OLD TEXAS FIRM CHANGES NAME

The name of the producers of "Pearl Beer" has been officially changed from San Antonio Brewing Association to Pearl Brewing Company, according to an announcement by D. E. Proper, vice president and general manager.

Proper stated that the change was made to more closely associate the name of the company with its product and to avoid the use of the term "association."

"Since the Pearl Brewing Company is the largest brewery in Texas, millions of Texans are familiar with the trade name, Pearl Beer. It was therefore felt that the word 'Pearl' should be included in the official company name.

The former name, 'San Antonio Brewing Association,' was misleading as the term 'association' is now generally used by trade groups rather than by individual concerns."

The Pearl Brewing Company was known as the City Brewery from 1886 to 1901. In 1901, the firm was incorporated under the name of San Antonio Brewing Association. In 1916 a partnership was formed and the firm was called Alamo Industries. During the prohibition years from 1922 to 1933 the Alamo Food Co., Inc., produced ice, near beer and ice cream products. In 1933, after the repeal of prohibition, the company name of San Antonio Brewing Association was reinstated.

The new name, Pearl Brewing Co., will be used effective immediately.

WHAT MADE AMERICA STRONG?

All Americans agree that the United States is the world's strongest nation—and that our economic might is the main bulwark of the Free World in the fight against communist aggression.

Many Americans, however, have no clear idea of what made America strong. Some accept the theory that we are powerful merely because our land is rich in natural resources. This belief obscures the fundamental truth that Americans built a strong, productive country because they were free to utilize those resources under a private enterprise system that was not hamstrung by bureaucratic restrictions on energy and ambition.

For example, a tiny oil business, christened The Texas Company, was launched half a century ago by a handful of employees and 113 stockholders. If this young company had been caught up in the governmental interference that harasses all business today, would it now be a world-wide enterprise with millions of customers, 40,000 employees and more than 113,000 stockholders—or would the infant company have strangled in its crib on a mass of red tape thrown at it by the bureaucrats?

The answer is obvious. Because Texaco's founders, like all American businessmen in the past, were free to spend their time developing the business—instead of battling government restrictions—they were able to transform rich natural resources into products that are vital to the nation in both peace and war. Today, the American petroleum industry produces 51 per cent of the world's oil—oil that helps to strengthen America but could not fuel a single car, battleship, or defense plant if men were not free to take it out of the ground and refine and market it.

All of us must learn that free enterprise made our country strong and use this knowledge in the domestic battle against creeping socialism. If we do not win this fight at home, our resources, productivity and strength will, under encroaching bureaucracy, degenerate into stagnation and poverty here—and the Free World's defenses against tyranny and enslavement will be fatally weakened.

WASTE CREATES CORRUPTION

Defenders of the proposed Federal budget frequently challenge critics to point out specific places where substantial cuts can be made without weakening essential government activities. And sometimes they get away with this challenge for the reason that the budget is so complex that the average man can hardly make head or tail of it.

Luckily, however, there are experts who can read and analyze even an $85,000,000,000 budget, and find out where money would be needlessly squandered. One such expert is Senator Byrd, who has specialized in fiscal matters during his whole public career. The Senator has submitted a detailed step-by-step trimming program which would reduce the budget as a whole by the huge sum of $3,600,000,000. Other individuals and organizations have also presented detailed analyses showing where the budget can be reduced by comparable amounts—without eliminating or in any way weakening "necessary" government undertakings and policies.

These cuts take various forms. Some are simply designed to rid the government of routine administrative waste, resulting from duplication of effort, inefficient purchasing methods, excesses of red tape, and so on. Others go farther and would prevent the government from spending tax money on jobs that should and can be done by private enterprise. These last would do more than just save money, important as that is—they would be a barrier to the blight of state socialism that has grown like a fungus over the past 20 years.

A wasteful government inevitably becomes a corrupt government—as recent sordid revelations of scandals and graft in high places have proved. And a corrupt government can destroy a nation. All the signs indicate that the American people are awakening to that fact at last.

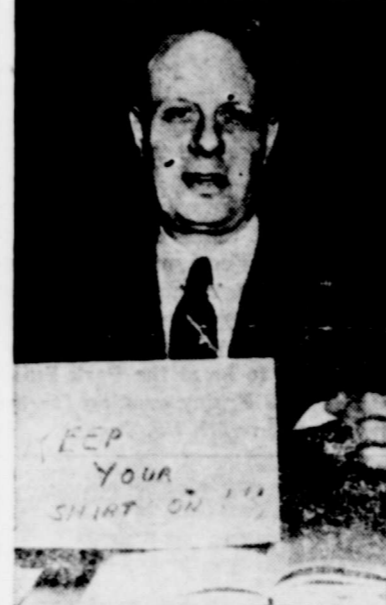

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

Antigo, Wis., Daily Journal: "It is encouraging, in view of all that has been said about the disappearance of the family doctor, which rural communities have felt so keenly that the trend in preparation for medicine has changed. According to Pageant magazine, for the past five years the proportion of medical students planning to become general practitioners has increased steadily."

Olympia, Wash., Olympian: "We should not forget that American consumers are afforded an opportunity to protect themselves that is practically unheard of in many other countries. American manufacturers produce goods of excellent quality because they are competing for the trade of millions of wage earners and housewives. To capture this trade they strive to market the best products possible, at the lowest possible price—whether the items are bobby pins, can openers, foundation garments or automobiles."

Wadena, Minn., Pioneer Journal: "The patient taxpayer has received very little consideration from Washington. He is looked upon very much as we look upon and admire a crow that produced five hundred or more pounds of butterfat during the year. The American taxpayer is the world's champion producer and yet, the poor sap continues to produce more and more without a whimper. Perhaps, he often exclaims to himself, when in the privacy of his home, that he wishes he had more dollars to give to his wasteful government."

Newbold Morris

Washington, D. C.—Corruption hunter Newbold Morris passes on a bit of his wife's advice to him as he resumed testimony before a peevish senate committee probing a many-sided series of high profit surplus tanker deals. Mrs. Morris is in New York but her message was phoned to Washington.

IT'S THE LAW
in Texas

COURT RULES PROTECT RIGHTS, INSURE FAIR TRIALS
Many people regard rules of legal procedure as mere tools of lawyers. Far from this, they are instruments of justice, and of great significance to all of us. Procedure is the lubricant which makes the machinery of uniform justice run smoothly.
The law is composed of two parts—the substantive and the adjective. The substantive law defines rights, duties and remedies; enforces contracts and rights; punishes crimes and sets up penalties. People can usually see the value of substantive law. Adjective law deals with legal procedure and describes steps a person must make to invoke substantive law.

Some of our most important rights are to be found in the body of procedural law. For example, as a people who want justice to prevail, we like to think that every man, rich or poor, shall have his day in court. This is an important right, for a day in court implies more than merely the right to have your say before a judge and jury.

Your day in court implies that you shall have the right to be properly represented, to have your case presented before an impartial jury and an unbiased judge, and to have a reasonable time to prepare for the trial. It holds that you shall have proper notice of the action against you; that the complaint or indictment shall state a clear cause of action. It means that you shall be confronted by your accusers; that you shall have the right to cross-examine them; that you shall be able to present evidence in your own behalf.
Finally, the law governing procedure tells you how you may appeal your case to higher courts when you feel that you have not had a fair trial or that a judicial error has been committed in the trial court.

Much of our procedural law comes down from centuries of experience in the courts of other lands. It was inevitable that through the centuries some of the procedure would become cumbersome, obsolete and difficult. For this reason the history of procedure has been characterized by great periods of reform. In America we have experienced many advantageous changes in our laws governing the procedure of courts and administrative agencies. There is a growing custom in the US of giving the courts the power to revise their rules in certain fields.

Our Texas rules of civil procedure are made by our state Supreme Court. The Court is constantly striving, with the recommendations of the practicing lawyer, to improve these rules. The aim of the Supreme Court is to provide a uniform and relatively simple set of rules for dispensing justice with a minimum of delay.

(This column, based on Texas law, is written to inform—not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

The names of the parties in said suit are: Betty Louise Nickelby, as Plaintiff, and William O. Nickelby, as Defendant.

The nature of said suit being substantially as follows, to-wit: Suit for Divorce.

Plaintiff alleges the following: 1. 2. Plaintiff is and has been for more than twelve months immediately prior to exhibiting this Petition, an actual bona fide inhabitant of the State of Texas, and has resided in the said County of Upton, where this suit is filed, for a period of six months next preceding the filing of this suit.

3. Plaintiff alleges that during the time she and Defendant lived together as aforesaid, she was kind and affectionate to him and forever mindful of her duties as a wife, but Defendant, unmindful of his duties and obligations of his marital vows, began a course of unkind, harsh, cruel and tyrannical treatment toward Plaintiff, without cause or provocation whatever on the part of this Plaintiff.

4. Plaintiff further alleges that Defendant's actions and conduct toward her generally are of such a nature as to render their further living together insupportable, the premises considered.

6. Plaintiff further alleges that her name before marriage was Hazel Mae Bearden.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays the Court and that Defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and for judgment dissolving said marriage relation, for costs of suit, for attorney's fees, for such other and further relief, special and general, in law and in equity, as she may be justly entitled.
