UVALDE SELLS SOME MOHAIR AT 12 AND 31

Ritchey Gets Schwartz Holdings Totalling 150,000 Pounds

L. Schwartz & Co. of Uvalde Monday was reported here to have sold 150,000 pounds of the 1933 spring mohair at 12 cents for the grown and 31 cents for the kid hair. Tom Ritchey for Hilliard & Son of Boston acquired the clips. This represents a welcome boost from last fall when 8 cents was paid for grown hair and 25 for kid.

Tom Parker for Ryder-Brown of Boston previously had acquired about 100,000 pounds at unannounced prices.

The mohair clip this year is figured to be between six and six and a quarter million pounds, larger than at first expected.

The application for reduced rates on wool and mohair from West Texas points to Boston is a factor in setting a better price for the clips this spring. The reduction, which it is virtually assured will be granted averages about 20 cents per hundred. It will mean a saving of twenty cents a pound on every pound sold, according to Santa Fe officials. This should mean $250,000 to the producers of wool and mohair in Texas. Since a year ago, the railroads have made a reduction of 84 cents. The total through rate from San Angelo, Sonora, Mertzon and other warehouse points will be 91 cents per hundred to Boston. —San Angelo Evening Standard.

A BIT OF PHILOSOPHY

By E. V. WHITE, DEAN Texas State College For Women (CIA)

Most people are not wealthy enough to do wrong.
 When you owe, it pays to pay.

 It is no devout to pray for what you shouldn't have.
 When you pay your just debts, there may remain only just debts.

YOUR COMPETITOR—THE GOVERNMENT

The report of the special committee of the House of Representatives which has been investigating government competition with private business, is a surprising document.

It shows that government competition extends to the amazing total of 232 different businesses, which are legitimately of a private nature. They include the fields of transportation, manufacturing, merchandising, farming, banking, printing, architecture—and even amusements.

In most instances, this government competition can not be met by private concerns. No business has the prime advantage of government—tax freedom. None is able to conceal its deficits through treasury appropriations. Few are large enough to exert the purchasing power of the government.

Every added item of government competition, by reducing the profits of private industry, diminishes the government's source of taxes and adds to the tax rate of what is left.

No far, government competition with the bulk of business has been on a comparatively small scale. But once such competition starts, its growth is simply a matter of time. The committee's facts are immutable—and they show vividly the need for a thorough reorganizing of government to take it out of the field of business, in the interests of economy, efficiency and opportunity for our citizens.—Industrial News Review.

WORKERS WIPED OUT

What has happened to the railway employes?

His story is a tragic one—more tragic, probably, than that of the worker in any other industry of comparable importance. There were more railway employes in 1901 than in 1932. Whole grades of railway workers have been wiped out—firemen have been replaced by engineers reduced in rank, and conductors have replaced brakemen.

The decrease in railway traffic has been principal cause of declining railway employment since 1920. Railroad workers have been subjected to the competition of lower paid waterway workers, and of highway transport employes who work for "board and lodging" wages.

Such, according to the Railway Age, is the state of railway employment. Thousands of first-class men who have given their lives to the profession of railroading, have found themselves out of jobs, without the experience to start again on another kind of work. Thousands of other highly skilled workers have been laid off in railroad equipment industries.

What this means to the country is easy to imagine. The "railroad man" has always been a well-paid worker, with a high living standard. Collectively, he has spent billions of dollars which have flowed through agriculture, industry, all the businesses of the nation. When he is thrown out of work, it wrecks havoc on the general purchasing power.—Industrial News Review.

ECONOMIC HIGHLIGHTS

Happenings That Affect the Dinner Pails, Dividend Checks and Tax Bills of Every Individual. National and International Problems Inseparable From Local Welfare.

The drive against depression continues. At this writing legislation affecting the railroads and the issuance of securities is being pushed principally. Rigid restrictions will be placed over security issues. Railroad legislation will be designed to give the rails better opportunity to compete with trucks, waterways and other carriers, and to effect economy in operation. It is believed that a "federal coordinator of railroads" will be appointed by the President with authority to direct the elimination of wasteful practices and aimless competition among carriers. This plan has the backing of the security owners and the institutional investors' group and of New York savings banks. There has been no official announcement as to whom the rail coordinator will be, but the name of Carl Gray, president of the Union Pacific System, is being put forward and has received wide backing. The President recently announced that there was, as yet, nothing definite about his rail program. A possible exception to this is his broad project for resolving Federal regulation of transportation into a single agency composed of five divisions, each dealing exclusively with railroads, highway and waterway carriers, aviation, radio and telegraphic and telephonic communication.

The Farm Board will die officially on May 27th, unless there is some unexpected change in the attitude of Congress. Death-knell was the signing of the President's farm credit reorganization order. The Board started in June, 1929, with $500,000,000 of government money called a revolving fund. Its speculations in farm commodities attracted international notice. Two-thirds or more of the original fund has been lost.

The Board will be replaced by a different kind of government farm relief body. It is held doubtful, however, if the Administration's farm bill will apply extensively to 1933 crops, due to delay in its becoming law. The bill is frankly an experiment, and if it does not succeed it is promised the plan will be abandoned and another tried.

It is widely said during recent weeks that the best sign of the hour was upping public confidence. Now we find evidences of recovery beginning to appear in the business statistics.

The index of wholesale prices, which has been declining steadily for months, recently made its first sustained rise. Farm products have shown an improved trend. An upturn in car loadings has appeared. There is a substantial increased demand for such household appliances as washing machines, of which sales in February were the best in five months.

Indications toward the end of March were that commercial failures would be the lowest for that month since 1925 or 1926.

Everyone is agreed that recovery will be gradual—most are likewise agreed that it will be steady as well and that there need be no fear of important recessions. New money is appearing, due largely to the war on hoarding, and it is providing jobs and stimulating production.

Business is writing itself down—by enormous figures, as even a cursory glance at current annual corporation reports demonstrates. Millions of dollars are clipped from the figures at which concerns have been valuing themselves. These reductions in assets, of course, require a corresponding decrease in stated liabilities. This is accom-

TIPS ON TAXES

Legislative News Service Of The Texas Press Association, Austin

AUSTIN.—It is known that the costs of the State government for the next two years will be substantially lower than for the past two years. The single uncertainty is what may be done with reference to appropriations for support of the public schools. Other major appropriation bills have been finally passed by both houses of the Legislature. They represent reductions varying from 25 to 40 per cent. The aggregate reductions will probably be from 30 to 33 per cent.

However, the possibility of upsetting the results of the start toward economy—and it is only a start, notwithstanding the impressive savings made—is by no means remote. There are two very pressing influences that may supply the necessary support to bring about the enactment of laws that will open new sources of revenue, which would eventually neutralize the progress already made. These are the insistent demand of public schools for liberal appropriations and the desire to balance the State budget and wipe out the existing deficit during the next year, or two at most.

Thus far, no general new taxes have been levied. The sales tax, which was the most important means suggested for raising new revenues, has been killed again. This time, its death is supposed to be final, but it is known that plans are being made to revive the idea, dress it up in a fresh Spring outfit, bring it out as the angel of public school education and the Santa Claus for sadly depleted county and city treasuries, through an ingenious proposal to split the proceeds between the schools, counties and cities. Basically, this is the familiar "aid" method of increasing taxes, which has been a prolific cause of the increase in the cost of government in this country for the past ten years.

Those who oppose new taxes will need to be alert during the closing days of the session of the Legislature. It is also well to bear in mind that up to the present time the fundamental causes of high taxes have not been removed. Nothing has yet been done that will provide effective barriers against a return of extravagance, once the present emergency is passed. Changes have been proposed, which, if finally adopted, will give some degree of permanence to measures of economy. The fate of these really constructive changes is still uncertain and there seems to be possibility that some of them will fail.

The amendment in the Senate proposing to reduce the State ad valorem tax for general revenue purposes from 35 to 15 cents has been engrossed in the Senate but apparently lacks the required two-thirds support to submit it as a constitutional amendment.

The amendment placing an arbitrary limit on total expenditures of the State government has been finally passed by the Senate by the necessary two-thirds vote. It is accomplished by cutting surplus or reserves.

As far as the stockholder is concerned this does not change the real value of his holdings in the least. It is simply a change in book value which, in many instances, had no connection with real value. It is heralded as a healthy sign for all concerned.

Tax reduction remains uppermost in the public mind. A definite start has been made with the cut in veterans' compensations, and the 15 per cent reduction of Federal salaries. Many of these cuts have already been compensated to the recipients more or less by the decline in the cost of living. Next Federal move is expected to be drastic reorganization of bureaus and departments to eliminate waste, unnecessary activities and duplication of effort.

The Treasury has been disappointed in the yield from the new miscellaneous taxes. Revenues to the government from sale of such articles as oils, matches, pistols and revolvers, etc., have been below the estimate. On the other hand there was a substantial recent gain in revenue from the automobile tax and the gift tax.

Tax losses from other sources were offset by a rise in income tax receipts. This is nothing to be proud of because the rise was due simply to higher individual tax rates, rather than to increased personal or corporate earnings.

SACRAMENT OF LORD'S SUPPER EASTER MORNING

Rev. B. M. Stradley, pastor of the Sanderson Methodist Church announces a Lord Supper Sacrament service at 9 a. m. Sunday April 16th at the church.

All Christian people are invited to the Lord's table with us and especially those who do not have access to the Church of their election in Sanderson.

Mrs. Annie Ware has returned from an extended visit with friends and relatives in Del Rio, Utopia and San Antonio.

Mr. and Mrs. Landon Rose were in town Tuesday from their ranch near Dryden.

yet to go through the House. The judiciary reorganization amendment, making drastic changes in the set-up of the courts and promising important economies, which passed the House some time ago, awaits an uncertain fate in the Senate.

Amendments proposing reorganization of costly county government are yet to be acted on. This is also true of a bill which proposes county unit system of public school administration. These latter two subjects are vital, because local taxes are much more burdensome than State taxes.

The Senate has passed unanimously a bill limiting the amount of compensation which would be allowed county and precinct officials. The reductions will radically affect official incomes in counties of populations above 25,000. The top compensation allowed any county official in Texas would be $5,000 and this would be possible only in counties above 150,000 population. The following maximums have been set: Counties under 10,000 population, $2,000; between 10,000 and 25,000, $3,250; between 25,000 and 37,500, $3,500; between 37,500 and 75,000, $4,250; between 75,000 and 150,000, $4,750; above 150,000, $5,000. The rates do not apply to all fee officers alike. The maximums are for more important county offices. Lower figures are fixed for justices of the peace, constables, etc.

Nix! Too Much Light Over There For Our Business!

Plenty of light may not be an absolute guarantee against house-breaking, but it is one of the best kinds of protection you can have.

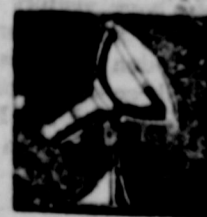

Lawyers are more afraid of light than of law. They shun lighted homes because light indicates that folks are up and about. The chances of detection are too great to risk.

Turn on the porch lights and have plenty of light inside when you go out at night or when you are at home alone with the children. And when you retire for the evening, leave a light burning where it can be seen from the street.

Such illumination will provide a real measure of protection and the cost is negligible. A small-wattage lamp can be burned all night for less than the cost of a stick of gum. Come in and let us tell you more about it.

This Floodlight Keeps Prowlers Away

The chances of loss by robbery are reduced to an absolute minimum when front and rear yards, alleyways and store interiors are brightly illuminated with floodlights like the one shown on the left. Installations can be made for as little as $5.00 and the cost of operation is but a few cents per night.

DENTON, April 13.—The question as to how to prepare vegetables must be answered daily. In the first place it is well to serve some uncooked vegetable frequently. In so doing we save fuel.

More important than this, however, is the fact that some of the most valuable nutrients of the vegetable are water-soluble and are, therefore, readily extracted, especially when cooked for a long time in a large quantity of water. For the same reason vegetables should not stand in water before being placed to cook. Vegetables have the best flavor, color, and texture if cooked in the firm-soft stage.

Due to the necessary processing canned vegetables are cooked to a rather soft stage. It may be necessary occasionally, to resort to unusual methods of preparation in order to keep them in favor with the family.

BREAKFAST: Grapefruit, bacon and scrambled eggs, bran muffins, butter, jelly, coffee.

LUNCHEON: Baked hash, beet greens, hot biscuit, butter, filled cookies, fruit punch.

DINNER: Veal fricassée, rice, spinach loaf, graham buns, butter, baked custard.

LUNCHEON: Baked beans and bacon, corn souffle, steamed brown bread, prime pudding with cream.

DINNER: Virginia baked ham, baked potatoes, stuffed egg plant, lettuce and tomato salad, baked apples.

SPINACH LOAF: 1 1/2-c chopped cooked spinach, 1 c grated cheese, 1 egg, 9 crackers, 1 t salt, 1 T lemon juice, 1-8 t pepper. Combine all the ingredients in the order given. Place into buttered loaf pan. Bake in moderate oven about twenty minutes. Unmold and serve hot.

CORN SOUFFLE: 1-2 c medium white sauce, 1 t salt, 2 c corn pulp, 2 eggs, pepper, 1 pimiento. Rub the pimiento through a sieve. Combine the white sauce, pimiento, and corn. Add the beaten egg-yolks. Fold in stiffly beaten whites. Turn into an oiled baking dish or in individual ramekins. Place in a pan of hot water and bake in moderate oven until eggs are set, about half an hour.

STUFFED EGG PLANT: 1 egg plant, 2 T butter, 1-2 c water, 2 c crumbs, salt, pepper. Cut egg plant in half lengthwise and scoop out center pulp, leaving the rind one-half an inch thick. Cover the shells with cold water. Chop the pulp fine, season with salt, pepper and butter. Cook in frying pan ten minutes, stirring well. Add water and 1-2 crumbs. Drain shells, sprinkle with salt and pepper and fill with mixture. Spread remaining crumbs over tops. Place in baking pan, add hot water to come one-third up the side of the pieces and bake in moderate oven half an hour.

BEEF GREENS: Wash young beets and tops. Place to cook in very little water. Cook until just tender. Drain thoroughly in a colander. Cut through with knife. Serve hot, seasoned with salt, pepper, butter and a little vinegar.

The Livestock Situation

J. A. McNAUGHTON

LOS ANGELES, April 13, 1933.—As a step towards reducing the marketing expense to western stockmen, reductions are announced to take effect not later than April 15th by the Los Angeles Livestock Exchange and the Los Angeles Union Stock Yards. Lower commission charges and yardage charges were made voluntarily by the stock yards interests as a part of the general movement to reduce marketing costs and thus aid the livestock industry to get back on a sound footing.

After all, the costs of marketing livestock are very small in relation to the volume of sales. While all stock yards charges are on a flat basis, even at today's relatively low price, there are a few products of any kind that are marketed at such a small percentage of total value. In ordinary times, the entire cost of marketing cattle at a public market figures only about 1 per cent, and today's values still leave the marketing costs very little in excess of 2 per cent. I don't know of any other agricultural marketing machine that does business on such a small marketing expense, nor do I know of manufacturing industry that is able to hold its entire selling expense down to 1 or 2 per cent.

An outstanding feature the livestock industry throughout the business depression has been the fact that at all times it has been possible for the stockman to find a ready, cash market for everything he wanted to sell. This has provided stockmen with ready cash at a time when many other products of the soil were difficult to convert into money.

Few people realize the costness of the livestock industry in the western states. On the Los Angeles market alone, stockmen were paid in cash approximately twenty-eight million dollars and this sum is only about one-half what was paid out in 1928. In addition to this enormous cash outlay, sheepmen had their wool to turn into cash. In view of the fact that slightly more than 40 per cent of all livestock slaughtered in California is purchased by Los Angeles packers, it is evident that Californians last year, spent approximately seventy million dollars for cattle, calves, hogs and sheep to be converted into meat. Many millions of dollars additional are spent in other states for pork products which are shipped to California.

The amount paid out to stockmen does not complete the financial picture, as the meat packing and distribution business represents an investment of many millions, payrolls and supplies run into more millions. More millions are spent by retail meat dealers for wages, rent, advertising and so on.

It is important that our bankers and business people generally come to a fuller realization of the importance of the livestock and meat industry, which turns such a huge volume of cash into circulation all thru the year. Anything that adds to the value of livestock and meats immediately adds to the general volume of business for the entire industry is operated on a strictly cash basis.

Mrs. J. R. Black who has been in Mexia, Texas, for the past two months was able to be brought home this past week slightly improved in health. She was accompanied home by her mother, Mrs. T. J. Farmer who will spend sometime here with her daughter while she is convalescing.

Misses Willie Mae Green and Mabel Newton and J. C. Green returned to Valentine Sunday after motoring down here Friday to attend the dance given last Friday night.
