

Modeling planned for county courthouse

The county court room looks oddly out of place. The bench has been sent to the state. Right, to the state.

Thayer said that his office audits the County Auditor's books and the Treasurers office each year, but they have not audited the tax office.

"Since we haven't done an audit of the tax office we can't give a clean opinion on all the records," Thayer said.

The audits will have to be repeated every three years.

Up until last year the state audited the tax office, but now they only audit the license taxes.

Fawver said that there had been a problem with mistakes, of minor sums, in transferring the statement amounts for the reports done by the computer. She said that she had to go back over most of the statements.

She was therefore still unable to complete the tax reports, but they would be completed shortly.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett asked Fawver if she had not told the commissioners at the last court session in April that the reports were almost ready.

She said that she thought they were but that the computer "kicked them out because they would be a few cents off."

Fawver said that the mistakes had occurred in her office as the figures were transcribed on the statements.

Thayer told the court that he would probably wait until June 30 to begin the audit.

Commissioners agreed to put off a motion until Thayer presents a proposal at the next court meeting in June.

CHRISTINA MEDRANO, a junior at Floydada High School, placed second at the girls state track meet last weekend.

Second in state

Christina Medrano is top two-miler

Late afternoon and the track is empty except for one lone runner. Her name is Christina Medrano and she has taken the state honors of second place in the two mile run.

The season is over and Christina is running easy, no pressure, just going through her paces to please the photographer.

Her stride is even, each foot plants itself and then pushes off with a rhythm that is almost musical. Over and over, knees drawn up to the same height, toes pointed the same direction.

"What do you think of when you're running?" she was asked later.

"I don't know," she answered shyly, "how to win, how to pace myself mostly."

Christina began running when she was in the seventh grade. By the eighth grade she was winning ribbons and that year she took a first in the 1320 meter.

During the 1981 regional races in Lubbock she broke the record for the 3200 meter with a time of 11:45.3. Neither she nor the state winner equaled that time in Austin.

"I felt really good that day," she said about the regional meet. "I felt good physically and mentally. Before and after the race."

The Whirlettes relay team competed at Austin Memorial Stadium along with Christina.

They took 6th place at state with a time of 4:10.9 in the 1600 meter relay. Those team members are: Louannie Williams, Sandra Robinson, Mysti Younger, and Sylvia Coleman.

Coach Coward, girls track coach, accompanied the team to Austin.

"This taking a second place at state, is something really special," Coach Coward said of Christina. "she deserves recognition for her outstanding ability."

The heartbreaker is that Christina thought she had the state race won. She was leading the pack by as much as 70 yards at one time. Then in the last lap Angela Moffitt from Powderly North Lamar pulled out of the pack.

"She just came out of nowhere," Christina said. "I knew she was back there. I heard the man at the loudspeaker say she was five yards behind me."

Moffitt kicked ahead and passed Christina on the last turn. Her time was 11:49.3. Medrano's time was 11:59.0.

Christina will have another shot at the number one place next year since this is her junior year at FHS.

One of eleven children, Christina is the daughter of Alfredo and Elvira Medrano. Her younger sister Amelia, eighth grade, also participates in track, another sister Yolanda is on the high school tennis team.

Reward is offered in Tipton break-in

Johnson Oil Company, Houston Street, was broken into early Thursday morning, May 7, and ten new tires were stolen. The entry was gained through a window in the metal building. The east window on the new tire shop had been pried with "what looked like a driver" according to Police Chief Scott Newton.

Crime Call is offering a $250 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person or persons responsible for the robbery.

The informant need not give his or her name or reveal their identity. Crime Call number is 983-5200.

Don't think most people realize that there is no theft insurance available. These stolen tires are just a loss," Linda Tipton said. There were eight P235/75R15 tires taken and two P225/75R15 tires taken. The trade name of Safemark.

Houston Bradford is honored

Friends and well-wishers gathered at the county courthouse Friday afternoon to pay tribute to long time resident Houston Bradford.

He was being honored by the Floyd County Extension Homemakers Clubs.

A crepe myrtle tree was planted in front of the courthouse in his honor and a dedication ceremony was held.

Dr. Floyd C. Bradley in a short speech said that the Extension Clubs "could not have made a finer selection" by choosing Bradford to be honored.

"It is our prayer that Houston's life will be continued on so that he can watch this tree grow to maturity," Brother Bradley said in closing.

Newly elected County Commissioners Thomas Warren and Sam Spence planted the crepe myrtle near the front entrance of the building.

Bradford said that he came to Floyd

County in November 1926. He was raised on a farm 3 miles west of Dougherty. He attended school in Floydada.

In 1943, during the Second World War, he attended aircraft instrument school in Dallas.

He then went into watch repair in Ft.

Worth. In 1946 he moved back to Floydada and went to work doing watch repair at Solomon Jewelry.

In 1950 he opened his own jewelry store at 126 California Street, and was in business at that address until 1971.

Bradford suffers rheumatoid arthritis and has been confined to a wheelchair for nine years. In 1979 a hip and knee operation gave him limited mobility.

Houston Bradford's courage during these years and his undaunted spirit have gained him the admiration of the community. It is for these reasons he was chosen to be so honored during National Homemakers Week.

Fun Carnival is next Tuesday

Fun Carnival is mounting as May 19 nears and the plans for the Old Fashioned Carnival expand. The carnival is at 6:00 p.m. and will end at 10:00.

Walk, bingo games, and possession will round off the entertainment. This evening being presented to raise money for the fans which will be installed in the gymnasium at the high school. All as well as the teachers will bring these fans as will you as well, since the fans are more practical to run than air conditioning and they will help provide an atmosphere conducive toward learning.

Prizes have been distributed to students at the high school and assistance in providing elephant type prizes, homemade pies, Lomemadecakes, pies, and pies. Anyone interested in donating items, please contact Polly Cannon, Jan Thayer, or Dale Tyer by May 15. The high school number is 983-2340.

At 8:45 on Tuesday the 19th two drawings will be held. One will be for $200 worth of gas from Brooks Phillips 66 and one for $200 worth of beef from the Ponderosa. Tickets for a $1 donation toward these items are still available at the high school for anyone who has not been contacted.

Student anticipation heightens at the thought of the dunking board with Jerry Cannon, C.E. Tyer, J.E. Waller, L.G. Wilson, Delores Moore, and Jan Thayer perching on the board awaiting the big splash.

The homemaking classes have been working hard on articles for the Arts and Crafts section of the fun night. Plans are being made for the homemade ice cream supper also.

CHECKING OUT THE DUNKING BOARD—J.E. Waller, left, Jerry Cannon, center, and Charles Tyer, right, check the board on which they will be seated to see how far they will have to fall into the water when the public dunks them. The three, along with other school members, will be seated at the dunking board during the Old Fashioned Carnival Fun Night at Floydada High School on May 19.

Blood bank is set for Tuesday

The Womens Division of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring a Blood Drive at Lighthouse Electric on Tuesday, May 19, from 4 to 7 p.m.

People between 17-and-65-years-old may donate blood. People over 65 years old may be accepted as donors at the discretion of the hospital.

You must weigh at least 110 pounds to give blood and it must have been at least eight weeks since you last made a donation.

You may not give blood if you have or had:

- Hepatitis
- Current active disease of heart, lung, kidney, liver, stomach
- Internal malignancy (cancer) within past 10 years

- Diabetes requiring insulin
  - Habituation to injectable drugs
- You may be temporarily deferred from giving blood if you have had:

- Acute symptomatic flu, cold, or upper respiratory infection
- Close contact with hepatitis in past 6 months
- Tattoos in past 6 months
- Active infection or disease presently requiring medication
- Vaccinations in past 24 hours; some vaccinations have longer deferral periods
- Major surgery or blood transfusion in past 6 months
- Dental surgery in past 3 days

- Pregnancy in past 6 weeks
- Lived in malaria area in past 6 months

It is best that you eat a substantial meal before giving blood preferably one low in fats. Fasting is not recommended.

If you are taking vitamins, hormones, birth control pills, diet pills, antihypertensive medications, or antibiotics for acne, you may give blood unless otherwise deferred.

Blood bank personnel will also ask for your Social Security number for identification purposes.

Caprock Hospital obtains its supply of blood from the South Plains Blood Service in Lubbock. Juice and cookies will be served.

Landscape & Gardening

BY KEN LANGLEY

(Editor's note: Landscape and Gardening will be a weekly feature written by Ken Langley, Assistant County Agent, and scheduled to run into the late summer.)

While it's best to seed some vegetables directly in the home garden, others do best if transplanted.

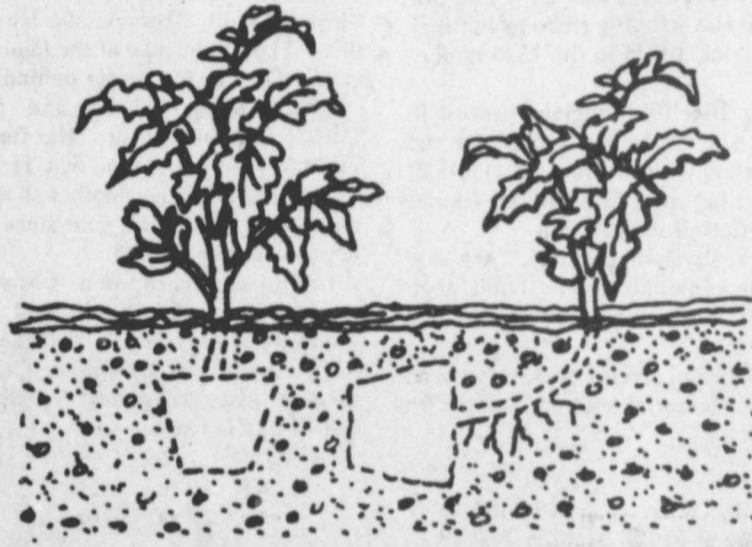

In this area of Texas tomatoes, peppers and eggplant should always be set out in the garden as transplants. The reason for this is the weather. These vegetables are somewhat fickle when it comes to ideal environmental conditions for setting fruit. Bloom and fruit set must occur before temperatures get too high. Setting out transplants after danger of all frost allows these plants to bloom during ideal conditions and to set a bountiful harvest during optimum weather.

You can also transplant such so-called "cool season" crops such as cabbage, cauliflower, broccoli, lettuce and onions. This allows them to mature under ideal conditions and also saves growing time in the garden. Using transplants can lessen the garden growing time by several months or more. However, setting out transplants of crops such as afternoon or at least on a cloudy day. I think it's a good idea to set your transplants in a bucket or pan of water for several minutes prior to planting so the root system is thoroughly wet.

Determine the proper spacing for the crop and dig a hole 4 inches wide and 4 to 6 inches deep. Put about a cupful of water directly in the hole and allow it to soak in. Set the transplant in the center of the hole and fill with soil. Make certain the peat container is completely beneath the soil level as it may act like a wick and rapidly dry out the rootball, thus killing the plant.

Depth of planting is important and often beginners make the mistake of setting plants too deep in the soil. Set most transplants only slightly deeper than they were originally growing. If tomato plants are tall and "leggy," plant them as shown in the accompanying drawing. If plant roots are set too deep below the soil level, especially in heavy soils, they will be slow to grow and the plant will have to produce roots along the stem near the surface. The original roots may, or may not, grow eventually. Either way, the advantages of transplanting are lost and harvest okra, squash, cucumbers and melons offers no real advantage and is usually not a recommended practice.

What about the "how" of transplanting? Handle transplants like eggs! Make every effort to avoid undue stress to young plants. Be sure plants do not suffer from lack of moisture, wind damage or excessive heat prior to and immediately after transplanting.

Most plants that are available locally will be growing in plantable containers such as peat pots or peat cubes. If possible, plan to transplant during late may be delayed greatly.

When filling the hole with soil at planting, leave a slight depression around the plant to hold additional water from spot watering or from rainfall. Also protect young plants for a week or so from high wind and excessive heat. This can be done easily by placing a shingle, board, milk carton or some similar protection on the windy or sunny side of the plant. A can placed around the transplant when it is set in the garden will also prevent damage from pesky cutworms.

Breeding and testing for hybrid cotton

Agrigenetics Corporation of Denver, Colorado, has announced the implementation of a breeding and testing program for the development of hybrid cotton.

Several cotton hybrids will be farmer tested at ten (10) locations on the South Plains of Texas. Yield results from these test plots will be evaluated following harvest to determine which hybrid will be put into production during 1982.

The Agrigenetics cotton project is being handled by R.C. Young Seed & Grain Co. of Lubbock, Texas, a division of Agrigenetics. According to the Agrigenetics cotton project leader, Keith Arnold, several hybrids will be included in the 1981 Texas Agricultural Experiment Station tests.

"Yield potential, lint quality, gin turnout, maturity rating, and disease resistance will be evaluated for each experimental hybrid," says Arnold. He adds, "The best hybrid, based on these state and farmer conducted tests, will be produced on a limited scale next year."

In addition to the R.C. Young Lubbock location, a breeding and testing program is currently underway in South Texas. Planned expansion of the program includes a greenhouse at Lubbock and expansion of the testing program into other cotton production areas. Agrigenetics will continue to be in the forefront of hybrid cotton research and production.

GSPA launches farmer-to-farmer campaign

Mabry Foreman, president of the National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) has announced an intensive farmer-to-farmer effort to reach and enlist every sorghum farmer in the nation.

Foreman, an Oklahoma farmer and rancher, said it is essential that sorghum growers be represented in Washington, D.C. as feed grains provisions of the 1981 Farm Bill are written. "Never before, has it been so important for farmers to speak up," Foreman said. "Never before, has it been so necessary for them to combine their voices in unity to reach their common goals. The economic and political mood of the nation demands it."

"GSPA has operated for more than 25 years on a very small budget," Foreman continued, "but it has been acclaimed as one of the most successful and effective farm organizations. In 25 years, the organization has added BILLIONS of dollars to sorghum farmers' incomes—$250 MILLION, in last year alone. Every sorghum farmer in the nation has shared in these benefits, and the time has come that we must have their support to continue the work."

Foreman said every member of Grain Sorghum Producers Association will be asked to contact other sorghum farmers in his community, tell them about GSPA's work and ask them to help him keep it going. The success of GSPA's work is directly related to the participation of farmers. "We expect this to be a landmark year in farm legislation, especially for feed grains. Export market development may be even more important," Foreman said. "We simply must not let sorghum farmers be ignored because they were not represented."

Sorghum farmers will participate in market team

(LUBBOCK) — Three sorghum growers will be chosen to participate in a Sorghum Farmers Market Development Team to Mexico next fall as part of Grain Sorghum Producers Association's market development work. The team will work with U.S. and Mexican Government officials, Mexican grain importers and the Latin American Director of U.S. Feed Grains Council.

The National Grain Sorghum Producers Association (GSPA) began feed grains foreign market development in 1958, with offices in Rome, Italy and Bogota, Colombia. It was from this effort, that U.S. Feed Grains Council was formed to work with USDA's Foreign Agriculture Service to promote overseas sales of all U.S. feed grains. GSPA has continued to work on foreign market problems that are specific to sorghum.

Mexico is now the second largest volume buyer of U.S. sorghum. Even larger purchases are likely if some problems can be solved. This will be the work of the Sorghum Farmers Market Development Team.

Three GSPA members will be selected for this expense paid (travel, meals and lodging) trip at the end of GSPA's current membership campaign. One winner will be chosen from each of three categories of members. The winner of Category I will be the GSPA member who has contacted and enlisted the most GSPA new members and membership renewals before the end of the campaign on October 1. The winner of Category II will be chosen by drawing from the names of the first one thousand GSPA members who renew next year's membership in advance. (GSPA's next fiscal year begins October 1, 1981.) The winner of Category III will be chosen by drawing from the names of the first one thousand new members to join GSPA.

All sorghum farmers are eligible to compete for a position on the Farmers Market Development Team. GSPA members will receive details in the mail and will contact sorghum growers who are not GSPA members.

Grain embargo lift good for Texas farmers

(COLLEGE STATION) — Lifting the U.S. grain embargo against Russia is good news to Texas farmers, maintains an economist in marketing and policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Dr. Ron Knutson pointed out that with the wheat harvest less than two months away, this move should provide added market strength at harvest.

"In the short to intermediate term, it should mean grain price increases in the range of 5 to 7 percent. The longer term impacts, while more important, are more uncertain," Knutson, who earlier had served as a member of President Reagan's transition team, said.

"Under the long-term trade agreement, if the Soviet Union wants to buy over 8 million metric tons of wheat and feedgrains, it must consult with U.S. officials," he added.

"This process of consultation or negotiation will now begin, and involves:

1. Additional quantities of wheat and feedgrains that will allow the Soviets to purchase through September 30.
2. Development of a new long-term trade agreement specifying minimum purchase by the Soviets over a period of up to five years.
3. The quantities the Soviet Union is advised it can purchase after September 30, over and above the minimums specified in the long-term trade agreement.

The Reagan administration has already indicated a desire to negotiate a new long-term trade agreement. Ideally, this should be completed by September 30, 1981, when the old agreement expires, Knutson said.

"Another uncertainty is just how much grain the Soviets might want to buy from the U.S. after the embargo experience. Feedgrains and soybeans should be no problem in this regard. World supplies are tight, and we supply about 80 percent of this market," he said.

Wheat is more uncertain. Argentina, Australia and Canada already have trade agreements with Soviets. The French also want to sell. The wheat market will likely be the most difficult to recover—but the most important to Texas since wheat is our largest grain source of income," Knutson added.

Grain dust explosion research needed

"We need help in trying to identify the causes and conditions that trigger dust explosions in Texas grain elevators," according to Bill Riffe, Stratford Grain Company, Stratford, Texas, and president of Texas Grain and Feed Association. "We really don't think we need more inspectors until they can identify all of the causes and conditions," he continued.

Riffe pointed out that state and federal money could be put to better use in grain dust explosion research and in educational programs to help the elevator owners and operators after the causes and conditions are definitely identified. "It's sheer folly to think that an elevator owner-operator would knowingly allow conditions to exist in an elevator installation that could be the cause of a fire or explosion. There are many reasons why they would not allow them to exist," concluded Riffe.

In a statement by Ray Nolen, Executive Vice President of the Texas Grain and Feed Association, it was pointed out that elevator owners cannot afford to allow their elevators to explode or burn. "First of all," he said, "it usually puts them out of business for an extended period of time, which means a loss of profit, but more important than the loss of business and capital investment, is the possible loss of human lives or crippling injuries among employees. The employer invests large sums of money in training employees before they reach their maximum productivity, plus workmen's compensation insurance premiums and insurance premiums on the elevator installation. No one in his right mind would risk the lives of employees and these major investments by knowingly allowing the causes and conditions that trigger dust explosions to exist in their grain elevators or feed mills. For that reason, and no other reason, we need help in research and education. Top

BOXELDER BUGS IN HOME LANDSCAPES

Boxelder bugs can be a yearlong problem to homeowners. In spring and summer, they feed mainly on different seed-bearing shade trees, and later in the year, they can become a nuisance in the home.

While they rarely do serious damage to host trees such as Boxelder and Western Soapberry (sometimes mistakenly called Chinaberry), the pests suck plant sap from tender twigs, leaf stems, flowers and seeds, sometimes causing distorted leaves. Also, their presence in large numbers on trees, lawns, patios and sides of houses can be a disgusting sight to homeowners.

Adult boxelder bugs are about 1/2-inch long and have a dull black body with red markings on the "shoulders" and in an inverted "V-pattern" across the wings. The bugs pass through several immature stages before becoming adults, going from a nearly solid, scarlet red color to mostly blackish with red markings.

On trees, lawns and the exterior of homes, sprays of carbaryl (Sevin), diazinon or chlorpyrifos (Dursban) can be effective when applied thoroughly according to label directions. This is especially true when populations are high in recent years when they may be present in large numbers in the late summer and fall. Repeat applications may be necessary to control them.

When host trees are gone for the fall, boxelder bugs may seek protected areas in homes. Often they will be found in the sides of homes, in attics, voids. They also use cracks and crevices in trees, shrubs and overwinter in attics or other items.

Effective caulking of homes can keep them from becoming an indoor pest. Insecticide sprays applied in attics where they gather, carbaryl is used effectively in voids. In addition, products which contain (DDVP) can be used in attics. As with all products, be sure to read all label directions.

Smaller, self-sufficient farms seen in the future

management of grain and feed firms will eliminate the causes and conditions just as soon as they can be eliminated, Nolen concluded.

(COLLEGE STATION) — Cotton and cattle will continue to lead Texas' $10 billion agriculture industry in the years ahead, but the era of the suburban farmer is at hand.

Within the next 20 years, many rural areas will be broken into small tracts of no more than 10 or 20 acres, said Dr. W.E. Black, economist in marketing and public policy with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

For the most part, these will be single-family homesteads, owned by city people who prefer the country life. "We'll see more of a self-sufficiency type of agrarian economy," Black said. "Such a family would keep a cow or two, raise its own vegetables, maybe even market some of its surplus."

This type of rural land use pattern is developing in most rapidly growing metropolitan areas, Black said. The urban regions are eventually ringed by small "country estates" owned primarily by the affluent who have big-city jobs and rural lifestyles.

As a result, Black said, it's the medium-sized farms nearest the cities that are being broken up into smaller tracts. Meanwhile, there will be more consolidation of large commercial farms; they will be fewer in number and larger in size.

These developments toward fewness and bigness continue. In 1976, for example, 2 percent of Texas farms and ranches produced 54 percent of the state's food and fiber, he noted. By 1990, the state's top 2 percent will produce nearly 70 percent of the state's agricultural products, he said. Nationally, the number of farms is declining and the average size of farms is increasing.

Black said the only way to survive is to produce more than double the cost of production and labor. "And I think we've seen farmers being paid more than double the cost of production, largely because of vigorous demands by consumers for our food."

Currently the United States exports about $28.5 billion surplus agricultural products, he said. "To the extent that we go to continue to export, we must balance in agriculture."

Band Festival

Floydada Band Boosters and Band Department will be hosting the Floydada Jr. High Band Festival and Solo and Ensemble Contest Saturday, May 16, at FHS.

A total of 16 bands from eight schools will be represented.

First band plays at 9:40 a.m. The last band plays at 4 p.m. Floydada sixth grade band plays at 10:40 a.m. and the Jr. High band plays at 3:20 p.m.

The festival is free and open to the public.

Workshop

The South Plains Emergency Medical Services and Texas Tech University Health Services Division will co-sponsor a two day workshop in Floydada on May 20 and 21.

The workshop will be held at the Regional Training Center with registration beginning at 9:00 a.m. It is being offered to all R.N.'s, L.V.N.'s, E.M.T.'s, E.C.A.'s and to MD.'s who hold a current Texas license. It will include Plainview, Lockney, Matador and other area towns.

Pet Clinic

There will be a pet clinic on Saturday at 9:30-10:30 at Parks Oil Co. at South Plains. Dr. Charlie Overstreet DVM (vet) will conduct this important pet clinic.

Everyone is encouraged to have their pets, especially farm pets, inoculated.

Blood Pressure

There will be free blood pressure checks during the month of May for anyone wanting to have their blood pressures checked.

The checks will be made by trained personnel at the South Plains Health Provider clinic at 319 S. Main.

Not pictured is Donna Anderson, extension officer. Donna Anderson and Janice McCandless were also voted Girls of the Year. Program of the Year was presented to Tonya Marble; Pledge of the Year, Janice McCandless; and Husband of the Year was Steve Anderson. Officers were elected at a Founders Day banquet held May 1 at K-Bob's in Plainview.

Beta Sigma Phi installs new officers

President, Rhonda Guthrie, called the meeting of the Texas Alpha Sigma Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi to order in her home on May 6.

Rhonda served refreshments and presented each member with a pretty filled candy jar. Before the meeting began Ritual of Jewels was held for Barbara Ceca-nougher. This is the final member of Beta Sigma Phi.

Following this the business meeting was conducted. Minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. Treasurer report was made by Mary Emert.

Rhonda suggested one of the donations be made to the Child Welfare Board of Floyd County. The members un-animously approved, and decided to donate $50 at this time.

A Mother's Day luncheon was held on Saturday, May 9, at the Floydada Country Club for the members and their mothers and mother-in-laws.

Secret sisters will be revealed at the next meeting. Everyone will bring a gift for their Secret Sister and their favorite salad for supper.

After the business meeting was adjourned June Mc-Gaugh conducted the instal-lation of officers for the coming year. Officers in-stalled were president, Rhonda Guthrie; vice president, is Mary Emert, rec-ord secretary, Pat Franklin; cor-responding secretary is Vikki

Edwards and treasurer, Barbara Edwards.

Single Adults to hold meeting

The Single Adults will hold their monthly meeting Saturday night, April 16 at 7 p.m. They will meet at Light-house Electric with Agnes Baker, Beulah Baker, and O'Bera Biggerstaff as hostesses.

The meal will be made up of snacks. All bring some snacks and enjoy an evening of fun.

FLOYD DATA

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Adams visited the past three weeks in California. They were in San Jose, San Bernardino, Hesperia, Bishop and Reno, Nevada.

Abby Hendricks honored with bridal shower

Miss Abby Hendricks, bride-elect of Jerry Don Battey, was honored with a bridal shower on May 9 in the home of Mrs. Melvin Lloyd of Floydada.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Lloyd, Miss Hendricks, Mrs. Buddy Hendricks, mother of the bride-elect and Mrs. Jerry Battey, mother of the prospective groom. The bride-elect and each of the mothers wore a corsage of blue silk flowers.

Kathy Battey, sister of the prospective groom, presided at the guest register.

The serving table was covered with a navy blue cloth. A basket of silk spring flowers in various colors was used as the centerpiece and presented to the bride-elect. Coffee, punch, cookies, fruit picks and mints were served from copper and crystal ap-pointments.

Serving the guests were Angie Anderson and Debra Allen, aunt of the prospective groom.

Terri Lloyd and Karen Lloyd assisted with the gifts which were displayed in the sun room of the Lloyd home.

Miss Hendricks received a set of cookware as a special gift from the hostesses.

Hostesses were Janet

Lloyd, Joyce Anderson, Elaine McNeill, Neta Marble, Edna Cochran, Leora Younger, Betty Edwards, Frieda Kelihor, Molly Stringer, Pauline McCormick, Sandra Rainey, Sue Fuller, Arlene Clevenger, Sharon Quisenberry, Betty Fuller, Lorene Grant, Alta Smith, Josephine Lyles and Wanda Smith.

The couple plan to be married on June 6 at 7 p.m. at the First Baptist Church in Floydada.

Elizabeth Armstrong hostess to Wesley Anns

A salad supper was enjoyed in the home of Elizabeth Armstrong Monday night, May 11, by the Wesley Anns.

Chairman Jewell Martin called the meeting to order and secretary Ann Smith read the minutes of the last meeting.

Doris Drysdale gave a book review on "Origin of Words" by Willford Funk. She quoted, "Words are communications in many languages. Words can hurt or inspire. Words can cause wars, friendship or love. Many words have the same pronunciation but are spelled differently and have different meanings, as in two, to and too. Most words in doctor's prescriptions are of Greek origin. Words is the basis of all knowledge."

Those enjoying the evening were Julia Baker, Margie Fowler, Diana Glover, Lula Green, Bennie Leibfried, Jewell Martin, Lorena McKinney, Ann Smith, Helen Solomon, Margaret Springer, Lena Mae Watson, and guests Emma Lou Whitaker, and Doris Drysdale and hostess Elizabeth Armstrong.

Cattlemen may be heading for increased herds and returns. Dr. Ed Uvacek, livestock marketing economist, says 1980 was a trend-setting year for the cattle industry. He reports cows and heifers are being held back to rebuild breeding herds. Because of this desire to enlarge herds, fewer calves will be available for the feedlots - a trend which could drive up cattle prices. "With expansion in the cattle industry, prices for feeder cattle and calves will likely be strong during the next couple of years," believes Uvacek. He reminds consumers, less knowledgeable of the cattle industry, that this trend will probably result in higher prices at the market. However, a strengthening in finished cattle prices will result in an improved cattle industry, as a whole, which is good for the entire nation.

BY SHELLY HARRIS

I've held it back as long as I can. I have been snickering behind my hand for the past month absolutely delighted to see egg dripping from the Washington Post's face.

Now being referred to as "Pulitzergate" is the embarrassing incident of bestowing a Pulitzer Prize for a bogus newstory.

As near as I can tell from the multitude of words being written about the fraud (someone figured that the Post itself ran over 16,000 words) is this:

A fledgling reporter, Janet Cooke, with a flare for words and a "burning ambition" wrote a story about seeing an eight-year-old heroine addict shoot-up.

The Post then put on its "freedom of speech blinders" and took its stand behind the reporter protecting her source.

The source turned out to be her imagination. Between the printing of the story and the truth revealed, Janet won a Pulitzer Prize for journalism.

She was tripped up because she had also falsified her resume. The Post didn't check that one either, another newspaper clued them in.

It isn't only the Post. Look at the wild reporting done by the film media after President Reagan was shot. Three false statements were reported as fact in the first few broadcasts. Certainly the reporter's intention was not to deceive, but they did not take time to verify their information.

All this investigative reporting and on-the-spot reporting brings about a condition of pressure. The goal becomes speed and sensationalism. Accuracy, truth if you will, is often shoved aside in the rush.

Perhaps this fiasco with the Pulitzer will alert those of responsibility in the metro newspapers. Perhaps it will serve as a warning to the beginning journalist.

One article said that the incident would have two-bit editors smirking all across the country. Guess that shows what I am.

As a country editor I have to check, double-check, and re-check my facts and still my reputation for responsible reporting goes on the line each press day.

What it all boils down to is that the press not only has a responsibility, but so does the reader. Or the viewer for that matter.

In forming opinions based on news coverage the reader must also use discretion, and consider the facts intelligently.

Even in small weeklies like ours where we have more control of our coverage errors slip in. I'm sure you've noticed the hint of yolk on my face from time to time.

Your page

We hope to make this editorial page a regular weekly part of our newspaper.

Nothing would please us more than to have guest editorials from you, the readers. Your neighbors in Floyd County are interested in hearing what you have to say.

Your viewpoint on matters that interest you would be a fine addition to this page.

If some of you prefer to write letters to the editor, that would be great. We invite you to give us your opinions, comments and criticisms.

Don't worry about your writing ability. What you have to say is what counts.

There are limits, of course, to what we can print. We are liable for whatever is printed in our paper. That includes the contents of letters to the editor as well as signed opinion pieces. Therefore, we cannot print anything that would put us in jeopardy of a liable suit.

Any piece that was controversial would have to be verified. It would also have to be within the limits of good taste.

Everything we use must be signed. If you would rather not have your name printed with the letter or editorial that's fine with us.

But to blindly give creditability to an unsigned correspondence doesn't make much sense. Anonymous letters go in the waste basket at this newspaper.

One newsman puts it this way, "I sign my newspaper and if you're going to use it, you need to sign your letter to the editor. Whether you sign it or not I've got to be responsible."

Bureau backs recovery plan

Farm Bureau is supporting bi-partisan efforts to bring about economic recovery and reduce over-regulation by government, according to Delma McCormick of Floydada, president of the Floyd County Farm Bureau.

McCormick said Texas Farm Bureau leaders have personally contacted members of the Texas delegation in Congress to inform them of Farm Bureau's policies on economic recovery and regulatory reform.

He said Farm Bureau's policies call for (1) budget reductions leading to a balanced budget, (2) tax reductions, (3) regulatory reform, and (4) monetary restraint.

"A year ago, our Farm Bureau organization was involved in a series of meetings across the state trying to deal with the farm income crisis," Delmas McCormick said. "Most participants at that time thought that agriculture could not long survive unless our nation stopped inflation, reduced regulations, lowered income taxes, and put a stop to government interference in our markets, such as the grain embargo. We said then that these reforms would also be beneficial to the entire nation."

"The major change since then, in addition to the ending of the embargo, is that we now have a chance to put these reforms in effect. Some of the bi-partisan economic recovery programs now before Congress are a start toward putting our economy back in shape and returning some freedoms to individuals," he said.

McCormick said Farm Bureau has informed President Reagan that farmers are willing to take their fair share of spending cuts, but that they must be assured that cuts are targeted throughout all federal spending programs with special emphasis given to so-called entitlement programs which take up the bulk of non-defense spending.

In this regard, Farm Bureau urged the President to reconsider his exemption of seven major entitlement programs from budget cuts. Specifically, Farm Bureau asked that annual cost-of-living adjustments in all entitlement programs be held to 75 percent, rather than 100 percent of the consumer price index.

"Such as restraint would keep the annual increases to program recipients more in line with the earnings of those who support these programs without cutting anyone completely out of regular benefits," the county farm leader said.

Delmas McCormick said the kind of economic recovery package supported by Farm Bureau will have the following positive effects:

- (1) Reduce inflation.
- (2) Reduce burdens imposed by non-productive regulations.
- (3) Reduce the heavy tax burden on American taxpayers.
- (4) Reduce the size and role of the federal government and its intrusion into private lives.
- (5) Reduce interest rates by reducing inflation and government's need to borrow.
- (6) Increase real incomes by spurring capital investment and enhancing productivity.
- (7) Improve U.S. competitive position in world markets.
- (8) Provide the basis for creating new jobs.

Perspectives

A centuries long conflict rages in Ireland. The distressing part of the entire conflict is that this war is being waged in the name of religion, even though it is essentially a political conflict.

Men starve themselves to death, claiming to be political prisoners, and when they die, violence erupts on the theory that is really the British fault the men died.

Sometimes, I wish I could hop a plane to Ireland and go try to talk some sense into those people. But the hatred runs deep, and it is being fostered in the children.

Teaching children to hate others when they have no capacity, to understand the reasons why they are supposed to hate is a terrible act.

The effect, however, is precisely the one hoped for by the parents; insurance that the conflict will go on and on, and no one will be able to "Talk sense" into them.

While we look down on our poor Irish brethren, we in this country do the same things they do, short of violence. Political ideas are wrapped in religious cloaks, hatred and bigotry between people who believe virtually identically continues because of denominational labels, and we teach it all to the children.

If there is ever to be any end to the conflict, short of Jesus coming again, we have to quit brainwashing our children. Instead we must teach them how to think for themselves, how to evaluate situations and people and come to intelligent, rational solutions.

Otherwise, we, too, shall find ourselves in the midst of a blood bath which has no end in sight.

My Savage World

I simply had to Take out the trash.
It was piled so high
It could no longer be mashed.

It had rained
Of late
The whole yard
Was a lake.

How would I get
Through that slime?
I would just have
To take my time.

I stripped off my socks and my shoes
Down to my bare feet.
The mud squished through my toes
But I wasn't going to be beat.

The mud was getting higher and higher
All the way to my knees
It was cold and slimy
But I would not freeze.

I got to the gate
And gave it a shove
It gave with a swish
I fell on my face
With a thud.

I was muddy from my toes
To my curls
I trudged back to the house
And there found a water hose
Which I unfurled.

I washed me all off
In that cold icy stream.
I'll have to admit,
I didn't look like a dream.

My husband had come in from work
And there he watched
With a smirk
On his face.
Then and there we had
Us a chase.

He ran from the door
Which he should
Not have done
I tackled him,
All in good fun.

I sat on his head
And said,
"Do you promise to take
Out the trash
For the rest of your life?"
He said, "Yes, yes
Both day and night."

The next day
A big package
Was delivered
From the store

A trash compactor
Sat by the door.

With a note that read,
"From your knight in
Shining armour,
Your are some persuader."
Signed, "Darth Vader."

It's Not Easy

Few people keep Liquid Paper in their medicine chests. Unless you do a fair amount of typing and are prone to mistakes, you probably don't even know of the miracle substance which covers all sins on the printed page and lets you have a second try at getting it right.

Most of those familiar with liquid paper probably keep it handy in a desk drawer near the typewriter. I can't even keep my typewriter on my desk at home, much less Liquid Paper in the desk drawer. The typewriter must be restored to its place on top of the refrigerator after each use and the miracle error fixer returned to the medicine chest.

You see I am the proud parent of a toddler who thinks she is a secret agent for the FBI. She must not only investigate every object within reach, but must take it apart for hidden secrets. Some things like a typewriter and Liquid Paper can't survive such close inspection.

All critical items must be kept in places no accessible to little hands. Along side the Liquid Paper in the medicine chest are the household glue, scissors, needles, and thread, kitchen cleanser, and floor wax. Usually there isn't enough room left for the toothpaste.

My daughter, like most children her age, has the unfortunate tendency to think all medicine is candy, so all medicines are kept in our portable safe with the combination lock. If we ever have a burglar break into our safe expecting diamonds and Kruggerands, he will be awfully disappointed to find only baby aspirin and Alka-seltzer.

The top of the refrigerator is reserved for my typewriter and my current writing assignment. My editor agrees that having kitchen smells on my typed pages is better than artful additions in crayon.

As my daughter gets older she finds new ways to reach or open one hiding place after another and each must, in turn, be abandoned.

She finally discovered that she had only to pull hard enough and she can open the refrigerator. Now I can only keep food inside instead of my makeup and my husband's hammer and nails.

When all the hiding places are finally accessible, I may have to break down and teach my daughter not to touch forbidden objects. Otherwise I may have to corner the market on combination locks.

MRS. JIMMY JOHNSON

Irwin-Johnson exchange double-ring marriage vows

Sheila Irwin and Jimmy Johnson repeated double-ring wedding vows Friday evening, May 8th, in the Oakwood Baptist Church in Lubbock.

The Rev. W.J. Farley Jr. performed the 7:30 ceremony before arched candelabras and greenery.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Sherman D. Irwin and Mr. and Mrs. C.W. Johnson all of Lubbock. The bride's parents are former Floydada residents. Her mother is the former Audeen Turner, daughter of Mrs. Valree Turner and the late V.D. Turner of Floydada. Her father's parents were the late F.C. Irwins of the Fairview community.

The bride wore a formal length gown of white organza fashioned with a Queen Anne neckline edged in Chantilly lace. The fitted bodice was of matching lace, adorned with seed pearls and long Bishop sleeves of lace with deep cuffs. A deep ruffle of lace in the front and back of the A-line skirt held tiers of lace ruffles which cascaded into a chapel length train.

Her headpiece was a lace and pearl bandeau holding a fingertip lace edged veil of imported illusion.

She carried a cascade bridal bouquet of silk daisies and a Bible belonging to her grandmother Turner, which she brought back from her trip to the Holy Land. Folded inside the Bible was a handkerchief belonging to her late great grandmother, Mrs. R.F. Medley.

The bride completed her wedding attire by wearing a diamond drop belonging to her sister, Mrs. Don (Kim) Vogel of Flagstaff, Arizona.

She also carried out the traditional "something blue," with a satin ruffled garter made by Juanita Keller of Lubbock.

Mrs. Vogel served her sister as matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Suzanne Whorton of Dallas and Sherry Huckabay of Lubbock. They were gowned in floor length blue floral ensembles styled with spaghetti straps and fitted bodice. They carried white daisies.

The groom was attired in a white tuxedo. His brother, Connie Johnson of Lubbock was best man. Groomsmen were Neil Cavanaugh of Levelland and Leonard Nail of Lubbock. Ushers were Patrick and Michael Irwin, both of Lubbock and both brothers of the bride, and her brother-in-law, Don Vogel of Flagstaff, Arizona. Nephews of the bride, Justin Vogel of Flagstaff was ring bearer and Colby Vogel of Flagstaff was train bearer.

Scott Yarbrough of Levelland was soloist.

Mrs. Bruce Kinast of Lubbock, cousin of the bride, registered guests. Among the special guests were grandmothers of the groom, Mrs. Tommy Edwards of New Orleans, Louisiana, and Mrs. Rita Richards of Sundown, Texas and grandmother of the bride, Mrs. Valree Turner of Floydada.

RECEPTION

A reception in the fellowship hall of the church followed the wedding ceremony.

Tammy and Trava Gentry of Floydada and Ginny Hillburn of Lubbock served the three tiered bridal cake and punch. Coffee and chocolate cake was served from the groom's table by his sister, Waynette Johnson and Rita Nail.

The bride was graduated from Monterey High School and South Plains Junior College. The groom was graduated from Levelland High School and attended South Plains College.

The couple will make their home in Lubbock, where both are employed, upon their return from a honeymoon trip to South Padre Island.

Homemakers schedule annual bazaar

The Moonlight Extension Homemakers Club will sponsor their third annual Arts & Craft Bazaar December 4 and 5, 1981 in conjunction with the annual Chamber of Commerce Christmas Parade.

Both reservations are now being accepted. For your entry form contact Betty Campbell at the Bailey County Extension Office, 806-272-4583. Or write the Bailey County Extension Office, Courthouse, Muleshoe, Texas 79347.

1929 STUDY CLUB held a meeting in the Floyd County Library to view a film on things they said couldn't be done.

Elma Mata-Ronald Amason married in Lockney May 9

Miss Elma Mata daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arturo Mata of Lockney became the bride of Ronald Eugene Amason, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Amason Jr. of Amarillo on Saturday, May 9.

The wedding took place in the First Spanish Baptist Church in Lockney with the Rev. Glean Smith officiating the double-ring vows.

The altar setting was an arch decorated with greenery and had baskets of white mums and daisies, one on each side.

Mrs. Gloria Garza of Plainview played traditional wedding marches and accompanied Miss Tammy Luna who sang, "More," "We've Only Just Begun," and "Let It Be Me."

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a formal length gown of white bridal satin fashioned with a high neckline. Long slender sleeves with a flare ruffle at the wrist. The empire bodice had an overlay of brussels lace. The full A-line skirt flowed with a chapel length train. A triple ruffle of lace formed the hemline of the skirt and train.

The headpiece was a corona holding a chapel length veil of matching lace. Her bouquet was of a heartshape, it had a white orchid in the center surrounded by white carnations.

Her gown was borrowed and she wore the blue garter.

Her maid of honor was Linda Mata, the bride's sister. The bridesmaids were Mrs. DeLeon from Plainview, Teresa Carroll from Odessa, Anna Araujo and Caye Ford of Lubbock. They wore baby blue formal dresses and carried blue silk carnations with a blue ribbon hanging down with small daisies on the ends.

Julie Ann Rader of Amarillo was the flower girl. She wore a short length baby blue dress with white short gloves and carried a small basket full of rose pedals and accented with a blue satin streamer.

Ring bearer was Johnny Brent Carroll of Odessa, who carried the two rings on a pillow decorated with lace.

Joe Amason, brother of the groom, served as best man and Mr. DeLeon from Plainview, Arthur Mata of Lockney, Pat Carroll, Odessa, and Mike Sparga, Lubbock, served as groomsmen. Elgio Mata, brother of the bride, and John Carey, a friend of the Amason family, were ushers.

Mrs. Mata chose a beige embroidered dress with gold trimming around the neckline for her daughter's wedding, while the bridegroom's mother wore a light baby blue dress. Both had white accessories and corsages of white carnations.

RECEPTION

A three tiered wedding cake decorated with rosebuds and blue flowers and punch were served, following the ceremony, from a table laid with a beige lace cloth. The bouquets of the bridesmaids made the centerpiece.

The groom's table was covered with a white lace cloth. His chocolate cake was made to resemble a Bible, which had the names of the couple written on one side and a scripture on the other. Coffee was also served.

The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Virginia Owens from Lockney and Mrs. Nancy Hollyfield served from the groom's table. Mrs. Joe Rader of Amarillo was the guest registrar.

After a short wedding trip, for which the bride wore a short length beige dress, the couple plan to reside in Oklahoma City, Oklahoma.

Out of town guests present were Mrs. Jo Rader of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Celia Gleason, Amarillo; Mrs. Ora Mae Sellers, a grandmother of Amarillo; and Mr. and Mrs. Troy Sellers, Oklahoma City.

Film of engineering feats viewed by 1929 Study Club

The 1929 Study Club, Floydada, met in the film room of the Floyd County Library, Thursday, May 7, with Mrs. Ben Whitaker as hostess.

Her sister, Mrs. G.M. Armstrong was her guest.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Vance Campbell, Mrs. Ben Whitaker, second vice-president, conducted the business session. Mrs. C.M. Meredith moved that the club send an additional $25 to Girlstown to further assist in their rebuilding from the fire that destroyed a dormitory, and the club voted approval.

Members brought books from their homes to donate to the library's used book sale to be held on Old Settler's Day, May 23.

Mrs. Whitaker circulated a beautiful get well card to be sent to Miss Anne Swepton, club member, who was to come home from a Lubbock hospital the day of the club meeting.

Club members paid their yearly dues to Mrs. Meredith.

Mrs. Jackie Walls, Floydada librarian, showed a film about remarkable Americans, "They Said It Couldn't Be Done." The inspiration of Mt. Rushmore, the ongoing carving of Chief Crazy Horse's Statue; the first steel bridge, across the Mississippi at St. Louis; the Brooklyn bridge designed by an engineer paralyzed, and brain damaged by a stroke but determined to complete his assignment; the Golden Gate Bridge paid for by San Francisco taxpayers to overcome tides and depths ten stories deep below the water for pilings; the Erie Canal that gave the Irish immigrants jobs and joined the Great Lakes to the Atlantic Ocean; the Chinese coolie-built union Pacific railroad that linked the nation; the Panama Canal that helped solve the mystery of malaria as well as provide passage between the Atlantic and Pacific Oceans proved the impossible could be done. The music of Woody Guthrie provided a background to early silent movie film clips by Thomas Edison of many of these engineering feats. The film was narrated by Lee Marvin.

Refreshments of tea sandwiches, cake, and glasses of pineapple coke punch were served.

A donation was made to the library fund to help purchase a micro-film reader.

Members present included Mmes. H.O. Cline, C.W. Denison, C.M. Meredith, W.B. Parrack, S.W. Ross, Ben Whitaker, and Mrs. Q.D. Williams.

MRS. MAX DAVID JONES

Pierce-Jones repeat wedding vows

Miss Dixie Jo Pierce and Mr. Max David Jones were united in marriage on Saturday May 2 at six in the evening in the A&M United Methodist Church in College Station, Texas. Reverend Bob Waters performed the double ring ceremony in a colorful floral setting of shrimp and buttercup yellow. Wedding music was provided by Bob Hostettler with vocal selections by the bride's brother, Rick Pierce, who sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Lord's Prayer," and "Song of Ruth."

The bride is the daughter of Dewey Pierce of Hamburg, Germany, and Mrs. Nadine Pierce of Houston, where Mrs. Pierce is a Counselor at Spring Woods High School. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willis of Floydada, Mrs. Clara McMakin of Grand Saline, Texas, and the late Mr. A.D. Pierce. The bride is a graduate of Westchester High School and Texas A&M University.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Houston, where Mrs. Jones is a Counselor for Alvin ISD. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clay B. Ogle of Sweeny, Texas, Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Wharton, Texas, and the late Mr. Norbon Jones. The groom is a graduate of Alvin High School and Texas A&M University.

The bride was given in marriage by her father and wore her mother's candlelight satin wedding dress. The exquisite full-length gown was designed and created by her mother, Mrs. Nadine Pierce. The bride's floor-length veil with blusher and her cascade bouquet of orchids, roses and greenery completed the look of bridal elegance.

Following tradition, the bride wore her wedding gown as something old. Something new was her veil, something borrowed were some gold tear drop earrings, belonging to her late great-grandmother, and something blue was the garter.

Maid of honor was Jody Naquin of Houston. Bridesmaids were Virginia Morris, the groom's sister, of Alvin; Diane Morris, of College Station; and Shirley Kindig of Dallas.

Best man was Jay Pfister of Alvin. Groomsmen were Clay Jones, Ross Jones and Steve Torres. Candlelighters were Johnny Weinbaum and Scott Jordan.

RECEPTION

A reception was held at the church and featured a three-tiered fountain cake adorned with silk flowers.

Assisting at the reception were Mrs. Hugh Gardinier, Molly Enloe, Kerry Ogle, Linda Burke and Valerie Duffey.

The bride selected a lavender three-piece suit with matching accessories for her traveling outfit. Mr. and Mrs. Jones will reside in Alvin, Texas.

MRS. FRANKIE GRAVES

Linda Jones-Frankie Graves united in May 1st candlelight ceremony

Miss Linda Jones and Mr. Frankie Graves, both of Lockney, exchanged marriage vows in a candlelight ceremony performed at 7 p.m. on May 1 at the First Baptist Church in Lockney, with the Rev. John Jenkins officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Jones of Lockney and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Graves, also of Lockney.

The bride wore a gown of white organza over white taffeta draped in flowers of lace and covered with pearls. It had large puffed sleeves with lace cuffs and was trimmed in Chantilly lace. The train was completely accented in flowers of pearls and Chantilly lace. The chapel length veil had a large ruffle of lace trimming it.

Serving as maid of honor was Penny Taylor, cousin of the groom, of Lockney, and bridesmaids were Sandra Barton, cousin of the groom of Plainview; and Cathy Hill, of Lockney. Flower girl was Dona Smith, niece of the groom of Ralls.

Attendants dresses were street length sundresses made of light blue dotted Swiss.

Kenneth Lockridge, of Plainview was best man. Darrell Barton of Plainview, and Gary Hill of Lockney served as groomsmen!

Escorting guests to their seats were Bobby Jones, brother of the bride, and Glenn Graves, brother of the groom, both of Lockney. Jason Jones, nephew of the bride of Amarillo, was ring bearer. Candlelighters were Debbie Jones, and Eugene Jones, niece and nephew of the bride.

A graduate of Lockney High School, the bride is employed by Page's Thriftway of Lockney. The groom, also a Lockney High graduate, is employed by Tye Manufacturing Company in Lockney.

Attending at a reception following the ceremony were Christine Jones, Mary John Jones, Lou Jones, Naomi Jones, Bessie Walker and Glenna Jones.

For traveling, the bride chose a blue slack suit and casual attire.

WINSLOW

Mr. and Mrs. Donny Winslow of Duncan, Oklahoma are proud to announce the birth of a son, Zade Lee.

Born on April 26, he weighed 7 lbs. and was 20 inches long.

Visiting the Winslows are Mr. and Mrs. Carl A. Mosberg of Floydada, Carla's parents.

MRS. LEE FRAZIER

Kim Lee-Frazier residing in Lubbock following wedding

Mrs. Kim Lee and Mr. Max David Jones were united in marriage on Saturday May 2 at six in the evening in the A&M United Methodist Church in College Station, Texas. Reverend Bob Waters performed the double ring ceremony in a colorful floral setting of shrimp and buttercup yellow. Wedding music was provided by Bob Hostettler with vocal selections by the bride's brother, Rick Pierce, who sang, "Sunrise, Sunset," "Lord's Prayer," and "Song of Ruth."

The bride is the daughter of Dewey Pierce of Hamburg, Germany, and Mrs. Nadine Pierce of Houston, where Mrs. Pierce is a Counselor at Spring Woods High School. The bride's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Willis of Floydada, Mrs. Clara McMakin of Grand Saline, Texas, and the late Mr. A.D. Pierce. The bride is a graduate of Westchester High School and Texas A&M University.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Houston, where Mrs. Jones is a Counselor for Alvin ISD. His grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Clay B. Ogle of Sweeny, Texas, Mrs. Norbon F. Jones of Wharton, Texas, and the late Mr. Norbon Jones. The groom is a graduate of Alvin High School and Texas A&M University.

Career and Job Fair to be held at Tech May 14 open to employers and public

A Career and Job Fair has been planned for May 14 at Texas Tech. Free to employers and the public, the Fairs have proven to be a unique and extremely successful opportunity for employers to acquaint job seekers, students, and the general public with the various services and career opportunities available to them.

Private industry is strong and diverse in the Lubbock area. It's accomplishments and future is exciting and the Career and Job Fair celebrates those facts giving them the opportunity to meet and take applications from graduating seniors and other job seekers from all over the region. The job fair also affords the employers the opportunity to explain their business or company's role and contributions in the community.

The job fair will also assist the educational system, who is continually wrestling with the problem of assisting young people in making occupational choices and providing them with relevant occupational skills. It will offer educators a chance to learn more about the needs of and opportunities offered by industry in the Lubbock area.

In each community, law enforcement, health services, and fire protection agencies make up a large portion of the labor force. The Career and Job Fair will allow public employers access to large numbers of job seekers, and will offer employment training agencies the opportunity to learn more about the needs of private industry.

The Texas SER Job Bank of Austin, the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce and Board of City Development, South Plains Employment and Training Consortium,

Lubbock SER Jobs for Progress, Levelland Chamber of Commerce, South Plains Community Action Association, and Texas Employment Commission, will sponsor the Career and Job Fair on Thursday, May 14, at the

Playday to be held at the Floydada Country Club

The Floydada Country Club Ladies' Golf Association held a playday on April 28 with Teresa Hale winning for being closest to the pin on #8.

The next playday and luncheon was May 4. There was a three way tie for the most bogeys — Sherre West, Donna Pernell and Wendy Pierce.

Plans for the June tournament were discussed. There will be playdays every Tuesday at 9:30 and the next meeting will be June 2. All interested people are encouraged to attend.

Class honored with party by Women's Missionary Union

BY TERRI LLOYD
On May fifth, the Women's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church of Floydada gave a party for the Senior Class of Floydada High School at the Plains Baptist Encampment. Parents of the class members who are members of the Baptist church prepared the meal and decorated the dining hall of the camp using a western theme.

Recreation before dinner was volleyball. Dinner included salad, steak, baked potato, sour dough bread, cherry cobbler and iced tea. The tables were decorated with red checked tablecloths, lanterns, programs and ceramic boots filled with wild flowers. Roses were used to decorate the head table, fireplace and other areas.

After dinner, Moody Younger, Shelley Bearden, Kelly Ward, Jeff Rainey, Amy Jones, Teresa Weaver and Terri Lloyd dressed up and presented a skit about the classes 50th reunion in the year 2031. They reminisced about events involving class members and "remember when" took place. The guest speaker, Jay Jeffery, quarterback for the Baylor University Bears, talked to the seniors. He stressed to the group that they be positive, good, and kind when they set goals in their life.

He compared life with a rubber band that expands and gets bigger as it holds more stress and pressures.

Many thanks go to the WMU and the First Baptist Church for giving the party and providing so much fun.

West To Compete 1981 Teenworld State Finals July

Miss Tonya West, age 15, daughter of Mr. Billy West, of Lubbock and Ms. Jimmie West of Floydada, has been selected for competition in the 1981 Teenworld State Finals to be held at the Hyatt Regency Convention Center in Fort Worth at 7:30 p.m. on July 4, 1981.

Teenworld has selected outstanding young women from all over the state to participate in the three days of activities. The program is designed to recognize young women, 14 to 18, who excel in scholastic achievement and community involvement. Contestants are judged on poise, personality, grooming, and a speech or talent presentation, as well as scholastic and civic achievements. Entrants must have a "B" or better accumulative grade average and document at least ten hours of volunteer service to a community or charitable organization.

The statewide Teenworld competition is coordinated by State Director Carol Connerly at the Teenworld Regional Office, 4550 W. 109 St., #300, Overland Park, KS 66211, phone 913/341-5588.

The competition is the official state preliminary for the Teenworld National Finals to be held in Atlanta at the Omni International Hotel

Plains News

Messages presented to Mothers

children were present for church services in South Plains for the morning message, including Dee Earle and Mark Sanders, Shea and Dane from Floydada.

Mrs. Gertrude Smitherman of Floydada was a morning church visitor at South Plains with Mrs. Mammie Wood. Mrs. Wood's daughter, Mrs. Juanell Teague of Lubbock met them in Plainview and all had lunch together.

Mrs. Ruth Smitherman entered the Central Plains Hospital in Plainview this Monday morning, May 11, and will have major knee surgery May 12. We hope a very successful and good surgery for Ruth, and a fine recovery.

Mr. and Mrs. Royce and Kay Bethel and girls Shelly and Jamie went to Quitaque after church services here Sunday morning and had dinner and spent the afternoon with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Patrick and her brother Kelly.

Mrs. Early (Nell) Pritchett and her sister Mrs. Joe Y'Brood of Floydada left this Monday for the Pritchett home in Ruidoso, New Mexico. The growing things here are already affecting the allergy condition of Nell Pritchett and she will be having to spend much time out there, with Early coming out when he can, to be with them.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don Marble for the Mothers Day dinner were her mother, Mrs. Neta Holland of Lockney, Brett and Donette, the Marbles children, and a nephew, Tom Musser of Lubbock and Monte Lyons. Brett is home for the summer, after receiving a degree last Friday night at Levelland at South Plains College for a degree in agribusiness, and Donette will be getting her degree from Texas Tech in graduation exercises next Friday in Lubbock. She is working full time at a bank in Lubbock. They were all present for morning church services at the South Plains Baptist Church.

Bates McClung, last Monday, after a long illness. Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham was with the family during their sorrow.

Sunday visitors with Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham here at the Baptist morning Mothers Day services were her sons Mr. and Mrs. Alton Higginbotham, Kelly, Bryant Higginbotham, Lori, and Bud Higginbotham of Lubbock. They all had Sunday dinner in Plainview after church services.

Mr. and Mrs. Spivey of Navasota arrived in Lockney Tuesday to spend the night with his sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Dillard, and Wednesday they were visiting here with another sister Mr. and Mrs. Sylvain Kinnibrugh and with other family members they all enjoyed homemade ice cream Wednesday evening.

Prayer meeting on May 6th, was held at the South Plains Baptist Church and Nathan Mulder spoke to the church in the absence of Rev. Osborne.

Richard Sanders is here at the home of Don Probasco, north of South Plains, where he is digging a water well for the house use. The well is going down south of the house.

Storms rolled around us Thursday evening and there was some light rain here, with a tornado touching down in the northwest of the South Plains vicinity. Several saw the tornado touch ground.

Mrs. Letha Mulder spent Mothers Day in Amarillo with her daughter and family the Jerry Taylors. She went up Friday evening and will return on Thursday morning.

Mrs. Janelle Reeves went to Lubbock Wednesday, May 6, where she attended a bridal shower given in honor of her daughter, Miss Janette Reeves. The shower was given by two friends, Miss Paula Rodgers and Miss Linda Ward at the Lubbock National Bank, in the second floor Conference Room, at 3:00 p.m. with twelve girls from the bank in attendance. Janette and her fiancée plan a church wedding on May 16, at the Parkview Baptist Church in Littlefield. The couple will make their home in Littlefield.

John Cummings received all district in basketball, and all South Plains, in the past season. In basketball John was named Outstanding Forward and Leadership in basketball. John is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Cummings and is in the Lockney graduating class of 1981.

Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Craddock of Sundown came to spend the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sanders, Stanley and Layne, and they were visitors for Mothers Day at the South Plains Baptist Church.

Carla Burleson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Burleson received a degree in the graduation exercises at South Plains College at Levelland last Friday night.

Rev. and Mrs. Cecil Osborne and her mother, Mrs. Cordy Taylor of Muleshoe arrived back at the parsonage Saturday after spending last week in Mineral Wells, where Rev. Osborne conducted a teaching program at the church where his son-in-law, Rev. Ron Somers is pastor. This course was on Lay Evangelism. Mrs. Taylor went back to her home in Muleshoe on Monday. She attended Baptist Church services Sunday night here at South Plains.

We offer our sympathy to Mrs. Nell McClung and to her family on the death of

Baseball Association Large turnout for baseball

The youth sport program for the Floydada Baseball Association this year is expected to be the best ever. Ninety youngsters participated in it last year and 200 are expected this year.

Mr. Roger Garms has been elected President for the coming year. He and a committee headed up by Connie Wideman, Darlene Stovall, Susan Garms and Charlene Brown along with fourteen other mothers will meet on May 14, to announce that $2,000 is needed for equipment, uniforms and field maintenance along with money to pay for some travel.

Floydada Baseball Association plans to raise this money by taking orders for decorative canisters. They will be offering two canisters; one filled with 16 oz. of popcorn and the other filled with 11 oz. of assorted hard candy.

These attractive canisters filled with popcorn or candy are excellent to have around the house or can be used as gifts. Let's buy one or more canisters to help the Floydada Baseball Association reach their goal.

PUBLIC NOTICE CITY OF FLOYDADA COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT GRANT PROGRAM

The City of Floydada's application for Community Development Block Grant funds in the amount of $397,000 was accepted for processing by the U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development on May 1, 1981.

In accordance with Section 570.300 (b) of the Consolidated Community Development Block Grant regulations, this application is available for inspection at the Floydada City Hall. Handicapped individuals who may have difficulty in getting to City Hall should contact the City Hall to make appropriate arrangements to view the City's application.

Persons who have objections to the City's CDBG application should submit details of these objections to the Dallas HUD Area Office: 2001 Bryan Tower, Dallas, Texas 75201. HUD will only consider objections on the following basis: (1) the City has incorrectly described its needs and objectives; (2) the proposed project is inappropriate to meeting the City's needs and objectives; or (3) the city's application does not comply with CDBG regulations. All objections must be submitted within 30 days of this notice.

For further information, contact the Floydada City Hall at 983-2834.

OBITUARIES

RAS CALDWELL

Services for Ras Harold Caldwell, 61, of Lockney were in Hot Springs, Arkansas. The body was shipped to Groff Mortuary there.

Local arrangements were by Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Lockney.

Caldwell died at 1:30 p.m. Saturday in the Lockney General Hospital following a sudden illness.

The Hot Springs native married Mildred Matthews August 6, 1938 in Hot Springs. She died in 1979. He moved to Lockney in February of this year from Levelland. He was a retired plumber and had belonged to the Plumber's Union 29 years. He was a Baptist.

Survivors include three sons, Harold of Alta Vista, Kansas, James Charles of Alta Monte Springs, Florida and Ronnie of Citrus Heights, California; three daughters, Mrs. Pat Ammons of Rogers, Arkansas, Mrs. June Thompson of Lockney and Bessie Sue Caldwell of Little Rock, Arkansas; ten grandchildren; and one great-grandchild.

MABLE THOMPSON

Mable Thompson, 71, of Aiken, was dead on arrival Tuesday night, May 5, at Lockney General Hospital.

Services were at 10 a.m. Thursday in Aiken Baptist Church. Officiating was the pastor, the Rev. Richard Clymer, assisted by the Rev. John Jenkins, pastor of First Baptist Church in Lockney. Burial was in Plainview Memorial Park by Moore-Rose Funeral Home of Lockney.

Mrs. Thompson was born April 6, 1910 in Paris, Texas and moved from there to Floyd County in 1925. She married Ivan Thompson October 15, 1927 in Lockney. She was a farm wife and member of Aiken Baptist Church.

Surviving are her husband; one son, Bill Thompson of Lockney.

TESSIE SMITH

Tessie Ophelia Smith, 93, who died Saturday evening in the Memphis Convalescent Center after a lengthy illness, was the mother of Guy Smith of Memphis, formerly of Tulia, and the grandmother of the Rev. Jim Smith, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Floydada.

Services were held at 2 p.m. Monday in First United Methodist Church Memphis and burial was in Union Hill Cemetery in Lakeview directed by Spicer Funeral Home of Memphis.

Mrs. Smith was a native of Grayson County and had lived in Memphis 77 years. The former Tessie Durham married Cecil Guy Smith August 7, 1910 in Lakeview. He died in 1965.

Survivors include a son, Guy Smith of Memphis; 3 more grandchildren, two step-grandchildren and 12 great-grandchildren.

A.J. FOLLEY

Judge A.J. Folley, 84, of Amarillo, who began his law practice in 1925 in Floydada, and was a former associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas, died Sunday.

Services were at 4 p.m. Tuesday in First Presbyterian Church Amarillo with burial in Llano Cemetery by N.S. Griggs and Sons Funeral Directors.

Judge Folley, born in Limestone County, was reared on a farm near Mart. He received his undergraduate degree at Baylor University in 1921 and his law degree there in 1925. He was a Baylor University trustee.

In 1929, Gov. Dan Moody appointed Judge Folley as the first 110th District attorney for Floyd, Briscoe, Motley and Dickens counties. In 1935 he was elected 110th District Court judge, and in 1937, Gov. James Allred appointed him associate justice of the 7th Court of Civil Appeals, where he rendered 230 opinions.

Judge Folley was a former elder of First Presbyterian Church and a past president of the Amarillo Knife and Fork Club.

He is survived by his wife, Rowena, a daughter, two stepsons, two grandchildren

Evangelist will speak

The Reverend Paul H. Pipkin, veteran missionary radio evangelist among Asia's millions, will be guest speaker Sunday, May 17, 11:00 a.m. at the First Assembly of God Church, 701 W. Missouri, the Rev. Jim Guess, pastor has announced.

Reverend Pipkin and his wife, Violet (soloist and accordionist), began their overseas career in Peking, China with an assignment to reach Chinese youth for Christ. With their ministry in word and music they were able to reach thousands of students through Radio Peking, Youth Crusades, and English Bible classes at Yenching University. Mr. Pipkin was one of the last western

P.M. Clubs (Portable Missionary Radio Clubs) on more than 40 islands of the Philippines. Each club was loaned a battery-operated, pre-tuned radio which was designed to receive only the Christian radio programs. Later, Mr. Pipkin was assigned to direct the Japan Radio Department and the Taiwan Radio Department of the Assemblies of God.

Pastor Guess extends a cordial invitation to the public to hear Paul and Violet Pipkin speak and sing. You will be thrilled to see their film, Bible study curriculum exhibit, and to hear more about this exciting ICI ministry to a world in crisis.

Lockney Care Center News

BY VICKIE HUTTON

LOCKNEY CARE CENTER residents and staff celebrated "Crazy Day" Monday as part of Nursing Home Week by dressing "crazy." The Center will have an open house from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m. Sunday.

The new look to our home is finally completed. We are ready for National Nursing Home Week, which continues through Sunday and our Open House, this Sunday from 2 p.m. to 5 p.m.

We invite everyone to come and join in on all the activities this week.

We are really becoming experts at making our craft dogs, during our bus trip Monday we went to Plainview to shop for more yarn.

We have dogs in every color imaginable. If you haven't ever seen a pink, orange, or yellow dog come see ours. They are selling for $3. Those enjoying the trip were Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Myrtle Payne, and Alma McDonald.

Our lucky bingo winners this week were Bill Holt. We had a special treat after bingo Friday. The Prayer and Share Sisters from Rock Creek gave a lovely Mother's Day Party. We enjoyed homemade ice cream, angel food cake and punch. We thank these lovely ladies for their thoughtfulness and time.

Our birthday honorees this month are Mamie Wofford, Pablo Salquero, Edna Thomas, Alpha Kitchens, and Kay Mitchell.

We thank the ladies of the Main Street Church of Christ for giving another lovely birthday party. Special is the only way to describe these lovely ladies.

Thursday, Richard Lanham, Sally Carpenter, Myrtle Burke, Donnie Hester, Mary Jo Fielding, Euna Bradshaw, Bertie Bradley, Myrtle Payne, Alma McDonald, Laverne Christian, administrator; Shirley Stansell, Director of Nurses; and myself attended the Senior Fun Carnival at Wayland Baptist College in Plainview. Richard Lanham, Donnie Hester, and Mary Jo Fielding participated.

Richard Lanham won third place in the wheel chair races. The only drawback was he was beaten by a little girl. He sure got a lot of teasing. We all had a great time. Myrtle Payne said her favorite part of the day was lunch. She was in hog heaven when she saw they were serving fried chicken.

We have Ruby... and Sally Carpenter... send our hopes for these folks. We want them to come home... We welcome the sister of Ben McGee... look forward to her activities.

Floyd County
Insurance Agency
LOCKNEY Jerry

We have two problems: One, it's storm season, two, we have no room in the garage for our down camper. Will insurance cover us if there is damage to the camper? Yes, as long as the trailer is on your property attached to a vehicle. However, the Homeowner's policy will provide only limited coverage against hail damage. Your agent about a separate Physical Damage policy to insure the camper. This policy will provide more coverage and has the added benefit of insuring anywhere. The policy will include comprehensive collision coverage.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY DOROTHY NEFF

We would like to thank the Bates McClung family for sharing some of their beautiful flowers with us. Our prayers are with them during the loss of their loved one.

The Park Florist was busy Friday delivering beautiful flower arrangements to the Mothers in our home. Our mail has also doubled this week with all the Mothers Day cards.

Mrs. Susie Mooney has enjoyed visiting with her son, Conwall of Springer, New Mexico, this week.

We honored our lady residents with a Mother's Day party Friday. Ruth McIntosh and Evelyn Huggins served cake and punch to all the residents. Everyone had a nice time.

Oldest mother present was Susie Mooney, youngest mother was Juanita Bailey each lady was given a wishing well filled with dried flowers. After the party everyone enjoyed a movie.

We have two new faces in our home. Mrs. Willie Mae Russell and Mr. Leonard Elliott, both of Floydada. If you know either of these people please come by and visit with them.

Our bus trip this week took us to Silver Falls. The wild flowers were in full bloom so we picked everyone a bouquet. Those enjoying the trip were Geneda Roberts, Juanita Bailey, Iva Simpson, Emmitt Lawrence, Verna McSwain, Sue Thompson and Victoria Asher. We also stopped by and picked up Velva Pricer and Jean Kendricks.

The residents would like to thank Sally Galloway for showing Cinderella to us.

We enjoyed it because it was our own fifth grade children performing.

Mrs. Clara Williamson is enjoying her new color T.V. she received for Mother's Day.

Someone has brought several bouquets of roses to our home which we have enjoyed very much. Whoever, thanks a lot.

Many thanks to our visitors which included: Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lancaster, Lois Jones, Charley L. Berry Sr., Dena Myrick, Raymond and Etta Love, Cephus and Imogene Fortenberry, Emma Pate, Donell Weeks Pittman, Andra Poke, Ronnie Ledbetter, Bruce Campbell, Doris Snodgrass, Clara McNeely, E.G. # SeedTec sunflowers make the most of a little water

Here in the High Plains of Texas, a little water has to go a long way. But now, you can make the most of a little water by planting SeedTec sunflowers, the drought-tolerant crop that thrives in hot, dry weather.

Cut your irrigation costs and conserve water.

By planting SeedTec sunflowers now, you can cut irrigation costs and conserve one of your most valuable resources—water. With only one or two waterings, your SeedTec sunflowers can have the moisture they need for excellent performance. Compare that to the expense of irrigating corn or sorghum, and you'll see why SeedTec sunflowers are the logical alternative to high pumping costs and dwindling water supplies.

Cut your total production costs.

On irrigated land, sunflowers cost less to produce than corn, cotton or sorghum. And while sunflower production costs are low, the world demand for sunflower oil is high. So sunflowers offer excellent profit potential.

Cut nutritious silage from SeedTec sunflowers.

SeedTec sunflowers make great silage, and you cut it. In fact, sunflower silage contains protein and fat than corn or sorghum silage. Yet sunflower silage costs less to produce.

To make the most of a little water this year, call your SeedTec dealer today.

Barton, Hart, and Soto to graduate May 16

The graduating class of Wayland Baptist University includes Sandra Kay Barton, Shannon Hart and Nanette Burk Soto.

Wayland's 71st Spring Commencement will be held Saturday, May 16, in Plainview beginning at 10 a.m. in Harral Memorial Auditorium.

Degrees for December and May graduates will officially be conferred upon those persons during Saturday's ceremonies. Candidates for August graduation will receive their diplomas upon completion of their course of study, although they will also participate in spring commencement.

Wayland Baptist College is a four-year, coeducational, multi-purpose institution of arts and sciences presently in its 73rd year of operation. Dedicated to providing a quality education with a Christian orientation, the college will take on a new appearance beginning on June 1 when it officially becomes Wayland Baptist University.

Rainey, Ferguson recipients of Carr Scholarships

Two Floydada area students are the recipients of Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82 at Angelo State University.

Jeffrey Rainey of Floydada received a $1,000 award and Julie Ferguson of Lockney also received a $1,000 award.

Rainey, who ranks among the top students in his class, has served as a class officer. He has won sports scholastic awards and also was football captain. He plans to major in computer science.

Ms. Ferguson has served both the honor society and FCA as president. She's been active in band, basketball and track. She plans to major in physical education.

These students are among approximately 200 distinguished high school students from throughout the state and nation who have been selected to receive Carr Academic Scholarships for 1981-82. Another 250 Carr Academic Scholarships are being awarded to currently enrolled undergraduate students at Angelo State.

This scholarship was created by the late Mr. Carr to provide academic scholarships to assist worthy and deserving students to pursue their education at Angelo State University.

Mr. Carr bequeathed to the Board of Regents, Texas State University System, for the use of Angelo State, all of his interest in oil, gas and other minerals with the provision that these properties be held in trust for the establishment of the Carr Academic Scholarship program.

Center celebrates Mothers Day

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN

Mothers Day was a beautiful day, only a bit colder than expected. But still not freezing. We understand fruit is still not killed in this area, nor in New Mexico at son Clyde's.

Churches had beautiful programs and gave corsages for the youngest, oldest, and the mother with most children present.

Several of our people were out of town for the weekend and haven't returned yet.

The Anthony Latta's were in Ruidoso for the weekend.

The Pecks had company for Mothers Day: Mrs. Badgett's daughter, Mrs. Allsup and teenage sons Shannon and Heath Allsup of Ft. Worth.

Mr. and Mrs. Hal Thomas spent Tuesday in Lubbock. Saturday their children Sue and Milton Mensch and son David of Lubbock spent their Mothers Day here. Sunday the Thomas' were in Post visiting his sister and husband in the local Rest Home.

Miss Vera Meredith company were: Mrs. Thompson, Bro. and Mrs. Clay Muncy.
