Rain, Lockney Stop FHS, 10-0

The Lockney Longhorns, plus a driving rain messed up Friona's game plan at Lockney Friday night.

The Longhorns downed Friona, 10-0 in a game hampered by penalties, and a steady rain that fell throughout the second half.

Three untimely fumbles hurt Friona's cause, plus a pass interception. Because of the rain and wet conditions, the Chieftains, who the previous week had passed for 224 total yards, were not able to complete a single pass during the frustrating evening.

Lockney, meanwhile, paced by hard-running John Mathis, proved to be the better ground-gainer on this particular Friday, and were in command most of the way.

Actually, the penalties and playing conditions hampered the Longhorns just as much, as they had three touchdowns called back during the course of the game.

In fact, Lockney had to score three times in the first half before they finally got a touchdown that counted, while the snake-bit Chieftains never were able to muster a serious scoring threat during the game.

The Longhorns drove with the opening kickoff to the Friona 23, and had an apparent touchdown on a pass play, but were called for being offside. On the next play, Friona safety Dee King intercepted a Lockney pass at the Chieftain five to end the threat.

The team picked up three first downs, going to midfield aided by a 15-yard penalty against Lockney, but at this point tragedy struck for the first time.

On second down from the Lockney 45, a pitchout from Clay Bandy to Ted King was fumbled, and Lockney recovered.

On the first play of the second quarter, a pass to Lockney's Stanley Stoerner would have been good for six points, but again the Longhorns were offside. Their fourth down pass then fell incomplete, and Friona was again spared.

Ted King's 12-yard burst gave Friona a first down at the Chieftain 42. However, two cracks at the line gained just a yard and Bandy's third down pass fell incomplete, forcing a punt.

At this point, Lockney put together a drive that counted. Dart Carthel ran for 17 yards, Mathis for nine and Robert Delgado 13 to set up the score, which 200-pounder John Clark got from the six. Lockney's Carthel thus had the first kicking opportunity, making it good for a 7-0 lead.

Following the kickoff, Friona drove to the Lockney 49, but again were forced to punt.

The second half was marred by rain, although the Chiefs put up their most serious scoring threat.

The team drove from its own 27 to the Lockney 31, sparked by a 28-yard run by King. However, misfortune again hit, as a fourth-down fumble was claimed by Lockney to halt the bid.

Only scoring of the second half turned out to be Lockney's field goal, which Carthel kicked with 1:29 left in the game, a 22-yard boot.

The shutout was the first for Friona in 1973, as the Chieftains had averaged 33 points in their first four games. It was the first shutout since Muleshoe turned the trick, 14-0 in the third game of 1971.

FIRE CALL...Lee Campbell and Ruben Taylor don Scott Air Packs prior to going into the boot pit at Tri-County Elevator at Black early Wednesday morning. The fire call was received shortly after midnight and firemen found chaff smoldering in the pit. No damage was listed in the fire although firemen from the Friona Volunteer Fire Department were at the elevator for approximately 30-45 minutes. [Staff Photo]

BACK IN 1968, the name Spiro Agnew suddenly had a musical sound. How could anyone with such a preposterous name be anything but an ideal candidate for vice president? This was the logic that seemed to endear this man to the approximately 45 million voters who gave Agnew and Richard Nixon their first term in office.

Today, the name is the same—nothing has been changed—but suddenly the magic is gone from the name of Spiro Agnew. The same people who swept him into office are saying "With a name like that we should have known better."

WHO IS BEHIND the "Dump Agnew" movement? The Democrats? Probably. The Republican leaders. More than likely.

Agnew seems to have lost favor with the leaders of his party.

You'll remember that there was some talk about the possibility of replacing Agnew on the 1972 ticket. Even then there was talk about the possibility of replacing him with former Texas Governor John Connally, who had been named Secretary of the Treasury by Nixon in one of the many attempts to stabilize the economy.

But this did not happen. Perhaps it was because Connally had not yet made the big switch from the Demos to the Republican camp. At any rate, the president reassured Agnew of his support, and the team was re-united for the 1972 clambake.

Maybe it is the Democrats who are after Agnew, but we doubt it. We believe it is the Republican leaders who still doubt Agnew's ability to lead a presidential ticket in 1976, so they want to dump him and find a replacement with more "charisma," more personality, etc.—Someone like John Connally, for instance.

NOT IN RECENT times has there been such personal indictment of our national leaders. How many can recall even hearing the word "impeachment" used in connection with an American president, especially in the news?

It's more or less a sign of the times. Americans are fed up with the type of "people-planning" government they are getting, and they are demanding changes—from the top to the bottom.

If you doubt this, maybe you should ask Preston Smith, or Ben Barnes or Gus Mutscher what happened in 1972.

Texans were like citizens in most other states in 1972—they did some house-cleaning in their state government, if for no other reason than just to put some new faces in as leaders.

Due to the Watergate episode, and the Agnew affair, this could possibly be the trend in national elections during the next few years.

The only trouble is, that the problems can't be solved by one election, or by two or three. However, if the people remain patient, they might someday regain their say-so in their government, like they were promised under the constitution.

A FRIEND SUGGESTED the other day that with our modern technology, with computers that can tabulate votes and have the results of a national election completed within hours, that matters of national interest and importance could—and should—be presented to the voters for their mandate, rather than to congress, which doesn't always reflect the will of the people.

This idea might bear investigating. As citizens, we're going to have to do something, or one of these days we may find that we have lost all of our rights and privileges.

OFFICES CLOSE

Several Friona offices plan to close on Monday, October 8, which will be Columbus Day. Government offices, including the post office and Soil Conservation office, will close, along with a few businesses.

Sugar Beet Harvest Off To Fast Start

Sugar beet harvest is off to a 'good' start in Parmer County, according to Larry Barnes, field representative for Holly Sugar Corporation.

With around 1,200 acres to be harvested in the Friona area, Barnes said the producer is presently averaging around 24 tons per acre with a sugar content of 14.2, which he said is fairly high for early harvest.

Monday, October 2, was the biggest day to date in the harvest with 82 loads being brought to the beet dump just off Highway 60 west of Friona.

The 82 loads represented 1,053 tons and filled 15 rail cars. Getting underway on September 24, the harvest is expected to continue through November, added Barnes.

This year, the price of raw sugar is $1.50 higher per hundredweight than the 1972 price, according to the agriculturist, and should make a difference of about $50 per acre to the producer, boosting his total income to approximately $498 per acre.

Barnes also reminded that beet growers can produce beets without endangering grain allotments, according to Jim Witherspoon, secretary of the beet association.

Also, this year, the growers are offered the beet pulp to feed cattle with grain as a food supplement.

Red Cross Assisted By Local UF Drive

[Editor's note—With the Friona Area United Fund Drive set to kick off on October 16, the Star is presenting a series of articles explaining what the UF donations are used for.]

Approximately 50% of the funds given to the Red Cross through the United Fund remain in Friona to be used by the local chapter.

The local chapter's primary activity and service is to military families. Some 200 persons have received some type of service from the local Red Cross chapter during the past year.

The majority of these were military, but the local chapter also participated in "Project Find" to help the federal government find elderly persons in our community who need special help.

A special contribution was made to disaster relief during

Gunshot Victim Home After Hospitalization

J.P. Sims, who farms northwest of Friona, has been released from the hospital in Hereford following emergency surgery to repair a gunshot wound to the abdomen he received recently.

Sims, 46, who carried the .22 caliber pistol inside his belt as he drove his tractor on the farm, said he carried the gun to shoot rabbits who were eating his wheat.

When he was shot on Tuesday, September 25, around 5:45 p.m., he said he had gotten off the tractor and had bent over checking his plow. He added that the only thing that he could figure out is that when he started to straighten up, he evidently caught the trigger on the gun just enough to discharge the pistol and the bullet fired into his abdomen.

He turned off the tractor, put the gun on the tractor and went to the house before being transferred to Parmer County Community Hospital where Dr. Paul Spring immediately transferred him to Hereford for the surgery to repair the wounds received.

The bullet is still lodged in a bone in Sims' back and no attempt will be made to remove the bullet at this time.

West Highway 60. The sugar beet harvest is getting into full swing in the Friona area and Barnes expects the harvest to last until around November 1. [Staff Photo]

Schoolboys Win Contest Honors

Schoolboys took the top two prizes in the Friona Star's Cotton Bowl Football contest.

Keith Pryor, sophomore at Friona High School, won top spot and $5.00 cash by being the only contestant to correctly pick 14 of the 16 contest games. Young Pryor actually had only one "real" miss, since every contestant was given a miss on the Southern Cal-Oklahoma game, which ended in a tie.

Claiming second place was Alan Monroe, eighth grade student, who scored a 13 and took second prize of $3.00 by virtue of hitting the Friona-Springlake tiebreaker score "on the head," at 46-6.

Third place was won by Johnny Alvarez, who also had a 13, and was only four points off the score.

Other contestants correctly picking 13 games were Mary Priest, Morris Garza, Sr., Eugene Ellis, F.G. Crofford, Virginia Cleveland, Jimmy Broyles, Bryan Johnston, Gary Renner and Jerry L. Shelton.

Among the games most missed were the Olton over Floydada contest; Frenship over Morton and Littlefield over Muleshoe.

TAKES LEAD

Crofford's score of 13 shot him into the lead in the grand prize race with a total of 47 points. Young Pryor pulled into a tie for second with Dianna DeBord, at 46.

Following is a list of the leading contestants in the race—

Chieftain Star's FB Future Clouded

Senior middle linebacker James Perea of the Friona Chieftains was expected to be released from High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo on Saturday where he had been transferred for testing following breathing difficulties at the Friday night homecoming game with Springlake-Earth.

Coach Larry Dyess said Friday morning that it was originally thought Perea had allergies, but was transferred to the Amarillo hospital for further testing.

It was found he had a muscle in his heart that contracted too hard, but medication was expected to clear the problem and a blood clot in his leg would also be treated with medication in an attempt to dissolve the clot.

As of Friday, his football future was uncertain as Amarillo doctors would not commit themselves at this time. Local coaches were optimistic that the condition would be cleared in the near future and he would be allowed to finish the season with the Chieftains.

Equally uncertain was the future for Kenny Stowers who missed his third game Friday night with a knee injury. Coach Dyess said Stowers had been checked by a Lubbock specialist who indicated the knee injury was both painful and rather serious.

Missing the third game in a row Friday, was Dave Clark, who has mononucleosis. He is expected to rejoin the Chieftains in the near future.

Friday Turns Out Wet Here

A slow, steady rain all day Friday put an end to harvest operations which were slowly picking up steam.

The rain began falling shortly before 8 a.m. Friday, and continued to fall throughout the day. By 5 p.m., a total of .94 inch had been measured in the official city gauge, and very little fell after that time.

Letters to the Editor

[Editor's note—Last week, the names were accidentally deleted from a letter to the editor which was published in the Friona Star.]

The two persons who signed the letter, Vickie Beck and Carolyn Martin, had fully intended for their names to follow the 'Red Raider' signature. It was reported that approximately 14 former Friona High School students, who now attend Texas Tech University, helped compose the letter as it was published. Other persons are expected to send their names to the Star to be included on the signature of the letter that was published, however, did not arrive prior to publication date.

It was and is a policy of the Friona Star to not accept for publication any unsigned letter and the same policy will continue in the future.]

Editor-Friona Star
Friona, Texas 79035

Dear Editor,
This letter is in response to one which appeared in The Star last Sunday from some Tech students.

First of all, let us stress that the Senior class has as much pride as any other class. "We may be small, but we're still first."

Money is an important factor. If the prize money were higher, more participation could be expected from the classes. This is the first time our class has ever made a profit on a float, and probably the first time in the history of Maize Days that a class has made a profit. The Junior and Senior classes need more money than the other two classes for activities during the year, so why should they spend between one hundred and two hundred dollars on a float when the most they can expect to get back is twenty-five dollars. You were absolutely correct when you said that the school floats make the highlight of the parade (the school floats are the parade), so it seems to us that the Chamber of Commerce should raise the amount of prize money offered to the classes for their floats.

Our float this year probably received more compliments on its unique idea than any of our previous floats, and we did work on it that one week we had, whenever we possibly could. We could not have constructed a larger one in the amount of time they allowed us this year.

You Tech students who wrote the letter were probably the very ones who were the loafers when your class floats were being built. They are very often the ones who criticize the most. So please be informed in the future before you make harsh statements.

The Proud Friona Seniors of '74 (Editor's note—The entire list of seniors who signed the letter is on file in the Star office, along with the signatures of two senior class sponsors.)

Dear Disapproving Red Raiders

First, the Junior class of this year feels that the Junior-Senior Banquet is very important, and that we should save money for that instead of losing money on the float.

Second, if you are such an authority, why can't you sign your name? You make it sound like everyone who goes to Tech thinks that way. I happen to know quite a few "Red Raiders" that disagree highly with YOU! Not us. If you can write something that immature, you could at least sign your own name instead of "Red Raiders"! Lisa Cummings Tonna Morgan

Dear Editor,

Concerning the letter last week from the "Disapproving Red Raiders." Apparently they never worked on a float since they said, "surely there were a few Jrs. and Srs. willing to spend a little time on a float." Anyone who ever worked on a float knows it takes more than a few, working quite a long time to build a float.

I, too, would like to see more floats in the parade, but where did we get the idea that it should be only the classes from high school. This is the way it has been, for the biggest part. I know a few other organizations do put forth the effort to make one but not very many.

It seems to me that we rely on the school for the bands, floats and queen contestants, but did it ever occur to anyone to ask the school (bands, classes and etc.) when it was convenient for them to have Maize Days. This year the classes had their first class meeting on Wed., Aug. 29 and were expected to have a float ready for Sat., Sept. 8, as if this was all they had to do for the next 10 days. For first place you get $25, you couldn't begin to build a float for that. If the Chamber of Commerce made it worthwhile it might make a difference. I was told that the Chamber didn't have the money for bigger prizes, maybe the classes don't have the money to build a float. I know the Juniors have quite a responsibility each year and do several things to raise money for these things, besides paying $9 per class member for dues.

Another thing is the rules, or lack of rules, for the floats. Every year someone says you can't do this or that, but no one has a set rule. How do the judges know what to judge them on?

Lastly, I thought your new rules stated that no more letters would be printed without the writer's names!

Sincerely,
A Proud Junior Parent,
Patsy Bandy

Dear Editor,

I was of the opinion that the policy of the "Star" in printing letters to the editor, the writer's signature would be printed or the letter would not. A letter was printed this past week signed "Disapproving Red Raiders." What happened to your policy?

When I inquired about this matter I was told that a group of fourteen ex-students had discussed this and decided it should be written. Two girls wrote the final draft and their signatures were the only ones on the letter. Someone decided all fourteen names should be received before any of them would be printed. I received the impression that if all fourteen names had accompanied the letter, it would probably have been too many to print. Why not print the two who had signed. I believe anyone who would call others, big fat nothings, should have their names printed.

I am not knocking the ex-students for expressing their disappointments. This is a right that each of us have, living in our country, just as these Jrs. and Srs. had the right to decide not to participate in the Maize Days Parade.

I know many of these Jrs. and Srs. kids and they certainly are not big fat nothings.

Thank You,
Elizabeth McLellan

We Achieve New Victories

Through Constant Hope

Read Hebrews 6:13-20

We have this hope as an anchor for our hearts. It is safe and sure. (Hebrews 6:19)

Only one thing has kept me playing golf year after year, and that is hope. During our Canadian winter I practice (on mild days) in the backyard, and face every new summer with renewed hope of being able to hit that tiny ball straight and true. But every year I realize that I am still doomed to make a terrific swing and—scoop up a clubful of earth—while the ball rolls on infuriatingly a few feet and stops.

But is hope not the quality that keeps the world turning? In every walk of life, regardless of failure and defeat, men and women plod on, spurred by hope that—just around the next corner—success will be theirs.

The Bible tells us that hope is an anchor to the soil— that which keeps the Christian steady and serene in the storms of life. He has a hope of eternal life beyond the grave, and he reckons that the sufferings of this present world will fade into nothingness amidst the glories of heaven.

PRAYER: All our prayers are tinted with hope. O God, for we know they will be answered—and for our good and the extension of Thy kingdom. For Jesus' sake. Amen.

THOUGHT FOR THE DAY

Our hope enables us to step out in the faith of achieving new victories.

Soil Conservation Election Slated Clayton Claims Lead In Speaker's Race

As announced several weeks ago it is Parmer County Soil and Water Conservation District Director Election time. The time is 9 next Tuesday morning at the Lazbuddie elevator.

This election is for zone 5, which is represented now by Alton Morris.

The area of zone 5 is generally the Lazbuddie school district in Parmer County. There are maps posted in the Court House, Lazbuddie Post Office and Lazbuddie elevator that show the boundaries of zone 5. All land owners and wives are eligible to vote.

The Parmer County SWCD is instrumental in establishing policies and procedures for conservation activities in the county.

They are also co-sponsors of the Running Water Draw Watershed.

Representative Bill Clayton today announced he is now assured that recent pledges of support have clearly placed him in the lead of the hotly contested race for Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives for the 1975 session.

Clayton, who let it be known that his vote total is now approaching the 50 mark, remarked that he is pleased by the broad base of support he is attracting. He noted that several of the more liberal legislators have become recent supporters of his candidacy and various citizen groups across the state have begun to show a strong interest in the race.

Clayton pointed out that local citizen interest is a new ingredient which has not before played much of a part in the selection of the presiding officer of the House.

Clayton stated that he encourages citizen participation and feels all Texans should express their enthusiasm for a given candidate to their own representative who may not have committed to anyone for Speaker.

Rep. Clayton, who was in Austin this week on his way to attend the Houston Governor's Conference on Intergovernmental Affairs, stated that, "My supporters and I are elated and more confident than ever because of our position at this point in the race. The candidacies of my declared opponents and of my rumored opponents have either lost ground or failed to garner much support or enthusiasm at all. While I realize that the race should be very interesting for the next several months, I now have a clear lead and expect it to merge into a decisive majority well before the 64th session starts."

Rep. Clayton has been campaigning across the state, meeting with various representatives and citizen groups since the end of the last session, and expects to continue to do so.

The Truth Will Make You Free

Perry Brown, Minister Sixth Street Church of Christ

Baptism is one of the fundamental doctrines taught in the New Testament. However, despite its important place in the New Testament, much disagreement exists on the subject. This article will be devoted to the nature of Baptism for the next few weeks.

Paul says in I Corinthians 12:13, "By one spirit we were all baptized into one body." Here Paul is arguing for the essential unity of the members of a church. His image is that of the human body, but he goes beyond simile and metaphor when he says, "You are the body of Christ and members one of another" [12:27]. The "body of Christ" is a reality for Paul, and entrance into the body is at the moment of baptism. The fact that Paul says, "by one spirit we were all baptized" does not suggest a "Spirit baptism" in distinction to "water baptism." For the early church the reception of the Spirit was normally associated with the rite of baptism. In any case, Paul cannot here be speaking of an internal, spiritual baptism [as opposed to an external water baptism], since his concerns in this passage move directly to external matters—the care of members for one another [12:26] and the ministries of the body [12:28-31]. If we ask Paul of I Corinthians if anything happened at baptism, his answer is "Yes, we entered the body of Christ."

If this view of baptism is different from what you have been taught, it is not because I want to make you angry. My only concern is to relate the truth of God as it is revealed in the Bible. So, if this is contrary to your view of baptism, I request that you study the subject openmindedly.

County 4-H Members Receive Recognition

Dallas again will host the annual State 4-H Dress Revue as 47 Texas Coeds model today's fashions and compete for honors October 4-6. Parmer County will be represented in the state contest again this year. Miss Susan Mimms, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Mimms of Lazbuddie, will be competing. Deborah Harding of Farwell was one of the participants in 1972. Both girls won the right to compete in Dallas by first winning the County revue then being among the top 5 finalists on the District level.

I think we can rightly be proud of our 4-Hers in Parmer County as they are actively participating in almost every phase of 4-H. Among our recent celebrities are Jacquelyn Langford, Farwell, winner of the District Beef record book contest and Deborah Harding, Farwell in sheep. Both girls records were in State competition in September. Karene and Holly Hart of Friona were the district record winners for Sheep and Beef in 1972.

We also have some 4-H travelers. Jacquelyn Langford traveled to Houston this summer as the Parmer County Representative to the Texas 4-H Congress. Holly and Karene Hart were among a delegation of 70 Texans to attend the National 4-H Citizenship Shortcourse and Texas Heritage Tour this summer. I hope you will join me in recognizing these and the other 235 4-Hers in Parmer County during National 4-H Week, October 7-13.

Caravan Program Set

A glimpse of college life will be presented Friona and other area high school students and their parents by West Texas State University at Hereford Tuesday night.

The WTSU Caravan will make its first stop of the new school year at Hereford High School at 7:30 Tuesday night. The caravan will set up in the cafeteria and will greet students from 7:30 until 9 p.m. The West Texas Ex-Students Association in Hereford will provide refreshments.

High school students and their parents from Adrian, Bovina, Farwell, Friona and Vega are invited by Hereford school officials to attend. WTSU students, faculty and staff will be on hand to answer questions about college life and talk about what West Texas State has to offer.

"The purpose of the caravan is to acquaint the young people and their parents of this area to what the university has to offer," said Dr. Jack Bullock, a mathematics professor who heads the caravan project. "There will be representatives from each of the five colleges and schools as well as from student life, financial aids, scholarships and other offices," he said.

The WTSU Caravan was originated last spring and was popularly received at its first trip to Plainview. It will go out to other key cities in the Panhandle during the present school year.

FRIONA-SIZED APPLE...John Baxter has produced some real 'Friona-sized apples' this year. Pictured are one of the large apples, 24 ounces and 14 inches around, compared with a normal size six ounce apple of the same type purchased in a local grocery store. This is the second largest apple harvested from Baxter's tree.

Shotguns Possibly Used In Headstone Damage

Mrs. C.B. Looper, whose son, Durward, was buried on October 5, 1972, has reported to the Star incidents of desecrating graves at Friona Cemetery.

She said at least six pictures have been shot out of headstones, including a picture of her sixteen-year-old son who had died following a boating accident a year ago.

Found around headstones at the cemetery were shots from a shotgun shell.

Mrs. Looper said she did not think anyone would deliberately shoot graves or headstones, but it was her thinking that careless hunters had shot into the cemetery, damaging pictures on headstones.

The incidents apparently have occurred within the past two weeks, as Mrs. Looper said Friday morning the pictures were not harmed two weeks ago.

"It is my idea that a cemetery is private property," she commented, "and should be treated as though it would be a person's own yard. I don't think anyone would deliberately shoot into a cemetery, but I do think hunters should be reminded not to shoot around the graves. It is quite a shock to be in the cemetery and see shotgun damage."

FRIDAY'S FOE

Chiefs Prep For Dalhart Wolves

Longest road trip of the 1973 football season faces the Friona Chieftains and their fans next Friday, when the Chiefs journey to Dalhart to battle the dangerous Wolves of District 1-A.

The Wolves were pre-season picks to win their district. They also will be out for revenge for the embarrassing 35-0 loss they suffered at Friona last year, which was one of their worst defeats. Fans will recall last year's game as one in which everything clicked for the Chiefs, and nothing seemed to go right for Dalhart.

The boys from the Northern Panhandle got off to a shaky start in the 1973 season, dropping their first two games, to Guyton, 8-7, and to strong Stinnett, 32-0.

However, they bounced back in their third game to slam Tucumcari, 56-0, indicating they may have begun to get their game together. The Wolves were open on September 28, and played at Dimmitt Friday night.

The Wolves work mainly out of a pro-set offensive formation, with an end split to one side and a halfback flanked to the other. But they will use a Wing-I formation occasionally, and they have a spread formation—with three men split to one side and one to the other—from which they may uncock any type of pass.

STARS LISTED

Engineering the purple and gold Dalhart machine is senior quarterback Jack Mullin (Number 19). At 186 pounds, he's one of the biggest quarterbacks the Chiefs will face this year. His main strength is his passing, and he is supposed to be good at uncocking the long bomb.

Backing up Mullin in the Dalhart backfield will be halfback Jimmy Clayton (No. 20), a 164-lb. senior, and fullback Ted Higgins (No. 44), a 142-lb. senior. Clayton is considered to be the Wolves' most dangerous runner, while Higgins has a reputation as a good lead blocker.

Dalhart's flanker back is Bob Beaver [No. 22], a 140-lb. senior. Split to the opposite side is senior end Rex McPherson [No. 88], a 174-pounder who is Mullins' favorite receiver.

Friona will be out to gain a game in the all-time series, which Dalhart leads, 7-5. The two teams have played off and on since 1938, although there have been big skips in the schedule. They resumed play last year after not meeting on the gridiron for eight years.

STRATEGY HUDDLE...Clay Bandy [10], Chieftain quarterback, huddles with Coach Bob Owen during Friday's game at Lockney. Not much the Chiefs

Broadcast Is Scheduled

Next Friday's game between the Friona Chieftains and Dalhart Wolves, at Dalhart, will be broadcast live and direct by Radio Station KPAN-FM, 106.3 Mhz, it was announced this week.

The game will be broadcast beginning at 7:45, in the time slot usually reserved for Hereford Whiteface games. The Whitefaces are open next Friday.

TYPICAL SCENE...Here's a typical scene from Friday's game at Lockney, whenever Friona had the ball. Ted King [45] is at the bottom of the pile, with some five Longhorns on top. It was a bruising game, with each team called at least twice for 15-yard penalties on roughness calls. [Staff photo]

B-Chiefs Avenge Morton Loss, 28-6

Friona's B-Chiefs avenged their only season loss on Thursday, with a 28-6 win over the Morton B-team in a game at Chieftain Field.

Friona's offensive line played a tremendous game, opening noles for the B-Chief backs, who were able to score four touchdowns and two conversions.

Morton took the lead in the game, on a 48-yard pass play on the second play of the second quarter. The PAT kick failed, and the visitors led, 6-0.

Friona came right back. The B-Chiefs had to punt, but Morton fumbled the punt, and Friona got the ball inside the 20. Henry Graves ran the ball to the Morton seven, and Kent Miller went in from there. Robin Baize ran for two points, and Friona led, 8-6.

The B-Chiefs never trailed again. Late in the second quarter, Baize fielded a Morton punt at his own 15, and ran 85 yards for a touchdown. The point try failed, but Friona had a 14-6 lead at halftime.

Friona drove 75 yards after taking the second half kickoff. Graves, Baize, Miller and Randy Melton had good gains in the drive. Miller got the touchdown from the Morton 20. A pass try for two points fell incomplete, and Friona had a 20-6 lead.

Late in the quarter, the team began another drive at its 25. The same backfield combination took turns advancing the ball downfield, with quarterback Dusty Peters getting the touchdown on an 11-yard run. Melton carried for two points, and the score became 28-6.

Friona's TD came early in the fourth quarter, and took care of the scoring for the night.

Credited with good line play were Richard Anderson, Charlie Wilkins, Manuel Hernandez, Ronnie McLellan, Danny Campbell, Joe Cunningham, Mike Bartlett and David Barnett.

PASS FOILED...Due to the rain and wet conditions, Friona failed to complete a pass Friday. However, another reason they failed is shown above, as Lockney star John Mathis bats down this pass intended for Dale Parsons.

Freshmen Top Morton For First '73 Win

The Friona Freshman Chieftains won their first game of the season here Thursday night, a 22-0 decision over the Morton freshmen.

The Freshmen drove 50 yards for the lead touchdown in the opening quarter. Keith Martin scored the TD on a quarterback sneak from the one-foot line. A pass from Martin to Kelvin King was good for two points and an 8-0 Friona lead.

In the second quarter, Friona recovered a fumble at the Morton 25. Five plays later, Sammy Felder scored from just outside the 10. Another pass from Martin to King registered for two points, and Friona had a 16-0 lead.

Morton fumbled the second half kickoff and Friona recovered.

On the third play from scrimmage Martin lateraled to Leslie Broadhurst on a 20-yard touchdown play. The try for two points failed, but Friona's 22-0 lead was more than enough. The win avenged a loss to the Morton team the previous week at Morton.

Bread Is Not Fattening --Expert

Many people think of breads and cereals as just providing carbohydrates, thus empty calories...most women think that if they as much as look at a slice of bread they'll gain weight.

According to Miss Mary Ellen Dambold, Wheat Foods Consultant to the Texas Wheat Producers Board of Amarillo, a regular slice of enriched white bread contains only 68 calories. This slice of bread or enriched or whole cereal products also provide significant amounts of seven essential nutrients in our diet—carbohydrate, protein, thiamine, niacin, riboflavin, calcium and iron.

However, Miss Dambold says to watch the "goodies" you may put on the slice of bread or bowl of cereal.

Bread and cereal products are an inexpensive, good source of energy and one low in saturated fats, and with the inclusion in our diet of more fruits and vegetables in an effective step in trying to lower the cholesterol levels and perhaps the mortality from our number one cause of death, atherosclerotic heart disease.

In observance of DAY OF BREAD, celebrated on October 2, nationally and internationally, we should all have given thanks for our abundant food and grain supply which contributes so much nutritionally to the health of people throughout the world, concluded Miss Dambold.

FOR VEE

Re-Vaccination Urged For Horses

AUSTIN—It has been two years since the tragic outbreak of Venezuelan equine encephalomyelitis which claimed the lives of hundreds of horses in Texas.

During that 1971 crisis, more than a half million horses were vaccinated in Texas.

Since then, the disease and its attendant publicity have died down. This, in turn, has given rise to the threat of a new outbreak of VEE.

The Texas Animal Health Commission reports that continuing studies show that the very effective vaccine against VEE does not offer permanent protection.

The TAHC has joined with the Texas Veterinary Medical Association in urging revaccination of all horses in the state.

Studies indicated that the vaccine's protection begins to dwindle after a year. Consequently, it is recommended that horses be revaccinated every year.

In addition, the veterinarians recommend that colts and horses brought into the state since the epidemic be vaccinated.

Of course, horses also should be vaccinated against the Eastern and Western strains of encephalomyelitis which have been in the U.S. for years.

As the name implies, VEE was first noticed in Venezuela in the mid-1930s. It was confined to South America until 1969 when an epidemic struck in Guatemala.

Since then, it swept through Central America and Mexico where inadequate immunization programs allowed VEE to invade Texas.

The virus is spread by mosquitoes, which are seasonally in greater numbers during the late summer and early fall months.

Since we are in the middle of this high-risk period, it is especially important that horse owners insure that all their animals are vaccinated as soon as possible.

Although the disease is seldom fatal to humans, about 90 persons were afflicted during the 1971 epidemic. However, the fatality rate among horses that get VEE is very high.

The symptoms horse owners should look for include drowsiness, loss of appetite, depression, stumbling, drooling and diarrhea.

Thanks to a 19-state vaccination program, the VEE epidemic was confined to Texas in 1971. The U.S. Department of Agriculture cautions, however, that the virus has not been eliminated. New outbreaks can be expected.

Texas horse owners bear a special responsibility to protect our animals and thus insure that they do not help spread VEE to the rest of the country.

place—Bobby Aragon, Chuck Nichols, Robert Caballero, Mike Maynard and Mike Neill. Third row, third place—Mike Hutson, Joe Malouf, Jimmy Evans, Rocky Nichols, Joe Howard and Richard Malouf. Friona Motors representatives, John Baxter, Troy Young and Mitch Terry.

What Has The Salvation Army Done Recently?

Last year 6,214 unwed mothers were cared for in The Salvation Army's 36 homes and hospitals in the United States.

Over 4,000 underprivileged Texans each summer enjoy free vacations at The Salvation Army Camp Hoblitzelle near Midlothian, Texas.

The Salvation Army operates 121 Men's Social Service Centers throughout the United States where last year 60,756 men participated in the centers' rehabilitation programs of spiritual counseling, work therapy and psychiatric aid.

The Salvation Army was founded in 1852 by William Booth, a Methodist minister who left the pulpit to preach the Gospel in the London slums. His movement was first called The Christian Mission, then The Hallelujah Army and finally The Salvation Army.

ONE OF THE WORST things a person can do is make crank telephone calls. It takes absolutely no courage or forethought to make any type of 'crank' call. Each and every person is entitled to his or her opinion on any subject, however, most persons have the courage to have their name attached or connected with their thoughts on a controversial subject.

This week, the Star office was flooded with 'crank' telephone calls following the accidental deletion of some names from a letter to the editor. We again emphasize that letters to the editor are welcome, but the writer must be willing for their name to be used in connection with the letter in order for the letter to be published in the paper.

Strangely enough, not one caller was as interested in the content of the letter but each caller was highly upset because they did not know who wrote the letter.

'Nuff said. Hope this ends this, now.

Mrs. Ed (Jo) Clark was in Amarillo Tuesday to visit with Mrs. Charles (Martha) Russell at High Plains Baptist Hospital.

She reported that recent skin grafting is doing well and Mrs. Russell is progressing in therapy.

Mrs. Russell said, "Tell everyone I'm doing fine."

ILLNESS IS HARD on everyone and several persons close to me have felt the effects of recent illnesses of not only themselves, but family members.

My father is finally home and

Frionans

Mrs. Charles Russell is still hospitalized in High Plains Baptist Hospital, Amarillo.

Tammy Fairchild has returned to Friona and is recuperating at home.

much improved, and now the telephone serves as contact for the most part instead of twice daily drives to and from Muleshoe.

I have a young friend in the hospital in Friona as I write my column Thursday afternoon. Three year old Bradley Clifton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Benny Clifton, was hospitalized Wednesday night with a severe case of 'croup.' He was improving late Thursday.

A visitor in the Star office Thursday afternoon asked if we 'wanted to buy a .22' J.P. Sims is out and about following his recent accidental shooting... where he was the victim.

There's a short story about the shooting elsewhere in the paper.

Anyway, he says he is feeling fine, although he is getting around pretty slow at this time.

News from South Plains Junior College at Levelland is that Carlene Schlenker was elected as sophomore class president. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Schlenker.

Someone brought these words in to me at the office. "The function of the press is very high. It is almost holy. It ought to serve as a forum for the people, through which the people may know freely what is going on. To misstate or suppress the news is a breach of trust."

The above words first appeared in the Collier's Weekly on March 23, 1912.

Since I am completing this column on Friday morning, the football game with Lockney is yet to be played in the evening. For those persons who may have had the mistaken idea it is rather 'glamorous' to be on the football field during a game, think again!

The wet weather makes it sloppy, cold and at times, rather miserable. Then what may be an enjoyable close-up experience becomes...just another job, with hopes that the wind isn't blowing so the camera will be reasonably still and your teeth won't be chattering to the point of distraction for the team.

LIL ABNER TROUPE GIVE REVIEW....Members of the Thespian Troupe from Friona High School presented several numbers at halftime during the homecoming game last week. They were boosting the musical version of 'Lil Abner' scheduled to be presented in the FHS auditorium on Monday and Tuesday of this week. Directing the play is Joy Morton, assisted by Deke Kendrick with the music and Betsy Cook, choreographer.

Trio Entertains
Modern Study Club

Modern Study Club met in regular session Tuesday night in Federated Women's Clubhouse. Thirty members and guests were present for the demonstration of Low Calorie Cooking.

Marilyn O'Dowd, Southwestern Public Service Company home economist from Amarillo, presented an informative and interesting program. One group of recipes suggested ways of "How to Stay in the Family, and Diet, Too." The use of the electronic oven, blender and electric cook pan were demonstrated.

A tasting bee of the low calorie foods prepared by Miss O'Dowd concluded the program.

Theme of the meeting was Love Is—Food and Fellowship. Grace Whitefield gave the opening devotional. Repeating the club collect in unison was used for the closing prayer.

A trio composed of Sharla Beth Duggins, Dana Miller and Sarah Mears, sang "The Candy Man" by Leslie Briscusse, and "Love Is My Favorite Thing." They were accompanied by Eva Miller.

Other special guests were Mesdames Baker Duggins, Ross Miller, Sam Mears and Lee Spring.

With the President Lois Miller in the chair, the business session was held. The Community Service Committee will serve the kick-off breakfast for the United Fund Drive October 16, it was reported.

The club voted to send a $25 contribution to Girlstown.

Modern Study Club will participate in the community Halloween Carnival sponsored by ESA Sorority October 30.

LIBRARY CORNER

Story Hour is held in the Friona Public Library each Thursday morning from ten until eleven. Children from age four to school age are invited to come and join the planned activities.

This past week, the group made thumb plaques. Action games were played and the children started playing in their very popular Library Rhythm Band.

Girls who are enrolled in Mrs. Tonya Gober's homemaking class at Friona High School are studying a child care unit and helping with the Library Story Hour this semester. About ten girls are participating.

Different subjects are discussed and studied each week. One day the topic was "teeth" and another time the group talked about community helpers.

Mrs. Percy Parsons is the community helper and volunteer who is chairman of the Story Hour and she will be glad to enlist adult readers who wish to donate time to this project. Present at each session are volunteers Mrs. Myrna Gatlin and Mrs. Sallie Patterson. Adult leaders and assistants are needed.

Approximately sixteen children have been attending regularly. The program was started nine years ago and has always been supervised by adult volunteers aided by Girl Scouts. Homemaking students or other civic minded young people.

Hart Sisters Top Winners

Karene and Evelyn Hart of the Friona 4-H Club won top honors at the Tri-State Fair in Amarillo, on September 22. Both girls had entered the 4-H and FFA wheat show, but awards were not presented until the 22nd.

Karene won the top award and was crowned the 1973 Wheat Queen. She was presented a beautiful trophy and $75.00.

Evelyn kept the winnings in the family by placing third and winning $50.00. This was the first time in the history of the wheat show that a girl has won first place. These girls won over entries from throughout the Panhandle.

Blind Eligibility Rules Revised

"Some workers, disabled because of blindness, can receive monthly social security checks without having to meet the requirements of recent work that apply to other disability applicants," Gerald Schlaeppli, social security Field Representative, stated today. "This change in the law is for people whose vision is no better than 20/200, even with glasses."

"Under the changed law, a person who loses sight to the extent described above, might be able to receive social security checks even though his work under social security was done many years ago, at any time since 1937. The amount of work that he needs to qualify for benefit payments depends on when he became blind and how old he was at that time.

"Blind people whose claims were turned down in the past because they did not have enough recent work under social security should get in touch with their social security office," Schlaeppli urged.

Braille editions of five social security publications are now available to blind people—"Estimating Your Social Security Retirement Check," "Disability for Blind People," "Your Medicare Handbook," "Your Social Security," and "If You Become Disabled."

Friona Flashbacks

...from the files of the Friona Star

30 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 8, 1943
Owing to the unusually dry and hot summer, the tomato crop in the Friona territory has been extremely light and many of our people have been visiting the irrigated district near Muleshoe to secure their supply of canning tomatoes for winter use.

25 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 8, 1948
The Owls led 7-0 at the end of the first quarter as a result of a short touchdown and conversion. They scored again in the third quarter on a short pass.

20 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 8, 1953
Sure want to apologize for not having Bert Shackelford's picture on the front page this week.
Bert is one of the more notorious characters in Friona, of course, and especially since his winning round at the Hereford Invitational Golf Tournament last weekend. He came in with a scorching 42-44 to clinch the consolation prize, taking the round from D.C. McWhorter of Hereford.

15 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 9, 1958
Joe Osborn of Friona has been named assistant Attorney General and assigned to the land division, Attorney General Will Wilson has announced.
The 26 year old lawyer was graduated from the University of Texas law school this spring. He is co-owner of the Friona Star.

10 YEARS AGO—OCTOBER 10, 1963
A kickoff breakfast for the Parmer County Community Hospital building fund drive will be held Friday morning at the Golden Spread Restaurant, according to Charles Allen, general chairman of the drive.
It is planned to add a wing onto the west of the hospital, giving it 10 additional private rooms, at a cost of around $63,000.

At Home In Parmer County
Jana Pronger

MISS JANA PRONGER of Farwell, Parmer County Extension Agent, will be among more than 50 agents from throughout Texas attending the 39th Annual Meeting of the National Association of Extension Home Economists, October 14-19 at Grossinger's in New York State.
According to Miss Pronger, theme for the meeting is "A Time for Renewal."
"Agents will be involved in professional improvement, recognizing outstanding achievements and exchanging teaching innovations and methods," she said of the weeklong meeting.

Included in the program are a keynote address by the Rev. Oddvar Berg, national lecturer, along with numerous workshops, question-and-answer periods and "crosstalks," during which agents can exchange ideas.
Agents also will hear addresses by Dr. Ira Progoff, director of Dialogue House Associates, Inc., in New York City, and Dr. Marjorie East, head of the Department of Home Economics Education, Pennsylvania State University.
In addition they will participate in a tour, view exhibits and attend a fashion showing.

4-H Clubs Cited For Safety Work

The Friona Junior and Senior 4-H Clubs, consisting of 25 Parmer County 4-H'ers, have been named a state winner in the Club Safety Program.
According to state 4-H officials, the clubs will receive a certificate recognizing their outstanding local safety efforts. Donor of the certificate is General Motors which sponsors the entire 4-H Safety Program.
The major activity of the club was a rifle safety program which was taught by a certified instructor of the National Rifle Association. The 21 members participating in the program were taught to sight a gun and practiced marksmanship and safety.

nave completed the National Rifle Association's Small Arms Safety Course and Hunter's Safety Course.
"If we prevented one gun accident with this program, it will be the most worthwhile project our club has ever sponsored," said Dale Hart, one of the club leaders. Other leaders are Mrs. Dale Hart and Earl Jameson.

Funds Allocated For Road Repair
