The school also did well but not so good in the athletic events of the district contests.

North Ward won first in junior declamation, first in senior spelling, first in arithmetic, first in quartette singing (female), first to story telling (male).

No County Names In April 'Call'

For the first time since the new Selective Service Act was put into operation there are no Floyd County names in the list for April induction into the armed forces from Local Board No. 45.

Seven boys have been instructed to report for induction at 5 o'clock on April 24 at the court house in Plainview. They are: Sammy D. Brewer and David Howell Hutton, Hale Center; Otha Lee Pittman and Franklin D. Crowner, Plainview.

Jordan Turrel, Abernathy, and Lynn Wayne Johnson, Lubbock, and Billy Everett Tracy, Scott's Bluff, Nebraska.

In a write-in campaign F. M. Covington of Dougherty was re-elected to the office of county school trustee from Precinct No. 4 Saturday, trustee election day. He won over C. T. Morrison of Lakeview 78 to 32.

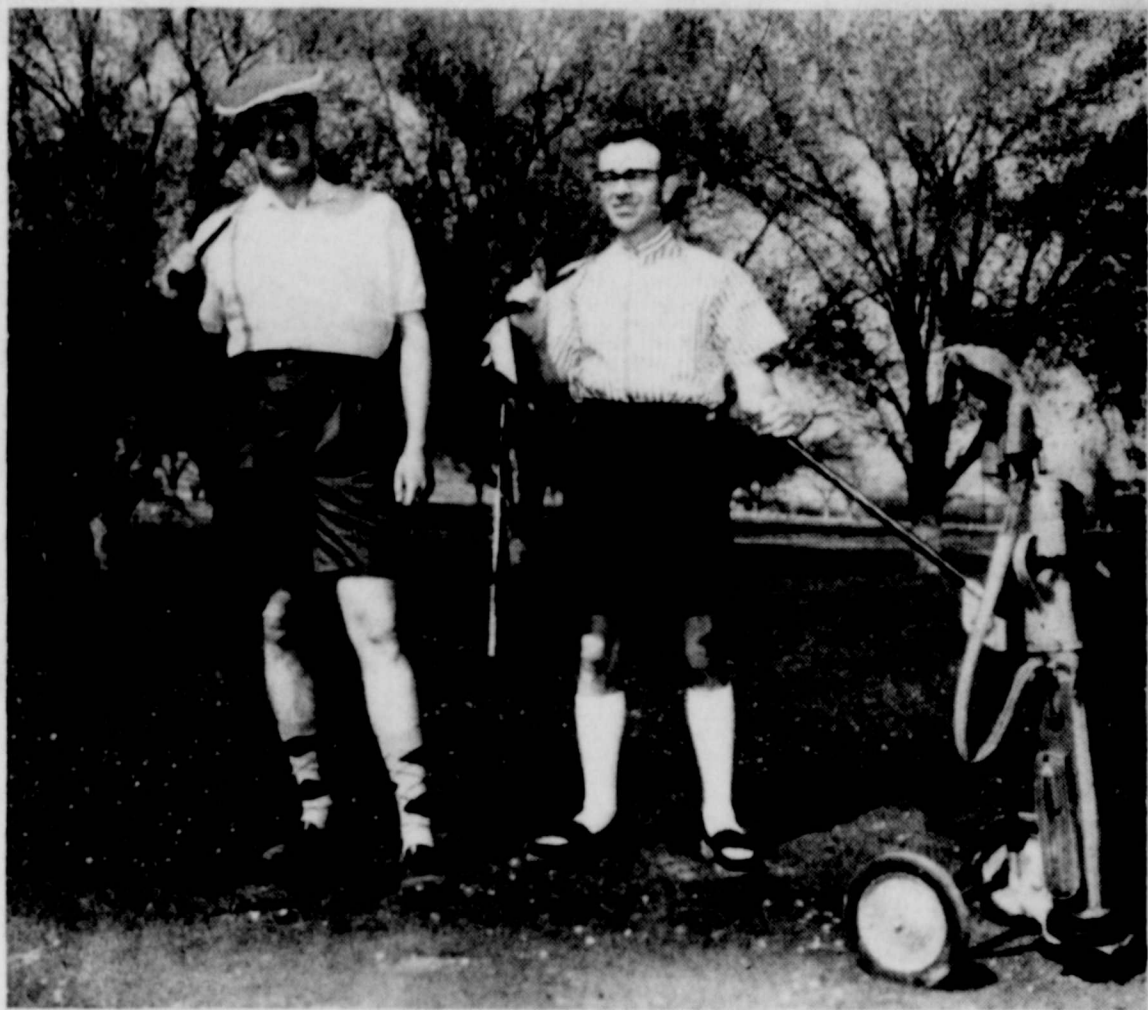

Covington was first appointed trustee to fill out the unexpired term of Herschel Green, deceased. Two years ago he was elected to the post and had served one elective term of two years.

The name of Morrison had been petitioned on the ballot but supporters of Covington failed to get a petition filed before the deadline.

WITH THREE voting boxes participating Covington received 46 votes at Lakeview, and 42 votes at Dougherty for a total of 78. Morrison received 8 votes at Floydada, 21 at Lakeview and 3 at Dougherty for a total of 32.

In other voting Tom Porter was practically a unanimous choice for county trustee-at-large, and Beedy ran without opposition in Precinct 3 to succeed himself for trustee from that precinct.

PORTER'S VOTE in eight voting boxes was 359. Beedy received 28

SPECIAL MUSICAL PROGRAM Federated Club Annual Spring Tea Is Scheduled For This Afternoon

The four federated study clubs of Floydada will hold their annual spring tea this afternoon in the chapel of the First Baptist Church between the hours of 3:45 and 4:15 o'clock with a special musical program scheduled from 4:15 until 5 p.m.

Presenting the program will be Dr. and Mrs. Michael Dala of Plainview. Mrs. Dala, who is a coloratura, will be giving her first recital in the United States, although she has appeared on a number of programs since coming to Plainview with her husband. Dr. Dala is assistant professor of music at Wayland College.

ON TWO OCCASIONS in the past year, she has sung before the Floydada Rotary Club, but this is her first full program, which includes numbers in English, which she has learned since arriving in Plainview.

Still another first for this program will be Dr. Dala's piano solo, one of his own compositions, "Autumn in Texas," obviously written since their arrival in Texas. He will also accompany Mrs. Dala at the piano.

Mrs. Dala is a graduate of the Royal Academy of Music of Bucharest, Romania, where she was a distinguished student and where she sang leading roles in such productions as "Lakme" and "Barber of Seville." She also was presented over the Bucharest radio. Immediately after her graduation, she was married to Dr. Dala, a professor of the Royal Academy. Shortly after, they fled from Romania to escape Communist persecution.

DR. DALA, whose "Symphonic Suite" from his opera, "Casanova" was recently presented by the Lubbock Symphony Orchestra, is gradually becoming known in musical circles of the Panhandle Plains area. He was named teacher of piano and history of music at the Royal Conservatory of Music and Choir Director of the Institute of National Education in Bucharest, shortly after his graduation from the Leipzig Conservatory of Music in Germany. Later he was appointed secretary general and counselor of the Royal Opera House and conductor of the Royal Palace Orchestra.

His opera and other compositions have been performed many times in Europe and when he left Romania he was director general of the Society of Authors and Composers. From Romania he went to Italy, where he was honored by being voted membership in the "Institute Internazionale de Musica" in Genoa. Before coming to Wayland College, Dr. Dala taught privately in Cleveland and New York and was employed by Radio Free Europe and the Voice of America.

Progress At New School

Progress on the new senior high school building in Floydada is being shown this week as completion of pouring the foundations was anticipated today.

The big job not going shortly after the first of the year and though much work has been going on underground and many tons of concrete and steel have been used there has been little to meet the eye of the public.

Tuesday Lloyd Price, general superintendent for Harry E. Miller Company, and John Bradshaw, job superintendent for the firm told the Hesperian much of what has been going on at the building site.

MORE THAN a half mile of concrete and steel foundation is required for the structure. Of this 2400 linear feet had been completed as of Tuesday and the remaining 360 feet were to be completed today.

This foundation varies from eight inches in width to as much as 29 inches in some places and is from two to four feet in the ground. Underneath this there were some 220 belied out holes that went into the ground down to a depth of 10 feet in some cases.

Plumbing contractors have completed about 50 percent of their roughing in work going along with the pouring of the foundation.

BRIGHT NOTE voiced by the contractors was that most all of the hard-to-get materials are already on hand or immediately available of the approximately $70,000 worth of steel that goes into the structure all but about $500 worth has been delivered. There are eight cars of steel on the ground ready for use at present. Also on the ground are 13 cars of brick and tile ready for the bricklayers who were to begin work yesterday.

With the start of the bricklaying the electricians will also be turned loose on their job of roughing in the electric circuits for the building.

SIZE OF THE working crews will probably vary sharply as the job continues and more of the subcontractors are able to enter the picture. The past week the general contractor has been using 6 carpenters and 17 laborers with a payroll of $1,500 per week. All unskilled labor employed was local, he reported.

Estimate as to number of workers who might be on the job at one time as construction reaches its peak was placed at as many as 80 or more by the time more of the contractors are able to begin their part of the job.

CONTRACT CALLS for the completion of the class rooms by start of school in September and completion of the entire building by January 1.

On the north side the school building will measure 343 feet, 8 1/2 inches east and west. Longest dimension north and south is 272 feet, 4 inches.

The contractors specialize in school construction, having just completed the new McWhorter school in Lubbock and schools at Happy and Littlefield among others. At present they are also working on another building of about this size at Loop.

Scouts Will Fish at Lake Diversion

Duncan Hollums, Fred Zimmerman, Jr., Elton Goen, Kinder Farris, and Jake Watson are among those who have already indicated they will make the trip with the scouts. Others may do so by contacting the scoutmaster.

An automatic elevator is about as scary a contraption as the age of science has produced. Having just enough understanding of machinery to flip an electric switch or plug in the coffee pot, we get into one of the things with misgivings.

The first few times we actually pushed the button that sealed us into one, we were certain we'd either (1) go out the top of the building, (2) plummet to the basement, or (3) die of suffocation without ever having moved an inch in either direction.

The other day we walked into a hospital elevator, bent on riding up to cheer a sick friend. "Fourth floor," we said lightly to the man in the blue shirt and slacks, who was fiddling with the controls. "I'm not the operator," he said as he tugged helplessly, trying to close the door.

As the full impact of this statement dawned on us, the door suddenly closed and we two ignoramuses were penned up in there for whatever fate the infernal machine had in store. The thing didn't seem to be moving, so we suggested several buttons he might push to get action.

"Let's wait till it gets to fourth floor and see what happens," he said complacently. So maybe it was rising. After about an hour, a dim light behind the figure 4 and the door slowly opened.

When the patient had cheered us enough to undertake the downward journey, we moved shakily toward the elevator. The girl who understands pushbuttons was mercifully back in her place, reading a comic book, paying not the slightest attention to us or the elevator. We gazed admiringly at her bent head. Her very indifference inspired confidence.

Anyone for the back stairs? Good for the heart, the head and the hip-line.

Matador Pioneer Woman Claimed By Death March 27

The Senior play here in Ralls last night was a knock-out. The big crowd was amazed and delighted, not a dull moment, fun and excitement all the way through.

The young folks were well trained, well made up, well dressed for this theatrical comedy. We were almost afraid to laugh for fear we might miss something, but it was too funny not to. Keep enjoyment shown on the faces of the crowd. Don't think a young man called for his money back. They were our own seniors, our own boys and girls and they did a grand job.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Denison and Mrs. Dessen Denison attended the Denison family reunion last weekend at the home of Rev. and Mrs. Dallas Denison in Abilene.

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

IF WE KNEW ALL

If I knew you and you knew me, If both of us could clearly see, And with an inner sign divine, The meaning of your heart and mine

I'm sure that we would differ less And clasp our hands in friendship.

Our thoughts would pleasantly agree If I knew you and you knew me.

If I knew you and you knew me, As each one knows his inner self, we could look each other in the face And see therein a truer grace.

Life has so many hidden woes, So many thorns for every rose; The "why" of things our hearts could see.

If I knew you and you knew me, Nixon Waterman

In the spring the young boy's mind is on flying kites, the young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love and the older folk's minds are on garden sass and fried chicken, and women's thoughts are on new hats.

Sunday, April 13, 1901 found the prairie covered with a two inch fall of snow. The new green grass was spread with a white blanket, the tender leaves hung heavy with snow. Miles and miles of pure white swept away from the little town of Emma where smoke poured from chimneys that had grown red with rust and not from heat after the winter seemed to have passed.

Children ran and laughed and older folks wrinkled foreheads, but smiled at the thought of added moisture for the ragwort. No garden truck had pushed through the ground to be covered with snow. Early settlers knew the country and did not plant early. Their precious seeds were still tied in old rags or bits of newspaper.

At the John Witt home the snow was welcomed eagerly. Measles had the family in its grip, and there was no refrigeration or any kind. How good the snow felt in hot little mouths and parched tongues. We always felt the snow was especially sent for our enjoyment. Buckets were packed tightly with the cooling feathery stuff and taken upstairs and put away back in the dark "dungeon" as the boys called it, a place between the low ceiling rooms and the outer walls, entered by stooping and groping in the darkness. This was a fine place to play. Play Sheriffs put bad men here, outlaws sometimes held it as their hiding place and many a childish game was played here.

The pioneer men and women are passing from us day by day, vanishing from our tear-filled eyes like the antelope and the herds of white faced cattle on the open ranges. They have gone to greener pastures and bluer lakes. This week Mrs. W. H. Hames of Crosbyton followed her good husband to the eternal home. We loved M. A. Hames.

She came to Emma a young woman with her first child. She lived the life of the pioneer woman, made the clothing for the household, cooked the meals, kept her home in order. She loved her neighbors and her heavenly Father. Our life has been better and richer by knowing Mrs. Hames. Our hearts go out to her children.

"She is gone!" No longer shrinking from the winter wind or lifting calm forehead to the Summer's kiss. No longer gazing with her glorious eyes into a far-off sky. No longer yearning for a holy heart for Heaven. No longer toiling painfully along the path upward and upward to the Everlasting Rock on which are based the walls of the City of the Most High. No longer

If I knew you and you knew me, As each one knows his inner self, we could look each other in the face And see therein a truer grace.

Life has so many hidden woes, So many thorns for every rose; The "why" of things our hearts could see.

If I knew you and you knew me, Nixon Waterman

In the spring the young boy's mind is on flying kites, the young man's fancy turns to thoughts of love and the older folk's minds are on garden sass and fried chicken, and women's thoughts are on new hats.

Sunday, April 13, 1901 found the prairie covered with a two inch fall of snow. The new green grass was spread with a white blanket, the tender leaves hung heavy with snow. Miles and miles of pure white swept away from the little town of Emma where smoke poured from chimneys that had grown red with rust and not from heat after the winter seemed to have passed.

Children ran and laughed and older folks wrinkled foreheads, but smiled at the thought of added moisture for the ragwort. No garden truck had pushed through the ground to be covered with snow. Early settlers knew the country and did not plant early. Their precious seeds were still tied in old rags or bits of newspaper.

At the John Witt home the snow was welcomed eagerly. Measles had the family in its grip, and there was no refrigeration or any kind. How good the snow felt in hot little mouths and parched tongues. We always felt the snow was especially sent for our enjoyment. Buckets were packed tightly with the cooling feathery stuff and taken upstairs and put away back in the dark "dungeon" as the boys called it, a place between the low ceiling rooms and the outer walls, entered by stooping and groping in the darkness. This was a fine place to play. Play Sheriffs put bad men here, outlaws sometimes held it as their hiding place and many a childish game was played here.

The pioneer men and women are passing from us day by day, vanishing from our tear-filled eyes like the antelope and the herds of white faced cattle on the open ranges. They have gone to greener pastures and bluer lakes. This week Mrs. W. H. Hames of Crosbyton followed her good husband to the eternal home. We loved M. A. Hames.

She came to Emma a young woman with her first child. She lived the life of the pioneer woman, made the clothing for the household, cooked the meals, kept her home in order. She loved her neighbors and her heavenly Father. Our life has been better and richer by knowing Mrs. Hames. Our hearts go out to her children.

"She is gone!" No longer shrinking from the winter wind or lifting calm forehead to the Summer's kiss. No longer gazing with her glorious eyes into a far-off sky. No longer yearning for a holy heart for Heaven. No longer toiling painfully along the path upward and upward to the Everlasting Rock on which are based the walls of the City of the Most High. No longer

Rainbow Order Silver Tea Held on Sunday

The lovely home of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hickerson, 502 South Second, was the scene Sunday afternoon, between the hours of 2 and 5 o'clock, for the annual Silver Tea of the Order of Rainbow for Girls, No. 235.

Those alternating at the table were Misses Mary Jo Smith, Sonja Beth Wilson, Cheryl Crawford, Nancy Jo Schuetz, Carolyn Harris and Eloise Rendon.

Egg Production Urged in Talks

Confidence that Title I financing can be obtained for buildings, up to 4,500, as well as for feed and chicks to get into the caged egg business, W. Fyffe, who has been pushing the egg-production business as one of the solutions of the cut in farm operations and the high cost of farming.

In a meeting Tuesday night held in the county court room, Bob Mayfield, of Bryan, Texas, Sandy Sanderson and Bill Barrow, of Spring Lake, Monroe Walt of Abernathy, and Chuck Hilton of Des Moines, Iowa, encouraged the idea for Floyd County people.

Twenty-four interested persons were present for the discussions. "Caged egg production is the fastest growing business in West Texas. It fills in the gap caused by declining prices and acres," said Mr. Fyffe yesterday.

The visitors told the assembled prospective egg producers they could expect to pay out within two years on the investment. A few are ready to make applications for the loans, Mr. Fyffe said.

Economy Program To Cost Three Jobs

An economy move by the city council of Floydada will cost three city jobs, one each in the sanitary department, the police and utility departments.

The council ordered the reduction in personnel effective May 1.

In other actions the council employed Harold B. Shile to make the audit of the city's books for the year ending March 1.

Also the council put into effect the summer irrigation rates, which will be reflected in the May 1 billing.

In the process of cutting off delinquents the council blue penciled 31 names of persons who are habitually delinquent in meeting utility bills.

Keep Complete Home Records For Your Protection

When income-tax returns are due, many householders will be regretting that their financial records are either incomplete or scattered. But taxes are only one reason for keeping good household records, says Morton Yarnon in Redbook, where he advises young couples every month on family finances. Writing in the March issue, he tells you which papers and documents to keep in a safe deposit box, which to keep at home, which to discard — and when.

"Keep your safe-deposit box for the important papers that are either difficult or impossible to replace, or they have a cash value. These include: marriage records, military service records, the deed and title policy to the house you own or the lease to the house you rent, U.S. Savings Bonds, stocks and bonds, such business papers as contracts and partnership agreements, records of money owed to you, your automobile title or bill of sale, citizenship papers, wills, insurance policies and a personal property inventory.

"A complete personal inventory is needed so that, in the event of fire, you can determine the extent of your loss for insurance purposes. Banks and insurance companies often prepare inventory booklets for your use. They usually ask you to itemize your family possessions room by room. You are also asked to list personal possessions for each member of the family. For each item, list the date you bought it, the original cost and its present value. In estimating present value, consider two factors: replacement cost and depreciation.

"A strongbox at home is appropriate for another group of valuable records. These include cemetery deeds and health insurance cards — both of which should be handy since they are needed at once in an emergency. Certain other records belong here, too: bankbooks, installment contracts, guarantees and instruction booklets for appliances.

"In addition, you probably have day-to-day records. These should be placed in orderly fashion in a desk drawer, possibly in manila folders. Also, start a record book with a list of the documents in your safe-deposit box and strong-box. Jot down Social Security numbers, the dates when insurance payments are due, the serial numbers of all policies and a record of when the children were inoculated.

"There's a difference of opinion on where to keep life insurance policies. Probably the best solution is this: Keep the policies at home if your family will need cash from the insurance immediately. Otherwise leave the policies in the safe-deposit box. In either case, the beneficiary should know where the policies are kept and what their serial numbers are. The same planning applies to a will. It should be left in a safe-deposit box or in the office of the lawyer who drew it up.

"The basic guide in deciding how long to keep records is this: Keep the records until you no longer need them as proof. For example, a sales slip can be thrown out as soon as you are sure the merchandise is satisfactory and won't have to be returned. There is a legal time limit (set forth in the statute of limitations) beyond which a shopkeeper may no longer claim you didn't pay him for merchandise delivered to you. Check with your attorney on the time limit in your state. A canceled check or a receipted bill is your best proof of payment.

"Federal income-tax records should be kept not less than four years. This is because no additional assessment may be made more than three years after the filing deadline — unless fraud is involved, in which case there is no time limit.

"But there are a number of cases where papers should be kept a good deal longer than four years. If you bought some shares of stock in 1945 and sold them during 1955, you are expected to keep a record both of the purchase and sale until April 1959. Unless you keep these records, you may not be able to substantiate your income-tax entry of the gain or loss."

Arthur Nickell Passes; Reared in Floyd County

Arthur B. Nickell, of Colton, California, oldest child of the late Floyd County pioneers, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Nickell, passed away Thursday night, April 5, in a Colton hospital in California.

Survivors include his wife; three children, Avalon Clement Nickell of Yuma, Calif., Mrs. Ziluh Besgrove of Fayette, Mo., and Arthur Wayne Nickell of San Bernardino, Calif.; three sisters, Mrs. Mary Probasco Nickell, widow of Bill Nickell, Mrs. Annie Mackey, and Mrs. Margie Cooby of Slaton.

Arthur was born near Kansas City, Mo., Sept. 26, 1880. The parents moved with him to Wise County, Tex., when he was one year old. In 1890 they moved to what is now the Fairview Community, in Floyd County, where Arthur grew to young manhood. He went to school at Dellaplains, Fairview, Floydada and Plainview before leaving Texas.

He made several trips to Kansas City delivering car loads of cows for the late Henry Randolph, in market, in 1903 and 1904. On those trips he liked the people and country so he went back to the old home town to live in Cleveland, Mo. There he met Miss Minnie Clement. On Dec. 7, 1904 they were married in Kansas City. To this union were born four children. Yuba Belle was taken by accident at the age of four.

About fifty years ago, Arthur was converted under the ministry of Billie Sunday, in Kansas City, and joined the Methodist church with his wife there. Fifteen years ago, Arthur had his first stroke. He fell in the quick freeze room of his cold storage locker plant, with his feet sticking outside of the door. An aide saw his feet and rescued him from freezing, but he had not been able to walk since. About twelve years ago a son moved them to California for his health. He was much better for a number of years, but had been seriously ill the past four months.

Conservation District News

Vetch planted last fall is making good growth.

Ernest Lee Thomas, Walter Tack, Bill Sherman, Johnny Miller and Don Bennett are cooperators with the Floyd County Soil Conservation District, where vetch plantings may be seen.

Don Bennett who has been growing vetch for several years, has grown as much as 17 tons per acre of green manure from vetch. He figures it would cost about $15.00 for commercial fertilizers to add the same nitrogen as vetch. In addition, vetch adds much needed organic matter to his soil, increases temperature water storage, makes the soil more mellow and increases water intake.

Bennett plants his vetch in cotton middles before his last watering. He waters the vetch three or four times depending upon the amount of rainfall it receives.

Vetch is a winter legume, but grows best after beginning of warmer and longer spring days. Vetch should be left growing as late in the spring as possible to get maximum growth. If grain sorghum follows vetch, it can be left longer and will be more beneficial to the soil.

There are a number of good methods of handling vetch residues. Some farmers prefer to kill it with sweeps and leave it in the surface to dry out before listing and watering.

Bennett prefers to water his vetch and plow it under about 4 inches deep after a week or 10 days, he lists the land. If he needs to before he plants he will water the land again. He has found this method very satisfactory and reports little trouble from vetch residues during the cultivating of the next crop.

THE CYCLE

You look with your eyes, but you see with your brain. Odors enter the nose, but you smell with your brain. Food goes into the mouth, but you taste with your brain. Sound enters ears, but you hear with your brain. Impressions enter anywhere but you feel with your brain.

From all parts of your body sensation impulses travel from nerve endings, which receive external sensations, up to your brain and are registered. Your body then reacts to these impressions by means of sending active impulses from the brain over motor nerves to the area creating a reaction. Example: Prick finger with pin, impulse travels to brain and records as pain. Impulses then travel back to muscles in area creating a contraction to withdraw finger.

When these nerve channels are blocked your body cannot react properly, thus the reason for lack of sensation, abnormal sensations, extreme nervousness, bed wetting, indigestion, and etc. The chiropractic objective is to free these nerve channels of any blockage, which restores the nerve activity to normal, allowing the continuity between brain and body to flow freely.

Accidents Are Top Cause Of Child Deaths

If 1955 statistics follow the previous pattern, by the end of December accidents will have cost the lives of over 11,000 children aged 1-14.

This will be over three times the death rate for any other major cause of child deaths.

What can be done to cut down this needless waste of young lives?

The Federal Government and voluntary agencies have spent a great deal of time and money in the field of preventive medicine. As a result, death rates of many diseases have been reduced. Preventing accidents, however, is pri-

★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ ★ ☆ VIEWS AND COMMENT

Sign of the Times! Six calls to six representative home on the Floydada telephone exchange at 9 o'clock one morning last week got no answer. So we won't be misunderstood, that comes under the head of their business.

Easter Sunday one of the preachers who was handshaking at the door after the service, is credited with asking a couple if they had ever tried out church to see what it was like between Easters.

There is little likelihood that there will be extensive violations of safety inspection law. Failure to have the inspection decal on a windshield is prima facie evidence that the owner is violating the law. Nobody is going to drive around advertising himself as a law violator, especially since it involves his right to be on the highway, riding instead of walking. The inspection law undoubtedly does do some good. There is all likelihood that such a law in some form, will be on the books for a good while. Saturday night is the deadline. The law is the kind that all one has to do is to ignore it and brand himself a violator.

We Lose Again We are loser on our "bet" that Grace Kelly, the Philadelphia Irishers' girl, would leave the Prince of Monaco standing at the church. We couldn't see it. Already the crowds are gathering and the people of the little principality are fattening their pocketbooks on the carnival of celebration that is taking place. It will be a big two weeks for Manoco. Miss Kelley certainly is a charming person, smart and wholesome. The prince has done himself proud. The American girl is most likely to rue the day.

Having lost that bet, likewise the forecast that the Easter norther would not knock out a good rain headed for the plains the first week in April, we are entitled to mention the fact that we forecast the renewed oil activity, and recall that we hit it squarely on a big snow in dry February.

A citizen's right to have his say as regards any proposition before the voters has been taken for granted for a long time. This right is attacked by a provision of the Texas Election Code. This provision, not noted at the time, was violated a thousand times in the 1954 election. Anybody who was not a candidate for office who spent more than $25 for advertising violated the code. Under provisions of this statute the advertising representative of Texas newspapers who placed two advertisements in a Waco newspaper has been indicted in McLennan County. The representative did not spend the press association's money nor his own money, it is conceded, but he did spend it on a customer's order. The press people maintained that any law which says a man can write or speak only $25 worth—and no more—for or against any candidate, so long as he does not violate the libel law—abridges the right of free speech. The law may have had good intent behind it but it doesn't belong on the statute books. It's constitutionality will be tested by the newspaper people. It seems so un-American that the wonder is how it ever was passed in the first place. But a man is facing a penitentiary sentence for its violation.

TRIBUTE TO SHEPPERD

In view of the announcement this week that John Ben Shepperd will not be a candidate for any state office this year, we think this editorial from Volume 1, Number 9 of "New Duval," published at San Diego, Duval County, is worthy of thought:

This editorial is for the whole State of Texas, from the only free newspaper published in Duval County within the memory of anybody now living.

We have a right to say a few things to the rest of our state and here they are.

So you are going to let John Ben Shepperd retire from public office. Just going to let him leave without even a thank you, Mr. Shepperd.

Well, that is just about what we would expect. It was you who left us here forty years without help. You closed your eyes to our condition. You laughed and said, "Old George sure knows how to run his county."

He ran it, all right, and if it had not been for John Shepperd, men like George Parr would some day be running the whole state, and you wouldn't laugh any more.

Thanks to John Ben Shepperd the people of Duval County have had a taste of human dignity. Thanks to him we now go into our own court house without fear. We can look at the public records and talk to our own elected officials. We can go to our school board meetings and our county commissioners court and ask them where our money is going. Thanks to John Ben Shepperd we can stay in business whether we vote one way or the other.

Most of us are poor in Duval County. We are not any richer in dollars and cents because of John Ben Shepperd, but our hearts know how it feels to hold our heads up even if we are poor.

This newspaper could not even be published if the Attorney General had not blown the lid of pistol-point censorship off our county. There would be no free voice to speak up for justice and honesty and to go on fighting for the newly born liberties in our county that are still walking on infant legs.

But this doesn't mean much to you, because you never believed the story of Duval County anyway. You don't know what it was like down here. You never had anybody look at your secret ballot, then beat you on the head, threaten your family, run you out of business and fill your life with dread. You never got thrown out of your own public buildings, and your county officials never told you to keep your mouth shut or get a bullet in the head.

You never did believe us, and you don't care. You just laughed and said, "Old George sure runs his county with an iron hand."

All right, let John Ben Shepperd go. It took you forty years to find a man his size and it will take you forty years to find another one.

We've been reading about other newspapers saying John Ben Shepperd ought to be retired in office because of what he has done in the insurance mess, and because of the way he turned his back on his critics and went on doing a good clean-up job in Veterans Land, and because he ran the Communist unions out of Port Arthur. These newspapers are wise to realize what a valuable public servant he is.

But we have not heard about John Ben Shepperd getting thousands of letters asking him to run for re-election. The only ones we know about are the hundreds written by people in Duval County and he has not said anything about them.

If he decides not to run again, we should at least hang a sign on his door saying:

"This was the office of John Ben Shepperd, Attorney General of Texas, who did more for the people of his state than any other Attorney General ever did and probably more than any other Attorney General ever will."

Improved Cotton Production Seen

Cotton production and processing is moving into the jet age. Within a short time, nuclear energy radiations may be used to give cotton a new versatility and improve its textile properties. This project is just one of many new developments now planned by state and federal cotton research agencies. Goal of this research is to find and create new uses and demands which will put a new sheen on "King Cotton's" slightly tarnished crown.

Farmers Remit SS Taxes First Time This Year

"Many farmers have already filed tax returns for the 1955 calendar year," John G. Hutton, Social Security Administration, Lubbock, announced today. "This year for the first time they have paid self-employment tax for social security protection." Hutton emphasized that all farmers who netted $400 or more in 1955 from farming must file these returns by April 15, 1956. Proper tax returns and advice concerning taxes can be obtained from the District Director of Internal Revenue, Dallas, Texas.

Hutton explained, "This social security credit will mean much to farm families. Suppose we take the case of a young and prosperous farmer with a wife and child. His earnings up to $4200 a year are taxable for social security. In the event he should die soon after the close of his second crop year under social security and had made the maximum of $4200 in both years, the widow and small child would receive a monthly benefit of $162.80. "Few farmers make $4200 a year," Hutton continued. "Let us consider an instance where the farmer makes $1200 a year on an average. At that rate he can qualify for $55 per month when he is 65. His wife, after reaching 65, can qualify for $27.50 per month, or a total of $82.50 for the two. If a farmer who makes $1200 each year (two crop years is the minimum requirement) after 1964 should he die, survived by a widow and two young children, $62.40 could be paid them every month, terminating when the youngest child reaches 18. Payments to the widow could be resumed when she reaches 65."

"Don't overlook the filing of that tax return before April 15, 1956," he cautioned.

Six more weeks of school! Everyone is busy with six weeks exams this week and everyone seems to be rather anxious to get school to be over. The Band is "blowing" and going these days at 8:00 o'clock each day. The Band Contest is April 28 and Twirling Contest is to be May 12. The Band students who are planning to go to Band school at Gunnison, Colorado, in August are already getting excited!

Well, the big night is tomorrow night, and it will be great fun—the Band Banquet will be at 8:00 p.m. I'm sure the Band members and their dates appreciate all the work of the Band Boosters in order to make this affair possible.

Elvis Presley was in Lubbock last Tuesday night and half of F.H.S. went to hear the "atomic singer" (that's what they call him over the radio).

The Student Council is sponsoring Twirl Week, which will begin next week, the 18th. I heard some girls say they weren't going to wear lipstick, to escape buying a "lipstick license," but I bet they wear it! This week should be a lot of fun for all of F. H. S. The boys cannot turn down an offer for a date, but they have to get at least two hours' notice from the girl. There will be a "Twirl" assembly also next week. Girls, get your cars ready to go. Rule No. 5!

The annual Interscholastic League Meet will be held at F.H.S. Friday. Many events will be going on all day, such as typing, declamations, poetry reading, spelling, and ready writing.

The tennis team, consisting of Ronnie Downing and Texe Kennamer (singles), Nita Lightfoot and Bethie Wilson, Max Crawford and Rennie Vickers (doubles) went to Abernathy for a meet last Friday.

Meador, editor of the Matador Tribune, had promised to accept only the same pay as other members of the city council if elected. McWilliams, on the other hand, receives $50 monthly, five times that paid other councilmen.

In other balloting in Matador, Billy Wason with 392 votes and Jack Norman with 292 were re-elected to the council without opposition. A. L. Calk received 336 of the 341 votes cast as the only candidate for city marshal.

LOCKNEY
The three challengers defeated the three incumbents for position of city alderman in Lockney Tuesday, by wide margins.
Voted in were Claude Brown with 268 votes, Lloyd Woford 193 votes and Charles Baxter 200 votes. Defeated were J. D. Wood 144 votes, Claude Hammond 151 votes, and Lloyd Readheimer, 89 votes.

PETERSBURG
A $40,000 bond issue and a hot race for the only open post on the Petersburg city commission lured 119 voters to the polls Tuesday, "practically double an ordinary city election turnout," according to Joe Mayo, city secretary.
The bond issue, set up for extension of water and sewer facilities, gained overwhelming approval by a 112 to 7 margin. Kendred Underwood, drygood store operator, unseated incumbent Harold D. Rhodes in the city commission race, receiving 65 votes to 44 for the defeated candidate. O. R. Lemons was unopposed for re-election as mayor.

SILVERTON
A run-off between Jean Grundy and Long for city councilman position resulted in Silvertown where the two gathered 29 votes apiece.
Spence Long, retired farmer, pulled in 40 votes for mayor to run off with that position. There were three write-ins for mayor—J. E. Mynard, getting 12 votes, Ralph Glover two and former Mayor Alvin Redin two.
The "heavier-than-usual" voting elected H. A. Cagle to a two year councilman position. He got 33 votes while Grundy and Long each had 29. Ray Thompson had 25 votes.

The run-off will be set at a later date as Long was out-of-town and could not be reached.

RALLS
Mayor W. L. Smith, unopposed in his bid for re-election, received the moral support of all 142 persons casting ballots in what Ernest Joiner, editor of the Ralls Banner, said was the heaviest turnout for a city election in Ralls in several years.
Frank Benson won a narrow victory in the race for alderman for the west ward, by defeating Earl Timmin 39 votes to 38. Jim Cox was named east ward alderman by a 40 to 26 majority over Robert Hinton.

CROSBYTON
Only 29 voters turned out for the election of a mayor and city alderman in Crosbyton Tuesday. None of the candidates were opposed and all were up for re-election.
Re-elected were Mayor C. H. Lodal and alderman Leon McPherson and L. H. Finch. All three received 29 votes with no write-ins.

SPUR
Voters elected incumbents Rex Hoken and Dr. W. K. Callan to new terms on the Spur City Council, defeated incumbent Cecil Godfrey for a similar position and named Lloyd Roberson for his first term as councilman.

PLAINVIEW
Write-in candidate M. D. Hood scored a stunning and overwhelming victory over incumbent Mayor C. L. Abernathy in the heaviest municipal balloting in Plainview history Tuesday.
Hood garnered 1,539 votes in his whirlwind write-in campaign while Abernathy, whose name was on the ballot, got only 493 votes.

Cancer Decline Noted In Texas

AUSTIN, April 12 — Cancer, the second leading cause of death, took the lives of 9,379 Texans last year. This means that a little over one person out of every 1000 of our population died from this disease during that period.
According to Dr. Henry A. Holle, Commissioner of Health, one-third of these deaths could have been prevented by earlier detection and prompt treatment. On this basis 3,126 Texans needlessly died of cancer in 1955, because proper treatment was begun too late.

There are some encouraging aspects in the fight against cancer. Deaths from that disease among women in the United States have declined more than ten per cent in the past ten years.
Many thousands could be saved if men and women would have a complete physical examination once a year. Women over 35 should have a mid-year check-up for signs of uterine and breast cancer and men should secure an X-ray for signs of lung cancer.

Dr. Holle says that at least 50 per cent of all cancers are accessible to examination by a physician through sight or touch.
Of all Americans who die of cancer today the deaths of one-third could be avoided if proper treatment were begun before the cancers spread. The profession of surgery is proof of this, as the latest figures show that cancer deaths among surgeons are only 66 per cent of the general rate. Evidently surgeons not only have the proper knowledge of the facts about cancer, but act promptly on the basis of that knowledge.

Today cancer is being attacked by research within nearly every branch of science. Also, studies are being made of larger numbers of people to discover if living conditions are in any way responsible for cancer.

AMMO-PHOS
is water soluble...

Experiments prove that crops take up more phosphate from water soluble Ammo-Phos fertilizer than from common mixed fertilizer.

MAKE THIS EASY TEST
Place one-half teaspoonful of the fertilizer you are now using in a glass of water. Then place a similar quantity of Ammo-Phos in another glass of water. Stir both mixtures for several minutes. Notice how water soluble Ammo-Phos goes into solution while the mixed fertilizer collects at the bottom of the glass. Even if left for several days, the ordinary mixed fertilizer will not dissolve completely.
With Ammo-Phos your crop gets what you put in the ground.
