Doubting Thomases.

The Amarillo Champion says that "unless something unforeseen and unlooked for transpires, within six weeks from the present writing there will be no doubting Thomases left on the Southern railroad proposition."

Oh, ye of little faith!

The first picnic of the season, growing out of the suggestion made by the News last week, no doubt, (?) was a most enjoyable affair. We do not feel the effects of eating much of a dinner, nor did we gather many roses, but had a high old snow-falling time of it. (?)

Last Saturday our stockfarmers and stockmen filed into town to tell about the big rains they had Friday night. The transformation of their faces was complete and instead of the long, care-worn countenance of anxiety was to be found the broad grin from ear to ear—one of those smiles that won't come off.

There have been few if any cattle driven to shipping points on the Pecos Valley road this season for sale in the open market, the experience of shippers in this respect last spring having been sufficient to satisfy the producer that he was in this manner placing himself completely at the mercy of the buyer. The thinning out process will not necessarily have to be repeated this year for the range is not overstocked and conditions were never more favorable for the stockman to hold his stuff until he can set a price at which they are to be sold with some degree of independence. If it is to be a game of "finch" the producer will not have to do the finching this year.

A Favorite Resort

Is to be found at F. P. Wilson's confectionery store on the corner, where you can get the best cigars, fancy candies and nuts, fresh fruits, all kinds of cold drinks and ice cream. The latter will be served every day during the season. Call around there and take a look at its neat appearance anyway.

The daily press of Wednesday reported 15,000 Japs killed and wounded and the Russian loss at 3,000 men in a land attack made on Port Arthur by the Japanese. The war reports in the newspapers are "yeally" getting interesting.

A Fine Rain

Fell in this section of the Panhandle last Friday night and judging from reports it was general in its scope west to the Texas and New Mexico line, south as far as Plainview and north a good distance from Amarillo. This was without doubt the best rain that has fallen in this immediate locality for over a year.

It is thought by some that in this county a good acreage of wheat will yet be redeemed from what was considered a total failure before the rain. Almost all the farmers had more or less seed in the ground of different field-crops common to this country and those who were not so fortunate in having planted before this will now begin the work in earnest.

Later.—And still another fine rain, almost as good as that of last Friday night, fell in this and surrounding counties last Monday evening. It is quite apparent that the rainy season for the Plains country has begun in earnest.

Mastodon At Newlin.

The remains of a huge mastodon, embedded in a bank, have been found in a draw near Newlin, Hall county. Attorney J. E. Wiley, who was in Newlin Sunday, was shown a huge tooth, fourteen inches long and weighing ten pounds, that had been brought from the scene of discovery. As further evidence he was shown several mammoth bones, and the ball from the hip joint of the thigh bone, which was about eight inches in diameter.

The skeleton is well exposed to view and is about fifteen feet long. A party of men from Newlin were to have finished uncovering the remains Sunday but the sand storm prevented the excursion.

Some of the bones are petrified, others seemingly in a natural state while still others crumble with handling. The tusks were in the last named condition.—Quannah Observer.

The fossil remains of this specie of the elephant-life is furnishing a profitable industry to miners in the Klondyke. It is the theory of scientific men that some time during the long drift period the mastodons were overcome by some sudden catastrophe, probably by some subsidence of the land and an invasion by the sea, and all killed. The tusks of this animal range in length from 10 to 15 feet and 10 to 12 inches in diameter.

Now that copious rains have fallen almost all over the Panhandle, everything will take a new lease on life. Spring grass is assured, the farmer can now go to planting with some degree of spirit, and business in the towns will be renewed with greater activity. Let us all give due praise to the Creator of so much happiness and go to work for the upbuilding of our country.

Card of Thanks.

We desire to thank all those who so kindly participated in the "Old Maid's Convention." We assure you that when the occasion offers, the obligation will be heartily returned.

CANYON CITY HARDWARE AND GRAIN COMPANY.

ON A SCHOOL LAND CLAIM.

My name I'll not tell; a bach'lor I am,
I'm keeping old bache on an elegant plan,
You will find me out west at the foot of the plains,A-starving to death on a school land claim.

My home is built of natural soil,
Its walls are erect according to Hoyle,
The roof has no pitch, but is level and plain
And I always get wet when it happens to rain.

CHORUS:
Hurrah, for Borden county, the land of the free,
The home of the grasshopper, the bed bug and the flea,
I'll sing to its praise, I'll tell of its fame,
While starving to death on a school land claim.

My clothes are all ragged, my language is rough;
My bread is case hardened and solid and tough;
My dough is scattered all over the room,
And the flour gets scared at the sight of a broom.

My dishes are scattered all over the bed,
They are covered with sorghum and flap-jack bread,
Oh, I save time, I live at my ease,
On common soup, sorghum, old bacon and peas.

CHORUS:
Then come to Borden county, here's a home for you all,
Where you can live on your petrified gail,
Where the sun never sets, but sweetly remains
Till it burns us all up on our school land claims.

How happy I feel when I crawl into bed,
The rattle snakes rattle a tune at my head,
And the gay little centipede, void of all fear,
Crawls over my neck and down into my ear.

And the little bed bugs, so cunning and bright,
They keep you a laughin' two-thirds of the night,
And the smart little flea with sharp tacks in his toes,
Says, why don't you scratch me all over the nose.

CHORUS:
Hurrah for Borden county! Hurrah for the west!
Where the farmers and laborers are always at rest.
Where you've nothing to do but sweetly remain,

And starve like a man on a school land claim.

How happy I feel on my school land claim,
I've nothing to lose, I've nothing to gain,
I've nothing to eat, I've nothing to wear,

So nothing for nothing is honest and fair.
Oh, its here I am settled and here I will stay,
My money's all gone and I can't get away;

There is nothing that makes a man hard and profane,
Like starving to death on a school land claim.
CHORUS:

Then come to Borden county, where blizzards arise,
Where the sun never sets and the flea never dies.
Come join in its chorus and tell of its fame,
While starving to death on school land claim.

Now don't get discouraged you poor hungry men,
For we are as happy as pigs in a pen,
Just stick to your claims and battle the fleas,
And trust to the Master to send you a breeze,

But as for myself, I'll no longer remain,
To starve like a man on a school land claim.
Farewell to Borden county! Farewell to the west!

I'm going back east, to the girl I love best,
I'll stop in the timber and get me a wife,
And live on corn dodger the rest of my life.

JACK WILBOURN,
Borden County, Texas.

To Get Rid of a Troublesome Corn.
First soak it in warm water to soften it, then pare it down as closely as possible without drawing the blood, and apply Chamberlain's Pain Balm twice daily, rubbing vigorously for five-minutes at each application. A corn plaster should be worn for a few days to protect it from the shoe. As a general liniment for sprains, bruises, lameness and rheumatism, Pain Balm is unequalled. For sale by S. V. Wirt, Druggist.

WANSLEY BROS.

The St. Louis Republic of last week says that the visiting editors at the Fair saw the Igorrotes prepare a dog feast, but that they declined a pressing invitation to partake of the luscious canine roast. We merely mention this generous refusal in order to displace the prevalent idea among most people that an editor can eat anything, even to a bit of powder steak.

From the best information that the News has been able to secure concerning the rains of last week and that of Tuesday, it seems that these, as have been all of those that have fallen this spring, have been spotted. However, it is a safe assertion, based on credible reports, that within the last four weeks the entire Panhandle country has been visited with good rains. There is not a question of a doubt but that such favorable conditions will stiffen the price of steer yearlings and 2-year olds from 50 cents to $1 per head.

THE CLOSING OF SCHOOL.

The Commencement exercises for the closing of Canyon City High School began last Sunday at 11 o'clock A. M. with a sermon by Rev. J. D. Ballard, at the M. E. church.

Though apparently suffering great physical weakness from his recent attack of la grippe, the speaker delivered the discourse in such an impressive manner that the flower-laden words of the "silver-tongued orator" would not have appealed more strongly to the appreciative audience. The text chosen for the occasion was from Phillipians 4:8, and Psalms 119:59. The expressive theme of "The Merit of Thought" was naturally derived from the reading of these scriptures. That man was a thinking being, whether he will or no; that after acquiring a government over our thoughts our dispositions will be suitable to that which we most frequently think on; for the soul is, as it were, tinged with the color and complexion of its own thoughts. That man should elevate his thoughts from the things of this world so that he may be free to master a higher conception of God's thoughts and will and walk in the higher ways of Him. As Abraham, Moses, Joshua, Elisha, Jesus, Peter, Paul and others in all ages have walked, demonstrating by test and proof that the dominion of thought which God gave man in the beginning has always been and is now man's privilege to use and exercise, should be so trained in the young mind as to enable it to cast out erroneous beliefs and false education, self-righteousness and pride.

The speaker gave a word of exhortation to the attentive graduating class, in which he advised a laying hold of the magnificent moral grandeur of God's thoughts and to seek a correct interpretation of His ways.

Rev. Ballard also paid a high tribute of praise to the school board and patrons of the school for the interest displayed in educational matters by wise enactments which enabled the town to erect a commodious building, thus securing learned teachers, earnest students and a larger enrollment. In commenting upon these external surroundings of the pupil being conducive to a receptive mood for awakening and putting into motion the machinery of thought, he very aptly said in substance that we send our children to school not simply to learn the rudiments of an education, but to make them worthy citizens of Texas, of the Southland, of these United States. That external environment affects the development of character. We can appreciate this more and more each year. So if we would have our boys and girls love the best, aspire to the best, we must surround them from their earliest years with things that speak for the best.

The program, in which the graduating class and other students of the school were to have participated, was delayed on Tuesday night, as previously announced, until Wednesday night on account of the hard rain which fell an hour or so before the appointed hour. A large crowd assembled at the school building Wednesday night and eagerly listened to the program, which was really excellent both in substance and execution.

Most of the graduates were assigned different subjects on the program, and they all without exception creditably acquitted themselves. Their efforts denoted careful research and preparation for this closing event. Judge Buie closed the evening's program with presenting diplomas to the graduates. The Judge impressed a News representative with the belief that in choosing him to represent the school board, the faculty and patrons of Canyon City High School, a better choice could not have been made, for he appeared to be the right man at the right place.

The admission fee of 10 and 20 cents charged each person amounted in the aggregate to some $46.

The "Old Maid's Convention" did not convene on schedule time, as announced last week, owing to the inclemency of the weather. On Monday night however the said old maids appeared in all the requisite regalia for the farce and every body seemed pleased with the levity with which these old maids are treating a most serious matter. It was clearly evident that the old bachelors in the audience were moved also and a realization of lost opportunities awakened by this comedy farce will, beyond the question of a doubt, cause Cupid to begin a strategical invasion of Canyon City and his conquest of hearts probably will increase the throng at the marriage license office, before the Fourth of July anyway. Several confirmed bachelors of the town were conspicuous by their absence. The door receipts amounted to $27, which was equally divided between Miss Patton and the Presbyterian ladies.

Quarterly Conference.

On Monday last was held the regular quarterly conference of the M. E. church, South, Presiding Elder J. M. Sherman of Clarendon being present, and who occupied the pulpit of the M. E. church Sunday evening. Rev. Sherman reported that this district had built eight new churches during 1903 and that seven more had either been finished or were in process of construction so far this year. In this connection it might not be amiss to state that the first church of any denomination built on the plains was erected at Amarillo during the spring of 1889 principally by G. A. F. Parker of this city, but who resided at Amarillo at the time, the church being built for the Methodist denomination of that place.—Hereford Brand.

SOON TO BE MARRIED.

Cards are out announcing the marriage of Mr. Milton Pattillo, of Stamford, to Miss Gertrude Suggs, of Gatesville, on Monday evening, June 6th.

Mr. Pattillo is well and favorably known by scores of Canyon City citizens, having at one time been engaged here with his father's mercantile business. His many friends will be pleased to know that he has found an help meet of his choice and wish him all happiness and prosperity as the result of this sacred tie.

The News gratefully acknowledges an invitation to be present at the marriage of these young people, and joins the large circle of well wishers. Mr. Pattillo and wife will be at home to their friends at Stamford, Texas, after June 10th.

Rev. J. T. Burnett was in town from his place west of town Wednesday morning and reported that his section of the country got a much better rain Tuesday evening than fell here, there being a large quantity of hail mixed with it. He said that the whole country in that neighborhood looked to be covered with six inches of water. S. V. Gentry, who lives 3 miles northwest of town, also reported a big hail mixed with rain at his place.

Judge A. N. Henson has been devoting a share of his time to irrigating the ornamental trees in the court house enclosure of late and has planted quite a number of water melon seed in different parts of the yard.

How To Treat a Sprained Ankle.

A sprained ankle usually treated will disable a man for three or four weeks. This is an unnecessary loss of time, for many cases have recovered in less than one week's time when Chamberlain's Pain Balm was promptly and freely applied. It allays the pain and soreness and quickly restores the parts to a healthy condition. For sale by S. V. Wirt Druggist.

C. P. Money.

I wonder, says Essie Vane, in a valued exchange, if the reading public have any idea of the favors that the press extended without any compensation? Have you ever assisted in getting up a church entertainment? Have you ever had occasion to take notices to the papers? Have the newspaper men ever refused to receive any pay for so doing? Did they ever ask you for any? Were they not always polite and pleasant about it? Does printers' ink—and all the necessary appendages from the devil up—cost anything? Is running a newspaper at all expensive? Are subscriptions always paid in advance? Are they always thanked as graciously as they should be? Do they receive the support they should in the way of advertising etc.? Have you ever thought of this before? Will this blot of ink put new ideas in your heads? If so, then it was not used in vain.

J. T. Jowell was in town from the ranch Monday, and though he paraded down the streets with a weeding hoe on his shoulder it did not excite the suspicions of any one, for it is a well known fact that Mr. Jowell is a devotee to the cotton-sack brigade.
