NIXON APPARENTLY WON'T HAVE TO PAY ADDITIONAL CASH IN PAPERS DEAL

Unauthorized $70,000 Tax Deduction

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressional committee found that President Nixon incorrectly took a $70,000 tax deduction for giving papers to the government in 1968, but he apparently won't have to pay additional taxes for it.

Nixon has agreed to pay about $465,000 in back taxes and interest assessed by the Internal Revenue Service for the first four years of his presidency, 1969 through 1972. But the IRS didn't audit his 1968 return, and the statute of limitations has run out.

NIXON'S FIRST

The staff of the Joint Committee on Internal Revenue Taxation, which Nixon asked to review his 1969-72 returns, said it also looked at the taxes paid in 1968.

The 1968 study was necessary to determine how the handling of Nixon's first gift of papers to the government differed from the handling of the second, much larger gift the next year, the staff report said. And it was possible that a carryover of the 1968 charitable contribution deduction would reduce the President's taxes in following years.

The committee staff, however, did not audit the full 1968 return, and Nixon has never made it public. The report said only that the papers were appraised at $80,000 and that Nixon took the maximum allowable deduction for charitable contributions, including $70,522.27 for the papers. This left $9,477.73 available for carryover in future years.

GROSS INCOME

Internal Revenue laws permit a taxpayer to deduct up to 30 per cent of his adjusted gross income each year for charitable contributions, if at least 10 per cent of that goes to a government agency such as the National Archives.

Unlike the case of the $576,000 deduction claimed in 1969 for the gift of papers, there were few facts in dispute about how and when the 1968 gift was made. The papers were selected and appraised in Nixon's law offices in New York, and a deed for them was turned over to the National Archives on Dec. 30, 1968, just in time to claim a deduction on Nixon's 1968 tax return due the following April.

The primary question at issue is whether the conditions set out in the deed were so restrictive that Nixon was not actually giving away the documents but giving away a "future interest" in them.

The future interest section of the tax law was designed to close a loophole that allowed taxpayers to give their property to a foundation for tax purposes but retain exclusive use and enjoyment of the property or life.

UNHAPPY

Richard Ritzel, a partner in Nixon's former law firm in New York, told the committee staff the President-elect asked him to handle the gift and deduction in mid-December 1968. Several days later, he drafted two deeds of gift, one containing restrictions on access to the papers, the other without the restrictions.

The staff report added: "Mr. Ritzel said that President-elect Nixon was unhappy with the language of the unrestricted deed, so he signed the one with the restrictions."

European Chiefs Meet With Nixon

PARIS (AP) — President Nixon met Saturday with Western European leaders and stressed the need for stronger cooperation and consultation within the Atlantic Alliance.

The discussions could be a start toward making 1974 Washington's "Year of Europe." The administration had hoped to devote major attention to Europe in 1973, but was sidetracked by other foreign and domestic matters.

The President's most important sessions — lasting more than an hour each — were with West German Chancellor Willy Brandt and British Prime Minister Harold Wilson.

Nixon also met with interim French President Alain Poher, Danish Premier Poul Hartling and Italian President Giovanni Leone. He meets Sunday morning with Soviet President Nikolai Podgorny and Japanese Premier Kakuei Tanaka.

Hartling said that after meeting with Nixon and the other European leaders — he was "a little more optimistic" about the prospects of improved U.S.-European relations.

'California Jam' Makes Fans Happy

ONTARIO, Calif. (AP) — Thousands of youthful rock music fans crowded the motor speedway here Saturday for the "California Jam" after police unclogged a 13-mile traffic snarl caused by abandoned cars.

The promoters estimated a crowd of 150,000. The 42,000-car parking lot was jammed and autos overflowed into surrounding vineyards.

The scene was mostly peaceful although some fans broke down a gate and poured into the Ontario Motor Speedway. A policeman surveyed the teenagers in shorts, floppy hats and sleeveless shirts who sat on the grassy infield, braving eye-smarting smog and 85-degree temperatures to listen to guitars blasting from a giant platform. "They all look happy," the policeman said.

The traffic jam occurred on Interstate 10, the main artery between Los Angeles and Las Vegas, Nev. Police officers with two trucks managed to pull the empty cars to the side of the road so that by the time the concert began there was only a one-mile traffic backup.

"We're over the hump and we're getting them in here now," a police officer said.

Reviewing the . . . Big Spring Week . . . with Joe Pickle

After a surprisingly calm March, we began making up for lost time last week on our sandstorms. On Tuesday the breeze got up to a mile-a-minute in gusts, and Wednesday although not as strong, was worse from the point of moving soil (and sent a mass of air that eventually spawned the worst tornado devastation in 25 years to the upper south and lower Northeast). Saturday saw another brisk blow, this one either 23 or 24 on the Fryrear chart. Bill Fryrear has predicted 78 of these for 1974, and he's got a mighty good start. Anyhow, we'd rather be the starting grounds on these blows than on the twisting end.

Weather modifiers are setting up shop for a start of operations a week from Monday. The missing ingredient so far is a little thing called a cloud. Normally, we don't expect many of these before mid-April. Everone hopes the modifiers will be successful in nudging the clouds when they do show up.

The Big Spring city election drew 563 persons to the polls in an uncontested election that saw Wade Choate returned as mayor, Harold Hall as councilman Place 1 and Eddie Acri as councilman Place 3. This is probably less than five per cent of the potential vote — about one in 20 voters bothering to go the polls. Saturday's school elections did some what better.

Taylor, McGibbon Win HC Contests

Jimmy Taylor and K. H. McGibbon were reelected to the Howard College board of trustees Saturday by wide margins.

McGibbon, veteran board member whose tenure is second only to Dr. P. W. Malone, a founding board member, polled 996 votes and Jimmy Taylor received an even 1,000.

Eli Guinn received 282 and William Clark 220 to fall short in their bid for places on the board.

The incumbents carried all boxes and the absentee box.

By boxes, the results were:

JERRY JENKINS TOM FETTERS AL VALDES

Jenkins, Fetters, Valdes Elected School Trustees

Two present members of the Big Spring Independent School District board of trustees were elected to new three-year terms Saturday and Al Valdes, making his second bid, won the third spot.

Jerry Jenkins led the ticket with 627 votes, and Tom Fetters, the other incumbent, got 557. Ralph McLaughlin, the other member whose term expired, did not run again.

Valdes, who came close last year but lost out in his race for trustee, polled 494 votes for a comfortable win. He may be the first naturalized citizen to be elected to the local board. A native of Cuba, he said he wanted to do something in return for what his chosen country had done for him.

There were seven other candidates in what was one of, if not the largest, field of trustee candidates the district has ever had.

By boxes the votes were:

IF YOU THINK MEDICAL BILLS ARE HIGH NOW, PREPARE FOR A SHOCK

Nursing Home Charges May Jump By 14 Per Cent

WASHINGTON (AP) — If you think medical bills are high now, prepare for a shock. The next 12 to 15 months may bring some of the most explosive health costs in the nation's history.

If price controls over health costs are allowed to expire on April 30, as is likely, consumers may see these kind of increases in the fiscal year ending June 30, 1975:

- Hospital charges will jump by 16 to 17 per cent.
- Physician fees will go up about 9 per cent.
- Nursing home charges will jump by 14 per cent.

The estimates are those of the Nixon administration, which had urged Congress to continue price controls over the health industry, only to be rejected so far.

Even with controls, hospital charges would have risen about 10 per cent, doctors' fees 4 per cent and nursing home charges 6.5 per cent, the administration estimates.

The public will have to pay an additional $4.1 billion over the current fiscal year, then another $9 billion on top of that in the following year, the administration estimates.

Consumers will find themselves paying an additional $1 billion in direct out-of-pocket expenses for services which would have been covered under price controls. This amount will rise to $2.25 billion additional in fiscal 1976.

Medical insurance premiums would go up $1.5 billion in fiscal 1975, and spending by state and federal governments would rise $1.5 billion.

Caspar Weinberger, secretary of health, education and welfare, said he believes the costs will be higher than that.

He said the estimates "imply a substantial degree of restraint which I hope to see."

Weinberger said the cost in one year may be closer to $5.5 billion, instead of $4 billion.

He said the increased bill will add an enormous amount to every American's health bill, adding that controls should be retained in the industry.

The administration's estimates show:

Without controls, Americans will spend $88 billion for health care in fiscal 1975, compared with $83.5 billion in the current fiscal year.

They will spend $46.4 billion for hospitals, $1.2 billion for health professionals, including doctors, $4.2 billion for nursing homes, and $6.2 billion for other services.

The greatest bulk increase is for hospitals, $2 billion, with $1 billion of that in insurance premiums, $400,000 in payroll taxes, $100,000 in out-of-pocket expenses, and $500,000 in state and federal spending.

Strongman Stripped

By The Associated Press
Libyan strongman Col. Moammar Khadafi has been "relieved" of many of his "political and executive" functions, but has not been deposed, a Libyan government source said Saturday night in Tripoli.

The source, who asked to remain anonymous, stressed that the fiery 32-year-old Libyan strongman remains in charge of the armed forces, although he has relinquished some duties to Libyan Premier Abdel Salem Jalloud.

The changes in the Libyan government were first reported by Egypt's official Middle East News Agency in Cairo, which claimed that Jalloud, Khadafi's right-hand man, had stripped the colonel of power and pushed him into a figurehead position.

A Libyan spokesman earlier acknowledged he was aware of the foreign press reports, but said only "that Khadafi has delegated his powers, administrative and political," to Jalloud. The premier who is in Paris for the memorial services for the late French President Georges Pompidou, declined to comment on the reports.

To Show 'Fast Way Nowhere'

WESTBROOK (SC) — The film "Fast Way Nowhere" will be shown at the First Baptist Church here starting at 7 o'clock this evening.

The 63-minute movie, with devastating reality, looks into a home today bare the materialistic phoniness in the lives of parents, a phoniness that is often responsible for the breakup of the average family.

The film is produced by the Teen-Age Ministry of Youthful Gospel Films Inc., Muskogee, Mich.

Chief Tractor Pullers Named

Durwood Blagraves of Ackerly was named executive director of the Texas Tractor Pullers' Association at a meeting held last Sunday in San Angelo.

Ronnie Huddle is president of the association. Other officers include Eugene Cmerak, first vice president; Jack Hall, second vice president; Ronnie Culp, treasurer and assistant secretary; Charlie Anderson, secretary; and Larry Harmon, assistant treasurer.

Rex Thomas, Lamesa, is in charge of publications for the organization.

Incumbents Win In Colorado City

COLORADO CITY — Incumbents were returned to office as four places on the Colorado Independent School District board of trustees Saturday.

There were no announced opponents.

Incumbents Truman E. Bodine with 119, Drew Ballard with 117 and Edward Roach with 118 were elected to terms expiring in April 1977. Mrs. Robert Shamburger received two write-ins.

112 Votes Cast For Rufus Tom

STANTON — Delbert Dickinson polled 110 votes and Rufus Tom 112 to be returned to three-year terms on the Stanton Independent School District Board of trustees Saturday. There were 116 votes cast and there were no write-ins.

County Trustee Post Uncertain

Hayes Stripling Jr. with 165 votes was re-elected to the Howard County School Board of Trustees from precinct 3 in Saturday balloting, and R. L. Heith, with 96, was re-elected from precinct 4.

Uncertain was the position of county trustee-at-large Walker Bailey, former county superintendent, may have won the write-in race, with eight votes at Forsan. W. R. (Bill) Dawes, retired Marcy principal in Big Spring, received seven votes here. Nearly 50 persons had their names written in, but most of them received only one or two votes.

Cecil Bridges Scores Upset

STANTON — Cecil Bridges upset incumbent mayor J. C. Eply in balloting for Stanton's city council Saturday.

Bridges polled 130 votes to 80 for Eply, who has held the post for several years. Bridges is a long-time resident and a retired manager for a utility firm here.

Lamb Relected Mayor Of Forsan

FORSAN — C. J. (Jack) Lamb was re-elected mayor of Forsan with 36 votes Saturday and Bob Wash received two write-ins.

G. L. Monroney and Lee Whetsel were re-elected aldermen at large both with 37 votes. Bob Cowley received six write-ins. A total of 45 votes were cast in the election.

THE WEEK

One of the real hazards of the season, prairie fires, broke out during the past week. One in Mitchell and Coke Counties burned off some nice sections and one in Howard scorched nearly two before being extinguished. So whatever you do, don't be tossing any cigarette or cigar butts from your car.

Glenn Margolis repeated Thursday his championship of the Howard County Spelling Bee, but not before being extended by half a dozen of the best spellers in years, including Letitia Hernandez, whom he managed to spell down after the 200-work mark. Glenn competes in the regional finals at Lubbock April 13.

Forsan school came with 128 points and won the over-all championship of the District 9-B University Interscholastic League meet in Bronte.

Billy Jack Darden was elected as a new councilman and Stanley Griffin and Charles Parrish as reelected incumbents at Coahoma. Parrish in reality tied with J. F. Gibbon and then took the post when he won a coin toss. At Colorado City, Mrs. Marion C. Basham became the second woman to be a member of that city's council, joining Mrs. Tom Neff.

Dr. P. W. Malone, who has served on the Wayland College board at Plainview for several years, has been elected chairman of the board for this year.

Ralph McLaughlin, Chamber of Commerce president, noted that the fine facility expressed eloquently confidence of Texas Electric Service in Big Spring, a sentiment underlined by Mayor Pro-tem Eddie Acri when open house formally opened the new home here Saturday. It's a handsome structure, and you should visit it.

Barry Canning realized the dream of every baseball player last week when he connected for a grand slam home run. This helped the Big Spring Steers to a 11-0 victory over the Cooper Cougars.

The Jaycee Rattlesnake Roundup, concluded a week ago today, was one of the most successful in several seasons. It resulted in 2,600 pounds of rattlers, which makes our area 2,600 pounds better off so far as we are concerned.

Mayor Wade Choate was at an appreciation dinner in San Antonio Friday evening to honor O. C. Fisher, retiring as congressman from the San Angelo-San Antonio district. What about plans for a local delegation to go to Anson April 20 to honor our congressman, Rep. Omar Burleson?

A week from today will bring up the traditional Easter Sunrise Services—with several new features—at the Commanche Trail Park amphitheatre. For the benefit of those who haven't gone before, a work of warning: No matter what the weather seems to be, take a coat, and if you're really wise, a blanket to shield you from those cold stone seats.

Self-Sellers Are Cautioned

Home owners were cautioned Saturday that a provision in the Texas Real Estate License Act can cause them much difficulty if they sell privately without conforming to law.

Jack Cook, president of the Big Spring Board of Realtors, said that those who embark upon selling their own property should note two requirements of notices of contract cancellation options.

Otherwise, he said, they may be laying themselves liable to damages, attorney fees and court costs, plus having a prospective buyer in possession of the property until compliance with the law can be established.

The self-seller must include on the first page of the sales contract, or attached to a receipt, a statement in 10 point type:

"You, the buyer, may cancel this transaction at any time prior to midnight of the third business day after the date of this transaction. See the attached notice of cancellation form for an explanation of this right." (The "Notice of Cancellation," also in 10 point boldface type, must be the exact wording as that contained in the Act.)

Sales handled by licensed real estate brokers or by attorneys are exempt from the act.

Fast Streakers, 'Beer Hounds' Puzzle Police

The early hours of Saturday saw two unusual crimes committed in Big Spring.

Two long-haired Mexican-Americans entered the 11th & Gregg 7-11 store attended by Earnie Delapaz threw some beer on the floor and tried to steal some records. They threatened to shoot Delapaz if he called the police and left in a 69-70 white over blue Ford without stealing anything.

Two streakers also raced through the Pizza Inn and escaped by car. A police sergeant said streakers will be charged with indecent exposure if caught in a public place.

"Would you like your wife and child sitting down to eat being put off balance by a streaker?" the sergeant said.

Pizza Inn manager Wayne Murphy said streaking "is not a good idea in a public restaurant. But it was a flop anyway. It was about one o'clock in the morning, and it was a very unspectacular streak. I heard some hollering, and two boys with shirts over their heads and nothing else ran in and out. They did it so fast, most of the half dozen customers didn't even notice, and we had to explain to them what happened."

Lamb Relected Mayor Of Forsan

FORSAN — C. J. (Jack) Lamb was re-elected mayor of Forsan with 36 votes Saturday and Bob Wash received two write-ins.

G. L. Monroney and Lee Whetsel were re-elected aldermen at large both with 37 votes. Bob Cowley received six write-ins. A total of 45 votes were cast in the election.

Fryrear, Choate Elected To Board

COAHOMA — Bill Fryrear and Carroll Choate were elected to Coahoma's school board Saturday.

Choate, an incumbent, was re-elected with 201 votes. The other incumbent, M. P. Dorn, with 200 votes, was edged by Fryrear's 242 votes. The other candidate, Don Myers, received 186 votes.

Lamesa Results

John Palmore was reelected unopposed to the Lamesa city council.

John Montgomery, with 245 votes, and Dallas Woods, with 331 votes, were elected to the school board. Harold Henson lost with 196 votes and Gary Laughlin with 87 votes.

Earl Newcomer Wins With 68

ACKERLY — Earl Newcomer with 68 votes was returned to the Sands Independent School District board of trustees Saturday and A. D. Reed with 52 was elected to the post being vacated by Jerry Hall.

Clyde Kenemur missed out with 49 votes, followed by Richard Parker with 34. Woody Long received a pair of write-ins.

Garden City

Two incumbents, George Schwartz and Jesse Overton, and a newcomer, Lawrence Jost, were elected to the Garden City school board Saturday.

Schwartz received 118 votes, Overton 92 and Jost 94. Losers were Robert Doe, 37 votes, and Dale Hillger, 88 votes.

Sand Springs Voters Turn Out For Water Election

Sand Springs voters turned out in heavier proportion Saturday than Coahoma as five places on the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 were filed.

Theo (Pete) Earnest, incumbent, led the ticket with 284 votes, and Owen Johnston, the only other incumbent on the ticket, received 276.

Others elected were Oscar Cagle with 270, Marshal V. Day 173 and M. A. Lilly 152. Barely missing was W. Ray Echols with 148, followed by G. D. Harding with 120, Jerry Smith Cochran 112, and Lawrence H. Abernegg with 104.

This was the first election of the district, which sells treated water to Sand Springs and Coahoma, has had in several years.

By boxes, the vote was:

Name	Ab.	Total
M. A. Lilly	119	152
Owen Johnston	276	276
Jerry S. Cochran	112	112
Two boxes	218	218

Western Week Starts Monday
Western Week gets underway Monday at Howard College, with a round of contests which will lead to the coronation of Mr. and Miss Howard College at the dance Thursday.

All activity, except for Thursday, begins at 9:45 a.m. at the Student Union Building, and will range from beards to tug of war and finally a cow chip hurling contest.

The Versitones, a group playing all types of music, will play for the dance Thursday 8 p.m. to 12 midnight, and high school seniors in the area are invited to be guests of the college students.

Historical Brochures Now Ready For Distribution

"Historic Howard County," a brochure prepared by the Howard County Historical Survey Committee, is off the press.

The 9x11-in. publication contains a number of historical highlights as well as a series of maps and sketches. L. B. (Mike) Paul did the design and art work, and the committee headed by Polly Mays assembled the text.

The cover page has a sketch of the historic spring which gave the town its name. Maps include one with historic trails such as the Comanche War Trail and that blazed by Capt. R. B. Marcy. The one for the City of Big Spring has listing of numerous highlights, and that of Howard County shows landmarks, historical sites and many other features such as oilfields, streams, etc. Still another show the Signal Mount loop, a suggested picturesque drive.

The text contains short sketches on Comanche Trail Park, the spring, Col. C. C. Slaughter and his fabulous ranch, the Earl of Aylsford who settled in early-day Big Spring, a number of "first," plus information about flora and fauna.

The brochure was financed out of the tourist development tax yield, and the 10,000 copies will be available for general distribution.

Sand Springs Voters Turn Out For Water Election

Sand Springs voters turned out in heavier proportion Saturday than Coahoma as five places on the Howard County Water Control and Improvement District No. 1 were filed.

Theo (Pete) Earnest, incumbent, led the ticket with 284 votes, and Owen Johnston, the only other incumbent on the ticket, received 276.

Others elected were Oscar Cagle with 270, Marshal V. Day 173 and M. A. Lilly 152. Barely missing was W. Ray Echols with 148, followed by G. D. Harding with 120, Jerry Smith Cochran 112, and Lawrence H. Abernegg with 104.

This was the first election of the district, which sells treated water to Sand Springs and Coahoma, has had in several years.

By boxes, the vote was:

Western Week Starts Monday

Western Week gets underway Monday at Howard College, with a round of contests which will lead to the coronation of Mr. and Miss Howard College at the dance Thursday.

All activity, except for Thursday, begins at 9:45 a.m. at the Student Union Building, and will range from beards to tug of war and finally a cow chip hurling contest.

The Versitones, a group playing all types of music, will play for the dance Thursday 8 p.m. to 12 midnight, and high school seniors in the area are invited to be guests of the college students.

Historical Brochures Now Ready For Distribution

"Historic Howard County," a brochure prepared by the Howard County Historical Survey Committee, is off the press.

The 9x11-in. publication contains a number of historical highlights as well as a series of maps and sketches. L. B. (Mike) Paul did the design and art work, and the committee headed by Polly Mays assembled the text.

The cover page has a sketch of the historic spring which gave the town its name. Maps include one with historic trails such as the Comanche War Trail and that blazed by Capt. R. B. Marcy. The one for the City of Big Spring has listing of numerous highlights, and that of Howard County shows landmarks, historical sites and many other features such as oilfields, streams, etc. Still another show the Signal Mount loop, a suggested picturesque drive.

The text contains short sketches on Comanche Trail Park, the spring, Col. C. C. Slaughter and his fabulous ranch, the Earl of Aylsford who settled in early-day Big Spring, a number of "first," plus information about flora and fauna.

The brochure was financed out of the tourist development tax yield, and the 10,000 copies will be available for general distribution.

Earl Newcomer Wins With 68

ACKERLY — Earl Newcomer with 68 votes was returned to the Sands Independent School District board of trustees Saturday and A. D. Reed with 52 was elected to the post being vacated by Jerry Hall.

Clyde Kenemur missed out with 49 votes, followed by Richard Parker with 34. Woody Long received a pair of write-ins.

Garden City

Two incumbents, George Schwartz and Jesse Overton, and a newcomer, Lawrence Jost, were elected to the Garden City school board Saturday.

Schwartz received 118 votes, Overton 92 and Jost 94. Losers were Robert Doe, 37 votes, and Dale Hillger, 88 votes.

ZIP! AND ANOTHER FIRST — Mayor Pro-tem Eddie Acri touched the button Saturday at the formal opening of Texas Electric Service Company's new home and neatly snipped the symbolic ribbon. It was, appropriately, the first ribbon cutting with electric scissors. Helping Acri do the honors were, from left, Tom Locke, division manager for TESCO, and Ralph McLaughlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce. In the rear row are Harold Raines, John W. Gary, and Daryle Hbertz. The ceremony launched a day-long open house for the new facility.

Briscoe Cannot Live Up To Vow Of NO New Taxes?

GRAND PRAIRIE, Tex. (AP) — Frances Farenthold said Saturday that Gov. Dolph Briscoe cannot live up to his promise of no new taxes in 1975.

"That man is the all-time big spender of Texas governors and cannot keep taxes from being increased because he has shown no interest in holding the line on state spending," Mrs. Farenthold, a Democratic candidate for governor, told a rally at Turner Park in Grand Prairie.

Texas did not have a tax increase during his first term because the state received new revenue sharing funds from the federal government.

Data Is Sought On Air Travel

The Big Spring Chamber of Commerce is in need of help in documenting its case in support of retaining commercial airline service here.

One item needed is a tabulation of the use of airline service by members of a household, relatives or associates who have used airline service in this area.

This would include embarkations or arrivals at Howard County Airport or a Midland-Odessa or other airports in this area.

Hence, you are asked to fill in the accompanying form and return as soon as possible to the chamber of commerce. If you used an airport other than HCA, you may wish to state why under the space for remarks.

Ralph McLaughlin, president of the Chamber of Commerce, stressed the importance of a good response as promptly as possible for the reason that all the totals need to be tabulated and assembled in a form suitable for introduction in the record by the end of April.

Leaders Seek Harmony In Precinct Confabs

AUSTIN (AP) — State Democratic chairman Calvin Guest joined the chorus Friday of party leaders seeking harmony and unity in the May 4 precinct conventions.

Regardless of personal preferences, each person should do everything possible to involve all Democrats in our deliberations," Guest said in a statement.

"The only thing that has disturbed me were reports earlier this week questioning the effectiveness of the Texas Affirmative Action Committee and its fund raising efforts."

Last Monday, Mrs. Billie Carr, Houston liberal Democratic leader, said the Affirmative Action Committee named in January by the state committee to urge full participation in the precinct conventions had been "kept anemic by a shortage of money."

Flights Fight Lost By TI

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — Fast-growing Metroflight Airlines of Houston picked up another intrastate route Thursday when the Texas Aeronautics Commission overruled its own executive director in awarding a charter.

The 42 commission vote for Metroflight was against the recommendation of director Charles Murphy, who said Rio Airways should get the route between Dallas and the Gregg County Airport which serves Longview, Kilgore and Gladewater.

Murphy said it was the first time the commission had voted directly opposite a hearing examiner's recommendation.

The commission failed on 3-3 tie votes twice to approve the Rio plan, then commissioner Rio Fulks of Wolfe City switched his vote.

The commission said it was impressed with Metroflight's proposal of seven daily flights instead of Rio's four flights.

Metroflight will also use a 19-passenger STOL short take off and landing aircraft, which can avoid the normal landing patterns at the new Dallas-Fort Worth Regional Airport.

Rio had proposed a 15-seat Beech 99, which is faster but would require the normal landing pattern.

Texas International, which currently provides the only service on the Dallas-Longview-Tyler route, opposed the granting of any new charter.

River Float Trip Planned

The Big Spring YMCA is offering an exciting tripping program for boys 13 years of age and older this summer in cooperation with the Fort Worth YMCA.

A river float trip on the Quachita River in Arkansas is planned for June 19-27. The mountains of the quachita National Forest in the Lake Sylvia area of Arkansas will be the location of a wilderness backpack trip July 8-16. A Canadian canoe trip following the French Canadian voyageurs along with a fishing adventure will take place August 9-19. The canoe trip will be in Canada's beautiful Quetico Provincial Park.

Training sessions will be held by experienced YMCA staff for each trip to familiarize trippers with the staff.

Detailed information concerning the trips may be obtained from the YMCA at 8th and Owens Streets.

REVOLUTIONARY SPACE SHUTTLE

Takes Off Like Rocket, Flies Like Spaceship, Lands Like Plane

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — On drawing boards across the nation, a new American rocket ship, the reusable space shuttle, is taking shape. At Cape Kennedy, construction crews are beginning to build a spacecraft for this revolutionary vehicle.

SPACE STATIONS

In Europe, engineers of nine nations are designing a small space station to be ferried into orbit by the shuttle. It will be inhabited by researchers of various lands. Industries around the world are studying how best to utilize the shuttle for profit.

An era of rocketing American astronauts to the moon and into space orbit is nearly over. Only a joint space flight with Russia, to take place next year, remains. Then will follow a period of inactivity while dramatic changes are made in the U.S. space program and in the role of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

By 1980, space should cease to be a remote frontier open only to astronauts. Over the next decade it will become a place any man or woman can visit after only minimal training. NASA is shifting from its pioneering position as an explorer and designer of space payloads into a transportation agency, serving more as a bus or truck line for U.S. industry, other government agencies and other countries.

UNIQUE QUALITIES

The emphasis now is on lowering the price of space exploration and exploitation by developing reusable and less expensive equipment and by cooperation and sharing of costs among several nations. The over-all goal is to use the unique qualities of space to benefit mankind.

The Skylab program, which concluded Feb. 8 with the return of the third three-man crew to earth, marked the end of an era in U.S. manned space flight. The project, during which crews inhabited the space station for 28, 59 and 84 days, set guidelines for the future.

GOOD FISHING

"Skylab has been an affirmation that man can live and do very useful work in space," said project director William C. Schneider. "That says we are free to proceed with the space shuttle. We're free to plan on a long-term space station. And eventually this same data will be used to assure ourselves that if we ever want to go out to a distant planet, why, that too is attainable."

The first payoff from Skylab probably will come from the research resources surveys conducted by the astronauts. Experts now are analyzing thousands of photos and miles of electronic tape to determine how a space science can best be developed for locating hidden oil and mineral reserves on earth, for improving agriculture, for estimating timber volume, for mapping snow cover and assessing water runoff, for charging air and water pollution, for weather forecasting, and for locating good fishing grounds.

EXPERIMENT

A series of metals experiments on Skylab proved that purer, stronger and more dependable metals castings can be manufactured. The combination of weightlessness and vacuum makes it possible to manufacture materials and alloys free of contamination unavoidable on earth because of gravity and convection. Another Skylab experiment produced semiconductor crystals 10 times larger and far superior to any formed on earth, according to researchers. Crystals of this type could be used as efficient semiconductors in power switching and control circuits and in large integrated circuits for computer and communications systems.

The promise shown by such experiments has attracted potential investors in space laboratories and factories, reported Christopher C. Kraft Jr., director of NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston.

TEST FLIGHTS

"More and more companies are showing an interest," he said.

Kraft and other officials also foresee the day when oil and mineral companies, farm, fishing and timber organizations and other industries will want to have teams of researchers in space to conduct their own surveys.

These ventures await the development of the space shuttle, which is set for initial test flights late in this decade, with an operational goal of 1980.

The first five shuttles are to be delivered to NASA in the late 70s at a cost of $5.1 billion for development and manufacture. This compares with a cost of $20 billion for the entire Apollo moon program.

The shuttle will take off like a rocket, fly like a spaceship and land back on earth like an airliner. Its two solid fuel rocket boosters also will be reusable after being parachuted back to earth.

SPACE TRIPS

Work starts soon on modification of the now idle and deserted Apollo and Skylab facilities at Cape Kennedy to handle the shuttle. Construction of a 15,000-foot landing runway is just getting under way. Later in the decade, another shuttle base will be built at Vandenberg Air Force Base, Calif., mainly for military missions.

Capable of making 100 or more trips into space, each shuttle will be able to carry seven persons, with pilot, copilot and mission specialists making up the basic crew. The size of a DC9 airliner, the shuttle will carry 55,000 pounds of payload.

Just as other government agencies, industry and foreign governments now pay NASA to launch specialized satellites, they will do the same in the shuttle era. Seats will be purchased for specialists wanting to do research in orbit for periods up to a month.

After an initial period of experimentation using NASA astronaut-pilots, Kraft said, companies or groups of companies might develop their own spacecraft and technicians trained to operate in space.

Space airline companies also might become reality, he said.

HIGH COST

"There will be a private enterprise investment in space transportation as well as the payload," Kraft predicted. "I don't think there's any question about that."

Spacelab could open the way for permanent large space stations manned by international crews — a goal long sought by many nations as a means of reducing the high cost of getting into space.

A major step in that direction will be made in July 1975, when manned spaceflights of the United States and Soviet Union are to link up in orbit in a historic mission.

DOCKING DEVICE

The flight is to start July 15 with the launch from Russia of a Soyuz spacecraft with two men aboard. About seven hours later, an American Apollo craft with three astronauts aboard will be launched from Cape Kennedy.

The vehicles will hook up in orbit to test a common docking device which would enable a spaceship from one country to rush to the rescue of one from the other country. During a two-day linkup, the spacemen will exchange visits between the two ships and conduct joint experiments.

That is the last planned U.S. man-in-space flight until the shuttle. But Kraft sees the possibility of other American-Russian trips.

"We're going to prove next year that rescue and the use of a common docking mechanism is feasible," he said. "The next move will have to be worked out to the benefit of both countries from the standpoint of financial investment."

SEVENTH GRADER'S CHARGE DENIED

Officials Wouldn't Let Pupils Display Anti-Nixon Posters?

HOUSTON (AP) — A Houston area seventh grade boy has written President Nixon saying school officials would not allow pupils to display anti-Nixon posters during the President's recent visit to the school.

The principal of the school denied the accusation. Nixon received a warm reception from an estimated 3,000 youngsters during his brief stopover en route to the Johnson Space Center March 20.

However, Patrick Butler III, 13, a seventh grader at Webster Intermediate School, claims teachers and administrative personnel ensured a pro-Nixon crowd by sequestering young critics.

'WE LOVE YOU'

In a letter scrawled to the President with copies sent to news media, young Butler said: "During your visit, you would have seen many posters calling for your resignation or impeachment, but they were banned. Anyone who made an uncomplimentary poster had to stay in the principal's office during your visit. Posters saying 'We love you, Mr. Nixon' were allowed."

Principal J. B. Puckett denied any pupil was detained in his office or that pupils were told what to say on posters which they were allowed to create from school material.

Other teachers could not confirm the complaint. "I don't know who would have been there principal's office with her or him," said one teacher. "All the administrators and teachers were outside."

FEAR

Young Butler said he was disappointed the President restricted his conversation and handshaking to primary pupils.

"The older kids were kept at a distance for fear that they might make uncomplimentary remarks," he said in the letter.

Joan Jacobson, 12, a sixth grader, said her class also was told not to put anything un-

LOS ANGELES (Special) The R*A*F diet has been found to give excellent results in weight loss when followed according to its simple instructions, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with reports of weight loss while still eating most of the foods you are used to. Those who follow the simple diet report a loss of weight without exercise or starvation. Best of all you can still eat regular foods such as steak, chicken, chops, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon and eggs and still lose unwanted weight. The Vitamin "E" & "C" Tabs used with the diet plan supply you with the M.D.R. which otherwise may be lost when following the R*A*F Diet Plan.

The use of the new Vitamin "E" & "C" Tabs and foods prescribed in the plan will through natural action, act to help your body keep fit and not suffer from hunger pangs. This is a solid, common sense diet plan — 100% safe — no unpleasant side effects. A study of 900 obese persons confirms the value of the low

Young Butler's mother, Mrs. Patrick Butler Jr., said she did not encourage her son to write Nixon nor do she and her husband attempt to shape their children's views.

"We always tried to make them alert, but we've not required them to hold our ideas," she said.

Puckett commended the Webster pupils on their behavior during the President's visit.

Effects Of Energy Crisis On Rural Areas Examined

By CRAIG AMMERMAN, Associated Press Writer

The gasoline lines, the renewed emphasis on mass transit, the skyrocketing utility bills area II things people in rural America have read about. But in most cases they've seen little of them.

The energy crisis, like other sudden changes in the country's lifestyle, has had some impact on rural America. But it is less noticeable and more likely to be ignored than in the cities and suburbs.

The problems of the cities generally reach the rural areas, but in a diluted form. And the millions of people who live there for the most part go about their daily lives much the way they always have.

HARD TO BELIEVE

Associated Press reporters who visited rural communities in five states in recent weeks reported there have been some changes because of the energy crisis. But the problems endured by many cities and suburbs translate into aggravations rather than crises for rural areas.

It is almost impossible to gauge what impact the energy situation will have on the future of small towns. But many who live there find it hard to believe any lasting changes will be forced upon them with the exception of high prices for gasoline.

Most rural areas visited by AP reporters have endured some changes:

—Gasoline prices are higher, and a few service stations have gone out of business. Small motels have experienced a drop in business.

KEEP IT COOL

—Citizens generally keep their thermostats lower.

—Some local stores report increased business because local residents are less likely to drive 50 miles or so to urban shopping centers. Other stores, such as clothing concerns, report a drop in business, and attribute it to local residents spending less because of higher prices for food and gasoline.

—Local residents who drive considerable distances to shop or to watch the local high school athletic teams are more likely to form car pools, and they aren't taking as many trips.

"There's been really no gasoline shortage here," said Mayor Shelby Combs of Nicholasville, Ky. "If the energy crisis were to get worse I don't know what would happen here. I suppose we could be hurt, but we haven't been yet."

John Sutherland, an automobile dealer in Nicholasville, said "people around here were looking for small cars for a while, but that's beginning to change already."

FEWER TRIPS

All of which is not to say the latest American crisis hasn't been felt in Nicholasville. One local motel reported its business down 40 per cent and some residents said they were making fewer shopping trips to Lexington.

And for some in rural America, like Jay Davis, there has been an energy crisis.

Davis, 28, moved to Colfax, Wash., last year and began managing a service station with a staff of six, a large repair business and gasoline sales of 1,000 gallons a day.

Easy To Lose Lbs. Fast With New Vitamin 'E' Diet

HOLLYWOOD (Special) — New scientific discoveries have produced a Vitamin E diet that quickly works wonders on overweight people, and reportedly is gaining great popularity across the country with growing reports of easy weight loss "while still eating almost as much as you want."

Those who follow the simple Vitamin E diet report an average loss of at least a pound a day and even more without exercise or starvation. Nutritionists' files are bulging with happy testimonials from formerly overweight people who are now trim and slim again. Best of all, you can still eat almost all the "forbidden foods" like steak, chicken, fish, sauces, gravies, bacon & eggs and still lose weight.

Chevable (candy-like) vitamin E tablets, as used in the diet plan, contain a new scientific combination of ingredients that quickly curbs and controls the appetite, while also giving the wonderful benefits of Vitamin E which is so essential to good health.

The use of the new Vitamin E Diet tablets and foods prescribed in the plan will, through natural action, act to help your body use up excess fat. According to recent clinical test, a person who is deficient in Vitamin E or Protein will double the speed of fat utilization with the use of Vitamin E.

E-DIET AVAILABLE

To get a copy of this highly successful diet and E Tablets, send $5.00 for 10 day supply (or $7.00 for 20 day supply or $10.00 for 30 day supply) to: Vita-E Diet, Dept. No. VI, 11526 Burbank Blvd., North Hollywood, Calif. 91601 (Unconditional money-back guarantee if not satisfied.)

New Source Of Assistance To Teachers

ABILENE — A new source of assistance to teachers in Howard County on school-related problems is now available from the newly established Region 3 office of the Texas State Teachers Association.

Nine such regional offices have been established by TSTA, to extend services of the Association's state headquarters in Austin.

Howard County will be served by the regional office at Abilene, with Mrs. Jewell Harris as regional consultant to teachers in the area.

Mrs. Harris directs the Region 3 office at 3335 North Third Street, Suite 9, Abilene. The telephone number is 915-673-6321.

In the past, TSTA field service personnel have operated solely out of the Austin headquarters office. This office will continue to serve members on a statewide basis.

Functions of the local office at Abilene, which will serve a 4-county area, will be to coordinate programs, supply information, help TSTA local associations with member services and benefits and assist in workshops.

"We hope to be able to serve the teachers in Region 3 on any matter relating to their profession," Mrs. Harris said. "If we cannot give them the information or service they need, we will refer them to those who can supply it from the Austin headquarters," she said.

Donald McKee Is On Choir Tour

BROWNWOOD — Donald McKee is presently on tour with the Howard Payne College, 62 voice Acappella Choir which will travel to 15 cities in five states during spring break, through April 14.

McKee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Don McKee, 1802 11th Place, Big Spring, is a Music major.

Better Fuel Factor Due To Boost Auto Sales

DETROIT (AP) — After years of declining fuel economy, the auto is expected to stage a big comeback in the 1975 model year with gasoline mileage improvements very likely exceeding 7 per cent.

The Federal Environmental Protection Agency said Friday that preliminary results on some 1975-model test vehicles showed efficiency improvements would be greater than anticipated.

Coupled with increased use of steel-belted, radial-ply tires, which the EPA says can cut fuel use an average 10 per cent, the improvement could be an important factor in dealing with the nation's petroleum problem.

EPA deputy administrator Eric Stork said the latest projection was based on the first tests of 1975 cars equipped

EASTER SEAL STRUGGLES IN EMPLOYMENT FIELD — Eighteen years after posing as the 1956 Easter Seal poster child, 22-year-old Clara Jo Proudfoot, of Miami, Fla., is out of the limelight and into the competitive field of employment. She has found it a tough and sometimes bitter experience.

Cotton Futures

NEW YORK (AP) — Unfavorable indications from cotton producing areas sent cotton futures prices lower this past week, analysts said.

At Friday's close, No. 2 contracts on the New York Cotton Exchange were off 40 to 130 points after gains of up to 63 points the week before.

Weekly trading volume was estimated at 673,600 bales for a daily average of 134,700 bales. This compared with 620,000 bales or a daily average of 124,000 bales a week earlier.

The open interest reversed its upward trend and stood at 1.52 million bales on Thursday, a loss of 20,800 bales from the level of the preceding Friday.

Handicapped Woman Is Competing For Employment

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Clara Jo Proudfoot says life has taught her that a 4-year-old girl on pink crutches is cute but a 22-year-old woman in a wheelchair is sometimes unwanted.

In 1956, she charmed millions as the national Easter Seal poster child. Born in 1952 with half a spine, she spent 1956 making public appearances.

She even had her picture taken with the late President Dwight D. Eisenhower.

INSURANCE WOES — Now she is a handicapped Miami woman competing for employment, and she says she has sometimes found it a bitter experience.

Miss Proudfoot graduated from a Miami high school in 1970 and was trained as a key-punch operator by the Florida Division of Vocational Rehabilitation.

After six months of searching, she was hired as a secretary by a Miami firm. She says she worked a 40-hour week but was classified as a part-time employee.

"They didn't want to put me on their hospital insurance plan," Miss Proudfoot said in a recent interview. As a result, she was uninsured when she needed an operation for ulcers on her feet. She quit the job.

FIRE — She found and then was fired from another job because co-workers complained of the smell from the urine collection bag she must wear.

Seven months ago, a friend recommended her to William Smith, president of Florida Filters Inc., which needed a secretary. Smith hired her and says she will get the same chance as any other new employee.

"She's an outgoing, diligent, reliable worker," Smith says. "She has a lot of things going for her and we feel she's growing in independence. We are determined that the girl will paddle her own canoe."

Smith says "do-gooders" often keep handicapped people from achieving independence. Referring to himself as "a lousy do-gooder," he says he told Miss Proudfoot that "nobody dispenses anything for free."

Smith says, "Those people who do things they call charity expect some direct things in return — if nothing but constant return of appreciation."

Kimball Assumes Top Mormon Post

SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Echoing the voices of prophets before him, President Spencer W. Kimball accepted today the sustaining vote of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon) as its 12th president.

In a solemn assembly, President Kimball told 8,000 people packed into the Mormon Tabernacle, "You have seen the mighty works of the Lord, how that everything is done by common consent and those who are led, sustain those who lead them."

His remarks were made in a prepared text.

President Kimball, 79, became head of the 3.3-million member church after the death of President Harold B. Lee last Dec. 26. But today's ceremony was the first time the membership was asked to show its approval of him.

Sustaining votes are taken by a raised right hand and are nearly always unanimous. Members from each level of the higher Mormon Priesthood stand to vote separately.

Other church General Authorities also faced a sustaining vote during the assembly, part of the church's three-day 144th Annual General Conference which ends Sunday.

Mormons believe today marks both the birthday of their church and of Jesus Christ.

Sissy Books Local Visit

Frances (Sissy) Farenthold will bring her candidacy for governor here in a brief visit scheduled for April 16.

She will be at a reception scheduled to start at 4 p.m. on that date, said her Howard County campaign manager, Mary Dudley. The Student Union Building at Howard College has been selected tentatively as the place.

Mrs. Farenthold has been stumping the state vigorously in recent weeks, and last week assailed Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who is seeking reelection, for his charge that she is using "warmed-over" issues.

"What that man doesn't understand is that these issues are not warmed over they're hot," she said.

Please return to Box 802, papers, glasses & purse taken from Red Capri on 6th Street Monday night.

'Disaster' Premature?

The determination by the United States Department of Agriculture's SACS that a "natural disaster condition" now exists on non irrigated farms of the High Plains is "grossly premature," Don Marble, South Plains, president of the Plains Cotton Growers Association charged Saturday.

It will, he claimed, have the effect of cutting off disaster payments on cotton acreage transferred from one farm to another.

Originally the agriculture act of 1973 excluded disaster payments on transferred acreage, by lease or re-portionment. Farm leaders and Rep. Poage, chairman of the House agriculture committee, prevailed on USDA to change the ruling March 12. The new regulation, however, says that "disaster payment for prevented planting will be limited to the larger of 1) the farm's basic allotment prior to the increase, or 2) to the normal harvested acreage." The PCGA contends that the ruling should not be imposed until a condition of drought disaster actually exists — and that could be up to June 15.

Local Students Earn Awards

SNYDER — Kim Carney, a senior at Breckenridge High School, received the Best in Show award and a $150 scholarship to Western Texas College at the second annual High School Art Exhibition and Workshop held Saturday, March 30, at WTC.

Forty-one students entered works in the exhibition, Mike Thornton, WTC art instructor, said. Terry Morrow, a member of the Texas Tech faculty, was judge.

Works from the exhibit will be on display in the Fine Arts Building at WTC this week and will be exhibited at Snyder High School next week.

Miss Carney's winning entry was a pencil drawing entitled "The Jockey." Other prize winners in the show were Penny Cooley, Colorado City High School junior, for her painting, $100 scholarship; Jose Ramos, junior at Ector High School, for his drawing, $100 scholarship; Wanda Churchwell, Big Spring High School senior, for her sculpture "Sea Captain," $10 scholarship; Joyce Bennett, Big Spring High School senior, for her wall hanging in the crafts division, $100 scholarship.

BIG SPRING HIGH Art Students Compete For WTC Scholarships

By DRUANNE PRIDDY

Saturday, March 30, 15 BSHS art students competed for scholarships at Western Texas College. Of the ten awards given, Big Spring students received 5. The winners were Wanda Churchwell with a first prize in sculpture, Joyce Bennett with a first prize in crafts, Shari Craver with a second prize in crafts and Tony Haro won the second prize in painting. Ruth Knight won the Judges Special Merit Award.

Students are reminded that the Easter Holidays begin Friday, April 5 and that classes will resume Tuesday, April 16. BSHS students had an Easter assembly Friday. Scott McEwen and Ruth Knight spoke for the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and the Bible Club presented the Easter Story with a slide presentation. The Meistersingers also presented two Easter songs.

The UIL meet for prose readers, poetry, speaking, spellers, shorthand, typists and ready writing was held at Odessa Permian last Saturday.

The senior class wishes to express their appreciation to the student body for their attendance at the Senior Side Show last Thursday. Special thanks goes to Mrs. Elaine Yildirim and Mrs. Imogene Puckett for their help.

Ronald McKee, Karen Jenkins, Ronnie Mullins, and Bubba Stripling, the four class presidents, were the speakers for Good Morning World Thursday. Kendra Dewees and Nadine Teague provided the music.

Four BSHS seniors attended the "Democracy in Action" seminar at the Douglas MacArthur Academy of Freedom which is part of the Howard Payne College campus in Brownwood.

The four seniors attending, were Dawn Hunt, Sara Zant, Rick Gilliland and Jeff Kuykendall. These students were accompanied by Mr. Martin, BSHS government teacher.

Approximately 20 schools from all over the state were represented at the seminar. Most of the time was spent in discussion groups and committees.

A representative from the engraving company will be here April 25 to deliver graduation announcements. The amount each student owes will be posted outside the main office on the glass. The balance Seniors owe on the announcements is due at this time.

The Key Club went to national convention in San Antonio Thursday and Friday. They represented the Key Clubs in the Texas-Oklahoma District. Those attending were Carlton, Wayne Crenwelge, Rick Gilliland, Robert McEntire, Joe Shaw, Guy Teague, Mark Willey, David Wright, Robert Bradbury, Greg Brooks, Nat Hart, Joe Matthews, and Ray McCutcheon.

Rodney Allison, Jane Stoker, Lynn Dickinson and Frank Ortega will be attending the Junior Historian Convention in Austin April 30-7th. Jane Stoker will represent our local chapter of the history club in a breakfast at the convention. Jane will discuss with the representatives from other history clubs any activities and any problems that each club is having.

The History Club is also making plans for next year's club. If you are interested in being in the history club next year and - or finding out what the History Club has to offer, please contact Mr. Allison in room 201 or any History Club member.

The Coahoma girls track team captured first place at Iraan in the district track meet. Coahoma gained 129 points to top all other schools. Eight of the girls will advance to the regional finals. Lusara Phinney and the mile relay (Jennie Hayes, Theresa Beal, Debra Meyers, Lusara Phinney) were the only first place wins of the day. Coahoma finished six second place winners. They are Patty Hulme, discus; Becky Snell, shot put; Jean Parks, 60-yard dash and 110-yard dash; Trana Bayes, 880-yard run; and the 440-yard relay consisting of Lusara Phinney, Jean Parks, Dale Mitchell, and Theresa Beal. Third place finishes were Sertha Baker, shot put; Theresa Beal, 220-yard dash; and Dale Mitchell, 80-yard hurdles.

Western Week Included In Spring Activities

Spring semester activities picked up momentum at Howard College at Big Spring with Western Week. Spring Follies, and final exams all just over the horizon.

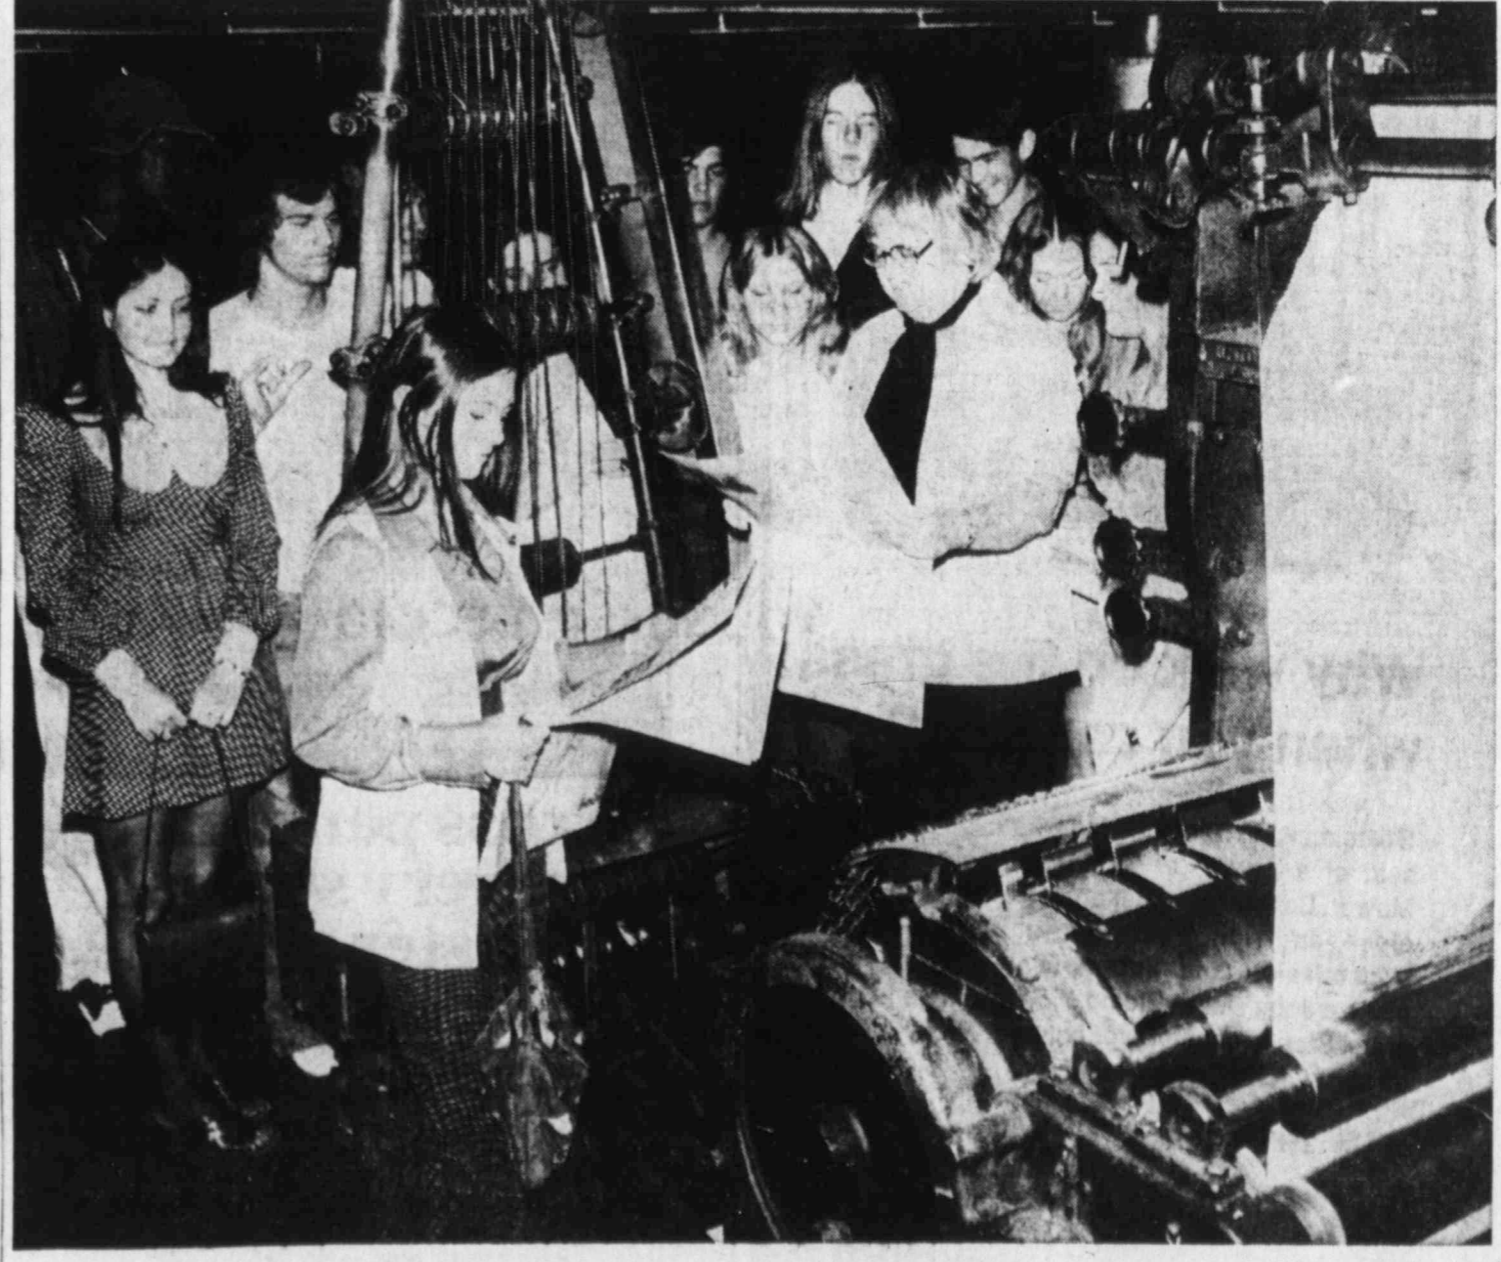

Tomorrow students and faculty will don Western duds for a week of fun and games to be climaxed by the naming of a list of student favorites.

RELIVE OLD WEST — The games will provide local antics such as tugs-of-war, pie eating, sack races, spitting contests, and cow chip throwing. When "Mr. and Miss Western Week" are named Thursday, Big Spring High School students will be participating in the debut event.

In athletics, Taylor Williams, a 6-7 sophomore who paced the Hawks to the Western Conference cage championship and a No. 14 national ranking, was named to the NJCAA All-America first team.

Two board of trustee positions will have been filled in balloting that took place yesterday (See Section A for results). For the first time in the history of the college, two students ran for trustee positions.

Five high schools were on campus Friday for Region 1-B One-Act Play contest. The University Interscholastic League event drew Miles, Ira, Sands, Ft. Davis, and San Elizario High Schools.

LAWYERS ARGUE Mutscher's 'Immunity'

AUSTIN (AP) — Lawyers for former Speaker Gus Mutscher says he never should have been tried on a charge he conspired to accept a bribe because legislative immunity made him answerable only to the voters.

The Court of Criminal Appeals will hear oral argument in the case Wednesday. Legislative immunity perhaps is the most interesting of 24 arguments defense lawyers use in their brief asking the court to reverse the 1972 convictions of Mutscher and two others.

STOP KINGS That immunity theory dates from early English history and was created to stop kings from imprisoning members of Parliament for "making seditious speeches against the crown."

The U.S. Supreme Court recognized that immunity in an 1810 opinion written by Chief Justice John Marshall, who said the motives of Georgia legislators could not be questioned in court in a bribery case.

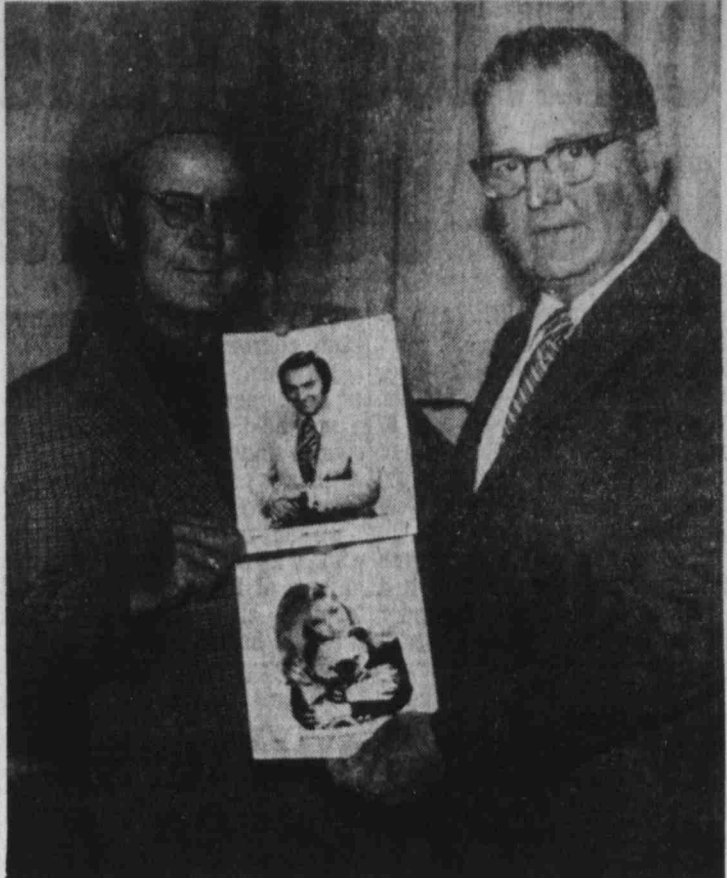

The late Justice Felix Frankfurter wrote in a 1951 case, "In times of political passion, dishonest or vindictive motives are readily attributable to legislative conduct and as readily believed."

"Courts are not the place for such controversy. Self discipline and the voters must be the ultimate reliance for discouraging or correcting such abuses."

POLITICAL PASSION For defendants Mutscher, former Rep. Tommy Shannon of Fort Worth and Mutscher aide Rush McGinly, 1972 was indeed a time of "political passion," defense lawyers say.

The prosecution's answering brief quotes a 1972 U. S. Supreme Court case in which the court held that the intent of the framers of the U.S. Constitution was to protect only the legitimate legislative process, not "... to make members of Congress supercitizens, immune from criminal responsibility."

The Texas Constitution grants legislative immunity in these words, "No member shall be questioned in any other place

Signing of two singing stars but also talented instrumentalists who have been part of a Jim Ed Brown traveling show out of Nashville. The rodeo is scheduled nightly June 19-22 in the rodeo bowl in western Big Spring.

They are Barbara Fairchild and Jim Ed Brown. Miss Fairchild was rocketed to stardom while still in her 20's principally by her recording of "Teddy Bear Song," and more recently the nostalgic "Baby Doll."

Joining them as part of the spotlight act will be the Cates Sisters Marcy and Margie, who are not only vivacious singers, but also talented instrumentalists who have been part of a Jim Ed Brown traveling show out of Nashville.

As in the past, a colorful parade the afternoon of June 19 will inaugurate the show, and each evening after the rodeo, the singing stars and band will be featured at a rodeo dance.

Briscoe Wins Endorsement

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The Abilene Reporter-News will announce in its Sunday morning editions its endorsement of Gov. Dolph Briscoe for another term.

The newspaper, which has morning, evening and Sunday editions, endorsed Ben Barnes in the first Democratic primary two years ago.

Gov. Dolph Briscoe is running for a second term and Texans would be wise to reward him with it. "As his campaign theme correctly emphasizes, he has delivered on the major promises he made two years ago. He pledges to pursue the same worthy objectives and other new ones and on the basis of his record, he is believable."

His prime achievement to date has been the restoration of unity in the same government. He alone has not been responsible for it (restoration of unity) but he alone could have prevented it. Gov. Briscoe also has performed to restore confidence and integrity in government. Again he did not do it alone and the legislature is due a large measure of credit for it. But he supported it.

Every gubernatorial election is important, but this year's is even more so. For the first time in the state's history, Texas will elect their top state officials for four-year terms. They need more than ever to choose the right person and Dolph Briscoe is the one.

Marilyn Hale Is Alpha Chi Pledge

ABILENE, — Miss Marilyn Marie Hale, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John M. Hale, 2309 Lynn Dr., has been inducted into Abilene Christian College's honor society, Alpha Chi.

Miss Hale is currently a junior English major at ACC. She is a 1972 graduate of Big Spring High School.

To be eligible for induction into Alpha Chi, a student must have 66 hours of credit and have a 3.4 grade point average on a 4.0 scale.

HC Given Machines Valued At $155,000

Twenty-one industrial shop machines valued at $155,000 have been awarded to Howard College at Big Spring, Dr. Thomas Salter, president, announced Saturday.

The magnitude of this gift is one of the largest from government sources in the 27-year history of the college," Dr. Salter said. "This equipment will allow us to bring our wood and machine shops to the quality of those used in heavy industry."

The equipment will come from the Defense Industrial Reserve, and was formerly known as the "Tools for Schools" program. "In the past we have had industry fail to locate in Big Spring because our facilities were inadequate to train the employees needed to work in the factory or business," Dr. Salter explained.

The college will have the capability to train machinists to work in the largest factories or even shipyards, he added.

Tommy Rutledge, who wrote the proposal, and other instructors in the occupational education department assisted, said Dr. Larry Key, dean of occupational training.

Rutledge the Related Arts Department. He was assisted by John Freeman, Dick Hooper, Norman Backs and Al Long.

Key says the college was approved for 21 out of the 41 machines requested in the proposal. He indicated that 10 per cent, rather than the 51 per cent that was given, is normal.

The college has 30 days to agree to receive the equipment. Cost already budgeted to the local school, will amount to only crating, handling, and shipping the machines. "For instance, a $20,000 item may only cost us $300," Dr. Key explained.

Applications for another $150,000 worth of equipment is still being processed, according to B. F. Clark, chief of the Defense Industrial Loan Office. He indicated to Rutledge that the other 20 items were still being screened by the computer, and may become available within the next 90 days. The program now is unique because it is coming direct from the Defense Department Reserve, and is not surplus equipment. "We are one of the first colleges to apply and receive this equipment," Rutledge explained. Con. Omar Butieson, gave much assistance, he said. Dr. Key said that while the program is styled as a loan arrangement, that the equipment would probably never be reclaimed by the government. Of 490 schools applying, Howard College was sixth in priority. Among those items available are four machine lathes, a sheet metal shearing machine, trimmer, a crank pin grinder for automobiles, a band saw and filing machine, a reciprocal surface grinder, shaper, and upright drilling machine. Also a melting furnace, harness tester, circular wood saw, cylindrical external grinder, sheet metal shearer, wood buffer and polisher, hack saw cut-off, and spot welder for sheet metal.

State Solon Will Cite Rural Plan

LAMESA — Rep. David Finney, Fort Worth, author of rural development legislation during the 1973 session of the legislature, will unveil part of his proposed new rural economic program here Tuesday.

He will speak at the hearing being conducted by the Texas Industrial Commission concerning its roll in rural development. The commission is holding 26 such meetings in rural areas of the state.

Rep. Finney said there will be three planks in his proposal for the 1974 legislative session, and the other two planks will be unveiled at meetings in Weatherford and McAllen. The hearings are bringing together three newly-appointed rural commissioners of the TIC to get the feel of community leaders define problems and consider courses of action.

"I think a properly conducted rural strategy can really solve our urban crisis as well as our rural problems," said Rep. Finney. That is why, as an urban legislator, I have been so concerned about the problems of rural Texas."

His proposal which became law last year established a rural development division of the TIC. He also took the lead in obtaining $600,000 to fund the act.

"In the past 25 years, over 30 million people have moved from farms and small towns into our nation's urban centers," he said. In the decade from 1960-70, no less than 85 per cent of our state's population increase occurred in Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston and San Antonio. Yet a recent survey shows that 24 per cent of our population would live in small towns. "But small actually prefer to live in the open country, and an additional 30 per cent communities can't expect to draw industry unless they have adequate power, water, sewage, etc. Unfortunately, these have been traditionally capital-deficient; many are struggling for survival. I hope the act will help make it possible for people to remain in their own communities instead of being forced to migrate to the already overcrowded cities.

REP. DAVID FINNEY

TOUGHEST DECISIONS MAY BE AHEAD FOR CON-CON DELEGATES Take 30-Day Rest Following Rousing Floor Fight

AUSTIN (AP) — Some of their toughest decisions still lie ahead. But Texas Constitutional Convention delegates have 30 days to rest up for them and seek the voters' advice.

The legislators recessed Friday until May 6, two days after the primary elections. They trimmed their staff from 104 to 62 and told it to keep busy.

ANNUAL SESSIONS When they return to convention hall—the refurbished House chamber—they will have 86 days to finish writing a new constitution for submission to the voters. That probably will be at the Nov. 5 general election.

Friday's session brought the first half of the convention to an end with the sort of hard-fought debate that permeated its initial 83 days.

There was a rousing floor fight over how long the legislature should stay in session each year. Nobody challenged the idea of annual sessions instead of the present system of 140-day legislative meetings every two years.

An 84-77 vote knocked out the Legislative Committee's proposal of annual sessions of up to 180 days, with the legislature itself deciding how long it should meet within that limit.

Instead, the delegates opted for a 140-day session in odd-numbered years and one of 90-days in even numbered years.

The committee's proposal to let the legislature call itself into special session, by a petition of two-thirds of each house, drew no criticism.

WORN OUT In fact, the legislator-delegates added a provision allowing 51 per cent of the House and Senate to convene a 15-day special session to override the governor's post-session vetoes. For a moment Friday, delegates blazed at the 30-day recess, but a few words from Sen. A.M. Alkin, D-Paris, dean of the Senate and convention vice president, calmed things down. "I know everybody's tired and worn out. These people who have campaigns need to get back," the soft-spoken Alkin said.

When they return, the delegates first must finish the legislative article, including a decision on whether to give the voters the option of a special commission to recommend salaries for lawmakers.

That should take less than a week. Then come the controversial articles on the judiciary and "general provisions," which have yet to be approved by committees. PRESSURE GROUP Nearly half the legislators are lawyers, and that means nearly 90 vocal participants in the convention view themselves as experts on how a court system should be structured. Lawyers outside the convention make up a sizeable and influential pressure group, but with little in the way of unanimity.

Issues include whether the state's two top appellate courts, the Supreme Court and the Court of Criminal Appeals should be merged; whether appellate judges should be appointed by the governor; and whether district and appellate judge's salaries should be paid entirely by the state, doing away with county supplements.

The general provisions article, still far from final committee approval, has such fuel for turmoil as the so-called "right to work" branch banking, public access to beaches, race betting and liquor regulation.

EXPERIENCE All articles, once passed on second reading, must come before the convention again for another vote after being polished by the Style and Drafting Committee.

Then comes the tough problem of how to submit the constitution to the voters—as a whole with certain alternate or supplemental issues or article by article.

It all must end by July 30, and some would like to see the convention run that long in order to keep interest alive as long as possible before the election. Daniel has said repeatedly that the experience of other states has been that a constitution's chance of success at the polls diminishes sharply if the election is held much past 30 days after the convention adjourns.

Aaron Won't Play Today

into a double play. "If there had been a man on base, Hank would have been up there in (Norm) Miller's spot," Mathews said. Miller batted after Oates hit into the double play.

Mathews used three pinch hitters in the game but not one of them was Aaron. Aaron left the ball park during the ninth inning and returned to his hotel immediately.

The controversy originated during spring training when the Braves announced plans to hold out Aaron until the team's home opener Monday night against Los Angeles.

Mathews had renewed the controversy over Aaron's playing in Cincinnati before Saturday's nationally televised game when he said the 40-year-old superstar would be available only as a pinch hitter.

Mathews said he had intended to use Aaron in the eighth inning of the game but changed his mind when pinch hitter Johnny Oates bounced

Before the game Mathews said: "Right now it seems like World War III, but it's just not that momentous."

Davidson said Bartholomay told him: "Eddie is the manager. He makes up the lineup."

Kuhn had strongly recommended that Aaron start two of the three games in Cincinnati.

Robinson said, "It's the general manager's place to stand behind his manager when he makes a stance."

Mathews said he had intended to use Aaron in the eighth inning of the game but changed his mind when pinch hitter Johnny Oates bounced

"If the game is in question, Hank will pinch hit," Mathews said. "Yes, that applies to today's game and tomorrow's game."

LET'S GO FISHING

FISHING IS ALSO FOR WOMEN
The surging interest is out door activities, particularly camping and hiking is fast making fishing a popular sport for women. More of them are turning up at lakes and streams these days, complete with fishing tackle and know-how.

What's remarkable about all this, I think, is that it hasn't happened sooner. At any rate, women have discovered fishing and we'll be seeing more of them from now on.

For those young ladies who are now thinking about fishing, I'd like to offer a few hints. (Their husbands are free to listen in.)

I suggest you begin by figuring out where you expect to do your angling. If you plan to accompany your husband, there's no problem — just get similar equipment and lures. Maybe even borrow some of his to start with.

However, if you plan to fish with other women or alone, find where the fishing is in your area or where and what fish are in the part of the country you or your family goes to on vacations. The choices, of course, are streams, lakes (including reservoirs) and salt water (surf, offshore and deep sea).

All things being equal, I suggest you start with freshwater and, specifically, with bass. Bass are exciting fish and you can find them almost everywhere in the country.

If you're not going to borrow your husband's gear, visit a tackle shop and ask the people there to help you pick a rod and matching reel and line and an assortment of lures for the fish you plan to go after. Spin casting with a closed faced reel is a good bet. Spin casting is easy to learn and combines power with control.

By the way, don't buy cheaply made lures. They usually are no bargain because they often don't work or last. And get a good assortment; plugs that imitate a minnow, crawfish or frog; plastic worms in several colors; some jigs and a few spoons. Also get a casting plug for practice.

First chance you get, go into your backyard and, using the casting plug, spend some time learning how to toss a lure. Your husband can help here. If not, read the instructions you can pick up at a tackle store (or these columns on the subject).

You should try for accuracy and smoothness in your casting. Give yourself a target such as a bucket or an old tire and work to drop the plug as close to it as consistently.

Casting may seem complicated at first, but you'll pick it up as you get the hang of the equipment. And keep practicing. It will pay off.

Now you're ready for bass. In winter months, fish for them deeper and slower because they usually are in water 20 to 45 feet deep. Work your lure very slowly.

In early spring bass start moving toward shallow water. This is a good time to use a wide variety of lures. Try topwater, Bass Buster 1-6-ounce jigs, single spins, or deep-running billed plugs.

In the summer fish at dawn or in the late evenings. Bass are likely to be finicky at other times. You'll find them in depths of from 15 to 25 feet.

Fall is the best time. Bass go on a feeding binge and tend to move fast and hit hard. While you'll find them in shallow water, most of the time, you may find them at greater depths, too.

Stick to bass fishing for awhile. You may want to make some notes on the places you've fished and lures that worked. Keep trying different lures in different ways until one of them works. Also remember that some days almost no one is taking fish. So don't feel too bad when your catch is zero.

Later, when you move to another fish, such as crappie or muskie, the time you put in on bass will be well worthwhile.

But the important thing is to have fun. Fishing is nothing if you don't enjoy it. And don't rub it in when you catch bigger ones than your husband or son.

Dear Virgil,
Since I do a lot of my fishing late in the afternoon and early evening, at certain times of the year I run into those doggone biting flies that just about ruin my fishing. I use an insect repellent which seems to do a job on mosquitoes and other bugs but apparently the biting flies are immune to it. Any suggestions?

Jo Ann Schmauch
Dear Jo Anne,
Biting flies have been a problem for quite some time. They can indeed make your life miserable on a stream or lake at times. Recently I tried a new repellent called Deep Woods Off which is really effective not only against mosquitoes, gnats and other insects you encounter but against biting flies, too. It is a parentally contains an ingredient that really gets to those flies.

By J. D. PEER
Texas Parks & Wildlife Dept.

Last year, the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. revenue totaled $57,485,959.13. This money came from receipts of license, cigarette tax, fines etc. There has always been a controversy as to whether the sportsmen are paying their share of the load for the hunting and fishing activities.

Not only have hunters and fishermen paid for their sport, reports and records show that some of their fund monies was spent on non-game studies and research such as the red wolf and falcon.

The sale of 2,793,464 licenses for the 1973 fiscal year netted $6,859,386.34. This money along with the sand, shell, gravel and a parentally contains an ingredient that really gets to those flies.

West Texas Mini Run Set Today

The West Texas MiniBike Championship Motocross Races will be staged today at noon at the Optimist Club track, with seven places to earn prizes in the junior and senior competition.

First prize in the senior action is $50, while second place will take home $35 and third earned $25. Trophies will be awarded in the junior action.

There will also be the regular 100cc, 125cc, 250cc and open division competition. Rider comes the money for wildlife administration, game conservation, fish propagation, and enforcement of game and fish laws. The expenditure of this money in fund nine is designed for fish and game only as prescribed by law.

Money for state parks comes from legislative appropriations, the allocation of the cigarette tax, entrance and gate fees and other funds, but not from the fish and game programs.

Individuals, whether they are hunters and fishermen or not, must remember that the Texas Parks and Wildlife Dept. regulates and administers most of the outdoor activities including lake and water safety, parks and their maintenance, hunter safety and enforcement of laws dealing with each of these activities.

Even with the funds from the increased hunting and fishing licenses coming into the department every day, this additional money cannot be used until September 1975, as the increase was approved after the legislature had already made the appropriations for the department. In fact many programs underway are operating on the same amount of money as was in the 1973 budget.

Consequently, the department has been affected the same as any other government agency by the higher operating cost and inflation.

The purchase of a Texas hunting and fishing license or a park permit is still the best bargain on the market.

Spence Crappie Bite In Spite Of Weather

Come wind or high water, crappie fishing continues to be great at Lake E. V. Spence. Working their schedules in between sandstorms of the past week, fishermen ground in crappie by the hundreds. Those reporting numbered about 750 on their strings. Second hottest specie was white bass with some 700 reported, but black bass were being landed in increasing numbers.

Several striped bass were brought in, one for 9 lb., another for 10, still another for 11½ and the largest for 12 lb. James Pruett, Midland, landed a 13-lb. channel cat, one of the largest caught at the lake.

From the various points, reports included: Henry's cafe — O. H. # Steer Defense Fails In 11-7 Loss to OHS

Permian Sacks Up First Half Crown

Alex Kager ripped three hits, including a home run and a double, and paced the Odessa Permian Panthers to the Dist. 5-AAAA first half crown with 12-10 victory over San Angelo Saturday.

Kager, who also pitched the game, went three-four for four to spark the Panthers, now 6-0 in the first half with one game remaining. San Angelo slipped to 2-4.

Abilene knocked off Midland Lee with a four-run uprising in the sixth inning and posted a 5-4 triumph over the Rebels, while Odessa drilled Big Spring 11-7 and Abilene Cooper toppled Midland 9-1.

Abilene, which took over second with a 4-2 mark, was paced by Ronnie Maynard's home run. Oden was the winning pitcher.

slapped 14 hits off Steer hurlers Billy Don Whittington and John Thomas Smith.

Whittington suffered the loss for the Steers, who slip to 4-14 on the year. The Broncos got seven runs off him in the first one and two-thirds innings before he was relieved by Smith, who was late arriving for the game because of a college entrance exam.

The winner was Jerry Walker, who went four innings in evening his record at 3-3. Maynard Johnson, a 6-3 righthander, went the rest of the way and stopped the Steers on two hits.

The Broncos used three Steer errors and three hits to take a 2-0 edge in the first frame and then went on top 8-0 with a big second inning. Whittington gave up a pair of singles, a triple by Garland Reid and a walk before Smith arrived, and then two consecutive errors helped up the count.

The Steers took advantage of a couple of errors themselves in the second inning for their first run and Dick Battle scored on a sacrifice fly by Whittington.

Odessa ran the bulge to 11-1 in the fourth inning with its final blitz as three more errors around Mike Sterling's bloop double to right field did the trick.

With that many runs to make up, the Steers figured there was only one way to do it — the fast way. Sammy Rodriguez and John Morelton each clubbed two-run homers in the fourth and the fifth innings and the Steers picked up another run when Smith scored on leftfielder Mike Fambro's second error of the afternoon.

The Steers, who had rallied for four runs in the last inning for a victory just four days earlier, could manage just one in the final frame against OHS. Battle got on by the last of 13 errors in the game and then scored on Barry Canning's single to left field.

The Steers return to action Tuesday when they visit the San Angelo Bobcats in the first half finale.

Captains will be Jackie Thomas for the Country Club and David McCullough of San Angelo for the out-of-towners. Action will begin at 1:30 p.m. April 19 in the match play event.

The Big Spring Championship Invitational will be a low gross meet, with no handicap or flights involved. Golfers will be shooting for a $200 certificate

Royals Bury Twins, 23-6

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Designated hitter Hal McRae slammed a home run, double and single and figured in seven-run and six-run uprisings, helping power the Kansas City Royals to a 23-6 rout over the Minnesota Twins Saturday.

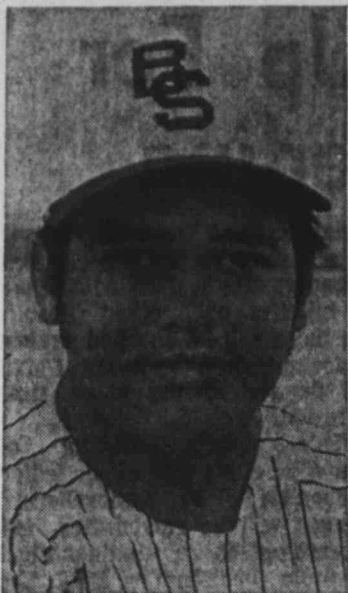

McRae, who drove in four runs and scored three, singled in the Royals' seven-run outburst in the first inning against starter Bill Hands, scoring Cookie Rojas. He homered in the third, driving in John Mayberry and Amos Otis, who both had walked, giving the Royals a 10-0 lead.

McRae doubled leading off the fifth, touching off a six-run rally after the Twins had pulled to within 10-6.

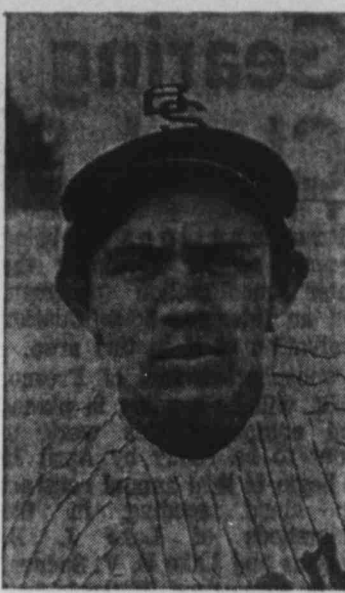

Eleven batters went to the plate for the Royals in the first. Fred Patek, Jim Wohlford and Mayberry singled in succession before Rojas doubled to score Wohlford and Mayberry.

After McRae's single, Paul Schaal was hit by a pitch, and Fran Healy singled in McRae. Schaal and Healy both came home when rookie shortstop Sergio Ferrer misplayed Patek's grounder for an error.

McRae's double, Patek's run-scoring single, walks to Wohlford and Healy, Vada Pinson's two-run single, a double by Mayberry and Ferrer's throwing error that allowed Pinson and Mayberry to score produced the six runs in the fifth.

ROOK'S HOMER DOES IT Giants Nip Astros

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Rookie Steve Ontiveros' tie-breaking leadoff homer in the fourth inning carried the San Francisco Giants to a 3-2 National League victory over the Houston Astros Saturday.

Ontiveros, who also had knocked in the go-ahead run in the Giants' opening day triumph over the Astros Friday, smacked Tom Griffin's first pitch in the fourth inning to left field for his homer that broke a 2-2 tie.

Mike Caldwell, making his first start for the Giants, yielded two runs in the first inning.

First Quarter Records Shattered By CRMWD

All March and first quarter records were shattered by the Colorado River Municipal Water District when it pumped 1,736,742,948 gallons last month and 4,806,153,888 gallons for the first three months of 1974.

The March output was up 54.28 per cent over a year ago, and the first-quarter output was up by 34.07.

There were two contributing reasons, one a marked difference in the weather. A year ago an unusually cold, damp winter and early spring brought on a sharp loss in deliveries, particularly to the municipal customers. This year, CRMWD began its deliveries of water from Lake E.V. Spence to the Texas Electric Service company reservoir — Lake Colorado City.

During March, the cities used 962,227,000 gallons, an increase of 42.11 per cent, making 2,393,515,000 gallons for the first quarter, or 27.72 per cent more than the same time in 1973.

Mining and industrial users took 774,515,948 gallons in March and 1,912,638,288 gallons for the first quarter. Of the total 282,599,000 gallons were in deliveries to TESCO in March and 472,563,000 for the quarter.

In March Odessa took 396,790,000 gallons, up 48.87 per cent; Big Spring 249,669,000, up 24.83; Snyder 73,253,000, up 38.43; Stanton 8,315,000, up 30.44; Midland 234,200,000, up 58.23 per cent. San Angelo, which pumped lightly last year, didn't take any water in March.

COAHOMA — Two more male streakers were reported at Coahoma High School the past week, amid rumors that students were using that unique approach to protest the school's dress code.

One of the streakers sped outside the Coahoma fieldhouse, the other down the hall past the high school principal's office.

The student who pioneered the ritual at the school earlier in the week was expelled from classes for at least three days.

Gearing Up For Cloud Seeding

Preparations are being stepped up for resuming the water modification program, and an intensive scientific evaluation of it in this area.

Amospherics, Inc. of Fresno, Calif. will be sending in planes and equipment this week in order to be ready by April 15 to begin its third annual contract for cloud seeding in the watersheds of Lake J. B. Thomas and Lake E. V. Spence.

At the same time, Meteorological Research Institute, working under the direction of the Texas Water Development Board, is gearing its preparations to study results of Amospherics' cloud seeding.

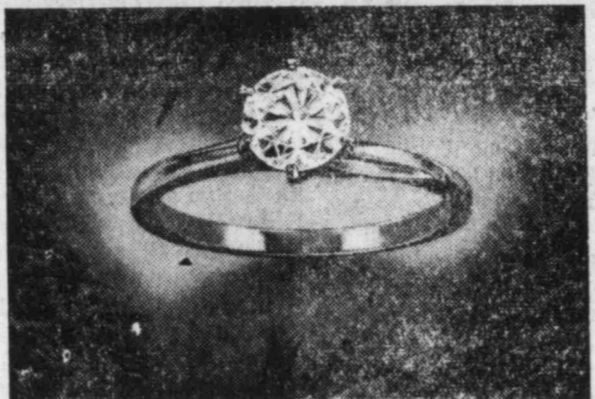

R. A. Schooling, administrative assistant for the Colorado River Municipal Water District which has financed the modification project for the past two years, has been placing 36 recording rain gauges in clusters of three at specified locations from Gail to Fluvanna to Snyder and southward to a point north of Interstate 20 near Westbrook. Within the clusters, three gauges will be within half a mile of each other. Results on these will be checked against information on the radar of MRI at Snyder at the same time interval.

This year's seeding of cumulus clouds with silver iodide crystals by Amospherics' planes will be randomized, but according to a mathematical formula furnished by MRI. The pilot of the seeding plane will have on way of knowing if he is firing dummy or actual flakes. The radar center will collect data from intensive impulses beamed into one-degree slices.

There will be a mobile gauge which can be dispatched into an area if desired, and MRI planes may penetrate into clouds to gather scientific information. The MRI portion is being financed by a $200,000 appropriation by the state. The CRMWD will operate a network of 81 rain gauges over a much wider area.

Patriarch Of Industry Is Cosden Oil And Chemical

The patriarch of Big Spring industry is Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, bigger, stronger and more versatile than in any of its 45 years of activity.

Last year Cosden put through more than 23,000,000 barrels of materials, of which nearly 22 million were crude oil. It has a yield of almost 22 million barrels of varied products ranging from road and roofing asphalts, to furnace and heating oils, jet fuel and gasoline, a wide array of petrochemicals and plastics. This was made possible by a new catalytic reformer which boosted capacity to some 60,000 barrels of oil per day (a figure that may be reached if crude supplies are available), plus a feed stock desulfurizer. More recently, using hydrogen sulphide gas from this desulfurizer, plus that from three other complements of the refining and petro-chemical couples, Cosden put on stream a sulfur recovery unit capable of extracting 38 lone tons of sulfur per day. This not only has its commercial value, but also makes a contribution to environmental quality.

Cosden is on the four leading producers of impact polystyrene in the nation, and its research team constantly is coming up with new applications and new products. four new grades were added during the past year, one a self-extinguishing variety.

Improvements of the past two years have greatly improved the potential for extraction of aromatics, to which the petrochemical production leans so heavily.

Cosden has a total of 1,070 employees with a payroll of $12,400,000. Of this total, 881 are employed in Howard County with a $10,000,000 payroll. Cosden also operates a plant at Calumet City, Ill., with large polystyrene capacity, and a partnership venture (Cos-Mar) with Borg-Warner at Carville, La., which also makes polystyrene.

Eight Of 25 Firms Hire 20 Or More

Howard County showed 25 manufacturing firms, eight of them with 20 or more employees, on the 1972 federal business census.

These employed 1,500 workers with a payroll of $14,300,000. Of this number, 1,100 were in direct production jobs, putting in 2,300 hours for $10,100,000. They used $105,200,000 of raw materials, added $40,100,000 by manufacture for a total shipment value of $149,400,000. The capital investment for 1972 was pegged at $11,500,000.

Things have changed since then. A Herald survey of the dozen largest industrial plants here showed some 1,650 workers employed for an annual payroll of $15,800,000.

There are all sorts of products turned out here from banking to bottling, ice to toogs, mobile homes to roofing and paving materials, plus newspapers, printing, a variety of refined goods, carbon black, numerous petrochemicals, fertilizer, plastics, liquefied petroleum gas, school supplies, egg and food cartons, fiberglass pipe, a wide assortment of men's and women's garments.

Among the major manufacturers here are Cosden Oil & Chemical Company, Cabot Carbon Co., Sid Richardson Carbon Company, Fiber Glass systems (pipe), Big Spring Dress, Walls Industries (garments), Skelly (LPG), Gancey (school supplies), Cactus Paint, Coca Cola Bottling.

IF Workers Do Wonders

Big Spring and Howard County have a good one-two punch for relating to the present industrial family and in recruiting additions.

This is the Industrial Foundation and the Industrial Team. Backing these are the city and county governments, Howard College and other agencies as well as the business community.

The Industrial Foundation has been the financial arm. Given its greatest boost by $200,000 raised in 1970, the foundation has provided plant facilities, land and has been a liaison in obtaining utilities, etc. for new industries.

At its last annual report it had $30,201 in current assets and $557,000 in other assets (principally plant, land, etc.) a total of $587,000. Against this there are some $448,000 in long term loans from improvements.

The Foundation has land in reserve, including 70 acres obtained for expansion of one of the industries.

President of the foundation is Rene Brown, vice president, research and development for Cosden Oil & Chemical Co. Gull Jones is vice president, Jimmy Taylor secretary-treasurer. Also on the board are Tom Locke, past president, Ralph McLaughlin (as a director, also by virtue of his presidency of the chamber) and Jerry Worthy, chairman of the Industrial Team, and Ron Mercer, chamber manager. The industrial team is comprised of members who have specialties in land, utilities, transportation, etc.

FAMILIAR LANDMARK — Cabot Carbon Company, located immediately east of Cosden Oil & Chemical Company's refinery east of town, has become a familiar landmark to West Texans. It produces carbon black, which is marketed all over the world. (Photo by Danny Valdes)

Cactus Firm Turns Out Lots Of Paint Annually

One of the real veterans on the industrial front in Big Spring is Cactus Paint Manufacturing Company, located on Interstate 20 just west of the Cosden complex.

From a humble beginning in a shop area of an old hangar at the original Big Spring airport (now Webb AFB), the company has expanded its output and distribution until today it turns out approximately 140,000 gallons of paint per year.

Cabot Force Totals 114

Employed here are 114 persons drawing around $1,300,000 yearly in wages.

Equipment runs 24 hours daily. Carbon black manufactured here goes all over the United States and sometimes to foreign destinations.

Rubber companies are the main customers. Cabot Corp. is based in Boston, Mass.

WALLS INDUSTRIES INC.

WALLS INDUSTRIES IS PROUD TO BE A PART OF THE INDUSTRIAL AND GROWING COMMUNITY OF BIG SPRING. WE APPRECIATE THE HELP AND INTEREST WE HAVE RECEIVED FROM THE MEMBERS OF THE INDUSTRIAL FOUNDATION TEAM AND THE COMMUNITY. WE COULD NOT HAVE CHOSEN A MORE APPROPRIATE SITE FOR OUR PLANT, WHICH HAS REALLY PROVED ITSELF DURING THE SHORT TIME WE HAVE BEEN HERE. BECAUSE OF THE SUCCESS WE HAVE EXPERIENCED, WE PLAN TO ADD ANOTHER SEWING LINE AND INCREASE OUR HEAD COUNT BY 70 MACHINE OPERATORS IN THE NEAR FUTURE. WE HAVE INCREASED OUR PAY SCALE TO A BASE RATE OF $2.55 PER HR. WE FEEL THAT WITH THIS INCREASE IN HEAD COUNT, AND THE CONTINUED COOPERATION OF THE COMMUNITY, WALLS INDUSTRY WILL PROSPER AS DOES THE BIG SPRING COMMUNITY.

FINISHED PRODUCT — Employees at the Big Spring Dress Factory put the finishing touches on one of three lines of dresses that are made in Big Spring, taken to Dallas and distributed at stores throughout the nation.

Grace Helps Beat Crisis

Contributing to the meeting of the food and fiber crisis in this area, and indeed other areas of the nation, is the W. R. Grace & Co. ammonia plant here.

Grace has five of its people, headed by Henry Schaedel, manager, to direct the operations and marketing, and contracts with Cosden Oil & Chemical for the maintenance and actual operation of the facility.

The product, anhydrous ammonia, is manufactured from natural gas and is stored in the thermal tanks with a 35,000 ton capacity. This is pumped under pressure into specially equipped trucks and delivered to distributors who sell to farm customers in the South Plains and throughout West Texas. Anhydrous ammonia is almost a necessity for maximum economic results on irrigated lands, but in recent years dryland farmers have discovered that it produces dramatic production results.

The plant here is part of the agricultural chemicals division of the diversified W. R. Grace & Co. which has worldwide interests and which is one of the nation's leading chemical manufacturers.

Earnings Up, Turnover Down At Dress Factory

F. E. Melton of Big Spring Dress Factory predicted early this year that 1974 should be one of the best years Big Spring Dress Factory ever had. And it is proving to be just that.

The local plant, which began operation in April 1971 experienced a period of fluctuating production due to high absenteeism and employee turnover, but this problem has long since been solved.

The factory now has around 80 employees with a payroll of close to $6,000 per week. Earnings have gone up in the past year and turnover has slowed down.

A subsidiary of Jerrell Inc. of Dallas, which is the former TBJ Corporation, the local plant's approximate payroll in 1973 was $312,000.

Employees work from 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. on a five-day week. All employees, except one mechanic, are women.

Three lines of women's dresses and sportswear are produced here. They are sent to Dallas for distribution.

The lines are "Jerrell of Texas" for junior sizes, "TBJ Pettites" for junior petite sizes and "Melissa Lane" for misses.

The local plant now includes 65 sewing machine stations and floor space is available for over twice that number. Around 90 per cent of the garments produced here are of polyester.

The garments arrive pre-cut from Dallas. The finished products are distributed to stores all over the nation.

Area Golden Triangle

Big Spring and Howard County occupy the center of a golden triangle of industry in West Texas.

This area anchored at Abilene, San Angelo, Odessa-Midland and Lubbock, with Big Spring in the heart of the cluster, turned out over a billion dollars of manufactured goods in 1972, according to the U.S. Census. The value of shipments was pegged at $1,092,000,000.

This required the use of $620,400,000 in raw materials, to which was added another $45,700,000 created by the manufacturing process.

In this area, there are 670 manufacturing establishments, 197 of which employ more than 20 individuals.

The total amount of employees in industry was 22,500 and the payroll for all employees was $164,200,000.

There were 16,000 of the total workers who were employed in production activities, and they put in 31,800,000 man hours in 1972 and received $101,700,000 for their services.

Indicative of the growth of industry in West Texas is the investment of nearly $50 million — or $48,900,000 — in capital improvements during 1972.

AIRBORNE VIEW — Herald Photographer Danny Valdes looks down at Berkley Homes Inc., a mobile home factory here, from the clouds. The firm produced $6.5 million worth of mobile homes.

Larger Mobile Homes May Be Built Soon

Berkley Homes Inc. employs 75 production workers, has a $13,000 weekly payroll here and plans to expand production. Keith Finley, general manager, said.

Now, the Big Spring mobile home factory is producing two homes daily. They plan to increase production to five per week day and are hiring additional workers.

Only homes which have been sold are built, Finley said.

Formerly the subsidiary of Lanchart Industries, Wichita Falls, produced top price homes. A change to moderate-price home increased demand, Finley said.

Berkley is experimenting with production of a double-wide 24 by 70 foot mobile home. Finley plans to start marketing the large home soon.

In addition to manufacturing homes, Berkley operates its own fleet of delivery trucks.

Fred Tyler is production manager; Harvey Patterson and Danny Davis, production foremen; Ed Springer, sales manager; and Charles Pampin, purchasing agent.

Two On Probation For Five Years

Punishment for impersonating a Texas Alcoholic Beverage Commission agent and for second-offense driving while intoxicated was assessed a five years of probation Friday for two men involved in separate incidents.

Darrell Loyd Thomas, 36, Route 1, Lamesa, pleaded guilty to second-offense driving while intoxicated.

He was given five years of probation for the April, 1971, incident.

Buck O'Neal, 1403 Graf Ave., who was arrested Thursday night for impersonating an ABC agent, pleaded guilty in 118th District Court, waiving indictment.

Sid Richardson Fulfills Orders For Major Firms

Sid Richardson Carbon Company of Big Spring ships carbon blacks produced here to virtually all major tire and rubber companies for the production of tires of all types and other rubber products.

Carbon black oil (feedstock) is obtained from Cosden Oil and Chemical Co. for producing carbon black.

The local operation includes three units on which many grades of carbon black are produced. The three units have a total of 13 furnaces or reactors.

Key Proposal For Trustees

The board of trustees for Howard College will have its monthly meeting 12:25 p.m. Tuesday in the parlor of the Dora Roberts Student Union Building.

Election of the full-time faculty is one of the major items on the business, also a proposal that the dean of occupational education and dean of arts and sciences be combined into a single position, dean of faculty, with Dr. Larry Key assuming additional duties. Dr. Key is head of occupational education, and since the elevation of Ben John to assistant to the president, the arts and sciences post has been vacant.

Other items will be consideration of application by Ralph Smith, business manager, for a leave of absence; request to advertise for bids for a riding lawn mower and for a vendor for college food service; canvassing of election returns, and a report from a financial advisor concerning feasibility of a proposed multi-purpose (gymnasium - auditorium - allied health) facility.

The reactors are on steam around the clock for each calendar day, except for periodic maintenance. The production of these units can exceed 120,000,000 pounds per year.

Forty-seven employees work for Sid Richardson Carbon Company, and their yearly earnings will exceed $325,000.

This is a private corporation whose home office is in Fort Worth. The sales office is located in Akron, Ohio, home of most of the major tire companies.

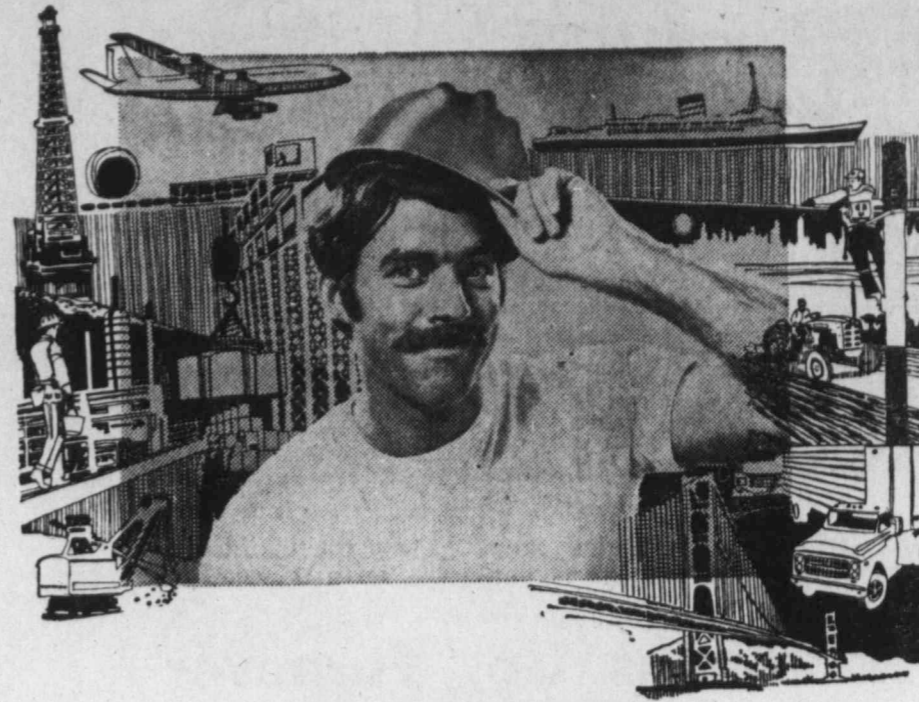

The company also maintains a fully staffed research and development center in Fort Worth. A research pilot plant is located west of Odessa. There is also a plant similar to the Big Spring plant in Addis, La., near Baton Rouge.

The product is shipped by rail in boxcars and bulk cars and by commercial truck lines. Carbon blacks are bagged for movement in boxcars and trucks.

The Big Spring plant was put on steam in 1961 with two units and one central storage tank. There were 49 cars in the bulk fleet at that time. The bulk car fleet now numbers 103 at this plant alone and two additional storage tanks have been added.

In addition to the carbon black oil feedstock, many items needed for the plant maintenance and operation are bought locally. Tom Fetters is local manager.

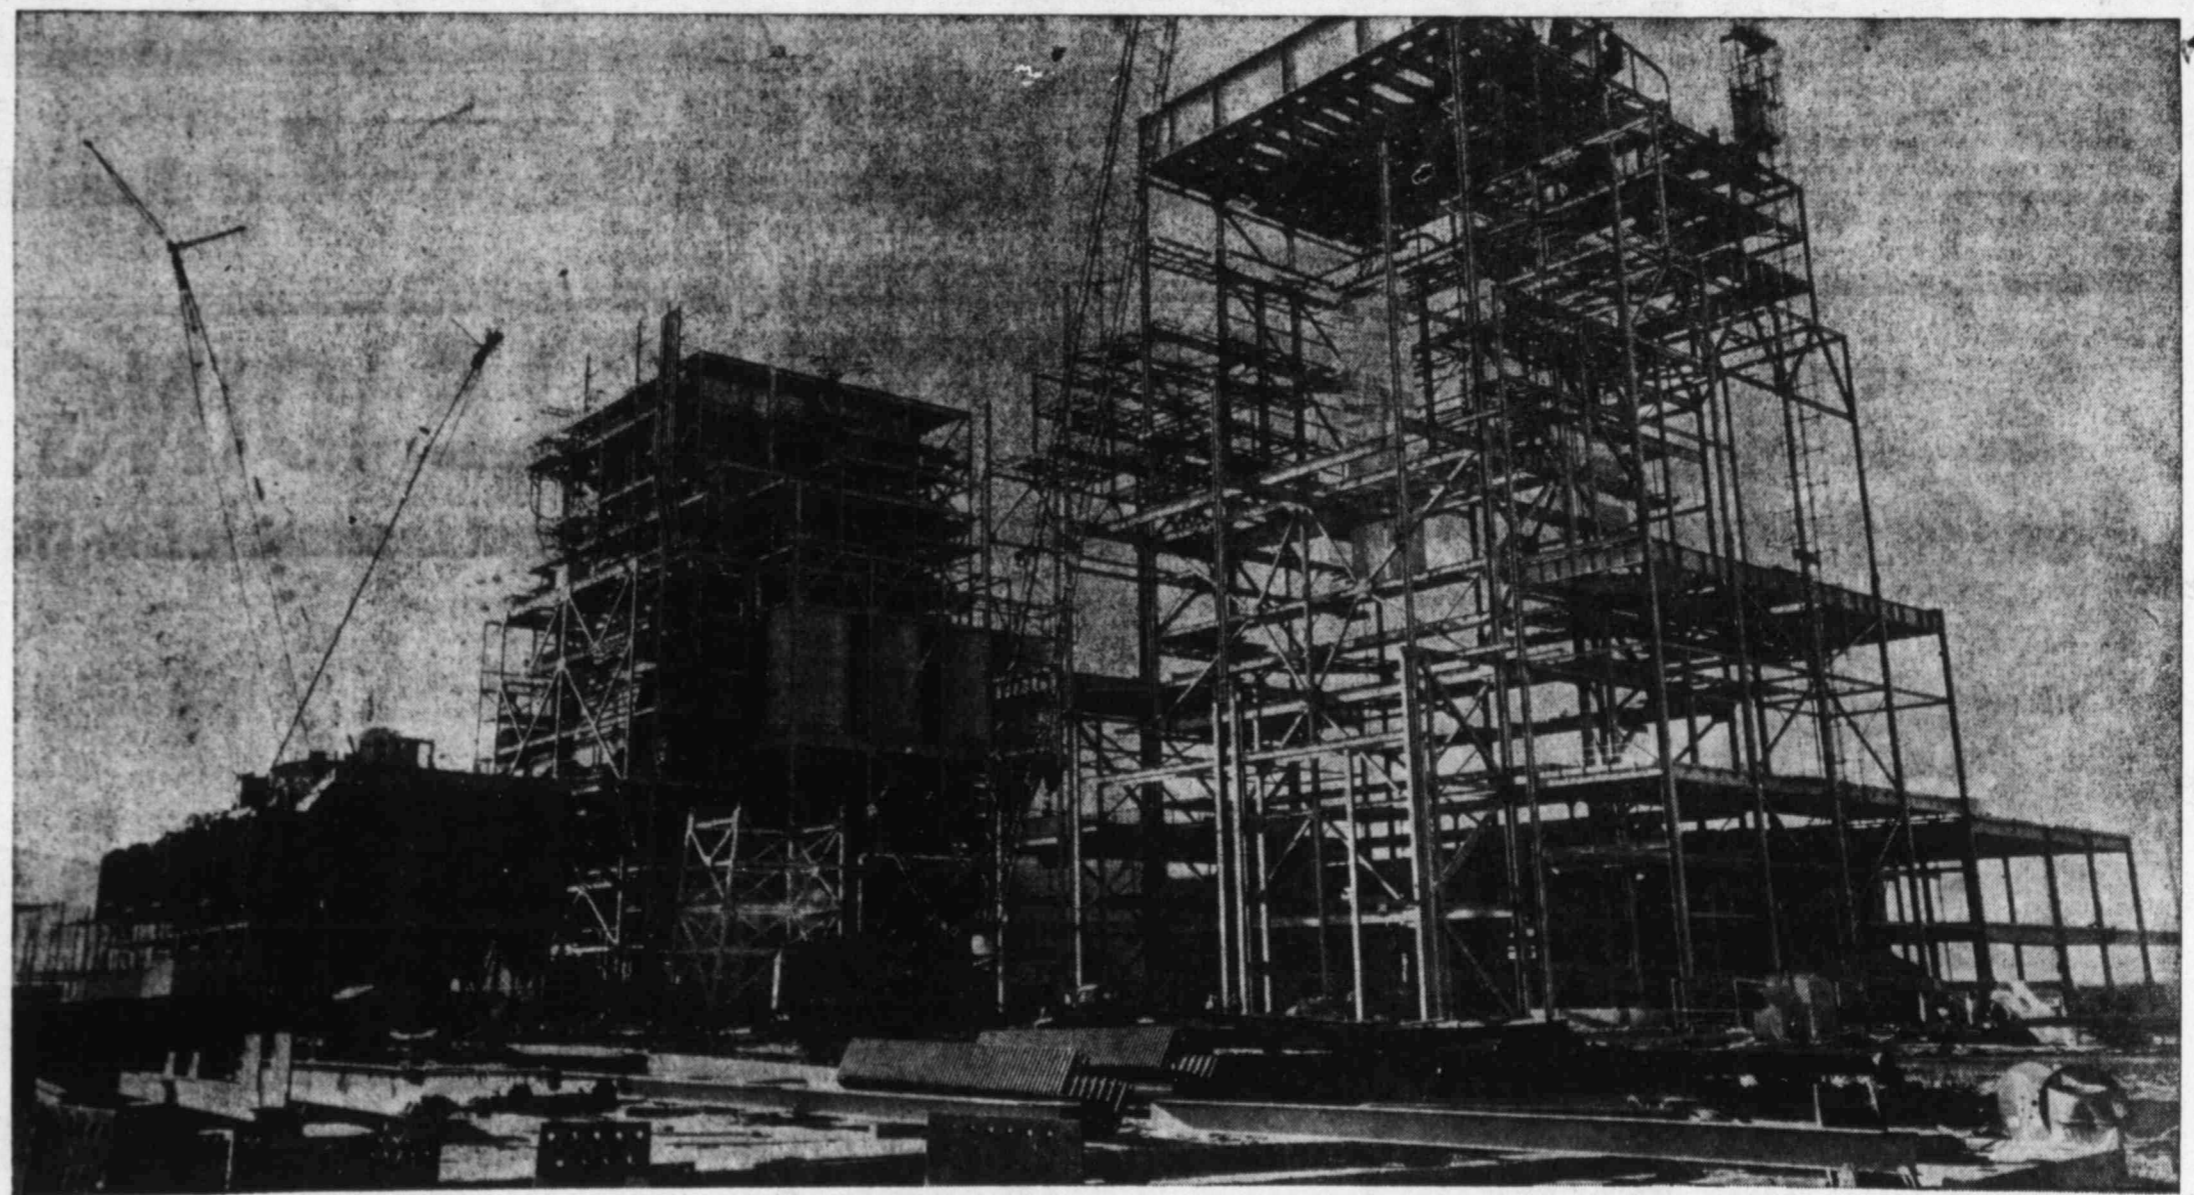

Sid Richardson Carbon Company was founded in 1948 by the late S. W. Richardson. The owner of the firm is Perry R. Bass, nephew of the founder.

A SALUTE TO OUR LOCAL INDUSTRY

It's a pleasure to take this opportunity to extend congratulations to our friends in industry and thank them for the confidence they have shown in our community. We share their pride in the care and craftsmanship that goes into their products . . . and join the entire community in extending sincere Best Wishes for your continued success and growth.

The State National

What TESCO is doing to provide the electricity you'll need.

We're spending $700 million on new construction during the next five years.

We must have new plants that will permit us to diversify the types of fuel we use to generate electricity.

Natural gas is our major fuel at Texas Electric now, with oil used on a standby basis. But both these fuels are in increasingly short supply.

So Texas Electric, along with two other electric utilities, is building plants in East Texas that use lignite coal, a fuel that is not being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

One lignite plant already is in operation, and two others are being built. But it costs about twice as much to build a lignite plant as one that uses natural gas.

A nuclear-fueled plant is scheduled to be operational near Glen Rose by 1980, and this one will cost more than three times as much as a gas-fueled plant.

Financing the essential expenditure of more than $700 million in just the next five years is what makes an increase in electric service rates necessary.

We're working to supply the electricity you'll need, but it will have to cost more in the future.

Jail Voting To Be Set Up

HOUSTON (AP) — Qualified voters held in the Harris County jail will be visited by deputy county clerks who will accept absentee ballots, a county official said Friday.

Gus George, chief administrator of the sheriff's department, said the voting will be set up in the wake of a ruling by Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill. Hill said jail prisoners have the right to vote absentee unless they have been convicted of a felony and have either lost an appeal or are not appealing their felony sentences.

Hill's ruling applies to all counties in Texas.

George said Harris County jail prisoners had not previously been allowed to vote absentee. The deputy county clerks will visit the jail to receive ballots, instead of allowing prisoners to be taken to voting places, he added.

HOT DAYS, HIGH WINDS

Ranges, Dryland Crops Needing Rain In WT

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP) — Heavy general rains are still badly needed in the Panhandle, west, south-west and central sections of Texas, while other areas also could use more moisture, according to the Texas Agriculture Extension Service.

Assessment of recent freeze damage to fruits, vegetables and other crops is continuing across the top and mid-sections of the state, noted Dr. John E. Hutchison, director of the service.

A cold front that brought rains to eastern and coastal areas of the state in late March has delayed planting in those areas, while dry conditions are delaying planting in other areas.

In portions of West and Southwest Texas, it has been almost six months since enough rainfall was recorded to put water in stock tanks, and supplies are critically short.

Cotton has been planted in the Rio Grande Valley and is about 90 per cent completed in south Texas.

District agricultural agents reported the following conditions at mid-week:

South Plains: Land preparation and herbicide application continues at rapid pace, and small grain crops are making progress. Moisture is especially needed on dryland wheat. Early alfalfa crop is in process, and irrigation is in full swing. Potato and onion planting is underway. Fruit trees were damaged by the freeze. Supplemental feeding of livestock continues.

Rolling Plains: Twenty of the 22 counties report short-to-very short moisture, and high winds are further depleting top soil moisture. Wheat needs rain, and ranges need moisture. Two days of freezing temperatures damaged small grain and much fruit. Heavy supplemental feeding of livestock continues.

Far West: Very dry conditions continue, with hot days and high winds prevailing. Ranges and dryland crops need rain. Irrigated crops are making good growth. Heavy feeding of livestock continues, along with shearing of sheep and goats. Land is being prepared for spring planting.

West Central: Moisture is very short, and small grain crops are in critical need of rain. Some freezing drizzle damaged early planted gardens and fruit trees.

Texas Crude Reserves Dip

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Texas remained No. 1 among the states in crude oil reserves in 1973, but those reserves are dwindling.

The American Petroleum Institute reported that Texas had known reserves of 11.7 billion barrels in 1973, but said that was a drop of 3 per cent, or 387.4 million barrels, from the previous year's total of 12.1 billion barrels.

Following Texas in reserve holdings are Alaska, with 10.1 billion barrels, and Louisiana with 4.5 billion barrels.

The report indicated that at current discovery and production rates Texas has a nine-year supply of oil compared with an 11-year supply for the nation.

Last year, Texas produced 1.2 billion barrels.

Industry Everyone's Business

The observance this week of Texas Industrial Week focuses attention upon our stake in this segment of modern society. Big Spring and Howard County should appreciate better than most the importance of industry, for we have been accustomed to its support for nearly half a century, and increasingly so in recent years.

When you consider that some 1,650 of our people are employed directly in a dozen industrial enterprises here and receive something like $15,750,000 for their services, you get some idea of the economic impact this has. As vital as this is today, this source of activity may be increasingly so tomorrow.

Everyone is and will be affected by it, and it becomes everyone's business and concern, not the vague "they" who are on the front line of presenting the details of materials, utilities, transportation, climate, water, etc.

Plants have to have people, people who are trained or trainable, who are anxious to work toward the success of their employer.

And people who work in plants have to have housing of reasonable price and quality. They require institutions which are strong in serving the educational, the cultural, and the health needs of their families.

So it is essential that we not only maintain a strong and vigorous Industrial Foundation, backed by its Industrial team, to be alert at all times to opportunities to present Big Spring and Howard County as an excellent place to have a facility, but it is necessary also that the entire community cooperate to undergird these efforts. That means that business houses must be go-getter merchandisers; that schools and colleges do an ever better job; that libraries, museums, churches, and other institutions stay abreast of a modern world; that hospitals and clinics provide the best in health care; that government's function efficiently in concert with all segments of society; that civic organizations constantly hammer at a sense of pride, optimism and spirit in the community. All these things not only figure in location of industries, but they keep those already here more productive and more secure.

Money Instead Of Mouth

Several hundred people in this area turned out last week for a party in Abilene honoring Judge W. R. Ely, now 96, one of the earliest Texas Highway Commission members and one of a trio who helped shape the policies which have made this department a model for the nation.

Emerson once said that institutions are but the lengthened shadows of a man. One has but to consider the integrity, the concern for others, the humanity of Judge Ely to perceive that the THD indeed issues in part from the principles of Judge Ely. Although his contribution someday may go unnoticed by another generation, the effects of it will go on and on.

My Answer

BILLY GRAHAM

You Christians call the Palm Sunday episode of Christ as a triumphal entry into Jerusalem. Riding a donkey hardly justifies that term. Couldn't Jesus have done better? O.G.

Certainly, He could have done differently. Probably not "better," because there was a symbolism riding on the use of that animal.

The account in Luke 19 does not mention the prophecy of Zechariah 9:9. Matthew 21 has it. It's necessary, however, for the full understanding of this mystic act.

The meaning is as follows. The disciples and the multitudes wanted the Master to claim the Kingdom. At this moment in Christ's eventual history, aware that death awaited Him in the next few days, He chose to gratify them.

He claimed a Kingdom all right, but one utterly unlike what they longed for. He came to the Royal City in the strange guise foreshadowed by Zechariah. It was not as a militant dictator, but a meek Prince of Peace. His vehicle was not a horse and chariot, but a donkey, on whom no one had ridden before.

Make no mistake about it — Christ was and is triumphant. The real demonstration of His victory now is in the unseen but real world of the

WICKER... THE NEW YORK TIMES... BY CHAS. THORNTON

"WELL, THAT DEPENDS ON WHAT YOU MEAN BY 'BREAKTHROUGH'..."

Reaction Effect

William F. Buckley Jr.

It is interesting the extent to which we make ourselves the slaves of our enemies. I give you an example. I profoundly believe that the editorial page of the "New York Times" is almost supernaturally consistent in its wrongheadedness. I believe, further, that its two most conspicuously ideologized spokesmen, Messrs. Tom Wicker and Anthony Lewis, add to the "Times" editorial opinions a touch of nastiness (quite alien, as it happens, to their own personal good nature) that makes the blood boil.

WICKER will ask us all to devote ourselves to the cause of disbarring Spiro Agnew after he has stepped down from the Vice Presidency, and Anthony Lewis will liken the air offensive against North Vietnam in December 1972 to the acts of the madman, a Hitlerite. Under the circumstances, one feels — instinctively — the temptation to disagree with any position taken by the "New York Times," Wicker, and Lewis.

And, of course, in doing so we extend to them precisely that influence over us that we deplore. The influence of an opinion journalist is measured not only by his success in working his view upon others, but by his success in turning others against his views. To the extent we do this automatically — spasmodically — we have lost our independence of thought, yielding moral and political authority to those whose opinions we dislike. It is so nowadays with many conservatives who, on the matter of Mr. Nixon's future, are inflamed at the thought of his impeachment, or his resignation: because that is what Wicker, and Lewis, and CBS, and the ACLU and the whole gang want.

IT IS interesting to contrast this reaction with the general position of American conservatives towards Nixon as recently as in the summer of 1971. It was then that a dozen leading conservatives issued a statement "suspending their support" of Richard Nixon. This they did following upon Nixon's overtures to China, his institution of wage and price controls, the imminent SALT agreement and the relative weakening of the U.S. military position, the vast and swollen federal budget.

Indeed shortly before, the "New York Times" had said about Nixon that his progressive policies, domestic and international, had stripped American conservatives of their old doctrines. So that when these conservatives suspended their support of Mr. Nixon there was very little opposition. But George McGovern transformed all disaffected conservatives into Nixon-booster.

NOW MR. NIXON'S policies, national and international, have not substantially changed. Sometimes (as in his handling of the energy crisis) he takes a "conservative," free market view. Sometimes (as in his elephantiasis budget) he takes positions liberal, neo-socialist in character. In international affairs he is still hotly in pursuit of detente. Yet on the whole, American conservatives are widely — or rather desperately — pro-Nixon. They are not, I repeat, widely pro-Nixon because Nixon's policies are those of a Goldwater or a Reagan or a Buckley. But because Nixon is the target of what one might loosely call Eastern seaboard liberalism.

INDEED THE psychological surrender to one's enemies is all the more extraordinary when one reflects that the entire Nixon apparatus, bent on effecting his re-election, is in quite genuine disgrace. No less authorized a gentleman than Vice President Gerald Ford has denounced thoroughly the policies and practices of the Committee to Re-elect the President. Mr. Nixon's association with his own team has brought discredit to conservative principles insofar as, in the public mind, Mr. Nixon is thought of as a leader of conservative America. Still the conservatives cling to him; and this they do mostly — I am myself convinced — because the alternative is to wake up in the morning and find that they are in agreement with a particular conclusion reached by the "New York Times."

Airlines Ask Overseas Subsidy

NEW YORK (AP) — The two biggest U.S. international airlines say they want taxpayers to help support their overseas flights, which have been hurt by rising jet fuel prices.

Pan American World Airways and Trans World Airlines told the Civil Aeronautics Board in separate subsidy requests this past week that such government help is needed to keep their international flights flying.

The requests, which some calculations indicated could involve a yearly tab of about $300 million, came amid already rising fares on North Atlantic routes and a request to allow the two big carriers to talk about pooling their resources and revenues from those routes.

REDUCE FLIGHTS Pan American said it had already cut back its flights, but still estimated a 1974 fuel bill of $374 million, up some $204 million from the year before. It projected a loss of $85.4 million from international operations in the fiscal year ending next March 31.

The airline said it would like a subsidy covering that loss and also $108.6 million to provide a 10 per cent rate of return on investment from international services.

TWA didn't ask for a specific amount of money, but there were estimates that if it wanted help on the same terms as Pan Am, the bill could be about $100 million.

The Week's Business

- Carriers contend government help needed to sustain flights
- Cite 240 per cent increase in gasoline price in a year
- Propose pooling of resources and schedules to overseas
- North Atlantic routes get 7 per cent hike, more may come
- Unemployment rate down .1 per cent, hopefully steady

TWA noted that a gallon of international jet fuel which cost 12.66 cents in February 1973 cost 42.5 cents two months ago. It estimated its international operations lost $30.8 million before taxes in the first two months of the year and would probably lose $47.2 million for the year as a whole, compared with a $19.5 million profit last year.

Pan American had earlier asked the government for permission to talk with TWA about pooling resources and revenues on North Atlantic routes.

But the Justice Department reported at week's end that unemployment edged down from 5.2 per cent to 5.1 per cent in March. The department said the decline wasn't statistically significant, but it still raised some hopes that job problems caused by the energy crisis might be easing.

The jobless rate had held steady in February and the March figure represented the first decline in five months.

Circulation Difficulties

Dr. G. C. Thosteson

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I am 78 and have poor circulation but am very active, and on my feet most of the day, but my ankles are swollen. Is there any medication or treatment that would improve my circulation? — N.K.

Your swollen ankles are, as you say, very likely a sign there is some interference in the circulation to your legs, but the question becomes: Which type? What cause?

"Poor circulation" ordinarily means inadequate delivery of blood to the extremities. If this is due to hardening of the arteries, the usual signs are cramps in the leg muscles, coldness, and perhaps discoloration of the feet.

Another cause — and a common one — is varicose veins, in which the problem is not carrying blood to the extremities but in getting it back again through the veins.

Still another is a weakness in the heart muscle. (Kidney trouble also is a possibility to be checked, but I think you would have in that event some additional symptoms.)

For each of these possibilities, there is a different answer. If it is hardening of the arteries, the amount of relief may be limited. If it is a weakness in the heart muscle, medications can be used (as in the case for so many patients) to give the heart action some assistance. If varicose veins, no medication is going to correct the problem, but the veins can be stripped surgically, or Burger's exercises, plus support hosiery, should give some relief from the swelling.

But choosing the solution depends on identifying the cause, and I think that swelling of the ankles is a hint that your doctor should do some investigating.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: Can you explain the difference between caffeine in coffee and caffeine in tea? Why am I able to tolerate caffeine in tea and not in coffee? — S.S.J.

Caffeine is caffeine — but tea very often is brewed fairly briefly, so not as much caffeine is extracted. That could be your answer. And then again it may not, because you could be sensitive to chemicals other than caffeine in your coffee.

Dear Dr. Thosteson: I have heard two doctors on TV say that people after 55 or 60 need vitamin E. Can this be found in any foods or is a doctor's prescription necessary? — M.S.B.

The government fairly recently issued a report of a study of vitamin E and the claims made for it — and found that the extravagant claims for it just don't wash. Vitamin E is presented in so many foods which are eaten regularly in this country that there is no reason why it should be swallowed in concentrated form by so many people. It doesn't require a prescription — which probably has a lot to do with its popularity. People just believe the claims and think they "ought" to take it.

The Fun Way

Art Buchwald

WASHINGTON — The marriage of Secretary of State Henry Kissinger to the former Nancy Maginnes came as a surprise to everyone. Not even the Pentagon was let in on the secret, and members of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee are still mumbling that it was typical of Kissinger to do something like that on Saturday, when most congressmen were out of town.

ALTHOUGH the State Department has remained mum on what led up to the marriage, I have been able to put pieces of the story together.

Kissinger came back from the Soviet Union on Thursday and immediately plunged into talks with Moshe Dayan in Washington. These talks were continued until lunch on Saturday.

AT ABOUT noon Kissinger finished his conversation with Dayan, bade goodbye to him and then turned to his aide and asked: "What do I have on my schedule now?"

The aide said, "I don't see anything on your schedule, Mr. Secretary. You're free the entire afternoon."

Mr. Kissinger was incredulous. "Then I think I'll go see the President."

"He's in Key Biscayne meeting with his lawyers," the aide said. "He can't see you until Sunday."

"ALL RIGHT then," Kissinger said. "I'll take a trip somewhere. I think I'll go to India. I haven't been there in some time."

The aide replied nervously, "If you go to India this afternoon, you'll have to go to Pakistan as well, and you won't be able to get back in time for a reception at the Iranian Embassy on Monday."

KISSINGER STARTED pacing up and down the office.

"What about Africa? Couldn't I go to Africa this afternoon?"

"North or South Africa?"

"What difference does it make?"

Kissinger asked, "Maybe I could work out a detente between the two of them."

"I wouldn't advise it, sir. If you go to Africa now, it will just stir up the Soviets and the Chinese."

"Chinese? There's an idea. Why don't I go see Chou En-lai? Get me Peking on the phone... Hello, Chou... This is Henry. I thought I'd come over for the afternoon. 'Oh, you've got tickets for the opera? ... No, no, that's all right.'"

Just then Nancy Maginnes walked into the office.

A Devotion For Today..

The crowd that went ahead and the others that came behind raised the shout: "Hosanna to the Son of David! Blessings on him who comes in the name of the Lord!" (Matthew 21:9)

PRAYER: Help me, dear Lord, to refrain today from turning away from the hurt of another person because I am afraid or unwilling to become involved. Strengthen me to lift the burden of someone else, in Your name. Amen.

time out for GOD

When we become mired in the routine of life, one day is like any other. This was just another working-day for most of the people in Jerusalem.

Three men died on Calvary Hill. One of them was the Galilean!

Business as usual in Jerusalem. Unless we understand the whole significance of what is happening we pay little attention...

Do you understand what happened that Friday? Do you realize WHO hung on that central Cross? Do you know WHY He died? And FOR WHOM?

There is nothing more necessary in our lives than the deep, personal knowledge of what happened that Friday... and the Sunday following.

Texas Traffic Deaths Down

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas traffic deaths are down 29 per cent this year, a saving of 227 lives over 1973, the Department of Public Safety said Friday.

A DPS spokesman said statisticians credit the lower death rate to lower speed limits and fewer motor vehicles on streets and highways due to the energy crisis.

A Cultural Festival

By JO BRIGHT

The focus was on foreign culture when the International Wives Club provided exhibits for the "Cultural Festival" held this weekend at Webb Air Force Base.

The club, which had its beginning at Webb AFB a number of years ago, gives foreign-born women a chance to share their cultural inheritance with others, meet women with similar backgrounds and speak their native tongue during a time when they are familiarizing themselves with this part of the United States. While learning western lore, they share the traditions and customs of their native lands by speaking before local clubs and civic organizations.

The "Cultural Festival" was sponsored by the Human Relations Council at WAFB, with Col. Robert Liotta, wing commander, serving as chairman, and Capt. Sean Lane as vice chairman. They were assisted by Maj. Bill Zint, social actions officer, in coordinating the event. The dedication was by Sgt. James Coffey.

Friday's activities included an Afro-Cultural presentation, led by Mrs. Archie Holland and featuring the Ebony Corporation, which highlighted fashions, dance and poetry. It was followed by an Mexican-American presentation, chaired by Mrs. Lydia Molina, focusing on music and traditional costumes.

The John H. Lees Service Club was the scene Saturday of exhibits spotlighting Indian, Afro and Mexican-American, as well as western, foreign and religious cultures. Local Boy Scouts performed Indian dances.

Contributing much to the success of the festival were the foreign student pilots of WAFB. Currently, countries represented are South Vietnam, Guatemala, Chile, Iran, Venezuela, Saudi Arabia, Denmark, Bolivia, Norway, Nigeria, El Salvador, Thailand and Indonesia.

In the afternoon, a Martin Luther film, "Montgomery to Memphis" was shown in the recreation center, followed by a buffet dinner which offered Mexican, Vietnamese and "soul" food.

Climaxing the day was a free dance; the two band, performing "soul" songs and Latin melodies.

The festival, the first to be held at WAFB, is likely to become an annual tradition.

TUESDAY — Spaghetti and meat sauce, green beans, carrot salad, hot rolls, syrup and butter, milk.
WEDNESDAY — Beef stew, corn bread, orange juice, fruit gelatin, milk.

Miss Wanda Jo Beeson and Denny Michael Robertson were married in the Forsan Baptist Church Saturday evening and are now on a wedding trip to the Houston-Galveston area. Upon returning, they will reside at 800 Marcy, Apt. 6, Big Spring.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Beeson, Forsan, and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robertson, Minden, La.

The Rev. Virgil Drewery officiated for the rites, and the wedding party stood before an altar decorated with basket arrangements of gladioli and branched candelabra. Mrs. William Cregar, organist, accompanied Mrs. Oscar Boeker, vocalist.

Carrying a cascade of white and lavender carnations, the bride was attired in a formal gown of white bridal satin fashioned with jewel neckline and hemline trimmed in lace. The gown had a fitted bodice, princess-line seaming and a detachable train trimmed in lace. Mrs. Vickie Willis of Lubbock, the bride's sister, served as matron of honor, and another sister, Miss Melanie Beeson, was the bridesmaid. They were identically attired in gowns of orchid crepe styled with high, fitted bodice, scoop neckline and A-line skirt trimmed with a ruffle.

Sgt. Gary Robertson, Minden, La., attended his brother as best man, and groomsmen were Ricky Robertson, another brother, also from Minden; Bill Willis, Lubbock; and James Rayburn, Big Spring.

After the ceremony, a reception was held in the fellowship hall, where refreshments were served by Mrs. Lee Yarbrough, Mrs. Carroll Hagle and Miss Susan Stokes. The table was covered with a lime green cloth overlaid with white lace. The bride's bouquet was used as a centerpiece.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mrs. Roy Forrester and Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Robertson, all of Magnolia, Ark.; Mr. and Mrs. Johnnie Stokes, Odessa; and Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Robertson, Minden, La.

SCHOOLS

The bride graduated from Big Spring High School and attended Howard College before becoming a Civil Service employe at Webb Air Force Base. Robertson, who graduated from high school in Blytheville, Ark., attended Louisiana Tech in Ruston, La. He is currently serving in the Air Force, stationed at Webb AFB.

Pioneer Club Meets Tuesday

The Pioneer Sewing Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. C. L. Gooch, with the hostess serving refreshments during the afternoon spent doing handwork. The next meeting will be at 2 p.m., April 16, in the home of Mrs. J. D. Gilmore, Forsan.

Keep Cottage Cheese Covered

Always keep cottage cheese tightly covered in the refrigerator to prevent it from picking up odors and developing off flavors. Creamed cottage cheese should not be frozen because when it is thawed it tends to separate and this damages its texture and consistency.

Wedding Ceremony Performed Thursday

The wedding of Miss Georgia Darlene Jacobs to Billy Frank Gressett was solemnized at 7 p.m., Thursday in the Coahoma Church of Christ with Ralph Beistle, minister, performing the rites. The nuptial setting featured an arch covered with greenery and blue carnations flanked by candelabra.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Philip Gressett, 1002 Baylor, Big Spring, and Mr. and Mrs. Gus Jacobs of Coahoma.

Vocal music was by Mrs. Don Allen, Mrs. Jimmy Ward, Mrs. Ronnie Ward, Bob Kiser and Mrs. Truman Pherigo, with Mrs. Pherigo as soloist.

After a wedding trip to El Paso, the couple will reside at Barcelona Apts., No. 3, Big Spring. Gressett, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is employed by Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, and his bride is employed by Zale's Jewelry. She graduated from Coahoma High School.

RECEPTION

Prior to leaving on the trip, the newlyweds were honored at a reception in the church annex where guests were registered by Mrs. Beverly Hunt, sister of the bride; and Darrell Hunt.

The two refreshment tables were covered with blue cloths overlaid with lace and accented with candelabra with blue tapers and blue and white carnations. Those serving were Mrs. Diana Hewett, Mrs. Cathy Ward, Mrs. Lucille Proctor and Mrs. Cindy O'Daniel.

Out-of-town relatives attending were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Cashbier and Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Swinney, all of Colorado City; Miss Peggy Markle,

MRS. BILLY FRANK GRESSETT

Carrizo Springs; Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Killough and family, Lampasas; and Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Burleson, Odessa.

BRIDAL GOWN

For the ceremony, the bride was attired in a gown of white peau de soie overlaid with Chantilly lace and adorned with floral lace appliques and seed pearls which were repeated on the chapel-length train. The long, organza sleeves featured wide cuffs with self-button closings. A cluster of chiffon roses held her bouffant illusion veil, and she carried a cascade of white gamellias, lily of the valley and blue rose buds tied with satin ribbons.

The maid of honor, Miss Teresa Cooper, chose a blue crepe gown enhanced with floral trim and styled with long sleeves and cowl collar. She carried a blue votive candle enclosed in a crystal bauble and circled with blue and white carnations tied with matching streamers.

The bridegroom's brother, Byron Gressett, served as best man, and ushers were Wayne Jacobs, brother of the bride; and Dean Spencer. Shawn Davies was the flower girl, and Shane Gressett was ring bearer.

Sauce Peps Up Roast Turkey

If leftover sliced roast turkey (from the freezer) is dry, serve it with a cheese sauce. The turkey may be heated in a double boiler or tightly wrapped in foil in the oven.

A LOVELIER YOU Organization Is Key To Good Grooming

Much like one's home, one's person mirrors the attention given it. Admittedly some of the attentions may seem trifling, but not if you recall an old maxim: "Good grooming is made up of trifles, but y-o-u-r grooming is no trifle."

Just by way of example, picture someone who is always perfectly turned out. Her lipstick never cracks; her hair never straggles; her dress is unwrinkled, no button ever hangs loose.

Most of us know one such paragon. We admire her, although she's a thorn in our side. By never neglecting a heavy duty, she pricks our beauty conscience.

Now consider her opposite number — Miss Backslider. She is guilty of any number of small flaws — rough elbows, ragged cuticles, makeup in her hairline, seedy neckwear, runover heels. A regular Pandora's box of trifles.

Born to Airman I.C. and Mrs. Gene Carpenter, OK Trailer Courts, a girl, Jeannie Marie, at 3:40 p.m., April 4, weighing 5 pounds, 11 3/4 ounces.

Easter Egg Hunt Slated For Tykes

On Easter Sunday at 3 p.m., the American Legion Auxiliary will host an egg hunt for children of post members and the auxiliary. The plans were announced during a meeting Thursday evening as Mrs. Don McCray presided for the business session.

Also, the auxiliary will decorate the patients' dining room at the Veterans Administration Hospital for Easter, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ernest Grubaugh. The American Legion Junior Auxiliary will assist, under the direction of their sponsor, Mrs. Troy Melton.

It was announced that a recognition ceremony for VA volunteers will be held at 2 p.m., May 19 at the hospital. Mrs. Zelda Rea is the auxiliary's representative to the hospital.

In other business, members agreed to donate $200 to the nursing scholarship fund at Howard College.

Mrs. Glenn Howard was introduced as a new member, and her daughter, Traci Howard, has joined the junior auxiliary. The next regular meeting will be April 18, and the District 19 convention will be April 27-28 in Brownfield.

MRS. TROY MERLE HOGUE

Couple United In Marriage

Miss Goldia Whitaker became the bride of Troy Merle Hogue in a formal ceremony held Saturday evening in the Fourteenth and Main Church of Christ with J. B. Harrington, minister, officiating.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Quentin Whitaker of Conway, Mo., and her uncle and aunt are Mr. and Mrs. Vance Kimble, Sterling City Route, Mr. Kimble gave his niece in marriage.

Parents of the bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Hogue, 1508 E. 17th.

Nuptial music was provided by the church choir, and the wedding party stood before an altar enhanced with candelabra and baskets of yellow and white gladioli and yellow roses.

The bride wore a formal, floor-length gown of white satin; the empire bodice of lace styled with Sweetheart neckline and long, fitted sleeves. The A-line skirt was complemented with a chapel train which fell from the empire line at the back. Her tiered veil was attached to a headpiece of petals entwined with seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white camellias, lily of the valley and yellow roses tied with satin picot streamers.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was her sister, Mrs. Stan Maggard, who wore a yellow satin gown overlaid with dotted Swiss organza. Her nosegay was of yellow and white camellias.

Richard Earl Loehman served as best man for the bridegroom, and the ushers were Richard Lad Cauble and Don Paul Renard.

Hogue, a graduate of Big Spring High School, is a student at Howard College and is employed by Caldwell Electric Company, Mrs. Hogue, who graduated from high school in Conway, Mo., is employed by Wall's Industries. They plan to reside in Big Spring.

Quotable Women

Here are some quotable quotes from women during the week:

"I thought I was an outsider for the Oscar. I was so amazed. I'm more pleased about this one than my first. Mum will get enormous pleasure out of it. We now have bookends." Glenda Jackson, winner of the Academy Award for best actress.

"It was predictable that sooner or later Time would begin to pay the price for its editorial over investment in the destruction of the President. That price is the loss of journalistic prestige and credibility." Clare Boothe Luce, widow of Time magazine's founder, seconding a television commentator's criticism of the magazine's Watergate coverage.

"It's just lovely, isn't it? It is one of the most marvelous places I've ever seen. I'm having a wonderful time just doing nothing." Mrs. Henry Kissinger, the former Nancy Maginnes, talking about the honeymoon spot she was visiting in Acapulco, Mexico.

"Some women say they would rather not know if they have cancer. What they should know is that 75 per cent of all breast lumps are nonmalignant. Research and cancer treatment has advanced greatly, but sadly the rate of detection has not improved in 35 years." Mrs. Marvella Bayh, mastectomy victim and wife of the democratic senator from Indiana, speaking about Reach for Recovery and the American Cancer Society.

The Mail Bag

Dear Abby

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: When our son, John, came home from college for a weekend, he brought his soiled laundry in a new U.S. mail bag. He said a friend had loaned it to him and asked him to be sure to return it.

I told John that it was stolen property — that I didn't want it in the house and please take it to the post office. After several days, the bag was still in the laundry room, so I gave it to our mail carrier.

John was upset. He said he had promised his friend he would return it and I had put him in a very embarrassing spot. My husband agreed with our son and said my first loyalty should have been to John.

We brought this up at a dinner party and had varied and interesting responses. What would you have done?

MRS. F.

DEAR MRS. F: I would NOT have given it to the mailman. I would have first provided John with a proper laundry bag and then advised him to return the U.S. mail bag to his "friend" — and on the double.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are retired. Our assets amount to approximately one-half million dollars — not too big an estate for some folks these days but it's a lot for us.

I think it is time I enjoyed some of the pleasures that money can buy. For instance, I can't remember the last time we went on a vacation trip.

We have always bought our clothing at rummage sales, our furniture at garage sales and Goodwill. We have never had a new car. Always bought them second hand. We lived in a tiny house and have skimped and saved on everything. We weren't ashamed, either. We used to brag about how long we'd had something and how little we paid for it.

What's my problem? After having lived this way almost all my life, I told my husband I wanted him to loosen up with the money but the older he gets the harder he pinches the pennies. After 70, wouldn't you think he'd loosen his grip?

Please no city or state. Just your answer.

TIRE D OF SKIMPING

DEAR TIRE D: It will be hard to teach your old horse new tricks, but it's worth a try. Start out by investigating vacation tours. See America first! Select the most expensive, but settle for the least costly. Insist on a clothing allowance — but ask for twice as much as you really want. Hang in there. Nothing is impossible.

R. Phillips Will Speak Monday

Ronnie Phillips, biology instructor at Howard College, will be guest speaker Monday evening for Organic Soil Makers. The meeting will be at 8 p.m. at the U.S. Experiment Station, and all interested persons are invited to attend. Phillips will speak on the control of insect pests.

Couple Married In San Angelo Church

MRS. JAMES THOMAS GAULT

Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas Gault are on a trip to South Texas following their wedding Saturday evening in First United Methodist Church, San Angelo. The bride is the former Annelle Fitzhugh.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Fitzhugh, Lamesa, formerly of Big Spring, and the Rev. and Mrs. N. T. Gault, Miles.

The altar setting was enhanced with candelabra, brass urns holding white gladioli and basket arrangements of white mums, stock and gladioli.

The rites were performed by the Rev. S. Merle Waters and Rev. Gault. Music was by the church choir, handbell choir, Mrs. H. D. Howard, organist; and Mrs. Mike Perry, Lubbock and C. T. Aly Jr., vocalists.

SAN ANGELO

Mr. and Mrs. Gault will make their home in San Angelo. He is a teacher at Veribest Elementary School, Veribest, and she teaches music for San Angelo public schools. Gault, a graduate of Miles High School, received a bachelor's degree in education at Howard Payne College where he was a member of Circle K fraternity. Mrs. Gault graduated from Big Spring High School. She was affiliated with Delta Delta Delta sorority at Southwestern University where she earned a bachelor of music education degree.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of ivory peau de soie, the bodice of re-embroidered Alencon lace styled with squared neckline and long, fitted sleeves of English net with lace motifs. The lace was repeated on the chapel-length train which swept from an A-line skirt. Her chapel-length mantilla of ivory lace was attached to a cañot of lace and pearls, and she carried a bouquet of white gladioli, carnations, gypsophila and lemon leaves.

Miss Mary Ann Robertson, maid of honor, was attired in a pink gown with sheer, embossed sleeves and carried a white basket of spring flowers. The bridesmaids were Miss Malinda Gault, sister of the bridegroom; Mrs. David Gannon, Dallas; Mrs. Sandy Sandlin, Fort Worth; and Miss Maureen Ingram, Dallas. They wore identical formal gowns, styled like the maid of honor's, in colors of green, blue, yellow and lavender. Each carried a basket of spring flowers.

BEST MAN

Bob Campbell, Brownwood was best man, and the groomsmen were Bryans

Bag-Type Pants Still Important

Elastic waistband bag-type pants will continue important in young men's apparel through spring '74.

That's the opinion of several leading makers of jeans and dress jeans. Manufacturers indicate that the elastic waistband, recently popular in the big bold striped uncovered elastic look, are beginning to move toward covered shirred elastic models for a dressier, less novelty-type approach.

They say the elastic band also is appealing to girls, who for some years now have been buying their slacks and jeans in young men's stores and departments and in tops and bottoms shops.

Baum, recording secretary; Mrs. James Cape, corresponding secretary Mrs. Robert Penner, treasurer; and Mrs. C. W. Mahoney, parliamentarian. They will be installed during a salad luncheon at 12:30 p.m., May 7 in the Mahoney home, 4 Highland Heather.

Mrs. Jim Bob Cave was introduced as a new member, and Mrs. Lillian Jamison was welcomed as a guest.

pantsuit can be changed with accessories.

This month marks the 19th anniversary of the club, and Mrs. Tip Anderson and Mrs. Roy Reeder were cited as the club's charter members who are still active.

New officers elected were Mrs. David Elrod, president; Mrs. Morrison, vice president; Mrs. James

Fashion Show Seen By 1955 Hyperions

A style show was presented by Hemphill-Wells Tuesday for the 1955 Hyperion Club which met in the home of Mrs. Jimmy Morehead, 704 Highland. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Harvey Perry and Mrs. Garland Morrison. Mrs. Perry was program chairman, and Mrs. David Elrod conducted business.

Ms. Becky Strain of Hemphill-Wells directed the show, with Mrs. Perry serving as narrator. The models were Mrs. Jay Cunningham, Mrs. Patrick Murphy, Mrs. Robert Swartz, Miss Sally Jones and Mrs. J. B. Sharp. Included in the fashions were bathing suits, evening wear, sun dresses and dresses for various daytime occasions. Mrs. Perry demonstrated how the look of a basic

Pantry Pickups

Unless you use leftovers conscientiously, it is probably economical to buy the container that best fits your needs for a meal (or more meals, if planned), whether or not it is the best buy per serving.

When yogurt is used in a sauce, the heating time should be short and the temperature low; if these precautions aren't taken the yogurt may separate.

To save money, use more home-prepared foods and fewer ready-to-heat or ready-to-eat foods.

The annual meeting of the Board of Directors and members of the Big Spring Community Concert Association will be held April 16 - 7:30 P.M., at Howard College library conference room to elect new officers and directors for 1974-75. All members are urged to attend.

Big Spring, Midland, Odessa Schedule Theatre And Museum Events For April

A "Fiesta Del Arte" will be held at Odessa's Villa Del Sol Motel today, 11 a.m.-6 p.m., with Pecos' Marion Russell a special guest from 2-4 p.m. Many artists will exhibit varieties of art ranging from candles to watercolors — some of it for sale.

The Museum of the Southwest in Midland is starting another waiting list for Florence Henderson's next clay workshop. The present class running through May is full. Fees are $20 for members and $25 for non-members. There are still openings for Robert Marshall's watercolor workshop

April 22-26, 9-12 a.m. and 4 p.m. daily. Students and members' fees are $30 and others are $60.

There's an evening watercolor class Monday through Thursday, 7-9 p.m. for $20 for students and members and $25 for others. Call 683-2882 for information on the classes. Also call that number for information on Gene McDaniel's wine and cheese selection demonstration April 18, 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m.

Present museum exhibitions include "Soil," "20th Century Drawings" and "Texas Watercolor Society Silver Anniversary Exhibition." The first two run through May 6, and the latter through April 28.

Odessa is currently holding its seventh annual April Fair through April 30. Activities include more than 100 exhibits and performances throughout the month — such as the aforementioned Fiesta Del Arte, a "Bicentennial Music Festival," opera, ballet, theatre presentations, concerts, art exhibits, plays, glass-blowing and many other entertainments.

A highlight will be the Arts and Crafts Fair April 29-31, 9 a.m.-6 p.m., in Ector County Coliseum Complex, Exhibit Hall A, on 42nd and Andrews Highway. Plenty of opportunities to buy, sell and see all kinds of items.

San Angelo will also hold an Arts Festival April 20-21 in its Fort Concho Museum. There will be a Flea Market and various entertainments, 1-7 p.m., both days. Write The Arts and Humanities League, Box 712, San Angelo, or call 655-4136 for information.

Midland Community Theatre will perform Kipling's "Just So Stories" at 2:30 p.m., April 12-13. Starting Monday, the $1.25 adult and $.75 student tickets will be available to this Pickwick Players Production.

Daryle Hohertz, president of Heritage Museum, announces opening of the summer exhibit, "Shine on Big Spring," Monday, April 8, at 9 a.m. the museum will be open daily Monday through Friday 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. and on Saturdays and Sundays 1-5 p.m. (Museum will not be open Easter Sunday).

Focal points of the exhibit will be a barber shop, saloon, drug store and boarding house, all typical scenes of early Big Spring. Descriptive sections taken from Shine Philips' book, "Big Spring," are blow up to make interesting reading and add reality to the displays.

Joe Heddlston has a drug store section set up complete with displays of cure-alls: asafetida to ward off contagious diseases; sulphur and molasses for spring fever; castor oil and black draught, two medical staples; and itch ointment, Warner's Safe Nerve and Mother's Salve. The drug store will also carry ladies cosmetics.

"This promises to be one of our best exhibits," said Hohertz. He expressed appreciation to Lorin McDowell III, exhibit chairman; Roy Peet, exhibitor; and all committee members.

Latest museum memberships are Ruth L. Mitchell, Cora Ashley Houser, Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph W. Baker, Mrs. Jimmie Mason, Marvin M. Miller, Morris E. Robertson Body Shop, Mr. and Mrs. Harold G. # 'Women Are The Last Hired, Lowest Paid, First Fired'

ENGAGED — Dr. and Mrs. Glenn Allen, 805 Dallas, announce the engagement of their daughter, Julie Elizabeth, to Gary Lynn Bailey of Tyler. The wedding ceremony will be performed July 14 in the First Presbyterian Church.

"Women are the last hired, the lowest paid, the least often promoted and the first fired", said Ms. Mary Dudley, speaking to the Jaycee-Ettes at a recent meeting.

Ms. Dudley and Ms. Wanda Reese, both of whom are members of the faculty at Howard College, presented the program. "The Women's Liberation Movement: Where Did It Come from and Where is it Going?"

Ms. Dudley discussed the three major segments of population from which the movement has arisen — working women, housewives and women of the young generation.

She said working women have become dissatisfied because financially, they have many reasons for complaint. She cited a report listing the median 1970 incomes for year-round, full-time workers as: white men $9,373; minority men, $6,598; white women, $4,490; and minority women, $4,674. Also, of persons earning over $15,000 per year, 94 per cent were white men. Despite repeated arguments that women do not "need" to work, investigation shows that 73 per cent of working women are either the sole support of themselves or their families, or are married to males earning less than $7,000 per year.

The second group, housewives, became dissatisfied with their lives which required them to live a "role" as depicted by the media. They were made to feel responsible for everything that happened to their husbands or children, from ulcers to cavities to seeking other women. Additionally, their only status or achievements had to be reflected glory from the accomplishments of the husband and children. Women began wanting a portion of their lives to devote to themselves, to discover "who am I?" and "what do I want?"

The final group, the newer generation of young women, grew up with greater freedom and autonomy than any before. They looked ahead toward the confining role they were expected to play as adult women and decided to alter that role to include equality and personal freedom. They rebel against any sort of double standard. This is the group who also have refused to dress as "plastic, sex objects." They require clothing which is comfortable and functional. Many of them actually have given up bras and girdles.

The groups are all united, with many persons belonging to more than one, in an effort to expand the role of women. No one will be asked to give up what they find comfortable about their present life style; those who are not comfortable with the present role would have many more options available.

Following the program, Mrs. Eddie Cole, president, conducted a brief business session, announcing that six Jaycee-Ettes, Mrs. Linda

Plans Official Visit To Lodge

Mrs. Ivan Collins, district deputy president, District 11, Rebekah Lodge, will make her official visit to John A. Kee Rebekahs Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the IOOF Hall. She will present a report from the state assembly president, Mrs. Carl Brooks.

Faulkner, Mrs. Perry Culwell, Mrs. Dixie Leonard, Mrs. Robbie Robertson and Mrs. Cole, will ride in a Powder Puff motorcycle race May 5 in Big Spring.

The Jaycee-Ettes plan to sponsor a women's basketball tournament April 18-20 as a benefit for West Side Community Center. Mrs. Culwell is serving as chairman and invites any women or girls' team to participate. Further information may be obtained by calling 263-2305.

The announcement was made that Jaycee-Ettes cleared $350 at the Rattlesnake Roundup concessions. The money will be used to start a Jaycee-Ette service fund.

Board members will meet at 8 p.m., Monday in the Jaycee office.

Inter-Council Camping Is New To Scouting

Now that "spring has sprung", 3,000 girls of the West Texas Girl Scout Council are looking forward to camping in the great outdoors.

Camp Boothe Oaks offers troop camping and summer resident camping, and Day Camps will be held at Abilene, Big Spring, Colorado City, Sweetwater, Lamesa, Snyder and Haskell.

New in resident camping this year is inter-council camping offered in cooperation with Caprock, Permian Basin and Zia Girl Scout Councils. Each council is opening a speciality program to any qualified Scout from the other three councils.

Camp Mary White, Zia, Roswell, N.M., will have C. I. T. (counselor-in-training) for first and second year programs, July 5-Aug. 6.

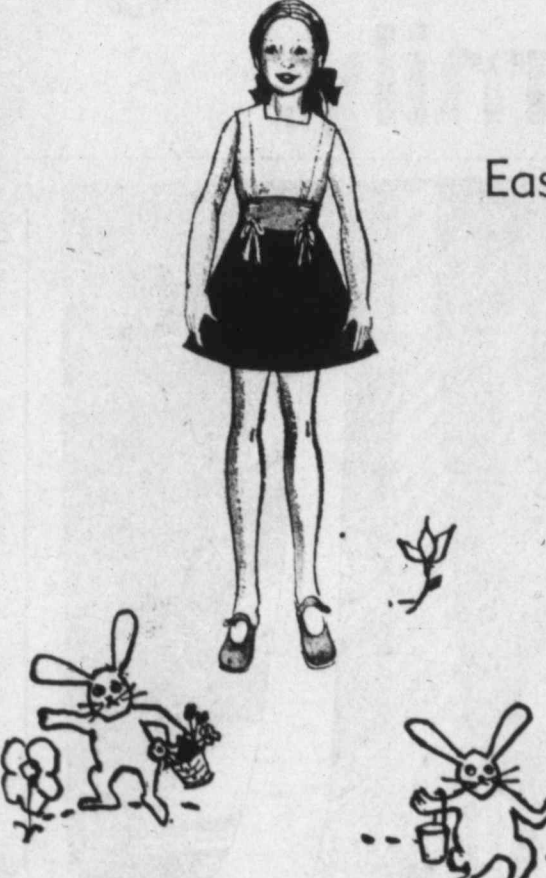

Hat-A-Ranch, Permian Basin, Midland-Odessa will provide beginning horseback riding, June 5-14, and June 28-July 8.

Camp Rio Blanco, Caprock, Lubbock, offers a synchronized swim session July 14-26 and a life saving session, June 30-July 12 for junior and senior life-saving.

Camp Boothe Oaks, West Texas, Abilene, will open its canoe trips in the inter-council arrangement with a one-week trip on the Brazos River, June 2-8 and a two-week trip down the San Marcos June 22.

Registrations are open for West Texas Scouts and cooperating councils for the Boothe Oaks session. Out of council and non-council registrations will also be accepted. Girls interested in registering for inter-council camping may obtain the proper forms from West Texas Girl Scout Service Center, P. O. Box 5586, Abilene, Texas, 79605.

Uncle Sam Matching Own Cash

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Two Texas men are mentioned in a federal indictment charging a New Orleans health organization with defrauding the government of $2 million.

The indictment names the Family Health Foundation of New Orleans as well as five foundation officials.

Mentioned but not charged were Ray Peeler, a Bonham, Tex. bank executive, and Dr. Billy Schumacher of Sherman, Tex., president of Software, Inc., a computer firm.

Also mentioned but not charged were officials of Tulane University.

The indictment handed down Tuesday says the foundation, a private corporation under contract with the federal government, tried to obtain a $1.8 million matching fund grant illegally.

The indictment says the foundation claimed to have matching funds of $200,000 from Tulane University, but that the $200,000 was mostly federal money.

"We had a case of where the federal government would be matching its own cash on a 9-to-1 basis," said U.S. Atty. James Charrier.

The two Texas men were mentioned in the indictment in reference to a $235,000 payment from the foundation of Software which in turn passed some of the money to a non-profit group formed by Peeler, which passed $200,000 to Tulane.

The government said the channeling of the money through the Texas operations created the illusion of sufficient matching funds for the foundation to apply for a grant.

Planning To File Motion To Delay Mass Murders Trial

HOUSTON (AP) — A lawyer for Elmer Wayne Henley said Friday he plans to try and delay a scheduled Monday pre-trial hearing in San Antonio.

Will Gray said he also wants to delay the trial of Henley, accused in the mass murders of 27 teen-aged youths.

"This trial should be delayed," Gray said. "We shouldn't even hold it for a year or so."

PUBLICITY
Henley, 17, is accused in six of the 27 deaths. He is due for trial first in the death of Charles C. Cobble, 17, whose body was found with 16 others in a boat shed here last August.

Because of publicity, Henley's trial was moved to San Antonio by State District Court Judge William Hatten following a pre-trial hearing in Houston in January. Henley was taken to San Antonio by officers early Thursday.

Gray said Friday he plans to file a motion to move the trial because he believes there has been as much publicity in San Antonio as in Houston.

"I don't know where we could try this case," Gray said.

State District Court Judge Preston Dial of San Antonio got the case on the change of venue, has set aside a week for pre-trial motions. Gray said he won't be ready to start Monday, and estimates the hearing will take at least two weeks.

Judge Dial wrote me a letter saying he wants to see if my client is competent to stand trial," Gray said. "I haven't got the reports from defense psychiatrists yet."

GUARD FIRED

The defense lawyer said he also plans to again raise some of the issues settled by Judge Hatten in the hearing here. He plans to call 51 witnesses, including all the police officers who testified, as well as 20 newsmen.

Judge Hatten primarily decided on the voluntariness of oral and written statements Henley gave to police but Henley said Judge Dial told him he may go into those matters again.

Gray said he was calling the newsmen to attempt to find out who gave reporters a copy of a statement given by another defendant in the case, David Owen Brooks, 19. Judge Hatten ruled in the pre-trial hearing here that how reporters got the statement, which implicated Henley, was not admissible.

Gray also said he plans to ask that Henley's indictment be dismissed on grounds a jail guard paraded Henley for a photographer and that psychiatrists hired by the state had filmed and recorded interviews with the defendant and asked him about his conversations with his lawyers.

The jail guard was later fired. Dist. Atty. Carol Vance said the psychiatrists were only trying to find out if Henley was competent to stand trial. Vance refused to give their findings.

THE ARMS OF THE LAW — Birmingham, Ala., policeman Clifford Prosser directs traffic while holding a young German shepherd puppy that he rescued as it tried to cross a busy downtown intersection. Prosser held the dog like this for about an hour before the paddy wagon arrived.

Police Records Order Reversed

HOUSTON (AP) — Police Chief Carol M. Lynn, who set off a storm among the news media when he refused to let them examine police records, reversed course Friday.

He said he did so because of an opinion of Texas Atty. Gen. John Hill which gives local police "the option to disclose (the records) if I so choose," Lynn said.

"I have decided to exercise this option."

Lynn opened to reporters all records, except confessions and other sworn statements by defendants, which until his action in mid January had been a long standing policy.

"I am putting this department right back to where it was before the first attorney general's opinion was issued in this matter," he said.

Hill ruled first on Jan. 15 that the state's open records law, passed in the last session of the legislature, closed offense reports and arrest records to reporters. Legislators who passed the bill replied it did no such thing.

Hill released another opinion March 25 that said while the open records law requires police to divulge only the name, address, age and charge involved in an individual arrest, it does not prohibit police from divulging further information, if they choose to do so.

Hill said at the time that his second ruling restored the situation to what it was before the first ruling. Lynn said he and other top administrators of the police department met Thursday afternoon to assess the situation in light of Hill's second ruling. They agreed unanimously that the department should open their records to reporters, he said.

Few Lobbyists Violating Law

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Some lobbyists are violating a new law that requires them to specify what pieces of legislation they are interested in. Rep. Buddy Temple, D-Diboll, charged.

Temple sent a letter to Atty. Gen. John Hill saying that despite a recent opinion by Hill some lobbyists still are putting down vague phrases such as "matters that concern XYZ Industry."

The registration forms are filed with Secretary of State Mark White. "As a sponsor of the new law, I feel strongly that the letter and spirit of the act should be enforced," Temple said in his letter. "The legislative intent was to provide a way for the general public to discover what specific legislation brought the lobbyist to the Capitol. Unless registrants are more specific, the purpose of the act will be frustrated."

White said his office has been swamped with more than 3,000 statements of financial disclosure by public officials under another new law. He also is receiving numerous reports on campaign spending by candidates, he said.

When his staff gets time it will check the lobbyists' registration forms to see they contain specific information, White said. Where they don't, he said, the lobbyists will be told to fill out a new one.

Butch Cassidy, Kid Ask: 'Who Are Those Guys?'

Book To Reply

In the movie now showing at the Cinema Theatre, "Butch Cassidy and the Sundance Kid" are pursued by a highly professional team of killers hired by the Union Pacific Railway.

Every time another trick fails to lose the trackers, the bandits want to know: "Who are those guys?"

One of them was Martin Sheffield, Texas sheriff's sifter of dinosaurs, gold panner, crackshot, crackpot and general legend about town.

Sheriff Sheffield may soon pass into immortality, the Associated Press reports.

The Argentine journalist who found his body and cornered his rifle is writing a biography of the transplanted yanqui who, as the story goes, mistook kerosene for whiskey at age 72 and passed on.

But what few converging accounts remain, the story goes like this:

BANK HIT
Sheffield came to Argentina with six other lawmen, apparently hired by Pinkerton, after Butch Cassidy, the Sundance Kid and their lady knocked off the bank of London and South America in Rio Gallegos.

The movie put the Cassidy gang in Bolivia but, in fact, they came to the southern Argentina region of Patagonia after the famous Turkey Creek, New Mexico, shootout at the turn of the century.

Argentine army men captured the Cassidy trio and shipped them to Buenos Aires, according to memories, and Sheffield got a reward for finding and fingering them. He, like some of his fellow riders, stayed.

'GREAT MAN'
"He was a great man, known and respected everywhere he went," says 68-year old Dodo Sheffield, one of the 12 children Martin had with his Araucanian Indian wife.

"He was not exactly the wonderful person that his son describes," recalled an old-timer in this Andean valley town around which Sheffield spent some three decades until his death in the early 1930s.

But all agree he was hard to believe.

SHOOTS LADY'S HEELS
Sheriff Sheffield, a huge tin star on his chest, went to dances and shot the heels off ladies' shoes. He could swing fly with a bullwhip and part a man's hair with a Bowie Knife from 50 paces.

He settled barroom fights by shooting home-rolled cigarettes out of his opponent's mouth. He was an Indian scout with chiefs for friends.

The Argentine journalist, Francisco Juarez of Siete Dias magazine, says that he has 10,000 Sheffield stories which he is saving for his book. He has been collecting material for 11 years.

DINOSAUR
But Sheffield's prize feat was discovering dinosaur in the Epuyen lagoon near the creek where he panned for gold. In 1922 he sent a telegram to Buenos Aires, 1,100 miles away by horse and railroad, saying something like: "Dinosaur. Send commission."

A group soon showed up, headed by the famed surveyor Emilio Frey and the Buenos Aires zoo director Clemente Onelli. They spent a month searching for the beast, at night with lights and in the day with sticks.

At 74, Dallas Symphony Broke, Closed For Time

DALLAS (AP) — The Dallas Symphony Orchestra has been walking a poverty tightrope most of its 74 years. It fell off in March.

President Jack Vandagriff announced then that the orchestra had suspended operations. The remainder of the 1974 season will be eliminated unless more money is found.

At weekend, Vandagriff announced that there was hope that at least a part of the season could be revived after contributions totaling $135,000 were received. He said the orchestra could continue if that total reaches $200,000—a $100,000 drop in what earlier was named as the sum needed to complete the season.

Deterioration set in quickly as top musicians sought jobs with other orchestras when the suspension was announced.

The reason, simply, is financing.

'Exorcist' Selling 'Anti-Satan' Tag

CANFIELD, Ohio — (AP) — The revival of interest in exorcism has been a blessing for the Catholic Art Guild, a 10-member lay firm manufacturing medallions.

The St. Benedict "anti-Satan" medal was offered in February 1972 as part of a collection called "The 12 Greatest Medals of Christendom."

"... about last December, when 'The Exorcist' movie began to make headlines, we started noticing the calls and letters," Theodore A. Parent, executive director, said. "For a stock item we considered a liability tying up capital, we've since collected nearly a hundred orders."

The St. Benedict medal is one of only two officially recognized by the Catholic Church and installed in Roman ritual, Parent claims.

Assessed Three Life Sentences

BELTON, Tex. (AP) — Two Dallas men accused in the 1972 riverside slaying of three deputy sheriffs have now been found guilty of all three deaths and assessed three life prison sentences.

The final murder trial for Leonard Lopez and Rene Guzman ended quickly Thursday after a state court jury returned a guilty verdict in 22 minutes and assessed the life sentences for each man in 10 more minutes.

In two previous trials, one of them only Wednesday, the defendants received a similar fate.

The trials were moved from Dallas on a change of venue and the defendants were taken back to the Dallas County jail at the conclusion of Thursday's third and final trial.

ENROLLEES — Two Big Spring High School 1974 graduates, Terry Billingsley (left) and Ronald Myrick, have enrolled in Ryder Technical Institute in Dallas. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Merrill, 1515 Kentucky Way. Parents of Ronald are Mr. and Mrs. J. Travis Myrick, 709 Anna.

National Star Grows Brighter

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (AP) — The National Star, a weekly tabloid newspaper produced in New York City, will be distributed nationally beginning today, it was announced here.

An announcement in the San Antonio Express-News said the national publication will be printed simultaneously in New Jersey, Connecticut, San Francisco and San Antonio.

Australian Rupert Murdoch owns both the Express-News and the National Star.

The announcement said the National Star has averaged 750,000 sales each week since publication started nine weeks ago, with distribution limited to 11 Northeastern states.

NIXON'S CLAIM HIT Decline In Welfare Rolls Tiff Revealed

WASHINGTON (AP) — De spite President Nixon's claim, a key government official says the decline in welfare rolls accounted for "just a small part" of the $783-million surplus in the federal welfare budget this year.

Nixon announced last week end from his Florida White House that he was asking Congress to slash about $800 million from the fiscal 1974 welfare budget, citing a cumulative loss of 255,000 persons receiving Aid to Families with Dependent Children.

But James S. Dwight Jr., public assistance administrator in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, said at least 60 per cent—or $459 million—of the surplus represents funds unspent by the state for social services.

The social services surplus, he said in an interview, bears "no relationship" to the declining relief rolls.

Dwight, a former aide to California Gov. Ronald Reagan who was appointed administrator of HEW's Social and Rehabilitation Service by Nixon a year ago, refrained from directly contradicting the chief executive.

But he said the administration previously had anticipated a substantial drop in AFDC costs through more efficient management and had trimmed $852 million from states' requests before the budget was submitted 15 months ago.

NOT USING

The new surplus directly attributable to the declining welfare rolls totals only $67 million in reduced cash grants and $165 million in Medicaid savings.

The revised welfare budget sent to the House and Senate Appropriations Committees last Friday night, cuts the budget authority for social services from $2 billion to $1.5 billion, or back to about the same rate at which states had been spending the previous year.

"States just aren't using this authority to the extent we thought they would," Dwight said.
