Star Lites

By Bill Ellis

THE OTHER EVENING when the electricity was off for several hours at our house turned out to be quite an experience for our family.

You don't realize to what extent you have become dependent upon electricity until something happens to totally "shut off the juice."

How long has it been since you had supper by candlelight?

"Did you really have to use lamps like that one for their light, before they had electricity," the boys wanted to know.

Fortunately for us, Carol had just finished our supper (on our electric range, naturally) when the power went off. Otherwise, it could have been milk and cookies by candlelight.

Of course, the biggest sacrifice, according to our youngsters, was in not having a working television set. We kinda enjoyed it. That was probably the first time since the last time our set was on the blink that it wasn't on at night.

We finally persuaded Stan to bring out his guitar, and he gave us a guitar medley (also by candlelight).

We enjoyed the enforced diversion brought about by the weather calamity, and even included a small prayer for the guys who were out in the wind and cold, trying to correct the problem. As Stan said, it's hardly ever anything but bad weather when they're having to work on the lines.

Back to the dependency on electricity, though. Guess which editor had put off until Thursday night after supper to write his weekly column? Yep, this one.

Guess which one didn't have lights. But never mind, even if he did, you know, all of the typewriters these days are electric. I couldn't have even written one by candlelight.

And I'm no Lincoln. I tried scribbling a column on the back of an envelope one time. They thought it was a want ad, and threw it out because it looked like a poor risk.

Aha! I could go down to the office and write my column, because the power wasn't off in that part of town. The door on that nice, warm garage-alas, works by electricity, so scotch that idea.

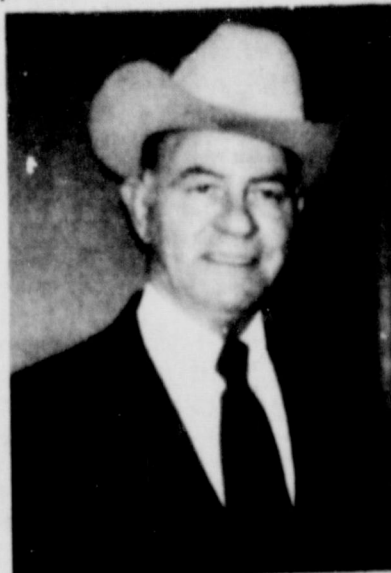

I know! I'll set my alarm, and get up early Friday morning and write the column. Well, that would be all right, but the alarm will probably go off anywhere up to 11 a.m. since the power is off.

Well, just as well feed the dogs and go to bed. Oops, sorry, dogs. Electric can opener, you know.

Could the outages we've been having be a conspiracy by the electric company, to make us realize their rate increases really aren't too bad, compared to no electricity at all?

Probably not, but an outage like we had Thursday really makes you stop and think about the many things we have which are totally dependent upon electric power.

By the way, Southwestern Public Service: thanks for the opportunity for a little rest after supper Thursday, and getting to go to bed early for a change. But don't forget to deduct four hours off our February bill. We conserved that energy so the folks in the other parts of town could have power.

New Owners Named For Parmer House

Baxter and Frances Laymance announced this week that they have purchased the Parmer House Restaurant from Carl McInroe. They began operating the local restaurant on Tuesday.

The Laymances have owned and operated the local Dairy Queen for the past two and one-half years, coming here from Dallas. They will continue to own the Dairy Queen, Laymance said.

"We are anxious to have Friona's finest restaurant, one the residents of Friona will be proud to bring their friends and guests to when they eat out," Laymance said.

The new restaurant owner said he and his wife would strive to have a pleasant atmosphere. There are also plans to include in the decor of the place some history on Parmer County, including photographs.

The opening schedule will remain the same, 6 a.m.-9 p.m. daily except Monday. A Monday opening may begin during summer months.

"We plan to make additions to the menu, such as a better selection of steaks. We will also have more frequent buffets, and special food buffets at night," Laymance said.

In addition to the restaurant's regular fish buffet, immediate plans are to add a barbecue buffet on a regular schedule.

One of the initial additions this week was hot biscuits as a standard item for breakfast orders, Laymance said.

The Parmer House Restaurant will continue to cater to clubs and banquets. "We encourage groups and organizations to use our facilities," Laymance said.

The new owner alerted residents of the area to watch for an Open House announcement for the restaurant within the next two weeks.

Final Plans Announced For Clayton Dinner

Final preparations have been made, and committees are working for the Bill Clayton Appreciation Dinner, scheduled at Friona High School Cafeteria Monday, February 18 at 7:30 p.m.

Bill Ellis of Friona and Nelda Merriott of Muleshoe, co-chairmen for the banquet, announced the names of their committees this week, who are helping on the banquet.

H.H. Horton is chairman of ticket sales; Tom Jarboe is food chairman; Karen Britting is in charge of decorations; Eva Miller is heading the entertainment; Gordon H. (Corky) Green of Muleshoe is in charge of publicity; Harvey Bass is in charge of Muleshoe ticket sales, and Mrs. Merriott is heading the clean-up committee.

The banquet is being sponsored jointly by Parmer and Bailey county friends of Bill Clayton. A Muleshoe delegation is planning a caravan to attend the banquet, which will leave at 6:30 at the Bailey County Courthouse February 18.

A meal of barbecued beef, potato salad, beans, tossed salad, rolls, dessert, etc., will be served. Ticket prices are $7.50, and are available from any of the committee chairmen named above.

Jack Young of Muleshoe, who is District Attorney, will act as master of ceremonies for the banquet, it was announced.

The banquet is being held to honor Clayton and his wife Delma, to salute Clayton on his service to the district and state. Clayton was elected Speaker of the House in 1975, 1977 and 1979. He is the first person in the history of state government to hold the Speakership three consecutive terms, and will seek a fourth in 1981, when he expects to begin his last term as representative.

Rock-Roll Event Set

A "Rock 'n Roll Jamboree" will be held at Prairie Acres Nursing Home on February 14, from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Punch, coffee and cookies will be served, and visitors are welcome on a come and go basis.

"We are asking for community volunteers to solicit and collect donations or pledges. The residents of Prairie Acres will be asked to rock in rocking chairs, roll in wheel chairs, or walk a specified distance to obtain pledges," says Kitty Gallman, organizer of the event.

The event is sponsored by the American Heart Association, to fight cardiovascular disease, the nation's number one killer. A goal of $500 has been established for Prairie Acres.

Businesses or individuals interested in sponsoring or pledging for the event are asked to call Mrs. Gallman, or Prairie Acres.

Euler Files For County Commission

Longtime Friona resident Raymond Euler told the Friona Star this week that he would be a candidate for county commissioner for precinct one, subject to the Republican party primary on May 3.

Euler opened the Farm Bureau Insurance office, and operated it until 1967, when he resigned to farm full time. He has farmed for the past 13 years, serving as managing partner in his family farm southeast of Friona. He also works as an agent for the National Motor Club.

Euler and his wife Frances attend the First Baptist Church in Friona. They are parents of two children, Bron and Lori.

"In the months ahead, I will try to determine what the people of Precinct 1 expect, and then, if elected, will try to get these things accomplished," Euler said.

FOR ME????.....Lissa Bass clutches the box of candy offered by Jeremy Hart, reminding that Valentine's Day can't be far behind.

Parents of the youngsters are Mr. and Mrs. Troy Bass and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Hart. Jeremy is Lissa's uncle.

Credit Union Salutes 25 Years Of Growth

Friona Texas Federal Credit Union will hold its 26th annual meeting and celebrate 25 years of successful operation. The meeting will be held on Tuesday, February 12 at the Friona High School Cafeteria, 7:30 p.m.

The local Credit Union was chartered in October, 1954, with some 55 interested citizens of Friona. This group of people were interested in learning more about the Credit Union philosophy and operation.

Some citizens had become interested in the Hereford Credit Union and had visited with them in view of chartering the Friona Texas Federal Credit Union, and from this idea and desire, Friona's Credit Union was started.

This organizational meeting was under the direction of Mrs. Dyalitha Bradley Benson, treasurer of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union. She was assisted by Pauline Howard, who is still employed by the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union.

Credit Unions are operated by a board of directors, credit committee, supervisory committee and membership chairman. It is under Federal supervision of the National Credit Union Administration which originally was a part of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

"This annual meeting is to be unique in that it is our 25th year of operation. Plans are being made to recognize some of the people who have given of their time and talent and efforts to bring the Credit Union to where it is now. We know that our members are the most important part of our Credit Union, without them, there would be no organization and all members will be recognized," said Geneva Williams, treasurer.

A 25 year history has been compiled and mailed to all members. Other copies are available at the Credit Union office and anyone interested in obtaining a copy is invited to come by the office.

"Credit Unions are unique in that they are chartered to serve a particular group or class of people. Our Credit Union is chartered to include and serve all of Parmer County. If an account is established and the member should move from our county this member can continue to have membership in our Credit Union. We have some members in the Armed Services who are stationed over seas and continue to use our Credit Union. We are proud of the philosophy of 'People Helping People,'" Mrs. Williams concluded.

Zany Storm Hits Area

The Friona area experienced a wild day in the weather department on Thursday, February 7.

The day started out with a light rain falling, and ended up with one of those mixtures of rain, sleet, hail and snow that only this area can produce—complete with an electrical storm.

In fact, at one time, the area was pelted with soft hail, which resembled miniature snowballs as the weather front pushed through and dropped the temperatures in a hurry.

The temperature had reached a high of 52 degrees Thursday before the front hit, about 5:45 p.m. The variety of weather was featured during the following hour.

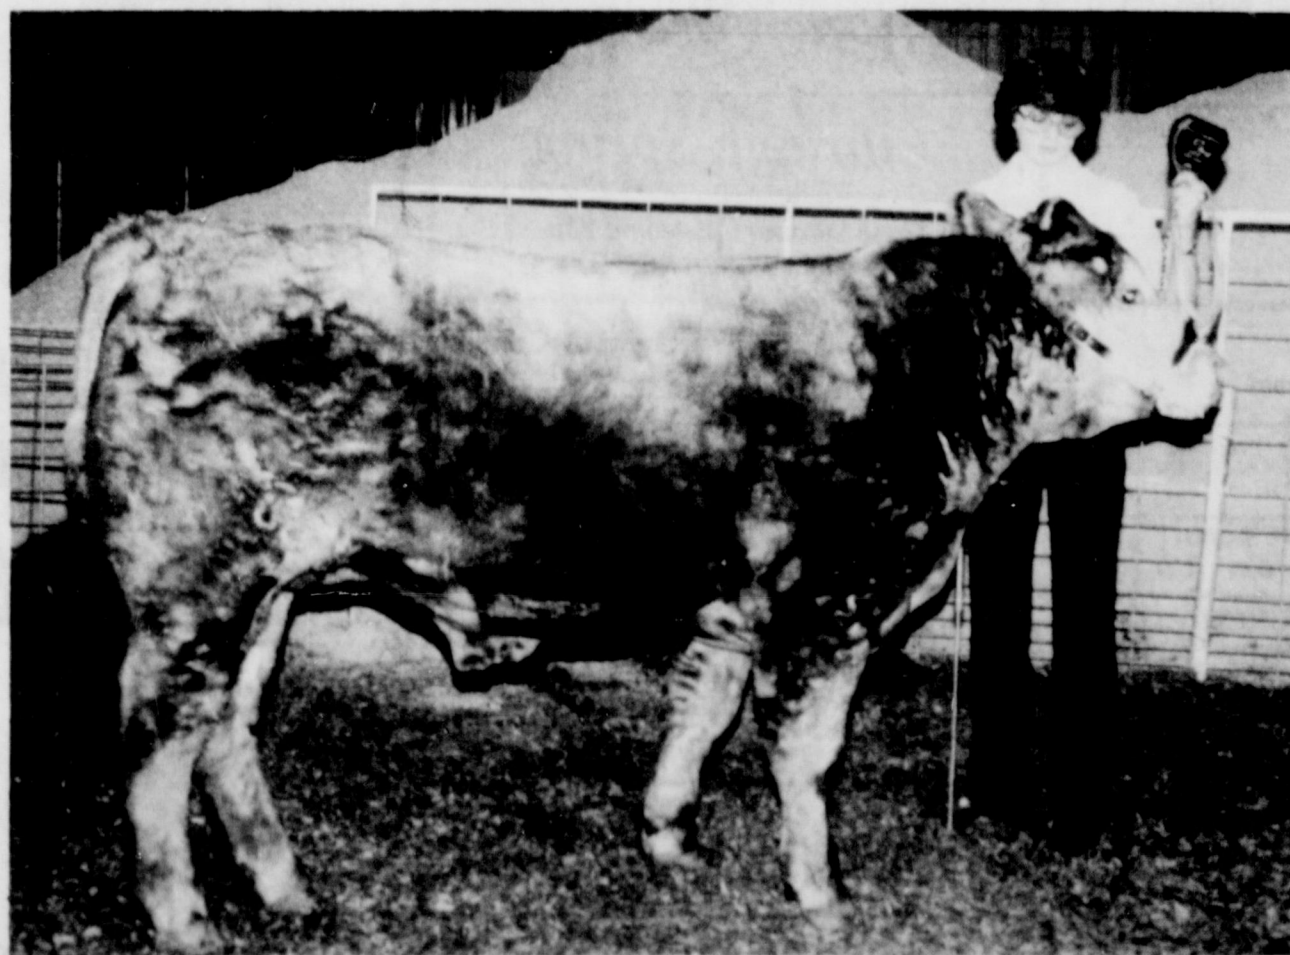

The combination of elements produced a total of .28 inch of moisture in the official Friona gauge, and A.L. Outland, recorder, measured an inch of ice and snow on the ground Friday morning.

School began an hour late in Friona on Friday, as travel activity was curbed somewhat.

The chill factor as reported in Amarillo Friday morning, with the gusting wind, was 19 degrees below zero. Friona's official low that morning was eleven degrees.

FRIONA CHAMPION...Carrie Schueler, a Friona 4-H Club member, poses with her crossbred steer which was judged Grand Champion of the Friona Community Junior

To The Editor

Dear Bill Ellis,

Regarding to this murder in Castro County and others in Texas. According to the T.V. the Stone man will probably get away with it. According to the news, the sheriff never gave him his right according to the U.S. Constitution. During my life as a Mex. American I have never received my Constitutional rights. Castro County has never been a place where equality has been served. A friend of mine was hanged in one of their jail cells. Their Sheriff's Department claimed it was suicide. He was a personal friend of mine (Baldemar Barba). I do not believe that he hanged himself. I have lived here for five years and have found that most of the residents are hostiles.

The baby that was not admitted to the Castro County Hospital. He was not given his Constitutional rights. When the case came down to court the man gave a poor excuse, but they did not give him a jail term instead he was given an inquiry, which was really not good enough for the baby, which is still dead to date.

I believe when a person dies for someone else's mistakes or prejudices, the person or persons involved should be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law.

I used to be in the National Guard. I'm an E-5 discharged from the Army, and have a discharge from the Navy and one from the National Guard. I quit the National Guard because policemen handcuffed and beat a man named Torres from Houston then pushed him into the river and he drowned. It is very hard to swim with handcuffs on. The Attorney General of the U.S. Griffin Bell, ruled against the police and gave them one year probation. This means that Mex. Amer. are not citizens, just in season.

According to the immigration bureau there are 12 million illegal aliens (Mex.) in the U.S. And I have seen these aliens pay income tax and S. Security, sometimes maybe not theirs, but they pay it. We have given refuge to Vietnamese, Cambodians and people from Laos, when they work they don't pay these taxes but still the Mex's. are looked upon as outlaws. Seems to me that if the U.S. gets attacked it will not be the fault of the Mexicans.

I'm just one Mexican and I dislike what is happening to our RACE. We are discriminated against and talked about and yet we have contributed more to the U.S. than any other country, including Canada.

Out of respect for my Gringo friends I have changed this letter considerably from the letter that I read to you over the phone January 27. Today February 1 they found Stone not guilty.

Are we to become the next Indians of the United States?

Epifonio P. Perez

Dear Editor,

For the past few years, the girls athletic program has been steadily deteriorating because of lack of a caring coach. Would the people of this town rather have a coach that shows emotion or a total deadbeat? The people of this community have complained in the past because of lack of concern among our coaches. Now, there are complaints of a coach who really cares about his team.

Everyone has their faults; however, we at Friona High School could point our fingers at many parents who sit in the stands and repeatedly curse at the officials for "bad calls."

If only the parents could see our coaches as we do in everyday situations, they would be able to better understand their actions. Most girls on our basketball team can understand their criticism and use it constructively. The one's who cannot accept criticism are the ones who will have trouble being reprimanded in later life.

We can understand how some parents might get upset about the use of foul language, but instead of criticism, why don't we let our coaches use their own methods and support them instead of disagreeing with them all of the time. This will make for a better town and a better athletic program.

We are proud of our coaches, and we gladly sign our names.

50 YEARS AGO--FEB. 14, 1930

Operations tending toward the growth of Friona are manifested in the addition being built to the J.C. Wilkison residence, and also an additional room to one of the R.H. Kinsley houses. Brick layers are also making rapid progress on the new Truitt-Landrum building at the corner of Sixth Street and Euclid Avenue, which will be occupied by the R.B.R. Implement Co. as soon as it is completed.

From J.W. White's column: "Lots of people have expressed surprise in the fact that I am a tobacco 'addict,' since they have never seen me smoking. However, nevertheless, the fact remains that I do. But I have two hang-outs and I have a pipe at each place and there is where I do most of my smoking, for I seldom smoke only when I am by myself--or with somebody."

Narrowly escaping damage, the wreck slid cars loaded with potash right up to the edge of the depot.

15 YEARS AGO--FEB. 11, 1965

Friona High School--have been recorded by the boys and girls basketball teams, giving Friona two teams in the playoffs for the first time in 20 years. Book Talk

By NELSON LEWIS

Nowadays there is a popular saying going around "You can't go home again." Thomas Wolfe wrote about it some years ago and a recent movie dealt with the same theme. I think they are wrong and so does Mary Lasswell.

Who is Mary Lasswell? Why, she's a little lady from Brownsville, Texas. Mary is three years older than I am and she did 'go home again' or more exactly she did come home again.

She tells all about it in a perfectly delightful book entitled "I'll Take Texas."

After an absence of twenty seven years she returned to her native state. Of course things and towns and people were changed, that's just normal living. We never stand still, we either advance or retreat and nothing is changeless save change itself.

This book has humor, lots of it, but there is a very serious train of thought running in the warp and weave.

Very seldom do I tend to wax eloquent concerning a book of fairly recent vintage, this is an exception.

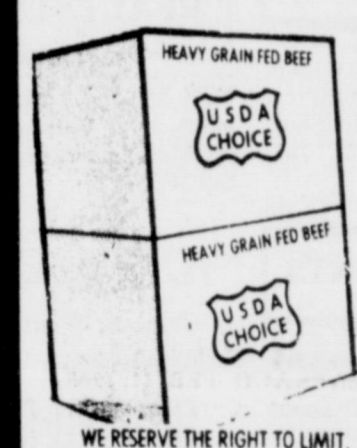

Mary has written several others and I'll ask our librarian to get them through our Telex Service. They should not be hard to find because she was Mary Lubbock before marrying Mr. Lasswell; our neighboring county and city were named for her family.

Boxed Beef is only the useable portions of the carcass skillfully trimmed and packaged through ultra-modern processing, then vacuum sealed and boxed for ease of handling. Cutting these portions to desired roasts and steaks does not require a trained butcher. In fact, many housewives across the country prepare the boneless cuts to their own requirements right in their kitchens. What a fine way to get just exactly the cuts you need and save dollars on quality beef at the same time. However, on any Boxed Beef purchase you make with us we gladly cut and wrap it to your own specifications.

- ADVANTAGES:
1. Boxed Beef is naturally aged, thanks to its patented vacuum wrapping.
 2. More sanitary-less bacteria.
 3. You buy meat without the surplus waste fat and bone.
 4. You save money in buying meat instead of bone, fat, and trimmings.
 5. Quality controlled beef. Only the best beef is selected to go in the Boxed Beef program.

Gasohol Co-Op Oks Feasibility Study

Members of the American Energy, Inc. Cooperative, a group of farmer businessmen who are striving to build a gasohol plant in this area, met in Muleshoe Tuesday night, and gave overwhelming approval for a feasibility study for the proposed plant.

Guy Austin of Farwell, chairman of the board of directors of the cooperative, pointed out that when the initial work was begun toward the fuel alcohol plant, it was agreed to begin the feasibility study when the group had raised $192,000.

In the meantime, it has been discovered that such a study can be achieved for $136,243, an amount that the co-op has already raised.

Hence, the board of directors called a meeting of the membership on Tuesday to secure approval to go ahead with the study on the plant, and those attending gave approval by a vote of 82-2.

Members were brought up to date by Austin and other members of the board of directors on groundwork which has been done toward the beginning of the gasohol plant.

The local group has broken away from Grain Products International (GPI), who supplied technical assistance in getting the co-op organized, and has formed a Central Steering Committee composed of two members from each of the participating co-ops.

Austin said he believed the feasibility study would show that a plant with a 50 million gallon capacity could be built for very little more capital investment than the 20 million gallon plant which was originally conceived.

He pointed out that the location of the plant would be decided during "Phase Two" of the feasibility study.

Such a plant would need to be constructed where there was an adequate water supply, Austin said, where there was access to a main railroad line, and where the most grain production is available for the plant's raw materials.

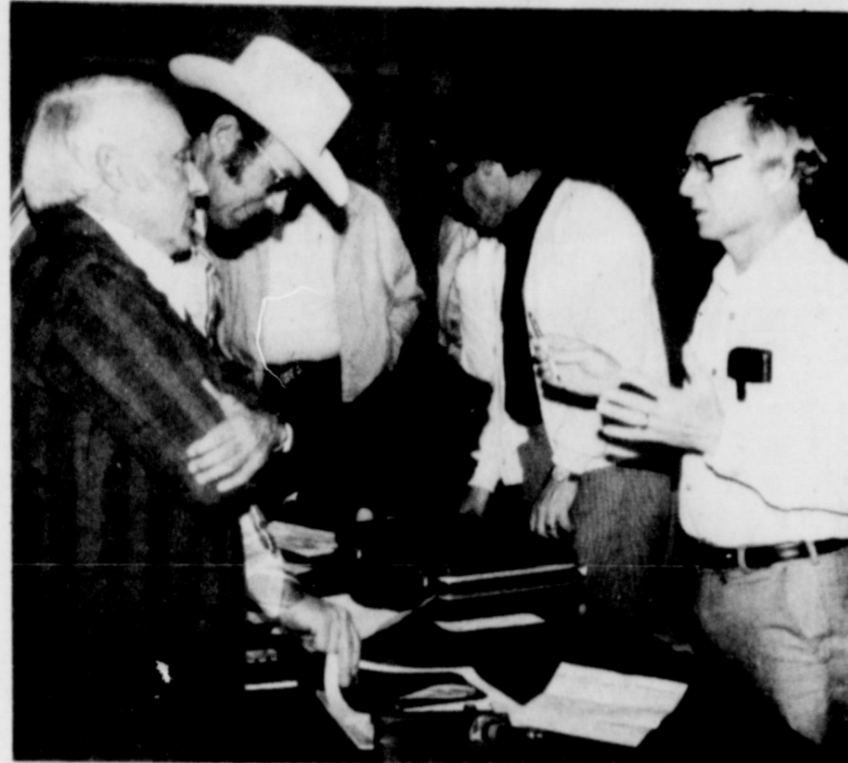

Other members of the cooperative's board of directors also spoke to the members, including Bert Williams of Farwell, Grady Sorley of Bovina and Jerry Don Glover of Lazbuddie.

Sorley told of the formation of a Political Action Committee (PAC), which the members of the co-op were forming in order to achieve "political clout."

The Political Action Committee is seeking donations of $200 per member, which it will use to help candidates it feels will be sympathetic to the cause of fuel alcohol and agriculture in general.

Members of the P.A.C. are Sorley, along with Lloyd Ptacek of North Dakota and Roy Shay of St. Francis, Colorado.

Several fuel alcohol plants are anticipated to be built in the state of Texas. Another such cooperative is organized in the Dumas area. It is planned to keep the co-ops under one central committee for the mutual benefit of each group.

Austin said following the vote that the feasibility study will be kicked off next Friday. He promised to report the results of the study to the members as soon as it was completed.

A number of farmers from this area have joined the co-op, paying $500 per membership. Each membership also commits the farmer to supply to the cooperative 10,000 bushels of grain per year over a five-year period.

The feasibility study is the first step toward what members hope will evolve a fuel alcohol plant. The study could take three to four months, and construction of the plant could take two years if the board of directors chooses to proceed.

Services Held Here For L.E. Williams

Funeral services for Larnce E. Williams, 75, were held Saturday, February 2, at 2 p.m. in the First Baptist Church, Friona, with Rev. Murle Rogers, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church, officiating.

Burial was in Parmer County Memorial Park under the direction of Parsons-Ellis Funeral Home.

Williams died Wednesday, January 30, at Knights Nursing Home, Littlefield, Texas.

Born June 7, 1904 in Flomont, Texas, he was a retired rancher and had lived in the nursing home for the past seven years. His wife preceded him in death in 1973.

Survivors are three sons, Tommy Williams, Friona, Earl Williams, Clarendon, Pat Williams, Clovis, New Mexico; two sisters, Lois Gunter and Beatrice Trotter, both of Oklahoma City, Oklahoma; two brothers, Henry Williams, Denton, Bill Williams, Oklahoma City; 11 grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Bill Williams, Jerry Williams, Ron Swanson, Roy Duncan, Jack Pierce, and Bob Simmons.

Water, Inc. Meeting Set In Amarillo

Water, Incorporated's 13th Annual Membership Meeting has been set for Saturday, February 9, at the Villa Inn in Amarillo.

Open to the public, the meeting will feature Congressman Jack Hightower at the luncheon and Texas House Speaker Bill Clayton, delivering the keynote address at 9 a.m.

Registration will begin at 8 a.m. Registration costs $12 per person and will include the noon meal. Advance registration may be made by writing Water, Inc., P.O. Box 367, Lubbock, Texas, 79408.

Joining Hightower and Clayton on the program will be State Rep. Bob Simpson of Amarillo; Harvey Davis, executive director of the Texas Department of Water Resources; and John Specht, president-elect of the National Water Resources Association.

The program will examine recent developments in water policy on the state and national levels and the implications for water importation.

Since the organization was founded in 1967, Water, Inc., has supported water importation as the solution to offset declining groundwater supplies on the High Plains of West Texas and Eastern New Mexico. Unless groundwater supplies in the region are eventually augmented, the area's agricultural productivity, which relies extensively on irrigation, will be significantly diminished.

Chieftains Split Pair In Week's Game

The Chieftains split their two games during the past week, and with four games remaining, stand at 13-15 for the season.

On Friday, February 1, the Chiefs went to Littlefield for their final game of the first half of district play, and dropped a 55-48 decision.

The game was a close one most of the way. Littlefield led 18-11 after one quarter, and by 28-25 at the half. The Wildcats went into a nine-point lead after three quarters, and that stood up.

Jerry Harrelson scored 15 points, and Kyle Barnett 14 for the Chiefs.

In a game here Tuesday, Friona and Olton hooked up. The Chieftains didn't threaten their all-time scoring record against the Mustangs, which is 100 points.

In fact, they weren't even close (some 62 short), as the game turned into one of those slow-down intense defensive battles.

Squaws Win Game During Week's Play

The Squaws won a game during the past week—their second district win, and second over the Olton girls. The score was 49-40 in favor of Friona.

Friona jumped out to a 14-3 first quarter lead, and never were behind. Dana Miller scored 16 points to lead the team's scoring and Cari Hand added 14.

At Littlefield last Friday, the team dropped a 69-58 decision to the Wildcats, after leading in the game most of the way. Score at halftime was 29-24, and after three quarters, 46-44, both favoring Friona.

But Littlefield came through with a big fourth quarter and held the Squaws' scoring down, to pull out the win.

Jiselle Malouf scored 22 points to pace the Squaws' scoring effort, and Miss Miller had 14.

SQUAWS	12	29	46	58
Littlefield	11	24	44	69

Miller 5-6-16; Kenna Noland 1-0-2; Theresa Bermea 3-0-6; Cari Hand 5-4-14; T.K. Loflin 1-1-3; Lynn Blackburn 4-0-8.

Friona Man Found Dead

A 24-year-old Friona man was found dead at his apartment here Wednesday. Police Chief Bill Denney said that Celestino Galicia was discovered by his roommate, Steve McCume, when he returned from work Wednesday afternoon.

Justice of the Peace Frances Euler pronounced Galicia dead of unknown causes, and ordered an autopsy. Galicia was still in bed when McCume found him. They live at the Saratoga Gardens Apartments on Walnut Street.

Denney said that Galicia was blind, from an accidental gunshot wound suffered a few years ago. It was theorized that he may have been dead since early Wednesday morning.

Friona won the game, 28-20, and get this: sixteen of their 28 points came in the final quarter. The score, entering the fourth quarter was a whopping Friona 12, Olton 11.

Barnett barely made it into double figures for the Chieftains in the unusual game, with ten points. Gene Smith scored 13 of Olton's 20 points.

CHIEFS	11	25	31	48
Littlefield	18	28	40	55

In between games, Randy Kerr and Sylvia Bermea were named "Basketball King and Queen."

Special BB Game Slated

A special exhibition basketball game will be held Saturday, February 9 at the high school gymnasium, benefitting the Friona High School DECA Club.

The Harlem Thrillers from Universal City, California, will play a local team, "The Mean Red Machine," made up of such stars as Ron Cain, Jim Pope, Jackie Morgan, Mickey Griffin, Jim Hand, Robert Mears, Steve Williams, Paul Smith and Cecil Maddox.

Advance ticket prices will be $2.50 for adults and $2.00 for students. Advance tickets are on sale at the high school office and at Reeve Chevrolet-Olds. Tickets at the door will be $3.00.

See advertisement in this issue for further details and pictures of "The Mean Red Machine."

CAGE ROYALTY...Randy Kerr and Sylvia Bermea were named Basketball King and Queen in ceremonies here Tuesday night. Kerr is a junior member of the Chieftain team, and Miss Bermea is a senior member of the Squaws.

4-H Aids Youngsters

4-H brings parents and their children together in a partnership that can lead to many worthwhile experiences.

4-H is a program for youth aged 9 to 19 and is administered by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of the Texas A&M University System.

Through 4-H, parents get involved with their youngsters by helping them with one or more of over 100 projects. By getting involved with projects, parents help their youngsters learn basic skills and information and help them to fulfill an obligation. The "partners" then build on these successes in areas of project work, leadership, community service and many other character-building experiences.

By spending time with their sons and daughters in 4-H, parents can overcome problems commonly referred to today as the "communication gap" or "generation gap." 4-H projects serve as a beginning to start the parent-youth partnership. This relationship can grow through mutual understanding and trust between parent and child.

With an understanding relationship, parents and 4-H'ers learn to share the joys of winning and the disappointment of losing and to jointly work out solutions to problems as they arise.

To learn more about the 4-H program, contact the county Extension office, in the courthouse, or phone 481-3619 and speak to Seth Ralston, CEA, Agriculture; or Laura Jacobs, CEA, Home Economics.

All programs and information of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service are available to everyone without regard to race, color, religion, sex, age, or national origin.

TDHR Provides Help For Elderly Citizens

Old age—it's something all of us are going to face at some time. And although few of us expect it to be the highlight of our lives, when you consider the alternatives, old age isn't such a bad thing—or is it?

More and more today, society tends to shuttle its elderly off to nursing homes—whether they really need the medical care or not. There, out of sight and out of mind, the elderly, who could contribute so much to the lives of others, live out the rest of their days in uselessness and futility.

But there are alternatives, according to Gary Ferguson, social worker for the Texas Department of Human Resources (TDHR) in Friona. Mr. Ferguson explains that TDHR is attempting to expand its services to the elderly by providing alternatives to nursing home care.

"With a little help, many elderly people who would otherwise have to go to nursing homes, can remain in their own homes or their own communities," he said. Help may be in the form of assistance with such personal care as bathing, exercising and taking medication, or household tasks such as cooking, cleaning, laundry, shopping, minor home repairs and yard work.

"One alternative that we're trying to make available in the Hereford area," Ferguson said, "is foster care." The foster care program provides 24-hour care in a family home approved and supervised by TDHR. It is for older people who are in pretty good health, but just need some assistance with day-to-day activities, or just don't have a home.

The foster homes are carefully studied and then licensed once it is established that they meet Departmental qualifications, he explained. The cost of the care is shared by the individual and the Department of Human Resources.

The program really benefits both the elderly individual as well as the foster family. The elderly person benefits from the care and family atmosphere, while the foster family benefits from the companionship and life experiences of the elderly person.

"In those cases, everyone comes out ahead. The elderly client does not have to go to a nursing home, the home provider gets someone to share with, and foster care costs the state much less than nursing home care," he explained. "In this area, there are several people who need foster homes. We just have to make people in the community aware of the need."

If it sounds like TDHR is really anti-nursing home—that is not the case. "Our goal," said Ferguson, "is to help as many people as possible delay going to a nursing home until they really need to, for medical reasons. Nursing homes will continue to meet the needs of many elderly people."

Anyone who would like to discuss making their home a foster home may call Mr. Ferguson in Hereford at 364-6841.

Old age can be beautiful.

Record Is Expected For Show

A record number of entries are expected for the annual Farmer County Jr. Livestock Show February 15-16.

Around 300 barrows have been entered in the show, probably the most ever. Another 150 lambs have been entered, and around 30 steers are expected for the show.

Only the steer division will show a decline in the number of entries.

Animals will be weighed in on Thursday. Classification of sheep will be at 2 p.m. that day.

Judging of barrows will begin at 9 a.m. Friday. The lamb show is slated for 2 p.m. Friday, and the steer show at 7 p.m. that day.

The annual show concludes with an auction sale at 1 p.m. Saturday, with the top animals making the sale.

For a more detailed look at the prospective show, plus a summary of past county shows, see section two of this issue.

WHAT A SHOT....Vance "Hands" Williams, set shot artist, came up through the net for this publicity shot for the Harlem Thrillers. The Thrillers will meet the "Mean Red Machine" at 8 p.m. Saturday, February 9 at the high school gym, in a game benefiting the DECA club.

WTSU To Present 5th Annual Award

For the fifth consecutive year, West Texas State University will honor the nominees and recipients of the Texas Panhandle Award for Distinguished Service at a luncheon Saturday, April 19.

"A New Decade: Enter Women of the '80s" is the theme of the luncheon from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., Saturday, April 19, in the WTSU East Dining Hall.

The WTSU Office of Programs for Women has sent letters to individuals and groups in the top 32 counties of the Texas Panhandle requesting nominations. Deadline for submitting nominations is Friday, March 28.

Nominees must be residents of one of the top 32 Panhandle and South Plains counties and must be at least 18 years old. Nominees do not have to be WTSU graduates.

During the past four years, women have been honored who have distinguished themselves in a variety of areas. Emphasis for 1980 will be on women in the fields of education, medicine, business, civic service and professional areas. Women from each field will be honored.

Ruth Cross will serve as chairperson of the luncheon. She retired in 1969 after 42 years with WTSU. At the time of her retirement at the age of 69, she was associate professor of physical education and dean of women.

Five or six residents of the Panhandle area will serve as judges to review each nomination application and select recipients of the Distinguished Service Awards.

Tickets for the luncheon will be $5.

Counties eligible to nominate are Armstrong, Bailey, Briscoe, Carson, Castro, Childress, Collingsworth, Cottle, Dallam, Deaf Smith, Donley, Floyd, Gray, Hale, Hall, Hansford, Hartley, Hemphill, Hutchinson, Lamb, Lipscomb, Moore, Motley, Ochiltree, Oldham, Parmer, Potter, Randall, Roberts, Sherman, Swisher and Wheeler.

Honorary co-chairpersons for the luncheon committee are Gene Alice Sherman, whose husband, Max is WTSU president, and Helen Shannon, whose husband, Gail, is executive vice president.

Other committee members are Lila Vars, director of the Office of Programs for Women; Jane Kerr, assistant director; Sandra Meek, dean of student affairs at WTSU; Stephanie Kordas, associate director of the WTSU Counseling and Testing Center; Sandy Sparling, representative of Wives, Etc.; Mona Williams, university editor; and Pat Thompson and Carolyn Sherrod, both of Canyon.

Whitefield, Horton End Demo Jobs

Richard Collard, Friona attorney, has filed for the position of County Democratic Chairman, according to current chairman H.H. Horton, Jr., whose term expires this year.

Horton will have served eight years in his capacity when his term ends, and did not seek re-election.

Another longtime political worker for the area announced his intentions of retiring. Otho Whitefield, who has served as precinct chairman for the Lakeview precinct, and hosted the election at his home for over 20 years, did not choose to have the position for another term. Mike Buchanan will have his name on the ballot for that precinct position, Horton said.

The only other change apparent for a precinct chairmanship will be at Farwell, where Wilfred (Dutch) Quickel will seek the spot formerly held by Blackie Smith.

Other precinct chairmen announced for re-election. They are Martha Hamilton, precinct 1 (Black), Jay Beene, precinct 2 (Friona), Ken Horn, precinct 3 (Bovina), Mrs. Max Steinbock, precinct 5 (Lazbuddie), Wendol Christian, precinct 6 (Oklahoma Lane), and Raymond Schueler, precinct 8 (Rhea).

Two Friona Youths In Amarillo Play

Two residents of Friona, Laura Ellis and Bryan Johnston, have roles in the upcoming Amarillo Theatre Center production of "A Funny Thing Happened On The Way To The Forum."

Laura, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Ellis and a freshman at W.T.S.U., will play the part of Tintinabula, a beautiful Courtesan in the house of Lycus. Bryan, son of Mr. and Mrs. James D. Johnston and a junior at W.T.S.U., will play one of the Proteans, a character who changes roles throughout the play.

Both Laura and Bryan were in the Friona High School production of "Forum". The musical comedy was written by Stephen Sondheim with book by Larry Gelbart (of M.A.S.H. fame) and Burt Shevelove.

"FORUM truly has something for everyone including romance, mistaken identities, slaves and freemen alike, funerals and chases, plus beautiful dancing girls and is acceptable fare for all ages," said a spokesman for A.T.C.

ATC's production opens on Friday, February 15 at 8:15 and runs weekends through March 1 with Sunday matinees on February 17 and 24 at 2:30. Prices are $5.50 for adults and $3.00 for students 18 and under. Reservations may be made by calling the theatre box office at 355-9991 or coming by the theatre at 2019 Civic Circle.

Heart Sunday Event Slated Here Feb. 10

Sunday, February 10 will be Heart Sunday in Friona, and volunteer workers will be canvassing Friona for the annual drive.

Money collected is used for research and educating the public as to the risk of heart attack and stroke. According to a spokesman for the American Heart Assn., 28 cents of every dollar donated goes to research, 23 cents to public education, ten cents to professional education, 21 cents to community service, 11 cents to fund-raising and seven cents to management.

Elizabeth McLellan and Hazel Kothmann are co-chairmen for the 1980 drive. John Taylor, Jim Taylor and Joe Buchanan are co-chairmen for the rural area.

Pat Fleming, a spokesman for the AHA, said that money donated is returned to the county in form of literature, manikens and equipment in teaching CPR classes. The local chapter, AHA now lacks just one maniken having enough to teach basic CPR at all of the high schools in Parmer County.

"Heart attack can happen to anyone, and there is a 50-50 chance that it will at some time," Mrs. Fleming said. "Sudden death from heart disease is the most important medical emergency today," she said.

Figures show that 55.8 per cent of the deaths in Parmer County for a specific period were as a result of heart attack, stroke or related diseases.

However, heart attack deaths have seen a noticeable decrease across the state and nation, due somewhat to the publicity given by the AHA.

A community-wide CPR clinic is tentatively scheduled for March in Friona, it was pointed out. Memorials can be made anytime to the Heart Assn., at Friona State Bank.

Lloyd and Betty Louise Rector spent several days last week skiing at Red River. Annually, the Rectors meet W.H. (Gene) Awtrey and his wife, Gladys, at this northeastern New Mexico resort for a winter vacation.

The Awtreys, who have lived at Ulysses, Kansas, several years are former Parmer County residents.

Their daughters, Rhonda Kay, Sheila Ray and Gena Gay, are all married. Their only son, Wayne, is still at home.

Gene and Gladys have two grandsons. Sheila Ray and her husband, Bill Hachmeister, have two sons. Jason is five and Aaron is brand new. The Hachmeisters live at Hill City, Kansas.

Rhonda Kay and Dale O'Conner live at Olathe, Kansas, and Gena Gay and Allen Hess live near Ulysses.

Weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L.P. Davis included Bob and Danella Davis of Amarillo, who were here on Saturday, and Alvin and Frances Frazier of Dimmitt.

The Fraziers were here Sunday afternoon. Alvin is Nell's nephew and Bob is the couple's son.

There was a lot of excitement in the Norbert Schueler family early Monday morning. Little Jacy Anna DeLeon was born to Oberlin and Carol Schueler DeLeon.

She made the sixth grandchild for Norbert and Rhetta, but was the number one granddaughter. That made her extra special.

Her middle name was chosen to honor her maternal great-grandmother, Mrs. Anna Schueler, a long time resident of the Rhea community.

Grandsons of Norbert and Rhetta are Lon, Lance and Mark Outland, sons of Hank and Terri Outland of Friona; Phillip Schueler, son of Clinton and Rhonda Schueler of the Rhea Community; and Justin Heeth DeLeon, who is Jacy Anna's big brother.

Mrs. Floyd Crume of Albuquerque, New Mexico, spent several days with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Cocannouer. Jim was dismissed from the local hospital Saturday afternoon.

Lawanna and Floyd lived here a number of years ago. He was employed by the local Soil Conservation Service.

Bill, Ann, Davy and Doug Carthel recently attended the wedding of one of Bill's nieces, Brenda Carthel, and Jay Saldi. The couple was married at First Christian Church in Canyon.

She is a student at North Texas State University, Denton, and he is a member of the Dallas Cowboy football team. He is a native of New York and says he's enjoying being a Texan.

Saldi plays the end position and wears the number "87".

The Carthels enjoyed meeting Saldi's parents and some friends from New York, who were at the wedding.

Other Dallas Cowboys attending the ceremony were Drew Pearson and Butch Johnson, who were accompanied by their wives.

Mrs. Saldi is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Carthel, who live at Mescalero Park, which is kind of between Amarillo and Canyon. Bob and Bill are brothers.

Jerry and Darla Rhodes Shelton and three year old son, Russ, who have been living in Irving, Texas, several years, recently moved back to the Texas Panhandle.

Now, they're living in Amarillo. This makes it real nice for Friday and Maybian Rhodes and Luther and Thelma Ruth Shelton.

For a number of years the Hub Community had lots of Mabry's in every direction. Then, one by one, the families moved here and there until there just were no Mabrys around.

James and Taleta and Walt and Maurine raised their families in that community and some of each family lived there after they were grown and married.

Now, James and Taleta are in Grants, New Mexico, and Walt and Maurine are in Lubbock. Maybe Lubbock has the biggest part of the Hub Community's former Mabry residents.

However, Parmer County has at least one at the present time. Howard and Belinda Mabry Rhodes and their three children, Amber, who is a fifth grader; Jeff, a first grader; and Greg, who is two, are now living in the Oklahoma Lane Community.

Howard is serving as pastor of that community's Baptist Church. Amber and Jeff attend school in Farwell.

Maybian Rhodes says, "It gets to be a problem when we attend any kind of school related contest. We have grandchildren going to school in Friona, Bovina, Farwell and Dimmitt, so have to be real careful about taking sides."

Our most sincere congratulations go to the recent honorees at the Chamber of Commerce banquet. Each year the committees appointed to make selection of citizens to be honored are faced with some hard decisions to make.

While visiting with June Rhodes recently, she made the following remark: "I'm so proud of the honor accorded me and as I look around I can think of any number of women who seem to have done more for the community than I have."

"Then," she said, "I appreciate the honor, but more than that, I appreciate the interest of everyone who helped make this possible."

Eighteen Make Tech Honor Roll

More than 5,000 students at Texas Tech University, Lubbock, qualified for the Dean's Honor Roll in the six colleges during the 1979 fall semester.

A THOUGHT TO PONDER:

"A child is a person who is going to carry on what you have started. He is going to sit where you are sitting and, when you are gone, attend to those things which you think are important. You may adopt all of the policies you please, but how they are carried out depend on him. We will assume control of your cities, states, and nations. He is going to move in and take over your churches, schools, universities and corporations...the fate of humanity is in his hands."

National Letter Writing Week

By Postmaster Richard Wilson

Perhaps William James, the famous philosopher and psychologist, said it best: "As long as there are postmen, life will have zest." I like to think that James' line is just as true today.

Americans send about 100 billion pieces of mail each year, many of them (about 3½ billion) personal letters to each other. And the words they put on paper comprise the written records of our lives and our times.

In recognition of the importance of written communication, the Postal Service, with the cooperation of the National Council of Teachers of English, will sponsor National Letter Writing Week, February 24 through March 1.

Letters shape opinions, lift spirits and preserve memories. These are the sentiments expressed by three pairs of new stamps that the U.S. Postal Service will issue in February. Each pair includes a stamp that reminds people: "P.S. Write Soon."

There is a permanence to letters. Many people save notes they have received and look them over, at their leisure, years later.

Indeed, letters take on added value, too, because they show that the writer thinks enough of the recipient to take time to express feelings and thoughts meant for another person alone. Letters from parents and grandparents for example, written years ago, often become the only lasting, tangible evidence one has of their special feelings and love for long after their passing.

Letter writing preserves an historical record of our thoughts and ideas. And it gives insight into what people were like.

Post Offices are inundated each year by letters to Santa Claus. A third-grader in Redwood City, Calif., I feel, is well on his way to becoming a businessman, as his letter to Santa demonstrates: "I know you are busy and my family wants so much I can't put it in writing so I wondered if you and I could have lunch together sometime? Your friend Leo."

J. Paul Getty, the oil billionaire, sent this letter to an English magazine, explaining the secret of success: "Dear Sirs,--Some people find oil. Others don't."

Just how important are letters? Noted editor and commentator William F. Buckley, Jr.: "Letters are in my judgment a commercial necessity, a social amenity, a psychological release, and--sometimes--a belletristic opportunity."

Or, ask Darryl Stingley, the leading pass receiver for the New England Patriots who still is recovering from a 1978 injury that left him paralyzed from the shoulders down:

"I am convinced that the feelings expressed in letters can be as helpful as any medicine or therapy in aiding someone recovering from an injury. It's amazing how one letter from a stranger can be more rewarding than the cheers of thousands in a stadium."

Friona Youngster Ends "Jinx" In Steer Show

When you look at the scorecard as far as past county champions, sometimes it can be a little misleading.

For example, Friona youngsters lead in the number of steer championships in the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show with 15.

But what the scorecard doesn't tell you is that the Friona showmen went 13 years without adding to their total, until Dean Church broke the 13-year jinx with a grand champion steer at the 1979 county show.

Church broke the jinx with a 1,078 pound Limousin-Hereford crossbred steer which had won the middleweight class during class competition.

The Friona FFA member was dead set on breaking the goose-egg for his community, as he also captured the reserve champion trophy with his 1126-pound Angus steer.

Friona won three of the five class trophies in the steer show, as Mike Schueler had the class champion in the medium lightweight division, with an 11-month-old 921-pound Semmental cross steer, which the Schuelers had bred.

Although not shut out of a title quite as long, young showmen from Lazbuddie ended a two-year absence in the championship circle of the barrow division when Russell Windham won the title with his Hampshire entry.

Lazbuddie has dominated the barrow show, winning 20 of the past 32 titles, including an unprecedented 16 consecutive titles from 1961 through 1976, before the string was broken in 1977 when Brent Green of Farwell showed the champion barrow.

Joe Reeve, then a Friona 4-H showman, gave his community its first barrow title in 12 years when he won the trophy in 1978 with a Duroc entry.

Windham's 1979 win pushed the Hampshire breed into first place in the breed sweepstakes for the Parmer County Jr. barrow show. Hampshires have now won eight titles here since 1948. That's one more than Duroc breeds have won. The wins by Reeve in 1978 and Green in 1977 had pushed the Duroc into a first-place tie with Hampshires for most titles won.

Poland China entries have won six county titles, crossbreeds have won five titles, mainly in recent years, and Chester Whites have won four times.

The win by Church's crossbred steer was the fourth time a steer had won a county title. Hereford steers lead the list with at least 18 titles. Breeds are not noted on our records for 1950, 1951, 1954, 1957 and 1959. We would appreciate anyone who could help us fill in these blanks.

Angus steers have won three titles.

Rick Seaton of the Lazbuddie Community is in the county record book for having the most grand champions--four. He made show history by exhibiting the grand champion barrow three consecutive years, in 1966, 1967 and 1968, and added his fourth title in 1971.

So, the young showmen and women in Parmer County have a lot of records to try for when the 33rd annual show unfolds the weekend of February 14-15. But mainly, they will be out to have some fun showing their animals.

And parents and friends can watch in the comfort of the Community Center-Showbarn.

Public Input Asked In Conservation Work

This week is the start of a 60-day public review period during which time interested people are asked to comment on the direction they think future U.S. Department of Agriculture conservation programs should take.

The public review period starts January 28 and ends March 28.

Four draft documents describing the nation's nonfederal soil and water resources, their condition, projected demands and seven proposed alternative strategies can be reviewed at the local Soil Conservation Service in Friona or the ASCS office in Farwell.

Mack Mauldin and Prentice Mills said the proposals for a national soil and water conservation program were developed by a coordinating committee made up of members from nine U.S. Department of Agriculture agencies plus the Office of Management and Budget and the Council on Environmental Quality. The process, mandated by the Soil and Water Conservation Resources Act of 1977 (RCA), included consideration of public input from 9,000 public meetings held in the United States during 1978.

The Act directs the USDA to appraise the condition of the Nation's renewable natural resources and to propose alternative programs to guide the Nation's conservation activities. The appraisal revealed that one-third of the Nation's cropland—136 million acres—is eroding at an excessive rate.

Basic information about the RCA process and proposals may be seen in four documents:

The first document, "Draft Appraisal Part I," describes the status and condition of our natural resources and provides information on their quantity and quality and major uses of nonfederal land. The completed draft identifies national conservation objectives for:

- Reducing erosion and preserving prime farmlands
- Improving water quality
- Conserving water
- Improving fish and wildlife habitats, including the preservation of wetlands
- Reducing upstream flood damages
- Conserving energy
- Solving related resource problems

The second document, "Draft Appraisal Part II," projects demands on soil and water resources to the year 2030 and suggests levels of management that could be used to preserve these resources. It also summarizes trends in rural land ownership and describes the contribution of state and local programs to soil and water conservation.

The third document, "Program Report and Environmental Impact Statement," outlines seven possible approaches--called alternative strategies--for changing USDA conservation programs and outlines the probable environmental impact.

The fourth document, "Summary of Appraisal, Parts I and II, and Program Report" is a brief summary of the other three documents.

During the public review period, three public meetings will be held for Texas to discuss content of the documents and provide an opportunity for comments. The meetings will be held in Arlington on February 26; Lubbock, March 4; and San Antonio, March 6.

Interested citizens are invited to send written comments about the documents or suggestions about future conservation programs to the RCA Response Analysis Center, P.O. Box 888, Athens, Georgia 30603.

Anyone interested in reviewing the documents or finding out more information about upcoming RCA meetings should contact Mack Mauldin of the Soil Conservation Service office or Prentice Mills of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service staff. The office, or offices will be open from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

BARROW CHAMP....Lazbuddie got back in the winner's circle at the county's 1979 junior barrow show, when Russell Windham exhibited his 233-pound Hampshire to top honors. Although he has a number of titles to his credit, it was Windham's first title at the Parmer County Show. His father, Scotty, is vo-ag instructor at Lazbuddie.

Around The House

By LAURA JACOBS

Trying to sell your house? You will want to do everything possible to make it attractive to potential buyers. Before putting your home up for sale, make a checklist of needed cleaning and repairs--then follow through with them.

The buyers' first impressions start before they enter your home. You may need to paint. If not, wash off the west Texas dirt with the garden hose. Be sure the roof, windows, screens, steps, gutters, fences, and driveway are in good repair. Keep the property tidy--trim, sweep, clear and clean! Be sure to haul away any debris.

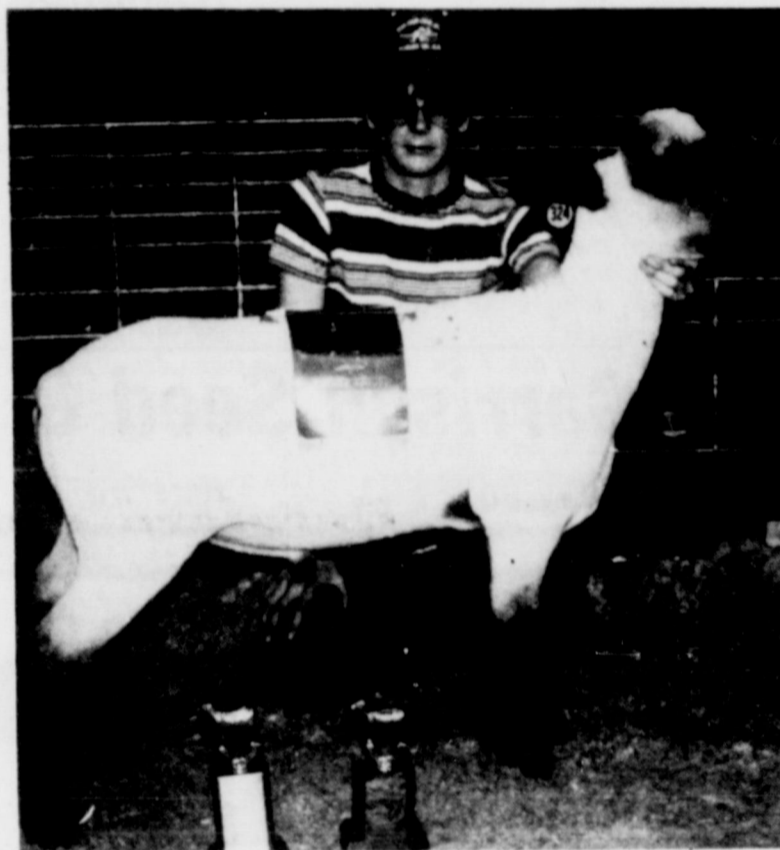

Inside, rid the home of everything not needed. Buyers are always interested in closet and storage space. Neat, uncluttered closets look bigger.

Fix cracked plaster, leaky faucets, replace broken tiles, and secure loose hinges and doorknobs.

Have floors shining and windows and light fixtures sparkling. Don't overlook the soil around doorknobs and switchplates.

Remember--a clean garage is a big selling point.

Your home will be inviting to prospective buyers if it is clean and uncluttered inside and out. But, who knows? After sprucing up the place, you may not want to sell it after all!

Winners Are Announced For Friona's Junior Show

Champions were named in three divisions at the first annual Friona Junior Livestock Show last Saturday at the Community Center-Showbarn.

Ronnie Dennis, vocational agriculture instructor from Kress, served as judge for the show. Dennis complimented the young showmen of the Friona area on their work, and encouraged them to make the show an annual affair.

"You have some fine project animals here today, and evidently have been working hard. You have done a good job, for this to be your first local show," Dennis said.

John Cass, 4-H Club member, exhibited the Grand Champion Barrow, with a Hampshire. Mark Petchinsky had the reserve champion, which was the crossbred champion.

Other breed champions were exhibited by Ashley Weatherly (Duroc), Le Ann Edwards (Spots and Polands) and Devera Rhodes (other pure breeds).

Scott Straw exhibited the Grand Champion Lamb, which also was the champion Medium Wool entry. Milton Dixon's Fine Wool Champion was the show's reserve champion.

Other lamb class winners were Devera Rhodes in Fine Wool; Rocky Nichols and Dedra Miller, Medium Wool; Shain Rhodes, Heavy Fine Wool Crosses, and Jay Lewellen, Southdown.

Carrie Schueler exhibited the Grand Champion steer. Her Charolais crossbred animal was the winner of the lightweight division of the steer show, and her brother Mike had the winner in the heavyweight class.

In the judging for grand champion, Dennis tapped the gray steer, and made Mike's Hereford steer the reserve champion. Mike Schueler had the Grand Champion steer at last year's county show.

Gunsmithing The American Long Rifle

"The most lethal widow and orphan maker in the world"... "a superb arm"... "deadly at unheard of distances"... these and other related comments brought to the attention of the world the first truly American gun, the American long rifle.

Born in Pennsylvania, raised all along the frontier from Kentucky to California, the American long rifle ranked with axe and hoe as basic equipment for pioneers and frontiersmen as well.

Like many men who used it, the gun was a reconstructed immigrant. Some newcomers to America were gunsmiths. They brought the short, big-caliber rifles of their native land. German settlers in the 1700's began lengthening and lightening a short-handed Bavarian rifle into the sleek and deadly mother of future Daniel Boones. The needs that shaped this new type of rifle were threefold: accuracy at extreme distances, economy of operation, and easy handling in wooded country. Barrels were lengthening and caliber sizes were changing. By the time of the Revolution, bore sizes had gone down to .45 or .60 calibers. Decreasing the size of the caliber made the gun slender. Thick butts gave way to smaller ones. These small ones had a graceful droop and a crescent shaped buttplate that fit to the shooter's shoulder. This made the gun lighter. It weighed less than ten pounds, took less lead and powder, and a hunter could roam the woods for weeks without breaking his back.

It's no wonder the American long rifle gained so much acclaim. An average man could hit someone in the head from five hundred yards or on his body somewhere from three hundred to four hundred yards. In Pennsylvania, a good shot with a good gun could hit the bobbing head of a chained turkey easily at one hundred yards. In the retelling, the range grew and the targets shrank.

Rifling grooves inside a barrel put a spin on the ball. These grooves made the air pressure uniform. This made truer flight at longer distances possible. This was not the case with a smooth bore rifle. These grooves made the rifle slow to load. When a good shot meant life or food in the stomach, riflemen aimed with care. A wild turkey would fly, a deer flee, or an enemy shoot back in the time it took to measure a charge of powder, pour it down the barrel, lick a linen patch and lay it over the muzzle, put a bullet on top, ram it down on the powder, lower the rifle, prime the pan, set the steel, raise the gun into position, sight and fire.

Handcrafting firearms, rifle or smooth bore, took the skills of blacksmith, foundryman, machinist, woodworker and engraver. Few men could do it all, or had time to in raw America.

A need for more men to make and fix guns grew more vital in the Revolution. In the ten months before July 1776, Virginia bought 2,098 of these rifles and contracted for more. One contractor, the owner of one of the largest foundries in America, put this ad in the "Virginia Gazette": "Wanted at Hunter's Iron Works, the Falls of Rappahannock River... a Number of Hands who understand the File." After supplying part of Virginia's need for more than a year, Hunter closed his armory for lack of workmen, lost ironically by militia duty and the draft law.

Forge-welding a rifle barrel entailed wrapping a heated flat bar around a cylindrical core. A hand cranked reamer opened up the barrel. Rifling, spiral grooves inside a barrel, improved accuracy. To make trigger guards, imprints were made in fine, damp sand and held in a wooden box. Brass, hot from the crucible, flowed through ducts in the sand to fill impressions. Securing the flintlock completed an American long rifle, lock and barrel of iron, and stock of curly maple. An engraved brass plate framed the hinged lid of a patchbox recessed into the stock. When made entirely by hand it took some three hundred hours of precision work.

This was the American long rifle, a gun that was more than a superb weapon. For it climbed to its place in history and became a part of the American legend.

Agriculture During The Revolutionary War

Farming during the Revolutionary War was important because it supplied food for the Continental Army. A pair of horses could do the planting and harvesting. A single plow with a man in front and a pair of horses or one horse or sometimes even oxen could do the work.

Farmers who sold food to the Continental Army and the military of all of that states had a legitimate complaint. Ever since 1775, they had provided millions of tons of grain, cheese, meat and other supplies. In return they got what was known as "quartermaster receipts." In other words, the army officers had written I.O.U.'s promising they would pay at the end of the war.

The farmers, of course, wanted their pay when their goods were delivered. They had made their sacrifices. Month after month sheaves of I.O.U.'s flooded congress. By June, 1784 more than a hundred million dollars worth of these demands had been received. They kept coming in, but no accurate records were kept to indicate the total amount. The financiers of Congress were so frustrated they did not add up the total.

The Land Bank

The Bank of Generations

The American farmer builds two things better than anyone else in the world. He builds the next generation, passing along a special kind of wisdom... respect for the soil, honesty, independence, and faith in the future. And he builds his land, leaving it better than he found it. That kind of building usually requires borrowed long term capital. That's where we can help.

These unpaid bills caused inflation and food prices rose at a very fast rate. For example a five pound loaf of bread cost a half penny in Boston at the beginning of the war. In 1783, a two pound loaf of bread cost three cents, when bread was available. Some days bakeries closed because there was no flour.

There were shortages everywhere. When the Redcoats evacuated Charleston in 1782, the city clamoured for salt. Brigadier General Francis Marion, Charleston's greatest war hero, was forced to make a trip to the city from the interior, where he was harassing the British troops that still infested South Carolina and Georgia. Not until he threatened martial law was order restored.

The owners of merchant ships were resuming trade with the West Indian Islands because there was a shortage of coffee, cornmeal and sugar.

Land was plentiful in America and ownership was relatively easy. There were some tenant farmers but there was no peasant class.

If a farmer felt oppressed and discontented he could move inland at a small cost other than the physical labor of clearing and developing the land.

About nine out of ten persons either lived on farms or were closely connected with agriculture but they were without organizations as a class.

The farmers made it possible for the troops to keep fighting by providing food and often shelter to the soldiers. Sometimes this aid was given willingly, but other times the settlers were robbed of their animals and their supplies to feed the troops.

Tanning In The American Revolution

In the American Revolution, tanning was a very important industry. People wore leather breeches, leather aprons, leather caps and leather boots. They rode on leather saddles, and drank from leather mugs. The tanner was a very busy man.

Before tanning, the hides are salted or dried to preserve them until they are tanned. The hair is removed from the hide by soaking it in a lime solution and then rubbing the hair off. All remaining hair, and the flesh on the inside of the skin is scraped off with a large dull knife. The clean hides are now tanned in vats of chemicals that change the animal hides into leather. The leather is run through a wringer to squeeze out most of the chemicals that changed the animal hides into leather and then they are dried. Oil is put in the leather to make it strong and soft. Boasting leather gives it a pattern of small creases.

Tanning was important in the American Revolution. People wore leather breeches to help keep them warm and to protect their legs. During the American Revolution, the weather was cold and hard. Leather caps protected their ears and head. In these years they walked quite a bit, so they wore leather boots to help protect their legs and feet from thorns and weeds.

You might ask yourself how these people got around from place to place. Today, we have automobiles, but we know they did not have them in the American Revolution. These people had horses and rode them bareback. The tanner invented the leather saddles. They made riding more comfortable and much more convenient.

Today we just get up and go to the grocery store and buy our food, but in the American Revolution, the people had to hunt or fish for their food. Saddlebags were made on saddles, they could carry many conveniences, like water jugs and blankets for their hunting trips.

Blacksmiths wore leather aprons to protect themselves from the hot sparks of the fire.

When the people sat down to eat they had plates, forks, knives and spoons that the silversmith made, but the tanner made the leather mugs they drank out of.

A large part of the success of the American Revolution was due to the trade of the tanner. Tanning was vital to the survival of the people and it was an important part of the American Revolution.

LITTEST CHAMPION...John Cass poses with his Hampshire barrow, which was named Grand Champion at Friona's local junior livestock show last weekend. Cass' barrow won out over 60 other entries showed by young showmen on Saturday, February 2.

Details Given About Beef Referendum

The following set of questions and answers were submitted by C.C. (Cap) Naegle on behalf of the Beferendum. Voting will be held February 19-22 at the ASCS office. Only those who registered to vote will be able to participate.

MYTH: The Beferendum isn't needed--current voluntary programs are adequate.

FACT: The only national program in existence is that of the National Livestock and Meat Board. The Meat Board has a beef budget of about $2.4 million--for nutrition research, consumer education, beef promotion and advertising--or only about 1¢ per capita (220 million people in the U.S.) to protect and expand beef markets. Due to reduced cattle numbers and inflation, Meat Board funding is down and programs are being curtailed--at a time when anti-beef campaigns (by activists and government) are increasing.

MYTH: People won't stop eating beef--they'll consume all the beef we produce.

FACT: Sure, they'll consume all the beef we produce--at some price! Fact is, however, that the demand for beef is softening. The percent of net disposable income spent on beef in the last quarter of 1979 was only 2.4 percent--compared with the historical average of 2.5 percent to 2.7 percent--and is predicted to go lower in 1980. Reasons: (1) inflation and (2) anti-beef campaigns. (Each 0.1 percent drop in Percent Disposable Income spent on beef translates into a drop of $3 per cwt. for fed cattle and more for feeder cattle.)

MYTH: The program will be run by a "quasi-governmental agency."

FACT: The program will be run by the Beef Board, comprised of cattlemen, which will not be a "governmental agency." The Beef Board was authorized by Congress, at the request of cattlemen. Other commodity boards under similar programs--Sheep Producers Board, Cotton Board, Potato Board and Egg Board--report no USDA interference as long as they stay within the intent of the law.

MYTH: The program will be administered by Carol Tucker Foreman (currently Assistant Secretary of Agriculture), who led the Beef Boycott in 1973.

FACT: (1) The Program will be monitored by the Livestock Division of the Agricultural Marketing Service, over which Carol Foreman has no jurisdiction. (2) This monitoring is merely to protect producers' interests, to assure that funds are not used illegally. (3) Carol Foreman was an employee of the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development (HUD) in 1973 and says that as a government employee she could not (did not) participate in the Beef Boycott.

MYTH: The Beferendum only will create a bureaucracy in the beef industry and provide a lot of jobs, leaving few funds to help cattlemen.

FACT: Other commodity boards (wool, cotton, potatoes, eggs) report that net cost of administration (after interest earned on reserves) is less than 1 percent. Beferendum leaders estimate that "administrative overhead" for the Beef Board should be no greater.

MYTH: The check-off will be mandatory for all cattlemen.

FACT: The deduction of 20¢ per $100 of value added to an animal will be automatic, in order that it be uniform; but it is voluntary in that a producer can get a refund immediately upon request.

MYTH: If a producer wants a refund, it will take him 5 to 6 months to get it.

FACT: The Act states that refunds must be made within 60 days after a producer demands a refund. And Beferendum leaders estimate that most refunds will be made within 30 days after valid proof of payment is presented.

MYTH: Cattle producers may be required to keep sale records up to eight years or more on heifers purchased and sold later as aged cows.

FACT: Cattle producers will not be "required" to keep any records. If a producer asks for a refund, he will be asked to supply reasonable proof of assessments he paid on the value he added to the animals. This seems reasonable, to avoid fraud.

MYTH: The proposed Beef Research and Information Order, if passed, would authorize the USDA to hire new employees to monitor the program.

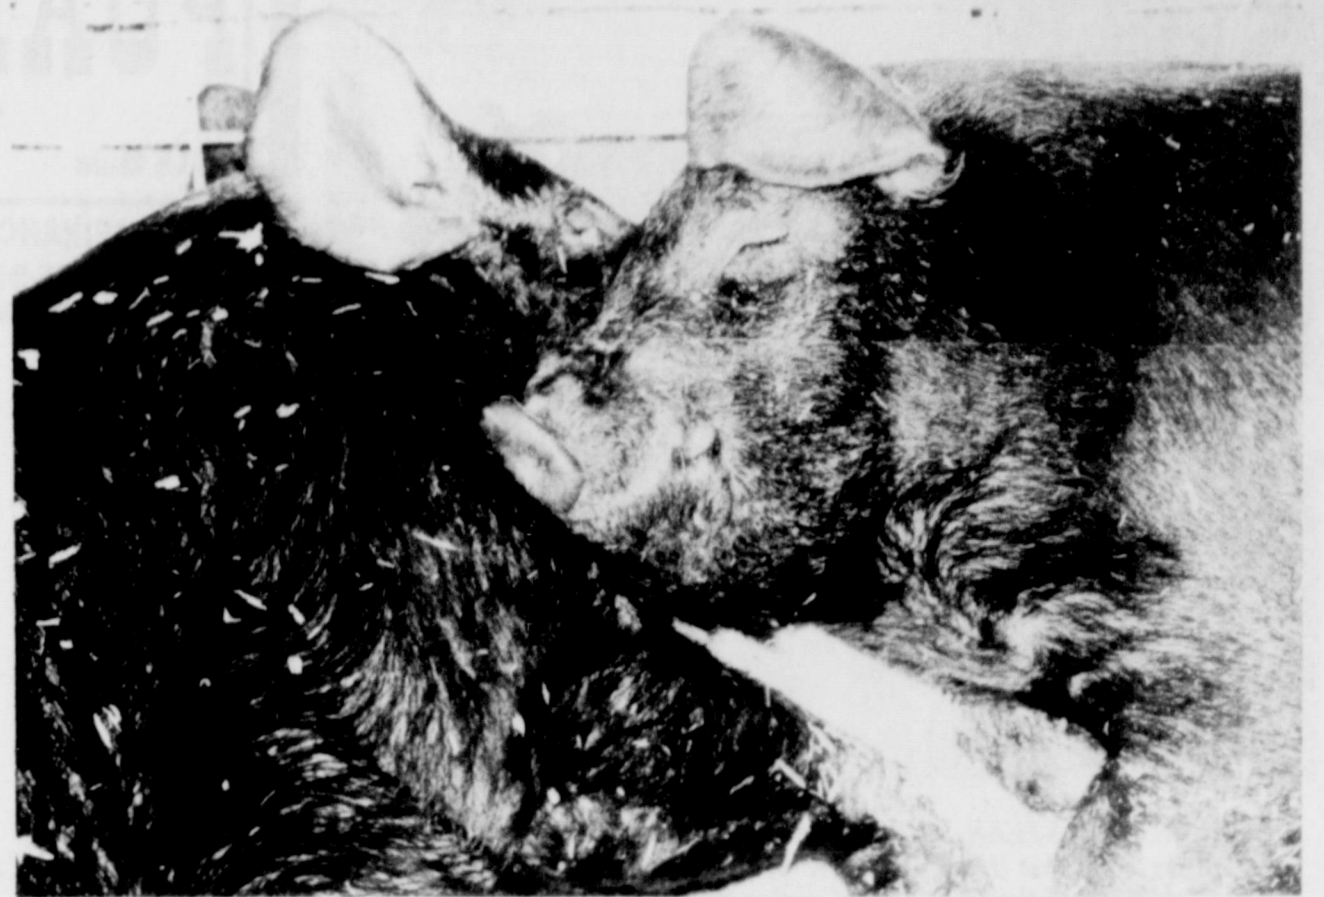

FACT: The order makes no reference whatever to the USDA hiring new employees. The Beef Board will reimburse the USDA for administrative costs in connection with the program, expected to be minimal.

MYTH: Beef doesn't need a $40 million advertising campaign.

FACT: A Beef Research and Information Program would involve much more than advertising. It would include nutrition research, consumer education, beef promotion, foreign market development, production research, new product research, marketing research....anything (except influencing governmental actions) that might lead to reduced costs for cattlemen or expanded markets for beef.

MYTH: There is an alternative, some say--a voluntary contribution plan for research and promotion through the National Live Stock and Meat Board.

FACT: This is not a viable collection alternative to meet industry needs. The Meat Board, operating for 57 years on voluntary contributions, is financially pinched--due to (1) reduced cattle numbers and (2) inflation. Only last month, the Meat Board was forced to cancel its spring nutrition advertising program (telling consumers the nutritional value of beef) due to a shortage of funds. Meat Board directors recognize the urgency of the Beferendum and are among its staunchest supporters.

HOG HEAVEN....It was a nice day, and naturally, hogs like nothing better than taking a nap, if it's not feeding time. The above pair of unidentified Durocs were captured by the Star's camera, just relaxing after the ordeal of going through the barrow show at Friona's local show last weekend. There were about 60 barrows in the show.

ASCS Program Details Are Given

Prentice Mills, ASCS office manager for Parmer County, has announced details of the 1980 cotton program.

Highlights of the program are as follows:

NO SET-ASIDE--There is no set-aside or diversion requirements for the 1980 upland cotton crop. All producers of upland cotton, who sign in the program and report their acreages, will be eligible for target price protection and price support loans.

LOAN RATE--The preliminary loan price is set at 48 cents per pound for Strict Low Middling (SLM) with a staple length of 1-1/16 inches and micronaire of 3.5 thru 4.9.

TARGET PRICE--Is expected to be between 57 and 61 cents per pound. The preliminary 1980 target price is 59.5 cents per lb.

To guarantee full target price protection, producers must reduce their 1980 acreage by at least 10 percent below their 1979 planting; otherwise, the allocation factor will apply.

HOW DOES THIS ALLOCATION WORK?--To start with we have a national program acreage (NPA). This is 11,602,285 acres of upland cotton for crop year 1980. Now, let us assume that there is 14,110,000 acres of upland cotton planted in 1980--so, the acreage must be factored back to determine which acreage is eligible for a deficiency payment. This is done by dividing the 11,602,285 by 14,110,000 which gives us a factor of .8223. This factor is applied to the acreage on a participating farm that made no acreage reduction from 1979.

For example--Farm had 400 acres of cotton planted in 1979 and has 400 acres planted in 1980. Now, if there is a deficiency payment made for the 1980 cotton crop, this farm would receive payment on 328.9 acres. (8223 x 400). If this same farm has only 360 acres of cotton (or less) in 1980 (a reduction of at least 10 percent) it would receive the full deficiency payment.

DEFICIENCY PROVISIONS--The upland cotton deficiency payment rate is the difference between the target price and the higher of (1) the national average market price received by farmers during the calendar year 1980 or (2) the loan level.

PAYMENT LIMITATION--The total amount of deficiency payments which a person may receive under a combination of the upland cotton, wheat, feed grain and rice programs is $50,000.00. This limitation does not apply to loans or purchases.

DISASTER PROGRAM--There is none for 1980 as yet. To provide for same will require congressional action.
