Council adopts peddler ordinance

FLOYDADA CITY COUNCIL VOTED TO adopt a peddler's and transient ordinance in the regular meeting July 15. The ordinance was passed without a new board or group rather than expose the disease which might cause the animals to be quarantined," Cohen said. The animals could be slaughtered or the herd undergo an expensive test to have the quarantine lifted. "It is less expensive to isolate through isolation than to test for disease," Cohen said.

Summer Youth program for next summer. The council agreed to consider the program for next summer.

Susan Garms, executive vice president of the Floydada Chamber of Commerce, met with the council to give the results of the survey the Chamber of Commerce conducted. The survey asked if the citizens would object to a 10 cent charge placed on the utility bill for Christmas decorations. 150 people were surveyed. 101 had no objection, 38 objected, and 11 had no opinion. Based on this survey the council voted not to add the charge for the decorations.

Jackson Construction Company was awarded the bid for the rehabilitation of five houses in the target area of the community block grant program. The houses were:

- a. Iora Leadon, 523 E. Missouri
- b. Marion Keith, 302 E. Jackson
- c. Mrs. Hubert Davis, 312 W. Jackson
- d. Domingo De Leon, 329 W. Jackson
- e. Pauline Huerta, 316 W. Lee

Other points discussed and acted upon by the council were the decisions to enforce the junk car ordinance at the Buddy Jenkins property; send three firemen to the Texas A&M University Fire School; a one ton truck is needed to replace the 1963 model for the sanitation trailer. City Manager Bill Feuerbacher is to look for one. The June bills were discussed and paid.

Kay Howard from Barber, Brannon and Traylor Inc. presented a proposal to be the City's consultant for 1982 Community Development grant. The council waited to see a copy of the contract first.

MHMR includes Floyd County

A newly opened office of the Central Plains Mental Health and Mental Retardation office is offering services to Floyd County.

Synda Voyles is a psychologist with a master's degree from Texas Tech University. She will be offering individual counseling, family therapy, marriage therapy, group therapy and psychiatric testing. Her office is located in the south end of the Floyd County court house. She will be in the office every Thursday for counseling.

The Floydada office is a result of the Central Plains MHMR expanding its service area. Synda is one of three new counselors in this area.

The counseling services are funded through local donations and through fees collected for the services. The fees are based on a sliding scale depending on the client's income.

Although counseling is available here only on Thursday, the office is open all week during business hours. Also counseling is not limited to business hours on Thursday.

Synda said that she hopes to organize a workshop in parent training and a juvenile probation this fall.

Synda is from Perryton, Texas and she says that she is familiar with the attitudes of the farmers.

Newsbriefs

Floydada school board increases school tax

The Floydada School Board voted to increase the school tax to 78 cents per $100 value during a special meeting July 15. The decision was due to a smaller tax base. The tax base for 1982-83 is $13 million less than last year.

The tax base was smaller primarily because of the local age value according to productivity and farm equipment exemptions.

The taxes collected from the 1981-82 school year were $959,613 but the collectable taxes for 1982-83 are 942,467 down $17,149.

In order to balance the budget, the board had to cut $125,532 from the original budget. Although these cuts are unpopular, they were from all areas.

"We don't want to cut the quality of education," Jerry Cannon Floydada School superintendent said, "but we are trying to cut excesses."

"More people need to come up and look at what we're doing rather than just sitting around passing rumors," Harvey Allen, president of the school board said.

The 78 cent per hundred tax rate reflects 72 cents for maintenance and operation and six cents to reduce bonding indebtedness.

Police Report

BY SGT. RAYNARD MACHA
Floydada Police Department

City police made six arrests during the week. One arrest was for criminal mischief involving a window being broken out during a family disturbance. Two people were arrested for driving while intoxicated. Two people were arrested for public intoxication and after hours consumption of an alcoholic beverage in a dry area.

Patrolman Doug Brewer made a felony arrest of a local man for aggravated assault with a deadly weapon. Officer Brewer arrived at a residence to respond to a fight in progress call and was advised by one of the parties involved that a man had pointed a thirty eight caliber Derringer at him. Officer Brewer located the suspect within five minutes and placed him under arrest. A thirty eight caliber Derringer was recovered from the area where the suspect was arrested.

City police also investigated two burglaries. One burglary was of a residence on South Fourth Street. Total value of the items missing was five hundred six dollars. Another burglary of a business netted thieves a large amount of meat and change.

One traffic accident without injuries was investigated by city police.

SGLI premium reduced

More than three million persons began sharing last July 1 in a reduction of $42 million in premium costs of Servicemen's Group Life Insurance (SGLI), according to the Director, Waco Veterans Administration Regional Office.

Police Report

The new monthly premium for maximum coverage of $35,000 is $4.06, compared to the present rate of $5.25. The decrease will result in overall savings exceeding $30 million per year for active duty military personnel and about $12 million per year for ready reservists with full-time coverage.

This Week

Renewal notices

Beginning this month we will no longer be sending out renewal notices. All subscribers are asked to look for the list of people whose papers are expiring somewhere in the paper every 1st and 3rd week of each month. A list of people's names whose subscriptions are up for renewal is located on page 3 of this edition.

Federal aid

South Plains farmers will get federal emergency aid to partially offset losses due to heavy rains and hail. Cotton farmers will receive payments of 20.5 cents per pound for up to 75% of their crop loss; wheat farmers will receive $1.75 per bushel; corn farmers, 15 cents per bushel; and sorghum farmers, 18 cents per bushel. (All grain payments are figured on 60% crop loss.)

Neighborhood Watch

Contributions are being accepted by the Floydada Chamber of Commerce for the purchase of the materials (window and street signs, brochures, etc.) that will be used in the Neighborhood Watch Program. Donations can be taken to the Chamber office or mailed to: Floydada Chamber of Commerce - Attention: Neighborhood Watch, P.O. Box 147, Floydada, Texas 79235.

CRIME CALL

After about a three month absence, a daytime residential burglary has once again hit Floydada. Between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 4:20 p.m. on Wednesday, July 14, a residence at 1110 South 4th Street, Floydada, was entered by forcing open the rear door. Authorities state that a residence at 127 J.B. Avenue had similar marks on its rear door (indicating the same type of tool was used in an attempt to gain entry at that location.)

The burglary and the attempted break-in are the Crime Call Spotlight Crime of the Week, for which a $2000 reward is offered for information leading authorities to the person or persons responsible. Anyone with such information is urged to call Crime Call at 983-5200. In the Lockney area, the number to call is 652-2416. Callers do not have to reveal their identity, but if they do identify themselves and are willing to testify in connection with the case, an additional reward will be made.

Stolen in the 4th Street burglary included the following: 5-inch "Panasonic" black and white portable television; a Federal Land Bank "tote bag"; one set of power stereo headphones; Minolta Series E 35-mm camera; and several "Atari" game tapes. Total loss was estimated at $506.00. A witness in the neighborhood observed a stranger knocking on the front door of the 4th Street address at about the time the burglary occurred, and was able to furnish the following brief description: Hispanic male, 17 to 23 years of age, 5'7" in height, and approximately 135-140 lbs.

Anyone with information concerning the burglary or the attempted break-in is urged to call Crime Call at once. Crime Call is supported entirely by private funding and tax-deductible contributions may be made at the 1st National Bank of Floydada, the 1st National Bank of Lockney, or may be mailed to Crime Call of Floyd County, Inc., 122 E. California, Floydada, TX 79235. Citizens are advised that Crime Call offers rewards for information on all unsolved major crimes occurring in Floyd County.

Editorial

BY DAVID CATES

Apathy — absence or lack of interest or concern indifference.

Applied definition — lack of public attendance at County Commissioners meetings, City Council meetings, school board meetings, voting turnout for local, state and national elections, no attendance for community betterment meetings.

If we as citizens would not think our job was over when we have an election and someone else votes for one of the candidates we could improve these elected bodies.

I doubt that any one of our local governing bodies would mind and probably would appreciate seeing more of us attend their monthly meetings. Many of us only attend when our pet peeve is being discussed. Actually these men and women conduct business each month that effect each of us directly.

Our, the people of the community, input given directly to these boards and councils will do more good if given during the meetings than if we discuss or cuss them in the coffee shops.

Enough of this. It all boils down to the point of doing our share. Vote for who you think is the most capable. Encourage your candidate to do the best he or she can. Inform them of your feelings on matters that you are aware of. Attend meetings to be informed. Help when you are asked. One of the meetings that should be of interest to you is the Neighborhood Watch. This is one group that will not exist if we do not help. This is something we should all take an active interest in.

In order to keep you aware of what is going on in our community a reminder will be published monthly of all the meeting times and agendas if possible.

Take an interest, it could be rewarding.

Brock sustains broken leg

Byron Brock, Lockney area farmer, sustained a broken leg Monday afternoon about 5:30 p.m. He and his son Byron were attempting to hook the tractor onto a plow. The details were sketchy at presstime, but evidently the plow slipped back, breaking both bones in his right leg below the knee. They were working on the Josie Taylor farm about a mile north of town at the time of the accident.

Brock was transferred to Amarillo's St. Anthony's Hospital immediately from Lockney General. Robert Webb and Craig Ellison were in charge of the emergency transfer.

PRO:

By SEN. WALTER MENGDEN

The "not guilty by reason of insanity" verdict that John Hinckley received has been widely denounced as a severe miscarriage of justice. However, the fault does not rest with the jury, but with the law.

Under federal law, the jury was required to render the "not guilty" verdict if there was any reasonable doubt about the defendant's sanity. Since psychiatry is not an exact science — and it is rare to find any two psychiatrists who agree on the same diagnosis — it was easy for a parade of "expert" witnesses to confuse a jury of lay persons.

What happens now is that Hinckley will undergo a civil hearing to see if he should be committed to a mental institution. His family will probably not try to spring him until the heat dies down, but, if they wanted to, he might be able to be freed right away. Utilizing the same psychiatric witnesses

CON:

By GEORGE E. DIX

Insanity as a defense to crime serves an important function. Proposed "revisions" of the area would accomplish little and sacrifice much.

Conviction of a serious crime reflects society's judgment that the accused has behaved not only dangerously but also in a morally reprehensible manner. Moral responsibility, as we think of it, exists only if the decision to act is the result of a relatively free choice to engage in conduct known to be contrary to society's demands. Under existing insanity law, a defendant is entitled to acquittal only if the existence of serious psychological abnormality at the time of the conduct shows the absence of these prerequisites to morally reprehensible behavior. By acquitting such defendants, we preserve criminal liability for those who are both "bad" and dangerous. Further, we reaffirm and reinforce the responsibility of the vast majority of actual or potential offenders for their conduct.

Should insanity defense be abolished

that testified in his criminal trial, it is possible that Hinckley could be found not to possess any mental illness severe enough to require involuntary commitment. Even if a criminal who successfully employs the insanity defense is sent to a mental institution, he or she is frequently released a short time later.

I believe that insanity should be abolished as an affirmative defense in criminal cases on both a state and federal level. Whether or not a defendant committed a crime has nothing to do with that person's mental condition. To say that a person is "not guilty" — that he or she did not commit the crime — because of "insanity" is in itself insane. Instead, evidence of mental illness of a defendant would be introduced at the punishment stage of a trial.

Under the proposal that I introduced in the 1981 legislative session, if a defendant was found guilty, a judge or jury, whichever is assessing the sentence, would then determine if the person was mentally ill and required psychiatric treatment in confinement or, if probation is granted, confinement. A criminal sentenced to probation or at a mental hospital, would be held in custody until the expiration of the sentence. If the illness before the expiration of the sentence would be transferred back to the remainder of the sentence.

It is clear that the present system is intolerable. The proper place for the punishment phase of a trial when the defendant can look at all mitigating circumstances is in need of treatment for mental illness or she should receive it as a condition of probation.

Sen. Mengden, a Republican from Floyd County, has introduced bills in the Texas Legislature to abolish the insanity defense.

Society is, of course, entitled to protection against persons who act dangerously but in a fashion inconsistent with moral reprehensibility. This can be accomplished by procedures for committing a person acquitted on insanity grounds. There is simply no basis for believing that conviction and criminal sentencing provides more protection for society than insanity acquittal and subsequent commitment.

Some are disturbed at the conflicting psychiatric testimony generated by insanity cases. Yet battles among experts in other areas of litigation seldom stimulate demands that we abandon litigation in those areas. It is unfortunately true that psychiatrists are often of little help in addressing ultimate insanity questions. But this is because these ultimate questions are not ones of scientific fact but rather of moral or ethical judgement. No one is better equipped than 12 jurors to decide whether a defendant was so affected by serious psychological abnormality that he should not be regarded as having acted in a manner that justifies personal condemnation.

Little would be accomplished by making evidence of insanity relevant only at the punishment stage of a trial. The defendant acted in such a manner as to merit "deserving of" imprisonment.

Insanity cases are so infrequent that they constitute an almost insignificant aspect of the criminal justice administration. In 1980, only 14 insanity cases were committed to Texas mental hospitals (13 committed in 1981.) But in 1980, 80,000 cases were disposed of by Texas courts (80,000 cases in 1981.) It is reasonable to conclude that insanity cases are counted for no more than .02 percent of the cases processed, or about 1 in 5,000.

Given the numerous important issues that undoubtedly exist in the criminal justice system, it would be most unfortunate for the insanity defense to be sidetracked into this area. It would be more unfortunate to abandon a basic criminal law in the course of making minor adjustments.

George E. Dix is Vincent & Elizabeth Distinguished Professor of Law at the University of Texas at Austin.

Proposed constitutional amendments

The Texas Legislature has proposed six amendments to the Texas Constitution. They will be voted on at the general election on November 2, 1982.

(1) Proposition 1: "The constitutional amendment repealing the state property tax."

(2) Proposition 2: "The constitutional amendment to authorize the legislature to provide assistance through the appropriations process to needy persons and to place a ceiling on payments for needy dependent children at one percent of the state budget."

(3) Proposition 3: "The constitutional amendment exempting implements of husbandry (agricultural machinery and equipment) from ad valorem taxation."

(4) Proposition 4: "The constitutional amendment authorizing the legislature to provide terms not to exceed four years for members of governing boards of certain water districts and conservation and reclamation districts."

(5) Proposition 5: "The constitutional amendment to abolish the office of county treasurer in Tarrant and Bee Counties."

(6) Proposition 6: "The constitutional amendment increasing the maximum interest rate allowed on state general obligation bonds to a weighted average annual interest rate of 12%."

Proposed constitutional amendments by necessity incomplete and misleading.

Roadside stands and outlet stores are used by different segments of our society to market goods usually at a savings to the consumer. These alternatives can help families confront today's economic situation or they can produce financial chaos if consumers aren't cautious. Consumers need to help each other learn where to find the outlets and how to measure the suitability of the product based on personal need. A good buy is only a good buy if it satisfies an identified need. Using today's "new" old buying systems — and others — are the "aces" which consumers must use to win in today's economy.

Control white grubs in lawn in July

May or June beetles are emerging from the soil and starting to swarm late in the evening. Females are laying eggs and white grub worms that hatch will soon be feeding on roots of bermuda-grass and St. Augustingrass in home lawns. Once grubs begin feeding, control measures should be taken, says Jett Major, county agent with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Texas A&M University System.

Treatment time varies with the particular area of the state and ranges from early July in South Texas to mid-August in the Panhandle. Homeowners in Floyd County will need to treat during the month of July. Timing of application is critical for adequate control.

White grubs in excessive numbers can heavily damage lawns. Check for white grubs by cutting a square foot section of sod with a shovel and examining the roots and soil to a depth of 4 inches. Examine at least one square foot of sod for 1,000 square feet of lawn area. Chemical treatment is needed if there are more than four grubs per square foot of sod.

Diazinon or Dursban provide adequate control and should be used at recommended rates given on the chemical container label. The granular form is easier to apply and to wash into the soil than liquid or spray formulations. After using granules, drag the grass with a tow sack or water hose to knock them down to the soil. Then apply enough water to soak the granules into the soil.

Apply diazinon sprays at the rate of 25 gallons of water, including the insecticide, per 1,000 square feet to wash the insecticide into the soil. Wetting the lawn before spraying also helps. Always keep children and pets off the treated lawn until the grass is dry.

The key to white grub control in home lawns is proper timing of chemical applications and getting the insecticide through the grass to the root zone where grubs are feeding. Further information is provided in the publication, "White Grubs in Texas Turfgrass," available at the county Extension Office.

Procter & Gamble calls halt to rumormongering

Procter & Gamble, the nationally prominent religious organization, has called for an end to the "rumormongering and totally false" statements of the Procter & Gamble Company. The release of the statements by P&G to stop the "rumormongering" that its "rumors and stars" trademark is a symbol signifying a connection with satanism or devil worship, which have been around for years, typically report on a television talk show.

distributed literature which stated that P&G supports satanism and that its trademark was a satanic symbol. They also encouraged others to stop buying P&G products, the company claimed. P&G is asking the courts to stop the individuals from further activity and for compensatory and punitive damages.

than rumor mongering by individuals, the company said. P&G said it is investigating the possibility of additional lawsuits and that it will follow up aggressively on leads of organizations or individuals spreading the rumors.

Griffin Bell, former U.S. Attorney General, will represent Procter & Gamble in the Atlanta suit. Patrick G. Emmanuel will represent the company in the Pensacola suit.

The trademarks is a circular design featuring a man-in-the-moon figure looking out over a field of thirteen stars. It has been used since 1850 and was officially registered in 1882. The symbol started as simple markings on crates of Star Candles, an early Procter & Gamble product, and evolved over the years to a formal design showing a man-in-the-moon, a popular figure of the 1800's, and thirteen stars representing the original colonies.

Bits of Humor, Trivia, and an occasional Word of Wisdom

The best way to win an argument is to start by being in the right.

Travel broadens people. It also flattens them.

A stockbroker is a fellow who's always ready to back his judgment with your money.

All work and no play makes jack for your psychiatrist.

SPC adds electronics technology

A full time electronics technology program will be added to the curriculum at South Plains College-Lubbock, beginning this fall, according to Dr. Ronnie Glasscock, dean of the Lubbock campus.

Offered for both day and evening students, the two-year associate degree program will include studies in digital processors, an advanced study of computer systems with emphasis on micro-processor principles and applications, video systems and data communications, microwaves, electronics in communication and others, noted Glasscock. The curriculum also will include courses in mathematics, human relations, engineering and physics.

Facilities for the updated program include two electronics labs with specialized equipment and several classrooms at the SPC Lubbock campus, 1302 Main.

Originally written in 1973, the program has been completely revised to accommodate the rapidly changing electronics industry, Dr. Glasscock said. "We now feel that we have a state-of-the-art program attuned to the industry and the needs of our students," said Dr. Glasscock.

Experts from Texas Instruments, Litton, education and other industries in Lubbock and the surrounding area make up an advisory board which oversees the project to keep it abreast of industry changes and needs, he added.

The two-year associate in applied science degree in electronics technology is designed to provide basic preparation as technicians in the electrical and electronics fields of engineering, maintenance, service assembly, troubleshooting and manufacturing of electronic items for local manufacturers.

Freshman courses for the two-year curriculum include basic electrical measurements, principles of electricity, business and industrial English, introduction to electronic calculation, applied technical math I, applied physics I, electronic devices, computer technology I, basic technical writing, fabrication techniques, applied technical math II and human relations in management.

Persons needing more information should contact SPC-Lubbock counseling office, 1302 Main, Lubbock, Texas 79401 at (806) 747-0576 or 747-8111.

Duckworths enjoy visit with children

Mr. and Mrs. Elgin Conner and girls visited with Mrs. Conner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Duckworth, enroute to their Silverton home Sunday evening.

They had gone to Petersburg early that morning where he spoke at both services at the Church of Christ. They traveled with the Larry Adrians, the Don Adrians, the Larry Lydes and Mike Adrian to Floydada for pizza at lunchtime. In the afternoon they enjoyed a game of baseball at the Larry Adrian home.

WB offers "foundation of college life"

A personal improvement course entitled "Foundations of College Life" will be offered during the fourth summer microterm at Wayland Baptist University, according to Dr. Don Cook, Dean of the School of Arts and Sciences.

The three-week course, which begins August 2, includes emphasis on strengthening study skills, improving concentration and memory, managing time effectively, improving reading comprehension and speed, research and writing techniques and handling stress in the classroom. Numbered Psychology 1300, the course is designed to aid students in making the transition from high school to college.

Students have thoroughly enjoyed this course because much of the learning is couched in fun activities such as outdoor sports, overnight campouts and trips, outdoor classes, swimming parties, horseback riding, and cookouts.

While many students report to college each fall prepared to deal with the problems they will face while adjusting to a new environment, research indicates that a significant number of college freshmen are not equipped with the necessary skills to adapt to college life. As a result, many eventually find themselves on academic probation or suspended from college.

This negative experience takes a tremendous toll on students in terms of time, money and especially self-esteem. It is not unusual for students who find themselves in academic trouble to simply give up their dreams and plans for higher education.

In response to this problem, Wayland offers a course designed to enhance both academic and social abilities and generally enrich the student's life. Cost for the three-hour elective credit course is $510, which includes room, board, tuition and fees. Scholarships to help defray this expense are available to students who pre-register for the course before 5 p.m. July 24. Those interested in registration or wanting additional information should call the office of the registrar, 296-5521, ext. 23.

FLOYD DATA

Larry Jones and Dwayne Weise, both students at Angelo State University, arrived Saturday night for a visit with Mr. and Mrs. Babe Jones, Sharri and Kerri. Sunday night Dwayne and Larry, Sharri and Kerri Jones attended the Cheap Trick concert in Lubbock. Afterwards the boys returned to San Angelo.

FLOYD DATA

Mrs. Quimby Kizziar (nee Mildred Carter) of Abilene, Texas recently spent several days in this area visiting with long-time friends. She reported the March death in Abilene of her mother-in-law, Mrs. Ann Kizziar. Mrs. Kizziar was more than 101 years old at the time of her death.

PUBLIC NOTICE CITY OF LOCKNEY, TEXAS HOUSING AND COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT PROGRAM

The City of Lockney has submitted an application to the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development for $455,000 in 1982 Development Block Grant funds. These funds, if awarded by HUD, would be used to benefit low and moderate income citizens in our community. A copy of this application is available for review in the office of the City Secretary, 215 Locust Street, between the hours of 8:00 A.M. and 5:00 P.M. Monday through Friday. Citizens may submit comments and objections on the City's application directly to the Dallas Area Office of the U.S. Dept. of Housing and Urban Development, P.O. Box 10050, Dallas, Texas 75208. HUD will consider objections based only on the following grounds:

- (A) The City has described its housing and community development program in a manner clearly inconsistent with available facts and data.
- (B) The activities proposed by the City are clearly inappropriate to the City's needs and objectives.
- (C) The City has not complied with CDBG program requirements.
- (D) The proposed activities are not eligible for CDBG program assistance.

In submitting any comments and objections to HUD, citizens should identify the source of their complaints and cite alternative data. Comments should be prepared in duplicate and submitted to the HUD Dallas Area Office. Handicapped individuals who need special assistance in reviewing the City's application should contact the Lockney City Hall at 652-2381 for such assistance. For further information, contact Erma Lee, City Secretary, at the Lockney City Hall.

Landscape & Gardening

BY BENNY J. BUTLER

PROBLEMS
Cracked Fruit?
 Some vegetable gardeners have noticed that their tomatoes crack open mysteriously. These cracks may extend deep into the fruit or they may be just on the surface. If the cracks extend from the stem to the bottom of the fruit, they are called concentric cracks; if they circle the fruit, they are called circumferential cracks.

appears at the blossom end or bottom at almost any time during the fruit's development. It generally begins with small, irregular, water-soaked areas near the base of the fruit which darken and eventually look leathery. When severe it appears to wrinkle and deteriorate as the fruit matures.

Why does blossom-end-rot occur? Researchers are not sure of the exact cause, but most agree it is associated with a calcium deficiency and excessive water loss. No pathogens are associated with it. Disease may infect the fruit after blossom-end-rot occurs, but these are secondary in nature.

Blossom-end-rot is a "physiological" disorder of tomato fruit probably caused by water stress in the plant. This could result from overly wet soils, overly dry soils or drying winds which increase water loss from the foliage. Whenever these conditions occur, plants lose more water through their foliage than is absorbed through their roots. This results in water loss from the plant and the fruit and a slight desiccation of the blossom-end or bottom of the tomato. These cells die and the blackened area appears.

Blossom-end-rot damage often isn't visible until several days or even weeks after the water loss occurs.

What can be done about blossom-end-rot? Anything that maintains uniform soil moisture helps. Locating the garden in a well-drained soil, mulching and maintaining a uniform and consistent watering program are important.

Gardeners may wonder about removing affected fruit from the plant. Most Texas horticulturists suggest removing the affected fruit to allow for the development of other top quality fruit.

"LOOK MOM NO EARS!" Look again, a portion of this calves ears are still attached but not much. This calf like so many other calves are the victims of "playfull" dogs that roam from home. Luckily this calf only lost her ears, many others like her lose their lives either through strauation due to rejection of the mother after the attack or to being slowly thrown to pieces. As this calf lost his ears bit by bit over a period of days. PHOTO BY NANCY BARKER

FLOYD CO. AG. UPDATE

BY JETT MAJOR COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

This week I received my first copy of the Floyd-Crosby Pest Management Newsletter written by our new county entomologist, Dale Spurgeon. Dale will be sending out this weekly newsletter to all interested producers and agribusinesses in the county. All those that would like to get on Dale's newsletter mailing list should leave their name and address at the Floyd County Extension Office (983-2806).

The Floyd-Crosby Pest Management Newsletter will be written in the same format as Jim Leser and Pat Morrison's weekly newsletter, "Focus on Entomology", which many Floyd County producers already receive. However, Dale's newsletter should be much more specific about Floyd County conditions since he is actively checking acreage in the county at least 2-3 days each week. Dale is always available to answer any questions or make any visits concerning insect problems that producers or homeowners might have. His office number in Crosbyton is 675-2426.

The following information concerning insect activity in corn and sunflowers was written by Pat Morrison and Dale Spurgeon, respectively.

CORN
 Some first generation Southwestern corn borers are beginning to pupate in the stalk. The pupal stage normally lasts about ten days. The initial second generation adults should begin emerging in 18-20th, but don't use this as a calendar spray date! The moths still have to mate, lay eggs, and the eggs hatch. All of this will take an additional 4-6 days. Scout fields and make management decisions based on thresholds in the enclosed Southwestern corn borer information sheet. Last year, Ambush, Pounce, and Pydrin received a Section 18 registration for use in field corn for corn borer control. However, this registration has not presently been granted by the Texas Department of Agriculture for 1982. Pydrin is federal-labeled for use in corn in 1982, but has a 60 day pre-harvest interval.

The wet weather (or something) is keeping the spider mite populations down. No real problems at this time. Western corn rootworm adults are the insects of primary concern in corn at this time. These beetles emerge from the soil where the larvae fed on corn roots in May and June. Adults feed on leaves, pollen, and silks. If adults number about 5-8 per plant, silk feeding and pruning can result in significant reduction of pollination. When adults keep the silks chewed back to within 1/2 inch of the shuck, the application of an insecticide may be warranted. Suggested insecticides include diazinon, malathion, methyl parathion, and Sevin.

The life cycle of this pest is unusual in that it has only one generation per year and feeds only on corn. Western corn rootworms overwinter as eggs in the soil and larvae hatching in the spring must find a corn root to feed upon or they die. Fields with corn following corn, therefore, are the ones which develop rootworm problems. If corn is followed by any other crop, the larvae hatching in the spring are "suicidal". Rotation affords the best control. Corn fields which average one or more adult beetles per plant this summer should be rotated next spring. If rotation is not possible, the application of an insecticide at planting next spring is suggested when this level of adult beetles is reached.

SUNFLOWER
 Any fields of sunflowers which are blooming should be checked for sunflower head moth. Many fields have already been treated, and moth numbers still seem to be high. The moth is small (about 1/4 inch long) and light brown to silvery in color.

Early in the morning and when the air is calm they may be observed on the heads of sunflowers. Later in the day they will be lower in the plant canopy and will usually fly when approached. They are most easily detected when on the head, but with some practice they can be detected when they are lower on the plants.

Sunflower fields should be treated when 20% of the heads are open and moths are present in the field. Several (2 or 3) treatments may be needed at 5 to 7 day intervals if moths continue to be found before 80% or more of the heads have pollinated to a point where a quarter sized circle in the center of the head is left unpollinated.

If you are forced to treat for sunflower head moth, be sure to time your insecticide application so as to minimize the impact of the treatment on your pollinators (bees, etc.)

Leathercraft workshop to be offered July 30th

All Floyd County youth ages 9-19 are invited to attend a Leathercraft workshop. This workshop will be Friday, July 30 at the Ag. Bldg. in Floydada beginning at 10:00 a.m. and concluding around 4:00 p.m. Everyone should bring a sack lunch.

In order to prepare for the workshop, we need to know what item each of you would like to make. Approximate cost are as follows:

Boy's Billfold	$9.25
Girl's Billfold	9.25
Initial Belt Buckle	5.25
Snuff Can Caddy	5.25
Cosmetic Bag	5.75
Knife Sheath	3.00
Coaster Set	5.25

A beginners kit, which includes a complete set of tools and supplies to make a billfold, a keycase, and a set of coasters will be available for $25. This is a good buy for anyone who thinks that they will want to make more leathercraft items on their own, but you do NOT have to have this kit to participate in the workshop.

Harold Arnett of Lubbock will be the instructor for this session. Weldon Fannon of Floydada has agreed to follow-up by teaching a class later for those who attend this workshop and want to do a more advanced leathercraft project.

If you want to attend the Leathercraft Workshop, please call the Extension Office (983-2806) and preregister for what you want to make.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serves all people regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin.

CAPITOL FACTS

SO FAR THIS YEAR, CONGRESS HAS INTRODUCED 22 MAJOR BILLS TO HELP THE SMALL FARMER WHO IS RAPIDLY BECOMING AN ENDANGERED SPECIES. THE REASON?...

50 YEARS AGO, AS MANY AS 6.5 MILLION FARMS DOTTED THE MAP--EACH ONE AVERAGING 145 ACRES. TODAY THAT NUMBER HAS DWINDLED TO 2.3 MILLION FARMS, EACH AVERAGING AS MUCH AS 450 ACRES.

THE NATIONAL FIGURE FOR FARM INCOME WAS AS HIGH AS $33.3 BILLION IN 1973. TODAY THAT FIGURE HAS BEEN ESTIMATED TO BE LESS THAN $15 BILLION.

IN FISCAL YEAR 1982 ALONE, A TOTAL OF 351 FARMERS HAD TO FORECLOSE, 323 FILED FOR BANKRUPTCY, AND 1,814 FARMERS HAD TO LIQUIDATE THEIR ASSETS IN ORDER TO PAY OFF THEIR LOANS.

Emergency seminar set
The assessment, management, stabilization and transfer of patients with burns will be the topic of the fourth in a series of emergency care workshops offered by the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education Program.

"Initial Management of Burn Emergencies" will be offered August 5 in Crosbyton at the Citizens National Bank, August 6 in Denver City at the Yoakum County Hospital and August 7 in Amherst at the South Plains Hospital Clinic.

Participants in the course may earn 0.6 continuing education units through the Texas Tech University Health Sciences Center School of Nursing Continuing Nursing Education Program. The program is accredited by the Western Regional Accrediting Committee of the American Nurses' Association as a provider for continuing education in nursing. The course also has been submitted to the Texas CEARP program for recognition points.

The final course in the emergency care series will be "Review of Essential Skills and Techniques for Emergency Care."

For registration and course information, contact the Continuing Nursing Education Program at (806) 743-2734.

Services for Mrs. Williams were held at 2:00 p.m. in the First Baptist Church with Dr. Joe Temple and Tim Teepel, both of Abilene, officiating. Burial was in the Crosbyton Cemetery. She was a member and founder of the Undenominational Bible Church in Swinny. She is survived by one son, Lloyd Estes of Spur; two daughters, Gail Bible of Crosbyton and Diana Garza of Swinny; her mother, Cora Bassett of Crosbyton; a brother, Roger Bassett of Shreveport, Louisiana; two sisters, Lois Carpenter of Crosbyton and Betty Newton of Simi Valley, California; and seven grandchildren.

Tomorrow will be a better day if we begin this morning to improve it.

REMEMBER your loved ones with a living memorial to the Caprock Hospital Auxiliary Memorial Fund. Mrs. Ben Whitaker, Treasurer.

QUICK QUIZ

If you're driven about good economy, here's a quick quiz about cars that may help.

1. Last year how many diesel cars were sold in the United States? (a) 5,000 (b) 50,000 (c) more than 500,000
2. Some diesel half-ton pick-up trucks have a range between fill ups of (a) 840 miles (b) 540 miles (c) 340 miles?
3. Japan's first diesel powered passenger car was produced in (a) 1951 (b) 1961 (c) 1971?

ANSWERS: 1. (c) In 1981 a record 520,788 diesel cars were sold in this country. 2. (a) One diesel, a long-based pick-up truck, over 840 miles between fill ups. It's made by Japan's Isuzu. That company has an ad in the May Readers Digest which tells you more about diesels. You can get more information at an Isuzu dealer.

South Plains News

BY MRS. MURRY JULIAN
South Plains, July 19:
Farmers are busy in fields irrigating these days. From all the rains we have had, it does not seem possible that it is time to water, buy soybeans, seed maize and other crops are beginning to suffer. The gardens are not as good as in former years, but there are green beans, and other vegetables ready.
Mrs. Fanny Bell McClure, came out and spent from Wednesday through Saturday here at the McClure home, and her granddaughter, Mrs. D. Ann Cypert and her girls, Jennifer and Lindsey from Kress were here with Mrs. McClure.
Johnny Powell from Perryton who has been in the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock following surgery last week, was dismissed Thursday, and is able to go back to his home in Perryton, and getting along well.
We are glad to hear that Mrs. Ernest Smitherman (Ruth) is feeling better since she fell and hurt her hip on June 21.
Mrs. Letha Mulder went to Amarillo on Friday and stayed until Sunday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Taylor and children and accompanying her to Amarillo were her other granddaughters, Cindy and Penny Mulder from here. The girls had a great time with their cousins enjoying swimming and other activities.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton have another great grandson born to their granddaughter, Shelli and Buddy Camp of Lubbock. The baby boy was born June 21, he weighed 6 lbs. 9 oz. was 20 inches long, and has been named Marshall Ryan. Shelli and husband have a little girl, Mandy, who is two years old. Congratulations to them and to the Uptons.
Mrs. Robby Lutrick and her little twin daughters, Tobi and Tessa, from Hereford, are here staying several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stewart while her husband Robby is employed in Oklahoma at this time.
Mrs. Louzilla Nichols went to Sweetwater with her children, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Whitfil on Saturday. They had come up on a business trip, and Mrs. Nichols accompanied them back home.

She will be home on Tuesday or Wednesday of this week.
The grandchildren of Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, Shea and Brent Higginbotham visited here with their grandmother week before last week, and attended church services at the Baptist Church with her.
Keith Marricle of Floydada was a visitor at the South Plains Baptist Church in the Sunday morning services.
Pony Banda of South Plains has had back trouble and is in traction at the Methodist Hospital in Lubbock, and probably is able to be home this week.
We saw that Victoria Cummings, three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kelvin and Jolene Cummings was the lucky recipient of the afghan given at Old Settlers Day in Floydada, and this was donated by the American Cancer Society. Ken also won a prize at Old Settlers Day for his Wild Flower selection at Old Settlers Day.
Mrs. Mildred Hamm and her daughter, Mrs. Annelda Staples and children Bill, Stacey and Kevin went to Amarillo last Sunday to take a picnic and have dinner and supper at Thompson Park in Amarillo. They were joined by Mrs. Jeaneva Huff and Duane. The children enjoyed the animals, and the park, while Mrs. Hamm and her daughters visited.

Three sisters, Mrs. W.S. Simmons of Vera, Mrs. Sylvie Kinnibrugh of South Plains, and Mrs. Ray Dillard of Lockney left early Friday morning for Odessa, to spend the weekend with another sister and family, Mrs. W.S. Smith of Odessa. Mrs. Ted Horna (Marilyn) and Latham Dickens of Plainview accompanied them to Odessa where they all visited together until Sunday afternoon.
The home of Mrs. Harold Hamm (Mildred) was the setting for a baby shower honoring Mrs. Katy Taylor Pierce and baby Hillary Suzanne on Saturday morning, July 17, from 10-11:30 a.m. Mrs. Pierce lives in Lubbock and they came for the event Saturday morning. Hostesses for the shower were Mrs. Ruby Higginbotham, Kendall Cummings, E.J. Kinslow, Fred Marble, L.N. Johnson, Imogene Stansell, Leighton Teeple, Dwight Teeple, E.P. Pritchett, Mamie Wood, Shelby Calahan, Letha Mulder, Nathan Mulder, John Wilson, Grigsby Milton, J.H. Parks, Sterling Cummings, and hostess Harold Hamm. Their gift was a car seat.
The serving table was laid with a white linen cloth, and centered with a pink and blue carnation arrangement. Pink and blue candles were used, and coffee, spiced tea and cookies were served the guests. Many relatives and friends attended.
Services for Mrs. Ernestine Craig, 81, of Hale Center, was held at 2:00 p.m. this Monday at the Hale Center First Baptist Church with the Rev. Ron Mooney officiating. Plainview Memorial Park was the place for the burial. Mrs. Craig had died Saturday in Hale Center at the High Plains Hospital after a long illness. We extend our sympathy especially to her son, Karl Craig and Bonnie of Lubbock and all the family, and to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Upton here. Karl Craig is their son-in-law.
The wedding reception for Miss Atha Blake and Sheldon Sue, of Floydada, will be held on Saturday, the thirty-first of July at the South Plains Baptist Church in South Plains, at three-thirty in the afternoon. A reception follows the wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. Kendis Julian, Mitzi and Tim spent the weekend in Roscoe with his brother and family, Leona and Terry Julian and Dickie. Mitzi remained to spend a few days in Roscoe with her aunt and family.

"My Dog Has Fleas?!"

The summer of 1982 may be the worst year yet for fleas in Texas - and dog and cat owners need to be aware of some safe, effective steps that can be taken to help control these irksome parasites.
"Dipping or spraying your pet is not enough. Treating the premises, your house and yard, and keeping your pet within the area that has been treated, are just as important," said Dr. Fred Soifer, president of the Texas Veterinary Medical Association (TVMA).
While dogs and cats are the main hosts for these parasites, fleas actually spend most of their lifespan off of the pet. So treatment of the premises is necessary, advises Soifer, a companion animal practitioner from Houston.
Three major reasons for the especially heavy infestation of fleas this year are the weather, a mild winter followed by a rainy spring and hot, humid summer. Products that had been safe and effective for killing fleas no longer seem to do the job - the fleas develop a resistance to some formerly effective pesticides. Population increases have added to the problem.
Scratching is the first obvious signal your pet has fleas. Pet owners should also watch for skin inflammation or bald spots. The fleas' saliva can cause a severe allergic reaction, resulting in extreme itching, scratching and chewing of the skin that may persist for up to two weeks after the death of the fleas. Fleas are carriers of tapeworms, and many animals with flea infestations will have tapeworms.

Kittens, puppies and small dogs are more easily made anemic because of their size. These small animals may become so anemic that they require a blood transfusion when the heavy flea infestation is coupled with hookworm disease.
Flea collars are not enough, and in some cases if not used properly are more harmful to pets than helpful. "Don't forget the improper use of flea and tick products can kill animals, so read the product label carefully," Soifer said.
The best method for controlling fleas varies from one part of the state to the other, and proper flea control measures differ from animal to animal. It is advisable to contact your veterinarian for individual flea control measures for your pet and premises.
In the home, foggers that kill not only the adult but the larvae as well are available. Yards must be treated with a pesticide, preferably the granular form. A commercial pest control individual may also be consulted.
Veterinarians in some parts of Texas are prescribing a systemic insecticide - a liquid or tablet that is given by mouth and absorbed by the system. This is no panacea, said Soifer. The systemic insecticide is not effective unless the premises are controlled and is not effective on animals that are flea-bite sensitive.
"The key to flea control is still regular treatment of the pet and premises," reminds Soifer.

AIRMAN EDUARDO MUNIZ JR.

Muniz completes training

Airman Eduardo Muniz Jr., son of Eduardo and Mary L. Muniz of Floydada, has completed Air Force basic training at Lackland Air Force Base, Texas.
The airman, who is remaining at Lackland for specialized training in the security police field, studied the Air Force mission, organization and customs and received special instruction in human relations.
Completion of this training earned the individual credits toward an associate degree in applied science through the Community College of the Air Force.
He is a 1976 graduate of Floydada High School.

Lp-gas emergency rules adopted

The Railroad Commission adopted emergency rules to insure that vehicles converted to use lp-gas as fuel are safe. Existing rules regulating conversions were repealed. The new rules go into effect immediately.
The popularity of lp-gas vehicles has increased the number of conversions taking place in Texas. Technological advances in the lp-gas industry made existing rules inadequate to protect the public, according to Hugh Keepers, director of the Liquefied Petroleum Gas Division. Twenty-four independent school districts, for instance, converted their school buses to lp-gas before the emergency rules were adopted. Existing rules did not take school bus conversions into consideration.

According to Keepers, the new rules equal or exceed standards set by the National Fire Protection Association. In many cases the new minimum standards for equipment are higher than standards under the old rules.

Emergency rules are effective for 120 days. During that time, the Commission will publish the rules in the Texas Register for public comment so that they can be considered for permanent adoption.

COMMANDER WALTER S. SIMMONS

Simmons named commanding officer

Commander Walter S. Simmons of Rockville, Maryland, has been named commanding officer of the hydrographic survey ship Peirce, the National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration has announced.
The 163-foot Peirce, designed and outfitted for hydrographic surveys involving nautical charting, operates off the U.S. Atlantic coast, in the Gulf of Mexico, the Great Lakes, and the U.S. Caribbean island territorial waters. She carries 41 officers and crew, and is currently working on a 4-month hydrography survey of Lake Superior.
Simmons joined the commissioned corps of the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey, predecessor to NOAA's National Ocean Survey, in 1964. Prior to his new assignment as commanding officer, Simmons served as chief of the National Ocean Survey's Photogrammetry Division in Rockville, Maryland. He also served as operations officer on the NOAA ship Researcher, as Chief, Special Geodetic Party at the Pacific Missile Range, and on the Geodetic Survey ship Peirce. Awards granted by the Department of Commerce include two Karo awards for the Seaward Boundary Survey Harbor Estuarine Survey, and the GATE unit citation for response to the 'peche Bay oil spill.

Simmons, a native of Texas, received a bachelor of science in civil engineering at Texas A&M University in 1964, and a master's degree in administration from Washington University in 1968. Simmons is married to Barbara J. Huckabay of the couple and their son, Curtis, reside in Rockville, Md. Simmons' mother, Curtis' mother-in-law, and his sister, Mrs. Preston, reside in Lamar

VA Benefits

The Veterans Administration is seeking seriously disabled veterans in the Texas-Gulf states area and elsewhere to participate in a new program of independent-living services.
Special outreach efforts are under way in Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi to explain the new benefit program. Independent living is designed to increase a severely disabled veteran's ability to function more independently in the family or community environment with a reduced level of services from others.
The pilot program will continue through fiscal 1985. For up to two years an eligible service-disabled veteran may receive a wide range of independent living services.
Veterans needing more information about independent living services should contact the Vocational Rehabilitation and Counseling Officer at the Waco, Houston, New Orleans or Jackson VA Regional Office.
