New Hearing Set For September On Local Radio Station Frequency

In response to a letter written May 16th to the Federal Communications Commission in Washington, D. C. concerning the status of the application of Mike Barrett of Brownfield for a broadcasting frequency for Morton, the Tribune received a reply, written August 5th.

This appears to be a question of whether or not the signal of Barrett's Brownfield station would overlap the City of Morton, because of its closeness to Morton and the closeness of the frequency and therefore be in conflict with a Commission rule.

Area Cowboy Charged with Assault In Slugging of Local Rodeo Official

Ed Workman, the ex-Olton cowboy, now riding out of Lubbock and rated one of the better cowboys in the area, was up to old tricks at Morton, Thursday as he became involved in a fight before the rodeo was 20 minutes old.

Workman, asked to get off a fence by a local rodeo official started a fight and was charged with assault upon the official, J. R. Kuykendall.

Workman was able to compete his competition in three divisions of the show, one in which he had had the second best time, and one in which he had the best looking ride; before Sheriff's Department officers completed their investigation of the incident.

SENATOR *
Yarborough's Report

With the two great national party conventions behind us, the members of Congress have returned here for one of the most extraordinary sessions in American history. When the Senate convened, facing each other across the Senate Chamber were the two protagonists for the presidency of the United States.

The presiding officer of the Senate, and Republican nominee for the presidency, Vice President Richard Nixon, and Senator John F. Kennedy of Massachusetts, the Democratic nominee. Also in the Chamber leading the Democratic movements was our own Texas Senator, Lyndon B. Johnson, the Democratic Majority Leader, who is the Democratic Vice Presidential nominee, and the Republican Vice President nominee, former Senator Lodge, United States Representative to the United Nations, was himself for a number years a senator.

For the first time in American history, the top nominees of both major parties are either members or former members of the Senate. For the first time in history, both of the major parties' presidential nominees are active members of the Senate. It is the first time in 100 years that the Democrats have nominated a Senator for the presidency; it is the first time in 124 years that a Vice President has been nominated for the presidency.

In addition, the national chairman of the two parties, Democratic Senator Henry Jackson of Washington, and Republican Senator Thurston Morton of Kentucky, are, of course, key members of the Senate and top ranking party leaders.

So, we do have one of the most extraordinary sessions of the Senate in American history.

And the people have shown that they realize it. They have repeatedly lined up all the way down the stairs from the Senate galleries through the great rotunda of the Capitol, over almost to the House Side. In the Senate, the galleries have sometimes been filled two hours before the session, and people stay in their seat hour after hour. Guards told me that they had seen no sight like that in the Senate of the United States since they had been on duty — some for more than 20 years. Eight extra guards were placed on duty the opening morning to help handle the crowds. One of the guards at the elevator told me that he believed that he had seen at least 500 people from Texas alone here on Monday of this Week as this session opened.

So, fellow Texans, we have a momentous session, and I thought a few weeks ago, as I sat in the great hall with thousands at the Democratic Convention in Los Angeles — I attended that convention as a Democratic United States Senator, not as a delegate — I could not help thinking out there at Los Angeles, how aims and dreams of people from across the nation are expressed and that they could soon be reflected in the action of the Congress in laws passed, if the Congress acts. And, of course, the same was true for those members of the Senate who attended the Republican Convention in Chicago.

I believe that this overwhelming public attendance at the Congressional sessions in Washington, this lining up for hours, of thousands of people to see how their government works — heralds a bright new day for government by the consent of the governed. It means that people are becoming interested and that many hundreds of thousands more citizens probably will assume their responsibility of participating in our incomparable system of government of, by and for the people."

GARDEN CLUB'S 1960 FLOWER SHOW WILL BE HELD SATURDAY, OCT. 1ST

The Cochran County Garden Club announced this week that their annual Flower Show will be held on Saturday, October 1, from 1:00 p. m. to 5:00 p. m.

JOINT COOPERATIVE MEETING SET FOR LUBBOCK, TODAY

Many local cooperative members are expected to attend the joint cooperative meeting today, Thursday, August 18, at Lubbock sponsored by the three regional cooperatives.

Plains Cooperative Oil Mill, Farmer's Cooperative Compress and Plains Cotton Cooperative Association are joint sponsors of the meeting to be conducted under a big tent on the lawn of the Oil Mill.

The meeting will be called to order at 1 p. m. and will include before it recesses.

COMMUNITY PICNIC
The Lehman community picnic was held Sunday, August 14th, with those attending from Morton, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hickman and Mrs. Mildred Akin. Also attending were Dr. and Mrs. Bill Jagers of Midland, who were visiting his mother, Mrs. C. H. Hickman and Mr. Hickman.

Local John Deere Dealers to Attend Largest Meeting of It's Kind at Dallas

Tom McAlister and Gene Huggins will have an opportunity late this month to see first hand just how many independent businessmen a major manufacturer needs to sell and service its products throughout the United States and Canada.

Along with some 4,500 other independent businessmen who have John Deere dealer franchises in the United States and Canada, they will fly to Dallas, the last week in August for the biggest sales meeting of its type ever held.

Sixteen United States and Canadian airlines will cooperate in airlifting the 4,500 dealers and 1,500 other persons to Dallas within a 24 hour period. It will be the first time any manufacturer will utilize as many airplanes, reserve as many accommodations and arrange for as many meals for a single group at one time.

The meeting has been called to show dealers the new line of John Deere Tractors and equipment. Announcement was made this week that the new tractors will be put on the market in late September.

Question On Best Method Of Harvesting

Machinery harvesting of cotton before frost, brings up the question of whether or not to defoliate. Some years cotton is mature enough for defoliation. Under other conditions a particular crop may need all the maturity it can get and because of the short growing season, defoliation will be out of the question, the County Agent said.

When cotton is 50 to 60 percent open, it is safe to apply true defoliants, for machine picking with a spindle picker.

Desiccants are recommended for preparing cotton for machine stripping. The cotton should be more than 60 percent open if either of the two desiccants (pentachloro or arsenic acid) are to be used. True defoliants will permit the cotton to develop fiber strength when leaves are shedding.

A copy of the 1960 Defoliation Guide is available at the County Agents office.

Insects Should Be Watched In Cotton Fields

Cotton insects are not as big a problem as anticipated, but could get worse anytime. There are leaf worms and cabbage looper showing up in small numbers and aphid on cotton is showing up in spots. Boll worms are light in numbers in a few fields. This pest can take its toll in a hurry if increased numbers show up. The damage is easily recognizable by the punctured squares which flare open and turn yellow. You do not want to see much of this sign, as it may be too late, said County Agent, Homer Thompson.

Fleahoppers could be a problem on this tender cotton if you see very small fruit falling or turning yellow.

Cochran County Cotton Estimate Placed at Fifty Thousand Bales

LUBBOCK — The first estimated production total of the High Plains 1960-61 cotton crop for the 23 member counties of the Plains Cotton Growers, was announced recently as 59,000 bales.

Produced, such a crop would be the second largest crop in history ever harvested off the High Plains, being topped only by the more than two million bales harvested in 1958. Production this year, 1959-60 was 1,869,353 bales.

The estimated production total of 59,000 bales is expected off 2,263,395 acres and stands at an average of Aug. 1, totals approximately 2,175,000 acres. Condition of the cotton crop as of Aug. 1 was given as good to excellent. Hot, dry summer weather during July enabled the crop to do some "catching up" and agricultural observers see crop perhaps somewhat late this year, but still in good shape. The dryland cotton is reported to be in the best condition in the 10 to 20 years. One more week of rain in late August will insure a good production. Irrigated cotton is again being watered in some areas. Thus far insects have not been too much of a problem. Control measures have kept the situation in check.

Below are production estimates for 1960, by county:

COUNTY	1960 Est. Prod.
Bailey	80,000
Borden	10,000
Briscoe	23,000
Castro	52,500
Cochran	50,000
Crosby	120,000
Dawson	140,000
Deaf Smith	9,000
Dickens	30,000
Floyd	115,000
Gaines	70,000
Garza	25,000
Hale	190,000
Hockley	155,000
Howard	36,000
Lamb	175,000
Lubbock	230,000
Lynn	120,000
Motley	15,000
Farmer	33,500
Swisher	55,000
Terry	140,000
Yoakum	25,000

Average Citizen Usually Overlooks Important Fact; Water Has a Definite Monetary Value to a Business

LUBBOCK — According to the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, almost every farmer in the southern High Plains who has a well is either irrigating with it or is seriously thinking about the need to water his crops.

Just as in other business enterprises, to make a profit is the motivating goal of farming operations. Economists tell us that many of our farmers have paid about $10 per acre foot for the water that is in storage beneath their land. They say further that when we irrigate grain sorghum as a cash crop we can expect to make a little more than $10 in additional income for each acre-foot of water used over what we could make if we farmed dryland. To begin with, you can readily see that to raise grain sorghum by irrigation is just about a break-even proposition. If an irrigator wastes even a small amount of water he probably is giving away a little profit that he would have otherwise made.

$25,000 In Agricultural Grants Announced By Plains Cotton Growers

LUBBOCK — W. O. Fortenberry, president of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., recently announced the distribution of $25,000 in agricultural research grants to the Lubbock and Spur Agricultural Experiment Stations and the High Plains Research Foundation at Halfway in Hale County.

An additional $20,000 has been approved by the PCG Board of Directors and will be utilized at the pilot spinning plant at Texas Tech College later this fall, Fortenberry said.

The grants, said: "It's wonderful that farmers themselves can make this money available for research work on problems that hamper our cotton production on the Plains. The PCG board and membership are very proud of these grants and believe it is one of the ways to discover some of the answers to our cotton production and marketing problems."

FARMERS URGED TO COMPLY WITH CHILD LABOR LAWS

DALLAS — Farmers who hire workers for harvesting fall crops were reminded recently that the Federal Fair Labor Standards Act sets a 16 year age minimum for the employment of children in agriculture during school hours.

The reminder came from Regional Director William J. Rogers of the U. S. Department of Labor Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions here, the agency which administers this law.

"Today and in the foreseeable future, the need for youngsters to meet even higher educational standards is beyond question," he said. "The child's chance for success in later year can depend on whether he enrolls in school this fall."

Mr. Rogers pointed out that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours or on weekends, but that their place is in the classrooms when school is in session in the school district where the child is currently living.

"The law protects the children of migratory workers as well as local children," he said. "The only exception to the law is the child working exclusively for his parents or guardian."

An age certificate showing that the youngster is at least 16 is the best protection the farmer can have against inadvertent violation. In Texas, these certificates are available, as a public service, from local Texas Employment Commission offices.

He added that the Federal child-labor law applies to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship their products in interstate commerce, either directly or to firms who ship them across state lines in their original form or as an ingredient of another product.

The trouble with the way most of us think, is that we completely disregard the fact that the water in the ground costs us money, or has a definite monetary value. It is not free. We pay good hard-earned cash for it; consequently, when we pump water to the surface and irrigate with it, we have more involved than just operational costs. We are also using a portion of our capital investment.

The High Plains Water District urges all who are watering, and all who will be watering in the near future, to use the water that is needed but to use it without waste. Water that is pumped but not used to produce a crop is costly. Waste indicates a complete disregard for an adequate management practice.

We live during a time when almost everyday we see more of our rights as individuals being consumed by governmental decree behind the guise of public welfare. Even so, we in Texas still maintain the right to privately own underground water. Do we like it that way? Once again, the High Plains Water District emphasizes — if we are to continue down the road of private ownership we must minimize waste. Wasteful exploitation of our underground water supply would be playing into the hands of more governmental control. On the other hand, to use what we need without waste is merely good common sense and conservation. The result of conservation is continued prosperity even for future generations that must look to us for the resources necessary for a more demanding tomorrow.

Cotton Field Visits Slated Friday; Farmers, 4-Her's Urged to Attend

Three cotton field visits in educational work on plant disease are planned for Friday of this week (August 19).

County Agent Homer Thompson, in a letter to area farmers, said that "diseases are more pronounced on cotton this year and more work needs to be done on this problem." Insects are to be checked for identification and numbers, which would make the trip a valuable one for 4-H club members as well as farmers.

John Thomas, area entomologist will be on hand to assist with the work. Meeting places and approximate time are listed so those who want to make only one of the checks can know about what time to be on hand. They are:

August 19, 10:00 a. m. — D. E. Benham cotton farm just west of the Country Club Golf House on Farm to Market Road, east of Morton 5 miles.

2:00 p. m. — Floyd Lightner Farm across the road south of Star Route Co-op Gin, 7 miles west of Morton.

4:00 p. m. — Hubert Taylor farm, 1 mile south of Whiteface. Mark this on your calendar and let's tackle these disease and insect problems head on.

Once again, the Agent asks all farmers to be sure to bring the 4-Hers to this meeting. There is absolutely no better way for the youngster to learn these insects than seeing them, when and where they are causing the damage.

VISITORS FROM FLORIDA

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Mather of Acala, Fla. were in Morton visiting around town with old friends attending the rodeo, and also visiting in Lubbock with friends this past weekend. The Mathers, who formerly lived in Morton, then in Lubbock, moved to Florida about a year ago.

VISITED DUNN'S

Mr. and Mrs. High Vincent and Mr. Marvin Tollett of Sudan were guests in the H. F. Dunn home on Sunday afternoon.

Cotton Chopping Wage Determined

The most recent wage findings of the Texas Employment Commission for Cochran County were released last week.

Effective August 18 hoeing cotton was drawing wage earners 60 and 65 cents per hour for mixed crews of men, women and children, according to the release from Tracy C. Murrell, Regional Director.

ATTEND RODEO

John E. Holloman and son, Rodney, of Socorro, N. M., were in Morton on business Wednesday night, loading a set of gin scales to be taken back to Socorro. They stayed Thursday for the first session of the rodeo.

Applying ammonia helps produce 60-bushel wheat

Leading West Texas farmers like C. B. WILHELM apply 100 lbs. of ammonia per acre on wheat

C. B. Wilhelm, who farms 275 acres in Castro County, says: "Phillips 66 Ammonia pays profit returns on wheat. After pre-plant applications of 100 pounds of ammonia per acre, I've made 50 to 60 bushel wheat. Phillips 66 Ammonia is also used successfully on maize. I figure on increasing my ammonia application rate on maize this year to further increase yields."

Thousands of Texas farmers are using Phillips 66 Ammonia to help assure top net profits per acre. Actual field reports prove that this 82% nitrogen fertilizer (1) boosts wheat and small grain yields (2) increases maize yields (3) produces more high grade cotton (4) improves forage production.

See your local Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia Distributor now. You can depend on better ammonia service. Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia may be applied by you or your distributor.

Board Accepts Resignations of Six Teachers

Formal acceptance of the resignation of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Hughes, Mr. and Mrs. Eli Douglas and Mr. and Mrs. Hahn was voted at the Board of School Trustees' meeting last week.

Bills for the months of June and July were paid; the amended 1960 budget was approved; and the proposed 1960-61 budget was discussed.

Most of the other time during the long session was consumed in discussion of the abortive new tax program; and plans to review the plan and become better acquainted with it.

All members of the board were present and the Assessor Collector was asked to compile a tape of the proposed property values, on all taxable property, to get an exact figure on how much the total value would be, and what the actual tax total would have been under the original proposed tax plan.

Many individual classification cards were examined by the trustees.

The board expressed the feeling that they should become better acquainted with the entire program, before another move would be made to set up a new tax plan.

Order of the Arrow Encampment Set for Camp Post on Saturday

Jimmy Lumus, Chairman of the Council Camping and Activities Committee, announces an Order of the Arrow Encampment, to be held at Camp Post, on Friday and Saturday, August 19 and 20, 1960. Registration will begin at 4:00 p. m. on August 19, and the encampment will conclude with a beautiful Indian Ceremony about 9 p. m. on August 20th.

Nacona Lodge, of the South Plains Council, has some 300 active members, boys and men. John Farrell, Lodge Chief, reports some sixty new candidates for the Order of the Arrow this time. These candidates come from all over the 20 counties, that make up the South Plains Council.

James Perry, Lodge Secretary reports a large number of active members of the Lodge to be on hand for this encampment to assist in the Ordeal, and the ceremonies.

There will be a business session where matters of policy plans for the Annual Order of Arrow Banquet to be held in December, and the election of new Lodge officers for the coming year.

The Order of the Arrow was founded in 1915, and is a part of the Camping program of the Boy Scouts of America. The Order recognizes qualified Scout campers, maintains camping traditions and

"These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck...but not our Chevy"

Few trucks are subjected to the body-wracking beatings that are part of a day's work for this Chevrolet Series 60 pulpwood hauler. It's owned by J. E. Fox, North Carolina logging contractor. As Bobby Fox, a partner in the business says, "Loaded with pulpwood, we drive over stumps and potholes you'd think would tear the truck to pieces. These trails would shake the cab off an ordinary truck, but not our Chevy. We can average an extra load a day... make $45 to $50 a day more with this Chevy than we can with the others."

In every weight class these Chevies are doing more work at less expense than trucks have ever done before. Drive one at your Chevrolet dealer's. It's an experience that could pay you big dividends.

"That 6-cylinder engine really performs," says Bobby Fox. "It's got the lugging power we need in the woods and walks right along with a full load on the highway."

Highlights and Sidebars State CAPITOL

By Vern Sanford
AUSTIN — Election year upheavals plus Texas' "lame duck law" are playing havoc with the work of interim legislative committees.

Attorney Gen. Will Wilson ruled that, except in special cases, interim committee members not re-elected to the Legislature may not continue to serve on the committees. This brings a shake-up in the membership of a number of study groups now in the midst of their work.

Biggest change will be in the make-up of the House General Investigating Committee which has been asked to look into several politically touchy questions. Going off the five-member committee are the chairman, Rep. H. J. Blanchard of Lubbock, and Reps. Joe Burkett and Carl Conley of Raymondville.

Nine other legislative committees lost one or more members who either did not run again or were defeated.

Not affected were members of the Commission on State and Local Tax Policy, Attorney General noted that this group was set up under a law which specifically provided its members should serve a two year term.

Also continuing to serve, whether re-elected or not, will be those members of the Legislative Council and Legislative Budget Board who — like the Speaker of the House — are members because of the jobs they hold.

In the appointment of committees on which "lame ducks" may not continue to serve next year's speaker and lieutenant governor face a problem. Only way to prevent vacancies would be to second guess the political future of each appointee.

YOUTH CRIME RISE SEEN — Juvenile delinquency in Texas will get worse before it gets better, the Texas Youth Council director predicted.

Dr. James Turman presented to the Legislative Budget Board the Council's request for an appropriation of $4,235,470 for the coming biennium. This is an increase over the present two-year allocation of $3,487,422.

A part of this increase is to build for future needs. Turman noted that the Gatesville Training School for Boys had 403 boys in 1959 compared to its present average of 1,300. He predicted an average population of 1,790 during the coming two years and 2,959 by the end of the sixties.

Turman also urged the setting up of a system of paid parole supervisors "to keep some of these kids from coming back." He said that some of the boys had been to Gatesville as many as ANTI-LOAN SHARK — five times and that up to one-third were repeaters.

COMMITTEE — A citizens committee is being formed to work for approval of a constitutional amendment to give the legislature more regulatory power over the small loan industry.

Ahner V. McCall, executive vice-president of Baylor University, is chairman, and Tom Reaveley, Austin attorney and former secretary of state, is vice chairman.

Proposed amendment will be Number Four on the general election ballot in November. It would give the Legislature power to license and regulate lenders and set maximum rates of interest. Until and unless the Legislature set a new rate, the present constitutional maximum of 10 percent would apply.

Adoption of Amendment four is an essential first step, said McCall, to wiping out Texas' reputation as the "loan shark state." He said that Gov. Price Daniel, Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey and Atty. Gen. Will Wilson favored the amendment and were honorary members of the committee.

TEC HITS CHEATERS — Texas Employment Commission has filed complaints against some 100 persons accused of drawing unemployment compensation pay while actually working.

As a result of wide spread investigation, TEC has filed several score suits against persons it declared were receiving benefits and salaries at the same time.

Some of the defendants have already been tried, fined and ordered to repay the money received from TEC. Most of the cases involve workers in Houston and Brownsville.

Law provides that workers who lose their jobs through no fault of their own and cannot get other jobs may receive $28 a week for up to twenty six weeks, while unemployed. Violators can receive up to a $50 fine and a 30 day jail sentence.

LAWBREAKING ON INCREASE — Department of Public Safety report shows that one of the fastest growing statistics in Texas is the number of major crimes committed — up 10.3 percent for the first half of 1960.

For the first six months of this year DPS estimates 96,681 major crimes were committed in Texas, compared to 87,679 for the first half of 1959.

One of the brighter spots in the report is that murders and homicides decreased by 15.1 percent. Burglaries, however, rose 19.2 percent.

Biggest crime increase was in urban areas — up 12.5 percent. In rural sections the rate was down a little — less than one percent.

VACCINATIONS URGED — Texas is one of the safer states as far as paralytic polio is concerned, but it's seventh in the nation in number of whooping cough cases, ninth in diphtheria and scarlet fever.

All these rates could be cut, said a State Health Department spokesman, if there were fewer people who can't be bothered with getting protective shots.

Late August and September are the usual season for polio epidemics, the Department warned.

GOOD PASTURAGE — Texas range conditions showed a bigger mid-summer improvement this year than any summer for 37 years reports the U. S. Dept. of Agriculture.

Range conditions usually grow less favorable from July to August in Texas, but this year they got substantially better.

Though some areas of the state were reported very dry, 85 percent was rated 12 points above the 10 year average.

Safety Consciousness Needed...

Cochran Counties have completed nearly two thirds of the year 1960 of driving without a recorded highway fatality in this county.

Though the record is indeed, fine, and we have been extremely fortunate, it is hard to take credit for this record. Everyday we see people violating the two basic laws that obedience of, would save more lives than any other thing . . . running stop signs, and driving too fast.

Maybe we can take credit, maybe we can take none, but nevertheless, it is a fact. In Cochran County, through 7 and one half month of 1960, we had no traffic deaths.

We now approach a time when the record is more endangered than at any other time of the year . . . the time when streets are filled with hundreds of children going to and from school, daily.

Some are afoot, filled with fresh excitements that compound themselves each minute. Scarcely are they aware of the danger of automobiles.

Some, especially in rural areas such as ours, are driving automobiles to school. Maybe a lot of them shouldn't be, but the fact is they will be.

Because you get to an intersection first; because you have the green light; because you are on the through street does not release you from the moral obligation of paying attention to whether or not the other fellow is about to make a mistake.

"Drive as though the other driver may break any traffic law at any given time," it has been said, "and you will have a better chance of staying alive."

This thought must be given even more consideration when youngsters on the road are to be contended with.

When approaching children who are walking, a driver never knows when one might dart in front of his car . . . he should be driving very slowly.

When approaching a car or truck with youngsters hanging onto it, or on the bed of the truck . . . a driver should immediately think about not following too closely . . . so he will have room to stop in case of emergency.

A beginning driver may become confused or panicky. Don't jockey with him. Treat him with caution.

Be extra cautious when driving in school districts. Chances are the youngsters have anything on their mind except safety.

Cautiousness, paying careful attention is the only safe way to drive. All of the traffic campaigns, safety gimmicks, or slogans, can not cut appreciably into the number of traffic deaths until folks behind the wheel begin to think specifically about the job they are doing. When driving becomes a sub-conscious thing, as it is with most drivers, there is no such thing as safety.

Safety must be a conscious thing in all of our minds before we, in Cochran County, can take credit for a record of no traffic deaths.

Think safety, everytime you get behind the wheel of a car. And do whatever you can to teach others to think safety, also.

Proposed CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT NUMBER ONE ON THE BALLOT

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 8, 1960.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 33 proposing an Amendment to Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas by adding thereto new Sections to be known as Sections 6, 7, and 8, and prescribing the form of ballot and providing for the necessary proclamation and publication.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Article IX of the Constitution of the State of Texas be and the same is hereby amended by adding the following Sections which shall read as follows:

"Section 6. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Lamar County, having the powers and duties provided in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Wichita County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Lamar County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be twenty-five cents (25¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District, subject to district taxation.

"Section 7. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District co-extensive with Hidalgo County, having the powers and duties and with the limitations prescribed in Article IX, Section 5(a), of the Constitution of Texas, as it applies to Hidalgo County, except that the maximum rate of tax that the said Hidalgo County Hospital District may be authorized to levy shall be ten cents (10¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District subject to district taxation.

"Section 8. The Legislature may by law authorize the creation of a Hospital District to be co-extensive with the limits of County Commissioners Precinct No. 4 of Comanche County, Texas.

"If such District is created, it may be authorized to levy a tax not to exceed twenty-five cents (25¢) on the One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation of taxable property within the District; provided, however, no tax may be levied until approved by a majority vote of the participating resident qualified property-taxpaying voters who have duly rendered their property tax. The maximum rate of tax may be changed at subsequent elections as long as the rate does not exceed the limit of twenty-five cents (25¢) per One Hundred Dollar ($100) valuation, and no election shall be required by subsequent changes in the boundaries of the Commissioners Precinct.

SENATE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 6 proposing an Amendment to Article III of the Constitution of Texas, increasing to three and one-half percent (3 1/2%) the maximum permissible interest rate on bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board; providing for an election and the issuance of a proclamation therefor.

BE IT RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:
Section 1. That Section 43-b, Article III of the Constitution of Texas, be amended by adding thereto the following:

"The foregoing notwithstanding, bonds hereafter issued by the Veterans' Land Board pursuant to the authority of this Section 43-b of the Constitution, may bear a rate or rates of interest not to exceed three and one-half percent (3 1/2%) per annum.

"This Amendment shall become effective upon its adoption.

Section 2. The foregoing Constitutional Amendment shall be submitted to a vote of the qualified electors of this state at an election to be held throughout the State of Texas on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1960, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon the following:

Crime Increases Throughout State Report Shows

The Texas Department of Public Safety reported today major crimes in Texas increased 10.3 percent during the first six months of 1960 as compared with the same period last year.

The most pronounced increase, according to reports reaching the department from January 1 through June 30, was a 19.2 percent hike in the number of burglaries, 15.1 percent decrease in murders and homicides.

It is estimated that for the first six months of 1960 there were 96,681 major crimes committed in Texas, compared with 87,679 for a similar period in 1959. Projecting the six months crime experience over a period of one full year, a crime rate of 2,096.4 crimes per 100,000 population is indicated, compared with 1,092.2 for 1959.

The department gave the following breakdown of the comparative totals of the seven major crimes tabulated: murder and homicide, 479 in 1960 through June, 564 in 1959; rape, 561 this year against 548 in 1959; robbery, 1,458 against 1,412 last year; burglary, 27,048 against 22,696 last year; aggravated assault, 5,851 against 5,851; theft, 53,789 against 48,996; and auto theft, 7,495 against 7,645.

An overall percentage increase in major crimes in Texas of 12.5 percent was reported for the urban areas including all cities of 2,500 population or larger. This was offset slightly by a decrease of less than one percent in the rural areas of the state.

Texas Voters Usually Study Issues Carefully

Texas voters apparently look beyond their immediate vote to the results or consequences of their decision. At least that's the indication if the last election on Constitutional Amendments can be taken as an example, reports the committee for Good Government.

While past actions at the polls indicated a tendency by Texans to approve rather than reject changes in the Texas Constitution, Legislators nevertheless were handed a rebuff at that time when voters said "No" to a pay raise request.

While a similar amendment is on the (No. 3) ballot this year, it's considered different from the previous version. Two years ago a proposed amendment suggested annual sessions of the Legislature, $7,200 per year for Members, virtually unlimited expenses, etc.

Amendment No. 3 on the Nov. 8th ballot, confines itself to a more modest pay raise and "per day" expenses for Members, and also sets up other limitations. Voters are asked to approve an annual salary for Members of the Legislature of not to exceed $4800 per year, and a per diem allowance of not more than $12 per day for the first 120 days only of each Regular Session, and for 30 days of each Special Session. Regular Sessions would be limited to 140 days.

Many voters have already discovered that Amendment No. 4 is actually a "two-part" amendment. The first half devotes itself to classifying loans and lenders licensing and regulating lenders. The second half has been the great "bone of contention" in all hearings on the loan problem in Texas.

At the present time the Constitution of Texas holds the ceiling on interest rates at ten (10%) percent. Although the proposed amendment to be voted on Nov. 8th provides "a maximum rate of interest of ten percentum (10%) per annum in the absence of legislation fixing the maximum rate of interest," indications are that the legislature will not be absent in fixing the maximum rate.

A three (3%) percent monthly limit is one alternate proposal for Texas. If the voters "OK" Amendment No. 4 the Legislature will be empowered to adjust this rate up or down as the need is indicated. Thus the maximum rate

Housewife Delegates Tell Demands in Washington Gals Who Run the House Want Next One To Have 2 Stories and Individual Styling

By MARY HAWKINS BOWMAN

WASHINGTON, D. C.—What is perhaps the nation's most influential group—a representative force of American housewives—has demanded a specific architectural home style.

"We want traditional, two-story houses with individually designed exteriors," said a majority of the housewife delegates to the National Congress on Better Living, meeting recently in Washington, D.C.

In so favoring the "center-hall, Colonial" type of home, the housewives were decrying the "aboriginal modern" appearance of today's "too-much-alike" houses.

Whether or not the delegates meeting in Washington knew it, architects and homebuilders have for the past year or so been designing, constructing and selling just the sort of house these women like.

Builders have turned to Colonial-style houses because their years of experience with ranch-style homes, split-levels, pseudo Old English, and Cinderella designs have shown them that our Early American ancestors were right after all—a two-story, center-hall Colonial is the most practical of all.

Of course, today's "Colonial" style homes have been improved with the advantages of modern building materials and such things as air conditioning, automatic heating, and labor-saving appliances.

But even a lot of architects admit they can't improve the general floor plan much. The center hall, bedrooms on the second floor, big kitchens and dining rooms—all are ideal for today's active, growing families.

There's a cost advantage in traditional styling, too. Wood—the material that makes Colonial Colonial—is available in building components, such as double-hung window units of ponderosa pine, and panel doors already hung in their frames. These units cut out a lot of costly labor on the job, a savings the builder can pass on to the buyer

SCHOOL BOARD AMENDS LAST YEAR'S BUDGET - ADDITIONAL EXPENDITURES ARE EXPLAINED

The Board of Trustees of Morton Independent Schools approved the amended budget for this past year at their meeting last week.

A comparison of the original proposed budget, set up before school started last fall, compared to the amended figures, shows only a major discrepancy in two departments. The Capital Outlays were considerably higher because of work on the football stadium, adding new bleachers last fall and the installation of tennis courts at the high school.

The original proposed budget showed the following breakdown: ADMINISTRATION: $27,472.00 (includes cost of the tax assessments program, Superintendent, Tax Assessor and secretary to Supt. salaries, and office expenses). The amended figure showed $20,048.00. The savings according to the superintendent was mainly because the tax assessment program didn't cost as much as anticipated. INSTRUCTION: $222,000.00 (which includes all teacher's salaries, books and supplies). Amended figure showed $227,000.00. HEALTH SERVICES: $3,500 (which includes cost of school nurse program). Amended to $1,859. Savings was attributed to the fact that the school had planned to have to hire a health nurse for Morton Schools but instead has a joint program with other schools in the county toward which each of the schools pay a proportionate share of the nurse's salary. PUPIL TRANSPORTATION: $23,200.00 (includes cost of new buses, repairs bus driver salaries, mechanic's salary and mechanical work). Amended to $31,500.00. Increase was due to the fact that two new buses were purchased by school last year. PLANT OPERATION: $32,400.00 (includes janitor salaries, heating and lighting). Amended to $24,180.00. Reason for savings was because not as much help was needed as was expected. FIXED CHARGES: $6,200.00. Amended to $4,200.00. PLANT MAINTENANCE: $6,200.00. Amended to $4,500.00. CAPITAL OUTLAY: $10,000.00 (includes paving program costs, furniture, etc.) Amended upward to $23,374.00 because of the large expense of the paving program. DEBT SERVICE: $43,500. (includes $23,000 payment on the principal and the rest on the interest of debts.) Amended to $37,900.00. TOTAL PROPOSED BUDGET LAST YEAR was $373,000.00 and estimated receipts were $373,000. Amended budget was $374,552.00.

Elimination of the Loan Shark Evil Is Prime Target of New Committee

Formation of the "Texas Committee to Eliminate the Loan Shark Evil" was announced recently by Abner V. McCall, executive vice president of Baylor University.

McCall will serve as chairman of the citizen's group. Prior to assuming his present position at Baylor, he has been Associate Justice of the Texas Supreme Court and Dean of the Baylor Law School.

"This volunteer committee, which will work for the adoption of Constitutional Amendment No. 4 on the November 8 ballot, has an initial membership of 92 civic, professional, labor, farm and religious leaders from all sections of Texas," McCall stated. "We expect that many others will join with us in bringing this vital issue to the attention of the voters of the State."

"Texas is one of the few states that does not have adequate laws to regulate the small loan industry. As a result, the State has been so notorious for abuses of small borrowers that we have become known throughout the nation as 'The Loan Shark State,'" McCall added.

"Adoption of the Amendment No. 4 is essential to the elimination of this evil and the removal of this stigma from the fair name of Texas."

Tom Reavley, Austin attorney and former Secretary of State who has devoted years to actively

At the same meeting, the board was given an itemized account of the proposed 1960-61 budget. It showed:

Administration	$22,000.00
Instruction	220,000.00
Health	2,500.00
Pupil Transp.	33,773.00
Plant Operation	33,500.00
Plant Main.	4,200.00
Fixed Charges	6,200.00
Capital Outlay	15,000.00
Debt Service	43,500.00
Total Prop.	380,637.00

Of this total it is estimated the school will receive $373,900.00 including $43,500 local taxes, $91,405 from state; and $39,000 equalization tax (county wide).

The transportation fund has been increased because, once again, the school will purchase two new buses for $10,293.00. The contract for these buses was let in Austin, July 6th, and calls for 45 passenger and 60 passenger Fords to be delivered to Morton in the near future.

would no longer be ten (10%) percent annually as it is now, but thirty six (36%) percent annually. One State Banking official has been quoted as saying 36 percent a year would be enough for a fair lender. The final opinion on this, however, will come from the voters.

As a result of increased mechanical harvesting, more of the crop is harvested during a shorter season and in a rougher condition than in the past when hand harvesting was the prevalent method. Machine harvested cotton generally contains more moisture and trash than hand harvested cotton, consequently more drying and cleaning are needed to turn out a good sample. Ginners in this area have equipped their gins to handle both machine harvested cotton and hand harvested cotton. The experience and good judgement of the ginners make it possible for farmers to take advantage of these plants and have their cotton ginned in the way that means the greatest monetary return to them consistent with the highest quality value to the spinner.

field is 8 percent or less of the crop is to be harvested mechanically, and 10 percent if the crop is to be harvested manually. This moisture level can be accurately determined with a cotton moisture meter. Eight percent or ten percent moisture on the lint in the field is not absolute. It is a highly desirable goal. Actually the moisture level will vary considerably from this, but we recommend that cotton be harvested as near this level as good management will allow.

Since the moisture level of different loads of cotton will vary considerably, drying requirements during ginning vary likewise. The capacity of modern gins is such that cotton is passing through the machinery so rapidly that drier adjustments lag behind due to build up of heat in the system. Therefore when a dry bale follows a wet bale through the machinery it is overried before the drier can be adjusted to meet the lower drier requirement. When cotton is overried, dried to 4 percent or below, the fiber becomes brittle and is cut or broken by the saws in the gin stand. A high percentage of short fibers in a sample is undesirable from a spinning standpoint, and can cause a reduction in value because of shorter staple length. Overdrying also causes a reduction of bale weight. Under drying results in inefficient cleaning, rough ginning and time loss due to chokage of the ginning machinery.

Moisture is the most important single factor influencing cotton quality during the harvesting and ginning process. Trash content generally varies, other factors being equal directly with the moisture level of the lint.

Storage of seed cotton is feasible only when the moisture level is low enough to avoid spot transfer from the trash to the lint during storage on a trailer or in a cotton house. For these reasons we are recommending that farmers delay harvest until moisture on the lint while in the

For these reasons we are recommending that cotton be grouped on the yard and ginned according to trash and moisture content. A practical workable schedule of ginning should be set up and followed by ginners throughout the season. Under this schedule 20 to 30 bales of wet cotton followed by 20 to 30 bales of dry cotton could be ginned, or mechanically harvested cotton could be ginned from 8 a. m. to 12 a. m. hand harvested cotton ginned from 12 a. m. to 4 p. m. etc. or mechanically harvested in daytime or hand harvested at night or any other desired schedule.

A moisture meter to gage the moisture content of cotton could be made possible at each gin — for this purpose.

Farmers Should Consider When To Stop Watering

One of the most critical decisions Cochran County farmers will make in their irrigated farming operations this year will be "when to stop watering irrigated cotton." As everyone knows much of our irrigated cotton is not as developed as it should be for mid-August. Our cotton research points out the fact that Cotton in this area should normally not be irrigated past August 25. This is particularly true after cotton is behind schedule due to hail, disease and late planting.

While in some years late watering will slightly increase yields it will very often decrease net profit by lowering yield.

Remember we very often receive September rains which could even further aggravate the situation.

GARDEN CLUB HEARS PROGRAM BY MRS. A. E. SANDERS

Mrs. E. E. Thomas was host to the Cochran County Garden Club in a regular meeting, Monday evening, Aug. 15, at 8 p. m.

Mrs. R. J. Hill presided over the business session and plans were made for the "Book Review Tea" to be held Sept. 5, 8 p. m. The annual flower show was discussed and committees were named. It will be held Oct 1 in the County Activity Building.

Mrs. A. E. Sanders was in charge of the program "Spring Flowering Bulbs" which she made very interesting with actual bulbs to illustrate. She concluded by showing slides of different varieties in bloom.

Members attending were Mesdames H. A. Barnes, Roy Brown, Murry Crone, Bob Cook, R. J. Hill, Roy Hill, Glenn Benham, Charles Jones, T. D. Marshall, H. W. Perry, T. M. Tanner, A. E. Sanders, Bobby Travis, J. D. Glass, Miss Leila Petty, Lenora Jackson and the hostess, Mrs. E. E. Thomas and little daughter Peggy.

NEW TRACTORS COMING!

Yes, the rumors are true that John Deere will soon be announcing a new line of tractors. We'll be previewing them at "Deere Day in Dallas" August 30. What's more, we've been told that these new tractors represent an amazing leap forward in power farming—an advance so progressive that it sets an all-new high in tractor performance, ease of handling, and operator comfort. Watch for our announcement date when we return from Dallas. We are looking forward to showing you firsthand what these tractors are going to mean to you in greater production, lower labor costs, and more leisure time.

Hog Price Outlook Looking Better

College Station — The price outlook for hogs for the next few months is considerably brighter. John McHaney, extension economist, says that prices received by farmers in the last half of 1960 will be higher than those received in the last half of 1959. He says they will not, however, reach the peak prices of 1958, and the usual fall price decline can be expected.

McHaney explains this forecasted price rise by pointing out that the 1960 spring pig crop was down 16 percent from the 1959 spring crop. This decrease was brought about mainly because fewer sows farrowed and fewer pigs were produced per sow.

Spring prices in 1961 will be largely determined by the size of the 1960 fall crop, McHaney continues. According to the present crop forecast, the 1960 fall crop should be smaller than the 1959 crop, thus the prices received in the spring of 1961 should be higher than those received this year.

The specialist concludes with a word of warning for swine producers. He says there are indications that this downturn in production may be the shortest on record, and just because prices may be better in the last half of 1960 and in the first few months of 1961 is no reason to believe that prices will bring satisfactory returns to all producers in the last half of 1961.

Local Explorer Scouts First; Morton Intermediates Second in Swim Meet

Claiming three first places in six events, although they didn't have enough boys to field a team in the sixth event, Morton's Ship 444 Scouts won top honors in the George White District Swimming meet. Explorer Division, held at Morton Tuesday night.

Ela Oden's swimmers took first place in the first three events, Bobby Nieman winning the back stroke and br-east stroke and Lee Oden winning the side stroke. Littlefield's Post 41 finished strong to win the final event and post 17 points to Ship 444's 19 points.

In the intermediate division, Morton's Troop 101 gave Littlefield's Troop 38 another good run for their money before the team championship, 21 to 18. Marlin Doug Rose took first place in the breast stroke and Charles Ledbetter cupped first place in the free style individual for two of the locals three first places. The other came in the free style relay where the team of Rose, Ledbetter, Mike Doss and Mike McDermott romped to the championship.

In the junior division, Troop 125 of Levelland won the title hands down with a total score of 23 points to 11 for Sundown, their nearest competitors.

The meet was held at the Cochran County Swimming pool with local volunteers doing the directing, scoring, tabulating, judging, starting, and registering. A large group of boys was on hand to compete in the three junior divisions including Troops 125 and 111 from Levelland in the junior division; troops 109 and 125 from Levelland in the intermediate group; and Troop 109 and Post 111 from Levelland, the explorer group; Troop 40 from Sundown in the junior group; Troop 38 from Littlefield in the junior and intermediate group; Post 41 from Littlefield in the Explorer group; and the Morton troops.

A large group of spectators was also on hand to witness the meet which included the presenting of first, second and third place individual ribbons in each event and the team ribbons. Entries were so heavy that in four races, three preliminary heats, semi-finals and finals had to be run.

Obviously, it very much appears that Kintner was talking from a briefcase filled with abysmal ignorance. According to all records, Kintner has been practically all his life that new and growing class in Washington, the professional bureaucrat.

As such he has never had to move merchandise for a living. And in all fairness, anybody else with similar experience would be just as handicapped. After all, a Federal Trade chairman with no experience with Trade, will always look somewhat ridiculous.

For example, the nation's coffee roasters, big or small, by and large, would like to see grocers stop foothaling coffee prices around. It is known on a big weekend, a store will lose $5,000 to $15,000 on specially priced coffee. Of course, the loss to the grocer is problematical, as to compensate for this loss on coffee, the prices of other goods are scaled up, so in end consumer pays the cost anyway. But grocers "shoot the price" on a coffee in order to attract store traffic. So weekend "hot shots" on coffee by every big market have cancelled each other out, much as trading stamps lost their pulling power.

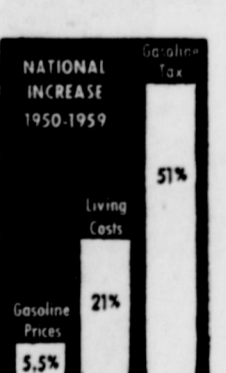

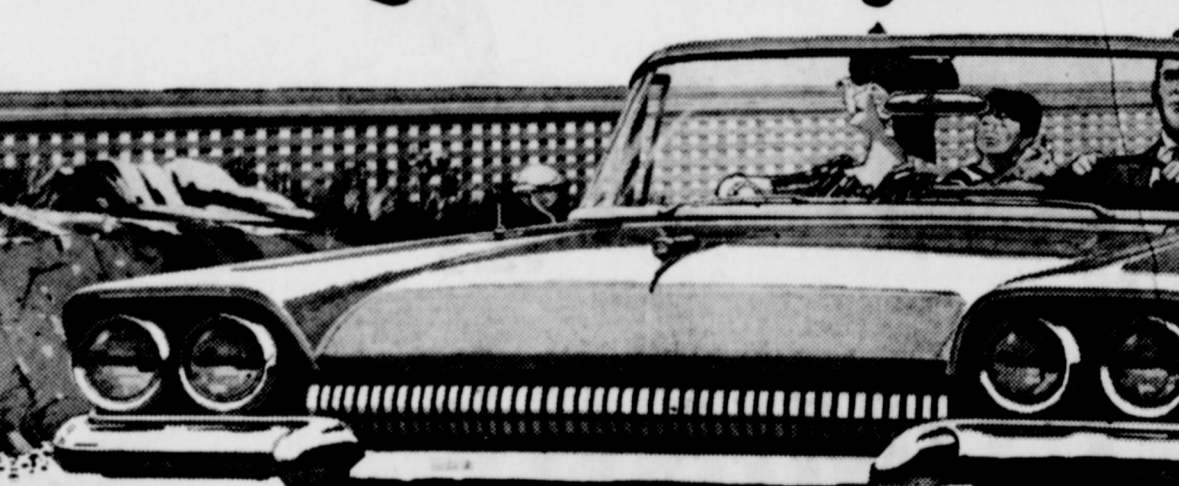

The bills which FTC Chairman Kintner through profound ignorance opposed, would have stopped this widespread fooling of the public. Many feel if FTC were to be headed by one who has been a good food broker, wholesaler or retailer, many problems would be solved.

Recently, appearing before House Interstate Commerce Committee Kintner opposed H. R. 10235 and other bills which would ban loss leader sales.

The committee had already been informed by Rep. Wright Patman, chairman House Small Business Committee, that this committee favored passage. Kintner took the stand that the bills would outlaw the use of different discounts and rebates, also saying that present laws can be used to curb loss leader sales. He did not explain, why.

IN TEXAS... You pay 90¢ tax on 10 gallons of gasoline

Gasoline taxes up 51% in ten years
 Federal tax to 4 cents a gallon, in addition to the State tax of 5 cents a gallon.

Looking at it another way, in the last ten years gasoline taxes have skyrocketed 51%—yet the price of gasoline itself has risen only 5.5% during the same period. $78 a year for gasoline taxes! Gallon by gallon, these taxes add up to a lot of money. Each year the average motor vehicle owner in this state pays $78 for gasoline taxes alone. That's just a few dollars less than the average week's pay for most people!

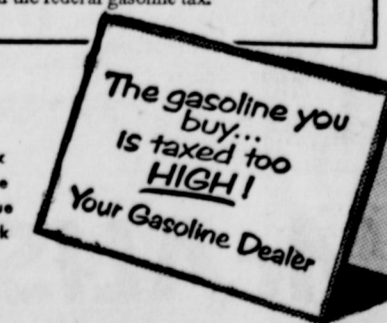

Everywhere in Texas, car owners pay 90¢ tax on every 10 gallons of gasoline they buy. Does a tax this high—on a basic commodity like gasoline—really make sense? Gasoline taxes across the nation amount to a 50% sales tax—and that's five times as high as the tax rate on luxuries like diamonds and mink coats.

How did gasoline taxes get so high? Well, since World War II, there have been three increases in the federal gasoline tax alone. This brought the

Your gasoline dealer—who must collect these taxes from you—feels that gasoline taxes are much too high. More and more, thinking people are coming to agree. What do you think?

HIGHWAYS AND GASOLINE TAXES
 Your gasoline retailer, naturally, favors construction of the roads that the motoring public needs. He believes in fair and reasonable taxation for this purpose but feels that taxes on gasoline have now reached unreasonably high levels. He also believes that all special taxes on the motorist should be used only for highway purposes. Yet last year, out of every automobile tax dollar collected by the Federal Government from highway users, more than 40 cents went for non-highway purposes. If these automotive tax revenues were dedicated for highway purposes, there would be no need for the latest increase in the federal gasoline tax.

Biggest Crowds Ever ... ? 1960 RODEO WINNERS NAMED; CROWD SEES WELL PACED SHOW

An estimated around 5,000 persons attended three performances of the 10th annual Texas Last Frontier Rodeo on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week, hailed as one of the best moving shows produced in Morton.

Exceptional times and exceptional rides were few and far between, but the pace of the show kept the audiences interested at each performance.

Biggest disappointment was in the bull riding division where the first two nights only one bull rider managed to stay on his mount. Perhaps the best showing was a 14.8 double mugging time posted by Raymond Hall with Bob Polvado as the muggler.

The parade went off very well with a total of 12 posess appearing. The Bernalillo County Sheriff Posse of Albuquerque won a special trophy for coming the farthest distance to compete. Hale County's Posse (Plainview) placed first; Hockley County, second; and Roosevelt County Mounted Patrol (Portales), third.

Fifteen queen candidates sold tickets until the last possible moment before Imogene Betts was officially named queen of the 1960 Rodeo. Her runner ups were Penney Farmer and Laquita Masten, in that order.

Here's how the final contestant money was divided: SADDLE BRONC RIDING (Overall money only, Five places) Cliff Allen, Earth, 177 Rusty Welch, Benjamin, 176 Jim Brock, Lubbock, 171 Cotton Barrington, Lubbock, 166 Ron Conaster, Matador, 166

RIDER OKAY ...

Bull Riding Proves Out Toughest Event

The brahma bull riding, on Thursday night, was one of the roughest events seen at a Morton show in many a year.

Although only one injury was recorded, in nine attempts at bull riding, only one bull was ridden, and bulls turned on four of the thrown riders, actually reaching two of them.

H. L. Lacy of Muleshoe was the injured rider. He was pitched off just as the bull cleared the chute, was thrown over the bull and the animal struck him as he came down. Then the bull wheeled and once again made a pass at Lacy, butting him in the head.

Lacy was carried to the Memorial Hospital where it was determined he had no broken bones, only severe lacerations, and he was back out at the show on Friday morning.

SOCIETY

MRS. ELLA PLEDGER HAS REUNION WITH SIX OF HER NINE CHILDREN LAST WEEK

A group of daughters of Mrs. Ella Pledger, and their families were united at the Pledger home here last Sunday, for some of them, the first reunion in nine years.

Mrs. Ella Pledger and son Reber were the hosts for the occasion. Five of eight daughters were present. Three, one from Oregon; one from Florida and one from El Paso were not able to attend.

Among those who gathered here, enjoying a Sunday dinner and an afternoon of picture taking and visiting were:

Mr. and Mrs. Art Root and son of Kalamazoo, Michigan, who are planning to stay for three weeks and who hadn't been together with Mrs. Pledger for three years; Mrs. F. C. Mallow and children of Crestview Florida, who can stay only a few days, and who hadn't been with the others for nine years; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ellis and family of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Kirk and family and Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Doyle of Morton. Also visiting was a granddaughter, Mrs. H. C. Woolsey and family of Stegall.

ANOTHER SON FOR ODENS

Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Oden of Paso announce the birth of a second son, Elra Clinton III, who arrived August 12 at 4 a. m. at El Paso weighing seven and one-half pounds. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Elra Oden and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Hiner of Morton. Mr. and Mrs. Oden returned to Morton Sunday and Mr. and Mrs. Hiner are expected home later this week. Both mother and son are reported doing "fine."

Barbara Ellis, Herschel White To Wed Sept. 3

Mr. and Mrs. John Ellis of Omaha have announced the engagement of their daughter, Barbara Jane to Herschel Veldon White, son of Mrs. Roy E. Smith of Morton and the late, Odell White.

Both are students at East Texas State Teachers College at Commerce.

The wedding will be held September 3 at the Methodist Church at Omaha, Texas.

Wedding Rites Set for Sunday

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Ballard of Ft. Worth invite the presence of all friends at the wedding of their daughter, Darlene, to James R. Gathright, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Gathright of Morton.

The ceremony is to take place at Melwood Ave. Baptist Church of Brownwood, Texas, Sunday morning, August 21, at 8:00 o'clock.

The couple plan to reside at Brownfield, Texas, where she will teach in the Brownfield schools and he plans to work in Brownfield.

4-H RECORDS CLINIC

Judy Willingham, Morton Junior High 4-H Club, explained how to fill out a Standard Report form and also how to assemble a 4-H Record at the Records Clinic held Monday afternoon in the County Activity Building. Judy attended 4-H Records Session at the 4-H Leadership Camp at Lubbock in July.

Others attending were Nancy Lynch, Diane Linder, Cloie Haralson, Mrs. Linder, and Leila Petty.

FREEZING MELON . . .

Is there still some room in your home freezer? If so, why not preserve some colorful melon cubes or balls for use later in the year . . . for dessert, salad or appetizer. Miss Marie Tribble, our Extension Foods and Nutrition Specialist at Texas A&M College says freezing melons is quick and easy to do.

For home freezing, select firm fleshed, well colored, ripe melons. Cut in half, remove seeds, and peel. Cut the peeled melon into cubes or cut in balls the size of large marbles using one of the small spoon-scoops sold for the purpose.

Pack into freezer containers and cover with cold syrup made in the proportion of 1 cup sugar to 2 cups water. Leave enough headspace for expansion in freezing — 1/2 inch for a pint container with a wide mouth opening and 1 inch for a similar quart container. Freeze at zero degrees F. or below and keep stored at zero.

Watermelon preserved this way might be used as a novelty first course for Christmas dinner, for example. Its attractive red fits the holiday color scheme.

You can also freeze cantaloupe and honeydew melons. Commercially frozen packages of melon balls usually include several kinds of melon for variety in color and flavor. Work out your own assortment from the melons available in your area.

FREEZING PEACHES

Make sugar syrup in proportion of 3 cups sugar to 4 cups water and add 1/2 teaspoon powdered citric acid per quart of syrup or ten 100 - milligram tablets. Pour about one-half cup of cold sugar syrup in pint freezer container. Sliced peeled peaches directly into the container.

Place crumpled freezer paper heavy waxer paper, or aluminum foil on top of peaches. This prevents the peaches from floating above the syrup. Seal and freeze immediately.

There are several brands of ascorbic acid preparations on the market. Follow directions on the package for their use.

TIME TO PICKLE PEACHES

Pickled peaches are colorful and tasty, especially as a relish. They are easy to prepare, so why not make the most of peaches while they are available.

Directions for making 6 pints call for 8 pounds of small or medium sized peaches without blemish, ripe but firm enough to hold their shape in cooking. Other ingredients: 2 tablespoons whole cloves; 8 two inch pieces stick cinnamon; 2 pounds sugar; 1 quart vinegar.

First, make the syrup mixture by cooking together sugar, vinegar and spices for 10 minutes. (Have spices tied loosely in a clean, thin, white cloth so that they can be removed easily later. Save out enough cloves to place two in each peach if desired.) Wash and pare the peaches, stick cloves in each, add to the syrup and cook slowly until tender but not broken. Let stand overnight next morning remove spice bags. Drain syrup from peaches. Boil rapidly until thickened. Pack peaches in clean, hot, sterile jars. Four hot syrup over peaches, filling jars to top. Seal tightly. Keep in a cool place several weeks before serving to blend flavor.

Recipes for other delicious fruit and vegetable pickles are given in Extension Bulletin 188, "Pickles and Relishes." Copies are available from this office.

Office Space for Doctors Discussed At Two Hospital Board Meetings

Office space for doctors held the attention of the Board of Managers of the Memorial Hospital at two called meetings this past week.

Saturday afternoon the managers met in the Commissioners Courtroom with Dr. C. G. Cogburn to discuss with him any success he had developed in regard to office space outside the hospital.

Monday night the managers met in the hospital dining room and again discussed the subject.

On Saturday afternoon the managers passed a resolution recommending to the Commissioners Court that the court work toward the purchase or construction of suitable office space for doctors near Memorial Hospital. One proposition presented the board was the offer by an individual to construct office space that would be leased to doctors. If constructed on county property, the county would be given an option to buy the building later.

No discussion as to size or cost was made since no one could say how many doctors would be needing space by any set date.

Other action included approval of a motion to invite Dr. Phil R. Russell, executive secretary and treasurer of the Texas Association of Osteopathic Physicians and Surgeons, to Morton to speak to area folks. Dr. Russell, a former member of the State Board of Health and the State Medical Board, indicated on his visit here earlier in the month he would aid in any way he could, the operation of the local hospital.

Bill Burkett Is New Manager of Phillips Station

In making the announcement, Burkett said the station will continue to offer the complete line of Phillips gasolines, lubricants, batteries, tires and other items.

He said the station will be open from 7 a. m. until 9 p. m. every day.

Assisting Burkett will be Donnie Word.

SCHOOL OPENS AUGUST 29TH . . .

Three Way School Faculty Is Complete; Extensive Remodeling and Repairs Add New Look to Plant

The Three Way School Board meeting in regular session on Monday night adopted the budget for the 1960-61 school term. They also elected two new teachers for the coming year. They are Mrs. Rose Ware, to teach the 4th grade and James Courtney, who is to be high school principal. They replace Mr. and Mrs. Charles Bowen who have moved to Smyer. Mr. Bowen will be high school principal at Smyer. This completes the faculty.

Other teachers and their teaching assignments are as follows: First grade - Mrs. May Williams; 2nd - Mrs. Fannie Walker; 3rd - Mrs. Lorena Carter; 5th grade - Ray Clay; 6th, 7th and 8th grade will be departmentalized. Mr. Elbert Adams will serve as school counselor; Katherine Sims will teach music and be librarian; Mrs. Leota Hardgrove will teach language arts; Ray Ware will teach high school science; Mrs. Betty Allsup will teach high school English and typing. Mr. Sam Mayo, coach and social science. Mrs. Betty Adams, Home Economics, Jack Tharp, agriculture; Mrs. Eloise (Iven) Prewett will teach mathematics in high school and Mr. Courtney will teach history.

The bus mechanic will be N. J. Goodnough and school custodians will be Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Prestone. Mrs. Naomi Julian will be the lunch room supervisor and will be assisted by Mrs. Viola Batteas and Mrs. Florence Fine. Mrs. Juanita Flanken will serve as Tax Assessor-Collector. Improvements this summer have been the complete remodeling of the lunch room and a new floor for the gymnasium as well as other general improvements. The public is invited to visit the school and inspect these improvements on Sunday afternoon, August 28 from 2 to 5 p. m.

All high school students are asked to register between 8 and 11 a. m. Friday, August 26th. All students will register at the same time. The buses will run for the first time on Monday August 29th. Lunch will be served for the first time that day. The price of lunches will be 30 cents, the same as last year. School insurance will be the same as last year with the same company. The price of the insurance will be three dollars per child for protection at school and school sponsored activities for the 9 month term. Insurance on a 24 hour basis 12 months a year can be secured for $8.00. Anyone interested in this insurance might contact school personnel.

There will be a school assembly at 9 a. m. Monday morning August 29th for the entire school. Parents are urged to be present for the opening assembly.

The first football game of the season will be Friday night September 2 at Three Way with Roaring Springs as the opponent.

Board members of the Three Way School are: President, Jack Furgerson; Secretary, Conrad Williams; Other members are George Tyson, Eugene Kenley, Earl Bowers and Leon Dupler.

Precautions Should Be Taken In Grain Storage

In many areas of the state, grain has been stored or is now in the process of being stored. Insects will damage much of this stored grain if preventative measures are not taken before storage. C. F. Garner and R. L. Ridgeway, extension entomologists, offer helpful hints on ways to prevent insect damage of stored grain.

One of the first requirements for proper grain storage is the use of adequate storage facilities. The specialists say. Grain storage structures should exclude all outside moisture, and they should be easily accessible for inspection and fumigation of the grain. Bins in which grain can be aerated are helpful in cooling or drying grain.

No matter how well the storage facilities are constructed, they cannot protect the grain unless they are clean. Before they are used, bins should be cleaned thoroughly of all waste material and sprayed with a residual spray. Old grain, trash or other debris furnishes excellent living quarters for insects, the entomologists continue. The specialists point out that good housekeeping practices in and around grain storage bins will aid in eliminating insect infestations.

Malathion has been approved for use in stored grain as a protectant against insects. The specialists report that a tolerance of eight parts per million has been established. If this chemical is applied before the grain is placed in final storage, it will greatly reduce the possibility of insect damage. Garner and Ridgeway suggest a conference with the county agent before grain harvest begins. The agent can supply valuable information and suggestions that may prevent sizable losses due to insect damage.
