Jack Stansell, 14, Painfully Injured When Struck By Truck Here Monday

Jack Stansell, 14, son of Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Stansell, was rendered unconscious when struck by a truck Monday morning at ten thirty o'clock. The accident occurred on South Wall street as Jack and a friend were walking home from the Harley Sadler tent show lot.

The truck was driven by O. W. Graham, 15 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Emit Graham, who was intending to frighten his friends by driving the truck towards them, in the manner of a joke. Jack with a friend, Hershel McNutt, were walking south and the truck was traveling the same direction on the opposite side of the street. The front of the truck struck Jack in the back and he fell on the running board, from where he fell to the pavement.

Jack was rendered unconscious by the blow as his head struck the pavement. Young Graham after he stopped the truck returned and assisted in carrying the injured lad to the home of Rev. and Mrs. S. R. McClung, from where a physician was summoned. Although physicians did not deem his condition serious he remained in a semi-conscious state, until late Tuesday, being rational only for a short while at intervals.

The injured youth was removed to his home late Monday afternoon. In addition to the bruise to the left side of his head, Jack sustained several minor scratches and bruises. He is thought to be recovering from the accident.

Joe E. Brown Comedy "Elmer The Great," Coming to Palace

Followers of Joe E. Brown will see the versatile comedian in what is probably the greatest role of his long laugh-making career when his latest First National picture, "Elmer The Great," opens at the Palace Theatre next Saturday, matinee, Sunday and Monday.

There is every reason why this hilarious comedy-drama of big league baseball should fit Joe E. Brown more perfectly than any role he has yet played. Joe's middle name should have been baseball, for if making millions laugh is his business, baseball is his hobby. In fact, it's been more than a hobby with Joe, for he was once a big league player himself. For several years he has maintained his own semiprofessional team in Southern California, and recently he topped all his previous baseball activities by buying an interest in the Kansas City baseball club.

MAKING BANKS SAFER

As we understand the provisions of the new Bank Act, the purpose is to make banks safer and to put the whole banking business of the nation on a saner basis than it has been.

We do not suppose that any government or act of Congress can guarantee that no bank president or board of directors will ever make a mistake, but we understand that the new laws will not permit them such a wide range of individual judgment within which to go wrong, and that all banks which comply with the reasonable requirements of the law will at least be able to guarantee their depositors against the loss of their funds, with certain limits.

We hope the new law works as it is expected to. The banking situation in America has been nothing less than scandalous for years. As one wise man pointed out in an address to a state bankers' association the other day, banking has been looked on in America as a way to get rich, whereas in other countries the banker who gets rich is an object of suspicion.

Banking is a necessary social function, and must be conducted for the benefit, first, of society and the particular community and only secondarily for profits. In the competition for deposits and the greed for gain many banks, perhaps most, have offered higher interest than safety of their depositors' funds warranted, and in order to earn that interest have invested in speculative securities promising five percent or more instead of sticking to safe 3 1/2 or 4 percent bonds.

All people who handle other people's money are under peculiar temptation. Treasury officials testifying in the Harrison case in New York admitted that stealing of bank funds is such a common occurrence as to excite no surprise in Washington. Most of it is done by minor employees, but sometimes a bank president succumbs to the temptation.

To make any banking reform work it must be operated by picked men of such character that it will become once more, as it used to be, a guarantee of the highest integrity to have a job in a bank.

Miss Edith Sanders and Mrs. H. C. Osbourne, of Lubbock, visited in Floydada during the week end with Mr. and Mrs. Y. Onstott and family. They brought Kendall Onstott, who had been visiting in Ruidoso since July 4, to Floydada.

LETTERS FROM READERS

The following article was handed the Plainsman for publication and is being carried in full over the signature of the authors without reservation, giving the authors full credit for every statement made:

LIQUORITE LOGIC

According to newspaper reports a group of local men meeting in Houston recently passed a resolution calling for the legalization of beer and the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment. Then they passed another resolution in which they expressed resentment of "the attempt of the brewery interests to build up a machine to dominate this campaign and later to take control of the state government."

How illogical the logic of these resolutions. If what is asked for in the first is granted, what is condemned in the second will follow as night follows day. Are there some too young or too forgetful to remember the brewery machine, which sought to dominate politics, and control the law making and law enforcement departments of our state government, then he ought to read the court records of the famous brewery cases tried at Sulphur Springs before the passage of the Dean law and the adoption of the Eighteenth amendment.

They tell us they do not want the return of the open saloon. But this is illogical. There must be saloon or some other place where intoxicants can be sold. It will either be consumed on the premises where it is sold or it will be consumed in the homes, in cars parked by the roadside, in road houses, or elsewhere.

Who can believe that drinking conditions in substitutions for saloons will be an improvement over the regulated saloon of old which barred women and minors and had to close at certain times and hours? This is poor logic indeed. If we must have beer and booze restored give us the old time regulated saloon, even though the law was often violated, rather than the road house or joints where girls can dispense intoxicants, to both men and women.

Another example of poor logic of those who want beer and booze restored is that a more plentiful supply will promote temperance. Just as well advance the idea that the way to stop a typhoid epidemic is to propagate a new and more bountiful supply of typhoid germs and place them in the milk supply of the people.

Another sample of their logic is that the return of the sale of intoxicants will put an end to racketeering. Who believes that when a bootlegger can procure a beer license that will provide him a place of sale for illegal booze that he will be willing to change his life and quit selling bootleg liquor when he can so easily avoid paying the tax imposed by the government.

Kentucky finds that legalized beer has not eliminated home brew dealers and illicit dealers of liquor in Louisville, in which city there are said to be over two hundred bootlegging joints.

Increased motor fatalities were reported in Pittsburg, Portland, San Francisco, Peoria, Syracuse, Buffalo, Akron, and Los Angeles for the month of April, which is significant with the legal sale of beer in those cities.

We think the North Carolina judge was about right in his charge to the Federal Grand Jury, recently declared that, "a thousand mad-dogs and ten thousand rattlesnakes" would do less damage to the state than legalized liquor. Analyzing the benefits of prohibition during the past thirteen years, he said there are several classes who want the return of liquor—the confirmed drunkards, the congenial drunkards, those who profit by selling liquor and lastly, the rich who "see a chance to make the poor men pay the taxes that are taken from bloated incomes". Witness the fact that the Du Pont family admitted furnishing more than one hundred forty thousand dollars last year seeking to get the amendment repealed, seeking to reduce their income taxes.

If you are a Texan we don't think you wish to be advised from Washington how to vote on this issue. Assert your own God-given independence and don't fail to vote.

Richard Stovall went to Calvert, Texas, this past week end for Mrs. Stovall who had been visiting since the close of school with her parents.

Mrs. Mutt Hodges, of Levelland, is visiting here this week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Mask.

Mrs. C. L. Cooper and daughter Margaret, of Tulsa, visited in Floydada Sunday with Mrs. A. J. Welch.

Floyd County Dry Forces Make Plans For Battle Against Repeal

Floyd County prohibition forces, in a two-day rally staged in Floydada Saturday and Sunday, formulated plans and discussed procedure for their battle against 3.2 percent beer and repeal of the eighteenth amendment.

Rev. G. W. Tubbs, chairman of the Floyd County dry forces, was in charge of the meeting. The Saturday session was held at the First Baptist church and the Sunday session at the Methodist church.

Dr. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League of Texas, was in attendance and spoke at the morning sessions Saturday and Sunday. Other speakers were from Floyd County people and discussions and questions were heard.

Attendance at the meeting although it did not reach expectations was considered good.

Mrs. W. K. Hale, and daughter, Miss Willie Hale, of Fairfax, Oklahoma, who have been visiting in Floydada with Mrs. Hale's brothers, R. E. and Luther Fry and other relatives, are in Ruidoso, New Mexico, on a vacation this week.

"It saved his life," the doctor said...

A Texas farmer was chopping wood one morning. The ax glanced off a hickory log and deeply gashed his foot.

His wife telephoned the doctor—"Come as fast as you can!"

"Tie a cord tightly around his leg below the knee. I'll be there at once," a voice flashed back along the wires.

Later, the doctor said: "Those brief directions by telephone saved that man's life. Even then, he was very weak when I arrived."

Your telephone is ready day or night for emergencies, just as it is for business, or for friendly visits in the afternoon. It may be worth a nickel today, a quarter tomorrow, a thousand dollars next week.

You can buy few things which cost so little and are worth so much.

U. S. HOME LOAN ACT EXPLAINED BY AUTHORITY

An analysis of the Home Loan Bank law, how it will operate and how home owners may use it to refinance their home loans, has been prepared for The Sunday News-Globe by a building and loan expert who has studied the law. His digest of the law and its application follows:

The Home Owners Loan Corporation is for the relief of distressed homes. It is doubtful that its benefits will be extended, at least at first, to those financially able to meet present loan payments, nor to those whose loans were not in a state of serious delinquency on the effective date of the act, June 13.

Loans will be made only on homes occupied by the owner, or not more than $20,000 in value, though the owner may be temporarily residing elsewhere if the property submitted is the homestead of the borrower.

The house must not be arranged for the occupancy of more than four families. The act is intended for the use of dwellers in cities and towns as the provisions of the Federal Farm Loan bill are considered as meeting the requirements of farm dwellers.

Has Huge Capital

This act is for the refunding of mortgages and not for their liquidation into cash, though such provision is made in certain instances. The paid-in cash capital of the HOLC, as it will no doubt be known is $200,000,000 subscribed by the United States Treasury. The corporation will have authority to issue $200,000,000 of bonds, running 18 years, bearing 4 per cent interest, which interest is guaranteed by the United States government. The principal of the bonds is in no way guaranteed by the government. These bonds will be of the so called "tax exempt" variety. They will be unusual in that most bonds are sold for cash while these will be traded to holders of mortgages on homes for their mortgages.

The most important single detail of the entire program provides for the use of these bonds as partial or full payment by the borrowers on their loans due the corporation. This arrangement almost guarantees a continual high cash market for the bonds depending on what individual borrowers consider a bargain price. If they get as low as $80, it would appear that borrowers would snap them up to turn in on their loans at $100 making a quick, sure profit of $20. Other borrowers might consider $85 a sufficient margin of profit, or $90 might satisfy still others. So, it is evident that these bonds will always command a high cash market value, instantly available to their holders. In obtaining these refunded loans, it is important to observe an admission as well which permits persons whose homes have been foreclosed on in the past two years, by arrangement with the mortgage holder, to receive a deed back to their property and come within the benefits of the act.

Appraisal Important

The matter of appraisal is beyond question the most important problem that must be solved at the start by the corporation. It appears that all previously established standards of value throughout the country have been swept away. The act directs the Home Loan Bank board, who will administer it, to make rules for the appraisal of property so as to accomplish the purpose of the act and certainly such "purpose" is relief to home owners. It is therefore expected that some middle ground of happy medium will be established between present low cash values and ordinary replacement costs.

Loans will be made up to 80 per cent of this appraised value, payable in bonds to the present mortgage holders, not exceeding $14,000 in any one loan. Taxes and necessary repairs, within the 80 per cent loan, will be advanced in cash. If this 80 per cent as stated is not sufficient to pay off completely the mortgage, such present holder of the indebtedness loses the difference and the home owner gains it by simply not having to pay it. It is not obligatory, however, on the mortgage holder to take these bonds for his notes even though he gets full face value. In such event provision is made in the act to pay the mortgage holder off in cash, providing the total of such mortgage and taxes does not exceed 40 per cent of the value of the property. It will be remembered that 80 per cent loans will be made if taken in bonds. If such 40 per cent is less than the amount of the mortgage, the holder of it may take the cash offered and lose the difference, which is gained by the borrower, or he may refuse the offer. In this event neither the mortgage holder nor his debtor can be benefited by the act.

The rate of interest in the case of loans paid in bonds is 5 per cent, while loans up to a total of 40 per cent of appraised value paid in cash draw 6 per cent interest. Either of such loans or any made by the corporation may extend for a total period of 18 years and may be repaid in monthly, quarterly, semi-annual or annual installments.

Cash for Repairs

Borrowers who are unable to pay more, are permitted to pay only the interest for the first three years. Borrowers who present satisfactory evidence to the corporation of their complete inability to pay anything will have a moratorium extended to them on both principal and interest payments for three years.

If a home is clear yet needs repairs and has taxes past due and unpaid, provision is made for such advances in cash, not to exceed 50 per cent of the appraised value of the property. The interest rate is 5 per cent and the total period is 18 years.

It is well to remember that no holder of a mortgage can be compelled to trade his mortgage for bonds and each individual case must be agreed upon between the three parties at interest, the home owner, the mortgage holder and the corporation. It is confidently expected though, that within the next few weeks the new corporation will be functioning, with the result that hundreds of thousands of home owners will be relieved and the holders of their mortgages will receive cash from the bonds taken in exchange, the political sub-divisions of government will get a great deal of needed tax money, workmen will benefit from wages expended in repairs to homes, material men will make sales for cash and, all in all, one of the most important portions of the New Deal will have become an established fact for the use and benefits of the citizens of these United States.—The Amarillo News-Globe.

TO THE PUBLIC!!
This week the bakers of the South Plains increased the wholesale price of bread two cents per loaf.
This has become necessary on account of the increased prices of the materials and labor.
Below are the increased costs as compared with prices for the past year:
Labor increase, 15 per cent. Flour increase $3.00 to $7.00 or 133 per cent. Wax paper increase 3 cents per pound or 25 per cent. Insurance increase 15 per cent. Sugar increase 1 cent per pound or 20 per cent. Compound increase 3 cents per pound or 60 per cent.
In fact all the expense incident to the manufacture and distribution of bread has increased to such an extent that it was necessary to increase the price of bread in order to continue to make a good quality bread. We trust that this will meet with the approval of the public and that we may continue to have your patronage.

The bride has spent practically all her life in Floyd County, attending the school at Harmony. She is a former student of Floydada High School, attending here this past year. With the exception of five years at Amarillo Mr. Ramsey has lived in this county all his life. He attended school at Harmony and is a former student of Floydada High School, finishing with the class of 1931.

Mr. and Mrs. Tipton honored the newly weds with a dinner at their home Sunday. A few intimate friends and relatives were present.

TELLS HOW SHE LOST 15 POUNDS OF FAT
Rheumatism Gone Too

Here is a woman who was rapidly putting on weight and who was troubled with rheumatism too. Read her letter.

"I started taking Kruschen Salts because of the good it had done for a friend of mine who had been crippled with rheumatism. At the end of the second bottle I was weighed and find I am now only 148 pounds (original weight 163 lbs.), at which I am so pleased. But I have also felt my rheumatism much less, which has been so troublesome in my knees. I must say I think Kruschen a splendid weight reducer." (Miss) E. L. P.

Overweight and rheumatic poisoning often go together. The six salts in Kruschen assist the internal organs to perform their functions properly — little by little that ugly fat goes; slowly, yes—but surely. You feel wonderfully healthy, youthful and energetic—more so than ever before in your life!

Kruschen Salts is obtainable at all drug stores—a jar lasts four weeks and costs not more than 85c.—Advertisement.

RAINFALL VARIED FROM SPRINKLES TO WATERSPOUTS IN CO.

Probably Floyd County's most unusual rainfall fell Thursday afternoon late of the week past. The moisture precipitation varied from no rain and sprinkles to waterspouts estimated at seven to ten inches. The rain fell in less than two hours at every place.

Apparently the southeast section from nine miles from Floydada east to the Motley county line received no rain. The west and northwest portions of the county received very little rain. Heavier rain was had in the extreme north edge of the county, northeast and east portions of the county.

The heaviest rainfall in the county was reported from the vicinity of the S. L. Rushing farm in the Fairview community where the rain fall was estimated at from seven to ten inches. The strip of territory receiving rain of cloud burst density was estimated at from one and one-half miles wide to two miles wide and of uncertain length.

Forming in the northeast section of the county the heavy rain cloud covered a scope of territory traveling south and slightly west then veering to go directly west along the Blanco canyons to include the Blanco, Storkey and McCoy communities to Allmon.

Wind Damage Reported

Some wind damage was reported from a small twister which struck during the rain storm. The territory in the wind damage zone was small. Trees were uprooted and sheds demolished at the W. C. Sims home about three miles directly east of Floydada on the Matador highway.

At the John Hopper place some damage was reported though not extensive, others sustained slight damage to out-houses and trees by the strong wind.

No hail was reported from any section of the county. The rain will greatly benefit growing cotton and row crops in sections where the fall was not too heavy. In such sections considerable damage was done to the growing crops. Moderate rains from one fourth to two inches were received in several communities.

Many of Lakes Are Full

In the sections where the semi-cloud burst precipitation was had the lakes are full and overflowing, bardsches were filled over the roads in many places after the rain. Travelers from Matador soon after the rain reported driving for five miles from nine miles east to within four miles east of Floydada without ever seeing the road. The water was four inches and more over the running boards of the cars and trucks.

G. W. deCordova, who lives fifteen miles west of Floydada in the Allmon community, had about seven inches or more of rain and said that all the lakes were full of water.

Nine and a half miles east of Floydada at the C. Alexander home the rainfall was not heavy enough to lay the dust, but precipitation was more between there and Floydada.

Two inches of rainfall generally in the Harmony community was reported from the Mather Carr home there. Mrs. Carr said that the rain was some heavier toward Roseland.

At the A. S. Cummings farm nine miles northwest of Floydada the rain was said to have been around one-fourth of an inch but considerably heavier south of there.

Mrs. W. B. Jordan who lives seven miles northeast of Floydada in the Center community said that they had received about one and one-fourth inches of rain in two days, Wednesday and Thursday.

Raymond King said that two and one-half inches of moisture was had at the E. C. King farm, five miles south of Floydada.

Although the rain was not heavy enough to stop farming activities in the immediate vicinity, Mrs. A. H. Kreis reported rain of around five inches west of their farm, nine miles east of Floydada.

No rain was received between Floydada and Lockney but a good rain was had in the south part of the county. Lakeview community was covered by a good rainfall.

Buck Jackson who lives two miles east of Floydada said that they had about two inches at their farm. Floydada received approximately three-fourths of an inch of rain.

PROHIBITION FORCES OF ALLMON TO HEAR REV. S. R. McCLUNG FRIDAY NIGHT

A rally of prohibition forces of the Allmon community and neighboring communities will be held at Allmon Friday night.

Rev. S. R. McClung, pastor of the First Baptist Church in Floydada, and active in the fight against repeal of the eighteenth amendment will speak.

Texas State Department Of Health, Discusses Importance of Treatment

Austin, Texas, July 12.—Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, in speaking of cancer, said that it ranked fourth as a cause of death in Texas, being exceeded only by heart disease, tuberculosis, and pneumonia, in order named. One of the reasons so many people die of cancer is because the disease usually exists some time before it is recognized and treated. It has then progressed from a local and small cancer to a large and dangerous one.

In the beginning cancer is not painful, if it were many would go to their doctor immediately and receive treatment. Any lump, especially in the breast, which comes and remains without any satisfactory explanation, should be looked upon with suspicion. Other suspicious symptoms are any sore that does not heal about the tongue, mouth or lips; sores caused by broken teeth or ill fitting dental plates should receive attention; irregular bleeding or discharge from any of the orifices of body is a danger signal; persistent indigestion with loss of weight is a symptom of cancer of the stomach, which is so frequent as to make its early detection possible. With any of these signs one should go immediately to a doctor. In many cases the suspicion of cancer will have been unfounded but it is better to be safe.

It is desirable to treat all diseases in their early stages, but in no affection is it more important than in cancer. The danger is like that of a fire, at first there is but a spark which can be easily extinguished but if let go unchecked it soon becomes unmanageable. Many cases of cancer can be cured and many more prevented if the public will give their cooperation to the medical profession. Periodic physical examinations made with cancer in mind affords the best protection against this disease.

Surgery, X-ray and radium are the main weapons which are used to combat cancer. They are employed as preventives when they remove precancerous conditions and as a cure when they remove the cancer itself.
