

Floydada cannery to close

Lockney cannery to open

Commissioners Court, in regular session Monday, voted to bring one cannery up to state and federal standards before the beginning of the canning season in July.

The new cannery, which processes much food as the Floydada cannery, is designated as the facility to be moved to the Floydada cannery will be closed.

The plant will operate as a cannery. No canned goods and there will be no canning facilities.

Standards set forth by the state health departments for a designated cannery are therefore less expensive commercial facility.

Commissioners Bob Jarrett and Thomas Warren, and County Judge Choise Smith voted "for" on funding the updating of the one cannery. Commissioner Jack Lackey abstained. Commissioner Sam Spence was absent from the morning court session when the vote was taken.

Mrs. Pete Hulcy will operate the cannery at a salary of $700 per month during the canning season. Daisy Dipprey will serve as assistant at a salary of $550.

The court will follow the recommendations set down by Texas A&M Food Specialist, Dr. Al B. Wagner. As part of the A&M Extension Service, Wagner inspected both canneries and made a list of recommendations to upgrade the facilities. State Health officials concurred with Wagner's findings.

Equipment costs to bring the Lockney cannery up to specifications is estimated at $570. That figure does not include labor.

Some of the equipment from the Floydada cannery will be moved to the Lockney plant.

One of the specifications is that supervisory personnel and interested persons would attend a one day training session.

The school will be conducted by Dr. Wagner and will be held sometime in June.

Beside the updating of equipment, a more complete system of record keeping will have to be instituted.

All cans will have to be labeled and coded. This is a precaution so that any food suspected of contamination can be readily traced.

Complete records to include initial temperature of each batch, and process time will have to be kept.

Another recommendation is that all canned goods be kept in the state. This means that no canned goods from Floyd County should be taken across the state line even as a gift to friends or relatives.

The commissioners are discouraging people from out of the county using the cannery.

AN EARLY MORNING THUNDERSTORM dropped a tornado between Cone and Floydada. Damage was contained to three high line poles. Blackouts occurred in Cone, Floydada and much of the rural area at about 5 a.m. As much as two inches of rain were reported in Blanco Canyon. Other areas received .83 inches. Photo by Jill Willson

Invitation to sign up for Old Settler's Day parade

Board of Directors of the Floyd Settlers Association would like all civic clubs, all church groups, and all individuals to participate in the parade at 2:30 p.m. on May 22.

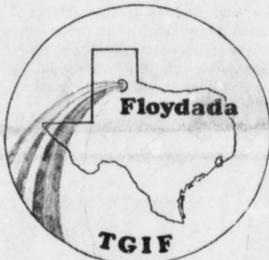

This is a county-wide affair and the parade groups from Lockney, Floydada, and the clubs from the area are invited to enter floats, bands, horses and all other items that would relate to the past, to make the parade a success.

Many relics of the past that are interesting to the present can be portrayed in many ways, and the participants have fun working up these projects. Also all are invited to bring their flowers and compete for the prizes in the flower show. Riding clubs, car and implement dealers, can make the parade enjoyable especially for the youngsters.

We urge everyone to make this a day of success for all. And Old Settlers, please attend, as people come from long distances to be here and meet with old friends, so you may miss a chance to relive many happy occasions of the past with those whom you shared your early life. Let's all work together to make this day a success.

SPS rate increase set at 9%

Southwestern Public Service Company yesterday announced it would accept a 9% rate increase recommended by the Steering Committee which represents 66 Texas municipalities served by the electric utility.

The agreement was reached following a study by the cities' rate study committee, and represents 71% of the 12.7% Texas retail rate increase requested by the Company.

If approved by the Public Utility Commission of Texas (PUCT), the new rate would be effective July 1, 1982, and would be expected to provide additional revenues of approximately $13.6 million annually from customers inside the cities. The agreement only covers the rates for service supplied within city jurisdictions. Rates outside the cities, which are regulated by the PUCT, would generate approximately an additional $15.8 million annually at the 71% figure.

Company president Bert Ballengee said "SPS agreed reluctantly because the combined revenues of $29.4 million from city and rural customers is less than had been requested, less than is needed, and less than is justified by today's high money costs and the commitment the Company has made to its customers to change to coal as the fuel source in new power plants."

Ballengee said that "SPS would go along with the reduced increase because of the current economic situation which is affecting everyone. I guess we'll hurt just like everyone else," he added.

Southwestern Public Service primarily provides electric utility service to a population of more than 1 million in a 45,000-square-mile area of the Panhandle and South Plains of Texas, eastern and southwestern New Mexico and the Oklahoma Panhandle and southwestern Kansas.

Tax office error overpays county

Floyd County Tax Assessor dropped a bombshell in the laps of the County Commissioners Monday when she told them that an error had been made in her office and that the county had been overpaid in tax money.

The tax assessor collects the monies for the county, Caprock Hospital in Floydada, Lockney Hospital, High Plains Water District, Mackenzie Water Authority, and South Plains and Dougherty school districts.

Tax Assessor Jonelle Fawver said that she was short $26,485.41 and could not make the prorated payments to the other entities. She said that there were not enough tax funds to pay Caprock Hospital the amount due them.

The county was the only entity that was overpaid she said.

County Treasurer Glenna Orman said that the money had already been spent. "It's gone," she said. "we don't have it either."

When questioned by County Auditor Bobbie Hamilton as the exact amount of the pay back due, Fawver could not give a figure because the fees of office had not been tabulated.

Hamilton said that the problem is "verifying the amount that the county is overpaid." The real and personal taxes have been put on the computer, but the intangible taxes have not.

County Judge Choise Smith said he thought each entity should be paid the tax money they were due, but "I don't know how we can pay this back when we're not sure of our figures."

Fawver said that shortage of help in her office had caused them to be behind in figuring all of the different taxes and the bookwork that goes along with it.

Hamilton said she had only received two of the monthly reports since the beginning of the fiscal year in October and had no way of cross checking to know how much the county was due.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett said, "her office (County Tax Office) needs to be organized in an efficient manner so we can get this information."

Commissioners asked Hamilton what her recommendations were. She said there needed to be a better system of reporting from the tax office, and that they need to have their records accessible.

The only cross-check at this time, according to Fawver, is to go back through all of the receipts.

Fawver said that the mistake came about because taxes collected at the end of January were counted twice. The exact amount of the duplication was not clear to this reporter. A figure of over $63,000 was mentioned and also a $49,000 figure was mentioned.

Fawver said that she thought there would be enough taxes collected to cover the prorated amounts due, but that had not happened. She therefore needed the county to pay back some of the money they were overpaid so that her office could take care of the commitments to the other tax entities.

Since Caprock Hospital is on lease, the shortage of payment would cause no undue hardship as far as the running of the hospital is concerned according to Hospital Administrator Joe Rice in a separate interview on Tuesday.

However, each of the tax entities bank their funds and collect interest until the funds are used.

Because of the late sending out of tax bills in 1981 and the according late payment of taxes, Commissioner Jack Lackey said that the county had lost at least $30,000 in interest.

The re-appraisal of taxes in 1980 and the subsequent work-load has caused Fawver to appear before the court on several occasions because her office was behind.

Commissioners decided in afternoon session on Monday that an audit of the tax office which would get the records up to date and provide complete figures was in order.

Motion was passed unanimously that Hamilton would hire an experienced tax assessor and that Hamilton, as county auditor, would work with them to audit the county tax records.

A limited audit was performed by Behner and Co. at the end of last year at a cost of $5000 to the county. This audit was called to comply with Revenue Sharing regulations.

National Salvation Army Week is May 10-16

While our society most often measures success by material possessions, there is an increasing number of people in our society whose yardstick for success has become survival.

The people using this yardstick go far beyond those traditionally living on the fringes of society—such as drug addicts, sidewalk alcoholics, runaways, leftover flower children from the 60's etc. Until recently, many of those in this new class of survivalists held jobs in the auto industry, housing, airlines, educational institutions and every other field that has been hurt by the economic wrecking ball. Or if it wasn't the economy that got them, it may have been a tornado, fire, flood, an act of crime, or perhaps the death of a family's breadwinner.

It's not a position any of us would envy, yet none of us is immune. We all are vulnerable to being swept away by forces over which we have no control. When one becomes such a victim, he or she often has no choice but to turn to others for help.

The Salvation Army has been helping such powerless victims since 1865. While the charitable organization is most visible at Christmas, its work goes on quietly behind the scenes 365 days a year. It seems that people's needs know no seasons.

The week of May 10-16 is National Salvation Army Week. The Army asks that you support them during this special week as they continue to practice their theme of "Heart to God, Hand to Man."

Court Justices request special police force

BY SGT. RAYNARD MACHA
Floydada Police Department

Recently I read where the United Supreme Court Justices have requested that their special police force who is responsible for the safety of the court and court grounds be empowered to operate off the grounds of the court. Under law they can only carry weapons and have police powers while in performance of their duties on the grounds of the Supreme court.

It seems that the justices are afraid of possible violence or some crime being committed against their person. So as a special privilege they are wanting police officers to follow them home to their cozy safe homes in the suburbs of Washington D.C.

For years they have spanned the seeds of crime with their many ridiculous rulings letting hardened criminals go free. Not to mention keeping the American justice system in a constant turmoil with their ever changing rulings. That predominantly seems to favor the criminal.

Now they think that the streets of America are not safe. The American public could have told them that years ago. Their recent request is an example of the mentality of the court. Rather than come up with a get tough policy against crime, they seek special protection while the taxpaying citizen who pays their salary and bears the brunt of the misery associated with crime must fend for himself on the unsafe streets of America.

As a result of years of liberalism emanating from the supreme court to lower Federal courts, America has experienced the greatest crime wave in the history of the world in this century.

European countries are aghast at the violence that our cities put up with on a daily basis. Our newspapers and TV are full of examples of state and local judges and juries sentencing criminals to prison sentences only to see a federal judge set him free on some minor technicality. Correction facilities are full of inmates awaiting death penalties never to be carried out as ordered by local juries who set through a fair trial and made a decision to put an end to a hardened criminals life of crime.

Somewhere there is always a federal judge who had nothing to do with the case and has a personal opinion against the death penalty that is being executed. Two good decisions made by the Supreme Court are totally out in left field papers today. One is locking up a farmer for soybeans out of an off debts. The other is a federal judge has made Texas cannot accept into our correctional system over crowding. That convicts will have to society before even their sentences.

It has reached the point when one man can tell how to run their government with a judicial consent or will of the people then Democrats we are now living in a up of an elite group who have to answer to state government actions. There is no clearly are in control of the state.

For one think that justice should have chances with the rest of the society. Maybe then some of them will once again for the purpose of police to protect society.

Not until they are from rest of society will they dream world and realize today because of their strict legalism without decency, or intelligence.

Crime of the Week

$200 offered for tractor theft info

An unsolved tractor theft in April is the Crime Call Spotlight Crime of the Week, for which a $200 reward is offered for information leading to the person or persons responsible for the crime.

Anyone having this information is urged to phone Crime Call at 983-5200. Informants may remain anonymous. Additional rewards will be paid by Crime Call if the informant is willing and testifies if the case is brought to trial.

Sometime between 7:00 p.m., April 16, (Friday) and 10:00 a.m., April 19 (Monday), a 1976 John Deere Tractor, model 4430 (serial #060506R), was stolen on a farm three miles East and 3 1/2 miles South of Floydada.

According to the investigating officer, the tracks of the tractor indicated it was driven from the field and then on to a trailer, or some method of transport. The tractor had these distinguishing features: It was equipped with a cab; the battery boxes and batteries were mounted on top of the weights on the front of the tractor, with spotlights mounted on top of the batteries; the RH cotton stripper mounting was higher than standard to accommodate the batteries (LH mounting was standard); the thieves disengaged the quick hitch from the tractor links, leaving the pins, etc. on the ground (it had been hooked to a rotary hoe and the quick hitch was left attached to the implement).

It is hoped that someone may have seen the tractor being transported on a trailer, or by some method, sometime during that weekend and can furnish a description of the towing vehicle (occupants, License #, etc.). If such information leads to the arrest of the criminals involved, the reward(s) will be paid as specified.

Crime Call is supported entirely by private donations and tax-deductible contributions may be mailed to Crime Call of Floyd County, 122 E. California, Floydada, TX 79235. Citizens are also reminded that if an informant reports a crime in progress (felony) to Crime Call at 983-5200, a reward will be paid if the information leads to the arrest of the offender.

Crime Workshop

"Controlling Business Crime" will be the topic of an evening workshop in Floydada on Thursday, May 13, at the Lighthouse Electric Cooperative Building, located at the intersection of the Matador and Silverton highways. Registration will begin at 6:00 p.m. and the program will conclude by 9:00 p.m.

The workshop, which is free to the public, is co-sponsored by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce and the U.S. Small Business Administration.

The program, which should be of interest to business owners and employees, will include the following topics: "Shoplifting and Other Theft"; "Bad Checks"; and "Credit Card Abuse".

Representatives of law enforcement and prosecution offices in Floydada will be on hand to answer questions about local business crime control. All business owners and their employees are encouraged to attend the workshop.

City police are busy

BY SGT. RAYNARD MACHA
Floydada Police Department

City police were kept busy during the week-end making arrests for various crimes.

Six people were arrested for driving while intoxicated by city police. Of the six arrested five flunked breath-analyzer tests. One passed and was released. Two were arrested for public intoxication, and three for after hours consumption of alcoholic beverages in a dry county.

A local Floydada resident who felt that he did not have to comply with a city policeman's orders to exit a van resulted with him being wrestled to the pavement and going to Floyd County jail for public intoxication and resisting arrest.

An out of town con artist found out that Floydada is not a place to practice deceptive business practices. Posing as a bug exterminator he bilked a local resident of $35. Had the city resident not called police after thinking something was not quite right the man might have defrauded many other city residents.

A local pool hall was closed by city police and pad locked by police after the manager, after being warned not to open up again after violations of the city pool hall ordinance were observed, reopened the business again in defiance of a lawful order from Chief of Police Scott Newton. The man was arrested for consuming beer on the premises.

Reeves, Laird repeat vows in Lockney

Peggy Jill Peves of Abilene, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Duard Reeves of Lockney and James Marvin Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ira O. Laird, Sr. of Abilene exchanged vows at the First United Methodist Church of Lockney Saturday, May 8 at 3:00 p.m.

The Rev. Michael O'Connor, minister, performed the ceremony. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Duard Reeves.

A brass kneeling bench flanked by a seven branch candelabra tied with tropical foliage made the setting. Blue satin baskets of white gladiolas and yellow daisies accented with blue satin ribbon completed the nuptial area.

The bride wore a gown of Chantilly lace touched in pearls and satin ribbon on a high-rise see-through neckline. Deep ruffles in V-style made caplet sleeves, and lace gauntlets matched the gown. Deep lace ruffles formed the bouffant skirt and chapel train. A chantilly lace cap showered in pearls held the walking length veil, edged in lace.

The bridal bouquet was of silk nosegay design of white daisies and yellow roses, accented with blue cornflowers. The bouquet was showered with white gypsophila. Bridal satin tied in love knots completed the arrangement.

Joan Heine of Abilene was the maid of honor. Mrs. Willa Murdoch of Stamford and Mrs. Edith Cole, served their sister as bridesmaids. They wore floor length blue dresses with accorian pleats. The attendants carried silk nosegays of yellow daisies and blue primroses accented with yellow satin ribbons.

David Davidson of Abilene attended his step-brother as best man. Dell Laird, also a brother, of Houston and David Hancock of Abilene were groomsmen. Ann McCormick of Lockney provided the organ music, and Susan Walker of Abilene, soloist, sang "The Wedding Song."

The bride chose a lace handkerchief belonging to her mother for the traditional something old, her wedding gown for something new, pearl earrings she borrowed from her sister, Willa Murdoch, and her garter for something blue. A penny was worn in her shoe for good luck.

Rusty and Dusty Davidson, twin step-brothers of the groom served as ushers.

RECEPTION

A reception immediately followed the ceremony in the fellowship hall of the church. Connie Sanders, Molly Huffman, and Dahlia Hight assisted at the reception table. Cathy Hill of Lockney and Penny Lockridge of Plainview served cake and punch.

The table was laid with a lace cloth over blue. The bride's bouquet centered on a five-branch silver candelabra graced the table. The attendant's bouquets encircled the centerpiece. Crystal appointments completed the serving area.

Rhene Middleton of Abilene registered the guests.

The couple planned a wedding trip to Corpus Christi. They will make their home in Abilene.

Atha Blake to be honored with bridal shower Saturday, May 15

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN

Cool mornings and hot days are the rule here, with clouds forming every evening. A beautiful full moon shone Sunday night, looking for all the world like a bright pumpkin. We had over an inch of rain here Tuesday and Wednesday nights, and Tuesday's wind and some hail was perfectly dreadful while the storm was in progress, but luckily it did not stay with us that long. Several have reported many acres of hail which ruined their wheat. One of our farmers lost 150 acres in the storm. Farmers are planting cotton this week, or getting ready to plant.

Miss Atha Blake, bride-elect of Sheldon Sue of Floydada, will be honored this coming Saturday afternoon, May 15, in Floydada from 3-4 p.m. at a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. John Wilson at 901 Garrison Street. The young couple plan a July 31 wedding. Miss Blake formerly lived in South Plains, when her parents were at the South Plains Baptist Church.

Mrs. Leighton Teeple in the northern area of South Plains and Mrs. Fred Marble in the southern part of South Plains have been working for the Cancer Crusade, and if they come to your home, please give as much as you can for this worthy cause.

Mrs. Keith Marble will be hostess at a meeting of the South Plains Hobby Club on Wednesday, May 12, at her home right off the Silverton Highway, south of South Plains. She will be serving at a luncheon party beginning at 11:00 o'clock. Each member is to bring a dish to serve at the luncheon. Mrs. Mamie Wood is to prepare the program for the day.

Mother's Day services at the South Plains Church were well attended and the weather was favorable for friends and relatives to be together to pay tribute to their mothers. Rev. Cecil Osborne gave special emphasis on the family, and their love for one another in the home. For Mother's Day, corsages were presented to mothers in the church, one to the oldest mother present, one to the youngest mother, and lastly a corsage for the mother with the most children. Those who were chosen to receive them were, Mrs. M.M. Julian (Bonnie) for the oldest mother, Mrs. Carlton Johnson (Dianne) for the youngest mother, and Mrs. Sterling Cummings (Glyenne Earle) for the most children. Prayer meeting has been changed to 7:00 o'clock on Wednesday night, and at 6:30 p.m. for Sunday evening services.

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Kinslow and Mrs. Kinslow's sister, Mrs. Eula Ellison of Petersburg all went to Lubbock Sunday and enjoyed lunch together. Then they went out to Woodrow, south of Lubbock and visited E.J.'s sister and Navolia's and Mrs. Ellison's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Scott, during the afternoon.

Mrs. Cecil Osborne (Joyce) is in Dallas at present visiting her daughter Mrs. Karen Mauney, and her mother Mrs. Corda Taylor of Muleshoe is with her. Rev. Osborne will join them on May 17th, for a week of vacation from the church.

Mrs. Frank McClure is home since Monday of the past week, having spent a week at the Lockney Hospital.

Mrs. Mamie Wood left South Plains Friday, February 26, for Baton Rouge, Louisiana, where she has been working the past two months with People Plus, along with her daughter, Mrs. Juanell Teague of Lubbock. She returned Saturday, May 1.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Higginbotham of Chillicothe accompanied by Mrs. Louise Crump of St. Jo came Tuesday and spent the night here with Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham in South Plains. Wednesday morning they all went to Kermit and spent the night with Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Theison and then they visited with her mother, Mrs. Vivian Pierce who is in the Leisure Lodge Rest Home in Kermit, Friday evening, after spending two days there at Kermit, they visited Mr. and Mrs. Bill Higginbotham in Balmorhea, and Saturday morning the Bill Higginbothams and their two boys and guests all went to have breakfast at "Chicken Charlie's," a unique place at Balmorhea. All then came back to Kermit to see Mrs. Pierce again, and went to their respective homes Saturday night.

Mrs. M.M. Julian left last Friday for Roscoe to visit her son and family over the weekend. She went through some very heavy rain from Ralls to the Caprock Community, and then struck bad rains on the other side of Post and through Snyder. There was no rain at all as she came to Hermligh and Roscoe. Saturday was voting day, and it was nice to see her son Terry, win his seat for the County Judge of Nolan County. Sunday they all had dinner with the R.E. Althofs, and Monday night she got to hear the Easter Contata, which was given twice. It was "Joy Comes in the Morning" in which her children, Terry and Leona, took part. She came home Tuesday in time for the storm which hit South Plains with a fury that night.

Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank McClure on Mother's Day were Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark of Plainview, and cousins of McClures, Mr. and Mrs.

Dick Taylor of O...

Construction endangers lake site

LUBBOCK—The Lubbock Lake Site, one of the nation's most valuable and significant archeological landmarks, is threatened by road construction being carried out by the City of Lubbock. Portions of the site have already been extensively damaged, and city work is proceeding, despite efforts by the Texas Historical Commission to get city officials to consider the impact of the construction on these major archeological remains. The THC and Texas Antiquities Committee are attempting to negotiate a solution with the city to protect this ancient site and still allow public access to adjoining recreational areas.

Lubbock Lake Site contains evidence of some of the state's earliest human residents, the Clovis hunters, who stalked and killed big-game animals such as mammoth and camel in the Lubbock area at the end of the last ice age, almost 12,000 years ago. Massive bone beds resulting from kill and butchering activities at the Lubbock Lake Site attest to the hunting skills and fortitude of these earliest Texans. The site is a major source of scientific information concerning the lifeways of these ancient and later peoples who occupied the High Plains, ultimately to disappear or be assimilated by new populations. They left no written records of their passing, and only the remains of their camps and activity areas provide scientists with clues to an understanding of these long-extinct cultures. "Without archeological sites like Lubbock Lake, the cultural heritage of Texas and the nation would be a vacuum from which little could be learned and passed to future generations of Texans," said Acting State Archeologist Bob Mallouf.

The scientific importance of the Lubbock Lake Site is perhaps best exemplified in the various state and federal designations applied to it over the years. It is a National Historic Landmark, a National Register of Historic Places property, and a Texas State Archeological Landmark.

MALEZ AND CHRISTI NORRELL took a second in the Regional Tennis at Lubbock. The team competed at the State meet in Austin April 23-24.

BACK CONTENDER—Ralph Espinoza, sophomore, will represent the Lubbock team at the state meet in Austin Friday. Espinoza took a second in tennis at the Regional meet in Lubbock last Saturday.

THE FLOYDADA JR. HIGH BAND was picked as the "Best Band" out of the 35 bands participating in the Petersburg Festival last Saturday. They won Sweepstakes and then were chosen Outstanding Jr. High Band. The group is displaying the three trophy's they brought home.

May — American Bike Month

By Preston Sides
State Extension 4-H & Youth Specialist
American Bike Month—May—is a great opportunity for 4-H'ers to get their communities involved in bike safety.

With bicycling growing by leaps and bounds, bicycle safety programs are becoming more important. An estimated 105 million bicyclists travel our streets. This means nearly half of the U.S. population ride bikes for fun, fitness, energy conservation and transportation.

Bicyclists need to ride defensively to protect themselves in today's traffic. 4-H clubs can help educate communities in bicycle safety in a variety of ways.

Here are some things 4-H'ers can do regarding bicycle safety:

—Hold an auto-bike rodeo to promote safe driving, including competition in auto and bicycle skill-driving and testing participants on their knowledge of road safety.

—Hold a bicycle safety workshop covering the proper way to give hand signals, driving on the correct side of the highway, the correct way to cross an intersection, and bike maintenance. The workshop can include a bicycle skill-driving contest with bicycle reflecting flags, 4-H ribbons and trophies as prizes.

Other activities could include a special bike ride, a free bicycle safety inspection, a bike film viewing, or a bike-a-thon to raise money for a charity. 4-H'ers might also work with community leaders to establish bicycle routes or remove traffic hazards.

Remember, the more community leaders that get involved, the greater the chance of reaching a wider audience.

The American Bike Month Committee offers materials to help promote American Bike Month. Write the American Bike Committee, 1101 Fifteenth Street, N.W., Suite 304, Washington, D.C. 20005-5098 or call (202) 452-1166.

For more information about the 4-H Bicycle program contact your local county Extension office at 983-2806. Your local 4-H coordinator is Benny Butler.

Floydada Volunteer Fire Dept. receive checks

The Floydada Volunteer Fire Department received two checks for $150.00 each recently from Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies as an expression of thanks for the Department's work on the property of Harold Bertrand and Darrell C. Mayo.

The money will be used to purchase equipment.

The Texas Farm Bureau Insurance Companies pay fire departments this amount when the department works at a fire in rural areas, involving property insured by them.

The Insurance Company believes fire departments have contributed to reduce the amount of loss involved by fire and more importantly, to prevent fires. It is their hope this money will help the Floydada Volunteer Fire Department in their program.

Southwestern Public Service Company power lines meet the highest safety and service standards. When wind, weather, tree growth or other factors affect these lines, SPS crews correct the problem quickly. If you see a downed power line or other equipment that might cause an injury or service interruption, call your local SPS office. Your call could help prevent an accident or service outage.

Raymond Dement, Line Supervisor, Roswell.

Typically, heating and cooling account for more than 60% of your home's energy consumption. Selecting the correct size of air conditioning unit can help reduce this consumption. You also can conserve energy by placing outside air conditioning units away from shrubbery or other obstructions which could block the flow of outside air to the unit. When using an air conditioner, keep blinds or draperies closed against direct sunlight and keep all outside doors closed. Conservation efforts like these can help you "keep your cool" this summer.

Al Rettig, Senior Consumer Services Representative, Lubbock.

We at SPS applaud those customers who reduce their monthly electric bills by using electricity more efficiently. One such customer, Amarillo College, recently voted to remove 94 lighting fixtures from a classroom building. This action allowed the school to meet engineering standards for lighting levels, and is expected to save the college about $5,628 a year in electricity costs.

John Marshall, Manager of Revenues, Amarillo.

Knowing what electricity is worth is worth knowing. For answers to your questions, call or write your SPS manager.

Smiths to present Kids Crusade

Pastor Jim Guess would like to welcome the entire community to join in a Kids Crusade at the First Assembly of God Church, 701 W. Missouri, beginning Sunday, May 23 at 6 p.m. and 7:30 p.m. nightly, May 24 through May 27.

Louis and Mary Smith have been involved in children's ministry since 1974. An ordained minister affiliated with the North Texas District of the Assemblies of God, Louis attended Southwestern Assemblies of God College in Waxahachie, Texas, where he earned a B.A. degree in Christian Ministry. His wife, Mary, has attended Panola College, Carthage, Texas, and East Texas Baptist College, Marshall, Texas.

Their ministry has taken them to crusades and camps in several districts. Prior to their role as children's evangelists, they served as children's ministers at First Assembly of God, Marshall, Texas.

Puppets play an important role in their ministry. They use several, each with a different personality, and each with a Christ-centered message to share. Some of the couple's puppet friends are Malcolm the Mouse, Elmer the Country Bumpkin, Dusty, and Sally Sue.

Ventriloquism is another part of the crusades. They employ three ventriloquist characters in their ministry to kids. Randy the Dummy, one of the leading characters in every crusade, shares in a lighthearted way in telling Bible stories and life application skits. Along with Randy, they use Orlando the Ostrich and Donald, a furry creature who lives in a box.

They also use stories that share the Gospel in a way that relates to today's children. "Cartoon talks", magic, object lessons, songs, memory verses, and more are used to present the Good News to boys and girls. It's all evangelistic, Bible-based, and Christ-centered.

Moosbergs enjoy Mexico

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Moosberg recently flew to Manzanillo, Mexico to check on the winter crop cotton tests for Gro Agri Seed company of Lubbock. They report the cotton was beginning to open and the company should receive the seed by late May for 1982 tests.

made west of Lorenzo. The airport runway in Manzanillo, Mexico is parallel to the beach and the Pacific. Beautiful hibiscus and bouganvillea were blooming. The temperature in the test fields at Colima, about 55 miles inland, was 120 degrees. Manzanillo is a resort town with an ideal 79 degree temperature the year round. The Moosbergs saw several large ships in the port. It was all very easy to see as the wharf is alongside the main street. Workers were loading cotton bales from early cotton already harvested. Here in Lakeview, cotton farmers are just this week starting to plant our area's 1982 cotton crop.

Polanco places first on area 1 essay contest

Lillian Polanco, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jose Polanco, accepted a plaque for being named the first place essay winner in area 1. She accepted the award Friday night at West Texas State University in Canyon.

More than 200 persons attended the Awards Banquet to honor winners in several different categories. The awards program covers 51 Panhandle and South Plains counties. The purpose of the awards program is to acknowledge, recognize and honor individuals who have dedicated themselves to the conservation and wise use of renewable natural resources on their land.

Attending the banquet were directors of the Floyd County Soil and Water Conservation District and their wives, Mr. and Mrs. G.L. Fawver, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Nixon, and Mr. and Mrs. Herman R. King. Attending also were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Cardinal, Miss Norma Castillo and Jon J. LaBaume and Paul Burnham with the Soil Conservation Service.

Categories in which awards were given included Outstanding Conservation Farmer, Outstanding Conservation District, Absentee Conservation Farmer, Business/Professional Man, Conservation Homemaker, Poster Winner, Wildlife Conservationist and Public Media Award.

BY LILLIAN POLLANCO
Characteristic of a prosperous society is a permanent agriculture, founded upon rich soil and water resources. Flourishing societies are possible only in nations which are able to produce a plentiful supply of food. Due to America's vast expanse of good land and ample water supply, America is such a nation. We have water and soil resources but in the light of technological advances and population growth, resource problems have become visible. In order to combat these problems, local Soil Conservation Districts were organized.

These districts have the responsibility of local soil and water conservation in the land. Governed by local landowners, the organization plans programs, obtains information and procures services.

Another organization which aids in the process of conservation is the Soil Conservation Service. This group provides technical advice, exhibits, films and publications. They also make surveys to obtain scientific information on land use and treatment, as well as assisting the farmer or rancher with an economically sound farm or ranch plan for his land.

These programs plus countless of others can help to repeal the problems facing our land. Problems such as water and wind erosion can be overcome. Conservation treatments for croplands have helped in this conquest. Terraces for example help to prevent erosion while conserving moisture as well. To conserve water, installing underground irrigation pipelines, planned irrigation systems and proper use of water is advised. The conservation treatment needed by a given unit of land is determined by its use whether cropland, recreation land or building site and soil characteristics. Upon gathering all information needed, the conservationists and landuser decide what practices are best for the land.

With these problems it becomes more imperative that we put forth our best effort to improve and conserve all resources available to us. Every citizen can improve the environment by becoming a conservationist.

With everyone working together, each citizen can determine the solutions to conservation problems. A country's most valuable asset is its natural resources. It is up to each citizen to preserve and wisely use this asset.

Students' Reception held

Approximately 200 guests attended the Honor Students' Reception at the Gerald Lackey Community Room at Lighthouse Electric Monday night. Jerry Cannon, Superintendent of Public Schools and Chairman of the Education Committee of the Chamber of Commerce gave a short address stating the pride held for the students who had achieved this level of excellence. Sixty-four students in the school system had been invited to the reception because of their straight A's this academic school year. Mr. Cannon stated that so often athletic and music achievements are recognized but not so for academics, and it was the desire of the Education Committee to recognize those students.

Certificates of Recognition were handed out to each honored student.

President of the School Board, Harvey Allen, and board members Don Hardy and Martha Farris and school principals, Charles Tyer, Bob Copeland, and Jimmy Collins were also in attendance.

Oil painting of the C.W. Smith home donated to museum

ALMAN HOLMES
 An established artist from the southwest, has donated the "Big House" to the Historical Museum, to be on display Saturday, May 22. The painting was donated by the students of the Sand Hill Elementary School.

The house was located three miles west of the Sand Hill school, on a hill, overlooking the town of Sand Hill. It was built in 1907 by the late Carl W. Smith, the youngest son of the pioneer Church of a Vargus, Fidencio and Angie Glasscock.

better or more refreshing than a drink of fresh-pumped windmill water.

Something else we had that might have been a little out of the ordinary during that day and time, was a bathroom. It, of all things, was off the back porch, and you had to go outside to get to it. There was no comode, no sink, nor anything like that, but it did boast a tub, a huge tin bathtub set up on legs with claw feet. I'm sure we carried all the water, both cold and hot, to the tub, but all we had to do to let it out was pull the plug, and it watered the flowers in our back yard. That tin tub didn't last too awful long though, because it was all rusted out and had to be removed in a few years.

The well-known poem:
 "This old house was full of laughter,
 This old house has known much pain..."

could be true of "The Big House." My brother Milton Smith, of Mountainair, New Mexico, was born in this house. My Grandfather Mickey and my dear mother died here.

Milton and his wife Bertha lived in this house during the 1930's. In the early 1940's this house was torn down and rebuilt into a modern bungalow-type home for his family by Carl W. Smith. This house now belongs to the Elliotts.

THIS OIL PAINTING OF THE C.W. SMITH home was done as a memorial to his parents by Carl J. Smith. It was given to the Floyd County Museum to be part of their permanent art collection. Presenting the painting is Wendall Clark, Amarillo, from Sagebrush Galleries who is Smith's agent. Clark did the framing and hung the painting in the museum. Accepting the art work is Frances Staniforth, Floyd County Museum Director. The presentation was made Saturday, and the painting is now on display.

Carl Smith translates early west to canvas

"The West is like a sweetheart; you may lose her but you will not forget her." This haunting pastel came of the West also describes the emotional impact and heart beat of Smith. Once you have seen his paintings you cannot forget them and if you accept his misty or dusty romantic color fragments of the Settlement Southwest as valid, you are in his debt forever.

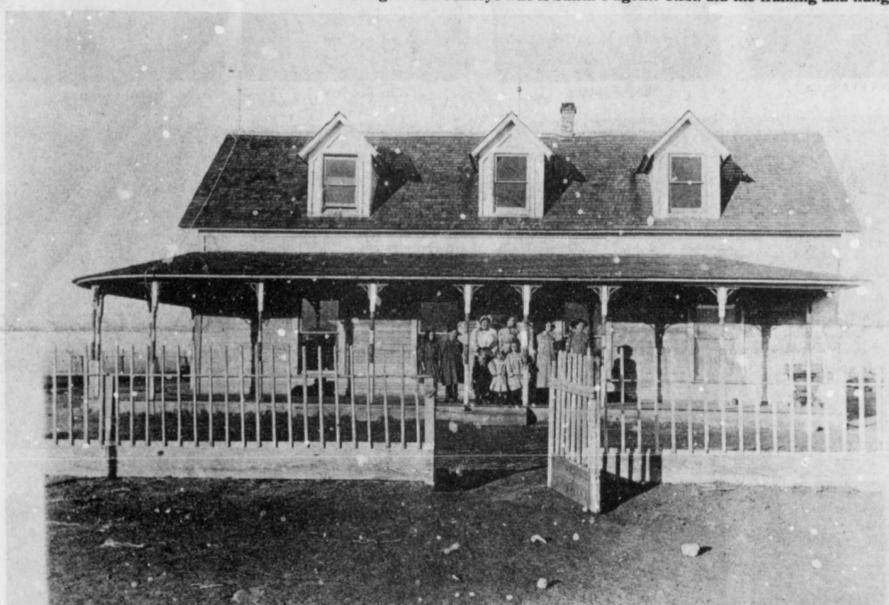

Born in 1928, one of ten children of a pioneer family in the Texas Panhandle, Carl J. Smith was raised in the harsh dust bowl days of the '30's when only the strong of spirit stayed on. His parents and grandparents, like the other hardy folk who settled the plains, passed on to their children a faith to live by, the self discipline and courage of creativity, and the empathy for their fellow man that Carl J. Smith translates onto canvas with a feeling that has already established him as a leading folk artist of the Southwest.

Personal modesty, a warm friendly spirit, and dedication to his work have combined with natural talent to make his works a treasured part in the art collections of the King Ranch, Arthur Godfrey, Bud Wilkinson, Lyndon B. Johnson, John Connally and many other public and private collections.

Except for a tour of duty with the U.S. Army in Europe, Carl J. Smith has spent his entire adult life teaching art and portraying this heritage. The demand for his work is such that only a few galleries receive his current works for presentation. We are proud to be among them.

The paintings of Carl J. Smith are Americana at its best, and many authorities on Western Art feel that his will be one of the major contributions of the Twentieth Century in portraying the heart and soul of pioneer America. He obtained his BA in art education at West Texas State University, worked on his master's degree at Eastern New Mexico University and taught art for a decade before retiring from the teaching profession to devote full time to his first love — painting the heritage of the plains.

Seniors feted with dinner

Several churches have honored members of the graduation class of 1982 recently with dinners.

Monday night they were hosted by the Main Street Church of Christ at a Baked Potato Supper. Favours were Ziggy bookmarks. Jerry Klein addressed the graduates.

Graduating eighth graders were also honored with a Baked Potato Supper Tuesday night.

The seniors took in an annual Mexican dinner at the San Jose Catholic Church. The meal of enchiladas, beans, rice, and tossed salad was prepared by the women of the parish. A poster showing a graduate on a ladder helped to illustrate the theme "You've Made It To The Top."

Youth workers of the church, Mark and Patty Standish, gave the welcome. Also attending was Deacon Joe Garcia.

A meal of smoked and barbecue brisket, stuffed potatoes, pinto beans, green salad, and strawberry dessert was served at a twilight buffet dinner by the First Baptist Church. The theme of the dinner was "Care for your Tomorrows."

The new garden room served as the setting for the occasion. Tables laid with yellow or green were centered with yellow candles in brass candlesticks.

business administration. One other Floydada native, Roxanne Marie Ford, will be awarded a one-year certificate in word processing.

Wayland's 72nd Spring Commencement will be held in Plainview Saturday, May 15, beginning at 10 a.m. in Harrell Memorial Auditorium.

Degrees for December and May graduates will officially be conferred upon those persons during Saturday's ceremonies. Candidates for August graduation will receive their diplomas upon completion of their course of study, although they will also participate in spring commencement.

Wayland Baptist University is a four-year, coeducational institution of arts and sciences presently in its 73rd year of operation.

Robbie Biggerstaff to receive Masters Degree

Robbie N. Biggerstaff will be among 450 graduates to receive degrees and diplomas May 14 at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth.

Seniors feted with dinner

Several churches have honored members of the graduation class of 1982 recently with dinners.

Monday night they were hosted by the Main Street Church of Christ at a Baked Potato Supper. Favours were Ziggy bookmarks. Jerry Klein addressed the graduates.

Graduating eighth graders were also honored with a Baked Potato Supper Tuesday night.

The seniors took in an annual Mexican dinner at the San Jose Catholic Church. The meal of enchiladas, beans, rice, and tossed salad was prepared by the women of the parish. A poster showing a graduate on a ladder helped to illustrate the theme "You've Made It To The Top."

Youth workers of the church, Mark and Patty Standish, gave the welcome. Also attending was Deacon Joe Garcia.

A meal of smoked and barbecue brisket, stuffed potatoes, pinto beans, green salad, and strawberry dessert was served at a twilight buffet dinner by the First Baptist Church. The theme of the dinner was "Care for your Tomorrows."

The new garden room served as the setting for the occasion. Tables laid with yellow or green were centered with yellow candles in brass candlesticks.

Favours were calling cards with messages bearing the seniors' names.

The WMLU, BFW, and the Youth Committee were the dinner. The church department youth workers

Special guests were Mrs. Murle Rogers and Mrs. and Mrs. Poole. Major sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Don and Mr. and Mrs.

SWARMING TERMITES ABOUND IN SPRING

Spring is the time for termites to swarm. Perhaps nothing is more alarming than for homeowners to suddenly find hundreds or thousands of small winged insects flying around outdoors, particularly around night lights. What is worse is to find these termite swarms indoors, almost always indicating an infestation somewhere in the house. Swarming is a naturally occurring phenomena for termites; it's the way well-established colonies extend and perpetuate their own kind. Termites swarm outdoors regularly in the spring, with swarms coming from dead trees, fallen logs, fences and outbuildings.

When swarms are found indoors, homeowners should take a calm reasonable approach to solving the problem.

First, make sure the winged insects are termites, since ants commonly swarm at about the same time. These drawings will help you tell the two pests apart.

After making sure you have termites, call a professional, and commercial pest control operator who offers a termite control service. In fact, contact two or three such companies and ask for an inspection of your premises.

Before signing a service contract, be sure you understand the terms of a termite control job. Always ask for a written or graphic description of where infestations were found and what will be done to solve the problem. This way you will be sure of getting your money's worth.

Landscape & Gardening

BY BENNY J. BUTLER

WEATHER IS A BIG FACTOR

The factor with the greatest impact on the success or failure of your vegetable garden is the weather. Regardless of how carefully you have chosen the recommended varieties, prepared and fertilized your soil and planted your transplants and seeds, poor weather conditions can drastically reduce the quantity and quality of vegetables.

The first decision that must be made is when to set out cold susceptible plants such as tomatoes, peppers and eggplant. Determine the date of the average last frost in your area. The key word is "average." This means there is a 50 percent chance a killing frost will occur again after this date. Here in Floyd County the last frost is usually about April 11.

Be prepared to cover or protect tender plants. If these plants are damaged by a light frost or freeze, they will probably recover. However, if damage is severe, pull them out and start over. Often stunted, damaged vegetable plants never fully recover, and the results show up at harvest time. This is especially true for tomatoes, beans, squash, cucumbers and melons.

In most areas of Texas, and especially here in the High Plains, the day after you set out tomato plants the wind starts to blow. Protect your garden vegetables from these strong, spring winds. Severe damage can occur to seedlings or transplants from the wind itself, from drying or desiccation of the foliage and from blowing sand. Some type of windbreak such as roof shingles, fences and scrap lumber placed on the windward side helps protect plants. Cages made of concrete reinforcing wire wrapped with plastic also provide wind protection for tomatoes, peppers and eggplants.

Heavy spring rains or hail also can ruin hopes for a bountiful vegetable garden, as many areas of the county found out last week. There is not a lot that can be done to protect vegetables from these forces of nature. Locating a garden in an area that drains well and planting vegetables on raised beds help prevent some of the problems associated with heavy rainfall. If your garden is severely damaged by hail, and there is still time, it is best to replant.

SOIL TEMPERATURE IS A FACTOR
Soil temperature is a factor few gardeners check before planting, yet it is probably the most important factor affecting seed germination and plant growth.

Soil temperatures at which vegetable seed will grow include the minimum temperature required for seed growth, an optimum temperature and a "realistic" soil temperature is somewhere between optimum and minimum at which you should plant to insure maximum success. For instance, the optimum soil temperature for seed germination of vegetable crops such as cucumber, cantaloupe, okra, pumpkin, squash and watermelon is 95 degrees F. However, if planted this late, summer heat will decrease plant vigor and yields. The minimum soil temperature for these crops is only 60 degrees F., yet at this temperature the seed will not grow vigorously. Thus, there must be a "realistic" soil temperature. For the above crops, the realistic soil temperatures for the best plant production are: cucumber (64 degrees F.), cantaloupe (68 degrees F.), okra (73 degrees F.), pumpkin (75 degrees F.), squash (70 degrees F.) and watermelon (72 degrees F.).

Crops such as beans, beets, cabbage, chard, eggplant, pepper, radish, tomato, turnip and corn have an optimum soil temperature for seed germination of 85 degrees F. Yet the minimum soil temperature required for some of these cold-tolerant crops such as beets, cabbage, chard, radish and turnip is as low as 40 degrees F. The realistic soil temperatures recommended for these crops are: beans (72 degrees F.), beets (45 degrees F.), tomato (55 degrees F.), turnip (50 degrees F.) and corn (55 degrees F.).

As might be expected, vegetables which are really cold tolerant such as carrots, parsley, lettuce and spinach have lower optimum soil temperature for seed germination of carrots is 80 degrees F., for parsley and lettuce 75 degrees F. and for spinach 70 degrees F. The minimum temperature required for these crops is 35 degrees F. The realistic soil temperature at which all these crops should be planted is 45 degrees F.

Soil temperatures here in Floyd County reached up into the 60's before these last rains. However, with the rain and the cooler temperatures last week, the soil temperature was back down to 53 degrees F. last Friday. But the warm temperatures the last few days have brought the soil temperature back up to 69 degrees F. as of Tuesday morning.

Educational programs conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Grass Identification Team takes first

Floyd County 4-H was well-represented at the Tri-District Grass Identification and Range Evaluation Contests held April 29th at the Plains Baptist Assembly.

The local Grass Identification Team, composed of Shannon Smith, Shannon Edwards and Jenny Keen, took 1st place honors in District 2. The team was coached by Paul Burnham, one of the local soil conservationists, and Benny Butler, assistant County Agent.

Not only did the team win, but Shannon Edwards was High Individual from District 2, and Shannon Smith was 2nd-High Individual.

To compete in the Grass Identification Contest, the team had to learn to identify over 70 different grasses and remember the characteristics of each one. The Grass Identification Contest is going on to compete in June which will be held at State.

A&M University Extension Station, "We are very proud of Shannon, Shannon and Jenny that District 2 will be at State," commented...

Cundiff cites beef research on cattle

Cattlemen should plan crossbreeding programs with specific purposes in mind, according to a nationally-recognized research geneticist.

"Crossbreeding can be used to provide heterosis (a marked vigor or capacity for growth) and to combine and match characteristics of breeds with market requirements, feed and other resources available in specific herds," Dr. Larry Cundiff said at Texas A&M University recently.

Cundiff is with the Meat Animal Research Center of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Clay Center, Nebraska.

He emphasized that the germplasm base for beef cattle production in the U.S. has been broadened considerably in the last 10 years, primarily as a result of development of appropriate quarantine facilities and procedures in Canada.

Cundiff said that when European breeds are crossed, weaning weight per cow exposed to breeding can be increased about 23 percent, due to advantages of hybrid vigor on survival and growth of F1 calves and advantages of maternal heterosis on reproduction and maternal ability of crossbred cows.

"More than half of the increased performance was attributable to crossbred cows. Crosses between Zebu and European breeds yield even higher levels of hybrid vigor," Cundiff said.

He pointed out that significant differences exist among breeds for traits of importance to efficient beef production.

Generally, faster gaining breed groups have heavier birth weights and higher levels of calving difficulty associated with reduced calf crop percentage. Incidence of calving difficulty can be a serious problem in cows calving at two and three years of age. If efforts are made to avoid use of bulls with excessive birth weight, calving difficulty is not a serious problem in cows calving at four years or older, the researcher said.

Breed groups reaching the small degree of marbling in the fewest days tended to be the most efficient to the grade and point of USDA choice. Evaluation to a grade end point of USDA choice assumes that feeding to a small degree of marbling is justified in terms of improving eating quality, an assumption not documented in evaluation of flavor, juiciness and tenderness by trained sensory panels.

"Although differences among breed groups are large for percent grading choice, trained sensory panels have found that juiciness and tenderness are not related to percent grading choice," the researcher said.

Breed groups which have lower retail product percentages research indicated the opportunity through the increase marbling without a loss of retail product.

Steers from faster gaining groups used feed more efficiently in weaning to slaughter carcasses with a higher retail product when compared to same weight or age steers from slower gaining groups.

Cundiff said that to maximize the efficiency of beef production, the characteristics of the feed resources available on ranches.

Soil Stewardship Week is May 16-23

Soil Stewardship Week annually focuses on the care and conservation of our soil, water and related resources.

This year's observance is set for May 16-23, with the theme: "A Time for Tenacity."

"Tenacity (firmness or persistence) is needed in using our natural resources wisely and in conserving them for future generations," points out Dr. B.L. Harris, soils specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"We need to give particular attention to creative conservation and management practices to protect our precious land and water resources," emphasizes Harris. "Everyone has a personal responsibility to care for the soil, water and other vital elements making up our environment."

Crop and livestock reports from farmers and ranchers needed

AUSTIN—The Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service will begin interviewing Texas farmers and ranchers in mid-May on 1982 crop acreage and midyear livestock inventories. State Statistician Doug Murfield has announced.

Results of the confidential interviews, conducted through the mail or in person by field enumerators, will be published in June.

Murfield is urging farmers and ranchers to complete and return mail questionnaires promptly. Information will be combined for state and county estimates.

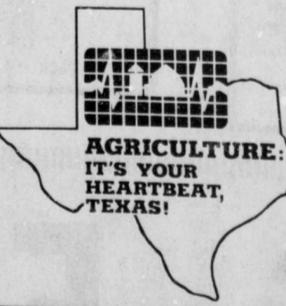

Murfield said estimates give Texas farmers and ranchers planning information for planting, breeding, feeding, storing, production, and marketing. "Without these reports, most producers would have to depend on trade and other sources for information on crop and livestock prospects," he said.

Reports are also used by farm organizations and legislatures to plan and develop farm programs, extension economists and farm and ranch management consultants to advise farmers and ranchers, and exporters to plan and promote sales of Texas agricultural products in foreign markets.

Estimates are published annually of livestock, dairy, poultry, cotton, small grains, vegetables, fruits and pecans, and cash receipts from the sale of Texas farm commodities.

For free copies, write the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, P.O. Box 70, Austin, Texas 78767, or Agriculture Commissioner Reagan V. Brown, Texas Department of Agriculture, P.O. Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711.

Around The County

SWARMING TERMITES ABOUND IN SPRING

Spring is the time for termites to swarm.

Perhaps nothing is more alarming than for homeowners to suddenly find hundreds or thousands of small winged insects flying around outdoors, particularly around night lights. What is worse is to find these termite swarms indoors, almost always indicating an infestation somewhere in the house. Swarming is a naturally occurring phenomena for termites; it's the way well-established colonies extend and perpetuate their own kind. Termites swarm outdoors regularly in the spring, with swarms coming from dead trees, fallen logs, fences and outbuildings.

When swarms are found indoors, homeowners should take a calm reasonable approach to solving the problem.

First, make sure the winged insects are termites, since ants commonly swarm at about the same time. These drawings will help you tell the two pests apart.

After making sure you have termites, call a professional, and commercial pest control operator who offers a termite control service. In fact, contact two or three such companies and ask for an inspection of your premises.

Before signing a service contract, be sure you understand the terms of a termite control job. Always ask for a written or graphic description of where infestations were found and what will be done to solve the problem. This way you will be sure of getting your money's worth.

WEATHER IS A BIG FACTOR

The factor with the greatest impact on the success or failure of your vegetable garden is the weather. Regardless of how carefully you have chosen the recommended varieties, prepared and fertilized your soil and planted your transplants and seeds, poor weather conditions can drastically reduce the quantity and quality of vegetables.

The first decision that must be made is when to set out cold susceptible plants such as tomatoes, peppers and eggplant. Determine the date of the average last frost in your area. The key word is "average." This means there is a 50 percent chance a killing frost will occur again after this date. Here in Floyd County the last frost is usually about April 11.

Be prepared to cover or protect tender plants. If these plants are damaged by a light frost or freeze, they will probably recover. However, if damage is severe, pull them out and start over. Often stunted, damaged vegetable plants never fully recover, and the results show up at harvest time. This is especially true for tomatoes, beans, squash, cucumbers and melons.

In most areas of Texas, and especially here in the High Plains, the day after you set out tomato plants the wind starts to blow. Protect your garden vegetables from these strong, spring winds. Severe damage can occur to seedlings or transplants from the wind itself, from drying or desiccation of the foliage and from blowing sand. Some type of windbreak such as roof shingles, fences and scrap lumber placed on the windward side helps protect plants. Cages made of concrete reinforcing wire wrapped with plastic also provide wind protection for tomatoes, peppers and eggplants.

Heavy spring rains or hail also can ruin hopes for a bountiful vegetable garden, as many areas of the county found out last week. There is not a lot that can be done to protect vegetables from these forces of nature. Locating a garden in an area that drains well and planting vegetables on raised beds help prevent some of the problems associated with heavy rainfall. If your garden is severely damaged by hail, and there is still time, it is best to replant.

SOIL TEMPERATURE IS A FACTOR
Soil temperature is a factor few gardeners check before planting, yet it is probably the most important factor affecting seed germination and plant growth.

Soil temperatures at which vegetable seed will germinate include the minimum temperature required for seed growth, an optimum temperature and a "realistic" soil temperature is somewhere between optimum and minimum at which you should plant to insure maximum success. For instance, the optimum soil temperature for seed germination of vegetable crops such as cucumber, cantaloupe, okra, pumpkin, squash and watermelon is 95 degrees F. However, if planted this late, summer heat will decrease plant vigor and yields. The minimum soil temperature for these crops is only 60 degrees F., yet at this temperature the seed will not grow vigorously. Thus, there must be a "realistic" soil temperature. For the above crops, the realistic soil temperatures for the best plant production are: cucumber (64 degrees F.), cantaloupe (68 degrees F.), okra (73 degrees F.), pumpkin (75 degrees F.), squash (70 degrees F.) and watermelon (72 degrees F.).

Crops such as beans, beets, cabbage, chard, eggplant, pepper, radish, tomato, turnip and corn have an optimum soil temperature for seed germination of 85 degrees F. Yet the minimum soil temperature required for some of these cold-tolerant crops such as beets, cabbage, chard, radish and turnip is as low as 40 degrees F. The realistic soil temperatures recommended for these crops are: beans (72 degrees F.), beets (45 degrees F.), tomato (55 degrees F.), turnip (50 degrees F.) and corn (55 degrees F.).

As might be expected, vegetables which are really cold tolerant such as carrots, parsley, lettuce and spinach have lower optimum soil temperature for seed germination of carrots is 80 degrees F., for parsley and lettuce 75 degrees F. and for spinach 70 degrees F. The minimum temperature required for these crops is 35 degrees F. The realistic soil temperature at which all these crops should be planted is 45 degrees F.

Soil temperatures here in Floyd County reached up into the 60's before these last rains. However, with the rain and the cooler temperatures last week, the soil temperature was back down to 53 degrees F. last Friday. But the warm temperatures the last few days have brought the soil temperature back up to 69 degrees F. as of Tuesday morning.

Agricultural programs conducted by the Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

Grass Identification Team takes first

Floyd County 4-H was well-represented at the Tri-District Grass Identification and Range Evaluation Contests held April 29th at the Plains Baptist Assembly.

The local Grass Identification Team, composed of Shannon Smith, Shannon Edwards and Jenny Keen, took 1st place honors in District 2. The team was coached by Paul Burnham, one of the local soil conservationists, and Benny Butler, assistant County Agent.

Not only did the team win, but Shannon Edwards was High Individual from District 2, and Shannon Smith was 2nd-High Individual.

To compete in the Grass Identification Contest, the team had to learn to identify over 70 different grasses and remember the characteristics of each one.

The Grass Identification Contest is going on to compete in the State Contest in June which will be held at A&M University Station.

"We are very proud of Shannon, Shannon, and Jenny for their District 2 win at State," commented Paul Burnham.

Cundiff cites beef research on cattle

Crossbreeding programs with specific purposes in mind, according to a nationally-recognized geneticist.

"Crossbreeding can be used to provide heterosis (a marked vigor or capacity for growth) and to combine and match characteristics of breeds with market requirements, feed and other resources available in specific herds," Dr. Larry Cundiff said at Texas A&M University recently.

Cundiff is with the Meat Animal Research Center of the U.S. Department of Agriculture at Clay Center, Nebraska.

He emphasized that the germplasm base for beef cattle production in the U.S. has been broadened considerably in the last 10 years, primarily as a result of development of appropriate quarantine facilities and procedures in Canada.

Cundiff said that when European breeds are crossed, weaning weight per cow exposed to breeding can be increased about 23 percent, due to advantage of hybrid vigor and advantage of maternal heterosis on reproduction and maternal ability of crossbred cows.

"More than half of the increased performance was attributable to crossbred cows. Crosses between Zebu and European breeds yield even higher levels of hybrid vigor," Cundiff said.

He pointed out that significant differences exist among breeds for traits of importance to efficient beef production.

Generally, faster gaining breed groups have heavier birth weights and higher levels of calving difficulty associated with reduced calf crop percentage. Incidence of calving difficulty can be a serious problem in cows calving at two and three years of age. If efforts are made to avoid use of bulls with excessive birth weight, calving difficulty is not a serious problem in cows calving at four years or older, the researcher said.

Breed groups reaching the small degree of marbling in the fewest days tended to be the most efficient to the grade and point of USDA choice. Evaluation to a grade end point of USDA choice assumes that feeding to a small degree of marbling is justified in terms of improving eating quality, an assumption not documented in evaluation of flavor, juiciness and tenderness by trained sensory panels.

Although differences in percent grading choice exist among breed groups, trained sensory panels have found that juiciness and tenderness are not related to percent grading choice, the researcher said.

Breed groups which have higher marbling scores had higher lower retail product percentages. This opportunity through research to increase marbling without loss of retail product.

Steers from faster gaining groups used feed more efficiently, weaning to slaughter carcasses with a higher retail product when compared to same weight or age steers from slower gaining groups, research showed.

Cundiff said that to maximize efficiency of beef production, ranches should match the characteristics of available feed resources available to their ranches.
