Commissioners reverse decision

WES BROWN

Floyd County Commissioners reversed their decision to issue bonds for the purchase of a new building for the South Plains Association (SPAG). The proposal was reversed after the response of the county's independent underwriting company.

The proposal was not a government loan.

The proposal will allow bonds to be sold allowing people in the county to buy houses at a lower interest rate (12-14 percent) rather than the current high interest rates. The bonds will be sold by an independent underwriting company.

Interest rates will probably be about three percent less than the current rate according to Thayer. This will be a difference of about $100 per month. Also the down payment would be about five percent of the value rather than the commercial rate of 20 percent. This would bring more buyers into the home buying market.

Commissioner Thomas Warren precinct 3 stated that the reason he abstained from voting earlier was he did not understand the proposal. County Judge Choise Smith chided the court stating if they did not understand an item to table it rather than to have to rescind a motion.

Commissioner Bob Jarrett emphasized the bonds will not be issued in the name of Floyd County nor will the county have a part of the proposal.

"We're happy the commissioners saw the public need for the program.

Stan McClendon, president of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce said, "Hopefully young couples can now afford housing."

He stressed this is for rural and city developments and since it applies to rural it could influence industrial housing.

"I am surprised that the voting took such a quick turnaround," Kaye Powell, wife of Chamber of Commerce Vice President Tom Powell said. "Hopefully more people will get involved in county government even though it is frustrating. We need to know where our money is being spent and who spends it."

Speech contest winners tour Washington D.C.

BY CAROLYN REDDING

On June 10, Margie Araujo, Carla Baxter, and Earl Broseh met 35 other contest winners from across Texas to begin one of the most exciting trips of their lives.

Every year Lighthouse Electric Cooperative, along with other electric Cooperatives throughout the United States, hold contests to choose high school students to sponsor on the Government in Action Youth Tour. Margie Araujo and Earl Broseh were sponsored by Lighthouse Electric Cooperative this year. They won the trip by giving the best speeches on the subject "Rural Electric Cooperatives - Good For All Texans."

Participants from Texas met in Lewisville, Texas, for an introductory banquet and session of singing around the pool that night. These 38 current winners and 5 sponsors attended. Ralph Scheele and Maribel Torrez, last year's winners attended the traditional reunion held for the past year's winners also. The following day they took in Six Flags before returning home.

Early the next morning, the bus full of excited students left on a chartered bus for a three-day ride to Washington D.C. where they would join other winners from 20 states. The first night was spent in West Memphis, Arkansas.

Every night they all joined in a nightly singsong accompanied by a sponsor on the guitar, ending with Kumbaya and a prayer for the next day.

The group journeyed to Knoxville, Tennessee the following day in preparation for attending the World's Fair the next day. The theme for this year's World's Fair is "The World Moves Around Energy". Each country's expositions are housed in a separate building.

The following day they reached Washington D.C. at last. Once there, the pace was hectic. There were sightseeing trips to monuments, memorials, and a few tours.

The following day was what our three local tourists referred to as "suit and tie" day. The group visited Capitol Hill and the House of Representatives and Senate while they were in session. In the afternoon a tour of the White House, was scheduled. The visitors were held up at the entrance and secret service men were "everywhere". Finally it was explained that the President and Mrs. Reagan were leaving by helicopter. One of the guards obligingly informed Broseh that Nancy Reagan was the lady standing on the balcony. Broseh grins a little when he said "I never got to actually see the President, but I did get to see her." And he pats a snapshot to prove it. Secretary of Agriculture Block spoke with the visitors.

Richards and his wife, Cynthia with two of the local businessmen, Bill Hale and Jimmy Willson who attended Richards' campaign luncheon.

Richards meets locals at campaign luncheon

Richards, candidate for mayor, was in Floydada for his two week ground campaign. He spoke at a luncheon sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce.

His speech included points on the judicial system for the benefit of the community. He cited the shortcomings of Bullock. I am concerned about the outstanding judgments against him. He also pointed out that in the next 20 years the Texas population would increase by half again of what it is now and the schools, roads and bridges would have to grow by that same rate.

In a press conference after the luncheon, Richards said he "enjoyed being in the community with community leaders."

"I am concerned with the personal shortcomings of Bullock. I am concerned about the outstanding judgments against him. He also pointed out that in the next 20 years the Texas population would increase by half again of what it is now and the schools, roads and bridges would have to grow by that same rate.

Richards is touring the smaller Texas towns because he wants to get the idea across that he is "a candidate that cares enough to meet the people."

"My concern is to serve the people of Floyd County effectively and efficiently and to be a friend. That's why I am meeting with each of the smaller cities to demonstrate to the people how we care about the people as individuals and not just voters. I challenge Bob Bullock as well as the people in Floyd County to invite him here and make their own comparisons."

to the Smithsonian Institute. They tried to take in as much of the recorded history contained in those 11 buildings as time would allow. "We were somewhat disappointed that we had not been able to more thoroughly cover the Institute. When we had time to read some of our literature, we felt better. We learned that if one took 30 seconds to look at each item in the entire Institute, it would take over 65 years."

Mount Vernon and Washington's grave were on the agenda for the next day, some 10 miles away in Virginia. After lunch the group visited Ford's theatre. Of course the booth where Lincoln was shot was inspiring.

The local youngsters were impressed with the fact that the house across the street where John Wilks Booth had managed to run after being injured himself had also been preserved, along with that portion of original brick in the street directly between the two buildings. They also enjoyed the museum on the lower floor of the theatre which contained related items such as the original spur and the banner that Booth caught his spur in when he jumped from the balcony. From there they visited the National Archives where the Declaration of Independence and all of the major treaties and documents are displayed.

That night they toured the magnificent capitol city and saw the monuments and memorials with their particular lighting effects. These young people recalled Lincoln's relaxed countenance on one side and the tenseness of the other side at that memorial, symbolizing the peace of his home life in contrast with the pressures and responsibilities of his office so vividly brought out by the lighting.

After four exciting days in Washington, D.C., they began the long ride home. Father's Day, June 20, included a stop at Chattanooga, Tennessee, for a special devotional on Lookout Mountain. Many called home and talked to their dads and families.

They returned to Lewisville for a farewell costume party with friends with memories they would never forget. It was reported that there was not a dry eye in the house. Stan McClendon met the three young people at Lewisville for their return trip. Earl is the son of Kenneth and Juanita Broseh of the Sterley community north of Lockney.

Margie is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arcadio Araujo of 201 NE Fifth, Lockney.

Carla is the daughter of Waldo and Carolyn Baxter of Hereford. She was given the trip by her grandparents, Cecil and Rena Baxter.

After dinner at the hotel they were off to attend the Sunset Parade held at the two Jima Memorial which is held every Tuesday night. One of the young tourists remarked, "There is so much history up there. And seeing it and living it makes it so much more interesting and you don't forget it."

"We learned the significance of why one of those men's hand is not touching the flagpole at that memorial. It was an American Indian, who was not recognized as a true American, and he survived the war didn't."

"And," he went on, "the Washington Monument and the Lincoln Memorial straight line? Did they are being primarily when we visited the and Engraving."

A visit to the 3rd John F. Kennedy Center Arts was followed by Rural Electrification was described as a meeting." New members Consulting Board of five states in the region also get to attend next year's trip. The also get to attend Lewisville.

Teacher shortage

A special legislative committee is preparing a proposal designed to relieve the drastic shortage of public school teachers facing the state by the end of the decade. Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby said Friday.

Hobby, chairman of the Select Committee on Public Education, said that the proposal prepared by the Subcommittee on Educational Personnel will be submitted to the 68th Legislature that convenes in January. He said the proposal attacks four problem areas concerning the anticipated teacher shortage — salaries and benefits, recruitment, training programs and improved professional conditions.

Public education has become a critical factor in the state's economic development, particularly with the continuing massive influx of out-of-state residents moving to Texas, Hobby said. The Texas 2000 Commission has predicted that 170,000 new jobs will have to be created each year just to maintain present employment levels.

"Not only will we have to create these new jobs, but we will have to train the people to fill them," Hobby said. "This is what makes education so critical."

The post-Vietnam War baby boom also will have a considerable impact on public school education, he said, noting that enrollments across the state should increase by about 20 percent during this decade. By the 1990s, high schools should have about 32 percent more students, and by the turn of the century public school enrollments should be about 50 percent larger.

"Recommendations of our Select Committee on Public Education should provide fertile ground for the advancement of our public school system," Hobby said. "The 68th Legislature must and will take the necessary steps to retain and recruit public school teachers."

Handling procedure easy

gain freedom. Its terrible or frustrated policemen, prosecutors, and most of all the victims of crime, or soon to be victims of crime because of the release of a professional criminal.

A recent arrest of two con men by Floydada police is a very good example of American justice of today. Number one suspect has the following arrests or convictions — 1 kidnapping, 7 robbery, 2 assault, 1 burglary, 23 larceny, 2 forgery, 2 fraud, 1 stolen property. Suspect number two has the following arrests or convictions — 1 forgery and counterfeiting, 1 attempt fraudulent activity, 3 fraudulent activities, 1 dangerous drug conviction, 7 arrests dangerous drugs, 1 obscenity, 1 family offense, 1 conspiracy gambling, 2 gambling, 3 liquor, 1 flight to escape, 1 public peace. These are known arrests.

In addition to these known arrests are three charges filed in Floyd County. Calls and teletypes from all over the state have been coming in requesting to hold them for offenses committed in other jurisdictions. Yes, you guessed it they were out on bond. Free as a bird to prey on our local business people.

Now, I would be the first to admit that I don't have a law degree, and I don't qualify as an expert, but it seems to me that something is wrong with our justice system. Together, both men have 81 arrests according to records that we can find with many more to come. Eighty one times the police did their job. Somewhere in between the arrest and final end of the judicial proceedings there was a failure, or failures.

Perhaps some of you citizens can see what the police officer is up against today. Handling the same criminals over and over again only to see them walk away free or a spank on the hand with a stern reprimand from a judge that means nothing. And if worse comes to worse maybe a little time in the joint, but out early with good behavior, or parole. Yet the government continues to fund studies to determine why there is a growing crime rate.

Well I'm sure that there are a number of reasons that crime is on the increase. The economy, failing morals, and standards of behavior, etc. all are contributing factors I'm sure. However the number one reason for crime is that the American justice system in its liberal ideas has pushed aside the rights of honest, tax paying citizens who are always the victim who bear the heavy burden of the cost of crime.

In this complete turn around from our past views on crime the system has made crime a lucrative business; even fashionable. One of the answers to helping to control crime is the tightening of availability of easy bonds to habitual criminals, or violent offenders. There must be a distinction between the citizen and the criminal when bonds are offered. Citizens belong on the streets of America, criminals belong six feet under or behind bars.

Floydada C of C requests action

We have supported present economic policies which embrace budget and tax cuts. However, we now find ourselves with $110 billion federal budget deficit for fiscal year 1983 instead of the $50 billion we enjoyed (?) just two years ago. We are still supportive of the recent tax cut but believe the underlying problem of recovery is the high rate of interest which is indeed undermining the good work the present economic package has done. The tax cuts are just not enough to pursue housing starts, automobile and equipment purchases and to improve livestock and commodity prices.

buying and investment power. Present policy of high interest rates will only bring about further farm foreclosures and business failures.

The nuptial area was centered with a brass candelabra holding white tapers and covered with tropical foliage, lilac and fuchsia daisies tied with lilac satin bows. Fern trees enhanced by gypsophila and lilac satin bows were on either side of the altar area. Mothers pews were marked with floral arrangements. Hurricane candles lighted the bridal aisle.

She wore a magnificent gown styled in white silk organza and lavishly trimmed in Chantilly lace. The Queen Anne neckline featured a stand-up ruffle of soft organza. The bodice was styled with an empire waistline and was overlaid with appliques of the Chantilly lace, lavishly embroidered with seed pearls. Further lace appliques circled the waistline. The back of the bodice featured a soft circled yoke, and was outlined with lace. The full sleeves were of Chantilly lace, ending in fitted cuffs and narrow ruffles of organza. The cuffs were embroidered with seed pearls. The full skirt featured two rows of Chantilly lace and six rows of ruffled organza which formed a cascade from the center of the skirt to the floor in front. The back of the skirt featured twelve rows of Chantilly lace and ruffled organza which swept into a full chapel train.

Her chapel length veil of illusion was attached to a tiara-styled cap which was covered in Chantilly lace and embellished with seed pearls. A row of lace to match her dress edged the entire length of the veil.

She carried an Edwardian designed bouquet of white satin and Jack Frost roses showered with gypsophila and white bridal satin ribbon.

Completing her outfit, she wore white satin slippers with pennies bearing the years of birth of each the bride and groom and one with the year 1982.

Following tradition she carried a handkerchief, belonging to her great-grandmother Grigsby for something old, her wedding attire was new, for something borrowed she had a pearl necklace from her sister, Pat Battey, pearl earrings from her sister, Francis Tipps, and another pair of pearl earrings from Melissa Green.

Kathie Battey and Melissa Green, both nieces of the bride, accompanied the bride as bridesmaids and Carrie Woody and Stacy Graham, sister of the groom, attended as maids of honor.

Maids of honor were formally attired in evening length dresses, by Sylvia Ann, of lilac organza overlaying lilac satin. The drop shoulder bodice was accented with an organza ruffle. The tiered skirts were accented with a bouffant pick-up accompanied with a bow. The girls carried nosegays of white miniature carnations, lilac and fuchsia daisies, gypsophila with lilac streamers.

Miss Carrie Emert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Emert, served as flower girl. She was formally attired in an evening length dress of lilac organza overlay covering the fitted sleeveless bodice and full flared skirt. A full organza ruffled collar adorned the scoop neckline. The full organza overlay donned a double ruffle, deep on the flared skirt, the top ruffle featured a gathered take-up hemline with an organza bow accent. A lilac satin ribbon sash was tied at the waist. She carried a white basket of assorted lilac flowers.

Serving the groom as best man was Jerry Bearden and groomsmen were Carl Boutwell, Brad Bollman and Randy Graham. The groomsmen, cousins of the groom, also acted as ushers. The men wedding party were outfitted in After Six tuxedos.

Lakeview News

BY JOYCE WILLIAMS
Mr. Holt Bishop attended the Lubbock Repertory Theatre production of "Pirates of Penzance," Friday evening at the Lubbock Civic Center. His granddaughter, Kimberly Peggram, student at Texas Tech University this summer, sang one of the roles in the cast. She portrayed one of the beautiful daughters of the Major-General, all captured by pirates looking for brides. Kimberly's mother, Mrs. Shirley Peggram of Dimmitt, came by Lakeview and accompanied Mr. Bishop to the musical. Mrs. O.D. Williams visited her niece, Lou Lee, student at Lubbock Christian High School and also attended the performance.

Judge and Mrs. Choise Smith and family spent the Fourth of July weekend relaxing at the Holidome at San Angelo.

Mrs. J.C. Custer died of a stroke July 1. She had been a patient at the Slaton rest home for three years. Funeral services were held at the Slaton funeral chapel on July 4, with burial at 4 p.m. at the Floydada Cemetery. Mrs. Lucille Custer has been back and forth to Slaton several times the past two weeks since the funeral.

Mrs. Rex Harrison was one of the hostesses at the bridal shower honoring the former Deanne Howard. The courtesy was held Saturday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Dan Hagood. Beverly, who has studied cake decorating with Charlene Langley, decorated the sheet cake so that as it was cut into serving pieces, each square was centered with an icing replica of the bride's bouquet. The lovely bouquet of silk flowers was used to decorate the refreshment table at the shower.

Ninety degrees plus sunshine has brought up the replanted cotton, with feed a foot or so high; soybeans greening up the row, and the last of the wheat harvest finally completed.

Farmers north of Matador were replanting cotton on the Fourth of July just like it was the first day of June, and like Lakeview farmers, praying for a late, late freeze.

Mr. and Mrs. Mike Bishop were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bishop and Greg.

Mr. and Mrs. Louis Pyle and David met with Mrs. Iantha Smith's family and other relatives at Lake Kemp over the week-end. Mychelle Smith had spent the week at Crowell with the Randy Adkins and Mrs. Houston Adkins.

Mr. and Mrs. Grady Dunavant have been kept close to home by a case of the summer flu.

Mrs. Odell Breed has been putting up apricots from their trees this week.

The Fourth of July was celebrated in Ruidoso by Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wright and Mr. and Mrs. Gene Mitchell and children. Both families took their campers and enjoyed four days of mountain air and cool nights.

Brandon and Jason Harrison are finishing their second week of swimming lessons at the Floydada city pool. Mrs. Bama Coward is their teacher at the pool.

Mrs. Kathy Green of Lubbock came over for Sunday dinner with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Joe Hambright and Todd. Mrs. Viola Brown and little grandson, Andy were also present.

Mrs. Choise Smith and daughter, Jody, spent the week-end with her mother, Mrs. Girtha Gamble, in Spearman.

Brody Fowler of Lubbock visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Odell Breed, from Tuesday through Saturday. His mother, Shirley, has been doing substitute key punch work at Texas Tech while regular employees are on vacation, Shirley and a friend, Mrs. Karen Cox, came over on Saturday to take Brody home.

Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Bunch and daughters, Tanya and Brenda of Carrollton, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W.L. Bunch over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Q.D. Williams were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. James Williams and children after church Sunday evening. James and Cyndi, Austin and Ashleigh had returned the evening before from a week's vacation at Red River, New Mexico.

Fifth of July visitors at the Odell Breeds was a former Lakeview resident, George Saucedo, Jr. who used to work for Frank and Odell Breed when he was a teenager and as a young man. He moved from this area about twelve years ago, now lives in Austin, Texas where he owns his own saw sharpening business. He said he's often wanted to visit his friends here and determined to do so during the holiday weekend. He was accompanied by two of his children, ages eleven and fourteen. One daughter will enter college this fall. His sister Eva, who worked for several families in Lakeview, never married, and has worked at the University of Texas for several years. George said he never had the opportunity to attend school as a boy; always had to work in the fields when much hand labor was required for cotton farming. But when he grew up he went to night school and got an education. Eventually he studied welding and became a welder, earning good money. Then he fell off a bridge they were working on, and was seriously injured. Part of his rehabilitation was going to a school where he learned to repair watches and sharpen saws. He worked as a sharpener for some time at Austin. Then he and three other men formed a company and now sharpen saws, mowers, and other equipment. He had been visiting a cousin in Lockney for the weekend when he came by Lakeview. It's interesting to hear of this family of seven children who lived for many years in our community. All were highly regarded, being hard working and intelligent; very respectful to their parents and employers.

Paige and Scott Bradford returned home Saturday after visiting here a month with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Hammonds and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Bradford. The Bradfords took them to Oklahoma City where they were met by their parents, Major and Mrs. Conley Bradford, of Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas. While they were visiting here, they went to Plainview with their aunt, Mrs. Lanny Glasscock, Tate and Angie, and Mrs. Hammonds for an afternoon at the water slide.

Angie Glasscock went to San Angelo with her aunt, Linda Carpenter, who had been visiting relatives in Lockney. She stayed in San Angelo eleven days. The Glasscocks met the Carpenters in Snyder on Sunday, which is about half the distance between the two towns. After lunch together, Angie returned home with her parents.

Mrs. Gay Lynn Carpenter and son, Cody of Canyon, visited the Weldon Hammonds over the July 4th weekend. They all went down to the Country Club and watched the fireworks display.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

BY LINDA EMERI
Well, there has been a few pretty days and the wheat is being cut real fast. The farmers are real busy planting.

Monday Kim was here for the residents musical therapy. They enjoy Kim. She had two of the men up and they even danced with her and enjoyed it. Tuesday we had a good group at Bible study.

Wednesday we played bingo. We had six to play. They were Sue Thompson, she won three games, and Emmit Lawrence won two games. Una Clark won one game, W.C. Cates won one game, Geneda won one game, Vera Duke won one game.

Thursday the residents did what they wanted to and Friday the volunteers came out and sang songs and the residents enjoyed the music and singing along with them.

They had ice cream cones and really enjoyed that. It was different for a change. Me and the residents enjoy and appreciate them a lot.

South Plains News

BY MRS. MURRAY JULIAN
 South Plains, July 12:
 Black clouds, heavy rain, wind and lightning Sunday morning, coming in the early moments of the South Plains Baptist Church services, with a sharp blast of lightning, thrust the church into darkness, but the Rev. Cecil Osborne did not let the darkness stop his sermon. He went ahead with his text but dismissed church early. Everyone got wet getting into cars, and the storm gave us .60 rain in South Plains with .30 in the southern part of our community.
 Mrs. Corda Taylor was a visitor at Sunday morning church services at the Baptist church and evening visitors were Mrs. B.F. Harper, and Mrs. Bernice Gilbert both of McAllen, Texas.
 Mrs. Corda Taylor of Mulshoe came Thursday to visit here with her family, the Rev. and Mrs. Cecil and Joyce Osborne. The Rev. and Mrs. Osborne will leave this Thursday to go to Mineral Wells and then on to Ft. Worth where they will be present to hear and see their son-in-law, the Rev. Ron Somers get his degree at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. We add our congratulations and best wishes to Ron on the completion of seminary work. The Rev. and Mrs. Osborne will be back at the parsonage here on Saturday.

 Johnny Powell from Perryton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Hazle and Fletcher Powell, was taken to Methodist Hospital in Lubbock Tuesday of last week and on Wednesday underwent intensive surgery on his stomach. Mrs. Powell and others of his family have been with Johnny during the past week, and he will be in the hospital for some time.
 Over the past weekend, guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Marble and Cindy here in South Plains were Fred's sister, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Wells, Jill and Kay from Denton; Mrs. Maybelle Lee; Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Jarrell and Jenny Lynn of Port Neches, and the Marble's son, Kelly Marble of Lubbock, who is with a florist shop in Lubbock. They were all here for the King family reunion which was held at the MAC building in Floydada on Saturday.
 Mrs. Lottie Stewart had knee surgery on one of her knees on Wednesday of last week in Plainview at Central Plains Hospital. She is getting along well at this time, we are glad to hear, and is staying with her daughter who lives at Lockney.

 Mrs. Fannie Bell McClure was here at the McClure home on Tuesday through Friday with her granddaughter, Mrs. D'Ann Cybert, Lindsay and Jennifer from near Plainview. D'Ann was putting up apricots from her trees, making jams and preserves. She made a big batch of apricot fried pies while out here.
 Mrs. B.F. Harper and companion Mrs. Bernice Gilbert, both of McAllen were guests of Mrs. M.M. Julian, Mrs. Harper's sister-in-law, on Sunday afternoon and Monday. With Keadis and Janis Julian, Mitzi and Tim, they all had dinner and a time of visiting Monday. Mrs. Harper, a long time resident of the South Plains community in the past and Mrs. Gilbert had been to Bozeman, Montana for a Wally Bynum airstream trailer for three weeks. They report it very cold up in Montana, with snow on all the mountain peaks. They left Monday night for Lubbock to spend the night with Ma Harper's daughter, Mrs. Shirley Jackson.

 Don Marble who underwent a kidney operation last Tuesday at Methodist Hospital in Lubbock is home this Monday and doing just excellent, as he continues his daily work.
 Kristi Julian accompanied Melody Stringer and her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill and Molly Stringer to Austin, Sunday where Melody will take her State Nurses examinations at Austin this week. Kristi will go to Dallas to visit with her roommate, Nancy McMasters, from Texas Tech and spend some time with her and her family there in the coming week.
 The King family reunion was held in Floydada on Saturday, July 10 at the MAC building, with 87 people attending. They came from Washington State, Arkansas, and Oklahoma, for the furthest distances, and the ones who came from Vancouver, Washington, came the greatest distance. Lunch and the evening meal were served. Don Marble is president of the King reunion, and next year the reunion will be held on July 9th. This was the largest attendance that they have ever had in their reunions. Those who spent the night with the King Marbles were Mr. and Mrs. Question Burgett of Fort Worth and Mr. and Mrs. Steve and Sandy Burgett and children also of Ft. Worth, and Mrs. Elaine Ballard of Concordia, Kansas.

 Mrs. Bernice Bond (Mrs. Clayton Bond), 67, who has been in the past 37 years a member of the service to the U.S. Postal Service, retiring, and she has more than 35 years of post office service.
 Deneen Johnson will take her State Nurses examination this week and we offer our best wishes and we go for her examination four long years at Methodist Hospital in

Center News

BY MRS. J.E. GREEN
 July 12, 1982:
 Another weekend has gone by with a variety of weather. Dry till Sunday and then the heavy shower began as we came out of church.
 The Clyde Greens had arrived Friday nite.
 Services were held by Kelly Warren, Calvary's own Wayland Ministerial student, in the absence of the Hollis Paynes who are on vacation.
 We arrived home to find my daughter, Margaret Ryan had arrived, then we all proceeded to Plainview to the Victor Greens. Joined there by Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Latta. We went on to Furr's for the delicious noon meal. Another Green got together for the weekend. And the Greens at about 2:30 were all at the Country Club for the reception for the 50th wedding anniversary of the R.C. Hodges.
 Many years had passed since the Hodges had been the beloved pastoral family of Center Baptist Church for six years. Other former Centerites we met as we went in to join the host of well wishers were Jimmy and Patsy Dunn and Floyd and Florence Montgomery.
 After more visiting with the Victor Greens the Clyde Greens left for home for Peralta, New Mexico. Later Margaret and I came home. A wonderful weekend, Margaret left for home this Monday afternoon.
 The Greens thought the Anthony Lattas awhile Saturday afternoon. Later Mrs. Green and Clyde visited with Mrs. Leo Frizzell.
 Mrs. Frizzell's granddaughter, Resa and husband of Amarillo visited her Saturday.
 Mrs. Ava Jackson's company over the weekend were her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Wright of Sweetwater.
 Mrs. Dorothy McDougle and daughter, Sharon of Crosbyton visited Wednesday with Mrs. McDougle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brewer.
 Mrs. Brewer's brother, Buren Forman of the Littlefield Rest Home is now very ill in the Methodist Hospital where the Brewers expect to visit him Tuesday.
 Mr. and Mrs. Don Finkner of Lubbock visited Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Charles Fulkerson.
 Mr. and Mrs. Milton Mensch and son, David of Lubbock attended a family reunion Sunday at his grandmother Grubbs, Floydada. Then visited Sue's parents, the Hal Thomases.
 Mrs. Green visited one afternoon briefly in Caprock Hospital with Miss Alma Ruth Nelson and with Mrs. Birdie Appling. They are better with hope.
 Mrs. Mayfield has news from California that Harold Tubbs of Red Bluffs, California has had lung surgery recently.

Mrs. Ethel Warren spent Friday nite with her son, John and family of near Lubbock.

Public Notice

Southwestern Bell, in accordance with the rules of the Public Utility Commission of Texas, hereby gives notice of the company's intent to implement a new schedule of telephone rates in Texas, effective July 27, 1982, unless otherwise determined by the Commission.

It is expected that the requested rate schedule will furnish a 13.4 percent increase in the company's intrastate revenues.

A complete copy of the new rate schedule is on file with the Public Utility Commission at Austin, Texas, and with each affected municipality served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection in each of the company's public business offices in Texas. The Commission staff has contended in the past that all rates are subject to change as a result of Southwestern Bell's rate application.

Notice to El Paso Area Customers

Effective January 1, 1982, Southwestern Bell affected the Mountain States tariffs in effect for El Paso County. Southwestern Bell proposes to apply the separate El Paso tariffs with its tariffs applicable to the rest of Texas. The resulting new rate schedule is on file with the PUC and the El Paso area municipalities served by Southwestern Bell, and is available for inspection at our El Paso business office.

Notice to Customers of Other Telephone Companies

The filing includes, but is not limited to, proposals to increase rates for interexchange private line and foreign exchange (FX) service. Changes in such rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies because such companies provide interexchange private line and foreign exchange service in accordance with rates specified in Southwestern Bell's tariffs. While Southwestern Bell has proposed no increase in long distance rates, any change in those rates would also affect customers of other telephone companies.

Aviso Público

Southwestern Bell, en conformidad a las reglas del Public Utility Commission (Comisión de Servicios Públicos) de Texas, por la presente da a conocer su intención de establecer un nuevo arancel para servicio de teléfono en Texas con vigencia a partir del 27 de julio, 1982, a menos que la Comisión determine otra determinación.

Se espera que el nuevo arancel que se ha citado rendirá un aumento de 13.4 por ciento los ingresos intraestatales de la compañía.

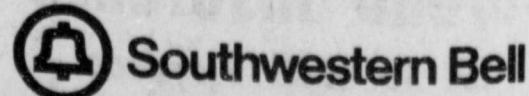

Una copia completa del nuevo arancel está archivado en las oficinas del Public Utility Commission en Austin, Texas, al igual que en cada municipalidad afectada y servida por Southwestern Bell, y cada una de las oficinas de la compañía para negocios con el público en Texas. El personal de la compañía está disponible para proporcionar una copia para lectura pública. En el pasado, Southwestern Bell ha sostenido que toda tarifa está sujeta a cambios que resulten de la manera en que Southwestern Bell aplique sus tarifas.

Aviso a Clientes en la Región de El Paso

Con vigencia a partir del 1o de enero de 1982, Southwestern Bell ha adoptado las tarifas Mountain States efectivas en el condado de El Paso. Southwestern Bell propone aplicar las tarifas de El Paso con sus otras tarifas que se aplican al resto de Texas. El nuevo arancel que se ha citado en esta unión se ha archivado en la Comisión de Servicios Públicos (Public Utility Commission) en Austin, Texas, al igual que en las municipalidades de la región de El Paso servidas por Southwestern Bell, y es disponible para inspección pública en nuestras oficinas de El Paso.

Aviso a los Clientes de Otras Compañías de Teléfono

El registro incluye, pero no se limita a, propuestas para aumentar las tarifas para servicios de línea privada entre centrales telefónicas (interexchange private line) y servicio de central telefónica extranjera (foreign exchange FX). Cambios en tales tarifas afectarían a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono que proveen los servicios de línea privada en conformidad a tarifas especificadas por Southwestern Bell. Aunque Southwestern Bell no ha propuesto un aumento en las tarifas de larga distancia, cualquier cambio en esas tarifas también afectaría a los clientes de otras compañías de teléfono.

BY DON AND SARA PROBASCO

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

Few things are harder to put up with than the annoyance of a good example.

"We have fallen on evil times, and the world has grown very wicked. Governments are corrupt, and children are no longer respectful to their parents" (from a clay tablet in Istanbul, Turkey, dates about 3,000 BC.)

A family is a unit composed not only of children, but of men, women, an occasional animal, and the common cold.

If a family is not in debt these days, they're underprivileged.

All things come to he who goes down a one-way street in the wrong direction.

One thing that comes to the man who waits is whiskers.

Pecan pests hurt production

Among the summer pests of pecan, yellow aphids, Monella caryella (Fitch) and Monellopsis nigropunctata (Granovsky) stand apart as a reliably present feature in pecan production. Present in low numbers through the year, these "honeydew aphids" build to high populations in mid-summer in most years. After feeding in large numbers for about 2-3 weeks their population usually falls off just as quickly as it appeared. Although the actual severity of damage from this pest is widely debated, the normal level of leaf performance can be impaired by yellow aphids.

The primary mode of damage is from leaf shading by a mold that grows over the upper leaf surface of affected leaves. As the yellow aphid feeds on the undersides of leaves, "honeydew" or sugar water is excreted by the pest. This sticky liquid falls down through the tree and is deposited on the upper leaf surface of leaves over which the aphids feed.

This "honeydew" is a perfect substrate for "sooty mold", a fungus that is ubiquitous in the environment. Under high humidity that fungus mold grows on the "honeydew" to form a dark gray to black covering over the upper leaf surface. This effectively blocks the sunlight from the leaf, reducing photosynthesis.

Defoliation does not usually result from yellow aphid feeding, although partial defoliation has been observed. Severe infestations visibly withdraw sufficiently large quantities of sugar to suggest that a significant reduction in pecan tissue growth and repair is resulting.

Leaves make food for all parts of the tree. Without the normal function of leaves all other parts of the tree suffer. This means losses to both the current year's crop in the form of packing and filling nuts, and to next year's crop in the form of reduced carbohydrates available for storage in roots, limbs, and buds.

To determine the need to spray for yellow aphids, survey 10 leaves on each of 5 percent of the trees in your orchard. Distribute trees through the orchard to achieve a representative sample. If an average of over 15 aphids per leaf are found then you have an economic infestation that should be treated. Growers with orchards in humid areas of the state, where sooty mold is likely to develop, should lower the action level for treatment to 8 yellow aphids per compound leaf.

Yellow aphids are attacked by several parasites and predators. The most effective in reducing aphid numbers are apparently lady beetles and lacewing. Both larvae and adults of these insects are predaceous on black aphids as well as yellow aphids. Because high densities of these insects are helpful in keeping aphid populations down, these beneficials can be surveyed to assess their population and their potential affect on the aphid population.

BEES ARE NECESSARY

When you think of insects you may envision all kinds of serious problems in the garden. And it's true that insects can be a real problem. Some insects, but not all of them, are harmful. It's been estimated that less than 5 percent of the known insects are harmful to man or his food crops. The rest either pose no known threat or are considered beneficial.

As a matter of fact, it can be a real problem not having some insects in your garden. Bees are a good example. As bees collect nectar and pollen they visit flowers and carry out one of the most important acts in nature - pollination. Pollination is the transfer of pollen from the anther of the flower to the stigma. This process must be carried out before fruit set will occur.

Just how important is pollination to your vegetable garden? For the common vine crops such as cucumbers, squash, cantaloupes, watermelons and pumpkins, pollinating insects is essential because these crops have separate male and female flowers. Without bees or pollinating insects of some type pollen transfer does not normally occur. The result is nothing to eat from your vine crops.

So, if you've grown vine crops in the past and had them bloom but not set any fruit, chances are the problem was no pollination. Putting a hive of bees in the middle of your garden may not be practical. But one thing you can do is avoid spraying your garden for damag-

Swine isolation reduces disease risk

New swine breeding stock should be placed into isolation for 30 days and restricted contact for another 30 days before being introduced into the main herd, advises a swine specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

The 30-day isolation reduces the risk that a catastrophic disease might be introduced into the herd by the new animal, said Dr. Robert S. Cohen, the Extension specialist. Another 30 days of fence-line contact with only a few animals from the herd helps to immunize the new animal against any active diseases in the main herd, Cohen said.

"Obviously, no producer is going to buy a sick animal for use in his main breeding herd," the swine specialist said. "However, most diseases have an incubation period from the time of exposure to actual demonstration of symptoms of a disease," he explained. The incubation period may range from one to 21 days, depending on the disease, he said.

An animal might be exposed to a di-ing insects during the morning when honeybees are most active. Remember there are fewer pollinating insects in urban areas than in suburban or rural areas.

Look out for damaging insects: however, also be aware that some insects are there to do a very important job.

WHEN TO WATER

In most areas of Texas successful gardening depends on a good source of water. Although gardens can be grown "dryland" a garden's chance of success is enhanced great if, a water faucet is nearby, especially here on the High Plains.

To many folks one of the most enjoyable aspects of home garden is watering. It is also very important. But many problems such as poor yields, poor quality, poor fertility, bitter fruit, sunscald, disease problems and a dozen other things can be related to poor and improper watering.

Many home gardeners enjoy watering after a hard day's work. Gardening is a form of relaxation. So it is not unusual for many home gardens to be watered two, three or more times a week. Unfortunately, this is one of the worst things to do since it can result in poor root development. Light, frequent waterings cause a concentration of roots in the top inch or two of soil. Underdeveloped root systems do not pose any serious problem early in the season when the plants are relatively young and sufficient moisture is available. But as the season progresses and moisture becomes scarce, the limited root system needs more frequent watering. Consequently, you may need to water several times a week just to keep the plants from wilting severely. This problem can be prevented by adequate early and mid-season watering.

Determine when to water the garden by examining the soil, not the plants. If the soil surface appears dry, scratch the surface to a depth of about an inch to determine if moisture is present. If the soil appears relatively dry, watering is necessary. If sufficient moisture is available an inch beneath the surface, wait a couple of days before watering. Another point to consider is the type of soil in your garden. Obviously a light, sandy soil that drains well requires more frequent watering than a heavy soil which holds water. Therefore, check a sandy soil more often than a heavy clay soil.

How much water should you apply when watering becomes necessary? The general rule of thumb is to really soak the garden soil. When the garden seems to be well watered, dig down and see if the soil is wet to a depth of at least 6 inches. If moisture is available at this depth, adequate moisture has been applied. After doing this several times, you learn by experience when adequate water has been applied. An inch or two of water applied once a week usually is sufficient for most vegetable gardens in Floyd County.

probably the most difficult pests to control in vegetable gardens. With hot dry weather approaching, gardeners should be on the lookout for this pest by checking the underside of plant leaves.

Although spider mites will attach almost any plant, among their preferred hosts are beans, tomatoes, peas, eggplants and corn.

Actually, spider mites are not insects but are eight-legged relatives of ticks and spiders. Their small size, about 1/60 of an inch, makes them difficult to see without a magnifying lens. They range in color from red, green and yellow to white and brown. Spider mites deposit their eggs on the underside of leaves. These hatch in about five days. There may be 10 to 15 or more generations per year.

Mites can cause considerable plant damage by sticking their needle-like mouthparts into leaf tissue and sucking out the juice while injecting a toxic substance into the leaf. Heavy infestations will cause leaves to appear blotched or spotted, turn pale or yellowish in color, curl up, turn brown and eventually drop off. A thin webbing may cover leaves and stems.

Begin a control program as soon as spider mites are detected and before plant damage is obvious. A light infestation of spider mites can be reduced and kept at low levels by spraying plants with a strong stream of cool water every few days.

If chemicals must be used, the most effective material is Kelthane. Two of four applications may be needed at five-day intervals. Always follow directions on the pesticide label.

Archery shortcourse to be offered July 19 - 23

An archery shortcourse will be offered to Floyd County youth ages 9-19 July 19-23. The course will be taught by Benny Butler, the Floyd County 4-H Coordinator. Benny took archery in college and shot on the Texas A&M Archery Team for 2 years.

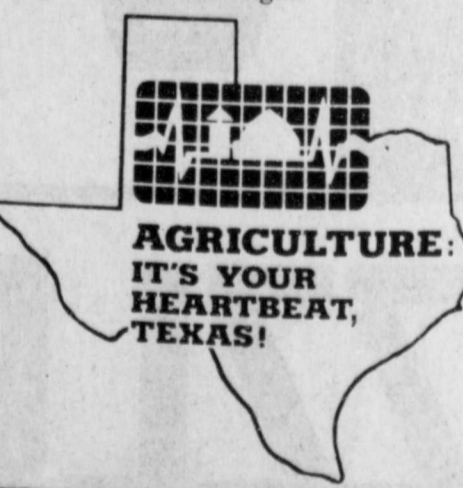

Meeting times for the course will be every day from 8:30-11:30 the week of July 19-23 (Monday thru Friday). The first meeting will be held at the County Extension Office.

There is no fee for the course and all materials will be provided according to Mr. Butler. However, he said that "Anyone who would like to bring their own equipment and use it is perfectly welcome to do so." He also asks that anyone who knows that they want to take the shortcourse please call him at 983-2806 so he will know how much equipment will be needed.

Mr. Butler encourages anyone who is interested in learning to shoot a bow and arrow to come and participate in this course. "I'll guarantee that they'll learn a lot and have fun doing it," was Benny's comment.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serves people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

SAMPLING

- (a) Observe foliage for evidence of honeydew.
- (b) Rate aphids on 5 leaves on monitor trees representative of each variety and block of the orchard.
- (c) In dry regions of State:
  - 0 = no aphids
  - 1 = 1 - 9/leaf*
  - 2 = 10 - 29/leaf
  - 3 = 30+ /leaf

In humid regions:

- 0 = no aphids
- 1 = 1-5/leaf*
- 2 = 6 - 9/leaf
- 3 = 10+ /leaf

TIME

- (a) June-October
- (b) Rate every 3 weeks
- (c) Rate weekly once orchard rating exceeds 1.5

YELLOW APHID SURVEY

SPRAY IF:

ACTION

Aphid density rates 2.5 or greater.

*Aphids need not be counted. With experience a glance will tell what rating each leaf falls into. Add each leaf rating on the tree (5 leaves) and then divide by 5 and record that number for that single tree. When 5-10 percent of the trees have been sampled, average the tree ratings to determine the orchard rating and the need to spray.

Bentsen seeks Cabinet Level Task Force on Agriculture

Senator Lloyd Bentsen, saying that people in Washington don't understand the serious problems confronting American agriculture, called Wednesday on President Reagan to form a Cabinet-Level Task Force on Agriculture.

Bentsen, in a letter to the President, urged that the Secretaries of Agriculture, Treasury and Commerce be named to the task force and that they report within a month with recommendations to help avert a farm catastrophe.

"The American farmer today is in worse shape than at any time since the Great Depression, yet few people in Washington seem aware of the problem," the Senator said.

"High interest rates and low commodity prices have combined to put the economic squeeze on our amazingly efficient and productive farmers and ranchers, forcing thousands of them off their land and into bankruptcy."

"In my own state of Texas the crisis has been compounded by severe weather damage to crops, particularly in the Lubbock area. In many counties of West Texas half or more of the farmers could go under if nothing is done. This situation would be an emergency in the best of times, but given the depressed state of American agriculture, it could become a full-blown disaster not only for these farmers but for all Americans who depend on them for their food and clothing."

"In no way, of course, should this broad-ranging Cabinet-Level study delay action on the disaster confronting West Texas. I note that an assistant to Secretary Block is, in fact, preparing a report on the extent of this disaster and I would hope the Secretary will act quickly on my request to provide disaster assistance in this area," Bentsen said.

"I would anticipate that the task force will examine the impact of the agricultural crisis throughout the American economy as well as the effect of regional disasters such as the one now occurring in the Lubbock area."

"It is essential that farm policy decisions made in Washington be made by people who are fully aware of the situation with a full understanding of the impact their decisions have on the local, regional and national economies," Bentsen said.

"Knowing of your concern for the well-being of the American farmer and the enormous productive potential of our farmers and ranchers, I urge you to help us focus attention and resources on the current problems by convening the task force at the earliest possible date and requiring their findings within one month," Senator Bentsen said.
