

Thompson's is burgled Wednesday night; second break-in in past week for local druggist

For the second time in a week Wednesday night, intruders broke into the Thompson's Pharmacy in downtown Floydada.

Jerry Thompson, owner of the business, said that this time, the burglars broke off with approximately $350 worth of merchandise. On the first attempt, the merchandise was removed from the store.

Passing Floydada police car spotted the smashed glass panel on the pharmacy and noticed an electric blender lying in the street, apparently dropped by the burglars.

The thieves broke the glass panel to get into the store. In the earlier break-in the opposite panel was broken again.

After inspecting the damage and contents of the building, Thompson said that an estimated eight knives, the police found on the break-in and possibly two portable radios were taken from the store.

"We've been pretty lucky," Thompson commented Wednesday morning. "Both break-ins the police apparently scared by and frightened away the burglars."

Thompson also said that there were probably a few other odds and ends that were not apparent on the first report of the loss.

ROLLOVER — Two Dougherty women reportedly were injured Monday night when they rolled this automobile coming home from Cedar Hill.

December was a busy month

City firemen respond to 67 alarms during 1979

A minor grease fire in the kitchen at King's Restaurant on Houston Street Dec. 29 was the last call that Floydada Volunteer Fire Department firefighters responded to in 1979.

The volunteer firemen logged 67 fires during the year, with 43 occurring inside the city limits and the remainder in the county.

December was a particularly busy month for the volunteers. In the final month of the decade the firemen responded to 14 alarms.

Of the December fires, five were cotton-related, two were grease fires, one gas storage tank burned, two cars went up in flames, three grass fires occurred and one house caught fire.

Damage in all the December fires was reported as being minor. No one suffered any injuries.

June was the least busy month for local firefighters, with not a single call turned in that month.

The 1979 alarm total was lower than 1978, when the department responded to 78 fires. But only 38 of the 1978 fires were in the city limits.

Holiday traffic accidents injure three around county

Holiday merrymaking took its toll on Floyd County motorists the past few days, with four accidents, two unconfirmed at press time, being reported in the county.

In Floydada, one man was slightly injured when his automobile collided with an unknown vehicle on Twelfth Street early Tuesday morning.

Malcolm Roberts, a Memphis, Texas, resident, told Floydada police that he was driving north in the 500 block of Twelfth Street at 1:40 a.m. New Year's Day when the other car pulled out of a private driveway and into Roberts' path.

Roberts said the other vehicle left the scene without stopping after the accident and fled west.

The Memphis man was treated at Caprock Hospital and released.

Floydada police also reported a one-car accident near downtown Floydada on New Year's. The vehicle went into the bar ditch in the 300 block of East Missouri Street at 5:15 a.m. and struck a culvert.

F.L. Williams, of Floydada, told police that he was traveling east on Missouri before dawn when a dog ran into the road. The driver reportedly swerved to miss the animal and lost control of the car.

Williams was not injured in the incident.

Early information indicated that two young Dougherty women sustained injuries when their automobile overturned late New Year's Eve.

One woman was treated and released from Caprock hospital following the accident and the other was released from the hospital on Wednesday.

The two women and another companion reportedly were returning from the Cedar Hill community when they failed to successfully negotiate a curve in the highway.

Another accident reportedly occurred near the Aiken community about the same time, but no details were available at press time.

Floydada deposits rise 12 percent

Deposits on hand at the close of business Dec. 31 at the First National Bank of Floydada rose 12 percent over same period last year, according to president Tom Farris.

Farris reported that deposits in the bank stood at $31,441,165.98 on Monday, Dec. 31, 1979. In 1978, the deposits reached $28,072,000 at the end of the year.

FNB Floydada also reported holding $1,119,250 net in loans, a slight increase from the 1978 figure of $1,019,150.

The First National Bank of Lockney reported figures citing deposits on hand at the close of business Monday of $1,184,710.

Loans being held by FNB-Lockney amounted to $7,329,657.79.

Joe Cluck gets senior vice president spot at FNB

Floydadan Joe Cluck has more reason than most for welcoming the new year. As the ninth decade of the twentieth century began, Cluck became the newest senior vice president at the First National Bank of Floydada.

Rising in the organization from vice president to one of only two senior vice president spots may be a promotion.

Cluck told the Hesperian Wednesday, but he expects to be doing much the same job as before. His major duty is to handle loans for his customers.

"It's hard to describe exactly what I really do," Cluck said, "since each office is a full service office. We're not departmentalized, so everyone does just about everything. We feel it gives the service a more personal aspect."

A native of Gruver, Texas, Cluck moved to Floydada with his wife, Elaine, and their children, Cory, nine years, and Adriane, five years old, to accept his first job with FNB-Floydada. Prior to coming here, he was an installment loan officer with a Stratford, Texas, bank.

Cluck received his bachelor's degree in business administration from North Texas State University in Denton.

Among his many civic commitments in Floydada, Cluck is active as the secretary of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, unit chairman of the Salvation Army, a member and director of the Floydada Lions Club and president of the Floydada Rodeo Association. Cluck also holds a seat on the Floyd County Economic Development Committee as chairman of the industrial subcommittee.

The Cluck family attends the First Methodist Church of Floydada.

ALPHA AND OMEGA OF THE DECADE

I heard a news commentator say last week that most people are calendar conscious and that the decade of the 1980s would not really end until the year 2000. However, those of us who are "thus uneducated" are going along with the idea that the end of the 1970s ushered in not only 1980, but the new decade of the eighties.

With this in mind, here are some items from the beginning of the 70's which changed before the beginning of the 80's.

At the beginning of the 1970's...
 Walter Hollums was the sheriff of Floyd County. Today Fred Cardinal is sheriff.

Alma Holmes, B.A. Robertson and Marshall Formby were owners of FLP. Today, Bo Johnson.

J. Handley was Justice of the Peace. Today, Walter Hollums.

L. Holmes was county judge. Today, Choise Smith.

Today, Jerry Cannon.

Wendell Tooley was publisher—editor of The Hesperian. Today, John Cannon.

W. Gooch was foreman of the Highway Department. Today, L. Gowens.

W. Henry was manager of Telephone Electric. Today, Alton Johnson.

W. Webb was manager of Southwestern Public Service. Today, Oscar Johnson.

J. Wester was city judge. Today, L. Ratliff was district judge. Today, George Miller.

W. Miller was district attorney. Today, Randy Hollums.

Tom Hopper was chief of police. Today, Scott Newton.

C.B. Melton was pastor of the First United Methodist Church. Today, Jim Smith.

Dwayne Grimes was pastor of the First Christian Church. Today, Dennis Swearingin.

According to Babson's Reports Economic slowdown expected to continue into 1980s

Just a year ago we envisioned in our forecast for 1979 a slowing in the economic tempo of sufficient scope to create a technical state of recession, stemming from the effects of anti-inflation monetary measures. We did point out, however, that the intrinsic strength of the economy would forestall a deep, prolonged business dislocation. Instead, we looked for "real" gross national product to show only enough softening in the second and third quarters of the year to constitute a recession. Visualized was a mild and brief setback, more in the nature of a spell of no growth, with the economy again on the mend by the fourth quarter of 1979.

The statistical evidence now shows that there was enough resilience to produce a sharp rebound in the third quarter, negating the spring slump. So, even though 1979's final quarter was adversely impacted by the broader, more aggressive anti-inflation program instituted by the broader, more aggressive anti-inflation program instituted by the Federal Reserve, the year as a whole did not suffer an economic recession. This was an impressive achievement in view of the heights to which interest rates and inflation had soared.

RECESSION THREAT HEIGHTENED FOR 1980

Developments of the past three months have raised the odds that 1980 will experience the economic recession which 1979 escaped. The Fed's credit-tightening move took an increasing toll on business as the final 1979 quarter progressed. When the results for that period are made public, "real" gross national product (GNP ex inflation) will probably show some loss. Since we now expect this business barometer to move off further in the initial quarter of 1980, two consecutive quarters of lower "real" GNP readings will have been recorded to constitute a recession.

STEEPER, LONGER RECESSION THAN PREVIOUSLY EXPECTED

The staff of Babson's Reports looks, in fact, for the downward slide of "real" gross national product to extend through the second quarter of 1980. The recession, therefore, will very likely last a bit longer than we had previously anticipated. Also, the depth of the downturn is currently expected to approximate 4% from the high of the third quarter of 1979. The scope of the recession we now foresee is not unrealistic since we have experienced to only the early effects of the anti-inflation program started last fall. In addition, the fight has been made all the more difficult by the further climb in prices for petroleum products. And the implications of conditions in Iran and of U.S.-Iran relations are anything but reassuring for the petroleum picture, in terms of both prices and supplies. This does not augur well for the domestic automobile industry which has been in a beleaguered state for many months, and the tightening of credit compounds its troubles. Extremely high borrowing costs and scarcer mortgage money are hurting residential building. Therefore, neither of these key industries will be of much help in 1980.

Fortunately, there are no massive imbalances to correct. Except for the excessive supplies of high-gasoline-consumption autos relative to retail demand, there are no appreciable inventory problems in the economy. Hence, this time around, the period of economic adjustment is not expected to be as vicious as the last recession. The first two 1980 quarters will see the business tempo on the wane, with the first three months likely to bear the brunt of the losses. By the time summer rolls around, the economy should stabilize and perhaps edge a bit upward. The final three 1980 months will make additional headway, with vitality somewhat more evident. But the upturn in the second half of 1980 will not be as power-packed as the rebound from the last recession because inflation will be difficult to defuse. While the economic recession will not be unduly painful, neither will the ensuing recovery phase be initially vigorous.

A GREAT MANY UNCERTAINTIES

Make no mistake, there are problems and uncertainties which are capable of inflicting greater damage to the economy than may now seem likely. The uncertain economic climate itself and the questions which are sure to arise in the quadrennial national elections, including those concerning anti-American violence, must be watched closely. Moreover, the course of the battle against inflation must be monitored, so it would be ill-advised to project a more optimistic outlook right now.

SLOWER INFLATION PACE POSSIBLE

There can be little doubt that inflation has been one of the banes of 1979. While there seems little early prospect of any perceptible remission in the inflation rate, the Babson Staff is of the opinion that some headway can be made against inflation in the year ahead. As the winter progresses, recession-muted demand can help to damp its fires, and bring additional slowing in the inflationary pace further on in 1980. The task will not be easy and the problem will likely prove stubborn. From this vantage point, we feel that inflation can be wrong down to a rate of around 10% for the year as a whole. This would still be a higher level than is good for the economy, but the decline would be welcomed.

GROSS NATIONAL PRODUCT

In current dollars, the nation's gross national product (dollar value of goods and services produced) will continue to trend upward. But this will be mainly due to the impact of inflation, and the rate of increase will not be as great as that of 1979. "Real" GNP (the constant-dollar GNP — i.e., in terms of the 1972 dollar) is now expected to fall about 2% for the year as a whole versus the 1979 average. While the exigencies of a political year will likely bring some federal pump-priming moves by spring, nevertheless, as indicated earlier, we think "real" GNP will decline sharply in the first 1980 quarter and moderately in the following three months. A flat-to-uplift pattern is expected in the third quarter, with an even better showing in the final quarter. Any substantive recovery signs prior to midyear seem unlikely because of tight credit, still onerously high levels of interest rates and inflation, and upward-moving fuel costs.

INDUSTRIAL PRODUCTION

We look for industrial production to trend lower through mid-1980. Since a good deal of the decline will be recouped over the second half of the year, we feel the annual rate of industrial activity will average only about 1% below the 1979 average. Bear in mind that auto production and related businesses have already been working downward for the better part of 1979, as has home building. But these two sectors should lead the late-1980 recovery.

Side Glances

by John Carroll

WHILE VACATIONING IN OLD SAN ANTONIO during the New Year's holiday, I had the opportunity to participate in a strange seasonal rite.

It seems that rural San Antonians like to gather at farmhouses in the hill country and greet the new year in true Texas fashion.

As our hosts took us to the party, we passed at least a dozen houses with large bonfires set in the yards. Gathered around every fire was a dozen or two people, apparently having a very good time.

Our party, and the mesquite-log fire, was in full swing when we arrived. Since it was nearly midnight, many of the guests had already lost touch with reality. While some of the guests couldn't speak English, many more of them forgot how during the course of the evening.

But the really interesting part happens as the clock strikes midnight. At that moment, from each of the houses, a horde of skyrockets, Roman Candles and other pyrotechnics rise toward the full moon, accompanied by the cheers of the partygoers.

After the first eruption, bottle rockets by the hundreds fly helter skelter through the night.

From a half-dozen stereo systems within a quarter mile, guitarist Jimi Hendrix blared his electrified version of "The Star Spangled Banner" into the darkness.

It's an awful lot of noise and not a little danger from the firecrackers, but those San Antonians really know how to throw a party.

NO GOV'T. LOAN NEEDED

The Floyd Philosopher gets ready for 1980 by getting rid of a few scraps left on his desk

Editor's note: The Floyd Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on White River winds up the old year and looks toward the new one.

Dear editor: With a new year and a new decade ahead I figured I'd better clear my desk and get rid of the scraps of notes left over from 1979.

For example, if you watched television during the holidays you're bound to have heard that commercial where those young people kept singing that lilting tune: "I'd like to buy the world a Coke."

I got to wondering, what would it cost? Say there are 4 1/2 billion people on earth, although in some areas you have to guess at it. At 30 cents a bottle, a little more in cans, the cost to buy everybody a sodapop would be $2,250,000,000. I don't believe those kids have got that kind of money. Like everybody else I've been watching those students in Iran yelling afternoons for two months and concluded what a shame it is they have a football team to put that organized noise to some use.

The thing though is getting ma-nous and they're going to lose the audience if they don't occasionally in something like the Dallas Cheer Leaders.

During 1979 Federal judges set high marks in wringing something of the Constitution nobody else was able to find in it.

I'll bet you can find some judge who can tell you whether Constitutional to use toothpicks.

For 1980, I feel sure that some problems now pressing in on us will be away, but for every one that another one will take its place.

Yours faithfully

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN — State Capitol halls were decked out in the Christmas spirit last week, but government slowed to an idle as employees left for the holidays. While taxpayers are mulling the benefits of one week of "less government," they can also enjoy a couple of Christmas presents from the state.

State Treasurer Warren G. Harding announced the treasury received an extra $189 million from interest earned during the fiscal year ending Nov. 30. It was a nice present for Harding, too, since he campaigned on a theme of better money management practices and increased earnings from state cash funds.

Another half-plus for citizens is a State Insurance Board staff proposal to lower premiums on credit life, accident and health insurance.

If the proposal becomes policy, premiums would drop 14 percent on credit life and 10 percent on credit accident and health. Consumers could save $25 to $120 on a typical 2- to 5-year loan, the staff said.

Radioactive "Incidents"
A Department of Health official last week said Texas has had about 300 "incidents" involving radioactive materials, with about 45 involving transportation of the materials.

Ed Baily, administrator of the Radiation Control Branch, defined an "incident" as a case of overexposure of radiation, improper packaging of radiation source shipments, loss of such materials, or anything "out of the ordinary" that calls for special investigation. Baily spoke at a seminar to inform users, shippers, transporters and receivers of such materials about regulatory requirements.

Baily said reporting of transportation incidents was "very good," but that some licensees were hesitant in reporting incidents from fear of bad publicity.

He also said he thought the handling of radioactive materials was better regulated than hazardous chemical wastes.

Special Session
Gov. Bill Clements, concerned about the recent large buildup of radioactive waste in Texas, said creating a nuclear waste storage dump in Texas may be the fourth topic for the special session he intends to call in March or September.

Clements has also said he supports the creation of such a dump in New Mexico, not Texas.

In general, debate on the controversial subject is not centered on the need for a dump, but on its eventual location.

Clements' late concern is an apparent turnaround from his statement last year that Texas was willing to accommodate a nuclear waste dump. Some 2,000 55-gallon drums of waste per month brought into the Galveston area this fall have caused many state officials to rethink the issue.

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby thinks any special session would be a waste of tax money. Interviewed on the Capitol Eye radio-television program, Hobby slammed all of Clements' reasons for wanting to bring the Legislature back to Austin:

—Hobby thinks initiative and referendum is a bypass of the legislative process of examination and compromise. Clements is a strong advocate of I&R.

—Hobby thinks wiretapping is an intrusion of government into the lives of private citizens and that controls should be increased. Clements is the state's strongest advocate of increased wiretapping of narcotics traffickers.

—Clements wants broad tax relief measure. Hobby argues that Texas is "one of the lowest-taxing states," and that Texas education already will need more money because of an increase in children in the public school system.

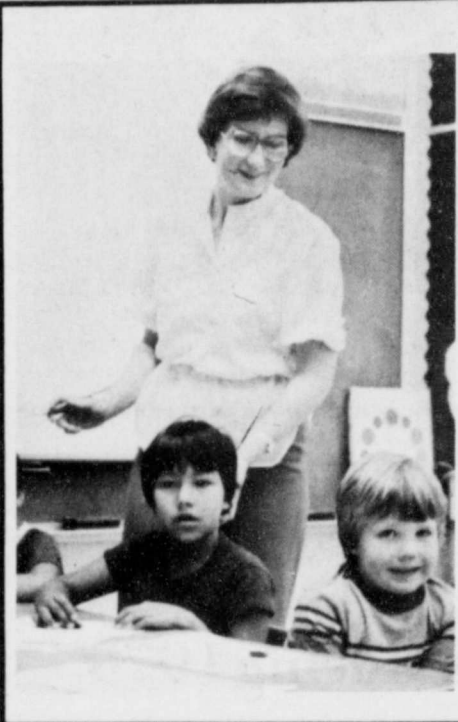

Hobby, who presides over the Senate, and House Speaker Bill Calyton both see no need for the promised special session. Should Clements go ahead and call the legislators back to their chambers, the resulting fireworks may be visible both in Mexico and Oklahoma.

Clements: Defeat Carter
When President Jimmy Carter comes to campaign in Texas, Clements may well toss a rubber chicken onto his presidential dinner plate, just as he did to former Attorney General John Hill, Clements' gubernatorial opponent.

The Republican governor has never been more outspoken in his opposition to the president as he was at a gathering of petroleum officials last week.

Clements urged the petroleum industry to work to defeat Carter at the polls. And responding to a query about his policy differences with Sen. Edward Kennedy, Clements said: "I'm not sure what Kennedy knows. He certainly didn't know his way to the ferry, did he?"

Later that evening Clements said he was willing to study the establishing of a state aid system in Texas to allow parents to send their children to private schools.

Meet the teacher

Mrs. Bobbie Riddle teaches the Kindergarten 4 class at A.B. Duncan Elementary School in Floydada.

Mrs. Riddle graduated from Las Cruces (N.M.) High School in 1973. She graduated from New Mexico State University four years later with a bachelor's degree in elementary education.

With two years experience, this is her first year with the Duncan faculty.

Mrs. Riddle's husband, Keith, is a student at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview.

Connie Reed

Former deputy recovering from gunshot wounds

At press time, Carson County Sheriff Connie Reed had been moved from the intensive care unit of Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo to a private room. Reed was shot during a scuffle with a prisoner in Panhandle, Sunday, December 30.

Reed is a former Floyd County deputy sheriff, who served during the time that Walter Hollums was sheriff. His wife, Flois, formerly worked as bookkeeper at the Hesperian. Reed is the father of Floydada resident Mrs. Connie Bertrand.

Apparent dog-poisoner active in south Floydada

The latest in a continuing series of macabre incidents left a Floydada family grief-stricken over the loss of their pet dog during the Christmas holidays.

Someone apparently threw poisoned food into the back yard of the Jon LaBaume family in a south Floydada neighborhood. The La Baumes' 19-month-old dachshund "Mitzi" was discovered later, dead under a bush.

LaBaume said that the veterinarian indicated that the pet had been poisoned. The family lost another pet, also a dachshund, two years ago to a dog-poisoner.

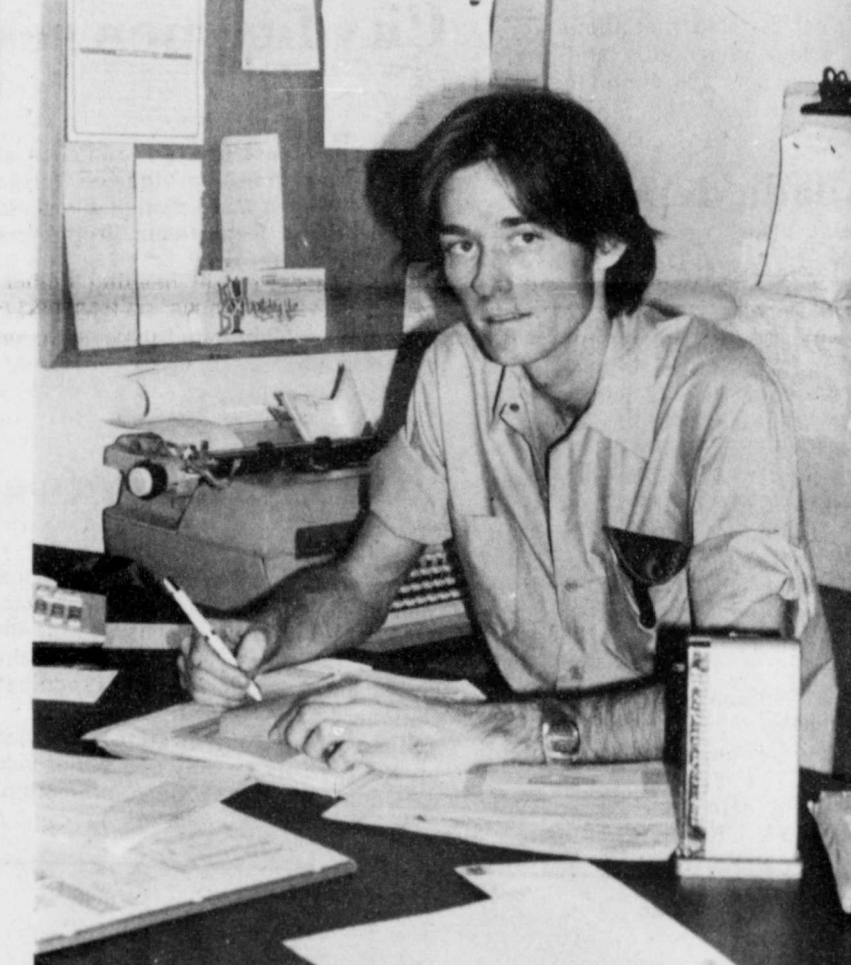

Several other residents in the area have reported apparent poisonings in the neighborhood in recent months.

Mac and Nancy Willson, who live in the same area as the LaBaumes, found their dog dead under a truck at the end of November. From the dog's position and body contortions, coupled with the fact that no marks could be found on the body, Willson is convinced that his dog was another victim of the unknown poisoner.

Max Smitherman reportedly found a poodle dead on his front driveway recently. The dog still had a scrap of food in its mouth.

From the bodies of the dogs, observers feel that the poison being used is a form of strychnine, a compound that causes quick and painful death. The poison reportedly cannot be bought commercially any more.

Apart from the grief to pet owners, the poisoner presents a far more dangerous threat to Floydadans. If children picked up a strychnine-laced piece of food intended for a pet, death would most likely occur before anything could be done for the victim.

FOREMAN — Terry Reeves digs into the paperwork, a new aspect of his job as Blanco Printing plant manager

Blanco has new manager

Terry Reeves is the new manager of Blanco Offset Printing Company in Floydada. He was promoted to the position following the resignation of Art Ratzlaff, who has accepted a position with a Slaton printing firm.

Reeves first started to work for Blanco almost seven years ago as a DE-student. He later worked two years in the camera room and for the past years has served in the capacity of pressman.

Terry and his wife Sande have two sons and one daughter. They are members of the Assembly of God Church.

Voter registration forms to be mailed this week

Jonelle Fawver, Floyd County Tax Assessor-Collector, announced that voter registration certificates will be mailed late this week.

The certificates should be examined by the recipient, and if they are correct and require no changes, the forms should be kept and not returned to the tax office. Forms requiring change should be returned to the office by the middle of February.

Food stamps to be easier for elderly

Elderly and disabled people would be able to apply for food stamps at the same time they apply for Supplemental Security Income (SSI) benefits under rules recently by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

The new rule would make it possible for the Social Security Administration, which administers SSI benefits, to also accept food stamp applications. People applying for SSI would be able to apply for food stamps simultaneously if everyone in the household is applying for or receiving SSI benefits, and no one is already receiving food stamps.

The proposed rule, which implements a provision of the 1977 Food Stamp Act, could take effect as soon as next summer.

Currently, SSI recipients who want to apply for food stamps must go through a separate procedure.

"This has placed a real burden on people who are elderly or disabled," said assistant secretary Carol Foreman. "It may also be a reason why many elderly and disabled poor do not currently participate in the food stamp program. Processing food stamps and SSI applications jointly should be of real assistance to these people."

Improvements increase beef production

Beef and dairy producers will benefit from a recent breakthrough in genetic breeding technology which involves a compound to synchronize heat.

The compound, a prostaglandin called Lutalyse allows scheduled breeding in cattle. Combined with artificial insemination (AI), this new technique can mean accelerated production and improvement of beef and dairy herds through increased use of genetically superior semen from top sires.

Field studies show that normal fertility rates are achieved in much less time, with less on-farm labor involved using the prostaglandin. This means potential profit to cattlemen.

greater use of AI will mean more meat and milk to feed a growing world population.

Harold D. Hafs, Ph. D., dairy science professor at Michigan State University, notes that the greatest progress in animal production during the past 30 years has been made through artificial insemination. Because of improved genetic lines, the time required to produce a 1,000 lb. steer has been halved since 1950 and per cow milk production has increased about four times.

"But the improvement rates show no signs of plateauing," observes Dr. Hafs.

He states that almost all tillable land suitable for cereal grains and row crops already is under cultivation. Consequently, he looks to animal agriculture — rather than crops — to supply an increased share of future world food needs.

With proper management, Dr. Hafs predicts that within 10 years Lutalyse could mean a doubling of the number of dairy calves sired by AI and a 10-fold increase in the number of beef calves produced from AI bulls. The result will be accelerated production of meat and milk.

"In the face of increasing world population, this prostaglandin product comes at an ideal time in history," Dr. Hafs said. "It's a time when the ability of agriculture to produce adequate food supplies appears to be slipping. Yet today, there is hope that controlled breeding of cattle will help buy time to balance food supply with world population."

The estrus synchronizing compound is now available through local veterinarians.

Economic slowdown to continue

BUSINESS INVENTORIES

One of the unusual aspects of the long period of economic rise since the spring of 1975 is the orderly manner in which business inventories have been expanded — mostly in step with the uptrend in prices. Disproportionate inventory positions were quickly brought back into line with price-markdown sales efforts. Thus, the above-mentioned exception of auto-to-move gasoline guzzlers in the automobile field, there is no gut of inventories to liquidate. Despite the moderation of inflation's pace, most inventory positions have been kept trim. This has been due to the agonizing experience of the last recession, the extremely costly rates of borrowed money over the past two years, and the ability to monitor inventory positions with the help of computers. But as the economy is not expected to be disrupted by inventory liquidations under duress on a widespread basis, neither will inventory accumulation be an important factor in helping to dampen business activity in most of 1980.

WAGES AND PRICES

As indicated earlier, we believe the business decline will have a tempering effect upon the aggressiveness of labor in 1980, and yet bargaining for new labor pacts will produce many wage hikes approximating the Administration's non-inflationary guideline. This is unavoidable, in view of the drastic shrinkage of consumers' buying power during the life of the labor contracts about to expire.

The early-year softness in business will tend to inhibit the immediate flow-through of new wage increments in their entirety. Indeed, we would not be surprised to see occasional and spotty price down-shadings. But fuel and energy costs are still heading higher, with an inevitable impact on transportation and distribution costs, and on operating costs in general. Therefore, there will be price rises at the wholesale and retail levels, though not of the magnitude or pervasiveness of recent years.

EMPLOYMENT AND JOBLESSNESS

Because the recession we now foresee should not run dangerously deep, 1980 should not experience massive layoffs. Instead, we are confident that employment can hover in a peak range, constituting a very important source of support for consumer confidence.

We do not expect a frightening upsurge in unemployment. Still, a rise in the jobless rate is inevitable, as it will be difficult for the economy to absorb all of the new entries and re-entries into the labor force. For 1980, we expect unemployment to average around 7½%. However, take-home pay (disposable personal income) will manage only to edge forward.

The sustained peak level of personal income we anticipate will translate into better-maintained consumer spending than seems possible at this time. Though much of the year will be flat, retail trade should end 1980 on a strong note.

PERSONAL INCOME — CONSUMER SPENDING

A generally stable employment picture, wage hikes, heavy transfer payments, and interest and dividend incomes will all figure as favorable factors producing higher gross personal income in 1980. While the rise will not match the rate of increase established in 1979, our estimate is a jump of around 7%. However, take-home pay (disposable personal income) will manage only to edge forward.

The sustained peak level of personal income we anticipate will translate into better-maintained consumer spending than seems possible at this time. Though much of the year will be flat, retail trade should end 1980 on a strong note.

AGRICULTURAL PROSPECTS

1979 has been a good year for most farmers. Prices for farm products have been strong enough to improve financial positions, and this has been another fine crop year. The high level of farm exports should be expanded further in 1980. Shortages in Russia and certain Eastern European countries, plus lagging Canadian output, are favorable to domestic farm exports, with consequent benefits to income.

DOMESTIC POLITICAL SCENE

The campaign for the Presidency will command a good deal of attention in 1980, but it should not materially alter the course of business. The primaries and the election may be bruising, and events such as this nation has had to endure recently could have an effect on the final outcome at the polls. Charges, counter-charges, and campaign promises could influence business and consumer sentiment. At the congressional level, the battle for control of both houses will also be tough. However, the Republican party faces a hard uphill fight. It could make notable headway, but fall short of control.

GOVERNMENT SPENDING — TAXES

Government spending will continue upward in 1980, owing partly to inflation. Economic exigencies will spur outlays at all levels of government to fend off more serious dislocations. Recession troubles will undoubtedly bring pressure for tax-cut legislation. Chances are favorable for tax relief, but that probably will not take effect until 1981. Enactment of a value-added tax is not likely for 1980, and attempts to pare Social Security levies are not likely to bear fruit before midyear.

FOREIGN AFFAIRS

From time to time, business and investments sentiment will be shaken by unrest abroad. The recent appalling anti-American sentiment in many parts of the Moslem world may give other nations cause to doubt U.S. assistance capabilities. Overall, this scenario, and priorities related to next year's election, do not promise well for worthwhile progress on important matters such as the Palestinian question and attempts to improve U.S. — Soviet relations. Brush fires in one or more of the world's many hot spots cannot be ruled out, but direct U.S. military involvement is not likely.

MONEY SUPPLIES — INTEREST RATES

The emphasis on anti-inflation credit tightening will restrain growth of the nation's money supply. However, economic problems and election-year considerations will very likely force some easing of the throttle on restrictive monetary policy around mid-1980.

Oppressively high interest rates are already showing signs of easing, at least for short-term borrowing. Lower longer-term interest rates, on the other hand, may not come much before the year's midpoint. Overall, we look for distinct betterment in the interest-rates situation by late 1980, but only as compared with recent peak levels.

STOCK AND BOND OUTLOOK

While the U.S. dollar will probably be subjected to buffeting from time to time in the year ahead, the reining in of galloping inflation and betterment in the interest-rates picture will be beneficial to the bond market. Therefore, investors who commence to tie down nearpeak interest rates at this time could be well pleased by 1980's end. The strengthening of bond portfolios should initially emphasize issues with near or intermediate maturities before going further out on the maturity scale. Bonds with generous yields are in profusion, to the benefit of fixed-income investors. These include taxable issues and tax-exempt, medium- and conservative-grade bonds, short- and long-term maturities, and high-coupon and discount bonds.

1979 proved to be another year of frustration for most investors, with the stock market showing little progress. Although some stock groups and merger-bait issues did well at various times, the rest of the market was victimized by the unnerving effects of foreign political upheavals, waves of anti-American demonstrations, and the unyielding grip of inflation and high interest rates. But what was not accomplished in 1979 will benefit investors in 1980 — or at least those with the courage, patience, and foresight to go bargain hunting when attractive values abound. Babson's Reports feels the stock market held its own under a number of ordinarily panic-producing circumstances during much of this past year, and that the year ahead can bring a shift toward more optimism, and longer-term investment planning. There will be opportunities for all portfolio objectives.

Varsity Whirlettes win Jayton tourney

The Floydada Varsity Whirllette basketball team defeated Greenwood 40 to 31 Saturday, December 29, to win the Jayton tournament and the coveted first-place trophy.

Coach Tommy Baxter said his team held the lead until mid-third quarter when Greenwood took a one point lead. LaQuita Davis and Debra Alfaro hit some "clutch baskets to move the Whirlettes back to a 5-point lead. Early in the fourth quarter Greenwood shut off our inside game, and we slowed down the game, making them come out "after us." LaQuita hit two field goals and Julianne Lipham three free shots in the last minute and a half to maintain our lead. We stilled the remainder of the time."

Scoring for the green were LaQuita Davis, 16; Rosemary Barnes, 10; Debra Alfaro and Karen Turner, 4; Julianne Lipham, 3; Janet Pleasant, 2; and Nora Black, 1.

First Round Action
The Varsity girls defeated Jayton 36 to 16 in the first round of the tournament. Coach Baxter said his team was cold during the first half but came back in the second to shoot "like they were capable."

The Whirlettes were ahead 12-11 at the half, but outscored Jayton 16-2 in the 3rd quarter to break open the game. LaQuita Davis scored 12 points; Debra Alfaro, 10; Karen Turner and Rosemary Barnes, 4; Nora Black, 3; Kelly Higginbotham, 2 and Julianne

Lipham, 1.

Semifinals

Again making their move in the 3rd quarter (outscored their opponents 20-2), Floydada Varsity girls outscored Coahoma 54-26 to win a spot in the playoff game. Kelly Higginbotham sank 14 points; Debra Alfaro, 9; Rosemary Barnes, 9; LaQuita Davis, 8; Karen Turner, 6; Nora Black, 4; Amy Jones and Janet Pleasant, two.

Stats

The Whirlettes now have an impressive 12-2 record for the season. They will again see action Thursday at Patton Springs and Friday in Lubbock, competing with Christ the King. Everyone is invited to go out and support the winning Whirllette roundballers.

ROYE'S fashions take a backward look at the decade of the seventies as Kristi Hopper shows a pair of silky black jeans featuring a red fox applique on the seat pocket. Adding a festive touch, Kristi also wears a red satin blouse.

Dress lengths of the 1970's moved from the mini-skirt of the early seventies, downward to mid-calf length by the mid-and-late seventies, and were gradually needling upward at the turn of decade. Other styles associated with the 70's were slim-legged and tapered jeans with embroidered pocket decorations, and straight skirts with slashed-seam and split effects.

AS THE SEASON FOR VELOUR ends, and spring approaches, this flame red terry dress is perfect for many casual occasions.

KRISTI HOPPER models a maroon and blue velvet pantsuit styled in sweat-suit fashion featuring the shorter, slimmer leg length. She chose black patent sling pumps to complete the ensemble.

Womens CofC to meet Monday

The Floydada Women's CofC will meet Monday, January 7 at 7 p.m. in the community room at the First National Bank.

Everyone is asked to "please attend" this important meeting.

Lone Star Homemakers Club meets for Christmas program

The Lone Star Extension Homemakers Club met recently with Vera King for the Christmas program. The Christmas story from Luke was read by Vera King. The club was answered with "What are my blessings?" and pass-around gifts were exchanged. New club officers took their places at the meeting. Christmas cookies and chips and dips were served to Frances Kellum, Vera King, Helen Huffman, Maudie Lawson, Lorraine Nance, Ruth Reeves, Elvira Stewart, Trudy Taylor and Syble Teeple.

The next meeting will be January 8 with Turdy Taylor.

DWAYLA MYRICK

Dwayla Myrick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dewayne Myrick of Dallas and granddaughter of Mrs. Opal Medley of Floydada, was recently featured in the Grand Prairie Daily News in a series of interviews of "future business" preferences. "If I could have my choice of any business, I would choose a clothing department store. I would choose this business, because I love clothes and also I love to see people come in, and enjoy themselves while shopping. I would treat them very nicely. I would let them bring it back. If something was wrong with it."

Fawver and Colston holiday celebrations held

On Sunday December 23 Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fawver celebrated Christmas with their entire family. For the first time in four years, all members were present at the same time. This included two daughters, Mary Lou Sinor of Canadian, Texas, and Doris and husband Edwin Wilcox of Spur; three grandsons, Will Sinor and wife Katv of Irving, Lee Sinor and wife Cathy of Canadian, and Leslie Sinor of Mt. Vernon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whittle, Nathan and Matt, all of Floydada.

As it happened, this was the Fawver's time to host the Colston annual Christmas dinner and exchanging of gifts. So again, there were fifteen present for this gathering, even though several of the guests had to return to jobs. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Colston; Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Colston and Danny; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whittle, Nathan and Jeff; and Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilcox, Tammy and Terri. The host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fawver.

Tammy visited the remainder of the week with her grandparents who carried her home Sunday to Spur where they had dinner and watched the ballgame with the Wilcoxes.

Those visiting with the family Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Colston.

Garcia, Luna married in Floydada

Hope Garcia and Ricky Luna were married in the Garcia home on Friday, December 28. Judge R.H. Ford officiated at the ceremony.

Hope is the daughter of Jessie Garcia and Olivia Garcia, and Ricky is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Luna. Lisa Mayo was maid of honor and the best man was Joey Luna.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception was held in Azteca Restaurant in Floydada. Hostesses were Roberta Enriquez, Olivia Garcia, Toni Garcia and Ophelia Pesina.

The bride is a student at Floydada High School, and is employed by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce. Luna is a 1979 graduate of FHS and is employed in Lockney by the Tye Company.

Campbell visitors

Visitors during the Christmas holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Campbell were all of their children which Mrs. George Staples, Craig and Casey of Appleton, New York; Mr. and Mrs. Roy Gant and Toby of Liberal, Kansas; and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Swanson, Jr., of Amarillo; also Mrs. Lucille Cole of Levelland.

Buying lamp bulbs

Read the package label, and compare incandescent vs fluorescent when buying lamp bulbs, suggests Pat Seaman, a housing and home furnishings specialist.

READ LABEL

A lamp bulb package has the following information -- wattage, average life expressed in hours and initial amount of light the bulb puts out, expressed in lumens.

Consider buying the bulb with the most lumens per watt for maximum efficiency, the specialist recommends.

Incandescent bulbs have an average life of 750 to 1,000 hours. On the other hand, fluorescent bulbs last an average of 15,000 to 20,000 hours. Incandescent bulbs labeled "long life" last up to 2,500 hours. However, they cost more and give 10 to 15 percent less light than regular bulbs of the same wattage.

Fluorescent bulbs last longer than incandescent and produce three to four times as much light as the same wattage of incandescent.

Christmas dinner

held in Daniel home

Christmas dinner guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Daniel were Jack and Tanya Covington, Jackie and Connie Covington, Monte Covington, Joe Covington, Debbie Dobbins, Brandon Covington, Robert and Belinda Bullock and Jodi, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Day, Ricky, Stayce and Wesley Day, and Mrs. Daniel's mother, Mrs. L.L. Clark.

FLOYD DATA

Holiday visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Lupe Luna were their three daughters -- Mr. and Mrs. Julio Salazar of Grand Prairie, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Creek of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Salvador Sosa Jr., also of Amarillo. While in Floydada, they attended the wedding of their brother, Ricky Luna, and Hope Garcia.

FLOYD DATA

Mrs. Pernie Ray, who has been spending some time in Bridgeport with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Love, has been hospitalized there. She will undergo surgery to repair a broken leg she sustained in a fall last week.

ENERGY UPDATE

Exotic Energy Sources -- How Real Are They?

Dr. Richard E. Balzhiser, is Vice President for Research and Development at the Electric Power Research Institute.

Some of our "exotic" energy sources, such as wind, wave and biomass, may be practical, but we have to make sure we understand them and keep their scale in mind.

Wind is probably the closest thing to being a commercially viable option for generating electricity. People have seen windmills; we've used them in the past. But we're not talking about producing significant amounts of power to replace what would otherwise be generated from coal or nuclear plants. The large windmill that NASA (National Aeronautics and Space Administration) is developing stands as high as a 30-story building and produces two megawatts, or two million watts, compared to most coal or nuclear plants that produce from 500 to 1,000 or more million watts. Such windmills, I'm sure, will create some siting problems when, and if, people get around to them. But the economics of windmills are beginning to get into the right ballpark. They're still costly, however, and they only work when the wind blows. There aren't many places where you can count on the wind blowing constantly.

Then there's wave, or tidal power. To the British, with a lot of coastline, making use of the motion of waves to create electricity might look attractive. But I personally believe, as do most of the British scientists and engineers I've discussed it with, that it's not a very

Understanding Your Child

If you're like most parents, you may be glad to know that there are some things you can do to help your youngster do better in school.

tutor him in most school subjects.

Are you giving your child the things he needs to do well in school?

For one thing, the experts at the National Educational Association suggest, be sure you're up to par yourself. Learning demands the best that's in him -- effort, concentration, and be examined regularly, and be sure his hearing and vision are perfect or corrected.

For another, keep him in school regularly. Every absence can affect learning, particularly in the early grades. Refrain from comparing your child unfavorably with some other child. Children learn at different rates. Make your home a haven of thought, books, ideas. Your parents have found that their children benefit from microcomputers like those that help make learning fun in increasing numbers of classrooms. The 28540 from Radio Shack, for instance, is relatively expensive and small enough to fit on a desk top. It can help expand your child's learning skills and Another aid could be the child's own dictionary. Let him or her look up unfamiliar words. A typewriter can help, too, even for the fairly young. Authorities have found that children do more and better creative writing when using typewriters.

Encourage him to be a collector: of rocks, leaves, shells. Provide a place for his collection, even if it's just a drawer.

Take him to visit historical sites: zoos, museums and the like. Go exploring in the community: visit the firehouse, courthouse, other places of interest.

See that your child has a quiet corner for doing homework. Be sure it's well lit and ventilated.

DuBois rites today in Floydada

Services for Audrey Nell DuBois, 81, will be held today in the chapel of the First Baptist Church in Floydada. Dr. Floyd C. Bradley will officiate, and burial will be in Floyd County Memorial Park.

Mrs. DuBois was born January 3, 1898 in Leon County. She married Edell DuBois September 8, 1918 in Leon Co. and they moved to Floyd County in 1919. Mrs. DuBois died at 5:55 a.m. January 1 in the Floydada Nursing Home.

Survivors include her husband, Edell; two sons, Bill of Floydada and Bud of Lubbock; one brother, Singleton Kennedy of Fort Smith, Arkansas; five sisters, Viva Taylor of Mexia, Eloise Jernigan of Burnett, Alene Reynolds of Leakey, Lillian Knight of Jewett, Dell Shephard, also of Jewett; five grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

The oldest existing commercial newspaper, first published in 1656, is Haarlem, Netherlands. Haarlem's Dagblad/Oprechte Courant. The first issue survives.

Services for Mrs. Crager held Monday

Memorial services for Ora Mae Crager, 79, were held Monday afternoon in the First United Methodist Church in Lockney with the Rev. Dewitt Seago, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Lockney Cemetery under the direction of Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mrs. Crager died at 7:27 p.m. Saturday in Lockney General Hospital. She donated her body to the Texas Tech University Medical School in Lubbock.

The former Ora Mae Whitfill was born March 25, 1900 in Alma and moved from there to Floyd County in 1905. She married Arch Crager July 7, 1922 in Lockney. He preceded her in death. Mrs. Crager was a member of the First United Methodist Church.

Surviving are a son, Ted Crager of Miami, Florida; two brothers, Frank and Ed Whitfill, both of Lockney; three sisters, Maggie Whitfill of Ennis, Emma Floyd of Corpus Christi and Ada Mills of Amarillo; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

The family suggests memorials to favorite charities.

Glen Smith funeral set today

Services for Forrest Glen Smith, 82, of Lockney are scheduled at 2 p.m. today (Thursday) at the First Baptist Church in Lockney. The Rev. John Jenkins, pastor of the church, will officiate. He will be assisted by the Rev. Dewitt Seago, pastor of the Lockney First United Methodist Church. Burial will be in Lockney Cemetery, with Moore-Rose Funeral Home, Lockney, in charge of arrangements.

Smith died at 3 p.m. Tuesday. He was born May 28, 1897, in Fannin County and moved to Floyd County from Leonard in 1917. He married Bessie Lee Hill on September 3, 1924.

Survivors include his wife, of Lockney; two daughters, Mrs. Glenna Downs of Abertown and Mrs. Geraldine Williams of Leonard; two brothers, Darrell Smith of Tulsa and W.R. Smith of Rogers, Arkansas; two sisters, Mrs. Frank Han of Plainview and Mrs. Sallie Carpenter of Lockney; five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Pallbearers will be Harlan S. (Sandy) Downs, Jr., Randy L. Downs, Danny Glen Downs, James Floyd (Jim) Williams, Donald Ray Williams and Lynn Ray Smith.

Bessie Shelby rites held

Services were held at 2 p.m. Friday, December 28, in the Shiloh Baptist Church in Ralls, for Bessie Mae Shelby, 53. Reverend Bennie Anderson officiated.

Burial was in the Ralls Cemetery under direction of Carter Adams Funeral Home.

Mrs. Shelby was born in Tyler, and was married to Cecil Shelby in Hillsboro in 1929. She died at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday, December 26, in Health Sciences Hospital in Lubbock after a long illness.

Survivors include her husband; her foster parents, Mr. and Mrs. Laure Dade of Floydada; five sons, Robert and Isaiah of Ralls, Curly J. of Okmulgee, Oklahoma, Edward Lee of Fayetteville, North Carolina, and Pat of Lubbock; four sisters, Mrs. Clarence Price, Mary McCauley, Larissia Williams, and Ollie Jett, all of Tyler; two brothers, Arthur Williams and Gusta Lee of Tyler; and four grandchildren.

Advice on cleaning microwave

Keep your microwave oven clean, advises Linda McCormack, a family resource management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Simply wipe it promptly with a paper towel, or clean it with a mild detergent in warm water and a soft sponge or cloth. Wipe frequently around the door seals of the oven and the door itself to remove food particles. Grease around the door seal can allow excessive radiation leakage, she cautions.

If food particles become stuck to the sides or bottom of the oven, boil a cup of water in the oven — the steam from the boiling water will loosen the dried particles so they will wipe off easily. Use a nylon scrubber if necessary, but do not use abrasive cleaners or commercial oven cleaners, she cautions.

To clean the glass shelf found in some microwave ovens, lift up shelf, remove and wash in warm water and detergent. Do not operate oven unless shelf is back in place. To remove stains from the ceramic oven floors, use baking soda or a special ceramic glass cleaner to scrub the surface, Mrs. McCormack recommends. Remove odors by boiling one part lemon juice to three parts water in a measuring cup in the oven, or place a small dish of baking soda in the oven when not in use and leave the oven door ajar. Remove food from the oven after cooking to help eliminate this problem, she adds.

Mobay sponsored ASA contest

Soybean growers and wives may earn a five-market development mission to Mexico as part of an American Soybean Association membership contest sponsored by the Agricultural Chemical Division of Mobay Chemical Corporation.

"The membership contest runs from January 1 to July 1," said B.B. Spraling Jr., soybean producer in Roba, Alabama, and vice president for five-day trip to Mexico, soybean growers and wives. The market development study mission will return to New Orleans August 9.

The expense-paid trip will be awarded to the top recruiters of new members and to 10 randomly selected new ASA members.

"Soybean growers and wives have established a goal of net 20 percent increase in membership in 1980," Spraling said. "We feel the sponsorship of this contest will help increase participation in our membership program. Last year's membership recruiter signed 158 new members so we think he has set chemical the soybean industry."

To enter the ASA membership contest, soybean growers should contact Membership Contest, American Soybean Association, 777 Craig Road, Box 27, St. Louis, Missouri 63141.

USDA increases assistance for meals to elderly

The U.S. Department of Agriculture will supply nearly $65 million in donated foods and cash to elderly nutrition programs during fiscal year 1980—an increase of 38.5 to 43 cents per meal, assistant secretary of agriculture Carol Foreman said today.

"This will be a 12 percent cost-of-living increase in donated foods and cash assistance USDA provides to federally-funded elderly nutrition programs," Foreman said.

The adjustment reflects the rise in the consumer price index for food away from home last year. The new level of assistance applies to all meals served from Oct. 1 to Sept. 30, 1980.

Nutrition programs for the elderly are run by the U.S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare with USDA donating food or providing cash in lieu of food to states taking part in these programs.

Last year about 150 million meals were served to people over 65 at community centers, schools, churches or other sites convenient for elderly. In some states hot meals were delivered to the homes of elderly people unable to come to the centers to get them.

WINNERS & LOSERS

Some winners have made winners of us. Health and safety all the world may have improved by the ways of a number of people in Argentina.

Newborn babies and prospective diabetics may longer, better lives, thanks to the work of 1970 Nobel Prize winner, Argentine Luis Federico Leloir. A biochemist discovered fascinating facts about that doctors say could prevent diabetes and identify galactosemia—a disease in which infants have an intolerance to milk.

The people of Argentina are also winning the battle for safer streets that is being waged in cities all over the world. With sufficient government support, the police there are able to go a long way toward encouraging motorists to lose their interest in crime.

Another Nobel Prize winner from Argentina, Bernardo Houssay, was awarded for work on problems of the pituitary gland which controls human growth and reproduction functions. He is also known as the creator of the Argentine School of Physiology which can turn out scientists that can help the world win the fight against suffering.

Texas Laws specifically states that everything of value unless it be specifically exempt by law comes within the meaning of taxable property. Courts have ruled for example that where cattle are being fed, pastured, or otherwise cared for on property owned or leased by another, the owner or leaser in responsible that the cattle be rendered properly, or he may be assessed for the cattle himself and under certain conditions applies to equip, on lease, merchandise on consignment, and almost any type of personal property, controlled by persons not the owner.
Homesteads are covered by a new law And no longer includes anything but the home, such appurtenances as are necessary for the occupation of the home, (Garage pump home, ect) and such land as may be designated (fenced or marked off) for the containment of such home and appurtenances. Must own the home, and must reside there.
To be eligible for age 65 or Disability exception the applicant must be eligible for the regular Homestead exemption as defined above.
Ag production use applicants must deduct homesteads and or other homesites as non-production land.
All application must be completed in full detail by State Agencies they must be denied.
Forms are being mailed and are also available at the Lockney Independent School District Tax Office, corner of College and Main Street, Lockney, Texas.

GIVE THE SPECIAL GIFT OF LIFE - GIVE BLOOD

Now is the time to think about giving that priceless gift of life everyone can afford—a volunteer donation of blood to your local blood bank.
President Carter has joined with the American Association of Blood Banks in proclaiming January 1980 as National Volunteer Blood Donor Month. The President is urging "every American who possibly can" to donate a pint of blood in January. Despite the sophistication of the United States blood banking system, critical shortages are evident throughout the country each day, and are most common during the winter months.
Some 30,000 units of blood are transfused in the United States daily—over 10,000,000 units per year. The country's blood need is continually increasing, and yet only 5% of the Americans who can give blood, do give blood.
America depends on volunteer donors, states President Carter, praising "the willingness of our citizens to fulfill our traditional compassion for others."
Remember, the next person to need blood could be you, or someone in your family. So this year, help ensure that an adequate supply of blood will be there when it is desperately needed. Join with President Carter and the American Association of Blood Banks this month and "Give the gift that keeps on living—Give blood."

Center News

By Mrs. J.E. Green

December 31, 1979 — The old year, 1979, is gone and the New Year is here. We had a beautiful Christmas week and I hope everyone will have a Happy New Year.

Mrs. Claud Carpenter left by plane to spend the holidays at Irving with her daughter, Claudine Conway and family, and son Dale and family. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Carpenter flew to Boston to be with a daughter and family for Christmas and are to return by Atlanta to be with other children.

The Clarence Ashtons' children and grandchildren visited during the holidays. Bobby and family of League City and Francis Ashton of Hartford, Connecticut.

The Henry Brewers had Christmas dinner on Sunday December 23 with their children in Lubbock. There were 39 present.

Mrs. Frank Dunn had her children in and out during the week. Joe Lee and family of Houston, Mary Grace and family, Houston, and Margaret and Tony Balios and family and Jimmy and Patsy and girls of Lubbock. Also Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Montgomery of Plainview were present.

Mrs. Hartline visited June and family of Plainview, a sister in Lubbock, and son James and family of Levelland.

Mrs. Roe Jones had her children and grandchildren home for Christmas — Helen, Christine, Clara and Wanda and families.

Mrs. Paul Murff was a guest for Christmas dinner with the A.M. Dorseys.

Miss Francis Mitchell spent the holidays with a nephew and family in Midland.

Mrs. Fred Batteny and Don Warren were Sunday, December 23rd, guests for dinner with Mr. and Mrs. Julian Edmondson and family of Phillips.

Christmas dinner guests at the Thomas Warrens were the Paul Stouts of Muleshoe, all the Bob Aldredges, Mrs. Ola Warren, Mrs. Fred Batteny, and Joyce and Jimmy Owens and boys.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Mayfield spent the holidays with their son Gene and family of Henrietta.

Miss Vera Meredith is in a Lockney Hospital for tests.

Mrs. Morris Carroll has a case of the flu.

Mrs. C.M. Meredith had dinner Christmas day with son Curtis and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas visited one day in Petersburg with the Charley Ellards, now of California, but former residents of this area. They were there to spend holidays with her parents and other relatives. The Thomases were in Lubbock Christmas Eve and had dinner the next day with their children, Sue and Milton Mensch and David.

James David Welborn and family of Fort Worth were in town Christmas week visiting his mother, Mrs. J.D. Welborn and his brothers and sisters and families.

Mrs. Leo Frizzell spent Christmas with her daughter Jane Beedy and Mitzi. Mitzi came home with Grandma for a week.

Mrs. Ava Jackson went home with a son, Verne Jackson of Odessa, for Christmas. She planned to see other children before returning home.

Mrs. Elmer Warren had all her children home Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Denison spent Christmas in Lubbock with their son Gilmer Denison and family — with the children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Plumlee spent Christmas day in Plainview as dinner guests of their daughter, Mary Alice and Johnny Hines. Ma Green accompanied them to spend the day with son Victor Green and family of Plainview.

Other dinner guests were Mrs. Conway and Miss Florrie. The boys, Jim and Steve were present (what fine grandsons!). Steve, a May 18 cum laude graduate of Baylor University came all the way from Providence, Rhode Island, where he is in Brown University using the scholarship awarded him.

What a dinner we had — turkey and the trimmings!

December 26, our children began to arrive for the usual get-together. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Don Clark Green and Donny (a senior at Tech); the Victor Greens (minus Jim who was working); and the Clyde Greens of Peralta, New Mexico, including Gretchen and Elmer Shore of Seattle, Washington recently back from Baghdad, Iraq and Kenneth Mark of Baylor.

Grandpa Ryman was in Hubbard Hospital; doing fine now.

After supper we had a song fest. Thirteen of us in all. We received a long distance call from Margaret.

The Hollis Paynes spent some of their holidays in Tennessee.

Mrs. J.C. Odam was out of town Sunday. We missed her.

A ministerial student from Wayland Baptist College spoke at church Sunday.

Dawn Attebury and the Saurez girls came to see Mrs. Green one afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon McPeak had their children and families with them some time during Christmas.

Joe and Esther Peck are still in Levelland and Joe still in the hospital. Let us remember all these sick in our prayers.

Social Security News

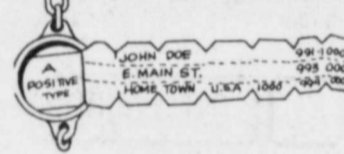

Virginia DeWitt Social Security Representative

I plan to retire next year when I reach 65. Can you give me some hints about applying for social security benefits? I'd like to be prepared when I file my application.

At 65, you'll be eligible for Medicare as well as for monthly retirement checks. To make sure your checks start on time you have full Medicare protection the month you are 65. You should apply about 3 months before you reach 65. You can apply in person or by phone. Some of the documents you'll need are your social security card, (or a record of your number), proof of age, and your latest W-2 or self-employment tax return. For more information about applying for retirement benefits, ask at any social security office for a copy of the leaflet, Thinking About Retiring?

For further information regarding Social Security benefits please contact the Social Security office, 1401-B West 5th Street, Plainview, Texas. A telephone call to the Plainview office may save you time and a trip.

December 31 — We have entered into a new year January, 1980, and we wish peace and happiness to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson spent the Christmas holidays in Grand Prairie in the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Glassmeyer. They left home Sunday, December 23, and returned home Thursday, December 27.

The family and friends Christmas party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gene Carthels was held on Friday. Those enjoying this get-together were Mr. and Mrs. Chris Rink and Christopher of Juneau, Alaska, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cozy and Kara, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gregory and family, Mr. and Mrs. Britt Gregory and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry McGuire and daughter, Nancy Moss, Darla Assister, Rick and Jack Carthel and Dara Carthel. The Chris Rink family left Monday for their home in Juneau, Alaska.

We, the Bagwells, enjoyed a phone visit with the brother Wayland Bagwell of Los Angeles Saturday afternoon.

Christmas eve Mrs. Kate Crabtree had all of her children and grandchildren at her house for dinner and the Christmas tree. Those there were Mr. and Mrs. Lige Moore and Robert of Northport, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. Kay Crabtree, Becky, Sam and Anissa. On Christmas Day all of the above named were at the Kay Crabtree home for Christmas dinner.

Friday, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hampton visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kay Crabtree and family. The Hampton were on their way home to Midland from Oklahoma, where they had spent Christmas. Others with them were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hampton and Craig Blessing.

Christmas Day, Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mallard and family and Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen and Mike and Norman, were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson.

Mary Ann Mallard visited Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell Thursday afternoon. Mrs. Ray Cook also visited us Thursday and brought us a lovely plate of Christmas candy and cookies.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Green of Houston and Maurice Burton of Lubbock were dinner guests Friday in the Lee Burton home.

Lee Burton went to Lubbock Sunday and had dinner in the home of his sister, Maurice Burton. Mr. and Mrs. Randy Green and Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Masso were also there.

Mr. and Mrs. R.B. Hatley visited Mrs. Ethel Graham Christmas eve.

Sunday afternoon Mrs. Jewell Teague and Mrs. Ethel Graham visited Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hollums.

Christmas eve Mr. and Mrs. Keith Teague, Shelli and Ryan of Pampa, visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye.

Sunday for late dinner and visiting into the night at the Weldon Pruitt home were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble, Kelly and Cindy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Marble and Justin.

Sunday Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize were dinner guests in the Bill Beedy home. Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson came in the afternoon.

Christmas eve night, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wilson, Brenda and Brent of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mallard and family of Vine Grove, Kentucky, Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize, and Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson were all guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen, Mike and Norman, for supper and Christmas tree.

Mike and Norman Allen spent Christmas eve night with Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize.

Mrs. Fred Marble, Cindy and Justin, visited Friday in the Bill Tye home.

A group of relatives gathered at the Harvey Allen home on Thursday night to be with Jim and Mary Ann Mallard and their family before they left for their Kentucky home on Friday morning. Others were Leonard Wilson and son Brent of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Walton Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Woodrow Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy, Charles Beedy and Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Pruitt, Karen and Christy. Leonard Wilson and Brent spent the night at Allens and went home Friday.

In the Bill Beedy home Christmas day for dinner were Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Beedy, Mark and Todd, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye and Charles Beedy in the afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Bradford Beedy of Spearman came and spent the night with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Beedy. Others there that night until bedtime were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye, Mr. and Mrs. A.S. Mize, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Allen and sons and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mallard and family.

Mrs. Verna Lee Cardinal received work Wednesday morning December 26, of the death of her uncle, Lee Nabors of DeLeon. Because of illness, Mrs. Cardinal was unable to go to the funeral.

Jerry Cardinal, who spent the Christmas holidays here with his mother, left Sunday afternoon for his home in Houston. Mrs. Verna Lee Cardinal took her son to Lubbock to get a plane home.

Karen Pruitt spent Sunday night December 23 with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Tye.

Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Walls went to Plainview Wednesday and visited Mr. and Mrs. E.R. Walls and other relatives.

On Sunday December 23, Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fawver celebrated Christmas with their entire family. For the first time in four years, all members were present at the same time. This included two daughters, Mary Lou Sinor of Canadian, Texas; and Doris and husband Edwin Wilcox of Spur; three grandsons, Will Sinor and wife Katy of Irving, Lee Sinor and wife Cathy of Canadian, and Leslie Sinor of Mt. Vernon.

Others present were two granddaughters, Tammy and Terri Wilcox, of Spur; two great-grandsons, Cody and Jeff Sinor of Irving; one great-granddaughter, Kendra Sinor of Canadian. These added to a grand total of fifteen, home for Christmas.

Those visiting with the family Sunday night were Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Colston, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whittle, Nathan and Matt, all of Floydada.

As it happened, this was the Fawver's time to host the Colston annual Christmas dinner and exchanging of gifts. So again, there were fifteen present for this gathering, even though several of the guests had to return to jobs. Present were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Colston; Mr. and Mrs. J.B. Colston and Danny; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Whittle, Nathan and Jeff; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Wilcox, Tammy and Terri. The host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert L. Fawver.

Tammy visited the remainder of the week with her grandparents, who carried her home Sunday to Spur where they had dinner and watched the ballgame with the Wilcoxs.

Anne Sweptson was hostess Christmas eve for the family Christmas tree. Those there were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burns of Amarillo, Doyle Burns of Carrollton, Mrs. Dorothy Garrison of Grandbury, Mr. and Mrs. Hershel Sweptson, Mr. and Mrs. Ken Campbell, Peggy Probasco, Bill Colston, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Don Colston and sons, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Campbell and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Vance Campbell.

On Christmas day Anne Sweptson went to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Vance Campbell for the family dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Burns and Doyle Burns were at Anne Sweptson's on Monday (Christmas eve) until Thursday December 27.

Walton Wilson and his daughter Mary Ann Mallard and her children visited with Mr. and Mrs. E.W. Walls Wednesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell were sick Christmas day and did not get to make their annual trip to Lubbock to be with her cousins, the Thacker family. They met in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Ownbey, where they all met for the turkey dinner with all the trimmings.

The researchers defined displacement as when pedestrians, singly or in groups, approach each other and one moves or turns his or her body for the other. Gender, age, race, and group size were among the characteristics monitored to determine who moved for whom.

The researchers found that: —A man moved for a woman 103 times while a woman moved for a man 79 times.

These days, it's wise to cut food costs wherever you can. Milk and milk products represent one area where savings can be made.

You usually get more milk for the money if you buy in large containers. If you can use or safely store a gallon of milk without waste, it's a better buy than the quart or half-gallon size. Buy milk at the grocery store rather than paying for home delivery.

You can save by using dry, powdered milk in cooking recipes. You can stretch your whole milk supply by adding powdered milk.

Buy cheese whole and grate your own. You pay a premium for grated cheese.

It's often believed good luck to dream of onions.

Floydada Care Center Happenings

Christmas decorations are always so bright and cheery and when they are all put away for the year, things look kinda empty and dull. However, we are hoping for a bright and beautiful 1980 for everyone.

Most of our residents are ready to settle into a slower pace, after spending Christmas at home with their families.

Everyone was ready for Bible study Wednesday afternoon. Those attending were Mamie Gray, Willie Stambaugh, Susie Mooney, W.C. Victoria Asher, Mr. W.C. Cates, Verna McSwain, Francis Childs and Henry Love.

Mr. A.G. Eubanks is in Caprock Hospital where he will undergo surgery sometime this week. We wish him a speedy recovery.

We would like to thank the family of the late Mrs. Lee Burton for the beautiful basket of flowers in memory of their mother.

Twenty-three residents enjoyed three delightful movies and pop-corn Friday afternoon. "On Becoming a Champion," "Wheels and Chains," and "The New Boys" were furnished by the county library. Big bingo winner this week was Clara Williamson who won three games. Mamie Gray and Mr. W.C. Cates won two games each. Mr. Ernest Lawrence, Willie Stambaugh, Victoria Asher and Verna McSwain won one game each.

Mrs. Audrey Dubois had been a resident in the home for only a short time. She died Tuesday morning, December 23, 1979. She would have been 82 years of age. She was a dear, sweet person and we all will miss her a lot.

Visitors this week were: Voncell Colston, Hubert and Ruby Davis, Mrs. Marvin Jarboe, Doris Snodgrass, Ethel Carmack, Michelle Laday, Billy and Laura, and Mardy Holladay, Vicki, Jason and Jarred Laday.

Danny, Suzanne, Jennifer Crammer, Dustin Holladay, Donnie, Gwen, Shell Holladay, Glynese Davis, Carol L. Berry, Sr., Marie Madelyn Hartness, Mrs. J.C. Cain, Mr. and Mrs. M.H. Hartness and Mrs. Minnie Faye Easter.

Sidewalk Gallantry Who Steps Aside?

Gallantry is alive and well on our sidewalks, although it is sometimes difficult to detect.

Pedestrians on a crowded street yield to other pedestrians who are deemed weaker because of their age, sex or health. But pedestrians also yield to those who possess obvious strength and status.

The two acts look the same but have very different social ramifications, according to "Correlates of Displacement in Pedestrians," a study in the autumn issue of the Journal of Communication, published quarterly at the University of Pennsylvania's Annenberg School of Communications.

Researchers Frank Willis Jr., Joseph Gier, and David Smith of the University of Missouri in Kansas City observed 1,038 displacements involving 3,141 pedestrians in a college restaurant and four shopping malls.

The researchers defined displacement as when pedestrians, singly or in groups, approach each other and one moves or turns his or her body for the other. Gender, age, race, and group size were among the characteristics monitored to determine who moved for whom.

The researchers found that: —A man moved for a woman 103 times while a woman moved for a man 79 times.

GLASS BOTTLES AS ART . . . Using the crushed, clear glass and assorted bottles of colored glass shown on the left, Max Miller creates beautiful multi-colored paperweights and clear glass animals such as those displayed at right. Miller, a 58-year-old pipe organ tuner from Redkey, Ind., says his neighbors seem to prefer glass containers and keep him well supplied with the "raw material" for his creative activities. One who obviously appreciates the recyclability of glass, Miller transforms the empty glass containers into artwork in a back yard shop using second-hand homemade glass-making equipment.
