

THE SANDERSON TIMES

Volume 20

Sanderson, Texas, Friday Feb. 18, 1927

No. 2

W. E. STIRMAN

The Wood, Coal and Dairy Man

Cedar, Mesquit, Oak Wood and Dawson Coal

Get Your Supply on Hand.
Be Ready For the First Cold Spell

Phone No. 2

Sanderson, Texas.

LEMONS & HENSHAW, ABSTRACTORS

Terrell County Lands

Lands Sold Property Rentered Lands Leased Taxes Paid
Abstracts Examined and Titles Passed Upon By an Efficient and Reliable Attorney.
Office with County Clerk, Sanderson, Texas.
G. J. Henshaw, Mgr.

Lincoln Ford Fordson

CARS-TRUCKS-TRACTORS

Confidence in the concern with which you deal—that is the biggest thing to consider in your purchase of a new or used Ford car; and upon that basis you should naturally buy from an authorized dealer.

We carry a complete stock of FORD parts and accessories, gas, oils and Goolyote Tires and Tubes.

Our mechanics are expert workmen and we have the best equipped repair shop in the city.

W. J. FERGUSON

A Hint to the Wise, Etc. See Manager For Contract

Why annoy your neighbor for the use of his Telephone when you can have one in your house for

$2.25 Per Month?

Sanderson Telephone Company

You'll Be Surprised! The styles are strict for the coming Spring and Summer. The only way to get the genuine, is to have your suit styled to correspond with your attitude and personality

EMPIRE TAILORS

We Carry a Complete Line of General Merchandise at all times

Always glad to have you call and inspect our Stock and Prices. We give personal attention to all orders so as to assume prompt and satisfactory service.

We guarantee all goods sold to give satisfaction.

SANDERSON MERCANTILE CO.

THE STORE OF SERVICE AND QUALITY

Phone No. 40

Prompt delivery

ROTARY CLUB NOTES

Clyde Griffith introduced Alfred E. Creigh Jr. to the members who was fittingly ushered in as an active member of the Club. His classification being "Real Estate."

A report from district governor Clint Anderson was read, giving the attendance record for the district in January. Sanderson topped the district with four 100 per cent meetings; Marfa was second and our neighboring city Alpine was fifth in line.

Jesse Henshaw, chairman of the "On to Carlsbad" committee has started to muster a 100 per cent committee and membership at the District Conference in Carlsbad, N. M., March 15-16.

Joe Kerr, who has been in Austin several weeks, gave us an interesting talk on Austin Rotary Club which he visited to make up his attendance.

Jim Kerr was in charge of the program last week.

Club to Observe Anniversary

The Twenty-second birthday of Rotary will be celebrated by the local Club next Wednesday.

Details of the program are being kept secret by the those participating in the affairs but it is known the history and growth of the idea which took form in the minds of four Chicago men on February 23, 1905, will be portrayed.

At this anniversary celebration meeting messages will be read from Paul Harris and Harry H. Rogers, a San Antonio, Texas cotton manufacturer, who is president of Rotary International

NOTICE.

Commencing at once we are offering our Kitchen Unit Lights at cost price, installed in your home ready to use; 50c down and $1 a month. Cost of this Kitchen Unit installed in your kitchen is $5.00 complete with lamp. Try them out and see how it improves the light in your kitchen without increase in cost of lighting.

TEX.-LA. POWER CO.
Frank S. Vaughn, Local Mgr.

Resolutions of Respect.

Whereas, in His mercy and goodness of the divine heart, hath God called unto Him the life of our beloved brother, A. Hindman; and

Whereas, in His mercy we be-think of those left to mourn his loss, a wife, Mrs. A. Hindman, and children.

Therefore, be it resolved by Sanderson Lodge No. 988, A. F. & A. M. for all and for each member, that a hand of genuine sympathy with all the comfort that loving and friendly hearts can render be tendered the sorrowing ones left behind; that we assist them in the bearing of the cross which has been lifted from him who has gone; and that we render as friends, and as brothers of the Order all the assistance we can to them.

Be it further resolved, that a copy of these resolutions be sent the sorrowing wife, a copy spread upon the minutes of this Lodge, and a copy printed in the Sanderson Times.

R. S. WILKINSON,
S. S. DAGGETT,
CHESTER SMITH,
Committee.

—The only way to get full value out of your farm or ranch is to fence it properly. I sell Peerless fencing direct from factory at wholesale prices. I have the money to finance your fencing problems. Write me. C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

COMMISSIONERS' COURT MET THIS WEEK

The regular term of the County Commissioners' Court was held Monday and Tuesday with all the Commissioners present.

As this was the first meeting of the year quite a lot of business was transacted. The tax on the $100 valuation was set as follows: County advalorem 55c, Special Road 50c and the School 50c, making a total County tax of $1.55, as it has been for several years.

A new truck was purchased for road foreman, W. W. Laughlin.

The court also passed an order to have the trees pruned, under the supervision of W. E. Stirman.

The following officers salaries were set for the coming year: J. J. Nance, sheriff and tax collector, $225 a month; J. Calvin Stansell, county attorney, $90 a month; Luella Lemons, county & district clerk, $160 a month; G. J. Henshaw, county judge and ex-officio county supt. $200 a month; P. F. Robertson, county health officer, $500 a year.

Capt. Charles Shreiner Dies in Kerrville

Captain Charles Shreiner, one of Texas' pioneer settlers died at his home in Kerrville Wednesday afternoon, February 9, at 1:30 o'clock, just two weeks before his 80th birthday.

Beside his individual success as a merchant, banker and wool commission dealer, Capt. Shreiner was equally for his large gifts to good roads and education.

His personal gift in 1918 to Schreiner Institute at Kerrville, which bears his name, represents a total of $500,000. In his will he left an additional $150,000 to the Institute.

The funeral was held last Friday afternoon at two o'clock.

NOTICE!

A meeting of the Terrell County Chamber of Commerce will be held in the Kerr Hotel dining room Thursday evening, February 24 at 7:30 o'clock.

Every citizen interested in the future of Sanderson and Terrell county is requested to be present and take part in planning a bigger and better Sanderson.

Members of the organization should arrange to be present at this meeting.

Postmaster Named

Mrs. Tina East received her commission last Saturday from President Coolidge naming her as postmaster for Sanderson.

—Let me have your fence problems. I will finance them on long time at wholesale prices. C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

DRYDEN NOTES

Mrs. R. D. Eldridge returned from Dallas Wednesday after a brief stay.

John Watts was in Dryden Sunday visiting friends.

Carol Cochran of San Antonio has returned to his home after a brief visit at the home of Gyp Brooks.

John Taylor was in Dryden Wednesday.

Mrs. Leroy Grigsby was in Dryden Thursday.

Mrs. A. C. Chambers visited in Alpine this week.

Mrs. W. A. Banner spent Monday in Dryden.

MASONIC LODGE WILL CELEBRATE GEORGE WASHINGTON'S BIRTHDAY

Sanderson Lodge No. 988 A. F. & A. M., will celebrate Washington's Birthday, Tuesday February 22, with an open house meeting at the Masonic Hall, down-stairs, from 2:30 p. m. to 4:30 p. m. There will also be public speaking that night at the Presbyterian Church at eight o'clock. Everybody welcome.

GREAT WHITE WAY

The Princess Theatre has been making intensive improvements about the Theatre the past week.

The glass doors in front have been taken out and the lobby painted which gives it a very pleasing appearance. Twenty-five lights have been installed in front making it look like a metropolitan "great white way" at night. The interior has also been re-painted. Shows have been resumed as usual this week.

Mrs. Troxie Dougherty of the Kerr Mercantile Co. left the first of the week for St. Louis and Chicago where she will do the buying for the Company.

Spring! Spring! Spring!

Spring on this opportunity and come get measured for your Spring suit today. Priced from $15.00 to $75.

EMPIRE TAILORS.

WHY—good managers pay by check

It is modern, efficient, safe way to handle funds

Because:

It always gives an exact record of what has been paid out.

It eliminates mistakes in amount.

It helps tremendously in operating a budget.

It always shows where you stand as to current finance.

It helps you refrain from trivial, unnecessary expenditures.

It saves time and trouble in making payments.

It cuts down the danger of losing small or large sums.

It commands the respect of people with whom you deal. That is why thrifty, progressive pay by check!

Today this bank offers its depositors positive protection against check raisers. Without cost, without trouble, without expense and both of mechanical or chemical devices.

Come in and find out about it.

Sanderson State Bank

City Barber Shop

You will always find

Clean Tonsoring, Keen Tools and Skilled Workman

Ladies Hair Bobbing A Specialty

Hot and Cold Baths

FRED YEATES, Prop.

We Carry Everything Handled In A General Store

DRY GOODS

The Season's New and Best Styles

DRESS GOODS,

MEN'S SUITS,

HATS, CAPS,

BOOTS AND SHOES.

GROCERIES

We Have Everything That's Good to Eat

Canned Vegetables and

Fruits,

Jellies, Jams,

Teas and Coffee.

HARDWARE

We Are Headquarters for

Hardware, Oil, Paints

Stoves, Pipe Fittings,

Wire, Nails,

Studebaker Wagons

FURNITURE

We Have a Nice Line of

Chairs, Rockers, Tables,

Dressers, Beds,

Springs and Mattresses.

LUMBER

Anything You Want in

Building Material, Sash

Doors, Cement, Lime

Brick, Roofing,

Fencing.

THE KERR MERC. COMPANY

Texan, Too Ill To Laugh, Now Happy, Healthy Again

San Antonio police officer, wrecked in health and spirits, for many months "Forgot how to laugh." Tanlac toned up his system, gave him back glowing, radiant health Officer A. Valdez is well known in San Antonio, Texas, and lives at 2015 San Luis St. Speaking of his distressing experience, he said: "For many months I was run down by stomach trouble and acute indigestion. My weight dropped from 170 to 135 lbs. in that time. Biliousness, constipation and dizzy headaches combined to keep me in misery. My liver, too, was sluggish and gave me a lot of trouble. Just as a policeman stops a law-breaker, Tanlac arrested all those troublesome symptoms and drove them out of my system. And they haven't come back. I'm feeling as energetic and strong as an officer of the law should be. My wife, too, has been helped greatly by Tanlac. She and I are enjoying the best health of our whole lives. I'm up to 176 lbs. now—a gain of 41 lbs!"

If they have sapped your vitality, build it back with Tanlac. It is nature's own remedy, made from roots, bark and herbs. Your druggist has it. Get a trial bottle today. Over $2 million bottles sold.

Glowing health is the birthright of every man and woman. Overwork and neglect are the enemies of health.

Going to the dogs also grows deadly monotonous.

Sure Relief
BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION
6 BELLANS Hot water Sure Relief
BELLANS FOR INDIGESTION
25c and 75c Pkgs. Sold Everywhere

WINTERSMITH'S CHILL TONIC
For over 50 years it has been the household remedy for all forms of Malaria Chills and Fever Dengue
It is a Reliable, General Invigorating Tonic.

Enjoy GOOD HEALTH
and a Vigorous Old Age
Nature's Remedy
R-TABLETS-R
Increases the Pep and Vigor by relieving Auto-intoxication
A SAFE, DEPENDABLE LAXATIVE

DANGER AHEAD!
Stop that Cold!
Flu lurks at every turn End a COLD in a Few Hours—purify your system
PAPE'S COLD COMPOUND
(LAXATIVE)
ECZEMA
Relieve that itching, burning torment and start the healing with Resinol
WE PAY YOU CASH for gold buttons, teeth, old plates, diamonds, discarded jewelry, head goods to W. H. TITUS, 1015 N. 10th St., Dallas, Tex.

Sure of Himself Now!
So Clean Inside, No Fear of Perspiration Offense, However Over-Heated
Once a person realizes the wonderful properties in cascara, no other laxative in the market would ever be considered. It's no trick to "clean out the bowels." Dozens of things will do that. But a little natural cascara purifies the system clear through. Cleanses even the pores of your skin. Renders perspiration as inoffensive as so much dew! The old-fashioned way was "sals." They get action, but they take the mucous membrane along with the waste matter! Mineral oils are gentler, but they leave the bowels with a film of poisons for the blood to carry off through the pores. But when you cascade the system, you get rid of all the poisons by normal muscular action of the bowels.
If you have the habit of taking medicine for constipation, or even for auto-intoxication, stop it. For a candy cascara is a delightful form in which to take cascara; children love them, and the taste tempts most grown-ups to have "more."
And what a comfort to know you are in that clean, wholesome condition that does away with any need of deodorants, even in warmest weather! Try a cascara tonight—see how you feel next day, and for days after! With the skin fresh and fragrant. All druggists, 10c and 25c.

CASCARETS

Man or Superman?

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON

WHAT will the final verdict of history on George Washington be: Man or Superman?

If we are to believe the early day biographers of the Father of His Country, it will be Superman, a paragon of all the virtues, who was not only first in war, first in peace and first in the hearts of his countrymen but first in faithfulness living. Such is the model which Parson Weems, who invented the cherry tree story, established, and it has been indubitably copied by many later biographers, especially those who write our school histories.

If we are to believe a later generation of historians, it will be Man, a man of his times with the habits of a man of his times, including its faults as well as its virtues—in short, George Washington, the human being.

For more than a century George Washington has baffled the historians in their effort to present the "real Washington." Forty years ago one of them, Prof. John Bach McMaster, pointed out the difficulties which confront the biographer of Washington when he said:

"General Washington is known to us, and President Washington, but George Washington is an unknown man. When at last he is set before us as he lived we shall read less of the cherry tree and more of the man. Naught surely that is heroic will be omitted, but side by side with what is heroic will appear much that is commonplace. We shall behold the great commander repairing defeat with marvelous celerity, healing the dissensions of his officers and calming the passions of his mutinous troops. But we shall also hear his oaths and see him in the terrible outbursts of passion to which Mr. Jefferson has alluded and one of which Mr. Lear has described:

"We shall see him refusing to be paid for his services by congress, yet expecting from the family of the poor man, the shilling that was due. We shall know of him as the cold and forbidding character with whom no fellow-man ever ventured to live on close and familiar terms. We shall respect and honor him for being not the greatest of generals, not the most salutary of his race, but a man with many human frailties and much common sense, who rose in the fullness of time to be the political deliverer of our country."

Those words, written nearly half a century ago, long before any effort had been made to dispel the myths which had grown up around Washington, are strangely prophetic of the events of the past year which have brought up again the question of the real Washington and focused public attention upon it more sharply than it has ever been focused before. Outstanding among those events was the criticism which met the attempt by one of America's best-known novelists to write the sort of Washington biography of which McMaster speaks. The novelist was Rupert Hughes and his biography was "George Washington, the Human Being and the Hero," published by William Morrow & Company of New York.

In fact, looking back upon the year just past it is curious to note how many times the two names "Rupert Hughes" and "George Washington" have appeared in the news dispatches together. It began in January when Hughes made a speech at a banquet of the Sons of the American Revolution in Washington, D. C., in which he was described as having pictured Washington as a "profane, irreligious and pleasure-loving man." Although it was afterward learned that he had been misquoted, the mischief was done as soon as the story went out.

Immediately he was attacked and defended all over the world. Sermons were delivered on his speech, his name was heard in congress and put in the Congressional Record, senators denounced him and he received clippings of newspaper comment on his speech in almost every language, French, German, Dutch, Spanish and Italian.

Interest in the controversy was revived in September when the Hughes book appeared. Even though it did not arouse such a storm as did his speech, it, too, was met with divided opinion, both censure and praise. Reviewers—for the most part historians themselves—were far from unanimous in their verdicts. Where one praised the biographer for his painstaking care in minute documenting of his statements and refraining from making a statement without backing it up with authority, another criticized him for "fatal illogic and false romance of the movies." A Harvard professor, Albert Rushnell Hart, announced that he had found 297 errors of fact in the book. Another reviewer declared that "Mr. Hughes walks on all the eggs without breaking a single one. Even the most rabid biographical fundamentalist will find little to complain about in this book."

So there you are! The case of Rupert Hughes, the biographer, is proof anew of the statement made by one writer that George Washington is an "elusive" person, for although "for forty years, from early manhood until the time of his death, he was increasingly in the public eye, the real man, high on his pedestal of official and personal reserve, has been hard to come at." A part of this is no doubt due to the early biographers, such as Parson Weems, who began building up the myths about him, and the increasing years only served to give them an increasing firmness of fixity in the popular mind.

Hughes has well expressed it when he wrote, "No other man in history has suffered so much from misfeasance in office by historians. Nearly all of Washington's biographers have felt it their duty not only to correct his writings, but to blue-pencil, prettify and falsify his character. In their frantic zeal for denaturing this big, blundering, bewildered giant they have done a further injustice to all his contemporaries, of whom they have made either dwarfs or acolytes, and of his sincere adversaries demons of malice and envy. It is poor patriotism, ridiculous idolatry and rank dishonesty to rob the host of other strugglers for liberty and progress of their just deserts and to perpetuate old slanders against his enemies at home and abroad in order to turn Washington into a god. As a god, Washington was a woeful figure; as a man he was tremendous."

No wonder then that "the real Washington" is yet to be delineated. One type of mind would make him a Superman; another a Man. But the final verdict of history probably will decide that he was a bit of both and the picture which it will draw of him will be somewhere in between the two extremes.

Mystery in Old Rails
Fragments of iron or steel rails were found in the ruins of the old city of St. Joseph, in Florida. These were along the right-of-way of the old St. Joseph and Iola railroad. The fact that these pieces of rail were none the worse for rust, although they had been lying in the open salt air for more than 85 years, aroused such interest that they have been sent to laboratories in Philadelphia for investigation. They are smaller than those made today, but heavier in proportion. An effort will be made to determine just what they are and how they were made.

The Beautiful Souls
There is no so wretched and so illiterate a soul wherein some particular fancy is not seen to shine; no soul so buried in sloth and ignorance, but it will make a sally at one end or another; and how it comes to pass that a mind, blind and asleep to every-

TEXAS LEADS IN NUMBER OF CATTLE

But Ranks Fifth In Dairy Stock—Also Leads All States In Mules and Sheep

Houston, Tex.—Less than a million of the 6,156,000 head of cattle in Texas are milk cows and heifers two years old or more, according to live stock comparisons announced by the government through the bureau of crop estimates. Texas leads all states in number of cattle, but ranks fifth in dairy stock. Wisconsin, third in total number of cattle, leads the United States in dairy stock with 2,014,000 head. The total number of cattle in the state is only 2,975,000. Texas, with 1,073,000 head of mules, leads the Union and has nearly 20 per cent of all mules in America. Missouri, noted for stubborn mules, ranks third with 358,000 head. Of the 15,279,000 horses in the United States, Texas has 848,000 and is in fourth place. Iowa, with 1,111,000, leads all other states. With 4,242,000 head of sheep, Texas also leads the Union. California, with 3,500,000 head, is second, and Wyoming, with 3,100,000 head, is third. Texas ranks eleventh in production of swine, having only 1,250,000 head, while Iowa, with 5,550,000, is in first place. There are 52,536,000 head of swine in the United States.

MOODY MAKES APPOINTMENTS

Austin, Tex.—Eighteen appointments to judiciary and other state positions has been announced by Governor Dan Moody and sent to the senate for confirmation, as follows: Roy I. Briggs, Reeves County, district attorney of the Seventieth District, to succeed Henry G. Russell, resigned. M. S. Long, Taylor County, judge of the Forty-Second District to succeed W. R. Ely, resigned. W. E. Gee, Potter County, judge of the 108th Judicial District. W. M. Slay, S. C. Wroe, Cliff Barnes and N. L. Davis, all of Tarrant County, and O. O. Touchstone, Dallas County, members of the board of managers of North Texas Junior Agricultural College. G. H. Aronfeld, Galveston County, and R. A. Terrell, Dallas County, members of the state board of optometry. W. L. Weatherall, M. Craig, J. S. Edwards, P. H. Butler, all of Jefferson County, and O. H. Campbell, Orange County, pilot commissioners for Sabine Pass District. W. B. Prince, Dallas County, Forrest Mathis, Dallas County, and J. A. Phillips, Harris County, members of the board of public accountancy.

Citrus Shipments Heavy.

Mercedes, Tex.—Thirteen thousand six hundred and fifty crates of citrus fruit were shipped from Mercedes by freight and express during January, records at the local express and freight offices show. This number included 13,271 crates of grapefruit and 379 of oranges. A total of 263 cars of vegetables were shipped during the month.

Counties to Get Mexican Quail.

Austin, Tex.—Twenty-five hundred Mexican quail, secured from the Brownsville district, are being sent out by the state game, fish and oyster commission to stock preserves in 13 counties. Counties to receive the birds: McLennan, Walker, Smith, Eastland, Comanche, King, Wilbarger, Baylor, Knox, Randall, Coleman, Taylor and Parker.

Moore and Dale Expelled.

Austin, Tex.—Governor Dan Moody has issued proclamations calling for special elections for March 5 in the forty-first and 126th representative districts to fill the places in the house left vacant by the expulsion of Representatives F. A. Dale of Bonham and H. H. Moore of Cooper, respectively.

Death Verdict Given Leahy.

Georgetown, Tex.—Death in the electric chair was the sentence given to Harry J. Leahy on his conviction on a charge of murder in connection with the killing of Dr. J. A. Ramsey of Mathis last May by the verdict of a jury in district court at Georgetown.

Texas Pay Inheritance Tax.

Washington, D. C.—The federal government collected $1,281,244.54 in inheritance taxes in Texas during the calendar year 1925, as compared with $1,627,460.31 in 1925, Commissioner of Internal Revenue Blair has announced.

Farm Aid Bill Passed.

Washington, D. C.—Reversing itself in less than eight months, the senate passed the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill late Friday 47 to 39.

Corn Borer Bill Signed.

Washington, D. C.—President Coolidge Thursday signed the bill authorizing the appropriation of $10,000,000 for eradication of the European corn borer.

Former Texas Governor Named.
Washington, D. C.—Pat Morris Neff, former governor of Texas, has been nominated to be a member of the railroad labor board of mediation, succeeding Carl Williams, resigned.

Dressing Children no Problem Now!

It doesn't cost much to keep the youngsters dressed in all the pretty colors of the season! Buy less, now less—and Diamond dye their dresses, waists, blouses, etc.
Home dyeing is easy. It's lots of fun. The results are perfect, when you use real dye. Right over other colors, any kind of material, in an hour's time! Keep your own clothes in style, too, by making them the newest shades. Also, the drapes and hangings in your home.

FREE: for the asking, at any drugstore: the Diamond Dye Cyclopedic, full of suggestions, with easy directions. See actual piece-goods color samples. Or write for free illustrated book Color Craft to DIAMOND DYER, Dept. N10, Burlington, Vermont.

Diamond Dyes

Make it NEW for 15 cts!

Do You Want a Really Good File for Sharpening Hoes?

Try the kind we make for sharpening Simonds Steel Saws. You will be surprised how much easier and easier they file and how much more economical they are because they last so much longer. This is the SIMONDS Mill Blade File. Ask your dealer for it. To prove our claim we will send you a sample of our File, 8 inches long, if you will send 14c in stamps to pay postage and packing expense.

Ride the Interurban FROM Houston to Galveston

Every Hour on the Hour
Express Service—Non-Stop Trains
9:00 a. m. and 3:00 p. m.

DON'T RUB! INFLAMED LIDS

It increases the irritation. Use MITCHELL'S EYE SALVE, a simple, dependable and refreshing eye treatment. It is at all druggists.

AGENTS WANTED TO SELL LADIES' Tailored Linen

Tailored Linen direct from mills to user. High grade garments at lowest prices. Big commission. Write for proposition.

KUDDY—BEST FASTER and HAV PLANT

that can be grown. Resistant to frost by ordering roots from ROCK GLEN FARM, HAMPTON, GA.

A Garden Full of Flowers for One Dollar.

Flowers named on list, three Japan Lilies, one Red Penny, charges prepaid. UNION COUNTY NURSERY, Westfield, N. J.

NEW CROP RECLEANED LEPSEBEZA

Seed, free from Japanese beetle, per bushel. C. MCKOWEN, Lindsay, La.

BABY CHICKS, Anconas, Sheppard strain

$11 per 100. Hatched Rocks, $16. Prepaid, live delivery. L. J. BEALL, Bay City, Tex.

Search Still On

"What has become of the search for the philosopher's stone?"
"The search changes with every age. Now we're looking for a tire that won't puncture."

Colds Fever Grippe

Go Stop them today
Stop them quickly—all their dangers and discomforts. End the fever and headache. Force the poisons out. Hills break colds in a hour. They tone the whole system. The prompt, reliable results have led millions to employ them. Don't rely on lesser help, don't delay.

Be Sure It's HILL'S Price 30c

CASCARA QUININE

Get Red Box BRAND with portrait

Piles

CURED In 6 to 14 Days
All Druggists are authorized to refund money if PAZO OINTMENT fails to cure any case of ITCHING, BLIND, BLEEDING or PROTRUDING PILES. Cures ordinary cases in 6 days, the worst cases in 14 days.

PAZO OINTMENT instantly Relieves ITCHING PILES and you can get restful sleep after the first application. 60c.

FOR Coughs due to Colds

BOSCHEE'S SYRUP

30c & 50c At all Druggists

The Man With Three Names

By Harold MacGrath

CHAPTER X—Continued

"With every drop of blood in him; with every fiber of his manhood!"

"Where did he first see me?"

"He saw you in London one night, at the Savoy restaurant. The following afternoon you went aboard the same ship."

"I knew it! I knew that I had seen him somewhere. He didn't know who I was?"

"Not at that time."

"Just saw me?"—in wonder.

"Just that. He went to your father the next morning and asked if he might pay court to you. Your father looked upon the affair as a great joke, not being able to gauge sonny. He made a sardonic proposal, and sonny accepted it. He was to come to Bannister and make a name for himself. The newspaper presently became an obligation; and recognizing that, he saw that he must give you up."

"I understand. I searched the crowds for him. I studied every new face I saw, strained my ears for some sign. And even now, but for Nancy, I'd never have known!"

"I tried to make you love me. There was a pause. "The name of Digby Hallowell will mean nothing to you; but your father would recall it. My husband was a thief, Betty, and he died in prison. A thief—the most unforgivable kind."

"And shall my father sit in judgment on sonny's?" asked Betty quietly. "But go on."

"I was born in the South; but at the age of ten I was taken to Europe by an aunt who saw that there was music in me; that I possessed interpretative genius. My parents were dead. I studied in Paris, Berlin, Leipzig, Vienna. All the masters said that I had a brilliant future. When my aunt died, the annuity which supported us ceased automatically, but most of the beautiful things you see in this room fell to me. I had enough for the necessities of life, and a little amusement besides."

"Somehow I had lost America. I was in the Volksgarten in Vienna one afternoon when a very handsome man in the early thirties sat down in a chair near me. Some children were playing near by. One of them stumbled and fell, and the stranger sprang to its assistance, brushing the bruised knees. "Poor little codger!" he said in English; and at once I knew that he was an American. I was alone in the world, eighteen, and bubbling with romance. I met him again and again.

"Oh, I loved him. He was charming. He was mad about children; he was genuinely fond of music, painting, books. And his love for me was one great, honest thing in his life. It wouldn't have been so hard otherwise."

"We were married," continued Mrs. Cathewe. "Sonny came. There followed four wonderful summers. Digby would arrive in May and go back in October. The crash came the fourth winter. He was arrested for selling bogus oil and mining stock. He caught pneumonia in prison and died before I could get to him."

Betty reached blindly for the speaker's hand, found it, and pressed it strongly.

"Years passed. When he was twenty I told sonny the story. I told him what his name was, for we were then using the name of Cathewe. I added that if he so willed, he could live all his days in luxury, have all his whims gratified. He replied that he wouldn't use tainted money, and thereupon gave the money to a banker with a plan to disburse it to the poor. Eventually he became a reporter on one of the great newspapers, and discovered that he could write. A month each summer he spent with me; he was at work on his second novel when he saw you."

CHAPTER XI

Understanding.

The telephones buzzed in Cathewe's office.

"Hello!" he called, rather grateful for the diversion.

"This is the city hospital. Mr. Mansfield wants to see you immediately. He instructed me to emphasize the importance of this interview."

"Tell him I shall be up as soon as I can get a taxi around."

At the hospital Mansfield greeted Brandon tersely and granted an order. "In my coat at the foot of the bed is a long envelope. Open it."

One glance confirmed Cathewe's suspicions. The envelope contained the complete history of the trial and conviction of Digby Hallowell.

"Well!" he said calmly.

"Ready to admit that I hold you in the hollow of my hand?"

"No."

Cathewe tapped the envelope. "Do you call this fair?"

"You're an odd young man! You came here originally because you thought you loved my daughter. What was the main idea, anyhow?"

"You mean, regarding the money my father left? To give it back to the poor. To make the newspaper a bulwark between your kind and mine. To build a great hospital, endowed, to which the poor from the ends of the world might come and find aid without cost. A great free dispensary where the unfortunate woman might also find succor and not be callously sent back to the gutter with her baby. The newspaper to doctor their minds and the hospitals to doctor their bodies. To rebuild their faith in humanity; to make American citizens out of them. Shall I put this envelope back in your coat?"

"No. She sat there in that chair all night, holding my hand. Toward morning she slept. It was a good deal of pain. It was very still. I fell to thinking. Instead of counting sheep jumping over the fence, I looked myself over, from your point of view, from her point of view, if it should happen she learns the truth. I did not summon you to threaten you. Still, I had to test you. Your chin is still up, and that's the sign I needed. I don't want that envelope. Destroy the stuff. Make Bannister your home; build your free dispensary. What I really wanted was to have you take my hand."

"To shake hands!" cried Cathewe, figuratively swept off his feet.

"Why not? I needed a licking and you were the only man in the world who had the courage to attempt it. I'm no fool. I know men. I want to be the friend of a man who, in these hard, matter-of-fact days, has the courage to walk where angels fear to tread. A smile accompanies that, but it's not visible to you on account of these bandages. A curious idea thrust me into that shack last night. Oh, yes; I saw the poor little likes, and was glad to save them. But that isn't it. I fought you because I was afraid of you. You were a menacing wedge between me and my daughter. On the floor, her exquisite profile, against the dark wine of the rosewood, as beautifully defined as a cameo! Her eyes were closed in dreamy ecstasy.

Here, after what had taken place last night! There could be only one meaning: that she knew everything. Maddox! He had sent for the doctor and in some manner had forced the truth from him. On top of this came the recollection of the cub reporter's confession of having sent Betty a complete series of clippings. She had confronted Maddox with them, and the old fellow had told her the truth. And somehow he must prevail upon her never to let her father know. Here!—because she knew also that he was the author of those letters! Hadn't she come from Nancy's? Out of that abysmal gloom of two hours gone, his marvellous sunshine!

The performer dropped her hands. The piano was still singing as she turned her head.

"Sonny!"

Betty opened her eyes, and slowly rose to her feet, numb with an inexplicable terror, not unlike that which childhood finds in dark rooms. What had happened? This: it was the first time she had ever seen the man who had written those wonderful letters—the exquisite poems to the lily of this hour. She had come boldly into his house in the pursuit of happiness. She saw now the immodesty of the act. The knowledge sent all the blood into her heart, then flung it into her cheeks—burgundy in an alabaster cup. Always he would think that she had sought him. The shame of it!

She stood with her back to the piano, staring. Tableau. Then she reached backward, toward the bench, toward the arms she wanted, needed. She was afraid. She turned desperately—to find that she had been betrayed. The bench was vacant. Mrs. Cathewe had stolen quietly from the room.

"—. She has gone!" Betty stammered.

He crossed the room quickly, but he did not touch her. "There is no doubt in your mind?"

"Doubt of what?"—beginning to recover her poise.

"Of me? That I love you, that I loved you the first time I saw you?"

"Which of you three is talking?"

"Which of—What do you mean?" bewildered.

"Is it Brandon Cathewe, George Cottar, or Brandon Hallowell you can you care, just a little?"

"Only physically. For weeks I've been torn by wild horses."

"I'm glad of that!"—now sure of herself, of him, of all the world.

"Glad that I was unhappy?"

"Wasn't I unhappy, too? Didn't you jilt me?"

"Do you care?"

"Well—perhaps." A pause. "I'm beginning to wonder if you really wrote those letters."

"Why?"

"Well, the writer of those beautiful love letters wouldn't stand as you do, just asking questions."

"What would he do?" falling into her mood.

"He would sweep me into his arms, kiss me, put me on his horse and ride away—and ask questions!"

"Afterward?"

When she pressed back from him she was breathless. "And now I'm suspicious?"

"Suspicious?"

"You did that—overly well!"

"The wonder of you!"

She crept back into his arms, all her mischief gone. "Love me always like that—And don't be afraid of daddy."

"I'm not," he replied. "Your father has made all this possible. He sent me to you."

"He did? I love him! And he shall never know that I know. To want to do fine and noble things because he has learned to love me!" Another pause. "Is there anything now on Jupiter you want?"

There was only one way to answer that.

[THE END.]

Marble is not rigid; a slab under slow heavy pressure will bend like stiff tar or wax.

"To Shake Hands!" Cried Cathewe.

day she learned the truth I might lose her. Nothing else matters now but her love. She is extremely imaginative. A deed like last night's would appeal to her. She would always have that moment to throw into the scales. She has opened all the doors of my mind and my heart; I can see and feel. Yesterday I would not have understood you; today I do. There's another secret in that envelope. You overlooked it. You are Cottar, the novelist. But I am offering my hand to the son of Digby Hallowell. Will you take it?"

The strength of the hand that closed over his caused a flash of stinging pain. The wine had puckered the burns.

"You understand?"

"Yes. She has made all these things possible."

"That makes our understanding perfect. Her beauty is the least of her. Do you remember you said that? You saw in a glance what it took me three years to find out. You and I are going to make Bannister a perfect city. But I must do my share in my own fashion. I simply can't have her know; at least until I have made substantial progress. You shall have your paper back of course. I am growing tired. Just a little more. You could have come to me and demanded I fulfill my end of that mad bargain. You were honest, and you declined. Your whimsicality is on the surface; underneath you are unchangeable. So it occurs to me that if you gave up Betty it was not that you had ceased to care. Am I right?"

"Yes."

"As a man cares but once?"

"But once."

"Then—go and find her."

"You mean that?"

"Why not? You are the son of Digby Hallowell, but she is the daughter of Dunleigh Mansfield. Between these two fathers where's the choice? I merely stayed within the law and your father played the game outside. I threw away all the glorious hours that are before you. I sent Betty to France because I didn't care to be bothered with her. Find her, and when you find her tell her I sent you. And then—both of you—come back here!"

Cathewe's taxi went up Polygen hill after the manner of the tank, slowly, ponderously and heartrendingly. Street cars got in the way, other taxis, lumber and coal wagons and pedestrians. Eventually he reached the Mansfield place.

The butler, upon opening the door, eyed him with repellent loyalty.

"Miss Mansfield is not at home, sir;" and suggestively started the door toward the latch.

"Just a moment. I am sent by Mr. Mansfield himself. He wishes me to find his daughter."

"I do not know where she went, sir. It is probable that she is with Miss Maddox."

"May I use the telephone?"

Reluctantly the butler ushered the enemy into the study and indicated the telephone.

The Maddox maid replied to the first call. No; Miss Mansfield had gone across to the Cathewes'. The second call was not answered, though he kept central busy for two or three minutes. Vaguely alarmed, he returned to the study. In the end he found himself in his own hallway, breathless with the chase.

Music. She had come to hear his mother play. This accounted for the unanswered telephone call.

CHAPTER XII

Love's Victory.

He opened the door of the living-room and stood on the threshold. Never before had he heard his mother play the "Fourth Ballade" with such fire and passion.

And the girl there, seated on the floor, her exquisite profile, against the dark wine of the rosewood, as beautifully defined as a cameo! Her eyes were closed in dreamy ecstasy.

Here, after what had taken place last night! There could be only one meaning: that she knew everything. Maddox! He had sent for the doctor and in some manner had forced the truth from him. On top of this came the recollection of the cub reporter's confession of having sent Betty a complete series of clippings. She had confronted Maddox with them, and the old fellow had told her the truth. And somehow he must prevail upon her never to let her father know. Here!—because she knew also that he was the author of those letters! Hadn't she come from Nancy's? Out of that abysmal gloom of two hours gone, his marvellous sunshine!

The performer dropped her hands. The piano was still singing as she turned her head.

"Sonny!"

Betty opened her eyes, and slowly rose to her feet, numb with an inexplicable terror, not unlike that which childhood finds in dark rooms. What had happened? This: it was the first time she had ever seen the man who had written those wonderful letters—the exquisite poems to the lily of this hour. She had come boldly into his house in the pursuit of happiness. She saw now the immodesty of the act. The knowledge sent all the blood into her heart, then flung it into her cheeks—burgundy in an alabaster cup. Always he would think that she had sought him. The shame of it!

She stood with her back to the piano, staring. Tableau. Then she reached backward, toward the bench, toward the arms she wanted, needed. She was afraid. She turned desperately—to find that she had been betrayed. The bench was vacant. Mrs. Cathewe had stolen quietly from the room.

"—. She has gone!" Betty stammered.

He crossed the room quickly, but he did not touch her. "There is no doubt in your mind?"

"Doubt of what?"—beginning to recover her poise.

"Of me? That I love you, that I loved you the first time I saw you?"

"Which of you three is talking?"

"Which of—What do you mean?" bewildered.

"Is it Brandon Cathewe, George Cottar, or Brandon Hallowell you can you care, just a little?"

"Only physically. For weeks I've been torn by wild horses."

"I'm glad of that!"—now sure of herself, of him, of all the world.

"Glad that I was unhappy?"

"Wasn't I unhappy, too? Didn't you jilt me?"

"Do you care?"

"Well—perhaps." A pause. "I'm beginning to wonder if you really wrote those letters."

"Why?"

"Well, the writer of those beautiful love letters wouldn't stand as you do, just asking questions."

"What would he do?" falling into her mood.

"He would sweep me into his arms, kiss me, put me on his horse and ride away—and ask questions!"

"Afterward?"

When she pressed back from him she was breathless. "And now I'm suspicious?"

"Suspicious?"

"You did that—overly well!"

"The wonder of you!"

She crept back into his arms, all her mischief gone. "Love me always like that—And don't be afraid of daddy."

"I'm not," he replied. "Your father has made all this possible. He sent me to you."

"He did? I love him! And he shall never know that I know. To want to do fine and noble things because he has learned to love me!" Another pause. "Is there anything now on Jupiter you want?"

There was only one way to answer that.

[THE END.]

Marble is not rigid; a slab under slow heavy pressure will bend like stiff tar or wax.

HUNTERS FAIL TO THIN OUT WILDCATS

Little Hope of Clearing Forest of Beasts.

Olympia, Wash.—Not in one hundred years will the cougar, or bobcat, be banished from the forests of the northwest states is the opinion of state and government predatory animal hunters.

Scores of these are killed in every section of the Northwest each year, yet every spring fills the depleted ranks with playful kittens, potential game and livestock destroyers. For a long time to come the cougar will continue to flourish in the rugged wooded parts, chiefly because that, catlike, it is the king of stalkers; dines on a great variety of meat, and can only be successfully hunted by the use of cleverly trained trailing dogs.

The destruction of cougars by pest hunters varies widely over the western states. In Whatcom county, Washington, last year, 139 were brought in for bounties; 135 were slain in Wasco county, Oregon, in 21 months, while provincial agents in British Columbia report the destruction of 1,087 the last 12 months.

In Mariel county, Oregon, Hathaway Jones, hunter and trapper, claims to have killed over 100 mountain lions in his time, while Lester Wagner of Skagit county, Washington, has skins to prove the destroying of 187 bobcats.

No matter what name the cougar is called in various parts of the West, it is the same animal, stealthily invading domestic herds or preying cunningly on deer, young elk, small animals and game birds. In Washington and Oregon the animal is called the cougar; California and New Mexico use the title mountain lion; Canada, the catamount; Colorado and Texas the puma; Montana and Idaho simply designate it as the wildcat.

By any name the animal is well named, living up to every reputation attached to it, plying its destructiveness and rearing a family secretly on the border of the agricultural and grazing country. Waste, hilly, forested land with piles of loosely cast-up rocks is the favorite hiding place of the pussy-footed prowler.

Paris.—A blood test is the really modern way to determine whether a staggering gentleman is really drunk. Striking proof that this is more certain than the old-time police method of making a suspect walk a chalk line has been accepted by the Paris courts.

It is true that the experiment in this case was on a dead man, but chemists say the method will work as well on a live one. A motorist ran into a pedestrian who staggered into the car's right of way. The man was killed. There were no eye-witnesses, but the driver demanded an autopsy.

Leon Boun, an expert chemist attached to the courts, analyzed the victim's blood and found alcohol in sufficient quantity to indicate the man had drunk about four quarts of wine to 10 per cent alcoholic content. That made four-fifths of a pint of pure alcohol, which, the judges agreed, was enough to make the hardest drinker disregard traffic regulations.

Paris Uses Blood Test as Gauge for Drunkard

Standardizing Utensils

Hoped for German Woman

Berlin.—Asserting that the business of housekeeping, while employing the largest number of "hands" of any "industry," is the most disorganized in Germany, Dr. Marie-Elizabeth Lueders, feminist and democratic Reichstag deputy, has started a campaign for the standardization of household utensils as the first step to greater efficiency and less drudgery in the home.

"There are seventy-two different coffee mills on the market," Doctor Lueders said by way of illustration. "Six machines would gratify every whim of housewives. If manufacturers concentrated on putting out just six mills, prices would fall and a better product would result."

Monopoly on Emeralds Held by Soviet Russia

Moscow.—Russia now has practically a monopoly of the world's supply of emeralds, according to Manager Kasatkina of the government trust for export of Russian colored stones. An emerald mine in the Ural mountains, he said, one of the only two such mines in existence, has been put back in operation. It was owned by a French concern before the Russian revolution, he said, and was flooded by its French owners when the Soviet officials came to confiscate it. Soviet workmen recently pumped it out.

Begins Walk Around World With Barrow

New York.—Traveling on foot and pushing a wheelbarrow, Dennis McGrenery is "biking" around the world. He plans to earn his way as he walks and intends to visit every continent, completing the tour in about three and one-half years.

Three years ago McGrenery pushed a wheelbarrow to which he was chained from Philadelphia to San Francisco, Calif., making the trip in 139 days.

Buried Treasure

By ELMO SCOTT WATSON Drawing by Ray Walters.

HO said that Iromance is dead in these modern days, in this year A. D. 1927?

Pieces of eight! Doubloons! Treasures of the Spanish Main! Pirate gold! BURIED TREASURES!

Do those words bring back memories to you—memories of your boyhood days when you first read Stevenson's "Treasure Island"? That was long ago, perhaps, and yet—

Here are three dispatches which have appeared in our newspapers within the last few weeks. Read them and see if they don't give you a sort of thrill!

NEW YORK.—Residents of Asbury Park and nearby villages are warning up to a hunt for pirate treasure as the result of the discovery by Percival G. Ullman, Jr., of No. 96 Lake street, Asbury Park, in that city of a fossilized boat of the type worn by swash-bucklers two centuries ago. Embedded in the rock-encrusted boat Ullman found a woman's gold ring, set with a large pearl.

The boat was found near the spot where a flintlock carbine was picked up a month ago. A band of sea marauders, led by a woman, took refuge at the spot. The woman cut her hair short and was a ruthless plunderer, the original "bobbed-hair bandit."

The boat was found near the spot where a flintlock carbine was picked up a month ago. A band of sea marauders, led by a woman, took refuge at the spot. The woman cut her hair short and was a ruthless plunderer, the original "bobbed-hair bandit."

kept and were in the possession of the Russian quartermaster of the pirate ship until he died in the Far East.

Night expeditions were made to find the treasure between 1890 and 1892, but most of them never reached the desolate coast of the island. Those that did found that the landmarks, marked on the map, had been wiped out by a landslide.

"Robert Louis Stevenson used the place as the scene of 'Treasure Island,'" Simmons says, "but the plunder found in fiction really is still there."

Such items are not at all uncommon in our newspapers and probably will continue to appear therein for many years to come. For, among our most cherished traditions is the belief that every pirate who sailed the main at some time in his career buried a part of his loot somewhere and never recovered it. And there (wherever "there" is) lies to this day awaiting the lucky discoverer, whom through blind chance or because he comes across some old document which puts him on the trail, it will enrich beyond his wildest dreams. As a matter of fact it is more likely that the average pirate squandered more of his ill-gotten gains than he ever buried, that not one in ten of all the stories of buried treasure have the slightest foundation in fact and that more money has been spent in the efforts to find this hidden wealth than all the treasure which all the pirates in history ever buried is worth.

But these facts, even if they could be definitely established, probably would fall to dim the lure of the supposed buried treasure nor dampen the enthusiasm of those who go out to seek it. That lure and that enthusiasm are based upon a universal human weakness—the "get-rich-quick" desire. Perhaps Edgar Allen Poe is as much responsible as any one for nourishing the buried treasure angle of that desire. So long as the tradition of hidden treasure on our coasts persists and so long as his "Gold Bug" is read by successive generations of Americans, so long will we have the great American sport of hunting pirate gold.

Only a year or so ago a Canadian announced his invention of the metalophone, an electrical "Gold Bug," which could detect the presence of buried metals even though they were concealed beneath more than 50 feet of solid rock. Immediately the word went out that the metalophone was to be used to find the buried treasure on the historic Cocos island, which lies in the Pacific ocean about 500 miles southwest of Costa Rica and which was a favorite lair of pirates in the old freebooting days. In fact Cocos island has been a magnet for treasure seekers for many years because there is an apparently well-authenticated story that the mutinous crew of the British ship Mary Dear hid on the island treasure valued at $12,000,000 (some accounts put it at $25,000,000 and others at $90,000,000) more than a hundred years ago. Soon afterwards the secret leaked out and scarcely a year has passed since that time that someone has not tried to uncover this vast wealth. As late as 1925 a party of British scientists set out for that purpose, but if they or anyone else have been successful, the world is yet to hear of it.

The treasure which the famous Captain Kidd is supposed to have buried somewhere along the New England coast is nearly as famous and as much sought after as the Cocos island wealth. It is true that he did bury a part of his loot on Gardner's Island, off Montauk point on Long Island, N. Y., when he returned from his trip a-spiriting, but that was covered soon after his arrest. A part of all of Captain Kidd's gold that has ever been recovered.

The famous Blackbeard is said to have buried part of his practical wealth in New Jersey. Wherefore "gold diggers" have made the dirt fly at various places in New Jersey but more particularly at Burlington. Legend says that Sir Henry Morgan hid part of his loot beneath the soft of Oak island, off the coast of Maine, and more than $200,000 has been spent from time to time digging on Oak island to recover it. So far the net result has been nothing.

The gold of Jean Lafitte has kept treasure seekers busy at various places along the coast of Louisiana and Texas. This legend is almost a perfect buried-treasure yarn. There is a document, bequeathed by a father, about to die, to his son, bearing the date of 1815, which tells of the burial by Lafitte and his men of 70,000 doubloons and a bar of silver. It is signed by a number of the pirate's followers and has as its seal the usual pirate marks, the skull and crossbones and a dagger. There occur also the words "mutiny," "cruelty" and "inquisition" and on the other side is a rude map which is the key to the location of the hoard. There is a story of a party of men who stumbled upon the place where they were sure that the treasure was buried, then went back to get spades to dig and could not find the place again. So there (wherever "there" is) lies Lafitte's buried treasure worth $1,120,000 for someone.

But, in the argot of the day, "try and get it."

T. R.'s Diplomacy

"I remember once, while serving as a correspondent in Washington," said Sam Langdon of St. Louis, "how I chanced to be present at a diplomatic conference in which intrigue and guile were so manifest as to be almost an affront. Finally Mr. Roosevelt, having stood it as long as he could, jumped to his feet and exclaimed: "Gentlemen, you can't get away with it! Let me say in plain United States,

Harsh Puritanism

In 1650 the Puritans, through the general court of Massachusetts, are said to have enacted an ordinance providing "that everybody who is found observing by abstinance from labor, feasting or otherwise, any such day as Christmas day, shall for every such offense be fined 5 shillings."

First Golf Club

The first golf club used on the first golf course west of the Mississippi is to be enshrined in a place of honor at the Wichita Country club. Prof. C. P. Clark was the first one to introduce golf to the residents of this city in Kansas.

Which is Worse?

We ask you, man to man, which is worse, profanity, or declaring that something is "perfectly darling?"—Little Rock Democrat.

FINNEY OF THE FORCE

By F. O. Alexander

To Be Exact

FOLKS WE ALL KNOW

Is the Wild Rabbit going to bite the Hunter? Well, hardly, but he isn't Skeered, for the Hunter has shot at and Missed him a dozen times the past two years. The Hunter will walk twenty-two miles and kill a Sparrow, two Ground Hogs and a Farmer's Cow, Tomorrow, he will be all Lamed Up.

THE FEATHERHEADS

By Osborne

The Family Dollar

BILL SAM'S DICTIONARY

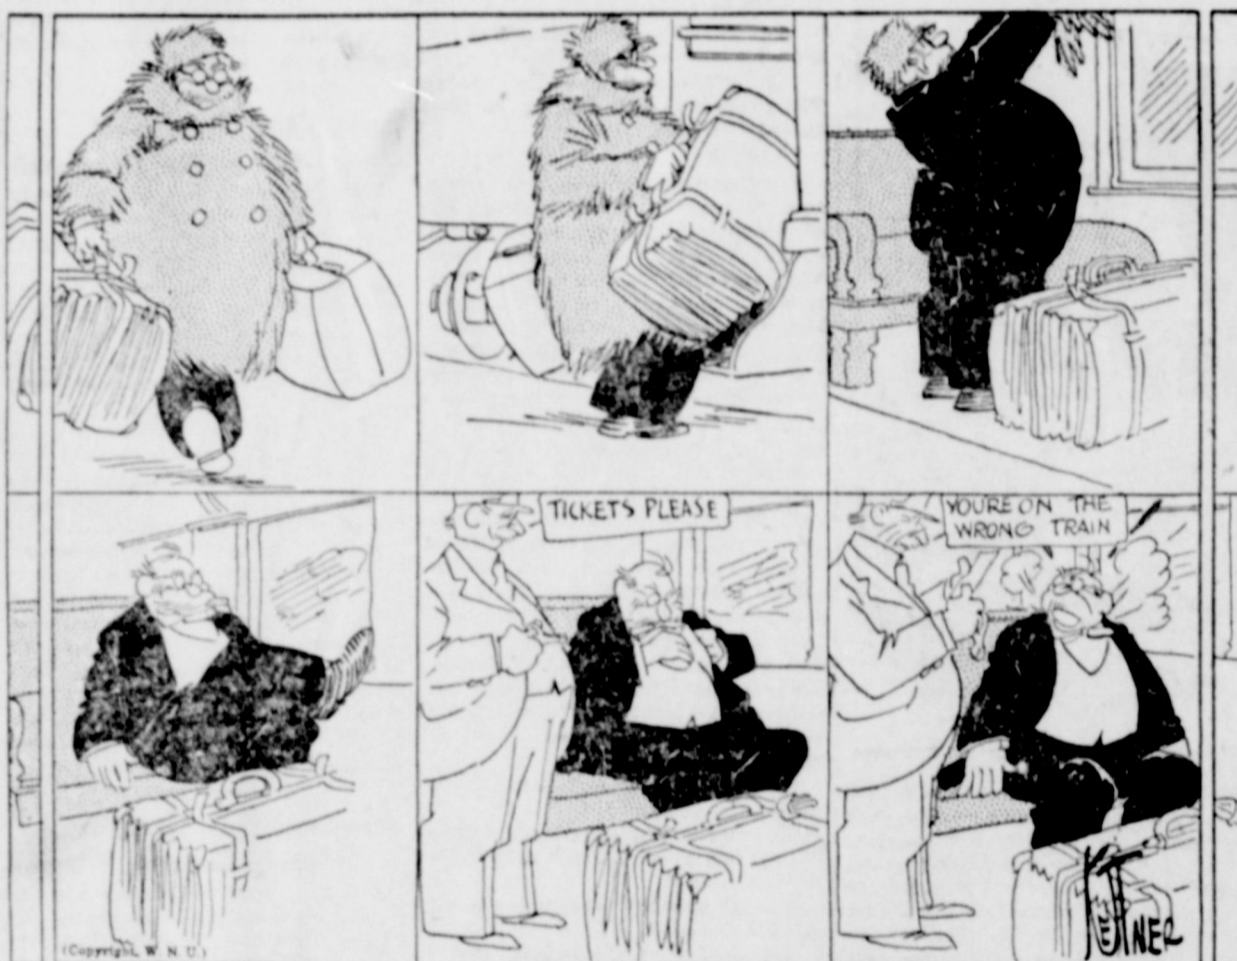

By J. L. MARTIN
Lem Gardener plants a new kind of carrot every year on the recommendation of some seed house, but I have never failed to take notice to it that Lem's old cow is the only member of the Gardener family that will eat them.
CARROT: A connecting link between a weed and a vegetable. Bill Sam's Dictionary, page 214.

Events in the Lives of Little Men

Our Pet Peeve

TURN ME OVER

HE'S RIGHT, TOO

"I just told the boss this office was like an oven."
"What did he say?"
"He said, 'Well it ought to be, this is where I make my daily bread.'"

MICKIE, THE PRINTER'S DEVIL

By Charles Sughrow

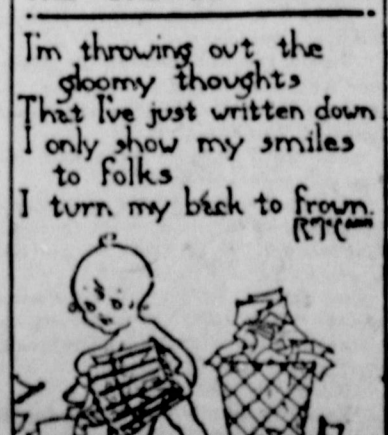

Paw and Maw

The Clancy Kids
At Last Chippie Has a Sip from the Cup of Success
By PERCY L. CROSBY
Copyright, by the Clancy Newspaper Syndicate

THE CHEERFUL CHERUB

CHILDREN CRY FOR "CASTORIA"

Especially Prepared for Infants and Children of All Ages

Mother! Fletcher's Castoria has been in use for over 30 years to relieve babies and children of Constipation, Flatulency, Wind Colic and Diarrhea; allaying Feverishness arising therefrom, and, by regulating the Stomach and Bowels, aids the assimilation of Food; giving natural sleep without opiates.

The genuine bears signature of

Chas. H. Fletcher.

if your horse has a Cough, Cold or Distemper, write today for a Free Sample Bottle SPOHN'S DISTEMPER COMPOUND

Send $1.00 at Drug Store—Write for free booklet Spohn Medical Co., Dept. 2, Goshen, Indiana

The Proposition

"He certainly gets a lot of fun out of that old car of his."
"You are perfectly correct. He doesn't get much in it."

Special Offer to Victims of Indigestion

Your Druggist Says Pleasant to Take, Elixir Must Help Poor Distressed Stomachs or Money Gladly Refunded.

You can be so distressed with gas and fullness from poor digestion or dyspepsia that you think your heart is going to stop beating.

Your stomach may be so distended that your breathing is short and gaspy. You are dizzy and pray for quick relief—what's to be done.

Just one tablespoonful of Dare's Mentha Elixir will speedily the gas disappears, the pressing on the heart ceases and you can breathe deep and naturally.

Oh! What blessed relief; but why not get rid of such attacks altogether? Why have them at all?

Especially when many druggists anywhere guarantee Dare's Mentha Elixir, a pleasant elixir, to help you or money back.

Love is responsible for a good many frosts in winter and for a few hot waves in summer.

A good habit to get over—despising people.

Don't Fuss With Mustard Plasters!

Don't mix a mess of mustard, flour and water when you can relieve pain, soreness or stiffness with a little clean, white Musterole.

Musterole is made of pure oil of mustard and other beneficial ingredients, and takes the place of mustard plasters.

Musterole usually gives prompt relief from sore throat, bronchitis, tonsillitis, croup, stiff neck, asthma, neuralgia, headache, congestion, pleurisy, rheumatism, lumbago, pains and aches of the back or joints, sprains, sore muscles, bruises, chilblains, frosted feet, colds of the chest (it may prevent pneumonia).

Jars & Tubes

MUSTEROLE
WILL NOT BLISTER
Better than a mustard plaster

Few men will admit being wrong as long as there is a chance to make others believe they are right.

Keep Eliminative System Active

Good Health Requires Good Elimination.

ONE can't feel well when there is a retention of poisonous waste in the blood. This is called a toxic condition, and is apt to make one tired, dull and languid. Other symptoms are sometimes toxic backaches and headaches. That the kidneys are not functioning properly is often shown by scanty or burning passage of secretions. Many people have learned the value of Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, when the kidneys seem functionally inactive. Everywhere one finds enthusiastic Doan's users. Ask your neighbor!

DOAN'S PILLS 60c

Stimulant Diuretic to the Kidneys
Doan's Pills, Co., Mfg. Chemists, Buffalo, N. Y.

Colds

Your throat soothed, head cleared, cough relieved—by the exclusive menthol blend in

LUDEN'S MENTHOL COUGH DROPS

TEXAS NEWS IN PARAGRAPHS

Work on paving the court house square in Lufkin is making considerable progress.

The Woman's Study Club of Sinton has perfected plans for sponsoring a library movement.

The fall term of the Anderson County district court came to a close at Palestine Saturday.

Fifty aliens are held at present in the Nueces County jail at Corpus Christi for deportation.

Work is to begin at once on the erection of a bridge across the Arroyo Colorado near Rio Hondo.

During January 5,019,277 people rode the buses and street cars in Houston, according to figures just compiled.

Three of the six prisoners who escaped from the Bell County jail have been recaptured and returned to jail at Belton.

Work of excavating Corpus Christi streets preparatory to the paving of its entire length is under way at the present time.

Mercedes shipped the first apparatus to go on the 1927 market last week, 20 to 40 days, it is said, ahead of any other producing center.

April 8-9 are dates set for the Valley Intercollegiate League meet which will be held at McAllen, at which time literary and athletic events will be staged.

The construction of a second large power dam in DeWitt County to be located below Thomaston and about 12 miles from Cuero on the Guadalupe River, is to begin within 90 days.

The farm territory in DeWitt and Lavaca counties, in the approximate center of which Yoakum is located, had gained from the 1926 crop, over 60,000 bales up to the middle of January.

El Paso won its fight for the 1927 convention of the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, by vote of the board of directors of the federation, in the midwinter business session recently held at Fort Worth.

A movement is being launched by the Shiner Commercial Club to wage a campaign for more and better cows and poultry and an effort will be made to have a county demonstrator appointed for the place.

Farmers and truck growers of the Johnson's Bayou vicinity are making extensive preparations to increase their truck crops this year on account of the establishment of the big canning factory at Orange.

Houston has secured the 1928 international master painters convention, which will bring between 1200 and 1500 delegates to that city next spring from all the large cities of the United States and Canada.

Freight rate on crude petroleum in carloads between Edrivers, Santa Rita, Fort Worth, Gates, Harrys and Oriental and intermediate points has been fixed at 16 cents per 100 pounds by the state railroad commission.

At a recent meeting of the Gonzalez City Council, the city tax rate was fixed at $1.40, apportioned as follows: general fund 86 cents, school building bonds 7 cents; sewer warrants 12 cents, street warrants 35 cents.

Reduction in cotton acreage next year under the present total will not exceed 10 per cent, despite the intensive campaign being carried on, George B. Terrell, state commissioner of agriculture, predicted this week.

High prices are being paid in East Texas for black walnut timber which is now greatly in demand because of the popularity of walnut veneering for household furniture and of walnut timber for more expensive interior finishing.

Live stock have been better cared for in Texas during the past winter than ever before, according to a government agricultural bulletin, just issued. Feed and grass is cheap and abundant, and the winter has been unusually mild.

A total of 198 cars of freight were received at Mercedes during the month of January, including 95 cars of building materials. Forty-seven carlot shipments were sand and gravel, two steel, 16 cement, 13 lumber, nine brick and eight tile.

Farmers of the Weimar vicinity are entering upon their spring work with greater energy than they have manifested for many years. Practically all of the land that will be cultivated this year has been plowed and farmers are now busy planting corn.

The last obstacle in the way of procuring the right-of-way for the interstate canal will be removed if a bill passed by the senate recently, authorizing counties along the gulf to issue bonds for the purpose of purchasing right-of-way, becomes a law.

A new enterprise for Navasota will be a sweet potato curing plant with a capacity of between 10,000 and 15,000 bushels. Enough citizens have expressed themselves sufficiently interested to make the venture a success and the next step is to secure pledges from farmers for acreage.

Just a Little Smile

HE'S ALL AROUND

"How is it I never can find you when I want you?" asked the office manager. "First you're in the stockroom, then in the factory, then down in the shipping department, and now here you are up on the roof. What's the big idea?"

"Well," answered the new office boy, "you advertised for an all-around boy—and that's me."—Christian Science Monitor.

DAD LEARNS SO MUCH

Dad—There's great advantage in having a son in college.
Friend—How so?
Dad—I learn so much.

Unreasonable Impulse

Manlike is not adjusted right. Conditions allus was so; Nobody really wants to fight, Yet everybody does so!

In Action

Traveler—Yes, just as I was settled comfortably in my tent I heard the screech and yowl of a wild cat.
Friend—Why didn't you serve it as you do the cats at home and throw your shoe at it?
Traveler—Because my shoes were extremely busy about that time.

A New Synonym

Brown recognized a friend in the cafeteria. "Hello, Jim," he said. "What are you lurching on today?"
"Efficiency."
"Quit your kidding! What d'you mean, efficiency?"
"Everything in one movement of the elbow—hush!"

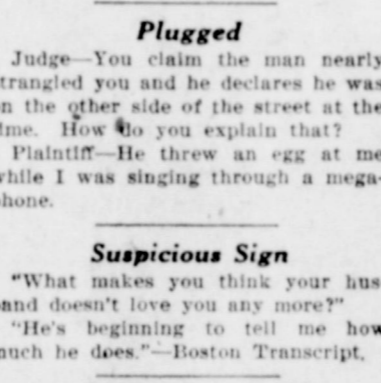

Plugged

Judge—You claim the man nearly strangled you and he declares he was on the other side of the street at the time. How do you explain that?
Plaintiff—He threw an egg at me while I was singing through a megaphone.

Suspicious Sign

"What makes you think your husband doesn't love you any more?"
"He's beginning to tell me how much he does."—Boston Transcript.

HARD LUCK

Disconsolate Wooden Soldier—He can a fellow "end it all" when he won't sink?

Inventors, Notice!

Now will that clever dispenser of joy who gave mother a permanent wave, Give us a permanent bath for the boy And father a permanent shave?

Applied Politeness

Mother (severely)—But why didn't you tell the young man to stop kissing you?
Daughter—Why, mother, you know you taught me never to interrupt anyone.

Positive Proof

Suspicious Friend—Are you perfectly sure your husband does go fishing?
Wife—Oh, quite, my dear—he never brings home any fish!

Delightfully Placed

Miss Fayre—Good evening, Jack! We were just talking about you and your name was on my lips when you were announced.
Jack—Indeed! Then I'm sure my name could not have been more delightfully placed.

All of It

Parachute Jumper—Oh, I don't mind it at all, but of course I'd hate to spend my life jumping from airplanes.
Friend—You probably will some day.

VALUABLE FURS FROM FAR NORTH

Season in Alaska Is Reported to Be Good.

Seattle, Wash.—Smelling of the wilderness and the smoke of trappers' cabins, large bales of valuable furs are arriving here from the far Northwest to a reception by greedy fur buyers, representing a pet-hungry market in New York and London.

There are thousands of mink, muskrat and ermine; large numbers of otter, lynx and beaver; fewer marten and wolf, with a heavy sprinkling of the various-hued foxes.

Trappers report a good season in Alaska, Yukon territory and northwest Canada. Fur bearers increased the last year at an amazing rate because of the abundance of hares, birds and other natural food sources.

The trapping season is about one-third over in Alaska and the Yukon country, while in the Arctic reaches it has just begun.

Prices for all kinds of fur are steady with a tendency upward as is justified by the quality of the offerings. Practically all the furs shipped here are dispatched at once to eastern manufacturing centers for immediate use. The amount of furs on hand in apparel shops in New York is the smallest in years, due to the heavy demand for garments so adorned.

The Seattle fur exchange held its monthly fur sale recently, at which time the largest collection of northwest and Siberian furs ever assembled here was sold. The value of the pelts ran close to $1,000,000.

This winter, declare fur buyers, the quality of peltries is far above the average.

There is no slowing down in the demand for furs, so dealers expect higher prices in retail centers.

South African Observer Finds Year's First Comet

Cambridge, Mass.—The first comet of 1927 was found by an amateur astronomer in South Africa on the eve of the first anniversary of his discovery of the second comet of 1926.

According to advices reaching Dr. Harlow Shapley, director of the Harvard college observatory here, from the International Bureau of Astronomical Telegrams of Copenhagen, Denmark, the amateur, Hathway, by name, picked up a sixth magnitude comet on Thursday, January 13. It was on January 16, 1928, that he discovered the first comet, which was named after him.

When he located the new visitor early on the morning of January 13, it was in the constellation of Scorpio, which can be seen low in the south-eastern sky just before sunrise at this time of year. Astronomically its position at the time of discovery is expressed as 15 hours 44 minutes right ascension, and 29 degrees 46 minutes south declination. It was moving to the southeast, which makes it still lower in the sky for American observers, so probably no observers in northern countries will be able to see it at all. At Braunfontein, near Johannesburg, however, it is now almost directly overhead at sunrise, and though it is too faint to be seen except with a telescope, it will probably be observed by other observers in the southern hemisphere.

Bees Bring Wealth Out of Vast Swamp

Waycross, Ga.—Though never fully explored by man, Okefenokee swamp, known to the Indians as the land of trembling earth, has been encompassed by an industry of 400,000,000 tiny workers.

The last link of a 200-mile chain of beehives has just been completed within the 600 square miles of spongy land, located in southern Georgia and northern Florida. Abounding in thousands of flowers, gail berries, tupelo and black gums and red bays, the swamp now supplies a large part of the honey in eastern and southern markets.

Besides the treacherous earth, the beekeepers have other obstacles. Bears have learned to protect themselves from the bees while, artfully their appetite for honey. After smearing their bodies with rosin fresh from pine trees, the bears wallow in mud, giving themselves an armor the bees cannot penetrate.

Try This Puzzler; It's Too Much for Arkansans

Little Rock, Ark.—Persons now in the employ of the state evidently are not mathematically or technically minded persons, according to Governor Martineau, who has a problem on his hands that nobody has been able to solve.

A Craighead county farmer wrote him to find out how much corn he has in his crib. He evidently believed that the governor was the man to apply to, for he recited that he wanted an answer "under the Arkansas law."

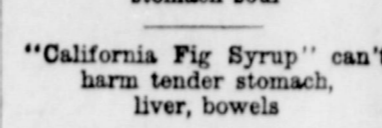

The dimensions of the crib, which is full of corn in the husk, are:

Length, 40 feet; width at bottom, 10 feet; width at top, 11 feet 9 inches; depth of corn, 6 1/2 feet.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS OR CONSTIPATED

Look, Mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour

"California Fig Syrup" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Fig Syrup," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without gripping.

When cross, irritable, feverish, or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless, "fruity laxative" and in a few hours all the foul, constipated waste, sour bile and undigested food passes out of the bowels, and you have a well, playful child again.

The little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember, a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Fig Syrup" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Fig Syrup," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeits sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine, sold by "California Fig Syrup Company."

More "Nature Trails"

Nature trails, specially laid out plans in state parks and similar areas, with bits of scientific information printed on tags fastened to trees and flowers and animal homes for the benefit of those who walk them, are becoming increasingly popular in the United States, according to Dr. Frank E. Lutz of the American Museum of Natural History.

Doctor Lutz originated the system in a nature trail which he laid out in the Palisades Interstate park at Tuxedo, N. Y., and has assisted the national park service in getting similar trails marked in Yellowstone and other national parks in the West. He states that he expects 200 nature trails to be in operation during the coming summer.

Short Circuit

Len—Clark calls himself a human dynamo.
Dun—Well, why shouldn't he? Everything he has on is charged.—Washington Star.

"DANDELION BUTTER COLOR"

A harmless vegetable butter color used by millions for 50 years. Drug stores and general stores sell bottles of "Dandelion" for 35 cents.—Adv.

Chromium-plated printing plates, used to print labels, have given over a million impressions without showing signs of wear.

PERMANENT RELIEF FOR ECZEMA

Unless by noted doctor 48 yrs. Don't order unless you will follow directions. Send $1.00 to MADDEN COMPANY, Box 872, El Paso, Texas, for full information.—Adv.

If you would get up with the lark you must go to bed without one.

Insist on having Dr. Pease's "Dead Shot" for Worms of Tapeworms and the Druggist will set it for you. 272 Pearl St., N. Y., Adv.

Many a man's excessive cheek is due to the toothache.

Genuine BAYER ASPIRIN

SAY "BAYER ASPIRIN" and INSIST!

Proved safe by millions and prescribed by physicians for

Colds Headache Neuritis Lumbago
Pain Neuralgia Toothache Rheumatism

DOES NOT AFFECT THE HEART

Safe

Accept only "Bayer" package which contains proven directions. Handy "Bayer" boxes of 12 tablets. Also bottles of 24 and 100—Druggists.

Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monacopoland of Salzigland

Of making books there is no end—otherwise there would be fewer racks. Even excuses that are made to order are not always satisfactory.

Good Health Keeps a Man Young!

Marshall, Texas.—I have taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery off and on and I can say it is what it is claimed to be—a good blood enricher and general tonic, and I found it a splendid stomach medicine.

"I have known about Dr. Pierce's remedies for years and I know they are all good."—M. M. Elder, 404 Willow St. All dealers. Tablets or liquid. Correct your stomach and improve your health with this "Discovery" of Dr. Pierce. Strength and vigorous vitality will follow. Write Dr. Pierce, President Invalids' Hotel in Buffalo, N. Y., for free advice.

Before we were married my sweet-heart seemed the most bland and placid person one might ever hope to meet, so it was quite a shock when about two weeks afterward I heard some one indulging in a violent spell of profanity and discovered it was my own dear husband changing a tire.—G. M., in Chicago-Tribune.

Nothing Like It

The failure of H. G. Wells' voluminous new novel led Arbutnot Lane, the noted critic, to say in a Pittsburgh lecture: "All writers write badly, once they attain to an income of $50,000 a year. Look at Bernard Shaw. Look at Maeterlinck. Look at Sinclair Lewis and Floyd Dell."

"Mr. Lane's eyes twinkled.

"Nothing falls like success," he said.

"Purges" and "Physics" Bad for Old Folks

Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

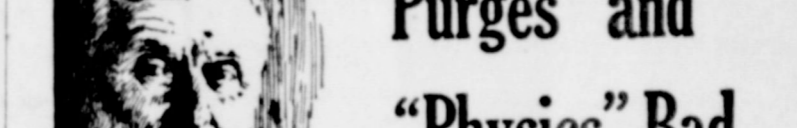

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, enemas and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

Dr. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

While Dr. W. B. Caldwell, of Monticello, Ill., a practicing physician for 47 years, knew that constipation was the curse of advancing age, he did not believe that a "purge" or "physic" every little while was necessary.

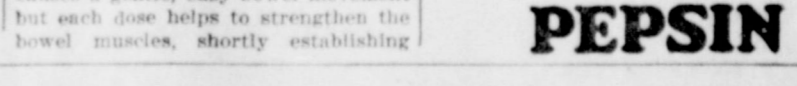

To him, it seemed cruel that so many constipated old people had to be kept constantly "stirred up" and half sick by taking cathartic pills, tablets, salts, enemas and nasty oils.

In Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin he discovered a laxative which helps to "regulate" the bowels of old folks. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin not only causes a gentle, easy bowel movement but each dose helps to strengthen the bowel muscles, shortly establishing natural "regularity." It never gripes, sickens, or upsets the system. Besides, it is absolutely harmless and pleasant to take.

If past fifty, buy a large 60-cent bottle at any store that sells medicine or write "Syrup Pepsin," Monticello, Illinois, for a FREE SAMPLE BOTTLE and just see for yourself.

Dr. Caldwell's SYRUP PEPSIN

Dr. W. B. CALDWELL AT THE AGE OF 83

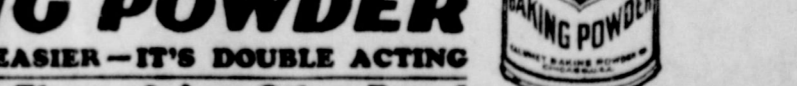

ECONOMY

in price—in use—one spoonful equals two of many other brands—prevents waste of baking materials. It never fails.

CALUMET THE WORLD'S GREATEST BAKING POWDER

MAKES BAKING EASIER—IT'S DOUBLE ACTING

Sales 2 1/2 Times Those of Any Other Brand

FOODS TO PLEASE

Our customers may be certain that our stock of Groceries—staple and fancy—Fresh Fruits—Vegetables—are of the finest and that our price and service will please. We offer pure Foods at reasonable prices.

Phone No. 35

W. H. Farley

The Store of General Merchandise

You Can

sharpen your razor blades in ten seconds if you use a Valet Auto Strop Razor—the only razor that sharpens its own blades. $1 up to $25.

Valet Auto Strop Razor
—Sharpens Itself

Sanderson Market

Fresh and Cured Meats

Fresh Vegetables and Fruits

Fish and Oysters in Season

SAM M. SPEAR, Prop.

"We appreciate your business"

CHURCH OF CHRIST

At Your Service

Every Lord's Day two services, 10:30 a. m. and 7 p. m.

Welcome.

The word was made flesh and dwelt among us

Saint John 1-14

Peter R. Gorman, D. C.

Chiropractor

Palmist Method Graduate T. C. C.

Office at Tom Parson's Residence

E. F. Howard

Agent For Good Reliable FIRE INSURANCE COMPANIES Your Business will be Appreciated

Royal Beauty Shoppe

All New Methods

Hair Cutting

Hair Dressing

Marcelling

Scalop Treatments

Shampooing

Facials

Manicures

BARBER SHOP OPEN 8 to 6

BEAUTY SHOPPE OPEN 9-4

Other Hours by Appointment

Highway Lunch Room

Short Orders a Speciality

A Good Place to Eat

W. H. Doty

PHYSICIAN AND SURGEON

Office at Sanderson Drug Co.

Calls may be left at the Drug Store

Office Phone No. 1

Residence Phone No. 73

Princess Theatre

Program for week beginning

FRIDAY

February 18

"King on Main St."

Adolpha Menjov and Greta Mason

A story of Night Life in N. Y.

SATURDAY

February 19

Complete change of program.

Showing "THE BEST PEOPLE"

Also a very extraordinary minstrel Show direct from Broadway

Milos Minstrels

Both Shows for the price of one

MONDAY and TUESDAY:

FEBRUARY 21 and 22

"The Scarlet Saint"

This is a very interesting show.

It is different from the usual run of pictures. And that is what we all want something different.

WED. and TH.

FEBRUARY 23 and 24

"THANK YOU"

Stark Bros. A Religious picture.

A story that just fits this town exactly. A young preacher who has to thank his laymen for everything he gets.

—Apartment For Rent—At the Cargile Apartments. See Mrs. A. E. Steinmetz. 14 p.

—Get the best and cheapest. Peerless fence sold in Texas exclusively through C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

LOST—

A new basket ball with initials R. K. on it. Lost between 3-mile and Big Hill. Finder please return same to Jim Kerr and receive reward.

NOTICE!

Dr. A. Hodges, Dentist, has arrived in Sanderson and will have his office across the street from the Bohman Confectionery. Make your appointments early. 2-4

Say Fellows!

—It's time to get that Spring suit.

EMPIRE TAILORS.

NOTICE!

Both our ranches have been made State Game Reserves. Anyone hunting thereon is subject to prosecution by State Law. T. M. PYLE, CHAS. DOWNIE.

—I am better able to handle your fence problems now than ever before. A large factory set aside to handle my business first. Plenty capital to finance your fence deals. Write me. C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

Plaiting: skirts, panels, ruffles; hemstitching; covered button tailored buttonholes. Mrs. H. S. Houston, Uvalde, Texas.

How Doctors Treat Colds and the Flu

To break up a cold overnight or to cut short an attack of grippe, influenza, sore throat or tonsillitis, physicians and druggists are now recommending Colobac, the purified and refined calcium compound tablet that gives you the effects of colored salts combined, without the unpleasant effects of salts.

One or two Colobacs at bedtime with a swallow of water—thats all. No salts, no nausea, no interference with your eating, work or pleasure. Next morning you will have vanished, your system is thoroughly purified and you are feeling fine with a hearty appetite for breakfast. Eat what you please—no danger.

Get a family package, containing full directions, only 25 cts. At any drug store. (adv)

THE SANDERSON TIMES

Official and Only Paper Published in Fergel County

$2 per year payable in advance

MR. AND MRS. M. A. BOLING

Owners, Publishers & Editors

Entered second class matter July 22nd, 1908, at the post office, Sanderson, Texas, under the Act of March 3, 1879.

NOTICE.

Commencing at once we will charge 50c for all night calls to put in fuses, plus cost of fuses; all day calls for replacing fuses 25c. Remember it is easy to do this yourself and you will save the company time and money by doing it yourself. This only applies to house lighting, we will still take care of all store services.

Texas Louisiana Power Co.

—I will give you wholesale prices on Peerless fence delivered anywhere in America. I do not sell dealers but will give ranchmen wholesale prices. C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

Personal Pointers

Mrs. Ray Caldwell and Mrs. Lewis Lemons left Sunday for Lytle where they will visit Mr. and Mrs. George Chapman.

Mrs. D. L. Duke and son, "Stump" Jr., returned from San Antonio Tuesday.

Mrs. Leroy Grigsby and son of Del Rio are the guests of Mrs. Lee Grigsby this week.

Mrs. A. C. Clatfelter of El Paso spent the week end as the guest of Mrs. S. C. Bookin.

H. A. Holmes who has been in a hospital in San Antonio the past few weeks due to an appendicitis operation returned home last Thursday.

RATTLE OF RAIL

The new tracks over the bridge west end of the yards are now in operation, and the main line wooden bridge has been torn out. Gangs are now working on completion of concrete work which when finished will make a solid concrete bridge with main line and three other tracks across same.

A Raymond-Whitecomb excursion train passed through going west Monday morning.

Fireman Fred Talbot has been quite sick the past week.

Love and Mystery

The GIRL in the MIRROR

By Elizabeth Jordan

Here is a mystery story of the happy sort, nothing morbid about it, even in its treatment of dark deeds and sinister individuals. The lives and love of two charmingly agreeable young people are entangled with a deep mystery, a mystery so keen that, read in a book, one could hardly avoid the temptation to consult the last pages long before the middle ones were passed; hence, just the sort of tale to be read serially, so that one cannot spoil the big surprise by trying to learn the outcome before it is due.

THIS CLEVER STORY WILL START

THE SANDERSON TIMES

February 25

SOCIETY

Mrs. L. H. Lemons entertained the Night Bridge Club at her home last Thursday. The decorations were suggestive of St. Valentine's Day. High scores for the evening were made by Mrs. H. R. Laurence and Mr. Max Bogusch. Delicious refreshments consisting of chicken sandwiches, olives, cake and coffee were served.

Miss Clara Hord was hostess to the members of senior and junior classes at her home Friday evening, February 4. Bunco was the diversion of the evening, high score being made by Miss Willie Mae Green. Refreshments of bread and butter sandwiches, potato-salmon salad and hot chocolate were served.

Mrs. S. A. Kernal was hostess to several friends at the Kerr Hotel last Saturday afternoon when she entertained with bridge. The high score prize, a hand embroidered luncheon set was won by Mrs. Ed Downie; while Mrs. Lee Kokernot was awarded the second high score prize, a box of stationery. Delicious white cake and coffee was served.

Mrs. C. H. Mulkey was hostess to several friends at her home last Friday evening when she entertained at bridge. Valentine motif was carried out. Following several games Mrs. Tom Butler and Mrs. D. A. Pollard were awarded high score prizes. A plate lunch consisting of pineapple salad, cake and coffee was served. Plate favors were chocolate hearts.

The Just a mere forty-two club was entertained last Saturday evening at the home of Mrs. Harry Newton. After several games of forty-two refreshments ambrosia, cake, coffee or tea were served.

The Ladies of the W. M. U. met with Mrs. E. P. Halley Monday for Bible study. Mrs. A. D. Brown gave the lesson in the absence of Mrs. T. L. Williams. Several good talks were enjoyed by various members. Only 9 members were present. The next meeting will be February 28 with Mesdames G. Mussey and J. D. Nichols for a social meeting.

—No matter where you live write me for prices on Peerless fence. I defy competition. C. W. Innes, State Agent, San Angelo, Texas.

Valentine Party

The children of the Mexican school were tendered a Valentine party last Monday at the school by their teachers, Miss Myrtle Harrell and J. A. McVilias. The room was gayly decorated with garlands of hearts. Edolpo Aguirre of the third grade, won a prize for the most original hand-made valentine. Noelberto Barrera, of the beginner's grade was winner in a contest of heart hunting. Hortencia Escobilla, of the third grade, won a heart shaped box of candy for finding the most hearts concealed about the room. After the games were concluded the Valentine boxes were opened and Cupid's messages distributed to a happy group of children. Each child received candy from the teachers.

—Catholics do not believe marriages of non-Catholics are invalid. John Barry, father of the American Navy, was a Catholic. Box 577, El Paso, Texas. 4-p —For Rent Furnished—One very large living and bed room combined; kitchenette. See Mr. J. C. Reeves. Phone 164. 11c. H. C. Crabtree.

—Subscribe for the Times.

IF YOU ENJOY GOOD MUSIC

You can get any station when you want it and the reproduction will be more perfect than you have ever heard--if you have a KOLSTER Radio and a BRANDES Cone. A trial evening in your own home will convince you.

Kolster Invites Comparison

J. S. NANCE, Dealer

MILLS & HOWARD

...Commission Company...

Clyde Mills ——— Feadall Howard

We are located in the Henshaw building and are in a position to do a general Commission business. Ranches, Sheep, Goats, Cattle, Dwelling Houses, Lots, or any thing.

LIST WITH US

Our Motto:—Buy anything any time; Sell everything every time.

Phone 103

America's Best Automobiles Buick Chevrolet Dodge Brothers

We also have Used Cars that are Good and Priced Right CASNER MOTOR CO.

J. S. Nance,

Sanderson Representative

Don't Let Bad Weather Get Your Goat

A Jury of Texas Goat Raisers Unanimously approve these RIECK GOAT COATS

because . . .

1. Prevent all losses from exposure after shearing.
2. Protect flocks comfortably in any and all kinds of weather.
3. Fit and stay in place.
4. Improve the quality of the flip, adding weight and lustre.
5. Permit scattering of flocks to good range.
6. Last long enough to cost less than 25c each per season.

H. W. RIECK COMPANY, Roosevelt, Texas. Kindly send me without obligation your booklets on Rieck Goat Coats, also your list of technicians. Name _____ Address _____

H. W. RIECK COMPANY ROOSEVELT, TEXAS