

Squaws Second at Austin

Well I reckon that about everyone has gotten over the trip to Austin by now--y'know we didn't know that there were so many folks from Friona that hang around the Steven F. Austin Hotel in Austin like there is... but every time we'd pass there Friday and Saturday we'd see someone from Friona.

Joking aside... The Squaws did a right fine job we thought in representing us at the State AA Girls Finals down in the big city last weekend.

Sure, they came out second best, but you know and I know that really they are tops in our books despite what the scoreboard showed when the whistle sounded.

The biggest difference was that Buna had been there before... we aren't trying to take anything away from the girls from East Texas at all either.

They had just been to Austin so many times before that was just another game to them... and y'know it has been a long time since our folks had been down in that neck of the woods.

Congratulations to Baker Duggins and his fine work with those girls, and special congratulations to Lawana and Jacquelyn for being picked on the All State Team.

The whole gang is a pretty swell bunch of kiddoes just about any way you go at it tho--so our thanks to you, one and all!

Wait 'til next year!

We got quite a razzin' about being nervous upon returning to Friona. But you know we didn't notice it at all at the time... but now our fingernails have grown out again, and our heart has settled back out of the throat and can light a cigarette without looking for a vice to hold it in... so guess all is normal again.

Junior Livestock Show Begins Friday Morning

Parmer County Junior Livestock Show will get underway officially Friday morning at 8 a. m. when the judging for the lamb show gets underway at the Friona Bus Barns.

The show, sponsored annually by the Friona Lions Club, has experienced about 50 per cent increase in the numbers of boys and animals in the show over the 1959 show.

A total of 193 animals are slated to be exhibited at this, the largest show on record for the Lions' annual event.

Open to all members of any Parmer county FFA, 4-H or FHA organization, the show will have a total of 66 steers, 97 barrows and 30 lambs to be judged and sold at this year's show.

Bill Nichols, general superintendent of the show, says that this year the animals are in the best shape ever for the show and that the Lions are expecting record crowds to be on hand for the events.

The swine judging will also be held Friday, beginning as soon as the youngsters return from a bus trip to the High School auditorium where they may attend special religious services being observed there as a part of Religious Emphasis Week in Friona.

The superintendent of this division, Flake Barber, says he hopes to have all the swine judged by 4 p. m.

Following the swine show, boys are urged to get their steers weighed in, in order that the cattle show can begin promptly at 8 a. m. Saturday morning.

Weighing in for the lamb and swine divisions will begin at 1 p. m. Saturday morning.

Weighing in for the lamb and swine divisions will begin at 1 p. m. Thursday afternoon. Ellis Tatum of Black Community is in charge of the weighing in operations.

Driver Dies In Crash

H. A. Merkel, 39 of Rt. 1, Tamaroa, Ill., was killed instantly Tuesday night about 10:23 p. m. when his Diamond T semi-trailer truck was struck broadside by a train in Bovina.

The speeding Santa Fe mail-train, heading west toward Clovis N. M. from Amarillo was hitting an estimated 75 to 80 mph when the truck was hit according to a crewman on the train.

The accident happened at the Third Street crossing in Bovina, and scattered parts of the truck cab for about a mile down the track.

Signal lights at the crossing were glowing and bells ringing as the truck pulled across the track said witnesses.

The big Santa Fe engine speared the cab of the truck broadside and shearing off the engine, front and rear wheels carried the cab with the victim to a spot about 20 yards west of the underpass west of Bovina before grinding to a stop.

Roy Bechtold of Amarillo was the train engineer. R. L. Johnston of Clovis, N. M. was the conductor.

The semi truck had a flat grain bed and was empty at the time of the crash. Ambulances from the Cla-

COACH IS PRETTY PROUD FOR THESE TWO--Coach Baker Duggins is pretty well pleased with the announcement Tuesday night that Jacquelyn Magness, left, made the position of forward and Lawana Houlette, right, made the position of guard, on the State AA Girl's All-State Basketball team. Buna placed two on the mythical team with Bowie and Brazosport placing one each.

Buna Downs Friona For State AA Title

Drawing Bowie in the opening game of the State Championship tournament held in Austin at the Gregory Memorial Gymnasium, the Friona Squaws downed this opponent in a thrilling overtime period by a final score of 60 to 54. The win gave the Squaws from the Panhandle a right to meet Buna for the State Championship game for Class AA Girl's basketball.

Coming out slow in the initial period, the Friona Squaws were outscored by their opponent one point as the score at the end of the first eight minutes of play was six for Bowie and five for the Squaws.

During the second period of play, the Squaws drew first blood as they scored to make it a seven to six ball game and the Frionans held on to their lead as the score at the half-time period was 22 for the Squaws and 16 for Bowie.

In the third quarter the Squaws maintained their advantage by outscoring Bowie in this round and the score moving into the final period was 37 for Friona and 33 for Bowie with a long eight minutes to play.

The fourth period was more or less a jinxed one for the Squaws as the Bowie girls, behind the sharp-shooting and fast driving of Carolyn Allen, outscored the local girls and with only a few seconds remaining on the clock, Allen stepped to the free throw line and tossed in two points to tie the game at 49 all.

A two minute overtime period was played to break the tie and during this overtime action Friona scored 11 points and held Allen and company to only five to make a final score of 60 to 54. During this overtime period, Tommy Lewellen of the Squaws dumped in four straight free throws to put the game on ice and give the Squaws the all important victory and a right to play for the state championship.

Scoring for Friona in this crucial contest was Jacquelyn Magness who had nine field goals and six charity tosses to make a total of 24 points. Charlotte Bock was second with 10 field goals and two free tosses to have a total of 22 points for the contest. Tommy Lewellen had three field goals and eight free throws to make a total of 14 points to her credit. High point scorer in the game was Carolyn Allen of Bowie who threw in field goals and free throws to the tune of 41 points.

Defensively for the Squaws it was Lawana Houlette, Eleanor Dodson, Gwen Green, Judy Bock and Mary Ann Boggess who handled that end of the chore.

Magness, Houlette Picked All-State

Jacquelyn Magness, forward, and Lawana Houlette, guard, were named members of the Class AA All-State Team according to information released from Austin Tuesday night.

Friona, along with Buna, who won the state championship title by downing Friona 66-63 Saturday night, placed two players each on the All-Star team.

Linda Johnson, forward, and Sonja Thornton, guard, from Buna were unanimous choices on the team, this is the second time both of these girls have made the team.

Carolyn Allen, sharpshooting forward from Bowie and Beth Gasch, guard, from Brazosport rounded out the Class AA All-State team for the 1960 season.

SPECIAL MEETING--

Paving Assessment Rolls Get Ok

Assessment rolls for the upcoming paving project in Friona were approved at a special meeting of the city council Monday afternoon at 2 p. m. in the city hall.

Meeting with the council for this project was Red Smith, of Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, consulting engineers of Lubbock and city engineer for the project.

Following discussion of several other blocks of paving which have come forward since the 30-odd block of paving has been set up the council approved the rolls for the original blocks of paving. (A complete legal description of these blocks is included in a legal notice on the classified page of this issue.)

According to the engineer's information property owners will be interested in knowing the cost of the paving to them. For those streets measuring 31 feet wide, the cost of paving for a front foot will be $4.00; side foot--$3.60.

On a 36-foot street the costs will be $4.84 for a front foot and $4.28 for a side foot.

On 40-foot streets the front foot cost will be $5.21 and 56-foot streets will cost $6.71 per front foot.

The city's cost in the program will run an estimated 16 per cent of the total cost which is $90,259.24 for the entire program.

A special hearing for the purpose of hearing those property owners who object to the paving program has been set

In Farmer County $3 Per Year Elsewhere $4 Per Year

Now It's Their Turn

A striking parallel is taking place today between the agricultural industry and the manufacturing industry. It is a sinister parallel which had implications for all Americans.

Since the second World War, American farmers have awakened from a long sleep of complacency to find that the commodities which they produce are no longer so greatly sought for all over the world. They have discovered, much to their dismay, that simply producing these commodities was no longer an automatic road to agricultural prosperity.

This has been a problem for the American farmer for perhaps the last eight or ten years. It now appears that the manufacturing industry of the nation is meeting an almost identical problem itself. Manufacturers are now about ready to find out how farmers have been feeling to meet such severe competition in markets. For many years American factories have turned out manufactured products at a tremendous rate and their production was almost always disposed of immediately to the goods hungry consumers of the United States and other nations of the world.

However, within the last two or three years a tremendous change is being made. This change can affect the manufacturers of the country just as changes have affected the nation's agriculture. Most of us are not aware of the following statistics.

An estimated one hundred and fifteen million dollars worth of women's clothing was imported into the United States last year. Less than half that amount was imported as recently as 1955. Importation of carpeting has risen to almost 15% of production in the United States. The Japanese sent almost two million radios into this country in a six month period of 1959. Foreign manufacturers supplied American consumers with a huge number of portable typewriters. The total comes to almost half the output of the United States. Over 90% of our chinaware is now imported. Almost one-third of our earthenware comes from foreign shores. Japanese stainless steel flatware, which reached the American table last year, totaled almost half of our domestic production. New car registrations in America were over one half million for those of foreign manufacturers in 1959. Back in 1955, only fifty-seven thousand foreign cars were imported.

The trend is definitely easy to see. Competition in manufacturing lines is rapidly increasing all over the world. The United States has been gradually whittling away at trade restrictions in both our own country and other countries. As a result, both American farmers and American manufacturers are, for the first time, meeting their foreign competitors almost eye to eye. One of the greatest inherent weaknesses of Americans is for them to assume that they are naturally superior to all other countries. This shortcoming is almost hereditary in America because it has been the national notion for such a long time.

We have complete faith in the ability of this country to compete with other nations in any field of endeavor. However, the old-fashioned idea, which has prevailed for so long, that we are automatically superior to others in every way is going to have to be overhauled. We must quit taking so many things for granted.

By the way, it is not necessarily bad that the United States is purchasing more and more foreign goods all the time. Trade among countries works just the same as trade among communities. The countries which receive our dollars in exchange for their manufactured products will have these dollars available to buy agricultural commodities or other manufactured products from us. The thing that needs to be watched closely is the ratio of exports to imports. That is, in order to remain a superior country America must maintain a greater volume of goods selling to other countries than she imports. This is referred to as a favorable balance of trade. So far, the United States is in no immediate danger of importing more than she exports. However, the indications are that the trend of increasing imports is one to be reckoned with and we must not foolishly push our heads into the sand and ignore the fact that we are being challenged as farmers and as manufacturers to compete in the world market place.

In addition Mary Bavousett who plans to move to Dawn, and Frank Smith, band director. Superintendent Farr compared the results of the school census for this year with last.

A drop in possible enrollment is expected during 1960-61-compared with 1959-60.

The figures for 1959-60 were 1,081 and for next year an estimated 1,040 is anticipated.

Mr. and Mrs. Foister Rector and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Rector and Gary are vacationing in Arizona. They planned to visit Rector's brother, Oscar, at Tempe before returning home.

Judge Tries Three In District Court

District Judge E. A. Bills was in Farwell Friday to try non-jury criminal cases, where persons charged were in custody. The Farmer County grand jury issued 14 indictments last week, but of this number, several are either unapprehended or out on bond, and trial

Friday was not possible. All defendants waived trial by jury and entered pleas of guilty.

E. H. Collom, 29, Gainesville, was found guilty of removing mortgaged property. He had taken a used car from Friona Motors.

Judge Bills has not passed sentence on Collom. He is waiting for the Gainesville man to make restitution and pay court costs.

One Civil Case Heard By Judge

Only one civil case--out of five that were on the docket the week before--reached Judge Bill's district court last week.

In the case of Pearl Osborn vs. Maggie London et al, which was a suit to establish partition of 400 acres of land near Farwell in an inheritance dispute, the judge rendered an instructed verdict in favor of the defendant.

The 12-man jury heard about four hours of testimony in the case, but failed to get an opportunity to reach a verdict when Judge Bills recognized a motion by the defendant's attorneys, Underwood, Wilson, Sutton, Heare and Berry of Amarillo, that he give an instructed verdict in favor of the defendant.

On the jury were Dean Blackburn, C. A. Felts, O. J. Beene, Fred Curtis, A. O. Gast, Bedford Caldwell, H. H. Kelson, Doyce Barnett, Sam Bailey, Herbert Schueler, Kenneth Neill, and Charley Bainum.

L. B. Harris was convicted of theft by false pretext. He had been indicted last year and was arrested following his sudden appearance in a Texico J.P. Court on a speeding citation.

The 29-year-old Petersburg man had taken a car from Friona Motors. Since he had previously been convicted of a worthless check charge in Lubbock, his assessment of two years in the penitentiary was not deferrable.

Gary Simpson, 29, Sidney, Nebraska, drew the stiffest penalty Friday. He was given five years in the pen by Judge Bills after the court found him guilty of burglary and attempted rape. The offenses occurred in the Fred Langer home in Bovina. This was his first offense.

TOURNAMENT POSTPONED A forty-two tournament scheduled for Saturday evening of this week at the Hub Community House has been postponed. Further plans will be announced in a later edition of the Star.

Science Club Studies Projection

The Science Club met at the drive in, of Friona, at 7:30 to 9:30 Tuesday night, March 8, 1960, 18 students attended.

A program was presented by Bob Sanders on the optics of film projection. Bill McGothlin allowed the science club to use his drive in and projection room. The purpose was to show the students how a film is projected on the screen, and also how the film is run through the projectors.

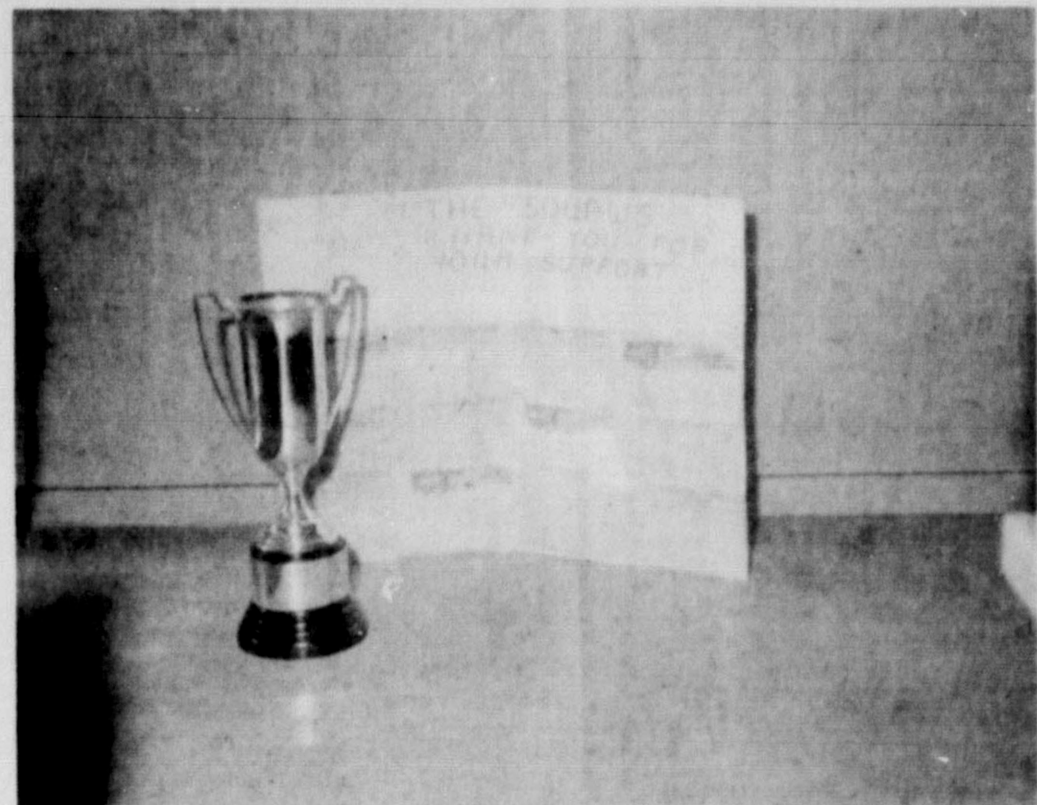

After learning how the projection room is operated the students went back to school to the laboratory, and discussed the program. Later they had refreshments and adjourned.

Squaws End Busy Season By Capturing Second In State Finals

BY DEWAYNE HOLLAND AND CAROLYN WINES

The Buna Cougarlets depended on accuracy and momentum to down the Friona Squaws Saturday night, March 12, 66-63, and win the Conference AA state championship in the Interscholastic League's 10th annual Girls' State Basketball Tournament.

The deadly shooting of Deon Cummings with 25 points and Linda Johnson with 23, built up a commanding lead for Buna during the first three periods, but the lead was almost taken in the fourth quarter by Friona.

Buna lead at halftime 37-22, and had a 17 point lead 57-40 at the end of the third quarter.

Friona made a desperate challenge in the final minutes of the game. The Squaws trailed at the end of the third 57-40, and with two minutes left in the fourth, were behind 66-51. Lawana Houlette sparked the play by stealing the ball from Buna constantly, preventing the Cougarlets from scoring, while Jacquelyn Magness plunked 12 points in. The last score was made by Charlotte Bock, with 20 seconds left to play in the game.

Jacquelyn Magness was high point for the Squaws with 29 points. Charlotte Bock hit 16 points and Tommy Lewellen put in 18.

Everyone is proud of the girls and their hard work. We want to wish Coach Duggins best of luck with his girls next year.

The Friona Squaws started basketball season on the right foot. They downed Happy in their first game of the season with an 18 point victory. This game was just one of the many victories to come in the future ending in the finals of the State Tournament.

The Squaws took part in three invitational tournaments. They came out on top of two of the tournaments, Olton and White Deer. In the Claude Tournament the Squaws lost the first place trophy by four points to Claude.

The Squaws won district after a two-out-of-three game playoff against Tulla. Friona won the first two games thus winning district. From district the Squaws went to regional where they defeated Anson and Coleman in the Chapman Fieldhouse at Lubbock. Then the Squaws journeyed to the State Tournament in Austin. In the first round of play-offs the Squaws defeated Isowie in an overtime by 6 points. The next night the Squaws were downed by the Buna by three points.

The Arrow staff would like to congratulate the Squaws for a very successful season.

 If you want to go with this boy, go with him. Your sister had her chance and now it is your turn.
 Milly

Dear Milly:
 My problem is one that is very important. There is a certain girl that I, honestly, can't stand. She would be alright if only she weren't such a flirt. There is one big trouble, if I like a certain boy she suddenly decides she likes him too, what's more he usually winds up liking her also. After she has gone with him once or twice she suddenly decides that she doesn't like him any more. What should I do?
 Shy

Dear Shy:
 If you are worried about the boy situation, then don't! The boys will catch on to her little game soon enough. Then she will be the one who is worrying.
 Milly

Dear Milly:
 Do boys respect the truth more than they do just saying, "I am busy tonight" when they ask for a date?
 Truthful

Dear Truthful:
 Boys are human just as girls. They don't want to be lied to any more than girls. Too, by telling the truth if you don't want to go with a certain boy, you may avoid further encounters with this boy.
 Milly

Dear Milly:
 I am a happy, carefree, worryfree girl of sixteen. What's wrong with me? Why can't I have problems like others?
 Problemless

Dear Problemless:
 Your time is coming, so take advantage of being carefree and happy. Nothing is wrong with you, as far as that goes, you have something which many people lack and wish they had.

Seven Squaws Graduating

There will be seven members of the Friona Squaws graduating this spring, six players and one manager. The senior girls who have traveled the road with the second place state champions are Jacquelyn Magness, Charlotte Bock, Lawana Houlette, Levada Hand, Sue Baxter, Gwen Green and Janet Snead, team manager.

With the exception of Sue Baxter, who moved to Friona during her sophomore year, and Janet Snead, who became team manager this season, all graduating seniors have been out for basketball throughout their entire high school career.

Guard Lawana Houlette has been a starter for all four years and has made the All-District team the past two seasons, in addition to being placed on four All-Tournament teams during her basketball playing career. Houlette is the 18-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Houlette of Friona and the local fans who saw the Friona-Buna state championship game will remember this senior as playing an outstanding game, especially in the final three minutes of the last quarter.

Forward Jacquelyn Magness has been an All-District selection the past two seasons also and was selected to the Olton All-Tournament team this season. She is the daughter of Mrs. H. T. Magness of Friona. She had the distinction of having the honor of scoring more points in the state championship game this season than any other forward.

Mayre Boren Buried Here

Funeral services for Mrs. Mayre Boren of Odessa were conducted at the Northside Church of Christ there Tuesday morning of last week. There was also a brief service at the Sixth Street Church of Christ here that afternoon with M. B. McKinney officiating.

Mrs. Boren moved here about 30 years ago. Her husband died in 1950. She had lived at Odessa the past nine years. Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Maudine Pures and Mrs. Arlesia Collier, both of Odessa and Mrs. Cecil Rule of Dolores, Colo. Also 12 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren. Burial was in the Friona cemetery.

ship game this season than any other forward.

Charlotte Bock, 17-year old daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Hugh Blaylock of Friona, has been a starting forward on the team the past three seasons. She made the All-District team this year and has been an outstanding scorer during her career. She has had the honor of being placed on three All-Tournament teams.

Gwen Green, 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Green of Friona, is a two year letterman in the girls basketball program and was a starting guard this season. She saw plenty of floor play this season and was an all around defensive player for the Squaws.

Levada Hand is the 18-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Hand and is a two year letterman for the Squaws. Levada has made a valuable contribution to the squad in that she has remained a steady worker throughout her entire career.

Sue Baxter is the 17-year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Baxter. Sue moved to Friona from South Dakota where there was no athletic program for girls and had had no previous experience before trying out for the Squaws' team. However, she made a ready second unit spot and is a one year letterman.

Janet Snead, whose parents are Mr. and Mrs. Rene Snead became the team manager this season and has done an outstanding job. Throughout part of this season Janet was hampered by a foot operation but continued her duties on crutches which lessened the burden on both players and coach.

It goes without saying that team members and local fans will miss seeing the senior girls in action next season but their small feeling of emptiness can be filled with the knowledge that all senior girls have acquitted themselves well in the performance of their duties and their athletic abilities while a member of the Friona Squaws.

A TRIBUTE TO FRIENDSHIP!

Through the years, as we learn to evaluate people and personalities, we find that enduring friendships are one of life's precious jewels. What is more comforting than a treasured visit with someone to whom you can be just your natural self? Do you know what the definition of a friend is? It is a person who knows all your faults but still likes you, in spite of them. None of us is free from faults. That is only human. So we gravitate to those who like us and who, in turn, we think rather special. Let's cherish our friendships and make the most of them... lest old acquaintance be forgot!

5 STATE TEAMS--

Former Squaws

Even though the 1960 Squaws were the first Friona team that had ever played in Gregory Gym in Austin, they were not the first Friona team to play in the final game of a state tournament.

The first Friona team to enter a state tournament was coached by R. L. Bates in 1941. Before entering this tournament, this group of girls won 26 of its 28 games and first place in the district. They placed second in the consolation bracket in the state tournament.

In 1944 the second tribe of Squaws entered the state tournament. This time they were coached by Maurice Norman. The squad came out second best in the final game and placed two girls on the all-state team.

Again in 1945 the Squaws journeyed to the state tournament after winning district. This team was also coached by Maurice Norman. This time they placed third and one girl made the all-state team.

Bates returned to Friona as the girls' basketball coach in 1946. This group of squaws fell to Aquilla High School in the final game of the tournament.

Coach Bates and the 1947 Squaws ran up an impressive record of 41 wins and no losses during the season before going to the state tournament, where they placed third.

Leslie Hinds coached the 1948 Squaws and before this squad went to the state tournament they won 32 games and lost one. In the second game they played they were beaten by Maydelle High School, runner-up team in the tournament.

Many of the Squaws of Yesterday still live here and support the Squaws of Today. Among them are Lunell McFarland Horton, Gladys Laceywell Day, Betty McLellan Rector, Ollie Pearl Strickland Taylor, Cherry Ann Smith Mingus, Mildred Mingus Agee and Tila Rue Day Hester.

Members of Boy Scout Troop 253 will be looking for the answer to that question every front yard in Friona Friday afternoon. Everyone interested in participating in a pop bottle drive to benefit these Boy Scouts is asked to place all empty bottles on the front porch.

in and around FRIONA

WITH JUNE

If the question "What was going on in And Around Friona?" had been honestly answered last weekend, the answer would probably have been "Not much." It would be interesting to know how many Frionans were in Austin for the basketball games.

Those of us who stayed at home listened to both games on the radio and a lot of cheering was done by fans here. Even though the Squaws didn't win first, we are all proud of them and will be rooting for them to come out on next time.

Think the most amusing joke we heard about Frionans being in the capital concerned Tom Lewellen. It seems that the Lewellens visited relatives who had lived there several years.

As the man and Tom went about from place to place, the man became curious about the number of persons speaking to Tom and calling him by his first name.

Finally, he said, "It beats all. You've been here such a short time and know so many people and I've been here several years and hardly know anyone."

With the coming of spring, which can't be far away, most of us will be spending more time in our automobiles. Those of us who have small children should remember that there's never a time to relax our watch for their welfare when we're driving.

There are many laws and rules to protect children on the street from being injured by automobiles. However, the only safety rules for them when they're inside the automobiles are the ones given by older persons.

Four things which no grown-up should ever do are as follows:

Never allow a child to stand on a seat while the car is in motion.

Never permit children or packages to obstruct vision through the rear view mirror. If it is necessary to make use of the space behind the seat for any reason, have a rear view mirror installed outside the car before beginning your trip.

Never allow rough-housing while riding.

Never allow children to touch door handles while a car is moving.

Just one more paragraph about basketball and we'll leave the subject. It is interesting to note that one other time when the Squaws came out second best in state competition their opponents were called Cougarettes and there was just three points difference in the final score.

Gardening time is just around the corner. Pretty soon we expect to see J. H. Wise and W. J. Nazworth planting early vegetables. In a conversation with Mr. Wise recently we learned that he doesn't plan to plant so many vegetables this year.

Jim and Sally Cocannouer have already started their spring yard work. Before very long the trees will be budding out and things will start turning green again and the growing season will definitely be with us.

Think if there's one season in the year that is favored by more people than any other, it is the growing season.

Again this year we have the opportunity of seeing "What's new for spring" without having to go out of town. Thursday evening next week the latest fashions in clothes for girls of all ages and young men will be modeled by local models in the auditorium.

Since no out of town entertainers are being imported for the program, the whole affair will be home grown. This showing of clothing, accessories and hair styles for any occasion should prove most interesting to everyone.

Buy your tickets from members of Friona's three federated clubs.

BUILDING PERMITS

Friona Consumers Inc. were issued a building permit this week at the City Hall for the purpose of constructing a new gasoline station at their location on Main Street at an estimated cost of $4,000.

In the championship game against the Buna Cougerettes held Saturday night, the Friona Squaws had a hard time of it the first half as the Buna girls hit a phenomenal 84 per cent of their shots to break the game open during the second period. The first quarter was close as the Squaws scored with their contestants pretty well as the score at the end of the first eight minutes was 12 for the Squaws and 15 for Buna. It was the second quarter that was the straw that broke the camel's back as Buna hit the bucket at will and Friona had a hard time finding the round hole. The score at the midway mark was 37 for the Buna Cougerettes and 22 for the Friona Squaws. During the third period the Squaws again stayed in the game as Buna scored 20 points and the local girls scored 18 to move into the final period of the game with the score 57 for Buna and 40 for the Squaws, giving the Buna Cougerettes a commanding 17 point lead moving into the last eight minutes of play. The start of the fourth quarter was about the same as the first three as the Squaws could not seem to move to within 15 points of Buna. However, in the last three minutes of play, a relaxed Friona team went to work and staged one of the most brilliant comebacks in the history of Texas' girls basketball. Led by ball hawking Lawana Houlette who stole half after ball, and by the sharpshooting of Jacquelyn Magness who was getting perfect position and hitting the bucket for two, the Squaws changed a 66 to 51 score to a 66 to 63 score in less than three full minutes, but the final whistle sounded before the Squaws were able to pull a victory out of the bag. Magness and Houlette were superbly aided in their brilliant last stage attack by guards Eleanor Dodson and Mary Ann Boggess and by forwards Charlotte Bock and Tommy Lewellen.

Scoring for Friona in this last game was Jacquelyn Magness who had 29 points, followed by Tommy Lewellen who had seven field goals and six free throws for a total of 18 points and Charlotte Bock who hit for six field goals and two free throws for a total of 16 points to make the 63 points. Magness had the honor of being the high scorer in the State's Class AA Girls' Basketball Championship game. The loss to Buna gave the Friona Squaws second place in the State's double A division for girls which was a fitting climax to a very successful season.

The Bible Teaches ...

that Jesus is able to save completely them that draw near to God through him, because he ever lives to make intercession for those he saves (Hebrews 7:25). That person is wise, then, who commits his life to Jesus for Jesus can save. There is no salvation in any other (Acts 4:12).

The condition for our being saved by Jesus is that we draw near to God. God does not desire that man be lost. He wills that man repent (II Peter 3:9). To repent is to return from error. Provision has been made for man's salvation BUT God will not save that man who will not repent. We must repent; draw near to God, or we may not be saved. What will you do? The choice is yours.

Mrs. Paul Spring Elected President Of Hospital Auxiliary

During the business session of the Thursday afternoon meeting of the Parmer County Hospital Auxiliary in the Community Room of the Friona State Bank Mrs. Paul Spring was elected president of the organization. Other officers elected were Mrs. Sloan H. Osborn, vice president, and Mrs. Roy Clements, secretary-treasurer.

This slate of officers, which replaces Mrs. Deon Awtrey, president; Mrs. J. T. Gee, vice president; and Mrs. Paul Spring, secretary-treasurer. They will take office in September and serve for the next two years.

Mrs. Lee Cranfill, a new member, and 14 other members were present. Miss Violet Dorsch of Waxahachie was a guest.

installed soon.

The Friona Auxiliary was organized in August of 1956 and affiliated with the Texas Association of Hospital Auxiliaries in January of 1960. Mrs. Claude Osborn was the first president, Mrs. H. K. Kendrick was the vice president and Mrs. Dan Ethridge was secretary-treasurer.

Membership is open to everyone desiring to belong. Annual dues are $2 per year for active members or $5 for associate members.

Projects of this organization include the annual rummage sales every fall. Recently $800 was donated to the hospital to apply on the purchase of a new adjustable surgical light for the operating room.

During the past year the group has sponsored the purchase of two television sets which are rented to hospital patients for $1 per day. Members of the auxiliary take care of the details of renting and caring for these sets.

The Hospital Memorial Fund has had more than $600 contributed to it in the last year. The Friona State Bank assists the auxiliary with this project by accepting deposits made by individuals and then notifying the hospital.

A card is sent to the family of the deceased giving details of the memorial gift. Friends and relatives who wish to contribute to the hospital memorial fund in the memory of someone else simply leave their contributions at the bank with the names of those to whom they wish to have cards sent by the hospital.

County Agent Says Fertilize

In spite of the lateness of the season, wheat farmers would do well to go ahead with their ordinary "winter" fertilizer application, County Agent Joe Jones suggests this week.

"Cold weather has held wheat back to the point that it will still be all right to put on fertilizer and get a lot of benefit," he says, but he cautioned against any delay, fertilizer is usually put on in February.

"As soon as warm weather does come, that wheat is going to really start growing," he points out, "and we sure want to get the fertilizer on before the plants start to joint."

The county agent says many farmers don't think they're ready to begin irrigating yet, after plentiful moisture through the winter. Jones says they can well consider top dressing. "It will be early enough to be beneficial."

The agent points out that he is talking about nitrogen fertilizers—not phosphate—that are obtainable in either dry, liquid, or gas form.

Jones says prospects for the wheat crop are excellent. He admits development is late, but with such a good reserve of moisture in the soil, he believes the crop will be "up and running" whenever the sun begins to shine again.

NEWS FROM THE FARM BUREAU

BY RAYMOND EULER

Did you know that if a farmer gave 1.37 pounds of chicken (equivalent to one pound ready to cook) to the processor, the chicken would still cost the housewife 20 cents in the retail store? The farm value is 22.3 cents--the marketing cost, 20 cents. But remember that the processor pays a good portion (as does the farmer,) of his take in various taxes.

The National Cotton Council, Cotton Ginners Association, Plains Cotton Growers and other farm groups met in conjunction with Farm Bureau in Lubbock last Wednesday morning. Purpose of the meeting was to initiate a continuing program of public information similar to the above illustration to let the consumer know that the farmer doesn't get all the money the consumer pays for his products. It is important that the consumer, particularly the city consumer, know these facts. The public information program is a farmer's program, and not that of any particular organization, although the organizations will lend their assistance in getting the facts to the public. Herman Gerles, PCFB president and yours truly were at the Lubbock meeting.

If you want to contribute to the kitty in the Farm Bureau Office to be used in premium stock purchases Saturday, your contribution will be welcomed. The directors and officers kicked in $63 the night they decided the project would be good

If you are faced with the problem of "what to do with egg yellows when only the whites are used in cake making or something on that order, you will probably be interested in the following paragraph.

Egg yellows can be very satisfactorily boiled if they are carefully placed in a pan of rapidly boiling water. After being hard cooked they can be used in salads, to stuff celery or as filling for party sandwiches.

Mexican food is becoming more and more popular with persons of every age. If good recipes are used and care is taken to follow them exactly, it isn't really difficult to prepare.

In a recent issue of The Farmer-Stockman the following recipes were printed. Tortillas are the foundation for most south-of-the-border dishes.

TORTILLAS

1 teaspoon salt
2 1/2 cups special corn flour (made purposely for tortillas and tamales) or use 1 1/2 cups corn meal mixed with 1 cup white flour
3 tablespoons shortening

Mix ingredients well, then add enough boiling water to make a stiff paste. Pat and roll out into very thin round cakes about 8 inches in diameter. Bake on a griddle or fry until crisp in deep fat.

FRIJOLE MACHADOS
(Mashed Fried Beans)

Mash cooked pinto beans and fry in fat until they are cooked through and through. Use about 1/2 to 3/4 cups fat to each 2 cups drained mashed beans. Bacon drippings are excellent. Stir constantly. Beans take on a slightly grayish color and absorb all of the fat. Excellent for left over beans.

CHALUPAS

Fry whole tortillas in deep fat until they are crisp. Drain

TOASTADOS

Cut tortillas into 3 cornered wedges and fry in deep fat until crisp. Drain well. Serve as bread or crackers with dips and salads (especially Guacamole salad.)

The words chalupa and tostado are closely related. They refer to the toasted tortilla. Many Mexicans refer to the big open-faced type sandwich as "chalupas." They are eaten with the hand, as are tacos.

ENCHILADAS MEXICAN

12 tortillas
2 cups grated cheese
1 large onion
2 cups chili sauce

Make chili sauce from 2 tablespoons fat, 1 tablespoon flour, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 4 tablespoons chili powder (or chili peppers, if available), 2 cups boiling water (or half water and half tomato juice). Add oregano and chopped garlic for extra zip. Heat fat, blend in flour, and cook until slightly thickened. Keep hot for dipping tortillas.

When referring to "chilies" the Mexican usually means fresh, green hot peppers but you also may use dried ones or sweet pepper. To prepare them, wash the pods, remove stems, seeds and white veins. Cover with boiling water and cook until tender. Outside skins may be removed from pods by pressing through a food mill.

Dip tortillas in hot chili sauce and place two tablespoons grated cheese and 3/4 tablespoon chopped onion in the center. Roll as a jelly roll and place in a baking dish. Cover with remaining chili sauce, sprinkle with cheese and onion and bake uncovered in moderate oven, 350 degrees, for ten minutes or until cheese is melted. Serves 6.

When dipping tortillas in hot chili sauce to make enchiladas, leave them in only a brief time or they will fall apart.

Onions taste better if sliced thin and lengthwise down the onion instead of across to cut into little square pieces or chips--saves juice.

Use both sharp and mild cheese in enchiladas.

Schlabs Draw Mention In Farm Journal Article

Edmund, Charles, and Raymond Schlab, Farmer County, Tex., are some of the Southwestern farmers quoted in Farm Journal's March issue about the increasing change-over from the standard 40-inch "walking plow" row to narrower rows.

The Schlabs space eight unit-planters on a four-row tool bar to plant four pairs of 14-inch rows with 26 inches between pairs. On the lister beams, well and spread with fried beans. Cover with salad mix: finely stripped lettuce, sliced onions, tomatoes and green pepper and top with grated cheese.

What Should A Farmer Pay For Delinting Cottonseeds ?

$20 - $35 - $50 per ton ?

Five years ago when our delinting plant was built, we had only the saw delinting process. This was the safest method known and the most reasonable in price; only $20 per ton for cleaning, delinting, treating and sacking. Now five years later, the price remains the same for this process and we haven't ruined a seed yet. We were skeptical of any other method of delinting seed due to the number of complaints farmers had about ruining seed delinted by any other process.

The complaints still exist. Two years ago, we investigated a new process of acid delinting seed known as the "wet acid" process. At that time there was one other wet acid plant on the Plains, but several plants of this type in the El Paso Valley. The machine used in the "wet acid" process was patented and we obtained a franchise for one of these machines.

The advantage to the farmer in having acid delinted using the "wet acid" process is that the method is safe. Why, over similar processes? Because the seed stay in contact with the acid for only a minute or so and then they are washed with enough water whereby there is no trace of acid left. The sacks will not show up with holes. The disadvantage is that the price is ordinarily about $15 per ton higher than the "dry acid" or "gas" method. Ours, the "wet acid" process, is a continuous process. The seed are not run in batches and we use several times as much acid in the delinting process.

We have a gravity table which floats out most of the light seed that do not germinate, anyhow. In our two years of operation, we haven't had one complaint about ruining seed or that the sacks were eaten up by excess acid.

More of the certified seed growers are switching to the "wet acid" process each year. There are several "wet acid" plants on the Plains now. Their price is like ours. None have ever had to replace a farmer's seed. The $15 per ton difference amounts to about 20 cents per acre more.

We are in a position to either "saw" delint or "wet acid" delint your seed anytime.

For an appointment call Hub 2705 or bring them here.

Livestock Feeding Returning

CLARENCE WORLEY

Farmers in the High Plains areas are turning more and more to livestock feeding, according to Clarence Worley of Worley Mills in Clovis. (Worley has elevators in Farwell and Pleasant Hill.)

Because of the tremendous business the company does, Worley is in a position to know how the trend of farming and feeding of livestock goes.

"Hogs are coming back," he says. Worley feels that in this area farmers are going back to feeding as they have in the past.

"Farmers are going to market more grain to livestock."

"We find that ranchers are feeding more," he indicated was another trend.

Reports by a grain and feed dealers association shows that increases among almost all meat animals had occurred.

Cattle, sheep and hogs were recorded as the largest group in gain. The report indicates this was due to high animal reproduction and to more farmers starting to feed.

ing Specialist F. Z. Beanblossom, of the A&M Extension Service, who says there are many such false impressions about egg quality among consumers and egg handlers.

Here are some other false ideas on egg quality along with Beanblossom's comments on each:

- * Poor quality feed will result in low quality eggs . . . Actually, if the feed does not contain enough of the essential food elements the hen will lay fewer eggs, or even quit laying.
- * Eggs with dark yolk color are more nutritious . . . Yolk color is a matter of personal preference and not an indication of nutritive value.
- * Large eggs are best quality . . . Research does not show size of egg to be a factor in egg quality . . . price maybe, but not quality.

Beanblossom says there are other false impressions about eggs. Your best bet, he says is to buy eggs according to the grade stamped on the carton.

RAW VEGETABLES FOR "DUNKING"

Work more vegetables into the family diet . . . Extension foods and nutrition specialists suggest crisp, colorful raw vegetables for appetizers . . . between-meal snacks, and tasty salads.

For entertaining, add some carrot curls, celery sticks, radish roses, raw cauliflower or broccoli flowerets to the refreshment tray. Serve a zippy sour cream cheese, or avocado dip for "dunking" the vegetables. Guests will enjoy the informal atmosphere of the party and appreciate the extra "vitamins."

Texas 30, Harper 3 and Texas 28 produced average yields of about 70 bushels an acre lead all hybrids in the 1959 Texas corn performance tests. These hybrids showed a wide range of adaptability by ranking at or near the top in each of the individual tests conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. Sixteen dryland and two irrigated corn performance tests were completed in 1959. TAES Progress Report 2117, available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, gives a summary of the 1959 tests.

"Changing Supply of Grain in Texas" is the title of a new Agricultural Experiment Station publication. It is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas. Ask for B-939.

Castor Bean Yield Up, So Is Contract

Yields of castor beans at the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway reached an all-time high in 1959 with an average of 1,829 pounds per acre for eight varieties. The highest yield was obtained with Baker 102 with 2,107 pounds per acre.

Also, reports indicate that the Baker Castor Oil Company at Plainview is increasing the minimum contracted price for beans from 4.7 cents per pound to 5 cents.

It is understood that the company makes an additional offer, which is a "firm price" of 5.25 cents.

The 5 cents price is a minimum, but the grower can have the world price at the time of delivery if it is higher.

Castor beans are proving to be an important cash crop on the High Plains, and with prospects of greatly expanding acreage, there is much demand for information concerning adapted varieties and production practices.

serious in the fertilizer test which was located in an area where water stood longer following rain or irrigation.

On both tests, four irrigations of approximately four inches each were applied on July 27, August 12, August 27, and September 9. Rainfall from May through September amounted to 15.9 inches, making a total of 31.9 inches of moisture available during the growing season.

The plots were harvested with Baker Castor Oil Company's mechanical harvester. Harvesting was delayed by wet weather and wet ground until January 29. At that time shattering percentage was estimated for each plot in both the variety and fertilizer tests. The shattering percentages reported are averages of four replications.

The return above the cost of materials and application of in-the-furrow fungicides at planting time for the prevention of cotton seedling disease should average from $15 to $20 an acre, says Harlan Smith, extension plant pathologist.

Even though higher yields were obtained in this year's tests, it is believed that yields were limited somewhat by unfavorable conditions. The first set back was a severe hail on June 22, which riddled leaves and decreased the stand. This damage, however, was not as serious on castor beans as on most other crops.

The second limitation was due to alternaria leaf spot which damaged the leaves further. This disease damage was most

DRY MILK WILL CUT COST AND CALORIES . . .

Homemakers interested in trimming the food budget or keeping family figures in line, can rely on non-fat dry milk solids, or dry milk, to help, according to foods and nutrition specialists of the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station.

Dry milk is high in food value . . . only the fat, vitamin A, and some of the amino acids contained in whole, fresh milk have been removed. This means fewer calories.

It is less expensive than whole, fresh milk, and can be stored without refrigeration in its dry form. After it has been converted to liquid form, it should be refrigerated.

There are many ways to use this nutritious food in family meals. It can be whipped for use as a dessert topping, chilled and used as a beverage, converted into a delicious butter-milk, or used in any recipe that calls for milk.

OFFERS 2 PROVEN HYBRID GRAIN SORGHUM AND 2 NEW HYBRIDS THAT ARE PROVING THEMSELVES

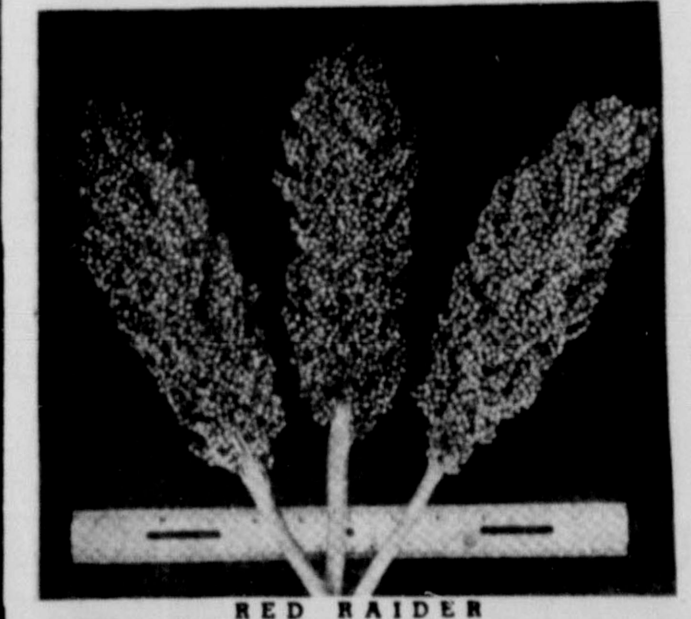

AMAK R-10

A dependable sorghum hybrid which has proven its adaptation over a wide range of conditions during the past three years. Emerges quickly, grows off rapidly and produces sturdy plants of medium height. Excellent grain and harvesting characteristics. Reddish grain which dries out rapidly and has a high test weight. AMAK R-12 is one of the earliest hybrids now available on the market. It may be used especially under dryland or limited irrigation, or wherever late plantings are required. In general, it is well adapted to the South Plains and in the sandier areas. Its dependability and desirable harvesting characteristics are two outstanding features of this hybrid. AMAK R-10 may be used for later planting where moisture is limited in order to extend the irrigation time and reduce the period of peak water requirements.

AMAK R-12

The performance of this hybrid during the past two seasons has demonstrated it to be one of the truly outstanding hybrids on the High Plains. Under irrigated conditions AMAK R-12 has been a consistently high yielder, and it has been particularly outstanding under favorable conditions where yields of 6,000 to 7,000 pounds per acre have been obtained. It is several days later than AMAK R-10 and slightly taller, like AMAK R-10, it has desirable grain and harvesting characteristics, with an exceptionally attractive reddish grain color. Under moderate dryland conditions AMAK R-12 has also demonstrated its ability to perform well. AMAK R-12 should be planted at the optimum date from June 5 to 30. AMAK R-12 might well be recommended to any grower on the Plains with the possible exception of those with dryland conditions where extremely low yields are anticipated. The heads of AMAK R-12 are thick and heavy, and can always be depended on to produce a high yield under favorable conditions.

RED RAIDER

A distinctive, short hybrid which differs from most hybrids now commercially available because of its consistently short height--38 to 40 inches on the average. Red Raider has excellent resistance to lodging. It is somewhat intermediate in maturity between AMAK R-10 and AMAK R-12, and becomes comparatively later from the South to the North part of the High Plains. For example, in the South Plains it will be almost as early as AMAK R-10 while further north it may be as late as AMAK R-12. Under favorable conditions Red Raider produces a long head with moderate exertion and high reddish grain. In general, it should be used under irrigation to insure adequate exertion and high yields. It should be of particular value under conditions where lodging can be a serious problem.

COASTAL

Coastal has an excellent plant type, sturdy and upright with a long, straight head which opens moderately as the plant matures. The heads show good exertion and the grain is high in test weight with a good red color. In the 1958 trials, Coastal was similar in maturity to AMAK R-10 on the South Plains, but was somewhat later farther north. Plants are usually intermediate in height between AMAK R-10 and AMAK R-12. Preliminary results in 1959 indicate to lodging and has a high yield potential because of its large head size. It should be tried out under irrigation in comparison with both AMAK R-10 and AMAK R-12.
