Equalization Board Recommends Changes In City's Tax Procedure

Members of this year's City Tax Equalization Board met with members of the City Commission Monday night to make two strong recommendations to the group.

Neal Rose, Roy Hill and H. T. Golden, who finished their work on tax equalization a couple of weeks ago, recommended the city take steps to correct two situations in reference to taxes.

First of all, they recommended that steps be taken to get on the "rendered" list a large group of property that is not now rendered and at this time, the city has no record of the owner.

The second problem they discussed was the large group of persons who just "don't pay" their taxes.

Rose, who was spokesman for the three, said they were there not to tell the city how to do these things, but simply to advise the aldermen of the situation, in hopes that they can get a better list of renditions for the group next year.

"We just didn't feel like we were able to do much good because of what we had to work with," the spokesman said. "We did the best we could."

They also suggested that the city check with the school towards the possibility of setting up a card file similar to the one recently started by the school, in which they sent men out to measure and describe property for a more easily understood tax roll.

Two representatives of the engineering firm from Clovis anxious to work on the paving project also met with the city. After a considerable discussion they were asked to arrange a meeting with City Secretary Joe Seagler and the firm that had agreed to handle the financing of the paving, toward getting a definite commitment for the property

New Family Hits Bad Luck Streak; Clothes Sought

A 38-year-old farm laborer, on his way from Texarkana to Hereford with his family, in quest of farm labor, hit the bottom of the barrel in finances and health in Morton this week.

James Allen, who with his wife and three children was hitch-hiking to Hereford, got a ride as far as Morton. On the way out of town they were spotted by local officers who "checked them out" in routine investigation. This was about 9:30 Saturday night. He was offered a job here, accepted, and the family moved into a house at the Glen Cooper farm, north of here. James worked the better part of one day and suddenly became very ill. He was taken to the hospital where he underwent surgery for ulcers.

The family, down to their last cent, with James now hospitalized and unable to work for probably at least a month, will start a seven-year old daughter to school at Morton. Their biggest problem is simply the fact that they don't have enough clothes for the 7-year-old daughter, Jo Ann, nor for an 11-week old baby. The four-year-old child has clothes.

Anyone desiring to help the family out in this difficult situation, can bring any clothes they have that will fit a seven year old and a small baby, to the Sheriff's Office.

ROLLY HILL HOME AFTER ACCIDENT AND HOSPITALIZATION

Rolly Hill, about 65, Morton farmer was reported recovering "satisfactorily" Tuesday, from injuries sustained just before noon, last Thursday, when a pick-up he was driving overturned about 13 miles west of Morton.

The vehicle was nearly demolished as it hit a tree and threw Hill, who was alone, out the windshield.

He suffered cracked ribs, bruises and a collapsed lung. He was supposed to have been released from the Methodist Hospital Wednesday.

Rains which were received in several sections of the county, and neighboring Bailey County, in varying amounts, and which also brought with them at least five different streaks of hail, brought considerable damage to area crops. Monday afternoon and night, though it would be difficult to estimate the total damage.

Some few farmers lost nearly all of their crop. Others got only light hail. Some got intense wash damage from heavy rains.

The official gauge in Morton showed .38 inches of rain last Friday night, which varied up to as much as a half inch or better southwest of Morton and up to .73 of an inch northwest. Most farmers reported a light shower Friday.

The rodeo went right on, despite the rains, but everyone in the grandstands left and only those in their cars parked around the grounds remained, an hour after Friday's show started.

It was Monday that the hail damage occurred, though only a trace of rain was received in Morton.

Southeast of Morton, in the section known as "Dobie Flats" a lot of hail was reported and up to 2 inches of rain. D. D. Marshall, L. L. Taylor, Frank Perrin, O. L. Castle, Clifford Howell, and Leo Holland all received hail, some heavy.

North of Morton, Monday afternoon, up to about 4 1/2 miles out, 1 1/2 inches of rain accompanied light hail that damaged crops of John L. McGee, Roy Allsup, Henry Williams, R. C. Strickland, Ervin Merritt, and Morton J. Smith.

Northeast, Hub Cadenhead, W. L. Davis, Sammie Williams, Joe Silhan and Hugh Hanson were among those with damage. Hanson's reported very heavy.

Further north, around Enochs perhaps the heaviest of the total damage, by both hail and rain wash occurred. Among those hurt by hail were J. C. Snitker and J. Ray Spence.

To the far west, on the state line and in the surrounding area east of Griffith's Gin, Karl Griffith, Troy Wells, U. F. Wells, M. A. Tanner and F. H. Lightner had hail damage.

Up in Goodland, E. G. Kenley and W. C. McCelvey were among farmers whose crop suffered heavy hail damage. Frank Griffith had light hail. Rain was up to 1.1 inches.

A number of other fields received hail damage and the total damage would certainly run into thousands of dollars, it was said.

29 Gridders Working Out Twice A Day

A total of 29 boys began workouts Monday for the Morton Indian Grid team of 1959.

Coach J. P. Jones said he was highly satisfied with the number of boys who had reported and said he expected only a few more to report later on.

The total number includes only sophomores, juniors and seniors. Freshmen will play as a separate unit with a separate schedule.

Coach Jones said some of the boys were in excellent shape when practices started. Workouts are being held twice daily and some scrimmages will be held later on, prior to the opener, Sept. 4th, against the Sudan Hornets.

The Indians are not working on the stadium field, since it has been re-seeded. For this reason the coach expected no night workouts until just before the season opens, hoping to let the field grow into as good condition as possible.

Cotton Meeting Tonight at 8:00 p.m.; Pfeiffenberger Will Be the Speaker

George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will discuss the A and B Cotton Purchasing Program in a meeting set for 8 p. m., Friday night, at the Cochran County Auditorium.

The meeting is the annual meeting of the Cochran Cotton Growers Association and the election of both the business and farm representatives to the Plains Cotton Growers will be one of the major items of business.

Pfeiffenberger, recognized as one of the top authorities on cotton in the United States, will have some timely tips for area farmers as to the best methods of handling the sale of their cotton this fall.

Also to be discussed will be quality production of cotton, and some other very important problems facing Cochran County farmers at this time.

Both farmers and businessmen are being asked to attend the meeting. Under a new by-law passed by Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., the county's businessman representative to that group, elected each year, must now be elected by businessmen, instead of by the farmers. A farmer and a businessman are elected to the area group each year.

The meeting is sponsored by both the Cochran Cotton Growers Association and by the County ASC Committee.

Ausbrook Rites Held August 11 At Berger

Funeral services were held in the First Baptist Church in Berger, Tuesday, August 11 for Frank G. Ausbrook, 57, a resident of the Skelly Oil Lease, south of Morton for the past 12 years.

Mr. Ausbrook had been a patient for the past 3 months in the West Plains Hospital at Berger. He was suffering from cancer. He died Sunday, August 9th, at 6:45 a. m.

The Ausbrooks were the first to move onto the Skelly Oil Lease when it was started in 1949. He had been an employee of the company for about 24 years.

Although hospitalized for about three months prior to his death, Ausbrook maintained his home at the lease which is located just below the refinery south of Lehman.

Masonic graveside rites were held at Phillips where he was buried.

Mr. Ausbrook achieved somewhat nationwide fame in the early 1950's when he captured a white crow, which was deemed a real rarity, across the street from his camp. The crow had made its nest in the field for a couple of years before he finally captured it.

He was subsequently offered considerable money for the specimen from several sources, but refused. Later he gave the crow to a son-in-law and shortly thereafter the rare bird froze to death.

Survivors, all of whom attended the funeral services, included the wife and six children. All of the children are making their home in and around Berger.

SENATOR  Yarborough's Report

Interest in Texas' efforts to establish a National Seashore Area on Padre Island continues to mount.

Recently a Coastal Development Committee, composed of officials from five Gulf Coast Counties, was appointed to study the proposed Padre Island park project and other improvements of coastal areas.

The need to preserve the biggest part of Padre Island for public use was driven home last week in a Houston Chronicle report on the situation in Florida. The residents awakened too late to the fact that only an inadequate story told how unhappy Florida part of Miami Beach has been saved for public use. It reported: "Along the 7 1/2 miles of Miami beach oceanfront, all but two miles was taken up by hotels and their private cabana clubs, swimming pools and overhanging additions."

One of the big questions about our Padre Island Seashore project is not whether we should protect this area - the longest stretch of natural beach left in the nation today - but whether certain private developers are going to be able to keep the park limited to a small slice out of the middle of the 118-mile-long island.

Statistics show that people will use the beaches if they have enough elbow room to be comfortable. An all time high of 348,335 visitors last year enjoyed the only National Seashore Area we have in the nation at this time, Cape Hatteras the 80 mile long Seashore on the outer banks of North Carolina.

It is my hope that public hearings can be held on the Padre Island Seashore Area proposal in Texas later this year. The findings and decisions of this Coastal Development Committee and similar civic-minded and public spirited groups and individuals would be invaluable in such hearings.

I want to work with this Committee and any group or anyone else who is interested in improving Texas. One of the ways to make the Gulf Coast a better place in which to live, I believe, would be the establishment of a Padre Island National Seashore Area - in the size and scope and tradition of Texas.

Two Chevy middleweights prove their rawhide stamina!

Top hands on high-country hauls!

Ask any trucker who's been over Wolf Creek Pass, 10,850 feet up in the San Juans: a 9-mile pull to the summit and low gear all the way down. Mr. C. H. Phillips of Alamosa, Colorado, has a 6403 and a 6503 Chevrolet truck that are up over this route the year round, taking sheep and beef to pasture, later marketing the stock in Denver. In less than a year, his Chevy middleweights have averaged about 50,000 miles of this kind of treatment—and they're going stronger than ever! Watch Chevy trucks at work out in range country. It's a sight to see the way they pack into high-up mountain pastures and handle through brush and rock like a cowman's favorite cutting horse. Take any truck work for that matter. Chevy middleweights probably handle a bigger variety of jobs than any trucks alive. About anything you name, including work that used to be reserved strictly for bigger rigs. When a truck's built the way a Chevy is lean-muscled and rawhide-tough, it takes to ugly trails the same way most trucks roll over the highway. It just keeps going, without a big to-do, but looking good every mile of the way. How they do it is your Chevrolet dealer's department. He'll be glad to supply details and specifications on the type of models you need.

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!

Highlights and Sidelights FROM Your State CAPITOL

AUSTIN, Texas - None of the money raising bills that failed to pass the Legislature during the past seven months was put away to gather dust.

They'll be on parade again if the fourth special session is held to raise money to increase the public school teacher's salaries. Gov. Price Daniel has said that he will call the session if the public demands it. Texas State Teacher's Association has its campaign rolling to create this demand.

TSTA's goal is a program that would cost $62,000,000 over a two year period. Of this $56,000,000 would go for a $405 increase in annual base pay for teachers.

This would bring teacher's base pay up to $3,510 a year. Hale-Aiken Committee recommended a minimum of $3,800 a year plus a number of other school improvements that would have totaled some $200,000,000 for a two year period. But TSTA decided that getting that big a tax bill would be too tough. For the time being the 70,000 member teacher lobby will settle for a package one third this size with emphasis on the item it wants most - pay raises.

Time most discussed for the new special session is the politically crucial month of January. This will give the teachers, scattered in the summer, time to get organized. It also is the month for poll tax paying, with January 21 as the deadline. (Gov. Daniel said January or February would be the time.)

Next year, for the first time, January will be the month for their announcements. New law makes Feb. 1 the deadline for filing for state primaries.

There is talk that Governor Daniel will announce for a third term if teacher raises are turned down. On this the governor says, "I'm not closing any doors."

Privately many legislators are glum at the prospect of being boxed in by another round of tax and spend pressures, particularly right before their campaign begins. They expect to get a lot of static anyway, from tax measures they have already voted.

But few will oppose teachers openly. As one said, "If you're against teacher raises, they'll say you're against good schools and little kids and motherhood - it's suicide."

WATCH FOR NEW LAWS - Scores of new laws passed during the regular legislative session ending in May go into effect this month.

From here on, anyone convicted of four moving traffic violations within 12 months will be classed a habitual violator, subject to drivers license suspension for any period up to a year. Same rule applies to anyone convicted of 7 or more violations committed within a 24 hour period.

New, tightened laws are in effect in the waterways too. Now against the law are: operating a boat or skiing while under the influence of liquor, skiing at night and "reckless or negligent" boating and skiing.

Now required by law are: a life preserver for every passenger on a boat and a lighting system according to size, for every boat. Boat registration fees will not be required until next April.

Another new law makes taking a ride in someone else's car without his permission a felony offense. Previously it was hard to get more than a misdemeanor conviction for car stealing.

Ranchers and farmers will be required to fence land along state and U. S. highways to prevent cattle from roaming on the road. Law does not apply to the farm-to-market roads.

Retail merchants no longer may advertise goods at "wholesale" prices. Only firms that sell only to retailers may claim wholesale selling.

Other new laws won't be noticed until later. For example, the new "stick with the party" law requires that a poll tax holder have his receipt stamped "Republican" or "Democrat" the first time he participates in a primary or convention. From then on, in effect, he's stuck with the party stamped on his tax receipt - until he gets a new poll tax.

A new program to inspect for cattle disease at live stock auctions was authorized, but is expected to be very small scale for the first two years, at least. It was given only a fraction of the money supporters said was necessary.

WOULD-BE SPEAKERS BUSY
One of next year's campaigns is already going strong with two of the candidates claiming victory.

Rep. Wade Spilman of McAllen declares he has "more than a majority" of the present House members pledged to elect him as next speaker. Rep. James Turman of Guber claimed enough pledges "to practically assure my election."

Victory statements are common campaign techniques for speaker candidates since House members are prone to join a winner's bandwagon to get good committee assignments.

Actually the speaker can't be officially elected until January 1961, when the 57th Legislature convenes. A large turnover of House members in the primaries could upset the apple cart by removing many of the speaker candidates' pledged supporters from office.

Other candidates are Reps. L. DeWitt Hale of Corpus Christi and Frank McGregor of Waco. Reps. Jerry Sadler of Pecos and W. T. Oliver of Port Neches are regarded as possible candidates.

WATER BONDS SOLD - First $10,000,000 in bonds to raise money for local water projects has been sold by the State Water Development Board.

Lower Neches River Water Supply District of Corpus Christi may be the first beneficiary of the new program. Water Board has tentatively approved a $3,000,000 loan to the district to complete the $21,000,000 Wesley E. Seale Dam and Reservoir.

State will pay slightly more than 3.5 per cent interest on the bonds and charge the borrower slightly more than 4 per cent.

HOPE FOR HIGHWAY FUNDS
Texas highway builders are holding their breath over a threatened halt of the huge federal road building program.

Continuation of the interstate road building, now going full steam in Texas, hinges on Congress' finding ways to get more money for the highway trust fund. Federal government pays 90 per cent of the cost of these projects.

State Highway Engineer C. Greer said the Department is "proceeding with confidence that something will be done by Congress to avert such an economic blow."

Most Texas officials, including Governor Daniel, are opposed to getting the money through a hike in the federal gasoline tax, as recommended by the President.

G.I. BILL OF RIGHTS

President Signs Bill Introduced By Yarborough

President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill by U. S. Senator Ralph Yarborough which permits some 7,000 Korean War veterans to secure additional education or training under the G. I. Bill of Rights.

Senator Yarborough's measure corrects a technical error in the Korean G. I. Bill to allow qualified veterans a change of program to secure a higher degree in their chosen field.

For example, qualified veterans in many cases set a bachelor's degree as their educational objective. Other veterans planning the same course of study set their objective as a master's degree.

Under the original law, even though the veteran might be qualified for additional educational benefits, if he had mistakenly set a bachelor's degree as his objective under certain circumstances, he was not permitted to go on to college to work on his master's degree.

Senator Yarborough's bill, S. 906, gives veterans the opportunity to have a change of program in their original field of training or education to work for higher degrees.

Cotton root rot has been a serious disease in Texas for at least 100 years, says Dr. L. S. Byrd, Texas Agriculture Experiment Station plant pathologist.

Obtaining information on root rot were objectives first given by Texas A & M College System to L. H. Pammel in 1886. Dr. Pammel reported his preliminary findings in Texas Agriculture Experiment Station Bulletin No. 4 in December 1888.

Dr. Pammel said correctly that root rot is caused by a soil inhabiting fungus, and to control the disease the spores and fungus threads which transmit it through the soil from plant to plant must be destroyed. He said that from a practical point of view, a proper method of crop rotation is the best way to destroy the fungus.

Following this pioneer work, a large number of scientists working for the Texas Station, the USDA and other public agencies have studied and many are still investigating the root rot problem, Dr. Byrd says.

Observations and experiments indicate that the root rot fungus attacks some 2000 species of wild and cultivated plants, with cotton the major cultivated crop attacked. For this reason, the disease is commonly referred to as the cotton root rot.

Many methods have been used to try to eradicate cotton root rot, among them. Tillage practices - using deep plow and large disk plows; crop rotation; building up soil organic matter; increasing soil micro-organisms; chemical control; conducting biochemical investigations; soil and fertility experiments; and by trying to find cotton varieties resistant to root rot.

Dr. Byrd adds that the best practices to following a control program are: rotating cotton with crops which are not susceptible to root rot, increasing the organic matter in the soil, deep fall plowing, and by nitrogen fertilization.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Mr. Leonard Coleman, a Cochran Soil Conservation District Co-operator in the Leiman Community, started a long range soil building program on his farm with 36 acres of perennial native and introduced grasses. Besides the soil building benefits, Leonard has received a substantial income from grazing and seed harvest through a well balanced management program on this grassland.

On the second day of May this year the Weeping Love grass received a severe set-back due to an accidental burning off of all residue and stubble. About the same time, 40 head of cattle were turned in on the 24 acres of Indian and Switchgrass. By the first of June the grass was so far ahead of the cattle that 27 additional head were added, making a total of 73 head of cattle on the 24 acres. The Weeping Lovegrass was defoliated completely until after a crop of seed was harvested. Due to the damage by fire only approximately 140 lbs. of uncleaned seed per acre were produced. The 73 head of cattle showed no preference between the Switchgrass and Indian grass as grazing was uniform on the entire 24 acres. When the cattle began to catch up with the grass about the first of July, the herd was reduced to 52 head to secure proper pasture use.

After harvesting seed on the 12 acres of Weeping Lovegrass, the cattle were taken off the Indian grass to allow it to make a seed crop, and rotated on the Switchgrass and Weeping Love grass. Mr. Coleman stated, "The cattle gain weight on any of the three grasses, and no apparent difference could be seen."

The only supplemental feed has been two to three bales of alfalfa hay per day. No fertilizers were added to these grasses after establishment in 1956. Three applications of irrigation water was applied to the grass this year.

A rotation for Soil Improvement such as this does not cost: IT PAYS! For more information contact any member of the Cochran Soil Conservation District board of Supervisors or any Soil Conservation Service Technician assisting your Cochran Soil Conservation District.

our damage losses to really pile up. It's easy to see how it would pay to get rid of these pests, says J. L. Poore, assistant district leader in Rodent Control Service at Texas A & M.

Rats and mice destroy and contaminate much more than they eat. They spread disease and filth and one of the most common diseases attributed to rats is Typhus. Rats have fleas which carry the disease organisms and these fleas sometimes get on man.

One good way to fight rat and mouse populations on your farm is to use anticoagulant poison baits. You must be extra careful with this poison though, because it affects all warm blooded animals.

Anticoagulants prevent the clotting of blood which causes internal hemorrhages and death. It takes 5 to 15 days for the poison to take effect, but pests keep eating it until it's too late. They never suspect they are in trouble.

Anticoagulant poison bait can be secured at the Court house by contacting the janitor.

In Cochran County Farming Is Everyone's Business . . .

In Cochran County, as in nearly every other county on the South Plains, COTTON is everyone's business. No matter what your basic business may be — retail merchant, school teacher, laborer, or professional man — as goes the COTTON crop, so will go your business.

Most of you, who have been reading newspapers or listening to TV or Radio broadcasts for the past few months, are well aware that critical problems are facing the farm industry today. The time has passed when these problems should or could be solved by farmers alone. They have become the problem of every resident of this predominantly agricultural community.

On Friday, George Pfeiffenberger, executive vice-president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., will speak to farmers and businessmen of this area about several phases of the farming problem that are getting serious. George is recognized throughout the area as the man who knows the most about the cotton industry.

At 8 p.m., in the County Auditorium, of the County Activities Building, George will "lay it on the line" — of that, you can be sure. The question is, will you be there, listening. Will you realize the importance of your presence? If you have nothing to say, no ideas to express, then brother you surely need to be there to find out what is going on. If you have already studied and thought out these problems, then, brother, we need the benefit of your thinking.

Just a glance back at the past couple of years should remind you that we have paid for not paying attention to problems arising. Whatever you think about these situations and problems, plan to be there.

MILK PRICES SHOW SLIGHT INCREASE
 College Station, June—Can you think of any food that has gone up so little as milk since the war?

College Station, June—Can you think of any food that has gone up so little as milk since the war? milk fairly stable, says the Texas Extension Service dairy husbandmen.

Average price for a quart of milk is only about 20 percent higher now than 19 years ago, says the Agricultural Marketing Service. However, the milk you're buying now is better than the milk you bought before the war. It's cleaner, safer to use, consistently tastes good and keeps longer. Also, today's milk is pasteurized, homogenized and frequently has vitamin D added. Better breeding and management of dairy herds has enabled dairymen to keep the costs of

Reynolds Tire Is Retailer for Conoco Products
 Conoco products, expert tire attention, and friendly service are just three of the many good reasons to stop by Reynolds Tire Company located one block north of the square on the Enochs highway here in Morton.

J. C. Reynolds and his experienced staff welcome the opportunity to show you what they can do to make your car ride smoother and drive easier by balancing your old tires or putting on a new set.

And while you're there, fill up with Conoco gasoline and you'll note how much smoother your auto motor operates, you'll feel added pickup, and observe extra mileage.

Incidentally, Reynolds Tire Company is the oldest continually operated tire store in Morton.

Founded in 1853 by C. C. Reynolds, father of J. C., the firm has been managed and operated by J. C. since his father's death.

And it was in 1935 that the Reynolds moved to Morton from Shallowater where they had been engaged in farming.

J. C. and his wife, Blackie, were married here in 1946. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Holly Hill of Morton. They have one child, Pam, 12.

Both J. C. and Blackie are avid golf fans, and Blackie has brought home more than her share of tournament plaques.

Another sport they enjoy is fishing.

Both are active in civic and club work. In fact, J. C. is the incoming president of the Morton Lions club, and as Fire Chief, he heads the Morton Volunteer Fire Department.

The Reynolds are members of the First Baptist Church and attend regularly.

But back to the Reynolds Tire Company which features Fisk and Pharis tires.

They promise the best available deals on trade-ins, whether for your auto, truck or tractor. In fact, the company offers a complete farm tire service along with famous Conoco products.

The next time your auto, pick-up, or truck needs some fast, friendly, expert service, stop in at Reynolds Tire Company and let Jack Gunnels and J. C. Poppel service your vehicle and check your tires - you'll soon be proud you did.

R. D. PICNIC

The Home Demonstration Club members, their children and guests enjoyed a picnic at the County Park last Tuesday morning. Swimming was the main diversion. Basket lunches were spread under the trees near the pool. After the noon hour several games were played by the adults while the children played on the swings in the park. There were about 40 present.

GIRLS AT 4-H CAMP

An over night camp for 4-H Club girls in the county will be held Thursday and Friday at the County Park. The girls and their parents are to bring a picnic supper to the park Thursday evening. After supper the girls will go to the County Barn to spend the night. Breakfast will be served Friday morning followed by games until 9:30. Families who come for the girls may also swim at this time.

All 4-H girls have been sent announcements about the camp.

KOSHER DILL PICKLES

(Contribution by Mrs. Ross Reeves)
Wash cucumbers, let stand in cold water overnight. Pack in hot sterilized jars. To each quart add two heads of dill, clove of garlic, one hot red pepper and 1/8 teaspoon alum.

Combine 1 cup coarse salt, 3 quarts water, 1 quart cider vinegar; heat to boiling. Pour over cucumbers in jars add grape leaf and seal.

Mrs. Bob Dunham makes a variation of Kosher Dill Pickles and uses the same spices but omits the alum. She uses a pickling solution of 5 parts water to one of vinegar. When making a large quantity 5 quarts of water, one quart of vinegar and 1/2 cup salt is heated to boiling and poured over the cucumbers. Seal jars.

These cucumbers will become cloudy as they ferment. Fermentation takes from 6 to 8 weeks, then the vinegar solution clears.

EASY DESERT

For an easy summer desert chill canned cling peach slices or halves in the tray until they are partially frozen. Arrange the peaches in a serving dish, top with a scoop of lime sherbert and sprinkle with flake coconut.

PRESPIRATION STAINS IN DARK COTTONS

Cool dark cottons are popular for summer wear in many parts of the State. Many warm weather dress styles are not cut to be worn with dress shields, so perspiration stains and discoloration of dark clothing sometimes result. These suggestions from the U. S. Department of Agriculture textile chemists will deal with these stains on washable cottons.

The fresher the stain the better your chances of removing it. Pressing a dress that is even slightly stained may set the stain and cause more discoloration. First try washing the stain thoroughly in warm water, rubbing soap or synthetic detergent well into the stain. If the fabric has discolored, try sponging a fresh stain with a little vinegar and water solution; for an older stain try a little ammonia and water. This may help restore the color. Rinse thoroughly.

Save any tags on ready to wear and yard goods and read carefully. Some dark cottons carry a label stating that the dye is fast to perspiration. Other labels give facts about both the fabric and its finish that will be helpful when you need to remove a stain at home.

COMANCHE REUNION SUNDAY, AUGUST 23

The ninth annual Comanche County Reunion will be held in Mackensie State Park, Lubbock Sunday August 23rd.

A basket lunch will be served at 12:30 and then, during the afternoon, a "sing" will be held. John Seitemer, president of the group and Norine Stephenson, secretary have invited all Comanche and ex-Comanche residents to be on hand for the get together.

"Previously Owned by a Little Old Lady..."

Surprisingly, that gentle little old lady who never drove over 30 miles an hour was really tough on her car's motor. The fact is that start-and-stop driving at low speeds means the motor doesn't warm up enough for its own good. Sludge forms in the motor oil. Damage to the engine will result.

Most of us do a lot of start-and-stop driving these days, and that's why it's wise to protect with Phillips 66 Trop-Artic Motor Oil. It flows quickly in a cold engine... resists sludge formation... then keeps on protecting your motor on long, hot drives.

Trop-Artic is an all-season oil. Get it from your Phillips 66 Dealer.

It's new 1959 Chevrolets we're talking about... we have an order due to be shipped this week, and that's all she wrote... there just ain't gonna be no more

Eighteen new cars is all we've got left to sell between now and the new model in late October. We just want to let you know how things stand so you can plan accordingly, and not make the mistake of waiting too long if you're interested in a new car... and if you're "price conscious." With the steel strike now in progress, all indications are that the new and no major changes as far as we can find out

1960 Model Cars Will Be UP in Price

How much, we don't know — but they're certain to be considerably higher. Therefore, if you're considering a new car we'd suggest you think seriously about buying now while "the price is right." Don't wait too long and be sorry... these 18 new cars are only about a 30-day supply and they'll be gone before we know it. When they are, there just ain't gonna be no more.

Council

Orders that terms can be arranged on the paving. If this proves successful, from 16 to 20 blocks of paving may be scheduled for the city soon.

Bills were ordered paid, minutes of previous meetings were read. In one other bit of business before the meeting adjourned, the Aldermen voted unanimously to accept a bid of $150 for the old 1942 model fire engine no longer used by the local fire department.

Attending the meeting were Mayor Roy Tarver Jr., City Secretary Joe Seagler, and Aldermen Roy Gentry, W. B. Merritt, Amos Taylor, and R. C. Strickland, the aforementioned representatives of the engineering firm and the Board of Equalization, and Eddie Irwin. Alderman Rob Richards was absent.

9TH ANNUAL RODEO IS TERMED "BIG SUCCESS" PAT DAVENPORT IS NAMED RODEO QUEEN

Although Rodeo Directors have not released any final statement yet, pending the receipt of all bills, the 9th annual Texas Last Frontier Rodeo has been acclaimed a big success.

Good crowds attended in spite of the one rainy night, the show went off smoothly, and some $1,600 in advance tickets were sold. The Rodeo Association will also clear a little more on the concession stand than last year.

Winners were named and paid Saturday night, the final night of the show, by Beth Gandy, and Mrs. Morris Stephens, show secretary.

Pat Davenport was the 1959 Rodeo Queen, having sold more advance tickets to the rodeo than any of the other eight local girls who were contesting for the title. Runner-up to Pat was Bill Sniker, with Judy Willingham running third.

Pat was introduced at the start of Thursday's show along with the winners of the Parade Sheriff Posse and Riding Club competition.

Posse winners were the Slaton Rangers, 1st; the Roosevelt County Mounted Patrol of Portales, 2nd; and Lea County Riders from Hobbs, N. Mex., 3rd.

The only float entered in the parade was entered by the Young Matron's Study Club, carrying a rocket theme and tying it in with the need for advanced education.

The Morton band also entered the parade, along with a few local pieces of merchant's equipment, a group of kids on bicycles, the eight queens candidates on horseback, a group of unattached persons on horseback. The parade even had a few donkeys, the local ambulance, and bringing up the rear was the local fire engine, with members of the volunteer fire department tossing out many a dozen of popicles to a group of eager children watching.

Veteran clown Boyce Hart entertained throughout the rodeo and one of the side attractions was a young man named Corky Oden who performed two acts, one of trick riding, and one of fancy roping both of which brought applause from the crowd.

The number of contestants in the rodeo was considerably under what it has been, but at least some of the crowd seemed to think that was better for the show. There was no after-the-show, riding or roping, and the show was completed in about two and one-half hours each night, instead of taking the customary three to three and one-half hours.

Johnson Grass Spot Spraying To Be Shown

Two spot spraying of Johnson Grass demonstrations are to be held on county farms . . . one this evening and the other Friday morning.

The Gene Gerik field, six miles southeast of Morton on Highway 116 will be the scene of the first demonstration at 4 p. m. today. Dalton and C-56 will be the chemicals used both from a jet gun hand sprayer and from an improvised pressure sprayer mounted on a Ford tractor.

Tomorrow at 10 a. m., one fourth mile east of the Star Route Co-operative Gin on Highway 116, another demonstration will be held, according to a letter sent out this week by County Agent Homer Thompson.

Nat'l Foundation Meets Next Week

All National Foundation Chapter officers are urged to attend the regular fourth Thursday night meeting of the Cochran County Chapter Thursday at the County activities building.

Bill Glassford, county chairman, reports that Bill McMordeie, newly named state representative at Plainview, has asked the chapter to elect its 1960 campaign director and assistant director and reports their names to Plainview not later than Sept. 10. Also, he pointed out, it is time to consider the election of new officers.

Current bills will be considered by the group at that time.

Pool Will Close Sunday Night

Sunday, at 6 p. m., the Cochran County Swimming Pool will close for the season.

Dick Kennedy, manager, and the staff at the pool, offer their sincere appreciation to everyone in the area for their fine cooperation in making the pool an enjoyable place for many persons to spend a lot of hours this summer.

Reader Has Idec Got to Oregon

A local reader has come up with a possible solution to how the Dollar Day Special wound up in Oregon in a pile of wrapping paper for a large concern.

Mrs. Murray Crone this week called to remind the Tribunes that a few years ago, when a class of Morton students, then sophomores or juniors, was planning to take a trip to Washington, D.C. one of their fund raising projects was a paper sale.

Mrs. Crone said on about four Saturdays large amounts of paper were sold to a man at Lubbock. The paper was to be shredded in some instances, she said. Other amounts of the paper were not shredded.

Businessmen, You're Needed Friday Night ...

Who is George Pfeiffenberger? If you don't know now, it's time you found out. This message is directed to all businessmen and other of Cochran County who realize that everyone in this county is basically a farmer . . . that everyone of us are dependent on farming for our financial livelihood.

Pfeiffenberger is executive vice-president of the Plain Cotton Growers, Inc. He is recognized, after a lifetime work in the cotton industry, as one of the few men in the United States who really understands the cotton industry . . . inside and out.

This man understands our problems. He even has some very important ideas about how to go about solving them. But, he has always admitted, ever since taking over the position he now occupies, the only way these problems will be solved is for all of us to take a hand in the job which lies ahead.

Get on the bandwagon this Friday. Forget the TV for a night. Give up that late afternoon golf game, if necessary. But be at the Activities Building Friday at 8 P.M. to find out how you can help solve the financial problems which can, if allowed to accumulate, strangle the life blood out of the cotton industry.
