Husband is charged in attempted murder

A shooting in front of the Floyd County Jail resulted in the arrest and charge of attempted murder against a Floydada man. No one was injured in the April 30 incident.

The shooting was apparently provoked by a family argument as a 20-year-old man fired at least two shots from a 20 gauge shotgun.

Witnesses said that the first shot was fired approximately ten blocks from the jail. The young wife was in an automobile with two other persons when they were fired on by the husband in another car.

Apparently the wife got out of the car at the jail to make a complaint. At that time the young husband, from a position beside his car, fired a shot. No bullet hole was found according to Sheriff Fred Cardinal.

Officers arrested the man approximately 8:25 p.m. Thursday. Complaint was taken by District Attorney John R. Hollums filed in and the charge was attempted murder.

Justice of the Peace Walter Hollums set bail at $20,000. Suspect remains in jail at this time pending Grand Jury action. Grand Jury will meet May 11.

On April 27 two men were arrested and six marijuana plants were confiscated from a residence north of Aiken.

The two men arrested were relatives. They were in their early 20's and originally came from Washington state.

They appeared before County Judge Choise Smith, and were fined $200 and court costs. They remain in jail until the fine is worked out.

JAY JEFFERY, quarterback for the Southwest Conference Baylor Bears, spoke to the senior class at their annual party sponsored by the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

His talk on "Setting Goals" was delivered to an audience of almost 100 seniors, parents and school administrators. The dinner was held at the Plains Baptist Encampment.

Medical workshop set for Floydada

The South Plains Emergency Medical Services and Texas Tech University-Health Services Division will co-sponsor a two day workshop in Floydada on May 20 and 21.

The workshop will be held at the Regional Training Center with registration beginning at 9:00 a.m.

The workshop is being offered to all R.N.'s, L.V.N.'s, E.M.T.'s, E.C.A.'s and to M.D.'s who hold a current Texas license. It will include Plainview, Lockney, Matador and other area towns.

Speakers for the two days will include M.D.'s, R.N.'s, and E.M.T.'s, and will deal with the subject of trauma in the small communities with emphasis on stab wounds, gun shot wounds, burns, chest and head trauma, anaphylactic shock as well as communication skills.

Registration fees will be $20 to cover the cost of speakers, materials and etc. and $12 to cover the cost of a catered lunch on both days.

Many months of preparation and coordination have gone into preparations for the workshop, which will be the first in a series to be held in the outlying areas of Lubbock in order to assist in continuing education at the minimum of expense for Medical and Para-medical personnel.

Floydada was chosen as the site of the first workshop due to its central location.

If you fail to receive a registration form and wish to attend or if you have any additional questions you may contact Shirley Meredith, who is the local member of the Advisory Board for the workshop at 983-2104.

State economic growth is looking very good

The Chamber of Commerce Newsletter, sent out this week by new manager Susan Garms, has one section titled "Economic Update" with these reassuring statistics.

Barring any major reversals in present trends, Texas should pass New York to become the nation's second largest state economically sometime in the 1990's.

A number of rural areas of West Texas, which experienced little or no growth and serious out-migration during the 60's showed at least moderate growth during the last decade.

The movement of people away from major urban centers toward smaller cities and towns - a trend now in full swing nationally - will become an increasingly important force in Texas; and many non-metro areas, especially in the Panhandle will show greater growth.

For example, 17% of new plants and expansion - up 90% from 1979 - were located in non-metropolitan areas.

The UT Bureau of Business Research projects that Texas' personal income will grow around 28 to 32 percent over the next two years or some four to six percentage points faster than the national rate.

According to Carl Anderson of the Texas A&M Agricultural Extension Service, 1981 should be a somewhat better year for our states' farmers and ranchers. Hopefully, better weather conditions will increase output, and an improved price structure, especially for livestock, will push up our agribusiness sales and income.

Contestants sought for Floyd County Rodeo Queen

Young ladies of Floyd County are invited to enter the Floydada Rodeo Association Queen contest.

Floyd County young women who can meet the requirements may sign-up any time between now and Old Settlers Day on May 23.

She will receive a $100 gift certificate and a buckle.

First runner-up earns a $75 certificate, second place earns a $50 certificate, and third gets $25.

The handcrafted saddle by Durham will be on display during Old Settlers Day. The "crowning of the queen" ceremonies will take place during the 1981 Rodeo to be held July 23, 24, and 25.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Orman recently attended a National Cotton Warehouse Assn. Convention, which was held aboard the Norwegian M.S. Skyward from April 25-May 2 cruising the Caribbean.

They made stops at Cap Haitien, Haiti, San Juan, Puerto Rico, St. Thomas U.S. Virgin Islands, and Puerto Plata, Dominican Republic and finally back to Miami, Florida.

New tax bill causes concern

BY SHELLY HARRIS

Concern this week led to confusion as officials of the newly formed Floyd County Appraisal District tried to figure the effect a new state house bill would have on them.

The confusion results from any layman trying to understand the workings of the legislature.

Three calls yesterday to Austin by this reporter resulted in a semi-knowledge of bill 602 which has passed, favorably, out of the ways and means committee.

It is a taxing bill which would rescind bill 621 and restore the property tax to the way it was before the passing of Bill 621.

If you are still with me, I will try to make this all clearer. Bill 621 is the one setting up the new appraisal district.

It is a 70 page bill that did a number of things one of which was that if the constitutional amendment was passed by the people in the November election it would set up a single appraisal district.

The amendment was indeed voted in by the people of Texas. The Bill 621 happened to be passed just shortly before the election so that it all came about at the same time.

Called the Peveto Bill in honor of its author, Bill 621 brought about the re-evaluation, the re-appraisal, and will lead by 1982 to establishing a single appraisal district and a single taxing entity.

Now, as with anything of this scope, and as with anything dealing with taxes, there have been problems.

Lynn Nabers, representative from Brownwood, has introduced Bill 602 to the Ways and Means Committee, which would rescind Bill 621 and restore the taxing procedures to the county tax office.

In talking with Cissy Woomer, from Nabers' office in Austin, she said "Lynn Nabers feels like there have been a lot of problems in the #621 and that is has resulted in higher taxes." He has therefore introduced to rescinding Bill. She said that there is a three year phase-in period and that to go ahead will create more problems.

She explained that the next step in the progress of this Bill 602 will be to come before the Calendar Committee. They will vote whether or not to place it on the calendar. If it passes there it will be read on the house floor.

House members will then discuss the bill, make amendments and then vote on the bill as a whole with all the amendments.

This is called a second reading. If it passes that vote it will be read again the next day in what is called the third reading. If it passes there it goes to the Senate Finance Committee and the process is repeated. If the Senate passes the Bill on the third reading it will go to Governor Clements to be signed.

It seems a long way off before anything final will happen, and boggles the mind that Bills do make their way through all that maze. But they do. They get signed. They go into effect. Bill 621 did.

If you would like more information or if you have an opinion about these Bills here are the telephone numbers of the Representatives concerned; Senator Ray Farabee, (512) 475-4446; Representative Foster Whaley (512) 475-3883. The woman who answered the phone at Whaley's office said that they have had numerous calls from throughout the district concerning this Bill 602.

It is interesting to note that the author of the Bill 621, Peveto, is also introducing a Bill 1465 as his effort to amend his own taxing bill. It has also been reported favorably out of committee.

Margie Savage's My Savage World

The night was still except for the occasional gust of March wind that teased the trees. The darkness was silent.

Then from far away came the sound of the whinnying of a dog followed by the fierce barking of the pack.

This had been going on for some time now, Ned reflected as he lay in bed and listened. The dogs were growing closer. The hair on his neck bristled as he heard the dogs enter his yard. The dog was whinnying as if in submission. The dogs were now growling and beginning to fight among themselves. Ned could hear the heavy bodies being thrown on the ground time and time again.

Ned groped for his pants and shirt. He must put a stop to this. He turned on the night light and reached for the gun he always kept in the night stand. He was glad Jane and the children were visiting her mother.

Suddenly a shrill cry cut into the night. No, no it couldn't be. He had locked Tammy in the barn. She was expecting her pups at any time. If she defended her territory now, it would be certain death for her and the puppies. She was a registered collie. He had been offered $500 for her. The puppies would easily bring $200 a piece.

But the money wasn't what Ned was thinking of as he opened the door. The sight sickened him. Blood and fur lay everywhere.

"Tammy, no!" Ned shouted. Tammy was in the heat of the fight; her great bulk making her clumsy. Down she went beneath the hulk of the black doberman. The doberman made for her throat.

A shot filled the air. Another and another. Ned's aim was true. All of the invading dogs lay dead. Ned let his breath out. Tammy was whinnying. She was hurt. She also was obviously in labor. Her eyes were filled with pain and trust as Ned held the light and ran his hands over her body. "It's okay, girl," he whispered.

Then he knew it was too late. She was gone. He picked her up gently and headed for the vet. He had to step over the lifeless bodies of the dogs. They lay in their own blood. Their tongues were lolled out revealing wicked teeth positioned even in death to tear flesh away.

Suddenly from behind he felt a hot breath. He was being knocked from his feet. Would this nightmare never end? He heard a snarl as the sharp teeth seared into his flesh. Bright lights blinded him.

A shot rang out. The hot vice released its hold on him.

"Hey, Ned. You okay?" asked the sheriff. "Good thing I answered the call about some dogs disturbing the neighbors. Guess we'd better get you and Tammy to the doc. Maybe we can save the pups."

What if the dogs in our town sudden became rampant. What would we do?

It's Not Easy

Carol Lea Clark

Parents, especially parents of toddlers, should be careful not only what they teach their children, but how they teach them.

I started practicing with my daughter months before her birthday so that she would be able to say her age on her second birthday.

We clapped as she blew out the candles and said "I two."

With that success I decided that it was time my daughter could say her name, Amber.

So I started practicing. "Amber, what's your name?"

What did she say her name was? "Two."

I could not go around with my daughter saying her name was "Two," so I kept practicing. I explained that my name was "Mama Clark," Daddy's name was "Daddy Clark," and she was Amber Clark.

Part of the message got through. She now said that she was "Two Clark."

By chance one day I started using her middle name in our daily name practice. "Amber Lea Clark, what's your name?"

She loved the sound as she ran the words together, "Amberleackark" and started saying it over and over.

But now when you ask her how old she is, she says, "Amberleackark." Apparently she will either willingly state her age or her name but not both.

I'm afraid we're in for a period of re-learning.

It won't be the first time.

A few weeks ago we were trying to teach her to say "duck" and would she repeat the word whenever she was wearing a T-shirt decorated with a duck riding in a car.

She learned the word "duck" all right. For weeks every time we passed a car she would say "duck."

I hope it doesn't take long for my daughter to make corrections in what she learned from my last effort as a language teacher.

My husband gets embarrassed when she calls him "Daddy Clark" in public.

Perspectives

The Rev. Michael O'Connor

Whatever happened to CAP?

The infamous Lubbock anti-porn crusaders were in the headlines quite often for awhile. Perhaps they are still at work and the news media have given up on them.

In any case they have not yet succeeded in doing away with X-rated fare in Lubbock. Nor do I think they really will.

The reasons for such a pessimistic view are many. Our laws are vague, and the interpretations have been more vague. Many people think freedom means they may do and see as they please, and nobody has any right to tell them otherwise. Others feel there is no intrinsic harm in pornography, and thus no need to regulate it.

Changing the laws will perhaps somewhat stem the tide, but will not completely do away with the production or distribution of porn. Nor will a change in the law cause any reduction in the sale of the softer varieties of the stuff to children.

I remember when I was in junior high, I found it easy enough to find a store that would sell me a Playboy, even though at the time most merchants would not.

To eliminate pornography, we must eliminate the need for it. To do that means that people who are concerned about the problem must do more than demonstrate, they must also show compelling, logical reasons for eliminating porn.

Even more than this, they must be willing to change the hearts of people.

If porn is offensive to God, then people must be brought to know God well enough that He can convince them He does not like it.

We must also examine our prejudices as to what is obscene. Traditionally, pornography has been limited to the expression of explicit sex.

Is that any more obscene than explicit violence - watching someone's head blown off in technicolor splendour?

Are either of those more obscene than a soap opera where people solve their problems by lying, cheating, and drinking?

For that matter, are any of these things as obscene as life, where people die daily of poverty, abuse, and neglect?

Perhaps some are called to protest, but all are called to be disciples and make disciples. Let us be about those tasks, and all obscenities we face will be taken care of better.

Congressman Charles W. Stenholm

WASHINGTON, D.C. — When Congress reconvenes after the current District Work Period, House members will be called upon to cast one of the most important votes of the year — approval of the first concurrent budget resolution.

In all likelihood, there will be two proposals considered by the full House, the House Budget Committee's (HBC) recommended budget and a bipartisan substitute that has the Administration's approval. I will be supporting the bipartisan plan.

That proposal, I believe, is superior to the budget reported by the HBC in every respect. It encompasses most of the changes that conservative Democrats recommended to the President when we visited the White House earlier this year. It restores full defense funding by the President and it reduces total outlays by $6.1 billion below the level of the Reagan March 10th budget. It also adds money back for veterans' programs to bring the level of veterans' cuts to the level recommended by the Veterans Committee. Partial funding for the Economic Development Agency and Vocational Education programs are restored, as well.

Following the Budget Committee's approval of their proposal, there have been charges and counter-charges involving whether the Reagan economic assumptions used to formulate his spending plan or the differing House assumptions were correct. Key issues in the assumptions are the rate and increased growth. While members of the HBC staff agreed with that new tax and policies would have effects on both areas, the forecast was based on a annual inflation rate of 5 percent in 1982, compared to Reagan's assumption of 4 percent. The committee also predicted a slower rate in the gross national product and an interest rate of 10 percent, opposed to the 8 percent used to calculate the original Reagan proposal.

Even if the House Committee assumption is more realistic, I believe the bottom line would be deeper into federal debt and its effects on the economy would be reflected in the depth of those cuts. The assumptions used will probably be debated the year is over and the results are in. But the proposal has much more spending levels than the partisan counterpart and continuing commitments reduce that spending level. The final act of legislative drama will be April 27 in the Ways and Means Committee, as begin work on the tax package of the economic package. When the House finally on the tax package, we have made the first step in reviving our national economy and slowing inflation.

Capitol Comment

BY FOSTER WHALEY State Representative

The clock is ticking away. The Legislative Session will end June 2 -- less than 30 days. Old timers in the legislature say this has been a strange session. Very few heated floor fights. Bills passing without being contested. Two years ago the same bill would have required two hours of debate.

This week initiative and referendum went down the tube. It got only 88 votes on the floor -- 100 are required for a constitutional amendment.

House Bill 41 repealing the blue law was defeated. It will not surface for two more years. Polls show up to 80 percent and more of the public wanted it rescinded. Two strong lobby groups worked hard at defeating it.

People all over the state are upset at Judge William Wayne Justice -- the federal judge who is over in the field of legislating with his arbitrary court decisions.

On Friday, I had a visit with Governor Clements on the floor of the House. I told Governor Clements I would put up a bill to place a halfway house for criminals next door to the residence of William Wayne Justice if he would agree to pardon some of our hardened, three-time offenders and place them in the halfway house. He was amused by the offer but not agree to anything.

We also wrote Mark and urged him to come to the legislature and ask for whatever he needs in more appeal these high-maintenance decisions that mandates lions must be spent.

A bill should soon be the floor for debate would raise tuition for students in college. Texas the lowest tuition in nation. The proposal has been to double the cost which will still be below the national average after being doubled.

Sue Hong received a statuette of Beethoven for her work of five selections and the life history of Ludwig von Beethoven.

To close the evening, Mrs. Gray presented single red rose buds to the three finalists for "Top Student of the Year." They were Terri Lloyd, Anna Leta Bradshaw, and Shawnda Sanders. The highest award, that of "Top Honor Student of the Year" was then presented to Anna Leta Bradshaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie R. Bradshaw of Floydada. Mrs. Gray wishes to once again express to the members of the First United Methodist Church her sincere appreciation in allowing her the use of the sanctuary for the 1981 Spring Recital.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Dear Beacon:

Happy Birthday, 4-12-1902. I am late with the greeting, but I must get it in as it may be my last one, as I am near 92 years old and almost blind.

I linked the forms and my cousin, the late Leslie Floyd, cranked the Washington press and printed Vol. 1, No. 1 of The Beacon.

Mother died in Lockney in 1903, Dad and I left there in 1906 for Dawson.

I joined the Santa Fe Railroad in 1912, and after a good career of 46 years I retired with the official title of purchasing agent to the Western lines, at Amarillo.

Memories are bright of the many happy days in Lockney, the home of the warmest and kindest people ever created.

Best wishes to all.

Sincerely,
Clifton Oliver

MRS. HECTOR PEREZ

Nina Hernandez, Hector Perez exchange marriage vows Saturday, May 2 in Plainview

Marriage vows were exchanged by Nina Hernandez and Hector Perez on Saturday, May 2, at the Sacred Heart Catholic Church in Plainview. Before an archway decorated with baskets of yellow and blue flowers and ribbons, Rev. Rex Nicholl, pastor, read the vows. They are the children of Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Hernandez of Floydada, and Mr. and Mrs. Fastino Perez of Hart.

Providing musical selections were Bertha Rogers at the piano and soloists Elizabeth Lopez and Cindy Mitchell. Guests were seated by John Lopez and Joe Alaman of Floydada.

Members of the wedding party included Elva Martinez of Floydada, maid of honor, and bridesmaids Gloria Medrano of Floydada, Diana Quarez, Petersburg, Norma Zapata, Carmen Rodriguez, Irma Mendoza, Carolina Madrid, Rita Hernandez, Floydada, Mary Lopez, Linda Nunez, and Rosa Nava. Flower girl was Amy Rodriguez.

Best man was Erby Moleнар of Floydada, and groomsmen were Dean Molinar, Lockney, Gus Soliz, Robert Rodriguez, Tony Guerra, Floydada, Tommy Freorna, Tony Madrid, Tony Hernandez, Floydada, Ringo Lopez, Robert Nunez, and Rene Nava. Ring bearer was Tony Hernandez Jr., of Floydada.

Church decorations were provided by Mr. and Mrs. John Lopez and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Ruiz.

The bride, presented in marriage by her parents, wore a formal gown of white organza over peau de soie. It featured a molded bodice feathered with Chantilly lace, a portrait necklace, and a natural waist accented in satin ribbon. The Juliet cuffs, closed with satin buttons, terminated the long fitted lace sleeves.

Her full skirt, ending in a swag effect and accented with silk flowers, cascaded to a full chapel-length train. The bride complimented her attire with a walking-length veil of illusion which fell from a lace covered Camelot headpiece. It was trimmed with pearls, crystals and streamers. Train bearers were Adrian Mendoza and Ruby Carvajal. Her silk flower bouquet was accented with pearls, crystals and streamers.

A white lace gown lined in taffeta was worn by the maid of honor. It was designed with an elastic empire waistline and satin ribbon ties at the shoulders. It was enhanced by a lace jacket, made in a cascade of tiny crystal pleats, and a ruffle at the neckline and extended shoulders. A shirred flounce complimented the pleated skirt. She wore a white flower in her hair.

Gowns designed identical to that of the honor attendant were worn by the bridesmaids, with five wearing yellow dresses and a yellow flower in their hair, and five

YEAR OF THE DISABLED

Floyd County Extension
Homemakers Club members will celebrate National Homemakers Week May 3-9.
Theme for the 1981 celebration nationwide is "Plant a Seed of Education and Watch It Grow." In keeping with the theme, members of 30,000 clubs representing more than 500,000 homemakers in the United States will plant and dedicate trees.

Floyd County Extension
Homemakers will plant a tree on the Courthouse lawn at vited to attend the planting dedication.

DO YOU FALL FOR SUPERMARKET
GIMMICKS?

Have you ever gone to the store for strawberries and went home with the little shortcake package and whipping cream, too? Perhaps you bought the extras just because they looked so good in the supermarket display.
Do your children find great delight in picking out all the sugar-coated cereals the store has to offer? This may happen because those cereals are displayed at children's eye levels. If so, you fell for marketing gimmicks.

Not so bad, since all that is fun occasionally, but not so good if you sacrifice family nutrition with frequent gimmick buying - impulse buying.

To avoid this, take time to plan purchases. Shop with a list so you aren't vulnerable to "point-of-purchase" influences at the supermarket.
Read labels and study food advertisements. Understand as much information as possible about nutrition and need serving sizes. Also learn about the "cost per pound" or "cost per ounce"
— and then you must figure how many servings that pound will make or how many ounces will make a serving. In addition, seek information from your County Extension Office about food buying and nutrition.
Many booklets and pamphlets are available to the public at no charge through the County Extension Offices across Texas. Finally, be aware of supermarket gimmicks such as the strawberry shortcake displays and the sugar-coated cereal shelf placement.

Other gimmicks include colorful banners, slogans and marketing products themselves - all of which induce a mid-hypnotic-trance in many consumers, according to one study. Remember, unless you're careful, these gimmicks can lead to the purchase of more high-profit eye-appealing, self-gratifying and less nutritious buying.

Public encouraged to visit nursing homes during Nursing Home Week in Texas

The desire of residents of nursing homes to help others has fostered creation of the First Annual Life Festival giving added impetus to the observance of Nursing Home Week in Texas this year.

The traditional "week" which begins on Mother's Day Sunday each year (May 10, 1981) was established to encourage the general public to visit nursing homes to learn for themselves the quality of care and the diversity of activities in today's modern licensed nursing homes.

Some of those activities have been amazingly productive. Within the past few years the residents of Texas nursing homes have raised over $300,000 dollars for the Heart Association. Ronald

MacDonald Houses, and other worthwhile causes. Sid Rich of Austin, president of Texas Nursing Home Association to which the great majority of nursing homes belong said: "From all reports we receive the residents in our member homes are happier when they are doing something which allows them to help others and to prove that they are still useful members of society even though they live in nursing homes. The Life Festival gives them that opportunity and will be combined with our special week from now on so the public can join our celebration of research and medical science which is constantly adding healthier, longer, and mor productive years for all mankind."

Proceeds from Life Festivals staged at nursing homes this year will be donated to the Leukemia Society of America in support of its research and patient aid programs.

Government proclaims May 11-17 as National Salvation Army Week

Spring is a time of rebirth — a time when nature begins its cycle anew and turns leafless trees and lifeless lawns green again.

A similar rebirth takes place each year in many individuals who seek the help of The Salvation Army. Those who feel lost, despondent, and forgotten by society often find their lives making a complete turnaround because of their experience at The Salvation Army.

Although The Salvation Army was founded on religious principles, religious affiliation is not required to enjoy the Army's vast array of services. However, all programs are spiritually motivated and aimed at serving the inner as well as outer man.

This concern of Salvation Army personnel makes a key difference as individuals and families are counseled and aided. Case after case has shown that easing physical or emotional problems may not be enough to prepare a person to overcome future setbacks. Serving the total individual with spiritual guidance, concerned counseling and attainable goals provides a solid foundation for stability and personal growth.

This successful blending of spiritualism and social service has earned The Salvation Army a world-wide reputation for excellence in its welfare services, comfort to the elderly, aid to prisoners and their families, youth programs, etc. In recognition of these accomplishments, the government has proclaimed May 11-17 as National Salvation Army Week. As the country takes time to salute the good works of this organization, now in its second century of service, The High blood pressure one of the leading causes of death

You may be one of the 60 million Americans who has high blood pressure or hypertension, and doesn't know it. High blood pressure is symptomless, and today, it is one of the leading causes of death and disability in America.

The Veterans Administration, along with the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services, is reminding all Americans that May 1981 is National High Blood Pressure Month.

The goal of this year's public awareness program is to inform and educate all Americans about high blood pressure, a disease that causes more than 853,000 deaths from cardiovascular problems annually. High blood pressure also increases the risk of premature illness from heart disease, stroke and kidney failure.

High blood pressure can affect anyone. It is a physical condition in which the heart and blood vessels are strained by blood pumping with too much force through the body, and it claims one out of every seven Americans as victims.

The disease is generally easy to diagnose, and it would pay all Americans to have their blood pressure checked. Your family physi-

South Plains News

South Plains Baptist Church enjoys speaker Dr. Littlejohn

South Plains, May 4.

Sunday was a beautiful day on the plains, and speaker here at the South Plains Baptist Church from Plainview was TANE representative Dr. Ron Littlejohn, who is Professor of Theology at Wayland College. He is among the 200 TANE speakers in Texas, and he took his text from Ephesians 5-15. "Walk circumspectly—not as fools, but be wise," he told the audience, "if you want to find enrichment in life, walk with God, Take care of your life. It is in the hands of God." He brought a wonderful message to the church body.

This Monday several of the area farmers are beginning to plant their cotton. There has been such a fine lot of rains in our area, and the land is in good shape. Several of those who plant a big garden have the ground all ready, and are irrigating and getting it ready to plant. The beautiful honeysuckle vines are all a-bloom here this Monday, and the fragrance is sweet all around the block. Birds, moths, bees and even a hummingbird comes when the honeysuckle is in full bloom. Roses are their very loveliest this season, and most of our fruit trees are laden with peaches, apples, apricots and cherries. The frost did not get the fruit this year.

Visitors seen at the South Plains Baptist Church Sunday morning and evening were Atha Blake, and Cindy Brazil of Wayland College in Plainview; Mrs. Cordy Taylor of Muleshoe; Mr. and Mrs. Mark Stevens, and Jeff Littlejohn, and Renee Sanders all from Plainview.

Potts assists TTU in placing at the Mini Baja

A team of five Texas Tech University students competing in an off-road recreational vehicle they designed and built finished eighth in the Mini Baja West contest at Pomona, California, this past weekend (May 2).

Entries in the Mini Baja, an intercollegiate competition designed to confront students with professional engineering challenges, were judged on mechanical design, presentation, safety, cost, acceleration-top speed, braking ability, maneuverability, hill climb and endurance.

The contest ended Saturday with a rugged 50-mile endurance race in which the Texas Tech team placed fifth.

The team from Texas Tech took first place in the oral presentation competition, one of eight events in which cars were judged. Vehicles were evaluated 80 percent for performance and 20 percent for design and other factors.

Texas Tech students who participated in the California competition were: senior John M. Harlan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Harlan, Bishop; seniors Donald W. and Douglas E. Thompson, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Thompson, Moore, Oklahoma; junior Barry R. Hines, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. Norwin Hines, Brownville; and junior Jim F. Potts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Potts, Floydada.

The project was sponsored by the Texas Tech student chapter of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers.

Again, it's that time of year when hospital emergency rooms are full of handymen who have had a run-in with a ladder. Here are a few hints for staying on that ladder - and making it work for - not against you. If these hints sound simple-minded, remember hundreds of injuries each year are caused by putting up a ladder in front of a closed or unlocked door. Open the door or lock it. Don't use an unstable object like a rock or brick to level a ladder, and don't use a ladder in a high wind - unless you really enjoy traction. Don't lean a ladder against a window pane or screen. Linking ladders to add height can also add plaster casts. A metal ladder near electrical lines can conduct you right to the E. R. And, although a new coat of paint on a wooden ladder looks great, it also hides new cracks and splits. A ladder can put you up where you want to be, or down as another Spring casualty.

President Reagan proclaims

Small Business Week

President Reagan has proclaimed the week of May 10-16 as Small Business Week.

In issuing the proclamation, President Reagan said, "To revitalize the Nation, we must stimulate small business growth and opportunity. Small business accounts for over 60 percent of our jobs, half of our business output, and at least half of the innovations that keep American industry strong. The imagination, skills, and willingness of small business men and women to take necessary risks symbolize the free enterprise foundation of the American economy and must be encouraged."

Small Business Week is held annually to recognize the contributions of small entrepreneurs.

The President urged all Americans involved in small business to continue their resourcefulness, adding that "it is with justifiable pride that the American small business man can point to himself as the backbone of our Nation."

Spring clean, repair your mailbox

Among the many things that spring-time brings to mind is spring cleaning, and Lockney Postmaster Doug Meriwether has a reminder to include your mailbox in this annual spring rite.

Mailbox Improvement Week, May 18-23, provides the perfect opportunity to clean, repair, repaint or replace your mailbox.

"Neat, attractive mailboxes add to the overall appearance of the community and aid in the delivery of mail," the Postmaster said. Boxes should be within easy reach of letter carriers. On rural routes, the carrier must have access to the box without leaving his vehicle. Mailboxes on rural and contract routes must be located on the right hand side of the road in the direction traveled by the carrier, the Postmaster said.

"Rain or snow leaking into the mailbox could ruin the special letter; so box seams should be tight to prevent the loss or damage to the box," he said.

Box numbers should be clearly marked including the owner's name.

All mailboxes must meet the requirements for size and location. They should be available from the Postmaster Meriwether.

Jerry Perry

Where's the wheat growth market for the '80's? Overseas, says agricultural economist, Dr. Michael Cook. Citing increased dependence on food supplies by foreign countries and increased dependence on foreign markets by U S producers, he believes agricultural exports are increasing sharply to both developing and centrally planned countries. While agreeing this is good, Cook cautions these are the most politically volatile areas lending to a greater dollar risk. U S agricultural exports rose from $6.9 billion in 1970 to $40.5 billion last year. A 3 percent increase in food and fiber demand is predicted in the next few years with worldwide changes from a grain diet to one with more animal protein being part of the reason. Cook's statement emphasized increased agricultural production and decreased resources of energy, water, land and credit will be the key to future growth in agriculture.

Colorful proof that Bluebonnets will grow this far north

BY SHELLY HARRIS

A parade of wildflower enthusiasts have been admiring Bluebonnets at the S.W. Ross home on Houston Street in Floydada.

"Most of the flowers are volunteers," Mrs. Ross said. Small bunches of the plants scattered along the fence and sidewalk attest to the fact that the seeds, carried on the wind are planting themselves.

A few years ago Ross, challenged by the opinion that Floydada is too far North to support the Bluebonnets, broadcast seed into his backyard.

The flowers not only came up but they have thrived.

As one of the original board members of the Mackenzie Water Authority, Ross, has been broadcasting Bluebonnet seeds at the lake site.

"If they'll grow here, they will grow at the lake. Someday it (the park area) will be covered with the Bluebonnets," he predicted.

The Bluebonnet, state flower of Texas, belongs in the pea family.

The name comes from the tiny, deep blue blossoms in the shape of a bonnet. They grow one above the other along the stem. It is an annual flower which blooms in the spring and is killed by the first frost in the fall. During the summer it drops seeds from which the next years flowers grow.

Wildflowers over the entire state are in abundance this year. The weather has favored the billions of seeds lying dormant by the side of the roads.

Conditioned by nature to survive the past two years of dry spells they have simply awaited the right conditions.

The mild winter and timely rains we have experienced this past year plus the most important factor...no late frost... has produced a bumper crop of wildflowers.

On our trip to College Station two weeks ago the flowers were magnificent. We saw more of the red, Indian Blankets than we did Bluebonnets.

The fact that we as Texas motorists can enjoy this year's wildflower show is because of a lot of hard work and research done by the Texas Highway Department over the last 50 years.

Fred Pass, editor of the Texas Almanac, said that "It was in 1929 that highway people observed they were creating an environment for wildflowers habitat along highway right of ways. These flowers thrive on poor soil where they don't have much competition from other vegetation. And since roadways are built largely of fill dirt with little topsoil, bluebonnets and other varieties began to take over on the sites. At once, a policy was distributed throughout the highway system that was designed to preserve and protect the propagation of wildflowers alongside highways."

There has been some criticism of the Department for mowing the roadsides. But this "is probably the only thing that has allowed the flowers to survive. Otherwise, other vegetation would take over and crowd them out."

Even with the price of gas, a short trip off the cap to see the roadside decoration is certainly worth it.

If you can't do that, perhaps the Ross' will allow you to have a look at their wildflower garden.

BLUEBONNET, contrary to most belief will grow and replenish as a wildflower as far north as Floydada.

THE BACKYARD OF THE S.W. ROSS RESIDENCE is the setting for the Bluebonnets in the center of the photo.

Approck Peace Officers meeting and Rattlesnake Rodeo this week

Friday, May 14, 1981 marks the 33rd anniversary of the Approck Peace Officers Association meeting and Rodeo. This year's meeting is expected to be larger than last years with prizes to the addition of Cecil Fox. Pre-arranged the years will be hand to greet the officers and to give Rattlesnake demonstrations. The Board of Directors and members of the Association this year respectfully dedicate this years meeting to J.D. Davis, Dept. of Public Safety, Slaton, killed in the line of duty and James McCauley, long time member of the Lubbock Police Dept who died of illness this past year.

For their dedication to duty and to services rendered to the citizens of their communities a plaque will be presented to their families.

Program tentatively calls for registration to begin at 9:00 at the headquarters of the Association at old Clairemont, just west of Jayton, Texas on Highway 380.

A barbeque luncheon will be served at noon followed by an address. A drawing will be held at 2 p.m. for gifts donated by area merchants. This year the Peace Officers will be drawing for a pistol and shotgun.

The Rattlesnake Shoot is to begin following the drawing with the best shot taking home a pair of sharkskin boots.

Program will conclude with President Fox awarding the prizes at 3 p.m.

All law enforcement officers from all branches of service are invited to attend along with their guests.

State Fair theme has been selected

Places. Doing has been selected as the theme for the 1981 State Fair which is dated August 8-25, in Dallas. The fair underscores the emphasis on exposed a slight dip in overall attendance, consistent with 1980 figures throughout the recession-plagued amusement industry, but saw increases in specific areas including rodeo attendance, Music Hall gross, livestock and creative art entries, food and beverage revenues and livestock auction sale receipts. "Camelot", starring Richard Burton in 24 performances at the Music Hall, grossed over $1.1 million while playing to 74,062 persons during its three week run. Both figures established new all-time records for a State Fair Musical.

The State Fair Rodeo, featuring the much acclaimed Royal Canadian Mounted Police Musical Ride, attracted 38,191 to ten performances, a 22.6% increase over '79 attendance.

The Pan-American Livestock Exposition hosted 526 registered visitors from 23 foreign countries. Six purebred beef cattle sales during the Exposition grossed $458,600. Entries in all areas of livestock competition totalled a record 15,339 head, and the Junior Auction Sales reached an all-time high gross of $34,777.

Reese Air Force Base hosts open house this weekend

REASE AIR FORCE BASE, Texas—the South Plains will have a special kind of bird to watch as the U.S. Air Force Thunderbirds are scheduled to perform in the Open House.

Aerial demonstration team is scheduled to start its show at 3 p.m. But Thunderbirds aren't the only attractions lined up for the Mother's Day event. The U.S. Navy Leapfrogs, a team, is slated to start its show at approximately 2 p.m. Continuous entertainment nicknamed from the world, the Country Critters, a country and western band from AFB, Texas, will play at 1 p.m.

There are also some real animals on display in the Open House. Security police dogs, also from Lackland, will put on a demonstration of enforcement aiding skills at 10 a.m.

Also on the list of military equipment that will be on display that morning. Among the equipment on display will be a Navy balloon which will be inflated to the flightline on a 50 foot tower. House visitors will be given a ride in the balloon unless winds are past 12 knots.

Off the Open House weekend will be a street dance in Founder's Park May 9. The dance begins at 8 p.m. with the performance of the South Plains College band "Raisin' a Ruckus" and continues from 10 until midnight with music by "Sandy Land Goodtime Band."

The entire show is open to the public and free. Bring mom out to Reese for a special Mother's Day treat — the Thunderbird air show.

C-5 is almost as long as a football field
The world's largest aircraft, the C-5 Galaxy, and the Air Force's newest fighter, the F-16 Fighting Falcon, have been added to the list of static display aircraft.

The C-5 is a heavy cargo transport aircraft designed to provide massive strategic airlift and support forces. Almost as long as a football field, the aircraft is as high as a six-story building and has a cargo compartment about the size of an eight-lane bowling alley.

The F-16 is a compact, multirole fighter aircraft. A very maneuverable plane designed for air-to-air combat and air-to-surface attack, the F-16 provides a high performance weapon system for the air forces of the United States and allied nations.

Other aircraft on display include the F-106 Delta Dart, F-4 Phantom, T-33 Shooting Star, C-141 Starlifter, the F-14

Tomcat, the A-4, E-2, F-8 and A-37. Gates to the open house open at 10 a.m. The Open House is free and open to the public.

A MEMBER OF THE U.S. NAVY LEAPFROGS floats to earth during the group's performance at last year's Reese Open House. The parachute team will perform again at the May 10 Open House.

Floydada Nursing Home happenings

Dorothy Neff is back at work

BY DOROTHY NEFF
It's good to be back to work after spending several days in the hospital and at home.

I sure did miss being with these sweet people. I enjoyed the visits of Juanita Bailey, Velva Pricer, Genene Roberts, Emmitt Lawrence and Henry Love while I was in the hospital.

We would like to thank the Sunshine Sunday school class for the bananas and cookies.

Ms. Mary Hargis brought candy eggs for the residents. Mr. Lawrence sold out of owl plaques while I was gone, so now we will be busy making owls again.

Mrs. Velva Pricer is back home with her husband. We all miss her in all our activities but we wish her the very best.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell also went back home to live.

We will miss these dear people very much, but we are so thankful they were able to go back home to live.

We would like to welcome Ms. Mary Lou Collins and Ms. Vera Duke to our home. We hope they will be happy with their new home. Ms. Collins is the mother of Orville Marler and Ms. Duke is the mother of Jackie Duke and Mrs. Edward Baird all of Floydada.

BY JOEY THAYER AND LUDUSTIA LEATHERMAN

On April 3, 1981 the fifth grade class of Mrs. McDonald's homeroom wrote get-well cards to President Reagan. She sent them off that day. We received a letter from the White House April 28, 1981. This is what it said:

How delighted I was to receive your get-well message! It tells me of your friendship and makes me very happy. I know with so many young people rooting for me that it won't be long before I'm feeling much better.

From the bottom of my heart, thank you for caring.
Ronald Regan

Everybody was surprised when Mrs. McDonald said she found a letter from the White House in her mail box at school. She read it to her class. They were very happy to receive this letter from such an important man!

102 YEARS OLD—Mrs. Louisa McRoberts of Amarillo celebrated her 102nd birthday on April 25, 1981. A former resident of Floydada, Mrs. McRoberts has six children, five of whom are "Senior Citizens"; 10 grandchildren, 29 great-grandchildren and seven great-great grandchildren.

INSUR-MATION

Floyd County Insurance Agency Jerry Cooper

Q. Our home is rapidly filling up with beautiful - and expensive - gifts for our daughter's forthcoming marriage, and we're a little worried. Are there any arrangements we can make to obtain insurance coverage on the gifts while they are in our home?
A. Yes, and there is no additional charge on a tenant-homeowner's policy to attach an "Engaged Couple's Endorsement". This little known, but very worthwhile, coverage provides protection at any residence or place of storage where wedding presents or personal property of either the bride or groom may be kept for a period not to exceed 90 days after the wedding.
