★ Mother ★

By Temple Bailey

The young mother set her foot on the path of life. "Is the way long?" she asked. And her guide said: "Yes. And the way is hard. And you will be old before you reach the end of it. But the end will be better than the beginning." But the young mother was happy, and she would not believe that anything could be better than these years.

So she played with her children, and gathered flowers for them along the way, and bathed with them in the clear streams; and the young Mother cried, "Nothing will ever be lovelier than this!" Then night came, and storm, and the path was dark, and the children shook with fear and cold, and the Mother drew them close and covered them with her mantle, and the children said, "Oh, Mother, we are not afraid, for you are near, and we know no harm can come," and the mother said, "This is better than the brightness of the day, for I have taught my children courage."

And the morning came, and there was a hill ahead, and the children climbed and grew weary, and the mother grew weary, but at all times she said the children, "A little patience, and we are there." So the children climbed, and when they reached the top, they said, "We could not have done it without you Mother." And the Mother, when she lay down that night, looked up at the stars, and said, "This is a better day than the last, for my children have learned fortitude in the face of hardship. Yesterday I gave them courage. Today I have given them strength."

And the next day came strange clouds which darkened the whole earth—clouds of WAR and HATE and EVIL, and the children groped and stumbled, and the Mother said: "Look up. Lift your eyes to the light." And the children looked and saw above the clouds an Everlasting Glory, and it guided them and brought them beyond the darkness. And that night the Mother said, "This is the best day of all, for I have shown my children God."

And the days went on, and the weeks went on, and the years went on, and the Mother grew old, and she was little and bent. But her children were tall and strong, and walked with courage. And when the way was hard, they helped their Mother; and when the way was rough, they lifted her for she was light as a feather; and at last they came to a hill, and beyond the hill they could see a shining road and golden gates flung wide.

And the Mother said: "I have reached the end of my journey. And now I know that the end is better than the beginning, for my children can walk alone, and their children after them."

And the children said: "You will always walk with us, Mother, even when you have gone through the gates." And they stood and watched her as she went on alone, and the gates closed after her. And they said: "We cannot see her, but she is with us still. A mother like ours is more than a memory. She is a Living Presence."

Survey respondents favor prison location by plurality of 160-52

Voting for the minimum security prison location ended Tuesday, May 5. Two hundred and twelve votes were cast with 160 people voting in favor and 52 people voting against.

"The tally showed 75.5 percent of the people who voted are in favor of locating a minimum security prison in Floydada," said Bill Hale, president of the Floydada Development Company (FDC).

"We really appreciate everyone's vote, both pro and con. We want to thank people for turning out and showing their interest," said Hale.

Baseball signing continues tonight

A one-night extension to the summer baseball registration is scheduled from 6 until 7 p.m. today (Thursday) at First National Bank.

Registration fee is $10 for T-Ball, T-Shirt, Softball and Little League players and a $20 fee for Texas Teenage League.

Participants are asked to bring a birth certificate to verify age when signing for the summer program.

"Since a large majority of the people have expressed a desire to locate a minimum security prison here, the FDC will proceed at all possible haste.

Things will be slow in developing, but we will let everyone know how things are progressing and what we are doing."

City council updated on minimum security prison

Floydada Development Company president Bill Hale updated Floydada city council during a special session on May 5 concerning the progress of the company's efforts to have a minimum security prison facility located in this area by the Texas Department of Corrections.

Appearing before the council, Hale stated, "I think we can have the completed proposal together in two or three weeks." He emphasized that the lobbying done last week in Austin by Ken Towery, Tommy Farris and himself appeared to be well received by everyone contacted. "After meeting and talking with a wide variety of people concerned with the issue, I feel that we really have a chance at this," said Hale.

City officials agreed to check into a number of items to be included in the final proposal. These include a water rate the city would charge TDC if a prison is located here, further information concerning the possible use of the city farm by the prison personnel and the availability of sewer service should a prison be built here.

Council member Wayne Russell moved that the city return over $5,000 to two commercial customers of Floydada Power and Light who have been overcharged due to an oversight of a special rate for the operation of heat pumps.

The two customers receiving refunds are Floyd County Courthouse and the Floydada Inn. City personnel are attempting to verify to other accounts in an attempt to ensure that all FP&L customers are being properly charged. Special rates exist for electric users who have heat pumps and electric water heaters.

The motion was seconded by Don Green and carried unanimously by those present.

The city is also interested in investigating the purchase of a computer program which will allow average billing on utilities. The current program does not have the capability of computing such billing. Feuerbacher was asked to look into a program developed by American Public Power Association. He estimated the cost at "around $7,500."

The council authorized the repair of the lift mechanism on a 1982 garbage truck at a cost of $9,500. This sanitation

Livestock show heads tabbed, dates chosen

Officers of the Floyd County livestock association, sponsor of the annual county stock show, have been re-elected for the following year.

Michael Hinsley is president, Jerry Williams serves as vice president and Jon LaBaume and Larry Barbee share secretary-treasurer duties. Williams is general superintendent of the show.

Superintendents also have been re-elected for another year. They include: Gary Brown, grounds; Joe Neil Rexrode, swine; Kenneth Brosch, lambs; and Laron Fulton, steer.

Kim Hinsley and Darrell McCandless are new directors. Hinsley succeeds Buddy Hendricks in Precinct One and McCandless replaces Stanley Burleson.

Directors re-elected include: Larry Golden, Precinct Two; James Cage, Precinct Four; Rexrode, Lockney; Hulon Carthel, Floydada; and Franklin Harris, at-large.

February 5-6-7-8 were chosen as dates for the 1988 Floyd County Livestock Show. This means the livestock show will be one week earlier than this year.

Sale order was changed to: hogs, steers, lambs.

A 150 pound top weight was established for lamb entries in the county show. Rules previously contained no maximum weight for lambs. Under the new guidelines, wethers must tip the scales between 80 and 150 pounds, except for Shropshires and Southdowns which are allowed a 75 pound minimum.

Weights for swine (210-260) and steers were unchanged. Steers have a 900 pound minimum and no maximum except that 1300 pounds is the sale limit.

One other rule change stipulates that if three sheep are not entered in a given breed, that breed will be consolidated with another.

Police Department investigating altered check

Forgery charges have been filed against a local man and police continue to investigate another forgery case.

Under investigation is an "altered check" written on Freddy Castillo. According to Police Chief James Hale, Castillo wrote a $10 check and gave it to a friend, with no payee listed.

The amount was changed to $110 before the check was passed by a woman at Pay-N-Save in Floydada.

Two counts of forgery have been filed against Joe Angel Vasquez.

According to police, two blank checks were taken from a house at 407 W. Lee and later a pair of $300 checks were passed - at different times - at Pay-N-Save.

Chief Hale believes there is no relationship between the two cases.

Two vehicles were damaged about 8:15 p.m. Sunday when an '80 Olds driven by Joy Arwine was struck from the rear by an '81 Silverado pickup driven by Michel Scott Arwine. Both vehicles were traveling south on North Second Street.

A gas range and stove, estimated to be "around 25 years old," was taken "during the past two weeks" from the back yard of a residence at 504 East Ross.

The owner told police that the range had been stored in the back yard since being replaced.

Free blood pressure screening at Health Provider clinic during May

May is National High Blood Pressure Month. Thousands of groups and organizations across the nation will be conducting activities aimed at awareness and treatment of this condition.

South Plains Health Provider will be providing free High Blood pressure screening in all of its clinics, and its personnel are available to screen at the workplace for those businesses and industries whose employees would like to be screened. Floydada's clinic is located at 319 S. Main.

South Plains Health Provider is challenging Floydada residents who have high blood pressure to improve their condition by Dec. '87, according to Juan Anglada, SPHPO, Health Educator.

"Our goal is to increase awareness of the dangers of high blood pressure and to motivate hypertensive individuals to lower their pressures through medication and nonpharmacological treatments such as exercise, diet, weight loss, and reducing sodium intake," said Mr. Anglada. "We are hopeful that Floydada residents will accept the challenge and pay closer attention to their treatments. We'll be available to provide support and assistance," Mr. Anglada added.

The South Plains Health Provider Organization will monitor the progress of anyone wishing to participate and will provide assistance with planning treatment schedules, diet and exercise plans, and smoking cessation programs. SPHPO offers detection, treatment, followup, and counseling programs related to high blood pressure.

High blood pressure is the leading cause of stroke in this country. If left uncontrolled, high blood pressure can also lead to heart attack, kidney disease, and death. Although there is no cure, hypertensive persons can control their condition through daily treatment and can lead normal, healthy lives. For more information about South Plains Health Provider's challenge or its community health services, call (806) 983-5371.

Historical Commission visits county locations

Members of the Floyd County Historical Commission and the Museum Board took a historical and scenic tour in the northeastern part of the county last Saturday. Norma Welch pointed out early homesteads and other points of interest as the group passed through the Cedar Hill Community.

Turning onto highway 1065 the group viewed the Quitaque Peaks. The next stop was at the Saul Ranch where Mr. and Mrs. Bill Saul spoke to the group. The Ft. Worth and Denver Railroad tunnel which was built in 1927-28. Jim Word enlightened the group regarding the history of the pastures dugouts at the Merrell place.

The gravel silos were also viewed as the tour advanced to the Grey Mule Cemetery which is the site of the 1936 historical marker dedicated to the original headquarters of the Quitaque Ranch which used the old F brand. Marisue Potts, a descendant of Al Barton, foreman of the ranch, told of a relative buried at the cemetery. The historic little cemetery is situated above the Quitaque Creek and is one of the most picturesque spots in the area.

Next the group visited the area where the historical marker will be placed later this year commemorating Camp Resolution of the Texan Santa Fe Expedition of 1841. The marker will be located between the Los Lingos and Quitaque Creek bridges on Highway 1065. Marisue Potts reviewed the history of the ill-fated expedition for the group.

The tour ended after the last stop at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Blair, where Mrs. Blair pointed out interesting facts about the history of their home and ranch which dates back to Charles Goodnight and the F Ranch days.

Members of the group making the tour were Jim Word, Frank Brown, Marisue Potts, Joyce Williams, Austin Williams, June Sherman, Rolf Sherman, Mary Lou Bollman, Norma Welch and Nancy Marble. Many beautiful wildflowers were in bloom

Interest rate lowered for vet home improvements

According to Margaret A. Herrera, veterans service officer for Floyd County, the Veterans Land Board announced Wednesday, April 1, 1987, in Waco, Texas, that the interest rate for the Texas Veterans Home Improvement Program had been lowered to 10.5 per cent, effectively immediately.

The Home Improvement Program enables Texas veterans to borrow up to $15,000 for 15 years to make improvement to their existing residence. If the loan amount is $7,500 or less, the maximum term of the loan is 10 years. There is a $5,000 minimum loan amount, all loans are FHA insured and there is no down payment required.

The program generates economic activity in the local areas it serves according to a study by Drs. Bernard and Harold Gross of Southern Methodist University. The study also shows that the Housing Assistance Program has created approximately 15,000 jobs across Texas.

Additionally, the Veterans Land Board has made land loans to over 100,000 Texas veterans, and Housing Assistance Program loans to over 22,000 Texas veterans.

MRS. JOE KIRK EVANS

Evans - Weaver vows exchanged

Teresa Sue Weaver and Joe Kirk Evans were united in marriage at 2:00 p.m., Saturday, April 25, in the First Baptist Church of Floydada. Bro. Travis Curry, minister of the Victory Baptist Church in Floydada, performed the double-ring ceremony before an altar flanked with greenery, red candles, red satin streamers and red silk tulip arrangements. Red satin bows ranked the family pews.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Fuller of Floydada and Mr. Ken Weaver of Midland. She is a 1981 graduate of Floydada High School and a 1983 graduate of South Plains College in Levelland.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Evans of Clifton. He is a 1981 graduate of Clifton High School and a 1986 mechanical engineer graduate of Texas Tech University.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor length gown of white silk organza. The high neckline of illusion featured an off the shoulder flounced neckline with stand up collar and was embellished with Schiffli embroidery, sequins and seed pearls. The bodice was complimented with elbow length sleeves of white silk organza with lace trimmed flounces. The back of the bodice was also of illusion embellished with Schiffli embroidery, sequins and seed pearls. Satin covered buttons began at the neckline and extended below the waist. Venice lace garnished the waistline onto a full skirt of white silk organza. The train of the dress was drawn up knee high by a white satin bow in both the center of the front and back of the dress. Ruffles of Chantilly lace began at each bow and circled the bottom of the skirt to create the chapel length train. Her finger-tipped veil and pouf were also of illusion. The veil, a creation designed by Mrs. Linda Ginn of Petersburg, was adorned with sprays of pearls and miniature white silk roses. She carried a cascade of white silk gardenias, stephanotis, lilacs and pearl sprays. Centered in her bouquet with white satin ribbon, were the wedding rings belonging to her late grandmother, Mrs. Ralph Weaver. The rings were something old. Something new was her attire, something borrowed were diamond earrings from her grandmother, Laverne Fritsch. A garter, created and given to the bride by the groom's mother was something blue. Following tradition, she also wore pennies in her shoe minted in the year of the couple's birth.

Susan Ginn of Petersburg, friend of the bride, was maid of honor. Julie Evans of Clifton, sister of the groom, served as bridesmaid. The attendants wore identical tea-length dresses of red organza lace underlined by red taffeta. The dresses featured a blouson bodice and flared skirt. They were enhanced by elbow length sleeves of unlined red organza lace. A red satin sash trimmed their waist and was tied in a bow in the front. Each carried four red silk tulips accented with baby's breath and gathered by red and white satin ribbon streamers.

Rick Gustafson of Clifton was best man and Marshall Wallace of Clyde served as groomsman, both friends of the groom. They wore red Lord West tuxedo jackets, black pants, white wingtipped shirts complimented with black bow ties and cummerbunds. Ushering guests, were Scott and Steve Weaver both of Midland, twin brothers of the bride, and Brent Powers of Clifton, friend of the groom. They too, wore the Lord West red tuxedo jacket, black pants, white wingtipped shirts accented with red bow ties and cummerbunds. Each male attendant wore a single white rose and baby's breath.

The groom was attired in a charcoal gray Lord West cutaway tuxedo with the matching pants, white wingtipped shirt and a red bow tie and cummerbund. He had a red single rose with cascades of baby's breath and greenery.

The mother of the bride wore a white street length dress with red accessories. The groom's mother was attired in a beige street length dress. Upon their entrance, each mother lit the appropriate family candles on the unity table.

Fathers were attired in gray Bill Blass tuxedos, white wingtipped shirts and black cummerbunds and bow ties. Each wore a single red rose accented with baby's breath.

Registering guests was Leigh Carter of Morton, friend of the bride. The registrar's table was covered in a red tablecloth made by Janet Lloyd of Floydada, and held a basket of red silk tulips.

Musical selections before the ceremony were presented by Mrs. Mona Bond of Floydada and Mr. Lloyd Parsons of Lubbock, uncle of the groom. At this time, the candles were lit by Amy and Angie Fuller of Lubbock, twin stepsisters of the bride. "The Wedding Song" was played as the grandmothers and mothers were seated. Upon entrance of the attendants, a flute and piano version of "Looking Through the Eyes of Love" was performed by Mrs. Bond and Mrs. Abby Battey of Floydada. This was followed by the chiming of the hour by Mr. Parsons who then joined Mrs. Bond in the "Bridal March." As the bride was given away, Mrs. Bond sang "I'll Still Be Loving You." As the couple lit the unity candle, Miss Julie Evans read a poem from the wedding Bible which was given to the bride by her mother and stepfather. The couple left the ceremony to "Trumpet Volontaire" played by Mr. Parsons.

The reception was held in the Wall Street Parlor. The bride's table held a three tiered wedding cake decorated in red roses. Red punch, red heart-shaped mints, and the attendants bouquets along with the wedding Bible completed the table. Serving for the bride were Ruth Ann Parsley of Levelland, Karen Williams of Plains, both friends of the bride, and Michelle McCain of Sweetwater, cousin of the bride. The groom's table was decorated with a picture of the bride and groom and held a fresh fruit tray, fresh vegetable tray and an assortment of nuts. Iced tea and coffee were also served. Serving for the groom were Malinda Parsons of Lubbock, cousin of the groom and Denise Wallace of Clyde, friend of the groom. Jennifer McCain of Sweetwater, cousin of the bride and Kristen Parsons of San Angelo, cousin of the groom distributed rice bags to guests. Serving in the house party were: Arlene Clevenger, Barbara Hendricks, Cindy Fuller, LaShay Everett and Sharon Quisenberry.

The bride chose a red pleated jumpsuit made for her by the groom's mother for traveling. Black accessories completed her ensemble. The groom was also attired in red and black.

Following a trip, the couple will be at home in Arlington, where the groom is employed with Printpack, Inc. in Grand Prairie.

The rehearsal dinner was hosted by the groom's parents on Friday night, April 24, in the Victory Baptist Church of Floydada.

Golightly FNB May artist

"I have been drawing since I was in grade school, but wasn't really serious about it until years later," said current bank artist, Penny Golightly. During the month of May, the First National Bank of Floydada is showing the work of local artist, Penny Golightly, in the lobby area.

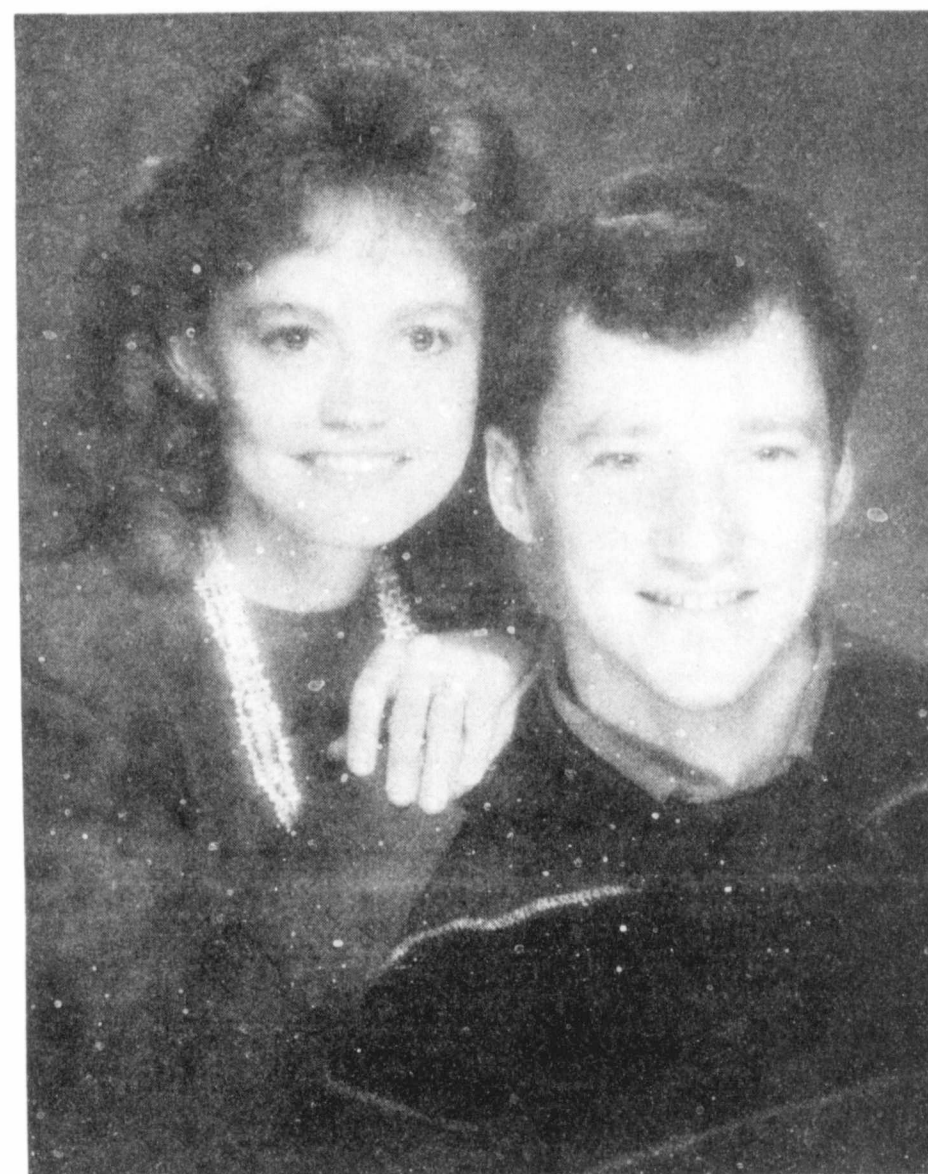

The exhibit features paintings in acrylic, oils, and pencil drawings. There is a nice variety of subject matter; but, obviously, the artist prefers to paint the western theme.

While Penny was in high school, she took a course of study from the Famous Artist School, continuing this until after her graduation from Floydada High School. Married to Dayne Golightly, and the mother of two children, Penny has divided her time between her family, working in the tax assessor-collector office, and her painting. "I am afraid my art has had to have much less of my time," she added.

Golightly has entered her paintings in a number of area shows: Post, Crosbyton, Snyder, and in Ruidoso, N.M. The most recent show was the Floyd County Art Show in Lockney last year where her painting won the People's Choice award as well as the Sesquicentennial award. That painting is one of those on exhibit at the bank.

When asked about her preference in medium, she replied, "I like drawing more than anything because I like detail work. Even before I paint with oils I will sketch in pencil and work out the detail." Acrylic is a favorite, also, because she can thin the acrylic to make it smooth, almost to the liquidity of watercolor, and, "It is easy to clean up and I love the bright colors that acrylic affords!"

Area residents are encouraged to see the exhibit of this popular young artist during regular banking hours Monday through Friday.

JUNE WEDDING PLANNED—Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Patterson of Amherst announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Gina LaRue, to Captain Thess M. Brown, United States Air Force. Thess is the son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Brown Jr. of Floydada. The wedding is planned for 4:00 p.m. June 27, 1987 at Crescent Park Church of Christ in Littlefield. Miss Patterson is a 1982 graduate of West Texas State University with a bachelor of science degree in elementary education. She is presently employed by Plainview I.S.D. Captain Brown earned a degree in computer science from San Angelo State University in 1981. He is currently flying C141s at McGuire Air Force Base, New Jersey.

'It takes a lot of strong people working together for good school'

Editor's Note: Texas State Teachers Association (TSTA) submitted the following article in honor of "Paraprofessional and School-Related Personnel Appreciation Week," the week of May 4-11.

It takes a lot of good people working together to make a good school. The first person who comes to mind may well be your child's teacher, but it's important for you to know everyone who is essential to your schools.

The school secretaries and clerks are indispensable. They do all the things that secretaries and clerks in most businesses do, but they also do a lot more. They are the key people to whom everyone comes for information. Students ask them everything. Parents phone constantly. Teachers ask about all kinds of rules and records. They type correspondence and test. They make sure attendance records balance. They help find lost books and soothe over little hurts. They register all visitors and new students. They occasionally find lunch money when someone loses it. And sometimes, they keep track of their school's budget.

The maintenance staff keeps the school running. They operate the heating systems and air conditioners to make classrooms comfortable. Who fixes the broken oven so your children can have hot lunches? The maintenance staff. Who fixes a stuck window so the class can get fresh air? The maintenance staff. Who remodels the classroom so it can be more effective or fixes the roof or moves books to classrooms? The maintenance staff.

The transportation service is the group who takes your child to and from school and on special field trips. In some districts, each bus driver is responsible for as many as 400 children each day. That means he or she has to know each child to make certain everyone is safe and well-behaved. Bus drivers are responsible for keeping the buses running and ship-shape.

School aides are very special people and they help in many different ways. There are teachers' aides who help the teachers and let them spend more time in direct instruction. Some schools have library aides, cafeteria aides, clerical aides and playground aides. If there's an important job to be done, aides help do it.

The cafeteria workers make sure your child gets a balanced, nutritious lunch and in some cases, breakfast.

By mentioning these people, we're sure we've left out others who deserve to be cited. The point is this: your children's classrooms are certainly the focal point of their education, but it is the whole school learning and makes it possible for your child to get a good education.

Food choices of kids influenced by others

For school-age children and teenagers in particular, the influence of people outside the family plays an important role in what foods the kids eat.

Those were among the conclusions of a U.S. Department of Agriculture survey of 9000 children and teenagers between the ages of 6 and 18.

"Parents often control the food choices of children, and to a lesser extent, those of younger teenagers," says Dr. Dymple Cooksey, a nutritionist with the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service.

"Food choices of older teenagers, however, probably are more influenced by outside the home," she says. "The USDA study shows that the percentage of eating occasions shared with other household members declines with increasing age through the teen years, and the percentage eaten alone increases."

"The survey also indicates that youngsters are getting more and more of their nutrients from snacks rather than meals," Cooksey remarks. "On the average, children ages 6 to 11 get about 18 percent of their calories from snacks, for teenagers this figure rises to 21 percent."

According to the nutritionist, the snacks preferred by 6 to 11 year olds in the study were bakery products, including cookies, cakes and pies, soft drinks, milk, ice cream, puddings, candy, fruit and salty snacks.

The most popular snacks among teenage boys were soft drinks, milk, bakery products, bread, milk desserts, salty snacks, meats and fruits. Teenage girls preferred soft drinks, bakery products, milk desserts, salty snacks, fruit, milk, candy and bread.

"Several of the snacks, such as milk, bread and fruit are good sources of one or more essential nutrients," the nutritionist says. "But snacks such as soft drinks and candy provide few nutrients in relation to calories."

Kelli LaBaume earns right to vie for state FFA Star Greenhand

Kelli LaBaume will be vying for recognition as the state's Star Greenhand after being selected as the area Star Greenhand during the Amarillo Area FFA convention, held Friday and Saturday, May 1-2, in Amarillo.

Miss LaBaume, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jon LaBaume, will have the state interview in mid-June on the Texas A&M University campus at College Station, according to Allen Akers, Floydada vo-ag instructor and FFA advisor.

Each of the six districts was represented by a candidate for area Star Greenhand. Floydada FFA Chapter is a member of the Plainview District. Bryan Thomas placed fourth in area Star Chapter Farmer competition after having earned the right to represent this district.

In addition to Miss LaBaume and Thomas, members of the local chapter attending the area convention in Amarillo were Shannon Barbee, Sharon Smith, Grant Stovall, Mark Thompson and Chad Quisenberry. Barbee and Thompson were voting delegates for the Floydada chapter.

During the two-day convention, area officers were elected, state officer candidates from this area were nominated and talent and sweetheart contests were conducted.

From a field of 51 teams, the Floydada FFA Chapter livestock judging team placed 14th in state competition on April 25. Advisor Allen Akers says state judging was at Texas A&M University in College Station.

The local team was only 14 points out of third place, according to Akers.

Comprising the team were Chad Edwards, Shannon Barbee, Darin Martinez and Sharon Smith.

The team qualified for state at the Texas Tech University contest.

Whirlwind females 'went out and challenged them'

"They walked out of that stadium with their heads high," Coach Tommy Baxter says after his district champion Whirlwind girls track team concluded their season Friday and Saturday at the regional meet in Odessa.

Although the Floydada squads has "no superstars, our girls went out and challenged them. They didn't back off from anybody. Our girls were just as good as they are capable of being."

Commenting his athletes, Coach Baxter says "They took what they had and got maximum mileage from it. You couldn't pick out any one girl. They've all sacrificed during the season. I'm as tickled as I can be with them."

He added that "They have been a particularly enjoyable group. They learned a lot of what sports is all about. These girls accented the group concept," which Coach Baxter believes many individuals and teams overlook. He points out how the girls sacrificed themselves to gain another point for their team, without regard for individual honors.

"They represented our school well, and you don't have to have a big, gold trophy to prove that."

Region I - "which covers about two-thirds of the state" - offers rigid competition.

Paige Cannon placed sixth in discus throw with a heave of 115'9 1/2". In the same event, Noheimi DeOchoa had a toss of 84'6".

In the 800 meter relay, the Whirlwind girls placed seventh in the finals, missing sixth place by "a step." The team posted a 1:50 in the prelims, then ran their season best of 1:48.99 in the finals.

Running legs on the relay were Jane Willson (27.38), Blanca Medrano (27.48), Paige Cannon (26.80) and Tana Turner (27.33).

In another close match, the Whirlwind 400 meter relay team missed the finals by a step, also. Willson was clocked in 13.32, Medrano ran a 12.27, Cannon posted an 11.97 and Turner had a 13.86.

Angie Bertrand, who established a new school record the previous week in the regional qualifiers meet, was "boxed" and just missed the 800 meter run finals. Her time was 2:34.63.

Willson long jumped 15'4 1/2". Teammate Turner posted a 31'5" in triple jump.

In the 100 meter hurdles, Pam Woody had a 17.16 in the prelims.

Turner, who vied in four events, sprinted to a 13.32 in the 100 meter dash preliminaries.

City council updated

vehicle will serve as a secondary vehicle for the city sanitation department when the new garbage truck arrives.

Other expenditures authorized at the session included the purchase of a cable locator and fault finder for the electric plant. The device will be utilized in locating problem areas in the 13 block area of Floydada which has underground lines. The department currently borrows such equipment from Light-house Electric. The request, made by city worker Connie Galloway, was approved at a cost of $2,347 from Pruitt Supply Company of Amarillo.

The council approved $3,657.66 for replacing windows in the city hall and extra bricking for windows in the police department offices.

Two requests were tabled pending receipt of more information. The first, a solicitation for a donation to the State and Local Legal Center in the amount of $100 was set aside until information as to what the center is and what it does can be obtained.

The second, a request from Connie Galloway to purchase a used 12 horse power riding lawn mower, was tabled to allow the council to seek more prices

City manager Bill Feuerbacher asked the council to authorize the sale of a tax sale lot on Crockett Street to Alicia Sanchez for $500. The council okayed the sale if it is agreeable with the other taxing entities involved.

A motion by Green, seconded by Russell, brought council approval of retaining Lubbock attorney John Davidson as legal consultant concerning matters related to utility questions.

Feuerbacher told the council that clearance has been received from the city insurance carrier to lease the municipal swimming pool. Council members instructed Feuerbacher to advertise for a responsible person to operate the facility this summer.

Council members were informed that a public hearing is scheduled for June 16 at 10:00 a.m. in the Lubbock County Courthouse concerning the city application for a modification of the sewer permit for Floydada. The hearing has been called due to an objection filed by a landowner in the area of the sewer facility.

Producers Cooperative Elevator holds annual membership meet

Members of Floydada Producers Co-operative Elevator heard the good news of increased profits and decreased debt at the annual meeting on April 28. Manager Bob Vickers told the more than 270 in attendance that "$128,000 this year and the amounts distributed the previous two years added up to $26,000 returned to members in three years."

Vickers also pointed out that all long term debt obligations have now been retired and the co-op is operating with only short term debts for day to day operation. He said, "1986 was a different kind of year for us." He stated that, "In spite of, or maybe because of, adverse weather conditions and challenges from the government, Producer's had another successful year."

The additional revenue the firm experienced was attributed to "the purchase and efficient utilization of the McCoy Gin facility aided by the marketing of generic grain certificates." Vickers emphasized "none of this could have come about without the loyalty of our member consumers and our dedicated employees."

Retiring directors Rob Heflin and Kay Crabtree were honored with silver plaques for their service to the co-op. Heflin steps down after six years. Crabtree resigned his directorship because of his appointment to the post of county commissioner last fall.

Larry Jones, Kenneth Pitts, Lanny Glasscock and Victor Smith were nominated to replace the two retirees. Jones was elected to a three year term on the board of directors and Glasscock was selected to serve out Crabtree's remaining two years. The pair join sitting board members Melvin Lloyd, Kenneth Willis and Carmel Eastham as co-op directors.

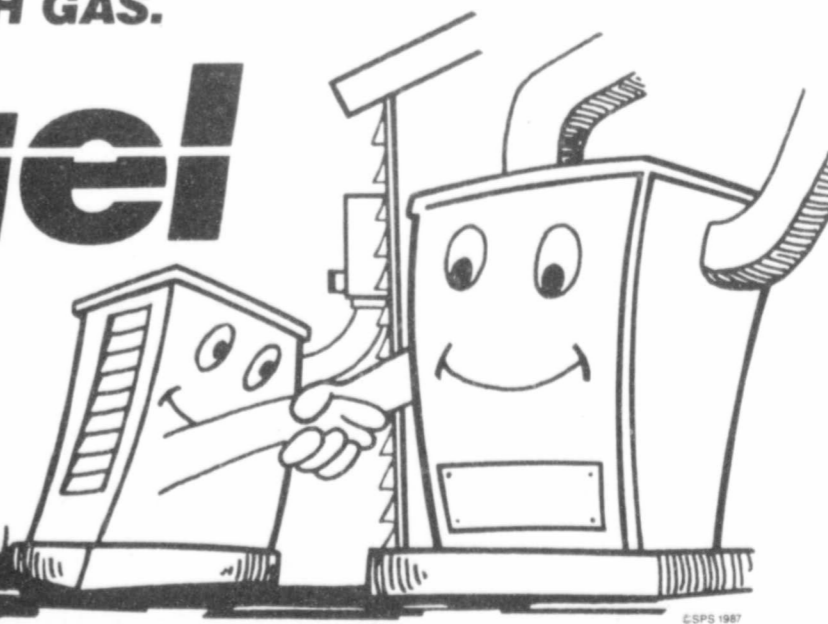

The standing room only session was termed a "huge success" by co-op officers. 270 persons enjoyed the catered meal provided by Danny's Hens & Fins. Door prizes were awarded by drawing to several attending. The grand prize was won by Brenda Heflin. A film presentation entitled "Visions" was presented, detailing the past and the future of farming with special attention devoted to the pressures of present day farm operations.

Special guests were announced and co-op employees were honored during the evening. Dividend checks were distributed following the adjournment of the meeting.

DON'T MESS WITH TEXAS—As part of the state effort to alleviate litter along the roadways of Texas, Joyce Williams' FHA-HERO students from Floydada High School have adopted a two mile stretch of the highway west of Floydada. The group has a contract to clean the area once a month. The work will be done during the class time of the students and they have already received recognition from the state FHA organization for their participation in the project. The students hope that their commitment will encourage other local organizations to "Adopt A Highway." The clean-up effort will save the state an undetermined amount of money by freeing state workers from litter retrieval and allowing them to concentrate on their highway projects. Staff Photo

Planning ahead for elderly care

Open communication and planning between adult children and their aging parents can ease the transition of dependency in a family, says gerontologist Dr. Judith Warren.

"Increasing frailty can be a daily reminder of a parent's mortality," says the Texas A&M University Agricultural Extension Service home economist. "It's not always easy to accept that a parent is no longer the strong person you used to depend upon."

"Remember, parents probably feel the same way," she adds. "It's difficult for most people who have been self-sufficient to accept any level of dependency. Loss of independence and control can be a blow to an older person's self esteem."

The best way to deal with this situation is to talk with parents before a crisis occurs, says Warren. Discuss future "what ifs" because tentative plans can provide some insurance against making unsatisfactory decisions.

The gerontologist advises adult children to talk with parents about their individual relationships, the problems in their own lives, and how much they can contribute to parents' care. This may help avoid later undermining of a decision by either parents or other family members.

"Try to work out a compromise between your parent's needs and your own capabilities," Warren suggests.

"Focus on their remaining strengths and abilities as well as limitations when making any type of arrangements for housing or care."

Contact local agencies on aging and senior citizen centers for information about available options. It's important not to have preconceived ideas about what is the best solution, she emphasizes.

Warren cautions, "Avoid making assumptions about your aging parents' abilities, feelings, and needs or making decisions without talking to them first."

Senior Center to be lauded

Texans over the age of 60 and the senior centers that sponsor many programs and activities in their behalf have been honored by Governor Clements in proclamations designating May as Older Texans Month and May 10-16 as Senior Center Week.

Clements, in his Older Texans Month proclamation, called today's seniors "our mentors, the standards by which we judge our own endeavors" and noted that "without their guidance, the state of Texas could never have achieved its present stature."

In lauding the state's more than 500 senior centers, Clements observed that these centers are the focal points for provision of social services funded by the Older Americans Act of 1965 and administered by the Texas Department of Aging. These services include meals, transportation, health screening, exercise and educational activities.

"Senior centers are unique, valuable assets that deserve our support at the state, local and individual levels," Clements said. "We who have benefited so richly from the wisdom, love and hard work of older Texans can find no better way to express our appreciation than continued support of the Texas senior center network."

Social Security Report

By Terry J. Clements

Farmers who hire seasonal workers should be sure to report the wages for Social Security purposes. This assures that the workers earn social security coverage along with their wages, which can mean benefits when they retire or should they become disabled or die.

Because farm work is often irregular, special rules cover the reporting of wages paid to farm workers. Farm wages are covered by social security if an employer pays the worker $150 in cash during a year or the employee works for the farmer on 20 or more days during a year and is paid on a time basis — by the hour, week, or month, regardless of the amount of pay.

In 1987, the worker receives 1 quarter of coverage for each $460 of covered earnings, up to a maximum of 4 quarters for the year.

The farmer should keep a record which shows each worker's name, social security number as it appears on the card, amount of cash wages paid and the amount of taxes withheld from the worker's pay.

The farmer deducts the employee tax out of the pay of each covered worker. Wages are reported for each covered employee by completing the forms W-2. The employee and employer portion of the social security tax is reported to the Internal Revenue Service Office on IRS Form 943.

Sometimes a crew leader is considered the employer of the farm workers and would have the wage reporting responsibilities. This is generally true if the crew leader pays the workers or has the final right to control the workers on the job regardless of who pays them.

Farm workers who want to know more about Social Security benefits, how to apply for a social security card, or how to check whether all earnings have been reported should contact the Social Security office at 1401-B West 5th street, or call at 293-9623. Appointments can be arranged if desired.

Floydada Nursing Home Happenings

By Sara Coursey

Hello - this was a good week at the nursing home. Our Monday began with the morning coffee. I led the devotion today. We talked about God's love constantly surrounding us. Our afternoon activity was ceramics class. We painted owls. The class was attended by eleven residents. They were Mavis Wilson, Ruth Benson, Myra Hall, Gertrude Feuerbacher, Iva Simpson, Charlie Spence, Maude Galloway, Della Halenack, Burmah Probasco, Iva Wells and Faye McMahan.

Tuesday morning was busy with Delores Cannon and Leona Neff working in the beauty shop. The ladies appreciate having their hair done so much! Bro. Neeley Richardson and his wife came to lead the morning devotion. They brought bananas and cookies to the residents. Their thoughtfulness is never ending. Thanks very much for all that you do for the residents.

Wednesday began with the coffee break. Bro. McAnally lead our morning devotion. Jo Bryant came to lead our afternoon Bingo. The residents that played today were Charlie Spence, Thelma Hoffman, Iva Wells, Opal Morrison, Estelle Eubanks, Oda Birchfield, Myra Hall, Della Halenack, Ruth Benson and Gertrude Feuerbacher. Della Halenack was the first resident to black out a card.

Thursday morning's coffee was attended by eighteen residents. They look forward to this time of sharing and visiting together. Bro. Travis Curry came to lead our morning devotion. Mr. C.B. Lyles was released from the hospital today. He is now back in the nursing home with his wife. We are glad to have him home again! We took our weekly bus ride today instead of Friday. Nine residents enjoyed going to Plainview. The Sonic Drive-In gave the residents ice cream. We want to thank the family of Riley Holmes for giving the beautiful flowers to the nursing home. They are so pretty.

Friday began with the morning coffee. The morning devotion was given by the First Baptist Church women. They were Letha Mulder, Evelyn Latta, Virginia Cage and Lillian Ross. The afternoon activity was movies and popcorn. We want to extend our thanks to Floydada Spirit of Sharing for donating the Bible records. They will be very useful in the Bible studies. The Daisy Troop #210 came out Saturday to bring cookies and apples to the residents. Their troop leader is Debra Graham. The residents enjoyed this very much. This was part of a Saturday Service Project. The nursing home residents and staff want to express their prayers and concerns to the family of Lura Brashears. She will be greatly missed as a member of our family.

This week's visitors included: Ben Galloway, Tinnie Galloway, Lucille Daniel, Alice Cook, Angela Faye Pope, Frances Badgett, Mildred Fuqua, Ethel Carmack, Hazel Bradley, John and Christine Lyles, Marvin and Floyd Lyles, H.C. and Marge McElyea, Ola Smith, Ben Galloway, Jettie Moss, Winnie Neil and Lucille Sisson.

Proclamation

Mayor Parnell Powell signed a proclamation today in his office, designation the month of May, 1987 as "National Mental Health Month." The Floydada Counseling Center, located at room 111 Floydada Courthouse, provides professional counseling for individuals, relationship, or families in addition to psychological testing. A primary objective of the Center is to provide professional help for people who are experiencing problems that interfere with daily living. Nearly everyone has occasional trouble coping with the stresses and strains of modern life. Early attention and assistance often prevent small problems from becoming big ones. # Congressman Beau Boulter Reports from Washington

Congressman Beau Boulter has testified today before a congressional subcommittee hearing on due process problems with the peer review process used in Texas. Boulter and 17th District Congressman Charlie Stenholm last week introduced legislation to restore due process and fairness to the peer review process, which is used to evaluate doctors who treat Medicare patients.

Brame, director of the Texas Medical Association, will also be in Washington to testify before the subcommittee.

The legislation offered by Boulter and Stenholm last week would specifically require that peer review organizations (PRO), give doctors opportunities to respond to sanctions before those sanctions go into effect, an opportunity doctors in Texas and other states do not presently enjoy.

Boulter and Stenholm appeared before the Subcommittee on Health and the Environment of the Energy and Commerce Committee at 10:15 a.m. today.

The legislation would also require a greater emphasis on educating doctors.

According to Boulter, as recently as yesterday, two doctors in Canadian, Texas, decided to stop treating Medicare patients for fear of sanction by the Texas Medical Foundation after a third doctor in that town was sanctioned by the TMF.

Chairman Henry Waxman (D-California) asked Boulter and Stenholm to appear before the subcommittee to discuss due process problems in Texas that have resulted in 23 largely rural family doctors being prevented from treating Medicare patients. In many small towns, elderly and Medicare patients make up 50 to 75% of the rural doctors' practices.

Boulter will call attention to the disproportionate number of rural doctors under sanction. Of the 23 doctors in Texas sanctioned by the TMF, none reside in towns larger than Wichita Falls, and the bulk of those doctors live in towns under 5,000 people such as Lockney and Perryton.

Bob King, president of the Texas Medical Foundation, and Jim Bob

Capitol Comments

The Senate Finance Committee has completed its budgeting process. I'm told a tremendous tax bill would be necessary to cover their wish list.

making the least tax efforts. Some say over $600 million is in this big ticket item. Here are other items the state supports but does not own and did not contribute to before the state surplus era: Baylor College of Medicine, Houston, Texas, $70 million for the two year period; Baylor College of Dentistry, Dallas, Texas, $34 million; tuition grants to independent and religious colleges, $35 million.

The state will carry over a one-billion-dollar debt into fiscal years ending August 31, 1988 and 1989. The House passed a $2.9 billion tax bill which was an extension of the so-called temporary tax.

The four-year-old kindergarten program uses only $35 million and has an $85 million holdover.

If every agency was held to their 1987 fiscal year, another one-billion-dollar tax bill would be required.

These are only a few of the billions that could be cut.

However, there are plenty of areas to make cuts. The career ladder - estimated at over $400 million annually. A price differential index in the school system, which is a boondoggle for the Houston, Dallas, and big time schools. This money goes to school districts

I have pointed out most of these items to Speaker Gib Lewis and Governor Clements. Both agreed with many of my cost-cutting ideas.

I thank my God for you every time I think of you. Phil. 1:3.

Friends are a wonderful treasure. You expressed your love for me in so many ways, sitting with Kay, and walking her to the car at night while I was in C.C.U. Many prayers were offered to God in my behalf, along with visits, phone calls, flowers, food and a multitude of lovely cards. Your encouragement when I feel low, for all of this and more, thank you.
