CONNIE BEARDEN... IN SUNFLOWER BUSINESS

Around 6,000 acres have been planted to sunflowers in Floyd county and most of the crop is growing off to a good start. Most of the Floyd county farmers have contracted to sell their sunflower seed at 15 cents a pound.

The hybrid type seed came from Rumania.

The crop growing conditions are similar to cotton, not requiring much water, but it is considered a short term crop, some 120 days. Sunflowers can also be planted earlier than cotton. A good yield is considered 2,000 pounds per acre...or gross income of $300 per acre at the contracted price.

The sunflowers are harvested with regular combines with special attachments added to the platform below the reel to keep seeds from falling to the ground as the heads shatter quite a bit as the reel hits them.

Some fertilizer is recommended for certain type soil.

Connie Bearden, farmer west of Floydada, has jumped into the sunflower business in a big way...he has 185 acres. He planted March 17...at a soil temperature of around 50 degrees, and it took about three weeks for the sunflowers to come up. He had plenty of early spring moisture for planting, and to date only has the cost of planting and preparing the soil in the crop. He anticipates irrigating the crop a time or two.

Bearden thinks the crop may be off in time for him to sow the land in wheat this fall.

Who buys sunflower seed? Well, it isn't just the kids you see eating salted sunflower seed from the packages. Commercially sunflower oil is preferred for frying potato chips and other foods.

It is reported that a Petersburg farmer has 1900 acres of sunflowers.

Bob Dyson Critical After Wreck

Bob Dyson, 71 year old Floydada resident, was said to be in an extremely critical condition in Central Plains Hospital in Plainview yesterday suffering from injuries sustained in a two-car accident in that city about 10:15 Wednesday night.

Also injured in the wreck were Dyson's daughter and son-in-law, Garland and Mary Kathryn Lott.

The accident occurred at the intersection of 5th and Vernon as a patrol car driven by officer Mark Kirkpatrick, 21, and the Lott car, driven by Garland, collided.

Dyson, a passenger in the Lott car, suffered a severe concussion and punctured pancreas and underwent surgery in Central Plains Hospital yesterday morning, according to his son-in-law. Lott suffered a broken collar bone and broken ribs and his wife a broken pelvic bone, broken nose and lacerations.

Mark Martin Soil Conservation Service Business-Professional

The Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District has selected Mark Martin, Floydada International Harvester dealer as its Business/Professional Man. The award was based on Martin's outstanding assistance in the field of conservation.

Martin came to Floyd County August 6, 1919 at the age of 21. He founded Martin Company in that same year and has been in business in Floydada for 56 years. During this length of time he has witnessed the change from an open prairie and rangeland to dryland cropland and irrigated cropland. He has seen the dry years, the wet years, the good and the bad years. He has always changed to the times and has helped make Floydada and Floyd County what it is today, a modern, highly mechanized farming community.

He brought the first combine to the county in 1920, the first carload of tractors to Floyd County and the first 10 HP Farmall tractor to the county in 1925. That 1925 Farmall tractor cost $1240 and could cover 10 acres a day. In 1934, he saw the rubber wheel on tractors and other implements.

Martin also farmed during those years. For $2 a night he drove a tractor from seven to seven by lantern.

He remembers the "black thirties", but so thick day became night, topsou blown away in a few hours. During those bad days and during other rough times, he provided credit to many, stating, "I stayed with them as long as they stayed with me." He has customers today who have done business with him for 50 years.

In the late forties, the irrigation boom began, the 1937 one-way plow had to go even though it had been a life saver to the wheat farmer. As of this time, the 8-row equipment has remained most popular, the average tractor having 125 HP. Quite a change!

Yes, Mr. Martin is history, he has an office with photos of his business throughout its history, photos of early Floyd County. He is proud of this land, this country!

He and his wife Mattie were very instrumental in getting the Floyd County Museum started three years ago.

During these 56 years, he has done many things for his community—served on the city council for 16 years, he was power commissioner, bought the first generator for electricity, he paid the first fuel bill to get it into operation; chairman of the gas ration board during the war, civil air patrol, (he has been a flyer for 40 years). He has assisted the baseball program for boys for many years and bought one team all new suits last year; he has assisted FFA, 4-H clubs, civic groups and many, many other endeavors.

Martin believes in education and youth of today. He is very proud of his son, Fred, who was one of the first American importers of farm equipment in Africa. And he is proud of his two grandchildren and one great grandchild. Fred is still in Africa, improving farming and conservation techniques.

Martin believes in soil conservation work and its programs, he believes students must be taught conservation; for the past seven years he has given $50 to the top three winners in the conservation contest for the county. He plans to increase this to $100 this year. He was not asked to do this, he comes forth each year. Last year more than 600 essays were received, in the last few years in the Texas Conservation Awards Program, one teacher was named the state winner, two students were named the regional winner, and one student was second place winner in the regional contest.

Martin has also assisted the district

in obtaining equipment for conservation district cooperators to use.

Yes, 77-year-old Mark Martin and his wife of 54 years, Mat, could have retired years ago like many, but he has not and probably never will. He is interested in conservation, education, history, youth, American community.

He has been a friend why Floyd County Soil Conservation District Mark Martin is its Business Man.

The above charts show what's going on underground in Floyd county. They give a pretty accurate picture of the declining supply of irrigation water. Records are taken from test wells all over the county. Of course last year was considered dry during the growing season and irrigation wells ran night and day for as long as four months.

Government's Figures On Minimum Income Needs Are Way Too Small

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm reviews some figures on the cost of living this week.

Dear editor:

According to the latest government figures, a family of four requires an annual income of $14,300 to maintain a moderate standard of living and $20,800 if it wants to enjoy a few luxuries. If it can abide living at an austere level, it can get by on $9,200.

Some people have scoffed at these figures, saying they're way too high, but I have confidence in them because they were prepared by government workers in Washington making from $40,000 to $60,000 a year and claiming they can't get by on that.

People who think these figures are too high don't understand the thinking of the men who established this government 200 years ago.

For example, everybody knows their main plank was the right of every person to "life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness."

All right, how can you pursue happiness sitting on the bank when the fish are biting out in the middle of the lake?

Clearly, the Founding Fathers intended for everybody to have a motorboat. There goes a thousand dollars right there, if you can abide the austere level. Five or six thousand if you want a few luxuries.

Maybe through ignorance or low standards some people were willing to open up the west riding in un-air-conditioned covered wagons with two-wheel brakes and no power steering and a busted guitar for music, but start out on a trip today in August in a hot car with no radio and two kids in the back seat and everybody knows you're pursuing misery, not happiness. If the principles on which this government was founded mean anything, they mean a man is entitled to take a vacation

On Smoking

Dr. Alton Ochsner of Ochsner's Clinic in New Orleans known to millions of Americans for decades, says smoking not only often causes lung cancer and other fatal diseases but has a decidedly adverse effect on sexual activities.

The venerable 76-year-old senior consultant at the famed clinic says he can stop people from smoking easier by warning of smoking's effect on sexual activities than he can by warning of fatal diseases often caused by smoking.

Only in recent years have medical experts begun to link smoking and a decrease in sexual activity; now there is substantial evidence. Moreover, the evidence that women who smoke risk losing their babies through stillbirth and neonatal death is even more conclusive.

Those who wish to engage in sexual activity—especially mothers who want to give birth to healthy, living babies—should avoid tobacco addiction. Further information can be obtained from last August's "Today's Health," published by the American Medical Association, or from condensation of this article in January's "Reader's Digest."

change in the Consumer Price Index is the basis for USDA's guideline adjustment procedure, consistent with the Bureau of Census method for updating its statistics on poverty levels. USDA's income poverty guidelines are higher for Alaska, Hawaii and Guam because of higher living costs in those areas.

Income poverty guidelines take into account both family size and income before deductions for income taxes, insurance premiums, bonds, etc. In using the guidelines, school food authorities can consider the family's income during the past 12 months and the current rate of income to determine the better indicator of need for free or reduced-price meals or free milk. When judging a family's income level, local administrators can also allow for specified hardship situations such as unusually high medical expenses, housing costs which exceed 30 percent of income, special education expenses due to a child's physical or mental condition, and disaster

Levels For Free Milk Reduced

set by the guidelines. Using USDA's national guidelines, each state educational agency sets income poverty guidelines to determine which children are eligible for free or reduced-price meals and free milk in that state's schools. State guidelines cannot be lower than the national levels but can be up to 25 percent higher for free meals and milk and up to 75 percent higher for reduced-price meals. These are maximums allowed under present law scheduled to take effect July 1. The new guidelines are about 11 percent higher than those for the 1974-75 school year. For example, the income eligibility level for a family of four rises from $4,510 to $5,010. The year-to-year

Guests included Mrs. Ned Bradley, Mrs. Maurice Campbell, Mrs. Ronnie Smith and Mrs. R. G. Dunlap.

1934 Club Hears Program On Brackenridge Family

Members of the 1934 Study Club met in the A. L. Wylie Jr., home Tuesday night for their final meeting of the club year. A salad supper and a program on the Brackenridge family of Texas were enjoyed by those attending.

Mrs. Bob Alldredge opened the meeting with prayer followed by club members giving roll call naming state parks. Among those mentioned being Theo, Copper Breaks, Palo Duro, Abilene and Mackenzie.

Mrs. J.P. Moss brought the program saying the Brackenridge family gave the land for the Brackenridge. They came to Texas from Warrick County, Indiana in the early 1850s, this being the John Adams Brackenridges, his wife, Isabell and seven children which included George and Mary Eleanor.

John Adams Brackenridge was born in Washington in 1800, the year Congress met for the first time in the new Capital. He received legal training and headed west to the land of opportunity beyond the Appalachian Mountains where he met and married Isabell Helena McCullough of Kentucky.

They moved to Texas seeking healthier climate after the death of a two year old daughter. The family gained fortune by buying cotton at distress prices after the Civil War, hauling it to Bagdad, Mexican port at the mouth of the Rio Grande where Brackenridge sold it for high prices to eager buyers from textile mills in England.

From funds he started the San Antonio National Bank in 1866, which is now the First National Bank. The family became very wealthy and acquired vast land holdings, including headwaters of the San Antonio River.

In 1879 he acquired second control of the San Antonio Water Works and had substantial financial interest in railroads, industrial plants, publishing companies and other concerns.

The land that later became Fort Sam Houston, Camp Travis and Alamo Heights was his. The family's first mansion in San Antonio near Worth Spring was a show place with imported covered woods, great fireplaces, massive chandeliers and choice antiques. It was later willed to Incarnate Word College. The dining room ceiling and walls were decorated with panels of tooled elephant hide-ultimate in exotic taste of that period. It is now known as Brackenridge Villa and is perfectly preserved.

Brackenridge was appointed to the Board of Regents by Gov. Ireland in 1886 when University of Texas was established. He lavished time and money on UT in forms of scholarships and money for buildings, including "B" Hall which for years was one of the more prominent buildings on the Austin Campus.

Even then Brackenridge knew that the land set aside for UT would not be adequate in the future, so he donated 500 acres on the East Bank of the Colorado River in Austin.

The daughter, Miss Mary Eleanor Brackenridge was equally active. She was named by Gov. Sayres to Board of Regents of the College of Industrial Arts at Denton in 1903 when it was founded. She was active in the field of Woman Suffrage and was the first woman voter to register in Bexar County in June 1918. She was also responsible for appointment of the first police matron in Texas and pioneered in the work of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs.

Many other colleges and organizations received contributions from George and Mary Eleanor, but the remarkable Brackenridges will remain in peace in their chosen resting place untouched by the twentieth century invasion of the land.

The family is buried in a walled area with no gate. Excess is by ladder only. The biggest granite rock quarried is used for markers inside the walls. The reason for the wall is that if it was ever convenient for someone to use it as a cowpen he would fix it so no cows would be stomping around over him. There are 320 acres in the park.

Following the program, Mrs. Sam Spence tendered her resignation from the club, after which department chairmen and committees were named for the next club term.

They are: Program, Mrs. Leon Ferguson, Mrs. A. L. Wylie Jr., Mrs. J. S. Hale Jr., Mrs. Wilson Bond, Mrs. Geo. Springer and Mrs. John Reue.

UNFULFILLED DREAMS

Della Plain And Mayshaw

By Brenda Jackson

When Floyd County was a growing county, there were four towns beginning to build. Two of these towns were Della Plain and Mayshaw.

T. J. Braidfoot had a dream. One of these towns, Della Plain, was that dream. In the early summer of 1886 Mr. Braidfoot of Baylor County drove his herd of cattle to Floyd County, looking for a new range for them.

He located a school section in what was thought to be the center of the county, but there were problems from the start. First, the land was imperfectly surveyed, and also the wells had to be drilled very deep to get water.

Soon Mr. Braidfoot realized that he did not have enough money to undertake to build a town, and he formed a partnership with Colonel J. R. McLain, whom he had known in Baylor County.

At another time Mr. Braidfoot saw that he could not support his share of the partnership and sold all of his shares in the blocks of land, but he later was able to buy back a large interest in the town.

In order to attract the people needed to make their dream of building the town a reality, plans were made as soon as possible to lay out a town square and construct a building.

The arrival of J. C. White and his family in Della Plain in 1888 was a great event in the new town, not only because Mr. White was a blacksmith, whose services were badly needed, but also because he had three daughters who added much to the social activities.

Beginning in 1898 the first public school in Floyd County was taught in Della Plain. T. J. Braidfoot, A. V. McCracken, and Jim McLain were the trustees.

In 1889 a Sunday school was organized by R. T. Miller. The first sermon preached in Floyd County was at Della Plain in August, 1890 by Reverend I. B. Kimbrough, a Baptist preacher.

In the spring of 1890 Reverend B. F. Fronaburger established the "Male and Female Institute" with classes taught from primary grades to college subjects.

On May 28, 1890 the County seat election in Floyd County was held. Della Plain got 55 votes, and Mayshaw got 33 votes. They didn't have a chance to win. The people who went to court but lost the case.

The site chosen for the new town was two Della Plain. With a better water supply and a town seemed to have a great future.

On April 28, 1892 the Mayshaw Farmers organized. A post office was established with serving as post-master. The Mayshaw library with a limited but well selected supply of homes were moved to Mayshaw from Della Plain.

In the summer of 1892 Mayshaw grew. New and new businesses were established. Farnsworth and his wife, who had come to Floyd County in 1890, operated a dry goods store there.

Soon after the town was established the Company established a weekly newspaper, Zephyr, edited by J. H. Dodson. It was sent citizen whose name could be obtained and reading notices were inserted free of charge.

Social life in Mayshaw centered around night Chautauqua and Literary Society meetings of concerts, lectures, singing, and debates by on a surprising list of subjects.

Mayshaw had a church and Sunday school once every month by Anson Cox and C. W. taking turns. The Sunday school was held in and afterwards everyone would gather around talk until ten or ten-thirty that night.

A serious drought occurred in 1892. The rivers ran dry, the cattle died, and the crops year. The drought was followed in 1893 with grasshoppers that ate what few crops the farmers able to raise.

In 1906 or 7 a fire occurred in Mayshaw described as "the worst fire that the county has ever seen" that burned a field but was put out just before the school.

For a few years the school was all the Mayshaw. The town itself actually lasted only M. Brown, who owned the only blacksmith shop was the last to leave.

Another dream of a town was gone. The remains of the original townsite. Nearby stands and three houses, known as the Muncy County townsite.

In 1886 T. J. Braidfoot had a dream of a town. In 1890 seven men had a dream of a town, which these towns, Della Plain and Mayshaw, are but they, nor the men who founded them, are these men, with their boundless courage and representative of the kind of people who, through since the founding of Floyd County in 1876, have County what it is today.

least some unused space that the family can convert into living space--an attic, basement, space with high ceilings, an attached garage or a carport are some.

Another alternative might be an addition to the existing house, although that might create more of a financial burden.

Still another possibility involves rearranging current living space.

Get rid of things that aren't really used and consider the addition of shelves, partitions, hanging devices and drawers--or other items that the family can use in the space in the house. Also, consider bare walls to be painted.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

A great deal of information has been supplied to the news media in recent weeks concerning the various educational programs now pending before the legislature. I want to share with you and your readers the impact of the program I support. Therefore I have listed below the present amount of state aid received this year by the districts in your area, compared with the state aid that would be provided to your schools under my proposal when fully implemented:

South Plains, Current State Aid-$8,000; Proposed State Aid-$9,000.

Dougherty, Current State Aid-$16,000; Proposed State Aid-$23,000.

One of the main thrusts of my program is to equalize taxpayer effort. With limited state dollars, some districts of average or better than average wealth or taxing ability would not receive increased state aid, but would not be penalized in reduced state aid. Such districts are not listed above.

No school district in Texas would be required to increase local taxes to pay for any part of my plan except those wealthier districts which would need to increase their effort to provide for any teacher salary increase approved by the legislature.

The time has come to substantially equalize educational opportunities and taxpayer efforts in the state system of public education. If we do not, I can assure you that the courts will. We have as choices a legislative solution or a court-ordered solution. I prefer--and think the vast majority of Texans prefer--legislative action now. It can be done in this regular session of the legislature, within available state revenues and without new taxes.

It is my feeling that the citizens served by your newspaper should have the above information and I would appreciate your making it available as soon as practical.

Sincerely, /s/ Dolph Briscoe Dolph Briscoe Governor of Texas
