

Water Is Basis For Our Area Economy

by Robert Zetzsch

For as long as man has recounted time and history, water has been the most valuable asset or property. Texas is today engaged in one of the most bitter struggles for water the state has ever known.

Agriculture is the basis for the total economy of Texas and the nation; and water is the basis of agriculture. Agricultural economy demands that the underground water resources receive conservation.

Irrigation water found under the Plains of Texas is limited and non-renewable. This does not mean that the area will ever run out of water; that is, if the people start taking care of the supply now.

Fortunately, many farmers realize the hard facts and have observed the declining water table. Most of these farmers have installed a conservation irrigation system and have achieved irrigation water management. Other farmers realize this waste, but feel the cost is prohibitive, or their landlords live elsewhere and do not realize the need.

Perhaps a little figuring on how much the land would be worth without water would help. Soil erosion generally goes hand in hand with a poor irrigation system, also.

Some farmers have put in lake pumps to recover wasted tailwater. This can be an ideal situation whereby wasted water is used and lake land can be reclaimed. This water is "free" only if it comes from your neighbor's farm. If the tailwater is from your own farm, don't fool yourself about it being free. You pumped it out of the ground, down the row and to the lake, and now you are concerned and want it back. The concern really should be "Why was the water in the lake to start with?" With a good irrigation system, tailwater is at a very minimum or non-existent.

A good irrigation system is where the quantity of water used for each irrigation is determined by the moisture holding capacity of the soil and the need of the crop; where the water is applied at a rate and in such a manner that the crops can use it efficiently and significant erosion does not occur. The purpose of water management is to accomplish efficient beneficial use of irrigation water according to the moisture needs of the crop to achieve optimum production while minimizing losses of water, soil, and plant nutrients.

OUR READERS Write

Dear Bill:

Wish to say thanks and express my appreciation for your time and publicity given the four Japanese College Students that visited Friona last Tuesday.

Perhaps you know that in addition to the potato processing at the Friona Growers and Shippers, I took them to see the Friona Wheat Growers elevators; the Friona High School; the Friona Feed Yards and we visited two farms to actually see irrigation wells and the watering process of the various crops.

All four these young men were extremely interested and expressed great appreciation to Mrs. Outland, Linda and me, for our interest in showing them a greater part of the agriculture aspect of Texas.

I have mailed each student a copy of last week's paper. Their picture appearing there will give them and their families an untold amount of prestige among their friends and their colleges. I feel sure that one of the highlights of their visit to the United States will be the day they had in Friona, Texas.

Thanks,
Arley L. Outland,
City Manager.

With deep regret and after exhaustive and careful consideration of all factors, I have decided to decline the nomination to appear on the ballot in the general election in November. It is my intention to re-enter the private practice of law at the end of this term of Congress. The great wealth of able and qualified individuals of the true American Tradition in the Panhandle of Texas should enable the Democratic Party to choose another nominee for this position in accordance with the law and in ample time for such a nominee to conduct a highly successful campaign.

9 out of 10 independent insurance agents help clients when they have an automobile accident, according to a new survey

ONE-COMPANY SALESMEN TRAIL BY A WIDE PERCENTAGE IN OFFERING THE SAME TYPE OF HELP.

Here's more concrete proof for American motorists that they are better off when they buy car insurance through an independent insurance agent.

A large, impartial research organization recently revealed the results of a survey designed to find out who gives car insurance buyers the best service -- independent insurance agents or one-company salesmen.

The results revealed that a resounding 91.5% of independent insurance agents gave direct help to their clients they needed help most -- at the time of an accident and when they filed a claim. This same unbiased survey showed that a far lower percentage of one-company salesmen gave this kind of personal service.

The newly constructed courthouse tower at Six Flags Over Texas looks similar to the historic Parker County Courthouse (insert) built in Weatherford, Texas in 1885. The only difference being that the Six Flags courthouse in reality is an ice plant which produces 4,500,000 pounds of ice each season for the Park's usage. After Labor Day, September 6, Six Flags will be open on Saturdays and Sundays only until the season ends on November 28.

ICE COLD AT SIX FLAGS

The clock on the newly constructed courthouse tower at Six Flags Over Texas signals the beginning of two important changes for visitors to the famed tourist attraction located in Arlington, midway between Dallas and Fort Worth.

Number one is that all decisions emanating from within the courthouse will be frozen as in reality this building now houses Six Flags' very own ice plant.

The second change is that following Labor Day, September 6, Six Flags will commence its fall schedule of operating on Saturdays and Sundays only from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. in September and from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. during October and November until the season ends on November 28.

The ice plant, built earlier this year, was thought to be unsightly by Park officials so they called in Dallas' leading theater set designer Peter Wolf of Peter Wolf Associates, who came up with the idea of building a replica of an old Texas courthouse to cover the ice plant.

Park officials decided on historic Parker County Courthouse in Weatherford, Texas, which was built in 1885. Six Flags artists proceeded to make detailed sketches of the courthouse which were converted into building plans.

The Six Flags courthouse-ice-house stands 63 feet tall and affords visitors a nostalgic view of a typical Texas courthouse in the 1880's. And behind this facade the Park reaps the benefits of some 4,500,000 pounds of ice produced each season for use in soft drinks, chilling drinking fountains and in numerous other capacities.

As the summer operating schedule draws to a close, attendance at Six Flags is 1,288,292 up from 1,254,577 the same time last season.

On The Farm In Parmer County

By JOE VANZANDT
County Agent

This will be my last news article for Parmer County folks and we would like to share a few of our own personal ideas about Parmer County Agriculture.

This area is blessed with some of the best crop growing soil. Generally speaking our water supply has been good up to now. Also insects and diseases are light in nature, especially when compared to other areas.

We all know how fast our water level is dropping, 3 to 4 feet per year. So we know our water supply is declining and getting more expensive to pump.

The water supply is the whole foundation of our present economy in this area. We know many farmers have a hard time irrigating without losing some tallwater. However, have you stopped to think how good that tallwater might look to someone in 20 years?

We believe Parmer County has some of the best farmers to be found anywhere and I challenge each of you to figure out how you can water your crops more efficiently in the future.

Efficiency and management go hand in hand and are the tools successful farmers will use in the future. If you don't use these two tools all day, everyday, someone will come along that can, and will take your place. I don't see maximum yields as the answer to giving the majority of farmers the maximum net profit. Net profit is hard to calculate when all costs are considered but each farmer had better do some kind of record keeping to come up with his ideas of net profit on each crop.

Net profit per acre - inch of water needs to be considered if you care about future generations living in this area. Is it a good business practice to put on 50 acre-inches of water on a sugar beet crop or 25 acre-inches of water on a wheat crop? I am not saying it is right or wrong but if you apply that much water on a crop, are you getting a fair return for your underground water?

As I said before, our underground water is our most precious resource. What are you selling your water for? Your water is worth about $2.00 per acre-foot based on current land values. Use your own judgment but don't use up the water supply producing crops that return a small margin of profit.

In closing, I want to express my appreciation for the many kind remarks many of you have made in the past few days. We have enjoyed serving as your County Agent and hope you have learned as much from us as we have from you.

Pineapple Fritters Have Interesting Shapes

Serve hot and handsome pineapple fritters with Canadian bacon for a very special breakfast. Juicy canned pineapple tidbits go into a classic batter. As the fritters fry to a golden brown they take on interesting shapes. Use the pineapple syrup as the base of the butter rich maple sauce to serve with them.

PINEAPPLE FRITTERS

2 eggs	1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup milk	1 (13 1/2-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
1 tablespoon lemon juice	2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 cup sifted flour	1/2 cup maple syrup
2 tablespoons sugar	1 tablespoon butter
1 teaspoon baking powder

Combine egg yolks, milk and lemon. Add to flour resifted with sugar, baking powder and salt stirring only until smooth. Beat egg whites stiff, but not dry. Drain pineapple, saving syrup. Fold beaten whites and pineapple into batter. Make 16 fritters by dropping table-spoons of batter into hot deep fat (375 degrees F.). Fry until golden brown on one side; turn to brown other side. Meanwhile mix together cornstarch with remaining 1 tablespoon sugar and reserved pineapple syrup. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly until thickened and clear. Add maple syrup and butter. Serve with fritters. Makes 4 servings.

David Hardison has been named Manager of Dimmitt Branch of Red Barn Chemicals, Inc., in a recent announcement by John Rabb, Lubbock Area Manager.

Before his promotion Hardison was in charge of the retail outlet at Muleshoe, operating under the Dimmitt Branch. He holds a Bachelor of Science Degree in Chemistry from Texas Wesleyan College of Fort Worth, Texas.

The Friona Red Barn retail outlet operates under the supervision of the Dimmitt Branch. Gary Wardis is in charge of the station here.

Red Barn Chemicals Inc., with headquarters in Shreveport, Louisiana, serves the agricultural interests in six southwestern states. Other outlets operating under the Dimmitt Branch are at Muleshoe, Lubbudde and Hereford, Texas, and Clovis, New Mexico.

Busby In Navy Basic Training

Seaman Recruit Donald R. Busby, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat E. Busby of 608 W. Fifth St., Friona, Texas, is undergoing seven weeks of basic training at the Naval Training center here.

Under the supervision of veteran Navy petty officers, he is receiving instructions in naval history and organization, customs and courtesies, ordnance and gunnery, seamanship, damage control, first aid, and swimming and survival, ship-board drills and sentry duty. Military drills are emphasized during recruit training.

Upon completion of recruit training, he will be assigned to a school, shore station or ship, according to the results of his Navy classification tests, his own desires and the needs of the Navy.

Summer Is Time For Youngsters To Learn

by Cricket B. Taylor
County Home Demonstration Agent

Summer is a time for REST, RELAXATION and RECREATION. Schools are closed and children are on a vacation from learning. Or are they? Surely learning of one kind or another goes on all of the time, even during vacation.

Summer is a good time for children to learn about work. Through real work experiences a young person can learn; to appreciate what work means in our lives; to take responsibility for his actions -- be on time, follow directions, get along with others, take pride in his accomplishments and feel personally significant.

JOBS FOR PAY - Many teenagers have regular paid jobs or part time jobs. Not all teenagers that want jobs are going to find them. Younger teens, - those below the legal working age, are also on the lookout for ways to earn money. Some of these youngsters have imaginations and ingenuity enough to create jobs such as: Lawn Watering Service, Baby Sitting, or Swap Shop Trading Post, and others.

JOBS AT HOME - the first step in helping a child feel that he is a useful member of society is to make him feel that he is a useful and necessary part of the family. Responsibilities for home duties give him this sense of belonging -- having a partnership in the family.

A FAMILY PLANNING SESSION - will be needed to determine jobs which children will do. A rotating system for jobs often helps prevent arguments. Some tasks will be done at regular times, according to schedule. A schedule posted for members of family to see and check daily as a real fine idea. Some task may not have definite time set - thus provide opportunity for children to learn to make decisions about how they will schedule their time.

In the beginning allowing children to take household responsibilities will save little or no time for mother. But in the long run (with mother's patience and fortitude) well trained children will become competent helpers. Both they and their family will benefit. Some time adults may need to lower their standards to accept results that fit the child's ability.

PARENTS WHO DO A JOB THEMSELVES - because it's easier than training a child to do it or seeing that he does it, and parents who are afraid to burden their youngsters with home responsibilities are missing a chance to give their children a real education - for living.

Remember also that children need time during summer -- to loaf, to think, to dream; to pursue their own interests and hobbies; and to have fun with friends.

The men did the cooking and all the work and did the women in camp enjoy this? They did indeed! One woman was heard to say "I wish they would let us help," because she felt bored and useless but all the others were very pleased and content to let the men reign over the "cook tent." The food was fine - no better friend chicken could be found in the kitchen of even the best cook of the female homemaker, James Mabry of Lazbuddie was the "Chef" and with such competent helpers cooks as Joel White, and others, they really put out good eats.

PUBLIC NOTICE
Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER FIFTEEN ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1966. SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 33 proposing an Amendment to Section 6, Article XVI, Constitution of the State of Texas, to authorize state participation in programs financed with funds from private or federal sources and conducted by local level or other private, nonsectarian associations, groups, and nonprofit organizations for establishing and equipping facilities for assisting the blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, for their rehabilitation or restoration, or for providing other services essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS: Section 1. That Section 6, Article XVI, Constitution of the State of Texas, be amended to read as follows: "Section 6. (a) No appropriation for private or individual purposes shall be made, unless authorized by this Constitution. A regular statement, under oath, and an account of the receipts and expenditures of all public money shall be published annually, in such manner as shall be prescribed by law. (b) State agencies charged with the responsibility of providing services to those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped may accept money from private or federal sources, designated by the private or federal source as money to be used in and establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, in rehabilitating and restoring the handicapped, and in providing other services determined by the state agency to be essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped. Money accepted under this subsection is state money. State agencies may spend money accepted under this subsection, and no other money, for specific programs and projects to be conducted by local level or other private, nonsectarian associations, groups, and nonprofit organizations, in establishing and equipping facilities for assisting those who are blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, in rehabilitating and restoring the handicapped, and in providing other services determined by the state agency to be essential for the better care or treatment of the handicapped. "The state agencies may deposit money accepted under this subsection either in the state treasury or in other secure depositories. The money may not be expended for any purpose other than the purpose for which it was given. Notwithstanding any other provision of this Constitution, the state agencies may expend money accepted under this subsection without the necessity of an appropriation, unless the Legislature, by law, requires that the money be expended only on appropriation. The Legislature may prohibit state agencies from accepting money under this subsection or may regulate the amount of money accepted, the way the acceptance and expenditure of the money is administered, and the purposes for which the state agencies may expend the money. Money accepted under this subsection for a purpose prohibited by the Legislature shall be returned to the entity that gave the money. "This subsection does not prohibit state agencies authorized to render services to the handicapped from contracting with privately-owned or local facilities for necessary and essential services, subject to such conditions, standards, and procedures as may be prescribed by law." Sec. 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified voters of this state at an election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1966, at which election all ballots shall have printed on them the following: "FOR the Constitutional Amendment authorizing assistance to the blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped, in the form of grants of public funds obtained from private or federal sources only, to local level or other private, nonsectarian associations, groups, and nonprofit organizations for establishing and equipping facilities to assist the handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, for their rehabilitation or restoration, or for providing other services essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped." "AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment authorizing assistance to the blind, crippled, or otherwise physically or mentally handicapped, in the form of grants of public funds, obtained from private or federal sources only, to local level or other private, nonsectarian associations, groups, and nonprofit organizations for establishing and equipping facilities to assist the handicapped in becoming gainfully employed, for their rehabilitation or restoration, or for providing other services essential for the better care and treatment of the handicapped." Sec. 3. The Governor of the State of Texas shall issue the necessary proclamation for the election and this Amendment shall be published in the manner and for the length of time as required by the Constitution and laws of this state.

STEADY WORKERS . . . Two girls who have helped the Friona Public Library as assistants since the library was first organized four summers ago are shown with the library's memorial collection. They are Crista Evans and Ann Ayers.

Schwab Named Camp Counselor

A Friona student of Texas A&M university has been named freshman camp counselor, announced YMCA general secretary, J. Gordon Gay.

Serving among 115 counselors will be Darrell Schwab, who will be a sophomore at A&M.

Counselors report Sept. 9 for the three-day camp Sept. 10-13 at Lakeview Assembly Grounds of the Texas Methodist Conference near Palestine.

New students are housed at Camps Wesley, Asbury and Windham, twelve freshmen and three counselors per cabin. Worship, fellowship and recreation are woven into a general theme of introduction to university life.

Mrs. DeWayne Neel and children, Michael, Greg and Dawn Renee, Lubbock, were weekend guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Neel, Kay and Dale.

The Library Corner

BY MRS. V. J. ZEMAN

A special salute of appreciation to Ann Ayers and Crista Evans. These high school juniors have helped at the library each of the four summers the library has existed.

Crista Evans estimates that she will have given one hundred forty four hours of work at the end of this summer. Ann has invested a similar number of hours too. Last summer Ann couldn't work much because of an injury. However she did work some Saturday mornings during the school year.

Crista and Ann have found early that "the greatest use of life is to spend it for something that outlasts it."

Ann decided that the two library books she most enjoyed were "Petticoat Surgeon" and "Random Harvest".

The busiest three hours during July was from 9 to 12 noon on July 28th when fifty nine folks checked out 105 books.

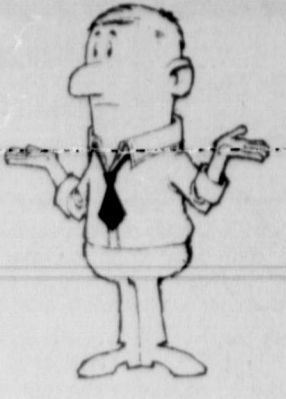

The number who come from 3 to 6 p.m. on Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays has increased over June. But still the morning borrowers doubled those of the afternoon. As more become aware of the afternoon hours -- which began in June -- the figures may change.

During July Joy Morton, summer librarian, prepared 98 donated books for the shelves. She reports that forty-five school age children have already read their 12 or more books to clinch a reading certificate.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barber and sons, Tony and Billy, of Albuquerque are visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Flake Barber and children and Mrs. Frank Barber. Mrs. Frank Barber returned home last weekend after extended visits in Corpus Christi and Little Rock.

San Antonio, which will be 250 years old in 1968, is a city uniquely prepared to play host to HemisFair 1968. It is truly a bilingual city and for centuries has been a crossroad of trade and culture between the U.S. and Latin America. Nearly half of San Antonio's 700,000 citizens speak Spanish as a native language and the city retains the grace of living native to Latin America, providing a most appropriate setting for this American exposition.

LAZBUDDIE NEWS

By Mrs. C. A. Watson

Sam P. Barnes, Lazbuddie school superintendent received word Thursday that his father, W.E. Barnes of McKinney had passed away. Funeral services were held at 10 a.m. Saturday in First Baptist Church at McKinney. H.E. Barnes was an uncle of Wesley Barnes and Mrs. Jimmie Seaton Sr. and a brother-in-law of Mrs. Perry Barnes of Lazbuddie.

Several from Lazbuddie area attended the funeral. Mrs. James Harvey, Tonie Smith and Cynthia Harvey were in Lubbock Thursday making plans for the girls to enter Texas Tech this fall.

Some of the junior class of First Baptist Church of Lazbuddie went to the Youth Camp at Floydada Monday of last week. They were Mary Lonzo, Gena Morris, Rhonda Trelder sponsored by Mrs. Irene Thurman and Cynthia Harvey. The group returned Wednesday. Members of the Intermediate class of the Baptist Church left for the camp at Floydada Wednesday. Going were Marsha Johnson, Janie Harvey and Laura Trelder. Sponsors going with them were Paulene Houston and Darlene Burnett.

Steve Jones returned from a vacation in Colorado Friday. His mother and other members of the family from Slaton had been with Steve on the vacation. The group visited during the weekend with the Houstons. Steve is helping the Houstons farm this summer.

Mr. and Mrs. C.C. Matthews received word Sat. July 16 of the death of his sister, Mrs. Doll Clark of Savoy, Texas.

Carrol Littlefield from Ft. Collins Colorado is home visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Littlefield and other relatives in that area.

Participating in the dress review at Bovina and receiving awards and certificates were Nancy Blackstone, Charlotte Davis, Kathy Coker, Dianne Coker, Nancy Bush, Lee Ann Farley, Ann Blackstone, Debbie Engelking, Jeanie McGehee, Karen Mimms and Kim McDonald. Kathy Coker represented Parmer County in the dress review at Amarillo Tuesday of last week. She was winner of the dress review in the senior division.

Guests in the Junior Trelder home this week are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charley Neeley from Wichita, Kansas.

Willie Steinbock is a medical patient in the Green Memorial Hospital in Muleshoe.

Two major annual events have space on our calendars in the not too far distant future. School will begin Monday, August 29 and Matze Days has been scheduled from September 11 through 17.

Many changes are made each year in the teaching staff and we have learned to expect and accept this. However, one resignation recently has caused those of us who have learned to love and appreciate Jo Phillips more each year since 1950 to feel sad.

For the past 15 years we have become accustomed to having this fine teacher in her usual place as one of the third grade teachers. Her example has contributed much to making our community a better one in which to live.

The Floyd family feels doubly indebted to her since we were fortunate enough to have two third grade students in her class. The girls and their mother have all three grown to appreciate her more each year since the first one she was here.

We feel sure her decision to change schools was made after much consideration because she had adopted Friona as her home and felt very much a part of the community.

I have been informed that she will be teaching second grade in Sunnyvale Elementary School near Dallas. I am not sure the exact location, but if I'm in the area I plan to find out exactly where it is.

Other members of the Star staff and my family join me in wishing her the very best of everything in her new location.

While visiting with Mrs. Frank Truitt early this week I learned that a new shipment of cookbooks sold by members of Future Teachers of America has arrived. Copies of vegetables, Casseroles, Desserts, and Salads are now available. Anyone wishing to purchase any of these is asked to contact Mrs. Truitt or any member of the Ethel Benger chapter of Future Teachers of America.

Most persons with whom I have discussed the weather with recently seem to be in agreement that this is "one of the hottest summers we have ever had." It is highly possible that we always decide such is the case about the first week of August.

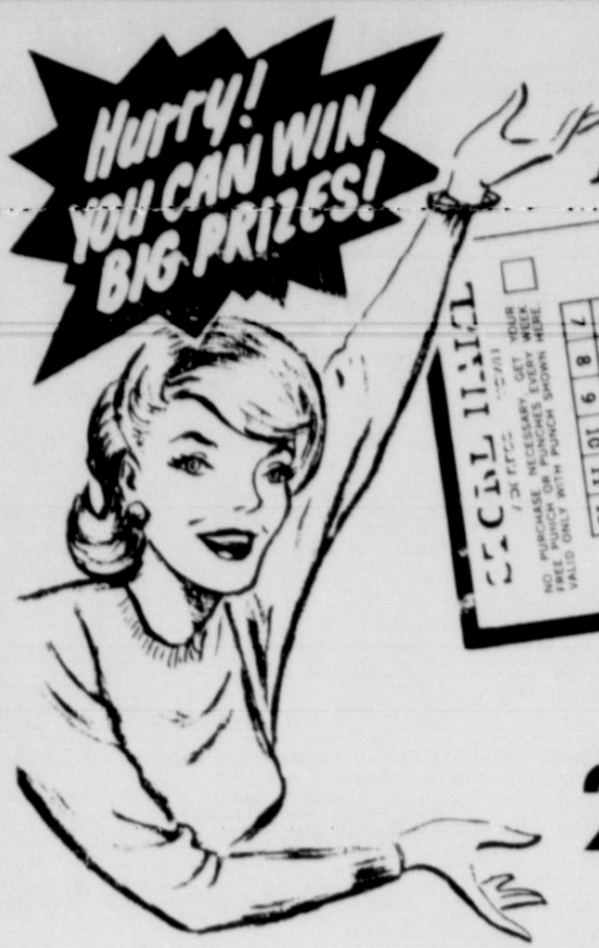

If you are one of the persons who feel this way, perhaps you will be interested in reading a few suggestions offered by Woman's Medical News Service for keeping cooler. A recent release from this source reads as follows:

Here are a few sensible ways to beat the heat short of spending the summer at a mountain or shore retreat. Experts agree that if you wear light-weight, light-colored, loose garments you're likely to feel cooler than when you wear a chick, fitted little black something. Light fabrics reflect heat; dark ones absorb it. Loosely fitted garments permit heat to escape.

Your body needs fewer calories in the summertime, so eat less and cut down on fats. Drink lots of liquid to replace fluid lost through perspiring, and add an extra dash of salt to your food to replace salt lost the same way.

Watch that picnic food. Summertime is the season of food poisoning. Salads, fish, meats, and sandwiches dressed with mayonnaise and left unrefrigerated for hours invite germs to colonize. Better discard such food than to take a chance on its being contaminated. Keep picnic goodies refrigerated until chow time.

Bathe more frequently than you do in cool weather. You'll feel fresher and will rid the skin of wastes that cause odors. Dusting powders and deodorants will add to your summertime comfort.
