Rabies case confirmed After local man is bitten

BY WES BROWN
A case of rabies has been confirmed in Floyd County. Dr. Charles Overstreet, DVM, of the area of the 300 block of Austin Tuesday that a cat resident has been positively identified as having rabies. The incident occurred on the 300 block of Austin Street. The bite victim will receive rabies inoculation series. This is the first positive identification of a rabid animal in Floyd County. Also this is the first case to have the inoculations of a positive identification. The cat identified as rabid was not vaccinated, but was not found to date. The cat is in the area need to be kept away from people. We haven't seen as many cats this year as last year. Dr. Overstreet said. It is the responsibility of the owners to keep their cats vaccinated.

imaginary objects, wanders, and becomes irritable).

Dumb rabies is potentially more dangerous because many people will try to open the animal's mouth thinking the animal has something in its mouth or throat. Then the animal's saliva gets into the cut or scratch spreading the disease. Never stick your hand into such an animal's mouth!

The animal will quit eating or develop a depraved appetite. Stiffness may develop in the hind legs. The animal may wander until exhausted.

A rabid animal will have a personality change. A timid animal will become brave and friendly. A normally friendly animal will be surly and timid. A rabid animal will often leave home and wander until exhausted.

Skunks, foxes and bats often have the disease. Never try to pick up or handle a friendly wild animal.

Responsibilities

1. Protect your pet regularly through vaccinations against the disease.
2. Support education and vaccination programs in your community to stamp out the disease.
3. Support your local rabies control program by controlling stray animals.
4. Don't make pets out of wild animals.

5. Seek the advice of your doctor or veterinarian regarding your questions about rabies in man and animals.
6. Don't "frighten" young children, but it is important they know to immediately tell their parent, guardian or other adult authority if they are bitten by an animal.

Precautions

1. Children should tell their parent or other adult authority (teacher, policeman, etc.) if they are bitten by animals.
2. Never handle or play with a wild animal or strange cat or dog.
3. If bitten by a strange animal remember:
 - if it had a collar and tag
 - the size, breed and color
 - the direction the animal went

What To Do When Bitten

1. Wash wound with running water and soap to remove the animal's saliva.
2. See your doctor at once to have the wound cleaned and receive other treatment.
3. Report to the local health department so that the animal may be located and observed for the specified time. DO NOT KILL THE ANIMAL!

MMWA discusses proposed budget

The Mackenzie Municipal Water Authority board discussed the proposed budget for 1982-83 July 22. One point discussed was the amount budgeted for electricity.

Last year $4,800 was budgeted for electricity, however, the contract with Southwestern Public Service will expire this year. The board speculated the electricity rates will go up by as much as 50 percent. Alternate means of electrical power sources of electricity were discussed.

Also the tax money is not used for the recreation aspect of the lake was discussed. All recreation expenses (i.e. picnic tables, boat ramps, etc.) must come from the recreation fee collected at the lake.

A directors meeting to vote on a tax rate will be August 5 at 7 p.m. at the Lake Office on the north side of the lake.

THE LUCIE D. STEPHENS Number 1-A well, located 15 miles southwest of Floydada, four miles southwest of Dougherty on property owned by Fred Zimmerman.

Oil deposits found in county

Joe Loftis, president of Strata Reserves, Inc., announced that the presence of oil at the Lucie D. Stephens Number 1-A well has been found. The well is located 15 miles southeast of Floydada, four miles southwest of Dougherty on property owned by Fred Zimmerman III.

"Apparently we have confirmed the presence of oil in the NRM field. Our seismic indicated a fault-trap type mechanism of oil deposition which we believe occurs in other areas of the Palo Duro Basin. We hope that this will encourage other companies to explore this county and the remainder of this unexplored basin," said Loftis.

A fault-trap type mechanism is when a major shift of underground strata creates a seal against the migration of hydrocarbons. The deposition against the faults creates a trap of oil.

Once it is determined where these traps are, then they are drilled into. These types of oil deposits are harder to locate than other formations because seismic crossplots are necessary. This formation could exist for natural gas at greater depths.

The well was drilled to a total depth of 9825 feet in 61 days with no major problems. Production tests for the well should start in 10-20 days. According to Loftis the logs on the samples look good now.

Loftis said that they appreciate the local people's attitude. They have been received well and have had a lot of local support.

Visitors are not allowed at the well site. Results will be reported as they become available.

PAUL HOBBY

Hobby campaigns in Floyd County

Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby has not had a substantial opponent in 10 years. He has a sound record on which to run for re-election.

Paul Hobby, son of Lt. Governor Bill Hobby, made these points July 22 in a press conference with the editors of The Floyd County Hesperian and The Lockney Beacon during a campaign for his father.

Lt. Gov. Hobby wouldn't make a political issue of current state situations such as the trouble Texas farmers are having. He feels that he can serve better as lieutenant governor than governor. He feels he is in a position of impact for the state.

Lt. Gov. Hobby proposed no new taxes or corporate state taxes. "Texas wants a businessman running the state. Texas should be a model for other states about spending money," said the younger Hobby.

In a related address to the Plainview Lion's Club, Paul Hobby said that the legislation to create a water trust fund defeated in 1981 was a "response but not an answer" to the state's water problems.

"This was not an issue of west against east Texas," Hobby said. It was vague in wording and it was not clear what it would do if ratified. It committed funds in a reckless manner."

Lt. Gov. Hobby is running for re-election against former Republican secretary George Strake. The younger Hobby felt that this is the first "substantial" opponent that his father has had in ten years of office. He noted that his father has been lieutenant governor for ten years with a sound record to run on.

The main campaign issue is taxes, he said, also re-emphasizing the fact that there has been no new taxes while his father has been in office.

Bill Hobby is chairman of the Legislative Budget Board. It drafts the state's biennial budget. Also he is a member of the Texas Legislative Council which researches legislation.

CRIME CALL

After about a three month absence, a daytime residential burglary has once again hit Floydada. Between the hours of 1:30 p.m. and 4:20 p.m. on Wednesday, July 14, a residence at 1110 South 4th Street, Floydada, was entered by forcing open the rear door. Authorities state that a residence at 127 J.B. Avenue had similar marks on its rear door (indicating the same type of tool was used in an attempt to gain entry at that location.)

The burglary and the attempted break-in are the Crime Call Spotlight Crime of the Week, for which a $200.00 reward is offered for information leading authorities to the person or persons responsible. Anyone with such information is urged to call Crime Call at 983-5200. In the Lockney area, the number to call is 652-2416. Callers do not have to reveal their identity, but if they do identify themselves and are willing to testify in connection with the case, an additional reward will be made.

Stolen in the 4th Street burglary included the following: 5-inch "Panasonic" black and white portable television; a Federal Land Bank "tote bag"; one set of power stereo headphones; Minolta Series E 35-mm camera; and several "Atari" game tapes. Total loss was estimated at $506.00. A witness in the neighborhood observed a stranger knocking on the front door of the 4th Street address at about the time the burglary occurred, and was able to furnish the following brief description: Hispanic male, 17 to 23 years of age, 5'7" in height, and approximately 135-140 lbs.

A yard burglary took place this past week. A white statue of a boy pouring water was taken from a residence at 815 Mississippi. The residents are offering a $25 reward. Crime Call offers an additional $25 for information leading to the arrest of the perpetrator.

Anyone with information regarding the burglary or the stranger is urged to call Crime Call at 983-5200. Crime Call is supported by private funding and contributions may be made to the National Bank of Lockney, National Bank of Lockney, P.O. Box 100, Floydada, Texas 79235. Citizens are urged to call Crime Call for all unsolved major crimes in Floyd County.

VA News

The Veterans Administration is warning residents to beware of persons making telephone calls to solicit contributions to support VA activities.

The VA has reports of solicitors elsewhere allegedly stating the contributions are needed because of federal budget cutbacks. They further state that a representative will stop by the home to pick up the contribution, said the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

The VA isn't involved in any such solicitation activity, he stressed. VA regulations state: "Officials and employees of the VA will not solicit contributions from the public nor will they authorize the use of their names, the name of the administrator, or the name of the VA by any individual or organization in any campaign or drive for money or articles for the purpose of making a donation to the VA."

Those who receive Veterans Administration checks should report a change of address as soon as it is known.

Recurring monthly payments are issued on the first of each month, so changes should be reported by the middle of the preceding month to insure timely delivery, advised the Director, Waco VA Regional Office.

The VA accepts changes of address over the telephone if the caller is the person named in the payment.

For additional information, assistance, or to report an address change, call the Waco VA Regional Office on the toll-free number listed in your telephone directory.

Letter to the Editor

Dear Editor:
I wanted to take just a moment from what is a very busy campaign schedule to thank you and the people of Floydada for the gracious welcome that you extended to my wife, Cynthia, and me on our recent visit to your town.

Nothing is more important to our campaign than the time that we have spent visiting the towns and cities of Texas—talking to the people who will be most affected by the elections in November.

I wanted you to know how much I enjoyed the time in Floydada and that I am looking forward to coming back some time in 1983 as your new State Comptroller.

Sincerely,
Mike Richards

The bride and groom both graduated from Cooper High School in Abilene in 1978. The bride attended Texas Tech University and Southwest State University where she received a BBA degree this July. The groom received a BS degree from A&M University in May of this year.

They will honeymoon in Grand Cayman Island in the Caribbean.

They will reside in Cambridge, Massachusetts, where the groom will attend MIT as he works on his doctorate.

Nancy Froh feted with bridal shower Saturday

Nancy Froh, bride-elect of Todd Dipprey of Lubbock, was feted with a bridal shower in the home of Mrs. Lee Jr. Saturday, July 24.

Receiving guests were Mrs. Lee, the honoree, Mrs. Froh, Nancy's mother, and Mrs. Doyle Dipprey, mother of the prospective groom. Kitchen utensils tied with rust and apricot satin were worn as corsages.

Also attending the occasion were Mrs. Daisey Dipprey and Mrs. Velma Harrison, grandmothers of the prospective groom, both of Lockney; and Mrs. Octavia Bailey, grandmother of the bride-elect from Brownwood, Texas.

Tina Graves, sister of the groom-to-be, registered guests from a table holding the bride's book and a picture of Nancy and Todd.

Debbie Simpson of Lubbock and Vonda McLaughlin of Lockney served refreshments from a table highlighted with a formal arrangement of apricot carnations and rust cushion poms in a crystal compote.

Mrs. Rita Webster and Mrs. June Bybee presided in the gift room.

A food processor was presented to Miss Froh by hostesses, Anne Lee, Debbie Galloway, Barbara Ellison, Flora Lea Jack, Suzy Frizzell, Rita Webster, Virginia Byrd, Mary Louise McCarter, Polly Gilbert, Vera Jo Bybee, Zora Reecer, Patsy Ford, Jinnie Sue Turner, Emma Collins, Elvira Muniz, Barbara Cunyus, Barbara Mathis, Claudette Huley, June Bybee, Mary Jean Moore, Mary Sherman and Norma Ragland.

Miss Froh and Mr. Dipprey plan to be married on Saturday, August 7, 1982 at the First United Methodist Church, Comanche, Texas.

Bolding, Mayo united during candlelight wedding in Plainview

Roxanne Bolding and Terry Darrell Mayo were united in marriage Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in a candlelight ceremony performed in Trinity United Methodist Church. Rev. Tommy Ewing, pastor, officiated at the recitation of vows.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Bolding, 1807 W. 19th. She is a 1976 graduate of Plainview High School and is attending South Plains College, Plainview branch. She has been employed by Zale's Jewelry.

Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Mayo of Floydada. He is a 1976 graduate of Floydada High School and is engaged in farming near Floydada.

Guests were registered by Janet Hooks. Vows were exchanged at an altar decorated with an archway trimmed with blue roses and blue bows. It was flanked by a pair of 15-branched spiral candelabra. A unity candle was also featured in the altar decor. Mothers of the bride and groom were escorted to the altar by fathers of the couple to place single lighted candles by the unity candle before being seated in their designated places.

Music for the ceremony was provided by Mrs. Eddie Morton, organist, and Mr. and Mrs. Quinn Conley of Baird, vocalists. Guests were seated by Mark Mayo, brother of the groom and David Hopper.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her father. She chose a formal bridal gown of white chiffon designed with a fitted bodice featuring a Queen Anne neckline, outlined with Venice lace and pearls. The full bishop sleeves were accented with re-embroidered trim. The skirt had three flounce ruffles edged in re-embroidered Chantilly lace and swept into a chapel length train.

To complete her ensemble, the bride wore a white hat adorned with Schiffl lace, sprinkled with pearls. The illusion veil was caught in a blouson effect at the back of the hat and cascaded to floor length. She carried a cascade bouquet of white rosebuds accented with blue silk flowers and trimmed with white and blue picot ribbon atop a white Bible given to her by her parents when she was four years old.

In her bouquet, for something old, she tied the wedding band of her maternal great-grandmother, the late Mrs. Alice Johnson, who wore it from 1888 until 1968. She also tied in her bouquet the ruby engagement ring that belonged to her late maternal grandmother, Mrs. Arthur Johnson of Plainview. Something borrowed were pearl earrings, something new was a pearl necklace from the groom and something blue was the traditional blue garter. She placed a penny minted in the year of their births and a sixpence for luck in her shoe.

Matron of honor was Mrs. Bobby Bolding of Robert Lee, sister-in-law of the bride and bridal attendants were Mrs. Rick Bolding of Wichita Falls, also a sister-in-law of the bride, and Lisa Mayo of Floydada, sister of the bridegroom. They were identically attired in powder blue chiffon over taffeta with off-shoulder ruffle and spaghetti straps. The skirts had a wide ruffle at the hem forming a bustle back. They wore picture hats of blue with blue tulle trim and carried cascades of light blue and royal blue silk flowers.

Flower girls were Deidra Anne Bolding of Colorado Springs, Colorado, and Bree Ann Bolding of Robert Lee, nieces of the bride. Candles were lit by Teresa Collis and Mrs. Rick Holmes of Floydada. They all wore blue dresses styled similar to those of the bridal attendants.

Attending the groom as best man was Brad Bullock. Groomsmen were Rick Holmes and Jeffrey Johnson. Ringbearer was Christopher Mayo, nephew of the bridegroom.

As the bride and groom left the altar, the bride presented her mother with a blue silk rose, and the groom presented his mother with a silk rose. The bride's mother made all of the flowers used in the wedding and reception.

RECEPTION

Following the ceremony a reception was held in fellowship hall of the church. The bride's table was covered with blue and overlaid with a hand crocheted cloth made by the bride's maternal grandmother. It featured a white three-tiered wedding cake with blue trim, topped with three blue satin wedding bells. Appointments were of cut glass.

The groom's table was covered with a beige lace cloth. The chocolate cake had the couple's names and wedding date inscribed. A silver coffee service completed the decorations.

Members of the houseparty were Mrs. James Rapp of Fort Worth, Dorothy Waddell of Amarillo and Mrs. Charles Johnson of Guymon, Oklahoma, aunts of the bride; Mrs. Carroll Johnson, Mrs. Wilcher, Mrs. E.E. Thurman and Mrs. Mark Mayo of Floydada.

The groom's parents were hosts for the rehearsal dinner Friday evening in fellowship hall of Trinity United Methodist Church.

The bridesmaids luncheon was given by Mrs. Carroll Johnson Saturday at noon at K-Bob's Restaurant.

After a wedding trip to Ruidoso, New Mexico, the newlywed couple will reside in Floydada.

The weather has been real hot and dry. We want it to stop raining and then we want it to start again. We are never pleased with the weather. Too much rain or not enough, or it is too hot or too cold. Well, that is enough talk about the weather.

Monday we had ceramics. There were about eight residents who went to paint something of their choice.

Tuesday we had Bible study. We will be studying in Psalms for a while. The residents seem to enjoy that chapter best of all.

Wednesday we played bingo. Vera Duke won one game, Sue Thompson won two games, Emmitt Lawrence won four games, Una Clark won three games, and W.C. Cates won three games.

Thursday we did some decoupage pictures. Friday we saw two movies that were real good. The residents enjoy them, but I think they enjoy the popcorn better than any of it.

The scars of an abused child can stay with us all his life.

Many teenage drug addicts and teenage prostitutes report being abused children. Many juvenile delinquents also report being abused as children.

And because we pay to respond to those problems, we are all victims of child abuse.

Yet child abuse, and the results of abuse, can be prevented. The National Committee for Prevention of Child Abuse is a private, charitable organization that knows how to do it. But we need your help. We need money. We need volunteers. Send us your check today, or write for our booklet.

Because if we don't all start somewhere, we won't get anywhere.

Help us get to the heart of the problem.

FLOYD CO. AG. UPDATE

BY JETT MAJOR COUNTY EXTENSION AGENT

The Floyd County Extension Service will be sponsoring an insect scouting workshop at the Barwise Elevator on Thursday, July 29th, at 8:30 a.m. The majority of the meeting will be held in fields around the Barwise area, so it will be hands-on experience for all those who attend. Dale Spurgeon, County Extension Entomologist, and I will be conducting the workshop and I encourage all producers to attend particularly if they are not familiar with potential insect problems in the replanted crops they are now growing.

Fleahoppers, bollworms and aphids are the main cotton insects that are currently threatening the few thousand acres of cotton left in Floyd County. According to Dale Spurgeon, Floyd County Extension Entomologist, the biggest concern of most growers at this time are the heavy aphid infestations found in some fields in Crosby and Floyd Counties. In most fields, beneficial insect numbers are increasing rapidly and this should be enough - in most years - to control any aphid infestation.

blem in only a few sections of the county. Any fleahoppers chemical control measures initiated this late could bring on a bollworm problem because beneficial insect populations would be affected as well.

According to James Leser, Extension Entomologist from Lubbock, bollworm trap catches indicate that bollworm number in this area should begin to rapidly increase in late July and early August. Leser cautions that with the variety of crops now existing in large acreages in this area due to the loss of most of the cotton crop in June, bollworm numbers and activity is difficult to predict and the mix of crops could drastically change what develops in cotton.

Leser included the following three tables in his last newsletter which might help Floyd County producers make management decisions concerning bollworm control and its feasibility. Foremost on producer's minds after they count up their bollworm numbers is what is the damage potential from this infestation? Table 1 provides data on average fruit consumption by a single bollworm and Table 2 estimates potential yield loss from three levels of bollworm infestations. The range of bolls per pound of lint would represent your earliest (best) bolls set to your latest bolls set. Table 2 assumes that each bollworm completes its entire life cycle.

Table 1. Number of fruit consumed by a single bollworm larvac. 1/

Fruiting Form	Range	Average
Squares	3.8-10	7.6
Blooms	0.6-1.2	0.9

400	25	50	250
450	22	44	220

1/ 1.5 bolls lost per bollworm

Most bollworm management recommendations are based on solid planted cotton and therefore are difficult to relate to on skip row planting patterns. However, even though chemical applied by air will fall on blank land in skip row cotton, it is still possible to determine whether it is economically feasible to control bollworms. Since we can calculate the number of plants per land acre, and hence the number of worms per land acre regardless of planting pattern, we can determine how much can be spent for bollworm control. Table 3 compares three planting patterns and the dollars available to treat the indicated infestation and break even.

Table 3. Effect of planting pattern on bollworm management decisions.

Insect scouting workshop to be held

The Floyd County Extension Service will be conducting an insect scouting workshop at Barwise Elevator on Thursday, July 29, 1982 beginning at 8:30 a.m. and all Floyd County Producers are invited and encouraged to attend this meeting.

Dale Spurgeon, Crosby-Floyd County Extension Entomologist and Jett Major, Floyd County Extension Agent, will be conducting this Turnrow Meeting which is designed to help all producers (particularly those that are now growing crops that they traditionally do not grow - such as soybeans, sunflowers and grain sorghum) become more familiar with insect identification, scouting techniques and control measure that can be utilized in the variety of crops that now exist in the county.

Dale has a strong background working with insect problems in crops, and all producers are invited to take advantage of this opportunity to benefit from his knowledge so that a better awareness of potential insect problems in replanted crops can be obtained.

Brown named new Steiger tractor dealer

Steve Brown, Browns' Implement, Inc., Floydada, Texas, has been named a dealer for Steiger Tractor, Inc.

Browns' Implement, Inc. will now be able to offer a full line-up of high-horsepower, four-wheel-drive tractors to farmers in the Floydada area.

Browns' Implement, Inc. was selected because of its proven commitment to service and sales excellence, according to Steiger district manager John Weaver. "We are very pleased to be able to offer Steiger tractors," Steve Brown, Browns' Implement, Inc., said. "Steiger has built an outstanding reputation for quality among farmers all over the U.S. and over the world for that matter. We expect a lot of interest and inquiries from farmers in the area."

Steiger Tractor, Inc. is headquartered in Fargo, North Dakota.

Bob began working on area ranches at a very early age, and developed a strong love and admiration for the great outdoors and the working cowboy. Keeping In Touch

This is the first of what I intend to be a number of weekly columns from me, discussing various topics of importance to Texans. During the coming weeks, we will discuss such things as President Reagan's "New Federalism" proposal, the need for better laws dealing with drunk drivers, illegal aliens, the education of our children, and a host of other issues that will be on our political agenda.

I believe these columns will provide a unique opportunity to stimulate public discussion on these important issues. Indeed, this may be the only way I have challenged my opponent, Mr. Hobby, to a series of free-wheeling debates on political issues, so both our views could be put before the people of Texas. We met in debate one time in Houston. In the view of all observers, Mr. Hobby lost and he has announced that he will not debate again. So I have chosen this route to try to let you know my position on the issues. I feel you are entitled to know that before you make your decision in the November election. Additionally, I hope you will let me know your views. They are important to me.

The office of Lieutenant Governor is exceedingly powerful in Texas. It affects all our lives. In addition to presiding over the State Senate, the Lt. Governor appoints all Senate committees, their chairmen, and assigns all legislation to the committee of his choice. He presides over the Legislative Budget Board, which significantly shapes state spending. It is an office all Texans ought to be concerned about.

I hope you will watch for this column. Tell your friends and neighbors about it. Discuss the issues. Together, we can make a difference in the political processes, and hopefully improve all our lives. Let me know your views on the issues I discuss in the weeks ahead. Just write me at 1213 W. 34th, Austin, Texas 78705.

Too many small fish at Mackenzie

BY JOE KRAAI
Fisheries Biologist
Parks and Wildlife Department

State Fisheries Biologist with the Parks and Wildlife Department is charged with making recommendations for the management of Northwest Texas waters for fishing recreation. Our study to return the fisherman his lake in a sound biological way. In 1982 we initiated an intensive study of the fisheries resources of Lake Mackenzie to determine what has caused the drastic decline in fishing. Our study includes sampling the population with seines, gill nets, a shocking boat, fish samples, creel surveys, and evaluating the access and health for fishermen at the lake. Completion of our sampling in August of the data collected will be analysed and compiled in a report which will include a 5-year management plan for improving fishing recreation at the lake.

Managing reservoirs is an exacting science starting with the basic fertility of the lake and running through the food supply, the amount and quality of spawning and nursery habitat, the forage fish populations, the panfish populations, the roughfish populations, and the predator fish populations. An understanding of the very complex interactions of all of these factors is necessary to correctly manage a lake to produce better fishing.

Although we have not yet completed this study we have determined what appears to be the most serious problem with the lake's fish population. It is not, as most fishermen believe, an inadequate population of small gamefish but an over-population of these fish. In July we blocked off 3 coves in the lake totaling 3 1/2 acres of water and killed all the fish inside the blocked areas. We individually measured and weighed all the fish which we collected. What we found was that there were approximately 7,500 very small crappie, sunfish, bass, and catfish in the 3 1/2 acres. These fish are all competing for the limited supply of suitable food organisms which Lake Mackenzie produces. As a result growth of these fish has slowed to the point that they are stunted. Very few are growing to a size big enough to be of use to fishermen.

There is a growing push by concerned fishermen to force us to stock more of these fish in the lake. This would compound an already bad situation. We will be analyzing all the data we collect this year through the winter months to try and determine a workable solution to this problem. Our final report and management recommendations will be made public in early 1983.

Once Around The World - Please

David White, far right, is just one of more than 30 intrepid "solo" sailors (including a woman) who will attempt to sail 27,000 miles around the world - alone - in The BOC Challenge, sponsored by The BOC Group, a $3 billion British conglomerate with extensive interests in the United States.

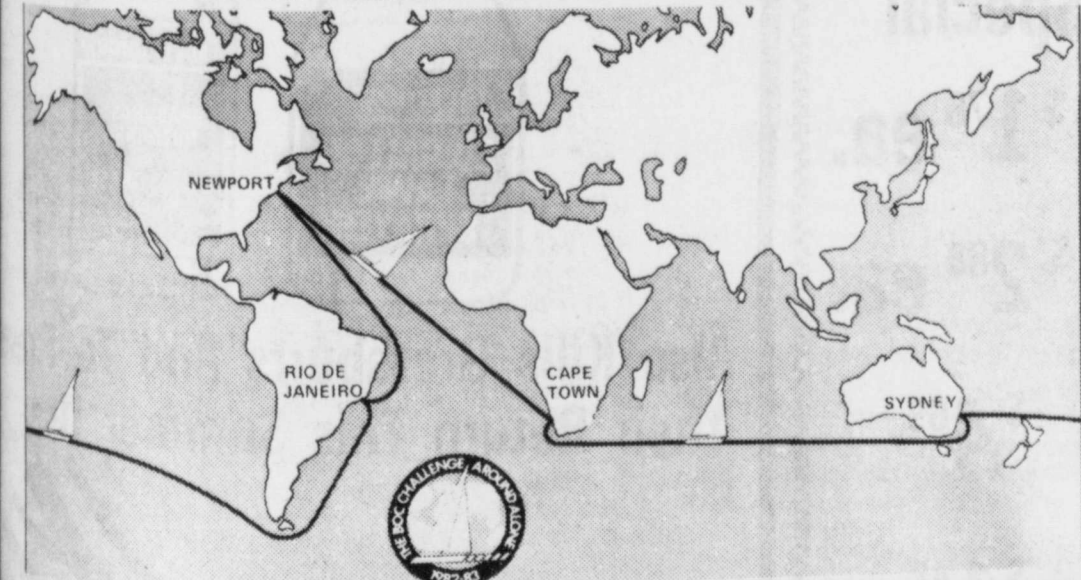

White will get plenty of good advice from race committee chairman Robin Knox-Johnston, left, first man ever to accomplish the feat non-stop (it took him 313 days in 1969). This year's event begins August 28 in Newport, R.I. The winner isn't expected to return until next spring.

Shown center is Richard V. Giordano, chief executive officer of The BOC Group, which will provide $100,000 in trophies and prize money for the winners.

The three gathered recently in Newport for the formal announcement of the first sailboat race around the world to both originate and finish in the United States. The race is expected to command the attention and admiration of the whole world, saluting the spirit of adventure that drives the world's great achievers.

Camping is a seasonless activity and can be fun any time of the year. Here are a few tips to make that get-away-from-it-all weekend a success. Plan the menus in advance: Menus that require minimum utensils, cooking fuel and ingredients, and non-perishable foods that are easily transported.

Let Vegetables Star In Your Next Mealtime Show

Summertime Vegetable Kabobs are the perfect way to use the bounty from your garden.

Take the mealtime limelight away from the meat at least once this season by giving the starring role to a tasty vegetable treat. Summertime Vegetable Kabobs will win over meat-and-potatoes fans and earn a place in their repertoire of favorite foods.

Slim green zucchini, yellow summer squash, mushroom caps and green peppers are skewered and grilled over hot coals until crisply tender. Basting with herb-seasoned melted butter adds an extra-special flavor.

Summertime Vegetable Kabobs are the perfect way to use the bounty of a summer garden in a new and different way!

Summertime Vegetable Kabobs

- 1 med. zucchini, unpeeled, sliced 1/4" (about 24 slices)
- 1 med. yellow summer squash, unpeeled, halved, sliced 1/4" (about 24 slices)
- 12 large mushroom caps
- 2 med. green peppers, cut into 1" pieces (about 24 pieces)
- 1/4 c. LAND O LAKES® Sweet Cream Butter, melted
- 1/2 tsp. Italian herb seasoning* Salt

Prepare coals in outdoor grill. Alternate vegetables on four 10" barbecue skewers. Stir together butter and Italian herb seasoning. Place kabobs directly on grill rack. To prevent flames from flaring, place drip pan beneath kabobs to catch drippings. Cover; grill over low coals, turning and brushing with butter occasionally, until vegetables are crisply tender (20 to 25 min.). Salt to taste. YIELD: 4 kabobs.

*1/8 tsp. each oregano leaves, marjoram leaves and basil leaves and 1/16 tsp. rubbed sage can be substituted for 1/2 tsp. Italian herb seasoning.

CANCER ANSWER LINE American Cancer Society M. D. Anderson Hospital and Tumor Institute

Question: "What is smoker's tongue? Is it cancer?"

ANSWERline: "Smoker's tongue" is a disease common among smokers. Its correct name is leukoplakia. This can become cancerous if continuously irritated by tobacco smoke, illfitting dentures, or jagged teeth. Leukoplakia appears as thickened white patches on the mucous membranes of the lips, gums or other areas of the mouth. It is very important to have your dentist examine this condition and treat it. The condition may be removed with an electric needle or by surgery. This may require either local or general anesthetic.

Question: "Can a mammogram indicate a cancer in my breast?"

ANSWERline: A mammogram is a diagnostic procedure based on the soft tissue of the breast. It does not detect breast masses that a radiologist may indicate whether or not a malignancy is present. The procedure generally is not used by itself, but is combined with a more extensive examination by a breast cancer specialist. The definite diagnosis of breast cancer must finally be confirmed by biopsy of the suspected tissue.

Question: "What is the sound, and how does it relate to cancer?"

ANSWERline: Ultrasonography is a method for locating and measuring tumors in the human body. It works on the sonar principle used by the Navy to track down submarines. Sound waves are sent into the water and when they are stopped by an obstruction such as a tumor, the marine they bounce back. Technicians can read the terms of the echoes in order to identify the target. Similarly, sound waves directed into the body send back echoes which are recorded on an oscilloscope screen which produces a computer picture of the tumor, if it exists.

Question: "Can colon cancer be caused by a soft diet?"

ANSWERline: Although the cause of colorectal cancer, like that of most cancer, is unknown, statistical evidence indicates that dietary patterns do play a key role. Some scientists believe that a diet high in fat or low in fiber content may be a significant causative factor. However, more research is needed to confirm their observations.

We have really had a busy month! The vacation season has hit us and it is nice to get away, but it sure is great to return home. Our volunteers really proved their love while I was on vacation. The activities went on as usual with their help. Our thanks to these lovely people.

Our lucky bingo winners are Jewell Miller, Mary McCracken, Hallie Roberts, Albert Poole, and Mamie Wofford. A special thanks to Clara McCain and Cheryl Bybee for bringing ice cream to the Residents after bingo. Their kindness is appreciated.

We were finally able to start our bus trips again. There were sure alot of smiling faces when they saw the bus coming down the street. These trips are a special treat for the Residents, they love riding around and seeing the scenery.

We were really saddened to hear that Brother Jerry Klein and his lovely wife and sons are leaving Lockney and moving to Amarillo. Brother Klein has taught our Bible Class for about 1 1/2 years and comes every Tuesday morning and holds services. He has really been a good friend and he will be missed.

Protect plants from diseases

BY BENNY J. BUTLER

Fungus and bacterial diseases cause more damage to Texas vegetable crops than any other pests. Plant diseases are difficult to detect before irreversible damage occurs. For this reason, it is a good idea to use preventive spray applications to protect plants during periods of likely infection.

Most fungicides are not toxic to man and animals as insecticides are. However, use extreme caution when applying any fungicide around fish ponds. If fish are in the area, cover the ponds thoroughly before applying.

Although gardeners may not know the technical names of the fungus and bacteria which destroy garden plants, they are painfully aware of the damage. Yellowing and death of tomato and potato foliage from the bottom of the plant occurs during wet, humid weather. This condition can be caused by several fungus leaf spot diseases. Fungicides that control vegetable diseases other than powdery mildew are maneb, zineb, captan, and folpet. Use these at a rate of 1 1/2 tablespoons per gallon of water. Because there are different formulations, read the label thoroughly to insure effective treatments. Begin applications when plants show the first sign of disease and repeat at 7- to 10-day intervals. During periods of high humidity and mild temperatures (75° to 90° F.), apply fungicides every 7 days.

When extreme temperatures (high or low) and low humidity occur, extend the intervals to the longer period; or, in some cases, discontinue until environmental conditions are more favorable for disease development. Because of the various formulations available, always read the label to see that the crops to be treated and specific rates are given. Powdery mildew, another group of diseases, is characterized by white powder on older foliage during hot weather. Members of the cucurbit family (cucumber, cantaloupe and squash) are especially susceptible. Effective compounds for controlling powdery mildew are Karathane R, benomyl and folpet. Folpet is less effective for controlling powdery mildew and fungal leaf spots than other materials.

Bactericides used in the home garden are limited to only a few compounds. Most compounds have a copper base, such as bordeaux mixture and copper oleate.

Read all labels thoroughly to make sure you are getting the correct ingredient and are using it properly.

CHECK THE PESTICIDE LABEL

When buying a pesticide and again before using it, read the label carefully.

A pesticide label contains a considerable amount of useful information. It identifies the pest for which the material is effective. Use the pesticide to control only those pests listed. The rate of material to use also is given. Follow this rate, for if you exceed the recommended rate and problems occur, the company is not responsible. Also, you waste material and stand a chance of polluting an area with a chemical. The pesticide label also lists the interval to use in applying the materials. This varies with materials but generally it is between 3 and 21 days.

How soon can you eat a crop after an application? That information also is found on the label. On many labels special precautions are given such as washing fruit or not spraying past a certain development stage. Follow these warnings closely.

Educational programs conducted by the Texas Agricultural Extension Service serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion or national origin. Laverne Christian and myself would like to thank the Matador Senior Citizens for asking us to speak at their meeting July 13. We appreciate their interest in the Care Center and thank them for serving a lovely lunch.

We lost a very special member of our family this week, Maggie Payne. She was a very lovely lady and will be missed.

Until next time, smile.

Drive Defensively For Safety

Safe driving is synonymous with the term defensive driving. To become a good defensive driver, the Safe Driver Association of America offers the following four tips:

- Drive smoothly and consistently. Don't stop and start with "screaming" tires or go around corners, making your passengers grab frantically for handholds.
 - Talk to other drivers. Communicate with movements of your car, lights, turn signals and horn to signal your intentions, convey warnings or information, or make requests to other drivers.
 - Try to keep a safe distance between you and other drivers in all directions, not just the car ahead of you.
 - Adjust to road and weather conditions that come with every different and unusual driving circumstance, including driving at night, in rain, in snow, in fog and on ice.
- By going on the defensive when driving, your chances for a safe journey are greatly enhanced.

NOTICE OF HEARING
 BEFORE THE TEXAS WATER COMMISSION OF AN APPLICATION TO APPROPRIATE PUBLIC WATERS OF THE STATE OF TEXAS

No. 2528A

Notice is given that MACKENZIE MUNICIPAL WATER AUTHORITY c/o Mr. Donald L. Bookout Attorney at Law 119 N. Maxwell Tulia, Texas 79088, applicant, seeks an amendment to Permit No. 2297 pursuant to §11.122, Texas Water Code, and Rules 156.04.10.001-.002 (31 TAC §§307.21 and 307.22) to authorize a transwatershed diversion to use up to 5200 acre-feet of water authorized to be diverted from Lake Mackenzie, an authorized 46,450 acre-foot capacity reservoir on Tule Creek, tributary of Prairie Dog Town Fork Red River, tributaries of Red River, for municipal and industrial purposes in its service area which includes the cities of Tulia in Swisher County and Silvertown in Briscoe County, Red River Basin (watershed of origin), and the cities of Lockney and Floydada in Floyd County, Brazos River Basin (watershed of delivery). Applicants do not request any change in the rate, period or amount of water to be diverted, and no change other than the transwatershed authorization is requested, all being more fully set out in the application.

Application No. 2528A was accepted for filing on July 19, 1982, and a hearing thereon will be held by the Commission in the Stephen F. Austin State Office Building at 1700 North Congress Avenue in Austin, Texas, on August 26, 1982, at 2 o'clock p.m. Any person who intends to offer prepared testimony at the public hearing shall prefile the testimony with the Chief Clerk of the Commission not less than five days prior to the hearing, and shall serve copies of prepared testimony on the applicant, the Executive Director and Public Interest Advocate of the Department of Water Resources and all other persons who have filed written protests or written requests not less than eight days prior to the hearing. The Commission may authorize the late filing of prepared testimony upon a showing of good cause and extenuating circumstances. Any person who desires to receive prepared testimony shall file a written protest or a written request with the Commission not less than eight days prior to the hearing.

Those opposing the granting of this application may appear at the hearing and/or, not less than eight days before the hearing date, may file written protests with the Commission and serve copies on the applicant with proof of service to be provided to the Commission. Written protests shall contain the name and address of the protestant, an identification of the pending application, the basis of protestant's interest, location of protestant's diversion point (s) or property, if applicable and any amendments or adjustments to the application which would result in a withdrawal of the protest. The written protest will be noted by the Commission but will not be considered as evidence since the right to cross-examine is absent. No protestant will be admitted as a party to the proceeding unless the protestant complies with Commission Rule 155.04.00.001 (31 TAC §267.1) which requires a justiciable interest and actual or representative presence at the hearing. Due to the technical nature of the hearing, it may be advisable for the protestant to have an expert witness, such as an engineer, available at the hearing. Persons desiring further information in connection with this application may contact Gwendolyn Hill Webb, P.O. Box 13087, Capitol Station, Austin, Texas 78711.

Dr. Mike Meyers, director of the Center for Student Development and orientation director, said, "We find that the fewer surprises incoming students encounter at the first of their college careers, the more successful they are. These sessions are designed to eliminate some of the surprises."

In addition to the sessions, the students were treated to a get-acquainted party with other orientation participants.

In conjunction with the freshman orientation sessions, orientation sessions for parents were also held at Sul Ross. Parents of 80 of the incoming freshmen attended.

Area Pest Management Report

BY DALE W. SPURGEON
Extension Agent-Entomology

GENERAL SITUATION

Cotton appears to be responding well to the favorable growing conditions. Most fields are squaring well and at least a few fields are beginning to bloom.

Sorghum fields range greatly in stage of growth from plants less than 6 inches tall to plants with heads emerging.

Most corn is at least silking and many fields are in the blister stage.

Many sunflowers are blooming and should be watched for sunflower head moth.

Soybeans range from seedling to blooming.

COTTON

Fleahoppers do not appear to be moving into most cotton fields and percent square set has improved as new squares have been produced and retained.

A few loopers, yellow-striped armyworms, and bollworms have been found, but these are only individual worms, not infestations.

The biggest concern of most growers at this time are the heavy aphid infestations found in some fields. Due to a lack of solid scientific data concerning the effects of aphids on cotton yields, I am not in a position to recommend treating or not treating. On the bright side, Dr. Jim Leser (Extension Entomologist based in Lubbock) and I, and at least one other Extension Entomologist, have initiated some testing in order to get a better handle on this situation.

In most of the fields I have observed, I would not encourage treatment. For your information, I have listed below a number of factors which should be considered when deciding what plan of action to take.

1) Aphid populations are usually spotty, at least in early stages of infestation. The aphid activity you notice in part of a field may not be representative of what is happening in the entire field.

2) Aphids produce large quantities of honeydew during hot weather. The presence of large quantities of honeydew does not necessarily indicate a very heavy infestation of aphids.

3) In most fields, beneficial insects (primarily lady beetles, lacewing larvae, and syrphid fly larvae) are increasing rapidly. In some cases, large amounts of honeydew are present, but aphid populations are very light. This, combined with large numbers of beneficials (up to 8 or 9 per plant on some plants), suggests to me that the beneficials are taking the aphids out in these cases.

4) When determining the number of aphids present, do not confuse cast skins and aphid mummies with live aphids.

5) Honeydew itself does not harm the plant. Honeydew is little more than sugar water. Probably the greatest hazard it presents is if sand or dirt is blown and sticks to the honeydew. The dirt may block light from the leaves, reducing their capacity to produce food.

6) If you treat for aphids, you may be creating favorable conditions for bollworm outbreaks since beneficials may be killed by the treatment or may starve from lack of food.

SORGHUM

Greenbug infestations have remained light in all the fields I have seen although I have heard some fields were treated this week.

I have been called on to look at several fields of seed maize where reddening of leaves in the whorls was occurring. In all cases the plants were infested with corn leaf aphids. I attribute the reddening of leaves to the plants response to corn leaf aphids while under moisture stress. None of these fields had been watered and the plants were showing other signs of moisture stress.

Please keep in mind that besides having different appearances, corn leaf aphids and greenbugs normally occur on different parts of the plants. Corn leaf aphids occur in the whorl and may move out to other leaves when infestations are very heavy. Greenbugs occur on the lower leaves (usually the undersides) and move up the plant as the colonies grow. Rarely can treatment for corn leaf aphids be justified economically. The corn leaf aphids are also responsible for the large numbers of beneficials in these sorghum fields.

Whorl worms (corn earworm and fall armyworm) are being found in many fields, but this is again a situation where treatment cannot be justified.

For those of you who have sorghum which is heading out, it would be wise to consider checking for midge when flowering begins. Although it is early for midge problems, they have had plenty of Johnson grass to build up on, so lets not be taken by surprise!

CORN

Whorl worms are still present in corn, but most of their damage is to the appearance of the plant.

Southwestern corn borer adults should be emerging now but substantial egg lay is not expected for another week or so.

Spider mites are increasing in most fields. These populations should be watched closely because under the present hot and dry weather conditions they could increase very rapidly. Control is justified when mite colonies are found on leaves in the middle 1/3 of the plant before dent stage.

SUNFLOWERS

Continue to watch for sunflower head moths in blooming sunflowers.

SOYBEANS

Although I have not had a chance to check the situation myself, I have heard of several cases where large numbers of bollworms are present in pre-bloom and blooming soybeans.

Soybeans can stand large defoliation losses without showing a yield loss, particularly pre-bloom beans.

If a field is determined to have defoliation in excess of 40% and is in the pre-bloom stage, control may be justified. In blooming beans, 25% defoliation may require treatment.

Conservation tillage helps fight soil erosion

Conservation tillage practices can help Texas farmers fight both soil erosion and the cost-price squeeze.

A survey conducted by the U.S. Department of Agriculture Soil Conservation Service and released this year indicates that soil erosion rates exceed five tons per acre per year on more than five million acres of Texas cropland.

"Farmers are vitally concerned about the problem with erosion because their future and ours depend on the productivity of the soil," said Dr. Ed Colburn, agronomist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University System.

"Many of our farmers are simply trying to survive in the short run and feel they cannot afford using many good conservation practices," he said.

However, they can use conservation tillage practices as a low-cost method to attack soil erosion. Of course, these practices do not come without some demands and risk on the part of the farmer, Colburn pointed out.

The agronomist said there are many degrees of tillage involved in the concept of conservation tillage, reduced tillage and minimum tillage. These all refer to the reduction of trips across fields from those normally used in conventional tillage.

"It may be simply a reduction from 10 tillage trips over the field to six in a season, no seedbed preparation or stale seedbed preparation, or once-over planting with a no-till planter," Colburn said.

Applications accepted for wheat insurance

Wheat growers interested in All-Risk insurance for their 1983 crops should contact their insurance agent as soon as possible, according to F.W. Ted Crouch, Jr., All-Risk Insurance Field Operations Director.

Although the deadline to obtain wheat insurance isn't until September 15, Crouch suggests three reasons why growers should begin making their plans now. First, early consideration will provide additional time to develop a program of insurance coverage that best meets the individual policyholder's needs.

Secondly, it can be useful to farmers to have their insurance arranged before they visit with their lenders about production loans. Insurance helps to

"No-till systems where no seedbed preparation is done or no cultivation is practiced is the most extreme form of conservation tillage," he noted. "This system requires a no-till planter and total substitution of chemicals to control weeds and prevent yield losses."

Reduced tillage or no-till farming may save equipment, time, labor, fuel and money, but the difficulty farmers have with conservation tillage is fitting the best program to the land, crop and weed situation without cutting yields, Colburn said.

"Consequently, the farmer who chooses to go to a conservation tillage system must also choose to increase his crop management effort, including a good knowledge about the effectiveness of various chemicals in each weed control situation," the agronomist emphasized.

The farmer must be able to select a tillage system and the chemical program for the soil, the crop to be grown and weed problems that exist, he said.

"We are encouraging farmers to use every conservation practice available to keep our soils productive," Colburn said. "They need to seek professional help in fitting various practices to the land."

He said that local Soil Conservation Service personnel and county Extension agents can help farmers choose conservation practices and develop a total crop production program that will reduce soil erosion and keep crop yields up.

minimize the uncertainty involved in the year-ahead cash flow projections that many lenders today require.

Third, an early application allows additional time for growers to verify yield records that may enable them to qualify for increased insurance protection.

Crouch points out that the expanded and revised wheat insurance program now in effect provides a variety of ways for producers to tailor their coverage to their needs for insurance protection and to their budgets. For example, policies offer a choice of production guarantees as well as a choice of indemnity payments for each bushel of loss.

The ASCS county office has a list of local private agents who are handling the federally-backed insurance policies.

Exports exceed imports

Based on preliminary numbers, U.S. exports of livestock, meat, and livestock products (excluding poultry) exceeded imports in 1981 by about $307 million. In fact, while imports declined almost $325 million from the 1980 value, U.S. exports grew about $150 million. This marks the first time since 1977 that the United States has experienced a positive balance of trade in the livestock, meat, and livestock products category.

This positive balance occurred during 1981 in spite of a generally stronger U.S. dollar which discouraged exports. Higher U.S. interest rates and general lack of economic vigor, on the other hand, discouraged imports. While meat trade, while remaining a net export, saw a narrowing of the trade gap. Beef, saw an increase in exports, while pork exports declined for the second year. Pork, witnessing a general decline in exports, also experienced a general decline in imports. By-products, poultry meats, continued the trend, adding greatly to the grain, while hides and skins to be a $600 million net

USDA increases classification

The U.S. Department of Agriculture increased the fee it charges producers for cotton classing services from 60 cents to 67 cents per sample. Also, a 5 percent fee increase for a review classification and to rewrite classification memoranda takes effect today.

At the same time, USDA has proposed an increase to cover cotton futures classing, cotton linters grading and related services, and the supervision of cottonseed grading to take effect October 1. The affected services are used mainly by merchants, manufacturers and cottonseed breeders. According to Jesse Moore, a cotton marketing official with USDA's Agricultural Marketing Service, the user fees — initiated last October — have been inadequate to cover the cost of providing these services.

"We set these fees based on limited information and projections such as the size of the potential 1982 crop, the volume and value of loose samples and the level of producer participation," Moore said. "An additional increase could be necessary later in the year," he said.
