IF YOU WATCHED the "Boys of Summer" play their all-star game this week, then you probably were reminded of a pair of major league baseball players who are observing a Golden Anniversary this summer.

Students of baseball, and fans of the sport, often like to argue about what are the greatest accomplishments in major league baseball.

Some think it was the feat by the New York Yankees' "Iron Horse," Lou Gehrig, who played in an amazing 2,130 consecutive games, before being sidelined by a rare disease that now bears his name.

Before Hammerin' Hank Aaron came along, a lot of fans would point to the 714 home runs by another of the game's immortals, Babe Ruth. Now, Aaron's career total of 755 dingers stands as one of those "untouchable" records.

Ask this fan of the national pastime, and he'll quickly tell you that the most amazing accomplishment is the number of strikeouts by Nolan Ryan during his illustrious career (which is still going on). Ryan's strikeouts currently number 5,424, and his record of seven no-hitters also is not likely to ever be approached.

But when it comes to batting records, there are a couple of other records that fans talk about, and it boggles your mind to think that both of these were accomplished in the same year--the summer of 1941.

One of these records was by Joe DiMaggio, who got hits in 56 consecutive games. The other was by another of the baseball "legends," Ted Williams, who batted .406, and is the last player in the major leagues to hit over .400 in a season, which means he averaged getting at least four hits every ten trips to the plate.

One of the neat stories about Williams' feat was the fact that his team, the Boston Red Sox, was playing a double-header on the final day of the season. Williams came to that day batting .402, and the manager could have let him sit out the games, as the stars sometimes, do, to preserve their batting mark.

Instead, Williams insisted on playing not only one, but both games of the double-header. When the day was over, he had socked out six more hits in eight at-bats, and hiked his average up another four points in the process.

"It never occurred to me not to play in those games," Williams said in a TV interview this week. "That would have been shady."

DiMaggio, meanwhile, playing about 100 miles away in Yankee Stadium, had a lot of near-misses in his 56-game hitting streak. Once when it looked like he would go hitless, the team batted around in their last inning and he came to bat one last time and kept the streak going with a hit.

After being robbed of two hits in game number 57, DiMaggio turned around and had a 16-game streak. The amazing streak could have been 73 straight games.

Fans have argued for years as to who was the better player--DiMaggio or Williams. From this point of view, it was just about a "draw," as both men proved themselves in their own ways.

The records they set in 1941 have endured, fairly easily, for the last half-century, and there is a good chance that players will still be shooting at them another 50 years down the road.

One last thing that might be said about the old-time "Boys of Summer," is the fact that those accomplishments were done back when major league baseball was still a sport and not big business. Most of the players in those days would have played whether or not they received a salary.

Take away the big salaries today, and the records would stand for sure, because there wouldn't be many players left who cared to try to break them.

KEVIN COOPER

FHS Names New Boys Cage Coach

Kevin Cooper, head boys basketball coach at Olton High School for the past seven years, was named the head boys basketball coach at Friona High School at a special called meeting of the Friona School Board on Monday, July 1.

Cooper replaces Ted Thomas, who resigned his position to enter private business.

Coach Cooper is a native of Grady, N.M., where he graduated from high school in 1980. While in high school, Cooper played on teams that won two New Mexico state championships.

He received a basketball scholarship to Lubbock Christian University and played college basketball four years, receiving his B.S. degree in 1984. Upon graduation, Cooper was named head boys basketball coach at Olton High School.

Cooper's overall record at Olton High School was 128 wins against 66 losses. The 1986 Olton Mustang team won the first district basketball championship in the school's history and advanced to the regional tournament. Olton also won its district title in 1987.

Superintendent Hal Ratcliff stated "I am very excited about Coach Cooper joining our staff and hope under his leadership the basketball program will continue to improve. I feel his experience and enthusiasm will provide a bright future for our boys' basketball program."

Other changes involving the school's athletic department include:

(1) Paige Cannon has been named head track coach and assistant girls basketball coach at Friona High School. She will be replacing Dee Ann Williams, who has resigned.

Coach Cannon is a graduate of Floydada High School, and is a 1991 graduate of Texas Tech University. She will be teaching physical education. Coach Cannon participated in basketball and track at Floydada and qualified for the regional track meet all four years of her high school career.

(2) Janie Metcalf has been named the girls basketball and track coach at Friona Junior High School. Coach Metcalf graduated from Panhandle High School and is a 1991 graduate of West Texas State University. She will replace Billie Osborn, who asked to be reassigned from coaching.

Coach Metcalf participated in basketball and track at Panhandle High School. She will be teaching seventh grade mathematics.

(3) James Morton has been named assistant football/basketball and head tennis coach at Friona High School. He graduated from Eastland High School and participated in football, basketball, track and tennis. He played college football at Ranger Junior College and WTSU.

Coach Morton will be teaching government at Friona High School. He will be replacing Greg Stockstill in the coaching area, as Stockstill asked to be re-assigned from coaching.

Area Gets Respite From "Hot, Dry"

The Friona area received a respite from a prolonged dry spell on Thursday evening, when showers visited the local area. The official Friona gauge registered .54 inch of rain, and reports from the outlying areas showed less in some places, but up to 1.5 inches in others. The forecast called for more chances of rain for Friday and Saturday.

Eugene Ellis, who lives about six miles east of Hub, said he received 1.5 inches of rain. "We had a strip through here, over toward Billy John Thorn's place that got a good rain. However, we had quite a wind with it and it flattened some of our sweet corn. I don't know if it will straighten back up or not," Ellis said.

O.L. (Mac) McMurtrey at Hub Grain said they received .8 inch at the elevator, just good-falling rain. "This cooler weather will help considerably with the corn's pollination," McMurtrey said.

Mildred (Mrs. Gene) Welch, in the Black community, said they received only a tenth of an inch Thursday night where they live, but a half-inch at another place further east. Randy Thomas at Attebury Grain said the gauge at that elevator registered .2 inch.

This was the first substantial moisture for the month of July, with only .03 inches back on July 3 showing as the other moisture on Friona's official ledger. Most residents are hoping for some more beneficial rainfall before the current system ends.

Local residents joined with those across the area in experiencing about a 65% eclipse of the sun on Thursday. Many residents made pin-hole viewers and were able to see a considerable "chunk" bitten out of the sun by the moon's shape. It is the last major eclipse scheduled in America until the year 2017.

Breast Screening Clinic Is Slated

The Breast Cancer Screening Program of the Don and Sybil Harrington Cancer Center and High Plains Baptist Hospital of Amarillo will continue community outreach clinics for early detection of breast cancer.

Funding is available through the Texas Cancer Council for screening mammography for Texas residents qualifying for financial assistance.

Early detection of breast cancer is the major goal of cancer control for each woman seen in the clinic. The clinic provides low cost screening which includes a breast exam by a Registered Nurse trained in breast cancer detection, teaching of breast self-examination and a mammogram.

Currently, the most effective method known to win the battle against breast cancer is early detection. Early detection is best done by following the guidelines recommended by the American Cancer Society for breast cancer screening for women who have no signs or symptoms of breast cancer.

The guidelines are: (1) Learn and perform breast self-examination every month; (2) Have a physical examination every year; (3) Have a mammogram according to the recommendations by age. Age--35-40, one baseline mammogram; 40-50, a mammogram every 1-2 years; over 50, yearly mammograms.

A clinic will be held in Friona on Wednesday, August 21 from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. at Parmer County Community Hospital. Exams are done by appointment only. For information about the clinic or to make an appointment, please call the Harrington Cancer Center (806) 359-4673, or our toll free number, 1-800-274-HOPE (4673). Locally, for more information, contact Elda Hart at 247-2754.

Farmers Get Aid

High Plains area corn farmers have been granted an exemption to use the pesticide Capture for Banks grass mite control, Carl King, chairman of the Texas Corn Producers Board, said recently.

King said the Texas Department of Agriculture has granted a "crisis exemption" for use of Capture in 21 area counties. Capture is a pesticide which has proven effective in controlling Banks grass mites in corn.

The crisis exemption was requested by TCPB and Dr. Pat Morrison, extension entomologist for the Texas Agricultural

Thank You

One year ago, I moved to Canyon and moved part of my banking there. I never realized how much banks could be different. Friona State Bank has by far the friendliest and caring people there is. I would like to take this time and say "Thank You," employees, from bottom to the top for being such a good bank, and don't change a thing.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Editor:

How is the whole picture being painted in regards to the Pantex expansion?

DOE says that plutonium is not water soluble and is heavy, thus going to the bottom and adhering to the clay. What they are not telling us is that it does not stay in place once it adheres to the clay. Research shows it travels much faster than previously thought and bonds with chloride and fluoride.

Plutonium is prone to spontaneous combustion and so potent that lethal lung doses are measured in the billionth of a gram (microscopic). If plutonium enters the body from a cut or open wound, it travels through the blood stream to the lymph nodes, setting up home. Although plutonium-239 is an "alpha-emitter" and not very penetrating it does have a half-life of 24,000 years. Therefore, a low dosage of plutonium usually has a latency period of ten to thirty years, then death. Have you ever witnessed a cancer victim?

DOE says modern technology and state-of-the-art will take care of all problems. Do you recall the modern state-of-the-art technology of the space shuttle. The Challenger?

The processing and reprocessing of plutonium generates a huge amount of highly radioactive waste. "No problem," DOE says. They have put some of their high-tech state-of-the-art technology to work in the Waste Isolation Pilot Project (WIPP) near Carlsbad, New Mexico. Because salt is falling out of the ceiling and brine is leaching into the facility, the State of New Mexico is fighting against its opening. DOE says they will open the WIPP anyway. If it does open, it will hold only half the waste on hand at the present time and will be full by the year 2013; two years before the Pantex expansion is complete. Does this mean Pantex will become a waste dump much like all the other nuclear weapons facilities?

The United States has 20,000 nuclear weapons on hand; enough to obliterate the world ten times over. Why produce more if the need is not there? If so, Los Alamos National Laboratory and Savannah River have the facilities to process/reprocess plutonium triggers.

I am not a nuclear activist, but am very concerned about where this is leading us. I realize the need to have nuclear weapons as long as other countries are an external threat. My concerns go beyond the economics of today. But can we afford the internal threat to the water we drink, the air we breathe, and the land that feeds us, as well as the world. What are we leaving to our generations of tomorrow?

RIO LOCO, REAL WET....Sea World of Texas guests enjoy a drenching good time on board the Rio Loco river rapids ride, one of the two major water attractions which opened this spring at the world's largest marine life park in San Antonio. Rio Loco and the Texas Splashdown flume ride offer plenty of cool, splashy fun in addition to Sea World's extensive array of marine life education and entertainment. This summer, Sea World guests also can enjoy the park's "Summer Nights" entertainment spectacular presented each evening through August 25. For more Sea World information, call toll free (800) 422-7989, or in the San Antonio area, call (512) 523-3611.

SPLASHDOWN TO FUN AT SEA WORLD....Texas Splashdown, Sea World of Texas' new flume ride, offers plenty of splash thrills along its winding half-mile route, including plunges from elevations as high as five stories. Texas Splashdown is one of two new wild and wet rides at the San Antonio marine life park.

Sea World Of Texas Now Offers New Water Rides

Sea World of Texas' newest family attractions--the Texas Splashdown water flume ride and Rio Loco river rapids ride--are stirring up a whirlpool of excitement among guests this summer at the San Antonio marine life park.

Texas Splashdown and Rio Loco made their wild and wet debuts this spring after almost eight months under construction. Both water-themed attractions are located near Sea World's Games Center in the southern area of the 250-acre show place.

Plans for the rides were announced last fall as part of a multi-million dollar capital improvement project approved by Busch Entertainment Corp. (BEC), one of the Anheuser-Busch Companies and parent company of the Sea World family of theme parks. Installation of rides, a gift shop and restroom facilities mark the first major expansion for Sea World of Texas since opening in April of 1988.

Both rides are included in the regular price of admission to Sea World along with more than 25 shows, exhibits and attractions.

Texas Splashdown is one of the largest rides of its kind in the country. The towering flume ride features four-person boats that negotiate a twisting, turning half-mile route. Along the ride's winding course, passengers encounter a series of watery chutes and two thrilling plunges from elevations as high as five stories.

Interpreted "crazy river," Rio Loco takes a slightly different approach to dousing riders. The 1,800-foot-long river rapids ride sends guests churning down a raging stream in spinning, six-person circular rafts. The rushing flow of white water propels passengers through a sequence of splashy dips and bends as well as a waterfall. Guests must be at least 42" tall to ride Rio Loco.

Both rides use computers to keep the boats and rafts moving in appropriate sequence.

Sea World of Texas is now open daily through Labor Day, September 2, and weekends and holidays in the fall through Thanksgiving weekend. "Summer Nights," the park's summertime spectacular featuring night shows, a parade and a laser light and fireworks display, will be presented each evening until August 25. For more information, call toll free (800) 422-7989 or, in the San Antonio area, (512) 523-3611.

Ex-County Resident Involved In 'TEXAS'

Jean Wilson is in charge of one of the cashier stations at "Texas." She is just finishing as an education major at WTSU, and went there from Friona High School. She has two children and three grandchildren.

Wilson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E.E. Masters of Hale Center. As the show unfolds in the Palo Duro Canyon near Amarillo and Canyon, they will join the company in seeing the show from a different angle, back stage and be part of the continuing movement there.

From back stage, instead of watching the two horsemen ride with their flags along the ledge at the top of the 600 foot cliff facing the audience, the company will be moving to the edge of the stage, coming in from the sides and perhaps running through the eight foot deep concrete channel behind which forms a passageway back stage from side to side, and arriving on stage left with enough breath to surge onto the stage with the others in a great wave of singing and dancing.

There is the motion of the technicians pushing sets on and off, the dugout, the wagons, the buildings of the town at the end. They start the horses with the wagon and the surrey and go quickly to pull open the sides of the buildings in place on the side stages to reveal the Austin scene, the ranch house interiors and the St. Louis scene.

There is the constant motion of costumers carrying quick changes to cubicles at the very edge of the stage, a long ways from the costume shop.

There is the uneasiness of the horses toward the end of the first act when they all face the cliff and watch for the great thunderbolt and lightning flash which cleaves a tree in its streak up the 600 foot cliff.

There are the entrances and exits from the stage, sometimes leisurely and sometimes at a dead run as someone entering on stage left has to run almost a quarter of a mile from the dressing rooms.

There is movement as the eighty cast members respond to more than 120 cues.

There is motion as the technicians climb on the hill before the show to string the primacord to make the lightning bolt and as the conductor climbs to the light and sound booth behind the audience to direct the choruses and the light and sound men take their places to manage the effects of the show. Eighty actors, 15 technicians and six costumers work back stage.

In addition, there is movement at the front of the house. The forty who work there sell the tickets, balance the books, empty the trash, check the rest rooms, lay out the merchandise for the intermission, oversee the house, set out hundreds of Cokes to prepare for the floods of orders during the twenty-minute intermission.

The onstage pattern repeats itself in the second half with different buildings, different costumes and movements and scenes. Finally, the riders and horses for the finale take their places far from the stage, so they can be running full tilt when they ride across it at the end carrying the six flags which have flown over Texas.

There is the turning of the cast on stage to watch the fireworks against the cliff, and the final movement from the stage to the front of the house to say "good-bye" as the audience leaves.

For tickets, write "Texas," Box 268, Canyon, Texas, 79015, or call 806-655-2181. Please make your reservations as far in advance as possible as some nights reserve out very early.

Extension Service in Lubbock.

"This is good news for corn farmers," said King. "This is the third year the corn producers board has requested, and received, a crisis exemption from TDA. We are pleased that our efforts, and those of Dr. Morrison, have once again paid off. Hot, dry weather promotes mite infestations. We are thankful that TDA officials have recognized our needs to have an effective miticide available for Texas corn farmers."

The crisis exemption allows Capture to be used in the following High Plains counties: Castro, Bailey, Parmer, Lamb, Hale, Deaf Smith, Briscoe, Swisher, Floyd, Lubbock, Dallam, Sherman, Hansford, Ochiltree, Hartley, Moore, Hutchinson, Potter, Randall, Carson and Gray counties.

Capture may be applied at a rate of .08 to .1 lb. or 5.12 to 6.4 fl. oz.

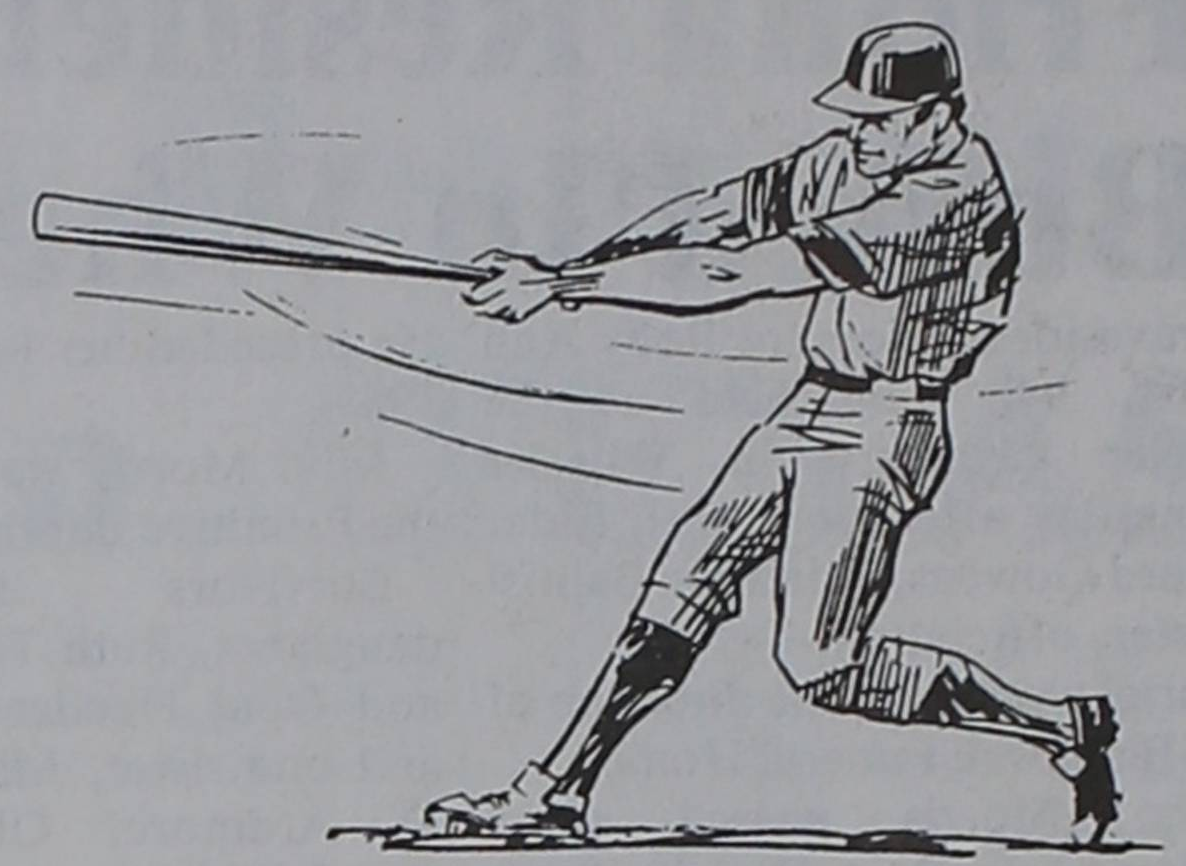

per acre per application, using a minimum spray volume of 2 gallons of water per acre by air and five gallons of water with ground equipment. It may be applied through chemigation or aerial application, according to its label specifications.

Morrison says the crisis exemption limits applications to four per growing season. The exemption also limits total use of Capture to 0.4 lb. or 25.6 fl. oz. per growing season. TDA says Capture may not be used prior to tasseling.

A request for a Sec. 18 temporary use of Capture is on file with the Environmental Protection Agency. However, EPA is issuing a few, if any, Sec. 18s this year, said King. He said TCPB continues to seek a permanent label for Capture.

"With the crisis exemption, farmers should hopefully be able to obtain adequate mite and other insect control this year," he said.

You've Been Great!

Facts About The BIBLE BY JOHN LEHTI

THE AMERICAN INDIAN BIBLE!

QUITE FITTING ENOUGH IS THE FACT THAT THE VERY FIRST BIBLE ACTUALLY PRINTED IN AMERICA WAS WRITTEN IN—NOT ENGLISH—BUT A NATIVE AMERICAN LANGUAGE—ALGONKIAN! THE TIME: 1663, THE PLACE: THE COLONY IN MASSACHUSETTS, AND THE MAN RESPONSIBLE: JOHN ELIOT, CALLED "THE APOSTLE TO THE NORTH AMERICAN INDIANS." ELIOT CAME TO AMERICA FROM ENGLAND IN 1631, WAS MADE TEACHER OF THE CHURCH IN ROXBURY, MASS., AND ORGANIZED THE FIRST VILLAGE OF INDIAN CONVERTS AT NATICK, NEAR BOSTON, IN 1651.

WHETHER THE INDIANS FELT HONORED OR NOT OVER THE FACT THAT THE FIRST BIBLE TO BE PRINTED IN AMERICA WAS DONE IN THEIR LANGUAGE HAS NOT BEEN RECORDED BUT OVER A CENTURY WOULD PASS BEFORE THE FIRST ENGLISH LANGUAGE BIBLE WOULD BE PRINTED IN 1782!

Town Talk

By June Floyd

Call 247-3681 With Your News Items

Pearl Shepherd, who is the caregiver for Charlie Phipps, has been on vacation. While she was gone, three of his daughters, who live out-of-town, spent some time with him at different times. June Collier came from Amarillo; Mary Bandy came from Panhandle and Mildred Williams came from Goodland, Texas.

Other recent out-of-town visitors in the Phipps' home have been Virgil and Wanda Phipps of Brownfield and Kenneth and Geraldine Phipps Ferguson of Bursleson, Texas.

Dale, Jane and Chris Houlette had another frightening experience Saturday night. For the third time since the Houlettes have lived at 804 West Sixth Street, a speeding vehicle failed to make the jog in West Sixth Street and crashed into the house.

The most recent crash was not as damaging as the other two were. The point of impact was where the closet walls are close together, so very little damage was done to either of the bedrooms in which the Houlettes were sleeping. The master bedroom is just north of the damaged closet and Chris sleeps in the southeast bedroom, which is just south of the closet.

Jane reported a tremendous noise, which awakened many of the neighbors as well as her family.

She said, "We soon had the hole covered so cats could not come inside," then continued, "We had a cat in the house when we got up Sunday morning."

Mike and Heidi Johnson of Fort Worth spent the Fourth of July weekend visiting in the home of her maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny W. Hand. Heidi is the daughter of Kirby and Johnnie Hand Williams, who also live in Fort Worth.

Larry Frank and Shirley White Truitt of Houston arrived in Friona Wednesday for a brief visit with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Truitt and Mr. and Mrs. Ray White, before continuing on their journey to Ouray, Colorado, where they planned to spend several days.

The Whites hosted a family get together in their home Thursday evening. Others present, besides the two Truitt families, were Mr. and Mrs. Troy White and daughters, Vacresia, LaTawn and Vanette, Friona; and Rodger and Rhnea Berggren and children, Lynzie, Ross and Kathryn Jhnea and Louise Ferguson, all of Amarillo.

Long time residents remember General Lee Cranfill very well—even though many of them were not aware that the congenial manager of Continental Grain Company for many years was named "General Lee." Most of his acquaintances knew him as "Preach."

Following his death, many friends, fellow townspeople and grain customers all over the area made the remark, "There'll never be another Preach Cranfill."

In the way the statement was made, no one who knew him would have challenged its veracity. Even though the same name has been given to a son and a grandson, neither of them have been called "Preach."

General Lee Cranfill, Jr., who resides at Dumas, is a medical doctor and has always been called "Lee." His youngest son, who is also a doctor and lives in Jonesboro, Arkansas, is General Lee Cranfill III, but he has always been called "Guy."

With the birth of little General Lee Cranfill IV in Jonesboro, July 2, there's going to be another "Preach Cranfill."

Irene McFarland, who is Dr. Guy Cranfill's maternal grandmother, reported his birth and said, "Guy says this one is going to be called 'Preach'."

Dr. Lee and Gay McFarland Cranfill of Dumas are the paternal grandparents.

Ted Wilson of Merkel, Texas, has been a visitor in the home of her sister, Irene McFarland, this week.

Minnie Mae Glasscock, Albuquerque, New Mexico, is visiting in the homes of her sisters, Anna Jo Blackburn and Oneida Allen this week.

On Monday, Minnie Mae and Oneida accompanied a brother, T.E. Coffman of Amarillo, to Rotan for a visit in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W.J. Coffman.

They returned to Friona Tuesday afternoon.

Roy, Carolyn and Paul Trimmell hosted a Johnston family get together in their home in the Rhea community Thursday.

Others present were Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Johnston and David, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Johnston, Lori and Brent, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Ed Kruckleburg and sons, Bryce and Garrett, all of Amarillo. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kanap and Melody, Corpus Christi; Mr. and Mrs. Glen Trimmell, Weatherford, Oklahoma; and Kevin Trimmell and Lori Boyd, Oklahoma City.

Mr. and Mrs. Frankie Allen honored their son, Rodney, with a birthday dinner in their home Saturday. Other guests were Linda Benton, Amarillo; Rodney, Teresa and Conner Allen, Hereford; and Dean and Anna Jo Blackburn, Friona.

What started out as a fun family outing this past weekend turned out to be a near tragedy. Terry and Vickie Copley and Shannon Cochran of Friona and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Broyles of Clovis went to Ute Lake last Saturday and Sunday.

All went well for awhile and everything was fun and games. However, this came to an abrupt halt when the group came to shore in their boat. As they were about to dock, Vickie jumped out of the boat and immediately realized the water she was in was charged with electricity.

Her scream got Terry's immediate attention and he grabbed her by the arm and was able to pull her back into the boat. Her only visible injuries were burns in her mouth and on her lips and a sore arm resulting from Terry rescuing her.

Although she was not breathing when she was lifted in the boat, Vickie began breathing on her own in a few seconds.

Sixty-eight descendants and other members of the family of the late Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Hogue and six friends were present for the annual reunion in the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Cunningham Sunday.

Higher Interest Rates Mean Higher Risk

One investment principle that informed investors have learned to respect is that higher interest rates can mean higher risk. Unfortunately, this lesson is sometimes learned too late.

An example of this principle can be found in high-yield income mutual funds. Although many of these funds still hold excellent corporate bonds that continue to pay high interest, their net asset value (NAV) has typically declined far more than the NAV of their conservative peers. This is due to an overall re-evaluation of high-yield, or "junk," bonds.

Other high-yield funds, trying to squeeze out the last bit of extra income by investing almost entirely in low-quality junk bonds of questionable corporations, have lost not only NAV but also income from poor-quality bonds that are in default.

Neither scenario thrills shareholders, but if the risks of high-yield funds were fully explained before investing, the declines would seem more inevitable than surprising.

Uninformed investors aren't the only ones to have been surprised. Informed investors who purchased high-yield government funds have been surprised when NAV and income dropped. After all, government securities aren't considered junk, so why the drop in NAV? Likewise, government securities always pay interest, so why the drop in income? The culprit has generally been the call options written on the fund's securities. These are agreements that are sold to investors giving them an option to purchase the security at a stated price for a specified period of time.

In order to get maximum income, the fund sells these call options against a portion of the portfolio and passes the premiums, or the money paid by the option buyer, on to shareholders. This offers a total higher income than one could expect from a simple, or unoptioned, government fund. That's the good news.

The bad news is that the optioned portion of the high-yield portfolio must be held in the event the option is exercised. That means those bonds generally cannot be sold. They remain exposed to market declines as interest rates rise. This explains the drop in the value of the fund's shares.

The fund manager is now faced with an income dilemma. With the value of the bonds down, he hesitates to write new call options against them. If interest rates reverse and begin to fall, the value of the bond portfolio will rise. If the bonds are optioned and called from the portfolio, any potential price recovery is lost. The shareholder loses NAV that cannot be recovered from these bonds.

On the other hand, if the manager does not option the bonds, he loses that extra premium income that has enhanced his dividend to shareholders. Most fund managers choose this as the more responsible alternative. The immediate effect is that monthly distributions are reduced. The longer-term advantage is that if lower interest rates are ahead, the fund's assets could recover.

Even with the income reduction, however, the better managed high-yield government funds plan to keep their distribution rates at the high end of the competitive rates that are available.

If the message isn't clear, just remember that high yields typically mean high risk. But you can always limit your risk by understanding what you buy and paying attention to the quality of your investments and the success of your fund manager in consistently meeting the fund's objectives.

YOUR EYES

ALL-SEASON GLASSES

Just as some people choose to buy all-season tires for their car so they don't have to have snow tires put on in the winter, many people who wear eyeglasses prefer to have photochromatic lenses that serve as sunglasses, too, switching automatically from light to dark to light again. The lenses contain millions of light-sensitive crystals that react to both visible and ultraviolet light. They turn dark in sunlight and then clear when the wearer goes indoors. It takes about a minute for the change to take place. It takes only a little while to get used to these "miracle" lenses, and most wearers are delighted with their convenience. They can be used for most prescriptions, even bifocals. One caveat: If you're going to spend a lot of time on the beach or the ski slopes, it's wise to have an extra pair of special -purpose lenses that block even more ultraviolet light.
