IT MIGHT be a good idea to check the pumps or scales at the next gasoline station or grocery store you do business with if it happens to be one where you don't normally trade. The reason is, the pump computation of amount due may not jibe with the number of gallons sold and the price per gallon, and the same may hold true with the grocery scale.

In other words, you may be paying more—or less—than you should. Usually, we understand, this is not a deliberate cheating process by any merchant (but it is a good idea to trade with people you know), but just a result of unknowing machinery foul-up.

The merchant may himself be getting cheated, without knowing it. This is a point made in a release from the Texas Department of Agriculture last week "Weights and Measures Week", when this column should have been written.

The food and products inspector of the TDA is given the big job of checking regularly every commercial scale and measuring device to be certain they are accurate. The TDA is responsible for protecting both the buyer and seller in all commercial transactions.

Last year, 93,500 inspections were made on gasoline pumps by TDA fieldmen. "About one pump in eight was inaccurate, which meant either the motorist or the station operator was losing money," said Agriculture Commissioner John White.

About 61,000 grocery and commercial scales were examined last year by the inspectors. "We found one scale that was costing the owner an average of $200 on his average weekend wholesale meat volume", the commissioner noted. "Some other scales were nipping an ounce or two away from each consumer. It can all add up to a tremendous amount of money in a relatively short while."

"We don't find too many cases of deliberate fraud against the customer. Most losses come from scales which are not properly serviced and maintained—or run by an inexperienced operator. But when fraud is found, the fines are heavy."

White urged consumers to contact his department if instances of incorrect weights are found. "We will investigate as soon as possible," he added.

Please come soon, commissioner. My own weight is not quite what it should be.

Hancock, who has served as superintendent of Sudan schools for the past 10 years, will retire after teaching for some 42 years.

John Prokop Builds Own Flying Machine

The following is a story sent to us by the former Dorcas Ann Chester who is married to Capt. Frank Prokop and lives in Bittsburg, Germany. She relates to the dream and determination of her father-in-law, John Prokop of Trenton, N. J. in building and flying his own aircraft.

Wings was always a magic word to John Prokop. The 64-year-old air force veteran was amazed by flight and decided to join the forces by building himself a single seat wood and fabric open cockpit plane. He recently finished the plane and flew it although it was the first time he had piloted a plane since 1930.

He said that building a plane takes a lot of precise work and that there was no margin for error. It gives you a priceless experience of patience because you cannot hurry.

He first began the plane in the basement of his home but later found he was running out of room and moved to a nearby deserted factory. He found that even a love of planes and knowledge of their construction didn't help him over some of the technicalities and had to seek advice from the Experimental Aircraft Association, a nationwide group of amateur builders.

Building the plane cost Prokop about $1,600 including the engine and propeller and took about 2,500 hours of work. The frame is built mostly of spruce and mahogany with a stretched fabric cover.

Prokop is a native of Austro-Hungary and was apprenticed to a cabinetmaker in Europe and later worked in that trade in America before joining the air force. He took a correspondence course in aircraft design and in 1930 finished his first plane and took it up for three flights. However, he crashed it on the third landing in 1930 and has not piloted until he finished the new plane.

He joined the air force in 1932 and served at numerous bases as maintenance man until his retirement in 1952. He presently works as an assistant maintenance engineer for the state, a job he has held for the past 15 years.

He is the father of four children and has one grandchild; and although he is always flying, has never obtained a pilot's license. He is now working toward one and holds a student pilot certificate which entitles him to pilot his blue and yellow plane on clear days.

The plane is now finishing its 50-hour flight test and was recently flown by an FAA instructor who stated that it was so stable that it flew "hands off".

When God Was On Trial

BY DAVID JOHNSON
It seems incredible that God's own beloved Son, who lived a perfect life, would find Himself on trial for His life. Jesus Christ was all-divine as well as all-human. Therefore, we view a point in history when mere human beings placed God, Himself, on trial. Equally incredible is the timing of the trial in the life of Christ — at the prime of life and soon after the beginning of a mighty ministry. Yet, after only three active years of service, Jesus found Himself facing not one, but a series of trials. Jesus could have escaped all of this, but He chose to be obedient to the Father. In keeping with the fore-ordained purpose of God, He was subjected to a mocking trial as a basis for condemnation to death. Determined to Kill The Jewish religious leaders were determined to kill Jesus and these trials provided legal justification for their designs. This mockery began at midnight on Thursday and ended at daylight on Friday morning. And so, in a few dark hours, the death sentence fell heavy on the shoulders of an innocent Man. Many witnesses committed perjury. The Sanhedrin could have had plenty of evidence, which they did not want. Man after man could have testified, "I was a leper and He cleansed me"; "I was blind and He made me see"; "I was deaf and He made me hear"; "I was lame and He made me walk"; "My life had no meaning and He showed me life full of meaning — and eternal." Jesus was arrested without a formal charge. He was put on oath to condemn Himself. There was no discussion of the charge of blasphemy. The time of the ecclesiastical trials — before dawn — was illegal. And those who pronounced the death sentence had no authority to do so. Jesus was then taken before the governor of the province of Judea, Pontius Pilate, who found no fault with Him. The next trial found Jesus standing before Herod Antipas. This was not a serious trial, but only another step in the disgraceful treatment of an innocent man. No Fault Finally, Pilate examined Jesus again and found no fault with Him. He wished to release Him. At the time of the feast, tradition called for the governor to release a prisoner. Confronted with the choice between Jesus, the Christ, and Barabbas, a murderer, the mob chose Barabbas. In this choice, the mob chose lawlessness instead of peace, hatred instead of love. When Pilate asked, "What then, shall I do with Him whom ye call King of the Jews," they cried, "Crucify Him." The entire proceedings constitute one of the most disgraceful legal incidents in all history. Who was responsible? Pilate, Annas, Caiaphas, the people? Pilate's question to every man's question. Each person faces the question, "What shall I do with Jesus who is called the Christ?" And each person makes a response. Many respond with hatred and rejection. Others decide by decision. Many admire Him and put Him off. A few accept Him. What will you do with Jesus, Who is called the Christ?

Rattlesnake Hunt Set

The world's most unusual sporting event is scheduled for March 13, 14, and 15, 1970, in Sweetwater, Texas. The twelfth annual Rattlesnake Roundup, the world's largest, is expected to draw hunters and spectators from throughout the world.

Last year nearly two tons of rattlesnakes were registered during the three-day event. Several foreign hunters were involved in the hunt which netted 4,000 live rattlers for a total of 3,400 pounds of wriggling danger.

The annual hunt, sponsored by the Sweetwater Jaycees, will be demonstrations of venom milking for use in research, guided tours for spectators and and photographers, preparation and cooking of rattlesnake steaks, and Miss Snake Charmer, herself. All of this activity will take place in a carnival atmosphere, complete with cotton candy and popcorn, a gun and coin show, and exotic viper displays.

Registration for the hunt begins at 10:00 A.M. on Friday, March 13, in the Nolan County Coliseum. The 1970 Rattlesnake Queen Pageant will be held the same evening in the High School Auditorium. A Miss Snake Charmer will be World traveler and snake expert Patrick Burchfield has been retained to conduct exhibitions of snake handling and milking in the Coliseum.

The snakes are purchased from the hunters by the Sweetwater Jaycees on the basis of 25 cents per pound Friday—20 cents per pound on Saturday, and 15 cents per pound on Sunday. All hunters will be commended for bravery. There will also be prizes for the largest snake, the most pounds of snakes and the smallest snake.

The Sweetwater Jaycees have been recognized by the Texas Legislature for their services to farmers and ranchers by helping to control snakes in the area.

BAND PARENTS MEET

The Sudan Band Parents Organization met Thursday night, March 5, at the band hall with Leonard Pierce, vice-president, presiding in the absence of Willard Cox, president.

A treasurer's report was given by Sue Chester and projects, sponsors and expenses for the trip to Enid, Okla., concerts, securing a band director from an area town to work with the Hornet Band before contest, were items discussed. Possible drivers and sponsors for the trip to Enid, Okla. will be Mr. and Mrs. Dick West, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Pierce, Mr. and Mrs. Buddy Pickett, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Williams, and Oscar Newell.

Some 14 members attended the meeting and refreshments of coffee and cookies were served by Laverne Harper, food chairman.

Among those attending the Llanos Altos Associational Youth Rally at Parkview Baptist Church in Littlefield Monday night were Audie Gore, Carl Burnett, Allen Roberts, David Doty, Billy Gore, Valerie Newell, Karen Doty.

SAFETY STICKER DEADLINE NEARS

"With the April 15 motor vehicle inspection deadline five weeks away, only about 50 per cent of the registered vehicles have been inspected," stated Captain Alan Johnson, Motor Vehicle Inspection Supervisor of the Texas Department of Public Safety.

"Unless there is a rapid increase of inspections, it appears that many vehicles will not be inspected before the April 15 deadline. Any driver operating a vehicle displaying an inspection sticker on the right-hand side of the windshield after April 15 will be operating in violation of the inspection law," Johnson added.

Johnson noted that this will be the last April 15 inspection deadline, because on Sept. 1, 1969 the Texas Legislature adopted a year-around inspection program. Inspections will come due one year after the current month of inspection. This will establish an anniversary month for each vehicle to be inspected and prevent the log-jam of over six million vehicles to be inspected at one time.

The new inspection sticker will be placed on the left-hand side of the windshield. The number of the current month of inspection will appear on the sticker.

HIGH PLAINS RESEARCH REPORT

The importance of irrigation and fertilizer to corn production was emphasized in a test conducted by High Plains Research Foundation scientists on the George Sides farm near Dimmitt.

Although the value of fertilizer has been pointed out, this 1969 corn irrigation-fertilizer study showed that irrigation, specifically the timing of irrigation, influenced yields more than different fertilizer rates.

An early irrigation at one week after tassel initiation appeared to cause vegetative growth, resulting in taller plants and lower yields.

The corn irrigated at this time produced an average yield of 91 bushels per acre while corn irrigated two weeks later produced 107.2 bushels per acre, an increase of 16.2 bushels per acre.

The addition of 30 pounds of sulfur gave indications of economic increases. When sulfur was added along with 180 pounds of nitrogen, the yield was increased 2.3 bushels per acre with the early irrigation and 5.3 bushels per acre with the later irrigation. Both areas also were irrigated at tassel, silk and milk stages of plant development.

A soil test indicated the study area was very low in both nitrogen and phosphate and also low in organic matter. However, yield data indicated that the addition of phosphate reduced yields in the early irrigation and was not profitable on the later irrigation plot.

In other corn research conducted by Foundation scientists, 14

But it is SSA policy, he said, to carefully check all reports and other evidence of irregularity to assure that incorrect payments are not made.

MEDICARE BENEFICIARIES SHOULD CHECK BENEFITS

Medicare beneficiaries should carefully check the "Explanation of Benefits" form sent to them after Medicare has made payment for hospital or physicians' services they have received.

If the payment record is incorrect, the beneficiary should report any discrepancy to his social security office or the Medicare paying agent immediately, John G. Hutton, Social Security District Manager, said today.

Mr. Hutton emphasized that errors in billing can occur. A careful check of payments records can prevent fraud or error, he added.

"In a program as large as Medicare," Mr. Hutton said, "with over 122 million bills received each year, even a tiny percentage of incorrect billings can add up to a lot of money." By reporting any apparent mistakes, Mr. Hutton added, Medicare beneficiaries can help keep costs down.

Of 2,500 cases of errors or discrepancies in Medicare bills reported by beneficiaries, Medicare carriers, intermediaries, and others, and recorded in the SSA's central control system, Mr. Hutton said, over half turned out to be the result of clerical error or misunderstanding. But others did reveal evidence of attempts at abuse or intent to defraud.

History has a way of repeating itself. So does fashion. If you're past 40, you've learned not to throw anything away. With time most things come back, it seems.

Twenty years ago when hemlines plunged after the skimp and skim of war-time fashions, designers called it "The New Look." Now with Paris, Rome and New York taking a mid-calf stance for the '70s they're calling it "The Now Look."

A good many young women will refuse to bury their mini skirts. They'll rave and rant—and in the end go out and buy a longer skirt. They did it in 1948—they'll do it again in 1970.

But that doesn't mean we'll return entirely to the fashions of any one past decade.

Former Sudan Woman At Home In Kitchen

An article featuring Mrs. Al Koriath, the former Betty Salem of Sudan, was recently printed in the Suburban News highlighting Mrs. Koriath's Syrian recipes.

A Sudan native, Betty graduated with honors from North Texas State University where she was named a Yucca beauty and was listed in Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities.

She was elected vice-president of the Women's Forum at the University and became president of her sorority, Alpha Delta Pi. She also served as vice president of the National Home Economics Fraternity.

Cooking has been a way of life to this graduate home economist. Her family's favorite food is chicken and dumplings, prepared from scratch by mother, of course.

She professes that she learned the art of preparing Syrian cuisine by watching her mother, Mrs. Joe Salem of Sudan, but added that her mother never used a recipe.

These Syrian recipes are kitchen-tested by Mrs. Koriath and she gladly shares them with you readers.

Apply Terraclor Super-X and only the first time you plant cotton.

Think for a minute what it costs to replant an acre of cotton that doesn't make a stand. There's the cost of seed, fertilizer, herbicides, insecticides, equipment, operators and the precious time. Multiply that by the number of acres you could lose to seed and seedling disease.

Now think about Terraclor Super-X Soil Fungicide. It could very well eliminate replanting. Here's why: Terraclor Super-X is a combination of two Olin discoveries that effectively control the fungi that cause cotton seedling disease.

How important is this to you? The regional Cotton Disease Council reports that losses average $60,000,000 a year to seedling diseases alone.

Terraclor Super-X is applied while you plant. Your cotton seed is surrounded by protection in the furrow, where it counts. As the seed germinates and the seedling emerges, the fungi that kill unprotected plants are held off by Terraclor Super-X. You get a healthy, vigorous stand from only one planting.

About seed treatments: They are great... as far as they go. But seed treatment protection lasts only until the seed coat opens and the seedling grows into untreated soil. That's when you need Terraclor Super-X in the furrow.

Terraclor Super-X is available from your Olin dealer in three formulations: granular, liquid and dust. A special formulation is available with a quality soil systemic insecticide impregnated in the granules for combination fungus and insect control.

If you don't know your local Olin dealer, write to Terraclor Super-X, P. O. Box 991, Little Rock, Ark. 72203 for his name.

You ought to get to know him. He can help you get a good stand from only one planting. That's one good reason he is known as the rare bird in the business. Olin

Devotional

By HAZEL HOUSE

Scripture: St. John 4:6-30, 39; St. Luke 5:32; 9:23-26; 19:10.
"Come, see a man, which told me all things that ever I did."

Have you ever admitted even to yourself all the things that you have done? Then have you come to the place of asking, why would God care about a person like me?

Then, do not stop at this point, or you will only sink into despair. Admit that you are sinful, and look at what Jesus said that He came to earth for: "I came not to call the righteous, but sinners to repentance". And He said, "For the Son of man came to seek and to save that which was lost".

So, as Jesus cared about the sinful Samaritan woman, about the rich and sinful publican, about the sick, about the lame and the blind, the poor and the needy — even so He cares about you and me.

We do not have to know why God loves us in spite of our sins — but we do know that we are created in His image, that we are then somewhat like Him, and that He loves us, all mankind, so much that He came down in Jesus to die, that you and I again could obtain eternal life through acceptance of Jesus.

Jesus is your sin-offering to God. He shed His blood to pay off our eternal death sentence for sin. He cares, as He has proven. The cross continually reminds us that He cares!

Then how much do you care? In response to God's great love for you, how much do you care?

NANCY SOKORA NAMED TO HONOR ROLL AT WTSU

A Sudan student has been named to the fall semester Honor Roll at West Texas State University, announced Dr. Donald Cates, dean of admissions and registrar.

Nancy Sokora, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sokora, Rt. 1, maintained a 2.8 grade point average on the 3.0 system at WT. Miss Sokora is a junior management major.

Two hundred forty-one of the 7,935 students enrolled at WT last fall were listed on the Honor Roll. Twenty-five of these maintained a perfect 3.0 average.

Enough to accept the gift of eternal, abundant life? Jesus will live in you if you will let Him.

The body is not worth very much in dollars and cents. It is chemically worth about $2 or $3. But Jesus uses our body, to dwell within, to reveal Himself to the world who is lost. The body dies sooner or later, but the real you and I live on eternally with the Father in heaven where all is peace, joy, light, and love; or we live on eternally with Satan in hell where all is suffering, separation from our Creator, pain, horror, and darkness.

God cares, enough to die to save you and me from death and hell. How much do you care about yourself, about the loving Father? Whom do you reveal to others each day?

Take Jesus now, and live!

Your faith should increase and become stronger as you grow in understanding. The more you know of God, the more you follow and practice the truth. And when your faith is solidly based it becomes transcendent.
