

POLK CO. MOB HANGS NEGRO AT MOSCOW, TEX.

Had Confessed to Murder at Behring's Mill TAKEN FROM OFFICERS Determined Men Effect Capture at LaSalle and Mete Out Punishment?

Special to The Telegram. HOUSTON, Texas, Jan. 10.—Ben Harris, the negro who assassinated G. O. Polk at Valda, night before last, was hanged at Moscow at 1 o'clock this morning.

Sang While Mob Went for Rope On reaching Moscow the negro was kept in the station while the members of the mob went for a rope. The negro began singing songs and did not appear to fear the fate that was soon to overtake him.

Taken from Officers The mob reached Livingston at 3 o'clock and finding that the negro had been taken from jail, scattered and went in pursuit. It was learned that the officers had first carried the negro to Shepherd and then to Cleveland.

STORY OF THE CRIME Ben Harris shot and killed G. O. Polk, commissioner for the Behring Manufacturing Company, a Houston concern, operating at Valda. Polk was shot through a window, a load of buckshot tearing his head and face to shreds.

MERCHANTS' FRIENDS STILL SAY MURDER

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—I, probably the last of Charles A. Edwards' friends in New York City to see him alive, never saw a man in a more sane mental condition than was he at the time of our last meeting just previous to his departure for New Haven. That he committed suicide seems to me beyond the pale of possibility.

DeLoux says that Mr. Edwards told him whom he feared and that he had been warned not to go to New Haven again.

ROCKEFELLER TO TESTIFY

Alleged Head of Standard Oil to Be Sworn

IN THE SUPREME COURT

Argument Postponed in Attempt to Force H. H. Rogers to Answer Questions

Special to The Telegram. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—William G. Rockefeller, who is believed to be the head of the Standard Oil Company, will probably be called to the stand this afternoon to give his deposition, when the present leaders have gone. No testimony was taken this morning in the supreme court, where the question of Rogers being forced to answer questions is now pending.

SESSION THIS AFTERNOON

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The hearing before the commissioner in the quo warranto proceedings, brought by Attorney General Hadley of Missouri, to oust three oil companies from that state, was put over until this afternoon today. This was done in order to allow Mr. Hadley and his counsel and counsel for the Standard Oil Company to appear in the supreme court and make argument on the order issued by that court to H. H. Rogers, instructing him to show cause why he shall not answer questions asked him by Mr. Hadley.

CAUSE POSTPONED

When the order to show cause was taken up before Justice Gildersleeve in the supreme court, William V. Rowe and Frank Hagerman, counsel for the Standard Oil Company, asked that the hearing on the question whether Mr. Rogers shall be compelled to answer the questions be put over until Friday morning. Justice Gildersleeve granted the motion. Counsel for the Standard Oil Company informed the court that they did not have time to prepare an answer. They also requested that the hearing before Commissioner Sanborn should be held in abeyance until after the argument before the supreme court.

JUDGE PRIEST ARRIVES

Judge H. S. Priest of St. Louis, counsel in the West for the Standard Oil Company, arrived here today to take part in the case.

ROGERS MUST TESTIFY

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The question whether Henry H. Rogers can be compelled to tell Attorney General Herbert S. Handley of Missouri whether the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey owns or controls three oil companies which are selling oil in Missouri as separate companies will be placed before the supreme court of New York today.

All the important question which Mr. Rogers declined to answer by advice of counsel in the last three days of the hearing were presented to the supreme court yesterday by counsel acting in behalf of Attorney General Hadley and the court was asked to order Mr. Rogers to show cause why he should not answer them.

The court issued the order and it was served on William V. Rowe, counsel for Mr. Rogers, while the hearing was still in progress late yesterday. Mr. Hadley, after consulting with the counsel that he understood that he would have to be represented by counsel in this argument, but that he hopes to get in a few words before the court.

Questions are in a diversity of form, but in substance they are: "Does the Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, either through itself or any other person or corporation, own or control a majority of the stock of the Waters-Pierce Oil Company of Missouri, the Standard Oil Company of Indiana and the Republic Oil Company of New York?"

Mr. Hadley wants this information to show that the three alleged subsidiary or confederated companies are monopolizing the oil trade of Missouri in combination and to induce the Missouri courts to order them ousted from that state.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The Standard Oil Company wanted the Rogers matter delayed for two weeks. Attorney General Hadley fought for and won the decision, setting the case for Friday, providing counsel can agree to suspend the taking of testimony until that day.

CAUGHT AT SHEPHERD SHEPHERD, Texas, Jan. 10.—Ben Harris was seized by a mob which boarded the Santa Fe train at LaSalle and took him to Moscow.

TEN PERISH IN A MINNEAPOLIS FIRE

Death List May Be Many More Before Horrors of an Early Morning West Hotel Blaze Are Known—Panic-stricken Guests Leap From High Into Eternity—Thrilling Rescue of an Entire Family by Means of Bedding and Scaling Ladders—Fire Captain Is Killed by Long Fall

The dead: CAPTAIN JOHN BERWIN of hook and ladder company No. 1 fell from the upper floor. THOMAS SOMERVILLE of Springfield, Ill., suffocated in a room on the sixth floor. ALICE MARTIN, servant, jumped from the seventh floor. W. S. NICHOLS of the Nichols & Taylor Chamber of Commerce, suffocated. J. E. WOLF, New York. W. E. WAGNER, Duluth. CLINTON LAMPE, I. H. Pelsinger, New York. Mrs. M. E. Hodges, Waco.

By Associated Press. MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., Jan. 10.—Ten are known to be dead and possibly more are imprisoned in the rooms as a result of a fire early today in the West Hotel.

The blaze broke out in the upper stories of the building and electric bells immediately sounded the alarm in all the rooms.

Many guests escaped down the stairways, but these exits were soon cut off by flames and the halls were quickly filled with smoke.

Fireman Falls to Death Captain John Berwin of the fire department fell while trying to lower a woman to safety from the fifth floor and was killed. The woman was caught by another fireman.

An unknown man jumped for the 4 of an adjoining building from the top floor, but missed it and was killed, while a large middle-aged woman jumped from the fourth floor and met instant death.

Mrs. C. H. Wood and daughter, proprietors of the West Hotel, were both rescued, the latter being carried down a ladder safely.

Thrilling Rescue One of the most thrilling rescues was that of F. A. Chamberlain of the Security Bank and the members of his family, who were not awakened in time to make their escape by the usual exits.

For many anxious minutes they remained at a window in the topmost story at the Fifth street and Hennepin avenue corner. Mr. Chamberlain gathered bedding and sheets and made a rope, while at the same time extension ladders were being placed into position, but found too short.

Pomper ladders were rushed to the scene and a fireman with a rope about him firmly placed and scaled a ladder to the cheers of thousands of excited spectators.

Arriving at the window he took one after the other, lowered them in safety, extension ladder two stories beneath by means of a rope, where they were brought to safety. The rescue was accomplished amid death-like stillness.

When the last person was being lowered and the fireman following in the wake of the brook loose. It was one of the most thrilling scenes at a fire ever witnessed in this city.

Captain John Berwin was carrying a woman down a scaling ladder when the terrified woman tried to jump to a window ledge. Captain Berwin thereupon lost his balance, falling seven stories to his death.

The foregoing dispatch does not state whether Mrs. Hodges is from Waco, Texas, or some other state. Efforts to ascertain Wednesday afternoon whether Mrs. Hodges was a resident of Waco, Texas, were unsuccessful.

Special to The Telegram. MINNEAPOLIS, Jan. 10.—Bulletin: At least ten people perished in a fire which ruined the interior of the West Hotel, the finest in this city, about 7 o'clock this morning.

A panic-stricken woman leaped from the seventh floor to her death. Fire Captain John Berwin was knocked off a scaling ladder at the fifth floor by Mabel Larson of Omaha, who jumped into his arms.

Both were killed. W. E. Wagner, Duluth, and J. E. Wolf of New York were asphyxiated on the fifth floor. W. G. Nichol, a broker, was found dead on the same floor. The fire started in the basement of the elevator shaft through crossed wires.

Clinton Lampe was killed by fumes on the sixth floor. Other corpses are unidentified.

When the firemen arrived the windows of the seventh floor were frames for pictures of extreme human terror.

Almost every one was occupied by some guest in night attire screaming to the crowd below for help, the smoke at times enveloping them.

Before water was thrown firemen ran scaling ladders up the precipitous sides of the building and effected many hair-raising rescues.

The West Hotel, when completed in 1881, was supposed to be the most fire-proof hotel in the world. The damage is several hundred thousand dollars at least.

The consul said he knew no protection would be needed, but his countrymen were afraid, because of the terrible stories which are circulated in China, and they do not feel safe without protection. The commissioners will be formally received on the arrival of the steamer Siberia by J. B. Black, adjutant general; Collector of Port Stratton and other men of the state. They stay long in San Francisco. They will be greeted by the Chinese of the city, driven about and probably banqueted, after which they will leave at once for Washington, where they will remain for about forty days, studying the United States' form of government. Then they will take passage for Europe, where the principal forms of government there will be studied.

SHAFT NOT BENT

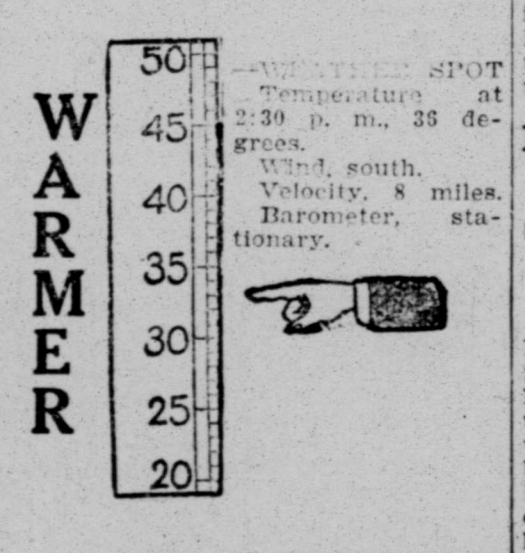

Battleship Kentucky Will Not Go to Dry Dock

By Associated Press. NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—The battleship Kentucky will not be placed in the dry dock of the navy yard as a result of her collision with the Alabama on Sunday. This was decided upon yesterday after a consultation of Captain J. N. Hemphill, acting commandant, Naval Constructor Nutting and other officials. The only injuries to the ship are found to have been above the water line. They consist of the bending and breaking of some plates on the starboard quarter. The chief engineer declares the report that the shaft was bent to be untrue.

It was also decided that the work of repairing the damage to the Kentucky should proceed night and day. This, it is thought, will release the ship in less than two weeks so that she will be able, sooner than was expected, to join the other vessels in the North Atlantic squadron now in Hampton Roads.

NORTH TEXAS WOMEN JOIN IN APPEAL FOR MRS. TOLLA

The following letters, relative to the case of Mrs. Tolla, have been received by The Telegram in addition to those already published.

To Mrs. Doak and Mrs. Frances Gilbreath Ingersoll: I make a move that all true women in this Christian nation write to the board of pardons and also to the governor of New Jersey such a plea for Mrs. Tolla that they cannot resist the "best" springing on his prey from the African jungles, for the latter does not know any better, while the former has all the influence of Christianity. By all means lift every true woman and man lift their voices in behalf of this woman that has come to make her home in this land of ours. The time is short. Whatever is done should be done quickly. MRS. M. D. KYLE, 619 Samuels Avenue, Fort Worth.

To The Telegram Have you time to hear a woman's prayer in behalf of the doomed woman, Mrs. Tolla, as one who knows the love of a mother for her children and the need of a mother to her children. I pray in the name of God and out of love to our fellow creatures, the ties of humanity, to save this poor, helpless and doomed mother from the awful death that awaits her and restore her children the priceless jewel of Heaven, "mother."

Think of the picture that will haunt their memories, through the whole course of their lives, mother dangling in mid-air at the end of the hangman's rope.

This picture, dear governor, is in your power to change into one of freedom, mother, wife, union and happiness. May God out of his abundant mercy move upon your heart to save this doomed woman and mother from the awful death pronounced against her.

Remember the language of Him before whom we stand and out of love to our fellow creatures, the ties of humanity, to save this poor, helpless and doomed mother from the awful death that awaits her and restore her children the priceless jewel of Heaven, "mother."

We of the "wild and woolly west" hold these truths to be self-evident. That all women, refined or illiterate, have a right to protect their honor; that when they are incapable of so doing it is our duty to do all that lies within our power to protect it for them; that "no woman is guilty of crime who takes the life of a human brute in the defense of the jewel of her womanhood;" that no woman is doing more than that which she has a moral right to do in protecting her home and herself from the many "human brutes" now trespassing on our American homes. We of the "Sunny South" would not be guilty of such an outrage as that of taking the life of an innocent woman whose soul is as unsullied as the snow as is the babe's cooing in its cradle.

To the governor of New Jersey I could say that as you love the purity of your mother's soul and if you have a wife and daughter or you love the prayer of a mother is that as you deem "Creator love and justify the purity of Mrs. Tolla.

Alone in this strange land, accused of an awful crime, denounced as a female monster, is it any wonder that Mrs. Tolla, in her dark cell from day to day, crying "My babies! My poor dear babies!" Think of this, governor of New Jersey. It is in your power to free this woman. You will be taking a life if she is hanged. You will be taking a man at whom the world will point its finger in disgust as the man who took the life of an innocent woman; a man of our beautiful land of the free that will take a mother from her babes and leave them homeless and motherless.

Mrs. Tolla is innocent of crime, and if you condemn her your hands will be dyed in blood that an avenging God will one day require of you and the prayer of a mother is that as you deal with her so may the God above us deal now and hereafter with you and yours.

To the people I would say the scales of justice are swaying. Balance them to your hand. The price of duty is calling. Answer at once and do it.

To that honorable personage, Van Hise: No conscientious man with well-balanced mind would follow this calling.

To Mrs. Tolla: The daisies will bloom when you rest with your God and the stars be silent watchkeepers. An angel will will weep dewdrops at night on the sod where your unsullied soul will be sleeping.

Little Detectives With "Eyes of Argus"

It has been said that "a Want Advertisement has a thousand eyes." Sherlock Holmes had but two, although they were uncommonly good ones.

However, Holmes could not have found for you, over night, the one man in the city who wanted to buy your house, or your store, or your horse, or your yacht, or your library, or your securities, or your automobile, or your old desk, or your piano; or the one man in the city who would be the best partner for you, or the best clerk, or coachman, or handy-man; or the one woman in the city who would be the most valuable stenographer for you, or cook, or housekeeper.

But the thousand-eyed Little Want Advertisement finds these people for you—and finds them quickly, presenting no bill for "extras" or "disbursements," as Sherlock Holmes would have been apt to do.

RAILROAD DRUMBLING

The creation of a general advertising department for the New York Central lines, and the placing in charge of that department the veteran railroad advertiser, George H. Daniels, who has been chief copywriter and general passenger agent of the New York Central railroad since 1898, marks an era in the history of advertising in America.

The New York Central lines are the first great American railroad to create an advertising department which covers all the railroads in their system, and the far-reaching consequences of such a movement cannot be appreciated at first sight, but this action on the part of the management of these lines emphasizes the value of advertising generally and forces the conclusion of strong belief in the efficacy of railroad advertising in particular.

Some idea of the importance of this new department can be had when it is understood that it will control the general advertising in America and in foreign countries of the New York Central, Boston and Albany, Lake Shore and Michigan Southern, Michigan Central, Cleveland, Cincinnati, Chicago and St. Louis, Rutland, and Lake Erie and Western railways and their leased lines, including the west coast terminals at Chicago, St. Louis and Cincinnati and their eastern terminals at New York, Boston and Montreal, and embracing more than 12,000 miles of the best equipped railways in the country.

Mr. Daniels has for many years been a firm believer in newspaper and magazine advertising, and, therefore, the organization of the general advertising department of the New York Central lines is of importance to every legitimate publication in America, daily, weekly or monthly.

In an address before the New York State Press Association a few years ago, Mr. Daniels made the point that the railroad is the advance agent of commerce and that railway advertising had been of immense value to American manufacturers in calling the attention of the whole world to the excellent work done by our inventors and mechanics, as illustrated in the Empire State express, the Twentieth Century limited, and other great trains that connect the east with the west; the average foreigner arguing that the men who are able to turn out such machines must be able to build almost anything, and that the farm machinery, and all kinds of industrial machinery, made in America, must be of the very best quality. Railroad advertising has certainly been the means of bringing thousands of men here from foreign countries to investigate our manufacturers and has wonderfully increased our foreign commerce.

In Sonora, Mexico, alone, about $40,000,000 of American money is now invested.

Vinol THE GOD LIVER PREPARATION WITHOUT OIL

Vinol is fast superseding old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions because, without a drop of oil or disagreeable feature, it contains all the medicinal elements of cod liver oil, actually taken from fresh cods' livers. By our process the oil, having no value either as a medicine or food, is separated from the medicinal elements and thrown away. Unlike old-fashioned cod liver oil and emulsions, Vinol is deliciously palatable, agreeable to the weakest stomach, and therefore unequalled as a body builder and strength creator for old people, puny children, weak, run-down men and women, after sickness, and for all pulmonary diseases. Everything Vinol contains is named on the label.

OUR GUARANTEE—We have such faith in VINOL that if you will take it we promise if it does not benefit or cure you we will return you your money without question. We take all the risk.

POSTAL RECEIPTS SHOW BIG GAIN

$23,000 Increase Over 1904 at Local Postoffice

Postal receipts for the year 1905 show an increase of over $23,000 over the year 1904. There is no official report of the receipts of the postoffice for the two years as the government fiscal year does not end with the regular year, but figures compiled from official statements of the receipts for the separate months show this gain of 1905 over 1904. The increase is $23,000.33.

Every month in 1905 shows an increase over the corresponding month in 1904. The largest month in the history of the postoffice was the month of December, 1905, when the receipts of the local office went up to $15,745.12, which is over $2,000 greater than any other month.

The postal receipts during the year 1905 show almost a steady increase every month from June. The month of November is the only exception to the rule of the increase.

The figures for the two years by months are as follows:

SNOW GENERAL IN NORTH TEX.

Fall Is Reported Over Wide Are of State

The surprise of the season in the weather line came this morning, when the citizens of the city awoke to find the ground covered with snow. The total fall of snow as reported from the weather bureau was a heavy one, three inches falling altogether, making the second heaviest snow in the history of the weather bureau in this city. Two inches of snow had fallen at 7 o'clock this morning and the snow continued until another inch had fallen. The heaviest snow experienced here in the past eleven years came on Dec. 9, 1898, when five and a half inches of snow fell. The amount of precipitation reported from the weather bureau is only one-tenth of the amount of the snow fall, as the snow reduces to one-tenth upon melting.

The snow this morning was the delight of the small boy who followed friend and stranger alike, pelting him with snow balls as fast as they could be made. The snow made good packing and snow balls were finished inside of a moment.

The camera artist was also ready to snap his pictures too, but the sun which is necessary for the most beautiful snow pictures was not present in a sufficient quantity to satisfy him. There were many beautiful pictures throughout the city, which escaped on this occasion, as the clinging nature of the snow made the hedges and trees veritable works of art.

The storm came down from the north through the territory, and Fort Worth was almost on the very limit of the pure snow storm as at Palestine the storm was reported to be a mixture of snow, sleet and rain. Throughout the southern part of the state rain was reported this morning.

PANAMA INDIANS DANCE BIG CHICHI

President Amador Don't Look at Session as Serious, but Will Send Gunboat

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Panama says: President Amador says he does not regard the Indian secession as serious, but will send the gunboat Orizaba with a request to Chief Inannaquina to come to Panama for a conference. President Amador says jealousy between Inannaquina's tribe and that headed by Chief Henry Clay, who remains friendly to Panama, is one of the causes of the discontent of the former.

It is alleged that a Colombian general visited Chief Inannaquina and proposed that he go to Bogota to make arrangements for arms and financial help, in order to resist or make an attack. The Panamanian Big Chichi, or war dance, is said to be in progress in the villages on Sarhadi bay, headquarters of Chief Inannaquina's tribe.

MRS. MORRIS IN TOTAL COLLAPSE

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Minor Morris, who was last week ejected from the executive offices and grounds at the White House, is in a state of complete collapse. Dr. Morris, her husband, states that her condition is critical. Her physicians have refused to permit any more war, or have any discussion of the affair in her presence.

RAILWAY RATE PLANS ADOPTED

Republicans Consider Measure for Passage

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A dispatch to the Tribune from Washington says: At a secret conference of republican members of the house committee on interstate commerce last night, what will hereafter be known as the administration measure for the regulation of railway rates was formally considered and adopted.

It will be submitted at a meeting of the full committee next Friday and will come up for consideration in the house as soon as other business properly can be disposed of.

This administration rate bill is what is called the Dolliver measure as amended in some details by Colonel Heppburn, chairman of the house committee. The measure was for the purpose of familiarizing the republican members with the bill as it stands, also to harmonize the different views of members of the committee regarding the details of the proposed legislation.

At the opening of this session it became evident that the Esch-Townsend bill, while undoubtedly it struck at the root of the difficulty, did not begin to comprehend the whole subject, but left untouched the private cars, the terminal railroads, the bridge companies, fast freight lines and a dozen other devices and means by which the railroads evaded the law and escaped punishment.

The new Dolliver bill not only is extremely comprehensive, but has been drafted throughout by a combination of the most experienced elements favorable to the regulation of railroad rates. It is not a compromise, but by no means radical. It treats the railroads fairly and if generously interpreted by the courts it protects the interests of the shippers as well as the transportation lines. It is an administration measure as far as there can be one, and it will be passed through the house as such.

ARIZONA SHEEP COMING TO FRONT

Price of Mutton and Wool Is Greatly Stimulating Sheep Industry of Territory

With the price of mutton and wool set at a high figure, the sheep industry is stepping to the front with rapid strides. Arizona, with her natural resources, is able to produce sheep at a very much lower price than is necessitated by high-priced pasture in the eastern states. Some of our mountain ranges can be used from April 1 to November 30, while in parts of California, Colorado and other northern states the range can only be used from June 1 to Oct. 15, so that pasture must be provided at a greater price for the remainder of the year.

It seems as if Providence has forwarded Arizona in sheep production. Sheep are pastured on the ranges from April 1 to Nov. 30 with a very small cost. As soon as the range begins to fall, and when winter sets in, sheep are driven from the ranges down into the valley, where the ewes lamb and the shearing takes place. Sheep are fed during this time, and those ready for the market are shipped, while the remainder are taken back to the ranges in the spring.

This method is really an ideal way of producing sheep at a very small cost. With increasing prices in poultry in this territory, sheep, if given the proper care in fattening, can take the place of poultry to a great extent.

For instance, the production of lambs for the Christmas market in the east is quite a business by itself. This consists of simply feeding and pushing a lamb from the time he drops until he is placed in the slaughter house.

Valley farmers are turning out such feed as is available, to produce a product for home consumption and also for foreign markets that will make a very fine carcass.

Sheep by nature are able to withstand a great deal of cold and also stand the heat well if a good shed is provided for them. This phase makes a great point in favor of the sheep industry.

In the profitable production of sheep more care should be taken of ranges.

In numerous all-year-round ranges the land is all used at the same time, and of course does not produce as good crops of forage as if the same was divided and used a portion at a time.

In the handling of sheep much damage is done by handling the bands too closely, and by camping too long at the same place. Sheep should be handled so that they scatter out and feed naturally; there is much less damage to the range, and also, of course, is a better method of grazing.

Overstocking the range and premature grazing does not give the results that are obtained by judicious grazing. Too often the greed for returns tempts the shepherd to carry more sheep than can be profitably pastured on his range.

Sheep, like every other domestic animal, needs a good supply of food for advancement in growth and weight. Sheep, however, are quite hardy and can stand a measure of abuse, so, of course, are profitably raised on that account.

From an early day in the history of our territory sheep have been ranged with a fair degree of success and have brought a good bit of revenue to the territory. With the good prices that sheep now demand there is no reason why sheep raising by careful, competent men, should not prove a success financially.

Sheep for the valley farmers, are valuable as ditch cleaners. Keeping weeds and grass from growing along the banks. Care must be taken in pasturing sheep along ditches. Do not place but a few in such pen, as they bunch and fill the ditch with soil.

Sheep are considered good scavengers on the farm, and every well-regulated farm should keep a few for this purpose.—Phoenix Stockman.

It is intended especially for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough, and is the best medicine in the world for these diseases. It is not only a certain cure for croup, but, when given as soon as the croupy cough appears, will prevent the attack. Whooping cough is not dangerous when this remedy is given as directed. It contains no opium or other harmful drugs, and may be given as confidently to a baby as to an adult.

BURGESS "TURNS" ON MINORITY

Debate Among Democrats as to Policy

WASHINGTON, D. C., Jan. 10.—In the house yesterday Mr. Burgess of Texas spoke in opposition to the Philippine tariff measure. He said that democrats should oppose it altogether and on the grounds that the islands are a part of the United States. "But," said Mr. Burgess, "I want to see the islands treated as foreign territory. I want to see the time approach rapidly when we can cut loose from that pestiferous gang over there."

Mr. Williams, the minority leader, interjected: "I take it the gentleman will agree with me that whatever the Philippines ought to be, they are at the present time colonies of the United States?"

"I did not create existing conditions and I'll not recognize them," replied Mr. Burgess.

Argument Between Leaders A colloquy ensued between the minority leader and Mr. Burgess, in which Mr. Williams was put on the defense of his position on the bill. Mr. Burgess wanted to know if Mr. Williams believed the constitution extended to the Philippines.

Mr. Williams recognized that the supreme court had extended it there; Burgess wanted to know if Mr. Williams favored this bill which levied duties against a part of the United States?" inquired Mr. Burgess.

Mr. Williams explained that the minority substitute for the bill provided free trade. Knowing that it was impossible to get that he should vote for the republican reduction.

Mr. Burgess regarded any tariff between the United States and the Philippines as unconstitutional and said he should vote against the bill. He suggested that if the democrats would join forces with the republican opponents of the bill it would be defeated.

This was preferring grand larceny to petit larceny, according to Mr. Williams, because to defeat the bill would be to leave the present high schedules in force.

Mr. Burgess retorted that the whole thing was a mess of potage. "Give us a square deal," he demanded; "quit cutting down the schedules on agricultural products and turn your attention to iron and steel."

At this point Mr. Clark of Missouri appealed to the republican recalcitrants to join the democrats and pass a measure "to turn these islands loose—cut loose forever from them."

CUTICURA REMEDIES POSSESS TRUE MERIT

"My face was afflicted with eczema in the year 1897. I used the Cuticura Remedies, and was entirely cured. I am a practicing physician and very often prescribe Cuticura Resolvent and Cuticura Soap in cases of eczema, and they have cured where other formulas have failed. I am not in the habit of endorsing patent medicines, but when I find remedies possessing true merit, such as the Cuticura Remedies do, I am broad-minded enough to proclaim their virtues to the world. I have been practicing medicine for sixteen years, and must say I find your Remedies A No 1. You are at liberty to publish this letter, or any part of it, if it brings you truly yours, G. M. Fisher, M. D., Big Pool, Md., May 24, 1905."

THE PRESIDENT'S CREED

The President once answered in this wise a man who had expressed admiration for his successful career.

"It has always seemed to me that in life there are two ways of achieving success, or, for that matter, of achieving what is commonly called greatness.

"Choosing to exercise the requisite industry, judgment and foresight"—here is the key to the President's physical and intellectual prowess.

Success in a certain measure can be attained by any man who starts out in life with the determination to succeed.

One of the greatest obstacles to the success of the average young man of today is the lack of application.

The creed of the President is a good one, and one that may be emulated by any young man to advantage.

Every young man of today cannot be the military genius of a Robert E. Lee. He cannot expect to rival Thomas A. Edison or Alexander Bell in electrical research and development.

for. It is not so much what we do, but it is the thorough manner in which we do it that counts in the long run.

Some of us achieve success faster than others because we have perhaps greater talents in certain directions.

PROHIBITION IN THE STATE CAMPAIGN

There is considerable apprehension existing that recent decisions in the state and federal courts adverse to existing local option laws, will cause the injection of the prohibition issue into the gubernatorial campaign this year as a state issue.

The Express has from time to time pointed out the fact that prohibition—state prohibition—will necessarily become an issue in the approaching gubernatorial fight.

A large number of prohibitionists are pledged to an effort to change the existing local option into state prohibition.

With affairs in this posture, the various gubernatorial candidates who have not spoken on this issue, owe it to themselves and the people of Texas to come out unequivocally for or against state prohibition and for or against a reform of the existing local option laws so as to place prohibition and anti-prohibition on the same footing.

The Telegram believes that a great mistake will be made if the prohibition question is injected into the impending state campaign, and has from time to time suggested as much.

Back in the eighties we had such an election in Texas. And it is sufficiently recent to be remembered by the great majority of Texas Democracy today.

The men who are intent on forcing this issue in Texas should stop long enough to consider what they are about.

All other Texas cities and towns are waking up in the matter of better streets and sidewalks.

The Sunday Telegram will be up to the usual standard, and perhaps just a little more interesting than ever before.

The man who will not build sidewalks in front of his property should be compelled to comply with the plain provisions of the law.

The Italian government is seeking mercy for Mrs. Toika, the woman under sentence to be hanged in New Jersey.

Members of the state legislature are complaining that they are getting no railway passes this year.

AMONG THE EXCHANGES

The candidates undertook to dictate terms to the newspapers of Paris and fix the price of announcements.

The average candidate does not take into consideration the fact that his announcement is usually carried in the columns of the press from January until November, and after all, the rate given him is a very reasonable one.

A dispatch from Austin says the Farmers' Union is backing Tom Campbell for governor.

It may be a fact that some members of the Farmers' Union are supporting Colonel Campbell for governor in an individual capacity.

Judge Meek of the United States district court at Fort Worth has rendered a decision to the effect that the law requiring men who sell goods by sample from other states to take out a pedler's license, to be unconstitutional as it interferes with inter-state commerce.

And that decision plays havoc with a portion of the Texas state occupation tax law.

It is easy enough to fill the smokehouse and the corn crib on the East Texas farm, and it is done by the farmer who plans wisely and who is industrious.

The farmer with a full smokehouse and corn crib is always independent, no matter where he is located, and it is a very gratifying sign of the times to see many Texas farmers rapidly becoming independent.

PUBLIC OPINION

Senator Dubois, in the Minneapolis Journal, reviews the testimony of the Filipinos before the Taft commission that free trade for the islands would not increase their sugar production so much as to interfere with this country; that its great advantage would be to give them better prices in China and Japan.

The price of sugar made in the Philippines is fixed in Hong-Kong, but Hong-Kong would not be able to fix as low a price if the Asiatic coast did not constitute practically all the outlet afforded for the product.

Speaking of the New York Post's postal card canvass on the retention of Platt and Dewey as senators, the Memphis Commercial-Appeal says:

This is a most promising sign. The Post has never in any illustration shown Platt as a blackmailer, a peddler of legislation.

It should be remarked in this connection that we are never going to get anywhere in this country until we not only call theft theft, but visit social ostracism on thieves and deprive them of the places of honor which they have sought.

A PLACE OF SAFETY

When "Stonewall" Jackson was a professor at a military institute he took the cadets for a trip.

"Don't ever do that," said Jackson. "If a thief entered the room in the night he would search under your pillow the first thing.

Next morning as the cadets were hurrying to the railway Jackson was seen rushing back to the hotel.

"But I thought you put them in your socks?" added the cadet.

"So I did—but I changed my socks this morning!"

INCREASE OF TUBERCULOSIS MENACES OUR HERDS

The increasing prevalence of tuberculosis among live stock of the United States is one of the most serious questions confronting the live stock industry today. It is a question with which the bureau of animal industry and many of the state sanitary boards have been occupied for several years; but right at the present time it has assumed a condition which is causing more agitation among students of domestic animal diseases than most stockmen are aware of.

Without intent to unnecessarily alarm the live stock community it cannot be denied that this disease has made alarming progress in the last few years, and the only purpose in a statement of the facts is to show the need for more careful consideration of the question by stockmen and my those having in charge the protection of the health of the herds and flocks of the country—not only as a safeguard to public health but also for purely commercial motives.

The bureau of animal industry has been carrying on extensive investigations into the subject with a view to discovering a solution of the problem of how best to control the rapid spread of the disease and to evolve some means for its ultimate eradication; and it might be said in this regard that everything possible has been done with the limited funds at hand; yet the disease goes on increasing at such a rate that it would not be surprising if some sort of administrative measures become imperative within the next few years, if a more general dissemination of the contagion is to be avoided. Many state sanitary boards have taken the matter in hand and are making investigations with the hope that by showing the gravity of conditions they may get their respective legislatures to adopt some means of assistance in stamping out the disease.

Question of Vital Importance.
 It is a matter of most vital importance to all stockmen. We may say that we are already on the threshold of the experience suffered by old world countries of Europe with tuberculosis among their animals. History shows that the malady starting in their herds in a small way has spread rapidly because no organized scientific measures were adopted to repress it, until in England today the disease is said to be so prevalent that one-fourth the live stock of the country is affected, while in Germany the figures are even more alarming. A few years ago a royal commission was appointed in England to inquire into the prevalence of the disease. The result of their investigations only tended to confirm the widespread existence of tuberculosis.

Results of Investigation.
 The returns from testing British cattle with tuberculin, supplied by the royal veterinary college, showed that among 15,392 animals tested 4,105, or 26 per cent, reacted.

During the slaughter of cattle for pleuro-pneumonia careful examinations of the carcasses were made for tuberculosis. Of 300 head killed near Edinburgh 120, or 40 per cent, were tuberculous. Of 4,160 killed in England 20 per cent were tuberculous. Of one of these lots of cattle (451 animals) the president of the Lancashire farmers' association testified that they were fairly representative cattle—cows, heifers, and growing stock—a thoroughly mixed lot. Twenty per cent of these animals had tuberculosis.

Of 898 bovine animals taken haphazard in the city of Manchester 120, or 30 per cent, were tuberculous. Short horns, of which 119, or 35 per cent, 68, or 41 per cent, being tuberculous, and 2 having diseased udders.

Real Herd Tuberculosis.
 The result of testing the queen's herd at Windsor was that 36 out of 40, or 90 per cent, were found tuberculous.

The investigations made by the British Dairy Farmers' association deserve particular attention, coming as they do directly from a cattle owners' organization. The council of this association resolved to submit the general consideration of the question to a committee, with a view to some more definite understanding as to some more generally affected, yet the most threatening aspect of the situation in the last few years has been its rapid spread among hogs. This is most forcibly shown by the records of meat inspection in packing houses by the bureau of animal industry as taken from the annual reports of the department. In 1901 out of a total of 24,642,750 head slaughtered at the plants having government inspection, 8,569 head were condemned as tuberculous and unfit for food, or a percentage of 35 to every 10,000. During the following year—1902—out of a total of 25,277,197 killed, 14,927 head were condemned, a percentage of 59 to every 10,000. In 1903 out of a total of 21,793,700, the condemnations were 20,223, showing a percentage of 93 to every 10,000. The figures for 1904 and 1905 are not yet available, but at the rapid rate of increase which took place during the preceding years (the number condemned in 1903 as compared with 1902 having almost doubled) it is safe to estimate that in 1904 the percentage was at least 150 in every 10,000 and in 1905 fully 200 in every 10,000. The report this year of Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, commenting on this condition says: "In our meat inspection service there have been found in some large abattoirs nearly three per cent of hogs with tuberculosis."

Spread of Tuberculosis Among Hogs.
 It has been generally supposed by those not thoroughly conversant with conditions that nearly all the tuberculosis among the herds of this country was confined to cattle. While this is partly true in so far as cattle are the more generally affected, yet the most threatening aspect of the situation in the last few years has been its rapid spread among hogs. This is most forcibly shown by the records of meat inspection in packing houses by the bureau of animal industry as taken from the annual reports of the department. In 1901 out of a total of 24,642,750 head slaughtered at the plants having government inspection, 8,569 head were condemned as tuberculous and unfit for food, or a percentage of 35 to every 10,000. During the following year—1902—out of a total of 25,277,197 killed, 14,927 head were condemned, a percentage of 59 to every 10,000. In 1903 out of a total of 21,793,700, the condemnations were 20,223, showing a percentage of 93 to every 10,000. The report this year of Secretary Wilson, of the department of agriculture, commenting on this condition says: "In our meat inspection service there have been found in some large abattoirs nearly three per cent of hogs with tuberculosis."

Disasters Were Fearful.
 Sir T. D. G. Carmichael, member of parliament for Midlothian, gave evidence before the royal commission that his Polled-Angus herd was tested in the spring of 1895. "The results of the test were fearfully unexpected and alarming." Of 30 tested 13 showed decided reaction—43 per cent. Again, he speaks of having 41 animals tested for the same spring and 1 reacted—35.5 per cent.

Of 80 Shorthorn cattle, intended for export, which were tested, 34 reacted, or 42 per cent.

Of a herd of 25 British Shorthorns recently tested in quarantine 40 per cent were found tuberculous.

The addition of these animals above referred to gives 20,930 head examined and 8,441, or 26 per cent, pronounced tuberculous. And these herds were not selected because they were supposed to be tuberculous, but represent the general cattle stock of the country. These animals included at least 470 head of Shorthorns, of which 170, or 34 per cent, were tuberculous.

Lesson to American Breeders.
 While it may be claimed that of the comparatively large supply of live stock in this country, the number of affected animals is small, which is all very true, yet the persistent and rapid rate at which the disease has spread in recent years cannot but incite alarm and call for prompt and stringent action to save us from the fate of England, Germany and other European countries, and maintain the prestige of our meat products in foreign markets. Present conditions prevailing in European countries were only brought about by neglect to take proper measures to counteract the disease and the experience of those countries is being pointed to now as an object lesson for American live stock breeders.

CURED LUMBAGO.
 A. B. Canman, Chicago, writes March 4, 1903: "Having been troubled with Lumbago at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers." STOCK BREEDERS MEET

Sixteenth Annual Session Takes Place at Topeka
Special to The Telegram.
 TOPEKA, Kan., Jan. 10.—The sixteenth annual meeting of the Kansas Improved Live Stock Breeders' Association is in session here. The president address was delivered by President Thomas Potter and papers read by F. D. Tomson of the Breeder's Gazette on "The Stockman and the Agricultural Press," and by Dr. T. W. Hadley of Western Veterinary College on "Animal Dentistry."

Secretary Heath submitted his annual report. In it he said that the horse and swine business had made rapid gains in Kansas during the past year; that auctions had been successful, prices ruled high and the demand for live blood stock increased. He said the cattle situation was also all right; that the demand for pure-bred stuff was increasing among the western ranchmen. As to the sheep industry, he said that it had not made much progress.

BROKERAGE FIRM SUSPENSION MADE

Checks of Cleveland House Returned Because of Death of Member.
 Funds Are Ample
By Associated Press.
 CLEVELAND, Ohio, Jan. 10.—Formal announcement of the suspension of the firm of Denison, Prior & Co., investment bankers and brokers, was made on the floor of the Cleveland Stock Exchange today. This action was taken as a result of the large number of firm's checks being thrown out by banks, which held that since the death of L. W. Prior, who committed suicide yesterday, checks could not pass the clearing house. It is said the banks hold ample funds and securities to provide for all claims against the firm.

A MODERN MIRACLE
 "Truly miraculous seemed the recovery of Mrs. Mollie Holt of this place," writes J. O. R. Hooper, Woodford, Tenn., "she was so wasted by coughing up phlegm from her lungs. Doctors declared her end so near that her family had watched by her bedside forty-eight hours; when, at my urgent request Dr. King's New Discovery was given her, with the astonishing result that improvement began, and continued until she finally completely recovered, and is a healthy woman today." "What is it?" demanded Sir Charles, coming to an abrupt halt. "Could you strain a point, Venner, and operate tomorrow night?"

"Impossible, Fulton. I have myself to consider, as well as the cause." "But just for once do oblige Marion. She begged me to ask you..."

"The poor girl is half out of her mind worrying about Cavanaugh. The girl is crazily in love with him, and she thinks he will kill himself, if we can't do something for him soon..."

"Oh, curse the fellow!" exclaimed Sir Charles. "If we admit him to the room we are bound to have a scene. You know very well that the least interruption may play the devil with my knife..."

"The consequences must be upon your own head, then." "Thank you, Venner; you are a good fellow. Goodnight..."
