroner, says today's Herald.

Miss Saunders died on Oct. 12 from burns received in the house of Dr. M. Belle Brew, a woman physician on West Fifth street. Dr. Brew made out a certificate that Miss Saunders died from pulmonary edema and burns.

The department of health promptly rejected the certificate on the ground that it was insufficient. Dr. Brew and her sister were subpoenaed by the coroner to tell the manner of Miss Saunders' death.

WALKING THE PLANK

STOCKMEN'S ATTEMPT TO COMBINE FORGES FAILS

Representatives of National and American Stockgrowers Will Meet Again

DENVER, Oct. 21.—The proposition to amalgamate the National Live Stock Association and the American Stock Growers' Association on a basis that would also dispose of the much mooted question of representation of the packing house, railroad and commission house interests, was taken at a joint conference of the executive committee of the two organizations at the Brown Palace hotel yesterday.

A plan outlined by a sub-committee was voted down, after a somewhat extended discussion and the subcommittee instructed to make another effort to formulate a plan that would be acceptable to all interests. The subcommittee will report again today.

The report which was defeated yesterday recommended that the National Live Stock Association be changed to the National Live Stock Committee, consisting of representatives of producers of live stock. This committee would in turn appoint committees on railroads, packing houses, commission houses, etc., which would give those interests a representation and a right to be heard whenever they felt the need of expression. The report recommended that the American Stock Growers' Association become known as the American Cattle Growers' Association, with a membership consisting of cattle, horse and swine growers.

The sheepmen, the report suggested, should affiliate with the American Wool Growers' Association.

BOY PRISONED IN CAR

Ran Inside to Escape Detectives—May Have Starved

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—That 8-year-old Louis Bobak is starving in a box car somewhere along the line of the Pennsylvania railroad between this city and the western grain fields is the belief of the police, who have been investigating his disappearance since last Tuesday. A dispatch to the World from Philadelphia.

Young Bobak was last seen in a grain car destined for the west. Leo Fisher, another boy, says the car was shut while Louis was in it last Tuesday morning. The police were not informed of his disappearance until nearly thirty-six hours later.

Fisher says that Louis, himself and another boy whose name he does not know were playing in an empty car when they saw a man who they took for a railroad detective coming along the track. The man locked it and a few minutes later it was attached to a string of cars and taken away.

Others went out by the railroad company to have every car searched as it passes through Altoona and Pittsburg.

THREE MEN CHARGED WITH THEFT OF $1.10

Glen Rose Postoffice Robbery Already Has Cost Government Many Times Original Loss

WACO, Texas, Oct. 21.—An unusual examining trial took place Wednesday afternoon before United States Commissioner A. P. McCormick, when three men accused by complaint with robbing the postoffice at Glen Rose last November, were before the court. The unusual feature in the case was found in the fact that Amos Robinson, one of the men, was constable of the Glen Rose precinct when arrested and still holds that place. The other two men were H. Lewinduski and Ray Parsons, the latter of Cleburne. The men were arrested several days ago by Deputy United States Marshal Cliff Torrence. The bond of Robinson and Lewinduski was placed at $700 in each case and that of Parsons at $200 to appear and await the action of the grand jury. A detective has been working on the case some time. The government lost just $1.10. Assistant United States Attorney Charles C. Crosson of San Antonio represented the government, but Lewinduski was the only one of the prisoners who had counsel. A big lot of witnesses were present and the case has already cost the government more than two hundred times the amount lost.

MUTUAL ACTUARY TO GO ON STAND

Emory McClintock, to Whom President McCurdy Has Referred, Likely to Be Summoned

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—It is the present intention of the legislative life insurance committee to put Emory McClintock on the witness stand when the committee resumes its sessions on Tuesday, says the Tribune.

On several occasions when asked important questions, Richard A. McCurdy, the president of the Mutual Life, has referred the committee to Mr. McClintock, who is one of the company's actuaries, and interesting testimony is looked for.

The investigation will reach James Hazen Hyde next week remains doubtful at present. In addition to the Morristown Trust Company, the Mutual Life, it is said, bought some time ago the controlling interest in the Orange National Bank, of Orange, N. J., making many changes in its management. It is understood that the committee will take up this topic next week.

LOW TEMPERATURE PREVAILS OVER LA.

Forty Degrees Is Record for Stricken State

NEW ORLEANS, La., Oct. 21.—The predicted cold snap struck Louisiana during the night, sending the temperature down into the 40s over a large portion of the state. In New Orleans the temperature fell to 52 degrees.

In Northern Louisiana close to freezing was reported. The effect is expected to be a large addition to the number of cases of influenza which have ordered the removal of quarantines. With the approach of the wave more parishes yesterday raised the bars among them Assumption and Natchitoches.

Vicksburg ordered the lifting of restrictions and it is not improbable her example will be followed by many points in Mississippi.

The fever situation in both the city and state continues to make rapid progress. Only one death occurred all over Louisiana yesterday and the number of cases under treatment in the city has now fallen within the hundred mark. It is possible a sudden change of weather may result in further deaths, of which there have been none in New Orleans during the past three days, but generally the cases now existing are of the lightest character.

There has been such rapid diminution of cases under treatment at the emergency hospital that it is not improbable that institution will be finally closed tomorrow. Thirty-two patients were discharged yesterday and only six remain.

Kemper Hospital has been closed. Only one new case of fever was reported at Patterson yesterday and the situation is so much better there that all but one nurse that was sent to that point will return home. There is rapid improvement in the situation along the Gulf coast and Gulf Port has ordered the closing of her hospital. It is likely communication between New Orleans and the coast will be opened next week.

WATERS-PIERCE COMPANY IS SUED IN TRAVIS CO.

Action Begun by District Attorney, Surprises Attorney General's Office

AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 21.—District Attorney Warren W. Moore anticipated Attorney General Davidson late last evening by filing in the Twenty-sixth district court a suit on behalf of the state against the Waters-Pierce Oil Company for the tax and penalty. The district attorney alleges that the company has not paid its taxes, which, with the penalties, aggregates $30,000. This suit at this time created considerable surprise, especially in the attorney general's department, as Moore is said to have filed the suit without consulting the attorney general.

Special to The Telegram. AUSTIN, Texas, Oct. 21.—District Attorney Warren W. Moore, on behalf of the state, against twelve of the leading railroads of the state for penalties under the Love bill. The penalties aggregate $206,000. This is the result of the decision of Judge Brooks in holding the Love law constitutional. The railroads sued are those involved in the injunction proceedings, several of which was taken to the higher courts.

ROOSEVELT CUTS BILL

Orders Oklahoma Governor's Report Shaved a Hundred Pages

GUTHRIE, O. T., Oct. 21.—The first copy of the 1905 report, made by Governor Tom Ferguson to the secretary of the interior, has been received from Washington, and shows that it was blue-penciled to the extent of 100 pages, cutting it down to a book of 125 pages, probably the smallest report ever printed. It is full of meat, however. A type-written statement accompanying the book says the blue-penciling was done at the order of President Roosevelt to save expenses.

TOM HYER
WAS FIRST
CHAMPION IN AMERICA
CORBETT SAYS

(Copyright, 1905, by Newspaper Enterprise Association.)
Who was America's first champion fighter?
This question is often asked and seldom answered.
One critic not long ago said that "Yankee" Sullivan was the first title holder under the Stars and Stripes.
This claim will not hold water.
Tom Hyer was America's first ring premier and he won the title from Sullivan.
Hyer was a veritable giant who came from a long line of American ancestry. He was six feet two inches tall and weighed close to 190 pounds. From a picture handed to me by an old New York fight fan Hyer was of the tall, rawboned type, with arms resembling poles.
Little is known, or rather little was ever written, about Hyer, and the ring enthusiasts of today know only his name. His early achievements were probably limited to bare fist fights with rough and ready men of his time.
The first fight of any great note in which Hyer took part was with George McCloskey, better known in the early ring history of this country as "Country McCloskey."

No articles were signed and no forfeits were posted. The men simply met and fixed terms of weight and side bets without any writing.
At Caldwell Landing, N. Y., on Sept. 9, 1841, just 64 years before the Britt-Nelson fight, the two men stepped into the ring. Hyer weighed close to 190 and "Country McCloskey" weighed 182.
Few fights in ring history proved more bloody and was longer drawn out than that memorable contest. McCloskey was hammered until his friends could scarcely recognize him. Despite the awful beating he continued to come up round after round until finally near the end of the fight round his seconds threw up the sponge. The actual fighting time was two hours and 55 minutes.
While this fight attracted much attention, no significance was attached to the result. There was still another man who disputed the title to the American championship belt, Yankee Sullivan by name.
"Yankee" put forth the claim that he was never defeated, although his fights were limited to only one section of the country.
Hyer had no difficulty in getting a fight with Sullivan. There was none of that rag-chewing and mud-slinging that characterizes every fight of the present day.

The two men met and for sixteen rounds blood poured from the two men's faces. I believe an old ring fan will still living who saw that fight. I met him in New York shortly after my fight with Peter Jackson.
Hyer used mainly in that battle left and right swings, which seldom failed to cut Sullivan in some different spot. Even Sullivan's breast was so bruised in spots that the blood almost burst from the veins.
After the battle Sullivan was taken to Mt. Sinai hospital in Baltimore, where he recovered slowly from his awful beating.
Neither of the participants in that battle ever fought again, although Hyer had a fight arranged which never took place. His right to the championship title was never disputed.

The fights in the early days of ring history were governed by rules which suited the contestants.
The spectators saw that they were carried out to the letter.
On two or three occasions fights did not take place because one man did not have enough of his supporters on hand to offset the other fellow's crowd.
It was a peculiar method indeed, but in those days there was less talking and more real fighting than there is today.
George Dixon's battle at Philadelphia a week ago is another link in the chain of evidence against prize fighters living too fast. No man ever tried harder to redeem himself in the eyes of the public than that same George. He trained like a Trojan and was as enthusiastic as ever, but when the show down came it was plainly evident that his fast living had done more to hurt him than the count than any punishment another man might deal him.
Tommy Murphy, who opposed Dixon, is an unusually tough nut. He has fought some good fights and is thoroughly capable of taking care of himself against better men than a negro who has shot his pugilistic bolt.
The pugilistic fraternity on the coast is doing its best to kill the goose that laid the golden egg. Mud-slinging, backbiting, charges and counter charges are a common occurrence. Nelson's talkative manager seems to be largely to blame.
Personally I do not feel like taking sides except in favor of clean boxing, and regardless of whom may have the balance of evidence in his possession I hope that the affair will not go too far. The coast is the only place where fighting is allowed to flourish and every effort should be made to keep it on a clean basis in order that it may continue in the favor of the public.
The phase of the middle which has followed the Britt-Nelson fight which is most disagreeable, is the charge brought out by Nolan, Nelson's manager, in regard to the recent action of the legislature in killing the Ralston anti-fight bills. Or top of Nolan's charges comes the report from Sacramento that District Attorney Seymour has within his possession evidence enough to convict at least ten of California's most prominent sports of bribery.
If this is the case then it is good-bye to the ring sport in California.

CROSSINGS ASKED WITH SIDEWALKS

Residents Urge That Co-operation of the City Would Aid in Work

Following the general movement for sidewalk paving in the city, residents are asking that the city take a part in the matter and provide suitable street crossings at such places as the residents provide walks.
It has been urged that the action of the city in placing crossings at places where a few sidewalks place side walks a single crossing at Moore and Jackson street connecting with the paving of the West Side hotel would reach a large portion of this section, while in many other places, it is urged, work by the city and private owners would aid greatly in the sidewalk movement in a similar way.
Those who are interested in the movement for improved sidewalks say that one objection raised by property owners is that little good is accomplished, as boots must be muddied at unpaved street crossings despite any action taken by the property owners.

Condition Continues to Show Increasing Gain in Strength. Files Damage Suit of School Trustees

The condition of ex-Governor Hogg continues to improve and today he is resting well. He spent a favorable night and all indications point to the fact that his condition is growing better every day.

Files Damage Suit of School Trustees

Matter of pay pupils in the public schools as connected with the present overcrowding of buildings will be laid before the school board officially by Superintendent Hogg.

As announced in The Telegram, Professor Hogg has begun an investigation of the matter. He has not yet completed a canvass of the different buildings, but says that he believes the number will be found less than his general estimate of twenty-five.

No decision as to the remedy to be sought or whether any action will be taken further than placing before the board a statement of conditions has been made.

Regular meeting of the board will not take place until the first Monday in November. A called meeting, however, may be held to take up the matter.

No decision as to the remedy to be sought or whether any action will be taken further than placing before the board a statement of conditions has been made.

Regular meeting of the board will not take place until the first Monday in November. A called meeting, however, may be held to take up the matter.

A BROWNWOOD BANKER HERE FOR TREATMENT

S. R. Coggin Came to the City That He Might Have Benefit of New Treatment

Mr. S. R. Coggin, president of a local bank at Brownwood, Texas, is in Fort Worth taking the "Colon" treatment of J. Austin Larson. He is stopping on the South side at the home of J. P. Felder.

When seen and asked as to effect of the treatment he expressed himself as much elated over the improvement in his case. "I am better and stronger from this treatment than I have been in three years previous. My stomach shows the greatest improvement. For some time before coming here I would have terrible spells with the stomach, when I could hardly live. The change in this is wonderful. For a man 72 years old I am getting along fine, the weakness with which I suffered is giving away to increased vigor and strength."

"My constitution, too, has improved. Heretofore I suffered all the time with cold feet, now they are warm. That proves that I am improving."

"What do you think of this treatment?" Mr. Coggin was asked.

"It's a great treatment and I am well pleased to think I came."

Mr. Coggin is an old settler at Brownwood, having lived there since 1857. He has been running the bank there for over twenty years.

The work of J. Austin Larson is attracting attention and drawing people from all over the western country.

From the crowds flocking to see him, he must unquestionably be successful. He made the statement to a reporter that he would handle the overflow, or those who failed to see him on account of the rush, tonight from 7 to 9 p. m. He leaves tomorrow night for Waco, returning again to the Delaware hotel next Thursday.

MISSIONARY WORK TO BE DISCUSSED

Dioceses of the Southwest to Hold Conference in Dallas Next Month

At the last general convention of the Episcopal church, held in Boston last October, the United States and colonies were divided up for missionary purposes into eight missionary departments. The eight departments include the diocese of Arkansas, Louisiana, Texas, Dallas and West Texas, and the missionary districts of Oklahoma and Indian Territories.

Several of these departments have already held conferences in various parts of the States when the general topic of the church and world wide evangelization has been considered. It has been announced that a conference will be held in this district next month.

The meetings will consist of services, addresses, sermons and business meetings. The following program has been arranged for the Mississippi conference, that of the Eighth district, which will be held in St. Matthew's Cathedral, Dallas, Nov. 21-22.

The first service will be held at the Cathedral, Bishop Garrett presiding, Tuesday night, Nov. 21. The general subject to be presented will be the Church's Mission in the Twentieth Century. Mission within the United States will be discussed by the Rev. Dr. Lloyd, general secretary of the general board of missions in New York. The second address, "In Lands Abroad," will be delivered by the Rev. Arthur M. Sherman of China.

Wednesday and Thursday the services will begin with celebration of Holy Communion by Bishop Garrett, followed by addresses and business meetings. Those taking part in the meetings will be the bishops of Texas, Dallas, Arkansas, Louisiana and Oklahoma and Indian Territories.

The Rev. Mr. Sears of Houston, and Rev. Mr. Sneed of Little Rock will make addresses, together with other prominent clergymen within the district. Judge Terrell of Terrell and Mr. J. C. Hicks of Little Rock are among the laymen who will deliver addresses. Wednesday night, Nov. 22, an informal reception will be held in Dallas complimentary to the delegates and visitors.

The Rev. Edward A. Temple, rector of St. Paul's church, Waco, is secretary of the department and is chairman of the general committee. Chief J. H. Maddox intends to ask the council for an additional allowance in number of policemen. There are now sixteen patrolmen, four mounted officers and four plain clothes men, while the head of the department thinks that there should be at least an increase of twenty men in the entire department. If granted, this increase will consist of six patrolmen, the other recruits being divided among mounted men and plain clothes.

Chief of Police J. H. Maddox and the police committee met this morning in the office of the chief and considered the bids for police uniforms and helmets received. The chief stated that several of the bids were close and that a decision in the matter would hardly be possible for several days.

CHILDREN ANXIOUS TO RIDE IN CIRCUS

Three Hundred Fifty Applications to Be Divided Among Twelve Ponies Makes Interesting Problem

Three hundred fifty applications to ride twelve Shetland ponies have been received by Mrs. C. W. Childress, who has been placed in charge of the pony department of the Auditorium Circus.

Twelve Shetlands of the Campbell shows were announced in The Telegram as being available for riders several days ago, and immediately a rush of applicants began. It has been found impossible to increase the number of ponies with the applications and many will therefore have to be refused.

Reports of the children who will ride ponies in the circus is being held this afternoon at the residence of Mrs. Childress in Eighth avenue.

PETITIONERS URGE NEED OF PAVING

Improved Drainage Given As An Additional Reason Why Ninth Street Needs Attention

The matter of paving Ninth street in front of the library is being agitated by the business men around the street and the general public, especially of the South and West sides, who use the street a great deal. The fact that the library is on the street is of itself the greatest argument for paving it, they urge.

Bacon Saunders, who heads the petition that was presented to the city council, said concerning the paving of the street:

"Every argument that prevailed about a paving of Throckmorton street down to Jennings avenue exists with double force for the small piece of Ninth street, from Throckmorton to Houston streets. It occurs to me that if the city wanted to leave a little gap of unpaved street anywhere, it would not be in front of the public library."

H. Veal Jewell, another of the signers for the paving of Throckmorton street in Fort Worth should be paved it is certainly this block, it being the gateway to the south and west sides. During a rain storm the water runs up the sidewalk and into my office and leaves the mud behind when the water goes down. When the street is paved a better means of draining will be afforded."

Santa Fe Car Distributing Florist Supplies Along the Line to Ben-tifty Buildings

The Gulf, Colorado and Santa Fe has introduced an innovation that will add much to the attractiveness of the local city passenger offices and depots in different places along the line extending from Galveston to Purcell.

On Friday a carload of potted plants, palms and cacti, reached Fort Worth, having come from Galveston. At each station en route a liberal distribution of these plants was made. At the local office in Fort Worth a half dozen plants were left and at the union station twenty were placed in prominent positions about the building.

The Galveston depot several plants have been installed that are very valuable. Several of them are sixty-five years old and valued at $250 each.

The car continued its journey north from the city and will leave plants at the different stations to the terminus of the line in Oklahoma.
