Trapper Gaining Wild Animals in Floyd Area

There is no letting up in the government trapper in Floyd county, T. J. Sparks, has been in the area. This conclusion is based on the fact that there are not as many complaints now as formerly from turkey and poultry raisers and cattlemen.

Threat to the livestock man farmer is the wily coyote, which is a pretty fair toll annually. The average destruction of wild animals is about 17 or 18 per cent. This is a big figure for an area where there has been more than 450 annually. His estimate since May of 1941 is that during the war he was absent for nearly a year.

Next in number to the coyote are the prairie dogs. This animal is not of the average person. A good bobcat weighs about 17 or 18 pounds. For his size he is powerful and trigger-quick. Largest he sometimes weigh as much as 25 pounds, Sparks says.

Recently the number of red foxes has increased in Floyd county. Why the red fox should increase is not known, possibly a migration from some adjacent area where the foxes and farmers are making it so uncomfortable for the animals.

They are used in snaring and bobcats, but in the past the cyanide gun is an effective weapon. In using the cyanide gun, Sparks said, you drive into the ground with the cyanide gun embedded in the top. To kill you attach a bit of bait to the end of the line and push it into the animal's lungs with the poison so that he can't breathe. The animal dies in about 30 or 40 minutes.

Actually all the people of the county have been cooperative and have been in the area. A man who had a bunch of chickens or a lamb or two annually for many years likes the idea of being rid of the predatory animal so he can have the fowls keep to feed to himself, and help the trapper all he can.

Sparks keeps the Coyotes and turns them in as a source of income. In the summer, however, the pelts are valuable for the ears of the animal furnish material for his reports to the federal department to which he is responsible in showing what he has done with his time and the results of his trapping.

Softball Leaders Find Tougher Competition in Second Half as Opponents Put Up Stiffer Fight

Softball league players speeded up their beginning time to some extent this week and the number of fans who came early and stayed for the second game showed an increase. However, one or two draggy, ragged games kept the fans out later than they wanted to stay.

Tuesday night's schedule was revised so that only one game was played. VFW vs. Old Timers was postponed down to August 19 when it was found the veterans had four games scheduled in one week. Four games in one week is a little too heavy for a team with a roster of only 15 men, to which the league teams are limited, said coach Gresham in making the change.

Alleging repeated violations of the liquor laws of the state by the defendants, District Attorney John B. Stapleton Saturday sought and obtained a judgement of temporary injunction in District court here against James Jenkins, a negro, his wife Rachel Jenkins, T. J. Coleman and his wife Beatrice Coleman.

The decree restrains these and any employees from maintaining or permitting to be maintained a common nuisance as defined by the Liquor Control act, on or at from the premises of the Blue Front cafe, on Lot 4, Block 38.

Two of these charged drunken driving against two defendants, two alleged burglaries, five charged forgery three swindling and one theft of property of a value above $50.

In the burglary cases both defendants have been arrested and tried. Each was given a two to five year sentence, suspended on good behavior.

The grand jury also sat all of Monday and had numerous witnesses. They returned one bill of indictment charging theft.

Passengers were carried to their destination by bus and the bus also ran overland to take passengers Tuesday morning east-bound, says reports from South Plains.

The report said the engine's Diesel motor was knocked out of the engine. How the bull came out of the collision is not related in stories reaching Floydada.

Spray Operates Against Insects in City Saturday

Operation of the City of Lubbock Health department's high pressure street and alley spray in Floydada for insect pests including flies and mosquitoes, was staged last Saturday morning up and down all streets and alleys, some five hours being required to cover the approximately 35 miles.

Originally advanced and planned by the Junior Chamber of Commerce as a community-wide cooperative job, the DDT spraying job was finally given into the hands of the city, as a tax-paid effort when it was found the expense could be cut from an estimated several hundred dollars to $250. Dr. J. W. Kimbrell and J. M. Willson, jr., who carried the torch for the clean-up and spraying plan for prevention of disease, including polio, presented the matter so forcefully to the council that that body determined to meet the lowered cost without calling on the citizens for individual donations.

The total cost includes another trip for the high-pressure spray due to be made on August 2, according to the present plan.

Entries for the country club golf tournament were coming in in considerable numbers this week, said Gene Collins of the prize committee yesterday.

Qualifying rounds are due to begin August 3 and the tournament will start on August 10. L. J. Welborn and O. P. Rutledge will be managers, and A. B. Clark treasurer. Serving with Collins on the prize committee are Edward Wester, Ernest Carter and Lewis Norman.

Yesterday E. C. Carter of the associate membership shares committee said the added membership now had reached upward of 80 families with a dozen or so sales yet to be made. Funds obtained from the sales are pledged, by the directors to be used exclusively for improvements which are being planned.

One of the plans now being studied is a change in the location of the dam, and if it is made the old dam will be discarded, said Mr. Carter. James F. Potts, who is making the engineering study has been running levels and making soil tests as his time permits.

Three Bidders Seek to Furnish City Power Plant

Important to the community will be tomorrow night's action of the city council, when they are due to make decision on the award of a contract for additional power at the city light plant.

Three bids were opened by the council for the purpose Tuesday afternoon, with J. D. McBrien acting mayor in the absence of Mayor F. C. Harmon. The adjourned session set for Friday night gives the engineer, H. N. Roberts, an opportunity to tabulate the offers of the bidders, and present the bids to the council in a meeting where all are present.

Will Double Power

The additional power plant, estimated by the engineer to cost approximately $90,000 installed and ready to deliver power to the lines, will have a capacity practically equal to the installations already on the floor of the city's generating station. Included in the bidding is an electric generator.

Approximate capacity of the engine will be 800 horse power, and the generator planned for is one of some 500 kilowatt capacity. Additional housing facilities will have to be provided to accommodate the new machinery, made necessary by the constantly growing demand on the city's plant. Power plant will be the major portion of a betterment and expansion program estimated to cost the city approximately $115,000.

New Street Maintainer

Funds of the city this week are going into a maintainer for out lying dirt and gravel streets in the community. Release of impounded moneys held as a reserve against old power and light plant revenue bonds is making this purchase possible. A machine quite similar to machines now in use in Tulsa, Plainview and Lubbock is being bought, and delivery is due this week, it was indicated yesterday by members of the council.

Two Scholarships Awarded to Floyd County Honor Boys

LUBBOCK, July.—Kelly Hagood of Floydada and Henry Neil Schacht of Lockney are honor graduates of high schools in Floyd county who have been accepted as candidates for $100 Dunlap scholarships to Texas Technological college next year, the college committee on scholarships and awards has announced.

Annually the Dunlap stores give funds for scholarships to Tech to select honor graduates of high schools in Lubbock and adjoining counties. This year 31 candidates were chosen from some 100 applicants. Selections were based on high school scholarship, three psychological tests and a personal interview at Tech. Students must maintain a B scholastic average or better to receive the award after having been accepted for candidacy.

Weather and Crops

Pointing up the fact that usual early July general rains have not fallen in Floyd county, dry land cotton in some areas has begun to show up in its progress and feed also is beginning to show the need of a good soaker. Stubble plowing in hard ground has been more general than usual. A large percentage of the stubble land is being held as was however, awaiting a rain before the ground is turned.

With the exception of a streak through the north part of the county last Thursday night when a shower (that was a good rain in some fields) hit portions of Lone Star, Sterling and South Plains districts, the county has been getting progressively dryer. This means that on the several hundred of irrigation farms the wells have been going on a 24 hour basis for more than a week, alternating between alfalfa and the row crops.

Hay cutting has been finished for the second time this season and most farms report good tonnage and excellent weather in which to handle it. Market conditions, with truckers back in the buying, have improved also. Takers, principally, are east and south.

Planted pastures, except where watered, are beginning to dry up, but on ranges cattle are doing wonderfully well on the dry grass. Calving crops are starting off good and the mother cows are fattening.

WHAT VARIETIES OF WHEAT

Important in Floyd county is the discussion now going on as regards what variety of wheat to plant to get along with the millers. There is a bit of confusion and we would like at least not to add to the confusion. It would be a good thing if we could help to clear it up.

Probably as good a catch-as-catch-can test as can be made by the man who does not claim to know is to be sure to plant a bearded wheat. Some of these varieties are better than others, some do better under one condition of moisture and temperature than others, some have more "baking qualities" than others. What makes us say to plant a bearded wheat is the fact that agents of the mills are making the wheat areas looking at the crops after they get into the head. Where they see quite a bit of beardless they put a question mark and where the beardless is too abundant they take no wheat from that area for milling.

We wouldn't say one kind of wheat is better than another. We are reasonably sure, though, that this important customer, the miller, bases his buying policies as to a given area by what he sees and hears from his agents. One important wheat-raising county in the West Texas area is said to have been by-passed entirely by the miller. We mean the mills simply bought no wheat from that county. It all went to export. Should a man lose his export market he would be in a rather tight spot.

THEY ARE HINTING THE BEST

Wheat men in this area should not be listed as trying to make the customers accept a product the customers do not want. The fact is they want to plant and sell the kind of wheat the mills want to grind into flour, whatever its name.

If such a wheat can be gotten that also works well in the type of soil and climate conditions which prevail here, all is well and good. It should be said, we think, that the wheat growers are combing the country hunting "good seed," meaning just exactly seed the customers call "good." Let anybody who wants to name it.

OLD MAN DRY LOOKS ON

If you've been a-living in this country for awhile you'll know, if you'll only think, that Old Man Dry is still operating. And if you're doing good now, rolling good old wheat money through your fingers, you may be happy if you don't spend it all on things you oughtn't to spend it for because you might need it later.

Perhaps Oil or something will take care of you. Perhaps Oil or something won't.

Anyway, Old Man Dry looks on and he'll do things to west Texas when he gets ready. Some have water to water and some don't. Those who don't have water will have to buy and pay dearly to those who do. Admittedly there is a scope of Floyd county as big as all outdoors that hasn't developed the irrigation complex as yet. When the hard years come they'll want to do so, of course. But there'll be problems that are not now thought of. They are in the book but we do not know what they are, nor do you.

What we'd like to say is hold on to that grain profit now. If you have a surplus you'll get a chance to spend it and how! Test of a good business man comes in good times, how he gets ready for something else again. If you would like not to be in danger financially when the tide turns to control that impulse now to do something foolish.

NEW LAWS IN THE STATE

A good many laws passed by the legislature which closed in May and due to become effective during the late summer and fall, are beginning to be talked about now. One of the most jubilant departments of the state is the Public Safety division, which was treated generously by the legislature, both in money with which to operate and in changes in laws to make enforcement of safety on the highways an easier task.

Reason for the good treatment the highway patrol got at the hands of the legislature is the fact that it is really an efficient organization. So says Judge I. B. Holt, representative of the 120th district, who was in Floydada recently. The department rates high all over Texas and the people demanded of the legislature that they have what they asked for, Representative Holt said. One of the little but important laws passed in this connection is the "courtesy" dimming of lights. Beginning in September it will be a "must" not a "courtesy." Most all of us believe in it as properly a "must."

A smart practice for the poultryman is raising at least 25 more pullets than he intends to house, so he can cull out the poor birds. Poor pullets are a waste of time and money.

Supplies of glass jars, jar rubbers and closures are bigger than in recent years. The homemaker will also find better supplies of pressure canners, home freezers and more freezer locker space.

Amateur wiring or overloading of electrical equipment is a big cause of disastrous fires on Texas farms.

PETE SHURBET HURT WHEN HORSE CRITTER GETS UNRULY

ROY, New Mexico, July 10—L. V. "Pete" Shurbet, local livestock buyer and implement dealer, has been hobbling around on an improvised steel and plaster pedal extremity the last few days as result of experience with an unruly horse in downtown Roy. The caballo is reported to have pitched the local bronc riding loop artist for a row of windmills which would not have been bad at all according to "Pete", if it were not for the fact that "the darned horse picked the very middle of town with well filled streets for his antics."

Chicken Feed

"Folding Money" NOW

Poultry raising in our area has come a long way since Mother kept a few chickens for egg money and Sunday dinners.

Today there's a lot of good "folding money" in scientific poultry raising. It's not "chicken feed" any more, for more folks than ever before are making big money in the poultry business in the Panhandle-Plains-Pecos Valley Area.

We have so much confidence in the poultry industry—and all other industries we serve, that we are investing 35 million dollars in a building program. This expansion program in our territory will bring more dependable electric service to industry and farms and better living—electrically—to everyone.

Texas Highways Comprise 25,734 Miles Pavement

AUSTIN, July— Reviewing the activities of the Texas Highway department now entering its 30th year as the state's road building agency, Commission Chairman John S. Redditt reported paved mileage on the state system had more than quadrupled since it was first accurately measured in 1929.

The endless struggle to build new roads as fast as traffic demand increased has shoved the 1929 paved mileage of 6,961 up to 25,734 miles on July 1, with more being added every day.

"This still isn't enough," Redditt declared. "The blight of congestion and hazards to safety on many sections of these paved roads render them inadequate to handle the heavy traffic using them."

He expressed confidence that the Commission's recent expanded policy for building farm-to-market roads on a cooperative basis with counties together with the current federal aid program, would result in substantial improvements to the state's farm transportation problem.

The total investment in the state road network stood at $934,197,811.55 on July 1, Redditt announced. This includes all expenditures made under the supervision of the Texas Highway department since it was created thirty years ago.

"It has been a good investment," he said. "I doubt if any other similar expenditure of public funds has done so much good for as many people."

The Chairman paid tribute to the thousands of employees who had built the organization into one of the top road building agencies of the nation. "Of the 7,663 employees on the payroll today, 2,278 have been with us for ten years or more. Only one has completed 30 years of service, but two others are approaching the 30 year mark."

"This organization has made it possible for Texas to maintain its place at the top among the states of the nation in carrying out a vast postwar construction program. Today work is progressing on contracts in excess of $77,000,000 a volume that has never before been reached in the Department's history."

Farm Accidents Take High Toll

AUSTIN, July—Farm Safety Week July 20 - 28 brings the warning that the food shopper's dollar will buy less this year if farm accidents are not curtailed.

George Clarke, managing director of the Texas Safety Association, said that the mounting toll of fatalities on the farm and from farm to market cannot be overlooked as a contributing factor in determining whether the state's high riding economy is headed for inflationary crack-up. He explained that for each $10 of gross income the farmer as a class pays out about $1 as the result of accidents, and this in turn is slapped on the price of each consumer item.

Clarke said that the occupational death total in agriculture was the largest of any major industry with machinery, livestock and falls of persons, in that order, as the most frequent sources of fatal accidents. The death rate per 100,000 farmers is 53, as compared with the all-industry rate of 35.

An analysis of traffic accidents for the first five months of this year reveal that more than twice as many persons have been killed in rural areas as in cities and towns.

Governor Jester, following a three-year-old precedent, proclaimed Farm Safety Week to stress the urgency for all farm families to adopt safe practices of living and working every day of the year.

Clarke said that Texans pay annually about $118,930,110 for farm accidents in the price of bacon, flour clothing and other items. The interdependence of farmers, manufacturers and business causes this loss to be felt throughout the state and on every item used by the buying public, he said.

According to the Census of Agriculture, farmers in Texas have added $3,458 tractors to their farm equipment during the past five years. Clarke said that tractors cause more deaths than any other type of machinery and that this rapid replacement of man and mule power brings a greater exposure to fatal accidents.

Association statistics show that farm animals account for one of four agricultural work accidents and that falls cause more injuries than any other type of accidents in the home and barn.

Rural traffic fatalities since May of this year total 471 persons killed in 3,658 accidents, while 209 persons were killed in 7,006 accidents in cities.

DON'T TAKE A CHANCE ON FIRE!

FIVE TIPS FOR SAFETY

1. Be sure of your wiring. Do not overload circuits. Do not fuse too heavily. If the wiring leading into your motor or appliance is heating, call in an electrician.
2. Oil Motors regularly, according to manufacturer's instructions. A drop or two of oil may prevent unnecessary wear and overheating.
3. Treat cords carefully. Keep free from oil, moisture, grease, kinks and knots. Repair frayed or broken spots immediately. Keep cord away from sharp edges, or hot appliances. Disconnect from outlet first, then from appliance. Grasp plug to disconnect—never jerk cord.
4. Tighten nuts, screws, bolts at the first sign of looseness. Keep appliances free from dirt, crumbs, grease—cleaning them after every use.
5. Watch for loose connections. If appliance sparks, or motor stalls, disconnect instantly. Have repaired immediately.

Veterans Return Over-Payments As Training Ceases

WABECK, July 22—Indications that West Texas veterans are being fair with the Veterans administration. Within the last thirty days some 362 veterans have returned nearly 36 thousand dollars to the which were not entitled, due to having dropped out of training, said manager Robert W. Sisson, Tuesday.

When a veteran interrupts his education or training he is no longer entitled to subsistence pay from the VA. Any amount received after termination of training must be returned, Sisson emphasized.

It is the veteran's responsibility to advise the Veterans administration regional office at Lubbock when he stops his training. It is unlawful for him to retain subsistence pay when he is no longer in training.

When a veteran interrupts his training in the middle of the month he is to notify VA that he is no longer in training — and receives a check at the end of the month. He must return that check to the Treasury Department, notify VA of the date he stopped training — and check for the exact amount due. When the check is returned, it will be issued, it was explained.

NOT YET ATTAINED

The practical growing of lintless cotton has hit some snags. While much research work has been done, there's much yet to do, says Farm Journal.

Here are some of the problems. The present strains are really only "semi linted," as they have from 8 percent to 10 percent lint—just enough to hold the seed in the boll when the boll opens.

The engineers have a big job on their hands developing new harvesting equipment. Present machinery won't work.

Another point is that experimental variety is subject to the same diseases and pests as regular linted varieties, and the number of seeds is the same. The only difference is less lint.

Cottonseed processors and livestock feeders are still enthusiastic about the future of lintless cotton. They like the idea of getting the oil and protein values of the seed without the production of lint.

Guests of Mrs. Ella Johnson here last week were her daughters-in-law, Mrs. Steve Johnson and Mrs. Jettie Johnson, both of Graham. They returned to their homes Saturday.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

This morning I heard a report over the radio that wheat is being stored in the big empty buildings at Pantex. Means of life where not so many months ago weapons of death were being made. The bread that will feed the world, a golden pile more precious and glittering in the rays of the sun through a crack than the gold King Midas loved so well and did him so little good when his darling child was a golden statue.

I brought a bucket of sand from the Monahans. Dead and lifeless, I thought just something to put in a glass bottle to remember a lovely trip to the Davis mountains through the Monahan sand dunes. But I sprinkled some on top of a box of petunia seed I had planted. Something came up beside the flowers I expected, for I had a good brand of seed. The long slim leaves looked familiar, but I could not place the plant. The other day when I went to water the box of growing green, a flower blue as the sky over the sandy stretch of sand, had opened its silken petals. Life amidst death. Our good Heavenly Father made it so. Only tiny particles of sand, but they held a tiny seed that only needed water and sun to grow into a plant of wondrous beauty.

The flying saucers have gone from the skies, or so it seems, gone from the front pages of the dailies, no longer we hear about the newest news of them over the radio. Life seems flat. How we longed to see one of the bright discs! To wonder about what they were and where they were going. But not a one came our way, at least when we were watching. I almost saw one. John had bought a gay yellow umbrella for his tractor. I looked out and saw it, not noticing the tractor. My heart skipped a beat.

New Ford Tractor

DETROIT—Good news for the nation's farmers as the new Ford tractor rolls off the production lines of Ford's Highland Park plant at the rate of 400 daily. Features include an improved hydraulic system for implement control and four forward speeds. With the new line of Dearborn farm equipment, the Ford tractor is marketed nationally by Dearborn Motors Corporation. Michigan farmerette Gloria Carlson tries out the new tractor at Dearborn Motors' experimental farm, Clarkston, Michigan.

Earl Hogge, of the Floyd County Tractor Company, local dealers for Ford tractors, has just returned from Dallas where he attended the one-day sales conference of Ford tractor dealers of Texas, at which the New Ford tractor was introduced.

The new Ford tractor features an improved hydraulic system permitting operation of tractor and implement as a single unit with automatic hydraulic control of the equipment, Mr. Hogge said. Other major improvements include an automotive type steering gear, a fourth forward speed to give a wider range of working speeds, a new drawbar height control mechanism, combination running boards and step-plates, a seat that can be tilted back, and a hinged radiator grille for easy cleaning of radiator core.

While major improvements have been made in the tractor itself, farm implements now in use with Ford tractors will operate with the new model 8N Ford Tractor, Mr. Hogge pointed out.

Merritt D. Hill, Dearborn, Michigan, General Sales Manager, Dearborn Motors Corporation, the national marketing organization for Ford tractors, told the dealers that production of the new tractor was going forward at the Highland Park plant of the Ford Motor Company and that approximately 50,000 units would be marketed during the latter part of 1947.

Summer Brings Health Threat for Children

PLAINVIEW, Texas—This is the season when dysentery, diarrhea and summer complaints are most prevalent throughout the State, and Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, has issued a warning to parents of young children regarding the chief causes of these intestinal diseases are impure milk, water, food; allowing a child to become overheated; using too much butter and cream in the diet; and over-feeding." Dr. Cox said, "All foods should be fresh and left-overs should be properly refrigerated to prevent spoilage."

Dr. Cox said definitely that when feeding formula for infants is used, it should be prescribed by a physician and then prepared with extreme care, especially in regard to cleanliness and refrigeration. Babies should be fed at regular intervals and on a definite schedule. Their stomach and bowels can become easily upset if they are fed haphazardly whenever they happen to be fretful or restless.

The State Health Officer declared that with dysentery, as with many other diseases, the fly is an agent of transmission, and every home should be well screened and free of flies.

"If diarrhea or dysentery develops consult a physician at once," Dr. Cox advised. "This so-called summer complaint can become a very serious menace to your baby's health if not an actual threat to his life."

FIRST GRANDSON

Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Spence returned the latter part of last week from Denton, where they had been to visit their first grandson, C. O. Spence III, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Spence, Jr.

Mrs. W. J. Kaiser, Mrs. H. C. Fowler and Mrs. Frank Hickman and children, Diane and Roddy of Dallas are here this week visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Switzer.

Sidelights From Washington

By George Mahon

Congress is scheduled to adjourn on July 26, one week from the day this is being written. Legislative decisions are now being made rapidly. Tax reduction legislation was killed for the session when the Senate voted to sustain the President's veto on the second tax bill. Very likely in 1948 Congress will pass a more equitable tax bill than the one which Congressman Knutsen tried twice to enact into law this year.

It is now a foregone certainty that the Senate will approve the terminal leave bill for enlisted men which we passed in the House sometime ago. This will mean that ex-servicemen can convert their terminal leave bonds to cash if they desire on or after September 2, 1947.

The Presidential Succession bill has now become the law. It provides that Speaker Joe Martin, a Republican, would become president in the event of the death or resignation of Mr. Truman. I was surprised to observe on the final roll call on the bill that I was one of only 11 Members of the house voting against the measure. I feel that when the people elect a President of one political party for a four-year term that such party should remain in power under our system of Government until the next presidential election. I agree that it would be all right for a Democratic Speaker to succeed a Democratic President or for a Republican speaker to succeed a Republican president, but not otherwise.

The so-called Stratton bill which would admit into the United States from Europe 400,000 displaced persons has been sidetracked for the session. I have all sympathy for the unfortunate peoples of foreign lands, but I have resisted action by Congress to admit these 400,000 immigrants. We have enough problems without admitting all these people many of whom would be malcontents and trouble makers. We have fed them and protected them abroad but we should not be required to share our homeland with them.

Final action on the Agriculture appropriations bill will soon be taken. It now appears that substantially all AAA payments which were authorized for the 1947 crop year will be paid.

A few days ago we had our final meeting of the session of the Texas Congressional delegation. Words of admiration and praise were spoken for the late Congressman Mansfield of the Galveston district, who passed away a short time ago. Judge Mansfield was one of the most amazing men I have ever known. Although he was 86 years of age at the time of his death, and had been confined to a wheel chair for about 20 years, he was remarkably effective as a legislator. Everybody liked him and trusted him. Prior to the last election he was chairman of the important Committees of Congress and performed a great national service in that capacity. The Judge was never heard to complain of his handicap and his ever cheerful disposition won him the title of the most beloved man in the House.

Congressman Fwing Thomason of the El Paso District is retiring from Congress next week to become federal judge in the Western District of Texas. He is one of the top Texans in Washington and his influence will be greatly missed. Like the late Judge Mansfield, he is one of the favorites of the Texas delegation.

This leaves Texas with 19 Members of the House, but the two vacancies are to be filled in elections in the districts involved on August 23.

Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Haught were here the first of the week, guests of Mrs. Haught's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. F. Conner. They had been on a vacation trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, and the mountain country. Mr. Haught is manager of Piggly-Wigley No. 2, a food market in Lubbock.

Last Polio Health Hint: Avoid Sudden Chilling!

Sudden chilling such as plunging into cold water on a very hot day should be avoided as the sixth and final health precaution that should be observed in the polio season—June through September—the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis cautions through its local chapter.

Scientific research financed by March of Dimes funds has shown that when laboratory animals exposed to the polio virus were suddenly chilled, twice as many developed acute and paralyzing attacks of the disease as did a control group which had been protected from sudden temperature changes.

Therefore, take no chances. To be on the safe side avoid sudden chilling, the National Foundation advises.

Wednesday, the family visited in Lamar, Missouri with Mrs. Buchanan's parents, in Springfield, Missouri with Mr. Buchanan's brother Paul Buchanan and family and in Leland, Mississippi with a brother of Mrs. Buchanan, Bill Wright and family.

Nancy and Karen remained in Floydada for a longer visit with Mr. and Mrs. Morckel.

HOME FROM TRIP EAST

At Springfield, Louisiana, a reunion of Mrs. Price's folks was held in the form of a fish fry and all day outing. Swimming, boat rides and many other forms of sport furnished entertainment for the day.

Mrs. Hammonds and children and Mrs. Price returned home Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Dave Willis spent Saturday night in Clovis, New Mexico, and were accompanied home on Sunday by Mrs. Willis's sister, Dorothy Jean Marr, who has been visiting for some time with a brother, Robert B. Marr in Van Neys, California.

Came This Week. Sizes 35 to 42. Some long. Added to our large stock. Glad says — give the customer most of the profit. That's what we will do and these are brand new in the best 1947 colors. Try one on.

About one-half dozen wool ladies' swim suits, made by Gantner of San Francisco. They sold for $10.95 to $12.95. The colors are maroon and blues. You'll buy 'em at the price. We are taking measures daily for 'Made to Measure Suits'. You will be satisfied if you dress here.
