She has helped other 4-H Club members with their activities and has been one of the leaders in Hale County in their county wide activities. Barbara Thornton of the Vigo Park 4-H Club in Swisher County was named alternate for the scholarship. She has carried on demonstrations in food preparation, dairy foods, canning, frozen foods, clothing and gardening. Besides these demonstrations in home economics she also had beef cattle and carried on a tractor maintenance demonstration. If for any reason Sharon cannot accept the scholarship, Barbara will receive the award. The judging committee visited both girls on July 25, 1956, to decide on the winner.

VIEWS AND COMMENT

It was surprising and pleasing how the vote in the first primary jumped off above the predictions of news men and commentators. We are inclined to think that over and above the interest in local contests the entry of Mr. O'Daniel into the governor's melee had much to do with the big boost in state figures. The colorful ex-governor, ex-senator, now insurance man, has such a happy facility of ignoring the hard realities while he discusses more of everything good for everybody and getting those things associated with his own success as a candidate that it just makes you feel good to hear him talk. Everybody is in favor of the good things and against the bad things. Everybody is hoping for the blue bird. Vote O'Daniel and the happy little songster will surely fly right out of the glade in the dewy morn and then everything will be lovely, the old big bad wolf slain, right triumph over wrong, plenty for all. W. Lee almost piped himself right into the charmed circle. We think he is responsible for many, many thousands of votes being cast that would not have been otherwise.

Naturally we are pleased that Price Daniel is the leading man for the governorship. We are sold on his integrity and solid statesmanship. Many substantial men, however, think differently. There are those who believe his skirts are tarnished from the veteran's land scandals and there are many more who could never vote for him because he did not support the arch enemy of Texas' interests, Mr. Stevenson, in 1952. They make excuses for Mr. Stevenson's leaning toward belief that taking state's rights and state's property from Texas is not improper but they make no excuses for Mr. Daniel whom they would have had promise to violate his conscience in advance. They may be right but we can't see it.

The record will show that Daniel has done more for the Democratic party in Texas than has his opponent in the run off, and in our belief the voters are going to recognize this fact in August. So far as we are concerned, however, our conscience is going to permit us to vote for Mr. Yarborough in the general election and for the national nominee in the general election. It may be a nose-holding operation but we almost know we will. We've managed so far. But some of the shining examples of leadership in the party have jumped the party line and apparently didn't lose their respectability by doing so. They, however, lived in other states and that was all right. Only thing is that if he is a Texan he must stay regular, conscience or no conscience. Majority of Texans in 1952 didn't subscribe to that theory and they may not be too happy with the name-calling they have had to take from the regulars. We shall see what we shall see when the smoke clears on August 24.

A pleasing development in the regional political outlook is that Judge Alton B. Chapman, with not much of an organization and not too well financed, appears to have emerged from the primary with a victory in his race for judge of the Seventh Supreme Judicial District. His opponent seems to have been caught off base in the clash of ambitions. From the practical side his opponent will not be materially hurt while the better paying post will make it possible for the Floydada man to put three boys through school with less strain on his financial ability. The judge simply had to make more money. This should be it. We have no doubt he will make a good record on the appeals court.

Cotton never did so well before in Floyd County. That is the report from all sides. There are plenty of "speckled bolts" in many parts of the county and any number of farm operators are on a still hunt for an open boll of the cotton in their fields. The Hesperian was on the look out for a boll of open cotton on August 1. If it could have been found it would have made a record. Nothing like it here ever before, this early, fast developing crop. Most farmers confidently expect there will be a first bale in August. Some of the dry land is also in the happy picture, some of it not.

Don't Hang Up. If you're the type that works or plays in the backyard in the evening or putters about the place somewhat, recall this fact when you telephone one of the neighbors. The new dial does not get discouraged. It keeps ringing. Courtesy demands that you give the person you call a chance to get to the telephone without hiping himself before you hang up. Your own impatience may cheat you of a lot of conversation you'd like to make. Remember this—next time.

Turning from matters of state and politics it is due our customers to tell them that Mr. Presley — Elvis, that it — has one of these new three-wheel motor cars, a foreign make that is about as swank as can be, after you have a couple of Cadillacs stashed in the garage. The new car makes about 40 miles at top speed and uses about a gallon of gas to a hundred miles. The one-lungers cost about $700. Quite the thing. Every young fellow and his girl ought to have one.

Adding Storage At Petersburg

PETERSBURG — Seaton Howard, manager of the Petersburg Co-op Grain Co., announced they have let a contract to Sampson Construction Co. of Salina, Kan., for the erection of a 250,000 bushel elevator on newly acquired property adjacent to railway right-of-way South and across Shuler Avenue.

Construction of this elevator will be of concrete and steel. Completion date has been set for October 30th. The Fort Worth & Denver will lay a siding ten cars in length to take care of this elevator business.

Upon completion of this elevator the Co-op Grain Co. will have an overall storage capacity of 750,000 bushels of grain.

Mr. and Mrs. Noman Hamilton, of Pryor, Okla., were in Floydada for two or three days the latter part of last week and visited in the home of Mrs. Hamilton's mother, Mrs. S. H. Wright. They also attended the Hamilton reunion at MacKenzie State Park Sunday.

Pinto Shipment Goes To Miami

Floyd County pintos are going to some tropical area, presumably in the Caribbean, evidently for planting experiments in that area.

The unusual shipment went out by express from the D. W. Pyffe Seed and Feed Company to Miami, Fla., marked "Donated by the People of the United States of America. Not to be sold or Exchanged."

The beans were raised by the late Fred Bell, north of Floydada.

The Commodity Credit Corporation is picking up the tab. This makes a feature of the shipment somewhat of an amazing story to high plains people who are unfamiliar with the ways of the governmental agencies. First, the beans had to be inspected by a man who journeyed to Floydada from Amarillo at a cost, including inspection fee, of $33. And second the express charges had to be paid, the cost $10.64 per sack.

So, in all the 10 sacks of beans at Miami will represent a cost to the American taxpayer of approximately $140.00. This is on top of the purchase price.

The Pyffes put a note in each sack asking the recipient to report the story of the distribution at final destination.

REUNION OF WISE COUNTY EXES SET FOR SUNDAY

Former residents of Wise County in the high plains area are planning a reunion for Sunday, August 5, at the 7th Street Park in Plainview, reports Vernon Alexander of Plainview, president.

A picnic lunch at 12:30 noon will start off activities with an afternoon of fellowship and visiting.

To The People of Precinct No. 3

It has been a very enjoyable privilege to make the acquaintance of some new friends and renew the acquaintance of old ones.

I want to thank the ones with their vote.

Sand Hill News

(By Mrs. James Jeffress)

SAND HILL, July 31 — The hot dry winds in the community continue to blow this week and the crops are needing water faster than the wells can furnish it. A good general rain is what everyone is still hoping for. Some of the early feed is beginning to turn, and should be ready for cutting by the last of August.

The Sand Hill Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Hale Ferguson.
Roll call was answered with "Highway Courtesies". Plans were completed for an ice cream supper to be held on Friday night, Aug. 17 in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Bullock at 8 o'clock.

Refreshments of cookies and ice cream will be served. A committee was appointed to contact each member and tell them which to bring.
All members with freezers will be asked to bring ice cream. Others will bring cookies. The committee consists of Mrs. J. T. Spears, Mrs. James Jeffress and Mrs. H. F. Jackson.

A program safety was presented by Mrs. Pat Bullock, Mrs.
Kirk Slater and Mrs. J. T. Spears.
The next meeting will be Sept. 12
with Mrs. J. T. Spears as hostess.

Mrs. Brummett will be at this meeting to give a demonstration on "Alterations of Ready to Wear." All members are urged to attend this meeting.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Myrick on the arrival of their new baby daughter last week in a Lockney hospital. Both mother and baby are doing fine.

The freezer demonstration Thursday afternoon was enjoyed by quite a number from the community.
These demonstrations always help the homemaker and I for one would like to say thank you to all who helped make the demonstrations possible.

day night after services at the Lockney Baptist Church. We are happy to welcome Mrs. Chuck Holmes, Ce-

Todd Surveying Need In Haiti

The Rev. Ellis A. Todd, area supervisor for the Christian Rural Overseas Program in West Texas, will travel to the island republic of Haiti
in early August to survey continuing need.

The Texas CROP Executive Committee approved the survey in view of recent CROP shipments to Haiti.
Last November, West Texans contributed 30,000 pounds of seed maize and Texans in the Gulf Coast area gave 100 barrels of seed rice and five tons of sulphur. These self-help materials were sent to areas on the Haitian Southern peninsula most seriously affected by recent hurricane. Shipments of used clothing and government-donated surplus milk and grains have also been sent to Haiti through Church World Service.

The Rev. Mr. Todd, a Methodist minister for more than 20 years,
was appointed three years ago by Bishop William C. Martin to serve as area supervisor in West Texas
with the interdenominational Christian Rural Overseas Program.

CROP, the food and fiber agency of 35 major U.S. denominations
cooperating through Church World Service, is sending help this year to at least 25 different nations, including Haiti.

TO THE PEOPLE OF FLOYD COUNTY:

Words are inadequate to express the appreciation that I have for those that went to the polls and cast their vote for me last Saturday.

I took an oath when I went in as your sheriff to enforce the law without favor to anyone. I have tried very hard to keep some of your trouble, such as trying to kill themselves, or some innocent person, with an automobile, or tearing up our school buildings, stripping cars of hub caps, fender skirts, or anything that can be removed easily.
They are being stripped at peoples homes, hospitals, churches, and school yards.

We have recovered a lot of these things and have had several of the parents and their parents before the courts. Its hard for some of the parents to believe that their boys will do these things, instead of helping and cooperating with the officers they get mad because they are caught stealing and destroying property.

One Halloween before I was sheriff, Floydada reported a $3,000 property damage. That has not happened since we have been here, we do not encourage this sort of thing.

I feel sorry for the parents that take a stand, along with their children, against officers of the law when the laws of our land have been broken.

It may seem to some that we don't like our young people, we think more of them than some of their parents do. We spend an awful lot of time trying to keep them out of trouble.

I was taught to respect the law and I haven't forgotten my teaching.
Some people you are a good officer, but don't bother me and my friends.
I have seen and heard a lot of things since becoming an officer and I am convinced to believe as my ancestors did, some people talk with very crooked tongues.

The greatest trouble to peace officers today is not juvenile delinquency, its our adult-delinquency. That causes juvenile delinquency.

I have no apology to make. If I had been elected again you would have gotten the same kind of law enforcement. Again, let me say that I am proud of my friends and the votes that I received.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(Nellie Witt Spikes)

Athwart the rim, above the trees Flows a cool refreshing breeze, Sweeping down the lonely mountain crest.

To bathe the valley below with rest, A creation of God's Hand.

Still the lonely mountain with its huge white cap Stands nightly watch while the valley naps.

Protecting it from the harsh winds that blow As its shadow blankets the village below.

A master-piece it stands, Ah, but if by some mysterious chance,

The master painted could at a glance Capture the secret beauty hidden there within,

The noblest prize of all, could he win The meaning of God's Plan.

—Joe Ellis Wheeler
I found the above among some papers of Joe's and liked it so well I take the privilege of printing it.

Last week we canned corn and a cooker of green beans. Certainly kept us stepping around. Makes us think of the days on the farm when we canned large amounts of fruits and vegetables. Mrs. Marvin Greer kindly gave us some cucumbers and Wilma and I made bread and butter pickles. Two of the loveliest pines I have ever seen on the Plains grow in the spacious, beautiful yard of the Greers, making a fine setting for their modern home.

Hi, there West Texas Pioneers and Old Settlers! Glad to have you come to Crosby County once more. May every one of you have time to talk and talk about the day when we were young, gay and handsome. God bless every one of you and may His love be manifested in all our lives.

It is good to get together once more, burn the cowhairs, live in the dugouts, tie the greasy rags, dipped in turpentine, around our necks for sore throats, take some antikamnia for our headaches, maybe a bit of calomel with the fear of being salted and all our teeth come out — shoot the flies from our tables with long paper fans or a switch from the cottonwood trees. Eat the antelope and prairie chickens. Cabbage boiled with a big hunk of fat bacon. Wear our high topped button shoes. White lawn crossbarred dresses with sashes of long colored satin ribbons — our long hair in pompadours.

It will be the time for the men to draw out their big watches from their pockets and let the tinkers on the chain dangle as they talk — to roll their cigarettes — or smoke their pipes — time for the old cowboys to sit and talk about the best little old cuttin' horse that ever had a saddle and bridle on. To tell of round ups with dirt blowing on them as they sweated and struggled with big steers at the brandings. Time for the fiddle music and the breakdowns — for the preachers to ride horseback from one place to another, usually some twenty-five to a hundred miles. Time to sit in buggies and spark. Time to sing "There'll be a Hot Time in the Old Town tonight, my Baby" — "It Ain't a Goin' to Rain Anymore" — "Goo-goo Eyes" — "Bird in a Gilded Cage."

We will laugh and talk but we will cry a little as we stand around a grave in a new small plot while the coffin is let down with the reins from a team and the sad bereaved sit in a wagon seat with a folded quilt for a bit of comfort that friends have placed near the grave.

It will be the time for going back and being young once more, to be called Nellie and Lena, Jeff and Stanley and Kate and Milton. See you next Friday.

You can have an accident at home, you know, in your own bathtub. Undoubtedly, the first person to suggest that was working for a travel agency.

Safe travel has become a watchword for practically all forms of commercial transportation these days. No doubt every precaution is taken to make their promises come true. But we are beginning to wonder if any of them have a leg to stand on.

Long ago, travel was considered dangerous with reason. Rough roads, poor machinery, the danger of exposure, highwaymen and other discomforts called for all kinds of stamina for the traveler. But nowadays most of those problems have been taken care of.

All-weather roads cover our country and many others. Improved heat and air-conditioning mean that almost any form of conveyance can be made comfortable for the traveler, summer or winter. And smooth-operating machinery has practically eliminated engine trouble.

The old-fashioned highwayman, of course, has his counterpart in today's travel dangers, but the speeds now possible in private automobiles and otherwise have greatly reduced these, too.

Lately, it seems, every form of transportation has been in the news for the wrong reasons. The usual number of highway deaths have dotted the front pages of morning papers. Plane and train crashes seem to be on the increase. Now, of all things, ocean liners are bumping into each other, too.

Maybe improved equipment has made us careless or over-confident, but many of the accidents this summer have seemed to result from indifference, poor judgment or lack of skill under adverse conditions.

The bathtub menace, at the moment, seems much less serious than that of the open air, sea or road. At least, if we go down there, we have only ourselves to blame.
