

NORMAL STUDENTS GIVEN BIG OUTING

ARE GUESTS OF FACULTY AND TOWN PEOPLE, MONDAY.

Taken to Cooley's Canyon Where They Enjoyed Big Picnic Dinner and Sight Seeing.

Monday was a great day for the students in the Normal and those of the town people who joined them in a holiday trip to the canyons twelve miles east of town. The morning was very cool, and the crowd bundled in overcoats and shawls, started from the court house at nine o'clock. The canyons were reached by noon and after a short breathing spell to recuperate from the effects of a twelve mile jolt on wagons, the crowd was treated to an immense picnic feast near the spring in the Cooley spur. Chicken, sandwiches of a dozen kinds, meats of every description, pickles, cookies, cakes, pies, salads, and forty other things were spread out on table cloths before the one hundred and seventy-five people. After a few announcements by Pres. Cousins and prayer offered by Rev. Harder, the hungry bunch began helping themselves in true picnic style and spirit. During the dinner Mr. Lusty took a picture of the crowd in action, and after dinner another exposure was made of the bunch seated on the rocks along the side of the cliff.

About two o'clock the real sight-seeing began. The "mountain climbers" of the party, headed by R. A. Terrill, set off to the north to go down in the main canyon, while those who did not care for such strenuous exercise headed to the east, led by L. E. Cowling, and skirted the cliffs to watch the crowd down in the gulches.

It is safe to say that no one in the crowd who had never visited this place would have guessed the magnitude or the beauty of the canyons to the east of Canyon. To stand on the brink and look across three miles to the other side at the beautiful strata, of rock, and then to look for hundreds of feet almost straight down is worth going miles to see. But how much greater the sight to go down into these chasms, climbing part of the time and jumping for a number of feet at others, and then to turn and look at the huge pillars and monuments of stone on every hand, raised for a thousand feet overhead—one would little think that he were on the plains of Texas. The proposition to be solved when once in such a place is to get out. Some of the crowd found this greater than they expected. It looked easy at a distance, but when one has climbed over a huge boulder only to find a much larger one directly in front of him, and accomplishing this to find a dozen more still larger in the distance, he realizes what his task is. But this is not all. After having climbed for half an hour, gaining a few hundred feet, he comes to a monstrous wall of rock which projects almost perpendicularly in the air to the distance of from fifty to a hundred feet. It takes team work to get out of such a place, and mighty cool headed team work at that. Luckily, however, out of the large crowd no one was injured during the climbing and only one young lady became exhausted to any extent.

The crowd gathered at the wagons at five o'clock and started on a very weary but exceedingly well pleased with the trip of the day.

VERY NARROW ESCAPE

L. E. Cowling Narrowly Escaped With Life From an Auto Smashup North of Canyon.

Wednesday afternoon while out driving with Judge Lair and H. B. Herd, of Ft. Worth, L. E. Cowling was almost crushed under his auto, which turned turtle over an embankment north of town. They were going up the hill and nearly arriving at the top the engine went dead. The breaks refused to work and the machine started to back down. Judge Lair and Mr. Herd jumped out, but Mr. Cowling in trying to steer the machine safely to bottom, lost control and the machine shot over the embankment. The auto was literally smashed into splinters. Mr. Herd and Mr. Lair ran to the scene expecting to find Mr. Cowling injured, but luckily he was thrown in such a manner that the steering wheel held the machine up just enough to keep Mr. Cowling from being crushed. It was a miraculous escape and in fifty wrecks one would not have escaped as did Mr. Cowling. As it was, he was hardly injured at all.

The friends of the family extend to the husband and children their heart felt sympathy in this hour of sorrow.

Rain Wednesday.

A heavy rain fell in this vicinity Wednesday evening. From five to six o'clock it simply poured down. Water was standing in all the streets for some time afterwards. The ground was soaked up in fine shape for fall plowing.

STEAM LAUNDRY WOULD COME.

Judge J. C. Hunt Has Letter of Inquiry as to Condition at Canyon. Some Capital Wanted.

Canyon can get a first class laundry if some of our citizens wish to take a little stock in the company. Judge Hunt has in his possession a letter from a first class laundryman who wants to move his plant from another town to Canyon. It is a good proposition and no doubt some citizen will take it up.

FOR THE CHILDREN

A Pretty Experiment.
Any child can easily perform this pretty experiment in crystallization. Take some common soda and dissolve as much in water as the water will hold. When no more soda will dissolve, although you stir it up, the water is what we call a saturated solution. After the remaining soda has settled to the bottom pour off the clear solution into a tall glass, tie a large bean to one end of a thread and a small piece of glass or stone at the other end. The thread should be just long enough to let both these objects hang in the solution while the middle of the thread rests on a stick placed across the top of the glass.
Leave it alone for a few days and you will find that the bean is covered with sharp little needles of soda looking like hoarfrost, while the stone or glass has not changed. The reason is that the bean has absorbed water and in so doing has crowded out the soda, which deposits itself on the outside of the bean, while the stone, since it cannot absorb water, remains unchanged.

Mouse's Coconut House.
In the West Indies there lived a little mouse who liked coconuts. He found a tree of them, and up he ran joyfully and searched for a fine soft one. He gnawed a little hole, and then he gnawed this bigger, big enough for him to crawl through. In he went, delightedly. Here was a palace, indeed—a nice, soft place to lie, and plenty to eat and drink. The food in the palace was so good that he ate and ate and ate, and when he was thirsty he drank of the coconut milk. Now coconut milk fattens mice quicker than anything else does. So before our mouse knew what had happened he had grown so fat that he could not get out of the coconut by the hole through which he had entered. Now, the worst of it was that when mouse got fat he got lazy, too, and he didn't care much whether or not he ever got out of his nice, warm home.

And that was how it happened that when the coconut gatherers came to that tree they found a mouse in one of the coconuts.

Principles of Flight.
Every boy who has played the thrilling game of "tickly benders" on particularly thin ice has applied the principle of the aeroplane or heavier than air machine. As long as one fairly lies along the ice will bear one's weight, although it may sag or threaten. Let the speed slacken for an instant, or the skater come to a standstill and the experiment will be at an end for that day at least.
Now an aeroplane may be kept aloft on exactly the same principle. Let these broad planes stand still for a moment and they will begin to flutter downward or turn on edge and plunge swiftly to the ground. By keeping them moving, however, they gain the very slight supporting power of the air. The greater the speed the more level is the flight and the less the chance of falling. An aeroplane flight, therefore, is a glorious game of tickly benders high up among the birds.—St. Nicholas.

Diamond Ring.
The players in this game sit in a circle with their hands placed palm to palm, the little fingers downward, between the knees. One of the company is chosen to act the part of maid. She takes a ring between her palms, which she keeps flat together in the same way as the rest. She then visits each person in turn and places her hands between the palms of each, so that she is able to slip the ring into some one's hands without the others knowing. When she has visited each she touches one child and says:
My lady's lost her diamond ring;
I fix upon you to find it.

The child touched must then guess who has the ring. If she guesses correctly she becomes the maid; if not, she must pay a forfeit. The maid then touches some one else and repeats the two lines given above. Each guesser may be allowed three trials.

Arch Ball.
Among numerous good games with ball is one called "arch ball." The players stand in two or more lines, single file, players about two feet apart. The leader throws the ball backward over his head to the player behind. The second throws it in the same way to the third, and so on down the line. The last one runs to the front with the ball, takes his place at the head of the line and begins over again. If the ball is missed the one who failed to catch it must pick it up and return to his place in the line before throwing it. The line wins whose leader first gets back to the front.

Toby's Composition.
"It stands so reason," writes Toby Trip in his composition, "that most of our rats come from Gnaw-away, and that some of our choicest poultry are coteh in China, while there are no black folks in the Isle of Wight. Yet there are women in the Isle of Man, wise people in the Scilly Isles, and the best natured men in the world are natives of Ire-land."

A Problem Solved.
A hundred and one by fifty divide, And next let a cipher be duly applied, And if the result you should rightly divine, You'll find that the whole makes but one out of nine.
Explanation—CL, CII, CLIO (Clio, the muse of history, one of the nine muses).

THE RAILROAD BILL.

The following discussion of the I. & G. N. railway bill was handed us by one of our leading citizens, which we believe to set out fully the situation. The bill has been unjustly criticised and the writer has put the case very plainly in the following words:

"It is indeed laughable to see these corporation attorneys and their henchmen bellowing about the legislature passing what is termed the I. & G. N. railroad bill. There is always a cry from these people that railroad building will stop when any regulatory measures are passed by our legislature. They howled when our stock and bond law was enacted. They howled when our railway commission law was enacted and now they are howling against one of the best railroad regulatory measures that was ever passed by our law makers.

"When the stock and bond law was passed, possibly by an over-sight the unsecured creditors was overlooked and what is known as the I. & G. N. railroad bill passed by the fourth called session, was to cure this defect and now provides that not only bond holders, mortgage lien holders, favored attorneys, etc., may be paid by the railway corporations when placed in hands of the receiver and sold, but that all creditors, such as people who furnish ties, and other supplies, claims for stock killed, claims for labor of all kinds, injuries and every conceivable claim against the said road.

"Why not make the law to cover all these claims? This is what the law does and a more just law was never enacted. The I. & G. N. E. R. Co., if it had been permitted to proceed with its sale of property to the Goulds for the mortgaged bonded indebtedness, would have defeated thousands of just claims due those who had helped to maintain the road and make it partly what it is today.

"It does not even squint at any restriction that would cause any people to stop a minute to discuss the effects it would have on railroad building. When you hear this howl, trace it up and it will land in the brain of a corporation attorney or their henchmen."

It's an awful hard thing to get into some peoples' heads, but the newspaper business is like any other kind of business. The newspaper must have set prices and must maintain them. Does the business man like to be "jewed" down on his goods? The newspaper man must live and meet his bills as any other mortal—in fact he has to pay his bills more promptly than some of the people who owe for their subscriptions.

Our West Texas Normal College at Canyon opened the twentieth with an enrollment of one hundred thirty students. Hereford is about to move over to Canyon, one residence has already been moved. Fifteen rahs for the West Texas Normal and all the schools of the Plains. A wave for better education has come to the Plains to stay. All together for our schools.—Plain-view News.

Name your farm and have a good legible sign placed over your front gate. Then have some neat letter heads printed for your farm correspondence. We believe in a man naming his farm even if he has to do like a Panhandle man we have heard of and name it "Sunny Brook" farm after his favorite brand of booze. Give your farm an appropriate name to be designated by.—Hall County Herald.

The more probable becomes the nomination of Gaynor for the Empire state governorship, the more probable is it that the next governor will be a democrat.

Amarillo is a disgrace to the whole Plains. Any town that will let booze joints run wide open in opposition to the law ought to be wiped off the map.

Nearly every town of any importance in the Panhandle is having a fair this fall. Canyon was not ready for a fair this fall, but look out for the big time next fall.

"I thought some one else would tell you," was the excuse given the News man the other day when he asked why a certain item of news had not been sent in the week before. Don't rely on your neighbor. He may be more forgetful than yourself.

Just a Little Conundrum

Why are burglars like our lumber?
Because they always go into the best of homes.

Not only do we sell the majority of lumber for the best homes all around here, but we get most of the bills for barns, granaries, and for all buildings where good, sound, dry material is required. People have learned that there is a lot of difference in the quality of lumber, and as we make quality our "long suit," particular buyers take no chances but buy what they need from us.

HIGH SCHOOL NOTES.

(By Lillie E. Thompson, Reporter.)

The high school crossed bats with the normal team this week, with a score of 6 to 4 in favor of the high school.

The light accommodations of the school building has been improved greatly by painting the upper panes of the windows.

Through the kindness of Buster Brown one hundred little boys and girls of the schools are in possession of a beautiful red pencil case.

The mothers club will meet next Monday afternoon at the high school building. All the mothers are invited to be present.

Prof. Price has changed the desks in his room so that they now face the hall. The arrangement is better for both teacher and pupils.

Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Rogers were visitors in Prof. Coss' room Tuesday.

Miss Cund and Mrs. Orton will take the pupils of the second and third grades on a picnic trip to Baird's pasture next Saturday. All the mothers are invited to accompany them. They will go about 10 o'clock, spread their lunch as soon as they arrive and then have the rest of the day for study and play. Mostly play.

Some of the patrons of the school think the boys ought to organize a debating society. How about it boys?

Bro. Hawkins was a visitor in Prof. Coss' room last Tuesday.

At the last teacher's meeting Prof. Price was elected librarian and the library will be opened Friday for the pupils to take books to read. The school will be divided into five divisions and each division assigned one day in the week to receive and return books.

The supervisors from the Normal were present at the teacher's meeting Tuesday evening.

There never was a time when feats of daring did not hold a crowd of spectators silent with awe and spell-bound with admiration at its successful accomplishment. The grand Arentic display "The Garland Entry with eight beautiful horses festooned with rose-garlands and golden spangles and their riders in gorgeous costumes in the bewildering maze of the May-pole dance is one of the most beautiful and intricate numbers ever witnessed. Other equestrian exploits and feats of horsemanship and driving are the double bounding jockey act; the sensational bareback carrying act, a high school menage act, and a score of others, any one of which is a complete and novel feature in itself. Resolutions.

Resolutions by the Woman's Home and Foreign Missionary Societies of Canyon, Texas.

MRS. LIZZIE HOWELL.

Whereas, our Lord and Master, our kind and loving Father, who doeth all things well, has seen fit to call up higher, to Life more abundant, our friend, our sister, our co-laborer, Mrs. Howell; therefore, W. H. and Foreign Missionary Societies beg leave to submit the following resolutions:

Resolved, that her life meant much to the M. E. Church South both in the Home and Foreign work, and her influence will be an inspiration to us who are left to take up her work where she has laid it down.

Be it further resolved, that we will miss her, how much, time alone can reveal, but we rejoice that it can be truthfully said of her, "She hath done what she could."

Be it further resolved, that our societies have lost an example of faithfulness and unselfish devotion to our cause; she was ever ready to help both with herself and her means to further the cause of our Savior.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be spread on the secretary's book of the W. H. and Foreign Missionary societies, that a copy be sent to her children and be published in our home and church papers. Mrs. Tom L. Miller, Mrs. M. E. Hawkins, Mrs. T. P. Turk, Committee.

Resolutions.

We, the undersigned committee appointed by the Philathea Class, beg leave to submit the following:

Whereas, be it resolved, as it has pleased our Heavenly Father to call from our midst Sister Lizzie Howell whereby the class has sustained the loss of a faithful member and devoted Christian.

Be it further resolved that we extend our sympathy to the bereaved relatives in the great loss they have sustained by the death of our beloved sister.

Resolved further that a copy of these resolutions be sent to the bereaved family, a copy be inserted in the minutes of our class and one sent to the local paper for publication.

THEY ALL DEMAND IT.

Canyon, Like Every City and Town in the Union, Receives It.

People with kidney ills want to be cured. When one suffers the tortures of an aching back, relief is eagerly sought for. There are many remedies to-day that relieve but do not cure. Here is evidence to prove that Doan's Kidney Pills cure, and the cure is lasting.

Mrs. G. E. Ruby, 1301 Scott Ave., Wichita Falls, Tex., says: "When I began using Doan's Kidney Pills I was suffering from a severe case of kidney complaint. I had been troubled for almost three years and had grown discouraged, as none of the remedies I took proved to be of any benefit. My bladder was inflamed and the kidney secretions gave me great annoyance. There was a dull ache through my back and I was often so lame and sore across my loins that I could scarcely bend over, in fact, I gave up all work that called for a strain on the muscles of my back. My head ached almost continually and I was often very dizzy. Doan's Kidney Pills were highly recommended to me by a friend, and I procured a supply. I have used two boxes so far and they have proved of great benefit. I am able to do my work without any trouble whatever and feel a great deal better in every way. Doan's Kidney Pills have my strongest endorsement."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, Sole Agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Don't Break Down.
 Severe strains on the vital organs, like strains on machinery, cause break-downs. You can't over-tax stomach, liver, kidneys, bowels or nerves without serious danger to yourself. If you are weak or run down, or under strain of any kind, take Electric Bitters the matchless, tonic medicine. Mrs. J. E. Van de Sande, of Kirklind, Ill., writes: "That I did not break down while enduring a most severe strain, for three months, is due wholly to Electric Bitters." Use them and enjoy health and strength. Satisfaction positively guaranteed. 50c at all druggists.

It Saved His Leg.

Then Bucklen's Arnica Salve cured it, sound and well." Infalible for skin eruptions, eczema, salt rheum, boils, fever sores, burns, scalds, cuts and piles. 25c at all druggists.

Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is today the best-known medicine in use for the relief and cure of bowel complaints. It cures griping, diarrhoea, dysentery, and should be taken at the first unnatural looseness of the bowels. It is equally valuable for children and adults. It always cures. For sale by City Pharmacy.

Is it because they get credit? Our terms are strictly cash.

Why then do they come?

HE JUST HATES CIGARETTES

David Warfield, Forbidden Their Use, Wrathfully Comments on Those Who Smoke Them.

That usually genial actor, David Warfield, is wearing a dark frown upon his brow nowadays. His friends failed for some time to penetrate the cause of his dejection until the other day he was observed in the Players' club regarding with a glare a young person who was smoking a cigarette. "Fool," said Mr. Warfield, bitterly. "Idiot! Chump! Wasting his time and money on those keys to the door of death. Pasty-faced, pink-eyed, flap-eared, braying jackass. I have no words at my command to tell you how I loathe the cigarette smokers."

Mr. Warfield fastened the party of the second part with a murderous glance. That young person felt impelled to say something, and so he observed feebly that he presumed Mr. Warfield had never smoked.

"Of course I did," said Mr. Warfield. "I threw away 25 years of my life smelling the fumes of the nasty little things. No one ever saw me without a cig in my teeth. Now that I have quit I don't see how a man of intelligence could possibly fall so low as to own thrall-dom to a roll of paper and a pinch of weed."

"And why did you quit?" "Because, darn it!" said the actor, "my doctor made me about six months ago. Said I was ruining my throat. Did you ever hear of such rotten nonsense? Took practically the only pleasure out of my life, con-found it!"

SINGING CHARMS A SNAKE.

Singing "Nearer, My God, to Thee," three women charmed a rattlesnake that had just crawled from beneath a cushion, upon which one of them was seated, out on the Vale ranch, says a Salt Lake paper.

Mrs. F. P. Dunlap, Mrs. Harry Allison and Mrs. W. A. Vale were seated on a lounge under the trees when Mrs. Dunlap perceived the snake. Instantly she thought of music charming reptiles and she whispered, "Let's sing." She commenced to hum the sacred air and the others, not knowing why, took it up. The snake, with head poised, paused and Mrs. Dunlap slowly arose and beckoned the others to follow, which they quietly did. After having gained a safe distance the others discovered what their danger had been. Armed with clubs, the women then killed the snake.

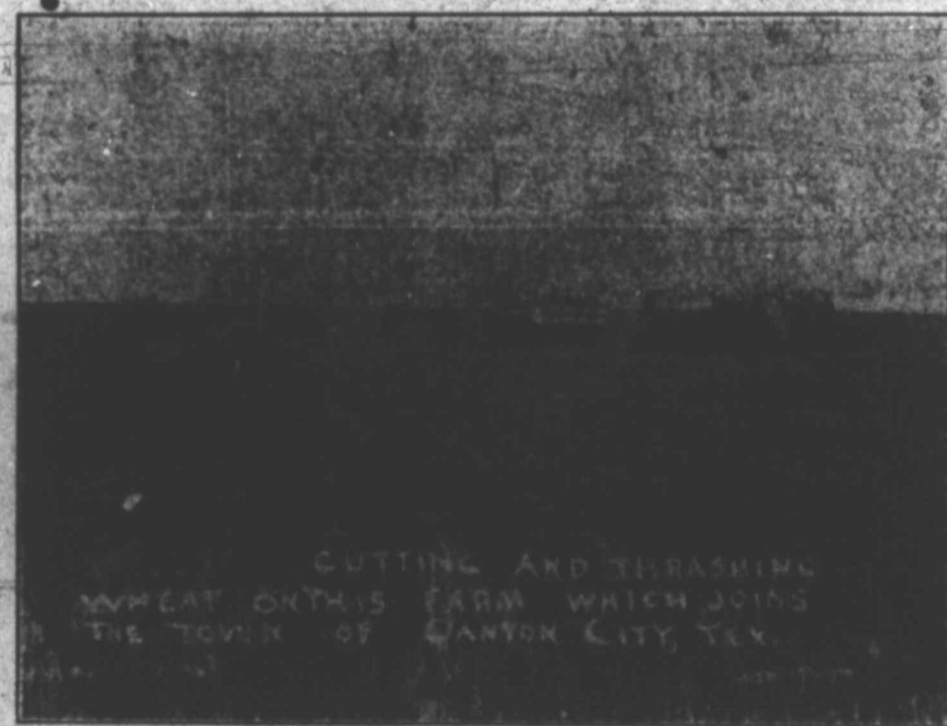

DOG'S LONG CHASE AFTER THIEF.

John Brooks, Dick Cousins and John Walker, negroes accused of robbing the bank of South Hill, Mecklenburg county, Virginia, at a preliminary hearing before three magistrates in South Hill were held for the grand jury and committed without bail. In a signed statement issued recently Cashier Thomas A. Bryson gives Suffolk bloodhounds a portion of credit for the burglars' capture. One of the thieves was chased 18 miles by dogs.

The Panhandle Invites Inspection.

She leads the great Southwest in the richness of her productions. That she has created a stir in the agricultural sections of the north and middle west, is evidenced by the gathering together of the banking interests of the older states, to combat the tide of immigration which is steadily coming this way. A visit to Canyon City and surrounding territory will convince you that the loudly proclaimed stories of drought are without foundation. Our hundreds of acres of Milo Maize and Kaffir Corn, just now entering the maturing stage, are a complete refutation of the drought stories. The market quotations of Indian corn compared with the quotations on Kaffir and Maize show that the last two named command the greater price.

There is no country that is better equipped naturally for the production of broom corn, than in the Panhandle. Professor Shaw, of the Wisconsin Agricultural College, makes the unqualified statement that any land which will successfully produce broom corn is worth two hundred dollars per acre.

As a stock raising and feeding country the Panhandle is not surpassed; the cool, pleasant summer, free from the tormenting fly, and the mild winters, full of sunshine, make it an ideal location for both the raising and finishing of all kinds of stock.

The production of all fruits peculiar to the temperate zone is bountiful and the quality is of the best. All kinds of vegetables are most successfully grown here, and melons attain prodigious size and fare of the most delicious flavor.
