Two Friona music students, Sharon Reeve and SuZanne Taylor, will be in Austin Friday competing in state music solo contests.

Miss Taylor will sing a vocal solo, "Nymphs and Shepherds," by Purcell, and Miss Reeve will play a flute solo, "Scherzino," by Anderson.

Miss Iva Ben Parr will be accompanist for both of Friona's contestants, who will be competing with top music students from all over the state.

Both Miss Taylor and Miss Reeve won the right to enter the state competition by winning Division I ratings at regional contests earlier in the year at Amarillo.

SuZanne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Taylor, and Sharon is the daughter of Mrs. Faye Reeve.

The girls, who plan to leave for Austin today (Thursday), will be accompanied by band director Lowell Bynum, and Mrs. Reeve and Mrs. Taylor. They plan to return Saturday night.

Reeve Field Completed

Park Named In Honor Of Hadley Reeve

Work has been completed on Reeve Field, Friona's new baseball park, and the first game is slated for Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

The park will be the site of ball games for the recently-organized Babe Ruth League and for independent baseball.

Saturday's game will be the opener for the Babe Ruth League, and Hub Grain will play Chester & Fleming Gts.

The ball park, which was built through the combined efforts of local civic clubs and other interested persons, has been named in honor of Hadley Reeve.

Reeve, who was active in civic affairs and a booster of various youth activities, died in 1957.

The property, where the ball park is located, is owned by the Reeve family and several years ago was loaned for use as a ball park.

The park was first built for use by the Little League, and it has just recently been remodeled, complete with dugouts, fence and backstop, and lights.

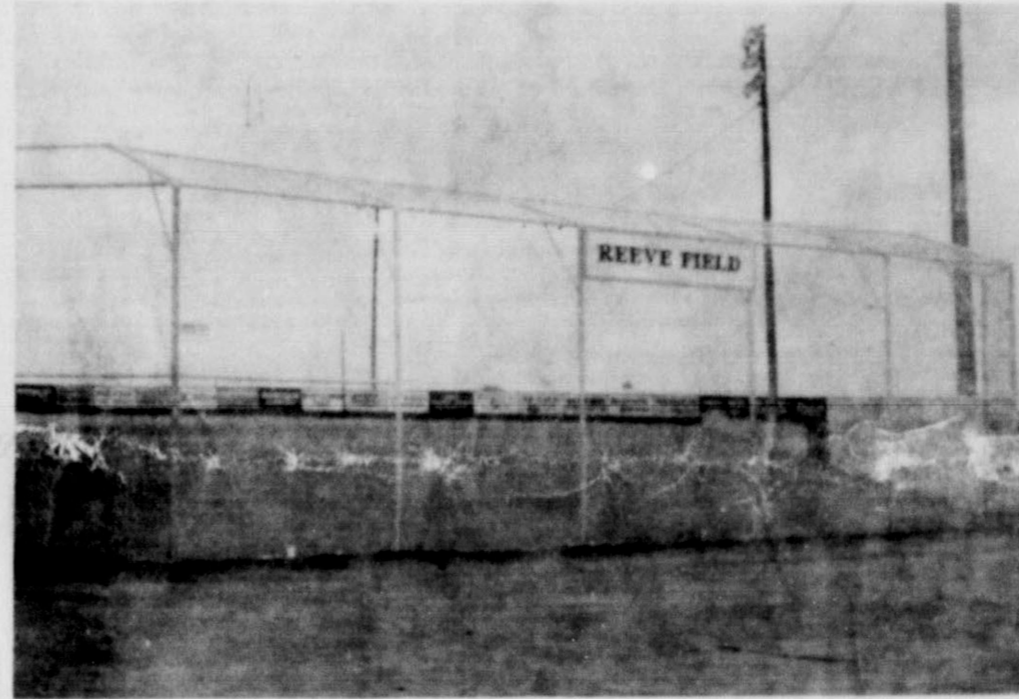

The Lions Club sold space for signs on the fence to Friona merchants to finance the cost of the dugouts, fence and backstop.

Lloyd Prewett of Prewett Grain Company donated the eight light poles which have been set up and money for buying and installing the lights has been from individual contributions.

Entire cost of the lights will be $3,000. To date, $1,800 has been raised, according to workers on the project.

Police Chief Warns Youths On BB Guns

Ben Moorman, Friona chief of police, this week issued a warning to all youngsters to "take it easy" with their BB guns in the city limits.

Moorman says that several windows have been reported shot out with the air rifles.

The police chief points out that parents are responsible for and vandalism done by their children, and he asks that the mothers and fathers caution their boys against any destructive acts with their BB guns.

"We think that if these acts of vandalism are brought to the attention of the parents, they will cease," Moorman says.

A Friona woman also reports to the Star that some children are misbehaving on their way too and from Little League baseball games.

She says that many of them walk across other people's yards, and that they have also been seen invading church buildings.

"It has been not only the younger boys and girls, but also some teenagers," she says, "and some of them have been destructive."

She also asks that this be brought to the attention of the parents, and that the children be cautioned on the matter.

First Barley Arrives

A. W. and Ernest Anthony, who farm north of Friona, delivered the area's first load of barley to Friona Wheatgrowers Elevator last Friday.

Arthur Drake, elevator manager, says that the grain tested 15 per cent moisture, but there was no report on what the dryland crop was yielding.

Later in the day, A. W. Anthony delivered a truckload of barley from another dryland field which was making 40 bushels per acre. It tested 12:30 per cent moisture.

Early this week, quite a number of farmers in the Friona area were cutting barley and first indication was that yields would be exceptionally high.

Most of the barley in the area will probably be ripe by this week end and early next week, and it is expected that the first wheat will arrive next week.

Market price on barley this week was $1.60 per hundred, compared with the $1.74 government loan price, an indication that probably all of the barley will go into the loan.

It was the same situation on wheat, where the market price was $1.70, compared to $1.80 in government loan.

Frionan Makes Honor Roll

Mrs. Jackie Hight, the former Jacquelyn Magness, was one of 88 Panhandle A&M students listed on the dean's honor roll for the spring semester. These students posted an average of 3.28 or above.

Mrs. Hight, a 1960 graduate of Friona High School, is the daughter of Mrs. Mae Magness and the late H. T. Magness. She was a freshman at the Goodwell, Oklahoma college the second semester.

First The Bench

Pool Grand Opening Saturday

Two swimming exhibition teams from Amarillo are scheduled to perform at Friona's new indoor swimming pool Saturday night as part of grand opening activities at the recreational facility.

The special show gets underway at 8 o'clock with a performance by the Scuba Divers, an underwater diving team. Another top-notch swimming team will also appear on the program, "but we don't know just who it will be yet," says Truett Johnson, owner of the swimming pool.

The grand opening is slated for Saturday and Sunday, and the door will be thrown open to the general public.

Free coffee, Cokes and donuts will be served Saturday afternoon, and door prizes will be given each day.

200 Sign For Swimming Classes

More than 200 persons have signed up for summer swimming lessons, which got underway Monday at Friona's new indoor swimming pool.

Baker Duggins, who instructs beginners daily, Monday through Friday, says there are 60 in his three one-hour classes each morning and another 80 persons on the waiting list.

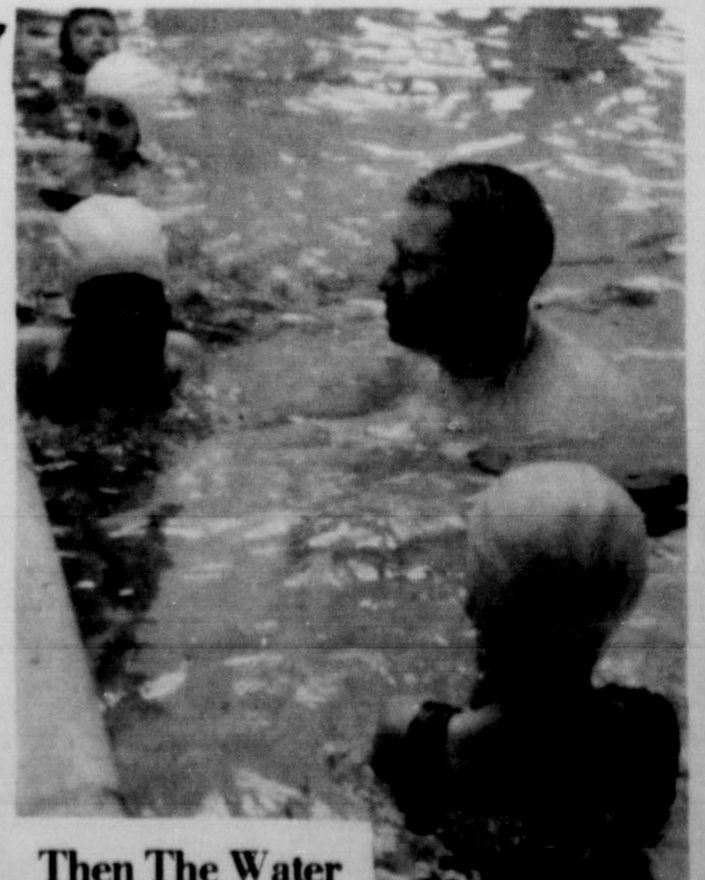

Nine adults have signed up for the senior lifesaving class, also being taught by Duggins.

Mrs. Deke Kendrick, also an instructor at the pool, says that 35 women are attending Thursday night classes each week and there are 25 pre-schoolers who are enrolled in an "experimental" class each Saturday morning.

All of Duggins' classes will be completed after three weeks and then, "we'll start on the second go-around," he says.

After the first three-week session, there will be more beginners classes, and "as soon as possible we plan to start teaching some advanced swimming lessons," Duggins says.

FOR FASTER, CLEANER, ONCE-OVER DISCING

One-piece, heavy-duty, steel frame provides built-in weight. Discs are raised or lowered hydraulically or with manual ratchet-type lift.

Longer heavier frame eliminates need for braces and angles. Steel standards are tapered to bearing housing to prevent trash build up. Leveling hitch levels disc behind any tractor.

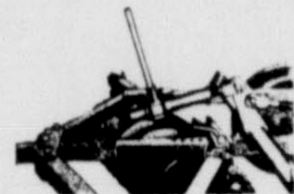

Disc angle setting can be changed by pulling a pin. Extra distance between gangs prevents trash build up. Scrapers are extra heavy to withstand pressure of trash and stalks.

Spacer spools provide 7/4 inches between blades. Self-aligning sealed ball bearing never require greasing.

Super-tough cross-rolled discs stand up longer under heavy use. Wheels are set at 120 inches for stability and uniform discing. Gang bolt prevents spools or discs from working loose.

EXTRA EQUIPMENT

(Right) Center Point Attachment mounts on the center beam of the frame and takes out the ridge of ground that is often left between the two front gangs.

Something To Think About

6th. Street Church of Christ
Box 515 -- Friona, Texas

"How can we tell if we are wise or foolish?"

We want a dependable answer, so here it is; the Lord said: "Whoever heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them, I will liken him unto a wise man... every one that heareth these sayings of mine, and doeth them not, shall be likened unto a foolish man." There it is, not from man, but from the Lord. The wise and the foolish heard; the wise and the foolish knew the will of God; The wise obeyed, but the foolish did not obey.

Most of us profess to love the Lord, and to have faith in Him. However, profession is not enough. God wants more than that, he wants proof. The only proof of profession is performance. Not everyone that sayeth unto me, Lord, Lord, but he that doeth the will of my Father shall enter the kingdom of heaven. Thus the Lord hath spoken, and we can see why obedience is a demonstration of wisdom. The thing that we need to think about, you and I, is this: to obey the Lord without reservation opens the gate to that eternal city, the abode of the righteous.

Obedience is a demonstration of wisdom. Both the wise and the foolish can go to church. Both the wise and the foolish can attend Bible classes on Sunday morning. Both the wise and the foolish can lay claim to Christianity. The question is,

A young couple were proudly airing their first-born in his carriage one day when a small boy approached them. He stared with interest at the baby, then asked, "How old is he?" "Six weeks old," the mother replied.

The small boy paused, then inquired conversationally, "How long have you had him?"

Women should give commercials.

When a T.V. rating outfit queried a number of men as to what they were listening to, 78% answered, "My Wife."

FAITH

Martin Luther stood and cried, "The Just shall live by Faith." The faith in God is the Faith that overcomes the world. Many are placing their faith in things about them. These things will fail and fall. Many are placing their faith in our instruments of war. Yet, try as we may, our enemies discover and devise equally as potent weapons of destruction. Many put their faith in money and wealth and the things they will buy, yet these too will all come to naught. The most phenomenal power available in the world today is still the Power of God. Even as in days of old, God will fight for His own. We need faith today. God can take all of our confusion and distress and bring about His order and peace. God's light can crush the darkness all around it.

Why is it that adverse circumstances cause some to bend and fold beneath it's load, while to others it is just another step upward in the climb of life? The difference is Faith. Thus it prompted the Apostle Paul to write in his letter to the Romans, "All things work together for good, to them that love the Lord, to them which are the called according to His purpose." God is still on His throne. He still controls the Universe, let us trust in Him.

Editorial Comment:

A Job Well Done

One of the things that impressed most Friona residents who attended the recent Memorial Day program at Friona Cemetery were the many improvements which have been made at the burial ground during the past year.

Some residents found it "hard to believe" that so many improvements had been made in such a short time to the cemetery, which just a couple of years ago was considered an "eyesore" and a disgrace to the community.

No longer do weeds cover the terrain at the burial ground, and no longer is it evident that Friona residents "don't care" about the condition of the ground where their loved ones, friends, and neighbors have been buried.

Today the Friona cemetery is one that is well kept and one of which the town's citizens can be justly proud.

Friona citizens owe their gratitude for the sudden change of the cemetery's appearance to the few people responsible, namely the members of the Cemetery Improvement Association.

The association was formed a couple of years ago for that one purpose, "to clean up the cemetery," and its members should be congratulated for a job well done.

A "Second-Rate" Move

Throughout his campaign for the presidency last fall, John Fitzgerald Kennedy constantly hammered away on the theme that "America was a second-rate nation."

The presidential candidate's contention that America was second to Russia in the space race, as well as in other areas, sparked considerable controversy at that time.

Because it was a controversial matter then, and because it appeared to be only a matter of opinion as to what criteria should be used to measure such things as national prestige, in our mind, we never quite determined whether or not America was "first rate" or "second rate."

In view of a few recent events, however, we have come to the conclusion that some actions of the federal government, and those of a few private individuals, would certainly have to carry the "second-rate" label.

Maybe these actions by themselves don't make the nation entirely "second-rate," but they do seem to indicate a step in that direction.

The Cuban fiasco, which had the United States supporting an abortive attempt to overthrow Fidel Castro, would have to be labeled as an action other than what one would expect from a "first-rate" nation.

Then, Castro's subsequent demand for 500 prisoners from the U.S., in exchange for prisoners captured during the invasion, spurred this country into another move which, to our way of thinking, most certainly would have to be that of a "second-rate" country.

In fact, we'd have to say that the recent attempt by several leading figures in America to meet Castro's demands could possibly be classified as "third rate" or "fourth rate," if ratings among nations go down quite that low.

The efforts on the part of Eleanor Roosevelt, Walter Reuther, and Milton Eisenhower, to meet Castro's demands, have been labeled as a humanitarian move, but in actuality the move is nothing more than a sell-out to Castro and his communist friends.

If the American government and the American people feel that they are partly responsible for the predicament in which the Cuban invaders currently find themselves, then they should be willing to take the only practical course available.

The only practical course, one befitting a proud, great nation such as the United States, should be an ultimatum to the Cuban dictator of, "free them or else." The country should be willing to back up such a demand, if necessary, by force.

At one time in America's history, there wouldn't have been even a moment's hesitation about such a move.

That was before the words "American" and "prestige" were used to form a single noun. And, had "American prestige" even been a topic of discussion a few short years ago, no real American would have cared anyway. Right was right, wrong was wrong, and there was nothing else to consider.

It is apparent, however, that times have changed a little. America has reached the point where she appears to be afraid of her own shadow. Or, as a nation, she somewhat resembles the housewife who is concerned more about "what the neighbors might think" than anything else.

At any rate, if the U.S. does permit the bearded revolutionary to blackmail her into paying his ransom, then she will probably prove without a doubt, that America, indeed, is a "second-rate" nation.

THUMBNAIL TALE OF A TOPSY

Centralism in this country was born of terribly poor parents during the 30s.

Self-made, Centralism didn't get a chance to go to Harvard. But in high school, observing classmates figured that Centralism—voted "Most Likely to Take Over"—was some day going to deal, dole and dominate.

Centralism first was called the New Deal. Time passed. Then the name was changed to the Fair Deal, and later to Liberalism.

Actually, Centralism isn't new—just a throwback to the all-powerful governments of other ages. Nor fair—for it discriminates among citizens and deprives them of many freedoms. Nor liberal in the historic sense—for the liberals originally were those who combated oppressive and all-pervasive government.

Many members of both political parties have embraced Centralism—provided, of course, that they have command. Centralists advocate more government direction and control of the activities of people and business; more spending and taxes; and the steady expansion of the size, power and cost of the Federal government.

Centralism is at the height of power today. But there's a way to cool the octopus off. It's up to us as citizens and taxpayers to understand that Centralism is a perilous path for America—and to give determined support to state and local efforts to solve state and local problems.

Let's get this done in '61.

48 Students Enroll In Driver Training

Forty-eight freshmen and sophomore students have signed up for the nine-week driver's training course which is being offered this summer at Friona School. Classroom instruction, which will continue for three weeks, got underway Monday. Tom Jarboe is instructing 24 of the students each morning from 7 to 9, and Bill Adams has the other class which is conducted daily from 1:30 to 3:30. The final six weeks of the class will consist of driving instruction, three hours a day, once a week.

Man's Best Friend Rates Special Attention in 4-H Dog Project

Fido never had it so good! That is, if his master or mistress belongs to a 4-H dog care and training club. The dog care awards program is new in 4-H and was offered on a national scale for the first time this year, according to T. W. Thompson of the National 4-H Service Committee. Mr. Thompson was one of the early planners, and works closely with the Cooperative Extension Service in a consulting capacity.

Daily care—including proper feeding, grooming, exercising and health—is the foundation of the learn-by-doing program. Obedience training is also important to both the animal and the owner, Thompson says. The project is appropriate for both farm and city 4-H Clubs.

Backing the dog project with tangible rewards for girls and boys who make the most headway with their pets is the Ralston Purina Company of St. Louis, Mo. The firm is providing, through the 4-H Service Committee, gold-filled medals for as many as four blue award winners in each county, and a handsomely engraved 19-jewel wrist watch for the top-ranking member in the state. Authoritative literature on breeds, handling and exhibiting is made available without charge to 4-H'ers, local leaders and Extension agents. Thompson advises. To be eligible for the state award, the club member must have been in 4-H at least three years and be 14 years or older.

Revival Now In Progress

A revival is now in progress at the United Pentecostal Church in Friona. The meetings are each evening at 8 o'clock and they will continue through next week.

Evangelist is David Carrington of Borger.

The Rev. Frank Baber, pastor of the church, issues a cordial welcome to everyone to come out nightly and "hear some old-fashioned singing and preaching."

Two Hollywood film producers were making a war epic and decided to use armies of extras for the battle scenes, 5,000 men on one side and 4,000 on the other.

"That's colossal," said the first producer. "But when the shooting is finished, we have to pay 9,000 men. How about that?" "A cinch," answered the second producer. "In the last battle we use real bullets."

Some of the new paper napkins look so much like cloth ones it is hard to tell which is which at first glance. While most of the new cloth napkins are made of easy to laundry fabrics, the paper ones, of course, mean even less work. The cloth napkin was an almost indispensable aid to eating in Colonial America. Antique experts say that the napkin was put to good use because forks were unknown and hands had to be used constantly to hold the food.

Patsy Anthony
Receives Degree

Patsy Ruth Anthony, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Anthony, received her Bachelor of Science degree in Home Economics at Texas Tech. Commencement exercises were held May 29 at 8 p.m. There were over 900 graduates of the 1961 class.

MYRTLE CREEK, ORE., MAIL: "The extension of the 'helping hand' of state funds to those in difficulty not of their own choosing is certainly most praiseworthy. And we should not wish it otherwise for those who have suffered ill fortune. But it should be made neither so comfortable nor so continuous that the recipients should wish to wallow in it. Assistance in time of need is one thing. Continuous support of the lazy and the indigent is another. And those who deliberately prey upon the public coffers, one way or another, need to be discouraged."

Four Vacancies At Friona School

Alton Farr, superintendent of Friona Schools, reports that four members of the faculty have resigned.

High school teachers who have submitted resignations and will not be returning next year are Jack Roberts, history instructor, and Miss Patricia Love, commercial instructor. Both have taught at Friona for the past year.

Roberts has accepted another position and Miss Love will be getting married, Farr says. Two other members of the faculty, Mrs. J. C. Witten, music instructor, and Mrs. Nelson Welch, fourth grade teacher, have resigned and are giving up teaching.

Both Mrs. Witten and Mrs. Welch are Friona residents and will continue to live here.

The Friona School Board is seeking replacements for all of the positions with the exception of history. The history courses will be absorbed by other members of the faculty, and the fourth teacher to be hired will be an additional English instructor, the superintendent says.

By Vern Sanford

Warsaw is a city in Poland. Warsaw also is the name of a fish—a huge deep-sea fish that moves in, around the offshore banks, during January, February and March.

A member of the giant sea bass family, this fish will range from "babies" of 30 to 40 pounds, to "gramps" of 200 to 300 pounds.

These fish are the "extra added attractions" to the Texas Gulf coast's red snapper fishing during the cold weather months. Actually warsaw can be caught the year around, but getting to them in the summer means a long, long boat ride. The fish move to the banks near shore only in the winter.

Close banks are those 20 to 40 miles offshore. During the summer the fish are caught in much deeper water at the banks 70 to 170 miles out.

The warsaw doesn't have game-fish qualities. No leaping or surface cavorting like a tarpon or sailfish; no reel-singing runs of a kingfish.

But the warsaw appeals to thousands of fishermen—sports and professionals alike. It's a fish that will stock your freezer with choice eating for months to come.

Commercial fishermen go after the big warsaw with nylon hand-lines testing 200-pounds. They're in the business of selling fish and aren't concerned with fighting the fish. They're in a hurry to deck the brute and then try for a second, third and so forth.

Some commercial fishermen have regular warsaw reels which they slip into sockets on the boat's rails. They call them "bicycle reels." That is exactly what they resemble — crank handles, sprocket, chain drive and all. Other fishermen use small deck winches to do the job.

Most sports fishermen, however, prefer to battle the warsaw with rod and reel. They may miss the leaps and long runs of game-fish, but they can count on a warsaw giving them a real tug-of-war.

Most popular warsaw bait is a big sand trout, or a small red snapper—a two or three pounder. The snapper usually weighs a pound. You need that much weight to reach bottom in 50 or 60 feet of water if there is any kind of current running.

Warsaws don't make sudden strikes, so you don't have to be prepared for a sudden jolt. Instead the fish sort of "inhales" the bait, and then starts to swim back toward its den or hole in the coral formations.

Your first job is to turn the fish, keep it from getting back into the hole. It means putting a tremendous strain on the rod.

If the fish gets back in the hole, you'll probably lose it since the sharp coral will cut the line.

A warsaw is strictly a bottom fish. That's where he does all his fighting.

Once you get the fish moving up, he's yours unless you goof and give him sufficient slack line to dive.

If you get the fish halfway up, he's generally licked for the change in water pressure will cause his stomach to burst and render him helpless. He'll come up quick then. All that remains is to slip a rope through his mouth and gills and haul him aboard.

You need large hooks and a long wire lead as terminal tackle. Your rod and reel should be of the big-game variety. Some sportsmen beat the work of having to reel in the fish by using electric reels. Most charter boats running bank trips have electrical outlets for such reels.

Warsaw runs usually start in January, although if the weather is unusually cold they are often caught in December. Most consistent warsaw catches are made in February and March. The runs taper off after that.

Earlier I referred to the fish as an "extra added attraction" to winter snapper fishing. Actually not many sportsmen go out solely for warsaw. They go out after the big-saw red snappers. Then if they find warsaw around, they try for them.

Usually the fishermen put one line over the side of the boat for snapper and a second one for warsaw. That way they're sure of bringing home some kind of meat.

Speaking of meat, warsaw flesh is delicious. It's white and firm. It can be fried, baked or broiled in a chowder.

But dressing out a warsaw is no job for the amateur. The fish has to be skinned and you need a saw to cut off the head.

Most fish markets will dress out warsaw, cut the meat into steaks and package it for freezing, for prices ranging from seven to 10 cents a pound. It's worth it. An amateur would need a day to do the job properly.

If you take a 100-pound warsaw in for dressing, don't expect to get back much more than 70 pounds of meat. There's a huge weight loss in the dressing process. You won't be far off if you figure the weight loss at 30 percent.

Warsaw hide can be cured and tanned for making such items as briefcases, billfolds and purses. There are several such businesses in Florida.

If you're interested in catching a big warsaw, remember that the first three months of the year are the best.

Let's Go To Bible School

This week is Bible School Week at three Friona churches, and the pictures on this page help to reveal a part of what the youngsters are doing at these schools.

At Calvary Baptist Church, 120 youngsters enrolled for the 10-day session. Here, they are shown as they gathered for registration activities Monday.

Youngsters at the First Baptist Church Bible School take time out from other studies to work with clay. Here they are making clay images of baby Moses to help illustrate a story.

Among the 219 youngsters who enrolled Monday for the 10-day Vacation Bible School at the First Baptist Church were these five-year-olds of the Beginner II class. Mrs. Dan Ethridge, right is the class instructor. She is assisted by Karen Turner and Mrs. Glynn Hughes.

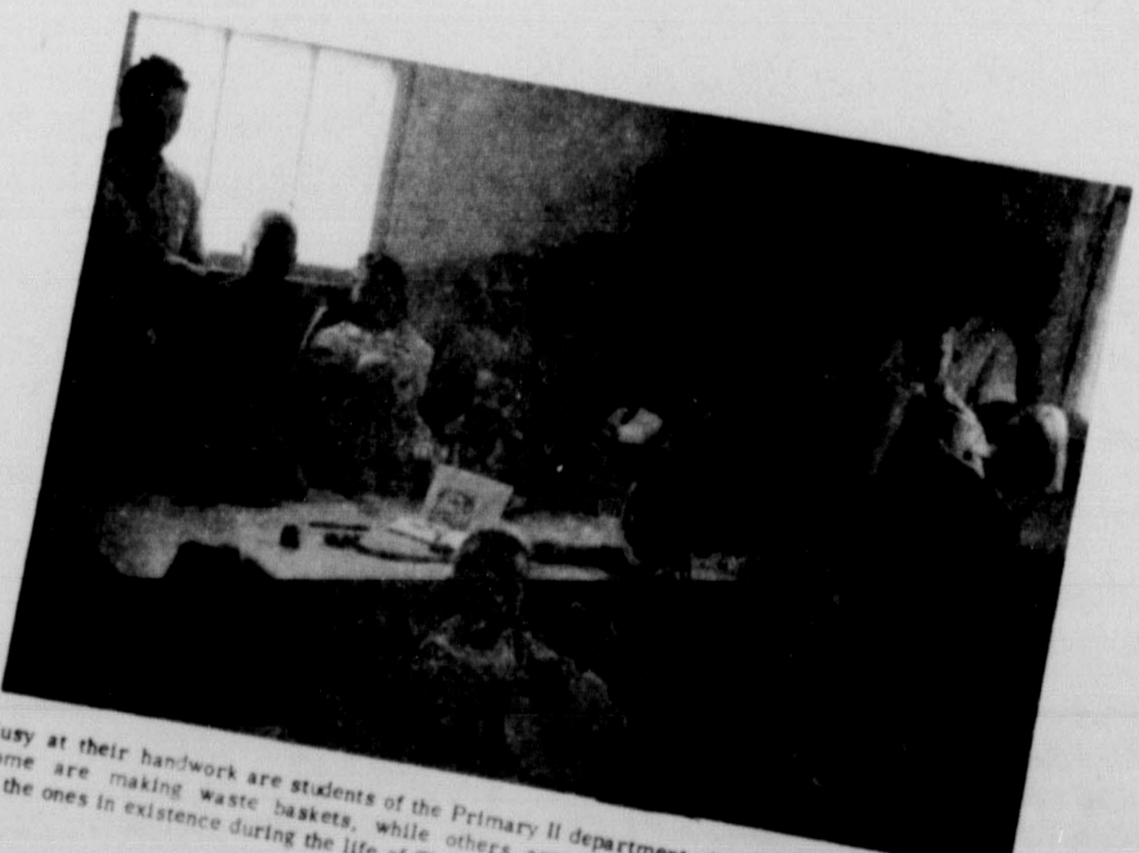

High School students get in the act too. Here, Mrs. Paul Smith leads a Bible discussion during a class at Sixth Street Church of Christ.

To help demonstrate a story, third grade students at Sixth Street Church of Christ Bible School are making paper hands during a workshop period. Mrs. John Renner and Mrs. Johnny Hand are teachers of the class.

Students of the Beginner Department at Calvary Baptist have just heard a Bible story, told by Mrs. Doug Connelly. Members of the faculty in this department are Mrs. Connelly, Mrs. Thomas, Mrs. Jackie Brown, and Mrs. Herbert Day.

Busy at their handwork are students of the Primary II department of the Calvary Baptist Church. Some are making waste baskets, while others are making dishes and dolls, dressed similar to the ones in existence during the life of Christ.

Wheat Growers Meeting Tuesday

A good crowd is expected Tuesday night for the annual stockholders meeting of Friona Wheat Growers. The meeting gets underway at 7 p.m. The barbecue dinner, to be served by Jettons Catering Service of Ft. Worth, is slated at the school cafeteria and a business meeting will follow in the auditorium, says Arthur Drake, elevator manager. There will be a financial report on dividend distribution, and one director, to fill the expiring term of E. L. Fairchild, will be elected. Last year, more than 1,100 persons attended the annual meeting, and a like number is expected for this year's get-together.

BURLINGTON, WIS., STANDARD-PRESS: "We're putting students in classes according to their ability." This was a statement made by local Principal Frank Hanrath in a speech to Burlington Rotary. It's the kind of thing so many people have been advocating for years. It's the kind of thing that will keep us ahead of the Russians in education--for, the idea of trying to make the same thing of all children is ridiculous--it can't be done.

"What we are trying to say is simple. Don't try to make college whiz kids out of all our students."

TOOELE CITY, UTAH, TRANSCRIPT: "It's all pure falsehood that the United States is the richest nation on earth. We can't even pay our day by day running expenses without borrowing money. We must soon come to common sense and realize that our resources are limited, and we have no reserves, and there are many, many things which we can't afford, and should not even attempt because of our financial and physical limitations."

The above named notaries will receive their notary commissions from the Farmer County Clerk as soon as they are returned by the office of Secretary of State in Austin.

GREAT FALLS, MONT., LEADER: "No more logical argument could be given to teenagers contemplating quitting school than a report by the U.S. Employment Service. In the midst of a recession in which 5.5 million workers are unemployed, nearly 18,000 jobs went begging last month for lack of qualified applicants. They included engineers, social workers, draftsmen, skilled trades of all kinds, accountants, librarians, to name only a few."

CARLSBAD, N.M., CURRENT-ARGUS: "There have been complaints in the Soviet press about the fact that many proposed improvements never get off the drawing board because the time necessary to install them would cut into the required quotas of factories where quantity comes before quality. Low-paid workers also object to plant modernization because the time required cuts into their bonuses."

WITH JUNE

Educational opportunities are many and varied in Friona right now. If you want to learn more about the Bible, there are two vacation Bible schools in progress and another coming up soon. Classes are underway at the Sixth Street Church of Christ and First Baptist Church this week.

Then if you want to learn to swim, classes are being conducted for just about anyone that wants to get in one. Driver training classes for freshmen and sophomores in high school are being conducted daily. A developmental reading class has been organized for persons interested in reading improvement.

Although not really designed for educational purposes, the Little League and Babe Ruth League projects really go a long way in this direction. A large number of boys are learning good sportsmanship, team work and other things from these efforts.

Jan Edelman, daughter of the W. L. Edelmans and a student at New Mexico State University at Albuquerque, had an unfortunate experience last weekend. Her car was stolen from its parking place, but was later recovered and she drove home to visit her parents.

In the Floyd household it is always the mother who is running short of time. This week has been no exception; however, I really did start the week off ahead of schedule.

A few weeks ago Susan reminded me that Brownie Day Camp and Bible school would be the same week. Anticipating a very busy week I got an early start Monday morning.

After checking the list for participants in day camp carefully, I helped Susan get her

Lt. Don Lewis In Contest Act

Army First Lieutenant Don Lewis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry T. Lewis, was in an act of the grand finals of the 1961 All-Army Entertainment Contest at Fort Belvoir, Va. Friday through Monday.

Lewis also served as production manager of the contest, during which winners of area contest at major U.S. Army commands throughout the world competed in seven talent categories.

Don has recently returned to the states after completing a world tour. Following the contest he plans to visit in Friona in the home of his parents for several days.

things together and we drove to town shortly before seven, the appointed time.

Upon arriving at the Kinsley-Whatley lots and not finding any sign of campers, I reviewed the sheet of instructions concerning activities of the camp. Right in front of me in black and white were the dates June 12 through June 16.

Learning that I can get to town before seven was good, but now I'm wondering if I will be able to repeat the performance next Monday.

Visited briefly with Calvin Nazworth Tuesday Morning. Calvin, a former Frionan, is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Nazworth. At the present time he is serving in the armed forces and has recently completed a one year tour of duty in Turkey.

From here he was driving to California and hoped to spend some time in the good old U.S.A. before going overseas again.

Some Friona mothers have kept busy the past few afternoons. When asked what they had been doing since school was out, at least three came up with a reply about like this, "My afternoons and evenings are completely full with watching for tornadoes and going to Little League games.

Most of us are very tornado conscious since the two incidents in which damage was done. Every list of things to do when a tornado is sighted begins with the hardest thing of all. It is "KEEP CALM!" Even though this is most important, it certainly isn't easy to do.

It would be interesting to know how many storm cellars have been built since one year ago at this time. Of course, one can't stay in the storm cellar all the time, but it would certainly be fine to know it was only a few steps to one in case of an emergency.

If you haven't seen a Little League game this summer, drive out to the park in the east part of town any Monday, Tuesday, Thursday or Friday evening and watch a game or two.

Many of these young boys do excellent jobs and will provide you with some fine entertainment.

Pony or Babe Ruth League play will begin Saturday evening at 8 at Reeve Field north of town. Think games are scheduled for Thursday evenings and Saturday evenings at this field.

Summer is always vacation time and many persons who live in And Around Friona will be going many interesting places. Members of the Star staff wish each of you a safe trip and want you to call us upon your return.

Lay-Out Acreage To Gross County

98 Percent Sign-Up In Grain Program

Almost every eligible farmer in Parmer County signed up for the one-year emergency feed grain program, and payments for acreage taken out of production will total approximately $3,200,000, says Prentice Mills, Parmer County ASC office manager.

Participation in the program among county farmers was probably the highest on the Plains, Mills said following the sign-up deadline last Wednesday.

Of the 1,232 farms in the county eligible for the program, contracts were written on 1,208, Mills says. This represents 98 per cent participation in the program.

About the only farms which weren't included in the program were those with very little grain sorghum acreage, Mills says. Farmers have signed "intent to participate" agreements on 254,987 acres of grain sorghum and corn, with 93,681 acres of the total designated for diversion to a soil-conservation practice.

The intended lay-out acreage is 36.37 per cent of the total. Mills estimates, however, that once measuring is complete, the actual diverted acreage will be adjusted down to 28 or 30 per cent.

Under the program, the diverted acreage can be adjusted down to as low as 20 per cent on each farm.

Acreage measurements will start next week, Mills says, and "We'll probably be rolling at full blast by around June 18." Both the lay-out acreage and the planted acreage will have to be measured, Mills says.

The $3,200,000 figure, which farmers will be paid for their diverted acreage, was based on the estimated 28 per cent actual lay-out, Mills says.

Of this amount, $1,300,000 has already been paid to farmers in initial payments, Mills says. About 80 per cent of the farmers asked for the first payment, which was half of the total amount they are to receive for participating in the program.

The remainder of the amount will be paid to farmers after they have met all requirements of the program.

On the lay-out acreage, most farmers will probably go the summer-fallow route, getting the land ready for wheat or barley this fall, Mills says.

Some will plant a soil-building crop this summer and plow it under next fall, and some will wait and plant a winter soil-building crop.

Only a few farmers are planting their diverted acreage to castor beans or sesame, Mills says.

22 Women Attend Furniture Workshop

Refinishing old furniture can be quite a hobby. At least this is the hobby of the Antique Club in Friona.

Twenty-two members and visitors of the club took part in a refinishing furniture workshop recently conducted by the home demonstration agent, Miss Ettie Musil.

During the workshop Miss Musil asked, "Before attempting to refinish old or scarred furniture asked yourself the question 'Is the furniture worth it?' If it is, then you'll need much patience to do a good job."

First step in refinishing furniture is to remove old paint or varnish. Any good paint or varnish remover may be used. Be sure to work in a well-ventilated room. A work table should be well protected with news papers or plastic cover sheets.

A new emery screening was used to sand the maple high stool that was used in the demonstration. Garnet and flint paper can be used, also. Rub the surface with a fine sand paper or triple or four 0 steel wool. See that the surface is smooth and free from dust before putting on the new finish.

The agent showed the group how penetrating sealer can be applied with nylon hose or any lintless fabric. Penetrating wood sealers or sealer stains are being used increasingly on furniture, wood walls, and floors. The sealer sinks into the wood and fills cavities of the wood cells. It becomes part of the wood rather than building up a glossy coating on the surface.

Allow the sealer stain to soak into the wood for two or three minutes and wipe off with a clean lintless cloth. Repeat the application in 24 hours allowing the sealer to dry. Before the second coat is applied rub the first coat gently with four 0 steel wool. No other varnish, lacquer or shellac is used by this refinishing method. Three to five coats may be applied to chairs and legs of furniture and 9 to 21 coats on table tops.

Attending the workshop were Messrs and Madames Bill Flippin, Dick Habbinga, M. H. Sylvester, C. L. Vestal, O. C. Jones, Tommie Jones, Howard Ford, Raymond Adams, Windbourn Hardage, Elvie Jennings, C. B. Looper, and Mrs. Ellis Tatum and Mrs. Deaton.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL * OUR STRENGTH

Do you have a hardy, climbing perennial with arrow-shaped leaves and trumpet-shaped, light pink flowers growing in your field? If you do you have a problem. This is field bindweed, one of the most feared weeds in Texas. In many localities this weed is called "possession vine" because of its aggressiveness and persistence. The plant is a trailing vine that grows along the ground, but climbs readily if supported. The stems vary in length from as short as a few inches up to as long as three feet.

Patches of bindweed 1/2 acre or less can be eradicated economically with soil-sterilizing chemicals. These chemicals act through the soil and their effectiveness depends on rainfall following application. Two to four inches of water within one month after application is

Can I Check The Fit Of My Children's Shoes?

There are two simple ways of detecting outgrown shoes. They are not as reliable as having the feet remeasured but are infinitely surer than the old toe-hunt method which only ruins the toebox of the shoe.

One is to hold the shoe under a lamp so you can see the foot print on the insole. If the shoes are long enough there will be a light area ahead of the mark made by the great toe.

At the risk of being considered a wise guy, the writer suggests counting the toe marks. Five is par for the foot but the majority of shoes show only four. The missing digit is the little toe which is forced to ride in a pocket of the upper which hangs over the outside edge of the shoe. Five-toed feet that make four-toed footprints should be shod in "straight-last" shoes.

The second check is simply to put your hand in the shoe, palm upward, to see if the great toe is digging a hole in the top of the toe box. The above mentioned footprint may show a light area ahead of the great toe only because the toe of the shoe is too shallow to allow the foot to advance any further. The force required to dig such a hole is sufficient to bunionate the great toe.

Farmers Eye Clouds As Harvest Nears

ALREADY UNDERWAY. In Farmer County this week is barley harvest, with the cutting of wheat not far off. Here, Earl Drake cuts a field of the golden-ripe, small grain near Friona. Other fields of barley throughout the county are also being harvested, and it is expected that wheat harvest will start next week.

With one eye on the clouds and the other on the rapidly ripening wheat crop, Farmer County farmers this week were getting ready for another harvest season.

The wheat crop as a whole, throughout the country, appears to be one of the best in a long while, and if (that's a big if) the weather is favorable, combines will probably start moving into the fields next week.

Already barley is being harvested in the county, and generally the yields have been good—a good sign that the wheat should also yield exceptionally well.

That is, it should, provided the crop can be harvested before the hail gets it.

Hail-laden thunder clouds have been bouncing around over the area for the past couple of weeks, but fortunately for the area as a whole, the storms have been spotted and damage hasn't been too widespread.

A few farmers have had their entire wheat crop wiped out by the isolated storms which, where they did strike, have been as devastating as any on record. Other farmers have suffered only slight crop damage.

Despite the numerous thunderstorms, however, in many places in the county there has been hardly any moisture.

Most recent of the hail storms to hit the area came late Saturday afternoon. Boiling up out of the northwest, the storm apparently first hit in central Curry County, then moved southeastward through Texico-Farwell, the Lariat area and on into Bailey County.

In Texico-Farwell there was a lot of small hail during the storm, which lasted for 30 minutes, but while it blanketed the area with tiny white pebbles, crop damage was not considered too extensive.

When the storm reached the Lariat area and neared Bailey County, however, the hail stones grew larger and were a little more destructive.

Baseball-size hail pelleted the area around Buck Gregory's farm near Lariat, causing extensive damage to buildings and stripping a 215-acre field of potatoes.

There was also some wheat damage in this area, but not much, since this sandy-land area is more of a cotton area, having very little wheat acreage.

There was also some cotton damage in the area, but just how much could not be determined.

Some fields were damaged to the point where they had to be re-planted, while others appeared as though they would come along all right.

Most widespread damage from Saturday's storm was in the Muleshoe area, and other parts of Bailey County.

Dick, age three, did not like soap and water. "Surely you want to be a clean little boy, don't you?" asked his mother.

"Yes," he tearfully agreed, "but can't you just dust me?" ...Santa Fe Magazine

WITH THE COUNTY AGENT

JOE JONES

This year's feed grains program gives us a real opportunity to clean up some of our Johnsongrass infested land. If land is badly infested summer fallow will be the cheapest program to follow. To do an effective job the grass must never get over 10 inches tall. This means cultivating at a shallow depth ever two to three weeks and perhaps more often at first.

I know a lot of Johnsongrass land has been cleared up with disc type plows, but sweeps do a better job when set with a good overlap and kept sharp. Johnsongrass should be allowed to make some growth following each sweeping. The reserve food supply of the roots is used up making the new growth. If the sweepings are timed right the reserve plant food can be used up and yet the plants be cut off before they put any reserve back into the roots. A good guide to follow would be sweep it when the largest grass is in the 6 to 10 inch stage.

If you plan to spot treat you can do a good job with Sodium Chlorate at 5# per square rod. Sodium dalaphon 2# per 10 gallons of water applied to Johnsongrass between the 6 and 10 inch stage will also do a good job. Usually 2 to 3 sprayings with dalaphon at about 2 week intervals will eradicate the grass. I have several good publications on Johnsongrass and bindweed control you can have for the asking. One of these bulletins is on the use of Herbicidal oils which can be very effective when used correctly.

Many farmers have doubled the recommended rate of culture and report much better nodulation with the result being healthier plants and increased yields. The Hill and Lee varieties have both done good here in the county. Perhaps other non-shattering varieties have also, but I have observed these two rather close and know they have done real good. June 15 is plenty early to seed and 60 pounds per acre is a common seeding rate. Some prefer more seed and a few drop down to 40 pounds seed per acre.

Every year quite a few people find the use of hormone type herbicides like 2-4-D a must. If you are in this position you are reminded a permit for its use is required. These permits can be secured from Gene Cupp, State Department of Agricultural, 2814 34th Street, Lubbock, Texas. I have application blanks and I'm sure all firms handling these herbicides have these blanks. The best time for applying 2-4-D to grain sorghum is when it is 6 to 12 inches tall. Grain sorghum can be severely injured when smaller than 3 inches in height and 2-4-D should not be used on grain sorghum when it is in the advanced stages, particularly in the bloom stage.

If you failed to get fertilizer on your cotton and plan to sidedress now is the time to apply it. Cotton should be sidedressed in June before the first waterings which usually come in early July.

We have a lot of interest in Soybeans this year. In checking over records of the past it looks like you can expect to average 25 to 35 bushels per acre. To date research work shows little to no increase in yield from fertilizer. It might be a good idea to leave the fertilizer off at seeding and plan to sidedress later if your beans yellow. Be sure to inoculate with the special soybean bacterial

NOT MASHED, BUT STRIPPED POTATOES are what Buck Gregory had on his farm following Saturday afternoon's hail storm. Baseball-size hail stones severely damaged this 215-acre field of spuds, and also caused extensive damage to several steel buildings on Gregory's farm and to his house.

HD Agent's Notes

BY MISS ETTIE MUSIL

Food just couldn't taste any better eaten outdoors. Even though most or all of the food is cooked in the kitchen, that outdoors atmosphere just adds so much to the taste.

Whether you are planning a camping trip, a picnic, or a meal in the backyard, food cooked in aluminum foil is delicious and easy to do. What's more, your summertime dishwashing helpers will like the idea that you can bake and serve in the foil and save on dishwashing. That's always a welcomed idea.

For best results carefully wrap vegetables, meats and fruits in a piece of foil large enough to allow for drug store wrap. Place food in the center and add butter or fat and seasonings. Fold the edges of the foil until tight on the food. Double the layer around the food for repeating the process with another piece of foil.

Now you are ready to place the package or packages directly on a bed of hot coals. Never use a flaming fire unless when you are using a reflector oven.

Cooking time will vary with type of firewood and wind strength. Turn food package at approximately half its cooking time. Recipes can give only approximate time so you'll need to check for doneness.

No need to use extra paper plates. The aluminum foil makes it easy to serve directly from the wrap. What more could you ask for!

We have a good supply of a free bulletin "Outdoor Cookery" that includes many ideas for suggested meals. A few recipes included in the bulletin are: grilled bacon-wrapped wiensers, broiled steak, barbecue sauce, corn on cob, hobo dinner, top-o-grill corn bread, potato salad, and barbecued spareribs. Call or write me and we'll be happy to send you a copy.

Of course, chiggers and mosquitoes seem to go along with picnics and outings. You don't have to be bothered with chiggers in your lawn. Those tiny little pests can be sprayed or dusted for control. For treating small areas of lawn use a compressed air on knapsack sprayer. Sprays of chlordane, toxaphene or lindane may be applied to infested grass and ground litter. An emulsion spray usually gives better results than dusting. Apply 2 1/2 to 3 quarts of spray per 1,000 square feet.

If dust is used, apply 5 per cent chlordane at 40 to 50 pounds per acre. Twenty per cent toxaphene at 10 to 15 pounds per acre may be used. This would be approximately one pound per 1,000 square feet. Follow directions on the label of the chemical.

Do you often wonder why mosquitoes seem to prefer you over someone else? If you do, you are not alone. Research entomologists in more than one country are trying to find the answer to why mosquitoes and other insects are attracted to man and animals. In the mean time we can use a number of mosquito repellents that are on the market. When used according to directions on the label, they give several hours protection from mosquito bites.

Last week while in Lazbuddie I stopped to see Mrs. Scotty Wirtshom. While out in the yard we saw so many mosquitoes flying around looking for victims. I noticed the lawn mowers were truly busy trying to cut down the grass growing in lawns and vacant lots. Tall grass and weeds, water puddles, tin cans, and holes in trees make ideal living quarters for mosquitoes.

Nine Adult Leaders Finish "Favorite Foods" Training

Nine more 4-H adult leaders are now trained to teach 4-H club subject groups of Unit 1, Favorite Foods. At least one leader from each of six 4-H girls' clubs attended the training recently in the Friona State Bank Community Room. Training was conducted by the home demonstration agent, Miss Ettie Musil.

Leader and member guides were used in training the leaders in the first four lessons. Lessons taught were "Easy-do-Chocolate Fudge," "Sandwich and Banana Milk Shake," "Peanut Butter Cookies," and "Apple-Celery Salad."

Two additional leader trainings will be conducted for the remaining eight lessons in the guide books. The purpose of this 4-H foods and nutrition program is to help 4-H members to develop skills or the "know-how" in planning, purchasing, preparing, and serving or good tasting, attractive and nutritious meals.

Other lessons included in Unit 1 are Cooking Vegetables, Meat Salad, Drop Biscuits, Peach Delight and Orangeade, Milk Drink, Broiled Wiener Sandwich, and Pudding Desserts.

A mile of good fence costs about $500, and a major item in this investment is the posts. For this reason, advise Bill Smith, extension forester, posts need to be selected with care.

Local county extension agents now have information available on the Peace Corps. Persons interested in details on how the program will operate; how to file an application; who is eligible, can obtain this information from the local office of the county extension agents.
