Y'know about every time we go to East Texas we get hoorawed about the weather out here on the Plains, but by golly, we left here one morning when it was spitting snow and pretty cold.

But we drove through ice and snow all the way and when we did get to deep East Texas that night I liked to have froze plumb to death.

It was coldern 'n a Alaskan sourdough's nightmare.

The wind was out of the east, it was dripping fog so thick you could drink it and 19 degrees.

Man--in East Texas that is enough to cut you right in half.

Right then we sorta longed to be back up on the Plains where it gets cold alright, but not like that.

Enuff of this weather, in fact most of y'all feel like I do on that subject, we've had enuff to suit us until next year!

The big papers have been full of Castro's latest bearded belchings and the story of the west coast's Cheryl Chessman.

Personally, we cannot see why either of these folks are still alive.

Castro of course keeps a pretty good bodyguard around him, and Chessman is usually well guarded too (beings he's in prison).

But--why in the heck hasn't the State of California put this guy out of his misery a long time back we'll never understand.

Talk about the political aspects of the farm situation, well the farmers can learn a lot from this guy.

There he's been for about 12 years on death row, and he might legal his way out of it yet!

Y'know we were talking to a buddy last night over a cup of coffee about this guy and we observed it would be a humorous bit of fate if they finally gassed Chessman one day, then repealed capital punishment in California the next!

Gruesome perhaps, but we think that guy deserves it if ever anyone did.

Surely if we live in a land where the laws are such that in cases like Chessman you may apply the old rule of "an eye for an eye, and a tooth for a tooth" we figure Chessman has a lot of eyes and teeth coming his way.

Austin--hyar we comel
From the coffee-dregs we can read fortunes that reveal that a lot of folks will be heading southeast come Thursday or Friday.

In fact more than one will have already left before this paper gets on the newsstands. The Squaws are on their way, they left Wednesday morning for the big town and we hope there are a lot of Friona rooters on hand to see them all the way.

Austin, H'yar We Come!

Squaws Win Regional; Playoffs Begin Friday

Unlessing a torrid attack that could not be repelled the Friona Squaws defeated both opponents in the Regional Tournament held in Chapman Field House in Lubbock Saturday to win a berth in the Class AA State Championship playoffs beginning Friday night in Gregory gymnasium in Austin. The Squaws will meet the Bowie High School Girl's team Friday evening at 7:30 p. m.

In Saturday morning's game held in Lubbock, the Squaws were pitted against a tall Anson team, but the local girls had it all the way from the opening whistle as they scored eight points before Anson was able to tally, this only one point from a charity toss. This was the way the ball bounced the entire game as the score at the end of the first quarter of play was 15 for the Squaws and five for Anson.

During the second period the Squaws continued their scoring spree as they hit the net for 22 points while Anson scored only eight to make a big gap in the two scores at halftime with Friona 37 and Anson 13.

during the third quarter as Friona hit for 15 more and Anson tallied a mere four points to go into the fourth and final period of play with the score 52 for the Squaws and 17 for Anson.

The final quarter saw the Friona second unit handling the entire situation as they too outscored Anson seven to six with the final score 59 for the Friona Squaws and 23 for Anson. The win advanced the Squaws to the championship held at 8:30 that evening.

Scoring for Friona was spread smoothly as Charlotte Bock and Jacquelyn Magness hit for 16 points each and Tommy Lewellen hit for 12 points. Reserve post forward Su Zan Harper hit the basket for 10 points.

The championship game saw the Squaws pitted against Coleman, who had defeated Slaton earlier in the day to also advance to the finals.

The Coleman-Friona game was almost a repeat of the morning game as the Squaws had no trouble from about midway in the first quarter. Scoring basket for basket in the first four minutes of play the score was tied at eight points each and then the Squaws burst into flame as they pulled away from Coleman never to be bothered again.

The score at the end of the first period of play was 21 for the Squaws and 12 for Coleman. During the second period of action, the Squaws continued their top notch performance as they scored a whopping 27 points and held Coleman to another 12 to double the score at halftime with Friona 48 and Coleman 24.

In the third stanza the Squaws repeated the actions of the first two as they scored 15 more points to move into the fourth and final period with the score 63 for the Squaws and 42 for Coleman.

The fourth quarter was no different as far as trouble with the Coleman girls were concerned as the reserve Squaws handled the situation handily to complete the scoring to make a final score of 84 for the talented Squaws to 64 for Coleman.

Bock was the high pointer for the Squaws in this contest as she hit the mark for 17 field goals and two free throws to have a total of 36 points, followed by Magness and Lewellen who hit for eight field goals and four free tosses each to have a total of 20 points each.

The Squaws and their sponsors will leave Friona Wednesday morning at 7 a. m. and will eat lunch at the Chicken Shack in Abilene located on South First Street. From there they

CITY COUNCIL MEETING--

Public Hearing Slated

A public hearing for the purpose of hearing complaints against the proposed rezoning of all of Block 93; west half of Block 94; Lots 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, 8 in Block 86; Lots 7, 8, 9, 10 of Block 85 from a "C" Zone to an "F" Zone will be held at the regular meeting of the city council, Monday night, April 4. This action followed discussion of recommendation of the city's planning and zoning commission to change the above named property from the present C Zone classification to the F Zone.

It was the opinion of both bodies, that the property involved will be of greater value both to the property owners and the city in the F Zone classification than in the C Zone.

"Homes can still be built in the F Zones, the council pointed out, "but so can businesses and our city needs more of this type of zone."

In other action in a rather short meeting Monday night council members voted to accept bids on a new police car; voted to hold an election; heard audit reports and agreed to close two alleys on Block 12 of the Drake Subdivision as requested by property owners in that area.

A second reading of Ordinance

80, dealing with the setting of fees and levies in the city's corporation court was heard with the final reading slated for April 4.

Those present at the meeting

Deon Awtrey was the absent alderman. Others present included Richard Collard, city attorney, Albert Field, city manager and Bob Ginsburg, CPA.

The next meeting of the council will be held April 4.

HOB0 PARTIES ARE FUN--This group of Girl Scouts enjoy any kind of party, but when given a choice, a hobo theme is generally chosen. They are: Standing: Glenda Mingus, Martha Ann Martin, Terri Lynn Wilson, Letricia Bartlett Terri Sue Mabry and Donna Shackelford. Middle Row: Sherry Cole, Ruby Nell Judkins, Brownie Cole, Shirley White, Lou Ann Cochran and Karen Agee. Bottom Row: Becky Turner, Vicki Moorman, Cindy Ingram and Kathy Jones.

Grand Jury Works Overtime Monday

Parmer County's grand jurors, called to their spring work session by District Judge E. A. Bills, put in a full day's work at the courthouse Monday, returning more than a dozen indictments.

As is customary, they investigated a number of other cases and returned "no-bills" or special instructions after listening to witnesses' complaints.

One unusual turn of events was that when Judge Bills addressed the 16-member grand jury panel and asked if any were requesting to be excused from service, none did. So, he picked the first 12. They were: Walter Hardage, foreman; C. C. Christian, W. N. Foster, Herbert Potts, Jack Clayton, J. D. Kirkpatrick, Monty Barrett, Don Murphy, B. V. Hughes, E. E. Engleking, C. E. Clark, and Virgil Teague.

Indictments were as follows:

Raymond Baker, transient worker from California, is charged with forgery. He allegedly wrote a check on C. W. Wright of Friona and passed it at the Deaton Grocery at Black on November 6. The check was for $42.

City, School Election Ballots Complete

Since last week's paper two more names have been added to the ballots for the upcoming elections on the board of trustees of the Friona Independent School District and the City of Friona's council.

Noyle Wood has petitioned for his name on the ballot for election to the school board of trustees and Eddie Meil has asked for reelection to the seat of alderman for the city.

In addition to these two men the names of those running for office to be decided in the April elections include D. C. Herring (reelection); A. S. Grubbs, Wayne Garth, Ellis Tatum and Meryle Massie on the board of trustees.

There are two vacancies on the school board, or rather two places to fill, the places held by Herring and by Hoyt Smith.

Three men are running for reelection in the city election. They are Mayor R. L. Fleming, and Aldermen Glenn Reeve Sr., and Eddie Meil.

Charles Scales is also running for this election.

Elections are slated for April 2 and April 5 of next month.

Religious Emphasis Week Begins Sunday

A week of Religious Emphasis will begin Sunday in Friona with most of the local churches co-operating in the week-long event.

Most of the down town Friona merchants have agreed to close their stores from 10 until 11 a. m. each morning during the local church services. Other services will be held in the evening at 7:30 p. m. at most churches.

As the Religious Week was originally planned for this time, but in order to miss the conflict with the State Basketball games in Austin, the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show officials have planned for their activities to close down for an hour Friday morning in order that all students and persons at the show may attend services at the high school auditorium.

Bus service will be provided by the Friona schools from the bus barns to the high school auditorium and a special section will be set aside for those from the livestock show to occupy during the religious service there.

Churches cooperating in the community effort include the Baptist Church, Friona Methodist Church, Assembly of God, Union Congregational, Sixth Street Church of Christ, Latin Mission and the Negro Baptist Church.

A schedule of the services and those bringing the messages at the various churches as definite as possible are follows:

Dr. James S. Riley, pastor of the Second Baptist Church of Houston will bring the message during the revival services slated during Religious Emphasis Week in Friona.

Dr. Riley will be assisted in his services by Warner Hichman of the Travis Baptist Church of Corpus Christi, Texas, as song leader.

Services will be held daily, except Saturday, at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. at the First Baptist Church.

Dr. Riley is a native of Memphis, Tenn., and was graduated from Germantown High School near Memphis in 1935. He received his B. A. degree from Union University in Jackson, Tenn. in 1939 and a Th. M. degree from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth in 1947 and his Th. D. from there in 1955.

He has pastored churches in Tennessee, Mississippi and Texas. Dr. Riley serves on the Board of Trustees of Southwestern Seminary in Houston Baptist College and is a member of the Downtown Rotary Club of Houston.

UNION CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

Two special services are slated at the Union Congregational Church in Friona during Religious Emphasis Week.

Chaplain James Chapman of Amarillo Air Force Base in Amarillo will be the speaker at a service to be held at 7:30 p. m. Tuesday night in the church.

No morning services are planned.

Chaplain Chapman will speak on "The Holy Spirit and Evangelism."

Wednesday night Rev. Hudson Phillips, pastor of the Union Congregational Church will speak at 7:30 p. m. on "The Holy Spirit and Christian Fellowship" and Thursday at 11:30 a. m. Rev. Phillips will speak to an assembly program in the Friona High School auditorium.

Chaplain Chapman was graduated from the University of Massachusetts with an A. B. degree in 1953 and was graduated from the Oberlin Graduate School of Theology in 1957. MEXICAN BAPTIST MISSION Rev. Raul Falcon of Friona will hold the revival services at the Mexican Baptist Mission in Friona during Religious Emphasis Week.

Rev. Falcon was graduated from the Mexican Baptist Seminary in El Paso in 1940 with his first pastoral duties in Juarez Old Mexico, a pastorate he served for four years.

In 1944 he moved to Brownwood to continue studies at Howard Payne College and at the same time served the congregation of the Sweetwater Mission.

Prior to moving to Friona he served as assistant pastor of the Trinity Baptist Church of El Paso.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD CHURCH J. R. Brasher, pastor of the First Assembly of God Church of Brownfield, will bring the evangelical messages at the Assembly of God Church in Friona during the Religious Emphasis week services.

Services will be held at the church at 10 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. each day except Saturday.

Rev. M. Alvin Askins, pastor of the church, says that Pastor Brasher will be preaching on Salvation for the soul, baptism in the Holy Spirit, Healing for the body and the Second coming of Jesus Christ.

FRIONA METHODIST CHURCH Rev. Don. R. Davison, pastor of the Asbury Methodist Church of Lubbock will bring the evangelical messages at the Friona Methodist Church during Named as first pastor of the new parish is the Rev. Declan Gilligan, S. A., now of St. Anthony's, Hereford.

Trustee Ballots Ready

School elections, traditionally an activity of high interest for voters, are ready for action when patrons go to the polls early next month.

Except for write-in campaigns (an unlikely prospect), the ballots are complete.

W. M. "Bill" Sherley of Lazbuddie has been nominated to succeed himself as a member of the county school board--in the position of trustee-at-large.

His is the only vacancy occurring in that body this year. Other members (one from each commissioner's precinct) are: J. L. Shaffer, Friona; Joe Wilson, Bovina; Clyde Magness, Farwell; and Matt Jesko, Lazbuddie.

Sherley's office has a two-year term.

In the Lazbuddie local election, there are four men seeking positions on the board, and two vacancies are due to occur. Nominees are C. W. Bradshaw, Altan Morris, E. T. Ford, and J. T. Mayfield. The latter two are incumbents.

At Farwell, those in the race are Bob Hart, Glenn Phillips, Clarence Johnson, Walter Kaltwasser, and Clay Henson. The last two are running for re-election.

Friona has six men running for two vacancies. They are A. S. Grubbs, Wayne Garth, Meryle Massie, Ellis Tatum, Noyle E. Wood, and D. C. Herring. Herring and Hoyt Smith have terms that end this year.

At Bovina, four candidates seek two openings. The slate of nominees includes D. R. Bushnell, Grady Sorley, J. B. Barrett, and M. R. Broadman. Bob Wilson and Wendol Christian are retiring from service.

The following cases were tried before Judge Thelma Jones in Corporation Court in the City of Friona during the week ending March 8.

$150 Fine Is A "First" In Parmer County Court

Ever hear of a DUID charge? Probably not, but that's what was made against a Waco man in county court last week, and the prosecution for the county made it stick.

Jackie Taylor, 24, was fined $150 and costs for driving under the influence of drugs. This is where the DUID letters came from. "DWI" (driving while intoxicated) is a part of America's daily language, but DUID is something relatively new.

way. His car was damaged to the extent of about $200.

Taylor pled guilty in Judge Loyde Brewer's county court and was fined and given 10 days in jail.

A companion who was riding in his car, William Hawkins, 23, who is from California, was hospitalized after the wreck in Muleshoe, but has been released. He was not charged.

Taylor is under a 5-year probation sentence from Waco on a charge of theft and burglary.

About six years ago, Parmer County lost its only DWI case in a jury decision. The defendant, a resident of Friona, claimed he was not intoxicated. Since the statutes at that time were inadequate to cover narcotics, the county lost its case.

A year or so ago, the Texas legislature acted to close this gap in the net of the law, and the past week, Parmer County had its first DUID case.

CURIOSITY SEEKERS WARNED--

Light Damages In Fire Tuesday

Only light damages were recorded in a fire at the Wilbur Brookfield residence late Tuesday afternoon reported Fire Chief Ruben Taylor this week. Although there was only damage to a small frame outbuilding at the rear of the residence, located one block north of the highway on Main Street in Friona, the damage could have been worse because of the presence of curious on-lookers and "fire truck chasers."

"We will be forced to give tickets to those chasing fire trucks if this practice doesn't let up," warned Fire Chief Taylor following the fire Tuesday afternoon.

Although the fire this week was a small one, serious damage and perhaps the loss of life could have been caused by the traffic jam of cars and people chasing the fire trucks down the street, he reported.

"We don't want to seem nasty to some folks," Taylor went on to say, "but we just want folks to keep out of the way where we can get to a fire and do our job."

A fire chief can according to law pass out tickets to persons following fire trucks too close or impeding the passing of these emergency vehicles in time of need.

DON'T LOOK NOW--Clyde Fields takes time out from fighting a fire Tuesday to threaten the camera man with a dose of water if he doesn't put down the camera. As you can see the picture came out despite the water. The fire was a small outbuilding at the rear of the Wilbur Brookfield residence on Main Street in Friona.

CHRISTIANITY IS CONTAGIOUS

With diseases caused by viruses running rampant in our community in recent months, we have become sharply aware that many of these diseases are contagious. This means that the viruses or germs are passed along from person to person through personal contact. Good things, like a smile or kindness, are also contagious.

Real Christianity is contagious. One must have it before he can pass it on to another and the process calls for personal contact. Have you exposed anyone to the Christian faith recently? Or, do you have enough to share with someone else? Attend the Christian emphasis services at your church next week, March 13-20.

WITH JUNE

From reports up and down the street, it seems that just about everyone in And Around Friona will be going to Austin to see the Squaws play basketball this weekend. Hardly anyone asks, "Are you going to Austin?" "When are you going to Austin?" is the correct wording of the question.

Those of us who do not go will be listening and pulling indicate that some of those go possible. Think the mass exodus will begin Wednesday. This is the first time in a long time that a Friona team has competed in the state tournament and everyone seems to be excited over the prospects.

to be in the vicinity of the hospital.

Much favorable comment has been heard about the senior play. Members of the class were happy with the ticket sales and are grateful for support given the play cast. Although having two performances is new to Friona, it seems that the idea proved worthwhile to a lot of persons who had made other arrangements on each night.

Mrs. June Rhodes and members of her third grade class visited the Friona Star and Plains Publishers one afternoon last week. We always enjoy having visitors and this particular group was very interested in everything they saw. The group was divided into two groups (boys in one group and girls in the other). As we toured the darkroom, the light was turned out to demonstrate the purpose of the room.

One of the boys said, "Don't you know the girls will scream when they're in here and the light is off."

This is Girl Scout week. If you haven't been asked to buy cookies, you probably will be before the week is over. This is the only money making project the organization sponsors, so think twice before you say "No" to these young saleswomen.

Teacher: "Jimmy name one important thing that we have now that we didn't have 50 years ago."
Jimmy: "Me."

Several Frionans are taking advantage of the long weekend to get in some last minute skiing. Reports we've heard indicate that some of those going to Red River will be the Deon Awtreys, Marion Fites, Andy Hurst, Rene Sneads and Lloyd Shackelfords.

According to some kind of variation of the law averages, Deon Awtrey must feel like this is his turn to get hurt. At any rate, the way we heard it was that he was insisting that a local doctor accompany the group.

Has anyone found a boy's ring? Wayne Cason lost one that was given to him by his parents as a Christmas gift. It had a black onyx set with the initial "W" on it. He'd like very much to get it back.

How long had it been since you've been to a box supper? Those of us who remember how much time and effort was put into preparing a box have a lot of other pleasant memories of box suppers.

There were always young men in the community who "made medicine" with younger brothers of the young ladies in whom they were interested in order to find out which box they desired to buy.

Then there were always pranksters who really got a bang out of giving false information concerning the ownership of boxes. With every box supper there was a contest for the prettiest girl and ugliest man. These were hilarious events.

Members of Friona's Rebekah Lodge are sponsoring a box supper at the American Legion Hall Saturday evening. This event was planned for February 14, but was postponed.

Nola Adams, spokesman for the group says everyone in the community is invited to attend. It certainly sounds like fun.

Work on the bowling alley seems to be going good. Building materials are on the ground and construction is beginning. Other construction we've noticed includes a new home for Dr. and Mrs. Lee Spring and their baby daughter.

It is being built right south of the F. L. Spring home. The orchard, put out by the late F. L. Spring a number of years ago is now serving as background for homes for two of his sons. Dr. Paul and June built their new house on the northwest corner of the original orchard several years ago.

Think a new home for H. E. and Emily Jo Barnett is still in the planning stage but will soon begin to take form. It is

Leland Bouldin, 35, Muleshoe, was charged with writing a worthless check in the amount of $75 to Friona Consumers on November 12.

Herman Cole, who formerly resided near the Hub community, is indicted for child desertion.

E. J. Colom, 29, Gainesville, is charged with removing mortgaged property. He allegedly made off in a car from Friona Motors in July of last year. He was picked up in Nevada last month.

Franklin Green of Fayetteville, N. C., was indicted for leaving in an automobile "borrowed" from Ed's Garage in Bovina on October 10. Green is now in the state penitentiary in North Carolina, and a "hold" order has been issued for when he is released from prison there.

Larry Lewis, 30, Houston, was indicted for forgery. He is charged with writing a $30 check on D. M. Hargrove of Farwell and passing it to Earl Billingsley, also of Farwell. That was on December 12. Lewis is in jail now.

Arthur Salgado and Tim Madrid of Texico were indicted on a charge of theft of hogs from Mel Monroe of Farwell January 8.

Allen Lavern Ridley, Raymond Lee Henderson, and Bobby Lee Heffington, all of Littlefield, were indicted for theft of Claude Rose's car from his garage on September 30. They are under probated sentences from Hockley County (Levelland) now. All are young men.

Gary Simpson, 26-year-old resident of Sidney, Nebraska, was indicted on a charge of burglary with intent to rape. He allegedly entered the Fred Langer home in Bovina January where their plea is guilty.

John Vaughan, 25, Lazbuddie, was indicted on a theft charge. He allegedly stole an air conditioner from the Truman Gaines' farm home north of Bovina January 29. He is out on bond.

None of the criminal cases has been set. Judge Bills was out of town at another trial when the grand jury finished its investigations late Monday afternoon. The indictments were given to him Tuesday morning when he returned to Farwell to preside over civil cases in district court.

Several civil cases were due to be heard early this week, but most of them were settled out of court or, postponed for various reasons. The petit jury was listening to the first, Pearl Osborn vs. Maggie Longon, Tuesday.

The heavy schedule of criminal indictments can usually be disposed of in a reasonable length of time.

This is because in most cases the persons accused of the crimes will waive trial by jury and appear before Judge Bills with their case. In such an event, where their plea is guilty, a number of cases can be heard by the judge in a single day.

Brazosport game at 7:40 p. m. Saturday for the State Championship of Texas for Class AA Girl's Basketball.

This will be the first trip to state for the Friona Girl's Basketball team since 1948 when the local girl's team made the state playoffs but lost out in their first game, held in Hillsboro, to Stanton.

Members of this team, with their maiden names listed, were Mildred Mingus, Jean Horner, Gladys Lacey, Doris Taylor, Wanda Robason, Lunell McFarland, Cherry Smith, Betty Louise McLellan, Betty Jo Lawson and Patsy Cobb. This team was coached by R. L. Bates, now residing in Friona.

We feel that this group of youngsters deserves quite a bit of recognition whether they win, lose or draw at Austin.

When you hear about female athletes usually you think of the picture of a female wrestler or sumpin', but Friona is represented down at Austin by a group of fine young ladies in our books.

Ever since moving to this area the girls on the basketball teams have been commented upon by fans in the gyms about the Plains--and every comment we've had the pleasure of overhearing was to their credit.

We feel that this group of youngsters is as fine as could be gathered--they always conduct themselves beyond reproach and still have the ability to prove themselves fine athletes also--too bad that many times the opposite is true in many communities. We'll be pulling for you Squaws!

The Mountain Lion And The Squirrel Illustrate The Tests Of School Life

Once upon a time there lived in a deep, dark forest a cunning mountain lion. Now this mountain lion was King over all the other beasts in the forest.

When he strutted out for the daily inspection of his kingdom, all the rabbits, chipmunks, and their little friends went scurrying to their homes. He received the best of the forest to offer, because none of the other animals wanted to contest his strength. He had the most comfortable cave, the best place in the river to swim, and the coolest, most refreshing spring for a drinking fountain. But there was one thing about the mountain lion—he had a weakness for white meat.

Now there was one animal in the forest—a little squirrel—who lived and respected the mountain lion. It was a rather unusual friendship, but they were really good friends and did many things for each other. But the mountain lion was so big and so noticeable that it was dangerous for him to go looking for the white meat he loved because the forest was filled to capacity with obnoxious hunters.

And so the little squirrel said that since he was small and could run very fast, he would watch for the hunters and he would tell the mountain lion where he could find them without endangering his life.

But then one day the little squirrel decided to sleep late and forget about his daily duties for awhile. He was tired and so he turned over and went to sleep in his treehouse in the forest. That proved to be the downfall of the mountain lion, because that very day three hunters came to the forest.

The mountain lion had become so accustomed to having the squirrel warn him of the hunters that he had grown fat and lazy, and his reflexes were no longer very sharp. Therefore, when the hunters approached him, he wasn't aware of them until it was too late. And as the sound of gunfire echoed through the forest, the little squirrel slept peacefully in his pecan tree in the forest.

Moral: Attendance and diligent study will prepare you to meet the tests of school life.

Seniors Clear $600

BY ADELLE SMITH

The Senior Class made close to $700 with a final profit of $600. This year was the first year for a class to cast a play for two nights. Last year the Senior Class presented their play an extra night due to bad weather. Sponsors have reported a good turn out on both presentations and a general response by the audiences.

Following the Thursday night presentation a senior party was held in the home of the Hoyt Smiths. Forty-four seniors attended with nine sponsors and room parents. Refreshments were served as the group watched films taken when they were in the lower grades.

They were told they were in the top twenty. If they won anything the judges will send a trophy or ribbon to them. The boys also attended the rodeo in Houston and had a swell time. They left Friday morning and arrived home Sunday afternoon. The trip was a success except for one little detail, they had a little motor trouble, but returned home safely.

Who Is Guilty?

The clocks ticked in unison. The current hour revealing, That is, till the Home Nursing Class Contrived to do some stealing Of time; and set the clocks awry As at teacher's home they made the bed, But at last she wondered why Her watch was fifteen minutes ahead.

Then they panicked, "Its time to go!"
 Back to school they literally flew,
 Twelve girls made the car swing low
 (You may not believe this: I do.)
 There comes a time too late to change,
 Hope faded as they reached the hall,

 It had that silent, vacant stare;
 The tardy bell doomed them all.

But now they have a dilemma
 And it seems that the plot bemocks,
 The teacher has heard about it
 And may turn back the grades like clocks.

BY LUTHER METCALF

The Friona Squaws breezed through the 1-AA Regional Tournament, beating Anson Saturday morning and Coleman Saturday evening. The Squaws showed considerable skill in racking up Anson 59 to 23 and setting back Coleman 84 to 64.

The Squaws leaped ahead of Anson in the first minutes of the game and kept the lead all the way. Taking the score by quarters, the Squaws lead 15 to 5 in the first quarter, 37 to 13 at the half; Anson only made 4 points in the third quarter, the score at the end of the third quarter was 52 to 17, and the final score 59 to 23.

Jacquelyn Magness and Charlotte Block tied for the high scoring honors, with 16 points, followed by Tommy Lewellen with 12 points, and Suzanne Harper with 10 points.

The Bible Teaches ...

that Christians have an obligation to the lost. The lost have a right to be saved. The gospel is God's power for saving those that believe it (Romans 1:16). In order to believe it people must hear it (Romans 10:17). So they may hear (understand), it must be taught to them. Make sure that people understand, then encourage them to obey.

Christianity is a taught religion. Men are not won to Christ by an "holier than thou" attitude. Boasting our own goodness before them as did the Pharisee (Luke 18:9-14) is not the best way to teach humility. What we do is equally as important in teaching men the way of truth as what we say, and often is more impressive.

Jesus put it this way: "Let your light so shine before men, that they might see your good works, and glorify your father who is in heaven."

News From RHEA

MRS. FRANKLIN BAUER

Bill Hannold of Galloway Implement showed several films on Allis Chalmers tractors and combines also a comedy at the Farm Bureau meeting held at the Parish Hall Friday evening.

Bill Sifford presided at the business session. It was decided to show the film "Cotton John" has taken in Alaska at the April meeting. The Extension Club will also serve a supper at this meeting.

A miscellaneous shower was recently held at the Parish Hall by the community members for Mr. and Mrs. Evans and son who recently lost all their personal property in a fire.

The Evans family moved here from California and had only been here several days when a fire destroyed their home while they were returning the truck which had been borrowed to move their belongings.

MRS. RICHARD LEE CONLEY

Shirley Hogue Weds Richard Lee Conley

In a twilight wedding ceremony at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, February 27, at Reese Air Force Chapel Miss Shirley Jean Hogue became the bride of A/2C Richard Lee Conley. The double ring vows were read by Chaplain James D. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hogue of Mt. Vernon, Ark., are parents of the bride; and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Conley, Altoona, Pa.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Russel O'Brian, the bride wore a white lace dress over satin frosted with nylon tulle. Tiers of lace edged in tulle formed the full skirt, and the fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline enhanced with a tulle yoke. Tiny covered buttons decorated the bodice back. Long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her veil of illusion was caught with a pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid showered with white satin streamers and surrounded with white carnations.

Mrs. Jimmy Welch of Pettit, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Candelighters were Linda and Karen O'Brian of Friona, nieces of the bride. The bridal attendants wore identical blue silk organza gowns over blue taffeta. Their corsages were bouquets of white carnations.

Jeannie Welch of Pettit and

Debbie Box of Monahans, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Rings were carried by Dean Hogue of Pep, nephew of the bride.

Dwayne Young accompanied Miss Deniese Magness as she presented several wedding solos.

Mrs. John H. Box of Manahans and Mrs. James Cunningham of Friona, sisters of the bride, served at the reception in the Service Club.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Conley wore a pink fallie suit. After a tour of several eastern states, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Mrs. Conley, a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, was employed at the Friona State Bank before moving to Lubbock. At the present time she is an employee of the Lubbock National Bank.

Airman Conley, a graduate of Altoona High School, is now stationed at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Reeve of Amarillo were weekend visitors in the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn E. Reeve Sr. and Mayor and Mrs. Raymond Fleming.

Mrs. G. B. Buske spent several days last week visiting in the homes of Rick and Deann Styles at El Paso and Philip and Phila May Weatherly at Lubbock.

MRS. RICHARD LEE CONLEY

Shirley Hogue Weds Richard Lee Conley

In a twilight wedding ceremony at 5:30 p. m. Saturday, February 27, at Reese Air Force Chapel Miss Shirley Jean Hogue became the bride of A/2C Richard Lee Conley. The double ring vows were read by Chaplain James D. Taylor.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Hogue of Mt. Vernon, Ark., are parents of the bride; and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray H. Conley, Altoona, Pa.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law, Russel O'Brian, the bride wore a white lace dress over satin frosted with nylon tulle. Tiers of lace edged in tulle formed the full skirt, and the fitted bodice was fashioned with a scoop neckline enhanced with a tulle yoke. Tiny covered buttons decorated the bodice back. Long sleeves tapered to points over her hands. Her veil of illusion was caught with a pearl tiara. She carried a white orchid showered with white satin streamers and surrounded with white carnations.

Mrs. Jimmy Welch of Pettit, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. Candelighters were Linda and Karen O'Brian of Friona, nieces of the bride. The bridal attendants wore identical blue silk organza gowns over blue taffeta. Their corsages were bouquets of white carnations.

Jeannie Welch of Pettit and

Debbie Box of Monahans, nieces of the bride, were flower girls. Rings were carried by Dean Hogue of Pep, nephew of the bride.

Dwayne Young accompanied Miss Deniese Magness as she presented several wedding solos.

Mrs. John H. Box of Monahans and Mrs. James Cunningham of Friona, sisters of the bride, served at the reception in the Service Club.

For her wedding trip Mrs. Conley wore a pink faille suit. After a tour of several eastern states, the couple will be at home in Lubbock.

Mrs. Conley, a 1956 graduate of Friona High School, was employed at the Friona State Bank before moving to Lubbock. At the present time she is an employee of the Lubbock National Bank.

Airman Conley, a graduate of Altoona High School, is now stationed at Reese Air Force Base near Lubbock.

THE HIGH PLAINS FARM AND HOME

Parmer County Junior Stock Show Postponed

With the conflicting dates of the State Basketball Tournament this weekend in Austin, officials of the Parmer County Junior Livestock Show felt that the best thing to do was postpone the show until the weekend of March 18 and 19.

Vocational ag teachers and the county agents have been contacted and tell us that they would in many cases appreciate an extra week on feed and the extra time to get animals cleaned up after this rough weather, Bill Nichols, general superintendent of the show announced.

After talking to all of the county teachers and the county agent we voted to postpone the show as our own school will be out for two days and many of the people involved in the show want to see our girls win the State AA Basketball Championship in Austin.

The Parmer County Show, held annually in Friona, is sponsored by the Friona Lions Club and was originally scheduled for this weekend at the Friona bus barns.

All rules, with the exception of the weight limit concerning calves which was lowered to 650 pounds, will remain the same, only the date will be put off one whole week.

We hope this postponement will not inconvenience anyone, nor work a hardship on them, Nichols says, but we felt that with the best interests of the boys at heart it was best to put off the show until such time to avoid conflicting with the Austin playoffs.

Shipley Is Census Director

Of interest to Parmer County residents is the appointment of Mrs. Donald Shipley, Hereford, as area census director. The count will start about April 1, with the complete count of population and other related information to be finished about April 28.

Mrs. Shipley will select 11 enumerators for Deaf Smith County and six for Parmer County, with a training meeting for them March 28-31.

Postmen will deliver a short form to each house in the country, with every fourth house getting a longer form with more questions. These are to be filled out and mailed to the census office in Amarillo. The short forms will be picked up by the enumerators who will check to see that all the information has been included on the form.

"It is imperative that all questions asked be answered since results of this census will be used by many groups during the next ten years," stated Clyde Cook, director of the United States Census for the 18th Congressional District.

THE FARMER FARMER

By W. H. Graham, Jr.

Things are looking up again for sesame growers after their fortunes took a turn for the worse last year and it appeared to many observers that sesame producers were being caught in the same trap as so many other farmers in that they were producing more of their commodity than the market could or was willing to absorb.

Robert Parker, executive vice president of the Texas Sesame Seed Grower's Association has been working closely again this year with farmers in the Parmer County area. He is very encouraged about prospects and we consider this to be definitely a good omen. The reason is because we know from past experience that Bob has never exaggerated the outlook for sesame in either good or bad terms. The association has carefully adhered to its policy of giving farmers the "straight stuff."

In this regard the story of sesame on the irrigated high plains is pretty unique. There have been a number of "new crops" introduced to the Plains within the past five or ten years which supposedly would solve all of the farmer's ills. Of course, things haven't worked out that way. In spite of our many and unceasing efforts to spread diversification of our cash cropping system, we continue to rely almost altogether on grain sorghum, cotton and wheat.

Sesame production was introduced to this area about six or seven years ago. It didn't come in with any blare of trumpets. If any selling of sesame has been done to the growers, it has been of the "soft sell" variety.

The fortunes of sesame growers in this area have been about like the fortunes of cotton growers. It seems that one good year is usually followed by a mediocre or poor one. Speaking in very general terms, whenever cotton does well, sesame seems to do well also and whenever cotton does poorly, sesame does likewise.

The marketing potential of sesame seed is very definitely limited. However, it is rolling. The marketing of domestic production to domestic requirements by the parent association has been a tight wire performance without parallel.

The association has gingerly encouraged more and more growers to participate as the

Sales Price For CCC Cotton Set

Minimum sales prices for Commodity Credit Corporation stocks of upland cotton have been determined for the 1960-61 marketing year, according to Prentice L. Mills, office manager, Parmer County ASC.

The new sales prices are intended to emphasize farmers' marketings. The announcement will provide farm operators information on CCC's sales prices before March 16 deadline for electing choice (B) allotments and price support for the 1960 crop.

For 1959 and prior crops of upland cotton in CCC inventory, the new minimum sales price will be the higher of (1) the market price as determined by CCC, or (2) 115 per cent of the 1960 choice (B) loan rate. (This compares with the current 110 per cent of the loan rate.)

For 1960-crop cotton, the minimum sales price will be 110 per cent of the choice (B) loan rate; when the cotton is sold by the New Orleans CSS Commodity office, the minimum sales price will be the higher of (1) the market price as determined by CCC, or (2) 110 per cent of the choice (B) loan rate.

Mills points out that carrying charges will be added to the sales price, beginning with 10 points in October 1960 and increasing 20 points per month for each month thereafter to a maximum of 190 points in July 1961. The current monthly increase for carrying charges is 15 points per month for each month after October 1959.

market was expanding. Only within the past two years did the situation get a little out of hand and in actuality the imbalance that was created between supply and demand was beyond the control of the parent organization. Imports from Central and South America upset the marketing pattern.

This year, however, imports on this farm seed do not appear to constitute a threat to the market which will be available for this year's production. Demand is estimated to be somewhere in the vicinity of ten million pounds. Production last year was around seven and one half million pounds and so the surplus which had been accumulated is rapidly being worked off.

This is all very good news to sesame growers. They can look forward to what will probably be a better market than last year and the brief two year dip in sesame prospects appears to have ended.

To illustrate why it is so necessary for the sesame association to exercise caution, consider that just one grower, Billy Marshall of Bovina, who raises around 600 acres per year is producing something like 5% of the nation's sesame output. It is easy to see what might happen to the sesame picture if only 100 of the 1000 irrigated farmers left in Parmer County should decide to raise a few hundred acres of sesame this year.

The sesame growers cannot be altogether protected from such an eventuality, since they do not operate under any formal system of acreage or production controls, but they do have a few tricks that help keep things in line.

The main one is simply the matter of education. They are quick to point out to prospective producers what would be the result if suddenly the irrigation farmers of the high plains should go "whole hog" on growing sesame.

The association also manages to monitor the distribution of seed fairly effectively. For example, if it appears that there is an unwarranted rush for seed to increase sesame acreage more than the market could probably handle, then the seed supply is tightened down on.

All in all, we think that the work that the Texas Sesame Grower's Association is doing is really outstanding. Although the contribution of this crop to our economic picture as a whole is as yet relatively insignificant, the progress which has been made since sesame growing was first introduced is very noteworthy. Furthermore, it has been progress of the soundest sort, and, in fact, sesame is the only minor cash crop with a stable record since large scale development of irrigation on the high plains.

Castor Bean Deal Real Possibility

Castor beans, an odious crop to Parmer County area farmers as recently as 15 years ago, may sound a lot sweeter in the light of recent developments. One development in particular makes their immediate comeback in the area a distinct possibility. A contract has been entered into between Golden West Seed Company of Texico and Baker Castor Bean Company. Baker is "the" name in the United States castor bean industry, and for years has done business on the Plains from a location in Plainview.

James "Pat" Patrick of Golden West announced the first of the week that the state line firm had closed a deal with Baker that encompassed Parmer and Bailey Counties in Texas and Curry and Roosevelt counties in New Mexico.

Interest in castor bean production has taken a spurt upward in recent years, and especially in the past two. Castor bean yields and cash returns have been coming up while many other crops (namely milo) have been declining in price.

Golden West is shooting for around 4,000 acres in its territory this year. With a contract to guarantee a market of $5.25 to farmers who enter into a production agreement, Patrick thinks they will get the acreage.

The seed, which will sell for 15 cents a pound, will cost growers around $2.10 an acre, estimates Patrick. He doesn't feel that farmers will have to buy any extra equipment to handle the new crop. Fertilizer and irrigation requirements are similar to grain sorghum.

Moisture at harvesttime is no problem with castor beans, says Patrick. This, of course, has always been a factor in milo production. Also, stand ability is no problem as it is in some instances with feed grains.

The company manager says yields of beans should be something on the order of one-half the yield of grain sorghum grown with comparable care.

"If you take the typical irrigated milo yield of 4,000 pounds and compare that with castor beans yielding half that much, the beans come out ahead," says Patrick.

He says harvesting costs will run in the neighborhood of $12 an acre. Harvesting is one problem that caused castor bean production to be abandoned in the Parmer County area after it was introduced during the war.

The government encouraged bean production and included them in support price practices. Some acreage, particularly in the eastern part of the county, went into castor beans for several years.

However, a variety that could be harvested with a combine had not been developed. That problem has since been overcome, and in addition, Patrick assures prospective growers that adequacy of the special combines needed will be no problem. They will be available.

One thing about castor bean production that must be taken seriously is the need for a compatible cropping system. Castor beans and grain sorghum cannot be mixed. The beans are poisonous if fed to cattle.

Because of the volunteer problem, castor bean growing must be worked into a rotation plan so that it can be followed by wheat, rye, or barley. This is not considered an insurmountable problem in farm management practices on the Plains.

The variety which Golden West will push this year is Baker 296. Patrick says that hybrid castor beans are just around the corner and should become available in a year or two.

Marketwise, castor beans are in a strengthening position. The nation imports about 87 per cent of its castor beans requirements now, and domestic production is being encouraged to meet the growing need.

Castor bean oil can be converted into a broad range of industrial applications. It has achieved recent publicity as an exotic, specialized lubricant for high temperature uses, such as jet aircraft. However, by far the biggest part of its market pull is for paints, varnishes, and more mundane industrial chores.

Fink New District Water Office Man

Two new men have recently joined the staff of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District.

Donald L. Redell comes to the Water District directly from Texas Technological College in Lubbock. He graduated in January of this year with a B. S. degree in agricultural engineering. He will primarily assist in technical and mapping work. He will be located in Lubbock at the District office.

Redell comes from Gail, in Borden County, where his parents have been in the farming business. He is married to the former Minnie Ellen Cox of Lamesa. They reside at 4204 A 35th Street, Lubbock.

Bruce E. Fink will be stationed in Hereford. There he will be in charge of the Water District's field office. He will replace Wayne Wyatt, who has resigned to enter private business.

Fink is a native of western Kansas and was reared on a wheat farm and cattle ranch. He is a graduate of Kansas State University where he majored in Agriculture and Geology. He has been in the farming and cattle business and is a veteran of service with the U. S. Army.

NEWS FROM THE
FARM BUREAU
BY RAYMOND EULER

Compliments are in order for Herman Gerles and Donald Christian, president and vice president respectively, for the fine way in which they conducted the meeting for the forty or so membership workers last week in the Hub Building. The speaker, Mr. Newberry, a young man who has worked with youth and adults alike in Farm Bureau for over eighteen years, is one we wish everyone in Parmer County could hear talk. He lives on a farm at Veinon, Texas, and is field man for American Farm Bureau in the Southern States. Buddy Hedges, Texas Organizational fieldman from Olton, introduced Mr. Newberry.

American Farm Bureau opposes every proposal for Federal Aid to Education, and there is one from the House and one from the Senate this year.

American Farm Bureau also opposes the "Hog Payment" proposals.

AFBF supports appropriations for Brucellosis Eradication.

AFBF opposes proposals being made for federal aid to state agricultural experiment stations--(H. R. 9300).

AFBF supports proposals to lighten and change the appropriations for foreign aid. . . . Supports bill to allow deduction from income for tax purposes 10% of net income for retirement provisions made by self employed persons. . . . Supports States Rights bills. . . . Opposes increase of minimum wage to $1.25 and inclusion of many groups now exempt. . . . Supports State Water Rights Legislation. . . . These are just a few of the fundamental things you may like to know. There are hundreds of other related and un-related subjects you should know about. Please ask.

Regarding the farmer's share of your grocery dollar: did you know that if the dairy man gave the milk to the processor it would still cost you fourteen cents per quart? And surely you know that if the wheat farmer gave the wheat to the baker a loaf of bread would cost you only about three cents per loaf less than it now does.

Also, when you hear all the talk, principally in many centrally controlled news dispersing mediums, about how the farmer or rancher is getting rich on sales of his products to the American housewife, consider this: The average industrial worker worked an hour to buy one and two tenths pounds of steak in 1929. In 1958, the same worker could buy two pounds of steak with the same hour's work (but he probably didn't do as much work).

Some of your Farm Bureau leaders will have been in Lubbock Wednesday morning to meet with officials of FB and the National Cotton Council to inaugurate plans to get more of the information before the public. The farmer needs the backing of the consuming public if he is to get the kind of legislation and administration necessary to his reasonable prosperity. Something to remember and think about is that much of the spread in price from the producer to consumer is in what is often referred to as "hidden taxes." Some have suggested that if each retail item bore the list of such taxes in plain figures, the public would be more apt to take an active interest in eliminating some of the unnecessary expenses.

A man and his wife were writing letters, when the husband looked up and said with a worried look on his face, "I had it on the tip of my tongue and now it's gone." "Don't worry, dear, it's bound to come back." "No, it won't. It was a 4-cent stamp."

Work Begins To Certify Parmer For Brucellosis

Steps are being taken to make Parmer County a "modified-certified" Brucellosis area. When work is completed, cattle from here will be permitted to move anywhere in the country without restrictions. Decision to begin work on making this a certified area was made by a group of cattlemen at a breakfast meeting Thursday in Bovina. After discussing the advantages and disadvantages of the project, the group voted to begin circulating petitions.

Petitions are required by the state to have names of 75 per cent of people in the county who own cattle and the names must represent 51 per cent of the cattle. After the petitions are signed, the names, and the fact that the individuals pay taxes on cattle, will be verified by county tax assessor-collector. Then, the petitions will be sent to Austin to begin a 90-day waiting period. After that time, a hearing will be held. If no protests are upheld at the hearing, "we'll be ready to start actual work," County Agent Joe Jones explains. A state veterinarian and his crew will come to the county with a mobile laboratory to run blood tests on cattle. The crew will work every farm and ranch which has cattle. Cattle to be tested are: 1. All registered cattle; 2. All dairy cattle; 3. All cattle in herds of 20 or less; and 4. 20 per cent of all commercial herds. If a reactor is found among the 20 per cent of a commercial herd, the remainder will be tested. "With the mobile lab here, it will be only a short while until results of the tests are known," Jones says. Earliest possible time testing could start is July 1. The group hopes that it will begin by that time so the county can be certified before movement of wheat pasture cattle next fall. When the work is completed, cattle from here may move anywhere without restrictions. Now, cattle must have blood tests before they may be moved to a modified-certified area. Men who are circulating petitions--a total of 12--hoped to have a sufficient number of cattlemen's signatures by March 15. This will give the tax assessor-collector time to verify the names so the petitions can begin their 90-day waiting period in Austin by April 1.

New Co-Op Fund For Stock Prizes

The Parmer County Farm Bureau has established a new cooperative-type of fund to make it possible for members and interested persons to share in prize money paid outstanding young farmers who show stock, without making the contribution a burden on any one person. This is being referred to as the "kitty" by the county farm organization, and is designed primarily to encourage youngsters who will show their animals at the county junior fat stock show in Friona next week-end.

what the animals would bring if put through a commercial sales ring at the time. Then, as an incentive to the young people to show their livestock, a premium is bid up by "bonus" buyers, and this is how higher-than-market prices are arrived at. The difference between the floor and what the animals ultimately sells at is what the Farm Bureau is making up a kitty for. Thus, a man who helps provide a premium price for a show animal is not stuck with the entire purchase. It's true he doesn't get to take his hog or calf or sheep home with him, but he isn't out a billfold-full of money, either. Directors kicked in about $60 Monday night when the plan was formed, Gerles said. "We need to do something to get the burden off of the backs of the businessmen, who have been carrying all the load up until now," he added.

"Most people don't realize that you don't have to pay the whole price for a pig, lamb, or calf at a show like this to participate," says Herman Gerles, FB president. He explains that a "floor" is set under the sale by a buyer who agrees to take everything at that price, across the board. This is usually pretty close to

Game Management Association Formed

A game management association has been organized in Parmer County through a series of seven meetings, according to Joe Jones, county agricultural agent and secretary of the newly organized cooperative.

At the meetings, held throughout the county, a film on quail propagation was shown and objectives of the program were discussed. "People, who so desired, signed up their land as a part of the management area," Jones says.

He says all people who are interested are invited to sign a landowners land pool agreement form and become a part of the area. "Propagation of quail is the immediate objective," Jones says the long range objective of the 10 year program is to provide limited hunting and fishing in the county, because of the distance most local people have to travel to game hunting and fishing areas. Quail are ordered for members who want them and will provide cover and food for them. The association has also ordered 130 game cooperators signs for members to erect showing they are in the cooperative, at a cost of $1 each. "Members still keep all rights and control their own land," the county agent says. He explains that anyone may withdraw from the cooperative at any time and the agreement they sign is not binding. Jones says the member will be responsible for protection of game from poachers and trespassers. Members will work together in protecting their own and other members land. The program is not for just birds, but also fish," Jones says. Fish will be ordered from state and federal fisheries, at no charge, to stock ponds throughout the county. "The association plans to issue cards to members, so individual members can give them to someone they want to fish or hunt on their land." The agricultural agent says anyone who wants to join the management area can see him in the court house at Farwell or any one of the association officers. Officers of the cooperative are A. L. Kirby of Bovina, president; Bruce Parr of Friona, vice-president; Jones, secretary; and Bill Nichols, of Friona treasurer. Members of the executive committee are Jack Patterson of Friona, Bob Wilson of Bovina, Jack Smith of Lazbuddie, Gilbert Kaltwasser of Farwell and Woodrow Flemming of Friona.

PCG Credits Parmer With 40,000 Bales

Most Parmer County cotton growers consider 1959 as a lousy year for their efforts. Figures released by Plains Cotton Growers this week credit them with 40,000-plus bales, though. This isn't too happy a thought for area producers, who ginned 60,000 bales of money-making lint just the year before. Reversing the trend of recent years, Parmer County had a tougher time than most other producing counties of the Plains in 1959. All growers lumped together, Plains cotton growers harvested their second biggest cotton crop in history. For 1959 the 23 counties of the Texas High Plains harvested and ginned 1,869,353 bales of cotton. This production is second only to the all-time record crop of 1958 when 2,025,433 bales were produced. Thus 1959 becomes the fifth time in the last 10 years when Texas High Plains cotton production topped the 1 1/2 million-bale mark. Other top years were 1957 with 1,572,389 bales; 1956 with 1,654,904; 1954 with 1,581,148. Also 1949 saw 1,760,840 bales produced on the Plains. As to top ranking counties in cotton production, Lubbock County in 1959 ranked eighth in the nation with 209,790 bales. Other Plains counties included Hale with 180,274, tenth in the nation; Hockley with 178,398, eleventh in the country, and Lamb, 174,397, twelfth. Kern County California was number one in the nation with 543,875 bales while Fresno County California was second with 483,878 and Tulare County California was third with 329,264. Drive Nears Completion

About 30 Parmer County farmers and several Farmers Union officials met at the Golden Spread Cafe in Friona Thursday morning at 9 to discuss plans for completion of the membership drive.

Dickie, state president; Richard Alexander, state secretary; and Dwight Wilson of Denver, national organization director.

County officials present were T. O. Lesley of Lazbuddie, Parmer County president, Clyde Weatherly, Parmer County vice president and Friona president; and O. D. Spitzer, county secretary. Locals represented were Bovina, Farwell, Friona and Lazbuddie.

Reports were given by each local concerning progress being made on the membership drive and enrollment in the Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans. T. O. Lesley invites anyone interested in either of these projects to call Wyle Bullock, local Farmers Union insurance representative.

Lesley reported that Farmers Union is encouraged by the possibility of the passage of the Pogue bill, which is a bill designed to control production and pay 100% of parity to farmers for crops produced.

He further stated, "We of Farmers Union firmly believe that farmers would benefit much by a friendly administration and secretary of agriculture even if no other laws were passed. Secretary Benson now has the authority to raise price supports to 90% of parity if he so desires."

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Soil and water conservation leaders here are looking forward to issuance of the world's first water conservation postage stamp by the Post Office Department in Washington, D. C.

The commemorative four-cent stamp, printed in 3 colors, will be issued April 18 at the National Watershed Congress in the national capital at a ceremony featuring three cabinet members, Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson, Interior Secretary Fred A. Seaton, and Postmaster Arthur E. Summerfield.

The stamp will go on sale on the following day, April 19, at other post offices throughout, including those in Parmer County.

"The beautiful new stamp dramatizes the fact that water is today our most precious and most limiting natural resource. The stamp is being released at the Seventh National Watershed Congress because of the influence of upstream land treatment and small dams in small watersheds on our water supplies.

This Congress brings together each year representatives of 30 or more agricultural and conservation organizations concerned with water problems in the nation's small watersheds.

The Parmer County Soil Conservation District is now taking orders from local land owners and operators for Arizona cypress seedlings for farmstead windbreaks. Applications for not less than 50 or more than 400 are being accepted at the Soil Conservation Service, Steve Messenger's office and the office of the County Agricultural Agent. Price to you for the potted seedlings is 30¢ each.

Most would-be investors are kept out of the stock market by the supermarket.
