BOYS EXHIBIT FAT CALVES AND LAMBS MONDAY

TENDANCE LOW AT 4-H SHOW DUE TO WEATHER

Attendance at the Second Antelope County 4-H Club Stock Show which was held Monday afternoon was at a minimum because of the wind and cold. Before the show was over the weather rather cool also, causing many who were in attendance to return to their homes.

This is the second year that the Antelope County 4-H Club boys held the show and they were commended on the show that has been done. There were six entries in the fat calf class, and 15 fat lambs were shown.

John Short took the blue ribbon with his calf in the Fat Calf class with Bob Allen second, David Allen third, Wilton Hardgrave fourth, Campbell Kerr fifth and Edward Kerr sixth. Frazier took first and second in the Hereford bull calves. The fat lambs, singles, John Hardgrave took first and third place, Don Allen second, and Dishman third place.

Rebred Polled Hereford heifers awarded the winner of place in the fat calves by N. Schell who has spent considerable time and money in his effort to aid the boys in their work. Judge G. J. Henshaw gave a lamb to the winner of first in the fat lambs, singles.

GOES APPENDECTOMY

Marvin Kelly underwent operation for appendicitis in a Brady hospital and test reports was getting splendidly. Mrs. Kelly had an acute attack Friday and left Saturday for the operation.

Vera Wade spent the week-end in Eldorado. Lila Christopher visited week-end in Mertzton.

RANCH TALK—

Sunshine Matthews—Sheep & Goat Raisers' Association

McLean, who ranches in the Junction, sold 168 coming lambs and two's at 7½ and two's to C. B. McMillan of the Spur Ranch. They were reported to sell without shrink or loss.

McVay, Eden banker and the promoters of Eden's ram sale, has one of the best lamb crop stories for 1939. He says that five of his registered ewes gave birth to nine last week.

Jones of Roswell, N. M., contracted his 1939 calves, unborn crop, to a northern ranch at 11½ cents a pound, said to have an unusually large herd of cows. Rumors of the rounds of the ranch last week to the effect that a Panhandle ranchman sold his unborn calf crop at same figure.

Charlie Gray & Sons, in the country, contracted a crop of around 400 coming lambs some time ago at 9 and 10 cents a pound for May 1 delivery.

Van Yeager of Brownwood, operates the Merrivether ranch near Alpine, sold 3,000 coming ewes at $5.50 out of the pen. Reports the last of the ewes were that a large string of coming ewes had been bought by several ranchmen at Fort Stanton at $6.50 a head in the

Court of Honor Held Friday Night By Local Troop

Panther Patrol Is Leading in Inter-Patrol Contest

Sanderson Scouts of troop 60 held a Court of Honor Friday night of last week with Rogers of San Angelo, field executive for this region presenting the membership cards to the scouts. Various members of the council presented the badges.

Tenderfoot Scouts were Eldridge Murray, Billie Jo Short, Don Allen, James House; second class were Sam Bell, Curtis Litton, Joe Bean, Harold Haines and M. G. Northcut. Duke, Scoutmaster Duane Smith and Mr. Rogers were in charge of the meeting. Mr. Duke and daughter, Doris, were visitors.

At the regular meeting of the Troop Tuesday night the Panther Patrol pulled out ahead of other patrols in the inter-patrol contest by a margin of 11 points. The flaming Arrow held the lead by 1 point last week. At the beginning of the meeting two Scout plays were presented by the Flaming Arrow. They were entitled the "Worst Aid Class" and "The Ghost." The Scouts were so well pleased with the idea that 15 points will be awarded the best skit given next week. The inter-patrol contest has been hotter this year than it ever has been and scouts are taking more interest in the work.

Poem Written By Sanderson Man Tells Rodeo Story

The following verses, clipped from The San Angelo Standard Times, are accredited to Paul Patterson of Sanderson. The editor of that paper mentions Kipling in his commentary, and says the lines are worth anybody's time.

We wish to add that they are full of things that make a poem good. A few of these? Well, there are the dramatic action, the alliterations, the he-man, verve, the poetic lit of the meter, and the vivid picture it draws.

After all, the little giant of the Barrack-room Ballads might not have been ashamed to claim it for his own.

Here's the poem:

San Angelo Rodeo
Time's nigh at hand in cowboy land
For the sound of singin' loops
So high-crowned kings of the piggin' strings
Will soon ride in by troops.
There'll be things done where the Conchos run
And the sheep and cows wax fat—
Stock whammed broadside and right-fast tied
In, maybe, fourteen flat.

Big broncs will squeal at the sting of steel;
Bad brahmas will juggle the chutes.
Each hand will wait his "fallible" fate—
He'll ride or die in his boots.
Then a cowboy locks to a horned ox
Which is driftin' down the

COMMITTEE ASKS MORE FUNDS TO AID 4-H BOYS

The 4-H Club Committee has been striving to raise funds in an amount that will enable boys in the 4-H Club Livestock Show which was held Monday afternoon to at least break even on their expense of fattening the calves and lambs. It is proposed that each boy will receive 1 cent per pound as a premium which will aid materially.

Ranchmen of the county have been asked to donate toward this fund and the response to date has been splendid although the amount received is shy of what is necessary to make a payment of the cent per pound of livestock to the boys. Following is a statement signed by the committee:

"The 4-H Club Committee of Terrell County desires to express to the ranch people, in their behalf of the 4-H Boys, appreciation for the contribution made to the 4-H Club Premium Fund.

"This Premium fund is being raised as a means to offset the expense fee to the boys who fed animals for the 4-H Club Stock Show at Sanderson February 27. The are to be divided equally between the boys based on the aggregate weight of their animals and estimated to net each boy the equivalent of one cent a pound toward his feeding bill.

"Terrell County not being primarily a feeding country, our boys are at a disadvantage in competing with 4-H Boys of other Counties and our remoteness from markets makes it difficult for the boys to dispose of their animals at profit.

"The following ranchmen have thus far contributed toward this premium fund for this excellent program: Dr. O. H. Judkins, San Antonio, Texas; Steve Stumberg, Joe Kerr, Helen G. Downie, Tip Frazier, J. B. Pettit, Styles, Texas, C. H. Arvin, Joe F. Brown, Hugh Rose, H. D. Mendel, Horton Haley, Roy Barksdale, R. N. Allen, John Williams, Charles E. Long, Del Rio, Texas.

"We take this means of expressing our appreciation for the contribution of our people and also to say that we trust that other ranchmen of the County will either send or bring some small contribution for the completion of this fund.

Joe Kerr,
L. M. Baze,
Alfred E. Creigh, Jr.,
4-H Club Committee."

Giant Telescope On Mt. Locke Is Being Installed; To Serve As Funnel Of Light

Fort Davis, Texas, Feb. 26—Purpose of the giant telescope at McDonald Observatory, on Mount Locke, is to serve as a giant funnel of light, permitting astronomers to concentrate in one spot a large quantity of starlight, Dr. Otto Struve, director of the joint University of Texas-University of Chicago sky laboratory, explains.

The 82-inch lens for this telescope, second largest in the world, is now being installed. In one of the most remote sections of Texas, the observatory combines the latest methods of astronomy. The funneled light will be analyzed by spectrographs, photometers, photoelectric cells, radiometers, and photographic emulsions of different types.

Near Perfection
The curvature of the lens is exact to one-millionth of an inch, "as near perfection as possible." The mirror is 100,000 times as powerful as the naked eye, staff astronomers said.

Also outstanding is the declination deviation control, which automatically allows for the bending of light as it strikes earth's atmosphere. The control will also be used to focus the lens on comets and asteroids in flight both automatically and continually.

A slow control calibrates the 75-ton instrument to the exact position of the star and keeps the huge glass "light funnel" constantly under the star as it moves.

Staffed by the Yerkes Observa-

A petition is being circulated this week asking that an election be called for the purpose of voting on incorporation of the town of Sanderson. The petition will probably have the necessary 50 signatures and will be presented to Judge R. S. Wilkinson by the first of next week. The Judge will call an election as petitioned and notice to that effect will be posted for ten days prior to the election date.

The proposed city limits would start at the northeast corner of Section 4 which lies just northeast of the Jim Kerr place on the outskirts of town, and would follow the section line to the southeast corner of the section which lies just at the edge of Cedar Grove Cemetery, then west to the railroad right-of-way line to Sanderson Creek, then following the creek to intersection of the west section line of Section 4, then north along said line to north side of Highway 90, and then along Highway 90 to the southwest corner of Block D, Wilson Addition, which point lies at the point of the hill just across from the power plant, then northeast along Blocks D, C, B and A to northwest corner of Block A, then south along Block lines of A, E and 122 to the northeast corner of Block 123, then northeast on west side of Blocks 131 and 142 to north section line, then due east along section line to starting point.

TO EL PASO

Odis Wickliffe left Sunday for El Paso where he has accepted a position with the Firestone Tire and Rubber Co. Mr. Wickliffe has spent two years in Sanderson as manager of the City Drug and during that period has made many friends who regret to see him leave but wish for him every success in his new undertaking. Mrs. Wickliffe and daughter, Rose Nell, will remain in Sanderson until the present school year is completed after which they will join Mr. Wickliffe.

Miss Rachal Sweeney was a visitor in Austin during the week-end.

Dr. Elvey Heads Staff
Dr. C. T. Elvey is astronomer in charge. Also to work with the giant telescope are Drs. George Van Biesbroeck and G. P. Kuiper, both of whom are likewise on the staff of Yerkes Observatory. Dr. Karl K. Seyfert is on the McDonald staff. Other staff members working on a co-operative basis with the Yerkes Observatory are Professor Morgan, spectra expert, and Dr. S. Chandrasekhar, Indian authority, foremost in the world on stellar constitution.

In the 73-foot aluminum dome, which resembles a huge inverted thimble, are 30 motors operating the observatory and focusing the telescope.

The 125-ton revolving dome mounted on locomotive wheels is operated by a small 10-horsepower electric motor. The 75-ton instrument itself is so perfectly balanced that it is driven by a one-third horsepower motor and focused to a hair's breadth.

To operate the observatory, 5½ miles of wiring was required. One hundred and thirty-seven push buttons furnished the main control system.

Living Quarters On Peak
Modern living quarters for the staff dot the peak of Mount Locke.

"Men With Wings" Booked Wed.-Thurs. At Princess Theatre

Paramount, after exhaustive research, went to enormous labor and considerable expense and spent much time on the production of "Men With Wings," a romantic history of aviation and the personal story of two men and a woman.

As is sometimes the case when a story pursues a dual theme narrated against a single but advancing historical background, the screen version is episodic. When "Men With Wings" traces the story of the conquest of the air from the short but epochal hop of the Wright Brothers in 1903, interpolating briefly in calendar mode the trail blazing feats of famous flights and flyers, the mechanical treatment is both spectacular and picturesque.

The fictional counterpart of the factual content is a love story. It is the story, on one side, of a love that was won, appreciated yet deserted, to end tragically when the love of a greater adventure could not be denied. On the other hand it is a story of a love that always was.

From the time that "Men with Wings" was first considered as a picture. Paramount busied itself with availing itself of any exploitation device that would concentrate public attention on the undertaking. As minds are being made up as to how best to sell it in definite localities, there are many things to be considered. There have been other aviation pictures, generally commercially successful. Then there is the matter of names. "Men with Wings" offers Fred MacMurray, Ray Milland and Louise Campbell as its leading personalities. The supporting cast includes Walter Abel, Kitty Kelly, Virginia Weidler, Donald O'Connor, Billy Cooke, James Burke and Willard Robertson, who appear briefly, and Andy Devine, Porter Hall and Lynne Overman, who go through practically the whole story with the principals. The director, William Wellman, made one of the first important aviation pictures, "Wings." He also made "Nothing Sacred" and "A Star is Born."

The picture was photographed in natural color. The treatment has been so deftly applied, as a part of production value, that from the standpoint of sensationalism it may go unnoticed.

Show, recently made a permanent organization. Adam Wilson is vice-chairman and Monroe Kensing is secretary-treasurer. Success of the fourth annual stock show this year at Kerrville was said to have justified further expansion and permanent organization. Regular standing committees were appointed at a meeting of business men, ranchmen, and representatives of the sponsoring group, the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Marvin Skaggs of Junction, whose Angoras topped the recent Kimble County livestock show, plans to take ten or fifteen goats to the Angora show at Lampasas July 19, 20, 21. Six or eight of the goats will be his show flock and the balance will be sold.

W. O. Dickerson of Roosevelt says that not over ten per cent of the kid crop in his country is on the ground.

Blackstone Smith of Junction describes the Angora as the "poor man's friend"—and says the goat eats up, while the sheep eats down. Mr. Smith says he never has to feed his goats and kids them on the open range. He watches the weather for shearing time and waits for a warm temperature so that he will avoid having to keep the goats in a shed.

Mack Yates, San Saba ranchman, who runs about 5,000 head of goats, has just purchased 400 mutton kids from Oliver Flowers of Menard at $3.50 in the hair.

Irvin Geistweidt, who ranches six miles from Mason, sold to a Boerne man 55 top cows at $75 a head and sold Owen Brothers of San Saba 700 mixed kids at $3.35 around. Cecil Walston and Bill Murchison of Menard will receive 200 cows and take over a grass lease from J. M. Weekly of Frio County on March 1. The deal was made through Walter Thompson of Pearsall and Johnnie Fuller of Mason.

Brady has better than 55 entries to date for the first annual colt show there, which is to be held March 1 with the annual 4-H Club and FFA livestock show. Among late entries are four colts and fillies entered by J. E. Jones & Son of Eldorado, nine colts and fillies by J. M. Treadwell of Menard, and ten colts, fillies and stallions by Sheen Bros. of Mertzon.

Bean Roberson and his brother of Mineral Wells sold 2,500 head of coming yearling steers and full aged yearlings at 9 cents a pound for immediate delivery. The cattle are at Palo Pinto.

Otho Drake of San Angelo has contracted 2,000 coming yearling wethers in Glasscock County from Mrs. Henry Currie at 6 cents a pound out of the wool.

Prevailing asking price for yearling ewes, according to reports from over the ranch country, is $6 to $6.50 out of the wool, one buyer said.

Total sales value of the meat animals passing through the Union Stock Yards at San Antonio has increased from $5,739,000 in 1935 to $11,677,000 in 1938. Last year's gain, one and a quarter million, was achieved in spite of the generally lower price level on slaughter cattle and pigs. San Antonio, consequently, mounted from tenth to eighth place as a cattle market.

Human Heart Pumps 2,000 Gallons Blood Each Day

Austin—The fact that the human heart contracts more than 30,000,000 times a year, 86,000 times every twenty-four hours, discounting the additional beats caused by violent physical and emotional effort, is little known to the average person, states Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer.

"The heart expels from its left side approximately 2,000 gallons of life-sustaining blood every day, or 730,000 gallons annually. Thus it takes little imagination to realize the astounding amount of work that a fifty-year-old heart has behind it, although the source of this remarkable energy is unnoted to man.

"Assuming that the heart is sound at middle-age, it should continue to perform satisfactorily for many more years, barring serious illness or accident. But this is no excuse for failing to realize that one who has lived fifty or more years has a heart, however unconscious of the heart's effort one may be.

"The heart's ceaseless activity, except for the pause between beats, is bound to result in some wear and tear. Obviously, no heart can possess, after fifty years of untiring work, the resiliency of former years. A proper appreciation of the excellent past performance of this vital organ, therefore, involves a rational attitude toward its continued satisfactory action. While in this connection there is definitely no place for a heart-complex or heart-worry, positive cooperation is indicated. Such an attitude will be reflected by adhering to certain basic living principles including the moderate use of tea, coffee, tobacco, and other stimulants; eight hours' sleep daily; refraining from sudden or prolonged exertion; reduction of emotional stress and worry to an absolute minimum; and avoidance of overweight through temperate eating, or, if one's poundage already is excessive, then the seeking of medical advice so that the heart's best performance safely may be removed.

"If to a non-fanatical application of hygienic living be added the annual physical check-up by the family physician, a continuing satisfactory performance of the middle-aged heart logically can be expected for many years to come."

Mexico is Setting for New Hopalong Action Romance

One of the most romantic and least-known regions of old Mexico forms the setting for the latest "Hopalong Cassidy" outdoor action drama, "In Old Mexico," which will come Friday and Saturday to the Princess Theatre. It is the Western Mexican ranching country—a lazy land of breathtaking scenery and charming people, where senoritas blink out from under their mantillas at their caballeros and bandits make their own laws in their constant feud with the ranch-owners.

William Boyd, whom a nationwide poll recently established as America's A-1 favorite range hero, plays the adventure-loving "Bar 20" foreman who goes down to Mexico to avenge the murder of one of his closest friends, a young officer and the son of an aristocratic ranching family. Learning that the man was murdered by a notorious bandit called "the Fox," Boyd tracks him down by using one of the neatest tricks in his career.

Instead of riding out after the bandits right away, and being led into an ambush by them, Boyd pretends to strike up a romance with a guest at the family's hacienda. Although she appears to be nothing more than an attractive young woman, Boyd immediately recognizes her as the sister of "the Fox."

In an exciting climax, the woman does just what Boyd expects and invites him to ride with her through the desert. He accepts the invitation, but not before he has tipped off his friends. They follow the "sweethearts" and, led by Boyd, meet "the Fox" and his henchmen, who now make their desperate last stand against law and order.

The familiar "Cassidy" cast returns intact in "In Old Mexico." Boyd rides with his two saddle-mates, George Hayes and Russell Hayden, who, as "Windy" and "Lucky," impart their usual spice to the story. Paul Sutton, the bad man of many another Clarence E. Mulford tale, has the role of "the Fox." A newcomer to "Cassidy" films is beautiful Jane Clayton, the daughter of one of New Mexico's greatest cattle barons and in private life the fiancée of Hayden. Brought up in the cattle country, she makes her first screen appearance.

O'Daniel Urges Texas Exhibition At New York Fair

Austin—Declaring that "Texas must tell the world before she can sell the world," Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel this week urged all Texans to co-operate in the drive to place an outstanding exhibit at the New York World's Fair as the first step toward the industrialization of Texas.

"We must advertise to the world the vast resources, the opportunities for industrial development, and the conditions for betterment of life which abound in Texas," the Governor said. "The greatest opportunity for so advertising Texas will be available to us by adequate participation in the New York World's Fair."

Pointing out that the 45th Legislature created the Texas World's Fair Commission to arrange exhibits at the fair, Governor O'Daniel said that "recently, at my request, representative business and industrial leaders met with Lieutenant-Governor Coke Stevenson and me to discuss the project. At this meeting considerable sums were pledged and I have since received numerous assurances that others will respond with substantial contributions. We are endeavoring to raise $250,000 to present and maintain an exhibit at the World's Fair which will insure representation commensurate with the greatness of our state."

Texas' participation in the World's Fair is vital to the state's industrial program, Governor O'Daniel pointed out. "Many other states, few of them so fortunate as Texas in climate, resources and people, will be well represented at the Fair," he said. "Texas must not fail to participate. We must have an exhibit at the World's Fair of which every Texan will be proud."

Governor O'Daniel revealed that a feature length motion picture in technicolor covering every phase of Texas life has been made under the sponsorship of Kari Hoblitzelle of Dallas, vice-chairman of the Commission.

"This picture, covering Texas' historic highlights, resources and possibilities, agriculture and industrial development, scenic attractions and cultural advantages, was produced under the direction of James A. Fitzpatrick of Hollywood, the famous Voice of the Globe travelogue producer. It is the plan of the Commission to show this colorful production, without charge, in Texas' own theatre in the Court of States at the World's Fair," the Governor said.

LEGION AWARD—

left corner is the National Emblem of the American Legion. The medal is of medium size, graceful and beautiful in design and adapted to daily wear by the boy and girl winning it. The names of the girl and boy are to be engraved on the medals which are beautifully boxed in blue velvet, and students should strive to earn such a merit of real worth.

The basis upon which the awards are to be made at the close of the school year are as follows:

Honor: Strength and stability of character; high standards of conduct; keen sense of what is right; adherence to truth and conscience and devotion to duty and rectitude of clean speech.

Courage: Bravery in the face of opposition and danger, and grit to stand up for the right and do one's duty.

Scholarship: Scholastic attainment; evidence of industry and application in studies.

Leadership: Ability to lead and to accomplish through group action.

Service: Kindliness, unselfishness, fellowship; protection of the weak and promotion of the interests and welfare of associates without hope of personal award.

Method of Award: The Post will select the boy and girl who are to receive the award after consultation with the teachers and the members of the sixth grade class who will vote separately on the five qualifications.

The Legion is installing this award in our grade school in keeping with a like award that is being made in thousands of public schools in America.

This American Legion Award is not to be confused with any award given for High scholastic attainments in the high schools of the land, but is given in line with the ideals of the American Legion on its Americanization Program for the molding of those qualities of character calculated to result in the building of character, ability, and ultimate citizenship.

Saturday afternoon in his home, Master Jackie Savage celebrated his fourth birthday with a number of his little friends as guests. Much joy was had by both host and guests alike in the opening of gift packages, after which the children enjoyed a number of games.

Savage, assisted by his grandmother, Mrs. Jack W. McKee, served the boys and girls with ice cream and the birthday cake. While enjoying the refreshments they were entertained by a number of stories. At the conclusion of the "Story of the Gingerbread Boy" each was given a "gingerbread boy" to carry home with him, and a balloon as well.

The little friends whom Jackie invited to his party were: Bobby Wilkinson, Vicky Hill, Marilyn and Carolyn Courtney, Lyall Baze, Jr., Eldie Pearce, Jimmy Harrison, Duane Noble Smith, Mary Lou Cargile, Billie Henshaw, Dawn Williams, Annah Edwards, Patsy Bodkin, Jo Anne Secrest, Mary Landon Rose, David Paul Mitchell, Kip Gatlin, and Jackie's big brother, Billy.

is actually simple, Dr. Elvey says. The observer may choose one of three vantage points in the observatory. One is under the telescope, one is on the bridge 20 feet above, and the third is in the constant temperature control booth.

A master control switch transfers operation of the instrument to the observer's station. There push buttons in a portable table control start the massive instrument in pursuit of a star, focusing it upon the immediate vicinity of that star.

The one-third horsepower driven declination-deviation control is used here to counteract the effect of the earth's rotation and to hold the lens in constant focus.

Eliminating curvature and obstacles, the new reflector-type telescope could give an image of a man at 3000 miles, said Dr. Paul Rudnick of the University of Texas. He has come to the university campus after two years experience on Mount Locke working with University of Chicago astronomers there.

The McDonald telescope will be able to photograph things 400,000,000 light years from the earth, you may compute the light year's length simply by multiplying 186,000 (the number of miles that light travels per second) times 32,000,000 seconds in a year.
