MAGNOLIA SUMMER-IZE SERVICE PROTECTS SUMMER MOTORISTS

Dallas, April 9.—With the near approach of hot weather, increasing numbers of motor vehicle owners are finding it profitable to safeguard their cars and assure care free operation with Magnolia "Summer-ize" service. J. M. Marnan, chief engineer for Magnolia's technical department, reports, "Summer-ize" is a coined word describing the 7-Point protective service provided only by stations and dealers of the Magnolia Petroleum Company.

"Both owners of new cars who want to insure them against early wear, and those less fortunate motorists who must keep their old cars running at least another year, are finding "Summer-ize" service their best protection," Mr. Marnan said. "The many car owners who have learned the value of "Magnolia's 7-Point protection and are among the first driving in for the improved service this spring."

"Just as merchants change their stocks in spring and housewives clean house and rearrange their furniture, automobile owners are rapidly coming to understand the need of preparing their cars for hot weather driving. Certain simple precautions are necessary to put any automobile or truck in condition for safe and economical summer driving. Lubricants which were suitable for winter operation cannot be expected to provide adequate protection under hot weather driving conditions."

"Thinner, quick-flowing winter lubricants should be changed to heavier grades of Lubrite or Mobiloil lubricants capable of resisting the high temperatures generated under summer heat in the crankcase, differential, transmission and other vital parts of a motor vehicle. "Summer-ize" provides a complete service made up of seven distinct operations, worked out by Magnolia automotive engineers as those most necessary to protect a motor vehicle against the high temperatures of summer driving."

Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation Bonds Being Accepted Readily

Joe Breed, secretary-treasurer of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association of Floydada, Texas, recently received word from the Governor of the Farm Credit Administration, Wm. I. Myers, telling him of the ready reception which farmers and their creditors are giving to the bonds of the Federal Farm Mortgage Corporation which are now being tendered by the Federal Land Bank of Houston in place of cash in settlement of farmers' debts.

"These bonds have been selling in the larger markets at a little above par, indicating a ready market for them. Just a week after the banks began using bonds instead of cash, the first bonds to be sold on the New York market were purchased at 100-3/4. We anticipated these bonds which bear 3 1/4 percent interest per annum would sell at par or above at the time we set the interest rate, for government bonds maturing in 1941, bearing the same rate were selling above par."

Mr. Myers pointed out that these bonds were not only exempt from local, State and Federal taxation with the exception of surtaxes, inheritance and gift taxes, but that they are as readily salable as government securities. He said they are being quoted in the metropolitan papers but if such quotations are not available readily to farmers that they will be given the quotations if they will write to the Federal land bank of their district.

Your battery and radiator ought to be checked.

That is why we have created Magnolia "SUMMER-IZE" Service. In one complete check-up, your car is prepared for the hottest weather and you are ready to go where and when you please without worry or fear.

Check the seven points at the left. Notice how thoroughly we go over your car. Remember that "SUMMER-IZE" Service is distinctly a Magnolia Service. Drive in today!

JOHN DOE PLANS OUT A NEW FARM SYSTEM TO FOLLOW

Ever since last January when John Doe, West Texas cotton farmer, signed a contract with the government to reduce his cotton acreage he has been figuring on how to best shift his farm system to meet the new conditions.

John has a 120-acre farm on which he has been growing 60 acres of cotton the past few years. In addition he has had 35 acres of grain sorghums, 10 acres of sorghum hay, 10 acres of native pasture, and 5 acres in the farmstead for house, barn, lots and garden.

He has contracted with the Secretary of Agriculture to take 24 acres out of cotton production, leaving him 36 acres for this crop this year. How shall he use the remaining 84 acres?

With the help of the county agent he has worked out a farming plan which he thinks will help him a lot this year. The new plan will give him a better living at home than he has had before, and let him terrace his entire farm without interference with the crops.

He has found that the 45 acres in feed crops is enough for a home living if he works it right. He does not need any of the 24 acres rented to the government to make this living at home. He cannot, therefore, plant feed on that land if he complies with his contract. He doesn't want to plant crops that he can't harvest. He knows he ought to sow some clover or other cover crop and plow it under, but hesitates to go to that expense.

His farm needs terracing and the county agent has shown him a neat way of doing it at his leisure this year through a proper use of contracted acres. The plan is to lay out the entire terrace system and to plant all the land except strips 30 feet wide or more along the terraces. This is a form a strip cropping. The contracted acres will be along the terrace tops and will be left bare, but the crops on either side will prevent blowing. The lines have been run this spring but the terraces may be built anytime during the season.

The way John gets his 24 contracted acres of terrace tops is this: 24 acres times 42,500 square feet per acre gives 1,045,440 square feet to take out of production. Dividing by 30 feet, the average width of bare strip along each terrace top, gives a total of 34,850 feet or 11,616 linear yards of terraces that will be required to occupy a total of 24 acres. John simply measures the total length of his terrace lines. If he has more than 11,616 yards he can plant on part of them; if he has less than 11,616 yards he will probably widen the bare strips enough to get his 24 acres.

His cropping system this year will be 36 acres of cotton; 23 acres of grain sorghums; 10 acres of sorghum hay; 10 acres of temporary pasture (sudan grass this summer, small grains next fall and winter); 2 acres of potatoes, beans, melons and cane for syrup; 10 acres in pasture; a large garden and a home fruit plot in the 5-acre farmstead; and 24 acres along bare terrace tops. Early next fall he will probably seed small grains on the bare strips to prevent winter blowing.

This live-at-home system John got from studying Extension Service plans, and is convinced that with the help of his wife in following it the five members of the Doe family can just about produce their own home needs for food. It would cost them about $600 to buy in the stores.

John is figuring on putting in a few hundred feet of home-made concrete tile to sub-irrigate part of the garden and to start an orchard in the fall.

This is only one way of shifting 1934 cotton farming to meet the new conditions. County agents are ready to help farmers develop farm demonstrations in readjustment, and home demonstration agents can help in planning and using the home food supply.

is made

The men and women who furnish your telephone service here could not do their job so well without the help of Western Electric Company, supply unit of the telephone service.

SKILLED WORKMEN at the lathes and furnaces of Western Electric Company turn raw materials from the far corners of the world into the 100,000 delicate parts and appliances needed for the telephone service.

These parts are sold to the 24 operating companies of the Bell System—of which the Southwestern Company is one—at a cost that, as a proven fact, is below what they would have to pay in the competitive market.

Western Electric, the purchasing and manufacturing agent of the Bell System, is one of a specialized group of organizations that plays an important part in giving you good telephone service at a fair cost.

This policy has been chosen deliberately as the course that will in the long run prove soundest for the telephone company. We believe that in an organization planned like the telephone service for the long pull, what is best for the telephone user becomes in the end the policy that will bring us the surer, more certain success. Thousands have Ended their Bowel Worries
by taking this advice!

Can constipation be safely relieved? "Yes!" say medical men. "Yes!" say the many thousands who have followed their advice and know.

You are not likely to cure your constipation with salts, pills, tablets, or any of the habit-forming cathartics. But you can correct this condition by gentle regulation with a suitable liquid laxative.

THE LIQUID TEST:

First: select a properly prepared liquid laxative. Second: take the dose you find suited to your system. Third: gradually reduce the dose until bowels are moving of their own accord.

Simple, isn't it? And it works! The right liquid laxative brings thorough bowel action without using force. An approved liquid laxative (one which is most widely

Be Cautious of Snakes When In Country Is Urged By State Health Officer

Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, urges every one to be careful when in the country to prevent snake bite. In Texas the chief offender is the rattlesnake; and, contrary to common belief, it does not always rattle before it strikes.

About seventy-five per cent of all bites occur on the lower extremities and could be prevented, to a large extent, by wearing high top boots or leggings. About twenty per cent occur on the hands and arms. Care should be exercised in not putting the hands in invisible places when climbing rocks, and to look before picking up anything that may be obscured by vegetation, brush or rocks.

If one is bitten, prompt action is necessary and a physician should be obtained as soon as possible. No time should be lost in removing the poison by suction; this can be done by mouth or a suction cup. First a tourniquet should be applied above the wound, so as to increase congestion and assist in washing out the poison. A cross cut incision with a sharp, clean knife or razor blade should be made over each fang, or preferably to connect the two fang punctures. These cuts should be at least a quarter of an inch deep and at least that long. Suction should be applied for at least a half hour. The tourniquet should be released every ten or fifteen minutes for a minute at a time.

If bitten by a snake—do not run or overheat; do not take alcoholic stimulants; do not use potash permanganate (which is now known to be of no value as an antidote) to cauterize the wound; and do not depend on home remedies.

Regulations Concerning New Wheat Contracts Received By Agent

The following regulations have been received from the Agricultural Adjustment Administration concerning the new wheat contracts:

"1. Any producer who filed an application for wheat allotment contract with a complete statement of his acreage and production but who did not sign the contract may now enter into a contract based upon the figures in the application already on file. He will receive all payments.

"2. Any producer who has not previously filed an application may do so at this time. Such producers will not receive the first payment for 1933 (20 cents per bushel) but will receive all subsequent payments.

"3. Producers who have planted wheat only in 1932 and 1933. Any producer who has planted wheat for harvest in the year 1932 and who planted within 25 percent of the same acreage to wheat for harvest in 1933 may make application to enter into a wheat allotment contract. His base acreage will be his 1932 acreage and his base production will be calculated by dividing his 1932 production by 5. He will receive all payments but they will be only about 1.5 of the amount that he would have received if he had had wheat in all the base years."

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Caudle, of Amarillo, visited in Floydada Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Bishop and family. They were accompanied by Mrs. T. A. Caudle who returned home after a visit of a month in Amarillo.

THE GOAT COLUMN

Man, does it pay! I should say that it does. Our goat column of the past week brought in two nice messes of country ham and another supply of nice veal steak. The parties favoring us with these very highly palatable vitals ask us not to mention their names. And we agreed that we would not, but told them it would not make any difference what we might say since "nobody read the Plainsman any way." We are very, very thankful to you folks and hope that the goat column may continue to survive this spree which some people are pleased to call depression.

Mrs. John L. West complimented the artist of the goat column very highly this week in making a special trip to the office to learn how to transplant her bagonia. And by the way she ask our wife about the transplanting in question in our presence and was informed that she was not authority on growing bagonias that that title belonged to the goat column artist. Then Mrs. West wanted to know of her if I knew how to transplant the flower in question, or if I were as dum as I looked. Of course not many of the ladies pass such compliments to us. However, as long as we can be of assistance even in the flower garden or hot house we will try to resume our dumness to the fullest extent. We are authority on the growing of bagonias, and boast of owning the largest one ever exhibited in the panhandle of Texas.

Speaking of dum men and men that are as dum as they look. We sometime believe that women like them dum. At least dum enough to still attempt to make an honest living for themselves and their families. We so thoroughly believe this that we are still striving to make the grade, and with a small degree of success.

Over in Donley we have a young nephew who is in the farming, cattle and hog business with his father and mother. The other day his fine Jersey cow brought a new calf and with much enthusiasm he rushed to the house to tell his mother about the new arrival to his herd, and he said: "Mother it is a bull!" The dumfounded mother quired with much awe and astonishment why all the joy over a bull calf from your fine Jersey cow. He simply answered, "I won't have it to milk."

And that explains what many of the youngsters are thinking when they are growing herds on the farm. Which goes to suggest that more of the fathers and mothers should let the boy be interested further than the milk pail if they expect to keep them on the farm.

Hester West Writes Interestingly About Hospital Work In China

Following is a few excerpts from a letter written by Miss Hester West, missionary in China, to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John L. West in Floydada:

Changechow, China, Feb. 5, 1934. "We are now in the new hospital and it is all under one room. You remember we were never under one roof but in many different buildings in the old yard. I don't mean everything is complete and all is finished by any means but we can better care for our patients and carry on the other work too. Some of the old buildings are being torn away. We will e laera part of the comp-und for a tennis court, then comes the work of our lawn and flowers.

"We had a patient admitted about two weeks ago. On his admission slip it said simply, 'Burn of Back.' I am noted for being inquisitive. I asked, 'How was he burned?' 'Robbers built a straw fire and held him over it until he told them where his savings were hidden,' was the reply I got. He is burned from his shoulder blades down past the small of his back. The burn is a deep one and he is often in great pain. The other morning when he was being dressed he plead for some sort of poison so he could be out of his misery.

"In this same ward and about the same time we had another man admitted for his finger to be amputated. He was cutting grass for his cows and cut his finger. It was the index finger on his left hand. It was hanging only by a very thin strip of skin. He quickly tied up his hand, got in a boat at midnight, rowed all night and up until the next day to get to the hospital. A distance of 29 or 30 miles. His finger had to be amputated and the doctors did a very nice job of it and he was feeling fine when he left the hospital after about a week.

"I know you have heard of the unwanted babies of China. But haven't you heard that the unwanted ones were all girls? There are exceptions to all rules, you know. For instance, about Christmas time we admitted a little baby who looked to be about 10 days old. He had a harolip and was very thin and starved looking. This is his story. The orphanage here heard the bell ring and went to see what was up. In the drawer in the wall where the unwanted babies are placed they found this tiny mite. The wet nurse tried to feed him but he could not nurse. Then what should they do? Should they stand helplessly by and watch him die of starvation or should they seek for help? They decided to bring him here. He was too weak and thin to be operated when he first came. He was fed two ounces of tinned milk every two hours, night and day, using a medicine dropper and he soon went home again, not a normal baby, but at least better able to take his place in the world.

"I must tell you about the night school for the servants. We have it three nights a week for an hour each night. Reading, writing, arithmetic, personal hygiene, ward work, and how to avoid communicable diseases are the subjects taught. The nurses and laboratory and drug room workers do the teaching. One of the pictures I will not soon forget was on last Friday night at arithmetic class. In figuring, the Chinese use the Arabic numerals just as we do. The operating room coolie has been here for about eight years and is one of the most faithful, dependable, kind persons to be found anywhere. We all respect and admire him very much. He is getting along about iffty years old now. Last Friday night he wanted to practice writing his figures. It was a treat to me to see his stubby, rough fingers take the chalk and write 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8, but when he got to 9 he made it hind parts first. Mr. Han saw his mistake and set him right. Bless their hearts, they are so anxious to learn but never had a chance.

"Mama, I am glad you did not ask me any earlier if I had sweet milk to drink. If you had asked me a week earlier I would have had to say, 'No.' You see, in Changechow we have no foreign cows. The milk that we use either comes out of tin cans or else comes from water buffaloes. The tinned milk is expensive besides not tasting good. The buffalo milk is very rich in fat but doesn't taste quite like honest to goodness cow's milk and I could not drink it. We use it in cooking and on our cereal and it tastes all right. I had been drinking a glass of bean milk every day. It does not taste at all like milk but has the necessary mineral, fats, vitamins to be very healthful drink. I suppose I would have been drinking it until now if I had not gone to Shanghai the latter part of January.

"Miss Wong had ordered some extra milk from the milkman and I had three glasses or sure-enough cow's milk three times a day. When I came home I tried to drink the bean milk as of yore. I tried two days but I just couldn't do it. Now I have the cook put a little sugar, some cocoa in the buffalo milk and I drink it hot. It does quite well but I cannot stand it cold. It has a sort of animal odor I cannot stand.

"The last ten days have been like real spring days here. If it is really spring, we have had a very, very short winter here. The canals were frozen for only about a week. We may not have enough ice to last during the summer. Let me see if I can tell you how many clothes I wore. One afternoon I went walking. I had on four pairs of trousers, four sleeves besides my silk-cotton padded dress, had on wool hose and wool socks on top of those and had on a pair of felt shoes lined with camel's hair! No I wore no hat nor coat but I did wear a knitted wool scarf about my neck. I am still wearing my Chinese clothes but I am gradually taking off the inside layers. Soon it will be warm enough to start wearing my foreign clothes again.

"You remember I told you about Miss Leverett, who is our grandmother in years of service in China, she had been here more than 30 years in service. She is 65 years old and weighs more than 260 pounds. She last week developed appendicitis. Dr. Snell was sent for from Soochow and she had the operation Wednesday. She was so large she could not be put on an operating table so had to operate on carrier. She could not be put on a single bed so Miss Foster moved her double bed over for her. She has been a good sport even if she has been far from comfortable at times. She is doing nicely.

"How I would like to attend the conference at Lubbock but will be there only in spirit. Hope every one enjoys it."
