Looted District Gets Tons Of Relief Food

Deluge Soaks Midland Area; Winds Fierce

By The Associated Press

Wild weather battered parts of West Texas during the night as scattered thundershowers in the eastern portion of the state dissipated.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said Midland was soaked with 2.09 inches of rain from a thunderstorm that churned winds of 70-80 miles an hour.

Two persons were seriously injured when high wind blew away their trailer house three miles southwest of Midland about 10 p.m. Sunday. Hospitalized were Frank Miles, 67, and his wife, Emma, 65.

TOPPLES ANTENNA

Gusts also wrenched a room off the N. C. Harris house nearby, and toppled an oil field communications antenna across the Garden City highway in southeast Midland.

The Weather Bureau said a tornado was sighted 20 miles northwest of Beeville in South Texas but no damage was reported.

A heavy downpour also hit Alpine, in the Big Bend country of far West Texas. Surging waters from the 1.25-inch fall burst a diversion dam southeast of the city and at least three homes were reported to have been flooded near Moss Creek.

MINOR FLOODING

Minor flooding was reported at Andrews from rains measuring 1.20 inches. Up to three inches of moisture fell in the city Saturday.

Scattered afternoon and evening showers were forecast for the state through Tuesday. High temperatures Sunday ranged from 79 degrees at Lubbock to 103 at Presidio.

Private With Viet Orders On Hunger Strike

FT. BENNING, Ga. (AP) — An Army private on a hunger strike protesting his assignment to Viet Nam will face the choice of disobeying an order to eat or breaking his fast, an Army spokesman said today.

PFC Winstel Belton, 26-year-old Negro, from Milwaukee, says he has been watched closely and that it is known he has not eaten since Friday.

Belton arrived Wednesday at Benning from Ft. Hood, Tex., and must meet certain requirements, including physical proficiency tests, the Army said. He is scheduled to leave Wednesday for Viet Nam.

Cong Blow Up S. Vietnamese Police Center

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—While two girl accomplices engaged a guard in conversation, Viet Cong terrorists drove a jeep and a car loaded with explosives into South Viet Nam's national police headquarters today and blew up several buildings.

Four policemen were killed by the blast and terrorist gunfire, reliable sources said. About 20 persons were wounded, including possibly six Americans, the sources said.

The terrorists escaped under cover of machine gun fire from two other cars outside the police compound. A police guard claimed he hit one of the escaping men.

The explosion seriously damaged the home of the director of the national police, Col. Pham Van Lieu. The headquarters consists of three buildings in a block - long complex of police buildings. Col. Lieu's home is next to the headquarters.

U.S. sources said the attack was probably carried out because of increased police activity in the Saigon area in recent months. U.S. authorities have been making a determined effort to increase the effectiveness of the police force, and the program has been paying off, the sources said.

Disregard Of Laws Deplored

JOHNSON CITY, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson has expressed relief at the easing of the Los Angeles riots and declared "there is no greater wrong, in our democracy, than violent, willful disregard of law."

In a statement issued Sunday, he said the riots stemmed from a national problem — "unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows."

In Washington, Republican House Leader Gerald R. Ford Jr. of Michigan expressed similar sentiments, saying: "These problems are not going to be solved tonight or tomorrow or the next day. Instead of trying to blame any political party, we ought to get to work to solve these problems."

"BETTER SPIRIT"

Ford, appearing on the CBS radio and television program "Face the Nation" was asked to comment on a statement by Rep. Prentiss L. Walker, R-Mass., that Los Angeles could blame President Johnson and his "Great Society" for the riots.

Ford said one part of the answer is a "better spirit among people of all races and more effective law enforcement on a local level."

PRINCIPLES BREACHED

President Johnson said the riots are not simply a symbol of what can happen elsewhere, declaring: "It is also that the Los Angeles disorders flow from a violent breach of rooted American principles."

He said "if men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and allowed them to enlarge those lives.

Violence Spreads

Violence which started last week in the Negro Watts area of Los Angeles spread out today in a wide area around the city, to San Bernardino eastward and to San Diego in the south. The underlined cities were those affected. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

Violence Spreads In S. California

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comparative calm settled over the city's troop-encircled Negro riot zone today after a wild night in which violence spread for the first time to other Southern California cities.

At midmorning Police Inspector J. K. McCauley said: "This is by far the best day yet."

His headquarters in South Los Angeles received a few reports of shootings and lootings but there were no massing of mobs and no arrests, he said.

After five straight nights of rioting by uncounted thousands of Negroes, police removed most of the barricades in a 42-square mile "unsafe" zone and this morning residents moved about freely for the first time since Wednesday night.

As relief authorities moved three tons of food into the burned and looted district, police and 15,000 massed national guardsmen kept close watch for possible renewal of sniping and fire-bombing in all-white areas.

A high-ranking police officer said the attacks Sunday night and early today seemed "planned and organized." He didn't say by whom.

The death toll stood at 32.
Injured 809.
Arrested 2,760.

The Los Angeles Fire Department said fire damaged totaled more than $175 million.

Additional millions were lost in looting.

After five days of senseless and seemingly spontaneous shooting, burning and pillaging, peace seemed near at dusk Sunday.

VIOLENCE RENEWED

Then, with the dark, came spreading violence:

—Negroes rioted in a Negro section of Long Beach, 15 miles south of the old riot center at Watts. Long Beach officer Richard Lefebre, 23, was mortally wounded by a shotgun blast.

—Gunmen, identifed by witnesses as Negroes, shot at homes in all-white Sylmar in the San Fernando Valley.

—Firebombs flared on Hollywood Boulevard in Hollywood, and lumberyards were set afire in Wilmington, at the harbor, and near downtown Los Angeles.

—In San Diego, 120 miles south, Negroes rioted through a 30-block area. A white man was stabbed. Three stores were set afire.

NINE CAPTURED

—In suburban Van Nuys a warehouse burned, police captured nine Negro men and shot and wounded a Negro woman.

—In San Bernardino, 60 miles east of Los Angeles, milling Negroes smashed windows at a drive-in restaurant, but dispersed swiftly when police arrived.

—Police arrested a Negro who tried to set fire to an apartment house in Hollywood.

Although police couldn't halt the sporadic attacks, they claimed virtual control over the Negro section where rioting first erupted six days ago. The first incident: an arrest of a Negro drunken driving suspect by white police. Thousands of rioting Negroes drove police from Watts.

Guardsmen from the California 40th and 49th National Guard Armored Divisions began to tip the scales Saturday night after Lt. Gov. Glenn Anderson, acting in the absence of Gov. Edmund G. Brown, declared a state of insurrection.

TOURS AREA

Brown cut short his European vacation, returned here, and Sunday toured a Watts area subdued by more than 14,000 guardsmen and 1,000 police—but still ringing with bursts of sniper fire.

Brown's party turned back just short of an area where gunfire blazed.

In every Southern California community with big Negro populations tension mounted, crowds gathered, and police added extra crews.

WHITES ARMED

The terror in the streets caused a rush among white citizens to arm themselves. Homeowners with guns watched through the night in countless homes.

Among the acts of violence:

—A 47-year-old Negro woman's legs were "almost cut off" Sunday by a burst of 20 rounds from a National Guard machine gun at a Watts roadblock. Guardsmen said she refused to halt. Police said her car held a dozen homemade fire bombs.

—A two-story apartment building in a white section in the harbor district was set afire Sunday night by a gasoline bomb. Police and firemen controlled it.

—A hidden gunman fired at cars on the Golden State Freeway Sunday night in Los Angeles. When police got there he was gone.

"We know some of the terrorists are sneaking out of the Watts area," said a high police official. "We stopped cars of men heading toward white sections from Watts with loads of gasoline bombs."

Inside the military perimeter thrown around the Negro section by guardsmen, shortages developed.

Whole blocks of businesses were looted and burned by pillaging mobs—among them many drug stores and markets.

Rains, Some Hail Breaks Up Drouth

Rains, ranging from half an inch upward to two inches accompanied in the Lomax and Knott communities by damaging hail storms, brought a temporary end to the current summer drouth over the weekend.

In the Lomax area, rains of 1.5 inches fell, but heavy hail battered cotton badly in some fields. There were reports from 9 or 10 farms where the loss would be extremely heavy.

Around Knott, according to reports, rain of 1.30 to 1.5 inches fell. The hail was heavy, but apparently not as devastating as that which hit Lomax or as bad as the storm which hammered Luther Community last Thursday.

Farmers at Knott said that the crops hit by the hail would probably rally some and that a total loss would not occur.

Ackerly had no hail, but had from 1.10 to 1.50 inches of rain. Seven miles northeast of Ackerly, an inch fell.

Fairview north of Big Spring, had an inch.

Here in town, the official gauge at the U. S. Experiment station showed half an inch, but other gauges in town reported .60 to .75 inch.

Northeast of town, L. J. Davidson reported .8 inch rain and no hail.

Most of Sunday was marked by a continuous drizzle. This aggregated better than half an inch. In some sections of the county, rains around midnight Sunday added to the total acquired during the day. It was at this time the hail storms peppered down on Lomax and Knott.

Elbow had an inch of rain and no hail.

Chalk, in the extreme southeast corner of the county, had half an inch of rain. The Texas Electric Service Company switch plant gauged .49 inch in town.

Twelve miles north and west of town, an inch of rain fell Sunday and additional .9 inch Sunday night. Three miles north of Luther, there was a report of 1.2 inches rain and the Roman farm, near Knott, had a total for the storm of better than 1.7 inch.

Lake J. B. Thomas' elevation was 2241.04 feet Saturday. Rainfall at the dam was .6 inch and .90 at the Big Spring intake. An inch was gauged at Morgan Creek station and half an inch north of Big Spring.

Two Astronauts Winding Up Training For 8-Day Flight

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — Astronauts L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Charles Conrad Jr. plunged today into the final phases of training for their eight-day space journey scheduled to start Thursday.

The two astronauts took their first day off in several weeks and relaxed with sports Sunday.

GOLF LINKS

Cooper and astronaut Donald Slayton bobbed in a small boat in the Atlantic off Cape Kennedy and reported catching several fish. They said they hooked three sharks, but all escaped.

Conrad and astronaut Neil Armstrong took to the golf links at Port Malabar, about 40 miles from Cape Kennedy. Their scores were not reported. Armstrong and Elliott See are backup pilots for the upcoming Gemini 5 mission.

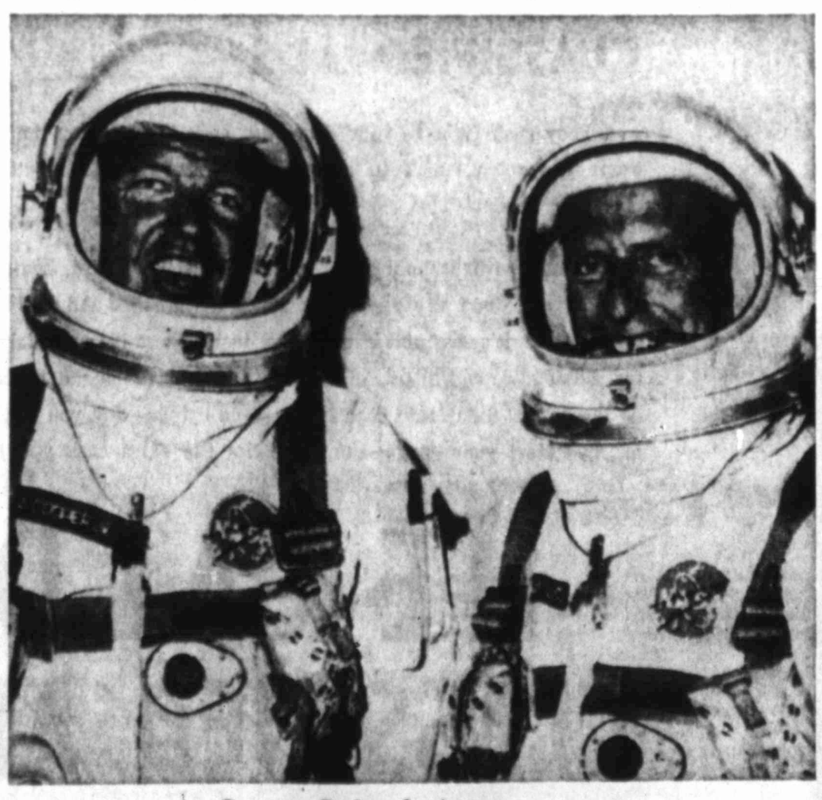

Cooper, an Air Force lieutenant colonel, and Conrad, a Navy lieutenant commander, today returned to the long hours of rehearsal for their flight, the longest yet planned by man.

It will equal the time planned for the first U.S. manned lunar landing trip. Medical experts hope the flight will erase any lingering doubts that man will be able to survive long enough in space to rocket to the moon and back.

INITIAL RENDEZVOUS

Early in the flight, the astronauts are to attempt man's first rendezvous with another satellite. They will launch their own satellite from the spacecraft, back about 52 miles away from it and then use radar and other electronic aids to try to close within 20 feet of it.

It will be a major test for the Gemini 6 flight scheduled in October during which an attempt will be made to rendezvous and link up with another satellite which will be launched by another rocket.

Fight Pushed On Two Bills

WASHINGTON (AP) — Republicans in Congress are set to fire both barrels this week at President Johnson's antipoverty program and his farm bill.

The Senate opens debate today on the $1.65 - billion bill which would provide funds to continue Johnson's antipoverty program for a second year.

Tuesday the House will take up still another controversial measure, the omnibus farm bill with its strongly disputed plan aimed at increasing the income of wheat farmers.

Despite Republican opposition, Senate Democratic leaders predicted the poverty legislation will clear their branch handily, perhaps Tuesday.

The House plans to devote three days to the farm bill. The measure's managers reportedly are at work at some last-minute revisions designed to soften the opposition.

The biggest floor battle on the antipoverty bill is expected over the right of governors to veto projects in their states. They have such a right under the present law passed in 1964.

The Senate Labor Committee wrote in a provision which would eliminate the veto on three major types of projects — community action, neighborhood Youths Corps and adult education.

Republican senators have pledged they will try to knock out this provision.

The $1.65-billion authorization for the year ahead in the Senate measure is what Johnson asked except for $150 million added in the Labor Committee for a special program aimed at helping "chronically unemployed poor adult workers with poor employment prospects."

Thant Given New Policy

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Ambassador Arthur J. Goldberg gave Secretary-General U Thant a private preview today of a new U.S. policy designed to break the deadlock over Soviet voting rights in the U.N. General Assembly.

The U.S. envoy flew to New York after a weekend of consultations with Secretary of State Dean Rusk and President Johnson. He reported to the secretary-general this morning and expects to unveil the revised U.S. position publicly this afternoon.

REVERSE STAND

Details of the U.S. plan were closely guarded. But U.N. diplomats said the deadlock could be broken only by a reversal of the U.S. stand that the Russians must pay their overdue peacekeeping assessments or lose their vote in the General Assembly.

Goldberg was scheduled to outline the new policy in the assembly's 33-nation committee on peacekeeping operations. It was to be his first speech as chief U.S. delegate to the United Nations. He and Secretary of State Dean Rusk worked out the final draft of the plan over the weekend.

TOP PRIORITY

The former Supreme Court Justice has given top priority to the U.N. financial crisis since he succeeded the late Adlai E. Stevenson as spokesman for the Johnson administration at the world organization.

The 114-nation body was paralyzed all last winter by the deadlock over Article 19 of the U.N. Charter. This provides that member nations who are two years in arrears in payment of assessments will lose their assembly vote. The Soviet Union, France and 11 other countries are in this category, but a showdown has been averted so far by a no-vote truce.

OPPOSE RETREAT

One of the major problems Goldberg faced was to find a formula for easing the U.S. position without arousing widespread criticism in the United States. Several congressional leaders openly opposed any U.S. retreat. U.N. diplomats, however, insisted that the assembly could not resume full operations unless the United States abandoned its insistence on enforcement of Article 19.

The issue has become mainly a political controversy. The Soviet Union and France contend that the peacekeeping assessments for the Congo and the Middle East U.N. force are illegal because they were levied by the assembly rather than the Security Council. The United States disagrees.

Marines Rough ... And Tender

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of the Navy Paul H. Nitze says U.S. Marines dig wells and bake bread for South Vietnamese villagers as well as fight the Communist Viet Cong guerrillas shooting at them from fortified hamlet houses.

In an interview, Nitze answered questions about the 3rd Marine Amphibious Force (MAF) in the foot-by-foot battle to clear Viet Cong out of the jungle, villages and huts in the zone around the air and naval enclave of Da Nang.

FIRE DESTRUCTION

A controversy has developed over the destruction of Vietnamese houses in fire fights between Marine units and the Viet Cong.

Some of the hamlets, like Cam Ne where hut-burning came into attention, are places that have been converted into actual fortified towns, Nitze said. They must be cleared of the enemy as control of the enclave is expanded toward perimeters.

Places which are used as bases for Viet Cong attacks on military installations or harassment of loyal South Vietnamese are "cleared routinely" by Marines operating in conjunction with South Vietnamese government representatives.

DESTROY FACILITIES

Then Nitze added: "Where neither U.S. nor Vietnamese forces can maintain continuous occupancy it is necessary to destroy those facilities which have been developed by the Viet Cong for their purposes."

What about the two images of the American Marine — the fierce warrior and the benefactor?

Nitze said he believed that the 3rd Marine Force, commanded by Maj. Gen. Lewis W. Walt, "has been eminently successful in its villages pacification program."

Mass Arrests Pose Problem

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A massive legal problem — handling more than 2,000 persons arrested during rioting in South Los Angeles — confronted county and city prosecutors today.

As city and district deputy attorneys worked around the clock to process mountains of formal paperwork, other officials sought out enough judges and court space to try the defendants.

"Arrangements were made to handle this tremendous problem so that several thousand persons can be arraigned and tried," said Dist. Atty. Evelle J. Younger Sunday night.

"And we still must be certain that the cases are tried in a manner which will not deny any individual his constitutional rights and privileges, and will guarantee to each a fair and speedy trial."

Air Disturbance At Sea Watched

MIAMI (AP) — The Weather Bureau said today an easterly wave is developing in the Atlantic east of the Windward Islands. Such a situation sometimes develops into a hurricane.

Aircraft will be sent into the area Tuesday. The bureau said pressures were falling and near or a little below normal over most of the tropics.

L.A.'s Usually Bustling Business Hurt By Rioting

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Devastating rioting has taken a heavy toll of the bustling business life of the West's biggest city.

Losses are likely to climb far into the hundreds of millions of dollars. Conservative estimates placed fire damage alone at $175 million.

Violence has destroyed hundreds of business establishments.

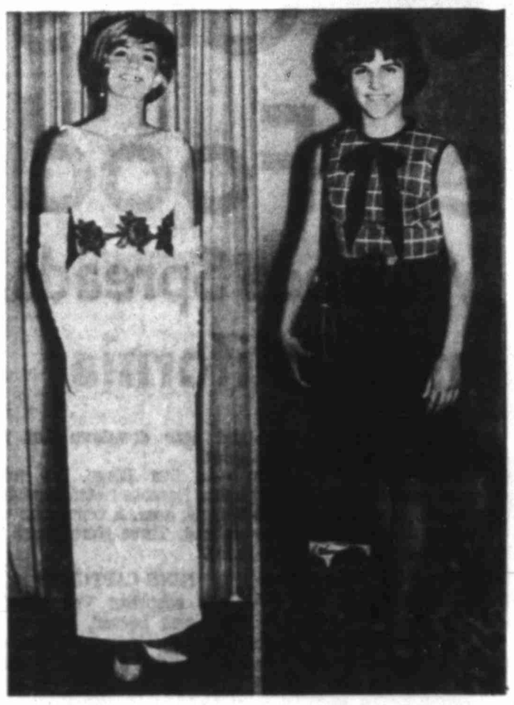

The flow of customers to stores in other areas has been slowed by a curtailed public transportation system and the forced closing of schools and businesses.

The future looked even more bleak for those whose businesses were hit by fire, burglary and looting. An insurance executive said insurance firms probably would not pay their losses.

The executive quoted the state's adjutant general as saying the riots were "armed insurrection." That, he said, isn't covered by the insurance policies.

Dozens of merchants were forced to close because of fire and other damage.

New Fall Styles Seen At Teenage Gathering

CHERYL KASCH ANN GARRETT

More than 300 young people were the guests of Hemphill-Wells Saturday evening for a Teen Party at the Big Spring Country Club that was a combination dance and fashion show.

The Screaming Skulls, a popular combo from Odessa, kept the party a lively one as the youngsters danced the frug, watusi, swim and almost any other current step.

At intermission the group welcomed a showing of fall and winter fashions with narration by Mrs. G. H. Podrasky.

The models, all of whom were having a wonderful time when time came to stop and dress for the show, included Vicki Jones who was particularly striking in a two piece ensemble. The torso belted gold skimmer of textured rayon featured an olive and gold early American printed cotton blouse with cowl collar and long sleeves. She wore textured over-the-knee stockings in beautiful olive. She also wore a shaggy fur-looking three-quarter length coat over black pants and gailey decorated sweater.

Cheryl Kasch wore a red trench coat of water repellent colleon that is also a good wind breaker over a London version of the jumper in a simple red and navy plaid over a big white collar. She chose red stockings with her colorful outfit.

On the formal side, Miss Kasch was striking in a reed slim, long - skirted sheath of snow white crepe. The neckline dipped deep at the back to a pretty bow. The trim babded waistline was accented with embroidered red roses.

HAPPY HOLIDAY

Julia Vaughn looked like a happy holiday in a lightly brushed mohair sweater in jockey red with a touch of bronze crochet trim and little lace-up bow. Her stretch pants were also red in all wool flannel. For her second showing Julia wore a checked hi-rise skimmer with a very British air. The brief sleeveless bodice of navy and burgundy crowned an easy fare burgundy skirt. A poised bow and cowl collar dipped in the back.

Debbie Duncan wore a heather beltless A-line skirt with stretch-top long sleeve turtleneck sweater to match. A perky billed ivory crocheted cap topped the ensemble. She, too, wore heavy textured knee covering stockings. Debbie was also just right in a guardsmen red worsted wool cresscrossed with black. The scoop neck and wrists were black jersey bound.

That popular red came up again when Ann Garrett modeled an oxford cloth skirt with buttondown collar and long sleeves with a camel and red plaid dacron and cotton skirt. Big, bold pockets with red run through belt accented the A-line shaping. Ann also showed a sleeveless sheath of black dacron and cotton rib. It was topped with its own grey and white tweed plaid sleeveless bolero accented with a black organza bow.

WINTER GREEN

A winter green hopsacking A-line skimmer was shown by Nancy Haralson who also wore a pullover sweater with a go-together heather plaid hip pleated skirt.

All the ensembles were completed with appropriate shoes and jewelry.

The young men modeled their fashions in a hurry and one got a quick glimpse of Randy French in his oyster corduroy blazer with black slacks and Richard Cauley showing a tobacco camel flannel blazer with deep patch pockets and gold rimmed buttons and English crest. The slacks were olive and gold iridescent continental style.

Terry Anderson wore a long, tapered Aukland coat in whiskey color corduroy with natural fleecy lining while Mike Shafer modeled a cocoa brown suede cloth stroller coat fully lined with lamb-look acrylic pile. A loden green suede shirt was worn under it with matching casual pants.

A black ski jacket was shown by Larry Jones. Fashioned of nylon, orlon pile and quilted dacron, it was lined for warmth. The standup collar concealed a hideaway hood. His black slacks were worn with a bright plaid shirt.

As a finale the young men showed a dashing arrangement of wool cardigan and pullover type sweaters in tones of brown, olive, gold heather and whiskey.

Chaperones for the evening were Mr. and Mrs. Tippy Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Boren, Mr. and Mrs. Bill French, Mr. and Mrs. Randall Polk, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Hickson, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Knowles, Mr. and Mrs. James Duncan, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Garrett and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Irons.

Bias Cut Dominates Originals

By LOUISE HICKMAN
AP Fashion Writer

ROME (AP) — It's all bias with Princess Irene Galitzine's look for fall and winter — bias, cuts, bias waists, bias details and even a few pairs of bias-stripped stockings.

The clothes she showed in her Rome salon Monday night were contemporary, not futuristic. Galitzine's only concessions to the space age were a few domed helmet caps similar to but smaller than those shown by Pucci in Florence.

The Galitzine look was unadorned almost to the point of starkness. But her soft handling of thick gabardines and matelasses made it lighter and softer than anything seen in the Italian collections to date.

There were no buttons. Collars just wide enough to fold over ringed the collarbone. Cuffs on round, slender - shouldered kimono sleeves were puffy bands.

Galitzine made skirts soft and swinging but not full. Bias seamings on the bias fabrics were almost the only detail on coats and suit jackets.

Galitzine showed several swinging smock dresses, close at the shoulders and curved over the bosom.

Galitzine's boutique collection included backless lycra swimsuits with fluttery bermudas or long slashed skirts that clung to the hips, in matching prints.

Wide-legged wool jersey pants were worn with ring-collared pullover tops. Diagonal patternings distinguished these.

She also showed pants suits in thick plaid gabardines, cut on the bias.

Bridge Winners Told For Games

The Cosden Country Club was the scene for the Sunday afternoon duplicate bridge games. Winners were Joe Steyer and George Pike, first; Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Riley, second; Mrs. Joe Steyer and Mrs. Dan Greenwood, third; and Mrs. Carl Blomshield and Mrs. Ayra McGann, fourth.

Players were reminded of the Winners Game to be played Sept. 26 at the Webb AFB Officers Club. Play begins at 7:30 p.m. It was also announced that there would be a Life Master Point Party in Monahans on Aug. 21. The party will be in honor of Mrs. Holt Eastland, former resident.

OES Group Sets Plans

COAHOMA (SC) — The Past Matrons of the Coahoma chapter of the Order of Eastern Star held their first official meeting Saturday morning at the Highway Cafe.

Mrs. Don McKinney, president, conducted the meeting. Cohostesses were Mrs. Keith Birkhead and Mrs. Earnest Garrett.

The table decorations featured a back-to-school theme, and the individual favors were school supplies.

It was announced that all past matrons of the Coahoma chapter No. 499 were eligible for membership, and that the club plans to meet the first Saturday of each month.

Mrs. DeWitt Shive and Mrs. Carl Bates will be hostesses for the next meeting.

Screaming Skulls

Teenagers take time away from their spectator chores to join in with their version of how the latest styles can be adapted for swingin' tunes. The dance was held Saturday evening at the Big Spring Country Club with Hemphill-Wells as sponsors.

African Ballet Honors Kennedy In New Dance

PARIS—Choreographer Mory Sinkoup is rehearsing the African Ballet Company here in a ballet entitled "Africa Weeps for Kennedy."

As 16 ballerinas dance, they sing: "Oh! Jackie, what can we Africans say now that your husband has been taken from our world? May our angels take him by the hand and conduct him to Paradise."

The choreographer created the ballet because "all colored people owe a debt to John Kennedy, and the best way we Africans have to show homage is to sing and dance."

Experts Advice Is: Be Prepared

When you start making up a recipe, do what professionals do: Place necessary utensils as well as measured ingredients on a tray or cooky sheet.

It's not easily possible to forget important ingredients when they're measured and checked with the recipe. Neither do you have to be interrupted to go shopping for some supplies when you're right in the middle of mixing.

Keep measurements level so that recipes can be duplicated as they were tested.

Teenage Idols Start Hair Fashion Ideas

Sometimes a girl's favorite steady won't tell her she looks a mess. With this in mind, a hair products manufacturer turned to eight top singing and acting males to help set teenagers on the right track.

The fellows bluntly came out against straight hair, wigs and wearing hair rollers in public. They did disagree on their preferences for blonde, brunette or redhead, but all liked teenaged girls neat, well-mannered and well-coiffed.

An old-fashioned young man, Frankie Avalon, said he would like to see more pigtails and fewer towers on the head.

He also believes a girl should change her style frequently and work to improve her over-all looks.

When asked about bangs, especially of the sheepdog variety, actor Mickey Callan said he likes bangs "on Debbie Reynolds and Ringo Starr."

Edd Byrnes, made famous by his attention to his own hair on television, equates shiny, healthy hair with a shiny healthy personality. "After all," he says, "a fellow notices a girl from top to bottom and her hair is literally her crowning glory."

Most cryptic comments from the eight taking part in a fan autograph-photographer promotion were by Peter Brown and Bob Conrad.

Men Take To Cotton For August

The American male is a sport — a sporty fellow who pursues the active, sporting life. And designers of men's wear have taken note of his bent this summer with great, active cottons.

Chief among his favorite activities are the water sports. And there's a veritable sea of new cottons to fit the occasion.

The newest look in swimwear is the surfer trunk — trim, moderately high-rise, pocket in the back — designed to the specifications of the Hawaiian surfing buffs. For sailing there are draw-string shirt-jackets to top the trunks. The favorite fabric is rugged, masculine cotton sailcloth in the brightest of blues and oranges.

The big innovation is lightweight cotton velour tailored into loose, roomy cardigans and pullovers for apres-sailing, apres-tennis, apres-just about anything. Again, the colors are bright and clear, and the cotton's washable.

New sport shirts take on a two-piece look: Collariess cardigan over slipover shirt in textured cotton knits. Slacks are white or near-white in cotton duck, chino or poplin. And they are permanently creased, sharp and straight.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

BY CHARLES H. GOREN
ANSWERS TO BRIDGE QUIZ
(© 1965: By The Chicago Tribune)

Q. 1—Both sides vulnerable. As South you hold:
♠7 ♡A K 9 2 ◇A K 5 2 ♣A 10 9 3
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
Pass	1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠
Dbl.	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Redouble. Despite the fact that you have one spade, the redouble is in order for your high card strength should enable partner to fulfill the contract even with the weakest sort of hand. However, it is not likely that the opponents will leave it in, but you should announce to partner the strength of your hand so that when the adversaries take out to two diamonds or two clubs you will have the next opportunity to speak, and a penalty double should prove highly profitable.

Q. 2—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K 9 2 ♡A 10 9 4 ◇Q 9 3 ♣K 10 6
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
Pass	1 ◇	Pass	1 ♡
1 ♠	Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Two no trump. This is perhaps an overbid by the margin of an eyelash as the hand contains only 12 high card points. However, the hand does have good intermediates and the queen of diamonds is somewhat more impressive than it ordinarily would be by reason of partner's bid in that suit.

Q. 3—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠K J 9 5 2 ♡A 9 5 4 ◇K 9 ♣Q 6
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
1 ♠	Pass	2 ♡	Pass
3 ♡	Pass	4 ♣	Dbl.

What do you bid now?

A.—The strategic call at this point is to pass. Partner has obviously made a cue bid and will not construe your pass as a desire to play clubs inasmuch as you have already supported hearts. He might construe a bid at this point as showing additional values, which you would prefer not to have him do.

Q. 4—As South, both vulnerable, you hold:
♠4 ♡Q J 10 9 7 6 ◇10 8 5 ♣Q 5 4
The bidding has proceeded:

West	North	East	South
1 ♠	Dbl.	3 ♠	?

What do you bid?

A.—At risk of being charged with recklessness, we recommend a bid of four hearts. Tho this hand lacks high card strength, it has the merit of attractive distribution. East has confessed a weak hand and is trying to block you out. If partner's double is sound you are assuming no great risk of injury at this level. If you are punished it will no doubt prove that the loss was sustained in preventing the opponents from scoring a vulnerable game.

Q. 5—East-West vulnerable and as South you hold:
♠K Q 8 2 ♡K Q 9 5 3 ◇6 ♣A 7 3
The bidding has proceeded:

East	South	West	North
1 ◇	Dbl.	Pass	2 ♣
Pass	Pass	2 ♠	Pass
Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Pass. It would not be good policy to contest the auction because partner probably has little or nothing and, furthermore, may have only a four-card suit. You have good defensive values, and your brightest prospect is to pick up a small set.

Q. 6—As South vulnerable you hold:
♠A K 10 7 5 ♡J 6 ◇A K 9 7 4 ♣2
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South	West
1 ♡	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	?

What do you bid now?

A.—Our choice is for a bid of three diamonds, a jump shift. While it is true that two diamonds would be forcing and may be regarded as a proper bid we feel that unless a jump is made at this point it will be more difficult for you to make a manifestation of strength on later rounds.

Q. 7—Neither side vulnerable, as South you hold:
♠Q 8 7 3 ♡Q ◇Q J 10 8 4 3 ♣A 6
The bidding has proceeded:

South	West	North	East
Pass	1 ♡	Dble.	Pass

What do you bid now?

A.—Three diamonds. Especially in view of your previous pass, a jump in response to the double is indicated. This is by no means forcing and, if partner's next bid happens to be three hearts, you may safely bid three spades, which partner will read as a somewhat indifferent four-card suit.

Q. 8—As South, vulnerable, you hold:
♠Q ♡A K Q J 10 5 3 ◇Q 9 5 ♣K 7
The bidding has proceeded:

North	East	South
Pass	Pass	?

What do you bid?

A.—While an opening bid of one heart is technically correct, your own choice would be for four hearts. Any slam possibilities can be ruled out by the fact that partner has already passed, and the preemptive bid will prove very effective if the opponents have a spade hand between them. In any event, partner needs very little for you to bring home 10 tricks.

Robert Kennedy Praises Johnson

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — John F. Kennedy chose Lyndon B. Johnson as his running mate in 1960 because he considered him "the best man to carry on," Sen Robert F. Kennedy, D-N.Y., said Sunday night.

"He's fulfilled all of our hopes since then," said the younger brother of the late president.

Sen. Kennedy, speaking at a Democratic dinner, made no reference to the published account by Arthur M. Schlesinger Jr., historian and assistant to President Kennedy, that the nomination was offered to Johnson as a political gesture in the belief there was "practically no chance Johnson would accept."

The former attorney general cited passage of programs in civil rights, medical assistance for the elderly, and federal aid to elementary and secondary schools under the Johnson administration.

Referring to Kennedy's 1960 primary campaigns in Wisconsin and other states, the New York senator said of the programs' passage:

"All of this has happened because men had a dream and were willing to go to the people and ask for their support on the basis of these programs. President Kennedy was such a man. And he knew that Lyndon Johnson was such a man, that he was committed to these programs, that he shared their dreams, that he was the best man to carry on this fight.

"It was for this reason that President Kennedy wanted Lyndon Johnson to run with him for vice president in 1960."

Science Shrinks Piles New Way Without Surgery Stops Itch—Relieves Pain

New York, N. Y. (Special) — For the first time science has found a new healing substance with the astonishing ability to shrink hemorrhoids, stop itching, and relieve pain — without surgery.

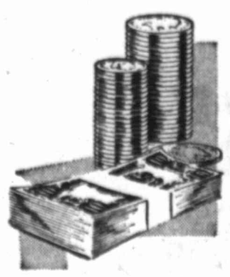

In case after case, while gently relieving pain, actual reduction (shrinkage) took place.

Most amazing of all—results were so thorough that sufferers made astonishing statements like "Piles have ceased to be a problem!"

The secret is a new healing substance (Bio-Dyne®) — discovery of a world-famous research institute.

This substance is now available in suppository or ointment form under the name Preparation H®. At all drug counters.

Twenty-Eight Die Violently Across State

By The Associated Press

Violence in Texas claimed the lives of at least 28 people over the weekend. Fourteen of the victims perished in traffic accidents.

The Associated Press toll began at 6 p.m. Friday and went through midnight Sunday.

The tabulation:

Mrs. Mildred Ann Hurley of Fort Worth was killed Sunday in a two-car accident on rain-slick US 80 near Gordon in Palo Pinto County. Her husband, Frank, and 10-year-old son, Charles, and the two men in the other car, James Durham of Terre Haute, Ind., and Robert McDermott, Pontiac Mich., were injured.

MAN DROWNS

I. H. Amacker, 51, drowned Sunday while swimming in the Neches River about eight miles south of Jasper.

Joe E. Ford, 17, Houston, and Julian Padrom, 21, Iola, were killed Sunday when their car left a farm road 17 miles northeast of Navasota and crashed into a 12-foot deep ditch.

John Raymond Holt, 20, Clute, was killed Sunday when his car overturned while taking a sharp curve on a farm road three miles south of Angleton.

Billy N. Montelongo, 32, was stabbed to death Sunday in Houston. Police charged Salvador H. Cuevas, 42, with assault to murder.

FATAL SKID

Mrs. Wayne Fletcher, 48, of Fort Worth was killed Sunday when the family car skidded on wet pavement, hit another car and careened into a bridge support. Her husband and son, Wayne Jr., 17, were injured.

J. T. Ford, 50, of Fort Worth, died of a gunshot wound in the head Sunday. Justice of the Peace Jim Boorman ruled the death a suicide.

Martin Alvarez, 18, of Victoria, was killed Saturday and Alfred Leslie Phelps, 53, of Mathis, died Sunday of injuries suffered in a three-car pileup near Woodsboro in East Texas.

POLICE CHASE

The Department of Public Safety said one of its patrol units was chasing Alvarez's car when it went out of control and careened into the Phelps' car. One of the cars then crashed into the police patrol car, but neither of the two patrolmen in it was injured, the department said. The three cars burned and were a total loss.

John C. Boyd, 32, of Lancaster, drowned Sunday when he fell from a small fishing boat on Garza-Little Elm Reservoir in Denton County.

A boy and a man from Amarillo drowned Sunday on Lake Meredith near Borger. They were the first drownings at the new lake. Witnesses said Willie Gene Lacesideld, 13, was sitting on the bow of a cabin cruiser when he fell into the water. Buddy McClenney, 36, went to the boy's assistance but drowned.

DALLAS FATALITY

Miss Glenda Evans, 18, was killed Sunday in a two-car collision in Dallas.

Curtis Richardson, 28, of Rosenburg and Mrs. Johnnie Mae Davis, 34, of Houston drowned Saturday when their small boat sank in the San Bernard River a mile north of Wharton.

Swipes Lady Churchill Car

LONDON (AP) — A 21-year-old student admitted in court here he stole a car belonging to Lady Spencer-Churchill, widow of Sir Winston. He said he wanted her to know he was sorry.

The youth, Peter Anthony Jepson, was jailed for a week pending a report from a probation officer.

The car vanished Friday from a parking place near the Churchill home at Hyde Park Gate. It was recovered and Jepson arrested a few blocks away.

Dead In Chilean Storm Seen Passing 100 Mark

SANTIAGO, Chile (AP)—The week-long storm over southern Chile delayed until today the search for survivors after a Chilean navy ship broke up and sank. More than 100 were believed dead in the storm.

The navy said it would not know until sometime today whether any of the 70 or more men aboard survived after the 850 - ton cutter Janequeo was blown onto the rocks Sunday. The ship sank in Bahia San Pedro, 546 miles southwest of Santiago.

The navy said it expected no more than a handful of survivors.

Rescue ships were forced to turn back because of the danger that the storm would hurl them against the rocks. A larger rescue ship was expected to enter the area today.

The Janequeo sank while trying to rescue the patrol boat Leucoton, which also had been driven aground. The Leucoton seemed in no danger of breaking up, the navy said.

The storm's torrential rains and heavy snows caused more landslides and floods which brought the death toll ashore to 58.

President Eduardo Frei declared 22 provinces disaster areas. He mobilized military, government and private agencies to help the injured, ill and homeless. About 500,000 persons are suffering as a result of the storm, the government said.

Mammoth Italian Tanker Launched

ANCONA, Italy (AP) — The Esso Milano, a 65,000-ton tanker built in the United Naval Shipyards of this Adriatic Sea port city, was launched Saturday. It is the biggest of 16 tankers constructed in Italy for the Italian branch of Esso Petroleum.

Backside Of Moon Bared

MOSCOW (AP)—The new Soviet photos of the back of the moon show it has fewer seas and is more mountainous than the visible lunar surface, a Soviet scientist reported today.

The part the earth can't see has numerous chains of minor craters extending for hundreds of kilometers, a feature not found on the side facing the earth, wrote Dr. Yuri Lipsky of the Shternberg Astronomical Institute in Moscow.

Lipsky's article was distributed by the official news agency Tass along with several of the moon photos.

The pictures were taken in 68 minutes on July 20 by the Soviet space probe Zond-3.

The probe passed the moon at a distance narrowing from 11,000 kilometers (7,028 miles) to less than 10,000 kilometers (6,213 miles).

The pictures were transmitted back to earth beginning July 29, as the probe sped on into an orbit around the sun. Each transmission took 34 minutes, Lipsky said. The total number of pictures received has not been disclosed.

Lipsky wrote that the new pictures confirmed indications of the first pictures of the back of the moon, taken by a Soviet satellite in October 1959, that the two sides of the moon differ.

Homesteaders Motorized

NEWCASTLE, Wyo. (AP) — It looks like two families of Texans who are determined to homestead near McBride, Canada, will reach their destination before fall despite their misfortunes.

Mr. and Mrs. Dow Cunningham and Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Freeman and eight children left six months ago from their homes near Bitter Creek, Tex., by wagon train.

The families were making about 20 miles a day on their 3,000-mile journey, but about a week ago they became stalled in Newcastle. They ran out of money and their equipment broke down.

More bad news reached them in Newcastle.

A representative of the Canadian Immigration Service advised them their homestead was not in shape for the winter.

Cunningham then learned from a friend in McBride that his homestead had been vandalized and all his equipment was stolen or destroyed. The equipment included a small sawmill, haying equipment, tools and household effects. Buildings reportedly had been wrecked.

Because of the loss of his Canadian assets, Cunningham could no longer sponsor Freeman's immigration to Canada.

The president of Highland Enterprises, Inc., Jack L. Campbell of Newcastle, heard of their predicament. He appointed Freeman as the company's manufacturers' representative for Alberta and British Columbia. Campbell agreed to furnish a truck to take the homesteaders the rest of the way to Canada.

The Texans plan to leave Newcastle about the middle of next week with their horse power harnessed to a truck, upon which their livestock will be loaded for the rest of the journey.

Stock Market In Sharp Gain

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market closed out last week with a sharp gain that put it well ahead for the period.

The aircrafts, airlines and motors were standout performers during the week. The advance spread from the blue chip issues to the secondary and cheaper stocks.

Foreign coppers slumped on news of a move in the Chilean Senate to nationalize the copper industry in Chile.

The Associated Press 60-stock average gained 2.3 to 330.9 for the weke. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was up 6.31 to 888.82.

Of 1,525 issues traded, 892 advanced and 467 declined. There were 105 new 1965 highs and 59 new lows.

Will we ever kill the bug?

Never.

How could we?

We brought the Volkswagen into the world, and gave it the best years of our life.

When people laughed at its looks, we helped it make friends all over the world.

8 million of them.

And we promised them that the Volkswagen was one car that would never go out of style (much less out of sight).

We won't deny that the bug's been changed. But not so you'd notice.

The 5,000-odd changes we've made since 1948 don't do a thing to the VW except make it work better and longer.

A few purists feel we kill the bug each time we improve it. But we have no choice.

We've got to keep killing the bug every time we get the chance.

That's the only sure way to keep it from dying.

Jury Panel Reports Tuesday For Week's Criminal Docket

Pleas of guilty by a number of the defendants slated for trial in 118th District Court this week were being heard in the court this afternoon.

A jury panel is to report to the court at 10 a.m. Tuesday. Initial case scheduled for jury trial will be a burglary charge against Willie Roy English.

Other cases announced ready today, when court was convened are:

David K. Collett, DWI second; Benjamin DeLeon, burglary; Clarence Yanez Jr., assault with intent to murder; John Lee Mitchell, forgery and passing; Charles Meacham, worthless check; Armstrong Blansit, DWI second; Garland R. Burnett, DWI second; Anita Jackson, forgery and passing; Ramon Nunez, forgery and passing, and DWI second.

Case against Elmo Henry, assault with intent to murder, has been continued at request of his newly appointed attorney, Norman Spencer Jr.

A case charging embezzlement against Will E. Pharr has also been passed at request of the defendant.

Judgment nisi was asked by the state in the case of Jesse L. Collins, theft repeater, who did not report when his name was called.

Bond forfeitures were also asked by the state in cases against T. R. Gilmore and J. R. McNew, charged with forgery by alteration.

Case against B. W. Hicks, charged with DWI second, was continued when it was reported the defendant is now a patient in the VA hospital.

Two defendants told the court they had no attorney nor funds to employ attorneys.

Eusebio Ramirez, who faces two DWI second charges, was one of these. Hartman Hooser will represent him in the first case pending against him, and John Richard Coffee will be his attorney in the second.

Wayne Basden was named attorney for Marshall E. Byerley III, charged with worthless check-repeater.

GOP Fete Set At Ike Farm

WASHINGTON (AP) — Big-money contributors to the Republican treasury have an appointment in the country Thursday with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

They will eat lunch in a tent and listen to political pep talks and the oom-pah of a high school band.

The trip to Eisenhower's farm near Gettysburg, Pa., is the Republican National Finance Committee's reward for those who have contributed — or may contribute — $1,000 or more to help fill the party's treasury.

A GOP spokesman says 200 to 225 persons are expected. Speakers will include Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. The 70-piece Gettysburg High School band will provide the music.

The outing is a major effort by the finance committee in its competition with GOP splinter groups for campaign donations.

OAS Backs Intervention

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Thomas J. Dodd says an Organization of American States report "established beyond a doubt (there was) need for prompt and decisive intervention by the United States" in the Dominican Republic.

U.S. troops were sent to the Caribbean nation in late April after uncontrolled fighting broke out following an attempted revolt.

Dodd, a Connecticut Democrat, said in a statement that an OAS report of May 7 provided support for the U.S. action.

Dodd's statement is part of a forward to a Senate Internal Security subcommittee report on security problems in Latin America. The publication also contains the OAS report on the Dominican crisis.

Ship Strike Impasse Stays

WASHINGTON (AP) — The strike tying up 100 ships on the Atlantic and Gulf coasts dragged into its third month today with no sign of a break in the deadlock.

Federal mediators held talks with the American Merchant Marine Institute, representing eight strike-bound shipping companies.

The mediators were to talk later today with the National Marine Engineers, which began the strike June 16.

No meetings were scheduled here with two other striking unions, the Masters, Mates and Pilots, and the American Radio Association.

The key issue in the engineers' strike is how many engineers should man automated ships. The other two unions are striking primarily over money.

Woman Shot With Shotgun

A Negro woman was taken to Howard County Hospital Foundation Sunday night with multiple shotgun pellet wounds, police said Monday. The woman, Edith Gossett, whose address was given by police as 111 NE Goliad, was shot in the lower back at about 11 p.m. Sunday, police said.

Officers arrested a man in a pickup minutes after the shooting was reported. The man had been identified by several witnesses as the one who had shot the woman at the northeast Goliad address, police said. Found with the man in the pickup was a .410 gauge shotgun.

No charges had been filed at noon Monday, police indicated.

A hospital spokesman said the woman's wounds were not serious, and that she would probably be released Tuesday.

Climber Fall Fatal To Trio

ASPEN, Colo. (AP) — Three mountain climbers were killed and a fourth climber was injured in a fall on South Maroon Peak, west of Aspen, Sunday.

Officials at Los Alamos, N.M. Scientific Laboratory said the dead were senior scientists at the laboratory, all having doctorate degrees. They were identified by the lab as Drs. Frank E. Pretzel, Robert B. Day and Herbert E. Ungnade.

The injured man was identified by the lab as William B. Martin, another laboratory employe but not a scientist. The lab said Dr. Donald W. McEathern, another scientist, was with the party but not injured.

Officials said they were vacationing in the Aspen area.

Martin was taken to the Aspen Valley Hospital. Although his injuries were not listed, it was reported he would recover.

All but McEathern were reported roped together as they descended over a snow field on the 14,000-foot peak in a mountain wilderness 10 miles west of Aspen.

One of the four was reported to have slipped and all four were dragged down a slope.

Dr. Robert Barnard, Aspen physician, and Alfred Braun, an experienced mountain climber, were flown to the area in a helicopter.

Deputies Go For Two Men

Deputies are en route to Stratford and Junction today to take custody of two men wanted here, Sheriff A. N. Standard reported.

He said that Jerry Hinson, charged with non-support, is being held in Stratford on a county warrant; James K. Smith, wanted here for worthless check writing, is in jail at Junction.

TV Make-Believe Suddenly Trivial

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV - Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television's make-believe, with its back-lot battles and fun-loving fighting men, seemed trivial and downright silly in Los Angeles during the past few terror-filled days and nights.

For drama, the city's television stations had plenty of the real thing. Live shots from a hovering helicopter, for instance, showed looters stripping a smoldering store and strolling off with the stolen property.

HEAVING ROCK

Film taken from inside a car in the riot zone caught a tall youth in the act of heaving a rock that smashed the car's windshield.

A camera, panning slowly down a business street, showed smoking skeletons of buildings, smashed store fronts with ravaged showcases, mannequins from a clothing store display tossed in a gutter.

The scenes must have been shocking to any viewer, but to those of us only a short distance away and aware the situation was completely out of control, it was frightening.

FIXED BAYONETS

When we saw the first units of the National Guard marching grimly down one riot-scarred street with fixed bayonets it was like the end of a long nightmare.

But although the television stations turned in the more spectacular jobs, it was radio to which an alarmed resident could turn at any moment for an up-to-the-minute report when rumors were springing up like mushrooms all over the city.

It is going to be hard to concentrate on the production problems of "The Long Hot Summer," a new entertainment series, while the memory of this long, hot weekend is so vivid. "Combat" was never this real.

Coahoman Gets McMurry Degree

ABILENE—McMurry College will graduate 72 students Thursday as it holds its annual summer commencement exercises in Radford Memorial Auditorium.

Thomas Edward Reeves, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Reeves, Coahoma, will receive his bachelors degree at the ceremony.

Speaker for the commencement will be Dr. Ted Richardson of San Antonio, executive secretary of the Southwest Texas Conference of the Methodist Church.

Honorary degrees are to be awarded to William C. Patten of Albuquerque, N. M., longtime Methodist lay leader, and to the Rev. Darrel D. Gray, superintendent of the Corpus Christi District in the Southwest Texas Conference.

Heated Political Battle Looms For E. Texas

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON (AP) — Realignment of Texas' 4th congressional district forces Reps. Ray Roberts and Lindley Beckworth into a Democratic primary battle, bound to produce fireworks.

Roberts, a resident of McKinney, announced his decision to be a candidate shortly after the new district was formed.

But Beckworth, who hails from Gladewater and whose home county was placed in Robert's district, hasn't announced his plans. However, from letters he's writing to residents of Roberts' present district it's plain that he has every intention of being a candidate for the nomination.

CAMPAIGN ON

The two 52-year-old congressmen have not discussed the coming campaign face to face, but both have friends and supporters who keep them informed of the other's activities.

Roberts, making no bones about his desire to wean voters away from Beckworth, has sent out a questionnaire not only to his own constituents but to poll tax payers in the four counties in Beckworth's district which have been placed in the new district.

He writes them greetings on letterhead stationery showing the new 4th district, including newly added Smith, Upshur, Greeg and Van Zandt counties. In letters to residents of these counties, he writes:

"It would be presumptious of me not to acknowledge that the new counties have always been well recognized in Congress.

"It is my belief that the new 4th congressional district can be equally as important and effective for you. . . .

ASKS ASSISTANCE

"One of the ways that I can from my judgment as your congressman and better serve you is to know your stand on important issues. As a result, I am asking for your assistance in filling out the enclosed questionnaire."

Reps. Jack Brooks of Beaumont and Clark Thompson of Galveston, who also were thrown into the same district, have carefully refrained from taking action which might affront the other.

The two ex-Marines, both strong supporters of the Johnson and Kennedy administrations, are waiting to see whether the courts this fall will change the redistricting.

AROUND THE CAPITAL:

Speculation as to who may enter Texas political races next spring has brought up talk about two presidential aides: Press Secretary Bill Moyers possibly may return home and enter the Senate race for the seat held by GOP Sen. John Tower, and that Appointments Secretary Jack Valenti of Houston may run for the new congressional seat in that area.

LIKE TEXANS

Mrs. Tom Sharp, of Waco, her daughter and her mother, recently motored through Louisiana, Mississippi, Alabama and Tennessee to visit relatives in suburban Alexandria, Va.

"We enjoyed every mile of the trip," said Mrs. Sharp. "We met people who noticed our Texas license plates and went out of their way to be friendly. A man at one filling station, learning we were from Waco, told us all about his service over at Ft. Hood."

With Mrs. Sharp were her daughter Betsy, 16, and her mother, Mrs. Robert Welch. They visited Mrs. Sharp's brother-in-law, Lacey Sharp, a former aide to Rep. Bob Poage of Waco, now with the American Hospital Association, and his wife and son. The son, Rusty, plans to enter Baylor University law school this fall.

Recent visitors about the Capitol included Mrs. Carol R. Haberman, San Antonio, here for the national convention of Business and Professional Women's clubs.

A lawyer and president of the Texas B&PW organizations, she was accompanied by her husband, R. A. Haberman, a hotel man. Their son, Howard, a graduate of NTSU at Denton, is working this summer at Democratic National headquarters.

Band Practice Set To Begin

FORSAN — Band practice begins for Forsan Junior High School at 9 a.m. Wednesday, it was announced by David Matthias, bandmaster. He asked all members of the band, who have had as much as one year experience to report. Practice for the fifth grade bandsmen will open in September.

The bus will make the rounds Wednesday, leaving Forsan at 8:10 a.m. and arriving in Lockwood Addition in Big Spring at 8:35 a.m.

Burglaries Are Checked

Police reported two weekend burglaries and a robbery Monday. None of the missing money or objects have been found, detectives said.

Saturday, Pat Patterson, 510 E. 1st, told police his shop had been burglarized, and a battery charger is missing. Investigators found that burglars had evidently broken a window on the west side of the shop to gain entry.

The owner of Wanda's Lounge, 511 W. 3rd, reported three cases of beer was stolen late Friday night or early Saturday morning. Detectives found a broken window on the west side of the lounge, and said some blood was discovered on the floor near the window.

Johnny Trimble, Aspermont, told police Saturday that $290 in bills had been stolen from his pants pockets while he slept in his room at the Howard House Hotel, 118 E. 3rd. He said he had driven to Big Spring with a man he had met on a bus, and that the two had shared the room. Police said they had not contacted the other man.

Debbie Ferguson Wins Top Junior Rodeo Title

The all-round champion cowboy of the 20th Annual Howard County Junior Rodeo which ended Saturday night is a 13-year-old girl.

She is Debbie Ferguson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Ferguson, Petersburg. Debbie was a runaway leader for the coveted $200 championship saddle.

She scored first place in each of the three go-rounds in both pole bending and barrel racing and second in the first go-round in breakaway roping. Her total points were 468 — almost double her nearest competitor for top honors of the show.

Debbie took home cash and trophies worth $378 for her three day appearance at the show. In addition to her saddle and the prize money, she won two sterling silver buckles as champion pole bender and barrel racer of the show in the girl's division.

Other championship buckles went to Larry Cohorn, Las Cruces, N. M., for the pole bending title for boys. Lee Paul, Del Rio, won the buckle for bullriding; Tony Clark, Eldorado, for tie down roping; Paul Petska, Carlsbad, N. M., for ribbon roping; Butch Edwards, Richland Springs, bulldogging; Cheryl Stover, Buena Vista, N. M., for breakaway roping and Tony Harberer, Muleshoe, for bareback bronc riding.

Theft Charged

Charges of theft over $50 have been filed against J. L. Garry, it was announced by the district attorney's office. Garry is charged with taking $200 from Johnny Trammell Aug. 13.

Weather Forecast

Showers and thundershowers are expected for the Northern and Southern Plains, the South Atlantic States and portions of the Southern Plateau region. Generally warmer weather is expected east of the Mississippi Valley. (AP WIREPHOTO MAP)

OIL REPORT

Borden Gains Deep Wildcat

H. L. Brown Jr. and W. J. Heath of Midland plan the No. 1 J. F. Landrum as an 8,500-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Northeast Borden County, 1½ miles west of Fluvanna. Drillsite is 467 feet from the north line and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 482-97, T&P survey.

A. K. Guthrie and others of Big Spring indicate that No. 1 Glass is a wildcat contracted to 3,200 feet to test the Clear Fork in Glasscock County. Location is 467 feet from the west line and 2,173 feet from the south line of section 3-32-5s, T&P survey, 12 miles southeast of Garden City.

Texaco No. 1 C. E. Barrow is a Dawson County location, a northwest offset to the Texaco No. 1 United Presbyterian Church which has set casing to test two possible pay sections. No. 1 Barrow is contracted to 11,675 feet to test the Lower Mississippian. Location is 2,173 feet from the north line and 2,108 feet from the west line of section 8-36-5n, T&P survey, five miles west of Lamesa.

Mrs. Gray Dies Sunday

Mrs. Lucy Felecia Gray, 70, was dead on arrival Sunday at a local hospital, after collapsing while leading music at a revival meeting at the Mount Bethel Baptist Church here.

A retired teacher, Mrs. Gray had been living with her daughter here for the past nine months. She previously lived in Marshall all her life, and had been ill since she moved here.

A member of the Mount Bethel Baptist Church, she was a member of the Courts Calantha.

Services are pending at River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, Robert L. Gray, Marshall; a daughter, Mrs. Bernice Jacobs, Big Spring; a sister, Mrs. Clara May, Dallas; three brothers, Walter R. Moore Sr., Corpus Christi, the Rev. Esquire Moore, Marshall, and Timothy Moore, Detroit, Mich.; and one grandson.

RIOTING

Most of those which remained undamaged were closed.

An 8 p.m.-to-dawn curfew kept residents from seeking food and drugs elsewhere.

Gov. Brown announced Sunday night:

"There is a serious shortage of food in some neighborhoods in the riot areas. It is important to re-establish normal business and public service in South Los Angeles."

Word that troops had helped Los Angeles law officers regain possession of the riot center brought an expression of relief Sunday from President Johnson.

At Miami, Fla., Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. said he planned to travel to Los Angeles "in the next few days" at the request of Negro leaders in the area.

The Nobel prize-winning civil rights leaders said he would visit Watts, once order was restored, to deal with the underlying social problems.

WERE "CONDITIONED"

What caused the riots?

—Los Angeles Chief of Police William Parker said civil rights demonstrations had conditioned Negroes to be ready for violent action.

—Bernice Ennis, assistant professor of clinical psychiatry at the University of Southern California, partially blamed a week-long heat wave: "The excessive heat acts as a stimulant and stress on already quite strained individuals."

—Psychologist James R. Silber blamed economic disadvantages and conditions in an area which is 98 per cent Negro: "The ghetto contributes to a sense of isolation, loneliness, differentness and separateness —working together to create resentfulness."

Long Beach Police, aided by Los Angeles officers and National Guard units, curbed lawlessness at the city's Negro section and said control was complete there.

They said the officer killed by gunfire may have been hit by a discharge fired as another officer struggled with an armed Negro.

UNDER CONTROL

The San Diego riot was also brought under control.

Negro newsmen who mingled with the mob—on streets where white men were beaten mercilessly—noted a surprising aspect: the Negroes rioted with jubilation. Their excited battlecry: "Burn, baby, burn!"

Many of the homes destroyed in the more than 2,000 major fires, however, were those of Negroes. A white fireman, Battalion Chief Ken Long, 40, said he and his men were driven away by sniper fire as they sought to save a home.

Said Long: "This is my district. These were all professional firemen. We knew we could beat this fire if we had the chance. We had to pull off. The people whose house was burning just stood there looking at us. When we got back all there was to do was wet the ashes."

COMPLETIONS

DAWSON

Phillips Petroleum Corp. No. 1-A Beaird has been plugged and abandoned at a total depth of 9,018 feet. Drillsite is 1,980 feet from the north and east lines of section 5-34-4n, T&P survey, nine miles southeast of Lamesa.

MITCHELL

Socony Mobil No. 77 Mary Foster has been completed as a water injection well in the Iatan (San Andress) field at a total depth of 2,365 feet. Drillsite is nine miles southwest of Westbrook, in section 10-29-1s, T&P survey (3,840 acres).

DAILY DRILLING

HOWARD

Lario No. 1 White squeezed perforations in the 6,798-810-foot interval and then perforated the 6,750-770-foot interval and swabbed down with no shows. Operator acidized with 500 gallons and then swabbed back all acid with no shows. Then he shut in to pressure up and is preparing to swab. Location is seven miles west of Vincent, 660 feet from the south line and 1,980 feet from the west line of section 36-25, H&TC survey.

Nazarenes Go To Camp Meeting

The annual camp meeting of the Abilene District of the Nazarene Church will be held this week, at Camp Arrowhead, near Glen Rose. Attending from this area will be Rev. and Mrs. D. M. Duke, and others will come for the weekend services. He is pastor of the Nazarene Church here.

Speakers will be Dr. Mendell Taylor of Kansas City, professor at Nazarene Theological Seminary; and Rev. Paul McGrady, professor of practical theology at Bethany Nazarene College, Bethany, Okla.

Music will be under the direction of Harrell Luckey, Fort Worth.

Dear Abby

Names Are Confusing

DEAR ABBY: My problem is YOU! My husband is an avid Dear Abby fan and every time he reads a letter in your column from a woman complaining about her husband because he's fat, or stingy, looks at other women or kids around with waitresses, he accuses me of writing the letter. It usually ends up in a big fight. So, Abby, in the future will you please use the writer's name or initials or say where the letter comes from? I don't care how you label it as long as he knows it didn't come from—RUBY

DEAR RUBY: Now, you've done it! There must be no less than 5,000 "Rubys" for whom this letter was NOT intended. But in my effort to clear YOU, I have inadvertently implicated them. Tell your hubby that if the shoe fits to wear it.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: It's fishing season again and I want to know how we can keep fishermen out of our yard. We live on the banks of a creek, and for two years we've had to put up with men, women, children and dogs running over our property from 4 a.m. until 8 p.m. There are no signs to indicate that this is a fishing resort, but everyone seems to think it is because the stream is public.

There are fishing resorts a little farther down the road with parking space and picnic grounds. Why can't they go there? People come right up to our porch and holler under our windows. If I have clothes on the line, they walk under them. They get their fish lines caught in our radio aerial and even use our ladder to climb up and untangle them.

Some ask if they can park in our driveway. And those who don't ask, park there anyway and block our one-way road so we can't get in or out. We don't own this place, we only rent, so why should WE have to put up NO TRESPASSING signs? Any suggestions? IDANHA, ORE.

DEAR IDANHA: I would demand that my landlord either put a fence around the place, or post NO TRESPASSING signs and see that they are obeyed. If you put in another fishing season such as the last two, you should join the poor suckers in your creek.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: In your column there was a letter from a woman whose daughter had a nervous breakdown 18 years ago. The girl is still committed in an institution, but comes home occasionally for brief visits. In light of these circumstances, the mother said, "Some people don't know what trouble is."

May I offer this story to make a point?

A man complained to the Lord. "Lord," he said, "my cross in life is too heavy for me to bear." To which the Lord replied, "I'll tell you what I'll do. I'll put all of man's crosses in one container, and you may choose the one you want." The man agreed and then proceeded to lift one cross after another. Finally, he came upon one cross that was much lighter than the rest, so he said, "Lord, this is the one I'll take." The Lord replied, "You may have it. It's your very own cross."

I shall not elaborate on MY cross, Abby. But I am certain that the woman who wrote to you would not care to trade places with me.

BEARING MY OWN CROSS

Paper Has Big Edition

KILGORE (AP) — New office buildings costing $330,000 got top play Sunday in the Kilgore News Herald's Oil Progress edition.

The Kilgore Federal Savings and Loan Association will build a $250,000 office.

Four accountants, Byron Bronstad, Harold Habinicht, Roy Rosson and Sammy Little, will build an $80,000 building right next door.

The 150-page issue, detailing record highs in bank deposits, building permits and industrial growth, was dedicated to six prominent citizens:

Miss Gussie Nell Davis, on her 25th year as director of the Kilgore College Rangerettes; Mrs. Lamar Lewis, who spearheaded the campaign which won the 1965 national Cleanest Town achievement Award for civic improvement; Mayor Foster Bean, for long service as a community leader; and the late Mrs. Rosa May Griffin, for giving a multi-million dollar fortune to philanthropic causes.

Water Planners Review Projects

AUSTIN (AP)— U.S. Bureau of Reclamation water development planners meet today to review current project plans, including the bureau's proposed canal to transport water from East Texas to arid parts of South Texas.

Floyd E. Dominy, bureau commissioner, will confer with seven regional directors and the Alaska district manager about water development plans for their areas.

Among those to be in the conference were L. W. Hill, Amarillo, director of Region 5, which includes Texas, and Harry P. Burleigh, Austin, head of the bureau's Texas planning office.

FINAL TOUCHES

The regional directors are to put final touches on their projects for inclusion in the federal budget for fiscal 1967, which begins next July 1.

The bureau's Texas Basins Project plan has stirred controversy since it was first advanced. It calls for a major canal running parallel to the Gulf Coast from the Sabine River into the Rio Grande Valley. The canal, supported by a series of reservoirs and irrigation units, would carry fresh water from areas with surplus water to those with a shortage.

GRANT RIGHTS

The project will not start unless the Texas Water Rights Commission grants sufficient water rights, the bureau says.

"The Interbasin Canal, with the canal-like reservoirs, will provide Texas a flexibility in managing its streams that it now lacks. The canal will be a new, man-made river that Texas can use to operate its major streams from the Sabine River to the Rio Grande as a unified water supply system," the bureau says in an official publication.

Plan To Fight Crime Offered

DALLAS (AP)—A leading Negro minister planned to present to the Dallas City Council today a plan calling for Neighborhood Crime Fighters designed to prevent violence and rioting.

The Rev. S. M. Wright, president of the Dallas Negro Ministers' Alliance, said the aim of the plan is "to take crime prevention to the grass roots level."

Volunteer crime-fighting units would search out neighborhood crime problems and try to correct them before police action were needed.

The Rev. Mr. Wright said the units' action would be coordinated with a central crime prevention commission. The volunteers would possess no powers beyond those of ordinary citizens.

Salinger Heads New Corporation

Camel Wins Annual Race

VIRGINIA CITY, Nev. (AP) — A one-humped ship of the desert glided not too gracefully across the finish line ahead of four other camels to win the sixth annual revival of Virginia City's camel races Sunday.

Sponsored by a Lake Tahoe casino-hotel, the winning camel was ridden by Wayne Olsen.

State Sen. James Slattery bounced to a win in the ostrich races. The big birds pulled tiny sulkies.

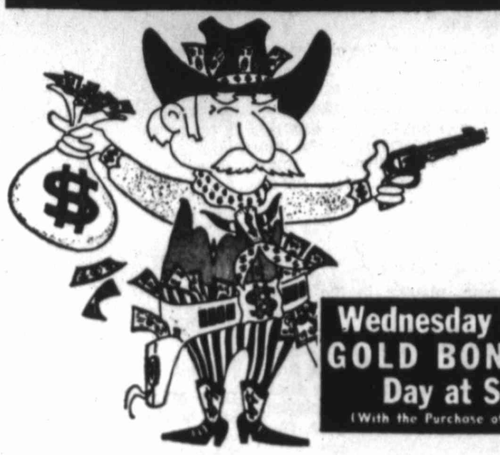

Camel races started in Virginia City back in the days when the animals were used to haul salt to silver refineries.

Bank Fire Draws Crowds In Reno

RENO, Nev. (AP) — Crowds swarmed out of Reno's gambling casinos to watch an early morning fire in such numbers Sunday that snarling police dogs were used to keep onlookers from interfering with firemen.

The blaze burned out the Reno branch of the Nevada Bank of Commerce and caused smoke and water damage to several other offices.

Japanese Pitcher Given Lots Of Trouble By Phils

Bombed In Third Inning

By The Associated Press

Masanori Murakami received a sports car from a soy sauce firm before he started his first major league game. But once it began he got nothing but trouble from the Philadelphia Phillies.

Murakami, the only Japanese ever to play in the majors, stayed around for less than three innings Sunday although San Francisco trounced Philadelphia 15-9.

The 21 - year - old left-hander was honored in pregame ceremonies witnessed by more than 1,200 members of northern California's Japanese community.

With one out in the first inning, John Callison and Rich Allen singled. Murakami, however, escaped the jam by striking out Dick Stuart and Alex Johnson. The youngster struck out two more Phillies in the second, then got into trouble again in the third.

Ray Culp walked, Cookie Rojas singled and one out later, Allen tripled for two runs. That was all for Murakami, who had compiled a 3-1 record in 26 relief appearances after finally joining the Giants early in May.

His arrival in this country was delayed by a three-month controversy between the Giants and the Nankai Hawks over whether Murakami would play in the United States or Japan.

In other National League games Pittsburgh trimmed the first-place Los Angeles Dodgers 4-2, Milwaukee edged Chicago 4-3 in 12 innings, St. Louis whipped Cincinnati 12-7 and New York blanked Houston 3-0.

Jim Hart's grand slam homer in the third inning and Willie McCovey's three-run blast, his 28th, in the sixth powered the Giants' comeback. The Phillies erupted for five runs in the ninth after Pat Corrales was awarded first base on catcher Tom Haller's interference with two out and the bases loaded.

Pittsburgh executed three crucial bunts against Don Drysdale, who has had a bad knee, in cutting the Dodgers' lead to 1½ games over Milwaukee. Tom Sisk and Jim Pagliaroni bunted across runs while Bill Virdon's bunt set up two others.

Denis Menke raced home with Milwaukee's winning run in the 12th inning as Don Dillard grounded into a force play at second with the bases loaded. The Cubs had tied it 3-3 in the ninth on Ed Mathews' two-out wild throw after Mack Jones had slugged a two-run homer in the Braves' eighth.

The Cardinals exploded for eight runs in the eighth inning, wiping out a 7-4 deficit. Bill White started it with a home run, Lou Brock singled in the lead run and Bob Skinner drove in two runs with two hits in the rally. Deron Johnson, John Edwards and Vada Pinson homered for the Reds.

Al Jackson scattered seven hits for New York's second straight shutout. Ron Swoboda hit his 18th homer in the second inning.

Pitcher's Life Not An Easy One

Don Drysdale of the Los Angeles Dodgers ducks a flying bat in proof that a pitcher's life is not an easy one. This wasn't the case of an irate batter getting back at his tormenter, but it is a broken bat issuing from Roberto Clemente's line drive to the Pittsburgh Pirate first baseman. It must have unnerved Drysdale, for Pittsburgh won, 4-2. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Tebbetts Gets Help From Ouija, Beats Twins 6-4

By The Associated Press

Birdie Tebbetts has his Ouija board working overtime so you can understand if sometimes the results are a bit slow.

Take Sunday for example. The American League-leading Minnesota Twins had defeated Tebbetts' Cleveland Indians 4-3 in the first game of a doubleheader and led 3-1 in the ninth inning of the nightcap.

With two out, Tebbetts was frantically looking for a way to rescue his club from a double defeat. Larry Brown singled, giving Tebbetts and his Ouija some working room. When pinch hitter Max Alvis walloped a home run, tying the score, Tebbetts and Ouija were back in the fight.

Jerry Kindall's 11th-inning homer put Birdie out on a limb again as the Indians came to bat in the bottom of the 11th. But Chico Salmon singled and Brown doubled on Bill Pleis' first two pitches.

Salmon scored the tying run and Brown moved to third when Pleis balked pitching to Duke Sims. The first pitch to Sims was a ball when Tebbetts started getting urgent messages from his little helper.

Suddenly, there was Leon Wagner with a bat in his hands, taking over for Sims with the one ball count.

Two pitches later Wagner's 22nd home run had given Cleveland a 6-4 victory and put Minnesota in shock.

Detroit joined Cleveland in second place by sweeping a doubleheader from Los Angeles 9-2 and 9-5.

Elsewhere in the American League, New York split a doubleheader with Kansas City, winning the nightcap 7-3 after dropping the opener 4-1. Chicago topped Boston 7-4 and Washington whipped Baltimore 4-2.

Detroit scored six runs in the first inning of the opener and coasted behind Joe Sparma, 9-5. The Tigers sent 10 men to the plate with Norm Cash's homer and Willie Horton's double the big blows. Rookie catcher John Sullivan had four singles.

In the nightcap, Don Demeter, Ray Oyler and Gates Brown had three hits apiece and Demeter and Oyler each drove in two runs. Orlando Pena, who came on in the second inning, got the victory, his fourth in five decisions with the Tigers.

Rookie Jim (Catfish) Hunter pitched a four-hitter beating the Yankees in the opener. The Kansas City right-hander, who pitched his first complete game, squeezed home a run with a bases-loaded bunt in the eighth inning.

Steven Hamilton pitched four innings of one-hit relief as the Yankees gained the split. Jake Gibbs, Joe Pepitone and Bobby Richardson all homered in the nightcap and Roger Repoz' two-run triple beat ex-Yankee Roland Sheldon.

J.C. Martin and Danny Cater ripped eighth-inning homers that helped Chicago defeat Boston. Martin, who came into the game to catch knuckleball reliever Hoyt Wilhelm in the seventh, blasted his second homer leading off the eighth and then Cater connected with two out after Ken Berry had singled.

Baltimore slipped to fourth place, dropping its third straight to Washington. Ron Kline snuffed out an Oriole rally in the ninth, saving it for Pete Richert, 11-9. Woodie Held homered for the Senators.

Cornish Prince Favored In Travers Stakes Race

By The Associated Press

Lucky Debonair won the Kentucky Derby. Tom Rolfe won the Preakness and Hail To All the Belmont Stakes. Will it be Cornish Prince in the historic Travers Stakes at Saratoga this Saturday?

The Travers, first run in 1864, is the country's oldest stake race for 3-year-olds and Cornish Prince is the early favorite because of his victory in the Jim Dandy last Friday.

The Jim Dandy at one mile is considered a prep for the $75,000-added Travers at 1¼ miles. Cornish Prince, owned by George D. Widener, won it by a head over Pass The Word in 1:35 3-5.

The Travers tops the national thoroughbred program this week.

Should Cornish Prince win the Travers it would be second straight Saturday for the Widener silks to be triumphant at the Spa.

What A Treat won the $62,200 Alabama Stakes for Widener at Saratoga last Saturday. The 3-year-old filly won by a neck over Discipline and then survived a claim of foul. Discipline was disqualified to third place and Terentia moved up to second.

Texans Triumph In Rodeo Clash

OGALLALA, Neb. (AP)—Phil Lyne of George West won the calf roping to lead Texas to its third straight national high school rodeo championship Sunday.

The Texans rolled up 1,014 points. Montana was a distant second with 580 points.

Lyne was runner-up for the all-around title as he also tied for second with Justin Thaymes of Fresno, Tex., in bareback bronc.

TORONTO, Canada (AP)—Ron Holmberg of Dallas came from behind to beat Lester Sack of Clarksdale, Miss., 4-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-2, 6-2 for the Canadian tennis championship Sunday.

Sack took the first two sets but double-faulted to lose the third, then wilted in the 90-degree heat.

Brown's Passing Attack Continues To Look Good

By The Associated Press

The Cleveland Browns' vaunted aerial attack, supposedly short-circuited by the loss of pass-catching ace Paul Warfield, has passed its first preseason test with flying colors.

Led by quarterbacks Frank Ryan and Jim Ninowski, the defending National Football League champions whipped the San Francisco 49ers 37-21 Sunday in their first exhibition start against NFL competition.

The Browns, who lost Warfield for two months when the former Ohio State flash fractured his shoulder in last month's victory over the College All-Stars, shook Gary Collins and Walt Roberts loose for three long touchdown bombs against the 49ers.

In Sunday's other action Philadelphia's Tim Brown paced the Eagles to a 20-17 NFL exhibition victory over Detroit and the San Diego Chargers, led by quarterback John Hadl, walloped Kansas City 31-10 in an American Football League warm-up.

Saturday night, a crowd of 75,229 — largest ever for a pro exhibition in a nonleague city — packed the Sugar Bowl in New Orleans to watch the Baltimore Colts overpower the St. Louis Cardinals 22-10 while NFL exhibitions in Atlanta's new stadium and Green Bay's expanded park drew turnouts of 39,120 and 50,837.

The Minnesota Vikings held off Pittsburgh 31-21 in the pro grid inaugural at Atlanta's municipal Stadium. The Packers shelled the New York Giants 44-7 at Green Bay.

Elsewhere Saturday night, Houston upended the AFL champion Buffalo Bills 29-7 at Buffalo and Denver came from behind to whip Oakland 27-17 in an AFL test at Salt Lake City.

The scheduled NFL exhibition between Dallas and Los Angeles was postponed until Tuesday night because of the Los Angeles riots.

LOOKING 'EM' OVER

By TOMMY HART

Eddie McHugh, the Coahoma football whiz, quit a job two weeks early that was paying him close to $100 a week in order to join the North squad for their all-star football game with the South at Dallas recently.

He got in only two plays, both times on defense. The fact that he was held out of action most of the time betrays a serious weakness in the coaching tactics of some individuals.

The North mentors went, for the most part, with established Class AAAA and AAA players in their quest for victory. The South coaches, on the other hand, made it a point to use everyone on the squad as often as possible.

Although McHugh exulted in victory as much as any one on the North squad and found the whole experience to be most exhilarating and memorable, he must feel at least mildly disappointed for having been largely ignored on his bench.

Had McHugh been a football player of ordinary talents, the coaching staff's decision to keep him stabled would have been understandable but Eddie is a boy who could have rated Class AAAA Big Spring's starting backfield in a walk last fall and he, quite probably, is the finest back ever to wear the colors of Coahoma High School. He did a lot of things on the football field and did them all to near perfection.

Perhaps the answer is to let the Class AA, A and B schools have their own all-star game.

Paul Alba, who recently lost his Texas featherweight boxing title to Floyd Molina in Lubbock, must be the tallest 125-pounder now active in the ring. He stands 5-10½ and reportedly has a reach of 73 inches. Alba has had close to 100 fights as an amateur and a pro.

John Donovan of Webb AFB stopped back by Lowell, Mass., after visiting his home in New Hampshire recently in order to watch Joe Namath and the New York Jets perform against the Boston Patriots.

Donovan saw Namath toss a strike to Big Spring's own Jimmy Evans for a touchdown in the end zone. Evans seemed to be bothered not one whit by two would-be defenders, according to Donovan.

In event you catch the Jets on TV anytime this year, Evans will be wearing No. 80. Apparently he's going to be one of Namath's favorite receivers.

Marr Wins Back Confidence With PGA Tourney Victory

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Dave Marr won an imposing array of prizes with his triumph in the 47th Professional Golfers' Association Championship—$25,000 for a start, along with the prestige of capturing one of golf's four biggest titles and a handsome, coveted trophy.

But his biggest reward was confidence regained—the confidence he could be a winner.

"I was convinced I would never win again," the trim Texan, choked with emotion and near tears, said Sunday after his stirring two-stroke victory over Jack Nicklaus and Billy Casper at Laurel Valley's golf club.

"When I blew the Insurance Open three weeks ago I said to my wife, 'Susie, I'm just never going to win a tournament' . . . I thought maybe it was the end of the line."

But Marr faced the challenges at Laurel Valley—the pressure, the heat, the threats of proven champions Nicklaus and Casper—and won for the first time in over three years. He went into the fourth round tied with Tommy Aaron, four under par for 54 holes.

Gardner Dickinson was one stroke behind, with Nicklaus and Casper two back.

Aaron, playing in the threesome ahead with Casper and Sam Snead, came apart completely. But after nine holes, Casper had pulled into a first-place tie with Marr while Nicklaus and Dickinson—playing with Marr—were only a shot back.

However, Marr regained command with birdies on 10 and 11, then clinched it with scrambling, vital pars on the two tough closing holes. His even par 71 gave him a 280. Nicklaus, also with a 71, matched Casper's final-day score and 282 total.

Nicklaus, the heavy pretourney favorite and winner of the Thunderbird and Philadelphia Classics the past two weeks, got $12,500 for a neat sum of $56,800 in three successive tournaments. The Masters champion has won $126,500 for the year, just $1,730 shy of the record set by Arnold Palmer in 1963.

LIGONIER, Pa. (AP) — Final scores and money winners in 47th annual PGA championship Sunday at the par 36-35—71 Laurel Valley Golf Club:

In Trouble

Dave Marr hits ball from sand trap along fairway on 18th hole in 47th playing of the PGA Championship as the four-day tourney went right down to the wire. He wound up with a four-under par 280, two strokes ahead of a tie for second between Billy Casper and Jack Nicklaus. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Tennis Pair Decide To Rest

SOUTHAMPTON, N.Y. (AP) — Chuck McKinley, America's second ranking tennis player, took his winner's trophy home from the 76th Meadow Club Invitation Grass Court Tournament, and then headed for the office.

Gene Scott, America's fifth-ranking player who was dethroned in this event by McKinley, 3-6, 6-3, 8-6, 10-8, Sunday, took his consolation trophy home and went to sleep.

Each has decided to forego any more tennis until the U.S. Nationals at Forest Hills, beginning Sept. 3.

The rest of the tennis troupe is at Newport, R.I., starting today, and then will go on to the National Doubles at Brookline, Mass. By then, America's other high-ranking players — Dennis Ralston, Arthur Ashe and Frank Froehling—will have returned from the Davis Cup matches in Spain.

Beatles Yeah From Met's Shea

The Beatles from Britain had their inning in Shea Stadium last night, surrounded by a capacity crowd of 55,000 screaming fans in the horseshoe-shaped stands. The quartet arrived, quite appropriately, in an armored truck, sang 12 songs from a stage set up on second base and left 35 minutes later in a white ambulance. During their performance, they used 29 loud speakers in an attempt to make themselves heard above the din of their fans. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Tulsa Hangs On For League Lead

By The Associated Press

The Dallas-Fort Worth Spurs started out Sunday night to regain lost ground in the race for the Eastern Division of the Texas League. They beat El Paso 3-1.

But Tulsa, the leader by three games, didn't cooperate. The Oilers beat Austin 3-0 and kept the status quo.

Tulsa had won three out of four in a series with Dallas-Fort Worth to get a lead that will be hard to trim down the stretch of a race that has only 21 games to go.

The team that's most worried right now is Albuquerque, the Western Division leader. The Dodgers dropped their fourth straight Sunday night when they fell to Amarillo 12-9.

While they still hold a 13-game lead over Amarillo, the latter is making threatening gestures. The Sonics have a three-game winning streak going.

Albuquerque has 23 games to play, Amarillo the same.

Don Hagen held Austin to two hits as Tulsa was powered by Don Pavlesic's double and Walt Williams' triple.

Chuck Hartenstein was staked to three Dallas-Fort Worth runs in the first inning and he held El Paso harmless except for Chuck Vinson's homer in the ninth that ruined Hartenstein's shutout bid.

Amarillo blasted eight hits and scored eight runs in the sixth to whip Albuquerque. Aaron Pointer's three-run homer, another homer by Don Porter and a triple by Jim Monin featured the Amarillo surge.

Brack Bailey also had a three-run homer for Albuquerque.

The schedule is the same tonight—Dallas-Fort Worth at El Paso, Amarillo at Albuquerque and Tulsa at Austin.

Senate Begins Athletic Probe

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senators called young track star Gerry Lindgren to testify today in a wide-scale probe of the row between ruling powers of U.S. amateur athletics which has caught him and others "in the middle."

The investigation, starting today, is to continue through two weeks with 42 witnesses scheduled to testify.

The Senate Commerce Committee seeks to learn in the hearings whether the fight between the Amateur Athletic Union and National Collegiate Athletic Assn. has reached proportions endangering the careers of athletes and U.S. interests in competitions, including the Olympic Games.

High School Girls Post Lions' Share Of Swim Marks

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — High school girls swam away with the lions' share of records at the first combined Men's and Women's National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

Only one boy splashed into the world record column, but four girls bettered individual marks and a Commerce, Calif., team stroked 8.7 seconds off the world mark for the 800-meter freestyle relay in the five-day meet which ended Sunday.

For the second straight year, the boys and girls from Santa Clara, Calif., took the team titles.

The male record-setter was 15-year-old Steve Krause of Seattle, Wash., who became the second man to swim 1,500-meters in less than 17 minutes.

Ironically, both Krause and 16-year-old Kendis Moore of Phoenix, Ariz., clipped a tenth of a second off records held by swimmers who didn't compete in those events Sunday because of injuries.

Krause's 16:58.6 clocking in the freestyle metric mile beat the mark held by Roy Saari of El Segundo, Calif., Miss Moore's 2:26.3 nipped the 200-meter butterfly record of Olympic champion Sharon Stouder, also of Commerce, Calif.

Martha Randall, 17, of Wayne, Pa., added an American record 2:12.3 in the 200-meter freestyle Sunday to the world 400-meter mark of 4:41.1 she set Saturday.

The women's 1500-meter freestyle record also fell, to 14-year-old Patty Caretto of Commerce with a time of 18:23.7.

Claudia Kolb of Santa Clara, Calif., was the only swimming triple winner, bettering the listed world record in the 100-meter breast stroke and winning the 200-meter breast stroke and individual medley. She was the top point scorer with 29.

Her 100-meter time of 1:17.1 was one-tenth second better than the listed mark by Russia's Svetlana Babanina, but Miss Babanina has clocked 1:16.5 since.

INTERZONE CUP FINAL

U.S. Gambles With Froehling In Spain

BARCELONA, Spain (AP) — The United States takes the big gamble by sending Frank Froehling III instead of Arthur Ashe against the Spaniards Tuesday in the Interzone Davis Cup tennis final.

The American captain, George MacCall, tagged Froehling, a 6-foot-6 hard-hitting Coral Gables, Fla., boy for the No. 2 singles spot behind Dennis Ralston a few hours before the draw.

The matches start Tuesday with the opening two singles, followed by the doubles Wednesday and the final two singles Thursday.

Both the Spaniards and Americans are hoping for an opening match between the two big guns of the rival teams — Ralston, America's No. 1 player from Bakersfield, Calif., and Manuel Santana, the clay court-precisionist who has beaten Ralston the four times they've met.

"We'll win, 3 to 2," calmly predicted Kurt Nielsen, the former Danish Davis Cupper who has coached the Spaniards to the Interzone final.

"We may be underdogs, but our boys are eager to go get 'em," countered MacCall. "We don't think we can be beaten."

The series looms as an individual duel between Ralston and Santana, each of whom will play all three matches. Ralston will team with Clark Graebner of Cleveland in doubles against the team of Santana and Jose Luis Arilla, which never has lost a match in Spain.

Astros Lose 3-0 To Mets

HOUSTON (AP)—The Houston Astros, who have suffered back-to-back shutouts at the butter-fingered hands of the New York Mets, will go with 38-year-old Robin Roberts tonight in the opener of a three-game stand with the Pittsburgh Pirates.

Roberts shut out Philadelphia last Monday in his first game for Houston. But even if he can do it again tonight, the Astros will be no nearer victory without more punch at the plate.

That's why Houston General Manager Paul Richards ordered special batting practice after the Mets glided by the Spacemen, 3-0, Sunday.

The New Yorkers did it with the long ball and Al Jackson's seven-hit pitching.

Roy McMillan singled in the first, and Johnny Lewis pushed him around with a triple.

Ron Swoboda spanked one 450 feet into the left field pavilion in the second to make it 2-0.

Charlie Smith doubled in the Mets' final run in the sixth after a Houston error.

Houston had two runners on base in four separate innings. They stranded 10 in all.

Rutherford Wins Spring Feature

TERRE HAUTE, Ind. (AP)—Johnny Rutherford of Fort Worth, Tex., won the U.S. Auto Club 30-lap sprint car feature race at the Vigo County Fairgrounds Sunday and took down $1,571 for doing it.

The prize money included $500 for breaking the qualification record on the half-mile dirt track with 22.76 seconds. A. J. Foyt of Houston held the record of 22.95.

Mary Mills Is St. Louis Victor

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Three steady rounds paid off for Mary Mills, enabling her to hold off a driving finish by challengers and win the St. Louis Women's Open Golf Tournament.

Miss Mills, the 1963 U.S. Open and 1964 Ladies PGA champion, won her first tourney this year by firing a 72 Sunday for a 216 total, two strokes better than Marlene Hagge and Carol Mann.

Corpus Nine Wallops Mexico

KINGSVILLE (AP) — Corpus Christi Southside won its way to the divisional Pony League baseball tournament at Fort Worth by beating Monterrey, Mexico, 7-6 Sunday night.

It was Corpus Christi's second triumph over the Mexican team in the regional tournament here as Southside swept through without defeat.

Corpus Christi jumped off to a two-run lead in the second inning on Kyle Deal's homer and never let Monterrey catch up.

Midland Driver Finishes First

CASTLE, ROCK, Colo. (AP)—Hap Sharp of Midland, Tex., won the 196-mile sports car race at Continental Divide Raceways Sunday, taking down $2,000.

He averaged 84 miles an hour and finished two laps and 30 seconds ahead of Jerry Grant of Seattle. Sharp drove his Chapparal II. Grant was in a Lola-Chevrolet.

Jim Hall of Midland, also driving a Chapparal II, was fourth and won $850.

BIG SPRING DAILY HERALD

SECTION B BIG SPRING (TEXAS) HERALD, MON., AUG. 16, 1965 SECTION B

On Guard

A National Guardsman wards off snipers as firemen battle a furniture store blaze in the Watts section of Los Angeles. Violence today was spreading out from the riot-torn section of Los Angeles and engulfing other areas around the city, to San Bernardino eastward and to San Diego in the south. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Police Patrols Disperse Groups In Windy City

CHICAGO (AP)—Hundreds of police, supported by some 2,000 national guardsmen held in reserve, continued today to enforce racial peace in a largely Negro neighborhood where rioting erupted Thursday and Friday nights.

There were no new outbreaks of violence Saturday or Sunday as police in the West Garfield Park area firmly pursued a policy of breaking up groups before they could become mobs.

More than 300 policemen patrolled the troubled area around the clock. Additional police stood by in nearby police districts and National Guards units were on standby duty at five armories.

This display of strength together with the strategy of banning groups and pleas from Negro leaders for common sense, were believed to be factors in easing the tense situation.

Violence erupted in the area after a Negro woman was killed by a fire truck responding to a fire call that turned out to be a false alarm. The rioting Thursday and Friday nights resulted in injuries to 67 persons and the arrest of 123.

Arrests At 67 In Demonstrations

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (AP)—The streets of this western Massachusetts city were quiet today as federal conciliators tried to repair a community rift widened over the weekend by the arrest of 67 civil rights demonstrators.

Harold T. Hunton and James D. Norton of the Community Relations Service met with the city's Human Relations Commission Sunday night. The details of the closed session were not disclosed.

BRUTALITY CHARGED

The conciliators described their visit as a fact-finding mission and said they will meet with Mayor Charles V. Ryan and other officials.

At issue are charges of brutality brought by civil rights leaders' in July against seven police officers. The leaders say the City Police Commission has been slow to take up the cases.

Demonstrations were renewed Friday and 23 persons were arrested on the steps of City Hall after being informed they could stay on municipal property only during office hours.

SET AFIRE

Violence threatened to erupt the same night after two stores in a Negro neighborhood were set afire with homemade bombs. A soaking rain prevented a crowd from gathering.

Forty-four persons were arrested Sunday, most of them after 200 persons paraded from a park in the Negro section 1½ miles to Court Square downtown.

On orders from the park superintendent, 100 helmeted policemen surrounded the square and carried off the limp demonstrators.

Coast Guard Spots Sloop

FALMOUTH, England (AP)—The Coast Guard reported today that Robert Manry and his little sloop Tinkerbelle have been sighted 20 miles south of Wolfrock, off the Cornish coast of England.

The Coast Guard said that the Cleveland, Ohio, newsman and his 13½-foot sloop were seen at 11:55 a.m. (5:55 a.m. EST) by the fishing trawler Clearwater, which was en route to the Scilly Islands.

Manry's position was within two or three days sailing of his goal—Falmouth harbor.

Manry, 48, has been at sea 77 days. He set sail June 1 on a 3,200 - mile voyage from Falmouth, Mass., to Falmouth, England.

Press Group Meet Starts

HOUSTON (AP)—Members of the Texas Daily Newspaper Association, holding their 1965 summer meeting in the Hotel America, have predicted that Gov. John Connally will seek a third term and that Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr will unseat U.S. Sen. John Tower.

In answer to a Houston Chronicle questionnaire sent to 117 members, 36 said the governor would seek a third term. Three forecast his retirement from politics.

Forty-one said U.S. Sen. Ralph Yarborough would not oppose Connally. Sixteen said he would. The questionnaire did not ask for a winner in a Connally-Yarborough race.

Carr and Rep. Jim Wright got 35 and 46 votes respectively as the Democrat who would seek his party's nomination to oppose Tower.

Forty-nine said the Democratic nominee would beat Tower, while nine said Tower would win, and one said it would be a toss-up.

Evangelist Graham Flies To Riot Talks

MONTREAT, N.C. (AP) — Evangelist Billy Graham, concerned about the Los Angeles riots, boarded a plane bound for Southern California today and planned to confer with a Negro aide there.

The rioting, which prompted Graham during the weekend to call for congressional action to curb violence, was to be the topic of a meeting with Ralph Bell, a member of the Graham crusade team in Los Angeles.

"Sinister forces in the country are trying to set race against race and class against class with the ruthless objectives of overthrowing the government," Graham said.

In an interview with the Asheville Citizen-Times, he said Congress should drop other legislative considerations immediately and pass legislation to curb rioting in Los Angeles, Chicago and Springfield, Mass.

Papandreou Aides Defect

ATHENS, Greece (AP)—Two major political partners of ousted Premier George Papandreou formally broke their ties with his Center Union Party policy today and opened the way for a possible anti-Papandreou parliamentary majority.

The declaration of independence by Stephanos Stephanopoulos, Papandreou's former deputy premier, and Elias Tsirimokos, former interior minister, brought this NATO nation's grave political crisis to a possible turning point after a month of rioting and uncertainty in which the monarchy itself seemed imperiled.

King Constantine, who ousted Papandreous July 15 and rejected his ultimatum that he be returned to power or new elections be called, appeared to hold a strengthened hand.

Stephanoulos and Tsirimokos announced Saturday they intended to break with the popular Papandreou, 77. Such a break could bring over 30 more dissident center union deputies and build up a possible majority for dissidents and Rightist National Radical Union partisans, who back the king.

Mercury At Peak Levels

By The Associated Press

High temperatures continued plaguing many parts of the East and South today following record-high readings Sunday.

The mercury was well into the 70s in many localities in the early morning.

Record highs were recorded Sunday in Syracuse, N.Y., 97; Dayton, Ohio, 98, and Elkins, W.Va. 90.

Violent storms Sunday evening pummeled parts of Texas. A funnel cloud was reported seen 20 miles northwest of the southern Texas community of Beesville.

McAlester in southeastern Oklahoma also received more than two inches of rain.

Cool air was reported moving through the northern Plains and the northern Great Lakes region.

Early morning temperatures ranged from 49 at Pellston, Mich., to 93 at Yuma, Ariz.

Two Men Fatally Burned In House

SPRING BRANCH, Tex. (AP) —Two men were burned to death today in their frame house in this town 30 miles north of San Antonio.

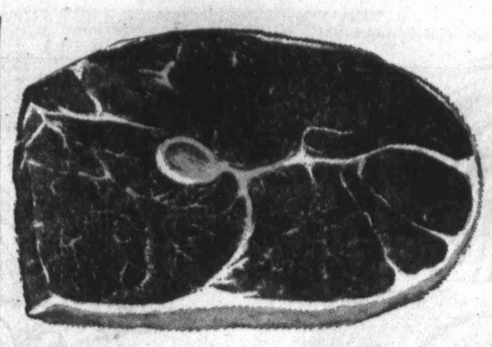

Comal County officers said a woman and a small child escaped without injuries.

The dead were identified as Hubert Bagby, 60, and his son, Roland Bagby, 36.

Church Uprising Data Gathered

LUSAKA, Zambia (AP) — An inquiry commission report on Zambia's Lumpa church uprising, in which more than 700 people were killed, has been given to President Kanneth Kaunda and is expected to be made public.

Among witnesses in closed hearings was the fanatic Lumpa prohetess Alice Lenshina who at the height of her "holy war" was "wanted dead or alive." She has been detained a year without trial.

A Devotional For The Day

"Take my yoke upon you, and learn from me; for I am gentle and lowly in heart, and you will find rest for your souls. For my yoke is easy, and my burden is light." (Matthew 11:29-30)

PRAYER: We are grateful, our Father, for the understanding and compassion of Christ. Grant that we may have the faith to accept Thy promises and to practice them, that we may find for ourselves that Thy promises are true, and that all our needs are met. This we ask in Jesus' name. Amen.

Problem Of Jobs For The Elders

In the Civil Rights Act of 1964, Congress banned discrimination in employment because of race, color, religion, sex or national origin. It did not include age, though some states have laws prohibiting maximum age limitations in hiring practices.

Congress instead ordered Secretary of Labor Willard Wirtz to report this summer on a study of factors causing discrimination in employment because of age, the consequences of such discrimination to the economy and individuals affected, and what might be done about it.

The Labor Department's report is now in, and it justifies Congress' hesitation to attempt a pat legislative solution. It found that in states without laws against age discrimination, three out of five employers fix age limitations. Secretary Wirtz guesses the economic loss at several billions of dollars annually, with obviously adverse impact on the lives of middle-aged and older workers forced futilely to seek new jobs.

The report attributes that discrimination not to malice, or even prejudice, but largely to "the ruthless play of wholly impersonal forces." These forces include assumptions — false, half-true or true — as to older workers' productivity, ability to adapt to new organizations and changing technology, and educational deficiencies (three-fifths of Americans over 55 have less than a high school education).

A heretofore underemphasized factor operating against hiring older workers is the phenomenal postwar spread of private enterprise pension and insurance systems. These usually are set up so that it is more costly to hire an older worker for a job at the same base pay as a younger one.

The Wirtz report, regrettably but probably accurately, indicates there is no simple solution to this problem.

Nevertheless, the unemployability of middle-aged or older family breadwinners — which too often cuts short the education of the succeeding generation — is one of the most urgent, critical and complex social and economic problems of our times. The Wirtz report offers no panacean blueprint — and Congress probably did not expect one — but it affords a starting point.

Bank-Robbing Is 'Easier'

This and that:

Safe-breaking is "out" and bank-robbing is "in" among the bolder gentry with the criminal-bent.

Safe-cracking, once a noble professional among the hooligan element, is regarded as hard work by the breed.

The bandits crave fast money to fulfill material wishes created by the consumer goods industry, according to criminal psychologists.

WHAT BETTER way to get it, they conclude, than walking into an institution which has "ready money" at any window, and sticking a carefully-worded note under the chin of some jittery teller?

The risks might be great but the rewards can be enormous. For five minutes' work and a week of planning, a patron of the art stands to pocket enough to stay solvent for a long time.

THE BANKERS have been told that the only really successful safety measure is armored safely glass to separate bank clerks from the public. But the bankers say their business would suffer under such conditions.

Until a substitute is found for money, I suppose the threat of bank robbery will always be with us.

WHAT IS YOUR definition of a Yankee?

A news agency says it's all according to what section of the world you might be in.

To a foreigner, any American qualifies. To an American, a Yankee is a northerner. To a northerner, a Yankee is a New Englander. To a New Englander, a Yankee is a Vermonter. And to a Vermonter? That would be any person who eats pie for breakfast.

SOME SCIENTISTS support the notion that the Atlantic land masses, those great islands now bordering on the Atlantic Ocean, once were a super-continent which fragmented, with each of the continents drifting its separate way.

They point out that, if the continents were fitted back together like a completed jigsaw puzzle, the result would be too close to have been caused by chance.

Supporters of such beliefs theorize that the west coast of Africa, that part jutting farther into the Atlantic Ocean, would join snugly with America's Atlantic Seaboard from Florida on up past New England.

Losing Grip On Satellites

The steady if sometimes almost imperceptible loosening of the iron grip with which Soviet Russia held its satellite empire in Central Europe fascinates today's observers even though they lack the long perspective of history. We do not know where all this will end, but the chances are that neither the Russians nor the satellites do either.

Romania is the most recent and instructive example of communism versus nationalism. As contrasted with Yugoslavia, Poland, and Hungary, where loosening of the ties with Moscow resulted in liberalization of the regime, Romania is still directed by a highly centralized government. It has yet to delegate responsibility to the local or regional level, in spite of the evident success of that move in Yugoslavia, Poland and Hungary, and even in the Soviet Union.

At the same time, the intensely nationalistic flavor of the Romanian approach to their recent history must leave their Soviet Russian party members breathless. Leaders of the Romanian Communist Party at their recent congress, for instance, spoke for all the world as if their victories resulted from their own efforts, not from Soviet Russian assistance — this when perhaps a thousand Romanians belonged to the party when the Russian "liberation" occurred. Even Marx, Lenin and Stalin have been downgraded to some extent in the effort to impart an indigenous flavor to the Romanian Communist Party.

Russians must experience profound misgivings as they watch the rise of nationalism among the satellites. In the absence of a revolt, as that in Hungary in 1956, it is becoming increasingly difficult for Moscow to interfere in the internal affairs of the satellite nations. Communists are not supposed to fight Communists — that will come later, after the Sino-Soviet dispute has simmered for a few more years.

We are witnessing the triumph of heresay over dogma. We can see that communism is no match for nationalism. We have reason to believe that history is in the process of repeating itself. It would be a much more fascinating spectacle if our future and that of mankind in general were not inextricably involved in the outcome.

Defiance Downgrades Respect Of Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — In the climate of the mind the hot sun of example can dry up the springs of orderly conduct.

Psychiatrists in Los Angeles had explanations for the Negro riots there: hate, frustration, poverty, resentment, hopelessness, heat, humidity. All were probably factors, and may in part explain the rioting in Chicago.

In Los Angeles the trouble began after a white policeman arrested a Negro he suspected of drunken driving; in Chicago after a Negro woman was killed by the swerving end of an undermanned fire engine.

IN BOTH places criminals may have begun the trouble by using those episodes as an excuse to hit back at the law since police are their natural enemies and they have no sense of the responsibility of citizenship.

Once violence began it may have opened the door for the stored-up frustrations of others who would not ordinarily defy the police but then, in Los Angeles at least, became criminals themselves with burning and looting.

But why did the defiance of law break out on such a massive scale? The repeated examples of defiance which they have seen and read about in recent years may have been a force influencing their actions.

OVER THOSE years there has been increasing defiance or testing of the orderly process, not only through massive demonstrations of sit-ins and lie-downs, but even by some Southern state governments against the federal government and the Supreme Court.

Both the demonstrators and the state governments decided for themselves whether a law or a court order was just or unjust. No doubt such defiances in the minds of many people in this country had the effect of downgrading respect for law.

Perhaps more often than not it has not been the ignorant or downtrodden who did the demonstrating and, defying police orders to move on, sat down or fell limp, waiting to be carried off to jail.

IN THE past week young demonstrators against the war in Viet Nam were arrested here on the Capitol grounds and blocking the entrance to the White House.

As police hauled them away they shouted "Freedom, freedom, freedom." Los Angeles rioters shouted "Burn, baby, burn."

Last Monday the president of the American Bar Association, Lewis F. Powell of Richmond, Va., was applauded by 3,000 lawyers at the ABA convention in Miami when he suggested some sit-in demonstrations could create disrespect for law.

"An orderly society," he said, "cannot exist if every man may determine which laws he will obey, and if techniques of coercion supplant due process.

"THE COURT and legislative halls, rather than the streets, must be the place where differences are reconciled and individual rights ultimately protected."

He also criticized the "criminal conduct of the small and defiant minority in the South which still uses violence and intimidation to frustrate the legal rights of Negro citizens."

President Johnson Sunday, condemning the violence in Los Angeles but at the same time saying "we must also strike at the unjust conditions from which disorder largely flows," issued this statement:

"There is no greater wrong in our democracy than violent, willful disregard of law. If men live decently it is because obedience to legal process saved their lives and enabled them to enlarge those lives."

Selling Out To Our Enemies

WASHINGTON — Which is more important — to make money for oneself in trading with an enemy or to help save human lives?

Everybody would say at once that it is obviously better to avert bloodshed and end any war that's going on. But when this is applied in practice, it turns out that many individuals in various countries, hitherto allied with us, have a greater passion for dollars or pounds or francs or marks or pesos.

THERE WOULDN'T be a war in Viet Nam today and American boys wouldn't be fighting and dying in a far-off land if the nations of the world whom the United States has befriended and to whom it continues year after year to send billions of dollars of aid took a stand in support of the American position in Viet Nam.

There would be a different story to tell if trade with Red China were cut off by the free world, and if the Soviets saw that the same thing would happen to them should they keep on siding with North Viet Nam by building missile sites there and sending weapons to be used to kill American soldiers and airmen.

RED CHINA is in every sense a co-belligerent with North Viet Nam. The Viet Cong couldn't last a month if forces and weapons were not supplied directly or indirectly by the Communists regime in Peiping.

But what is the news that the American people read in the headlines last week? Canada has announced that it has just completed a deal to sell $450 million worth of wheat to the Soviet government. This illustrates the importance placed on international trade and the dependence of the Communist bloc on trade with the free world.

IT HAS BEEN argued that more trade will produce better relations with the Communist regimes, and a new scheme now is being pushed here to sell vast quantities of U. S. wheat to Communist countries, especially in Eastern Europe.

Much of the American grain which would be shipped to the Communists in Eastern Europe or elsewhere has been bought and paid for by United States taxpayers through the farm-subsidy program. The Chicago Tribune says editorially:

"IF THE SALE is approved, we will be selling wheat to Communists at 75 cents a bushel less than American flour millers have to pay for it. And if Congress authorizes the administration's new wheat program, the Communists next year will be able to buy our wheat a $1.25 a bushel less than it is sold for food in this country. In other words, the administration proposes to sell our wheat to Communists at the low world price while at the same time it is asking Congress to boost the price of domestic wheat for food to double the world price — which means American consumers would have to pay higher prices for wheat foods — for example, two cents a loaf more for bread.

"MOREOVER, we are beginning to hear that inasmuch as our grain sales to Russia simply free Russian grain for export to Red China and Cuba, we might as well get in on this trade directly. Not mentioned is the argument that if we did not sell grain to Russia, it would have less grain to supply Red China and Cuba. And if we sell to Red China, why not ship food directly to North Viet Nam, even though it is directing a war against us and killing Americans in South Viet Nam?

So it comes back to the same old question: Which is more important — to make money for oneself or to help save human lives, especially American lives? The war the United States is fighting in Viet Nam has a worthy purpose and winning it can do a great deal to prevent further acts of aggression and to preserve world peace. But if, as in the 1930's, private greed supersedes the interests of the people as a whole, the world may again see a global conflict.

The First Shirt's Birthday

VINH LONG, South Viet Nam (AP) — It was the First Shirt's birthday and by popular decree the Happy Hour had been extended far into the night.

In the Army in wartime there is time for only two major holidays: Christmas and the first sergeant's birthday.

First Sgt. William Bledsoe of Chattanooga, Tenn., had reached his 47th birthday in his third war with nary a gray hair sullying the dark crewcut atop his handsome head. The boys in the MACV house — Military Assistance Command Viet Nam — in Vinh Long Province down in the delta assembled a fire team to convoy him safely past that momentous milestone.

DURING HAPPY Hour, normally the cocktail hour before supper, martinis plummet from 25 cents to 10 cents and beer from 20 cents to 10 cents in the screened-in little bar on the roof of the barracks. At those prices, bonhomie was found to flow faster than the muddy Mekong slipping by in the distance.

THE NIGHT rang with an anvil chorus of liquefied salutations for the First Shirt. Well-wishers came and went, fell by the wayside and wandered off soliloquizing the big delta moon in jabbering iambics, but Sgt. Bledsoe manfully stuck to his stool. He took on enough infusions of distilled camaraderie to fell a water buffalo and yet rarely slurred a syllable in gracefully acknowledging each paean to his antiquity.

Next morning the casualty list was high and ice in high demand as a poultice for wounded pates. Cheeks sagged. Eyeballs took on the color of tattered flags. Hands shook. A morning air-strike rattled the windows and shook the floors of the compound, but some of the survivors of the night's jubilation thought it was only the ringing inside their heads.

And yet at 7 a.m., same as always, there sat 1st Sgt. Bledsoe ramrod straight at his desk in the orderly room, fatigues neatly pressed, shoes shined like an ebony woodcarving, eyes clear and shining.

Which is why the First Shirt wears the First Shirt.

The Negro Vote

SELMA, Ala. — This lush, flat, cotton-rich, cattle-rich country was the last arsenal of the Confederacy, and it took a fearful licking in one of the final engagements of the Civil War.

It has taken another beating in the year of racial strife that triggered passage of the voting rights bill. In the eyes of a great deal of the nation, Alabama has been an obstinate bastion of bigotry, and Selma has been its most impenetrable strongpoint.

SELMA IS WHERE the Rev. James Reeb was murdered, and it was on the highway between Selma and Montgomery that three night-riding Klansmen slew Mrs. Viola Luizzo. Selma is where Sheriff Jim Clark's infamous horse guards won their shameful spurs.

All these things are true of Selma, and yet here in Selma it is possible to sense the first cool breeze of sanity and moderation. It is possible that Selma or any other city in the Deep South may yet be the focus of more violence, for the diehards remain powerful. But whether that happens or not, the real battle is over. The patient line in front of Selma's old post office building testifies that the Negro at last is cashing in on all the years of toil and terror and misery.

THERE IS nothing stupid about the white leadership of Selma. The city's 32,000 people are almost evenly divided as to race, and in all of Dallas County Negroes slightly outnumber whites.

"In all the agitation from the outside," one white leader said, "people have lost sight of the fact that here in Selma we have plenty of Negro talent that can provide leadership. We have Negro professional men who are respected by black and white alike. We've got Negro businessmen who have made a lot of money in Selma. It's obvious that these people are going to have a considerable voice in how the city and county will be run."

THE TRUTH IS — and Alabama racial politics being what they are it is a truth that is barely whispered — some of the more sensible white community leaders have already begun encouraging prosperous and prominent members of Selma's black community to take a more active role in the struggle for Negro rights.

This is not to say that enactment of the voting rights bill has transformed the Deep South overnight. Even among moderates here there is deep bitterness that is unlikely to fade for a long time. "If they insist on permitting illiterates to vote in Alabama," one by no means benighted Selman said, "why didn't they make it the law of the land, so illiterates could vote in New York, or any place else."

IT IS EASY to find Selmans who will scoff at the long line of Negroes waiting to be registered, with variations on the same theme: "Now let's see how many of them bother to come out and vote."

But one witness, having looked at the quiet triumph in perhaps 200 Negro faces in these past few days, has to conclude that the majority of the Negroes who have registered to vote since federal examiners came to Selma did so because they wanted to vote, not because of some diabolical brainwashing by mischief-making outsiders.

THEY ARE GOING to vote in large numbers, in Alabama and elsewhere in the Deep South. White Alabamans are reconciled to it, and if many don't like it, it seems safe to conclude that most have finally been persuaded that they will find it possible to live with it.

Big Brother's Not So Nice

WASHINGTON—Not since the "late unpleasantness," as delicate persons used to call the Civil War, have Americans taken arms against the Federal Government—but sometimes it's mighty hard to love Big Brother.

How do you love a liar? The State Department is now writhing as the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee puts out weekly editions of the verbatim testimony on the William Wieland case. These prickly little pamphlets, scheduled to run 30 in number, form a shabby parade of prevarications, contradictions, recantations and recriminations by men in high positions of public trust.

HOW DO YOU LOVE a book-burner? Senator Tom Dodd of Connecticut, joined by several colleagues, has ordered the "destruction" of several thousand copies of Suzanne Labin's, "The Techniques of Soviet Propaganda." Granted, in this instance, the Senators did have some provocation. In 1960 Mademoiselle Labin wrote a thoroughly documented study of the Soviet's world-wide apparatus for subverting public opinion by infiltration of otherwise respectable Labor unions, peace groups, universities and foundations. Her booklet sold 170,000 copies through the Government Printing Office, and in 1965 she updated her work.

MEMBERS OF the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee didn't see any of the 6,000 copies of the revised edition until they hit print under the auspices of that group. In the revisied edition Mlle. Labin spoke slightingly of the Ford Foundation and the Moscow Treaty for the Nuclear Test Ban. Do you destroy a whole printing of books in order to expunge parts of it? Tom Dodd, who officiated at the Nuremberg Trials of the Nazi leaders, apparently couldn't bring himself to have the books incinerated. His office tells me they will be put out of existence by the "pulping process."

HOW DO YOU love a snooper? The young and handsome Commissioner of Internal Revenue, Sheldon Cohen, appeared earlier this summer before a Judiciary subcommittee and expressed his disapproval of bugging rooms, tapping telephones and other slinky methods in use by Federal agents to spy on taxpayers.

Now it turns out that IRS has used two-way mirrors in 10 American cities and has used hidden microphones in 21 of the same. Nobody knows the full extent of Federal snooping, but it is extensive and right now Big Brother may be watching you.

Thus does Big Brother, busy at everybody's welfare, alienate our affections.

Billy Graham

Will positive thinking take most of our troubles away? How does one think positive thoughts? I would like very much to find peace but it eludes me. G.T.

Sometimes the term "positive thinking" can be misinterpreted. If it is detached from the redeeming power of God it becomes a mere mental exercise with limited results.

The Bible says, "Let this mind be in you which was also in Christ Jesus." Our minds, in their natural state, tend to entertain doubts, resentments, evil imaginations, and other kinds of wrong thoughts. The Bible teaches that when Christ comes into our lives He brings new thought processes. This becomes "positive thinking" in a Christian sense. Then His thoughts become our thoughts. Instead of thinking badly about people who have wronged us, we begin to think good thoughts about them. Instead of being unbelieving about God's goodness, and cynical about others, we put the best construction upon everything. Many people are eaten up these days by hatred, malice and envy. This is not pleasing to God, and does great damage to ourselves. Christ can change all this. Remember, the Bible says, "Let this mind be in you." This means that if we choose we can go on living in inner misery, but it also means that God has given us the power to choose the Way of peace, joy and contentment. It is up to us. Christ's power is available to all who will accept it.

Hiatal Hernia A Fault In The Esophagus

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Dear Dr. Molner: What causes a hiatus hernia? Should it be surgically repaired? — MRS. E. R.

We know what a hiatus hernia is, and how it behaves but the cause is not always clear.

This ailment, also called hiatal hernia and sometimes upside stomach in extreme cases is not related to the very common abdominal hernias or ruptures.

Rather, it is a fault in the place at which the esophagus, or gullet, has to pass through the diaphragm. After all, there has to be a way for our victuals to reach the stomach.

If this aperture in the diaphragm is a little larger than it should be, the extreme upper part of the stomach may force its way into or up through the opening. The result can be misery very similar to that of ulcers.

I can't say whether hiatal hernia is more common than formerly, but it certainly is being recognized frequently now.

Some relaxation of the supporting fibrous tissues in the area may be substantial factor, and we know that hiatal hernia much more often is found in older people in whom some changes in the fibrous tissues are likely to occur. (I don't mean that young people can't have the problem; it occurs in the 20's and 30's, too.)

Obesity may be a factor — pressure within the abdominal cavity tends to force the stomach out of position. Indeed, loss of some weight often is a very effective means of easing the trouble.

As to surgery, yes, that may be necessary at times, but most decidedly not always. Many minor cases of hiatal hernia are found incidentally in the course of X-ray studies. A lot of these present no symptoms.

Many others, with non-surgical treatment, are corrected or kept well enough under control so that they cause no discomfort.

Surgical repair is indicated when symptoms involve a persistent burning sensation, difficulty in swallowing, and bleeding.

* * *

Dear Dr. Molner: My children and I like salt the way most people like candy. We drink a lot of tea and colas, too. Does that mean we need more salt? Is this seasoning dangerous, as some people say, and will it dry up the blood?— J. P.

We all need a certain amount of salt, although for some people it has to be in very limited quantities.

Your "liking" for it is a matter of taste and, I dare say, an acquired quirk of appetite. Your children probably got the habit by following your lead.

Salt increases thirst, which probably accounts for the amount of tea and colas you drink. Your thirst, thus, makes you want more liquid to carry away any excess salt.

Salt doesn't dry up the blood. However, with certain heart, liver or kidney ailments, the amount should be limited. (Salt doesn't cause these troubles, but it results in fluids accumulating in the body tissues in such cases, and that is harmful.)

Widow's Mite: Benefits Now Possible At Age 60

By JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Congress has now made it possible for widows to draw monthly Social Security benefits as early as age 60.

Effective Sept. 1, 1965, a woman no longer need wait until she is 62 to collect such checks. However, the size of the check is reduced if she applies for her widow's benefit before 62.

Normally, the widow of a worker who was insured under Social Security is entitled to 82½ per cent of her husband's primary benefit — what he would have received if he had lived to retire at age 65.

But she can get that much only if she waits until she is 62 to apply. If she chooses to start collecting at age 61, she gets only 77 per cent; at age 60, only 71½ per cent.

BEFORE 60

Actually, a widow may draw Social Security benefits even before she is 60 — provided she has an unmarried child under 18 or one who was disabled before age 18.

In such event, the widow gets 75 per cent of her deceased husband's primary benefit. But unless she has a disabled child in her care this payment — which amounts to a mother's rather than a widow's benefit — stops when her youngest child reaches 18. And she then can't resume collecting Social Security checks until she herself becomes 60 (and isn't married at the time).

There's also a difference in the eligibility rules. A widow with a disabled child or one under 18 may collect survivors' benefits if the worker was either "currently" or "fully" insured under Social Security. But if she has no such children she can collect benefits only if he was "fully" insured.

TO 10 YEARS

To be fully insured, a person must work under Social Security for periods ranging up to 10 years — depending on his year of birth. To be currently insured, he must work only 1½ of the three years preceding death.

Whether the worker was fully or currently insured, each of his surviving children is entitled to 75 per cent of his primary benefit. This pertains to any child under 18; any child under 22 who is still a full-time student; and any child of any age who is incapable of self-support due to physical or mental disability incurred before age 18.

The "student benefit" is new, and it is retroactive to Jan. 1, 1965. But unless she is at least 60, the widowed mother of such a student cannot collect an extra benefit for herself — as she can if she has a disabled child or a youngster under 18.

In any event, there is a limit on how much one family can draw each month. This now ranges from $66 to $309.20, depending on the deceased worker's average earnings under Social Security. The ceiling will go up to $368 in 1967.

When a worker dies, his parents also may collect survivors' benefits. To qualify, a parent must be at least 62 and must have received at least half of his financial support from the worker. Also, the worker must have been fully insured at time of death.

DEPENDENT PARENT

The monthly payment to one dependent parent equals 82½ per cent of the worker's primary benefit. If there are two dependent parents, each gets 75 per cent.

Sometimes a widower qualifies. To do so, he must be at least 62 and must have depended on his wife for at least half of his financial support. Also, she must have been both fully and currently insured under Social Security. The payment to a dependent widower is 82½ per benefit.

Also available when a worker dies is a lump-sum death benefit. It is equal to three times the worker's primary monthly benefit, up to a maximum of $255.

This is paid to the widow or widower, provided the spouse was living with the worker at time of death or paid the burial expenses. Otherwise, the lump-sum benefit goes to the person who paid for the funeral.

WIDOW'S CASH BENEFITS

This table shows how much a worker's widow may draw in monthly survivors' benefits, depending on her husband's average yearly earnings under Social Security.

The examples are for (1) a widow aged 62 who has no disabled children or youngsters under 18, and (2) a widow under 60 who has one such child. The family maximum is also indicated.

ANNUAL YEARLY EARNINGS	AGE 62 (NO CHILD)	UNDER 60 (ONE CHILD)	FAMILY MAXIMUM
$804 or less	$ 44.00	$ 66.00	$ 66.00
$1,200	52.20	94.80	94.80
$1,800	64.60	117.40	120.00
$2,400	74.20	135.00	161.60
$3,000	83.90	152.60	202.40
$3,600	92.80	168.60	240.00

State Rains Take Edge Off Drouth

COLLEGE STATION (AP) — Showers, mostly in Central and East Texas, took some of the edge off a drouthy August last week but not enough to close ground cracks. The western third of the state still was desert-dry.

John Hutchison, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, said slow, general rains are needed by pastures and late crops and to put the soil in condition for winter pastures.

HELPS HARVEST

The hot dry weather is helping harvesting. Cotton and grain harvests are gaining momentum. Many farmers are busy baling hay. Livestock are in fair to good shape, although stock water is low in some areas.

Panhandle range land is about normal but drying out fast. Cotton is late, fruiting is good, and bug damage is low. Dryland sorghums are late and need rain. Irrigated sorghums are about 75 per cent headed or in the boot stage. Labor, except for several southern counties, is generally adequate.

LUBBOCK AREA

Crops are not as well off in the Lubbock area. The entire region is dry. Irrigated sorghum, cotton and soybeans are progressing. Ranch lands need rain badly. Dryland sorghum and cotton are poor.

It's the same story in North Central Texas. Moisture is needed now. Cotton growth and fruiting are slow, and there is some shedding. Boll weevil damage is reported in some counties. Stock water is low. Kaufman County ginned its first bale. A rain would help late cotton.

CORN MATURING

Corn is rapidly maturing and some harvesting is under way. Grain sorghum yields are fair to good. Pastures are drying out and there is danger of range fires.

In the northeast corner of Texas, scattered showers helped but overall moisture is inadequate. Some cotton is opening, the Elberta peach harvest should be through in 10 days. The sweet potato harvest is on. There is enough stock water. Farm labor is scarce.

In the Fort Stockton region, moisture is short and ranges are thirsty. Irrigated cotton is progressing, although bollworms are increasing. Labor is short. Shipping lamb weights are encouraging.

ANGELO AREA

In the San Angelo area, cotton and peanuts are growing fine in the hot, dry weather. Insects are increasing in cotton. Sorghum harvesting is well along, with good early yields. Late sorghum is burning and falling. Goat shearing is in full swing, and there is heavy marketing of cattle in the Abilene area.

Pastures and moisture are short in Central Texas. Dryland peanuts are suffering. The sorghum harvest is more than half done. Goat shearing is on.

Showers have helped East Texas, but more would be welcome. Cotton, corn, and pastures are about average. Haying is active.

Cotton in South Central Texas is maturing and harvesting is starting. The sorghum harvest is almost complete. A rain would benefit pastures.

GOOD RAINS

The upper Coastal Bend had good rains. The rice harvest is near its peak with excellent yields. Cotton picking is starting. A fair to good pecan crop is in prospect.

Rain hampered Coastal Bend and Rio Grande Valley cotton picking, causing some loss in yield and grade. The moisture helped pastures, but dry conditions still exist in the western regions of deep South Texas. Ample dry grass is still available to keep livestock in fair to good shape. The sorghum harvest is near completion. Some vegetables are being planted in the Valley and Winter Garden.

Spacemen To Be Secluded

WASHINGTON (AP) — The doctors come first, so astronauts L. Gordon Cooper and Charles Conrad Jr. will be kept in seclusion for 11 days after they complete their historic eight-day space flight.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration announced here that even the men's families would not be able to visit them while they undergo an 11-day debriefing period at Cape Kennedy and the Manned Spacecraft Center at Houston.

Air Force Lt. Col. Cooper and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Conrad are scheduled to begin their space voyage Thursday.

When they return, NASA said, interviews, parades and medal-pinning trips to the White House will not be permitted immediately.

Texas Senators Split On Measure

WASHINGTON (AP) — Texas senators were split last week as the Senate passed 57-33 a bill to create the new Cabinet Department of Housing and Urban Development.

Sen. Ralph Yarborough, Austin Democrat, voted with the majority and Sen. John Tower, a Republican from Wichita Falls, voted against.

Hospital Blowup

Army medics are shown as they inflate one of a new-type hospital in a box. The new unit would replace the old canvas tents as field hospitals. The new units can be set up complete and ready for patients in thirty minutes. The hospital in a box comes complete in its packing box. The above demonstration was at Ft. Hood. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Washington: Administrative Jungle Both Good And Bad

WASHINGTON (AP) — Aside from being the capital of the United States, Washington is a sort of national looking glass.

The reflection is not wholly flattering.

President Johnson said in a message to Congress:

"The nation's capital should be a city in which every American can take justifiable pride. For the District of Columbia is more than a city—it is the seat of our federal government and the home of our most meaningful shrines."

CITY OF POLITICOS

First and foremost, Washington is a city of politicians and bureaucrats, most of whom don't live in it. The politicians are concerned mainly with the problem of national affairs or of their own states. That leaves Washington pretty much to the bureaucrats. The end result is an administrative jungle.

Washington is a city with all the problems of other cities plus some peculiarly its own, including the absence of elected spokesmen. Washingtonians can't vote on local matters.

There is the Washington of tourists — nine million will traipse through the place this year. Among them will be 600,000 school children, taking in the sights. Mostly they will see only the clean, safe Washington, stretching for about two-and-a-half miles along Constitution and Pennsylvania avenues.

CRIME SKYROCKETS

Then there is the other Washington — the Washington where crime has increased 137 per cent since 1958; where two policemen, breaking up a fight and attempting an arrest, are surrounded and kicked by a mob of 200; where a woman is stabbed while praying in a church two blocks from the Capitol.

It is the Washington where an estimated 2,000 tear gas pens are sold monthly. To combat the increase in crime, President Johnson has asked Congress for an emergency appropriation of $1.8 million.

There is the Washington of the National Gallery of Art, one of the world's truly great museums; of the small but elegant Phillips Gallery, with its sparkling Renoirs and a breathtaking El Greco.

There is the Washington where Congress spent $129 million of the nation's taxes building and equipping an office building for 169 members of the House of Representatives.

Congress allows the city's welfare department $55 a month rent for a family of 13 and gives a needy family of four $2.56 a day for food.

Colorado River Plan Pressed

AUSTIN (AP)— Texas water project plans, including new dams for South Texas and an ambitious Colorado River system to feed water to West Texas, were considered today by U.S. Bureau of Reclamation officials.

The officials include Bureau Commissioner Floyd Dominy and L. W. Hill of Amarillo, director of the bureau's Region 5, which includes all of Texas.

Harry Burleigh, head of the bureau's Texas planning office, said the discussions covered Texas project plans nearing completion, including the Cuero project, the Cibolo Creek project on the San Antonio River watershed and the Choke Canyon project on the Nueces River. All projects would be single reservoirs.

Also under consideration is a plan, just shaping up, for pumping water up the Colorado River from the bureau's proposed 418-mile water supply canal down the Gulf Coast from the Sabine River to the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Burleigh said the project would involve pumping stations and channel dams along the Colorado. Water would be supplied as far west as Odessa and Midland if the project is completed, he said.

Burleigh said the conferees devoted some time to the bureau's proposed Texas Basins project, which includes the Gulf Coast water supply canal. The plans already have been completed and sent to the State Water Commission for possible inclusion in the statewide water plan ordered last year by Gov. Connally.

Rioting Called 'Outlaw' Work

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Gov. Orval Faubus said today the riots in Los Angeles resulted from disrespect for law and order, "the work of outlaws."

The governor also said the riots took place despite new laws expanding Negro freedom.

"They said if you did not pass all civil rights laws this would happen," Faubus said. "They were passed and more besides and it still happened."

Faubus said the breakdown in law and order was partly the result of Supreme Court decisions which have freed civil rights workers arrested for demonstrating in Southern cities.

"This is unwise law making, which is not their duty," he said.

Names Drawn For Grand Jury

Sixteen names were drawn this morning for grand jury duty in 118th District Court.

The jury commissioners named by Judge Ralph Caton completed their task about 11 a.m. They were Joe Pickle, Clyde McMahon Sr., and Mrs. R. L. Collins.

The new term of court opens Aug. 24, but Judge Caton has not as yet set a date for the grand jury to be empanelled.

Enjoys Crown

Mary Lou Butler, 18, of Nacogdoches, enjoys wearing her Miss Texas crown won recently at the climax of a four-day pageant in Ft. Worth. The blue-eyed, brown-haired Miss Nacogdoches is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nolan Butler of Irving. Miss Butler is 5' 8" and measures 37½-25-37½. She is the Texas representative to the Miss America pageant in Atlantic City. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Resignation By Cabinet Rejected

SEOUL, Korea (AP) — The South Korean cabinet resigned today in the wake of the ratification of the controversial Japan-South Korea amity treaty, but President Chung Hee Park rejected the resignation.

The cabinet resigned so Park could make any changes he felt necessary to cope with the tense political situation.

Seven Mishaps Are Reported

Seven traffic accidents marred the Big Spring weekend, but there were no injuries, police said Monday. Rain-slick streets contributed to the rash of mishaps, according to officers.

At Fifth and San Jacinto, a car being towed by Walter Fields, 1308 Princeton, was damaged on the left rear fender when it was struck by a hit-and-run driver, police reported.

At the intersection of IS 20 and State Highway 350, Iris Jackson Sullivan, Jal N. M., and Bobby Joe Goodwin, 1612 Donley, escaped injuries when their cars collided.

At 2 p.m. Saturday, the bicycle of David Myramontes, 1703 W. 3rd, and the car of Homer Vivian Miller, 1311 Lincoln, collided at the intersection of West 1st and Brown, police said.

Sunday, 75 feet east of Main on Eighth, the car of Robert R. Smithie Jr., 3808 US 80 west struck a telephone pole.

The car of Robert T. Wilkinson, 1007 Lancaster, was in collision with the car of Manuel Jiminez Jr., Vincent, at the intersection of Seventh and Lancaster.

At 13th and Johnson early Sunday afternoon, the car of Abbie Anderson, 1306 Main, and the car of Fannie Allen Adkins, 1808 Settles, were in a collision.

The car of Delphine Pena, Welch, was in collision with the car of Claude Carpenter, Gail Route, at the intersection of Fourth and Main, police reported.

Crash Injuries Fatal To Victim

FORT WORTH (AP) — Mrs. Kitty Jernigan, 76, died today of injuries suffered Sunday in a two-car collision.

Mrs. Odom's Funeral Set

Mrs. Mary Margaret Odom, 76, died Sunday morning in a local hospital after an illness of five months.

A resident of Cross Plains, Mrs. Odom was born Jan. 28, 1889, in Dusden, Tenn. She lived in Stanton from 1922 to 1945. She was visiting a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Bain, Big Spring, at the time of her death. Her husband died in 1961. She was a member of the Methodist Church.

Services will be at 4 p.m. Monday in the First Methodist Church of Cross Plains. Burial will be in Cross Plains under the direction of Higginbothom Funeral Home. Local arrangements were handled by River-Welch Funeral Home.

Survivors include four sons, L. A. Odom and Garth Odom, both of Stanton, Otis Odom Jr., Cross Plains, and Alton Odom, Lubbock; a daughter, Mrs. W. H. Bain, Big Spring; a brother, C. R. Steele, Coleman; two sisters, Mrs. Dave Ingram, Cross Plains, and Mrs. Edgar Bragg, Stanton; 11 grandchildren; and seven great-grandchildren.

Space Heroes Tip Pair For Coming Flight

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — Shooting through space at 17,500 miles per hour is an experience not shared by many persons — only 10 Americans and 11 Russians to be exact.

Astronauts James A. McDivitt and Edward H. White II are two of this small band of space pioneers. They thrilled the world June 3 when White zipped about with his space walk propellant gun during their four-day, Gemini 4 flight.

ON GROUND

Thursday they will be on the ground as Air Force Lt. Col. L. Gordon Cooper Jr. and Navy Lt. Cmdr. Charles Conrad Jr. start their scheduled record-breaking eight-day flight.

When the mighty Titan 2 rocket leaves the pad at Cape Kennedy, Cooper and Conrad will be remembering hundreds of small details passed on by McDivitt and White.

"We have spent a lot of time with Gordon and Pete," says McDivitt. "And then there are, literally, thousands of pages of written reports we made."

MORE SLEEP

"Two specific recommendations we made for Gemini 5 were a longer sleep cycle and a way to shut off the radio in the helmet so you could go to sleep," said White.

As a result, Cooper and Conrad will have sleep periods of six hours plus two-hour naps during a 24-hour period, and a switch has been installed to turn off the radio.

McDivitt and White, both Air Force lieutenant colonels, also offered advice in stowing equipment, food and instruments in the tiny cabin.

"We became experts in putting things away," laughs McDivitt.

Invasion By India Claimed

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP) — Radio Pakistan claimed today that Indian forces had crossed the U.N. cease-fire line in the Kargil area of Kashmir and occupied three border posts.

The radio quoted a spokesman of the Azad Kashmir government in the Pakistani sector of Kashmir.

Sunday night the Azad Kashmir government reported that an earlier Indian attempt to invade the Pakistani sector had been repulsed with heavy Indian casualties. That report said India had been shelling Pakistani posts for the last three days.

In the Indian sector of Kashmir, at least two civilians were killed in fighting Sunday night between the Indian army and guerrillas at Sardar Sharif, 18 miles southwest of Srinagar the Indian government radio reported.

Proposed Talks With Soviets Out

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — The West German Defense Ministry has banned proposed discussions between young German army officers and a visiting young Russian group, reports Hamburg YMCA Secretary Gerhard Weber. He quoted the ministry as saying that although talks were usually possible between German soldiers and foreign youth groups Russian soldiers are not able to hold discussions with German citizens.

By HUGH A. MULLIGAN

BIARRITZ, France (AP) — Twenty years ago, when the fighting in Europe had ended, the War Department hit on the idea of creating an American-style university in France to ease the boredom of GIs waiting to be shipped home.

Almost overnight, bomb-scarred Biarritz, once one of Europe's most fashionable resorts and only lately vacated by a German antiaircraft division, became a bustling college town. Its elegant old hotels were transformed into dormitories, its gilt and baroque villas turned into classrooms and laboratories.

FOND MEMORIES

Few colleges in history came into being under such bizarre conditions. Few vanished so fast but left such fond memories.

On the same day that the Enola Gay was speeding to its target area over Hiroshima, more than 200 American professors from Harvard, Yale, Middlebury, Colgate, Georgia Tech, Ohio State and a dozen other top campuses were debarking from a troop ship at Le Havre. They climbed aboard Army trucks for a 10-hour journey into the Pyrenees and an exciting new experience in higher education.

Exactly two weeks later, on Aug. 20, 1945, Barritz American University dusted off its makeshift blackboards and opened its doors to some 4,000 soldier-students, both officers and enlisted men, who poured out of the military zones of Germany, Holland and Beglium for eight weeks of cram courses designed to add up to a college semester. Consdering that all the books had to be shipped over and all the lab equipment borrowed or scrounged, the university catalogue covered a surprising range of subjects: Agriculture, engineering, education, liberal arts, science, journalism, fine arts, theater.

NEW LIFE

For men who had lived through the litany of Biertz, Anzio, Normandy, St. Lo and Remagen, it was a revelation to find that such things as Chaucer and Joyce, and the kinetic theory had survived the holocaust. The miracle of Biarritz was more than just sleeping in a room. Or leaving your shoes outside the door or being escorted into the dining room by an imperious maitre d' hotel after months or years of living in the field. It was getting back to things civilized, to worrying about grades and tests, and making the dean's list, and all the other academic pressures that seemed so far removed from the battlefield.

The townsmen oi Biarritz, in France's lovely basque country, were equally enthralled. After years of listening to the boom of coastal guns and the tramp of booted troopers, it delighted them to find their tamarisk-lined walks and broad, white beaches frequented by khaki-clad students toting books and arguing about Faulkner and Gertrude Stein. Miss Stein suddenly showed up at Biarritz one day, offering her new play, "Yes Is for a Very Young Man," for production by the university players. The night before it opened, she summarily changed the name to, "No Is for a Very Old Man."

BAU, as it came to be called, flowered for only three terms and had a total alumni of perhaps 12,000, but its achievements were spectacular. In its six months of existence it could boast of a full symphony orchestra, a 60-voice chorus, two basketball teams that beat the best in Europe, a fencing team and a theater under the direction of TV's Albert McCleery, then an Army lieutenant colonel, that produced everything from Shakespeare's "Richard III" to William Saroyan's "The Time of Your Life" and included among its directors and stage designers Guthrie McClintic, Richard Whorf, Leo Rosten and Mordecai Gorelik.

The engineering department rebuilt one of the bombed out hotels and developed a master plan for postwar Biarritz. The fine arts department sent its performers out to entertain at French hospitals and orphanages.

That was all 20 years ago, and, except in the memories of those who attended it or taught here, Biarritz American University survives only in the Washington archives of the Army historical section.

This summer I had occasion to go back to Biarritz, to walk the same crooked streets, to stay at the same hotel where 20 years ago, as a private I had been treated as a king, to sit on the same beach at sunset and watch the Pyrenees burning a golden red in the distance, thining long, long throughts.

Time had obliterated most of the landmarks of our GI alma mater. The old college town was gone, forever. The library had reverted to a gambling casino and added a bowling alley. They were playing baccarat and chemin-defer in the main reading room, and roulette wheels whirred where the checkout desk had been. The quaint open trollery cars were gone from the tree shaded road — so were the trees. Someone had straightened the road into a four-lane highway.

Latins, LBJ To Hold Meet

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson meets Tuesday with Latin-American diplomats. The occasion is the fourth anniversary of the Alliance for Progress.

The alliance is a 10-year, $100-billion program designed to stimulate the economic and social growth of Latin America. The Latin nations are paying 80 per cent of the cost, with the United States also chipping in.

NAACP Hits Draft Defiance

MT. PLEASANT (AP) — A Texas official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People (NAACP) says it is "not only unfortunate but unthinkable" that Negroes be urged to dodge the military draft.

Clarence Laws of Dallas, southwest regional director for the NAACP, made the statement in an address Sunday before the Mt. Pleasant branch of the association.

A suggestion that Negroes try to dodge the draft was allegedly made recently by the Mississippi Freedom Democratic party.

Peking Minister, Indonesian Talk

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — Communist Chinese Foreign Minister Chen Yi met with Indonesian Foreign Minister Subandrio for 3½ hours Sunday night. Observers speculated that they talked about Singapore.

Chen Yi arrived Sunday for celebrations of Indonesia's 20th independence anniversary Tuesday.
