MUCH HOME DEBT FREE Education at Calvary Baptist March Marked by Note Burning

Calvary Baptist church of Floydada, in its church dedication service Monday afternoon, January 25, heard Rev. J. T. May, district missionary, deliver a message of the occasion. The service, significant in the annals of the congregation, was well attended. A large delegation from the Calvary Baptist church attended the church service. Other visitors from the community Baptist association, the Baptist General Convention of Texas, and the Wilson and G. C. Tubbs were present. The church was decorated with flowers and bunting. The pastor, Rev. J. T. May, delivered the dedicatory prayer.

Leonard Wilson Mid-Winter Grad At Tech College

Leonard Wilson, of Floydada, is listed by the dean of Texas Technological college as a mid-winter graduate of the college with a degree in agriculture. He is one of 121 students on the list.

There still are people who believe it is an occasion for rejoicing and ceremony when debts are paid. Of such are the membership of the Calvary Baptist church who under the leadership of their pastor, Rev. Sidney Johnston, have passed this milestone in their four and a half year old organization. Their note burning ceremonies, held last week, was the occasion for a large turn out of members as well as visitors from neighbor churches of the same faith.

James Herschel Green was a native of Floyd county, born here June 18, 1905 the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Green, pioneer residents of Floyd county.

He attended Floyd county schools. On June 14, 1931 he was married to Miss Annie Graves of Floydada.

Mr. Green was a prominent member of the local Masonic lodge, the Eastern Star and Odd Fellows lodge and of the First Methodist church. The Green family home has been in Floydada on the Matador Highway for a number of years. He was a member of the county school board at the time of his death.

Survivors of the deceased include his widow, Mrs. Annie Green, one daughter, Marceline, two sons, Winton and Robert Pears Green, three brothers, Sam of Floydada, Bailey of Fresno, California, and Roy of Cortez, Colorado, and four sisters, Mrs. J. L. Hinson and Mrs. Pat-Simons of Durango, Colorado, Mrs. W. H. Nelson of Floydada and a twin sister, Mrs. B. J. Yontz of East Liverpool, Ohio, all of whom are here for the funeral service.

The county school board met on Monday afternoon February 2 in County Superintendent Clarence Guffee's office for a routine session with Fred Battey, president, M. P. Goen of precinct 1, R. W. Smith, precinct 2, and Bill Beedy of precinct 3, present.

During the meeting, W. L. Miller was named trustee at Sand Hill replacing A. V. Womack, who resigned.

Routine on general school and transportation affairs was discussed during the meeting.

Both have recently completed 15 years of unbroken service with no absence. In recognition of this fact they each received a pen and pencil set and a letter of commendation and appreciation from their division traffic manager at Fort Worth.

Mrs. Fawver Rallying From Severe Illness

Mrs. G. L. Fawver, who was hospitalized two weeks ago and was gravely ill for several days, has returned to her home at Baker. She is believed to be rallying successfully, said Mr. Fawver this week.

Beginning next week. An informal series of caricatures in The Hesperian depicting your neighbors and the service they render in the community. Intended to simulate a good neighbor policy the series will run several weeks. Above illustrates the author of the series, H. H. Huston, at his drawing board.

Landowners from all over Floyd county — 39 of them in all — paid their respects to the Floyd county committee of the High Plains Underground Water district Monday in their first official meeting — and went away from the meeting with approval of applications to drill irrigation wells.

The 39 applicants were from Sand Hill, South Plains, Lockney, Sterley, Dougherty and McCoy.

Three of the five members of the county committee, elected in January and briefed in a general district meeting in Lubbock last week, were present for their first session, an informal but business-like meeting held in the office of the county agent. They were Marvin Shurbet, Lee Trice and Grady Walker. Both Sid Thomas and T. B. Mitchell of the committee, were absent from the county.

Of the 39 applications the committee had to view on the grounds only two of the proposals for well locations. Principal immediate problem for the committee is the business of well spacing so that new wells will not damage and be damaged by other wells already located or possibly to be located in the future on adjacent property, said Marvin Shurbet of the committee.

Well drilling contractors and pump installation concerns are far behind on their orders. It was revealed at the session of the committee. Of the 39 well locations for which permits issued, many had been projected for completion in the latter part of 1952 and in January of this year, but the contractors, swamped with orders, could not get to them.

Permits Easy to Get

Shurbet said Monday the committee voted to meet every Monday morning at 9 o'clock for the present in the lobby of the Floydada National Farm Loan Association, 319 South Main street. He expects their first principal job to be the consideration of permits for wells. He said that procedure will be informal, and, in fact, that an application would become a permit as soon as it bore the signature of as many as three of five of the committee members. Application blanks may be obtained at any time.

Well location problems are more likely to be aggravated in the areas of older irrigation development than in the less-developed areas, it appears to the committee. In areas where considerable land is not yet under irrigation the committee can help owners prevent future injury to themselves and adjacent owners by judicious spacing, is their belief. Where heavy development has already been effected the sites are generally on "high points" which are closely adjacent to land under other ownership, and may represent problems that will have to be worked out mutually between the landowners.

At last week's Lubbock meeting of the district, the Floyd county delegation was headed by C. J. Taylor, of Lockney, Precinct 5 director, Thomas, Shurbet, Trice and Walker of the local committee, and probably 20 other property owners.

The body will be met by the Harmon Funeral home ambulance and will be brought to Floydada.

The bodies of two paratrooper soldiers killed in the Korean fighting were scheduled to arrive in the United States on Saturday, according to Department of Defense report.

M-Sgt. Gilliland Gets Bronze Star

Master Sgt. Arnold W. Gilliland, son of S. F. Gilliland of Hereford, has been awarded the bronze star in Korea.

Five F-84 Jet planes, in his care, flew 300 missions with no mechanical difficulties.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

No Winter Yet. It may hit before these lines get to press. We mean winter weather. Unusual, to date we have had no really freezing prolonged to make a person realize what heavy clothing is made for. Even in the rain and snow of the mid-January week-end the weather did not go all out. It got credit for fine moisture over a large area, it blasted telephone and light lines unmercifully, but the temperature failed to reach below a mild 27 degrees. According to the accepted rules it should have frozen deep and hard for a week or so. We always have some winter during winter-time in the plains country. Since we have had none aren't we due to have what is left of the winter season? That would mean February, and if not February, then, even, March.

The question at the time, as regards teacher's salaries, says Governor Shivers, is not whether we must raise them, but how and how much. His idea is that the teachers can be given a cost of living raise without raising state taxes. In a statement issued last week he raised the issue in frank discussions of the need and the ability to pay and promised further down-to-earth talks along the same line this week. In his judgment the Gilmer-Aiken program is the most progressive achievement ever made in Texas public school education. The Gilmer-Aiken point of view is based on the need and not on the per capita basis as in the manner of distributing from the available school fund.

Appointment of Marshall Formby as state highway commissioner to succeed Fred Wemple, will meet with general approval in this portion of West Texas. The former McAdoo boy, who senatored before he went to World War II, then returned home to try newspapering, then radio, the while he went to school again, is now a resident of Hereford from which point he gives general supervision to three radio stations including the station at Floydada. The three commissioners are named on a general geographic basis, but Texas is so big that the appointments have to be somewhat passed around at that to keep sections of the respective areas of the state from feeling slighted. Wemple whom Marshall succeeds is also from West Texas, but from another part of West Texas, namely Midland.

When we start a tune we seem not to be able to get off on another melody of different cadence. So we go on talking about the governor and things down Austin-way. A most important thing, to our thinking, has happened at Austin and it has to do with the governor. He has, for the first time, as pointed out by Senator Rogers, lent his open word and support to ideas and programs for which rural people, particularly West Texans have fought for years. These are: (1) continuation of the rural road program (2) refund of gasoline tax for fuel used for non-highway purposes, and (3) retention by the counties of their present share of motor vehicle registration fees. Since they each are hard-fought issues every biennium, with pros barely winning each time, it is comforting to have the governor stand for all of them.

Senator Rogers feels very very keenly about the tax on natural gas that leaves the state for consumption in distant climes. Often this gas, after being piped half across the continent sells to others than Texans for a price cheaper than it can be bought by residents of the state themselves.

Readers Digest has not helped itself too much by running questionable articles the past year or two. Come a few more croppers and the Readers Digest will go the way of the Literary Digest. Latest is a story, which we have not read, which reportedly leaves the impression that Texas state government is rotten. It credits some man in Austin with being the "boss" you have to go to see. Texas is a composite of the people who live in it. Some are rotten, some are good, clean and honest. Each in his own way, in Austin and on capitol hill as in other communities. And the idea that Texas people are "bossed", unknown to themselves is quite some reflection on the intelligence of the people. Texans are flimflammed on occasion, as we have seen, but the idea that a "boss" carries Texas decisions in his vest pocket is propagated only in ignorance.

The manager of the Texas Press Association is authority for the statement that there are now only two veterans on the Confederate pension rolls of Texas. One of these is 106 years old, the other 110 years old. The pension fund also contributes to the support of 535 widows of Confederate veterans, reports Mr. Sanford. The matter was brought into discussion by reason of the fact that the legislature can, if it so desires, free the surplus in the pension fund for other use. This surplus amounts to about $4 million at this time. The hunt is on for more revenue without raising the taxes.

Experimental, Says Dr. Cox of Polio Vaccine

AUSTIN, TEXAS — reports of a vaccine capable of preventing polio and the use of gamma globulin for minimizing the effects of the disease are heralded as major achievements in the research against this great crippler and killer of children. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns that both are still in the experimental stage. While they hold great promise much study will yet have to be done before being available to the general public.

In the meantime, Dr. Cox advises that everyone observe the known rules of sanitation. These practices have proven their value not alone in the prevention of polio, but of other diseases such as typhoid fever, dysentery and malaria. Even when a definite preventive of polio is available to the public they should not discontinue their efforts toward maintaining sanitary surroundings.

Sanitation efforts should be carried out every month and every day in the year. Householders, business houses and industry are responsible for keeping their property in a sanitary condition. Cities must furnish an uncontaminated water supply, maintain an efficient sewage disposal system and proper garbage collection and disposal.

Dr. Cox placed the responsibility on the individual when he said, "In sanitary places do not make the person but the person makes the places." If you have been lax in maintaining cleanliness of your surroundings during the past few months, now is a good time to start an intensive clean up. Texas can help prevent disease and assure themselves of better health by maintaining a high standard of sanitation.

IEWS AND COMMENT

No Winter Yet. It may hit before these lines get to press. We mean winter weather. Unusual, to date we have had no really freezing prolonged to make a person realize what heavy clothing is made for. Even in the rain and snow of the mid-January week-end the weather did not go all out. It got credit for fine moisture over a large area, it blasted telephone and light lines unmercifully, but the temperature failed to reach below a mild 27 degrees. According to the accepted rules it should have frozen deep and hard for a week or so. We always have some winter during winter-time in the plains country. Since we have had none aren't we due to have what is left of the winter season? That would mean February, and if not February, then, even, March.

The question at the time, as regards teacher's salaries, says Governor Shivers, is not whether we must raise them, but how and how much. His idea is that the teachers can be given a cost of living raise without raising state taxes. In a statement issued last week he raised the issue in frank discussions of the need and the ability to pay and promised further down-to-earth talks along the same line this week. In his judgment the Gilmer-Aiken program is the most progressive achievement ever made in Texas public school education. The Gilmer-Aiken point of view is based on the need and not on the per capita basis as in the manner of distributing from the available school fund.

Appointment of Marshall Formby as state highway commissioner to succeed Fred Wemple, will meet with general approval in this portion of West Texas. The former McAdoo boy, who senatored before he went to World War II, then returned home to try newspapering, then radio, the while he went to school again, is now a resident of Hereford from which point he gives general supervision to three radio stations including the station at Floydada. The three commissioners are named on a general geographic basis, but Texas is so big that the appointments have to be somewhat passed around at that to keep sections of the respective areas of the state from feeling slighted. Wemple whom Marshall succeeds is also from West Texas, but from another part of West Texas, namely Midland.

When we start a tune we seem not to be able to get off on another melody of different cadence. So we go on talking about the governor and things down Austin-way. A most important thing, to our thinking, has happened at Austin and it has to do with the governor. He has, for the first time, as pointed out by Senator Rogers, lent his open word and support to ideas and programs for which rural people, particularly West Texans have fought for years. These are: (1) continuation of the rural road program (2) refund of gasoline tax for fuel used for non-highway purposes, and (3) retention by the counties of their present share of motor vehicle registration fees. Since they each are hard-fought issues every biennium, with pros barely winning each time, it is comforting to have the governor stand for all of them.

Senator Rogers feels very very keenly about the tax on natural gas that leaves the state for consumption in distant climes. Often this gas, after being piped half across the continent sells to others than Texans for a price cheaper than it can be bought by residents of the state themselves.

Readers Digest has not helped itself too much by running questionable articles the past year or two. Come a few more croppers and the Readers Digest will go the way of the Literary Digest. Latest is a story, which we have not read, which reportedly leaves the impression that Texas state government is rotten. It credits some man in Austin with being the "boss" you have to go to see. Texas is a composite of the people who live in it. Some are rotten, some are good, clean and honest. Each in his own way, in Austin and on capitol hill as in other communities. And the idea that Texas people are "bossed", unknown to themselves is quite some reflection on the intelligence of the people. Texans are flimflammed on occasion, as we have seen, but the idea that a "boss" carries Texas decisions in his vest pocket is propagated only in ignorance.

The manager of the Texas Press Association is authority for the statement that there are now only two veterans on the Confederate pension rolls of Texas. One of these is 106 years old, the other 110 years old. The pension fund also contributes to the support of 535 widows of Confederate veterans, reports Mr. Sanford. The matter was brought into discussion by reason of the fact that the legislature can, if it so desires, free the surplus in the pension fund for other use. This surplus amounts to about $4 million at this time. The hunt is on for more revenue without raising the taxes.

Experimental, Says Dr. Cox of Polio Vaccine

AUSTIN, TEXAS —reports of a vaccine capable of preventing polio and the use of gamma globulin for minimizing the effects of the disease are heralded as major achievements in the research against this greatcrippler and killer of children. Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, warns that both are still in the experimental stage. While they hold great promise much study will yet have to be done before being available to the general public.

In the meantime, Dr. Cox advises that everyone observe the known rules of sanitation. These practices have proven their value not alone in the prevention of polio, but of other diseases such as typhoid fever, dysentery and malaria. Even when a definite preventive of polio is available to the public they should not discontinue their efforts toward maintaining sanitary surroundings.

Sanitation efforts should be carried out every month and every day in the year. Householders, business houses and industry are responsible for keeping their property in a sanitary condition. Cities must furnish an uncontaminated water supply, maintain an efficient sewage disposal system and proper garbage collection and disposal.

Dr. Cox placed the responsibility on the individual when he said, "In sanitary places do not make the person but the person makes the places." If you have been lax in maintaining cleanliness of your surroundings during the past few months, now is a good time to start an intensive clean up. Texas can help prevent disease and assure themselves of better health by maintaining a high standard of sanitation.

'Little Women' Said Pleasing To Big Crowds

"Little Women," presented on Thursday and Friday nights by the Thespians of the Floydada High school was a success in every way, both from a financial standpoint and as entertainment.

A capacity crowd was present on Thursday night, with a good crowd again present on Friday night at the high school auditorium where the play was presented under the direction of Mrs. I. T. Graves, director of speech of the school.

Special back drop scenery for the play had been made and every part in the play was well cast.

Ann Weiborn as Beth was good in her part. The death scene was so realistic that tears were seen in more than one eye when Beth passed away.

Jean Porter, as Jo, the tomboy sister of the four, was wonderful in her part as was Meg, played by Barbara Perry and Amy, played by Sammie Copeland.

A Fine Old Aunt
Aunt March, in real life Mona Williams, played her part to perfection. She made a fine old aunt of the family.

Bobby Rainer played the kind, rich old neighbor, Mr. Lawrence. Grover Smith, was one of the neighbors who eventually was wed to Amy.

Professor Bhaer, who was played by Lonnie Jarrett, married Jo. John Brook, played by Carell Handley wood and won Meg, the older of the "Little Women."

Father and mother March, Bert Grimes and Myrna Wilson, were well suited for their parts as was Millie Carmack, who played Hannah Mullet, the maid.

Friends and neighbors who attend the play, "on Christmas eve" by the "Little Women," were Glynnell Armstrong, Eileen Handley, June Majors and Jane Pope.

The story, "Little Women," was written by Louisa Mae Alcott, in the year 1836. The scenes were laid in the March home in Concord, Mass. All the characters were in colonial style dress, which added a colorful touch to the play.

Conservation District News

Frank Probasco, just west of Floydada on the Sand Hill road, has a nice field of vetch which may be easily observed from the road. This field of vetch lays just west of his new brick home.

One reason I call this to your attention now is — I would like to notice the remarkable growth which it will make as soon as the weather starts warming up in the spring. This field of vetch will be turned under in time to seed to a crop in the spring.

Frank's son, Kenneth, and Lloyd Collis, a neighbor of Kenneth's both have a fairly large acreage of vetch. These men are all cooperating with their local soil conservation districts. Kenneth and Lloyd both live in between Aiken and Barwise. Kenneth seeded his with rye and plans to harvest the seed as a cash crop.

There are several acres of vetch which have been seeded by special legume seeders, which belong to the Floyd county soil Conservation District. This seeder puts two drills — one foot apart — in the middle of a row crop at the time you get ready to water the row crop the last time in the fall.

In those cases where there was enough moisture in the soil to maintain the vetch from the time it was seeded until now the vetch is looking fairly good. However, little growth can be expected up to this time.

The vetch has a good root system established and should make good growth in February, March, and April.

You can see some of these seedings on Lee Roy Durham's farm at Sand

February Call For Ninety-Two To Take Exams

That a heavy draft on Texas for manpower in the early spring is due to be made is indicated this week by a call for 92 registrants in the four-county area of Local board No. 45 to report next week for physical examination. These will report in approximately numbers of 30 on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday of next week. The lists are as follows:

To Report on Monday

The following listed registrants have been ordered by Texas Local Board No. 45, (jurisdictional area being Floyd, Hale, Motley, and Swisher Counties) to report to the third floor, county courthouse, Plainview, Texas at 7:00 a.m. on the 9th day of February, 1953 for armed forces physical examination:

Albert R. Thornborrow, Tulla, Donald M. Eiring, Plainview, Freddie B. Burgess, Plainview, James W. Ross, Floydada, Claud R. Horton, Kress, Billy G. Bailey, Plainview, Leslie D. Overstreet, Petersburg, Eddie W. Cooper, Eureka, Freddie J. Ivy, Plainview, Weldon H. McBride, Happy, Duane A. Dye, Roaring Springs, Hill or Don Bennett's farm south of Aiken.

Another legume which may be used similar to vetch as a winter legume and as a soil improving crop is Madrid sweetclover. This plant has a root system similar to alfalfa, therefore it has the ability to open the soil where it can take more of the natural rainfall as well as improving intake of irrigation water. This legume can be found growing on Aubrey Holt's farm at Irick.

Madrid has great possibilities as a soil improving crop on our dryland, because it can be seeded in either spring or fall. When seeded in the fall it acts as an annual, makes seed the following summer. If seeded in the spring it will grow all the first year and make seed the following summer, thus acting as a biennial. R. G. Dunlap is planning to try about eighteen or twenty acres of Madrid this summer.

Alfalfa is not to be overlooked as a soil improving crop, because it is probably the best one known. However, alfalfa uses considerable more water than the above mentioned soil improving crops. So! It might be possible for you to have as much alfalfa on your land as you would like to maintain a good physical condition of your soil. This is where you can use the vetch and Madrid to help keep your soil in good physical condition and to maintain your soil in a highly productive stage.

Each morning when we wake up there are 6,000 more people to feed in the United States. If we are to maintain our standard of living, we will have to take care of our soil.

GOOD HEALTH

Answer to Question No. 1:

It is good to be out in the sun—winter or summer—since sunshine at any time of the year is a general tonic. The sun helps appetite and digestion. Rickets, once a common disorder among children, has practically been eliminated by the use of Vitamin D, the sunshine vitamin.

Answer to Question No. 2:

Though pulmonary tuberculosis is still a serious condition, the mortality rate has greatly decreased. This is due to early diagnosis, to some of the newer surgical procedures and certain antibiotics which help to cure or arrest the disease. Anyone who has a cough which persists more than two or three weeks should have a chest X-ray. Many unsuspected cases can be found through chest X-ray of supposedly healthy people.

Answer to Question No. 3:

Your local health department keeps accurate records of deaths and their causes, births and diseases. Such facts are needed to head off epidemics and locate sources of infection. "Vital statistics" also help to spot shortcomings in your community's health services. For example, if your town's percentage of baby deaths is higher than in other communities, it's an indication your health services need investigation.

COMPLAINT RECITES WOES OF CITIZEN WHO THINKS HE GETS BAD TREATMENT

To The Hesperian—

We live away out here in the Southeastern part of town. Don't get to see or talk to many people, but we have some complaints to make. We don't know of anyone to make these complaints to but you.

We have trained half a dozen mail carriers on our route in the last two years and as soon as they make good carriers they are transferred to another route and we are given another carrier to train.

Also we live in a very dark part of town. For four Saturday nights in succession our street lights have been shot or knocked out. So last Saturday night our lights had not been replaced and our next street lights were knocked or shot out. We also have a very accommodating set of aldermen. They have put us behind the Iron Curtain, taken away our rights to elect a city secretary and marshal. So we have no one to go to with our complaints. When our city secretary and city marshal were elected we could go to them with our complaints and they would act, but now they say, go see so and so.

Our councilmen are all business men and have enough to do to attend to their own business and they do, and let the city's business go to the devil.

Also I am told the council has made a law forbidding the shooting of firecrackers in the city limits, but let the merchants sell them. Why didn't they first make a law forbidding the sale of the firecrackers then a law forbidding the shooting of fire crackers in the city. The children who shoot the fire crackers are innocent of any law violation.

Now, if you can ease the pain any just let us know. We do have a mayor who tries to help us.

Respectfully,
S. H. Wright.

CARD OF THANKS

With deepest gratitude, we extend this word of thanks for the many kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful friends, during our recent bereavement. These expressions have been deeply appreciated.

Texas and Federal Tax Collections

Texas taxpayers will be required to pay out approximately $3,355,694,900 in federal taxes as their share of the cost of the federal spending program of $76.6 billion proposed by former President Harry Truman for the fiscal year 1953-54. This statement was released by the state and national affairs department of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

The WTCC pointed out that the $3,355,694,900 which would be borne by Texas taxpayers to support the proposed budget submitted by Truman to the new congress is more than seven times the amount of taxes collected by Texas last year to finance the entire state government. Total cost of Texas government was $650 million, of which $185 represented federal grants.

The WTCC estimated that Texas residents and taxpayers presently bear 4.27 per cent of the total federal tax burden.

Until recently we've had a pleasant enough relation with the moon. We knew it first not as a planet, but as the jolly-faced old gentleman of storyland. He was the laughing object that the cow jumped over; that the old woman who tossed up in a basket went nineteen times as high as.

Then Eugene Field disturbed this picture. Ever so poetically, he insinuated into our mind a doubt as to the moon's proper identity: "And up, up, and up, where the Mother Moon beams, the fairies go winging!" Have once listened to propagandists about a woman instead of a man, we found the next step in disbelief no trick at all.

The moon was more like a huge piece of cheese! Crater-like sketches in books tended to bear out this perdy, and when curiosity took us to the dictionary, we were pretty well conditioned for what came—The moon was neither man, woman nor cheese, but "one of the celestial bodies, a satellite of the earth, revolving about it from west to east."

But during all the centuries that moon has been following its accustomed path, scientists have been nosing along new one slowly, patiently; they've discovered the moon's secrets; that man can fly there in a rocket; how long it would take him to go. They know that on the moon there is no air for breathing, no sound, probably no vegetation. And, most disturbing, they advise that a man might freeze to death, or else be killed by "a swiftly moving space globe."

Maybe the cow who jumped over was only a couple of thousand years ahead of her times. Anyhow we sometimes think—a little wistfully—that, this time science has gone off the deep end on facts.

red scourage of Texas' nds is the pink bollworm. s seems to be a dangerous on the part of farmers to usually. Farmers have been d with so many crises — other insects, floods, low at they fail to see the fore- trees. They quite under- don't get excited every new "threat" is announc-any opinion this pink boll- eat is something to get ex- at. It is a real danger to s basic industry, and pos- a bigger threat right here than anywhere else. It is conceivable put an end to cotton industry. It is that ed. Entomologists readily agree the mers have multiplied many times ver the past two or three years.

What is the history of this dan- ous cotton insect? Well, in 1916, Menden cotton grower found an dd kind of worm in his fields. He thought at first it might be the "small" of the boll weevil. But s was sure. This particular worm ad a pinkish tinge; the well- known weevil grub was distinctly hite in color. So the Mexican grow- er gathered a handful of infested oles and sent them to insect experts in the U. S. Department of Agriculture. There the worm made start- ing news.

Far from being a weevil grub, it was, without doubt, the dreaded pink bollworm — the same worm that had long been ravaging cotton in other parts of the world. This was its first record appearance on the North American continent. How did the pink bollworm get into Mexico? No one is sure. But the best guess is that it came from Egypt where the pest has abounded for years. Egyptian planting seed had been imported into Mexico in 1911, and there's little doubt the pink bollworm moved with it.

The pest kept moving — right up through Mexico and across the Rio Grande River. In 1917, one year after it was spotted in the Laguna district of Mexico, it was found in fields near Hearne, Texas. Here, again, the worm apparently was brought into a non-infested area in seed shipments. That was about 35 years ago.

Since then—despite intensive quarantine and control measures — the pest has fanned out westward into New Mexico, and Arizona, northward into Oklahoma, and eastward into Louisiana. In all, it now occupies at least 251 counties in which farmers plant a total of about 12 million acres of cotton.

J. W. Calloway, of Corpus Christi, in 1950 had a field of late-planted cotton. Before the crop could reach maturity, the pink bollworm infestation reached 90 per cent. He had to destroy the entire crop. This story clearly points up the potential destructiveness of the insect. In 1952 the pink bollworm cost us $34.6 million. In 1942 only about 75 counties were infested. By 1952, the number had jumped to 261. Is that a threat to the cotton industry, or isn't it?

Last year, entomologists found the pink bollworm had doubled and tripled in the Vernon, Wichita Falls, Knox and Haskell County areas. The same occurred in many other areas of the state. If I were a cotton farmer, a ginner or a cotton oil man, I would be concerned.

The cotton business has lost enough of its value the past 10 to 15 years. If the bollworm joins the boll weevil as a force of cotton destructiveness, then we might as well forget the rich crop that made the South the great empire that it is.

Coming up this year... 50th Southwestern Life's Birthday

TWO fiftieth birthdays, as a matter of fact. The first historic day will arrive in March. It was on March 10, 1903, that the State of Texas issued a business charter to the Company.

The second milestone will be reached on July 4, 1953. On Independence Day in 1903, this Company issued its first life insurance policy. That policy was purchased by a Texan, naturally.

Southwestern Life has been doing business with Texans, growing with Texas, ever since. Today, more than a quarter million Texans are providing a measure of future financial security for themselves and their families through their investment in Southwestern Life Insurance.

In a half century Southwestern Life has become what the people of Texas have chosen to make it. Their faith and support have caused it to become the largest life insurance company in the Nation which does business only in its home state. And, in the year ended December 31, 1952, Texans purchased more Southwestern Life insurance than in any previous year.

For records such as these we give grateful thanks to the policyowners who made them possible.

In the years ahead Southwestern Life, believing in the modern private enterprise concept of profit through service, fully expects its business progress closely to parallel the development of growing, expanding Texas.

SAVE up to 50% on your investment

It is no longer necessary to invest in expensive oversized equipment to profit from all the benefits of land leveling when you own a WESTATE. Round Campaign of Red Cross March 1 to 31

Plans are being completed for the annual Red Cross fund campaign, scheduled for March 1 through March 31, according to N. W. Williams, chairman of the Floyd county chapter of the American Red Cross.

E. C. Carter has been named fund campaign chairman for Floyd county for 1953. He will name his helper committees some time soon.

Floyd county quota for 1953 has been set at $3,500.00, which is slightly more than last year, due to unforeseen factors, one of which is that the Red Cross is processing thousands of pints of blood for conversion into gamma globulin, the new weapon against polio.

The bloodmobile, which was in Floyd county last October 1952 will be in Floyd county again in August, 1953, as reported to Mr. Williams.

The annual meeting of the Red Cross chapter will be held on February 12 at 2 o'clock in the county school superintendents office, announced Mr. Williams on Monday.

Formby, named to a six-year term, was reared at McAdoo, where his parents still reside. He is a former Dickens county judge, a former state senator, and served with the navy in World War II. He holds a degree in journalism from the University of Texas and a law degree from Baylor university.

Following World War II he published the Plainview Tribune for a time, later went into radio and is now jointly interested in three radio stations, at Floydada, Hereford, and Colorado City.

Missionaries Christmas Day Far From Home

Following are excerpts from a letter written Christmas day in Lisbon, Portugal to his parents, Reverend and Mrs. S. L. Wood of Floydada, by their son James Elton and wife, who are missionaries there from the Nazarene church:

"It is Christmas day. It does not seem much like it but it is December 25 and the beggars have been saying 'Natal' to us on the street, so it must be Christmas. Oh, I don't mean it is too bad. We have had some very nice things to see and do, but we are certainly not having an American Christmas. That's the difference, you know.

We left New York about noon November 29. On December 7 at 4 p.m. we came in sight of land. Oh, but it looked good. We came down the Tejo river to the harbor of Lisbon, just as night was closing in. We kept scanning the throng of people for our missionaries, but did not locate them.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

Finally, we decided we would have to get off alone, so we started descending the wobbly gangplank, straining our eyes to see the dark steps and trying, too, to see if there were anyone in the crowd to meet us. We did not see anyone that looked like the pictures we had seen of the Dolls.

Soon Find Friends
So, we stepped off and started pressing our way through the throng. Then, out of nowhere, a large man loomed up in front of us and grabbed me by one hand and the things out of my hand with the other. It was brother Doll, and there were several other missionaries and friends there to meet us. It was wonderful to be among friends again. Miss Schultz invited us to her home for dinner, then the Dolls brought us here to our home.

We had heard that it was a private home so we had visions of driving up to a little house, but no, he drove up to an apartment house.

We loaded our things on the elevator, and up we came to our private home. This is what they call a private house. No little cottages here. It is really quite nice and we are well pleased. We nearly froze at first, because the rooms are not heated.

Service in Portuguese
On our first Sunday, we attended the church of the Brethren faith. The service was all in Portuguese. We were thrilled even though we could not understand a word of the message or songs.

We went to a prison service and sang, "Joy to the World" to about 500 men.

We attended the service of the Presbyterian church and enjoyed the service, but it was very cold. Fuel is very expensive here.

Last night we went into the parlor and started playing Christmas carols. Soon several friends came in and we all sang the carols and showed the pictures of the life of Christ in slides.

Thirty days hath November,
April, June, and September,
February hath xxviii alone,
And all the rest have xxxi.

Richard Grafton—1572

Old poem isn't it? Now it is very fine that we can abbreviate the month of February as I thought, it's a kind of hard to spell. I looked it up. Notice the way April was spelled in England at that time.

The groundhog's shadow will be barred with shadow and sunshine today. Does that mean the weather will be kind of in-between? January was the warmest month on record at Lubbock, or since the records have been kept, I understand.

I know it has been warm in the house, but I wonder if it had had to take a milk bucket out about sunrise and milk cows in a wire fence lot or in a drafty old barn, would it have been so warm as I thought. I imagine my hands would have been cold as well as my feet. You recall that the queen of France was cold one morning and hungry. Her heart was turned to her cold and hungry poor. After the servants had warmed up the palace and the queen had eaten her bread and honey, she said for her servants not to take wood an food to her poor. I hit in a warm house and wonder why the workmen across the street need a fire of waste lumber to warm by.

I went to bed Saturday night at eleven after watching the March of Dimes Telethon, or is that the way to spell this new word? Wished I had not, as my grandchildren, Margaret Nell and Dale Wayne handed their money to Jimmy Isaacs and was on television for a brief time. It was a wonderful program, a bit of America the Beautiful. A land whose people try to make the world a better place in which to live and the appeal of crippled children goes to the heart and pocket book. Hats off and pocket books open to KDUB TV and all the force, was the motto that night.

A letter from Mary Lou Spikes Brown of Kaufman, a cousin's daughter of Mr. Spikes, bring back radiant memories to me. I was a girl of some fourteen years. Father and mother decided to go to Canyon City to the Old Soldier's and Cowboy's Reunion. Mother and Aunt Mirt got out the sewing machine and it fairly hummed as yards and yards of white smooth domestic was trimmed with yards and yards of filmy lace for petticoats and unmentionables. White cross-barred lawn, sprigged lawn with tiny roses, satiny foulard, soon these fabrics were dresses made by the best designs the Delneator pictured. All these were packed in big trunks with new shoes and flower-bedecked hats. Ruffled shirts for the little boys, white shirts for big brother Lowell and father. The chuck box was loaded in with the rolls of bedding and we were off.

Father proudly drove his team and parked the wagon in the "streets" of the Reunion ground. He took the horses off to the pasture for them and our tent was put up. We were residents for a short time in this "city" of campers. Near us was another tent, a big one, Uncle Felix Franklin and Aunt Panny from Amarillo were keeping open house for friends. Stately Grandmother Hunter, my grandmother Jones' beloved stepmother stood for hours at a table slicing a boiled ham for sandwiches. The jar of yellow mustard stood near. There was always some one for a sandwich and a glass of lemonade.

Mart Spikes, his wife and four daughters from Kaufman were visiting the Franklins and how I admire this family, Mart Spikes and his cousin, Felix were big men, stately men. Their voices were deep and strong. Fannie B. Franklin whispered to the rest of us that Mary Lou, Mart's lovely daughter, was in love. We looked with new respect and interest at her. She wore embroidered silk blouses or waists, as they were called. Rustling silk skirts, with taffeta petticoats that out-rustled the top skirt. A gold watch pinned to the silk waist caught the plains sun and shone and dazzled our eyes. Graceful and tall, slender and a perfect picture of sweet loveliness and young ladyhood Mary Lou was, and we have never forgotten her and never want to lose that remembrance. The other girls were sweet and lovely, too, but Mary Lou was in love and expecting to be married and our hearts and eyes went out to her. God bless you, Mary Lou, for graciousness and true lady-like manners.

Only A Gas Range Gives You Air-Circulated Ovens

Turn the thermostat on a new Gas oven and you get any heat you set. More important, you get the same exact heat in every corner and on every level at once. The above diagram shows you how air constantly circulates . . . distributing heat so perfectly that you can bake 4 cake-layers at one time—and not be able to tell them apart. See the modern Gas ranges your dealer has on display. Buy a modern Gas range and enjoy better and easier cooking.

We enjoyed having our relatives with us over the week-end. Harry's sister and her husband, Bill and Almada Holland from Springfield, Ohio, spent Saturday and Sunday with us. They stopped by on their way to California.

John Ragland with H. N. Roberts and Associates of Lubbock was a co-op visitor on Monday.

A demonstration on meat cookery and "electric cookery is care-free cookery," was given to the Mount Blanco Home Demonstration club last Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Brice Allen. Those attending this meeting were: Mmes. Clarence Lamb, Gene Brown, Wayne Appling, M. J. Mowley, J. J. Stroud, Dennis Taylor, B. Wheelless, Rudolph McCurdy, R. E. Spurgin, Weldon McClure, N. L. Barr, C. A. McClure, W. B. Allen, Floyd Hill, Bob Stroud, Frank Moore, Marvin Powell, Misses Allene Brown and Lena Mae Anlauf. Ham was baked in the oven, chicken was cooked in the deep-well cooker and to further stress "care-free" cookery a batch of fudge was made by letting it cook while meats and how to cook them were discussed.

Reamer Rainer is in the Pitts hospital with pneumonia.

The group that attended the N-RECA Convention returned home Saturday morning. They report a good meeting. Among the highlights of the meeting was an address by Claude R. Wickard, Administrator Rural Electrification Administration, on "Progress of REA Programs"; an address: "REA - As I See It," by Representative H. Carl Anderson, Ninesota, member, United States Congress, and an address: "Rural Electrification and Federal Power" by Senator Henry M. Jackson, Washington; Government Operations Committee, United States Senate; along with many other able speakers. On the entertainment program was the Fibber McGee and Molly Show along with Billy Mills Orchestra and The Kings Men. The theme of the meeting was the challenge of NRECA's second decade.

Since springtime will soon be here and we are busy studying the new seed catalogs and making plans for our gardens let's all give some thought to a "personal" garden. It has been said - So, plant your "Garden," your own personal garden if you please, and get the surprise of your life in the harvest you will reap. In this "Garden" it is suggested that you plant:

FIVE ROWS OF TURNIPS
1. Turnip at every meeting.
Are you an active member
The kind that would be missed,
Or are you just contented,
That your name is on the list.
Do you attend the meetings
And mingle with the crowd,
Or do you stand around outside,
Then gripe both long and loud.

Do you take an active part,
To help the work along,
Or are you satisfied to be
The kind that just belong.

There's quite a program scheduled
That means success if done,
And it can be accomplished
By the help of everyone.

So attend the meetings pronto
And help with hand and heart,
Don't be just a member
But take an active part.

Think this thing over brother
Are you right or are we wrong,
Are you an active member
Or do you just belong.

2. Turnip with a smile.
"If a man is unhappy, he should look around; maybe his wife has married a grouch."

3. Turnip with enthusiasm.
"The fellow who is fired with enthusiasm is seldom fired by the boss"

4. Turnip with new ideas.
5. Turnip with determination to be constructive.

I watched them tearing a building down
A gang of men in a busy town,
With a ho-heave-ho and a lusty yell,

They swung a beam and a side well fell.
I asked a foreman, "Are these men skilled,
And the kind you'd hire if you had to build?"
He gave a laugh and said, "No indeed."
Just common labor is all I need.
Why I can easily wreck in a day or two,
What builders have taken a year to do.

I thought to myself as I went by my way,
Which of these rolls have I tried to play?
Am I a builder who works with care,
Measuring life by the rule and square,
Am I shaping my deeds to a well made plan,
Patiently doing the best I can,
Or, am I a wrecker who goes around,
Content with the labor of tearing down.

FOUR ROWS OF LETTUCE:
1. Lettuce be faithful.
"We have often heard a reference made to the Faithful Few."
2. Lettuce be friends one to another.
"A friend is not a fellow who is taken in by sham;
A friend is one who knows our faults, but doesn't give a damn."
3. Lettuce govern ourselves with locality and truth.
4. Lettuce be true to our obligations.

"When we accept responsibilities of a Citizen we take a serious obligation.
Let us stop now and then and think about it."

THREE HILLS OF SQUASH:
1. Squash gossip.
"The tongue being in a wet place is apt to slip when running too fast."
2. Squash Indifference.
"The indifferent man, is dangerous to work with any time, but most certainly in any kind of an emergency, so help him get rid of his indifference."
3. Squash unconstructive criticism.
"Never criticize unless you have something better to offer."

FIVE ROWS OF PEAS:
1. Presence:
"It means so much to be present at all meetings, if for no other reason than just to give your moral support."
2. Promptness:
"No matter what a man has to offer, if he isn't at the right place at the right time, it isn't worth much."
3. Persistence:
"Be sure you are right then be persistent."

4. Praise:
"It is surprising how much good we can do in this old world if we don't care who gets the praise."

5. Privilege:
"Your company is an honorable organization, and it is a privilege to serve."
"Serve to others in the rent we pay for the space we occupy in this world."

"It isn't the cut of the clothes that you wear,
Nor the stuff out of which they are made,
Though chosen with taste and fastidious care,
And it isn't the price that you paid,
It isn't the size of your pile in the bank,

The Floyd County Hesperian, Floydada, Texas, Thursday, February 5, 1953

Nor the number of acres you own,
It isn't a question of prestige or rank
Nor sinew, or muscle, or bone.
It isn't the servants that come at your call
Whether many of few or none at all,
It isn't the things that you possess,
It's service that measures true success."

When a man knows how to sympathize with others in their sorrows, yes, even in their sins, knowing full well that everyone has a hard fight against many odds;
When he finds good in every faith that helps may man lay hold to the better things of life, whatever the name of that faith may be;
When he has kept faith with himself, with his fellow man and with his God;
Glad to live, but not afraid to die;
In such a man you find the qualities of a true American.
Plant your gardens early
Tend them well
Reap a harvest in which only a few have the opportunity to take part.

Look what's worrying the low-priced three!

There's a big story in the price of this beauty—but an even bigger one in what you get for that price.

You get the highest horsepower and compression ratio ever engineered into this Buick Series—from the extra-thrifty F-263 Fireball 8 Engine newly designed for this Golden Anniversary SPECIAL.

You get an even wider front seat than this roomy Buick had before—plus a new tilt-away feature that means easier in-and-out.

You get real big-car comfort, from deep, soft cushions with new zigzag type springs in both the seats and the backs.

You get the steady going and the sweet handling ease that come of a still finer Million Dollar Ride. Steering ratio is increased. Front wheels have been brought to zero-caster. And here, of course, you get coil springs on each wheel, full-length torque-tube drive, rigid and massive X-braced frame—ride features you get in no other car at the price.

But—you get the idea.

And when you realize that the figure on this big, brawny, beautiful Buick SPECIAL is just a few dollars more than you'll pay for one of the so-called "low-priced three"—we're sure you'll say: "This is for me!"

Come in and try it out—then tell us if we're wrong or right.
*Standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.
