City Council hears request for Revenue Sharing

About 30 citizens met with the City Council, during the regular meeting Tuesday, to discuss the proposed uses of Revenue Sharing Funds for the coming budget year of April 1, 1983 through March 31, 1984.

Clarence and Mirror for $12,984. The funds will be from a savings account for City Hall improvement.

funds five percent. The Council agreed to submit the paper work.

The Council authorized city personnel to advertise for seal coating of the city paved streets, 39,000 square yards of seal-coating are needed.

Six bids were awarded on owner rehabilitation of property as recommended by the Neighborhood Improvement Committee.

Other Council Business

The Council discussed quotations from Baker Insurance on additional coverage on city vehicles. Coverage for the new fire truck, the garbage truck and the 12-passenger fire department van was discussed.

The City Officials election was set for April 2, for the purpose of electing one mayor and two councilmen for two year terms.

The city adopted an ordinance setting the out-of-city water rates. The rates will be 2% times the city rates for the minimum amount of water.

Dale Goen and Olin Watson were reappointed to the Floydada Housing Authority for a term of two years.

The Council authorized a public hearing for March 8 for the city budget for the 83-84 fiscal year. The council also discussed the proposed 14 inch water main loop to increase water flow to the south part of town and the purchase of a used four-door sedan for city use.

The Council had planned to use the funds to seal-coat the paved streets to prevent future weather damage. A lack of funds was cited for the reason the streets were not being kept up.

Roger Garms, president of the Floyd County Day Care Center Board, also met with the Council to ask for some of the funds to defray costs of the Day Care Center.

After much discussion the Council decided to look into the purchase of a used maintainer and to try to repair the streets as the need and funds arise. This seemed to be the feasible short-term solution. The Council will have a special meeting Monday night to decide use of the funds.

Bids were opened on remodeling the front of the city hall and installing two vestibules. Three bids were received. The bid was awarded to Plainview Plate

"A Little Bit Country"

"A Little Bit Country" is coming to Floydada. The musical variety show, featuring all local talent, will be presented February 19 at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium. The Floydada Rotary Club is sponsoring the show.

Proceeds from the entertainment will be used by the Rotary Club for their various projects.

Three local bands — the Playa Playboys, the Floydada High School Stage Band and Westwind will highlight the program with Alton Higginbotham as master of ceremonies.

Susan Turner will be vocalist with the Playa Playboys. Members of the band include Harvey Allen, Cody Dillinger, Alex Torrez, Richard Burton, Kelly Turner and Tom Farris.

Members of the stage band are Gilbert Schwertner, Lane Cheek, Rusty Simpson, Tim Burns, Felix Soliz, Bobby Smith, Sandra Mitchell, J.B. Cates, Diana Wilson, Roger Alldredge, Rob Pratt, Brian Sanders, Stacy Smith, Tony Soliz, Tammy Galloway, Wally Davis, Virginia Mitchell and Mary Hernandez. They will be playing mixture of jazz and popular music.

Members of Westwind, a musical group of high school students, are Brian Sanders, Rob Pratt, Tim Burns, Keith Owens and Roger Alldredge.

As the name implies the program will consist primarily of country music. Tickets, $2 adults and $1 students, are available from any Rotary Club member.

Newsbriefs

McNiel to lead music

Jim McNiel, a gospel concert artist from St. Louis, will be leading the revival choir and presenting special music during the revival services at First Baptist Church, February 20-25.

McNiel has presented concerts throughout the United States and several foreign countries, including England and Israel. He has recorded 13 albums, and has made numerous radio and television appearances.

He has served three terms as president of the Missouri Baptist Evangelistic Fellowship, and is past assistant music director of Southern Baptist Evangelists. He is a member of Tower Grove Baptist Church in St. Louis.

McNiel received his education at Hannibal-LaGrange Junior College where he was recently elected to the Board of Trustees, and at Oklahoma Baptist University.

Services will be at 10:55 a.m. and 7 p.m. Sunday, 7:30 p.m. Monday through Friday, and at noon Tuesday through Friday. The day services will include a time of inspiration followed by lunch in the church's Fellowship Hall. The public is welcome. A nursery will be provided for all services.

Christian education

The First United Methodist Church, Floydada, is sponsoring a teacher training seminar for church school teachers, parents, pastors and wives, February 12, from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. Registration is at 7:30-8:00 a.m. at the Massie Activity Center, 513 W. Georgia in Floydada.

Parents who desire help in the area of communication with their children and teens, are also encouraged to attend the entire seminar. Also, senior high youth, who are potential teachers, are welcome.

"The Learning Center Lab" will feature 50 tables of Bible Learning Centers and Resource Centers, for all ages. Some of these include: Teaching the Bible through Music, Role Play, Drama; Directed Bible Study; Positive, Preventive Discipline; Creative Writing; Art; Picture Study; Creative Use of Overhead Projector; Scripture Memorization; Bible Games; Christmas, Easter, Thanksgiving Centers; Puppetry; Crafts; Teacher-Pupil Relationships; and age-level films (children, youth and adult methods).

Miss Joyce Lamb, of Waynesboro, Virginia, the seminar leader, has conducted over 250 seminars throughout the United States and Canada, in churches of many denominations. Most of her seminars are now co-sponsored by several churches in a community.

Lamb, graduate of Asbury College; graduate work at Asbury Theological Seminary and University of Virginia; taught 'released time' Weekday Religious Education for 12 years and has taught at State and National Sunday School Conventions.

Anyone interested in attending, please contact the First United Methodist Church, 983-3706, for further information.

Vocational Education Week February 6-12

*February 6-12 is Vocational Education Week. The Vocational Education program of the Floydada ISD is located on the Della Plains school campus at 601 E. Ross. Jimmy Collins is the director.

Various skills are taught to students ranging from 7th through 12th grades. General mechanical repair, Construction trades and Home and community services. The students are able to circulate between programs.

Home and community services teaches skills in the food services industry and the clothing industry. Primarily the class gives the student experience in cooking for and serving the public. It also gives experience in dealing with the general public.

The students learn sanitation rules, how to prepare foods and how to properly handle foods. After completing the program the student is able to acquire jobs in the food service industry. Frances Easter is the instructor for this program. Basic welding and auto body work are taught in the general mechanical repair program. The students learn skills with various welding machines including arc welders and wire welders. They also learn machine operation and safety. The class is in the process of restoring an antique car and hope to have it finished by the 1984 Old Settlers parade.

A board of advisors for the program provides guidance on various problems and situations. Members of the board include John Tye; Bill Cagle, chairman; James King, Sr.; Choise Smith and Gary Pate. Al Galloway is the instructor.

The Construction trades program teaches skills in basic wood working. The students build projects such as steps for trailer houses and small storage buildings. They also learn to refinish furniture. Dale Smith is the instructor for this program.

A Penny Saved is a Penny Earned, or is it?

By Carolyn Redding

If you are a person who believes "a penny saved is a penny earned", this message is for you.

Congress passed a law recently which requires all banks, savings and loans, money market mutual funds, credit unions, mutual savings banks, and other payers of interest or dividends to automatically withhold ten percent of the interest and dividends earned by their customers and sent to the IRS.

Income taxes already have to be paid on earnings, but the IRS wants to take ten percent of the total interest in advance for their use throughout the year. Some of the reasons that this rule is unfair and will involve more paperwork and expense are:

(1) The amount of cash a saver will have available during the year from interest income will be decreased.

(2) If the amount withheld is not correct for your tax bracket, a tax refund will be filed in order for you to get back your own money.

(3) Total interest earnings will be reduced because of less income from reinvestment and compounding.

(4) Low income individuals (including elderly person and children) will have to file an exemption certificate for each and every account they have in order to avoid withholding. If the exemption is not filed in time, a tax return must be filed in time, a tax return must be filed the next year, or the withheld money will be forfeited to the government.

This withholding rule will go into effect on July 1, 1983 unless Congress is forced to repeal the law. Area banks are asking the help of our local citizens to help do away with the rule by calling or writing the Congressman and U.S. Senators now. Their names and addresses can be found on this page.

Local financial institutions have more information.

Floyd County Hesperian
Floydada, Texas

Dear Sir,

Living overseas, we receive the Hesperian a bit late. Your issue of November 11th, 1982 has just been studied and the list of veterans was especially interesting! You mention the possibility that a few may have been overlooked. I jotted down some names out of WW II and submit as follows:

David Lewis, Fred Zimmerman, Jr., David Kirk, Lon Davis, Jr., Bill Brown, Bill Staniforth, L.D. Britton, Hershell Hinson, Jack Loran, John Kimble, Jimmy Willson, Carl Minor, Johnny Collins, Macyl Orman, Macyl Boteler, Lyndel Roberts, Lane Decker, Gene Arwine, Bill Hale, Carl Minor, Olin Watson, Ralph Johnston, Rex Smitherman, Kinder Farris, Dale Goen, Hershel Swebston, Ralph Rucker, Phil and Maurice Steen (their Dad used to be the Hesperian), George and Steve Mize, Dopey Gearhart, Ed Conner, Dub Trowbridge, Bill DuBois, Louis Lloyd, Ray Lloyd, Kenneth Poole, Bill and W.R. Daniel, Bud Goen, Kerney Edmiston, Milton Jetton, Sam Rutledge, myself... May I offer my sincere apologies to all my other dear friends whom I simply have forgotten due to my weak mind (Ancient Age?).

Sincerely,

IRS information to avoid errors

The following is the final installment of a series of tips and information from the IRS. For more information call the IRS office toll free 1-800-492-4830.

The Internal Revenue Service offers the following time-tested approach to avoiding errors on your federal income tax return.

First:

—Do you have all your necessary records and forms easily accessible?
—Do you have plenty of time?

(Rushing leads to errors.)

—Have you received a Wage and Tax Statement (W-2 form) from each employer you worked for during the past year?

—Do you anticipate any questions or problems? Are you puzzled about any particular law changes? If so, check your instructions. Also, check with IRS—they may have a free publication that will answer your questions.

Next, before you mail your return, double-check the following:

—Are all W-2 forms attached?
—Are all supporting schedules attached to your Form 1040?

—Is the arithmetic correct?
—If you rounded off numbers, did you round consistently?
—Did you use the correct tax table, and did you follow the line across to the correct figure?

—Is the return signed and dated (by both spouses if a joint return)?
—Did you use the peel-off label and, if so, is the information correct?

—Is there a stamp on the pre-addressed, coded envelope?
—Did you make a copy of the return for your own records?

Sara Probasco appointed Chairman of Texas Association of Arts Councils

At a recent meeting in Lubbock, Sara Probasco, of the South Plains community, was appointed chairman of the South Plains Region of the Texas Association of Arts Councils (TAAC). Present at the regional meeting were representatives of various arts councils throughout the South Plains Region, including Plainview, Lubbock, Levelland, and a number of smaller towns, as well as officials of TAAC, which is headquartered in Austin.

Sara has worked in various areas of the arts for most of her life. She has been involved in drama as a performer, director, producer, set designer, etc. and in music, as a student of piano and voice for twelve years, and a choir director for four years. Her formal education led to a BS in Interior Design and to her hobbies of painting, sculpture, and stained glass art. For the past several years she has been working with leaded, stained glass art on a full-time basis, operating a full studio, where she works and teaches, a mini-gallery, and a stained-glass, tools and supplies business.

Sara's duties as regional chairman will be to work with the cities, small towns, and rural areas within her region, to help them to establish and maintain art organizations and councils, to keep them informed as to touring artists in their area, and to assist them through the state association in securing funding for worthwhile projects. She will also be the link to letting their wishes and needs be known to the Texas Commission on the Arts through TAAC. Sara feels, however, that her main duties lie in assisting the small towns and rural areas in bringing the arts to their communities and to the children in their schools.

The basic function of TAAC is to serve the arts councils in each of the twelve regions throughout the state by acting as liaison between the regional chairman and the Texas Commission on the Arts. TAAC keeps the regions informed as to action and decisions of the Commission and lobbies on behalf of the arts councils. TAAC also provides assistance to the various councils in securing funding and grants for their art-related projects and expenditures, as needed.

Last week, Sara attended a 3-day annual TAAC meeting and workshop in Austin. While there, she met with members of the Commission of the Arts, as well as with various senators and representatives. She also had the opportunity to preview some of the musical, dance, and drama groups that will be touring the state next season.

Because of her love of the arts, both visual and performing, Sara has a desire to share this love with others in this area. She hopes to be instrumental in helping the schools and communities throughout the South Plains to develop continuing programs in the arts wherever there are people who are interested.

Anyone desiring more information about promoting the arts in your community, school, or organization may contact Sara Probasco at Probasco's Studio South South, 983-3834, or write to her at: Star Route, Box 38, Floydada, TX 79235.

Reagan discusses school prayer

President Reagan recently discussed his convictions concerning voluntary prayer in America's public schools with Evangelist Todd. President Reagan boldly answered Todd's questions.

TODD: "Mr. President, do you favor voluntary prayer in our public schools?"
PRESIDENT REAGAN: "I certainly do! It should never had been taken out in the first place! If we can get the government out of our public schools, maybe we can get God back in."

Cecil Todd, Director of the Joplin based Revival Fires Ministries, has launched a national crusade to get voluntary prayer back into our public schools. At this service, Todd will tell of his historic delivery of one million prayer petitions to the President at the White House calling for a return of voluntary prayer to our public schools.

Todd will also introduce his nationwide program of giving the beautiful "Love" Bibles to thousands of school kids and the special school folder with the Lord's prayer on one side and a picture of God creating the world on the other! All school age kids in attendance at this rally can get these folders and beautiful blue Bibles designed especially for them.

Todd will speak at the "Faith and Freedom" rally at the First Assembly of God church where Jim Guess is pastor, on February 10, at 7:30 p.m.

NO TO-GO ORDERS

Public Notice

In order to implement prior orders of the Public Utility Commission of Texas in Docket No. 3957, notice is hereby given of Southwestern Bell's proposal to implement a new schedule of intrastate long distance rates, effective April 1, 1983, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the proposed rate schedule will not increase the company's net intrastate revenues, but rather, the increased rates will offset increased settlements paid to certain other telephone companies.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

Changes in intrastate long distance rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide intrastate long distance service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs.

Aviso Público

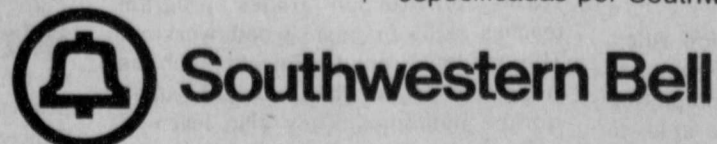

Southwestern Bell, con el objeto de cumplir con el decreto previo del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) del Estado de Texas, Acta No. 3957, por la presente hace saber su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel de tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia, con vigencia a partir del 1o de abril de 1983, a menos que la Comisión haga otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel de tarifas que Southwestern Bell se propone establecer no aumentará sus ingresos netos intraestatales, sino que servirá para compensar el aumento de los ajustes que se les paga a algunas otras compañías de teléfono.

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel de tarifas se ha archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) en Austin, Texas, y esta disponible para inspección pública en todas nuestras oficinas en el Estado de Texas.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

Cambios en las tarifas para servicio intraestatal de larga distancia también afectarían a clientes de otras compañías de teléfono porque dichas compañías proveen servicio intraestatal de larga distancia en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell.

Caprock Hospital to have Open House

By Joe Rice
 Caprock Hospital Medical Services, Inc. has scheduled Sunday the 13th of February for an open house. This is an excellent opportunity for the people of Floyd County to view first hand the continued improvements being implemented with their tax dollars. The Hospital has spent close to $100,000 on new equipment and has added Respiratory and Physical Therapy department. The new equipment has been spread in all departments in an effort to stay up-to-date with the changing technologies in medicine. There are other areas that the hospital has contributed in the community that is sometimes overlooked or hidden from view. Besides providing excellent health care in the community the hospital spends in excess of $120,000 to local Floydada merchants. The payroll at Caprock exceeds $600,000 annually and employs over 60 full-time people. Most of this payroll floats in the Floydada economy. In the first year of the operation of CHMS, Inc. the taxes to the people of Floydada were lowered by 10 percent. Notice the taxes were lowered — not raised not the same but lowered by 10%. The hospital provides indigent care to the people of Floyd County. The hospital brings salesmen, family members and delivery people to the community who use our motels, restaurants, gas stations and other facilities. The hospital helps to start and sustain new businesses in the area. Because of the professional nature of the hospital it provides a better quality of people to the community. The excellent physicians and employees are proud of Caprock Hospital and the services that we provide. This Sunday would be an excellent opportunity for you to see the improvements being made and show your support for vitally needed services. The physicians and employees expressly invite all of you to our open house.

Thanks
 Joe Rice

WARNING:

10% OF THE MONEY YOU EARN IN INTEREST IS GOING TO

DISAPPEAR

Recently, Congress quietly passed a withholding law that will cost American savers and investors the use of 10% of their interest and dividends.

In simple terms, effective July 1st, 1983, this new law requires banks and other financial institutions to deduct 10% of the interest or dividends you earn on your savings and investments. That money then goes to the Internal Revenue Service in much the same way as payroll deductions are now handled.

The sponsors of this law have told us it was designed to catch a small minority of Americans who evade taxes on their interest and dividends. But the truth is the law penalizes the great majority of America's savers and investors who pay their taxes faithfully. What's more, the federal government is now receiving all the necessary information to curtail tax cheating.

Though the law does include exemptions for some low income and elderly Americans, if they go through the red tape of filing an application, most savers and investors will forfeit some of the money they could earn in compounded interest.

We urge you to join our efforts by writing letters to your representative in Congress and to the two senators from this state. Tell them you want the 10% withholding tax repealed, because it would impose an unfair penalty on savers like yourself.

For assistance in contacting your representative and senators please ask any of our bankers. If we all act now, Congress will get a clear message from the voters back home, and they will work to repeal this needless law.

Baptist reschedule census

Weather permitting, members of First Baptist Church will try again to conduct a community-wide Religious Census on Sunday, February 13. Weather postponed the initial attempt on January 23.

Approximately 100 members will spread out across the city and county in an effort to contact every family regarding their religious affiliations and preferences.

Canvassers will be seeking information about Sunday School attendance, church membership, and local church preference. Persons specifying a local church preference will have their names and addresses given to that church.

Cooperating churches will again be asked to distribute the census cards to their congregations on Sunday morning, ask the members to complete the cards and leave the cards on their mail boxes for a canvasser to pick up on Sunday afternoon.

MR. & MRS. MARTIN DANE CHAPMAN

McCulloch, Chapman united during double ring ceremony

The Bible Church of Pampa was the scene for the December 31, 1982, double ring ceremony uniting Rhonda Renee McCulloch, formerly of Lockney, and Martin Dane Chapman, formerly of Amarillo. The ceremony was read by Sam Ellis of Pampa.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bryan McCulloch of Lockney and the groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Chapman of Amarillo.

Escorted to the altar and presented for marriage by her father, the bride wore a lovely floor-length gown of slipper satin. The bodice featured a lace yoke outlined with a deep lace ruffle, accented with a narrow lace ruffle at the neck. Fitted lace sleeves ended in points over the hand. The dress was tied at the waist with a wide satin ribbon belt, with the fullness of the back of the skirt falling into a chapel train. Her knee-length veil of illusion was attached to a caplet and edged with a wide row of matching lace. The bride's wedding attire was made by the bride's mother. She carried a cascade bouquet of silk burgundy and ivory rosebuds with burgundy streamers tied with love-knots.

For the traditional something old and borrowed, the bride wore a diamond pinkie ring belonging to her mother. Her wedding attire was new, and she wore a blue garter. Pennies bearing the birthdates of the couple were worn in the bride's shoes.

The groom was attired in a burgundy tuxedo with an ivory shirt and black tie. His boutonniere was an ivory silk rosebud.

Upon approaching the altar, the bride presented the groom's mother with a long-stemmed red rose and presented her mother one as she and her husband left the altar.

The matron of honor was Sandy Penney of Pampa. She wore a floor-length knit dress of burgundy and carried a bouquet of silk burgundy and ivory rosebuds, matching that of the bride's. Dan Penney of Pampa attended the groom as best man. He wore a burgundy tuxedo with an ivory shirt and an ivory silk rosebud boutonniere.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. McCulloch chose an apricot colored dress with floral accents, featuring sheer bishop sleeves. The groom's mother chose a burgundy floor-length dress accented with a pink lace collar. Her corsage was burgundy and ivory silk roses.

Ushers were Jaime McCulloch, Pampa, brother of the bride, and Stan Chapman, Amarillo, brother of the groom.

A reception followed in the church parlor. The bride's table was covered with a pink cloth and a white lace overlay. The three-tiered cake, separated by white columns, was decorated with burgundy roses, green leaves and white turtle-doves. It was baked and decorated by a former Lockney resident, Ladell Kell, now of Canadian. A trio of wedding bells topped the cake. The bride and her attendant placed their bouquets in a wicker basket at the base of the crystal punchbowl. The burgundy napkins had a poem, the couple's names, and the wedding date stamped in silver. Mrs. Rodney (Alisa) McCulloch and Mrs. Jaime (Rhonda) McCulloch of Pampa, sisters-in-law of the bride, served the guests cake and punch with an engraved cake knife and server. Also assisting was Gladys Ragle, Lockney, the bride's maternal grandmother.

The groom's table was covered with a burgundy cloth and a white overlay. A German chocolate cake, baked by the groom's mother, and coffee in a silver service were served by Mrs. Roy Chapman of Grants, N.M., and Mrs. S.L. Holmes, Floydada, grandmothers of the groom.

For traveling the bride chose a plaid dress in turquoise, pink and beige tied with a pink sash. Beige shoes completed her outfit.

The couple are at home four miles south of Pampa. Rhonda works as a bookkeeper for White House Lumber, and Dane is a mechanic for Leonard Hudson Drilling Company.

Gentry, May announce wedding date

Mr. and Mrs. Travis J. Gentry of Floydada wish to announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Trava Jayne, to Timothy Bruce May. The

"Magic of photography" program presented to 1934 Study Club

On February 1, a cold, wintry night, the denizens of the Arctic had nothing on the brave members of the 1934 Study Club who "mushed forth" to meet with their hostess, Mrs. A.L. Wylie, Jr., and Mrs. Vernon Parker, her co-hostess.

Mrs. W.H. Bunch called the meeting to order, and after a short business session, Mrs. W.W. Trapp led the members in voicing the club collect.

In keeping with the theme "Look For the Beautiful", Mrs. Parker presented her husband, Vernon Parker, who would be showing through slides "The Beautiful Magic of Photography."

Mrs. Parker said that the many different ways to add the extra magic in taking pictures is with filtered, telephoto, and close-up lenses, also in the use of such film as infrared and transparency. But the most important element is the time of day or night a person chooses to take pictures.

"Early morning will give a soft natural light, afternoon gives a strong, bright light, and the late evening gives soft light and shadows, which often produces a misty look. The night time will also give a beautiful color contrast," said Mrs. Parker.

The slide selection showed some of each of these methods.

The first category was of windmills, some of which were taken with infrared film with color filters.

The next category was photographed at Telluride, Colorado. The aspens were arrayed in their gorgeous fall colors, with the misty mountains in the background, highlighted by the deep azure sky and white fleecy clouds. Any artist would appreciate the slides showing the use of old wood, such as the deserted, dilapidated buildings, corrals, and rail fences.

Mr. Parker said he never misses a chance to photograph water, whether it be a rushing mountain stream or a still lake. This series of slides showed water scenes filmed in Colorado, Canada, and the Texas Hill Country. His series of reflections were very peaceful and colorful, most of which were photographed around Kerrville.

Mr. Parker lived up to his nickname, "Shine", in the next category shown, for he brought sunshine into the room with his close-ups of the indescribable beauty of flowers that ranged from the lowly thistle plant to the exotic orchid. His creative use of background colors highlighted the natural beauty of the many varieties shown, some of which were filmed in the Busch Gardens in St. Louis, Missouri, others in his own garden.

Mr. Parker concluded the program with several shots of colorful sunsets and night shots. Among the subjects filmed on a visit to Canada were the Empress Hotel, the Federal Building, and one unique marina night shot of moored boats in Victoria, British Columbia.

The Parkers have just recently sold their photography business and plan to spend some time roaming across these beautiful United States and putting on film some of the beauty of God's handiwork they want to share with others.

The hostesses served finger sandwiches, cherry tarts, coffee and tea to the following members and guests: Mmes. W.H. Bunch, Allen Bingham, J.P. Moss, W.W. Trapp, L.B. Stewart, Jr., George Springer, Dennis Dempsey, M.J. McNeill, Milton Ashton, Walton Wilson, J.R. Turner, Garland Foster, Floyd Lawson, Anthony Latta, L.E. Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Davis, Arthur Wylie, and Vernon Parker.

The next meeting will be February 15 in the home of Mrs. J.R. Turner.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED—Mr. and Mrs. Charles Huffman of Lockney announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Christine Marie to Mark Ralph Odom, Abilene, Texas. Christine graduated from Lockney High School in 1980, attended McMurry College in Abilene and is currently employed by Hendricks Medical Center of Abilene. Mark is the son of Mrs. Ralph Odom. He graduated from Abilene Cooper High School, holds a BS in Animal Science and is currently employed in the McMurry Athletic Department. The Saturday afternoon service will be performed April 16 at the First United Methodist Church, Lockney, Texas.

Doodlings

By Dottie Stansell

Robert, Billie and Mike Moody, of Steam Boat Springs, Colo. arrived in Lockney Wednesday afternoon to attend the funeral of their grandfather Robert Peel, 98, who died Tuesday morning. Funeral services were held Thursday afternoon at 3:00 p.m., at the West 3rd and College Church of Christ. Services were conducted by Frank Duckworth, assisted by Lynn Ray Smith. Interment was in the Lockney Cemetery.

Because of the heavy snow fall, they delayed leaving for Colorado till Friday morning. Robert called the Pat Stansells Sunday afternoon and reported they got back home Saturday night. They spent Friday night at Santa Fe, and reported the roads were snow covered and ice packed to Santa Fe, but were open and in much better condition from Santa Fe to Grand Junction, where Mike lives.

Sam Jones was in the Central Plains Hospital last week for tests to determine the cause of his chronic hoarseness. The doctor determined that he has a growth on his vocal cord. He is to return to the doctor Wednesday for a full report and advice on further treatment. He is expecting to have surgery.

Harold Griffith seems to be improving and getting stronger.

Harold Dean Griffith, of Lubbock, son of Harold and Mary Griffith, entered the hospital in Houston, last week. He has two clogged arteries to his heart. The doctors will do a ballooning procedure which has been 85% successful. If this is not successful, bypass surgery will be necessary.

Elaine Hardy had surgery on her right hip two weeks ago Monday, to have a joint replacement. The doctors found an infection in the joint and were not able to complete the replacement. She had surgery again last Wednesday to fuse the bones together and was placed in a partial cast. She is expecting them to put her into another permanent cast in a week or so, and is hopeful that she may get to come home a week after the new cast is put on. Her address is: John Sealy Towers, Orthopedic Wing, Room J8A-5, Galveston, Texas 77550.

Fifteen high school youth, and four sponsors with the First Baptist Church, are planning to go on a ski trip. They are planning to leave Thursday afternoon and go to Goriotta, N.M. to stay, skiing at Santa Fe. They plan to return to Lockney Saturday afternoon.

Mrs. Neva Callahan visited Thursday in Floydada with her niece and husband, Gearldine and Pete Calloway.

Bill and Deanna McConnell and children returned home January 19, after being gone a month.

They went to Cleveland, Oklahoma December 19 to visit with Bill's father who had been hospitalized for over a month with a heart condition.

Bill entered the hospital December 27, to have some tests run. The doctors found he was hemorrhaging from a perforated gall bladder. Surgery was done January 4 to remove the gall bladder.

Bill, who is the Chief of Police at Lockney, is back on the job, working part time and says he is feeling good and getting stronger every day.

Deanna is back on her job as teacher's aide at Lockney Jr. Hi.

Charles Higgs and Ray Macha of Floydada filled in for him while he was gone.

The bad weather has not dampened our spirits! We have been busy decorating for Valentines. Each employee has been assigned a Resident's door to decorate and our home has really captured the Valentine spirit. Also each resident has a Valentine sack hanging around our Activity calendar for anyone to put Valentines in. We invite everyone to come and visit and share our Valentine spirit.

DeLinda Glasson and Almeda Phillips were unable to be with us this week for bingo because of the bad weather. They were truly missed! Somehow the residents endured my calling! Our winners were Mary Green and Mary McCracken. Congratulations, ladies!

The ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ gave another lovely birthday party. Our February honorees were Myrtle Burke, Lee Atchley and Jeffie Griffith. Wishes for many more birthdays were exchanged.

We were saddened by the loss of two very special gentlemen, Robert Peel and Donnie Hester. Their friendliness and smiling faces will be missed. They had really added so much to our lives. Everyone sends their sympathy to the families.

The bad weather didn't stop our domino champs. They took advantage of the bad weather and played their hearts out. Our champs are Mary McCracken, Bill Holt, Lewis Roberts and Esker Pyle. Until next time, enjoy.

Floydada Nursing Home Happening

By Dartha Westbrook

Last week was the week the ground hog saw his shadow, or did he? Everyone who came in to the Nursing Home had a different idea, and I really don't know either. I do know we still have winter in Floydada. We're about tired of the snow here! We had a full week here, in spite of the weather. I guess everyone has decided they may as well venture out in the bad weather, as it looks like we're going to have it for awhile.

Monday, Olive was here for Ceramics class. Vera Duke, Irene Fuller, Emmitt Lawrence, Iva Simpson, and Travis Corley made something. Tuesday was our Bible Study, and we are having a real good time in this activity. This is a real sharing time for those who attend, and participation has been good.

On Wednesday our Bingo winners were Emmitt Lawrence and Susie Thompson with three games. Una Clark and Vera Duke with two games. Emmitt Lawrence and Susie Thompson each won grand prizes for black-out Bingo. On Thursday we had our volunteer meeting, and can you believe seven showed up in spite of the snow. We sure appreciate our volunteers. On Friday we decorated the Home for Valentines, and I want to thank Delores Cannon, who came out to help. On Friday, we had our movies, and they were good this week.

Last week I asked for someone to take our Tuesday Devotion time, and I would like to thank Neely Richardson for accepting this challenge. In fact, he helped us out on Friday too -- Thanks so much Neely!

Our visitors last week were: Mary Poole, Joan Littlejohn, J.C. and Mary Henexsov, Ralls, Bill Henexsov, Post, Hazel Bradley and Kim, Christine Robertson, Deota Odam, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Baird, Alamogordo, New Mexico, Cody Comey, Artesia, N.M., Gene Baird, Dolores Cannon, Dana and JoLee Ellis, Ira Sullivan, Pearl Emert, Carmen Starkey and Dolly Emert.

Billy C. Griffin named state conservationist

Billy C. Griffin became state conservationist for the USDA Soil Conservation Service in Texas effective January 9, 1983.

Griffin has been state conservationist for Mississippi since January 1981. A native of Waelder, Texas (Gonzales County), Griffin is a 1950 graduate of Southwest Texas State University where he received a Bachelor of Science degree in Agricultural Education.

After serving in the U.S. Army during the Korean Conflict (25th Infantry Division), he began his conservation career in 1954 at Stephenville. He then worked at Bandera, San Antonio, and Pecos before moving to Temple in 1972 where he was an area conservationist and assistant state conservationist. He was promoted to deputy state conservationist in Mississippi from 1976 to 1981.

Griffin received awards for outstanding work in 1965, 1968, 1973, 1978, 1980 and 1982. He replaced George C. Marks who retired.

Center News

By Mrs. J.E. Green

Monday February 7: More winter weather.

I did not make it to church Sunday, for two reasons, it was cold and I was, I guess, indisposed. Sunday is a long day when one doesn't get to Sunday school and church.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Lotta dropped in Friday afternoon, accompanied by their daughter Carol, employed in Plainview who was home for the weekend.

One p.m. Saturday, I think, Mr. and Mrs. David Lotta and son Jason came over. Mrs. David Lotta (Vickie) and Sue Green of Plainview. Now after the brief visit to the hospital, they all know how my injured ankle is doing. Just fine.

Mrs. Fred Battey, and Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Warren visited Mrs. Ola Warren Sunday afternoon.

Bill Thomas of Lockney dined Sunday with Hal Thomas.

Mrs. Elmer Warren seems to be doing OK.

This is a red letter day to Mrs. Mayfield. She is to have cast removed from her arm which was broken the day after Christmas.

We are so sorry for the passing of another former Centerite, Mrs. Ma Finley. After moving to Plainview years after she was a resident of the Heritage Rest Home.

The rest of our ailing folks seem to be about the same.

Calvary Baptist women hold Bible Study

Calvary Baptist Church women met at the church for February Bible Study. The study being about Peter, another "Life changer of the Bible." Study was led by director Mildred Haile. A good study was enjoyed by each one present.

Prayer calendar was given by director Hazle Powell.

Following the program, a short business meeting was held. Main issue was about helping the church youth finance a trip to a youth conference in Goriotta this summer. A lot of interest was shown. A name drawing for Sunshine Friends was also held for each one desiring to participate in this very pleasant occasion.

Fourteen ladies were present. They were: Jo Payne, Hazle Powell, Mildred Haile, Edna Patton, Evelyn Pierce, Deota Odam, Merlene Breeding, Estelle Gilbreath, Delzie Bradford, Mary Poole, Irene Wexler, Margaret Daniel, Arlene Holmes and one guest, Joan Littlejohn.

Scholarship deadline nears

Junior and senior class high school students who are interested in applying for $1,000 college scholarships should request applications by March 15, 1983 from the Educational Communications Scholarship Foundation, 721 N. McKinley Road, Lake Forest, Illinois 60045.

To receive an application, students should send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with a note stating their name, address, city, state and zip code and approximate grade point average. Fifty award winners will be selected on the basis of academic performance, involvement in extracurricular activities and need for financial aid.

Blouys named to Outstanding Young Women of America

Barbara Jane Blouys of 4911-16th Street, Lubbock, has been selected for inclusion in the 1982 edition of Outstanding Young Women of America as announced by the Board of Advisors for the Outstanding Young Women of America Awards Program.

The Outstanding Young Women of America program is designed to honor and encourage exceptional young women between the ages of 21 and 36 who have distinguished themselves in their homes, their professions and their communities. Accomplishments such as these are the result of dedication, service and leadership - qualities which deserve to be recognized and remembered.

Mrs. Blouys is the wife of David Blouys who owns a waterbed manufacturing firm, Horizon Waterbeds, in Lubbock. They have two daughters Laura, 12, and Kathy, 10. She is employed by Bob Huff and Associates, Inc., a law firm.

Her sister-in-law, Mrs. Johnny Weathers, a school teacher at Roosevelt, made the original nomination.

Mrs. Blouys is the daughter of Tom Weathers of Lockney, Louise Weathers of Plainview, and the daughter-in-law of Gene and Eleanor Blouys of Floydada.

The 23,000 women from across the United States will be presented in the prestigious annual awards volume. In addition, those women who have made the most noteworthy contributions in their individual states will compete for the Ten Outstanding Young Women of America. Those top ten winners will be honored at the annual awards luncheon held in Washington, D.C.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

The way food prices are climbing, being overweight may soon be a status symbol.

There is more to life than increasing its speed.

Too much of the world is run on the theory that you don't need road manners if you are a five-ton truck.

When you see a situation you cannot understand, look for the financial interest.

If all the rich men in the world divided up their money amongst themselves, there wouldn't be enough to go around.

An old man was asked "To what do you attribute your old age?" and he replied, "To the fact that I was born a long time ago."

It is when we forget ourselves that we do things that are remembered.

You will surely be remembered all year long when you present your loved one with a Valentine of stained glass. Tiny pink or red hearts to be worn as a drop, or hung in a window, beginning at $1.95. For a more elaborate remembrance, say it with a lacy heart of antique glass centered with a bouquet of dried, pressed violets -- flowers that never fade, say "I Love You" all year long.

REMEMBER your loved ones with a living memorial to the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Memorial Fund. Mrs. Ben Whitaker, Treasurer.

By Grace Lemons
We received rain and sleet last Monday and more snow during the night and it has been bad all week.

The Rev. and Mrs. Vance Mitchell left Monday to attend a Ministers Institute held at the Koko Palace in Lubbock for the ministers of the Assembly of God Churches in this area. It will run through Wednesday.

The social Society Club met in the home of Jonni Dell Cogdell this Tuesday with a good number represented.

Garland and Mary Ann Tucker of Lubbock had dinner in the home of Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry last Wednesday.

Michelle and Terry Harris of Floydada spent the week-end with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Cephus Fortenberry. They met Phyllis Harris in Plainview and had lunch at Furs together Saturday and the children returned home with her.

We extend congratulations on the arrival of Joshua Benjamin born to Dr. and Mrs. Steve Steger of Borger on January 24th at North Plains Hospital. Joshua weighed nine pounds, two ounces and was 22 inches long. He has an older sister, Heidi, age two. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. C.L. Gilly of Floydada and Dr. and Mrs. N.C. Steger of Borger. Great grandparents are Mrs. O.R. Beard of Floydada and E.M. Steger of Borger.

We also extend congratulations on the arrival of John Tyler Phillips born on January 29th in Lubbock General Hospital. He weighed 5 lbs. 7 ozs. and is the son of Keith and Marcia Phillips of Lockney. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Joe Fortenberry and Mr. and Mrs. D.J. Phillips. He is the great grandson of Mrs. Elsie Sherman and Mrs. W.H. Workman.

Twyla Lemons is somewhat improved after combating a spell of appendicitis. We trust that she will continue to gain strength and overcome surgery at this time.

Patsy Boone of Lubbock and Pam and Jackie of Oklahoma arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Fortenberry Thursday. Pam and Jackie Hayhurst went skiing and Trevor stayed with the Fortenberrys. Lafayette Boone went to be with the family when they returned.

Clara Mize visited Mollie Burleson in Caprock Hospital Sunday. Mollie sustained a broken left leg Sunday morning when she fell as she went to get her mail. We trust that she will make a quick recovery and our prayers are with her at this time.

Dinner quests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Mize Sunday were Mrs. Edna Patton and Evelyn Pierce.

Funeral services for Eva Nell Finley, 90, were held at the Calvary Baptist Church in Floydada Friday, February 4th, at 2:30 p.m. with the Rev. Hollis Payne officiating.

She is survived by two daughters, Eva Lou Martis of Colusa, California and Kathaline Cooper of Lockney, and one son, Leonard Finley of Plainview; and 8 grandchildren and 11 great grandchildren. Among those present were Dosier Dillard, George and Elwauna Taylor, Jack and Emogene Stanselle and J.A. and Norma Welch.

You get credit for what you finish, not what you start.

Survivors include his wife; a sister, Vergie Dawkin of Yuma, Arizona; and a brother, Pearl of Lubbock; a stepdaughter, Norene O'Brian of Friona; and five grandsons.

He was preceded in death by a daughter, Viola Moody, December 1979.

South Plains News

By Mrs. Murray Julian

South Plains, February 7:
Sunshine is beautiful this Monday! We have had very little of that since the beginning of January. Schools are opening on time, and buses are back on their regular routes, and we are told the temperatures will climb today.
This past Sunday, February 6th, was Boy Scout Sunday, and the South Plains Baptist Church had a whole row of smiling, happy faces of boys in their uniforms and they were proudly wearing badges, pins and all their merit badges they have worked for. We are justly proud for all of them, as they stood in the vestibule with leaders, Mrs. Helen Teeple, Nathan and Connie Johnson, and Jerry Chappell, after morning church services. Present were Boy Scouts, Webelows and Cub Scouts, Brian and Keith Teeple, Troy Johnson, Cory Mulder, Tim Julian and Lane Sanders.

The Rev. Cecil Osborne returned home this past Tuesday in snow, from Dallas and around there, where he had been visiting his children, Mrs. Karen Mauney and the Rev. and Mrs. Ron and Linda Somers, Jennifer and Jaime. He had rain down there, which he thinks is worse than snow! He also was in Emory visiting his parents, who recently moved there from Tulia. Mrs. Joyce Osborne spent part of that time with mother, Mrs. Corda Taylor in Muleshoe, and will visit the children and others later in the spring. She got back home Thursday, what with all the snow and storms we have been having.

Workers Conference for the Baptist churches of our area will meet for the February meeting at the First Baptist Church in Silverton on February 15, at 6:00 p.m. and Melvin Smith will be in charge of the program for the evening.

Nathan Mulder was the visiting minister at the South Plains Baptist for Wednesday night prayer service. He spoke on 1st Peter, and everyone enjoyed the message. Roads have been hard to navigate the past few weeks. We had rain, then blizzard Monday night and Tuesday—a blowing blizzard all day, February 1st.

Mrs. Pam Price and son, James from Sarasota, Florida, will be here to visit her father, the Don Probascos, and in the area to be with other folks, here and in Lubbock, for the next two weeks. Pam and twin sister, Cam, grew up in the South Plains area and attended schools here.

Fladger Fitzgerald from Littlefield, brother of Letha Mulder, has been very ill, and in the hospital in Lubbock, with a heart ailment. He is in Methodist Hospital in intensive care, and we are glad to hear he is doing better this Monday morning.

Mark Smitherman, grandson of Ernest and Ruth Smitherman, was a week in South Park Hospital in Lubbock, with pneumonia. He was able to go home Saturday, and is convalescing there, weak but getting along fine.

Mrs. Bonnie Moore has returned to her home here after spending the past weeks back in Jacksonville, Florida with her relatives. She flew home from there the past week-end.

Schools opened at 9:30 here Friday morning of last week and they were let out at 2:30 p.m. because of snow and inclement weather, and it has been about all parents can do to keep their children in school the past weeks, as the roads and weather have been terrible.

Mrs. Ginger Warren was in Caprock Hospital a few days last week with an attack of sinus infection, but she is home and doing well now.

The Blue, Gold and Green Cub Scouts, Webelows, and Boy Scouts of South Plains, Troop #358, held their annual banquet Tuesday evening, February 1st, at the Fellowship Hall of the South Plains Baptist Church, with guest, the Reverend Cecil Osborne bringing the invocation. The banquet began at 6:30 p.m. with roast turkey and there was potato casserole, green beans, fruit salad, and for dessert, the Boy Scouts had baked different cakes which were auctioned off per slice, their fathers had helped them. The Cub Scouts and fathers had baked hoe cakes which were auctioned off also, a money making project. The Cub Scouts had the program, which was "Scouts Around the World." They had 2 boys to cross into Webelows, and Jerry Chappell, their leader. Boy Scout leader is Nathan Johnson. Boy Scouts are Tim Julian, Cory Mulder and Bryan Henderson.

Webelows are Brian Teeple and Victor Chavaria. Cub Scout leaders are Connie Johnson and Helen Teeple. Cub Scouts are Tracy Johnson, Keith Teeple, Ruben Chavaria and Layne Sanders.

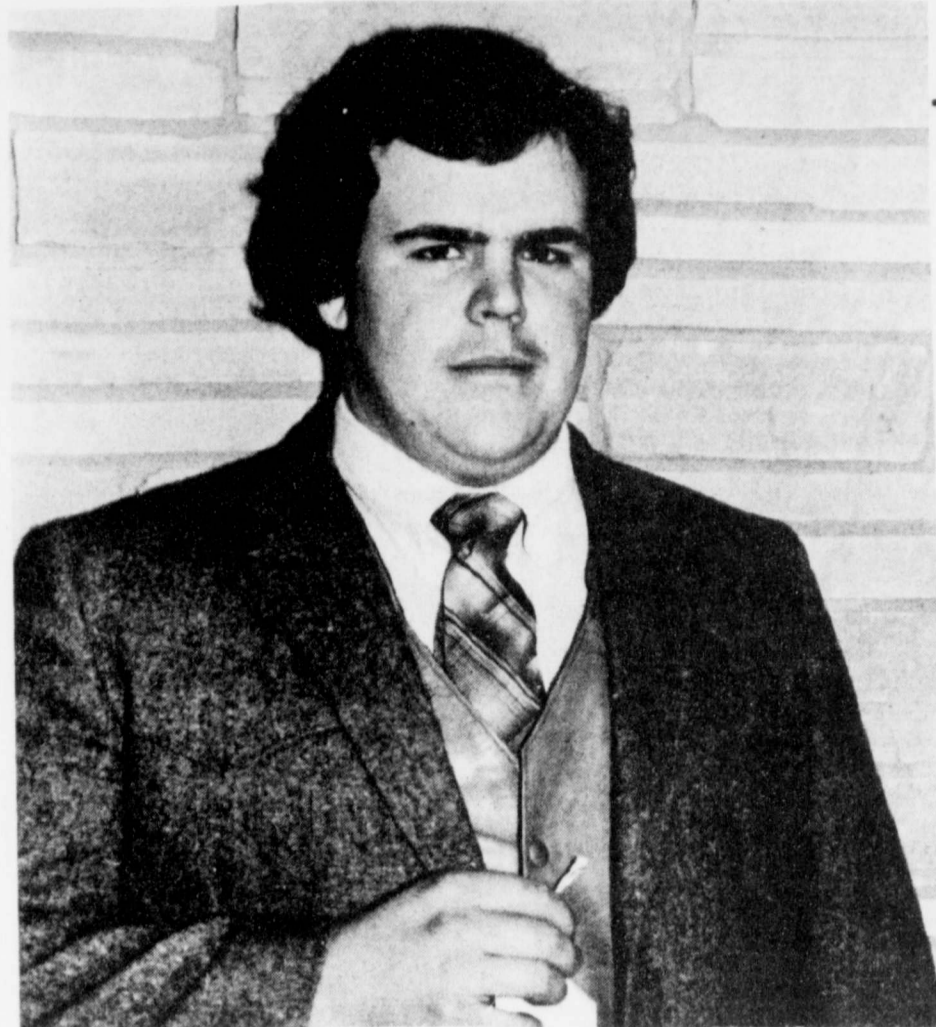

Present for the banquet were Dwight and Helen Teeple, Brian and Keith, Nathan and Connie Johnson, Tracy and Troy, Jerry and Darla Chappell, Ira and Gayle Henderson, Bryan and Amanda, and Kendis and Janis Julian and Tim, with guest for the banquet, the Rev. Cecil Osborne.

We are glad they were able to have the banquet for the weather was frightful, with snow falling.

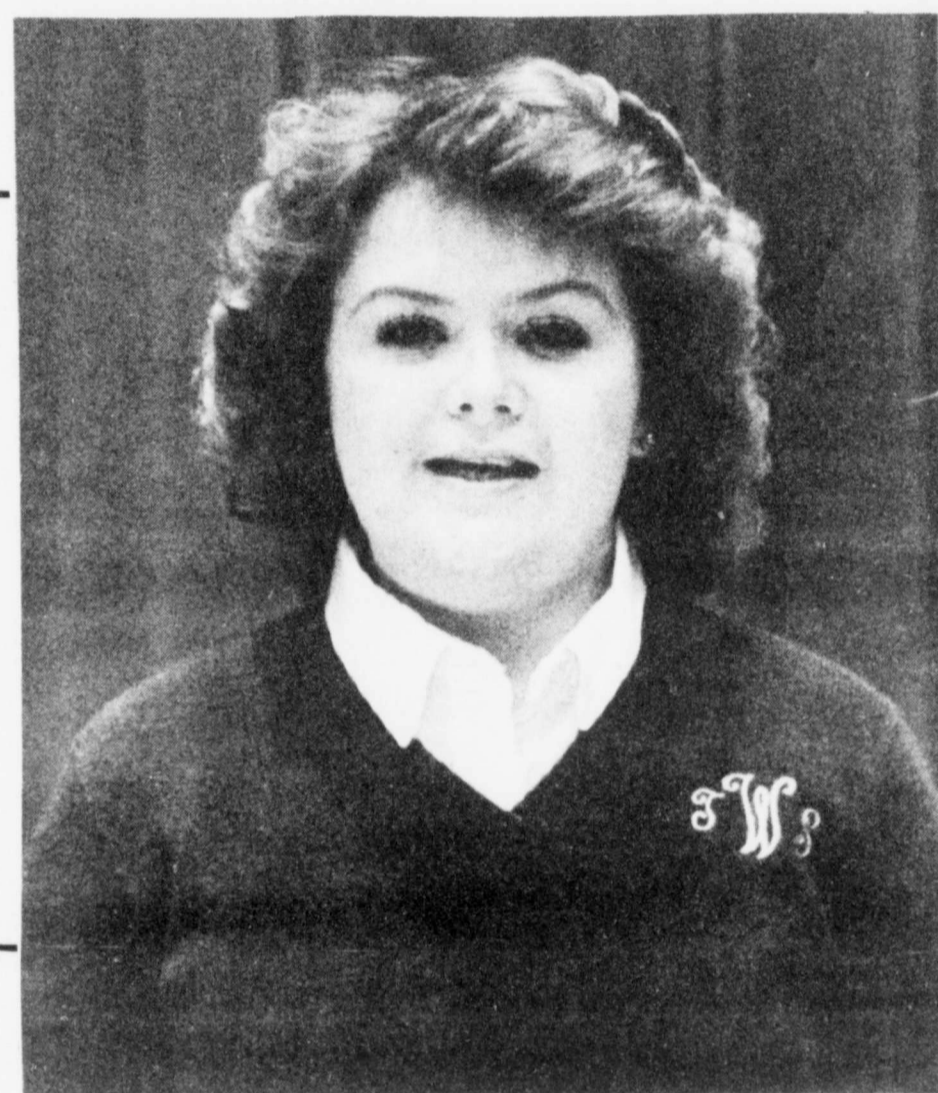

Mrs. Mildred Hamm goes to Floydada each Sunday where she stays the day with her ailing sister, Mrs. Wanda Teeple. Mildred cooks, helps plan menus, and straightens house, and they have a good day together.

There will be a February Hobby Club meeting on Wednesday, February 9th, at 2:00 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Juanita Teeple, where the program will be making lace frames for pictures. Guests will bring their own trimmings. Mrs. Joyce Osborne has Thought For the Day, and the new books for the year will be given out, and plans for the spring & summer discussed.

Mr. and Mrs. Don and Sara Probascos spent Tuesday to Saturday in Austin where they were at the Driscoll Hotel, and were guests in the home of Drs. Samuel and Beverly Hadaway. The Probascos were there for the Texas Association of Art Councils in Austin for the regional annual meeting and workshop. Please watch the paper for details for their meeting there in Austin.

FLOYDADA YOUTH HELPS SPC TEAM TO DENVER WIN—Benton Easter of Floydada, formerly of Wolf-orth, recently helped the South Plains College livestock judging team to first high point team honors in market beef judging, fourth high point team honors in both breeding beef and sheep judging, and sixth high point team honors in swine judging. He also helped the team to first high team honors in quality horse judging at the Arizona National Livestock Show in Phoenix, Easter, the 19-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Easter of Route 3, Floydada, is a 1981 graduate of Floydada High School. FLOYDADA COED NAMED TO HONOR SOCIETY—Teresa Weaver of Floydada has been named to the South Plains College chapter of Phi Theta Kappa, nationally recognized honor society for students in two-year colleges. To be eligible, students must earn a minimum 3.5 grade point average while carrying 15 or more semester hours. A career secretary major at SPC, Weaver is the 20-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fuller of Floydada and a 1981 graduate of Floydada High School. SPC Photo

Lakeview News

By Joyce Williams

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand and Dr. and Mrs. Keith Patzer attended the Sunday afternoon concert of the Russ Morgan band in Plainview. The music of the Big Band era was presented as a part of the Community Concert series.

Mr. Earl Bishop is again a patient in the Caprock Hospital. His son, Davis Bishop of Taboka visited him Thursday. His daughter, Mrs. Lula Teague, cooks his breakfast at her home and takes it to him, to encourage his appetite.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Harrison and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Harrison were in Morton last Monday to attend the funeral services for Mrs. Donilita Chessire, mother of Don Chessire of Floydada. On their way home they stopped off at Levelland to see Foy and Jessie Smith and all went out to lunch together.

Mrs. O.D. Williams attended Master Follies at Lubbock Christian College Saturday afternoon. Her sister, Mrs. Norma Lee and daughter, Tonja, of Vernon were also present to see Miss Lou Lee and members of her college social club present their musical skit in the Follies. Other relatives who visited with them during the week-end in Lubbock included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Mobley and sons of Plainview, Billy Brown and Ford Miller of Texas Tech University. They attended Monterey Church of Christ on Sunday and went to the movie, "Ghandi", in the afternoon.

Among the local farmers who attended the meeting explaining the goal and procedures of the Payment In Kind program, held at the Massie Activity Center were Rex Harrison, Max Harrison and William Bertrand.

Sunday visitors in the Riley Teague home were Mrs. Sue Tilson, her son Scott, and Misti and Kristina Tilson, also a friend, Ed, of Lubbock. Joe Mack, Sherry, Jason and Charley all came over for Sue's birthday dinner. They visited Mr. Earl Bishop during the afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bertrand were among the tourists in the Valley last month who were seeking a warmer climate.

However the ones who really got away from the prairie storms were Mr. and Mrs. Lannie Glasscock who, with a party of Lockney vacationers, flew to Las Vegas, Nevada for an exciting, long week-end. They returned home last Tuesday. Lannie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Glasscock, were among the revelers at the "Star Dust" hotel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Smith and daughters, Sheryl and Becky of Littlefield visited recently with her mother, Mrs. Buell Neff, and all went out for a Saturday night supper of pizza. On Sunday they visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith.

The Verlon Wrights have stayed close to home during the bad weather this month. The pavement on the farm to market road in front of their house has developed pot holes and has crumbled and broken from the melted snow. The water freezes at night, pushing apart the paving. Lubbock streets are in serious condition from similar weathering. A big repair bill faces the state of Texas, both from road repair and the repairs to be done on our state capital building that was badly burned Sunday morning.

As area farmers study the choices open to them in the Payment In Kind program, they report they are often as confused after a study as before. Many have signed up for the plan, while many others are watching the weather and forseeing another wet spring like last year, are hesitant to break tradition. We'll all know by the end of March.

Thursday's weather was snow, also

Friday. Out here at Lakeview the county maintainer was out in Friday's snow-storm blading off dirt roads for everyone. These drained and dried well over the week-end, and no trouble for motorists.

The Hank Smith's historic Rock House in Blanco Canyon was featured in a large picture and story display in the Lubbock paper Monday. Mrs. Beth Kropp, Lockney, now owns the ranch which was the first white settlement in Crosby County. Mrs. Smith was known as the Mother of the Plains.

VA NEWS

Eligible persons training under the Chapter 34 GI Bill and Chapter 35 Survivors and Dependents educational and assistance programs of the Veterans Administration may be paid tutorial assistance to help them defer expenses incurred by the need for tutoring, said the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

The tutorial allowance is a supplement to the monthly VA educational assistance check.

To be eligible for such assistance, the claimant must be enrolled in a post-secondary educational program on a full-time or more basis and have a deficiency in a subject required as part of the pursuit of a program approved for veterans.

Tutorial assistance may be authorized for tutoring given during the period of enrollment. The tutorial assistance must not exceed $76 per calendar month, he said. A close relative may not tutor a claimant, he added.

Interested persons may be assisted in applying for tutorial benefits by telephoning the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

Veterans with compensable, military-service-connected disabilities may be eligible for vocational rehabilitation and counseling benefits under Veterans Administration programs, advises the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

"The purpose of the vocational rehabilitation program is to overcome an employment handicap," he stressed.

The basic period of eligibility for vocational rehabilitation services has been extended to up to 12 years followin discharge from active duty or the date the veteran was notified of entitlement to VA compensation for the disability -- whichever is later. The period may be adjusted if the veteran received an upgraded discharge or was unable to enter or complete training for a period of time because of his or her medical condition.

The VA provides evaluation and counseling to assist in development of a comprehensive rehabilitation plan designed to suit the disabled veteran's particular needs.

For further information or assistance on vocational rehabilitation benefits, write, visit or telephone the Waco VA Regional Office toll-free number listed in your local telephone directory under "U.S. Government" or "Veterans Administration."

A glance behind the glory & glamour

by Nancy Barker
It's Showtime - all livestock looks picture perfect. As the crowd mingles by the pens of all of the animals, alot of them think - what could possibly be so hard about showing these animals. Let's step behind the mirage and see if we can't describe the work and patience that goes into showing these animals.

Jodie Smith let us in on her day, so we could see exactly what goes into showing animals.

Jodie Smith is the daughter of Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith of the Lakeview Community. Jodie is a senior at Floydada High School.

Jodie shows both steers and lambs. She starts her day by a daily schedule of feeding and exercising the lambs and steers. Then she goes to school, after which the animals are again worked, exercised and fed.

The animals are fed and exercised according to their weight and size. When the Stockshow season arrives she tries to make sure the animals are weighed every 2 weeks and then everyday, the week before the stock show. This method helps to know if the animals' feed and exercise should be increased or decreased.

Steers are exercised by walking them. They are hooked onto a device that is connected to a pickup. This way both calves are walked at once. Jodie's small size, doesn't make walking a 1300 pound steer very easy. The steers have a way of walking Jodie.

Yet, the size difference doesn't stop Jodie. She washes, dries and brushes the steers herself. She helps her supervisors clip the steers because this is her first year to show steers and she is scared she won't clip them right.

Jodie shares the responsibility of the seven lambs with her brothers, Dean, age 12 and Hunter, age 13. Jodie has shown sheep with 4-H eight years and FFA, two years.

With the coming of June each year, comes the choosing of the lambs, that will be fed and exercised until the following March. Steers are bought in March of one year and shown and sold in March of the following year.

Lambs are like the steers, they have to be washed, dried, and clipped before the show. Jodie says "she can handle whatever is needed to be done to sheep, it's the steers she worries about".

The price these kids pay for the animals they show is stangering compared to their market price. One of Jodie's steers cost about $1000.00. That's just the beginning of the costs. Insurance is $125.00, feed is $625.21 and other supplies are $83.50. Bringing Jodie's total to $1833.71 for just the one steer.

Jodie paid $150.00 for one lamb. Her feed was $64.50 and medicine ran $8.50 for eight months. Bringing one lambs total to $223.00.

As anyone can see, these kids aren't in this business to get rich. These costs don't include all the time that goes into these animals not to mention the gas and vehicles to get the animals back and forth.

Jodie believes, "that raising animals is great for the kids. They learn about 'responsibility'. Raising animals is a very rewarding experience whether you place first or not at all. There is that pride, no matter what the animal does."

Getting along with other people is a valuable lesson Jodie has learned through showing at stockshows. All the people who show animals seem to have a special cooperation, like one big family.

Raising animals is not just the child's job nor the parents. The family works together and makes showing really special.

Jodie emphasizes how much the parents of everyone puts into the livestock. Jodie describes her parents as follows:

Mom is really special. Mom has had so many mop buckets, towels and dishwashing soap to put up with. That's not to mention the tracked on floors and the muddy boots. She should be in "Vogue" with all the shee p covers she's sewn. She's also handy at sewing up clothes caught on fences and repairing down jackets, that have feathers going everywhere.

(The following is what Jodie jotted down for us): I own all of my 4-H awards to my dad. If it weren't for him I wouldn't be writing this now. He spends many hours along with the expense of our animals. He really makes showing animals alot of fun.

There are many things that I'd give up or do away with in my life but showing isn't one of them. I wouldn't trade it for anything.

We work together as a team. He's more nervous at the shows than I am. Looking out from the ring I can usually spot him in the corner next to the fence, chewing on a cigar or tobacco and his eyes are as big as silver dollars.

Have you ever heard anyone yelp or clap real loud?! - That's my dad!

A person has to have that caring or special love to raise a show animal. The final step in raising the animal isn't when you walk in the ring, it's how you feel inside. No one knows that feeling when the judge slaps your animal on the back "GRAND CHAMPION", until they've put out the time, concern and effort!

"But the hard work and long hours are all made worthwhile thanks to the people and businesses that support us," Jodie stated.

Jodie went on to add that it's a great feeling to walk into the ring and see the bleachers filled with people, everyone's support really means alot!

Pruning Rules

Pruning season is here. This is the time of year that many fruit growers dread most. It's not that pruning is such a difficult or overly timeconsuming task; it's just the thought of cutting these precious trees. This article begins a four-week series on pruning. Topics for upcoming articles include: "Tips on Pruning Landscape Plants", "Pruning Peach & Plum Trees," and "Pruning Apple & Pear Trees." This weeks article covers some general pruning rules.

The best time to prune your favorite fruit tree or grapevine is immediately before it breaks bud and begins to bloom or leaf. In Floyd County, March is the best time. If you prune any earlier, buds and blooms are stimulated into early growth. Early growth plus a late freeze or frost equals loss of this season's fruit crop and possibly a damaged tree.

Pruning makes plants stronger. If strong branches are selected which point in the right direction, then the whole tree is stronger. A stronger tree produces and supports more and larger fruit. Nothing is more discouraging than planting and growing a fruit tree for several years only to have the first heavy load of fruit break it down and ruin its appearance. So prune to select and strengthen.

Secondly, pruning stimulates. Most fruit is produced on or from year-old wood. The peaches and grapes which you eat this spring were actually initiated and formed last year. So, if new growth is not stimulated each year by pruning, a fruitful plant can become a mass of old, nonproductive wood. For each year a tree or vine is neglected, production is reduced.

The third reason for pruning is to make sure you have not been too stimulatory as outlined above. If you prune every year and follow proper cultural techniques, the tree or vine will initiate many more buds than it can possibly support if all bloom buds turn to fruit. To prevent too much fruit set and subsequent limb breakage or small fruit, much of this overproductivity can be removed at pruning time. Thinning the fruit probably will still be recommended, but pruning helps.

One of the most important factors in proper pruning is the pruner's attitude. The motto of dedicated pruners is: "When in doubt, cut it out." This may sound harsh, but most novice pruners remove less wood than they should.

Remove all dead and diseased wood first. Then correct all rubbing branches by removing one or the other. Cut out injured branches so that disease or insects cannot enter the tree. Next, remove inconvenient branches. An inconvenient branch is one which hangs on the house during a windstorm, overhangs a walkway, or is in the way when you're mowing the lawn.

Suckers and watersprouts are branches which grow from below the ground or near the ground. They generally grow faster than the top of the tree. Generally, remove sucker growth as soon as it appears in the summer. Gardeners sometimes cut the main trunk to let the vigorous sucker grow. This causes a problem if the tree is grafted since the sucker grows from the rootstock on which the desired fruit variety was grafted. If this is the case, the sucker will produce an undesirable fruit.

After removing dead and diseased wood, rubbing branches, injured branches, inconvenient branches and suckers, the next cuts are for height control. This is especially true when pruning peach trees which must be flat-topped and bowl-shaped.

From this point on, consider the proper shape and design for the particular fruit tree being pruned. Be sure to look for next weeks article on pruning landscape plants.

Pest Management Newsletter

By Dale W. Spurgeon
General Situation

The cold temperatures and wet weather we had in December and January could be doing us a service. Cold temperatures, particularly combined with wet soil, may help us wipe out some of those overwintering insect pests. For most pests, very few individuals need to survive to cause us economic problems the following year, but any mortality of overwintering pests is to our advantage.

Wheat

The moisture we have been getting should be very good for area wheat fields. I'm sure the cold weather was very hard on any greenbugs left around also.

Corn

If you had corn last year, you should be plowing, discing, or shredding your stalks now. Disruption of the stubble significantly reduces the number of Southwestern Corn borers which successfully overwinter. Do not rely on cold weather alone to kill these borers, they are quite well protected in their chambers in the bases of corn stalks.

The reduction of the overwintering corn borer population reduces the size of the first generation, which can in turn lead to a reduced second generation, which causes us the most economic damage. If maximum benefits of stubble destruction are to be reaped, we must all participate. One field left undisturbed may serve to infest many fields next growing season.

A Special Announcement
The annual SPD (South Plains Development) meeting will begin at 9:15 a.m. on January 25 at the Koko Palace (Ave. Q at 50th) in Lubbock. The economic outlook of agriculture, national farm policies and programs, and Texas' prospects for exporting, as well as specific information for cotton, grains, oilseeds, and livestock will be discussed by Extension Specialists from College Station and Lubbock.

At a time when the economy is so uncertain, growers need to be as informed as is possible while planning for the next growing season. This meeting is a "golden opportunity" for growers to learn first hand what is going on and what to expect this following season. The opportunity to attend this meeting should be seized by anyone interested in agriculture in West Texas.

The SPD program is a coordinated regional effort of individuals, associations, businesses, and agencies, to promote development in agriculture and improved family life in 21 West Texas counties. It is sponsored by the Extension Service, working through county Extension program building committees and special SPD task forces which identify educational needs and coordinate educational activities. A registration fee of $7.50 is charged to cover the cost of meeting rooms, coffee, and a luncheon which will be served. Please call your county Extension office if you plan to attend.

Banker advises farmers to be smart shoppers

"Farmers who survive 1983 will be ones who cut corners without cutting their jugular," says a leading South Plains agricultural banker.

In speculating on how South Plains farmers can offset high interest rates and depressed crop prices, Mr. George Morris, vice president and senior agricultural lending officer for First National Bank of Lubbock, stresses, "Only producers who find ways to save on production expense and not put their yields in jeopardy will succeed in making a profit for the coming year."

"The successful farmer has become a real bargain shopper by tracking down true discounts and sales," he says.

Mr. Morris encourages agricultural clients of First National Bank to seek out finance waiver programs, early payment discounts and other money saving deals now being offered in the agricultural marketplace.

"Something like a 10 percent discount on good quality seed now being offered by some seed dealers can give the farmer a real price break on a product he's going to have to buy if he farms at all," he says.

He emphasizes that, "farmers operating on borrowed money must carefully weigh the savings offered by the sellers against the interest to be paid on borrowed money.

"For example, if the savings offered by the farm supplier is big enough to offset the additional interest you might pay by buying early, then it's a good deal," he says. "But if the interest costs you more than you save, it's a bad deal."

Mr. Morris concludes, "There's no doubt we'll lose some farmers in the coming years unless there's a big turnaround somewhere. But in the meantime smart farming will mean smart shopping."

Silverton Future Farmers hosts of banquet

The Silverton Future Farmers of America chapter will host the annual awards banquet on Tuesday, February 22 in the Silverton school cafeteria.

Highlighting the event will be the recognition of Chapter Greenhand and Chapter Farmer.

CHANGING THE FACE OF WEST TEXAS: An aerial view of the Charles Brillhart ranch near Spearman shows

3-row windbreaks which are recommended by the Texas Forest Service in the Panhandle.

Windbreak seedlings still available for West Texans

Some species have been sold out, but it is not too late for West Texans to purchase several varieties of windbreak tree seedlings from the Texas Forest Service.

The Service's West Texas Nursery in Lubbock still has three varieties of conifers and five types of hardwood seedlings available for the 1982-83 planting season, which ends in late March.

According to Bob Fewin, silviculturist at Lubbock, the conifer species still available are Austrian pine, ponderosa pine and redcedar. These 6 to 12-inch pine and cedar seedlings are grown in individual cells, 30 cells to the Styrofoam container. A minimum order is 30, or in multiples of 30, for $30 per 30 trees plus sales tax. The containers are 12 inches wide by 14 inches long, by 8 inches deep, and several containers can be easily transported in the back seat of a car or pickup cab.

The hardwood seedling species still available include: green ash, honeylocust (thornless), native plum, Russian olive and mulberry. The hardwoods are sold in minimum lots of 100 for $25 (plus sales tax and shipping costs).

The West Texas Nursery grows windbreak seedlings for a 60-county High Plains and Panhandle area, north of Big Spring and west of Wichita Falls.

Fewin said the hardwoods may be shipped, but the containers in which the conifer seedlings are grown are not designed for shipping and these should be picked up at one of four distribution points, each of which will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. on day of distribution. Planters in a 12-county area surrounding Knox County may pick up their orders at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station (TAES) Vegetable Research Center at Munday, Texas on March 1.

Residents of a 16-county South Plains area around Big Spring can pick up their seedlings at the USDA Experiment Station on Interstate 20 at Big Spring on March 3.

On March 8, planters in a 20-county Panhandle area around Amarillo can pick up their seedlings at the Soil Conservation Service office at 1416 West 8th Street in Amarillo, and on March 10, resident applicants from the 24 counties surrounding Lubbock can receive their conifer seedlings at the TAES Experiment Station on FM Road 1294 in Lubbock.

The hardwood species are bare root seedlings, Fewin said, and can be shipped by normal freight methods.

West Texans interested in planting trees for homestead, feedlot, field or wildlife windbreaks, should write for seedling applications: West Texas Nursery, Texas Forest Service, Rt. 3, Box 216, Lubbock, TX 79401, or call 806/746-5801.

Windbreak planters may not use these seedlings for landscaping or ornamental purposes.

Fewin said the seedlings would be sold on a first-come basis until the end of the current planting season, or until the supply is exhausted.

ASA proposes export PIK for soybeans

The American Soybean Association (ASA), a farmer-controlled commodity organization, has asked Congress and the Reagan Administration to implement an export payment-in-kind (PIK) program to reduce U.S. soybean supplies.

"The Soybean Association commends the Administration for implementing the PIK program for corn, cotton, wheat, sorghum and rice," Ralph Weems, a Mississippi farmer and ASA First Vice President, said in a Thursday, (February 3) hearing before the Production, Marketing and Price Stabilization Subcommittee of the Senate Agriculture Committee. "We believe PIK will help restore profitability to these crops. We understand why soybeans were not included in this program. While soybeans have the least surplus of all major crops, we ask Congress and the Administration to consider an export PIK program that will reduce soybean supplies and help re-build soybean farm income."

Weems outlined a 5-point ASA emergency program proposal that included:

1) An export PIK program for soybean oil similar to the recent wheat flour sales program to Egypt. Using 14.2 million bushels of soybeans stocks owned by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC), USDA would repay soybean processors and soybean oil exporters for price reductions of soybean oil sales to markets in India, Egypt, Morocco and Turkey. ASA estimates such a program could result in soybean oil sales of 500,000 metric tons to India, 200,000 metric tons to Egypt, 100,000 metric tons to Turkey and 140,000 metric tons to Morocco.

2) Expand PL480 soybean oil allocations from the current 219,000 metric tons to a minimum of 300,000 metric tons in 1983 and 350,000 metric tons in future years.

3) Require PL480 recipient nations to purchase more of their commercial imports from the U.S. Nations currently receiving PL480 assistance are buying 866,000 metric tons of vegetable oil from other countries. ASA believes the U.S. should require nations receiving PL480 grants to purchase U.S. products.

4) Combine PL480 loans with blended credit and loan guarantees to provide "mixed-credit" programs that will help the U.S. compete with Brazil and other exporting nations. Such a mixed credit program would help reduce the actual interest rates and increase U.S. competitiveness in world markets.

5) Expand use of soybean oil as a carrier for agricultural chemicals on national forest and range lands. This, combined with expansion of soybean oil as a blend with diesel fuel, as a grain dust suppressant and other uses could improve soybean prices by reducing the sea of surplus soybean oil.

Why soybeans are not in PIK

Responding to farmer concerns that soybeans are not included in the current payment-in-kind program, Weems said federal law prohibits a soybean PIK program. Weems also said USDA does not own enough soybeans to offer a soybean PIK. He said current CCC-owned stocks would limit a soybean crop swap of only 1 acre or 32 bushels of soybeans per U.S. soybean farmer. Weems said the projected soybean carry-over represents only 18 percent of the total estimated 1982-83 soybean usage. Projected carry-overs of other crops represent about 43 percent of the rice demand, 46 percent of the corn demand, 61 percent of the wheat demand and 81 percent of the cotton demand.

"Farmers are tired of selling soybeans at garage sale prices," Weems said. "We understand and support the Administration's decision not to include soybeans in the current PIK program. But, we believe the Administration should offer soybean farmers a creative international export program that will help reduce supplies and re-build soybean farm income."

Payment In Kind

FOOD AND FIBER ECONOMICS

In recognition of large surpluses, low prices, and large government farm program expenditures, Secretary Block recently announced a new farm program concept referred to as "payment in kind" (PIK). The purpose of this article is to explain the PIK concept; describe a procedure that farmers can use to make PIK decisions; and present some results of research completed at Texas A&M on the PIK program.

What is PIK?

Payment in kind pays farmers to take land out of production in the form of commodities held by the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) rather than in the form of cash. In other words, producers will be paid "in kind" some portion of their ASCS farm program yield (proven yield) to take cropland out of production. Announced payment levels are 95 percent for wheat and 80 percent for cotton, corn, sorghum and rice. A producer, for example, with a cotton farm program yield of 300 pounds per acre will receive an 80 percent payment in kind or 240 pounds per acre for not producing on a certain tract of land. Payment in kind, therefore, has a twofold benefit as a method of controlling production of major agricultural commodities and reducing government stocks of wheat, corn, sorghum, rice and cotton.

How will it work?

Payment in kind is designed as a voluntary supplement to the already announced 1983 farm program. Basically, the 1983 program provides a 20 percent acreage reduction for a farmer to be eligible for target price and loan program benefits. The announced 1983 program will remain in effect with payment in kind as an additional program option.

While some of the details of payment in kind are not yet available, there are two alternatives for participation:

1. A farmer can divert an added 10 to 30 percent of his acreage base over and above the 20 percent minimum. A 500 acre cotton farmer, for example, with a 300 pound per acre farm program yield who plans on diverting 100 acres to be eligible for 1983 farm program benefits, could divert an additional 50 to 150 acres. The farmer who diverted an additional 30 percent would receive a payment in kind of 36,000 pounds of cotton (500 acres x .30 x 300 lbs. x .80). Note that the farmer's total land retired from production would now be as much as 250 acres (50 percent of his acreage base).

2. A second option may be available for the producer to remove his entire acreage base from production. In other words, he could quit farming for a year—except for erosion and weed control maintenance. This option is available on a limited basis if the USDA does not otherwise meet the desired acreage sign-up goals in each county. Farmers will be allowed to submit bids in terms of the level of payment in kind required for them to retire their whole farm for one year. The USDA will accept the lowest bids to retire land up to the desired level of production control in each county.

How will the farmer receive PIK commodities?

The USDA preference is for the farmer to assume full ownership of commodities that the farmer currently has under CCC loan—either in the regular loan or in the farmer-owned grain reserve. In fact, the producer who participates in the PIK program and has a CCC loan on the commodity involved must make the commodity (loan collateral) available for payment to himself under PIK. For the farmer who receives his own commodity as PIK payment, the full value of the loan needed to cover the PIK program payment is forgiven.

For the farmer who does not have any commodity under loan or in the farmer-held grain reserve, he will receive PIK commodities from an approved warehouse. Preference will, of course, be given to warehouses within the producer's own county. The commodity, however, may come from an adjoining county or from the nearest warehouse "in line" to a subterminal or terminal market.

PIK payment will be made in terms of standard commodity loan classes—No. 1 wheat, No. 2 corn, No. 2 sorghum, historical average quality of upland cotton, and the historical average type quality and milling out-turn of rice. Adjustments will be made in PIK quantities to reflect differences in quality. In other words, producers who receive PIK payment in the form of cotton lower in quality than their average will be compensated with a proportionately larger volume of cotton.

What can the farmer do with the "in kind" commodity?

After the normal harvest date, the farmer can do anything he wants with the "in kind" commodity payment, except put it in the CCC loan. In other words, he can either sell it, use it, or store it. There is no minimum price guarantee on PIK commodities; thus, the farmer assumes free market risks. To encourage orderly marketing of the PIK commodity, the producer will receive the lesser of storage payments (1) for five months or (2) until the commodity is sold. The producer with on-farm storage facilities for grains present enrolled in the farmer-held reserve will receive storage payments for up to seven months after harvest.

What level of payment is required to justify farmer participation?

Farmer participation in the PIK program is justified when expected revenues from participating in the PIK program are greater than the revenues from participating in the basic 1983 farm program (20 percent acreage reduction). Worksheets have been developed by the authors to assist farmers in making the PIK decision. These worksheets should be used after, or in conjunction with, those developed by the authors for making the initial 1983 farm program acreage reduction decision and published in separate Food and Fiber Economics articles for wheat, feedgrains, and cotton during 1982. Copies of these articles are still available from the authors at: Department of Agricultural Economics, Texas A&M University in College Station, Texas 77843.

The following example using the worksheet is based on the Agricultural Extension Service budget for a Southern High Plains dryland cotton farm (table 1). Since considerable variation in the breakeven PIK participation levels has been found both regionally and among farms, each farmer is urged to use the space provided to make his own farm computations.

The first step (I) in making an economic PIK decision is to compute expected returns over variable costs of production from farming an acre of potential PIK land. The yield expected from this land is its average yield of 230 pounds of lint per acre. Expected prices are the expected loan rates adjusted for the quality of cotton produced and expected deficiency payment rate. For the example farm, the typical local loan rate is estimated at $0.479 per pound, compared to a national average loan rate of $0.55 per pound—a difference of $0.071 per pound. The expected deficiency payment is estimated by subtracting the national average loan rate from the target price ($0.76 minus $0.55 = $0.21 per pound). This expected loan rate multiplied by the expected yield gives receipts, from participation in loan, of $110.17 per acre for cotton lint.

The expected deficiency payment times farm program payment yield equals the $48.30 in receipts per acre from the deficiency payment. In addition, the farmer could expect to receive $17.10 for cottonseed produced, yielding total expected receipts of $175.57 per acre. For a wheat farmer, added returns might come from renting the land for grazing-out wheat.

The estimated variable costs of production (excluding crop insurance premiums) $121.70, and an estimated value ($18.00) that makes an allowance for yield risk associated with uncertain production versus the known PIK allocation are combined for a total of $139.70 which represents variable costs including risk allowance. This risk adjustment factor simply recognizes that commodities received for PIK are more certain than commodities produced. The cost of risk is approximated by the cost of fully insuring an acre of production. Variable costs include harvesting costs. Variable costs are those out of pocket costs that increase as output increases. Variable costs are used because they are the only costs relevant to a farmer's economic production decision. In making these computations, it is assumed that variable costs per unit of production do not increase as the number of acres retired increases.

The second step (II) in the PIK participation decision involves calculating the cost of participating in PIK. Returns over variable costs ($35.87) are included as a cost since this potential income is given up to participate in the PIK program. In the case of the example farm, additional costs of participating include variable costs ($11.89) that already have been incurred such as preparation of land for planting, and in some cases, perhaps early season fertilizer and herbicide applications. These costs are added to the returns over variable costs that have been given up. Also added are estimated costs involved in the maintenance of land retired under the PIK program. For the example farm, these costs of maintaining idle land are $15.00 per acre. PIK land must be maintained in conservation status, meaning that this cost may vary depending on the soil's conservation requirements.

The third step (III) in the PIK participation decision involves computing the quantity of PIK commodity that will be received. This is simply the farm program yield of 230 pounds per acre multiplied by the PIK payment rate of 80 percent—95 percent for wheat—for a total expected PIK commodity payment of 184 pounds of cotton lint per acre. Note that this is the expected payment because the ultimate payment in kind is adjusted for quality.

The fourth step (IV) computes the PIK break-even price. This is done using the cost of participating in PIK ($62.76) derived in Step II. To this figure, wheat producers need to subtract any receipts obtained from the right to graze-out wheat on land enrolled in the PIK program. Wheat is the only PIK land on which grazing privileges exist. Therefore, adjusted net returns for our example cotton farmer remains at $62.76. This adjusted net return is then divided by the expected PIK commodity payment of 184 pounds per acre to give a breakeven price for the PIK commodity of $0.341 per pound. This indicates that the farmer must receive $0.341 per pound from marketing the cotton received under the PIK program in order to breakeven—that is, to obtain as much net income as participating in the regular 1983 20 percent acreage reduction program.

The fifth (V) and final step in the PIK participation decision process is designed to provide a guide for calculating the whole farm breakeven bid rate. To make this computation, the farm program yield initially is multiplied by the proportion of whole farm acres on which PIK will be made. For cotton, this is 100 percent. The other crops have a diversion payment on a portion of their acres, which are not eligible for payment in kind. For rice and wheat the diversion payment is made on 5 percent of the land, thus making 95 percent of the acres eligible for payment in kind. Ten percent of the corn and sorghum acres have diversion payments, making 90 percent of the acres eligible for PIK. The resulting units per acre on which PIK is made (230) is multiplied by the expected price ($0.4311) to arrive at expected returns per acre on PIK diversion acres of $99.15.

The expected price is the hardest variable to predict in this whole worksheet. There are two theories on what is likely to happen to price after the PIK payments are made. One is that the price will fall as stocks previously under at least the partial control of government are placed on the market. Some supporters of the PIK concept point out that this price decline will make U.S. farm products more competitive in the world market. Others suggest that if PIK participation represents a substantial proportion of U.S. production, foreign buyers may become concerned about supply availability and purchase earlier and in larger quantity. If this happens, the often predicted short-term price decline would have assumed a price decline to 10 percent below the loan rate on High Plains quality cotton.

Next, the adjusted costs of PIK participation from Step IV are multiplied by 80 percent—the proportion of acres that would be farmed if the farmer participated in only the basic 20 percent acreage reduction program. The result is the level of returns ($50.21) that must be received from PIK to justify whole farm retirement. These returns of $50.21 per acre then are divided by the expected returns per acre ($99.15) on PIK diverted acres from earlier in Step V to give the breakeven whole farm participation bid rate of 50.6 percent. Of course this does not mean that the farmer should bid 50.6 percent to retire the whole farm. It rather sets a minimum on the level of whole farm retirement bid.

Landlords who are considering whole farm retirement will want to proceed with a degree of caution. Questions of a legal nature exist regarding when the lease for the new crop year takes effect. If it already has taken effect, legal problems likely would be encountered in breaking the lease. In addition, USDA has indicated that a contract for participation in PIK would not be accepted if it were known that landlord or operator had not afforded tenants or sharecroppers the opportunity to participate. This includes reducing the number of tenants or sharecroppers in anticipation of participation in PIK. These provisions apply whether participation is on a partial or whole farm basis. Also meriting consideration is whether the terms of lease might need to be changed in light of PIK participation.

Results of Breakeven PIK Research

Considerable research has been conducted at Texas A&M on the apparent breakeven levels of PIK for different areas of Texas and for different crops. This research utilized budgets of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service using the same procedure explained in the worksheet.

The results of these analyses are summarized in Tables 2 and 3. These tables provide breakeven payment rates for two different PIK commodity sales price levels assuming a $15 per acre land maintenance cost. The price levels are expressed as a percent of the loan rate prevailing in the designated areas of the state. For wheat, the breakeven payment in kind rates also are provided for three different levels of return for grazing-out wheat. Individual producers are cautioned against using these results as a basis for their own farm decisions. Our analysis indicates that the results in the worksheet are very sensitive to relatively small changes in values. The worksheet should, therefore, be completed as a basis for individual producer PIK participation decisions. Research results are, however, useful in getting a fix on the overall forces affecting PIK participation decisions on a commodity and on a regional basis.

Cotton
Cost of producing cotton varies widely, even within Texas. In addition, farmers in South Texas already have committed substantial resources to preparing land for planting—even to the extent of applying fertilizer and chemicals. Each of these factors affects the breakeven PIK payment rate. It should not, then, be surprising that the breakeven PIK rate ranges from as low as the mid-50's on the Southern High Plains, where many farmers are having problems meeting even their variable cost of production, to over 100 percent in the lower cost Rolling Plains area and the lower Valley where land preparation is well under way. Also note that the breakeven PIK rate is about 15 percent lower if the PIK selling price is 90 percent of the loan rate rather than 75 percent of the loan rate. We conclude that for cotton, PIK participation will be heavily concentrated on the High Plains. Participation is substantially less attractive for Rolling Plains producers and for South Texas producers.

Sorghum

Sorghum producers on both the High Plains and the Rolling Plains likely will find PIK quite attractive with breakeven participation rates, generally, in the range of 55 to 90 percent. On the other hand, Blacklands, Coastal Bend, and Rio Grande Valley producers are likely to find PIK sorghum participation a marginal proposition.

Corn

PIK participation for the Texas corn producer is likely to be quite attractive with breakeven participation rates as low as 29 percent and, generally, in the 35 to 50 percent range. In this case, even the South Texas producer may find PIK to be a program they can rationally consider participating in.

Rice

Rice producers generally will find it advantageous to participate in the PIK program, although higher levels of participation are likely in the Eastern Gulf Coast rice producing area than in the Western Gulf Coast area.

Wheat

PIK participation presents an interesting situation for the Texas winter wheat producer. Since many of his otherwise variable costs of production are already sunk, participation is likely to be quite low. The exceptional case is the producer who sees the opportunity to obtain a substantial return from grazing-out his wheat. The North Plains and Rolling Plains producer who can realize over $20 per acre from grazing-out his wheat could find it advantageous to participate, if he expects to sell his PIK wheat for at least 90 percent of the wheat loan rate.

Conclusions

PIK is an important new policy initiative designed to reduce surpluses. Its effectiveness in accomplishing this objective is dependent on producer participation. Each producer is, therefore, urged to sharpen his pencil and make the necessary computations.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socio-economic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Wes Side Story

Memories of an old mechanical friend

Last week I stopped at an all-night convenience store in Crosbyton for a Coke. As I was leaving the store, I noticed some people who were having trouble getting their car started. Although I am not an ace mechanic, I offered to help. We worked for about 30 minutes without getting it started. They decided to walk home and worry about it in the morning.

As I was driving home I thought of my old car, a 1974 Mercury Comet. That car seemed to have a personality of its own. I nicknamed it Junior, because a car that small deserved its own name. I'll use the pronoun "he" because it seems too impersonal just to call this car "it".

He was built before it was fashionable to drive a small car. Therefore his thriftiness with the gasoline was the envy of his bigger and greedier fellow cars.

In some ways Junior was a lot like me. It was hard for him to get started in the morning, he didn't like snow or cold weather and he had a warped sense of humor. One of his favorite jokes was having a flat tire at the most inopportune times, like when I was late for work or school.

Early one chilly morning I was driving down the interstate when I felt the familiar wobble of a flat tire. I tried to make it to the exit ramp, but I had to stop about 100 feet before the ramp. I had a long, hard night at work and was in no mood for a flat. Junior must have known this. It was still dark and the early morning traffic was starting to pick up. I turned on the flashers and opened the trunk. Not knowing whether to scream or cry, I took the flat spare and started walking to the nearest gas station.

I alternately carried and rolled the spare to the station which was quite a distance from my car. The first station was closed. I kept walking. By the time I got back to Junior, the flashers had drained what was left in the weak battery. I was about to start my where-are-the-cops-when-you-need-them routine when a deputy sheriff pulled up and asked if I needed any help.

After we got Junior boosted and the deputy left, I quickly changed the flat. In my haste to get home, I didn't let Junior run long enough to charge the battery. It was just as dead as before I started. I hiked back to the gas station and called a friend to boost Junior. While I was driving home a snickering sound came from the engine.

Junior liked to break down, too. The mechanic at the repair shop knew Junior and I by our first names. They would always smile whenever we drove up because they knew we would have some work for them.

One breakdown had the mechanics smiling for a long time. As I was leaving a store, I shifted Junior in reverse and heard a funny clank. Junior just said "Uuugh" and didn't move. We had no reverse. I pushed Junior out and took him to the repair shop for a checkup. "You've lost reverse," was the diagnosis. I knew that. I wanted to know how much it would cost to find it.

Junior never seemed to have the regular everyday breakdowns. He only had the breakdowns that cost the most time and money. On an out-of-town-trip

I stopped to get gas at a well known all-night convenience store. I got about one block from the pumps when Junior coughed and stalled right in the middle of the street. I left him at a gas station over night.

We discovered he had water in his gas tank. The bad news was that it froze and we now had ice in the gas tank. After spending a day waiting for it to thaw and a few dollars to temporarily solve the problem, I made it home in time to get to work. Junior stalled again in the parking lot.

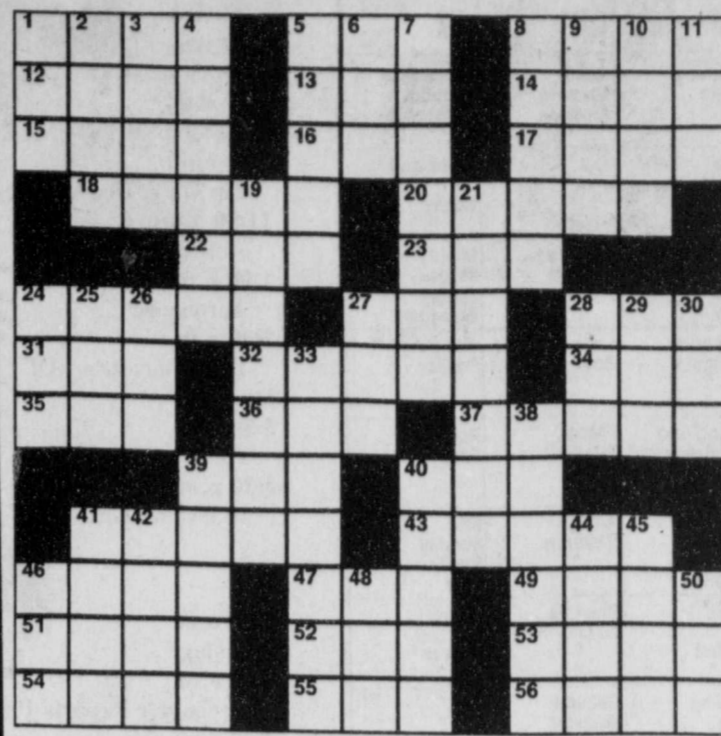

I called the smiling mechanic to tow us to the repair shop. "It sounds like you have got water in your gas tank," he said, to Junior rather than to me. In order to get the water out he had to leave the gas tank out in the sun to thaw the ice.

After driving Junior for about three years and putting almost a hundred thousand miles on him, I decided it was time for him to retire. I traded him in for a brand new 1981 Mustang.

I drove Junior to the car lot for the last time. While we were working on the paper work, I remembered all of the good times I had with Junior. The time he threw a rod about two miles from anywhere and the time he sank up to his axles in mud on a country road. When the deal was finalized, I had the feeling I was selling a long time friend.

As I drove off in my shiny new car, I looked back in the rearview mirror. Junior was sitting there by himself looking rather sad. The way the sun glared on him looked almost like he had a tear under one of his headlights.

Tip O'Neill
 Tip on 'Cheers'

A familiar Boston figure enters a familiar Boston bar this week when Rep. Thomas P. O'Neill, D-Mass., guest-stars on "Cheers." The Speaker of the House is an avid fan of the half-hour comedy, which stars Ted Danson as a retired Red Sox pitcher who owns a bar and Shelley Long and Rhea Perlman as waitresses. When O'Neill joked to his former administrative aide, Dolores Snow, "Can you imagine me sitting next to Norm (George Wendt) at the 'Cheers' bar?" he didn't expect her to put him on that bar stool.

But Mrs. Snow is the mother of the "Cheers" casting director and she thought his idea a good one. O'Neill will play himself in the episode called "No Contest," airing Thursday, Feb. 17 on NBC. In the show, he ducks into the bar to avoid a political conversation. Said Miss Long about the native Bostonian's acting ability, "He was very natural." O'Neill said he will donate his salary for the episode to the Cambridge Boys Club.

If you have been waiting for a chance to learn more about microwaving, well you don't have to wait any longer. A microwave school will be conducted on Tuesday, February 15, 1983 at 4:00 p.m. at Lighthouse Electric Coop. Joy Parnell, Southwestern Public Service representative of Lubbock, will be here to conduct the school. Some of the topics that will be discussed are: Microwave cooking utensils, Recipe conversions, Microwaving techniques, and more. There will be no charge to attend and this is open to everyone regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin. Come and join the fun and bring a friend.

excessive drying of the face, hands, and the neck. Goggles or sunglasses will protect the eyes and the skin around them, but the remainder of the exposed face should be covered with a sun-screening agent. To keep skin healthy and young looking, start now on a healthful year round skin care program.

HAPPY TIME — I have watched almost all the "Happy Days" shows and I wonder what happened to the oldest Cunningham son. Did more than one actor play him? — L.P. Lawton, Okla.

Chuck, the college-bound son, disappeared after the first season. Presumably he is still studying. Gavan O'Herlihy and Randolph Roberts both played the role.
