

OVERPASS PROJECT

Right-Of-Way Buying Is Almost Completed

Although it seemed to many that we were starting our kids to school in the middle of the summer this week, when you feel the cool night and morning air these days, the realization comes that fall can't be far away.

And with the beginning of football workouts, this is proof to the sports buffs that summer is drawing to a close.

Concerning the opening of school, principal J. T. Gee showed us a sympathy card he received from Mrs. Lee (Anne) Spring.

Anne annually hosts a "Mother's Day" coffee on the morning of the first day of school, where the mothers come for a little celebration of their annual liberation.

So, I guess it's only fitting that if she has a celebration for the mothers, the least that Anne could do would be to send the principal a sympathy card.

The Republican convention is grinding to a close, with "equal time" about the only thing we can see for this convention, with most of the issues, and certainly the nominations, cut and dried before it ever started.

Once the convention is over, the politicians can get down to serious mud-slinging, and we'll also see if Nixon is able to bring about a settlement of the Vietnam conflict, which was one of his promises in his last campaign.

The folks who want to give George McGovern a hard time must be staying up nights, in thinking up their slogans. The latest one we heard was "Will Rogers never met George McGovern." Think about it a minute. (J. C. Beck says he never met Dick Nixon, either).

Friona teenager Denise Shipp must have received a lot of exposure across the southwest on the picture taken and distributed by the Associated Press, showing a little black dog harmonizing with Denise as she practiced playing the clarinet while on the West Texas State University campus for a band camp.

We first received a clipping of the picture from the Norman, Oklahoma paper. The last few weeks, we received additional clippings that appeared in the Houston Post and Fort Smith, Arkansas American. We have also heard reports that the photo appeared in papers in Abilene and El Paso, for sure.

Congratulations to Denise, on getting all of this publicity. It also was a good plug for Friona, which was mentioned in the caption as Denise's hometown.

Denise, a freshman this fall at Friona High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Shipp of 1503 N. Jackson.

Her sister Deann was in the news around July 4, for winning the junior study club's "Americanism" essay contest.

Judging by the statistics released by the Automobile Manufacturers Association, there is no question but that America is a nation on wheels.

If anybody does any walking, it sure isn't for any great distance. The records show that there are now over 100 million vehicles registered in the 50 states; 94 million passenger cars and almost 19 million trucks and buses.

Over 10 million automobiles were sold to John Q. Public last year--and according to the AMA, the new cars were better equipped than ever before.

Ninety per cent of the passenger car buyers insisted on automatic transmissions, V-8 engines and radios; 84 per cent purchased cars equipped with power steering, and more than 50 per cent drove off in new cars with factory installed air conditioning and power brakes.

The records now show that eight out of ten U. S. households now own and operate at least one automobile. Perhaps even more interesting is the fact that nearly 30 per cent of all U. S. households now own two or more cars.

Travel in the family car is now calculated in the trillions of miles. If, on top of automobile travel, one adds that of buses, subways, bicycles, taxis, airplanes and the like, it is very clear that America is a nation "on the move."

(The above was not paid for by Reeve Chevrolet-Olds or Friona Motors, but if it makes you think about looking at new cars, these would be two good places to start.)

A hearing on August 9 at the City Hall brought the Highway 214 overpass and roadwidening project a step closer as two of the last three remaining parcels of right-of-way were disposed of.

Only one parcel of land remains to be purchased, a parcel outside the city limits belonging to B.G. Rule, and the project would be ready to be submitted to Austin by Resident Engineer Rhea Bradley for contract proceedings.

The hearing involving city properties were for the benefit of J.J. Griffith and O.E. Stevick. An impartial jury of three men awarded the two landowners approximately ten per cent more than the land had been appraised for, after their attorney argued that the land had been undervalued.

It is not believed that Rule objects to the price offered for the portion of his land needed by the project, but the fact that he lives out of state, plus other legal technicalities has slowed negotiations on this parcel.

The other four parcels of land which were outside the city limits have been purchased, and the other five parcels within the city had earlier been purchased.

Bradley said that a January 1 contract on the job would be the very earliest he could hope for, and this would necessitate the last parcel of land for right-of-way being purchased by October 1.

"It takes a minimum of three months to get the contract awarded after I submit my plans to Austin," Bradley said this week in a telephone interview with the Friona Star.

The resident engineer said he had heard that financing for the project would not be available until January 1. He indicated that the overpass, plus the job of widening the road from Friona to Hub, and from Clay's Corner south to the Bailey County line would be submitted as one contract, with the idea of doing the work all as one job.

Concerning the nine mile portion of the highway between Hub and Clay's Corner, which has not been programmed as yet for widening, Bradley re-iterated that this should follow in the not-too-distant future.

"When we get each end widened, the middle will have to follow. It seems silly not to do it all at once, but the money simply was not available for the entire project, and the traffic surveys show that the traffic is heaviest at each end of the road," Bradley said.

Bradley added that a "companion project" to the Highway 214 project, involving an intersection south of Dimmitt, had just gone to contract last month, after he had submitted his plans the previous November--eight months previous.

"I certainly hope we don't face this type of delay on Highway 214, somehow I don't think we will," Bradley concluded.

The Highway 214 project has been at least in the talking stages for the past ten years, with serious work on the road and overpass idea beginning about five years ago, after a serious car-train accident at Friona's south main crossing involving George A. Jones.

SEPTEMBER 1

Deadline Nears For Maize Queen Entries

Sixteen girls have been entered in the annual Maize Queen Contest, with only eight days remaining until the deadline. Also, contest officials plan to cut off the entrants at 25 girls, so if nine are entered prior to September 1, the deadline will come early.

Businesses, clubs and organizations wishing to enter girls are urged to contact either of the co-chairmen in the contest to enter a girl.

Chairmen are Mrs. Charles (Fern) Sanders, 247-3302, and Mrs. Ray (Jan) Fleming, 247-2854. Sponsors should also mail a check in the amount of $15.00 to the Friona Chamber of Commerce as entry fee.

Girls that had been entered as of Tuesday included: Patricia Phipps, Friona Young Homemakers; Carolyn Murphee, Tri-Frye Produce; Lisa Taylor, Progressive Study Club; Glenda Reeve, Pioneer Natural Gas and Cindy Barnett, Murphee Texaco.

Also, Mary Beth Bennett, Reeve Chevrolet-Olds; Karene Hart, Friona Woodmen of the World; Carol Reeve, White's Auto; Holly Stephens, Kendrick Oil; Denise Carnes, Missouri Beef Packers; Cinda Johnson, Sondra's Beauty Shop.

Also, Debbie Bengel, Bingham Land; Katy Lewellen, Black Grain; Gayla Self, Friona Kiwanis; Vicki Pryor, Friona Star; and Sarah Gammon, Ethridge-Spring Insurance Agency.

The queen's contest will be held the night of Thursday, September 28, as a highlight of the city's Maize Days celebration.

FIRST-DAY MARK

Enrollment Dips From 1971's Record

Enrollment in Friona schools was off slightly from the all-time high recorded at last year's first day of school, but the decline was barely noticeable.

Enrollment as of Tuesday morning stood at 1422 for the entire system, compared to 1448 on the same Tuesday a year earlier, down by 1.8 per cent from last year's total. The figure for 1971 had been the largest first-day total in the school's history.

The high school total stayed with the growing trend, amounting to 364--the largest beginning enrollment ever for high school. The figure was four above the first-day total for the 1971-72 term.

Otherwise, the junior high enrolled 496, compared to 516 a year ago, and the elementary school counted 562 pupils, compared to 572 in 1971.

"We should continue to gain new students throughout this week, and we should have little trouble topping last year's figure by next Monday," said Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr.

The enrollment usually continues to climb until it reaches a peak in mid-fall. Last year, a peak enrollment of 1550 was reached in the middle of October.

As usual, the first grade has the largest number of students among the current enrollment, at 145. The first nine classes have over 100 students each. The freshman class, largest in high school, at 119, has more students than four classes in the first eight grades.

Enrollment by class is as follows: Kindergarten 45; first--145; second--115; third--119; fourth--131; fifth--132; sixth--117; seventh--127; eighth--111; special education--16; ninth--119; tenth--92; eleventh--89; twelfth--64.

Lazbuddie School Sets Registration

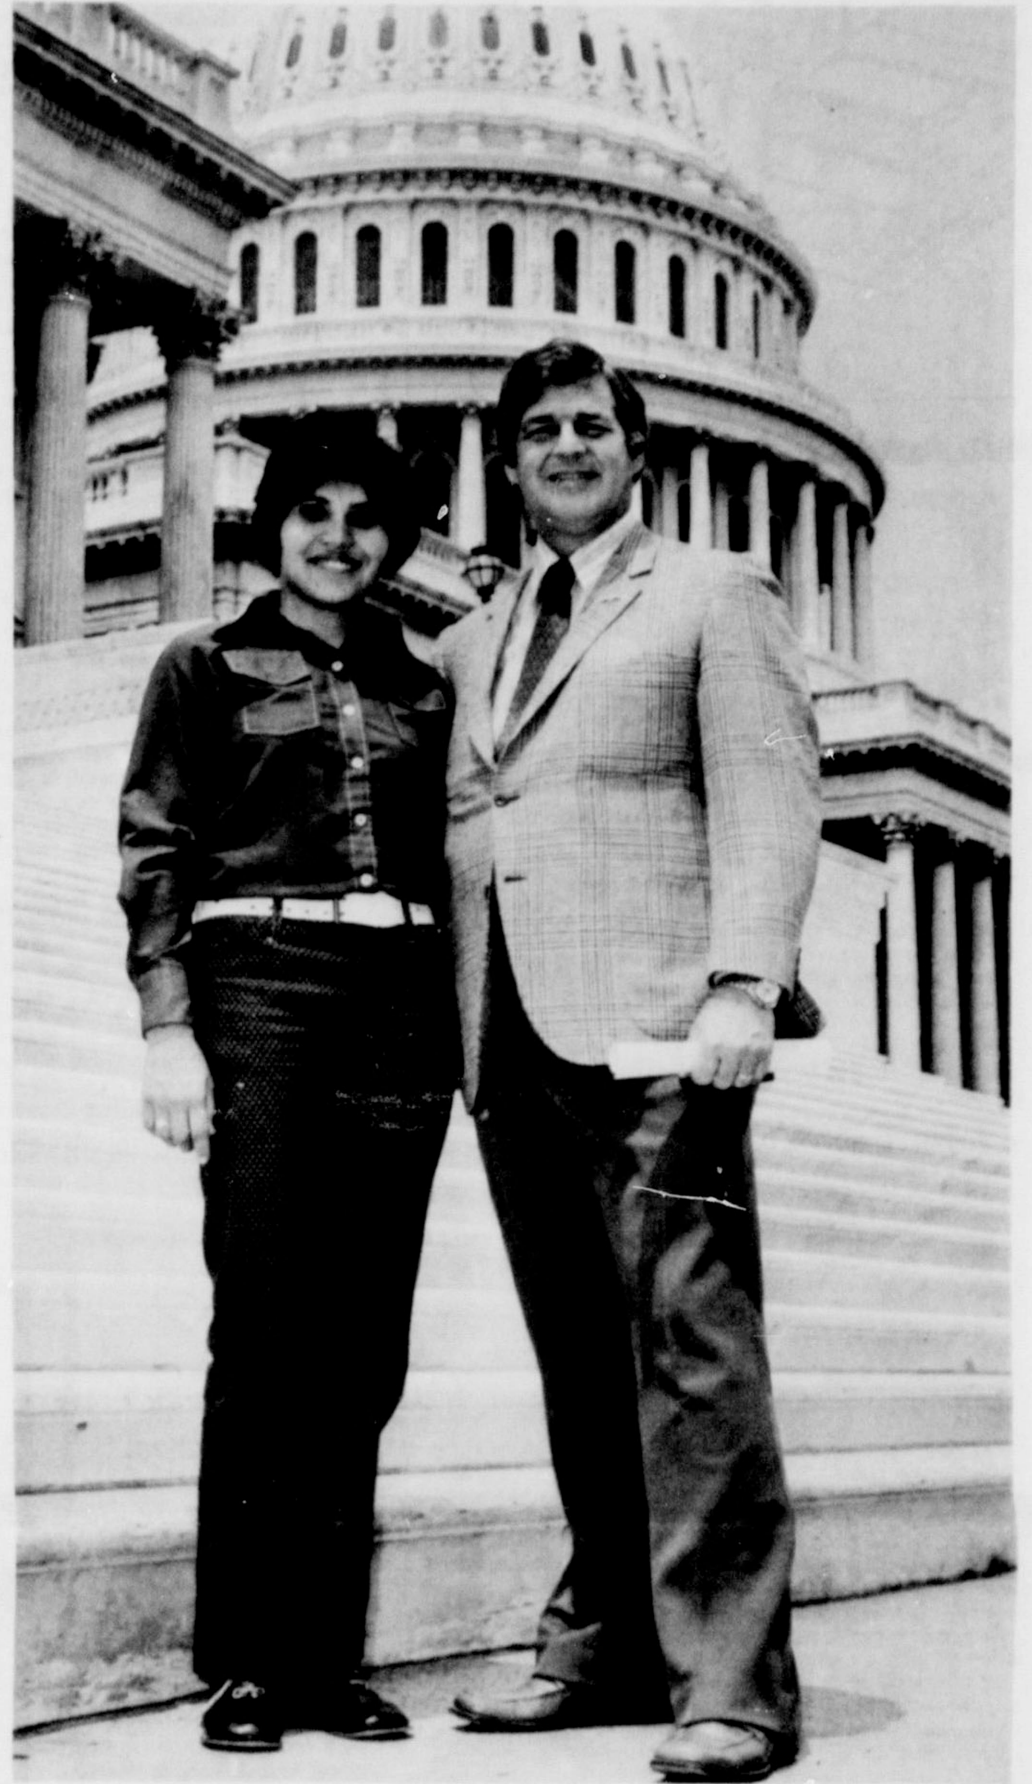

Lazbuddie School will have registration on Friday, August 25, with classes starting on Monday, August 28th.

Buses will run at the regular time Friday for registration and will return home at 11:00 a.m. Kindergarten and First grade students are to bring birth certificates and all students who have not completed their required immunizations should bring their immunization record from their family doctor.

Kindergarten and First grade students who pre-enrolled last May need not come on registration day, Friday, August 25. New teachers for the school year are: Mr. Allen Harman, High School Coach, and History, Mr. Gary Cox, Jr. High Coach and Science, Mrs. Zana Segovia, Home Economics and Miss Jeana Cole, Business teacher.

Tickets On Sale

Season tickets for the five home games for the 1972 Friona Chieftains went on sale this week at Bi-Wize Drug. Superintendent of Schools Alton Farr announced that there would be no increase in the price of tickets. Season tickets for five home games will cost $7.50. Individual game tickets are $1.50 each.

MARY AND EMPLOYER... Mary Rando, Friona High School graduate, is shown with Congressman Bob Price in Washington. Miss Rando has been employed this summer as a Congressional Intern, where she has been able to learn more about the functions of government. Enrolled at New Mexico State University, Miss Rando has worked while attending college as a reporter for the Alamogordo Daily News, and has been actively engaged in public speaking before a variety of youth gatherings, churches, clubs and other civic organizations. Because of her interest in government and devotion to American traditions, Mary was awarded the George Washington Honor Medal award in 1967.

MBP's Quarterly Report Shows Substantial Gain

Missouri Beef Packers, Inc. reported third quarter earnings for the period ended July 29, 1972 of $630,187 or 55 cents per share on sales of $101,466,564. This compares with earnings of $397,326 or 34 cents per share on sales of $83,040,160 for the comparable period a year ago.

For the 39 weeks ended July 29, 1972, net income was $1,029,042 or 90 cents per share on sales of $278,741,393 compared with $1,275,438 or $1.11 per share on sales of $210,055,058 a year ago. David La Fleur, President, said improved earnings resulted from the ending of the 21-week strike at the Friona Division; an increase in breaking and fabricating volume at the Plainview, Texas Division; and improved fat cattle supplies which resulted in better operating conditions. La Fleur also stated that the company anticipated continued favorable operating conditions during the fourth quarter.

Sets Meeting

The annual board of directors meeting for the Friona Little League, Inc. will be held Sunday, August 26, at the Law Enforcement Center (old City Hall), beginning at 2 p.m.

Milton Evans, spokesman for the organization, said that new directors will be elected, as well as officers for the new corporation, which has just recently received its charter. A financial report will be given, and plans will be made for 1973, Evans said.

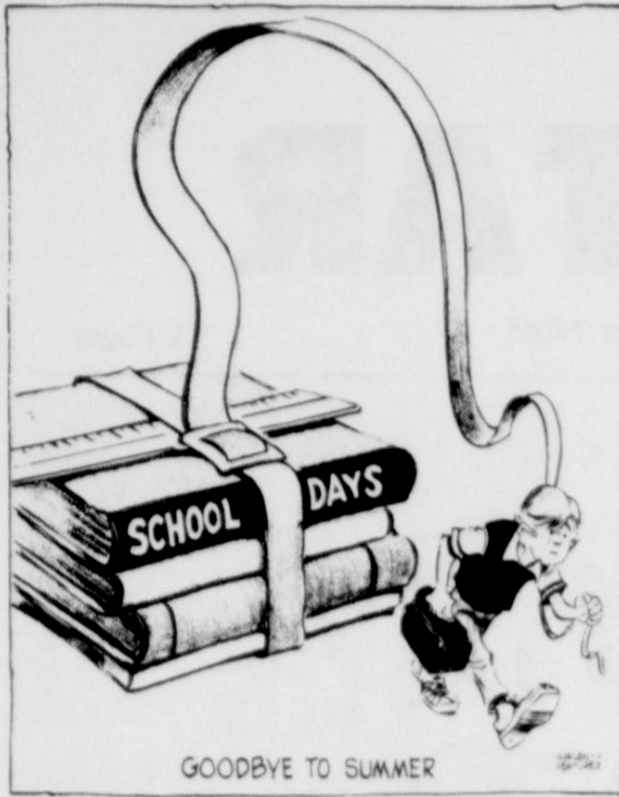

Everyone interested in the Friona Little League program, whether they are currently on the board, or not, is urged to attend.

FIRST GRADER... Tory Taylor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Taylor, of Friona, was one of the 145 first-graders who started to school for the first time on Monday. He is shown with Joy Lindeman, one of the new first grade instructors, as she gives him some pointers on writing.

TEACHER TRAINING... Mrs. Dorothy Morrison, center, program director for Dairy Council, Inc., gave a seminar on how to teach health for kindergarten through the sixth grade last week during the in-service training for Friona teachers. Shown with Mrs. Morrison are Mrs. Max Wells, left, first grade instructor, and Mrs. Tim Herring, right, second grade instructor.

GOODBYE TO SUMMER

Friona Flashbacks

...from the files of the Friona Star

40 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 26, 1932

Graduate students at Texas Technological College's summer session elected officers for the coming year at a meeting recently. George A. Heath of Friona was named president. J.J. Horton is receiving the congratulations of his friends here on his appointment to the position of general manager of the Henneman Grain and Seed Company elevator in Friona.

30 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 21, 1942

Pfc. John W. Blackburn, son of Thomas E. Blackburn of Friona, this week was accorded recognition on the Roll of Merit at this large school of the Army Air Forced Technical Training Command. He is a student in the Advanced Mechanics Division Course at Chanute Field, Ill. Each week at this Army post, where technicians for the Army Air Forces are trained, men showing outstanding achievement in academic work and soldiery bearing are chosen for the Roll of Merit.

Guests in the C.W. Dixon home in the Rhea Community during the past week were Mrs. Rose McLean of Dimmitt, mother of Mrs. Dixon, Mrs. Emma Duncan of Assumption, Ill., and Mrs. Wesley Anthony of Big Square, sister of Mrs. Dixon.

20 YEARS AGO --August 21, 1952

One of the outstanding events of the summer social season was the recent stag shower given for Tim Magnus, groom-elect of Miss Dorothy Guinn. Joe Osborn, G. B. Buske, Sloan Osborn, A.L. Black and Claude Osborn were hosts for the affair, given in the home of Sloan Osborn. A skit entitled "The Honey-moon is Over" was presented by A.L. Black as the bride, and G.B. Buske as the groom. The honoree was presented with a violent corsage of gladioli and rainbow ribbon. Twenty-three guests enjoyed games and refreshments to round out a most stimulating evening.

10 YEARS AGO--AUGUST 23, 1962

A total of 44 boys reported for the first football workout for the Friona Chiefs Monday morning. We're extremely pleased with the number that has come out, as well as the spirit evidenced," said Coach Kenneth Miller, who jokingly added, "You might say that we showed an increase of 7,000 per cent over last year."

Bob Crozier, Work Unit Conservationists for Parmer County's Soil Conservation District for the past four years, has resigned his position with the Soil Conservation Service effective September 1.

Pause and Reflect

By Nelson Lew's

According to my timepiece the siren started sounding at 1:13.

Thirty seconds later two firemen entered the station. Sixty seconds later, 1:14, twelve men were scrambling onto the fire truck.

One and one-half minutes passed and the first truck roared out onto the street.

Only three minutes after the first blast of the horn all three vehicles were out of sight headed toward your house or mine.

How do I know?

I was standing in front of Houser's Grocery when the alarm went off.

As a concerned citizen, and a city commissioner, I took the opportunity to observe the action of our volunteer firemen. And I was never so proud of anything, or anybody, in my life. I want all of you to know that this bunch of UNPAID firemen are the equal of anybody's fire department.

Those of you who voted against the new fire station may have cause to be embarrassed; don't worry, you'll get the same service the rest of us deserve.

Now about this gun control thing. Call or write Bob Price and tell him how you feel.

Do you want to turn in your hunting rifles and your "house gun"?

Do you want to pay taxes to buy up your neighbor's guns while he pays taxes to buy yours?

If the answer is "no" then you had better get in touch with Congressman Price and express your feelings; otherwise a law may be passed prohibiting the ownership of all firearms.

The enactment of such a law would leave the American public more at the mercy of criminals than ever before and could encourage a sharp rise in crime.

Remember the bumper sticker slogan: "When guns are outlawed, only outlaws will have guns."

Senator McGovern is very fond of his "America Come Home" speech---he had better get his boys to write one entitled "America Wake Up."

Sincerely Yours

By Rev. Albert Lindley

Isn't it rather humorous, the things that we see today which catch our attention, or the different things we see which seem to be so important to other people.

Just look at the slogans that are printed on shirts and clothes...

Two that I have noticed lately, have been on T-shirts and one was just a very large mouth and tongue, all very colorful and taking up most of the shirt. The caption was: "I ate the whole thing", of Alka-Seltzer fame.

The pants and shirts that have the ad names of many products today seem to be very popular and makes me wonder at earlier years when the trade-name found on various feed sacks could be noticed in the make up of a new shirt or skirt and they tried to lye-wash them off....

The other statement that really caught my attention and has caused considerable thought, was one on the back of a boy's shirt in Amarillo. It read: "Will the last person to leave Amarillo, please turn off the lights."

Well now, what are going to do with something like that? I mean, after all, what kind of a situation would lead that far?...

Just the other day I noted a roadside ad that must have been striking back at the slogan about turning off the lights because it directed our attention to the fact that the "lights" of Amarillo would never go out...You know, they might need some closer supervision, over there.

We seem to be in a slogan-labeling world. They are not always so helpful--I haven't seen a single name of a car on a model that I wasn't sure of...Those that I know are the only ones I've ever seen with their name on the rear fender.

Sloganism has even spilled into the arena of religious publicity now with such things as "One Way", "Smile, God Loves You", "Have A Nice Eternity", "Things Go Bstter With Prayer", and so on....

We live in a slogan-minded day and it does bring some humor and joy into our lives--but my concern often pops up on not so much about the slogan we wear or present as much as who we really are inside that slogan--

Let me see if I can't sloganize that one:

Outside slogans come and go
Their humor we often see,
But Brother, the one that really counts
Is the one you try to be...

Well, what did you expect?...

Survivors, besides the parents, include two brothers, Frank, who is serving in the United States Marines, and Ronnie of Barstow, California; and the grandmother, Mrs. Irene Evans of Fort Worth.

Burial was in Bovina Cemetery under direction of Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home.

Buckner Services Held Here Wednesday

Funeral services for Geneva May Buckner, 808 West Sixth, were conducted from Friona United Methodist Church at 3 p.m. Wednesday with Rev. Bill Watson, Amarillo, and Rev. Albert Lindley, local pastor, officiating.

Mrs. Buckner, who was born in Wise County March 29, 1904 died at Parmer County Community Hospital at 5:45 p.m. Monday following a long illness.

Survivors, besides her husband Hugh, include one son, Clifford Buckner, Muleshoe; four sisters, Mrs. Floy Calhoun, Terrell, Mrs. Inell Koontz, Littlefield, Mrs. Inez Stafford, Taylor, Texas, and Mrs. Hattie Harrell, Clinton, Oklahoma.

Also two brothers, Fred Richmond of Pleasanton, Texas, and Jim Richmond of Park, Springs, Texas; and three grandchildren.

Mrs. Bertha Barr Dies Here Sunday

Mrs. Bertha Louise Barr of Dallas, who had been a patient at Parmer County Community Hospital several weeks died at 8:15 p.m. Sunday. She was born June 4, 1896, and came to Friona from Dallas about one month ago.

Survivors include two brothers, Charles A. Myers Sr., Friona, and Otha Myers, Ontario, Canada; one sister, Mrs. Forrest Adams, Savannah, Tennessee.

The body was taken to Dallas by Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home.

Dorothy L. York Buried In Arizona

Funeral services for Mrs. Dorothy L. York, 53 of Prescott, Arizona, were conducted in Memory Chapel there at 10 a.m., Wednesday, August 16.

Mrs. York died in Yavapai Community Hospital following an automobile accident near her home.

She is survived by her husband, Layton; two sons, Fred and Phillip York, both of Prescott; one daughter, Mrs. Virginia Coats of Fountain Valley, California; and six sisters.

Two of her sisters live in our area. They are Mrs. M.T. Hukill of Friona and Mrs. Henry Bass of Muleshoe. The others are Mrs. Lillian Teague, Odessa, Mrs. Marie Zurich, Fort Walton Beach, Florida, Mrs. Carry Lou Richards, Lubbock, and Mrs. Patty Rogers of Dallas.

Mrs. Ed Clark of Friona, Mrs. Charlene Farley of Lubbock and Mrs. Melvin Griffin of Muleshoe, were nieces of Mrs. York.

Burial was in Mountain View Cemetery near Prescott.

Whenever you're away from home, even on short trips, it makes sense to carry most of your ready money in the form of travelers checks, which are quickly refunded if lost or stolen. Sold by most banks, First National City Travelers Checks can be used in millions of places and may be refunded at more than 30,000 banking offices all over the world—many more than are at the disposal of any other kind of travelers check.

"Our New Car - - Wrecked?"

The increase in auto traffic causes more frequent accidents. Higher hospital and medical charges - costlier auto repairs - higher injury awards - all are forcing up the auto insurance rates. Sober, safer, more courteous driving can reverse this expensive and destructive trend.

 General Election November 7, 1972

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
 Section 1. That Article VIII, Section 1-b, of the Texas Constitution, be amended to read as follows:
 "Section 1-b. (a) Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed taxable value of all residence homesteads as now defined by law shall be exempt from all taxation for all State purposes.
 (b) From and after January 1, 1973, the governing body of any county, city, town, school district, or other political subdivision of the State may exempt by its own action not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or older from all ad valorem taxes thereafter levied by the political subdivision. As an alternative, upon receipt of a petition signed by twenty percent (20%) of the voters who voted in the last preceding election held by the political subdivision, the governing body of the subdivision shall call an election to determine by majority vote whether an amount not less than Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000) as provided in the petition, of the assessed value of residence homesteads of persons sixty-five (65) years of age or over shall be exempt from ad valorem taxes under certain conditions."

Your Just Desserts

The expression "I scream, you scream, we all scream for ice cream" is hardly a "scoop." It would be a mistake, however, to say that it cuts no ice, especially when it's dished out in Caramel Ice Cream Baskets.

The baskets are made of chow mein noodles... ideal for the homemaker who wants to use her own "noodle" in serving this frozen asset. Guests, who'll each have a ball, will be carried away by the caramel flavor.

CARAMEL ICE CREAM BASKETS

- 7/8 cup (2 bars - regular size) coarsely chopped Peter Paul Power House bars
- 2 teaspoons milk
- 1 can (3 oz.) chow mein noodles
- Ice Cream

Combine candy bars and milk in glass measuring cup or small saucepan. Heat in pan of hot water until candy is completely melted. Stir frequently. Combine melted candy with chow mein noodles. Mix until noodles are evenly coated.

Spoon noodle mixture into 6 (6 oz.) buttered custard cups. Keeping the fingers well buttered, press the noodles into the bottom and about half way up the sides of the cups to form a basket.

Let stand at room temperature 1-2 hours until hardened. Remove from custard cups by running a knife around the edge. Fill centers with ice cream. Serve immediately.

Yield: 6 servings.

HAY FEVER FACTS

All the pollen produced each season by ragweed plants when piled together would form a pyramid as high as a 50-story office building. Wind pollination is the greatest cause of hay fever. Pollen known to have come from Alaska has been deposited in Washington and Oregon. Some 250,000 persons lose a week or more from work or school because of hay fever. Antihistamines usually give temporary relief of major hay fever symptoms. A nasal spray such as NTZ is often recommended rather than a tablet. Antihistamines should be used as directed.

Hay fever should not be neglected. A physician should be consulted. Hay fever can result in impairment of hearing, infections of the ears, sinuses, or even bronchial asthma. Summer allergies can be caused by many things besides ragweed - including moth scales, fragments of algae and insect droppings.

LED CATTLE RESEARCH

Electric Co. Plays Vital Role In "Cattle Country"

One of the reasons this area has become "Cattle Country, USA" is the agricultural development program of the Southwestern Public Service Company.

Working with the farm and ranch leaders of the High Plains, many of them from the Friona area, Sam Thomas, manager of agriculture development for the electric company, preached the gospel of added value. It didn't make sense to Sam to ship our grain out of the area at the same time that we shipped our range cattle out of the area to be fed and finished in other sections of the country.

It's not unusual, of course, that the electric company should have been looking for ways to add to the economy of its service area. The relationship between a utility company and its service area is not unlike the relationship in a marriage. The utility is wedded to the area, so to speak. It can't pick up its plants and poles and transformers and trucks and move someplace else when things are not going so well. The grass may look greener on the other side of the fence, but the utility can't move across the fence. It has to join with other community leaders to help get some of the grass to grow over on its side.

That's one of the reasons that the Public Service Company had a study made to determine what industries best fit the resources of this region and why they are now actively wooing the companies that are in those target industries, with the hope of bringing them to the Top of the Southwest and "Cattle Country, USA." Meanwhile, back in Friona, the business at hand is to provide the best possible electric service at the lowest possible cost.

To borrow a railroading phrase, Friona is on the "main line" as far as electric service is concerned. It's located on a 115,000 volt transmission highway that can bring electricity into the community over two different routes. In addition, there are substations at Friona and Bovina that serve as backstops for each other in the event the main electrical roads are closed.

That doesn't happen often, though, and the reliability record for the electric company is .99997. That means that 99.97% of the time their customers flipped the switch, they found Reddy was ready. Incidentally, if you were a shortstop on a baseball team, you could make only three errors in 1000,000 chances to have an average of .99997.

Hank Outland has been the company's manager in Friona for 21 years, lending a hand here and one there to help with community activities. Curtis Butler, who celebrated his 20th anniversary with the company this year, has been the serviceman since the fall of 1970, and he, too, practices the good citizenship that is part of the company's code of operations. Ouida Jones runs the office, and Hank and Curtis, too, for that matter, and her family has a long history in the region.

Because of its close relationship with its service area, the Public Service Company is concerned with conservation of its resources. It uses sewage effluent for cooling water at two of its major power plants and saves 6,000,000 gallons of fresh water a day. And it has three plants where either fuel or steam are reused to capture as much heat as possible from the fuel.

Speaking of fuel, the fuel of the future might well be seawater. It would actually be the heavy hydrogen in seawater. Southwestern and 9 other investor-owned electric companies in Texas are working on thermonuclear fusion - controlling the reaction that takes place in the explosion of a hydrogen bomb. It's the cleanest form of nuclear power; and, if you had a child's pail full of seawater, you'd have enough fuel to provide the heat for all the electric power you use at your home in a year. And there aren't going to be any seawater shortages, either.

Southwestern has increased the number of customers it serves in Friona by nearly 50% in the last decade. The company, with its operating headquarters in Amarillo, serves more than 230,000 customers in a 45,000 - square mile area that starts in the southwest corner of Kansas, crosses the Oklahoma and Texas Panhandles, moves down onto the South Plains and then swings westward to include the Clovis-Portales and Pecos Valley regions of New Mexico.

SPOTLIGHT ON Education

AVOID THESE COMMON BACK TO SCHOOL PROBLEMS

How times have changed. Years ago, when you went to kindergarten, you probably spent most of your classroom hours playing with toys. Many of today's kindergartners, however, are not only learning their A,B,C's, but how to add and subtract as well!

Yet, because today's kids are learning more and faster than we ever did, they're also faced with problems in school that we never faced. Here, then, is a list of contemporary pitfalls, and how you can help your children to effectively avoid them.

1. Society's outcast. That's what your child will become if you don't let him dress like the other kids. So for the sake of his peer group acceptance and better grades, let him have a hand in selecting his clothes.

2. Homework hater. There are many ways to discourage a child from doing his homework assignments properly. One of the worst things you can do is to make him buckle down right after school, because he needs that time to unwind and relax. It's a much better idea to set up regular homework hours after he's loosened up and had a good dinner.

3. Sick and tired. Because today's kids do so much, and at such a fast pace, they seem especially prone to illness and fatigue. Be sure, then, to get them to bed at a reasonable time, and to instruct them in the facts of personal hygiene. One good way to start is to have them become regular users of Tinctin cream or powder. These fungus-fighters are often recommended by doctors to prevent and kill most athlete's foot infection.

4. Poor timing. Educational surveys indicate that it's best to have your child study his difficult subjects before his easy ones. And that's because intense concentration on a difficult subject tends to make a child forget lots of the other things he's already studied.

5. No incentive. The greatest gift you can give your child is your own incentive-inspiring approval of his scholastic efforts.

You'll find that with just a little bit of your sincere recognition, he'll go far as a student, and even farther as a person.

DISPLAY TROPHY...Joan Pankra, left, and Donna Rector proudly display the first place trophy won by the Friona Riding Club at the Bull Town Days parade at Bovina last week. Some 25 members of the club took part in the parade. The group plans to ride at Littlefield this Saturday. Joan is the club sweetheart, and Donna is the club queen.

FALL BAGGIES — There's nothing uptight about fall's new trouser styles. In Stevens cotton corduroy, these fit snugly over the hips and then hang wide and loose-legged. They're designed by A. Smile. Topside, the look is layer-on-layer.

THURSDAY

Scrimmage Offers Chiefs Action

"There are still a couple of positions that are question marks to us. The scrimmage will go a long way toward answering these questions," Owen says.

The varsity gained a couple of players, and lost a couple with the beginning of school. Louis Lee and Henry Graves reported to the team, although Lee has not as yet received doctors' clearance to play. He may miss the scrimmage on Thursday.

Line prospects C. B. Looper (204) and Gerall Wyly (180) decided to quit the sport, and this was frustrating to Coach Owen, since both had good potential. Wyly particularly had been given a good chance to play on the starting team, because of the loss of Gary Land because of a kidney operation.

The Friona Chieftain football team for 1972 will get their first taste of game conditions Thursday evening, when they travel to Boys Ranch for a scrimmage session which begins at 7 p.m.

The scrimmage will be for the varsity and freshmen. The B-team will have a scrimmage game on Friday at Amherst, against the Amherst varsity, beginning at 7 p.m.

Coach Bob Owen says the scrimmage sessions could answer a lot of questions which he and the coaching staff has about the team.

But Owen said the squad's attitude remained "tops." He said "In their minds, they are going to be winners, and this means a lot."

Owen praised the favorable article published about the team this week in the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, calling it a big boost to the players' ego.

"Sometimes we coaches don't like to be picked high in district, but I don't mind it. This seems to help the kids to know they are rated high. It has been a good morale booster," he said.

Owen said that the contact work, which began last Friday, was coming along pretty well. "We sort of had to start over, after the four days of working out in shorts," the Chieftain coach commented.

A second scrimmage game for the varsity has been scheduled for Friday, September 1 here against Canyon.

A total of 41 prospects for the freshman team have reported, with another two or three expected. This is almost as many players as is out for the varsity, and causes Owen to smile in anticipation.

"The freshmen are not only big in numbers, but there are some good-sized players on the squad," he said, hinting of more good potential for future years.

The Chiefs open their 1972 schedule on September 8 against rival Farwell on the Steers' home field.

WIN 4 EVENTS

Cyclists Win Honors At Bull Town

Friona cyclists made a great showing in the motorcycle competition held last week as a part of Bovina's Bull Town Days Celebration, winning four of the six races held.

Glenn Adkins, riding a Hodaka, won the mini-man division, with Doug Norwood, on a Suzuki placing third.

Dan Adkins, riding a Honda, won the micro-mini class, and Rocky Lyons, also on a Hodaka, was the winner in the 100 cc division. Mike Ellis, riding a Bulltaco, won the 125 cc competition.

Others from Friona who competed included Blayne Baxter and Randy Melton. Baxter was running second in his class at the start of the flag lap, when a freak spark plug malfunction knocked him out of the finish.

About 58 riders took part in the race, from as far away as Amarillo, Portales and Roswell, N.M. A large crowd of spectators also turned out for the event.

Jr. Hi Band

To Change Dress Style

The Friona Junior High School Band is changing uniforms this year. All band members will wear white shirts, white trousers, white shoes and white socks, along with the traditional red blazers and black cross-ties.

Local merchants have been consulted and have ample stocks on hand. Junior High band students will receive a letter on the first day of school giving detailed information about the items they will need before the Maize Days parade.

City Youngster Meets Dallas Cowboys Stars

Johnny Jarecki, 12 year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Florian Jarecki of Friona, had a big week in Dallas last week, one he's not likely to forget for awhile.

Visiting his sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Johnson, on Wednesday and Thursday, Johnny was able to watch the Dallas Cowboys work out—something few people get the chance to do.

Thursday, he was privileged to talk to some of the players, had his picture made with Bob Lilly and Craig Morton, and received an autographed football from the Cowboy organization.

Thursday and Friday nights, Johnny saw two major league baseball games, between the Texas Rangers and New York Yankees, in which the Rangers knocked off the penant-contending Yankees once.

Young Jarecki, who is a seventh grader at Friona Junior High, had some things to tell his friends when school started this week.

Horseowners should keep their animals off of sorghum-sudan pastures due to a disease called "sorghum cystitis." Freshly cut sorghum-sudan hay will also bring on the condition.

All age horses may be affected but the condition appears to be more serious in younger animals. A number of cases have been reported recently by Dr. William Romane who heads up the large animal clinic at Texas A&M University's College of Veterinary Medicine.

The first signs usually are incoordination of the rear legs. In about half the horses observed this was followed by involuntary discharge of urine. Thus, mares may show hair loss on the inner part of the hind legs due to urine scalding. Geldings may have a loss of hair on the belly. In either case, the urine drip may be continuous and may become intense if the horse moves suddenly. The condition may also cause mares to abort.

Sorghum cystitis occurs most frequently during times of medium to high rainfall, usually from June to November. It occurs mainly when horses feed on fast fresh growth of sorghum-sudan hybrids, sorghum grazer and Johnson grass. Uncured or improperly cured hay from these grasses also causes the illness. However, horses eating well-cured hay from these three forages have not been affected. Also, no cases have been reported after the first frost.

There is no cure for the condition once the horse has it. Several treatments have been used with little success. However, when affected animals are removed from the pasture and fed a balanced ration, they usually improve somewhat.

The urine discharge and incoordination have been observed in some horses for as long as three years.

If ornamental plants around your home are yellowing between the leaf veins, iron deficiency in the soil is the likely problem.

Iron deficiency causes leaves of ornamental plants to become light green, yellow or white between the veins. Iron chlorosis, as the condition is called, also causes the needles or scales of conifers to turn yellow. The more severe the deficiency, the paler the color. In extreme cases, the plant turns brown and eventually dies.

Even though soil may contain sufficient iron, high PH or excess lime in the soil may prevent the iron from being available to plants.

When iron is deficient, iron chelates or organic compounds containing a soluble form of iron may be applied to the soil or plants. Ferrous sulfate, also called copperas, is one such organic compound. These supplemental materials are available at most garden supply stores.

Iron should be applied at the first sign of a deficiency. Iron-containing materials can either be worked into the soil around the base of the plant or be dissolved in water and sprayed onto the foliage. Following the manufacturer's directions and suggested rate of application. In severe cases, plant recovery will be slow following applications.

Soil conditions which block the availability of iron may also have similar effects on other elements. Soil that delivers less than adequate zinc may promote weak terminal growth. This "witches-broom" type growth may be thin and short. Zinc deficiency shows up often in pecan, peach, plum, flowering quince and apple trees as well as in pyracantha.

Plants with zinc deficiency will also have light green to yellow leaves that are small, distorted or puckered. Small dead areas may appear on the leaf margins and fall out to give a jagged appearance.

Zinc sulfate or zinc chelate applied at the manufacturer's recommended rate will correct zinc deficiencies.

Other factors may bring on symptoms in plants similar to those of iron or zinc deficiency. Either over-watering or drought may cause yellowing of foliage of certain plant varieties. Heavy or compacted soils also cause yellowing, as do infestations of mites or leafhoppers. Insect infestations actually give a plant the appearance of iron chlorosis. For these reasons, examine the plant carefully for things that might be causing the discoloration before buying.

World Champions 'Drive Friendly'

Dallas Cowboy teammates Bob Hayes and Bob Lilly have come across with a pair of TDs for the Governor's Committee on Traffic Safety. Hayes, the fleet wide receiver around whom the entire Cowboy receiving corps is built, and Lilly, the six-time All-Pro who's been with Dallas for all of his pro career, scored with public service announcements for the "Drive Friendly" program. The recorded messages were recently released to all radio stations in Texas.

Advocates of organic foods claim that these foods help cure diseases and increase one's life span.

Not so, according to foods and nutrition specialist for the Extension Service.

Some organic food enthusiasts say that these foods are nutritionally superior, better tasting and safer because they're free from the 'poison' of chemical fertilizers and toxic sprays, but these claims are false.

A plant's genetic make-up determines its food value. And the U.S. Department of Agriculture reports that there is no proof that fruits and vegetables produced without chemical fertilizers contain more vitamins and minerals.

This means, that there can be no difference in the nutritional value of plants grown with chemical fertilizers and those grown with organic fertilizers. If pesticides aren't used, insects and diseases infest crops, thus causing a poor appearance of organic foods as compared to other produce.

Besides looking less glamorous, organic fruits and vegetables usually cost two or three times more than non-organic foods.

Foods aren't 'poisoned' by chemical fertilizers and toxic sprays, as organic food proponents say. Experts continually check produce for its level of pesticide residue. The permissible residue level is well below any amount that might produce undesirable health effects. Markets aren't allowed to sell any food with a chemical residue level that exceeds this permissible mark.

Producers of organic foods use only organic fertilizers such as manure and compost. They also rebuild the soil by a system of long-range crop rotations.

We wish to thank our many friends in the Friona area for allowing us to serve you during the past 17 years. We hope we have warranted the confidence you have shown us. It has been our desire to serve your every need during your time of sorrow. We appreciate your loyalty and friendship. Jay will continue to operate Parmer County Memorial Park (perpetual care cemetery) and Odie will continue to operate Claborn Floral. Some psychologists are now theorizing that children may learn to write better if slates are used instead of paper. Smooth paper, the theory goes, doesn't offer enough writing resistance to a child's awkward attempts, so his writing becomes messy and unreadable. A resulting aversion to writing can lead to difficulties in spelling. A psychological team at the Technical University of Aachen, in the Federal Republic of Germany, has run tests for two years with 150 children. Results suggest that the old fashioned slate and a soft slate pencil facilitate learning considerably!

Two Return From Sightseeing Tour

Mrs. Dick Habbings and Mrs. Evelyn Wendt returned home Monday after completing a tour arranged by Trailways Transportation company.

They were two of a group of 23 who made the tour, which lasted 21 days. The group went to Flagstaff, Las Vegas, Anaheim, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Portland and Seattle.

Then to Victoria and Vancouver in British Columbia, Canada. From Vancouver they went through the Redwood Forests to Banff, Alberta and Lake Louise.

On the return trip they went to Calgary, Alberta, and then into Montana, Wyoming and Colorado.

The farewell banquet was in Denver.

Mrs. Wendt says, "The most interesting things we saw were flowers, trees, ice, Disneyland, the cable cars and everything. It was all such a pleasure I wasn't ready for the trip to end."

MR. AND MRS. VAUGHN WINGFIELD

Nancy Scales Weds Vaughn Wingfield

Nancy Scales, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Scales, and Vaughn Wingfield, son of Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Wingfield, Paris, Arkansas, exchanged wedding vows in the Scales home Saturday afternoon.

Twin candelabra entwined with greenery holding yellow tapers and tied with a yellow satin ribbon bow formed the setting for the ceremony, which was read by Rev. R.C. Hester, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church.

Jonny Cudd of Perryton was maid of honor. She wore a yellow nylon organza formal gown and carried a yellow carnation. Best man was Dan Hudson, also of Paris, Arkansas.

Guests were registered by Mary Scales, sister of the bride.

Candlelighters were Deborah Gibson of Copeland, Kansas, and Brenda Parson of Hereford, both nieces of the bride.

The bride wore a white formal wedding gown of nylon and lace. It was designed with an empire bodice of lace with a sheer round yoke and sheer sleeves. The necklace and cuffs were also of lace.

She carried a cascade bouquet of white carnations and yellow roses tied with white satin ribbon loveknots and streamers.

Carrying out tradition, she borrowed a diamond necklace from one of her sisters, Mrs. Allen Parson and wore a blue garter. She also wore her mother's wedding band and carried a handkerchief, which was given to her by Mrs. Arma Coffman.

The serving table for the reception, which followed the ceremony, was covered with a white lace cloth over yellow and centered with a three tiered cake, which was served with punch, nuts and mints by Mrs. Ruby Barnett, Mrs. D.G. McClellan and Mrs. John Baxter.

Mr. and Mrs. Wingfield left for a wedding trip in Arkansas. They plan to make their home in Fayetteville, Arkansas, where he will be a student at the University of Arkansas.

Out-of-town guests signing the register were Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Wingfield, Paris, Arkansas, parents of the groom; Mrs. Thomas Gibson and children, Ronnie, Deborah and Richard, Copeland, Kansas, and Mr. and Mrs. Allen Parson and children, Dwayne, Brenda and Kimberly, of Hereford.

Mrs. Lee Spring Hosts Annual Party

Mrs. Lee Spring was hostess at a "Back To School Mother's Day" coffee in her home Monday morning. Coffee, tea and assorted nut breads were served by Mrs. Lee Spring and Mrs. Paul Spring.

Others present were Mesdames Bill Ellis, Darrell Simpson, Robert Alexander, Jimmy Mabry, M.C. Osborn, Clarence Monroe, Tom Pruett, Norman Kothman, Buddy Wiseman, Don McManaman, Ray Dean Fleming, Jackie Hight, Richard Adkins and Dale Smith.

Also Mesdames Ron Davenport, Jerry Loflin, Philip Weatherly, George Frye, Glen Her-ring.

Special guests were Mrs. J. T. Gee of Friona and Mrs. James Isaacs of Colorado Springs. Favors were boxes of Kleenex.

The Library Corner
BY MRS. BILL ELLIS

The Library will start Winter Hours on September 5. It will be open on Tuesday and Wednesday afternoons from 1 to 6 p.m., and on Thursday, Friday and Saturday all day from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. except through the noon hour. Post these hours on your bulletin board now before you forget.

The Pre-School Story Hour will begin again on September 14 from 10 to 11 a.m. All children from 3 years to school age are invited to attend. Plan to bring your little ones each Thursday for an hour of stories, games and songs.

The Library Board has reluctantly announced that it must now charge a $5.00 deposit to out-of-county patrons unless the person can offer a local reference. The Library has recently lost several dollars worth of books to some out-of-county residents who have failed to return books. Relatives visiting in homes of local residents would, of course, have an automatic local reference and are welcome to use the Library at any time.

Among the newest books in your Library is one entitled "The Peaceable Kingdom" by DeHartog. This is a fiction novel based on the life of the Quakers.

We also have "Humorous Skits For Young People" by Robert Fontaine which offers a variety of lively dramatic roles and an abundance of entertaining short comedy material. This book could be used for all kinds of club and school work requiring short skits.

For our Mexican readers the Library has "Famous Mexican Americans" by Clarke Nowlon. This book touches on the lives of such famous personalities as Trini Lopez, Lee Trevino, J. N. Plunkett, Anthony Quinn, Cesar Chavez and Pancho Gonzalez.

Beam Club Has Meeting

The Beam Club met at 8 p.m. Saturday in the home of Mrs. Daisy Jameson.

Theme of study was the law of polarity, which is the law of opposites. This study was moderated by Mrs. Jameson.

The next meeting of the club will be in the Community Room of Friona State Bank Sunday, September 3.

Ronnie Altman Home On Leave

1/3 Ronnie Altman arrived in Lubbock Friday for a brief visit with local relatives.

He was met in Lubbock by his wife, the former Sandy Reznik, who has been staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A.L. Reznik, for the past eleven months. The two returned to Friona Sunday and visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hop Lewis.

Other guests in the Lewis home were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Beard and son, Wade, of Amarillo, and Bee Westbrook of Friona.

Seaman Altman has been at sea on the Triple E for eleven months and will return to San Diego Monday. He will be accompanied by his wife.

Rockeys Return

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Rockey returned home Friday from Bryan, Texas, where they attended funeral services for Earl Rockey on Wednesday.

Dick Rockey and Earl Rockey were brothers.

FRIONA INDEPENDENT SCHOOL DISTRICT CERTIFICATION OF AMENDMENT

We certify to the Texas Education Agency that the above-named school district's Free and Reduced Price Lunch Policy Statement, which was approved and adopted for the 1971-72 school year, has been amended to include the below listed eligibility income scale in lieu of the previously adopted scale. We agree to use the income scale indicated below as a criterion for determining the eligibility of students for free and reduced price meals beginning with the 1972-73 school year and thereafter or until subsequently amended. We also affirm that the letter to parents and the notification to the news media have been revised to include the income scale indicated below.

We further certify that the income scale indicated below will also be used to determine the eligibility of students for free and reduced price breakfasts in those schools, if any, in the above-named district which participate in the School Breakfast Program, and that parents and the news media will be informed that students eligible for a free or reduced price lunch will also be eligible for a free or reduced price breakfast in those schools which participate in the School Breakfast Program.

Mankind Will Perish Unless It Accepts Love

Read Ephesians 4:25 - 32

Let judgment run down as waters, and righteousness as a mighty stream. (Amos 5:24)

Meditation prayer

Dear God and Father of mankind, we implore You to set aright our troubled world. We have the capability to produce and consume, but not the will to distribute goods and services to meet the basic needs of every person.

We seek Your guidance to counsel with those who wield power but have neither love nor concern for their fellow-men. We ask You to shore up with courage those who seek to do that which is right in Your sight, who seek to use their knowledge and their productive capacity to bring solace and happiness to mankind.

Teach us how to exist in love and peace and helpfulness--as life rightly ought to be lived. Teach us, Lord, to want to do collectively what is best so that all men may enjoy that peace, inner grace, and harmony now the fortune of so few.

Bestow upon this weary and confused world that divine power of Your love which is yet so far from being reflected in the real world of men and women.

In the spirit of Christ we pray. Amen.

Thought for the day: Unless we accept the way of love, mankind can perish at its own hands.

Reverse Migration:

Solution To Overcrowding, Shortage Of Opportunity

Is America overcrowded? Has it run out of opportunities to offer its growing population?

Definitely not, say a growing number of government, educational and community planning leaders. There's more than enough room for people to live, work and enjoy what is commonly called "the good life."

The problem, it seems, lies in the fact that 70 per cent of all Americans today live on only 2 per cent of the available land. In human terms, this means 142 million people live on only 74,000 square miles out of a total of more than 3 million.

It is little wonder, experts say, that large urban areas are overburdened with problems of air and water pollution, traffic congestion and an endless array of sociological problems.

Over the past 100 years, the nation has shifted from a population base that was 85 per cent rural to one which is now 85 per cent urban. Brighter lights of the city have been an irresistible lure for millions, particularly the young. They have left smaller communities and migrated to already overcrowded urban areas in search of the cultural and business opportunities they couldn't find at home.

Instead of opportunity, a disproportionate number find only welfare and slum housing. They magnify the problem of crowding and poverty that already exists and, instead of the better life, they play a small, but unmistakable, role in a cycle that has the nation once again turning its eyes toward the vast uncrowded areas of the land.

American Trucking Association, the trade association representing the nation's motor carriers, recently brought the growing problem into sharp focus through a booklet and a film, both titled — "The Geography of Survival."

Citing efforts of former Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman, David Rockefeller, Chairman of the Board of Chase Manhattan Bank and numerous other individuals and organizations to come to grips with the problem, the trade association notes that there is general agreement on the solution — the decentralization, or geographic dispersal, of people and industry to achieve a better balance of both America's population and its resources.

In order to carry out such a massive, long-range program, however, three requisites must be met:

"The scope and resources involved demand the strength and backing that only the federal government can supply."

"The many decisions to be made will have to reflect the collective choice of the people who must provide the resources. This will call for full involvement of the nation's business and industrial community."

"Great reliance must be placed upon good highways and a smoothly functioning highway transportation system. Only highway transportation has the flexibility that can make dispersal possible and facilitate the flow of both goods and people that would support such a program."

The concept of population dispersal is not new. In fact, throughout much of the nation's first 100 years, great effort by the federal government was directed toward encouraging people to migrate westward.

The same effort, though for different reasons and under infinitely more complex conditions, has led a Presidential Task Force to declare that — "The great threat that now faces us is that the social and economic ills of the nation's inner cities may worsen and spread over entire urban areas, infecting even the entire national structure, unless we act together with intelligence to prevent it."

As the nation prepares to celebrate the start of its third century, it faces the probability that there will be more than 100 million additional celebrants for the big event.

More than that, we must somehow find space for more than three million new people each year and provide a means of feeding, clothing, housing and educating them, as well as providing them with jobs.

Overcoming these problems and all the other sociological ills that are directly related to the manner in which we have crowded ourselves together, the long-range planners believe, is the greatest of all the challenges of this decade.

It may well be, as ATA has pointed out, that "in meeting it, we will be charting the geography of our survival."

Tips From Mr. Enginuity

Five Ways To Handle Summer's Leftovers

Short of living in a climate where trees keep their foliage year-round, falling leaves are as certain as Thanksgiving. How to handle them depends a lot on you and your property.

By far, the most popular method, short of hand raking, is to put an inexpensive blade attachment on your rotary power mower. The mower then acts as a leaf shredder with centrifugal force of the mower blades whisking the leaves into your catcher, or if you prefer, dropping the shreds back to the ground as a winter frost cover.

There are also power sweepers which use a rotating brush (much like street sweepers) to sweep whole leaves back into a catcher as the sweeper proceeds across the lawn. These are neat and efficient and particularly adaptable to medium sized lawns with few tight spots. Since the leaves are left whole, it is well to choose a model with a large catcher to cut down on the number of times the catcher must be emptied.

Next on the list is the lawn vacuum — that's right, vacuum. This is usually a push-type unit with a wide nozzle on the front. The vacuum works much like your house vacuum. The nozzle sucks in every leaf it passes over with the blower forcing the leaves into very large catcher bags. The force of the blower tends to compress the leaves in the bag so it has to be emptied less often. An advantage of the vacuum is its ability to suck leaves from under shrubs and tight corners. Certain models even have hose attachments to clean garages and workshops.

Just the opposite from the vacuum is the blower. These units are capable of creating winds of almost hurricane force to blow leaves across the lawn at each pass. Equipped with throttle controls to vary the wind velocity, the blower can pile leaves as neatly as you can with a hand rake.

If you're a gardener, you might team up one of the units above with a shredder that grinds and pulverizes leaves, sticks, stalks, trimmings, vines. Mix in some manure and/or rock phosphate and you're making your own plant fertilizer. These units roll between garden rows or next to plant borders and flower beds to put your compost where it's needed.

Use of any of the units listed here tends to create a good deal of dust since leaves are best handled when they are dry. The dust tends to rob the unit's engine of power and can even clog the blower housing air intake and carburetor to the point of engine failure. It's best to choose a leaf unit with a highly efficient air cleaner such as Tecumseh's Klean-Aire(TM) filter. The Klean-Aire(TM) filter features a snorkel intake which rises above dust and leaf bits to draw in clean air. Inside the blower housing, left over dirt is whisked away as the pre-filtered air flows thru the double thick oil saturated final filter to form a perfect gas air mixture in the Tecumseh engine.
