CONSTRUCTION UP IN SANDERSON

What is a peak in construction in Sanderson for many years has developed and businessmen and residents alike are eyeing the progress as a possible sign of better things to come.

Work has been completed on the residence of H. A. Couch, one of the largest units to be built here for several years. Work is under way and near completion on a cafe on Oak Street just east of the bridge on the east side of town, and according to local lumber dealers, plans are pending for the construction of several other houses in Sanderson.

Mrs. Tom Herring, operator of the new cafe, plans to open the business in the next two weeks.

Some swaps and trades have been made in recent weeks in local residences and the building of some new residences will possibly cause other trades to be effected.

Building, which was stopped for several months because of the uncertainty of business and Sanderson's future, has taken this latest jump which is expected to precede, possibly, additional work of that nature in the near future.

H. M. Beckett Heads Masonic Slate Of Officers for Year

Other officers named are: F. G. Hardin, senior warden; Ruel R. Clark, junior warden; Ruel Adams, treasurer; R. S. Wilkinson, secretary; S. D. Thompson, chaplain; and W. S. Forth, retiring master, was named tiller.

Plans are being made for the installation of the new officers on Monday night, June 25.

All local Masons are urged to be present for the installation services.

Work on Street Lights In Residential Area Progressing Steadily

Construction crews of the Community Public Service Co. are in the process of erecting new poles and relocating poles for lighting the residential area of Sanderson.

The work was begun last week and the installation of the mercury arc lights on Oak Street was completed Wednesday.

Plans call for the installation of a light at every intersection of streets through the residential district. This work will call for the relocation of many poles and the installation of new poles in some places. It was also stated that some of the transformers would be re-located, causing extensive work for the crew.

The crew began work Monday on Pine Street at the west end of town and put in a new pole and fixture at the west end of Pine St. at the south side of the James & Magill Funeral Home.

No definite date has been set for the completion of the project which the local utilities company is doing for Sanderson at no expense to the county.

Changes In District Personnel Announced By Phone Company

... new manager FLOYD C. REED

Floyd C. Reed has been named district manager for the Midland district of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. He replaces Marshall Kemp who will become a personnel development supervisor for the company.

Fred D. Kester of Fort Worth will succeed Reed as district commercial superintendent.

The changes were announced this week by the Northwest Texas division manager for Southwestern Bell.

In his new position, Reed will have charge of telephone commercial operations for the 21 cities and towns in the Midland district of which Sanderson is one.

Kester will direct commercial administrative work in this district.

Reed joined the company in 1939. He served as a radio code and communications instructor for Air Force pilots during World War II at Randolph Field and was also chief radio officer with the Merchant Marines from 1943 to 1945.

He returned to the telephone company at Houston following his Merchant Marine service and was later made manager at Brenham. He became district commercial superintendent for the company in 1953 and moved to a similar job in Midland the next year.

Kester was employed by the Bell system after graduation from college as manager at Topeka, Kansas, Kansas City Mo., and later on Southwestern Bell's area staff in Missouri. He became district commercial superintendent for the company at Wichita Falls in 1952 and later was an instructor in the company's training program for management people.

Kemp came to Midland as district commercial superintendent for the company in 1952 and was named manager two years later.

In his new job he will conduct management development training courses for Bell's employees.

Kemp attended TCU and Indiana University, joining the company in 1947. He was made manager at Sweetwater in 1950.

Adolfo Flores Goes To Boy's State

Adolfo Flores, senior in the local high school, left Tuesday for Austin where he will attend Boys' State as a representative from the Clarence Hallie Mulkey Post of the American Legion.

Flores is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luis Flores and was chosen by a faculty committee from a group of junior boys meeting specified requirements for attending Boys' State, a citizenship laboratory in which 519 boys are participating.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK:

"It is not the will of your Father that one of these little ones should perish." Matthew 18:14.

A great obligation is before us as a nation, church, and individual that we live the life before our children. God will not tolerate anything to the contrary. Let's be more concerned about making a life than living. — H. B. Dean.

Survivors include two sons, Terry Shely of Marfa, and Charlie Shely of Marathon; two brothers, John Whistler of Dryden, and M. L. Whistler of Del Rio; a sister, Mrs. Charlie Gregory of Sanderson; also three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Van Cleave, Mrs. M. G. Northcutt, and Mrs. Lee Dudley attended the funeral services.

175 Attend Birthday Of Big Bend Park

About 175 persons from all over the nation helped the Big Bend National Park celebrate its 12th birthday on Tuesday at a meeting in the Chisos Mountains Basin at sundown.

Park Supt. George Miller and Harold Broderick, park naturalist, outlined the park history, starting back when Texas Ranger E. E. Townsend of Alpine began roaming the area in about 1900, and going through the anticipated development expected by 1966.

The park is starting a multi-million-dollar building program, Miller said. Already under construction is a water system to boost the supply 150 per cent.

In the next 10 years Big Bend will receive about $13-million. The money will be used to provide accommodations for the expected 500,000 visitors annually. Included in this are guest lodges at Santa Elena Canyon, Hot Springs and the Basin.

The federal government will spend about 13 million and private capital is expected to be invested in the amount of 2 to 2 1/2 million dollars.

Four landscape architects for the park service are now working to lay out a Rio Grande Village at Hot Springs. Present plans call for picnic and camping facilities and later a guest lodge.

Visitors to the park have increased steadily since its beginning and comparative increases of any month over previous year's figures have also increased.

Last month it was reported that there were over 6,500 visitors to the park.

ROTARY CLUB PLANS OUTDOOR MEETING

Plans were made at the weekly meeting of the Rotary Club this week for an outdoor meeting on Wednesday evening at the Kerr well. The families of the Rotarians will be invited guests.

Ranchers Should Attend Meeting Here Tuesday Night

Texas Employment Commission representatives will be in Sanderson next Tuesday and will hold a meeting at 1 p. m. in the court house. The meeting is to advise ranchers of all changes made in the rules and regulations on processing Mexican nationals for labor.

It was pointed out that one of the conditions for receiving Mexican nationals under the contract plan is a requirement that the ranch operator, personally, shall have a personal conference at least once a year with the TEC to be informed on the continuing responsibilities of such a contractor.

The meeting Tuesday will suffice for the required once-a-year conference and ranchers who do not attend the meeting must go to the TEC office in Pecos or El Paso before contracting Mexican nationals within the next 12 months.

Mrs. C. P. Peavy attended the meeting of the representatives in Marfa Monday and in Alpine on Tuesday.

Mrs. T. M. Shely Buried Saturday In Marathon

Funeral services were held in the Baptist Church at Marathon Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Esther Whistler Shely, 81, who died in her home at Marfa Thursday.

Mrs. Shely, well-known Marathon ranchwoman, had resided in Marfa about a year. A native of Bexar County, she was married to T. M. Shely in 1902 and they ranched near Marathon until buying a ranch at Texasus in 1911. Mr. Shely died in 1931.

Survivors include two sons, Terry Shely of Marfa, and Charlie Shely of Marathon; two brothers, John Whistler of Dryden, and M. L. Whistler of Del Rio; a sister, Mrs. Charlie Gregory of Sanderson; also three grandchildren and five great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. B. L. Van Cleave, Mrs. M. G. Northcutt, and Mrs. Lee Dudley attended the funeral services.

Efforts Renewed In Trapping Of Big Horn Sheep

Austin — Efforts have been renewed to trap bighorn sheep in the Kofa Mountains of Arizona for stocking the Black Gap Management Area in the Big Bend country of West Texas, announced the Director of Wildlife Restoration for the Game and Fish Commission.

The operation is being conducted in cooperation with the Arizona Game and Fish Commission and is part of an overall Commission program to constantly seek new methods of expanding hunting and fishing conditions in Texas.

The bighorns, which will be released on the Black Gap experimental demonstration tract adjacent to Big Bend National Park, many years ago existed in sizeable numbers west of the Pecos.

They are now concentrated in two small mountain ranges in extreme West Texas.

Alpine Team Bows To Local Braves 5-3

The Alpine International, one of the strongest independent baseball teams in this area, bowed to the Sanderson Braves here last Sunday by a 5-3 score.

Roenche did the mound duties for the locals with H. Pena on the receiving end. Infielders for the locals assisted their pitcher by completing five double plays during the fray.

The game was a real thriller for local fans in that most of the runs were scored late in the game with the winning runs coming in the last at-bat for the Braves.

The Braves will play the Monahans Lobos Sunday at the diamond west of town.

Sanderson won from Monahans 3-2 earlier this year, but Monahans has strengthened their team with additional players and expect to put up a better battle against the locals.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Searcy went to San Angelo Tuesday for him to have a medical check-up. Miss Mary Ferguson accompanied them on the trip.

Few Complaints Heard By Equalization Board

The County Commissioners of Terrell County, sitting as a board of equalization, met Monday at the courthouse. Routine business matters of the court were attended to prior to the hearings on tax inequalities.

Several taxpayers of the county were present for corrections on renditions and to get explanations and clarifications on their assessed property.

Some ranchers whose land was on or bordered on the line drawn across the county separating different property evaluations stated that, while the line left much to be desired in some cases and instances, that it would necessarily be an arbitrary line probably under any circumstances and accepted the explanations of the board in their assessment.

Only one landowner registered protest at the decision of the board.

The commissioners expressed their sincere appreciation to the taxpayers of the county and their understanding of the problems encountered by the court in obtaining money for operation of the county school system. They also expressed their appreciation for the fine work of the citizens' committee in their efforts to equalize the evaluation of the property of Sanderson's taxpayers.

Youths Organize For Local Odd Jobs

A group of seven local youths has organized for contracting local odd jobs for the summer. Their sponsor is Mrs. Ben Causey.

The boys are Butch Stavley, W. D. O'Bryant, Sid Wood, Joe Causey, Brucks Bader, David Graham, and Don Little.

Mrs. Causey stated that anyone needing someone to do odd jobs around the business, yard or house, any honest employment, is asked to call her at 2375 and one of the boys will be sent to do the work.

The boys are taking the jobs in rotation as they come up and are anxious to earn spending money for the summer.

Mrs. Causey stated that neglect, indolence or untrustworthiness on the part of any of the boys would disqualify them for future opportunities with the group.

Summer Is Time For Getting Records For First Graders

The State Department of Health this week asked all parents of children who will enter public schools for the first time in September to make requests now for copies of the children's birth records.

Most school systems require a birth certificate to prove the child was six years old on September 1. "Making early requests for birth records will save parents and us time and trouble," said State Registrar W. D. Carroll.

Carroll, director of the health department's Division of Vital Statistics, says several hundred parents have already requested and received certified copies of birth records for their children.

But tens of thousands of requests from other parents will have to be processed between now and the beginning of the new school term. If too many people delay until August — as they usually do — Carroll and his limited staff will again have to put in hours of night and week-end work without overtime pay.

"The overtime work isn't important," Carroll said. "But it is important when a youngster can't enter school for lack of a birth record."

Birth record keepers shudder when they think of the estimated 260,000 kids who will be eligible to enter the first grade this fall.

Many of them have copies of birth records and will create no problem. Others live in areas where school officials do not require proof of age before admitting the child to the hallowed halls of learning.

But the majority do have certified proof of age, despite the fact that they live in areas where the school officials insist on such proof. This is the category that gives health department statisticians and clerks sleepless nights.

Last year the department processed more than 60,000 requests during the months of August, September, and October.

All parents have to do is furnish the child's name and date and place of birth, the mother's maiden name and the name of the father. That information, plus the statutory fee of 50c, will buy anyone a copy of their birth certificate — provided the original certificate is on file.

It's a good bet the original will be on hand. Carroll's office keeps track of some ten million birth and death records, some dating back to 1903.

There's also a very good chance that your country clerk or the clerk in the county of your birth will be able to supply your needs.

State Capitol NEWS

By VERN SANFORD Texas Press Association

Austin - Regardless of who is elected this summer, most Texans probably won't find their daily lives changed greatly.

But to one segment of the population, the 22,000 state employees and their families, it matters a lot. It affects their livelihood.

As much as a 20 per cent turnover in state employees can be expected after the new officials take over in January.

This estimate comes from Pirtle Watta, executive secretary of the Texas Public Employees Association. About one-third of the membership is concentrated in the Capitol; the rest is scattered over the state.

TPEA members on the whole are quite discreet in their politics, Watta thinks. Their association by-laws expressly prohibit any group endorsement.

But individuals, especially key personnel, are courted by candidates. Many office-seekers, especially in Travis County, regularly promise "more adequate pay."

And those employees whose jobs hinge on the boss' being reelected naturally pull for him. State law, while not as strict as the federal Hatch Act, puts some restrictions on this.

Formerly a rider on the appropriations bill forbade any political activity by state employees. Now the ban is only against use of state cars, or campaign on state time.

Insurance Companies Re-Align "Merger" will be a much-discussed word in the Texas insurance industry during coming weeks.

Wind-up of the State Insurance Commission's stringent solvency survey left 94 companies - or 7 per cent - without licenses. New permits were granted to 1,219 firms.

Results confirmed Chairman Byron Saunders' prediction that the industry would prove 90 to 95 per cent sound. He said so last January when the commission began its drive to "weed out the bad apples."

Many already have negotiations under way, or completed, to merge with stronger companies. More realignments are expected, especially among life companies where many large firms actively seek reinsurance business.

Radar Traps Attacked Are the Texas Highway Patrol's radar speed nets illegal?

Amarillo Attorney Horace E. Wilson says he will fight to the Supreme Court, if necessary, to prove they are. Wilson was arrested recently and fined $5 plus costs. A radar set near Seguin had clocked him at 71 miles per hour.

He declares Section 803A of the State Penal Code provides for automatic dismissal of a speeding charge if the arresting officer lies in wait or hides.

In Austin Patrol Chief W. J. Elliott said "nothing in state law prohibits hiding the radar unit, but the highway patrol does not make this a practice. We can do more good by putting ourselves out in the open."

Cities Need More Water A majority of Texas' cities feel their water supplies are inadequate for the future.

State Sen. George Parkhouse of Dallas, chairman of the Texas Water Resources Committee, says a recent survey of 255 cities shows 54 per cent with this problem. Purpose of the survey was to search out needs and sentiments for a statewide water program. Recommendations go to the Legislature in January.

Parkhouse said city officials "almost without exception" favor building their own water facilities aided by financing on the "lowest level of government possible." He said he is most hopeful the next Legislature will make such a program possible.

Texans, who tour their Capitol by the thousands, will see a fresh-faced Davy Crockett this summer.

Crockett's huge portrait was rehung in the Capitol foyer last week after an extensive re-touching job Legislators last session authorized $12,000 for conservation work on five valuable paintings.

Taxpayers have invested $95,409 in the fabulous art collection scattered over the capitol. Resale value is estimated as high as half a billion dollars. Tourist favorites are "Dawn at the Alamo" and "The Battle of San Jacinto." They are located in the Senate chamber. Each cost $12,500.

No Trouble Seen on Poll No objection is expected by the Democratic Executive Committee chairman to putting the interposition question on the July primary ballot.

Chairman George Sandlin discounted talk of a court challenge to the validity of the 150,000 signatures on the referendum petitions. Spot checks are being made against poll lists, said Sandlin.

Texas Referendum Committee presented the petition. It asks a vote for or against interposition, integration of Negroes in public schools and intermarriage of Negroes and whites.

Teen-Agers Form Governments Three state governments are operating simultaneously in Austin this week. Besides the one in the Capitol, Boys State and Girls State are being run by more than 800 high school youngsters from over Texas. Designed as citizenship laboratories, the two "states" are sponsored by the Texas Department of the American Legion and Auxiliary.

Each group - 360 girls and 519 boys - learn self-government by doing it for a week. Mythical political parties are formed, and city, county, and state officials are elected and inaugurated. Since terms of office are brief, keenest interest focuses on the always-heated state campaigns and selection of representatives to Boys and Girls Nations in Washington, D. C.

Short Shorts Dr. John Paul Abbott, dean at Texas A&M College, has been appointed program examiner for the Texas Commission on Higher Education. He will take office July 1.

Texas stamp tax sales for cigarettes, wine, and liquor totaled $1,607,078 in May, nearly one million more than a year ago. Raising of the cigarette tax by the last legislature is cited as the cause for the increase.

Newton Gresham of Houston is the new president of the State Bar of Texas. Virgil T. Seaberry of Eastland was elected vice-president.

there has always been an ample supply of water for the needs of the town. But deep wells will cause normally slight troubles to be magnified and then there may be hardships. If there was acute trouble, we would probably hear our local CPS employees screaming loudly, but it may be possible to avoid such a thing if we would look at the tank gauge every now and then.

We, individually, don't buy all of the water in the tank, thank goodness, but collectively, it is, or will be ours. And there is a bottom to the tank.

It has been some time since we had any comment on wearing apparel that is common to the summer season.

Recently at hearings in Brady there were several witnesses called. Among them was a young woman. The press photographer got a full-length picture of her and the picture showed more of the woman than of her clothing.

In another court in a West Texas town last week a woman was sent from the courtroom and told to put on more clothes.

It is good to know that the dignity of the court is upheld in such cases, but wonder why such dignity tests are necessary.

Shorts, slacks (if there is any), street dresses, and evening dresses, and all other apparel is made to wear on specific occasions, and the court room, in our opinion, is no place for shorts.

Texas farmers mortgaged their property to the tune of $227 million last year, the Farm Credit Agency reports. This is 31 per cent more than 1954 and 375 per cent above average.

THE FARM PROBLEM

President Eisenhower's handling of the farm bill situation could prove to be a key factor in returning our American farm families to fuller independence and in safeguarding the freedom of all citizens. The action may lead to indisputable proof again that the free, competitive market is the best system to govern production and distribution. This system has lifted production, in all areas of our economy, high above anything ever before accomplished in the history of mankind.

High rigid support prices were established during World War II as a purely emergency measure to assure needed bumper crops to feed our allies. These supports should have been discontinued at the close of the war. For political reasons the high rigid support prices were continued long after the need for bumper crops diminished. Fantastic, wasteful surpluses of farm products have piled up. The cost to the government now for storage alone on the surplus farm products is over one million dollars a day.

Schemes Tried

Various schemes have been devised for controlling production by economic planning and rigid control of the farmer himself. But the high rigid support prices acted like a dynamo on production—surpluses piled higher and higher. The farmer became, in effect, a captive of the government "program," rather than an independent creator. In many of our basic food commodities, production has been largely for government warehouses and graineries because the market was glutted. It has become a serious problem, in which every American has a stake. It has greatly diminished our foreign farm trade.

During World War II, a friend of mine, a carpenter by trade, hired a few of his friends and started a small enterprise to build ammunition crates for the army. The army desperately needed the crates for overseas shipment, and it paid a premium price to expedite and expand production, to get thousands of people busy building crates. My friend rented an old warehouse, set up saw rigs and an assembly line, and turned out crates by the thousands. He made a small fortune.

Demand Halted

At the end of the war, the need for ammunition crates in huge volume abruptly stopped. My friend attempted to convert his plant to the manufacture of soft drink crates. He sold a few thousand crates, but the market soon became glutted; too many ammunition crate plants had converted to the same project. When my friend's production began to pile up in his plant, he finally halted operations, and told his employees that for the time being there was no market for his plant's production. There was never a thought of being paid for unneeded crates. The carpenters got jobs in the building boom just opening up; and my friend became a successful residential building contractor.

A wood-working plant and a farm are different enterprises. But there are elements in the experience of my friend the crate manufacturer which apply to the problem of government stimulated surpluses. When, through any artificial device, we "freeze" people into productive positions when there is no real outlet for the fruits of their labor, we are throwing a monkey wrench into the whole process of the American system.

Farmer's Own Opinion

The American Farm Bureau Federation, whose 1,623,222 member families add up to approximately 8,000,000 people on the farms of America, believes that rigid high supports jeopardize the future of farmers and the freedom of all citizens. Through its state, county and local groups the Farm Bureau is conducting an educational program, designed to give farm families a clear understanding of the economic facts involved in the farm problem.

There is sound logic in the Farm Bureau's "Platform for Prosperity on the Farm." "Prosperity can be enhanced," the platform declares: "(1) By adjusting the size of the agricultural plant to market demands; (2) By getting rid of price-depressing surpluses; (3) By cutting costs—on and off the farm; (4) By developing bigger markets—at home and abroad; (5) By applying science on the farm and throughout the market system."

Ben Ramsey Starts Re-Election Drive

San Augustine, Texas—Soil and water conservation and greater protection for Texas families through good services and stability in government are the major issues on which Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey will campaign for re-election this summer.

Ramsey, who is touring the state preparatory to officially opening his campaign, said, "Soil is the storehouse of agriculture and industry. Water is the key to both. People throughout Texas have made great strides in soil and water saving practices in the past 10 years." He added, "The state must give full assistance to equitable plans for conservation at the local level if we are to maintain a sound economy and reach our true potential."

WEEK'S NEWS

FAMED TWO HANDED WAVE—President Eisenhower gives it, on leaving the meeting held at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va. where he held a series of talks with representatives of Canada and Mexico.

KEFAUYER SMILES as he leaves California after a whirlwind campaign for delegates, in what is admitted, a Stevenson stronghold. He was pleased with the receptions accorded him.

CARROLL BAKER who will soon be seen in "Giant," a Warner Bros. production, wears a Lipstick Bracelet which is a gold finished curb-link bracelet with firm fold-over watch-type clasp.

PRIVATE RADIO—Hully Ray shows how delegates to the 1955 political conventions can have own "private radios" on a convention floor. Raytheon's new "T-100" transistor portable has personal ear attachment which cuts off loudspeaker when plugged in, provides quiet, personal listening no one else can hear. Delegates can catch convention news without contributing to noise, be best informed.

THE WINNAR—The World's First Crow Calling Champion, Mary Ann Gleason, (left) receives her trophy from Nancy Walker, star of Noel Coward's "Fallen Angels" now on Broadway, having won the world's title in a nationwide competition. A live, trained bird, Ole Crow, model for a beverage concern, was on hand at the finale, for his reactions to the calls helped to determine the winner.

TELEPHONE TALK
by Bob Montgomery, Manager

PRESENTING YOUR TELEPHONE MAN
Most of you in Sanderson and on the surrounding ranches already know Stanton White. Since he arrived in February, he has been your telephone man. He and his wife, Faye, and their young son and two daughters reside at 612 3rd.

Many of you have watched him as he carefully installed a telephone. Others of you have greeted him when he came to your house on a repair call. Most of you probably were safely tucked away when high winds or freezing weather took him miles on long distance lines in order that your service might be uninterrupted.

In spite of his full-time telephone duties, Stanton finds time to be active in community affairs. He is an active member of the Rotary Club, just recently being elected secretary of the club. Stanton also belongs to the Sanderson Roping Club, and last month took up his new duties as Assistant Scout Master of the Boy Scouts.

YOUR 24-HOUR SERVANT
From time to time, friends tell us how their telephone has been handy in an emergency.

Here, the telephone is a "good friend" in any emergency, big or small. But maybe a lot of us forget about — or take for granted — the many routine yet important things that we do every day by telephone.

Just lift the receiver and you're in touch with friends, neighbors, family. Or perhaps the telephone "runs errands" for you to the grocer, the drugstore, dry cleaners, or the hardware store.

I've often thought how interesting it would be to keep a record of all the telephone calls you make in a single week. Bet you'd be surprised most of us a bit to learn how much we depend on the telephone to make our busy days easier and more enjoyable.

NO TIME LIMIT
Many people seem to think we want them to keep their long distance conversations short, meaning three minutes or less.

We asked you to do this during World War II so that long distance calls and calls from servicemen could get through.

It is since then we have added many new Long Distance circuits. And now you can call whenever you like, and talk as long as you like.

Station-to-station rates are lower after 6 p.m., and all day Sunday. And remember to call by number — it's twice as fast.

NO ONE

has authority to collect accounts or money for this firm except regular store employees.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh
Just the Facts, Ma'am!

Having a red-hot crime wave in town. Specs McGuire and Buck Hanson were caught taking money out of parking meters — again. I was at Police Headquarters when a nice old lady rushed in to report them. "It was dark but I saw their faces in the flashlight beam," she said breathlessly. "You can't trust anybody these days!" She got flustered when Chief Benson explained that Specs and Buck are authorized collectors — working nights after their regular jobs. "Have to get 'em uniformed," said Benson. "Third time they've been turned in!" From where I sit, we ought to guard against accusing anyone of being "wrong" just because that's the way it looks to us. For instance, I've heard people talk against a neighbor because they didn't approve of his choice of beverage! (They liked tea, or something, while he preferred a glass of beer.) Be sure you have a case before you lay down the law.
