ITS NOT OFFICIAL but things ook dark for the farmers who are in the position of owing back wages to Mexican National laborers the worked here last year.

after a trip . . .

TO WASHINGTON earlir this paweek, Gene Benham, who atthearing on the situation. held out little hope that the local oys could keep from paying the back wages even though they haven't vet found justification as far as local farmers are concerned for etting the extra money.

we attended a . . .

FARM BUREAU director's meet Thursday night and heard a t of Gene's report. Naturally, is some basis for the askg of more wages. But from an cal standpoint, it still seems a oppressive the way the prodeveloped, the way the local iers were notified, and the way payment is being made.

FRIENDS WHO claims to be, & ay well be an expert on the troubles of the farmer has been "on our back" the past few weeks asking us to publish editorials on his viewpoint. We've tried to get him prrint but he hasn't done so. In fact his voice has beeen so loud Kansas. but his writing so littel we're beginning to wonder if he isn't just another "aginer", looking for some-thing to gripe about. As for the editorial side of national politics, it we were very adept at knowing the answer to the national probems, we'd probably be drawing a little better pay in a little better job. He may be inthe same spot.

THE OTHER EVENING was the first bad accident in this county in quite some. We've had a real good safety record here the past year or so. In fact, per capita, we were rated right among the top in the state last year for safety according to Sheriff Hazel Hancock.

The names here represent those people who made cash contributions to the cemetery fund since the start of the present campaign to raise funds to build a brick fence and entranceway

It is by no means a complete list of those who have helped. Some have given time, some labor, some materials. For all of these donations the Cemetery Board is extremely grateful – knowing full well it takes big and little donations and big and little tasks must be accomplished before we can have a cemetery of which we are justly proud. Thanks for everything but bear in mind the task is not finished – it never will be. Your aid will be solicited in the future upkeep of cemetery, and we know you'll help.
