To Comply With State Law --

City Designates New Dump Area

With a little urging from the State Health Department in the form of an "or else" ultimatum,
the City of Rankin is relocating
the dump grounds.

An inspector from the state agency was in Rankin last week and found two counts against the previous dump ground: it was too close to the highway with regulations saying that it must be a minimum of 400 feet from any main road, and it was not fenced to prevent loose papers from blowing about the countryside.

In an effort to meet the state requirement and avoid getting hit with a fine, the city has moved the dump ground area into the bottom of the header where the previous site was located. A 14-foot lane or roadway has been constructed down into the floor of the "canyon" and the old dump ing area has been fenced off.

As might be expected, the first night the new road was put into use, someone dumped a load of trash right in the middle of it, blocking its use to the foot of the hill.

"We're going to have to put a fine of those who dump in the roadway," said a spokesman for the city today. "We don't know as yet how much the fine will be but we'll try to make it worthwhile for people to drive on down to the proper dumping area."

Another item which upset the inspector was the practice of dumping unused sand, oil and cement along the roadside in the area of the dump ground. A special area has now been set aside for this purpose and those who were responsible for the previous roadside dumpings have assured the city that the practice will be stopped immediately.

"We'll need a little cooperation from the public" said the city spokesman, "and so, far —
with the one exception—everyone appears to be willing to go along. We should have a cleaner looking city dump as a result,"
he noted.

Teenage Baseball Has Full Schedule

Baseball action in the Teenage League continued at a fast clip
this week with both Rankin teams seeing some action. In the 15-16 age bracket, Rankin downed the McCamey Orioles 10-4 on Thursday night and lost 7-6 to the McCamey Braves on Monday.

For the 13-14 year olds, it was another win as they took a 5-4 match over the McCamey Athletics.

Tonight, the 15-16 group hosts
the Orioles in a game that starts at 8:00 p.m. and on Saturday, the 13-14 squad will be in McCamey for a match with the Tigers. This game also starts at 8:00 p.m.

Rains Fall Mostly on Plain; But Doggone Little in Rankin

Close but not close enough is about the best that can be said
for the rainfall in recent weeks in Rankin proper. Contrasted to the Midkiff area where several good measurements have been reported recently, and much of the ranchland to the southeast, Rankin has received only a trace of moisture so far during June—one of our "wet" months— according to Mr. Fred Welling who keeps tabs on the weather for the U.S.

Weather Bureau.

Nor was it a great deal better in the spring months, with 1.77 of an inch gauged in May and 0.85
in April for a grand total of 2.62 inches.

"It's pretty well below normal for this time of year, but not as bad as it was by this time last year," Mr. Welling noted.

However, holding out some hope for the month ahead, Welling went on to point out that, overall, last year was a little better than average and that the bigger rains came later in the year.

"We may still have a chance if last year is any indicator," he said.

Meanwhile, almost any afternoon or night, Rankinites can stand in their yards and watch it rain—in almost any direction but not in Rankin.

Cutting it Close

Sometimes it pays to be just a little bit unhealthy.

Deral Head, a math and science teacher in Rankin School the past year, had been called up for induction into the service. Efforts by the Rankin School Board to get him deferred had all been to no avail and Head dutifully reported to the induction center to serve his tenure.

And he flunked the physical!
You win some, you lose some.

Now See Here . . .

"I have no objections to abstinence as long as it does not harm anybody. I practice it myself, on occasion. I make it a rule never to smoke when asleep."

THE SCOOP by Scoop

J. B. Hutchens, Pr., Editor

THE BIG DEAL—

Several weeks ago, the Scoop did a little sketch on the hospitals and local doctors and the battles they are having with Medicare, the Medical Profession and a big group of others who want to put the small town hospital and the small town doctor out of business.

At the time, I got only slight reaction from the column with most folk apparently taking the attitude that I was just filling up space and that there was little, if any, danger of this coming to pass.

Both assumptions would be entirely wrong. For those who have been reading a series in the San Angelo Standard Times about the small town medical situation, it should be very clear that there are, indeed, steps afoot to do away with country doctors which, in turn, will do away with country hospitals.

The Rankin (Tex.) News —
Thursday, June 17, 1971

And one of the more amazing things, as reported by the Standard-Times, is the openness and the bluntness with which no bones is being made about the effort. The Standard-Times quoted one doctor in the big city as saying, "the people in rural areas do not need

BOGGS GROCERY AND MARKET

WE GIVE GOLD BOND STAMPS

DOUBLE STAMPS ON WEDNESDAY

no offense intended to the good people of McCamey. Just stating a fact.

Yes, there is an effort being made to do away with our hospital and it's a very real and dangerous effort. We can do nothing and hope for the best or—as Doc Gossett said recently, "sometimes the people revolt over these things."

One of the odder sidelights of the Standard-Times reporting and of the Medicare people is that, as far as I have been able to determine, neither have ever bothered to ask the people who use the small town doctors and hospitals what they think, how they feel about the situation. Maybe they just don't care. Maybe the wheels of unfeeling bureaucracy are grinding on toward socialized medicine—with all things centralized—and giving no thought or consideration whatsoever to the people involved—the rural resident. It would appear to be the case.

ANOTHER STRIKE—

With what appears to be a pitched battle raging between the rural and urban dwellers throughout the country—as witnessed in the recent session of the Texas Legislature—one wonders exactly what it is that the pushers for consolidation and urbanization really have in mind—whether thru forcing all people to rely on the urban conglomerates for all things or whether the big city folk are simply jealous that others of us can live in the country and like it. Sometimes, I get the feeling that it's the latter, that we in the country are looked upon as a bunch of hicks who don't know what is good for us.

In any case, for every advantage the urban boosters can point to in their amassing of people into a small area, two drawbacks to the trend can be confirmed. One of the biggest reasons that the crowding of large numbers of people into big cities will never work can be found in the school systems.

Again, only a few weeks ago, I quoted the head of the New York School System as saying that the big school systems needed to be broken up. Now, and again quoting an editorial from the Standard-Times, the fourth largest school system in the nation—Philadelphia—has suspended all extracurricular activities and that includes drama, debate, music, intramural sports and varsity sports. The reason was that they had more students than they had money. In addition, some 2,000 school system jobs were eliminated.

Now wouldn't that be grand if similar actions were taken in Rankin Schools? Fortunately, instead of eliminating extracurricular activities here, next year's proposed budget calls for increased expenditures.

As regards to Philadelphia and the big urban crush, you have just one more example of why we are heading toward disaster until the trend turns away from cramming everyone into the big towns. It's not working now, it won't work in the future and the more money that's spent on these slum growers, the more money goes down the old proverbial rat hole.

Get 'em back to the country—start breaking up these big towns garbage dumps and then you will start making progress toward a partial solution to many of our present-day social ills.

RIDE 'EM COWBOY—

In less than two weeks now the AJRA will be in Rankin for what will surely be a big July 4th rodeo. And if you think these AJRA rodeos are strictly kid stuff—despite the tender age of the contestants, consider this:

The top bull rider in Amerillo received $404.55 for winning first. Fifth place paid $195.30. First-place in tiedown roping was worth $226.20.

BRIDE'S BOOKS, wedding announcements and shower invitations at the Rankin News.

In Odessa, the bull rider received $365.40 for first and a girl picked up $138.20 for barrels.

In Stephenville, the all-round boy 16 19 years of age, had total money of $326.60 while top girl in that age bracket made $123.

AJRA rodeos are big time and many of the contestants go on to colleges on rodeo scholarships and still others become professionals.

Comes July 2, 3, and 4, we in Rankin are going to get the opportunity to see some of the best in the young rodeo performers and you can bet that they'll be going all out with prize money like the above being offered.

Agent Tells of Dist. 4-H Horse Show

The District 6 4-H Horse Show will be held in Andrews on July 17 at the rodeo arena. All horses this year has to be aged by a vet.

The Upton County 4-H Horse Club members will all have their entry fees paid by the Upton County 4-H Club, according to Dub Day. There will be two age groups in the show: 13 years and under and 14 to 19 in the senior age group.

Classes will be barrels, poles, western pleasure, reining and all the halter classes.

The winners in this show will advance to the state show to be held in Fort Worth in August. This will be done on a point system with the top 20 horses from each Extension District in the state going to the state show.

There will be over 300 horses at the August state event.

"All horses will have to be aged by a vet," Day said "in order to be in the right class at the district show."

"Entry forms will be mailed out from my office this next week," the agent stated.

New Fishing Rules in Effect for Texas

AUSTIN — The Texas Parks & Wildlife Commission has approved a variety of changes for the state's game and fish laws.

Among the changes which are of interest to many Texas outdoorsmen are bag and minimum size limits on catfish, prohibition on snagging as a method of taking fish, and the closing of the season on game animals, game birds or fur-bearing animals in state-owned river beds and railroad rights-of-way.

The new changes will be included in the department's Hunting Guide and Fishing Guide, both to be available to the public before the hunting season opens.

Some of the changes in fishing laws now in effect are:

— All freshwater trotlines shall be identified by a legible tag bearing the name and address of the fisherman and the date the line was placed in the water.

— The possession limit of blue, channel and flathead catfish is 50, and it is unlawful to possess any such catfish less than 11 inches in length.

— Snagging or jerking fish (a method of taking fish by means of one or more hooks attached to a line and periodically jerking said line) is specifically defined as an illegal method for taking fish; artificial lures not included.

— Added new language making it unlawful to have in possession or on board any boat or in any vehicle, any fish, other than rough fish (and catfish were applicable) as defined, while fishing with or possessing a hoop net, trammel net or gill net.

Reflections . . .

by Ann Richardson

"I don't know"—three simple words—words that most people use when asked a question for which they do not have the answer.

Why is it then, that when a person says, "I don't know" he is looked upon with suspicion and thought to be lying? Why is it that people are so quick to believe the worse about others?

Is it because they assume that others would behave as they would under similar circumstances? Someone once said that we tend to judge others by our own actions. If this is true, then maybe we should do a remodeling job on our own set of values.

How many times have you heard the question: "Now is that the truth or are you just saying it?" That one burns me up!

When someone asks that of another, he is in effect questioning the integrity of that person. This is not only insulting but also degrading. We just naturally assume that others know we are honest, yet we fail to accord them the same privilege.

We need to remember that it works both ways—what right do we have to expect others to trust us and think of us as being honest when we fail to trust them in return?

We should always stop and think before we say or do anything that we could regret later on, remembering that we do not have to explain what we do not say. Before we say something about another, we should first consider how we would feel if they were to say it about us. Believe me, it works!

It has been said that this world is full of people who speak twice before they think once. Perhaps this is true for part of the people on this earth, but not for all of them. As for me, I want to try my best to be one of those

Group Plans Bake Sale for Books

The Upton County Geneological Society has scheduled a Bake Sale for Friday, June 19 at the West Texas Utilities office with the proceeds earmarked for the purchase of books and microfilm for the library. Time of the sale is to begin at 9:00 a.m.

This week, the Society announced five new members: Mrs. Ross Wheeler, Mrs. Burl Pringle, Mrs. Nancy Daugherty, Mrs. Jack Smylie and Mrs. Connie Fuller.

Two new books have been placed on the shelves of the library in the geneological section. They are Gray's "Cemetery Records", and "Missouri".

The Society has extended their thanks to Mrs. Ralph Daugherty for her lectures on the intricacies of the county clerk's office.

who thinks first and speaks second—one who knows when to speak and when to remain silent. I want to remember always that the only way to speak the truth is to do so with love and compassion. How about you?

If we learn to have compassion for ourselves and for others, then we will seek to bring forth the best that is within us and to look for only the best in others.

Always speak only the truth to one another. If, at times, the truth could only cause unnecessary hurt, then have compassion by saying, "I'd rather not say." Thus you will remain truthful and be showing love for you fellow human beings.

Are You Ready for the Second Coming of Jesus Christ?

According to the Scripture, Jesus Christ is coming again. Much could be said about this. To say the least, it is a time of rejoicing only for those who know Him as "Lord" who has given Him the name, "Lord". Have you confessed "Lord"?

Wherefore God also hath highly exalted Him, and given Him a name which is above every name: That at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, of things in heaven, and things on earth, and things under the earth; and that every tongue should confess that Jesus Christ is Lord, to the Glory of God the Father.

What's the secret to fresh, good milk daily? Keep it cold, keep it covered, and keep it in the dark.

Temperature, age, and handling conditions affect quality and flavor of all dairy products. To stay at peak quality, milk and fresh dairy products should be maintained at a temperature below 40 degrees F.

When dairy products are stacked too high in grocers' dairy cases or when they sit out in the aisle for long periods, the temperature goes above 60 degrees and quality goes down. Or if you take an hour to get home from the grocery store or let milk and other dairy products remain out for even 20 minutes, quality can be lost forever.

Milk properly handled and stored constantly between 33 and 40 degrees F. may keep as long as 24 days. But the same quart stored at 50 degrees F. may be drinkable for only 24 hours. It develops a high bacterial count and possible off flavors, such as bitter or sour taste.

Dairy products have little consumer information on the labels because they are submitted to strict quality controls all the way from the producer to the supermarket. Federal and state laws define the contents, both specific and optional ingredients, permitted for milk, ice cream, sour cream, butter, ice milk, cottage cheese and sherbert. In addition to individual knowledge, then, the consumer can depend on these quality controls of dairy farmers, processors, transporters, warehousemen and grocery store personnel for the care of dairy products.

From infancy through adulthood you need the nutrients of milk. Without milk in your diet it is hard to get enough calcium for healthy bones and riboflavin for healthy skin and nerves.

Milk also supplies high protein at low cost. A quart of milk gives children most of their recommended daily dietary allowance of protein, and more than half of the protein needs for teens and adults. Milk also contains good amounts of Vitamin A, phosphorus and thiamine. However, milk and dairy products provide very little iron and vitamin C.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride's dress was of white satin with a chantilly lace overlay; scoop neckline and illusion sleeves; with fitted bodice and full length skirt. For a head-dress, she wore a double bow of white satin and lace with seeded pearls; and layered tulle. Her bouquet was white roses tied with white satin streamers.

Maid of honor was Miss Shaula Wright while Miss Carolyn Phippen and Miss Bonnie Bearden were bridesmaids.

Elsie Brown was flower girl; Donald Deel, Jr. and Daniel Deel, brothers of the bride, were candlelighters. Larry Holder, brother of the bride, was best man; and Ken Holder and Denton Holder, also brothers of the bridegroom, were groomsmen. Ring bearer was Michael Wiley.

Out of town guests included Mrs. A. J. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Deel, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Brown, John Brown, Charles Wright, Doris Wright and Mrs. Lloyd Bell, all of the brides family. From the groom's family were Mrs. Vera Wiley, Mrs. Bob Boyd, Mrs. Terry Boyd, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wiley and Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Holder.

The rehearsal dinner was held at the Tumbleweed Dirve Inn on June 4 and was hosted by Mr. and Mrs. Jack Holder. Pre-nuptials and courtesies included a bridal shower April 29 at the Rankin Country Club with hostesses Mrs. Loma Surber, Nadine Stesen, Geven Phillips, Darlene Absher, Peggy Collins, Peggy Johnson, Ruby Taylor, Dorothy Sullivan, Frankie Sides, Doris Speed and Genevieve Titsworth.

That's right, folks. The cactus pictured on the front page is in full growth atop the building that joins the high school gym and the band hall. It is approximately twelve feet from the ground and is located in about the center of the above photo.

It can easily be seen from the street.
