GRAFTED STOCK

Grande of race is something America has never developed to a high degree because it is peopled with so many different races. Just the same, Americans are every right to pride in, fine heritage. Edmond E. Lincoln recently put it in a few words. He said "America has been developed by the most courageous and strenuous of the earth. We have built up from the best of the best foreign countries." The best people have come to the United States who did us no harm. Mr. Lincoln does not disagree that. He makes it plain, however, that all of America's settlers and most of the immigrants who came later, so different outwardly, where a like inside; and in important ways. They were brave, hardworking, God-fearing folk. All they lacked was to be used to one another, and that has largely been done.

Products of hard work and industry, so valuable to individuals, give strength to nations accordingly. Half the people in America own the homes in which they live. That's national ability. More than one person out of five in this country has a savings account in the bank. The American in 14 shares in one corporation and 68 million more than half of us have insurance. None of these things could be said truthfully of any other country on earth.

And how do we get around! Our entire 135 million population could have sat down at a table quite comfortably on the bolstered seats of nearly 30 million passenger automobiles that were licensed in the United States in 1941. Where everybody can work can make progress; where those who are really capable can achieve wealth and influence, pride in doing things gradually developing a tradition that makes all Americans of the fusion of an American.

Our Own Standards
In America we are short on stability but we are long on shrewdness. Free to live our lives in any honorable manner, and quick to learn from each other, the families of America are growing more alike in habits and aims. Meanwhile living standards rise and American culture advances far beyond that of old-world races. They are hampered by meaningless restraints and crippled by unprofitable disputes about matters that seem quite obscure any other else.

For several specific reasons," Lincoln says. "It does not seem probable that the United States will finally succumb to the persuasive influences which have been exerting themselves from abroad." Seeking religious liberty, economic rights and political freedom, the pioneers of America fled Europe because when they could see, at a dimly, calamities that lay ahead upon it. They quit all European classes and became individuals.

Our Culture
Having spent eleven years in foreign lands, I am glad I am an American and I could never admit ignoring the rest of the world. But no isolationist could farther than I from transmuting foreign problems in America. As we are situated, we can assist people everywhere and it is our duty. But the surest way to make America useless at home and abroad is to pollute our free air with philosophies that the founders of this free country so specifically excluded.

Nothing could be more deadly to the American way of life, no more completely blighted to democracy as we understand it in the United States than a dominantly strong centralized government. It is completely foreign to American

Mr. Chandler, in making his announcement, states that he has been a resident of the county all his life, and has lived in precinct two for the past five years, and feels that he is well acquainted with the problems facing a commissioner in the precinct he is asking to serve.

He also stated that he would appreciate anything that was done toward placing him in the office, and that in case of his election he would assure the citizens that the duties of the office would be cared for in the best manner of which he was capable, and the roads in the precinct would be kept in the best possible condition.

RATION POINTS STILL GIVEN FOR KITCHEN FATS

Despite the fact that shortening is no longer rationed, housewives will continue to receive two-meat points per pound for all waste kitchen fats turned in for salvage, according to announcement from the War Price and Rationing Board.

Kitchen fats have a great variety of uses, and replace edible primary fats, it was pointed out, and waste fats contribute to the over-all fats supply, vitally necessary in our war effort. Those who patriotically turn in kitchen fats will help continue the zero point value on shortening, salad and cooking oil, according to the announcement.

DAUGHTER TO SUTTONS

Margaret Alice, weighing nine pounds, five and a half ounces, was born Tuesday in a Pecos hospital to Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Sutton. The little daughter and mother are both getting along splendidly, according to Mr. Sutton who returned from there Thursday.

Immunization Program Under Way At School

Final Tuberculosis Tests To Be Given Monday Afternoon

The immunization program planned this year for pre-school children and school students got under way Tuesday with tests being made for tuberculosis. The program is being carried out under the direction of the local Parent-Teacher Association.

This is the last opportunity for children to receive the test for tuberculosis, and all persons who have not had the test are urged to be at the grade school at one o'clock on that day. Much suffering and death can be prevented if the disease is discovered in its early stage when it can be completely overcome.

Announcement of the dates for diphtheria and smallpox tests and vaccinations will be announced later.

Am also well experienced as an auditor and bookkeeper, and if elected, will be found at the office during office hours caring for the duties which the people have entrusted to me.

"I will endeavor to see each voter personally between now and election time, but in the event this is not possible because of the difficulty in transportation at present, anything you might do or say in my behalf will be greatly appreciated and kindly remembered."

Mr. Cargile came to Terrell County some 25 years ago and has made this his home except while employed with the state offices mentioned in his announcement above. He feels that he is well acquainted with the problems facing the county and its people.

Rotarians Enjoy Barbecue Dinner At School Building

Entertainment Is Brought By Visitors From City of Del Rio

Barbecued goat, beans, salads, coffee, iced tea, and pie were served buffet style with a second serving for those who desired it.

The program, which was one of the most interesting to be presented in several months, was brought by the guests from Del Rio under the sponsorship of the Del Rio Rotary Club and under the direction of J. A. Walker of that club. Entertainers on the program were from Laughlin Field, and brought a program of music, songs and readings, as well as a variety of sleight of hand tricks.

Sgt. Jimmy Johnson acted as toastmaster, introducing Cpl. Earl Shurtz, pianist, Cpl. Ray Weber, who brought several accordeon numbers, and Pfc. L. D. Ceiling Prices On Synthetic Tires, Tubes Announced Ceiling prices for new synthetic rubber prices and tubes—the kind now chiefly produced—were announced recently by William E. Dozier, price specialist in the San Antonio district Office of Price Administration.

Dozier explained that passenger synthetic tire ceilings will be approximately nine per cent above the price lists of November, 1941, on natural rubber tires of the grade sold on new cars, known as manufacturers' 100 level brands. However, the new ceilings are about six per cent below the temporary ceilings which have been used since synthetic tire production began. In general, tubes and truck tires will continue to sell at existing retail prices.

The most popular-size passenger car tire, 6.00-16, will have a new ceiling price of $16.05, regardless of brand, Dozier said. Previous temporary ceilings on the same tire were $17.11 for manufacturers' brands, and $15.37 for private brands.

For the few natural rubber passenger car tires and tubes still being sold, present ceilings are continued at the "freeze" price of February 1, 1944.

Both new and used tires are sold only after the purchaser obtains a certificate from the local War Price and Rationing Board.

FROM TEXAS TO TOKIO

Pvt. Zack Blair, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Blair of Sanderson, is one of a group working to keep the men in the Admiralty eating plenty of meat, according to a picture that appeared last week in several dailies. In the picture was shown four men busily engaged in the business of butchering two wild Brahma cows, left behind by retreating Japs. Also pictured was Corp. Lee H. Blackstone of Midland, who was assisting with the butchering. Mr. Blair stated that a letter from Pvt. Blair had informed them that the meat from the cows was eaten in one day.

Sgt. B. G. Maples, stationed at Perrin Field, has qualified for the expert medal in firing tests with the Carbine at that training station, according to word received here. Sgt. Maples, a gasoline operator for the quartermaster department, scored 191 out of a possible 200 rounds of rapid fire from prone, sitting, kneeling, and standing positions. His score was third highest among the enlisted men of the entire field.

Cpl. James W. Short, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Short, is now stationed somewhere in England and is seeing the sights. That's according to word received by his parents. Cpl. Short stated that he was sick for a couple of days during the boat ride over, but that otherwise he enjoyed the trip.

John Fisher Charlton, U. S. Navy, who has been with an airplane manufacturer in California, has been called back for special training and is now stationed at Camp Farragut, Idaho. He stated that he would be there only a short time in a letter to his parents. Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Charlton.

Pfc. Tommy Billings left Monday after spending a week here with Mrs. Billings and their little son, Gerald Thomas, and with his mother, Mrs. Lizzie Billings and family. Tommy is stationed at Camp Breckenridge, Kentucky.

Capt. Carson Durbon, son of W. C. Durbon, says "Tell the boys at home that we are planning and carrying out Hitler's headachec on a 24-hour schedule." He is in the office headquarters of a bomber station in England and we hope that he and those helping him can increase the headache until it is "splitting".

A letter from Seaman Second class M. G. Northcut, stationed at San Diego, Calif., says that he and Donald Smith, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Smith of Dryden, spent the week-end of April 15 together. This is the second liberty they have had together since they landed in San Diego. M. G. says they took in all the shows in town, the amusement park, and then to a hot dog stand. Just as they completed turning in their order, up walks Pvt. Marshall Cooke, son of Mr. and Mrs. Greene Cooke of Sanderson. Seems they had quite a time when the three Terrell County men got together, but that Donald had to report back to camp early. Said that they had W. T. Frazier's name called over the loud speaker at the YMCA on Sunday but they were unable to locate him—finally deciding that probably he wasn't in town that day. Anyway, they had a swell time from the tone of his letter.

Pfc. Robert W. Stirman writes J. Tom Shaffer and asks him to tell his friends at home hello for him. Says that he is doing fine, and that he recently saw an issue of the Times, and feels sure that the boys who have been home on furlough were glad to get home for a short time. He continues with: "Say (Continued on page 4)

GRATUITIES COME HIGH

"American workmen are watching their pay checks and today find a substantial and growing difference between their rate of pay and what is taken home," says David B. Robertson, President of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers. "We wonder if such government procedure will eventually give a rate of pay of $60 a week to the man in the cab of a locomotive and permit him to take home only $10 a week."

Brother, you have asked a question which has a simple answer: The more the man in the cab or the man on the street expects the government to do for him—in other words, the more handouts he seeks on the theory that the government can do something for him which he cannot do for himself, or which cannot be done by his fellow citizens—the less he will have left in his pay check, regardless of its size.

Government can give the individual nothing in the shape of gratuities, which it first does not extract from him by the taxation route. The more it gives, the higher the taxes.

And it makes no difference whether the gratuity be called social security, free electricity, food subsidies, socialized medical care, or whatnot—the cost will come out of the pay check, and the less the individual will be able to do for himself. The price of financial dependence on government is the loss of individual independence.

AT THE PRINCESS— WALLACE BEERY AND MARJORIE MAIN ARE "RATIONING" STARS

Wallace Beery and Marjorie Main, those perennial teamates are at it again in the new comedy at the Princess Theatre where "Rationing" shows Wednesday and Thursday. The film is a mirthful poke at the troubles encountered by storekeepers under the point rationing system. But, it must be remembered, it is all in fun.

Beery and Miss Main are old sweethearts who have been fueding with each other since their romance was broken up by a misunderstanding during World War I. Nonetheless, Miss Main's daughter and Beery's adopted son are in love. Beery runs the general store and Miss Main is postmistress. When she becomes head of the ration board Beery's miseries increase until he can stand it no longer. He journeys to Washington to see

DRAMATIC STORY OF FRENCH UNDERGROUND'S FIGHT

Drama—tense and exciting—dominates the screen of the Princess Theatre where "Paris After Dark," shows Friday and Saturday, May 5 and 6.

Starring George Sanders, Philip Dorn and Brenda Marshall at the head of an excellent cast that also includes Madeleine LeBeau, Marcel Dalio, Robert Lewis and Henry Rowland, the picture is a suspenseful story of the French underground—and the startling position in which a young wife finds herself, when she is unable to explain her nocturnal adventures to her husband.

Torn out of the arms of the man she loves by the necessity for carrying on the undercover battle against the Nazis Brenda is forced to live in the shadows, sneaking about in the night, letting her husband think unspeakable things about her.

Her love for her husband pitted against her unwavering loyalty to France, Brenda finds how horrible can be the plight of a woman in the hands of the Nazis—with everything she had treasured destroyed, hating to live and living to hate.

It is then the suspicions of the husband, Philip Dorn, are centered upon the leader of the underground movement, George Sanders, that the picture reaches its startling climax.

Dorn, a former prisoner of war who has been returned to France by the Nazis, has been completely cowed by terrible experiences in prison camps, and openly states his belief that all resistance should cease—that France and Frenchmen should admit their total defeat and attempt to live with their conquerors—under their heel, if need be.

How Dorn finally regains his faith, and the efforts of Brenda and Sanders to strike a blow for freedom are crowned with triumph, provide an exciting finale to a thoroughly engrossing film.

Authorities who have made a careful study of the problem, report that only about 5% of those who drink abuse the privilege occasionally... 95% drink sensibly. Probably doesn't compare with the number of folks who overeat and do other things to excess. Prohibition certainly isn't the answer. It's not that simple. We had nearly 14 years proof of that, didn't we?" "The real answer is education and better control. In fact, the responsible members of the distilling industry are working constantly toward that end. I take great pleasure in introducing to you this week another of those dignified seniors, John Louis Whistler. He was born in Del Rio on July 26, 1927 to Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Whistler. Johnnie, as he is known to his friends, has brown hair and brown eyes. He started his education here in Sanderson and now is finishing here.
Johnnie has always been one of the most outstanding students in his class. The students always looked to Johnnie for advice. When he gets out of school he wants to be a big shot. He says that is his ambition. His hobby is collecting Indian Relics, and he has a nice collection so far.
For his favorite pastime he takes dancing. After dancing with him, one doesn't have to ask why he's really good. In food he'll take ham sandwiches any day, and his favorite movie star is Betty Grable. Johnnie says he doesn't like to read. His favorite song is "They'll Do It Every Time", by Ernest Tubs. In sports Johnnie likes Basketball. His favorite subject is Basic Math and he likes the color of red. Johnnie's only pet peeve is the Detention Hall, and I can't blame him.
During his years in school Johnnie has participated in a number of activities. He's played basketball for three years, and has entered in the track and field events in county meet. He has been in the band four years and during the last two has been our drum major. Johnnie was also president of the class during his freshman year. This year in the popularity contest he was voted the most popular boy in high school, the most athletic boy, and tied for the best all round boy. All in all Johnnie is an outstanding boy.
It's students like Johnnie that make a school a grand place. This place will really miss you Johnnie, after you're gone but we can always wish for you the best of everything. Good luck to you, Johnnie.

The Sophomores enjoyed an early breakfast Saturday morning at Five-Mile-Hill. Misses Kinkler and Brieger accompanied the group. In spite of the hardship of getting up at six o'clock all the gang had a grand time.

GET-UP PARTY

A "get-up" party was enjoyed at Carolyn Courtney's home last Saturday night. Some new couples were noticed (if you don't believe it ask Willie). The kids really had fun dancing and playing games.
Some may be in doubt as to what a "get-up" party is—it is a party that a bunch can get-up on a short notice.

CO-ED STYLES

One of the most noticeable fads that seems to be going the rounds is the wearing of unusual "ear bobs". If one is a close observer he might have noticed everything from tiny golden arrows to red roses. The most popular ones seem to be from Mexico. What is your favorite? Pinafores, which are extremely popular in other schools, have got very little attention here. However, a few very attractive ones are worn.
One style that just can not be skipped is the low neckline. There are a few low "u" shaped models, and a few "boat" shaped ones. The only rule seems to be that it must be low.
By way of closing, have you noticed the great assortment of shoes worn by the girls? Well you have a treat if you haven't.

NEW PUPIL

Albert Voorhees is a new pupil in the 8th grade. Albert comes from the Ysleta school. We are glad to have him with us for the rest of the year. His father is a railroad man.

AMERICAN HEROES BY LEFF

When war broke out, Marine Sgt. Maier J. Rothschild of New York City was studying journalism at night, selling stocks in Wall Street day-times. On December 31, 1941, 24 days after Pearl Harbor, he enlisted. He's been awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received in hand to hand bayonet combat, and the Navy Cross for fighting off and killing 95 out of 130 of the enemy storming a machine-gun emplacement. He's not giving up until we win. And you? Are you still buying that extra War Bond?

Silas Clay Gets Mad at Women's Hats

Silas Clay is complaining that his wife's new hat cost more than a bull calf. "And I wouldn't mind it, if it was a hat," he says, "but all it is, is a small bow and a piece of feather."
"It isn't the size of the hat that counts," says Bivon Earp, reproachfully.
"Well, what is it that counts?" asks Si, exasperated.
"I'll tell you what it is that counts," says Doc. "It's the lift that a new hat gives to any woman. It sort of picks up their spirits... boosts morale. Little things can do that. Like the flower in your buttonhole," he says to Silas, "or that glass of beer that you're enjoying."
From where I sit, Doc has given us a mighty good definition of morale. Important little things. A flower in your buttonhole... a kind word from a stranger... a mellow glass of beer with friends. Little things especially important in those days of strain.

hello to Mr. Higgins for me. Hope he has lots of fat lambs and gets plenty of rain. I suppose Charlie Turk is still around. I was wondering if he is still roping. Tell him I saw two Hawaiian cowboys when I went to the Texas round-up. Both were calf ropers, and boy, they were sure good. The best of the two, called Johnny Riggoes, has made three of the Cheyenne roundups and also two at El Paso. He averaged fourteen flat on six calves. Boy, oh boy! He sure had a good horse. I watched him work and he had been well trained. Also they don't roach the mane, but keep it long and platted. There are two large cattle ranches over here, and there are a lot of cowboys working for the ranches.

FORT STOCKTON MAN WRITES OF EXPERIENCES ON BOUGANVILLE

Lt. Arthur Gloster Harral, Jr., writes of his experiences in the Bouganville campaign and gives some graphic descriptions of his life on this major front.

His first paragraph in the letter dated April 2 written to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harral of the Hat A ranch, reads as follows:

"In answer to the question you asked me in your letter about the tornado breaking the wind charger my answer is definitely—yes. For five days, I believe it was. I never even closed my eyes. It was day and night hour after hour. I don't know how I did it but I did. I'm pretty dogone thin now but well and none the worse for the wear except for being a little jumpy." And telling of his living quarters he continues—

"I believe that I told you in my last letter that I very suddenly found myself in charge of a platoon again.

"I am at present living in a swamp with my platoon. Naturally, I can't tell you why but I will say it's no fun. We live in tiny block houses above the ground because the water level is just 18 inches below the surface. The walls are three feet thick and the roof is built to withstand artillery fire. The room is the width of my outstretched arms and as long as a canvas cot. Across the front end I have a window seat bed made of bamboo log sides filled with sand as the mattress and four army blankets as the cover to lie on.

"As windows we have a narrow slit and one along the right side that is to fire out of. I live in this with two privates. We need only the two beds because one of us is always on guard (one hour shift) all through the night. I am certainly having my fill of experiences these days. Perhaps, I'll tell you some of them some day. There are thousands of things that I'm dying to tell you now but just can't. You will have to listen to and read the news because I understand we have been making it.

"Your knife came just in time father. I do mean! That is a story all in its own and will have to wait. It sure is a wonderful knife. It gives a man the power to strike as swiftly and silently and as deadly as a cobra. It's perfect and you had better sit down and think. "Thank God, I sent that knife to Gloster."

"Yes, my dam washed away, as did the road and bridges and everything else but it doesn't make much difference to me now. It all seems to unimportant. The dam, anyway. I repaired them although before I took over this platoon. I saw the garden area this afternoon for the first time in a couple of weeks and it certainly has grown a lot. There are string beans, onions, squash, honey dew melons, cantaloupes, beets, carrots, and tomatoes. I wish you could see how a garden grows when the jungle is cleared away. Well, I know how to kill bugs now anyway.

"Oh Lord, but I'm tired of this fighting and living in this heat and dampness. Men from this outfit are beginning to go home now. It surely is hard watching them go knowing that you will be here until the war is over. Well, they have spent their two years overseas and I certainly do not begrudge their chance. "I have been here at the front for almost five months now, all of us, and I rather expect that you all could tell it at a glance although we did not see it very much in each other. We just feel the slow down of energy within us.

"Our black locker arrived yesterday. Each second lieutenant received five quarts of whiskey. It is to be used in small amounts at a time. The penalty of indulgence is the iron fist, so to speak.
My love to you both, Gloster.—

longer usable, it was said. Small trucks which deliver the more essential products, such as food and laundry, will be provided with new tires, and used tires will be authorized for trucks engaged in less essential services.

Effective April 21, the eligibility requirements are:
Delivery trucks heretofore ineligible for any tires will now be able to obtain used truck tires of sizes smaller than 7.50-20, obsolete sizes of new passenger tires. Trucks delivering essential foods, laundry, drugs and medical supplies and dry-cleaning apparel will be eligible for new truck tires of 8 or less ply construction, and all sizes of new passenger tires.

It was pointed out, however, that all truck operators must still obtain a ration certificate before tires can be purchased. Also, that it is still necessary to make all tires last as long as possible, in view of the shortage of tires available for all needs.

The book section "Good Night, Sweet Prince" was reviewed by Mildred Coughran. Mrs. Henry Goldwire favored the club with several violin selections accompanied by Mrs. Joe F. Brown.

Mrs. Brown served a delectable plate of tomatoe aspic and tuna salad, cheese biscuits, potato chips, olives, pickles, cherry tarts, tea and coffee to club members as follows:
Misses Armenta Ragsdale, Marion Brieger, Margaret Kinkler, Mildred Coughran, Anna Lee Allen and Mesdames Thomas W. Cox, Gay Franks, Russel Walker and James Todd. Guests included Mrs. Seth R. Davenport and daughter, Phyllis Jo, and Mrs. Henry Goldwire.
