Country Club 'Note Burning' Slated Tonight Stockholders May Move For New Swimming Pool

An undertone of elation is expected to pervade the annual meeting of the stockholders of Floydada Country Club when they gather tonight at the club house. The club's $10,000 Improvement Note, underwritten by 50 members in 1955 has been paid off and there'll be a "note burning" ceremony as a part of the evening's program.

In addition to the money spent on improving the club house and golf course several hundred man hours were donated at the time.

Meeting time is 8 o'clock. There are 250 to 300 families represented in the club membership.

Court Awards Byars $750 In Land Suit

The Floyd County Court Friday adopted as its own judgment the report of a special commission allowing Baylor Byars $750 for 46-hundredths of an acre of land in a condemnation suit by Lighthouse Electric Company for the location of a power substation.

The electric cooperative substation on Highway 70 near the Lockney-Irick road is having to be moved to give way to the widening of the pavement there. The new site for the substation is in the west central part of Survey No. 47 in Block D-6, D & P Railway Survey, south of the present substation site.

It is adjacent to Lockney-Irick road and takes in 200 feet of ground east and west, 100 feet north and south.

The land owner and the electric cooperative had been unable to agree on a price for the new site.

Application to the court to proceed with condemnation was filed on April 8. The commission named to assess the damage and make report to the court was composed of Paul Cooper, W. G. Hodel, and H. O. Cliche. Their hearing was held on May 25 at Floydada.

Cartoon Contest Stirs Interest In Store Names

The "Know Your Merchant" cartoon contest which ends this week, stirred up considerable interest, judging from the entries received at the Hesperian office. Many of the merchants reported telephone calls and lots of people dropping by their places of business to verify their full names and correct spelling.

Some of the contestants spent quite a bit of time making their entries original.

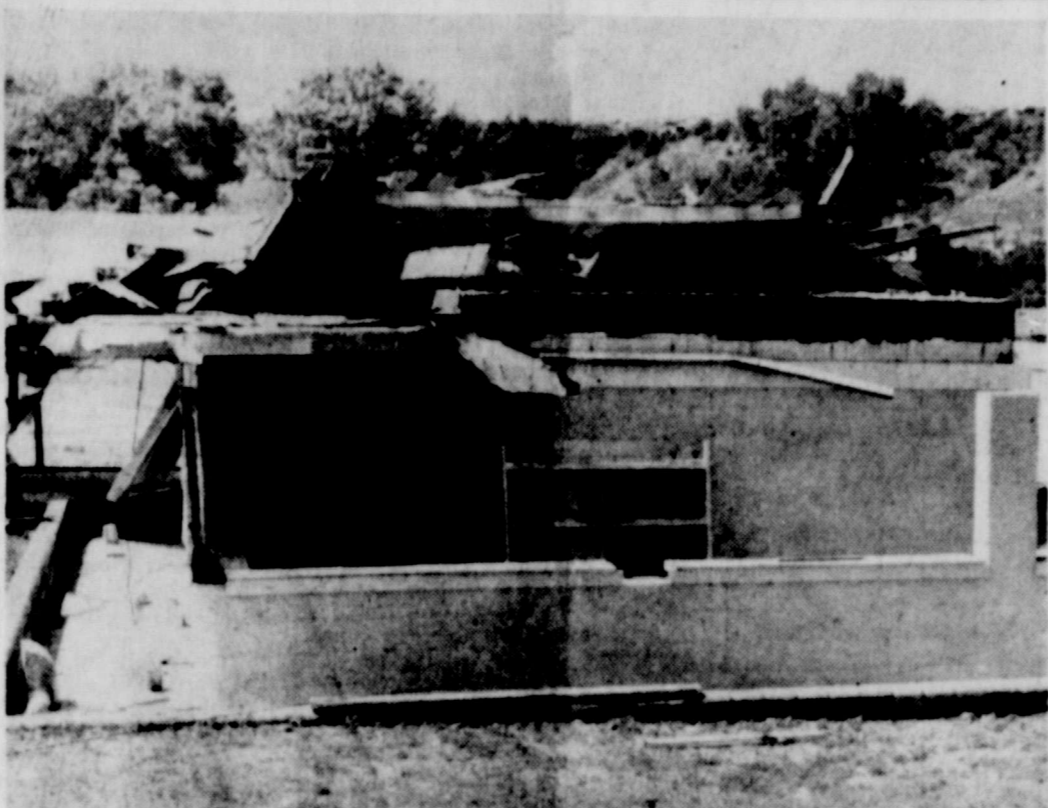

The first prize winner James Elza, had cut out all the ads and pasted them on the back of a large piece of poster board. He cut out doors to open up and reveal each merchant's name, firm name and misspelled word or words. The doors were trimmed in green. Below each one, the information was printed again in ink.

Across the top in big letters he had printed "Open the doors to a more progressive city and future."

Another contestant fashioned a sort of TV screen on a piece of poster board with the ads on a roller. As the roller turned the merchant's ad appeared in the picture.

What looked to some people like a sure thing proved to be a little more difficult than they thought, because out of all the entries received, there were very few absolutely correct.

The full page with the complete names and misspelled words appears in another section of this week's paper.

REPAIRING STORM DAMAGE AT BAPTIST CAMP

While neighboring farmers began replanting in an effort to recoup their losses from last week's storm, E. D. Morgan, manager of the Baptist Assembly Grounds on Blanco, also began repair of the storm-damaged concession stand to be ready for the June assemblies of church groups. The same storm also took out about 20 Lighthouse light poles in a row and blew a small building into McCoy Store. Loss at the assembly grounds was estimated at $1,600. Two of the fine trees on the assembly grounds also went down in the storm. First group gathering at the assembly got under way Tuesday when 300 members of the Assembly of God church gathered there. Next week two groups of Baptists from Amarillo will be guests on the grounds.

Informal audit of the income and disbursements for the Golden Jubilee Celebration completed this week reveals that the net production was only $1,056.41. Gross income is indicated at $7,018.62, gross outlay $8,075.03, the figures indicate.

Audit Discloses Big Celebration Deficit Far Less Than Expected

The treasurer carries the funds of the club in two accounts, one the general fund, the other being the assessment fund. This is for expense things such as the golf tournament, annual picnic, swimming fees, donations, and members' dues, sales of shares, green fees are taxable.

Machines Begin Wheat Harvest

Grain Ripens As Trial Runs Are Reported

Floyd County's wheat crop is about ready to harvest. In fact the first trickle of the crop began coming in to the elevator Sunday afternoon when Audie Noland combined a trial load of an irrigated crop in the north part of Center District and hauled it to Muncy Elevator.

Also Monday afternoon Olen Lyles cut and delivered a 20-acre field to Producers Elevator at Dougherty.

Other Monday deliveries were made by Bill Smith at Dougherty, W. F. Daniel Jr at Floydada Producers and by Buren Cates at Davis Grain Company.

Norman Muncy, who is operating Muncy Elevator for his ill father, said he expected Noland to resume combining by mid-week on dry land as well as in his irrigated field.

The first load Noland brought in tested 59 pounds and was a little high in moisture content. He did not cut over enough ground to make a guess on the yield.

B. C. Cates, began combining six miles southeast Monday afternoon when the sun had dried out the fields and cut down the humidity in the air. He delivered 13,000 pounds of wheat that afternoon and was expecting to continue operations through the afternoons this week.

His wheat tested 62 pounds and had 14.5 moisture content. He did not make a guess on the probable yield.

Lyles' wheat at Baker was "ready to go" when he went into it with the combine. The 20-acre block yielded 35 bushels per acre. It tested 63 pounds but had 15 per cent moisture content. He was paid $1.65 per bushel.

Bill Smith's Monday run, delivered from the Hart place at Baker, was a trial run but was dry enough to deliver.

W. F. Daniel Jr. delivered 38,000 pounds of wheat from his field at Blanco. It was a small load, had some green pods, tested 58 pounds and had moisture content of 14.85.

His heavy-yielding field was mowed by hail 10 days ago. The damage was extensive and what he'll salvage from the crop is problematical. He was having to use fingers to get the wheat off of broken stalks.

He is sponsoring the boys from Floyd County at the Round Up and Home Demonstration Agent Phyllis Roggenhoff the girls. Adult leaders among the parents are also represented.

The spouse, a good birdwatcher, says they were trying to talk the older ones into feeding them. (He raised squabs when he was a boy and speaks their language.) But the parents, after a few seconds, would fly to a new perch, soon to be followed by the hungry youngsters who preferred the apron-string life to scrounging for themselves.

The feeding has continued and only today are the young ones themselves. As their confidence increases they grow more graceful. Why go touring for summer stock when you can have it in your own backyard?

The couple are students at West Texas State, and will return in the fall to resume their studies. They are honeymooning at this time at Grand Canyon, enroute to Orange, Calif., where they will reside until returning to Canyon.

Mrs. Murry chose for her wedding a waltz-length gown of white, charmingly lace over taffeta, styled princess. Her bridal veil was of French silk illusion attached to a satin pearl seeded band. She carried a floral arrangement atop a white Bible.

Among the feminine attendants were Miss Billie Roddam of Plainview, and the bridegroom's three sisters, Misses Donna Kay, Marie, and Janice Murry, who was candlelighter.

Homemaking Hints
(By Phyllis Rogendorff County Home Demonstration Agent)

When energy lags in mid-morning or afternoon-drink a cold glass of milk for a refreshing lift.

It is difficult to have a balanced diet without including a good deal of milk every day. It is rich in calcium and other minerals, high quality protein and vitamins.

Many Texans are not getting enough milk and dairy foods in their daily diet as shown by a recent survey.

Drinking milk is the simplest way to get the good from milk, but there are many ways to include it in cooking also.

Milk drinks are easy to prepare. With a bit of planning and organization you might arrange a "milk bar" near the refrigerator where the youngsters can make their own milk shakes and other milk drinks.

If you would like some recipes or ideas for ways to serve milk, call or come by for a copy of the bulletin "Good Milk for Good Meals."

4-H Round-up
Ten Floyd County 4-H Club members are among the nearly 2,000 at the state 4-H Club round-up this week at Colgate Station. Two chartered buses left Lubbock about 6:30 a. m. taking most of those attending from this district. The first assembly was Tuesday night with Dr. Kenneth McFarland, educational consultant and lecturer for General Motors of Topeka, Kansas, as a speaker.

No round-up is complete without its chuck wagon and barbecue and the 4-H one is no exception. This was scheduled for Wednesday night, after the 4-H members spend the day participating in the contests.

We will leave College Station about 6:30 a. m. Thursday and get back to Lubbock between 5 and 6 p. m.

Floydada Has Higher Home Ownership

(Special to the Hesperian)

NEW YORK, May 18 — A greater proportion of Floydada's population own the homes they live in and the homes are more modern and in better repair than are dwellings in most parts of the United States.

This is indicated in recent Federal and unofficial studies, among them the Commerce Department's just-issued National Housing Inventory, which notes development on a national and sectional basis as of the end of 1956.

The reports show that an estimated 70.5 percent of the dwellings in Floydada are now owner-occupied.

This is high in comparison with home ownership in other parts of the United States, where an average of 54.4 percent have their own homes. In the Southern States it is 52.1 percent.

The higher proportion locally reflects the steady progress that has been made in that direction since 1950 when the last Census of Housing was taken. At that time, 68.1 percent of the local dwellings were owned by their occupants.

The growth of home ownership is viewed as evidence of rising economic status. More and more people are acquiring a share in what is the largest item in our national wealth — housing.

Great advances have been made also, in the quality and condition of the living quarters. The number of sub-standard dwellings has been growing smaller, relatively, thanks to the vast amount of new construction in the last decade and to the improving of many old houses, much of it accomplished with Federal aid.

In Floydada, according to the 1950 Census of Housing, some 66.0 percent of the local dwellings were then equipped with running hot and cold water, flush toilets and private baths and were not in need of any major repairs.

Conditions have improved since that time and continue getting better. On the basis of the new housing studies, the dwellings so equipped and in good condition now amount to an estimated 84.8 percent of the total.

For the United States as a whole, the ratio is 78.3 percent and, for the Southern States, 63.4 percent.

The sharing of books can begin before a child can read for him self if adults will take the time to explore books with him. It is the moments that are shared which bring families together in a way that is never forgotten.

Minute by minute and book by book, children may receive this great heritage—the joyous acceptance of books for pleasure, wisdom, and understanding.

Sea Hunting For Marlin Out Of This World

fishermen new plane. Reservations must be made in advance and all our arrangements were made through the Zinks Travel Agency in Roswell. I recommend it because it saves money and time.

The marlin and sail fish are the best known as bill fish. They feed by running under a school of fish, clubbing and killing with their bill. These fish, when feeding, travel with the dorsal fin sticking out of the water about a foot on the east. When a fin is sighted a trolling tip of land boat circles and drags the bait.

The fish strike by hitting the bait (which is an 18 inch flying fish) with their bill.

The rod and reel are in sockets at back corners of the boat. The nylon line is up 20 feet, fastened to an extra pole and secured with a clothes pin. This allows about 30 feet of slack line so the boat can stop, give time for bait to appear dead, and gives time for marlin to get the bait in his mouth.

The sea knows no fury equal to that of a sail fish or marlin when they are hooked. They jump out of the water like a dog striking a rat. When one gets a strike, a Mexican helper sets the hooks and hands the rod and reel to you. You are seated in a swivel chair in the back of the boat. The chair is bolted to the floor with shoulder straps fastened to both sides of the reel. The battle is on.

You must hold that fish or there is danger of getting pulled overboard. The boat follows the fish to keep from running out of line.

Each boat flies a flag for each fish caught. Each fisherman is allowed one bill fish per day. I caught three sail fish, one eight foot and two seven footers. The first day most every one takes his fish into dock, makes a picture, and weighs the fish. After that the next ones are released. After a fish has given a good fight and jump exhibition, you just bring him alongside, remove the hook and give him his earned freedom to fight another day.

If you wish further information, enclose stamped envelope.

I brought home some souvenirs, the head, tail and sail of the eight footer.

We use the word complete only in the sense of price. For with a ride as special as Chevy's, real competitors are hard to come by. There's a world of difference between Chevrolet's coil springs at all four wheels and the leaf springs that most other cars still use. EDITORIAL VIEWS AND COMMENT

Our Sidewalk Expert. Since we solved down-town sidewalk matters with consummate ease last week, our sidewalk department has come up with the suggestion that any new sidewalk construction also should be on a different pattern to the present official way in the residential district. The sidewalk should be built where that 50-inch "tree row" is now officially plotted...

To Hear Old Dizzy Dean describe the average catch of a fly ball in the outfield you'd think the fielder turned a hand spring and came up with one hand full of the ball, the other full of exclamation points. All the average fly amounted to that was described thus as so brilliant, was that the fielder trotted over and caught the ball, retiring the side. About one out of ten defensive plays has a chance to be brilliant showmanship, the others you hear being the glib-tongued guy before the microphone. The oldsters will take it and make excuses. Not so the others. Between commercials they have sided out of the room.

The Little League is an illustration of the over-dose of organization in baseball. In Floydada the organization of adults who are carrying on with baseball to give the kids something interesting and exciting to do have just using the title Little League, perhaps Pony League as well. Little League is organized to the hilt. Somebody in Seattle or Milwaukee, wherever headquarters is, sends instructions how you must organize, the kind of rules that must be adopted, when the season closes, where the winning team goes to play whom, and to whom you must remit or get out and quit using the title of Little League. Several somebodies somewhere are having it soft off of those who are willing to be pushed around in the name of baseball for little kids.

Organization for the sake of organization is one of the banes of the national scene. The hundreds and hundreds of organizations which flourish like the greenbay tree all have their organizers for whom the small fry toil to get fees and dues. Locally, also, one sees illustrations of it. Guys who want to help in civic affairs have got to belong to so many things and serve on so many committees they meet themselves coming back from one meeting getting to the next. Note that many of these well-meant pushes languish, until one comes along with one or more dedicated souls really in there working at it. How easily it gets accomplished!

Second Special Session of the legislature is in the offing. There is no probability that the first called session will have come up with a tax raising bill when June 16 rolls around. It may be the Senate will keep any kind of a tax bill from being passed that is not a sales tax bill. We would not be surprised at this development.

As a Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

Had a wonderful time with all of you on Pioneers Day. You were all so nice and kind to us. We love all of you and it is a great pleasure to meet with you again.

I am in the story-telling mood and here goes: Looking through my books I found Dante's Inferno by M. Gustave Dore. This brings back one of the pleasant interesting memories of a visit in my girlhood days. We were at Grandfather Jones' home in Gaines County. One afternoon several of the young folks went with my father to see some of the neighbors.

We went to the homes of four bachelor brothers who had filed on four sections of land apiece and built their four houses in the adjoining corners so as to be near each other.

First we visited the cowboy brother. Here we saw saddles and bridles, rawhide hobbles, spurs and slickers hanging on the walls of the house. He told us he saw after all the cattle for the four brothers. His face was tanned and around his deep blue eyes were wrinkles made by the sun and the wind. A red bandana was tied around his neck. His talk was of the range, of driving cattle over grassy prairies, branding, hunting straying cows in bitter cold.

We left him and went to visit another member, the musical one of the family. An organ was piled with sheet music, a guitar hung on the wall in company with a violin and a banjo. He sang and played songs of the range that his brother rode, songs about love which he had never applied to himself. He talked learnedly of composers, of songs and hymns both old and new. His literature was music magazines.

Regretfully we left him to visit the brother who was a cook. There the meals were prepared for all the four brothers and he was an excellent cook. It was agreed. This brother knew how to cook the son-of-a-gun stew from the fat calves on the range. He fried the good beef, the sour-dough biscuits and the good water gravy. A cake or pie was nothing for him to make. He liked to talk about good things to eat. On his walls hung black pots and skillets, pans and a huge dutch oven. Around his waist was tied a big apron and he was also the laundryman for the four.

The visit we liked the best was to the home of the literary member. His walls were lined with books and his eyes lighted up and shone through his glasses with eagerness to show his beloved books to a girl who looked like a scholar sitting in his deep arm chair, sitting in his deep arm chair by the sunshine that poured through his uncertain windows.

He talked of authors and books and a childhood and young manhood spent in the lovely East Texas town of Honeygrove, where he and his brothers hunted pecans when the red siege of fall came to the land. He had so many books, old friends and newly received books with pages still uncut. Yes, he would sell a few. My hands trembled as father said I could buy some. What to choose? What ones would be my friends for years and years to come? Now I see today, Dante's Inferno with its strange poetry and pictures of tragedy and hate, love and despair. I have many times read copies of Bayard's Courier and Old Squire, books written about the Civil War, about twin brothers, one fighting for the North and the other for the South. I look at the strange story of The Watchers. But the best loved book is St. Elmo the story we all cried over in our youth.

I heard years later that the four brothers sold out and moved back to their old home near Honeygrove. But I have a happy memory of that afternoon that lives on as clear and sweet as the music the bachelor brother played on his violin.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

(From the Hesperian, June 14, 1945)

It was old home day at Pearl Harbor one day in May for four Floyd County boys who have been in Uncle Sam's Navy for varying lengths of time. These four lads, Johnny Cardinal, George Allen, Charles Dudley, and R. T. Farrow, met and spent a whole day together, exchanging news from the home front.

Mrs. Lewis Norman and sons and Ed Johnson left Monday evening for Meridian where they attended last rites for an aunt and sister-in-law, Mrs. Levi A. Dunlap, who died Monday afternoon after suffering a stroke. They joined Mr. and Mrs. Glad Snodgrass, Mrs. Ed Johnson and Mrs. Julia Moss, who have been there for sometime with their sister.

Lt. Joe Dolph Montgomery and his wife, who have been in the states since the latter part of February, are going back to Anchorage, Alaska, to make their home, leaving this week-end after a leisurely visit with Joe Dolph's mother, Mrs. W. M. Dorsey and Mr. Dorsey.

Johnny Harp 18 year old Texan who went to California only four months ago, has been signed to a contract by Vanguard Films Inc. and is being groomed for stardom and leading man roles opposite Shirley Temple. He will use the screen name of Johnny Sands. The young lad is the nephew of Mrs. Elbert Parks of Floydada and the son of Mrs. C. R. Gough of Plainview.

Miss Francine Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Young of Lubbock, became the bride of J. Owen Gilbreath, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. O. Gilbreath of Floydada, in a double-ring ceremony read Saturday afternoon in the First Baptist Church at Lubbock. The couple will make their home there after their wedding trip.

Mrs. Wayne Appling, nee Bercatha Wallace, was honored recently with a bridal shower in her home of Mrs. Dennis Taylor of the Mt. Blanco community.

Mae Puga, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. C. Puga, who is stationed at the army air field at Victoria, Kan., is leaving today to return to camp after a visit here with his parents and other relatives. Randolph Rutledge, hospital apprentice, U. S. Navy, is home this week visiting his parents. Mr. and Mrs. O. P. Rutledge is stationed at New Orleans.

Cpl. Cecil E. Queen, who is stationed at Camp Claiborne, La., is here for a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Queen and other relations. Col. Dan W. Jenkins, USA, who has been home for nearly 30 days, is another liberated prisoner who is feeling the urge. He took off the first of the week to get started on the various reports and work of one kind and another that he left when he took off for Europe. Flight Officer and Mrs. Phil Merry and daughter, Linda, are in Floydada with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith on Thursday.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

AUSTIN — First called session of the 56th Legislature will end automatically June 16. It would be hard to find any one around the Capitol who would bet on the state's money problems being wrapped up by that date.

Senators began their work on the tax bills sent them by the House with an air of deliberate calm. They even waited 48 hours before beginning hearings.

INTEGRITY • SERVICE • SAFETY

THUMBS DOWN ON THESE — Governor Daniel vetoed nine of the some 500 bills passed during the regular session.

Among these was the "de novo" bill which would have provided for an entirely new trial when decisions of state agencies were appealed to the courts. Governor Daniel said it would have disrupted oil and gas conservation procedures of the Texas Railroad Commission.

Also turned down was a bill to create a Fort Bend County water district. Governor Daniel said it was in conflict with state-wide water planning. Rep. Jimmy Day of Brookshire, sponsor, made a critical speech on the House floor, contending the governor had signed a bill just like that one two years ago.

Another vetoed bill would have provided for repayment to persons who have paid fines or served sentences for crimes of which they were not guilty. Governor said the intent was good, but with no limitations in the bill, the taxpayers had no protection.

ONE SOLUTION — Many observers believe that much of the current legislative trouble — the slow start, delays, hickering between members and last-minute do or die legislation — would not happen if the office of Speaker of the House were an elective post. Certainly this would eliminate the factions that exist in the Lower House.

Evidence of the desirability of such a plan is found in the office of the Lieutenant Governor, who performs identical functions in the Senate. Both officers have apartments in the Capitol Building, but only the Lieutenant Governor is elected by the people.

Selection of the House Speaker is made by the House members themselves. This delays the start of nearly every session. Further, more it provokes many bitter battles, divides the House, and creates deep wounds that never heal. Also, much time is wasted during sessions by various groups campaigning for the Speakership for the session that still is two years away.

The real loser in the battle of the public and they have no choice in the matter, as things stand now.

Demands for making the post an elective one would have to come from the people, as there is considerable feeling among public officials against the idea of elective offices.

OF MOTES AND BEAMS — A resolution to add to the lobby expense reporting law brought on House debate as to who's holier than who.

Reps. Zeke Ziranek of Daisetta and Don Kennard of Fort Worth proposed requiring lobbyists to report cost of transporting legislators. It was a joke at several senators who recently flew to Tennessee in a gas company plane.

Rep. Jerry Sadler of Percella reminded the House that House members had in previous sessions gone in droves on various lobbyist arranged flights. He made the suggestion of Biblical origin, that the House "get the beam out of its eye before we try to get the mote out of a brother's eye."

STUDENT FEES DEBATED — House members considered a bill to require students in state-supported colleges to pay an activity fee of up to $30 a semester. Fee would cover such things as health services, parking privileges, tickets to athletic and cultural events, book rentals, subscription to campus publications, etc.

Students now pay about $12 less on a voluntary basis.

Rep. W. S. Healy Jr. of Paducah, sponsor, said all the college presidents favored the bill. It would make an estimated $2,900,000 available for higher education.

Opponents declared it moved in the direction of putting educational opportunity on the basis of ability to pay.

Mrs. Rucker, who has been visiting in Fort Worth with a niece, Mrs. E. E. Crawford and family, and her sister, Mrs. S. H. Wright had another surprise only a few days before her birthday when she was reunited with an old friend, Mrs. Nona Gieger, Fort Worth, whom she hadn't seen in over fifty years.

Mrs. Rucker is the mother of W. E. (Bill) Rucker, 820 So. Main, Floydada.

Louie F. Moore Knows Everybody

District Clerk Louie F. Moore, of Lubbock County, was a Memorial Day visitor in Floydada, along with his sister, Mrs. E. E. Boothe, and brother Orville, of McDade.

The Moore family were among the immigrants to Floyd County in the first decade of the twentieth Century from McLennan County. They farmed here for several years, and Louie registered for his first city and county poll tax receipts as a farmer. He has these first two receipts. The city poll tax receipt was signed by Tom P. Steen as City Tax Collector and the county poll tax receipt by A. C. Goen, sheriff and tax collector.

The following year Louie moved to Lubbock and has been a resident there and a successful candidate for office practically ever since. In addition to being an efficient official Louie has developed an acquaintanceship list so long as to be fantastic to the ordinary mortal.

If its convenience as well as economy that you want, this year put a food freezer on your list of Most Wanted electrical appliances.

Instead of endless shopping trips to town you will be able to buy in quantity — in season — and at bargain prices.

You will be able to prepare foods in quantity, too, baking on less busy days, thus leaving whole days with just a minimum of cooking — and there is always that comfortable feeling that you're ready for unexpected guests at any time. Save money, time and work by cooking family favorites that require a long time — you will find out for yourself that freezing really pays dividends.

Broadway News

(By Mrs. T. E. Thornhill)

BROADWAY, June 8 — The weather was not at all cooperative during Bible School, but every year it seems that is when we have a lot of unsettled weather. Thursday the teachers called as many students as possible and let the roads dry until afternoon and Friday afternoon we had this awful hail and rain storm putting the road west of the church under water. Those who could get out, went down to the H. L. Morris place south of the church and made it fine for the night.

Mr. and Mrs. Biddy Wall and Don, accompanied by Teddy Givens, all went over to New Mexico Wednesday to visit Mr. Wall's brother and family while it was too wet to work.

Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Givens, Preston and Mickey, were Wednesday night callers of the D. D. Thornhill.

Robert Winegar ate lunch with Tommy Thornhill Thursday. He was batching last week as Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Winegar and Georgia Ann and Mr. and Mrs. Kelton Winegar and Karen had gone to Gladewater due to the serious illness of their brother-in-law, R. L. Harrell.

Bill McCarry, Richard Sudduth, Kenneth Havens and Milton Joplin all went to Lake Thomas fishing last week. It seems they didn't have much luck due to the turbulent weather.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Smith and Bessie were Sunday evening visitors of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Thornhill.

Mr. and Mrs. David Sudduth and Gary of Lubbock were Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Claude Sudduth and Jim.

Week-end visitors at the Jodie Joplin and Harold Trull families were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Don J. Morgan, all of Amarillo, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thornton and children of Plainview. They all attended the wedding of Tiff Halcomb and Judy Benton in Crosbyton Saturday night.

Bonnie Mason of Crosbyton spent Saturday night and Sunday with Yvonna Marley.

We had several visitors in church Sunday morning. They were Miss Bonnie Maso, Mr. and Mrs. Alvie Rathel and Max, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thornton and children.

Sunday, May 21, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Morris and Joyce were surprised with a house warming, when all of Mr. Morris' sisters and brothers came bringing a lovely coffee maker and silver tea service, gift for the Morris's. They also brought refreshments, Mrs. Morris says they were never more surprised.

Joyce Morris is visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Havens, in Calgary this week and helping play the piano for the Bible School there.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Beckham and Barbara Kay of Lubbock visited Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Ben Beckham and Mrs. Maude Shirey.

The rain, hail and wind have just about wiped out all the young crops all around. Now and then we see a field that still has a crop on it, but there surely are not very many. So once again when the fields get dry enough to hold the tractors up they will start planting. Hoping once again to get a crop up and that nothing will happen to it this time. Some have planted three and four times, though some only once.

Mrs. Burl Wall visited Tuesday afternoon of last week with Mrs. Cecil Berry and Mrs. Maude Berry.

Mrs. M. R. Givens took a real ride on Monday afternoon of last week as she rode down to the D. D. Thornhill with Preston and Mickey on their little car.

SOYBEAN PRODUCTION

(By Cecil Lewis, County Agent)

It is getting to be soybean planting time in our area. June 10 to 20 has proven to be the best time for soybeans.

The seed should be inoculated just before planting and double the recommended amount has proven beneficial. A seeding rate of at least 60 lbs per acre has been proven by the Lubbock Station and the Highway station in making optimum yield. The Lee variety has proven to be the most popular variety because of less shattering.

Late watering of soybeans has proven to be one of the most important production practices in making top yields.

COTON INSECT SITTING

Before the rains severe infestations of trips had been found throughout the county. Some poisoning was taking place. The rain should have helped in controlling trips, but look for reinfestations with dry weather. Six to 8 leaf cotton is beginning to form small squares, these fields should be inspected regularly for fleahoppers and initiate control as needed.

Cotton insect guides are available in the County Agent's office as well as the guns in the counties.

The boys and girls will be competing in the State contest, Jimmy Huckabay, Sand Hill, Tommy Ogden, Floydada, and Robert Overstreet, Dougherty will be competing in the State Entomology contest. These boys have to identify about 70 insects and know about 30 insecticides, including dosage and application rates.

Growing Mustache, Lowrance Writes From Philippines

Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Lowrance received a newsy letter from their airman son Gene, who is stationed at Sulu Bay in the Philippines Islands, the first the family had received in some time.

Gene reported he had neglected writing due to the fact he had been across the bay to Manila while their airstrip was being repaired. He was well and feeling fine after a lone five weeks in a hospital there.

Gene is pitcher for his soft ball team, and has time to participate in other sports.

He wrote that his parents wouldn't know him when he reaches home sometime within the next year. He says, "I'm getting fat and growing a mustache." His mother is wondering if he didn't get the idea through the local paper carrying the stories of the Brothers of the Brush.

He says he receives the Hesperian regularly and enjoys news of the homefolks. Afterwards he passes the paper around for members of his division to read, who also enjoy it altho most know nothing of its habitants.
