Officers of Lodge to Attend Crane Meet

Two Masonic Lodges in this area will receive awards during a Masonic Workshop meeting to be held Tuesday, September 10, at the Masonic Lodge Hall in Crane.

Oil City Lodge 1256 (McCamey) and Crane Lodge 1262 are being honored during the meeting for outstanding attendance during the Spring series of Masonic Workshops, a project of the Grand Lodge of Texas which is aimed at improving the quality of Lodge officers.

The Workshop being held in Crane will also have officers of Rankin Lodge 1251 attending.

J. H. Loader, Jr., of Odessa, chairman of the eleven-county Masonic Workshop Area F-6 will present the awards and conduct the meeting.

He said the Workshop is a part (Continued to Back Page)

Booster Club Meet Called for Sept. 9 to Get Organized

John Kidd, president of the Rankin Red Devil Booster Club, announced this week that a meeting will be held Monday, September 9. Time is at 7:00 p. m. in the Elementary School Cafeteria.

Purpose of the meeting is to organize for the 1968-1969 term and Kidd has said that the Boosters are hoping for a large turnout so that a good year's program can be planned and started off in good shape.

The Boosters Club is open to all supporters of Rankin School activities—both men and women. They not only lend their support to the football teams but also the band, the basketball teams and other related groups. Meetings are held weekly during most of the year and discussions are held with the coaching staff, films are shown and "boosting" plans made.

"Rankin has long been known as a backer of their ball teams and school groups and it is to be hoped that this year's Booster Club will be one of the most active to come along," said Kidd. "Make your plans to attend this meeting," he said.

Football Fans Note--

Football fans will note a move-up in time for the Thursday scrimmage from 7:30 to 7:00 p. m. This change was made so that the visitors would be able to return home earlier.

Red Devil Band in Crane Parade Thurs.

Rankin's Red Devil Band will make their first public appearance Thursday afternoon, Sept. 5 when they march in a parade through downtown Crane. The parade will be the kick-off of the Crane Open Rodeo and the Red Devil Band will be entered at the invitation of the Crane Chamber of Commerce.

This year's band will be one of the largest to take the field in a number of years. The increase in size comes about due to the addition of the Seventh and Eighth Grade bands from junior high to the high school group.

Some 120 students are included in this unit; however, about 110 will be in the marching band due to some of the boys being on the high school football team. In the past several years, the Red Devil band has used 35 to 40 in the marching band.

"They're going to see us and hear us coming this year," said Mr. A. C. Copeland, high school principal.

Wells Teague, band director, has been giving his charges early morning marching practice, prior to the opening of the school day for the past week.

Last Tuesday night, Mr. Teague met with parents at the band hall and explained the new set-up and program for the year.

cepts and skills in which they need further study.

All children learn differently. Some learn from a basal reading approach, a phonetic approach, a total language experience approach, a linguistic approach or by some other method.

A child may need a multi-sensory program designed with extra listening activities such as tape recordings where they hear their own voice or records to hear sounds of others; or perhaps they may need visual aids such as controlled readers, overhead transparencies, films, Tach-X training as well as extra speaking, story-telling and writing experiences.

Some children need the pressures of graded competition removed. Some need an individualized approach.

The reading specialist tries to meet all these needs by uses of a multi-media program. A well-rounded program of study is arranged to create an attitude of psychological safety.

As soon as a student successfully advances in certain areas of development, they may be dismissed from the Special Reading Classes or they may continue with certain types of speed reading.

CONGRATULATIONS—

If you're reading this week's column, congratulations are in order. It's proof that your survived the Labor Day week-end.

There's always some around who have solutions to everything and I guess this corner is just as bad as the next but it would seem to me that one of the best ways to at least slow down this business of killing five or six hundred people every holidays would be to put a few thousand of the Armed Forces people on the highways to assist Highway patrolmen in seeking out the drunk drivers and others who are a menace to life and limb when they get behind the wheel of a car.

Now that sounds a little like turning our highways into armed camps but still, it's a well known fact that we all mind our driving manners a little better when we know there's a patrol car in the area—especially if the patrolman is prone to enforce the law.

If Texas highways had a few extra thousand M. P.'s on the road on holidays—with authority to crack down—it would be safer for all of us.

After all, we call out the Army to control riots and more people are killed on highways—ten times more than in Viet Nam on Labor Day—than have ever been killed in riots.

We ought to do something—more or different than we're now doing when every holiday sets a new record in senseless

He explains that the word, Tonopah, is from the Shoshone Indian language and means the land of no wood and little water. That's sorta strange buat at last we now know what the word, "Rankin" means in English.

Bro. Shannon also says that it is supposed to rain only 3 to 6 inches a year in Tonopah but that since they have been there, it has rained overy week and several times some weeks. Which goes to show that Rev. Shannon still has some good connections in the right place.

HOUSE WORK—

Now that Rankin has finally started on their low rent housing work, those who seek to continue the trend of slowly but surely adding to the growth of Rankin are asking: "What is next?"

Of course one of the next projects which is well along is the improvement of the country club. This undertaking may not thrilh a lot of people but it will add to the community and will be an asset.

Still another undertaking that may be developed is presently being considered by Rankin Lions Club. Although they have not, as yet, made up their minds on it.

It involves securing some of the FHA housing that has recently been sold in Midland, moving them to Rankin and working out a deal whereby they can be purchased by low income people for very little down and monthly payments which, at the most, do not run over $30.

If carried out by the Lions, it won't likely be a very extensive addition to the town but it most certainly would be a help. A bit here and a bit there and it all adds up. Let's hope something comes of their efforts.

GEORGE WALLACE—

Back in May a goodly number of people were laughing about George Wallace and his campaign for president. You don't hear anyone laughing now.

In fact, you find more people willing to say they're going to vote for George than you do for any other candidate and you also find more people willing to put some money into his campaign. This is not a local trend. Reports of a like nature come from all over Texas.

It may well be that a fellow on Main Street put his finger on the reason when he said, "a lot of people are not going to vote for George Wallace because of George Wallace, the man, nor for his political thinking; but, rather, to show the Republicans and Democrats that they're fed up with the same old song and dance."

Personally, I don't think Geo. Wallace is going to carry Texas nor Upton County but right now, it doesn't look like either Hubert or Nixon will get a majority either. And that's about what George set out to do in the first place.

Dedicated to the proposition that football is here to stay and that the Red Devils will be in there tough when the game is over.

IT'S CLOSE—

Kickoff for the 1968 football season is almost at hand. The pros are already at it in their exhibition games and the high schoolers are playing their so-called "scrimmage" games. The only thing missing is the stands full of spectators and the band playing. That will be added very soon.

And right, now, before that first game, it might be well to draw attention to a few facts. Number one would be that the school is paying out good money for coaches. Let them coach.

They want to win just as badly as do the boys on the team and the fans in the stand and if they thought for a minute that coaching was not worth their efforts, they'd get out for there's plenty of jobs open to men of their training in addition to classroom teaching and coaching.

Number two might be to remember that these are boys—some are pretty young—they are not paid professionals and they are supposed to be playing the game because they like it. They are going to goof it up some and some don't have the ability to do the job right. Still, they like to try and they like to win. I don't think there ever has been a high school boy who deliberately tried to lose a game be it football or marbles.

A third reminder might be that fans are supposed to support the team—through thick and thin—blunders and touchdowns. A fan who comes to life only when the team puts six points on the scoreboard is not a fan—he's a spectator. A fan whoops it up all the time—but especially when the team is in trouble. He lets them know that he's still in there pulling for them just as they are still in there trying to get the game going their way.

West Texas football is almost a way of life and it's wild and woolly sometimes but still, there are a few responsibilities that we all have and supporting the team and their coaches may well be the most important.

THE SCRIMMAGE—

Fourth & 10 was—would you believe—in a golf tournament in Del Rio and didn't get to attend the Stanton scrimmage but did get some first-hand reports from those who did. Generally, Rankin performed about as expected with the possible exception that their "bomb" passes did not click. It rained during most of the play and that might explain the reason for that. However, if the Red Devils are going to do much good this year, they are going to have to get that part of their game into shape.

Neither team was able to score from mid-field but the Devils punched across a couple on the goal line stand tests.

That was for the varsity. On the B team, Rankin moved the ball pretty good and ran across some markers.

Overall, it might be said that Stanton was a little stronger than last year and that Rankin looked reasonably good for their first outing.

If you're in town Thursday at about 7:30 you can see for yourself when the Wink crew comes over to butt heads.

A REPORT—

One of reports, making the rounds in Rankin is that the Junior High team is all fired up and looking for a good season. They're reported to be full of confidence and ready to go.

Go get 'em, Little Devils.

New Club Meets to Adopt By-Laws and Transact Business

The newly formed Rankin County Club, Inc. held their first meeting last Tuesday night at the clubhouse to discuss and adopt a set of by-laws and attend to other matters of business. The club was formed out of the old Rankin Golf Club in an effort to secure a Federal loan from the Farm Home Administration to build a new clubhouse, a swimming pool, install grass fairways and to make other improvements.

A charter has been received from the State of Texas to incorporate the organization and to operate it as a non-profit undertaking.

All paper work, including cost estimates and drawings, along with the necessary forms, has now been filed with the FHA and a definite reply on the loan request is expected at any time.

The board of directors of the club are Joe Simpson, Clarence Winn, Red Weatherbee, Carroll Sproul, and Dean Nicholson. The president is Charlie Hale, vice-president is Dub Day and Genevieve Titsworth is secretary and treasurer.

At the present time, the club has a pledged membership of over seventy-five.

Mule Deer Hunting Looking Favorable

Trans-Pecos mule deer are in good shape according to Jack Parsons, Region I wildlife supervisor for the Texas Parks and Wildlife Department.

When the 16-day hunt begins November 30, hunters should find plenty of deer on range in excellent condition.

Parsons says hunters who intend to go after the big deer should start getting in shape now for walks into some of the most rugged terrain in Texas.

Late evening is the period in which mule deer move the most, but hunters may find early morning hunting quite productive since the animals often cross low flats enroute to high ridge hiding places at this time.

COLLEGE NEEDS—

When Prince Charles was preparing to go to Cambridge, Queen Elizabeth took a preliminary trip to that famous old school to inspect her son's quarters, and to find out what he should pack to get him through the year.

As students across the country prepare for the annual back-to-school campus trek, their mothers are fretting—just like Queen Elizabeth—about what will be needed in the way of apparel, furnishings, grooming and cleanliness aids, and such miscellany as phonographs and guitars. Installing a freshman in college has always been a formidable task. Now that the dorm suite, with living room and kitchenette, is becoming more common, the assignment is even more complicated. Pots and pans, soaps and detergents, brooms and dusters must be added to the load, along with new clothes and personal effects. Sending a youngster to college has some of the drama involved in helping a bride to set up housekeeping.

Fortunately, some freshmen purchases can be expected to last the four years, given normal use. Among these are fabric furnishings and kitchenware. Clothing and cleaning maintenance supplies will require replacement. It all adds up to a lot of shopping, and students are wise to bone up on the new phrases which represent the difference between extra hours in the laundry rooms vs. extra hours on the tennis courts. Easy care, of top importance to collegians, is practically synonymous with washability.

Durable press has done more than any other single factor to make washtime easy, since it eliminates ironing. Even such furnishings as flower-power sheets and psychedelic bedspreads with matching curtains require only tumbling in a dryer to emerge crisp and fresh after laundering. Durable press is a boon to apparel items, too: a young man can wash his shirts and forget about the perversities of college laundries; a girl can study while a favorite dress spins through automatic laundry equipment right at the dorm and then wear it again, sparkling clean, to the next class.

Soil release treatments offer additional help. Since durable press fabrics tend to hold oily stains, soil release treatments were developed so the cleaning power of household soap or detergent suds can penetrate and remove almost any kind of soil.

As an added benefit, durable press serves to lighten the load students must carry. Garments ter laundering and sheets that can be returned to the bed without that are instantly wearable without ironing, cut down on spares and relieve the clutter in small rooms.

Students need sheets, pillowcases, blankets, towels, washcloths, decorative pillows, bedspread with matching curtains or draperies, and a throw-rug of washing machine size. No-iron sheets, plus soil-release treatments on such valuable articles as spreads, make maintenance easy. Housekeeping equipment includes cooking utensils and dishes if there is a kitchenette; otherwise, perhaps an electric hotplate or a percolator and electric frypan if college regulations permit.
