Youths if the East Prepared to Fight Mexicans and Seemed Anxious For the Service.

Nearly a dozen trains of soldiers have passed through the city during the past week on their way to the Mexican border.

Only two or three trains halted in Canyon. The remainder had changed engines and taken water in Amarillo.

More of the boys seemed to have an idea that they would begin to shoot Mexicans as soon as they landed in El Paso.

The cars in which they were carried were highly decorated with pictures of their conception of war life.

Canyon people met most of the trains, in spite of the fact that the hours of their arrival were kept secret by order of the government.

Wade-Garner.

Yesterday afternoon at three-thirty o'clock, at the home of Rev. W. M. P. Rippey, was solemnized the wedding of Miss Myrtle Wade and Mac Garner.

They left immediately after the ceremony for their home, near Canyon on the W. L. Garner ranch.

Miss Wade is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wade and is a very popular and accomplished young woman.

Community Sing Well Attended.

There was a large crowd at the sing on the court house lawn Monday night. A piano was moved to the east side of the building, and accompanied by a stringed orchestra lead the singing.

Arrangements will be made at the next sing for lights and the song service will continue for a much longer time.

It would be an excellent idea during the summer months to hold some of the church services on Sunday evening on the court house lawn, devoting a greater part of the evening to the singing of the old hymns.

Guarding Railroad Bridges.

Since the Santa Fe begun to haul so many troops during the past week guards have been stationed at all of the principle bridges on the line as far north as Kansas City.

The road is taking every matter of precaution, not only to see that the lines are unobstructed for the quick transportation of the soldiers, but if there are Mexican spies on this side, to see that they do no harm to the railroad lines over which the men are passing.

The railroads are greatly increased vigilance along the entire line, as well as at the bridges.

FOURTH OF JULY CELEBRATION AT CANYON CLUB GROUNDS

Abundant Dinner Given to Normal Students by Faculty and Business Men of Canyon Tuesday.

The Fourth of July celebration was a success in every way. There was nothing whatever to mar the pleasure of the occasion, not even a person falling into the creek.

The students and town people met on the east side of the square and conveyances for them was supplied. It is estimated that 1000 people were on the grounds.

The afternoon was taken up by taking pictures with the large number of kodaks that were among the crowd. Roaming the canyons and seeing some of nature's workings was the sport until late in the afternoon when everyone was tired and ready to go home.

Arriving home late, the celebration was one to be long remembered by the students and town people of Canyon.

The THOUGHT STARTER

By ALBERT LEE

A KIND deed done kindles the desire to do other kind deeds. There is much suffering and much deprivation in this great land of ours. The next time you go for a little pleasure tour, O kind automobile owner, take a basket of food or a big bag of candy and drive through your nearest slum district. Drive slowly, and you will soon find a group of wan, pale, poorly clad children playing on a dirty pavement. Stop your car and give them a surprise. A candy treat or a quart or two of ice cream will fill them with joy and gratitude.

Do this once. It will cost you a little, and it is just such kind deeds that soften the hearts of the oppressed, that make them have a kinder feeling toward their more fortunate fellow beings. Do it once, and you will want to do it often. You will never miss the amounts you spend in this good work. Even if you deny yourself and friends "a dinner out" or a visit to the theater occasionally, the consciousness of a kindly act to your credit will more than repay you.

Some Startling Statistics.

(By E. E. Bishop, Superintendent Vashti Industrial School.)

In a report issued some time ago by a social purity society of which Charles W. Eliot, President Emeritus of Harvard, was the head, the cost of white slavery in the United States was estimated at three billion dollars per year. This would be equivalent to a tax of over thirty dollars per head for every man, woman and child in the nation. It would average six thousand dollars each for the estimated half million fallen women in America.

Details of this enormous waste of money are explained, to some extent at least, in a medical paper on "Social Diseases." In this article Dr. Schenck estimates that four out of every five men at some time in life are afflicted with social diseases; that three out of every five cases of women treated or operated upon in hospitals is due to disease of this kind, nearly always ignorantly contracted from their husbands; that a large percentage of tuberculosis cases are due to inherited or acquired social disease which have broken down the resisting force of individuals; that a very large percentage of diseases of eye, ear, nose, and throat are due to the same cause; also seventy-five per cent of cases of heart disease, ninety-five per cent of blindness at birth and eighty-five per cent of children born feeble-minded or deformed.

He stated further that the insane asylums enrolled more persons than our colleges and universities combined and more than the army and navy combined and cost more than the entire public school system, and that half of all our insanity is due to social diseases; or, to be specific, that one hundred thousand of the two hundred thousand of the inmates of insane asylums in our country are insane on account of social diseases alone. In this connection Dr. Schenck stated that in the State of New York thirty-five thousand girls are recruited annually for the ranks of vice.

The above estimates and more besides were read publicly in the presence of medical men and then discussed, and no objections were offered to the correctness of the statistics.

Now, if it is true that the neglected girl gone wrong costs as much as alleged or three times as much as the administration of the United States government and a billion dollars more than the liquor traffic costs, and that she is responsible for most of the worst diseases and half of all the insanity, would it not be a good idea to give the matter of protection or prevention more than passing notice? Or would it be better, for the sake of modesty or necessity, to ignore the cause and prepare public institutions for an ever-increasing army of degenerates until the whole population shall become degenerate?

The country's being painted red by cheerful, careless lads, who never look a day ahead, but blow in all their scads. Today they have abounding health, and sickness seems afar; to-day they're earning goodly wealth, so why not buy a car? The sage rebukes them with a sigh, and says, "Be safe and sane, and while the weather's fair and dry, prepare, my sons, for rain." In vain his noble words are said, they list with scornful look, and beg that he will soak his head, in some convenient brook. And then they make the village hum with their resounding mirth; but sickness comes, reverses come, to every man on earth. And when the luck is breaking rank, how bitterly they say, "We have no kopecks in the bank, and here's the rainy day!" C. Beaty and M. C. Moulton executed a power of attorney to Adams Adams whereby the said Adams Adams was authorized to sell any and all land certificates to be issued to Adams, Beaty and Moulton, and that on September 16, 1885, the said R. C. Beaty and Adams Adams acting by their said attorney in fact, made, executed and delivered to J. B. Crane a deed wherein the above described land was conveyed and that on September 15, 1885, the said J. B. Crane made, executed and delivered to W. B. Munson of a certain deed whereby the above described land was conveyed to said Munson, which deeds were duly filed and recorded in the Deed Records of Randall County, Texas, on December 14, 1886, and that afterwards on February 9, 1901, W. Plaintiff would further show to the Court that he has had and held said land above described under a deed duly registered and has had peaceable, continuous and adverse possession of the same, cultivating, using and enjoying same and paying all taxes due thereon for a period of more than five years.

Plaintiff would show to the Court that he is the owner of said land and has a perfect right and title to the same, because he has had and held said land, an adverse possession of the same, using, cultivating and enjoying same for a period of more than ten years.

The defendants claim said land by reason of Adams Adams, R. C. Beaty and M. C. Moulton on February 2, 1875 sold and conveyed to J. Clark Hoel land script No. 626, which sale and transfer was filed for record in Randall County on the 2nd day of June, 1890; and that by virtue of said certificate the land above mentioned was on June 20, 1885, patented by the State of Texas, to Adams, Beaty and Moulton and that on July 24, 1893, J. Clark Hoel for the purpose of securing his note executed a deed of trust on the above described land, W. R. Howell, trustee for the use and benefit of the defendant John E. Owens; that H. H. Howell, as administrator of the estate of J. Clark Hoel, made executed and delivered a deed to said property to the defendant John E. Owens; that by reason of the premises plaintiff has a superior title to said land and that by reason of the claim of defendants, a cloud is placed upon plaintiff's title.

Plaintiff prays that upon hearing he have judgment against defendants for the above described land and that the cloud placed upon his title to said land be removed, and for costs of suit.

(H. J. R. No. 30) HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION

Proposing an amendment to Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, authorizing the levy and collection of an ad valorem county tax not to exceed fifty cents on the one hundred dollars valuation of property for the maintenance of the public schools of the county, and authorizing the levy and collection of an ad valorem district tax not to exceed one dollar on the one hundred dollars valuation of property for the maintenance of the public schools of the district.

Be it resolved by the Legislature of the State of Texas:

Section 1. That Section 3 of Article 7 of the Constitution of the State of Texas be amended to hereafter read as follows:

Section 3. School Taxes. — One-fourth of the revenue derived from the State occupation taxes, and a poll tax of $1.00 on every male inhabitant of this State between the ages of 21 and 60 years shall be set apart annually for the benefit of the public free schools, and in addition thereto there shall be levied and collected an annual ad valorem State tax of such an amount, not to exceed 20 cents on the $100.00 valuation, as with the available school fund arising from all other sources will be sufficient to maintain and support the public free schools of this State for a period of not less than six months in each year. The Legislature may authorize the levy and collection of an annual ad valorem county tax within the counties of this State not to exceed 50 cents on the $100.00 valuation of property situated within the county; provided, a majority of the qualified property taxing voters of the county voting at an election to be held for that purpose shall vote such tax, for the purpose of maintaining the public free schools of the county, and the Legislature may also provide for the formation of school districts by general or special law without the local notice required in other cases of special legislation, and all such school districts, whether created by general or special law, may embrace parts of two or more counties, and the Legislature shall be authorized to pass laws for the assessment and collection of taxes in all said districts and for the management and control of the public school or schools of such district, whether such districts are composed of territory wholly within a county or in parts of two or more counties. And the Legislature may authorize an additional ad valorem tax to be levied and collected within all school districts heretofore formed, or hereafter formed, for the further maintenance of public free schools, and the erection and equipment of school buildings therein; provided, that a majority of the qualified property taxing voters of the district, voting at an election to be held for that purpose, shall vote such tax not to exceed in any one year one dollar on the $100.00 valuation of the property subject to taxation in such districts, but the limitation upon the amount of school district tax herein authorized shall not apply to incorporated cities or towns, constituting separate and independent school districts. Section 2. The Governor of this State is hereby instructed to issue the necessary proclamation for the submission of this amendment to the qualified voters of the State of Texas at the next general election to be held in November, 1916, at which election all voters favoring this amendment shall have written or printed on their ballots the words, "For the amendment to Section 3, Article 7, of the Constitution of the State of Texas, relating to the levy of ad valorem school taxes not to exceed fifty cents on the $100.00 valuation in the county and not to exceed one dollar on the $100.00 valuation in the district, for the purpose of maintaining the public schools of the country or of the district." Community Co-Operation

(Copyrighted Farm and Ranch-Holland's Magazine.) I happened to meet a man not long ago who was bewailing the fact that one of his farm implements, for which he had urgent need, was lying idle awaiting a new part that had to be ordered "out of town."

Reason? The implement in question had been bought from a distant house, and, not being a STANDARD make, the local dealer was unable to supply a part to match the broken one, which the local blacksmith could not mend on account of a "bad place in the metal." Work dependent on the machine had been held up three days. Appraisal of the time lost—according to the owner's computation—amounted to approximately $20, to say nothing of the inconvenience to which he was put. Investigation on my part developed the information that the owner figured that he was saving about $6.50 on the original implement. The local merchant stoutly maintained, however, that the difference in price was fully represented in quality. In justice to all parties it should be said that the broken part was replaced without cost to the purchaser. At any rate, the time lost waiting for necessary repairs much more than counter-balanced the difference in price. Then, too, there is always a possibility of similar accidents occurring in the future. Well-meaning retailers will not expect you to patronize them unless they are in position to extend you the same inducements in the way of quality, style and price offered elsewhere. That your local merchants are in position to render you more and better service than those at a distance there is no doubt. And service is an element worthy of much consideration. If you will demand STANDARD goods of established worth you will invariably be assured of getting full value for the amount of money expended. Establishing favorable reputation and demand for any particular brand of merchandise is an expensive process. As the expense incurred cannot be added to selling prices it must be absorbed by volume of sales—steady demand by satisfied consumers. You can buy STANDARD products to as good advantage locally as anywhere else, and your money spent in your home stores will benefit you and your neighbors in many ways. Eliminating the element of sentiment, it is to your advantage, from a financial standpoint, to keep, in your community, as much of the money produced there as possible. FROM MARCUS AURELIUS

Respect the faculty that forms thy judgments. Let not thy mind run on what thou lackest as much as on what thou hast already. "Let thine occupations be few," saith the sage, "if thou wouldst lead a tranquil life." Do not think that what is hard for thee to master is impossible for man, but if a thing is possible and proper to man, deem it attainable for thee. Everything is in a state of metamorphosis. Thou thyself art in everlasting change and in corruption to correspond; so is the whole universe. Observe always that everything is the result of a change, and get used to thinking that there is nothing nature loves so well as to change existing forms and to make new ones like them.

FACTS AND FANCIES.

One way to get a verdict of "guilty" is to try a woman before a jury of her sex. When things come your way it means you have taken care to start them in that direction. If you wish the applause of the crowd be a hero. If you wish the love of the women be a villain. You probably have noticed that the woman who sets out to be shocked is likely to succeed in her undertaking. The generally accepted theory nowadays is that if a man has energy enough to make money he should be fined whatever he has for showing it.—Exchange.

The Country Newspaper. Short Snatches from Everywhere No finer tribute to the country newspaper has ever been paid than the following. It was written by William Allen White, editor of the Emporia, (Kans.) Gazette, for Harper's Magazine. Mr White's words in part are: But the beauty and joy of our papers and our little worlds is that we who live in the country towns know our own heroes. Who knows Murphy in New York. Only a few. Yet in Emporia we all know Tom O'Connor—and love him. Who knows Morgan in New York? One man in a thousand. Yet in Emporia who does not know George Newman, our banker and merchant prince? Boston people pick up their morning papers and read with shuddering horror of the crimes of their daily villain yet read without the fine thrill that we have when we read that Al Ludolph is in jail again in Emporia. For we all know Al. We've ridden on his hack a score of times. And we take up our paper with the story of his frailties as readers who begin the narrative of an old friend's adventures. Our papers are little country papers, seem drab and miserably provincial to strangers, yet we who read them read in their lines the sweet, intimate story of life. And all these touches of nature makes us wonderful kind. It is the country newspaper, bringing together daily the threads of the town's life, weaving them into something rich and strange and setting the pattern as it weaves, directing the loom and giving the cloth its color by mixing the lives of all people in its newspaper that reveals us to ourselves, that keeps our country hearts quick, and our country minds open, and our country faith strong. Those of you who believe that it would be a great honor to the state for the governor's wife to go out into the back yard of the mansion and make soap, should vote for Morris. He says that his wife will be found there. And besides, being the husband of so good a soap maker, is such a loft recommendation to his ability to make a good governor that Morris ought by all means be elected. In fact, it would be a great honor to the state of Texas to turn its mansion into a soap factory, such as Morris promises to do. By having his wife spend ten or twelve hours in the back yard making soap every day, Morris ought to help materially in paying the expenses of the state government, and if he will help his good wife about half of each day, they ought to be able to make enough soap to meet practically all of the state's expenses, thus doing away with burdensome state taxes. Yes, let's all cast a vote for our would-be governor-soap maker. He might be able to corner the soap market, and thus add more glory to his already illustrious name, and to the fame of the great state of Texas.

Reports from the harvest fields indicate that the wheat of Randall county will make over seven bushels to the acre in spite of the most unfavorable weather. This year has certainly been a practical demonstration of what this soil is able to do under the most unfavorable conditions. Where is the country that can produce this much wheat with practically no moisture during the growing season?—The News challenges any country to show a better record. The Panhandle seeds in normal years, as has been shown by the record of the past few years, and it certainly leads all countries in producing crops under the most unfavorable conditions.

Mexico is preparing to resist an invasion, and it is reported that the officials are enlisting school boys, promising that the war will be fought entirely in this country and that the boys will be well repaid in loot for their time and trouble. In dealing with Mexico, this country is dealing with the grossly ignorant, driven by designing bandits.

Ty Cobb is not only the best batsman on the diamond, but occasionally he gives the grandstand a practical demonstration of his ability, via, a bat turned lose in the direction of the rooters who are not exactly his supporters.

EXTRA—Joe Bailey is not a Wilson man, according to his speech of Saturday. Joe need not have troubled himself in making this announcement. But he adds that he will support the nominee of the party.

President Wilson has made it very plain that he will risk his political fortunes to do what he thinks is best for the country, rather than push this country into war with Mexico simply to fulfill the demands of the interests which have seen fit to invest money in that country. The President is too well aware of the effort these interests would make to have the United States annex the northern part of Mexico once it was in our possession. President Wilson is a braver man than the republicans who stand around and howl at him for not attacking Mexico. Until he sees the benefit of spending thousands of lives and millions of dollars in a long guerilla warfare in our unfortunate neighboring country, it is safe to say he will not do it.

The horse is given ten more years on the roads of America, according to the calculators. After that it will be used no more for travel, or to haul the farmer's produce to market. From the looks of things Old Dobbins won't last three years longer in Randall county.

A man from a neighboring town said Monday he wished he lived in Canyon where they do things. Canyon is almost as good as a soap factory and the people who are with us. We don't make any fuss about what we are doing, but just do it because we enjoy doing good things.

Governor Ferguson has announced the cancellation of all his speaking dates and will probably not make any further campaign for re-election. Given enough rope, most any calf will hang itself. Morris is that kind of a politician.

Reports from the allies say they have begun the great offensive movement for so long contemplated. Berlin says the Germans are holding their own. Both camps know the value of advertising, but which crowd is using the truth emblem.

Hetty Green is dead. She was reported to be the richest woman in the world. She lived 80 years and never had a nickle's worth of fun during that entire time—unless it was for the first five or six years.

The National Guard boys on the border may be young and inexperienced, but we would hate to be a Mexican and try to cross the border within gun shot of one of these lads.

Now that the street lights with all night service will soon be started, what about mire sidewalks for Canyon. We need them, we can get them if we try. Shall we try?

Ex-Governor Campbell says that he was not responsible for bringing Morris out. We don't blame him for denying such responsibility.

The hungry were fed at the big picnic Tuesday, and there was plenty left over. Canyon never does things by halves.

Dallas News—Of course the Robertson law is a protective measure, as Governor Ferguson says. If it were not, the home insurance companies could see no hope of profit from the expenditures they have been making to retain it on the statute books unamended. Its virtue, in their assessment, is in the fact that it keeps the biggest insurance companies out of the State. If it should ever fail to lose their interest in it; or, if they retained any, they would join in advocating its repeal. That provision of the law which compels them to invest a certain percentage of their reserves in Texas is of no service to them. They could do that to their heart's content even if the Robertson law had never been thought of, and they could continue to do so even if the Robertson law should be repealed outright. But in protecting them from the competition of the greatest life insurance companies, both in the writing of insurance and the lending of money, the Robertson law renders them an invaluable service. If it were not for this service, they could have no excuse for the costly efforts they have made to prevent any change which might render the law unobjectionable to the big companies.

Since the outbreak of the war over 15,000 women have gone to work on the farms in Great Britain.

In the year 1914 this country produced 252,516,603 pairs of boots and shoes. Footgear for men formed 38.8 per cent of the total. Fiber shoes were made to the number of 2,351,106 pairs.

In the early months of the war the baking of white bread was prohibited in the Netherlands. From the beginning of 1915 until the end of April 1916, the danger was considered to have been averted, and during that time bread was plentiful and good and cheap. Lately there has been another shortage and white bread is again prohibited.

Western railroad managers declare they can move 80,000 to 100,000 troops a day to the Mexican border without affecting regular traffic. The Santa Fe alone asserts it can transport 8,000 a day and the public won't know the difference. In case of a real war an army could be shunted from one end of the country to the other with more celerity than in any other country in the world.

"I will be up on Saturday," written on an egg in a crate of eight dozen, caused an Urbana, Ohio, merchant to pay $5.78 for postage stamps. The eggs were sent him by a Sardis huckster by parcel post. The package was opened in the Wheeling postoffice for inspection and the message on the egg was found. Accordingly the contents were weighed and charged for at first-class rates.

When Andrew Jackson first ran for the presidency he had John C. Calhoun as his running mate; the second time, Martin Van Buren. The first time Governor Cleveland asked for the suffrages of the voters he had Thomas

A. Hendricks for his companion; the second time he went down to defeat with Allen G. Thurman, and the third time he came into power again with Adlai E. Stevenson. The democratic party has not been prone to give the second place on the ticket to the same person a second time, hence the significance of Mr. Marshall's renomination by the state.

The Bozeman, Montana, station of the United States bureau of fisheries has had a successful season in the propagation of rainbow trout and grayling at the field stations established by the bureau several years ago in the Madison Valley. More than 1,700,000 eggs from wild rainbow trout were obtained, while the collection of grayling eggs amounted to nearly 6,500,000 and more might have been secured had the available hatching capacity permitted. A part of the increased egg harvest in this field is attributable to unusually weather conditions, but much credit for the good results is undoubtedly due to the strict enforcement of the state fishery laws by the Montana game and fish commission. In return for certificates extended by the state commission all of the surplus graying eggs and several hundred thousand eggs of the rainbow trout not required for the bureau's work were forwarded for development to the hatcheries operated by the state.

"Father, who owns these parks?" asked a boy while out for a walk.

"We do, my son," replied the boy's parent; "we, the people. As a part of the people, James, we have a right to consider ourselves the owners. It is a glorious feature of our form of government, my boy," he continued, his eyes kindling, "that the people are absolute. All property rights are based on their consent. All titles thus come from them, and will finally revert to them. The will of the people is the supreme law."

HOLES

Through Which an Advertiser's Money is practically Wasted.

A man once cut a hole in the barn door so that the old cat could go in and eat whenever she pleased. Then he scratched his head quite awhile and cut a smaller hole beside it for the kitten.

Many business men cut unnecessary holes in their cash register by attempting other lines of advertising than the use of newspaper space, in the effort to increase sales.

Concentration of the advertising appropriation in newspapers will bring the results as no other method of publicity can produce—and there will be only the one hole in the cash register. The money is being spent in a way that will soon cease to be an expense because it will bring returns in increased sales and good will.

Moreover, it is not only size, but concentration of circulation that will bring the best results to an advertiser.

SEVERE PUNISHMENT

Of Mrs. Chappell, of Five Years' Standing, Relieved by Cardui.

Mt. Airy, N. C.—Mrs. Sarah M. Chappell of this town, says: "I suffered for five years with womanly troubles, also stomach troubles, and my punishment was more than any one could tell."

I tried most every kind of medicine, but none did me any good.

I read one day about Cardui, the woman's tonic, and I decided to try it. I had not taken but about six bottles until I was almost cured. It did me more good than all the other medicines I had tried, put together.

My friends began asking me why I looked so well, and I told them about Cardui. Several are now taking it."

Do you, lady reader, suffer from any of the ailments due to womanly troubles, such as headache, backache, sideache, sleeplessness, and that everlastingly tired feeling?

If so, let us urge you to give Cardui a trial. We feel confident it will help you, just as it has a million other women in the past half century.

Begin taking Cardui to-day. You won't regret it. All druggists.

Mrs. J. C. Compton went to Clovis Monday to join her husband, who was returning from the border. He is a lieutenant in the New Mexico National Guard and has been serving on the border. Being Probate Judge of his county, he was granted a leave of absence to come home for the term of court, after which he will return to the border. Mrs. Compton will return to the parental B. T. Johnson home.

LOCAL NOTES.

Miss Nannie Johnson is visiting friends in Amarillo this week.

Miss Mary Morgan Brown entertained the Merry Maids and Matrons Club Monday afternoon at the home of Miss Ritchie. The entertainment was in keeping with the spirit of the Fourth of July, the house being decorated in national colors and the scheme being carried out in the refreshments. After a number of pleasant games of forty-two refreshments were served of pressed chicken, potatoe chips, bread and butter sandwiches, pickles, ice cream and cake. A fire cracker surmounted the ice cream in cannon form. The score cards were decorated with flags and eagles. The following were the guests of the club: Mesdames Bell, Geller, Cousins, Pipkin of Plainview, Misses Cassidy, Malone, Malone, Stafford, Lowrance, Woodson, Ritchie, Lamb, Cousins, Ingham.

WHAT CAN YOU DO FOR CATARRH?

Ask Yourself the question. How often has the doctor failed, as have ointments, salves, vapours? What you should do.

The easy, common-sense method—that costs so little—that is so quick, and vigorously effective—is often the last resort of many Catarrh sufferers. Why, it is hard to say. One of the specialists of the Swift Specific Company in Atlanta—a physician of standing and national reputation because of his knowledge of blood disorders, made the assertion that if the majority of Catarrh sufferers would buy and faithfully take S. S. S., they could effectually get rid of Catarrh.

S. S. S. goes straight to the seat of trouble, the blood. It spreads its influence over every organ in the body, comes through the veins and arteries, cleanses the mucous surfaces to exchange acids and irritating substances for red blood corpuscles that effectually cleanse the system and thus put an end to all Catarrhal poison. S. S. S. cleans out the stomach of mucous accumulations, enables only pure, blood-

...ing materials to enter the intestines, combines with these food elements to enter the circulation, and in less than an hour is at work throughout the body in process of purification.

S. S. S. is made from barks, roots and herbs that are food and tonic for the blood. It stimulates—gives the blood power to throw off poisons. You will soon realize its wonderful influence by the absence of headache, a clearing of the air passages, a steadily improved nasal condition, and a sense of bodily relief that proves how completely Catarrh often infests the entire system.

You will find S. S. S. on sale at all drug stores. It is a remarkable remedy for all blood affections, such as Eczema, Rash, Eruptions, Tetter, Psoriasis, Boils, and all other diseased conditions of the blood. For special advice on any blood disease write The Swift Specific Company, Medical Department, Room 11, Atlanta, Ga. Avoid substitutes.

The "Dog Letter."
The letter "R" was called the "dog letter" by the ancients because the manner in which they pronounced it resembled to a degree the snarling of a dog. It is the last letter that most children learn to pronounce. They use "w" instead, saying "wewy" for very, or "Wobert" for Robert. The Chinese invariably use "l" in the place of "r," which they cannot pronounce.

Calendars Long in Use.
The Egyptian calendar, fixing the length of the year at 365 days, was adopted a little more than 4,300 years before Christ. Of course it took a pretty high civilization, which in this case means an old one, to arrive at such a calendar. Scholars agree that some Chaldean inscriptions date from fifty to seventy centuries B. C., and no one pretends that the oldest of these mementoes have been found.

Natural History.
Noah was standing in the rain, superintending the loading of the ark. At last all the live stock was in, save the camel, who hung back. Noah lost patience, for his umbrella was not living up to its guaranty and his rubber boots had holes in them. "Here, you!" he shouted to the camel. "Get a hump on yourself!" The camel got his back up about it, and that's how it happened.—Judge.

Straightening Children's Figures.
A governess at one of the English castles where Parker went with Cousin Margaret told her that she had to read aloud an hour every day while her charges were spread flat on their backs on blankets on the floor. This position rests and straightens the figure. It is wonderful, and strengthens the neck; in fact, adjusts the whole figure.—From the Delinicator.

Offended Dignity.
My mother, who owned a candy store, was fond of a little chap named John, and usually fussed a great deal about him whenever he came in. One day, however, when he came to buy candy she was preoccupied and, not noticing who it was, said: "Well, little boy, what do you want?" at which he looked up disconsolately and said: "Why, I ain't a little boy; I'm John."

Some Symphony Concert.
A Bangor (Me.) woman, who had occasion to visit an office in the building in which a poultry show was being held one afternoon, heard the noise and innocently remarked: "Why, I didn't know there was a symphony concert this afternoon." She thought the musicians were tuning up in the corridor back of the stage.

A Smart Woman.
A woman newly elected to a county office in a Western state has distinguished herself by passing around a box of cigars that could be smoked. She has learned the first principle in the code of the successful candidate that only genuine, smokable cigars can be depended upon for strengthening political popularity.

Botanical Phenomenon.
A remarkable botanical phenomenon is the fact that while the state of Wisconsin has been plentifully supplied with hemlock, Minnesota, for many miles separated from its neighbor by nothing but the St. Croix river, has almost none of that timber, except one tiny spot of 240 acres.

Daily Thought.
You know well enough what I mean by youth and age; something in the soul, which has no more to do with the color of the hair than the vein of gold in a rock has to do with the grass a thousand feet above it.—Holmes.

Quaint Custom.
In accordance with a belief in the West of England, the boots last worn before the man of the house enlisted are hung over his bed, in order to insure that he will return in safety to wear them again.

Write Orders to Your Children.
Telling my children what I want them to do I write it down, numbering each item. I do not hear any complaint, and the work is well done.—Mother's Magazine.

Elements of Success.
The man who has failed two or three times has built the foundation for success. He needs to put a little grit into the mortar, that's all.

Uncle Eben.
"Callin' names," said Uncle Eben, "ain't nigh as sporty an' excitin' a pastime as it was when folks was supposed to fight or keep still."

Worth While Quotations.
"To educate the intelligence is to enlarge the horizon of its desires and wants."—Lowell.

Almost Deserted.
Enkhuisen, once one of Holland's most important cities, is now almost deserted.

Optimistic Thought.
Instinct and reason are the difference between man and the brute.

What Would We Do Without Sugar?

We are so used to sugar that we are likely to forget to give it its proper important place. Right now if somebody asked you what sugar was good for you'd probably say—"Oh! to put in coffee and tea and for making candies and desserts." That's it—we all think of sugar as a sweetener and overlook its value as a food.

HOW SUGAR CANE GROWS

THE SUGAR CANE

are interesting because we find that instead of the luxury sugar having gone up it is the FOOD sugar that has raised its price. Yet—even though the price is up we have to have our sweet food just the same.

THE SUGAR CANE

From the Submission Committee. To the Democracy of Texas: The Democratic Executive Committee of Texas has decided to submit to you, in the July primaries of this year, the question as to whether the legislature shall be instructed to submit to the voters of Texas a constitutional amendment prohibiting the manufacture and sale of alcoholic beverages.

We have been appointed, as a committee of those who favor submission, to call your attention thereto and to urge upon you the propriety and the necessity of voting to instruct the Legislature to submit the question, as stated. It is only necessary to mention a few of the reasons:

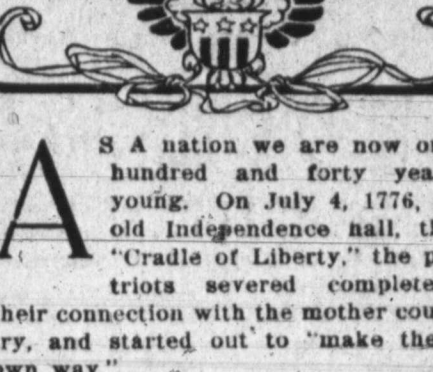

The last expression of the people of Texas on the question of prohibition was in 1911. The difference between the contending factions on the subject was less than 7,000 votes. Many charges and counter charges of illegal voting in that election were made. Six years will have elapsed between that election and the one that we are seeking to have held.

Since the last prohibition election many thousands of voters have come to live in Texas. It is believed that since 1911 many persons who were then here have changed their views. Inasmuch as the issue enters into every political question discussed and is more or less considered in the election of every officer, legislative, executive and judicial, it is believed wise to now definitely settle the question so as to preclude its further discussion and agitation, and thereby enable us to give our attention to the great economic problems which confront our State.

To this end we urge the Democrats of Texas, of every shade of belief, the importance of organizing in their various counties and precincts, with a

Nation Is Now 140 Years Old

A S A nation we are now one hundred and forty years young. On July 4, 1776, in old Independence hall, the "Cradle of Liberty," the patriots severed completely their connection with the mother country, and started out to "make their own way."

"Probably no public paper," says Tyler, "ever more perfectly satisfied the immediate purpose for which it was set forth than this Declaration. From one end of the country to the other, as fast as it could be spread among the people, it was greeted in public and private with every demonstration of approval and delight."

In his preamble to his immortal Declaration, Jefferson puts forth a new political gospel; and he lifts the strife of a small band of patriots up to the height and grandeur of a universal warfare, in which all ages and peoples are participants. "We hold this truth to be self-evident—that all men are created equal."

tidings to the waiting thousands. The crowded street caught up the sound. Every steeple re-echoed it, and with cannon peals, bonfires and illumination the patriots that night declared their joy.

Made His Name Immortal. If Thomas Jefferson, the founder of the Democratic party and the interpreter of its principles to the American people, had left no state paper or writing save the Declaration of Independence his name would have been immortal. It fired the hearts of men with the highest patriotism and braced soldier and statesman for that long struggle which gave America its freedom from George III's tyranny.

Federal Inquiry or Railroad Strike?

Faced by demands from the conductors, engineers, firemen and brakemen that would impose on the country an additional burden in transportation costs of $100,000,000 a year, the railroads propose that this wage problem be settled by reference to an impartial Federal tribunal.

With these employes, whose efficient service is acknowledged, the railroads have no differences that could not be considered fairly and decided justly by such a public body.

Railroads Urge Public Inquiry and Arbitration

The formal proposal of the railroads to the employes for the settlement of the controversy is as follows: "Our conferences have demonstrated that we cannot harmonize our differences of opinion and that eventually the matters in controversy must be passed upon by other and disinterested agencies. Therefore, we propose that your proposals and the proposition of the railroads be disposed of by one or the other of the following methods:

Leaders Refuse Offer and Take Strike Vote

Leaders of the train service brotherhoods, at the joint conference held in New York, June 1-15, refused the offer of the railroads to submit the issue to arbitration or Federal review, and the employes are now voting on the question whether authority shall be given these leaders to declare a nation-wide strike.

The Interstate Commerce Commission is proposed by the railroads as the public body to which this issue ought to be referred for these reasons:

No other body with such an intimate knowledge of railroad conditions has such an unquestioned position in the public confidence. The rates the railroads may charge the public for transportation are now largely fixed by this Government board.

A Question For the Public to Decide

The railroads feel that they have no right to grant a wage preferment of $100,000,000 a year to these employes, now highly paid and constituting only one-fifth of all the employes, without a clear mandate from a public tribunal that shall determine the merits of the case after a review of all the facts.

YOU GET STRONG. If you're a tired-out or "run-down" woman, with Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription. And, if you suffer from any "female complaint" or disorder, you get well. For these two things—to build up women's strength, and to cure women's ailments—this is the best medicine to benefit or cure. The "Prescription" regulates and promotes all the natural functions, never conflicts with them, and is perfectly harmless in any condition of the female system. It brings refreshing sleep, and restores health and vigor. Mrs. KATE WADE, Route 2, Box 2, Waxahachie, Texas, says: "I was in very bad health, could not get any relief. Through the advice of a friend I tried Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription and began to mend. Can say I am now sound and well, and will always praise your medicine. I advise young mothers and women who are in bad health to use 'Favorite Prescription.' Dr. Pierce's Pellets cure biliousness."
