

FIRST DRAWING SET

Santa To Appear In Friona On Saturday

In one of his recent editions editor Ben Ezzell of Canadian quoted a letter from a reader who wondered why the Texas flag on a political ad for Paul Eggers was upside down.

Ezzell explained that he had made up the ad from an Eggers campaign poster, and had submitted the copy in the correct manner to the local Republican leaders, who ran the ad in red-white-and blue.

However, the party leaders asked him to turn the flag upside down again. The reason turned out to be that it is against the law in Texas to use the Texas flag in any political advertisement.

Political leaders have discovered this fact, and have found a way around the law. Texas Republicans have learned that very few Texans notice when the position of the colors is reversed, and while it isn't the Texas flag legally and technically, nearly everybody thinks it is, and so it serves the purpose just as well.

Seems Texas Republicans found out the hard way in a recent election year about the flag law, when they had to junk a large quantity of campaign literature for Senator John Tower at the last minute.

So -- the next time you see a picture of an upside-down Texas flag in an advertisement, you'll know why it's upside down. At least, maybe you'll look at it twice.

And, speaking of Texas, we received in the mail this week a news release about a newly-published book which should prove of interest to those who like to study Texas history. The publication is a book-length documentation of the Mexican version of the famous Alamo battle.

General Miguel A. Sanchez Lamego, a distinguished Mexican historian and military man put the book together, and produced some challenging reading, mainly from information in the archives of the Ministry of Defense in Mexico City.

The book is entitled "The Weige and Taking of the Alamo," and was originally published in Mexico two years ago. It was translated into English by Dr. Consuelo Velasco, and was published by the Press of the Territorial, Box 1847, Santa Fe, New Mexico.

The 53-page book is available in bookstores, and includes some notes on the battle by the U.S. authority on Mexican military history, J. Heftner.

Another wild and woolly football contest is over, and this one held true to tradition, going right down to the wire before being decided. There hasn't been a contest in our memory when anyone won it with a comfortable lead going into the final week.

This year's contest was no exception, and really had a storybook ending for Winston Wilson, who picked two professional football upsets, and came from a point behind going into the final week to win by two points.

And, going into the final game on the weekly slate, the contest could have wound up in a three-way tie for first place. As it was, first place was uncontested, but second place came out in a tie-and a five-way tie at that.

It was such a tie that even the tie-breaker scores couldn't separate the two leaders for second place, so duplicate prizes were awarded.

Wilson, who did the coming from behind, said his secret was in going hurriedly through the list and turning his blank in early, since he was going out of town. "I lucked out on the Philadelphia-Detroit game, but I purposely picked the 49ers over Green Bay," Wilson said.

He was the second straight Wilson to win the Cotton Bowl tickets. Last year's winner was John Wilson.

You football fans are no doubt familiar with the rushing records which players such as Southern Cal's O.J. Simpson, West Texas State's "Mercury" Morris and Texas' Chris Gilbert. Did you know that the rushing mark of 1761 yards posted by Friona's Tony Perea tops the individual mark of any of these three college stars?

The first of three big downtown Christmas drawings, sponsored by Friona merchants is slated for 3:30 p.m. Saturday at the City Park, and will be highlighted by an appearance of Santa Claus beginning at 2 p.m. Santa will stay to talk with the kiddoes until 5 p.m.

Once again Friona area shoppers will be saluted by Friona merchants with a drawing each Saturday in December prior to Christmas. Merchandise worth over $1,000 will be given by local stores to 12 lucky shoppers during the course of the month.

A total of four prizes will be given each week, with each winner receiving merchandise certificates worth approximately $75 each.

Rules of the drawing are similar to those of the past two years. Those registering must be adults, and they must be present to win. A husband or wife may answer for the other if their name is called.

Friona shoppers will receive a ticket for the drawing with each $1 purchase made during December, or paid on account, at any of the participating stores.

Each week will feature a completely new drawing, as tickets will be destroyed following the weekly drawings.

The program is under the sponsorship of the Friona Association of Retail Merchants and the Friona Chamber of Commerce.

Mules are not returning to this year's tournament.

Xmas Card Project To Aid Friona Hospital

For the 13th consecutive year, Modern Study Club of Friona is sponsoring "Project Christmas Card," which is an annual benefit project for Parmer County Community Hospital.

To date, in the 12 previous campaigns, over $15,000 has been raised by the project. This money has been used to purchase a chest pump, a skin dermatone, an ironer, a chair bed, rockers, lighting equipment, room furniture and day room furnishings, just to name a few. One year the money went into the hospital's building fund drive.

Besides signing up at Friona State Bank, contributors to the fund may do so at other locations, including Parmer County Community Hospital, Foster's Bi-Wize Drug, Hurst's Department Store and Friona Star. Boxes are also located this year for the first time at Friona Schools.

LEADERS STUMBLE

Wilson Picks Upsets, Wins Top Bowl Prize

Winston Wilson picked a pair of upsets, both professional games and emerged as the 1968 champion in the Friona Star's Cotton Bowl football contest.

Wilson's strong finish, which turned out to be the high score for the week as well as 12 correct games, brought him from a point behind going into the last week to a win by two points, with a score of 127.

Five contestants were in the runnerup spot at 125 points, and as it was impossible to resolve the tie between the two with the best tie-breaker scores, each will be awarded runner-up prizes at the Sun Bowl game. The two tying contestants were Owen Drake and Paul Mohr.

Also tallying 125 points, but missing out on grand prizes, were Conrado Bautista, Raymond Milner and Joyce Veazey. Milner and Mrs. Veazey were each in the top three a year ago, with Milner getting the Sun Bowl tickets and Mrs. Veazey placing third.

A point back at 124 were John Baca, Dean Blackburn and Sam Mears. Pam Hartwick, Bobby Wied and Emmett Tabor stood at 123 and Floyd S. Reeve and Clarence Monroe totaled 122.

The contest was one of the most hotly-contested in recent years, with over 100 contestants topping 100 points for the year. Going into the last game on the slate, the San Francisco vs Green Bay affair, there was a possibility of a six-way tie for first place.

Wilson won the contest by correctly picking San Francisco over Green Bay, as well as Philadelphia over Detroit on Thanksgiving.

Edward White was the other contestant getting 12 games, and he won the $5 weekly prize by missing the Dallas-Washington score by only two points. He picked it 27-20, when the score was actually 29-20. Wilson was only six points off, guessing the score at 34-21. He took second in the week's contest.

Fifteen contestants picked 11 games correctly, and W.R. Mabry was the champion score-picker among this group. Mabry also missed the score by less than 10 points.

Lazbuddie Plays For Regional

The Lazbuddie Longhorns won their hi-district game over Groom last Friday, 26-6, to advance to the class B regional finals against Throckmorton this week.

The win, the 11th without a loss for the Longhorns this year, was also the 15th consecutive win for Lazbuddie over a two-year period. Quarterback Troy Steinbock led the attack, gaining 127 yards rushing and completing four of eight passes for 71 yards and two touchdowns. He also scored a touchdown to give him 142 points for the season.

Steinbock hit Darrell Matthews on a 34-yard scoring play in the first quarter to start the scoring. Late in the half, Steve Foster scored from the three for a 12-0 Lazbuddie lead at the half.

In the third quarter, Steinbock threaded his way 38 yards and Foster passed to Monte Barnes for two points and a 20-0 lead. With 45 seconds left, Frank Hinkson gathered in a nine-yard TD pass from Steinbock to make it 26-0. Groom scored in the final 15 seconds to avert a shutout.

Hinkson has gained 1,254 yards this season, and also has scored over 100 points.

The project was undertaken by the Friona American Legion Auxiliary.

Pause And Reflect

By Nelson Lewis

"Backward, turn backward, O Time, in your flight, Make me a child again just for tonight!"

This quote is from the first stanza of Elizabeth Aker Allen's poem "Rock Me To Sleep" written in 1860; suggest you read it sometime, its lovely.

Someone has said that youth is such a wonderful thing its a pity to waste it on the young.

Perhaps it is only when the setting sun lengthens one's shadow that a backward glance into the afterglow of youth becomes attractive.

Or perhaps nostalgia is one of the special rewards of age. Whatever the reason, the past was pleasantly resurrected for me last Sunday afternoon.

Glendell Baird, one of our "daughters," came by for a visit and brought a stack of old "phonograph" records that she received from her grandmother.

How long has it been since you heard Ruth Etting do a song? Gene Austin presented his new hit - "Someday Sweetheart" and the Ipana Troubadours entertained us with several "Fox trots."

The grand finale was a vocal rendition of "Eleven more Months and Ten More Days!"

Yes, friends, it's been a very eventful half century. Yesterday, a "talking machine" and a "Brownie" camera were the last word in entertainment.

Today many homes have stereos, several radios, color and black and white T.V., tape recorders, movie and still cameras, projectors, pianos, organs and a variety of band and orchestra instruments.

If appreciation has kept pace with mechanical development today's youngsters should have pleasant memories indeed.

The second nice thing that happened Sunday afternoon was getting to look through an old, old book entitled "The Trail Drivers of Texas."

Henry White brought it by and we two old history buffs found much to interest us in its yellowed pages.

And guess what?

The first meat packing plant in Texas was located at Rockport, a small town on route 35 about 31 miles north of Corpus Christi.

Do you suppose the name "Rockport" has some special significance relating to packing houses?

The early Texas venture was established by a Mr. W.S. Hall from Athens, Maine.

He came by boat to Indianola, then by stage to San Antonio, one hundred and ten years ago.

He operated his packing plant for eight years and slaughtered over 40 thousand head of cattle.

The biggest year saw 11 thousand killed and more than one thousand barrels of meat sold in New Orleans.

Mechanical refrigeration was unknown and manufactured ice was still a dream, but he developed a system of packing beef and salt in barrels so that he could ship to New York and even to European cities.

Nor did this pioneer businessman overlook the "by-products."

Beef tallow was melted and poured into hogsheds whose net weight was 11 hundred pounds.

This product found ready buyers in the United States as well as foreign countries and sold for eight and one half cents per pound.

Sometime during 1865 Mr. Hall had seven thousand cattle stolen from him by Mexicans.

He followed into Mexico but government red tape made their return impractical.

Mr. Hall registered a complaint with the authorities in Washington D.C. and in 1872 a commission was sent to Mexico to negotiate for the cattle's return.

An arrangement was reached and indemnity claims were filed in our capital city.

That's the last Mr. Hall ever heard of the stolen cow writers. Sounds familiar doesn't it?

While we are remembering Pearl Harbor on Sat. Dec. 7th, let us hope that those people in high places will remember the Pueblo as well.

Church Choirs Working On Christmas Cantatas

Three choirs of Friona's First Baptist Church are working to present Christmas cantatas during the next few weeks. The junior choir, ages nine through eleven, is working to present on Wednesday, Dec. 18, a Christmas cantata by Robert Graham, "Lo! A Star." Myra Sue Day is the accompanist for the junior choir. Also, on this same evening a caroling is being planned for the entire congregation.

The combined intermediate choir, ages twelve through thirteen, and chapel choir, ages fourteen through eighteen, will present on Sunday evening December 15th, a cantata by D. Duane Blakeley, "From Heaven to Men." It will feature the "Tune Hitters," a special singing group and three instrumentalists: trumpet, played by Larry Johnston; flute, played by Janet Mings; and Oboe, played by Donna Jo Parr. Rex Talley and Esther Smith are the accompanists for these two choirs. This is the largest singing group in the church and will feature approximately seventy singers.

"Joy to the World," a cantata by John W. Peterson will be presented by the adult choir on Sunday evening, December 22. This cantata contains many of the well beloved Christmas carols and hymns, and is interwoven into the message of God's love toward man.

Paula Fortenberry and Bill Ellis will be the featured soloists, and Richard Collard is to be the narrator. Mrs. Eva Miller and Mrs. Jo Witten will accompany the choir on the organ and piano respectively.

Walter Falkenberg, Minister of Music, will conduct each of the above choirs. Rev. Bill Foll is pastor of the First Baptist Church. The Sunday evening services will begin at 7 p.m. and the Wednesday performance will be at 7:30 p.m. The public is cordially invited to any or all of the presentations.

THE HUMIDIFIER THAT THINKS FOR ITSELF

Once upon a time a genie from Aladdin's lamp brought him everything he wanted and became his devoted slave. . . Now there's a humidifier that knows better than you how to maintain the moisture level in your home and keep it the way you want it as silently, continuously and faithfully as Aladdin's genie.

However, unlike the enchanted lamp—said to have been un-gainly and tarnished—this elegant new unit is contained in a handsome console so smartly styled that it's a decorator's piece. Place a plant, flower arrangement or your favorite bric-a-brac on top and your friends will never know that under its rich walnut wood-grain exterior, you have a household "slave" working for you night and day.

out a constant moisture level by operating continuously without starts or stops.

This new breed of humidifier, developed by Arvin Industries, breathes out moistened air comfort without so much as a whisper. This is the result of a uniquely designed humidistat solid state control which meters

Additional conveniences include a red "Refill" light and automatic shut-off switch. 10-gallon corrosion resistant water tank, a double layer foam pad which removes dust particles from the air and easy top-of-the-box controls.

Albert Wolfington Gets Health Dept. Citation

An official State Health Department citation for work proficiency has been awarded to Albert Lee Wolfington, Friona wastewater superintendent. The citation is reflective of the high regard in which Wolfington is held by state water officials.

Signed by the State Health Commissioner and authorities of the Texas Water Utilities Association, the certificate of competency is awarded only to those utility plant operators who have successfully demonstrated their skill and knowledge in modern principles of plant management.

To qualify for certification, a plant operator must have accumulated a prescribed amount of actual work experience. He must also have attended both regional and statewide short schools at which the techniques of water treatment and waste water disposal are taught, and must have passed an examination given by State Health Department sanitary engineers.

State law requires that at least one operator per shift be certified for competency by health department engineers, but many operators seek certification on their own time and at their own expense to increase their efficiency as key public servants to their community and state.

The engineers said the attainment reflects the efforts of Wolfington to better prepare himself for the duties of his profession.

GETS CERTIFICATE. . . Albert Wolfington is shown with a certificate of competency which he earned from the Texas State Department of Health through his work with the city sewage department.

Citizens Urged To Mail Early

Postmaster Wright Williams reminded Friona postal patrons this week of the large volume of mail which the local office must handle in the next few weeks, and requested their help in getting the mail worked as quickly as possible.

"We ask the continued cooperation of Christmas mailers in mailing early during the month, and especially early in the day when you do your mailing," Williams said.

Williams pointed out that the mail leaves Friona at 5:30 each afternoon, and in order for the local office to have the mail ready for the mail truck, the mail should be in the office early in the day -- the earlier the better.

"In many cases it will save mailers a full 24 hours, if they get their mail in too near to the deadline for our tie-out," Williams said.

On parcel post packages that are Christmas packages, mailers may attach the words "Do not open until Christmas" without cost, if they desire to mail the packages early.

Mail users are also reminded to put a list inside each package describing contents and to whom the package is sent, as well as their own return address, so that if the package becomes broken and contents are separated the Post Office Department will have some way to make identification and delivery. Another good idea is to securely wrap and tie the parcels so that the trouble mentioned above will be avoided.

Postmaster Williams urged that all patrons use their return addresses on all mail. "If you get your mail on a city route, use that return address, and if you get it in a box, use it. We have had city delivery for five months now, and corrections should have been made by now," Williams stated.

The Friona postmaster closed with a reminder that if mail is left at the local post office early in the day, every effort would be made to get the mail delivered as soon as possible.

Aaron Drager Serves In Vietnam Forces

Equipment Operator Constructionman Aaron A. Drager, USN, 23, Son of Mr. and Mrs. John P.A. Drager of Route 2, Friona, Tex., is serving with U.S. Naval Mobile Construction Battalion 121 in Vietnam. His unit is on its second deployment to Vietnam and is providing construction support to U.S. and Allied forces in the five northernmost provinces of South Vietnam.

In Vietnam, the "Seabees" provide technical assistance to villagers with construction projects. They also build airstrips, temporary housing, port facilities, fuel storage tanks, drill water wells and construct other facilities as they become necessary.

As the "Seabees" conduct the routine job of construction in support of combat forces, they may become targets for enemy snipers. When such incidents occur, the builders become defenders and put to use the combat skills they acquired through hours of training.

A string on the finger is a good reminder that December 21, the shortest day of the year (and the longest night) is the annual alert, initiated by the makers of "Eveready" batteries. It is a good time to check all flashlights in the home and car to be sure they will work when needed.

THE FAMILY LAWYER

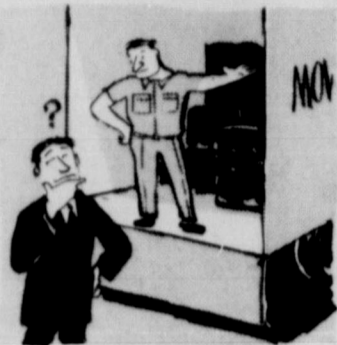

Moving Day

What to take with you, when you move out of a rented house or apartment, is not only a question of space in the moving van. It is also a question of law. Which things belong to you, which to the landlord?

Obviously, equipment he supplied when you moved in—usually shown on an inventory list—is still his. But what about things you yourself added during your stay, like curtains and bookshelves?

As a general rule, you are indeed entitled to take out whatever you put in. The basis for this rule is "probable intention." The law feels that a tenant's intention in making improvements is usually to make his own occupancy more enjoyable, not to better the landlord's real estate.

But the opposite intention is possible too. Take this case:

A woman tenant, moving out of a rented bungalow, wanted to dig up the shrubs she had planted in the back yard. But a court held she had no right to do so, because the usual intention in planting shrubs is to let them stay.

"They are dependent upon the soil in which they are placed for their very existence," said the court, "and are of course a part of the realty."

Besides intention, the law will also weigh a second factor: the method by which the item is attached to the premises. The slighter the attachment, the stronger the tenant's right of removal.

Thus, a tenant who installed a gas stove was allowed to take it out because it could be disattached simply by loosening a single screw, with no harm at all to the property. But another tenant was not allowed to take out linoleum, cemented down so tightly that removing it would have ruined the floor.

Of course, the same item might be attached in different ways. The old-fashioned bathtub, standing free on its own legs, was ordinarily removable by the tenant who put it in. But not the modern bathtub, solidly built into place.

If a tenant has doubts about the right of removal, he ought to seek an understanding with his landlord before the improvement is put in. At that time, the chances of a friendly agreement are a lot better than they will be on moving day.

Medicare Patients Will Pay First $44 Of Costs

"Beginning in January, an older person who goes to the hospital under Medicare will be responsible for the first $44 of his hospital bill (now running about $600 for the average hospital stay by a Medicare beneficiary)," Wayne Klipping, social security Field Representative for this area, reported today.

The $4 increase (from the present $40 deductible) results from a provision in the law requiring an annual review of the deductible amount. The first such review, the law provided, was to be made in 1968.

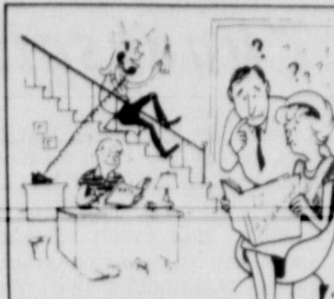

The law specifies that if this annual review shows that hospital costs have changed significantly, the hospital deductible amount must be adjusted for the following year. Necessary increases in the deductible amount are to be made in $4 steps to avoid small annual changes.

Following the formula in the law, and figuring the ratio of in-patient hospital costs under Medicare in 1966 with those in 1967, the deductible amount for 1969 came to $45.36. Rounded to the nearest multiple of $4, this will make the deductible $44 for 1969.

Anyone wishing any information about this change or any other phase of Medicare or social security should see Klipping in the Council Room at the City Hall from 9 a.m. until noon on the third Tuesday of each month.

TEEN PSYCHOLOGY

Why—in manner and bearing—are some teen-agers clearly adults, while others are still children? Very often it's the teen-ager's parents who make the difference. Don't wait for your teen-ager to "outgrow" certain adolescent problems. Acne, say the makers of Ice-O-Derm, is a potential psychological as well as physical scarer, and should be dealt with seriously.

Cub Pack To Reorganize Soon

There will be a re-organizational meeting of Cub Scout Pack 56 Tuesday night, December 10 at 7:00 p.m. in the Grade School Cafeteria. All parents of Cub Scout age boys (8, 9, or 10 before Jan. 1), are urged to attend and bring the youngsters, according to Alton Farr, Cub Scout Neighborhood Commissioner for Friona.

A film, "What Cub Scouting Is", will be shown and questions will be answered by George Ochs, District Scout Director from Hereford.

"There is a need for getting these little fellows into the scouting program here in Friona," Ochs says.

He hopes parents will attend this meeting and back their sons in getting this pack organized.

ITEM: When meat is divided into pieces or left in a large piece to be cooked by one of the moist heat methods, brown before adding liquid. Browning, especially when seasoned flour is used, is a way to develop more palatable flavor as well as attractive color. Stews and pork roasts are richer in color when they're browned first.

Memo to Wise Males

Don't give the lady on your list her "favorite perfume" this Yule. Chances are more than good that she already has a formidable supply of her favorite fragrance. Instead, suggest Caron experts, select a scent that expresses her "undiscovered" self, that hidden facet she never dreamed you knew existed.

For example, the sporty miss who usually wears a mossy, leafy fragrance like Tabac Blond, would light up with glee if you choose Narcisse Noir, that arousing, exotic floral bouquet fragrance.

Conversely, the devoted feminist, who wears single florals such as Bellodgia or lily-of-the-valley Le Muguet would be thrilled with elegant Nuit de Noel, a regal Oriental perfume.

And instead of sweets to the sweet like Les Pois De Senteur, an authentic sweet pea scent, tell her you know all about her sparkle and brilliance with Caron's most famous modern blend, exciting Fleurs de Rocaille.

Of course, you might select two surprising scents. For there's even more than two sides of the female coin. She may be a one-man-woman—but assured she's not a one-perfume one!

There's nothing more enjoyable than giving or receiving a special gift. So, here is a special gift idea. A Patio Pair... a gas light and gas barbecue grill.

But, you're thinking, "Christmas seems like a strange time to give a gas light and grill!"

Not at all. As soon as the weather begins to warm, you'll start thinking about getting outside again. Won't a gas light and a gas barbecue grill make those backyard get-togethers a lot more fun?

Give the family a Patio Pair for Christmas.

If you buy now, you'll get a handsome dinner bell FREE.

Legal Advice Is Theme Of Club Meeting

The theme of the Tuesday evening meeting of Progressive Study Club at Federated Club House was, "Happenings, Legal Like." As each member answered roll call, she asked a question pertaining to wills, guardianship of minor children, disposition of property or other legal matters in which she was particularly interested.

Mrs. Bill Ellis presented the meditation, which was a poem depicting the unexpectedness of death. A comical skit entitled "The Bickersons," was presented by Mrs. Clarence Monroe and Mrs. Philip Weatherly. Friona Residents Carry On Thanksgiving Day Tradition

Since the first Thanksgiving Day, turkey has been the most popular meat dish for tables all over the nation. Another custom that hasn't changed since the Pilgrims first observed Thanksgiving Day is that of families and friends getting together for a day of fellowship.

Frionans helped carry on the tradition by visiting or inviting others to visit in their homes.

A Thanksgiving Day dinner in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Miller with Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Graham as co-hosts has become an annual affair. This year's guests were Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Shaw and children, David and La Nita, Rush Springs, Oklahoma, and Mr. and Mrs. Arlen May, Keith and April, Amarillo.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Hardy May Mr. and Mrs. Roy V. Miller Sr., Gail and Ky Graham and Kent, Curt and Dana Miller.

The Frionans were guests of honor at a Thanksgiving Day dinner at Tulsa Boys Home, where Dillon is the director. Mrs. Dillon is the former Denise Magness.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Brown, Oliverhurst, Illinois, have returned to their home after spending several days visiting in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown. The men are brothers.

The Winston Wilson family spent the weekend visiting in the Houston-Rosenburg area. They visited Jimmy and Jean Baimum and children at Houston and Mary Ethel Wilson, who teaches at Rosenberg. Jean and Mary Ethel are Wilson's daughters.

The Wesley Fosters drove to Albuquerque Wednesday morning then flew to the Los Angeles area where they were weekend visitors in the home of Pat and Dee Galles. They attended a new musical. Upon their return to Albuquerque Monday they found the city covered with a five or six inch blanket of snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Matt Brown and daughter, Glo, spent the weekend with the George Browns and Mrs. Beck Murray and children at Byers. Steve Brown, son of the Matt Browns and a freshman student at Abilene Christian College, also spent the weekend there.

GUEST ARTIST PRESENTS PROGRAM. . . Mrs. Blanche Lenderson, Muleshoe artist, presented the program at the Tuesday evening meeting of New Horizons Junior study club at Federated Club House. She is pictured here with some of her paintings. She displayed oils and water colors and discussed methods of painting pictures. Mrs. Lenderson has paintings hanging in several towns and is one of the area's best known artists and teachers.

Ethiopian Missionary Calvary Guest Speaker

Guest speaker at Calvary Baptist Church on two different occasions recently has been Mrs. Gordon Wright, an Ethiopian missionary. She spoke briefly at the Sunday evening service November 24.

Mrs. Wright also addressed a joint meeting of the Women's Missionary Union and the auxiliaries at 3:30 p.m. Tuesday. Rev. and Mrs. Wright were sent to Addis Ababa, the capital city of Ethiopia, about two years ago. They were accompanied to their destination by one daughter, Janna. Another daughter, Karla, who is one, came back to the states with her mother.

Wright, the son of Mrs. Juanita Wright, is a graduate of Friona High School. He is also a graduate of Texas Technological College and Baptist Bible College at Springfield, Mo. Mrs. Wright also is a graduate of Baptist Bible College.

Mrs. Wright and Karla have been guests in the home of her husband's mother and also visited Mr. and Mrs. Gene Wright and children, Kirk and Gena.

They were accompanied to Amarillo by Mrs. Juanita Wright and flew from there to Tennessee for a visit with relatives before returning to Addis Ababa next week.

Thirty Attend Housewarming

About thirty persons were present for a surprise housewarming honoring Mrs. Philip Weatherly in her new home Friday morning.

Hostesses were Mrs. Wesley Barnett and Mrs. George Frye. Refreshments of Hot Dr. Pepper and cake were served following the presentation of gifts.

Now that we have Thanksgiving Day behind us -- and what a joyous occasion it was -- most of us will be running in circles around ourselves getting ready for Christmas. Think if we were absolutely honest, we would admit that we are glad it comes but once a year. There are so many things to do which are fun and it seems that every one of us think we have to do everything.

Maybe some future generation will have the foresight to choose a few projects then concentrate on them and forget the rest. One of our most enjoyable customs is that of sending and receiving Christmas cards, but how many of us make a chore of sending them instead of an enjoyable task.

Sending and receiving Christmas cards, especially those we don't often see or hear from, makes Christmas even more meaningful. It's fun to receive handwritten notes on Christmas cards or included in them.

If you want to personalize your cards to bring warm greetings into the homes of your friends and loved ones, by all means sign them and include a personal message.

It is best to sign the man's name first -- Joe and Jane Gray -- and never Mr. and Mrs. If children's names are to be included on your greetings they should follow the husband's and wife's.

Locally, the problem of greeting our neighbor and friends with whom we come in contact almost daily has been pretty well solved for us. About ten years ago Modern Study Club initiated Project Christmas Card and since that time other clubs, civic organizations and individuals have supported it each year.

The following information is for the benefit of our newcomers to Friona.

Each year Frionans contribute the amount of money they would expect to spend for Christmas cards to be mailed locally and the postage which would be required to mail them to a special fund marked, "Project Christmas Card."

Then in the Christmas edition of the Friona Star there is a giant Christmas greeting card listing the names of all contributors. All proceeds from the project go to the purchase of some needed item of equipment for Parmer County Community Hospital.

There is nothing to join, no dues to be paid, nor any further obligation. All you need do is take the amount of money you purpose to deposit in the fund to the bank or to any of the other designated stations before the deadline, which will be announced at a later date, and write your name as you wish it to appear on the Christmas card which will appear in the Star's Christmas edition.

This must have been "Friona Weekend" at High Plains Baptist Hospital in Amarillo. Susie Spring, daughter of Dr. Paul and June Spring; Tim Rhodes, a student at West Texas State University, Canyon, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Rhodes; Mrs. Wana Brewer, an elementary teacher; Mrs. Don Reeve; and the former Connie Vaughn, daughter of the Richard Vaughns of the Rhea Community were all patients there at the same time. Surely relatives of the patients didn't have to sit for long periods of time in the lobby alone. Think everybody is home now.

"Our 21st Christmas in Friona"

"You Should See The Other Guy!"

As a boy it was so easy to justify a fight. Publicly you gloated over your opponent's bloody nose (and privately you wished that his had been the black eye with its more-lasting embarrassment). But, somehow, the victory alone excused the battle.

As an adult how do you view the matter? Would the possibility of bloody victory be sufficient justification for attempting to beat the tar out of some irritating neighbor? You might be arrested for disturbing the peace... assault and battery!

But that is not the real reason we control brutal impulses. The real reason lies deep in our Christian heritage: --a sense of human dignity... --respect for fairness and justice regardless of might... --the belief that peace can be a blessing for weak and strong alike... --that patient understanding can enrich life.

Rooted in the same Christian faith are other great principles of life which challenge men's hearts and minds. We seek to understand and apply them as we worship God in our churches. They are essential in a world still threatened with a return to the black eye and bloody nose... or something worse.

ANDY HURST

Hurst Wins Trip In Sales Contest

Andy Hurst, Jr. of Parmer County Implement Co., Friona, today was recognized as winner of an all-expense paid trip to Puerto Rico as the result of his successful participation in the "Grow and Go" farm equipment sales campaign just completed by the International Harvester Company.

The nation-wide sales campaign was based on the retail deliveries of tractors, balers, combines and special industrial equipment manufactured by International Harvester, Parmer County Implement Co. was in competition with other I-H dealers of like size in this region.

Mr. and Mrs. Hurst will fly by jet to Puerto Rico, where they will be the guest of International Harvester Company at the Americana in San Juan.

It is the second such trip which the Hursts have won, as they were awarded a trip to the Bahama Islands last year.

COTTON HARVEST. . . The area's cotton harvest has passed the peak stage with most growers in the "finishing up" stage. The crop was somewhat better than the past two years, but still short of pre-season estimates by growers and ginners.

Stores are crowded and Christmas shopping is in full swing. To finish Christmas shopping without being exhausted and broke is a goal that should be set by each. Here are a few basic rules: First, do some planning. Make a list of what you want to give each person and how much money you can actually afford to spend.

The smart person keeps within his financial limits and will remember the following shopping commands:

Never expect something for nothing—expect to pay a reasonable price.

Resist impulse buying—remember your list and stick to it.

Nothing can ruin a holiday faster than the thoughts of more bills than you can pay.

Ask yourself these questions: Do I need it? Will it make the person that I am buying it for happy? Would he like it, and does he need it? Can I afford it?

LIQUID FEED SUPPLEMENT

Just let a Red Barn Bull Shipper dealer drive up to the feeder and the stampede is on. Cattle go for the protein, minerals and vitamins that they don't get enough of, in hay, grass and forage.

Cattle eat better and are in better health and condition. When Bull Shipper supplement is fed. Call your Red Barn dealer for the details about how he does all the work while you reap the profits.

Know prizes, quality, advertising techniques, store reputation, labels, and brands help to get more for your money. It takes time to be informed but it pays off.

Use your head to save your heels before you Christmas shop.

Establish Good Credit Habits

When Does It Make Sense To Use Credit? — One good reason — emergencies, necessities, rather than luxuries, durable goods and services with long-lasting benefits (like education). It's not considered wise to use credit for things which are used up (like food) before they are paid for.

Another good reason is for keeping savings intact for emergencies. If you can repay loan without strain.

When you have a steady income and don't have too many other debts and payments, Credit men say it should not exceed 20% of your take home pay for the year.
