City Council Takes First Step in Federal Project --

Low-Rent Housing Possible for Rankin

With a standing-room-only attendance on hand last Monday night at the City Hall, the Rankin City Council took the first steps in a process that could eventually lead to a Federal low rent housing project in Rankin. Tentatively, some 25 units consisting of from two to four-bedroom brick homes would be constructed in Rankin. These might be built all in one area or they could be "scattered" anywhere in the city limits — or beyond by changing the boundaries.

If constructed, these units would not necessarily be available for rent to the general public. In most such Federal housing projects, a renter could not have a total yearly income exceeding $4200. Rents would be under $50 per month for even the largest of the units and new legislation recently enacted into law by the Congress would make it possible for the government to pay a part or all of this rent under certain circumstances. Also to be paid for by the rental price would be water, sewer and gas bills. Telephone and electrical bills would be paid by the tenants.

These properties could also be available to rent by retired or elderly persons. In this instance, the units must be located within walking distance of shopping areas.

Action on the proposal came about when a representative of the Federal Housing Agency met last Thursday night with members of the City Council and interested citizens. He explained the steps that must be taken and how the program is operated. On Monday night, the Council met in session and listened for some 45 minutes to discussions of the plan by those present. It appeared that all who were on hand at the meeting were in favor of going ahead with the program as tentatively proposed. It was after hearing this group that the Council adopted a motion that they enter into an agreement with the Rankin Housing Authority. The Rankin Housing Authority will be a board of five local residents appointed by the City Council. This board will be in full charge of the entire program and once they take over, no other local authority will be dealing with the Federal government on the work. A legal notice concerning this agreement appears in this issue of the News. Other information relating to the proposition is on file at the City Hall and may be viewed by any interested party.

There will now be a sixty-day waiting period—from September 30, first date of the publication. During this time, the public will be more fully informed of the plan and any who might oppose it will have opportunity to state their cause. At the end of the 60-day period, the Council will again meet and consider taking the next step. If as many as 10 percent of the qualified voters of the City of Rankin should sign a petition in opposition to the project and present this petition to the City Council, then the Council might decide to call an election on the matter.

Should such an election be called, it would deal solely with the question of whether or not Rankin should carry out a Federal low rent housing project. There would be no question of any bond issue. No debt obligation or repayment plan is made a part of this program as related to the City. All repayments are made from rentals of the unit and City of Rankin would not be responsible in case these payments were not met.

As Federal housing units, these properties on which the units would be located would be removed from all tax rolls including city, school, county and state. In collecting the rentals, however, a sum equal to 10 percent would

Rankin Seeking Upset of Strong Sonora Club

After scaring the feathers off the Big Lake Owls before going down 18-8 last Friday night, the Red Devils will try their hand at Bronch busting this week when they host the Sonora Bronchos in the Red Devil stadium. Kick-off has been moved to the 7:30 time.

In the Big Lake game, the local squad treated the Owls to a quick six points via a pass that went between the hands of the Rankin defender but failed to let that dampen their spirits and came back with a couple of passes of their own that put them in the clubhouse at halftime with an 8-6 lead. That's when the game should have been called off. Despite a slashing effort by the Rankin defense, Big Lake used their power to move the ball for what many consider the first "legal" touchdown scored against the Devils this year in that the opponents took the kick-off and never gave up the ball until they crossed the goal line. Rankin's offense also cratered in the second half, moving for only one first down. Later in the period, the Rankin squad spotted the Lakers another six points when a defender again missed blocking a pass that might well have been an interception with a bit of luck.

Friday night, in the Sonora ball club, the Red Devils will be going against a team that has allowed only 6 points in three outings. On offense, they have had an average of something like 30. They have good size, plenty of depth and a lot of experience. The roster contains fifteen boys who tip the scales at 160 or better with two tackles at 195 and 225. For the backfield, weights will range from 140 to 165 and average 155. They are reported to be capable passers and also have a strong ground game.

HOUSES—

Rankin City Council is to be commended for their actions in the housing program presently under study here. The council has not jumped into this matter without giving it any thought. In fact, they turned the entire idea down once before but agreed to take another look at it at the request of interested parties. Although they have agreed to take the first steps in the process that may eventually result in low-rent housing for Rankin, they are still watching closely the entire development. I'd say that the best interests of the public are in good hands in this instance.

And what of the housing plan? There is as many questions as there are people who have an interest in the thing. Some of these questions can be answered through the rules and policies of the Federal Housing Authority. Some can be partially answered by taking from the experiences of other towns who have already gone into the project. Some can not be answered at all—at least not before the project is put into actual use here in Rankin. One of the big questions—and it is the major one that only time will clear up—is: will a low rent project solve the housing problems of Rankin and will it be of benefit to a majority of the poep.

le? And you can get about any answer you want to that one.

The fact is, there has never been nor will there likely ever be, any plan undertaken that does not have problems and question marks. These can, however, be met and solved if those with an interest in starting the work will maintain that interest and continue to give their time, efforts and thought to the administration of the program. It's like any other undertaking: it's not hard to find folk who say, sure, let's go but it sometimes get kinda difficult to locate all these supporters once the ball starts rolling.

And there still comes up—although to a lessening degree—the question about Federal aid. Some discussion has been published on Federal aid in this column as related to the dam on Rankin draw. A few more words might clear the air a bit more.

It is said that around the turn the political atti-

United States be-maintained that this

—Liberal or Conservative—has held control of the political life of the nation. That's too deep a subject for this corner but I do know that ever since I have been old enough totake an interest in politics, this has been true. In fact, to argue pro and con on Federal aid is living in the past. Perhaps the widest choice ever offered the voters between the Liberal big government side and the Conservative forces was in the past election. The Democrats ran on a pure socialist platform and won in a walk. To sit around at this late date and argue about whether or not to accept Federal aid is about like discussing which came first, the chicken or the egg. The fact is, we have Federal aid . . . to just about everything. Whether we here in Rankin participate in it is of no consequence in the overall outcome. It's here, like it or not.

And if one is going to be a pureist on the matter of NOT having a thing to do with Federal aid, he's going to have to live a mighty odd life. In the first place he will have to quit eating out of the grocery store—farmers are subsidized. He can't travel on any highways—they get Federal aid in building roads. He can't post a letter—an entire Federal show. If he has kids in school—out they come for there's no school that I know of—including private ones, that does not, in some way, benefit just a wee bit from Federal aid—direct or indirect.

We have chosen the subsidized route, in practically all things, and we may as well get about learning to live with it and to make it work to the best.

Rankin's housing program can do some good or it can be a fop. Federal aid or private enterprise—one gets out of it results in direct porportion to what he puts into it.

This column will support the housing project. It will not be an answer to all the housing problems in Rankin. There will be drawbacks as well as advantages; but, it will at least be an effort and may lead to still further such undertakings that over the years can bring a measure of progress.

There is a great thrill in owning a real antique. It gives you a real satisfaction to know you have an antique that has the mellowness that only years can give. Some feel that our fore-

of what the record
now, the Big Lake-

Rankin game was a tie . . . we won the first half and they won the second. In any case, the Red Devils can take considerable pride in that they surprised the Owls and made them come from behind. Over the week end 4th and 10 had occasion to visit with a number of people who saw the Red Devils perform their first time last Friday night—some of them from Big Lake—and, without exception, all of them were high in their praise for the effort put out by the Rankin crew.

Of course all the good words do not take the place of winning. Rankin wanted to beat the Owls and they might have if their offense could have moved the ball in the second half. They were much improved in their ball handling—only three fumble, all recovered and one for a gain. It was a case, however, of not having any power up the middle and it may well be that this will keep the Red Devils in the hole all season. Good little men make for an exciting game with their wide runs but it must be admitted that it was the Owl power into the center of the line that finally overcame the Red Devils.

And regardless of what some may say, we could not call the game off at the half because of a tornado in Alabama.

And on to this week.

It's going to be a tough one for the Rankin team. Sonora, never rated too high by the brainpower that selects state contenders, has yet to work up a good sweat in winning their first four games—last week's over the Owl beaters, Iraan in a walk. From here, it doesn't look as if anyone in District 8-A will be able to contest them to any great extent. They have good size and better than average speed and lots of experienced hands.

It is likely to be another in a series of three hard games for Rankin. Once we get past the Iraan Braves on October 8, the competition ought to be a bit more in our class.

This week:

SONORA 26-Rankin 8. Sorry Red Devils, to vote against you especially after your fine effort last week, but Sonora has too many horses. This corner would be most happy to have you upset the above forecast. One thing is certain however, the Sonora Broncho is going to feel the spurs before the Red Devil defense let's him off the field on Friday night. No more runaways.

The Rankin (Tex.) News— The Rankin (Tex.) News—

BIG LAKE 33- Sanderson 6. The Owls will drop one and maybe two more games but this isn't one of them.

OZONA 20-Junction 12. Ozona apparently isn't going to be very dark in their dark horse role as they fell to Eldorado last week in a squeaker.

ELDORADO 14- Menard 12. It might be that Menard deserves the title of most under-rated in the district. Eldorado is presently the leader at 2-0 with the tough ones to come.

IRAAN 16, McCamey 8. This is a pretty hard one to figure but the Badgers have had some troops out and they took a good shelling last week. But then, so did Iraan.

GILLIAM MUSIC COMPANY

We wish to call attention to the Gilliam Music Co. in Odessa as being one of the most dependable firms in the business. This is important to one not fully familiar with musical instruments and their value. They are located at 209 E. 8th in Odessa, phone FE 2-2711, nights and holidays, phone FE 2-6577.

Gilliam Music Co. features the well known, nationally advertised Hammond Organs, Steinway, Chickering, Everett, Cable Nelson and Kimball, Gretsch and Epiphone guitars and amplifiers. They also have a very nice selection of used pianos and organs that are completely reconditioned and ready for use. Expert tuning and repairs are offered here.

An outstanding feature of Gilliam Music Co. is their rental plan for students. This plan is designed to let the parent see how the child will do in the instrument without the investment until he determines how much talent and interest the child has. If, at the end of the rental period, your child is progressing well and you wish to keep the instrument, the rental becomes your down payment.

Gilliam Music Co. is considered musical headquarters for our area. Talk over with the manager the merits of the different instruments, new or used, and learn of the easy terms that can be arranged after you have selected from their wide choice. If you are interested in a piano, the finest in the world may be had here. Remember—if your child does not play the piano or organ, he will stand by and envy those who do.

J. C. PENNY COMPANY

The notable career of J. C. Penny in the business of America and his successful operation of over 1700 stores in 49 states has been the comment of the business world. Upon looking for the reason for the success and the remarkable popularity of the stores, it is easily discernable that the founder was a man of remarkable vision and able to read in advance the tendencies of the times.

His idea of one central buying establishment where the complete output of mills was taken over, the placing in charge of each store, a man who was an expert manager, has proven successful as each could concentrate upon their work. This policy enables these stores to furnish merchandise to the public at more reasonable prices and enables the manager to select from this vast stock what is best suited to each locality. The J. C. Penny Co. is organized along the lines of potential partnerships and applies the Golden Rule to business — making one price to all at all times.

The stock is very complete and they feature dry goods, clothing for the entire family, where the shopper can easily supply his needs. This stock is always shipped direct and is always fresh and in good condition. The J. C. Penny Co., located at 500 North Grant in Odessa, phone FE 7-1591, is exclusively appointed and the stock is systematically arranged for the convenience of the public. The manager, Mr. J. R. Haynes, is a resident of Odessa and takes an interest in the affairs of this community.

Water Survey on For Upton County; Cooperation Asked

Richard Grozier, sub-district chief of the San Angelo office of the Water Resources Division, announced today that field work has begun on a ground-water study in Upton County. The study is being conducted by the U. S. Geological Survey in cooperation with the Texas Water Development Board and Upton County. The objectives of the study are to determine the occurrence, availability, dependability, quality and quantity of the ground-water resources in Upton County.

The general scope of the study includes the collection, compilation, and analysis of data related to ground-water in the county. Grozier said that this will consist of determining (1) the location and areal extent of the water-bearing formations and the chemical quality of the water they contain, (2) the feasibility of the various water-bearing formations to yield water, (3) estimates of the quantities of the ground water that can be obtained on a perennial basis, and (4) the locations of those areas in the county that are most favorable for the development of additional ground-water supplies.

The Rankin (Tex.) News-
 Thursday, Sept. 30, 1965

The U. S. Geological Survey has requested cooperation from land owners and well drillers when contacted in supplying information on wells in Upton County. Don White, USGS geologist, is conducting the field investigation. He will contact the owners and will visit wells for purposes of measuring water levels and yields, and collecting water samples. Samples from selected wells will be analyzed for mineral content, and copies of the analyses will be available from the laboratory upon the owner's request.

Grozier said that the results of the study will be presented in a published report that will be available to the public. The report will present data that can be used as a guide in developing the ground-water resources for maximum benefits for public supply, industrial, irrigation, domestic and stock requirements.

the Red Devils must have opportunities to down the squad. For one series the Red Devils had only the field, and for another series Brochos put 8 points on the board and iced the game. Such mix-ups are likely as the Rankin defense has been ed all season long. The Rankin mark will be on the move? Up to now the Rankin defense has been sputtering but a game was noted in the last week and in camp that the Red Devils yet be tamed.

Rankin will be in its usual position and will be facing a number of points in the Sonora team should confidence. They may be a surprise.
