LISTEN TO LUKE

We had hoped that our continued talk of rain would continue to give us something to talk about, but we should not hope for so much.

At least our hopes were high for while and we still have hopes that our recent rains were the beginning of the end of the drought. This season of the year is not that would be considered the best time for rain, as far as chances are concerned. But any time that we are fortunate enough to get rain, then that is the proper time for it.

We have seen some excellent examples of civic pride manifested in the past few days by the cleaning up of some eye-sores that have been a source of conversation from tourists and residents alike. The clean-up fever is one of the most contagious diseases we have, and it's a good thing to be exposed to.

It would be nice to show off a very neat and well-kept town to our every day visitors, but it would be especially nice to show off our appearance to those old timers who visit us in July.

Until this week, tourists and visitors in Sanderson have wondered why the whole male population seemed to have joined the House of David as evidenced by their beards. This week the nifty top hats and derbies with their inscriptions are heralding the reason for the beards — the county's birthday celebration that is coming up on July 16. The ladies have donned their bonnets (many of them — the bonnets — are real) and so those who can't or don't read are asking questions when they see the unusual attire and it is hoped that many out-of-town people will be influenced to hold the date of July 16 to their calendar and plan to be here to join in the celebration.

As of today (and it will get worse as the time goes by—seven more weeks) it already seems that it would be impossible to judge the man that looks the worst with beards of every type cropping up and where but Sanderson would almost every male capable of growing a beard have such hirsute adornment for sixty days? It is either wear the beards and bonnets or buy a permit or pay a fine for not doing so until July 16.

As this is being written (Tuesday) the high school students are packing for moving out for the season. The seniors will walk out showing that their school days in that school are over.

At the very same time "experts" in Washington are in a huddle to determine whether or not to advocate the use of socialized medicine and the products that may be used.

In our public school system there is reflected on the youth of this country the thoughts and interpretations of those placed in charge of their educational training.

History shows that sometimes will men, sometimes weak men, sometimes visionaries rise to power, and history shows that when this happens the best protection the people can have is to be sure that the powers of government and the social controls of people are so divided and the processes of government so time-consuming that it is difficult for an ambitious leader or political party to gather all powers to himself. The framers of our form of government in the United States had the foresight and took the pains to devise a form of government that would be as efficient as possible under a good man, and still not be easy for a bad man to run away with.

Our public school system reflects the fear of the centralization of power, this philosophy of providing for long-delaying tactics to

Highest Ranking SHS Graduate

MISS VANNAH JO NANCE

Miss Vannah Jo Nance, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Nance, has the distinction so far as records are available, of being the first student to receive a diploma with a class of Sanderson High School seniors with only three years of regular school term work. She took six weeks of work at San Marcos Academy last summer to earn one and one-half credits for graduation this year with a total of 17½ credits. Her average for her senior year was 92.5, the highest in the class. She was second ranking student scholastically prior to the final six weeks and following final examinations was top ranking student of the graduating class with 99 point over Miss Elodia Garcia. She was not eligible for valedictory or salutatory honors because of a local requirement of four years of high school work. She will enroll in Baylor University in the fall to begin her training for the medical profession.

Robert de Hart, another Sanderson High School senior, is graduating with 16½ credits, after attending the Sanderson High School for three years and an Illinois high school for one semester. He makes his home with Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Robertson and is planning to enlist for military service.

Glynn Chandler, a former three-year graduate, completed his credits also at Schreiner Institute in the summer of 1953 following his three years in the local high school. He is now an A&M junior. Chandler is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Chandler.

A committee from the Legion will place a small flag on the grave of every veteran of all wars buried in local cemeteries.

Following the invocation by Rev. J. J. Spurlin, Peggy Cooke gave the welcome address. The class history was given by Mary Carmen Castillo and the class prophecy by Anabela Flores.

Rev. John W. Byrd Gives Baccalaureate Sermon Sunday

The Baccalaureate service for the seniors of the Sanderson High School was in the high school auditorium on Sunday morning at eleven o'clock.

Rev. John W. Byrd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, was the speaker for the occasion using the subject, "The God We Know." He closed his remarks with the admonition to the seniors: "Never has more responsibility rested upon youth than rests upon the youth of today. You may be either a follower or a leader."

The invocation was given by Rev. Ramon Navarro, pastor of the Latin-American Methodist Church, and the benediction by Lewis A. Wright, minister of the Church of Christ, who also read the scripture, Acts 17:22-31.

The high school choir directed by Charles Matney sang two numbers, "Now is the Hour" and "Holy! Holy! Holy!" "The Lord's Prayer" was sung as a solo by Rev. J. J. Spurlin.

Mrs. R. S. Wilkinson played the processional and recessional marches.

Serving as ushers were Stanley Sullivan, Matias Gutierrez, Candalaria Rodriguez and Carlene Werneking.

Blue larkspur in tall flower baskets decorated the stage with sprays of Shasta daisies and salt cedar in the foreground, emphasizing the senior colors, Royal blue and white.

Mrs. W. G. Downie And Suzanne In Commercial Film

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Downie and daughters are in New York City this week, Mrs. Downie and Suzanne being guests of an advertising agency in that city.

Mrs. William Ruggles, the former Miss Billie Corder, is employed as script writer for an advertising agency. When she recently had an opportunity to name some mother-and-daughter team from Texas to participate in a commercial film that was to be made to advertise a detergent, she named Mrs. Downie and Suzanne and Mrs. Jolly Harkins and Susan. After a personal interview by a field representative from the agency, Mrs. Downie was chosen.

The film was made on Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday of this week and will probably be released over TV next month. Housewives from different sections of the United States were chosen for parts in the film.

The Downies went to San Antonio Friday and from there went by train to New York, planning to spend a few days sight-seeing after the filming is over.

All children of the community who are not enrolled in a vacation church school of their own denomination are invited and urged to attend. The program will be interesting and handled by a good corps of teachers and youth of the community should find this a most worthwhile and pleasant experience.

Rev. John W. Byrd is the general superintendent.

BEN CAUSEY HAS ORTHOPEDIC SURGERY

Ben Causey underwent orthopedic surgery in an El Paso hospital last week for shattered bones in his right heel received in an accident when he missed his footing and fell from the roof of the Latin-American Methodist Church where he was painting the new steeple. His right arm was fractured, two bones in his hand broken and his wrist injured in the fall.

He will be in the hospital for at least six weeks. Mrs. Causey spent the week-end with him.

Commencement Exercises For 23 SHS Graduates Tuesday

Diplomas were presented by James Caroline, member of the school board, to twenty-three graduates from the Sanderson High School on Tuesday evening. The commencement exercises were in the high school auditorium.

The graduates were: Mrs. Goldie Brown, Raquel Calzada, Cruz Cardenas, Robert Dehart, Pres Escamilla, Shirley Ann Everett, Bertha Flores, Estela Flores, Gustavo Flores, Jr., Martha Flores, Elodia Garcia, Sarah Pat Grigsby, Jettie Rae Holmes, Rocky Mogas, Vannah Jo Nance, Higinio Pena, Mrs. Sarah Roberta Cantrell Self, Kenneth Stutes, Jr., Sandra Taff, Jimmy Talbot, Pablo Torres, Jr., Nancy Turner and Juanita Valdez.

The Sanderson Eagle Band played the processional and recessional marches. The invocation was given by Higinio Pena, Jr.

Miss Sarah Pat Grigsby, president of the class, gave the salutatory address and play a piano solo, "Valse" by Muszowski.

Miss Diana Duke provided piano accompaniment for the singing of the class song, "My Future is Calling."

Supt. Matt F. Bader introduced the speaker for the occasion, G. E. (Tommy) Thompson, president of the Texas State Teachers Association and superintendent of the Kerknot schools.

A challenge for the youth of today was made very plain in his address on "Opportunity — Making the Most of It, Individually and Collectively". The importance of the home, church and school in making America the kind of place that the writers of the constitution had in mind was stressed. "I liked yesterday, I like today, but give me tomorrow" was a thrice-repeated statement of the speaker as he unfolded the fields of opportunity in today's world.

Kenneth Stutes made the presentation of the class gift, a drinking fountain for the gymnasium. The audience joined the class in singing "For Sanderson, We Will" and the benediction was given by Jimmy Talbot after awards were presented to seniors by Norman E. Rath, principal.

Higinio Pena, the highest ranking boy in the senior class, was given an award as the outstanding senior boy in athletics, the Judge G. J. Henshaw award and the American Legion award.

Miss Vannah Jo Nance had the highest scholastic average in the senior class, 92.5; Carroll Eggleston, highest in the junior class, 92.9; Raul Barrera, highest in the sophomore class, 93.8; Jerry Monroe, highest in the freshman class, 86.6. The Mary E. Mitchell award was given to Carroll Eggleston; the Rotary award to Elodia Garcia; the award to Sandra Taff as the outstanding senior girl in athletics. Sarah Pat Grigsby also received the American Legion award and Elodia Garcia the Judge G. J. Henshaw award.

Besides the scholarship awards given to the valedictorian, salutatorian and highest ranking boy in the class, a scholarship to a business college was awarded to Miss Shirley Everett.

MEMORIAL DAY

MAY 30, 1955

Three years had passed since the last shot had been fired. In the beginning it had not been easy for fighting men to learn again the ways of peace—to sleep without having an ear cocked for the crack of drum or bugle, to get up by one's own will instead of doing only what some officer ordered. For awhile even the beds had been too soft, and the food too rich for stomachs that had made their peace with hard-tack or grits and bacon.

But by the spring of 1868 most of the veterans, North and South, had taken up their old lives or made new ones. The war was fast slipping into the past, and men were coming to remember only its comradeships and victories, and to forget its horrors.

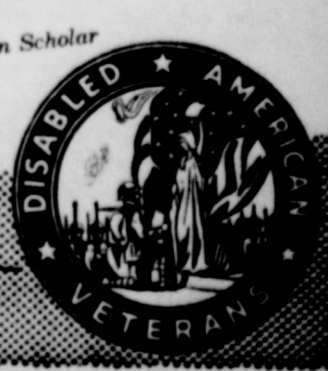

And perhaps to forget, too, the graves that marked every battlefield, even every hamlet. It was then that General John A. Logan, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, issued his celebrated general order designating May 30 as a day for strewing with flowers the graves of the men who had given their lives for their country. A few weeks later, solemn processions everywhere moved with slow step to the resting places of the dead.

Even before 1868 a number of Southern communities had decorated the graves of Confederate soldiers. As in the North, the custom spread and became permanent, although some Southern states still honor their dead on dates other than May 30.

While the war remained an unhealed wound, it was natural that the people of each section should glorify the valor of their armies at the same time that they did homage to the fallen. But with each year bitterness diminished, and ever-larger numbers saw that grief has no respect for geography. Thus Memorial Day came to embrace all Americans and the dead of all our country's wars.

We can do little more than set aside a day of recognition for those who never came back. But there are thousands who have come back—ill, maimed, burdened with hurts from which they will never recover. For these, the disabled, we can show that we mean our annual tribute. We can, if we will, make an effort to understand their problems, and offer them every opportunity to earn decent livings and lead normal lives. If we fail in this small obligation, we strip Memorial Day of its meaning.
