The letter from Pvt. A. L. Pope requesting the Star be sent to him reads as follows:

Dear Marth: Here I am sending a request for the Friona Star. Would like to tell you how much I appreciate it, but don't know how. They tell me all that is necessary is to show or send this letter to Mr. White, so he can see the post mark, and get my address. Would like to make it back to eat Xmas dinner with you and Ted this year, but am afraid that is out.

Always your friend,
A. L. Pope.

Ried Farm Sale To Be Held Dec. 1st

Marvin Ried will dispose of all his livestock, farming equipment and household goods at public auction on Dec. 1, at his home a half mile north of the pavement at the northeast corner of Friona.

Mr. Ried had but recently purchased the farm where he is now living and had planned to make it his home and devote his time to farming, but because of Mrs. Ried's health the family must move to a lower altitude.

Their plans are not yet definitely made, but they will probably live on the western coast.

Mr. Ried's sale bill is on another page of this issue of the Star.

NEWS FROM RHEA

The Ladies Aid Report
The Ladies Aid of Immanuel Ev. Lutheran Church met on Nov. 9, at the home of Mrs. Max Wagner.

After a short business meeting, Rev. Herbert H. Ries lead a Bible Study on the topic, "What Does The Bible Say About Itself?" The meeting was closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Refreshments were served to Mrs. R. H. Schueler, Mrs. Herman Schueler, Rev. and Mrs. H. H. Ries, Miss Velma Schueler, Mrs. Paul Koeltzow and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Price Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Price of the Black community, celebrated their Golden Wedding anniversary at their home southeast of Black, on Friday of last week.

Their children were home on that day as their guests and to enjoy the good dinner under the parental roof.

Mr. Price also celebrated his 72nd birthday on Sunday, and appeared to be in good health and able to do plenty of work for a man of that age.

The Star extends congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Price, who are among our most highly respected citizens, and Mr. Price is one of our most successful farmers.

Former Resident Visits With Relative in Friona

Mrs. Berth Harry of Caspar, Wyo., arrived here on Friday morning of last week and remained until Thursday afternoon, visiting her sister, Mrs. Grace Hart, and other relatives.

Mrs. Harry will be remembered by many of our people, as she and her children formerly lived here for several years, moving from here to Wyoming, where she and her son, Sgt. Merle Harry, now with Uncle Sam's armed forces and stationed somewhere in England, have lived until Sgt. Harry was called to the service, since which time she has lived there alone.

One of her daughters, Mrs. Jimmie Sullivan, with her husband, has been employed in a defense plant near Los Angeles for the past year or more; and not being able to get some person to look after their two small sons, Mrs. Sullivan, who was the former Miss Ruth Harry, had to tender her resignation, which owing to the scarcity of help was not accepted; and Mrs. Harry was on her way to Hawthorn, Calif., to care for her two young grandsons while their father and mother continue their work at the defense plant. Mrs. Harry is an aunt of Fred White and Mrs. Bill Flippin.

Walther League Report
Immanuel Walther Leaguers gathered Tuesday night at the home of Raymond Norbert and Elenor Schueler for a business meeting.

Some of the things that were decided upon in the meeting were:

1. To put up a Christmas window display.
2. To take part in a Christmas Pageant with the Clovis and Lariat leagues.
3. To have a Christmas party and gift exchange at our regular social meeting in December.
4. Also to send a box of homemade candy and cookies to the service boys in the states for Christmas.
5. To order assorted greeting cards, which the leaguers will sell. It was reported that the Christmas Cards were about sold out.

After the business meeting a Bible Quiz was lead by Rev. H. H. Ries.

Refreshments were served to ten leaguers and two guests, and the host and hostess.

Rev. E. E. Houlette spent last week in Arkansas, where he is visiting the Pentecostal Churches that are under his supervision as Superintendent of the Pentecostal Churches of the central Southwest.

Ed Boggess Buys Griffith Farm

Ed Boggess has recently purchased the farm of P. B. Griffith, near Friona and will take possession of it in the near future.

Joe Menefee, who has farmed the Griffith place for the past year, has bought an irrigated farm near Muleshoe and will move there soon.

As his new type of farming will not require the large outfit of machinery and livestock, Mr. Menefee will sell all such property at public auction at the Griffith farm. See his advertisement in this issue of the Star.

Cecil Talkington To Have Farm Sale

Cecil Talkington, who has owned and operated a half section farm a mile west of Friona for the past decade or longer, has recently sold this farm to Leo McLellan, and will return to his former home in Oklahoma.

Owing to this change of location and the fact that the farm he will move to in Oklahoma is already equipped, he will sell all his farming equipment and livestock at public auction on Wednesday, Nov. 24. See his sale bill on another page of this issue of the Star.

During his residence here Talkington has proved himself to be a progressive and successful farmer, a good neighbor and a patriotic citizen—a man the community can ill afford to lose.

Singing Convention To Meet At Oklahoma Lane on Sunday

The Star is authorized to announce the next meeting of the Parmer County Singing Convention to be held Sunday, Nov. 21, in an all-day session at the Oklahoma Lane School House.

An excellent program of choruses, quartets, trios, duets and solos is being prepared; and all lovers of song are most cordially invited to attend. Lunch will be served on the grounds at noon, so bring a well filled basket of food so that there may be enough for all present.

Singing will begin at about 11:00 o'clock A. M. and with the exception of the noon intermission, will continue throughout the greater part of the afternoon.

Come and let us enjoy a day of good singing together.
Arle Green, President.

ANTI-NEW DEAL GROUP MEETS AT CLOVIS

Sunday afternoon there was held a patriotic meeting at Hotel Clovis, under the auspices of the Club for Constitutional Government of New Mexico.

The club has a membership of more than 5,000 people scattered over the state. They claim to be business men, ranchers, farmers, and laborers. And apparently were of a big class of intelligent people.

The crowd seemed uncommonly earnest and enthusiastic. Their unanimous opinion that the New Deal policy must be voted out, else constitutional government, private enterprise and the traditional American way of life is doomed.

The meeting claimed to be non-partisan, at least there were no office seekers, and all were working for patriotic purposes, without pay. All of the speakers—all of them able-claimed to be old line Jefferson Democrats. Their plan of voting out Franklin and Eleanor, with their bureaucratic machines, was not made clear. They may try to recapture the Democratic party from the New Deal. They may feel they are compelled to form a new party, or they may see fit to hold their noses and use the Republican organization. It was a most interesting meeting and should stimulate a lot of patriotic thinking.

Former Friona Woman Turns in Good Job As A Boiler Operator

The following letter from the Pantex Ordnance Plant relative to a former Parmer County lady will be of interest to readers of the Star.

"Mrs. Lester Rhinehart, daughter of R. A. Sisk, former resident of Bovina, has taken her place among the women war workers at Pantex Ordnance Plant near Amarillo, by holding a real man-sized job. She and another Certain-teed Products Corporation employee of the weaker sex are the only boiler operators on the plant site.

Having first worked in the plant's bomb loading operations... no small job in itself... she now pulls levers, watches gauges and fires the two 60-horsepower boilers with all the finesse of a seasoned operator.

Mrs. Rhinehart has been on this job for two months and is indirectly releasing her Seabee husband to attend to the sterner business of war."

Friona Weather

Minus a good soaking rain throughout the county, the present weather seems to be all that the heart of man might desire in the way of perfect autumn weather.

A. E. Irvine New M. Pastor

Rev. A. E. Irvine, who was assigned by the Conference of Methodist churches in session at Lubbock last week, arrived here with his family Tuesday and will preach his initial sermon for the Friona congregation, Sunday.

Rev. John W. Price, who has served as pastor of the local church during the past year, was assigned to the church at Lorraine, which is located at an altitude about 2000 feet lower than Friona, where it is hoped he may enjoy better health.

During the time Rev. Price was at Friona, he and his wife formed a large circle of friends, not only among the members of his congregation but with all who were fortunate enough to make his acquaintance, and the entire community regrets his departure.

A cordial welcome is extended to the new pastor.

Lutherans Have Day of Prayer Service Sunday

Immanuel Lutheran Church of the Rhea community will observe a special day of penitence and prayer Sunday morning in the 11 o'clock service. The Rev. Herbert H. Ries, pastor, will preach on the subject "In This Crisis Let Our Nation Turn To God in Deep Humility, Sincere Repentance, and fervent Prayer." The pastor will lead the congregation in a special prayer for God's mercy upon the United States of America and all those serving in our armed forces.

Dr. J. W. Behnken, president of the Lutheran Church, Missouri Synod, has designated Nov. 21st as a day of penitence and prayer for all congregations affiliated with this body.

Immanuel Lutheran Church extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend this special service.

day, showering upon us a delightful degree of its summer warmth, just enough to be pleasant but not oppressive. And there is enough of the autumn tang in the air each morning and evening to make a light fire in the homes feel altogether comfortable, with a thin coat of ice in the stock and poultry drinking fountains almost every morning.

But farmers complain that the new wheat crop is beginning to need more moisture, and they feel that it must come pretty soon if the wheat crop is to live through the winter.

On at least one night the freeze was severe enough to kill all flowers and garden vegetation. Here's hoping for the moisture, even though it may be snow. How about a snow for Thanksgiving?

Farmer John SEES THINGS

Thirty odd years ago, a cowboy at Friona, who was gifted with the art of getting ideas across without long speeches, sold a farm prospector from the East that the best crop here is a "sucker crop."

For the fourth distinct spell in the life of the county it is being treated with a fresh catch of new people. This time the catch seems well able financially and plenty capable by experience to establish prosperous farm homes. Just as soon as they get used to the good underground water, the fine soil, the pure air and the really uncommonly fine generous, thrifty and cosmopolitan people, they doubtless will be happy. The old timers should, and most likely will, see to it that all home-sicknesses will be drenched with neighborliness and friendliness.

The hardy, carefree, yet lonesome cowboy, began to see signs of the encroaching nesters late in the last century. Along the Eastern border of the county, the four-section homestead and sub-divided small ranches began to take on a modified farm atmosphere. But the whole country was predominantly a big cow pasture.

Soon after the turn of the century, the county was treated to an inflow of farm settlers, mostly from the North-Central states. This first grand rush to get this good land for farming purposes, mostly located west and northwest of Bovina. The standard purchase price for land had gone from $2.50 to 15.00 per acre. Immediately following the Southwest Land Company activities radiating around Bovina, the Wright Land Company put on a bigger drive from Friona. By this time it was learned, that this raw plains land would sell just as readily at $20.00 per acre, as at a lesser price. Land on which 40-bushel wheat and a bale of cotton could be grown, really looked good at the price.

These land-hungry buyers were mostly a high type of farm citizens. They were thrifty and frugal, but the characteristic Panhandle dry spells and almost complete lack of marketing facilities put many of these early people to flight. Many were driven back to where they could, at least, get paid for a day's work. There was plenty of work here to be done, but of necessity it was on a swapping basis.

There was never a "sit-down" strike nor a try for a government hand-out. The fleetness of the jack rabbit was the meat rationing board. Each load of cow chips was known to have three distinct heats, the gathering, the burning and the cleaning out the ashes. Nobody thought to ask the cow to curtail the supply of chips in order to increase the price of the commodity.

These early settlers came to Parmer County determined to establish and pay for themselves a home. They were equally determined to develop a community and civic life in keeping with the high ideals of Americanism. The close proximity of the declining big cattle business, soon made prosperous farmer-ranchers of most of them.

Some ten or 15 years later, the county was treated to an inflow of farmers from Oklahoma. They made for themselves a settlement which they named for their home state. To them, conditions were not so new but that they were able, positively, to demonstrate that a straight farmer could prosper. They proved that a system of good tillage would get the job done. Even today, the Oklahoma Lane district is probably the best tilled and has more farm homes than any other spot of like size in the county.

About the time this group became acclimated, the really big rush of home-seekers set in. This time the Capitol Land Syndicate did its own advertising and selling. They completed putting a scattering of farms all over the county. Their buyers were from everywhere and they came with the characteristic high hopes of pioneers. They bought the land at from $35.00 to 40.00 just as enthusiastically as earlier groups did at previous prevailing prices. Probably about the same percent of this last inflow of people, as of earlier groups, were able to stay. The important thing to the county is, a good for themselves those coveted farm homes. They produced a generation of young people whose attitude toward the various parts of the world in which they are stationed, is "this country don't compare with Parmer County."

Regardless of government agencies, expert economic opinions of the value of this land another wave of farm buying has set in. There have perhaps, been more farms bought the past few months than in any like period in the history of the county. These buyers seem perfectly willing to put their judgment of values against farm security educated appraisers. They are willing to back their judgment with their own dollars. The indication is that the game blood in their veins will spell "success." Most of these new buyers come from counties close around. For that reason they can better judge what they are doing. A larger percent of this group is destined to succeed than of any previous group.

The wise old cowboys' estimate of the value of the new-comer crop proved to be right. It was not so much the value of the cash they brought to the county, as it was that they brought homes. If it was not for the homes scattered over Parmer County, and the civilization that goes with home, this land would still be a drag on the market at any old price.

poor, "G. I." is the right name for this place. We had steaks dinner one day this week. I rushed back and looked under my bunk to see if the soles were still on my shoes. So far I've been lucky on maneuvers. I've only been on one problem. It was a short boat ride to Dog Island. Most of the time I'm busy with the crane, loading trucks and digging ditches, but I like my job fine. Have been getting the Star regular and sure glad to get the home news.

Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Baxter have received word from their son, Cpl. Lonnie R. Baxter, that he is now stationed in Iceland, but that he is not too well pleased with the country nor the climate.

Another of our boys, Charles Lewis Jones, likes the South country. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Jones, U. J. U. S. Navy V-12 Unit, Lafayette, La., Nov. 8, 1943 Dear Uncle John:

I am writing you a few lines to let you know that I am getting along fine and that I am still receiving the Friona Star. I am sorry that I did not get to see you while I was at home two weeks ago, but you were not in the office when I dropped by to see you. I am still stationed here at Southwestern and shall probably remain here until March 1, then go to Midshipman's School. I would like to correct a statement you made about me, and that is—I did not enter the Navy from high school I am now a Senior in college instead. The weather has turned cold upon us at last after a long hot summer, and I sure hope it keeps cool for a while. It rains a lot down here and I can't get used to that after all the sand storms we have had at home. This is a beautiful country and I can say there are swamps here too. I sure am glad I don't have to go on maneuvers like so many in the Army do. Even if I am in Louisiana, there are still more boys in this unit from Texas than all the rest of the States put together. I was fortunate in knowing several of the boys before I came here, and there are many others who lived around Amarillo and home. Thanks again for the Friona Star.

Sincerely,
Charles Lewis Jones, A.S.

A Christmas greeting card has been received from W. H. (Bill) Flippin, Jr., M. M. 2-c, who is now with the Seabees somewhere in the Hawaiian Islands. The card is in the form of a V-Mail, and the illustration of the boys before I came the Friona football team is doing so well. The Pre-flight School here is a good set-up. The food is excellent, the sports are rough and the cadets are always tired; but not a single one here would trade the training we get here for anything in the world. We had a very nice rain here today and I can see why farming in this particular area isn't too good—most of the top soil went with the rain. Nevertheless, I like this country a whole lot—and the University of Georgia. As you may know, the Navy has control of nearly half the University buildings, and I can say that it really is a beautiful school and campus. I read in the star, which I received today, that Bill Allen was running the obstacle course every day down at the base at which he is stationed. I know not how difficult that obstacle course may be, but if it is any better than the one we have here, I'm sure that every cadet here will respect him immensely, running it every morning. I wish to thank you again for the Star, Uncle John, and wishing you the best of everything, I remain,

Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanford Is Bride of Corporal Richard Barnard

An impressive candlelight ceremony on Tuesday afternoon united Miss Mary Elizabeth Stanford, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Stanford, and Cpl. Richard Barnard, son of Mrs. Frances Barnard, at the home of the bride's parents.

The vows were spoken as the couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar banked with palms, fernery and hundreds of miniature yellow chrysanthemums. White cathedral tapers in seven-branch candelabra gave candle lighting for the ceremony and pedestal baskets filled with giant yellow chrysanthemums completed the altar arrangements. Rev. Marvin Boyd, pastor of the First Methodist Church, officiated. Clement Birkmeyer, cousin of the bride, lighted the tapers.

wedding march as the bridal party entered.

Mrs. C. E. Birkmeyer of Amarillo, aunt of the bride, accompanied Mrs. R. P. Coneway who sang "Because" and played the

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was dressed in a deep violet silk crepe dress with shaded purple sequin trim. Her short veil was held in place by a band of deep purple violets. She carried a colonial bouquet of gardenias and bouvardia.

Following the ceremony, an informal reception was held for the bridal party and guests. The table, covered with cluny lace, was appointed with an all-silver service. Tapers burned in silver candelabra and the centerpiece was of tallman roses in a silver bowl. The three-tiered cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple. Mrs. R. P. Coneway poured and Mrs. C. E. Birkmeyer cut and served the cake. Miss Barbara Burney presided at the guest book.

Leave On Trip
Corporal and Mrs. Barnard left immediately after the reception for a short wedding trip. Mrs. Barnard traveled in a brown tweed suit with matching accessories. They will return in a few days to spend the remainder of the bridegroom's furlough here. When he returns to his base in San Diego, Calif., Mrs. Barnard will resume her teaching in the Friona Public Schools.

Mrs. Barnard, who was reared here, is a member of one of Hereford's pioneer families. She is the granddaughter of Mr. E. B. Black and the late Mrs. Black, who established one of the first business houses here. She is a graduate of Hereford High School and of Texas Technological College. She also did post graduate work in the Lubbock School and for the past three years has been head of the home economics department in the Friona Schools.

get back to Texas again. I remain,
Yours truly,
Pvt. Leslie H. Weis.

Here is a letter that may not properly come under the title of this column, but it is so near akin to the line of correspondence herein contained that we are going to include it here. U. J.

1700 Cutting Blvd.,
Richmond, Calif., Nov. 10
Dear Mr. White:

Inclosed you will find a check to cover Friona Star subscription, and also a letter from Alva Pope, requesting same. Am sure you will be as happy as I to be sending the Star to him. Would like to add that the shipyard here in Richmond, in which my husband, Ted, is an employee, and I was also an employee until July 30, has set a world record in building ships during October. They launched a ship a day, which means 31 during that month. That surely helps prove that our men on the production lines are behind the men on the fighting lines. You recently received a letter from L. H. Clark, and at the time you were unable to place him. He is "Slats Clark," who helped sell and handle radios in Mr. Roden's drug store. He married Ruth Hannah, who taught Spanish and had charge of the library in the Friona High School. Remember them now!

Ted and I surely have and are enjoying their friendship and companionship since we have been in Richmond.

"Slats" is employed in the same shipyard I worked in. In case you do not recall who I am, I am Mr. and Mrs. Roy Slagle's daughter.
Martha Rutherford.
(Mrs. Ted.)

Turkey Price Ceilings Listed By OPA Director

Maximum prices to be paid by consumers for live young turkeys were listed today by J. B. Mooney, district price executive of the Office of Price Administration. These listings were made by the executive to clear up any confusion which might have been created by previous listings of the wholesale ceiling prices.

A maximum retail price of .4447c per pound may be paid for live young turkeys, Grade A, weighing 18 pounds or less when sold by producers to the consumers, Mooney pointed out. If sold by Group 1 or 2 stores, the maximum price is .4514c per pound and if sold by Group 3 or 4 stores, the price is .4777c per pound.

Yea, Verily! We remember you Martha, and are pleased to have this nice letter, and to know certainly who Mr. H. L. Clark is. —U. J.

The maximum retail price for drawn (oven dressed), Grade A, young turkeys, drawn weight under 13 pounds, is set at .6287c per when sold to the ultimate consumers by producers. If sold by retail stores in Group 1, 2 or 3, the price is .6325c per pound and by Group 4 stores, the price is .6217c per pound, Mooney explained. He stated that old turkeys and all grades lower than Grade A are priced lower.

The above prices apply to sales in counties including Andrews, Bailey, Borden, Castro, Cochran, Dallam, Dawson, Deaf Smith, El Paso, Gaines, Hale, Hartley, Hockley, Lamb, Lubbock, Lynn, Oldham, Potter, Randall, Swisher, Terry, and Yoakum.

Dear Uncle John:
The following letter is from Sgt. Floyd L. (Lee) Spring, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Spring of this city, who is now located somewhere in England, and tells us what he is allowed to tell, in his own cheerful and matchless manner.

Well, I'm finally "Somewhere in England" and I'd certainly like to start receiving the Friona Star to see what's happening at home. I'm inclosing $2.00 for the year's subscription. The trip over was quite an experience for me, although the ship was awfully crowded. I was somewhat sick a couple of days but never quite reached the "Critical Point" where one leans over the rail. Stuff was dirt cheap aboard ship—cigarettes were only 45c a carton. Right now I'm trying to get used to pounds, shillings and pence, because that's what we'll be using now. We are very lucky to get these nice living quarters—especially under war time conditions. I've only had one meal here, but it looks like the food is going to be all right. I don't know who all the boys from home are who are in England, but I hope I will be able to meet some of them. Well, I'll be looking forward to receiving the Star, and best wishes to you and the folks back home.

Very truly,
Lee Spring.
Lee will probably be getting a bundle of issues of the Friona Star that were mailed to him at his latest address in the States, as we are informed that many of the boys have received copies after the mail had had time to reach them at their overseas address. —U. J.

Pvt. Leslie H. Weis is now in Kentucky and does not like it. He would not give the Panhandle for any other part of the U. S. His letter says so. Dear Uncle John:
Just a line to let you know that I am fine and hope you are still in the best of health. I thought I would let you know the change in my address. I'm in Fort Knox, Ky., where it is cold and misty and where we haven't seen the sun too much. The sun is shining nice and bright this morning, but I still wouldn't give the good old Panhandle of Texas for any other part of the U. S. I will be more than glad to

GRADE SCHOOL NEWS

The Grade School has observed National Education Week. We have been pleased to have so many friends visit our school and see at first hand what we are doing.

The second grade had a splendid chapel program Friday morning. They dramatized the story of "The Shoemaker and the Elves."

The fifth grade has an interesting exhibit in the lower hall. Some pictures using pencil shading are especially good.

The seventh grade science classes are doing very interesting work. They have made several surveys of the town locating the likely breeding places of mosquitoes and flies.

Seniors Spend Pleasant Day in Amarillo

A most enjoyable day was spent by the seniors in Amarillo, Nov. 8. The main purpose of going was to have their pictures taken.

SMILES

There are smiles that make us happy. Have you noticed Katy Stevick's smile? It's rather mischievous.

Boys, being the sterner sex, don't seem to smile as much as girls; but when they do it's almost as nice.

feel that this study has been interesting and profitable.

Some Good Traits Of FHS Personalities

In recognition of traits we all should have but don't, we offer...

To Dale Treider, our editor, for his dependability. He does more than his share in anything he undertakes.

To Betty Massey and Dorothy Scott for being so unafraidly pretty. (Did you see them in the play, and don't you agree?)

To Ethel Taylor for her eternal willingness to "help out."

To Truell Wayne Hyde for his sense of humor.

To Mrs. Jones behind the desk at the lunch room for her sunny disposition.

To Wanda Hart for her un-failing good humor.

To Carolyn Lange for being so happy it's contagious.

To Verlin Talkington and Leroy Johnson for being good sports especially in the Council play.

To Miss McFarland for her enthusiasm (and, we might add her flair for wearing clothes.)

"Education for Death" Reviewed at Chapel

Chapel began with the singing of a few songs from the new song books.

The purpose of the review was to contrast the methods of teaching in Germany and in the United States.

Mrs. Warden Well-Prepared For Friona Job

Mrs. Ocoee Warden is the supervisor in the Friona Grade School. She has had 14 years of teaching experience and came to Friona last year and taught the second grade.

Her favorite food is almost a thing of the past because it is meat—almost any kind fixed anyway. She says she doesn't have much time for radioing but when she does, news and musical programs get her attention.

Miss Warden says that she likes Friona and its people very much. She says that she loves working with the little folks and intends to make that her life work.

of study in Germany admits only the study of instilling into the hearts of its youth the Nazi ideology...

Ziemer ends his book with this warning to American teachers and students: "America must prepare as spiritedly and with as much enthusiasm for an education for life, as Hitler is preparing his youth for death."

After the book review, a short pep rally was held.

WHERE THE DIRT COLLECTS By Irma Rugg

We wonder if Mrs. Truitt knows what comes after a horse? She asked Leroy.

The Seniors must not go to Amarillo anymore. It seems to affect Petrolia's work in Speech.

When starting to read Miss B. Garman's fortune, Petrolia said, "Your's is different from everyone else's."

Surely the Seniors are beginning to worry about victory gardens already. They received some material about that the other day. It was from Gray's Photo Co.

Naval Aviation Cadets To Be Selected From Mid-Term HS Graduates

All 17 year old high school seniors that want to fly for the Navy now have that opportunity, according to information received this week from the Office of Naval Officer Procurement in Dallas.

be a high school history teacher as she once planned to do. The Friona community is fortunate indeed to have Mrs. Warden as elementary supervisor.

1. Applicant must be 17 years of age.
2. He must be a high school graduate or must be graduated by February 15, 1944.
3. He cannot be married.

Although this program is open only to 17 year old men, they definitely would not be called for Aviation Cadet Training until graduation from high school and not before they had reached their 18th birthday.

Every man selected as a Naval Aviation Cadet becomes a flying officer upon successful completion of his training, and is commissioned an ensign in the Navy or a second lieutenant in the Marine Corps.

Full information regarding this program may be had by writing to the Naval Aviation Cadet Selection Board, 600 Allen Bldg., Dallas 1, Texas.

Most of the war boards' work has been assigned to AAA in recent changes ordered by Marvin Jones, war food administrator.

The war boards, as originally set up, consisted of representatives of AAA, Farm Security, Farm Credit, Soil Conservation, and the Extension Service.

The war board's function pertaining to farm workers and the armed services probably will soon be transferred to AAA and the main activity of war boards in the future will be in conducting programs of a patriotic nature, such as bond drives and scrap and salvage programs.
