A FLOODTIDE OF CRIME

'I Pray No One Will Break In'

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following story on what it's like for elderly people who live in decrepit New York City hotels is based on the experiences of an AP reporter who checked into one of the hotels for a week.

By PETER ARNETT
AP Special Correspondent

NEW YORK (AP) — Ann Kurtz's relatives got scared when her sculptress friend upstairs was brutally murdered late this summer. "The hotel is criminal. You don't belong there," they told her.

But Mrs. Kurtz refused to move out of her single room at the once-elegant Park Plaza Hotel on Manhattan's West Side even when a neighbor across the hallway died mysteriously. Despite someone trying to break down her door one recent night, this fine-boned old woman with red-rinsed hair who came to America years ago from Vienna, stubbornly stays put.

MOVED

A few blocks away each day, Miss Richardson ties a thin white cord around the busted lock on the door of her squalid single room at the West Side Towers, a fortress-like hotel on Broadway.

She moved from a better room upstairs "because the man next door was a drunk and kept telling me he wanted to be 'nice,' and you know what he meant by 'nice,'" said the mild-mannered spinster who spent most of her life running a switchboard for a Wall Street investment firm. "I pray each night no one will break in," Miss Richardson said. "I pray that I'll get a better room."

Mrs. Kurtz and Miss Richardson are among the estimated 100,000 people who live in SRO (Single Room Only) hotels in New York City. Those two women settled in the West Side to quietly live out their remaining years.

In the 10 years they have been in the neighborhood, the large, once-respectable hotels they inhabit have been inundated in a floodtide of crime.

"There is as much crime in some of these hotels as in an average sized town," said a police officer who regularly patrols a portion of Broadway.

Why don't the oldsters move away?

"Crime does not make them move, it makes them retreat," said Robert Jorgens, director of special housing for the New York Human Resources Commission that tries to keep track of the aged.

He added: "The aged are afraid to move from the known to the unknown, even if the known is fearful."

Mrs. Kurtz and Miss Richardson have never been physically hurt. But many have.

RAPED, ROBBED

Bessie Simmons, an aging former domestic living in the Manhattan Towers on Broadway, said: "I was raped in my room in July, had my bag stolen outside the hotel in August and was robbed of $147 of my SSI (federal supplemental security income payment) in the elevator in September."

The troubles of Mrs. Simmons and others contribute to these startling statistics: In the first 10 months of this year in the worst three hotels on the West Side — the West Side Towers, the Manhattan Towers and the Park Plaza — there were five confirmed murders, 112 burglaries, 51 robberies, 25 major assaults, seven rapes and 35 various other crimes.

They add up to a total of 235 crimes committed amidst an average occupancy of the three hotels of around 1,500 permanent and transient guests, many of them elderly.

The Park Plaza was the home of Calvin Jackson, a former drug addict who confessed in September to murdering 11 women in the hotel. Police said they tracked down four possible victims. Two had definitely been murdered and two died under suspicious circumstances, they said. The others died of natural causes, they said.

The violent nature of the SRO hotels was spelled out to this reporter during a briefing by officers of New York's 20th police precinct whose West Side area includes the three hotels:

"If you check into one of them, go armed if possible, don't use the elevators, and phone us your room number."

Shootout Is Fatal To Guard

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP) — Three black gunmen took over radio station WAPX in a hail of gunfire Saturday that left a white security guard dead. Pleading on the air for a "black revolution," they surrendered after their last hostage made a bold escape.

The city police chief said two other blacks are being sought in the deadly, bizarre series of events that began when a 78-year-old white man was hacked in the face with a machete and ended with the takeover of the soul music station.

Police Chief Ed Wright said the five were black militants who "had boasted that they were going to kill police officers and make a grandstand play in Montgomery." He said the men gave Black Muslim names.

The trio in the bullet-riddled radio station in downtown Montgomery had at one point cried over the air: "There's a Negro revolution and a black revolution. I'm in the black revolution. We want all you niggers to come on down."

Wright said that the elderly white man was attacked without provocation and that the five then fled in a car. Police pursued it, rammed it, and the five began running, he said.

Wright said two escaped and the other three, armed with sawed-off shotguns, took over the radio station in a burst of gunfire that killed a guard, M.E. Furr, on a downtown street.

The elderly man, who was not identified immediately, was undergoing surgery, Wright said.

The takeover of WAPX ended after two hours of tense stalemate when the black disc jockey, Alphonzo Dixon, scrambled to freedom.

Police said the gunmen had told Dixon to go to the door and hold up a mirror so they could watch the officers. When he reached the door, he burst through it to safety.

A black secretary in the building, Gloria Gilmer, earlier had been lowered to freedom on a fire ladder at an adjoining building after suffering a bullet wound in the takeover. A spokesman at Jackson Hospital said she was in fair condition.

'BULK OF WORK DISCHARGED'

Leon Jaworski Resigns Post

WASHINGTON (AP) — Leon Jaworski resigned Saturday as special Watergate prosecutor, saying the investigations which have led to the resignation of President Richard M. Nixon and the indictment of his top aides were nearly complete.

In one of two letters to Atty. Gen. William B. Saxbe, Jaworski emphatically rejected suggestions that he try to indict Nixon as a means of challenging the legality of the pardon granted the former president by President Ford.

Without specifying who had made such suggestions, Jaworski wrote:

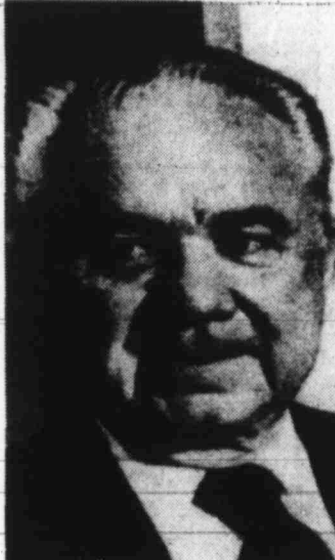

DISPEL THOUGHTS

"I think it proper that I express to you my views on this subject to dispel any thought that there may be some relation between my resignation and that issue."

"For me to procure an indictment of Richard M. Nixon for the sole purpose of generating a purported court test on the legality of the pardon would constitute a spurious proceeding in which I had no faith; in fact, it would be tantamount to unprofessional conduct and violation of my responsibility as prosecutor and officer of the court."

Jaworski submitted his resignation effective Oct. 25.

The 69-year-old Texas lawyer sent the letters to Saxbe the day after a jury was seated in the trial of five former Nixon administration was done.

Neither the White House or the Justice Department had any immediate comment on Jaworski's resignation.

PRAISES JAWORSKI

John J. Wilson, attorney for H.R. Haldeman, former White House staff chief and a defendant in the cover-up trial, called Jaworski "a fine gentleman. He's a good lawyer. He's always treated us very fairly."

Wilson said he doubted Jaworski's departure would have any effect on the cover-up trial. Opening arguments in that case are scheduled for Monday.

Jaworski was named special prosecutor on Nov. 1, 1973, and sworn in four days later. On Oct. 20, Nixon had ordered Atty. Gen. Elliot L. Richardson to fire Special Prosecutor Archibald Cox for his refusal to drop efforts to enforce a subpoena demanding tapes of nine Watergate conversations.

Richardson resigned rather than obey the presidential order. His deputy, William P. Ruckelshaus, also resigned. Finally, Solicitor General Robert H. Bork, as acting attorney general, carried out the President's order.

But the public outcry prompted House leaders to begin an investigation into whether there were grounds for Nixon's impeachment. Ten months later, the House Judiciary Committee did recommend his impeachment.

Three days after Cox was fired, Nixon agreed to give U.S. District Judge John J. Sirica the subpoenaed tapes. It soon was discovered that two did not exist and that a third contained an 18 1/2-minute gap.

Jaworski took over command of a staff of 38 lawyers, many of whom were suspicious of the Texas Democrat with close ties to Lyndon B. Johnson and former Texas Gov. John B. Connally.

May Rain

Chances for rain tonight and Monday are set at 30 per cent by the national weather service, which predicts continued cloudiness and cooler today. Low today near 60 and high today and Monday in the mid 70s with a low of mid 50s tonight.

Winds from the south at 5-15 miles per hour today.

WON LOYALTY

But he quickly won his staff's loyalty by refusing to accept White House efforts to limit his access to Watergate evidence.

Jaworski soon found himself in confrontation with the President. On Feb. 14, 1974, he wrote to Sen. James O. Eastland, D-Miss., that James D. St. Clair, Nixon's chief Watergate lawyer, had informed the prosecutor that "the President has refused to reconsider his earlier decision to terminate his cooperation with this investigation."

"Accordingly, it is now clear that evidence I deem material to our investigations will not be forthcoming."

Big Spring Week

with Joe Pickle

Unofficial reports indicate that the Tom Fowler No. 1-D Morgan may be the best well yet in the Morgan Ranch (Fusselman) field southeast of town. It likely will make potential this week; earlier tests indicate it may rate several hundred barrels per day.

Our city registered its eighth traffic fatality with the death of Lee Pounds, 19, who had been married only five weeks. He was injured in a collision when a car came off IS 20 on to an access road. Our tragic total this year is probably the worst on record for the city.

Latest reports to the United Way show something like $72,500 raised toward a $121,000 goal. We need to get in half that much this week in order to hit our target by the end of October.

It's difficult to realize it, but election day is only about three weeks away. The county has 15,000 ballots on hand and will start absentee voting this week. Meanwhile, the business of seeking to provide each voter with a plastic voter certificate card has begun, but if you don't get yours before Nov. 5, then use your paper certificate.

3-Year-Old Survives Unique Operation

CAPE TOWN, South Africa (AP) — A 12 1/2-hour heart operation described as more difficult than a heart transplant and believed to be the first of its kind has been carried out at Groote Schuur Hospital, the Johannesburg Star reported today.

The operation was carried out on 3-year-old Michelle Correia who was born with heart defects that left her unable to walk or talk despite three previous operations, the newspaper said.

The latest operation, performed by doctors led by heart transplant pioneer Christian Barnard, replaced arteries and fitted plastic walls and patches, the Star said.

Mrs. Carol Correia said the doctors described the surgery as a "last desperate attempt." No other details of the operation, including when it took place, were immediately available.

The child's mother said Michelle is starting to walk and talk and is eating well. She said she and her husband are teaching her games to build up her strength.

Barnard told the family that Michelle's case had been hopeless, Mrs. Correia said.

Fairview Intruder May Be Restricted To Egg Diet

Sunny side up, or scrambled, eggs may be the table fare of one thief for several days.

Among items reported missing in a burglary of Jay's Store north of Fairview was 54 dozen eggs. That's 648 eggs.

Other items missing included 10 loaves of bread, six billfolds, 18 cigarette lighters, several stereo tapes, six packs of Budweiser and two French clocks.

Responsibility For Book Accepted By Rockefeller

NEW YORK (AP) — Vice President-designate Nelson A. Rockefeller took full responsibility Saturday for publication of a book he admitted was derogatory to former Supreme Court Justice Arthur J. Goldberg, his opponent for the New York governorship in 1970.

The book, written by columnist Victor Lasky, appeared during the campaign but it was learned only this week that its publication had been financed by the then-governor's brother, Laurance Rockefeller.

Nelson Rockefeller said in a statement Oct. 10 that he had been unaware of this and would have opposed it.

Open House Slated At Herald Oct. 27

The Big Spring Herald is nearing the completion of a two and a half-month program of converting from one printing process to another and of extensively remodeling its plant.

To celebrate this, and to observe the 70th birthday of the founding of the Herald, an open house affair is being planned for the afternoon of Oct. 27.

Visitors will be able to not only see the new offices for the administration, business, advertising, editorial and circulation departments, but they also will be shown the production department for turning copy into "cold" (photographic) type.

A show piece will be the new 28-unit Goss Community press with its capabilities of unevenly numbered sections and four or full color process.

The entire interior of the building has been covered with wood paneling, and the once noisy, clanging black shop has been turned into an operation as quiet and clean as an office.

Completion of the most dramatic change in the Herald's productive processes coincides with the 70th anniversary of the establishment of the Herald by the late Thomas E. Jordan Sr., with the help of his brother-in-law, Will R. Hayden. There had been at least three other papers to precede the Herald, but it alone stuck.

Cold Front Has Punch

By The Associated Press

A cold front which hardly moved carried more punch than expected Friday, driving temperatures in the upper Texas Panhandle into the 40s and creating heavy fog in the Amarillo area.

South of the front, which at that time was along a Shamrock-Plainview-Muleshoe line, temperatures mostly were in the 70s and 80s.

The Weather Service said dense fog developed in the Amarillo area and the Central Panhandle.

Motorists were urged to exercise extreme caution while driving in the Panhandle Saturday afternoon and night.

The front was causing showers ahead of it rather than on the line or behind it.

Warm temperatures and thickening clouds in the southeastern half of Texas Sunday will mark the approach of the front.

Mob Has Its Say

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — An angry crowd, chanting a Spanish obscenity, marched through an opulent neighborhood Saturday to attack Mayor Roy Butler at his home over alleged police brutality.

There was no violence. Butler told the 300 Mexican-Americans, blacks and young Anglos, led by Brown Berets, that he would meet with a delegation from their number at a place and time to be arranged later.

The march grew out of a demonstration, across a busy intersection from the police station, to protest the Oct. 6 killing of ex-convict Tiburcio Soto by a Mexican-American patrolman who answered a disturbance call at Soto's home. The killing is under investigation by the Travis County grand jury.

"We will no longer hold demonstrations in the East Side. We will march through the streets, we will sing, we will cry, and, if necessary, we will destroy," asserted Brown Beret leader Paul Hernandez.

Most blacks and Mexican-Americans live in the low-income area east of downtown, while West Austin is synonymous with wealth and power.

After motorcading to a park near Butler's home, the demonstrators marched three blocks, past large houses and tree-lined lawns, chanting: "The rich live high while poor people die..."

Big Bust Reported

WEATHERFORD, Tex. (AP) — Federal narcotics agents arrested three men and seized an estimated 2,000 pounds of marijuana at a Parker County truck stop early Saturday morning. Agents estimated the marijuana would bring $2 million at retail.

The arrest occurred about 4:30 a.m. behind Jord-Inns on U.S. 80-180 on the east edge of Weatherford.

The arrests occurred when two Albuquerque agents arrived to complete an agreement for sale of the marijuana for $250,000.

Agents said the deal had been set up about a week ago in Albuquerque.

Originally, plans were to buy the weed in Garland, Tex., but the three men asked Friday that the agents meet them at the truck stop.

The men were in two pickup trucks, one of which was towing a rental trailer filled with what agents said was the illegal drug in brick form.

There's Still Big Hill To Climb In UW Drive

With the target date for success less than 20 days away, the 1974-75 Howard County United Way Campaign is within a whisker of realizing 60 per cent of its objective.

UW chairman W. S. (Dub) Pearson said he saw no reason why the $121,777 goal couldn't be achieved by Nov. 1. He asked all team captains and co-workers to complete their contacts as soon as possible.

When UW books were closed for the weekend, a total of $72,619.30 had either been raised or subscribed.

"Granted these are difficult times for people who have taxes and other obligations to meet, we feel that our objective will not be hard to reach if everyone gives his or her fair share," Pearson stated.

Only the CFC division, which is headed by Maj. John Grathwol, has exceeded its goal. The original CFC objective was $26,250 but $33,250.36 has been raised at Webb AFB and at various federal agencies here.

No reports have been forthcoming from school and city employees.

Divisions reasonably close to goals include Special Gifts, chaired by Clayton Hicks; Metropolitan, led by A. J. Statser; and Area, captained by M. A. Snell.

By divisions, money donated or subscribed to date includes:

Out-of-town, $3,807.50; Big Gifts, $24,645.60; Special Gifts, $2,658; Employees, $4,491.34; CFC, $33,250.36; Metropolitan, $1,056; Employee, County and State, $148.50; Area, $615; and Women, $1,947.

Vitamin C Rapped

NEW YORK (AP) — New warnings against the use of high doses of Vitamin C for the common cold have emerged from an international meeting on research into the vitamin.

"To recommend now for the general public to take high doses of Vitamin C over and above those recommended by the National Academy of Sciences would be irresponsible," said Dr. Myron Winick of the Institute of Human Nutrition at Columbia University.

Vitamin C may indeed have an effect on the common cold, Dr. Winick said in an interview, but the effect is too small to justify high doses in view of the lack of knowledge of possible ill effects, such as in pregnancy or on a fetus.

Dr. Linus Pauling, the two-time Nobel Prize winner, has stimulated wide interest in Vitamin C with his highly publicized recommendations for high doses to combat the common cold.

A key study that has been cited in support of Dr. Pauling's ideas was conducted at the University of Toronto and indicated that the intake of 1 gram (one 28th of an ounce) a day and 4 grams a day when ill produced a 30 per cent reduction in days off work due to cold symptoms.

But Dr. Terence W. Anderson of the University of Toronto, who conducted the study, told the meeting that subsequent studies showed that such high doses were not necessary to produce a useful reduction.

Perhaps 100 or 200 milligrams a day would be sufficient, Dr. Anderson said. Dr. Pauling has recommended a routine daily intake of 1,000 to 10,000 milligrams or 1 to 10 grams of Vitamin C.

The recommended daily allowance, of the Food and Nutrition Board of the National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council, is 50 to 60 milligrams for an adult.

First Silurian Pay In Martin

The Silurian has been developed as a new pay zone in northwest Martin County with completion of KCM Co. No. 1-A Mabec. Previously it had shown for Ellenburger production in the Lacaff (Dean-Spraberry-Ellenburger) field, 20 miles northwest of Stanton.

The venture, located in section 8-39-2n, G&MMBA, flowed 360 barrels of oil through a 7-64 choke from perforations at 12,738-730. Later it flowed 200 barrels in 18 hours. Flow from the Ellenburger had been 309 barrels of oil in 24 hours through a 7-64 choke from perforations at 13,284-290. The nearest Silurian pay is in the Lowe field nine miles to the northeast in Andrews County.

James P. Dunigan No. 1-374 Miller will be an 8,700-ft. Ellenburger wildcat in Borden County, nine miles west of Fluvanna, two miles southeast of the recently re-opened Hood Multipay field. It is 1,000 from the north and 2,500 from the west lines of section 474-97 H&TC.

Abode Oil No. 1 Wood has been completed as a half mile east extension of the Spraberry Trend area in northern Glasscock County. It made 29 barrels of 39:1 gravity oil and gas-oil ratio of 791:1 after acidizing perforations from 7,747-8,025 with 3,000 gallons and racing with 30,000 gallons. Location is 1320 from the north and west lines of section 9-36-3s, T&P, 12 miles south of Stanton.

In Glasscock County, the wildcat Mallard No. 1 Cox was below 4,800. Terra Resources No. 1 R. C. Doger, Dawson County wildcat, 1,320 from the north and west lines of section 44-35-4n, T&P, 15 miles south of Lamesa, bottomed at 8,992 feet and was plugged and abandoned.

Open House Set For Retirees

Ft. Hood will host an open house for retired Army personnel, their survivors and dependents on Nov. 2. Invitations to the event have been mailed to more than 17,000 people living in a 179 county area extending from Odessa to Texarkana and from Childress to Galveston.

The purpose of the open house is to provide retirees with the latest information on their rights, benefits and privileges earned through retirement, and to give them the opportunity to renew their interest and prospective of today's active Army said Lt. G. Allen M. Burdett, Jr., commander, III Corps and Ft. Hood.

Interest Up On CCC Loan

The U.S. Department of Agriculture has rendered use of the Commodity Credit Corporation loan in 1974 less attractive to producers of agricultural commodities, according to Donald A. Johnson, executive vice president of Lubbock-based Plains Cotton Growers, Inc.

USDA announced Oct. 2 that the interest rate on CCC loans after that date would be 9.375 per cent, up 2.125 per cent from the 7.250 per cent announced on March 8 of this year, and 3.875 per cent above the 5.5 per cent interest charge on 1973 crop loans.

Johnson said this changes previous PCG calculations which showed the necessity for a 302 cent per pound per month price increase from the date of loan to date of sale if use of the loan was not to result in a loss. This "break-even point" allowed for 75 cents per month storage charge and 70 cents per month interest on a loan of $115.20 per bale, or a total cost of $1.45 per bale per month. Now the figure is $1.65 per month and the break-even price increase per month becomes .3437 cents per pound.

Local Credit Unions' Assets $28 1/2 Million

Today through Saturday has been proclaimed International Credit Union Week in the city of Big Spring by Mayor Wade Choate.

This action by Mayor Choate follows similar steps by President Gerald Ford and Gov. Dolph Briscoe, and celebrates the 40th anniversary of credit unions in the United States.

As of latest estimates, there were 22,950 credit unions in the nation with 27,693,294 members. Assets in these credit unions climbed to $26,393,131,239. Texas ranks fourth (1,385) in the number of credit unions in the nation behind California, Illinois and Pennsylvania.

California also leads in members (3,341,605) and is followed by Michigan (2,041,751). Texas ranks third with 1,911,692. Texas also ranks third in total assets with Texas $2,025,803,463.

In Big Spring, there are 10 credit unions with a total membership of 25,879, which is an increase of 2,451 members over the same period last year. Total assets in local credit unions stand at $28,656,714.50, showing an increase of $1,946,897.80 over Sept. 1973.

Loans and shares were also up in Big Spring. Loans totaled $24,847,298.18, an increase of $669,726.91, and shares gained $1,776,886.11, bringing the total to $25,231,760.78.

Screwworms Make No Gains

September rains have had little effect on screwworm infestations in this area. Glasscock County reported two cases in August and a like number in September. Sterling had two cases in August, none in September, and Mitchell and Reagan, which had none in August, had one each in September. Howard, Borden, Dawson and Martin had none in either. Texas had 1,098 cases in September, down from 1,786 in August.

credit unions were established as nonprofit financial cooperatives for the betterment of all individuals of a group who wished to pool their money.

In Big Spring credit unions have 25,879 members and assets of over 28 1/2 million, contributing to the financial growth and prosperous development of our city, said Mayor Choate's proclamation.

ASCS Must Be Notified

Feed grain producers have been reminded by the county agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service to request an appraisal prior to harvesting the crop other than grain. Acreage cannot be grazed, etc. until appraised.

When maize is harvested, weight slips should be reported to the ASCS office, and home storage also will need to be reported. Similarly, cotton producers are asked to report as soon as they have completed the harvest so the land may be inspected prior to being put up. Those who feel they qualify for a low-yield payment should contact the ASCS office in the Federal Building.

The county committee has upped the federal cost share for chiseling land to $1.20 per acre, deep plowing to $3 from $1.18 inches, and $4.50 per acre for deeper than 18 inches.

As for 1975 provisions, there will be no setaside and no conserving base requirements. Producers may continue to preserve their allotments with conserving crops or with annual non-conserving crops, excluding marketing quota crops. (Cotton deficiency payments cannot be earned when other crops are grown instead of cotton.)

The committee also approved closing of the office Oct. 14 and Oct. 28, said Mrs. Pauline A. Compton, acting executive director.

Newsprint Up To $260 Ton

VANCOUVER B.C. (AP) — United States customers of MacMillan Rothsay Ltd. will pay $25 a ton more for news print effective Jan. 1, 1975, a spokesman for MacMillan Bloedel says.

The spokesman said Monday the price increase will bring the cost of a ton of newsprint to $260 a ton. The Vancouver-based firm of MacMillan Bloedel has a major interest in MacMillan Rothsay, which operates a mill in Saint John, N.B., and serves primarily an eastern market.

The spokesman said a recent statement from MacMillan Rothsay complained of the effects of escalating costs of labor and materials.

Band At Midland

The U. S. Marine Band, referred to as "The President's Own," will open Midland's official celebration of the nation's bicentennial. Their appearance at Lee High School Auditorium next Saturday for two performances will be at 1 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Shoplifting Increases Among Many Oldsters

By MARJ CARPENTER
A 67-year-old woman strolled around a local department store looking frantically in every direction and covertly tried to hide a $10.97 jacket.

A clerk saw it happen and reported it to the manager. After the elderly customer had cleared the cash register and obviously was not going to purchase the item, she was stopped by the manager. As the manager took the elderly woman down the aisles to the office, she trembled, gasped and sobbed aloud. The entire store was upset. Clerks, customers and almost everybody that saw it happen became unnerved.

UPSET EVERYONE
A clerk who had her husband and the woman's medication for her heart. The husband was elderly and frail and had just been dismissed from the hospital.

They lived in another town and were here to see the doctor. The woman had taken the coat for her daughter, who lived at home and is blind. The social security checks of the couple used to cover expenses and no longer will stretch. The case was handled with discretion.

This is apparently becoming a national problem and it is prevalent in Big Spring just like the rest of the country.

MANY DESPERATE
Desperation is the daily word for many of the elderly. All that most of them ask out of life is enough food not to be hungry, clothes on their back, the ability to give some little something once in a while to those they love, and to have someone who cares. The manager of this same store reported that "In the last two weeks, we have had three elderly shoplifters. We never used to have them. The elderly were generally basically honest and our problems came from a younger generation."

Spokesman for another department store, not too many blocks away, said they had not noticed this trend. "Our main problem has been middle-aged women and younger women who are often simply thieves."

A nationwide television program recently showed the plight of the elderly trying to stretch their check against rising food costs. They also mentioned a rising shop-lifting problem among the elderly.

BUY ONE POTATO
A manager of one of the larger local grocery stores said, "Yes, we have had some in recent months and it is upsetting. The man added, "When you watch an elderly woman, very carefully select one potato, buy day-old bread and a can of soup and look longingly at the fresh fruit while she

Bond Sales Are Ahead

With two-thirds of the year gone, District 4 has achieved three-fourths of its 1974 U.S. Saving Bonds quota.

Howard County, according to Jimmy Taylor, chairman, has achieved 79 per cent of its $600,000 goal through August.

According to reports from Larson Lloyd, district chairman, August sales (with cumulative totals) and percentage of goal, were:
Andrews $4,433 ($38,167) 48; Borden $590 ($4,855) 24; Dawson $8,660 ($98,515) 82; Fisher $11,118 ($38,392) 64; Gaines $9,287 ($76,153) 85; Howard ($47,702) 79; Martin $1,921 ($35,940) 120; Mitchell $6,252 ($105,717) 70; Nolan $11,258 ($180,241) 67; Scurry $18,945 ($137,906) 86; total $120,193 ($192,667) 75.

munches a few grapes which she knows she isn't going to purchase, you simply feel sad and say nothing. But you just can't let them start stealing the merchandise, and taking out groceries. And it gives you a terrible feeling deep in the pit of your stomach."

One local elderly woman who attempts to live off her social security check was interviewed and had this to say: "Near the first of the month, I make a pot of homemade soup and eat on it for a week. I eat a lot of cereal and toward the end of the month eat it dry, because milk is so expensive. There really aren't too many cheap foods any more. Beans aren't even cheap."

SAD CHRISTMAS
The pre-Christmas season is always a time of heavy shopping. One variety store manager said, "We have made it important that people give gifts at Christmas and sometimes the elderly, as well as other folks, try to steal some of them. I saw an elderly man last year very cautiously pocketing some very inexpensive toys, obviously for his grandchildren. It distresses you. In his case after he paid the cashier for other items, I just asked him to put them back and leave the store. He was quite upset."

Trapped in the fixed income and low fixed income area, the elderly are the hardest hit by the inflationary prices that have distressed all housewives trying to balance a budget.

With no discussion of any type of cost-rise increase on social security checks in the office, it is expected to lessen.

The only hope of the elderly is for prices to go down. And on poor and non-nutritious diets, sitting in the dark in houses which they don't keep very warm because of fuel bills, how many of them will live to see the solution?

Ranchers Frown On Slaughtering

FORT WORTH — Disapproval of "intemperate protest acts such as the proposed wasteful destruction of hundreds of cattle" in Stephenville was expressed in a resolution at the quarterly directors meeting of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association last weekend at College Station, Texas.

The resolution stated that in lieu of protest acts such as the aborted destruction of approximately 1,000 head of cattle in Stephenville, other action should be taken, such as prohibiting of unrestricted meat imports, allocation of more funds for beef promotion and research, fiscal responsibility at all levels of government.

Shoe Fund Drive Is Sponsored By Council

FORSAN

Present Play

By JONI CLINE
Runnels Student Council sponsored the Big Spring Shoe Fund Drive. Each representative was responsible for his advisory. Mrs. Opal Tanner's advisory made posters for the halls to encourage student participation. Advisories that raised $10 or more were Mrs. Tanner's, Mrs. Bowers's, Mrs. Chappelle's, Mrs. Barron's and Mrs. Adkin's. The money raised will be spent to buy shoes for needy students in the Big Spring's school system. Last week, several organizations backed the football team by showing Runnels Spirit. The Attitude Committee of the Student Council sold "beat em" cards which said "Yearlings Power" and "Go Big Red". The cheerleaders, pep squad, and sponsors Miss Sullivan, Mrs. Dean, Mrs. Lewis, and Mrs. Zymkoski accompanied the football team to Snyder Thursday for the game with Snyder Lamar. Runnels students and faculty are very proud of the straight win record achieved by the football team.

By MARY MARTINEZ
Westbrook School chartered a Greyhound bus to take high school student to the Dallas Fair. The bus left at 4:00 a.m. Monday from Westbrook then picked up some of the students at the Villa Inn in Colorado City. The sponsors were Mr. and Mrs. Ather Ellis, Mr. J. W. Schile, and Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Dawson. The bus made a stop at Cisco at the White Elephant so the students could get something to eat. 41 students made the trip. 10 freshmen, 9 sophomores, 13 juniors, and 9 seniors also went. When the fair ground was reached, everybody was given a pass to get in. It was advised to travel in groups of 2 or 3, also to meet in front of Big Tex at 5:00 p.m. to make sure everybody was all right. Some of the best rides at the fair were the roller coaster, The Flash, and the Wild Mouse. The students also saw the smallest man in the world, Big Bertha, the half woman-half baby, the rubber skin man and other fascinating people.

The students left the Fair at 9:00 p.m. and again stopped at Cisco to get something to eat. Everybody had a great time spending money and getting terribly tired from walking around!

Monday, Mr. Dale Byrc and Mrs. Fern Reeves took the 7th and 8th grade Science Classes to Big Spring. They toured the Geology Department at Howard College and then they saw and studied "the spring" after which Big Spring was named.

Wednesday, Mr. Dawsor took 4 annual staff members to sell annual ads for the 1974-75 yearbook.

Mills' Woes May Have Hurt Him Politically

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — The manner in which reports of an incident involving Rep. Wilbur Mills were handled may be more politically damaging to the 36-year-old congressman than the incident itself, according to some of his associates.

"It's kind of, to me, like another cover-up, I guess you could say. So, I think what I would hope Mr. Wilbur Mills would do is come forth and be honest with the people. I think this is what we need in our government and that's my biggest objection to this whole thing that happened," said the Rev. Keith Goza, pastor of the Arkansas Democrat's hometown church, the First Methodist Church in Kensett.

Mills has attended one service at the church since the Rev. Mr. Goza, 24, became pastor three months ago.

In Washington, Rep. Thomas L. Ashley, D-Ohio, said of Mills, "I think he's a goner. I don't think it needed to be fatal but he allowed it to be fatal. You don't disappear for four days with no explanation."

Mills, chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, originally denied involvement in the Washington incident early Monday but later admitted that he was present when police stopped his car for speeding and operating without headlights.

Police said Mills, a passenger in the car, was bleeding from facial cuts and smelled of alcohol, and another passenger, later identified as a former stripper, jumped from the car and into the Tidal Basin after the vehicle was stopped early Monday.

In a statement issued through an aide on Thursday, Mills said he was trying to take the woman home from a party because she did not feel well. He said his original statement denying involvement was the result of a misunderstanding.

Revelers At Texas-OU Bash Are More Orderly

DALLAS (AP) — Although police say arrests were low the Texas-Oklahoma weekend madness was apparent downtown here as a 76-year-old man kept his can of tear gas spray on his belt and a stripper kept her clothes on her back.

A police department spokesman said police experience in controlling the thousands of die-hard Texas and Oklahoma fans was responsible for the lack of fights Friday night.

Stern faced, unsmiling officers escorted 163 persons to the city jail, the spokesman said.

The Longhorns and the Sooners were to clash this afternoon in their annual rivalry in the Cotton Bowl stadium.

But Friday night the clashes were mainly verbal as the revelers strolled along the sidewalk yelling taunts at the opposition.

Estes Back Of Deal?

FORT WORTH (AP) — A court hearing will be sought soon to determine if Billie Sol Estes is as alleged a "joint venturer in a land deal here, says attorney Jerry Weinstein.

Weinstein represents a defendant in a land development dispute, and litigation involving the deal is pending in 96th District Court.

Under terms of his federal parole, Estes, whose financial empire collapsed in scandal in 1963, is prohibited in self-employment of promotional activity.

Parties to the suit are Hidden Valley Country Club Estates Inc., plaintiff, and defendant W. Keith Maxwell Sr.

Weinstein, Maxwell's lawyer, asked previously that Hidden Valley President David K. Nerton of Midland be forced to answer defense questions. Included was an inquiry as to whether the corporation or its officers had done business with Estes.

A judge ordered the question answered in writing but stipulated that it be kept private. Weinstein wants a direct deposition from Estes.

Texie Fisher Plans Visit

Mrs. Zack (Texie) Fisher, wife of the Republican candidate for Texas agriculture commissioner, will be at the Howard College Student Union building 9:45 a.m. Monday.

Fisher has farm and ranch interests near Memphis where he has an insurance agency.

The nominee attended the University of Texas and Panhandle University in Goodland, Okla.

Active in politics since 1966, Fisher was executive director of the Republican Party of Texas, legislative assistant to Sen. John Tower for agriculture and public works and assistant campaign manager for Tower in 1972.

Evidence Of Gold Keeping Many Claimants Excited

EDITOR'S NOTE — The deep shaft is there all right, in the desert peak, just as the legend says. But is the hidden hoard of gold at the bottom? Enough evidence that it's there has excited a battalion of claimants, as well as the U.S. Army, and soon they all may get their answer.

By LARRY CALLOWAY
Associated Press Writer
WHITE SANDS MISSILE RANGE, N.M. (AP) — Old Doc Noss is haunting the U.S. Army again. His tale of a cavern of gold bars in the New Mexico desert won't rest.

The part-Cheyenne Indian wanderer and occasional foot doctor, whose legal name was Milton Ernest Noss, has been dead these 25 years. But the story of his gold is perpetuated by Ova Noss, his first wife, and by others who still seek the treasure.

Lately F. Lee Bailey, the well-known Boston lawyer, has joined with the believers. Bailey says his secret clients have found gold near the Noss claim.

24-HOUR GUARD
Fearing an unscientific, unarmy guard rush, the Army has placed an entire basin in the moonlike San Andres Mountains under 24-hour armed guard.

In the center of the basin stands the lone peak where Noss said he found and lost his fortune in the late 1930s. He described thousands of gold bars stacked in a cavern like cordwood, chests of coins and jewels, church relics, armament and 27 tied and tortured human skeletons.

That's what Ova Noss, now 78, told an Albuquerque Tribune writer in an interview in her trailer home in Clovis, N.M., before her attorneys isolated her from the press. She showed two old swords, a silver napkin ring with an 1868 date and a two-handed silver bowl engraved "Brazil."

'MUST BE GOLD'
Doc Noss found the cavern, at the bottom of a natural shaft, while hunting in 1937. Mrs. Noss recalled the day a few weeks later when her husband climbed out of the cavern, dropping a metal bar at her feet.

"That's the last one of those I'm going to haul out."
"Why, Doc — that's yellow — it must be gold!"

And Noss, shouting in the desert: "If that's gold we can make John D. Rockefeller look like a tramp!"
In the next two years, Mrs. Noss related, she and her children by a previous marriage helped Noss pull heavy sacks out of the shaft but he never allowed them or anyone else to see the cavern. She said some of the gold bars were buried elsewhere by Noss, and others he sold.

In 1939, as in so many lost-mine tales, the treasure cave was lost. With the help of an engineer, Noss placed a dynamite charge at a narrow place about 180 feet down the shaft. The miscalculated blast caved it in.

Noss spent much of his remaining 10 years chipping at the cave-in, looking for lateral passages and improving two other timbered shafts on the mountain.

In January, 1949, Ova Noss and a partner refilled the Noss claims on Victorio Peak in their own names. By this time the couple was divorced and Noss had remarried. He showed up soon after with Texas businessmen Charley Ryan and Roscoe Parr as partners. One unverified land office report says Ova Noss kicked him off the peak.

END OF CAREER
Ryan rented a house at Hatch, N.M., and Noss visited him there March 5, 1949. An argument over the gold developed and witnesses said Noss ran out of the house in his pickup truck, where there was a revolver. Ryan shot twice from the porch. The career of the 44-year-old foot doctor prospector ended with a bullet in the back of his skull. Police found $2.16 in his workclothes pockets. Ryan was tried and acquitted.

The Army acquired Victorio Peak several years after Noss' death and for nearly two decades has stood between the mountain and the civilian heirs to the Doc Noss dream.

DANGEROUS
"Allowing access to treasure seekers could result in breaches of national security as well as exposing the searchers to dangerous levels of radiation and possible detonations," says an Army fact sheet. In conversation, information officers add snakes and scorpions.

But the Army also admits to an embarrassing spell of military gold fever at the peak 13 years ago.

—Bailey says, "I'm satisfied that some Army personnel have looked for the gold in the past and probably still are."
Lt. Col. Donald Keller, range, information chief, responds: "Anyone who thinks the Army is officially up there scratching around for a legendary treasure doesn't have his thinking in perspective. We're just flat out in the business."

The "business" here is testing missiles and studying war. The security restricted range is 100 miles long and 40 miles wide, and the desert is wired with $1 billion in scientific equipment. The place is so desolate it hid the world's first nuclear explosion in 1945.

Bailey says his clients have found treasure and want only to bring it out legally, present it to a New Mexico State court and prove their finder-keepers ownership.

The timing is good. After Dec. 31, Americans will no longer be prohibited from owning gold bullion.

25 PERCENT OF GOLD
New Mexico Atty. Gen. David Norvell last year signed an agreement giving Bailey's clients immunity from state prosecution for trespass if they gave 25 percent of the gold to the state. Then he went on to sue the Army to let the gold claimers in. The Norvell suit raised an aid accusation that the Army was conducting "unauthorized and unlawful covert operations" at Victorio Peak. Ova Noss said the same thing 12 years ago.

At first the range commander, Maj. Gen. John Shinkle, denied the story. But in the face of evidence, the general eventually admitted that a joint effort of the Army and the Treasury had taken place at the peak.

In the end, the venture proved inconclusive. The peak has been officially undisturbed for 12 years.

Oil Spill At Corpus

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP) — Coast Guard and Texas Railroad Commission officials were trying to determine today the source of an oil spill that dumped 8,000 barrels of oil into the harbor here in the past two days.

Harry Franklin, director of the Corpus Christi Area Oil Spill Association, said Thursday authorities are concentrating on the possibility that the heavy refined oil came from an oil storage tank or an underground tank feeder line.

Authorities reopened the main harbor late Thursday afternoon after cleanup crews using vacuum trucks had picked up all but approximately three hundred barrels of the oil. Officials said most of the spill, which stretched for three miles along the inner harbor, had been taken to local refineries for reprocessing. Authorities placed the cost at removing the oil at $10,000 a day and said it would take another week to clean up the harbor completely.

Loch Ness Has Monster

LONDON (AP) — Loch Ness, whose murky waters rate as one of Scotland's top tourist attractions, is getting a monster visitors will be able to get a look at.

The "real life" monster — in concrete and steel — was commissioned by the local Preservation Group.

For decades the legendary prehistoric monster said to lurk in the Scottish Loch has evaded hunters, although numerous sightings have been claimed.

For years the Loch Ness Preservation Group has maintained round-the-clock vigils around the loch without any positive proof. Now the group has had its own Nessie made by London artist Alan Ross.

An authority on prehistoric creatures, Ross builds life-size cement and steel models which have been exhibited in many countries.

"Nessie was my most challenging assignment," says Ross. "Reports and pictures of monster sightings at Loch Ness and similar lakes in Finland, Ireland and Canada indicate that Nessie is probably a prehistoric Elasmosaurus," he added.

Ross, a firm believer that Nessie does exist, says it is probably about 50 feet long, 14 feet wide from fin to fin and just over 13 feet high.

His full-size replica, made in southern England, had to be towed to Scotland on a trailer — with a police escort.

Growers Protest Import Shackles

Directors of the Plains Cotton Grower, Inc., in their quarterly meet in Lubbock Thursday, rapped President Ford's recent interference with U.S. grain exports.

They also pledged to keep pressing for highest CCC loans levels consistent with the law. Reports from Dr. Jarvis Miller, director of Texas Agricultural Experiment Stations, indicated that the 11-year-old boll weevil control program initiated by PCG had returned producers over $75 for each $1 invested. Regarding the president's pressure to restrict grain exports, Don Anderson, Slaton, said "we cannot be expected to operate in a restricted market with restrained priced for our commodities if the markets and prices for our production are unrestricted."

Flood Victims Get Assistance

Three ministers and two laymen from Big Spring last week delivered 700 pounds of groceries and 15 bags of medical supplies to flood victims along the Rio Grande.

In the group were the Rev. Jim Wilkerson, Crestview Baptist, Rev. Freddie Martin, Berea Baptist, and Rev. Rufus Wilson, Midway Baptist. With them were John Markle and Walter Barbee. The relief project was part of the River Ministry. It may be another month before water drains from some flood areas below Presidio they were told.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Sen. Edward J. Gurney says the government is seeking to humiliate him by trying to force him to go through fingerprint and photo procedures.

Gurney, facing federal charges of conspiracy, bribery and perjury, made the accusation Friday in reply to a government motion seeking to have him submit to the routine processing of a person accused of a crime.

The Florida Republican and six other persons are charged with conspiracy to raise a $233,000 expense fund by peddling his influence in housing contracts. Gurney also is charged with taking a bribe and lying to the grand jury which returned the indictment.

When the others were arraigned, they went through usual fingerprinting and photographing procedures in the U.S. marshal's office.

Gurney left the building without going to the marshal's office, and the government later filed a motion in federal court asking that he be required to go through the processing.

"We submit that the government's sole purpose in filing this motion is to humiliate the defendant Gurney by making it appear he is wrongfully attempting to claim some special privilege for himself not available to other defendants," said C. Harris Dittmar, Gurney's attorney, in a memorandum to the court.

U.S. District Judge Ben Krentzman will conduct a hearing here Thursday on this motion as well as others attacking grand jury selection methods. The case has not been set for trial.

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP) — One man was killed and 40 persons were injured Friday night when a nightclub balcony collapsed and fell onto a dance floor crowded with students celebrating homecoming at Louisiana State University.

The dead man was identified as Terry Devine, 24, of New Orleans. Authorities said his chest was crushed. Witnesses said the balcony, supported by heavy wooden columns, buckled in the middle, then fell about 20 feet onto those below. The balcony stretched above three sides of the dance floor at the Common Ground lounge.

The band was playing and it looked like slow motion," said David Braud, 20.

Police said 40 persons were taken to hospitals. Gail Childress, 27, of Baton Rouge, was listed today in serious condition with a back injury. Five others also hospitalized were reported in satisfactory condition. The rest were treated and released.

Bo Wicker said the balcony was shaking with people dancing just before it fell about 10:45 p.m.

"Then it just fell and it was instantaneous," Wicker said. "Thirty or 40 people lifted it right off the people who were injured."

Officials said cause of the collapse was not known, but noted that witnesses said the balcony was full at the time.

The Week

What would you do if your husband (or wife) died and you were in a strange land and couldn't speak the language? The Japanese wife of retired Sgt. Alex Perryman Jones, 63, wrapped him in a blanket and waited, probably four days. When police, summoned by neighbors, finally came, she was in panic, thinking troops had come to take her.

The Colorado River Municipal Water District will take bids Oct. 29 for its new headquarters building at FM 700 and Golias. Indications are that the construction will cost around a quarter of a million, and furnishings, etc. will boost the final price a lot higher.

The city announced last week a list of 28 separate projects, scheduled to be included in the new paving program. These run from one to as much as 10 blocks, and participation by abutting property owners may determine which ones get going.

The first woman director of a local bank in 20 years is Marie Hall, who was named last week to the State National board. From the late 1920's to early 1950's, Mrs. Dora Roberts had been on the First National Board. Dorothy Garrett took the place of her husband, Horace, briefly.

Friday evening's football had more than its share of "ifs," among them if two passes had been just a wee bit better thrown. Instead of getting two more touchdowns, the Steers, who alternately look great on offense and sputtered on defense, lost 21-6. And still, they have the potential of beating anyone in the league if they can be consistent. Coahoma is having its troubles, too, getting tied by upstart Anson 20-20. Forsan is the Howard County sparkler so far this season.

Our town was the site for two area gatherings for the week. Permian Basin Counsellors Association held their annual meeting on the Howard College campus. Saturday District 12 of the Federated Music Clubs of Texas met at the college.

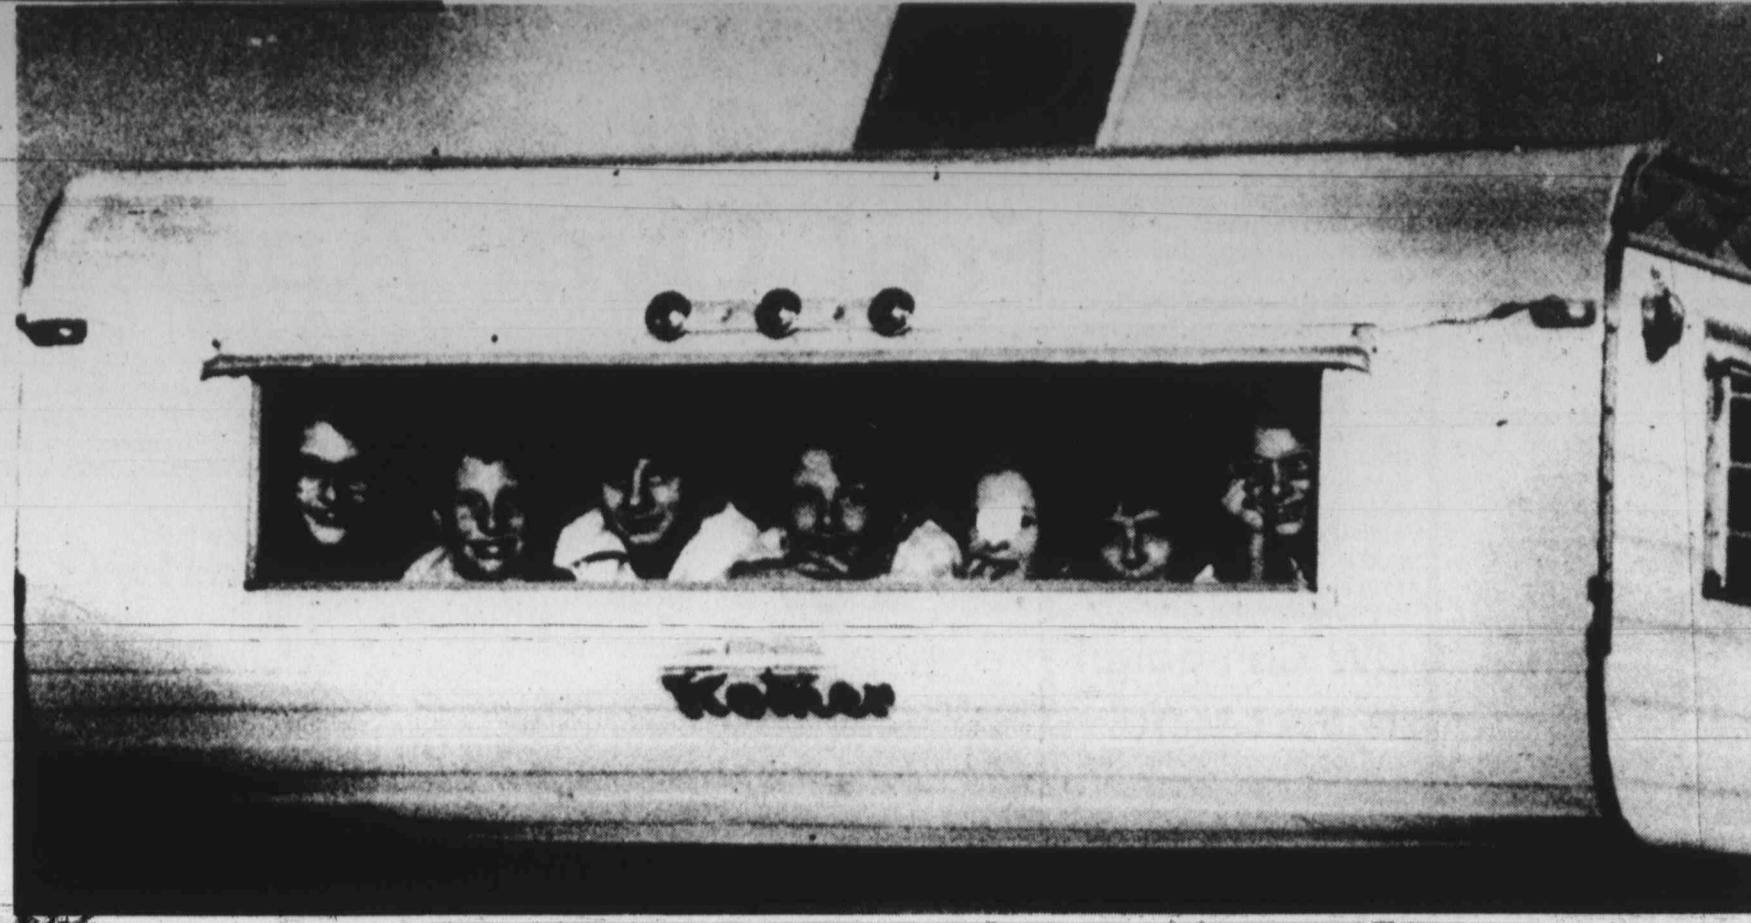

How old are you? Can you remember when the Shenandoah, the awesome, graceful dirigible, first passed over our town? That was 50 years ago Wednesday.

Won't Change Cost Of Beef

By The Associated Press
Texas dairymen and some beef producers stood on the brink of a critical decision this week. Will they kill thousands of calves and bury them to protest stockmen's economic problems? No one expects such a mass slaughter to change the price of either calves or supermarket beef one cent through a reduction of supplies. It is a simple protest. Similar mass slaughters have occurred in America before—in the Depression. But this was government sponsored to reduce an oversupply of hogs in the 1930s.

CAN'T PAY
The Texas stockmen says they can't pay to feed the calves to maturity since they lose from $100 to $150 per head because of what they call the high cost of feed and low price of beef on the hoof. Cattlemen in some other states say they will slaughter animals if the Texans follow through with their plan. "This whole situation between Washington and the dairymen is still a poker game, and we've got more chips than probably any group," said James Trawek, a dairyman who organized angry stockmen around Stephenville in West Central Texas earlier this month. Exactly what the government would have to do to

Farmers Holding Firm In Withholding Plan

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP) — "The Great Wheat Holdout" has met its severest test and held firm. In the week following the cancellation by President Ford of a Russian wheat deal, America's wheat farmers have refused to crack and are showing a continued determination to withhold a substantial part of their 1974 crop from the market.

"This was the first real test and they didn't panic," said Gerald Frazier, president of the massive Union Equity grain dealership in Enid, Okla. "They're holding on a little tighter."

LID CLAMPED
Faced with tight grain supplies, President Ford last weekend maneuvered a cancellation of a $500 million Soviet grain deal with two major American dealers. He also clamped on a partial export lid, requiring dealers to get government approval before closing large export grain sales.

News of the White House restriction on grain exports caused a short flurry of selling by farmers, but grain dealers and elevator operators in the wheat belt said the hold out quickly firmed up again. Dealers estimate that farmers are still holding between 50 and 60 per cent of the 1.7 billion bushel 1974 wheat crop. Usually by this time, about 80 per cent of the crop sold by the wheat raisers.

"We had only a few panic the other day when the Soviet deal was canceled," said Frank Fanning, general manager of the Mid-Continent Farmer's Coop in Oklahoma City. "They've seen this happen before and knew what it could do to the price. But as a whole, the farmers held firm."

He called the presidential action "the first test" of the holdout and noted: "The farmers have been real successful." The holdout started with the first fields harvested last spring in Texas. As the harvest moved northward, through the wheat belt, the holdout followed. As late as last month, some Kansas farmers still owned 90 per cent of their crop.

The intention was to develop a "free market" in which the farmers controlled the price by controlling the supply.

According to Thomas E. Olander, the president of the 8,000-member Kansas Wheat Raisers Association, the main goal of the holdout was to firm up the farm level price of wheat at $4 a bushel. This goal was achieved, he said last month.

On Ford's action, Olander said this week: "I couldn't get all that worked up about it. The action didn't affect my marketing plans." The Wellington, Kan., farmer still holds 70 per cent of the wheat produced from his 3,000-acre operation. He said he expects the price of wheat to "stay strong." Ralph Walker, a Sharon Springs, Kan., farmer and elevator operator, said the presidential action sparked anger among the farmers.

"If they're going to restrict the farmers, let's restrict everybody he said. Country elevator prices dropped earlier in the week to $3.78 a bushel, but when farmers stopped selling, it rose again to around $4.60 a bushel.

The determination in face of uncertainty showed strength on the part of the farmers, said Charles Rhoades of the Oklahoma Wheat Commission.

"If they had all gotten scared and sold, it could have cost the farmers $1.5 billion," said Rhoades. "But they didn't panic and sell." "When the cash price dropped," said Ray Fritzemeyer, the assistant manager of Peavey Elevator

Co. in Wichita, Kan., "it shut off all selling." The holdout was made possible by the export last two years of most of the government-held wheat. Federal bins have been picked clean by the sales, and one official said that at one point this summer the American farmer held 90 per cent of the free world's wheat supply.

Success of the hold out has changed the quietly militant attitude expressed earlier in the summer and wheat people almost without exception have dropped the term "holdout."

A fight by the side of the road near a cotton patch six miles north of Big Spring caused some excitement about 8 p.m. Saturday night. A report of the fight was called into law officials by a passing motorist. Deputy Sam Smelser went to the scene where three men were fighting. The deputy ordered the group to quit fighting but they kept on with the affray. He then fired a shotgun into the air and got their attention. A second report shortly came in from another motorist that there was a shooting out on the Lamesa highway. The deputy kept a shotgun leveled on the trio while he summoned assistance by radio.

John Burson and Avery Falkner of the city police went to the scene and assisted in rounding up the three brawlers and bringing them into town.

By CLARK LESH

It's really hard, hard to file a story on a schoolboy football team that has your heart at interest. This concerns the Steers.

Returning to The Herald office and trying to concentrate on how to write this type of story after three straight setbacks bothers me very much.

I stand staring into space, trying to pull down words best appropriate to describe what happened.

Being a transplanted Texan as my dad worked for a major oil company who moved back and forth from Oklahoma to Texas, I've become really wrapped up over the Steers.

Though not a member of the Big Spring coaching staff, I'm becoming engrossed in what it will take to move the Steers the right direction.

Odessa Permian seems to think Big Spring has the potential as for the second straight week a representative has attended Steer games.

I'm speaking of Eddie Woski, Coahoma native and ex-footballer, now a Permian assistant. Permian has become worried over the Steers. So worried that an upset could be in the offing.

From census of opinion reaction expressed over the weekend, Permian of the present is not Permian of the past. They are slow afoot, but a winning tradition continues and its gridiron halo remains high and mighty.

One bean missing. A new NCAA football rule that is supposed to be enforced but rarely seen. When a fumble is lost by an opposing team and recovered by another, point of drop is to be marked by a little white bean bag.

Harold Wilder, Howard College cage coach, quickly relayed to me that Converse magazine has honored 1973-74 performers Thomas Bledsoe and Taylor Williams.

Mustangs Bop Horned Frogs

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Mighty mite Ricky Wesson wiggled in for three touchdowns and a light-fingered Southern Methodist defense stole four fumbles as the Mustangs ambushed Texas Christian 33-13 Saturday night in a whacky football duel.

Wesson, a classy, little 160-pound sophomore quarterback, struck on runs of 18, three and 13 yards as the Mustangs scored in every quarter and rolled to their fourth victory in five outings.

The triumph, assembled amid a flurry of fumbles and penalties and a meager crowd of 16,492, shoved SMU into a three-way tie with Texas A&M and Baylor at the top of the Southwest Conference standings with 1-0 records.

SMU safety Mark Howe and linebacker Charlie Adams each pocketed two TCU fumbles—one at the edge of the Mustangs' goal—as the Ponies dealt the Horned Frogs their fourth straight setback and dropped them from SWC consideration with two losses.

Wesson, aided by a 15-yard penalty, guided SMU 62 yards after Adams' first recovery and scored from the 18 on a tricky end-around maneuver. The Ponies, again inspired by a fumble recovery, moved only 20 yards for their second score and a 14-0 halftime lead with Wesson faking and then skipping in from the three.

The shifty sophomore streaked 13 yards for his third touchdown in the final quarter.

Halfback Wayne Morris spurred 20 yards to score in the third period after Ted Thompson's interception of a Falls Short SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—Freshman tailback Jim Jenkins scored a fourth-period touchdown and John Rafferty's interception stopped a last-ditch Navy drive to help Syracuse preserve a 17-9 victory over the Middies Saturday.

Third-ranked Aabama's Bucky Berrey kicked a 36-yard field goal with 33 seconds left to give the Crimson Tide an 8-7 victory over Florida State.

And the ninth-ranked Fighting Irish of Notre deflected TCU pass. After a dazzling 84 punt return by Art Whittington of SMU, the Frogs struck for two touchdowns in the final minute of play. Both scores came on passes of 35 and 30 yards by Jimmy Dam Elzner to Gary Patterson.

Sooner Field Goal Lassos Longhorns

(AP)—Oklahoma's Tony DiRenzo kicked a 37-yard field goal deep in the final quarter following a daring fourth-down Texas gamble that failed Saturday and the second-ranked Sooners survived the adrenaline-charged Longhorns 16-13 in their annual grudge inter-sectional game.

The Sooner victory over the three touchdown underdog Longhorns kept Oklahoma unbeaten through its last 19 games.

With the game tied 13-13, Texas Coach Darrell Royal ordered his Longhorns to go for it on a fourth and one situation at midfield. Freshman fullback Earl Campbell appeared to have the yardage made, but fumbled when hit by Leroy Selmon and All-America linebacker Rod Scholte recovered at the 50.

Oklahoma quarterback Steve Davis worked the Sooners into position, using freshman Elvis Peacock to move to the Longhorn 21. DeRienzo, a junior from Ardmore, Okla., calmly split the uprights and the Sooner fans among the sell-out 72,000 in the Cotton Bowl went wild.

The 17-ranked Longhorns played Oklahoma off its feet in the third quarter after both teams exchanged fumbles in an error-prone first half which found Oklahoma on the long end of a 7-3 count.

Davis scored on a 22-yard dash to give the Sooners a 7-0 lead and Billy Schott made it 7-3 on a 41-yard field goal.

Campbell rambled 12 yards untouched up the middle in the third period to put Texas ahead 10-7 and Schott made it 13-7 on a 38-yard field goal.

Oklahoma outfoxed the Longhorns defenders early in the fourth quarter to tie the score 13-13. Split end Billy Brooks took a pitchout on a reverse and ran 40 yards untouched to the touchdown. However, John Carroll's extra point attempt was ruled wide to the right.

Oklahoma is now 4-0 for the season and Texas is 3-2. Oklahoma, which destroyed Texas 52-13 last year, appeared to be on a self-destruct mission in the first half as it lost three fumbles—one at a most inopportune time.

Oklahoma jumped on a Texas fumble at the Longhorn 27-yard line and moved smartly to the Texas six behind the rushes of All-American Joe Washington. Davis swept right on the option and fumbled the ball into the Longhorn end zone when smacked by Sam Mason and Bill Hamilton claimed it for a touchdown.

The Sooners got a second quarter break when Raymond Clayborn interfered with Washington who was trying to field a punt. With the aid of the penalty, Oklahoma set up shop on the Texas 43.

28-7 SWC CONTEST Aggie Computer Kicks Red Raiders Aside

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—What Skip Walker didn't accomplish in the second quarter, Texas A&M's defense did the rest of the game as the computer perfect Aggies folded, spindled and mutilated 9th-ranked Texas Tech 28-7 in a Southwest Conference showdown Saturday.

Walker scored three second quarter touchdowns on runs of 1, 3 and 23 yards and rushed for 138 yards on 21 carries for the game. The A&M defense, victimized by Kansas in a 28-10 loss last week, took out its ire on the Tech offense and its quarterback Tommy Duniven particularly.

"When everything is going right A&M can play defense as good as anybody in the country," said victorious A&M Coach Emory Bellard.

And everything definitely went right for A&M which improved its record to 4-1 and handed Tech its first defeat in 14 games. "The score was 7-7 in the second half so we held up under it pretty good," said Texas Tech Coach Jim Carlen. "We just got beat in a physical game. That's what I was afraid of."

Duniven, star of Tech's victory over Texas two weeks ago was unable to work his magic this day. "They hit as hard as any team I've ever seen," said Duniven who completed only seven passes and was sacked several times by the alert Aggie defense.

The victory gave A&M a 1-0 standing in the SWC race and punter Mark Stanley, who booted seven times for a 48-yard average, knew exactly where the Aggies stood. "We're in the saddle now," he said.

Jackson Helps A's Nip Dodgers, 3-2

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Reggie Jackson, hobbled by a painful leg injury that made him a doubtful starter until just before game time, walloped a 400-foot home run Saturday, helping the Oakland A's to a 3-2 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers in the opening game of the 1974 World Series.

The victory gave the defending world champion A's a 1-0 lead in the best-of-seven series. Sunday when Vida Blue pitched for Oakland against the Dodgers' Don Sutton.

With a record Dodger Stadium crowd of 55,974 watching, Los Angeles repeatedly threatened to break the game open, outpitching the A's 11-6.

But when it was over, the opening game of baseball's 71st World Series belonged to Oakland, mostly because of Jackson's homer and the relief pitching of Rollie Fingers.

Jackson, who pulled his right hamstring muscle during the American League playoffs against Baltimore, had said he would play in this World Series if he had to do it in a wheelchair.

As he loosened up before the game, he told sports writers he felt about 85 percent of his full capacity.

But when A's Manager Alvin Dark presented the lineup card, Reggie, Most Valuable Player in the 1973 World Series, was in right field, batting fourth for Oakland.

In the second inning, he showed why.

With the count one ball and one strike, Dodger starter Andy Messersmith made a mistake on Jackson and

Reggie unloaded on the pitch, sending it soaring into the left-center field seats for the game's first run.

That gave A's starter Ken Holtzman a quick lead and, in the fifth inning, the Oakland left-hander helped his team to another run.

With one out, Holtzman ripped a ground ball past first base and into left field for a double. It came on only the second trip to the plate all season by an Oakland pitcher, who seldom bats because of the American League's designated-hitter rule.

Bears Stun Razorbacks

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—Steve Beard, Baylor's miniature tailback, blasted one yard for a touchdown with 68 seconds remaining as the Bears upset 14th-ranked Arkansas 21-17 here Saturday.

The victory was Baylor's first over a Southwest Conference opponent since the 1972 season finale.

Arkansas had gone ahead 17-14 on Barnabas White's three-yard scoring run with 7:42 remaining. The Razorbacks had a chance to tie the game but quarterback Mark Miller fumbled the snap from center and Wharton Foster recovered at the Arkansas 36 with 2:40 remaining in the game.

The Bears covered the distance in seven plays, including two pass completions by Neal Jeffrey, the Baylor quarterback who saw limited action after being kicked out of the ball game early in the first quarter.

Mark Jackson, Jeffrey's replacement, guided Baylor to its first two touchdowns. The first came on a 25-yard run by wingback Philip Kent on a reverse, the second came on a 16-yard pass from Jackson to Kent on a third and goal situation from the 16.

That put Baylor on top 14-0 five minutes deep in the second quarter.

Arkansas cut it to 14-7 by halftime with Freddie Douglas making a leaping catch between two defenders to score on a 42-yard pass from Miller.

Steve Little's 45-yard field goal made it 14-10 with 4:23 left in the third quarter.

Arkansas moved 82 yards on 15 plays on its next possession to take the lead and set the stage for the decisive run by Beard.

Bufs Celebrate Special Event

FORSAN — Homecoming here was celebrated in fine fashion as Forsan rambled by Roby, 31-0 here Friday in a 3B district encounter.

An overflowing crowd was in attendance as the Buffaloes ran their season record to 5-0 and 3B 2-0.

Ralph Miranda and Wesley Thixton paced Buff scorers with a pair of TD's and Doug Pierce collected a six-pointer. All of Forsan's scoring was spaced over the first three periods.

Landon Soles started off keeping Forsan's mark unblemished as he fired a perfect pass to Ralph Miranda for 76 yards. The TD play covered 86 yards in two plays. Soles' extra point kick was good.

In the second frame, Thixton was the standout as he scored twice on runs of six yards and 21 yards respectively.

Forsan closed out paydirt procedures in the third.

Miranda covered 11-yards and Pierce followed in close pursuit hauling in a Soles pass, netting 24-yards. The final TD play was setup on a Donnie Croft recovered fumble on Roby's 19.

Overall Forsan team effort led to the win. Jack Woodley, Forsan coach, stated the team showed good downfield blocking and superb defense.

Thixton led Forsan rushers with 60 yards in nine carries followed by Soles, 9 for 59; Miranda, 7 for 55; and Croft, 5 for 20.

Forsan trips to Lorraine for a 7:30 p.m. engagement Friday and a 3B test.

RICKY MYERS

Myers Lists Skill

Ricky Myers, 13-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Myers of 2206 Cecilia St., is completing six years of outstanding achievement in Punt, Pass and Kick and Little League competition.

When only eight years of age, the native Big Springer placed second in local Punt, Pass and Kick competition.

As a nine-year-old, he was first as a Phillips 66 Pitch, Hit and Run entry on the local level and fourth in District at Amarillo.

Later that year, he won a free trip to an Astro baseball game at Houston for himself and his family in a contest sponsored by a local radio station. At Houston, he was fourth in his class.

He again placed first in Punt, Pass and Kick competition at Lamesa.

As a ten-year-old, he finished third on the District level at Amarillo.

He was also third in Punt, Pass and Kick competition locally that year.

In his 11th year, he was first in the Punt, Pass and Kick contest here, then wound up second in Zone activity at Lamesa.

This year, he again won the Punt, Pass and Kick contest in his division to qualify for District competition at Lamesa.

He played four years for the T-Birds in the International Little League and was a member of that league's all-star team. He pitched and played shortstop and was second in the league in home runs.

In his first year in Teen-Age League ball, he played third base for the Knights and was one of two 13-year-olds to hit home runs in the league.

At Goliad Junior High, he was on the seventh grade all-star football team and a sprinter on the track team.

His ambitions are to attend Texas Tech or the University of Texas at Austin, perhaps play for the Cincinnati Reds and eventually become an architect.

He now maintains a B average in the eighth grade at Goliad. He is the grandson of Mrs. Tom Rosson and the late Mr. Rosson.

Midland led throughout the contest but held a slim 14-6 half-time advantage. Big Spring settled down and battled the eventual winners on even terms before the Bulldogs applied a last second fourth frame clincher.

Big Spring had three golden opportunities to press Midland on recovered fumbles in the second and third frames. But here again as in prior contests, the Steers lacked the all-important fourth-and-one drive momentum to push the ball across.

Midland's scoring ability as well as rushing strength centers around Mike Gaddy, considered probably the best fullback in 5-4A. He sidestepped Steer defenders for two TD's and another Mike teammate, Hudspeth added one.

Gaddy got Midland off on the right foot as he bolted over from the one-yard line at 5:07 of the first. Terrill Littlejohn's extra point kick was good.

Hudspeth widened Midland's lead to 14-0 at 5:43 of the second, sprinting over from the 14. Time left, 5:42. Littlejohn's kick provided the extra point.

Big Spring shows a sparkle of life with 1:32 left in the second. Jon Russ edged his way to Midland's end zone from the one. PAT pass from Russ to Danny Ferrell was incomplete.

Big Spring missed three chances to close the point gap against Midland in the second. Hudspeth fumbled and Stan Partee recovered for Big Spring at 11:17. The fumble break, as it turned out, produced little gain as Big Spring lost the ball on downs.

James Coffey attempted a 22-yard 9:25 second frame field goal. But the ball sailed just wide of the posts. Then again, Midland's John Webb bobbled the pigskin and Big Spring's Lawrence Byrd quickly gathered it in. But history repeated itself. Steer rushing chances were stopped as a Mark Moore pass was intercepted by Bulldogs' Sam Jordan.

Moore, showing finesse as the season rolls along, found the aerial paths to his likings long enough to spearhead his team's lone TD effort.

The junior field-general started the Steer's second quarter drive by completing a 36-yard pass to Doug Robison. With the aid of a Midland penalty, Moore pitched to Danny Ferrell. Ferrell's swiftness sent him one yard shy of paydirt. Russ was then chosen to handle the TD assignment.

Big Spring again gained another break to knock on Midland's doorstep. This took place as the third frame was rapidly coming to a close. Kyle Neighbors pounced on a Gaddy miscue.

Big Spring ball in hand failed to take advantage of Midland's short nap. Moore on two occasions in the fourth had the crowd in awe. He whipped passes to Robison. One going 25 yards, the other 45. Robison stood all alone in the Midland secondary but the ball sailed over Robison's head.

Gaddy received the go-ahead signal to pad Midland's lead just seconds before the crowd headed for the exit signs. He bolted over from the three after chalking up valuable yardage to move Midland close in. Littlejohn added the PAT.

Big Spring after two home district contests travels to Odessa Permian Friday night.

Bearkats Stage Mild Upset Win

GARDEN CITY — Garden City's Bearkats staged a mild surprise by defeating Wellman, 36-20, here Friday night in the opening District 1-B eight-man football game for both teams. Overall, Garden City is now 2-3.

Wellman got on the board first, scoring in the opening period when Brent Tankersley bruised over on a 15-yard run. The try for point went awry.

Garden City came right back to tally when Kenny Batla broke loose on a dive play, traveling 65 yards. The play was the first from scrimmage following the Wellman kickoff and Garden City went head to stay when Batla ran across.

The Kats sewed up the decision with a 22-point second period. Norwin Bingham went in from the two on a quarterback sneak, and added the two extra points the same way to make it 16-6, Garden City.

Bingham then passed to Tommy Halfmann for ten yards and the Kats' third TD. The play came at the end of a 45-yard drive. Doug Plagens made it 24-6 by running across for the two extra points.

With ten seconds left in the half, Garden City recovered a Wellman fumble on the Garden City 35. Bingham passed to Halfmann down to Wellman's five, then sought out Rusty Pendley for the touchdown. That made it 30-6.

In the third, Wellman scored again on a six-yard run by Timmy Hamm. Tankersley run for the two extra points paid off and Wellman trailed, 30-14.

Garden City put more daylight between it and its foe when Plagens passed 35 yards to Mark Frysak. The try for point failed.

Plagens, at linebacker on defense and halfback on offense, came up with ten unassisted tackles and contributed three long gainers to the Garden City attack.

Coach Steve McIlhoney suited out 20 boys and played them all. The Bearkats go to Dawson for a game next Friday.

Bulldogs Manage Tie

By TROY BRYANT
COAHOMA — The fifth ranked Coahoma Bulldogs slaughtered Anson in the statistics, but could only manage a 20-20 tie on the scoreboard, where it counts, in a District 6-AA contest here Friday night.

Coahoma outgained Anson 370 yards to 157 and edged the Tigers in penetrations 4-3, but costly mistakes cost them their second district win.

Coahoma was hurt both offensively and defensively when back Gary Roberts was injured on his first carry of the night. He was hit in the knee on a sweep and was replaced by Randy Gee on offense and defense. But Roberts' leadership on the field was missed.

Coahoma scored first in the contest, after stopping Anson after they recovered a Bulldog fumble on Coahoma's 40-yard line.

They gave up the ball on downs on Coahoma's 31-yard line and the Bulldogs drove the 69 yards to score with 2:35 left in the first quarter, on a four yard run by Putt Choate.

Jody Bennett attempted the kick for the extra point, but it was blocked.

After Anson was forced to punt after the kickoff, Coahoma took the ball on their own 18 yard line and then fumbled it back to Anson on Coahoma's 24 yard line.

Anson scored just as the second quarter opened on a six-yard pass from Tony Watts to Danny Jackson. Anson took the lead 7-6 as Watts booted the extra point.

Jody Bennett untracked a previously anemic passing attack as he threw a 30-yard scoring strike to John Echols with only 1:35 left in the half. Bennett completed 10 of 17 passes for the night for 139 yards and two touchdowns.

The touchdown pass was set up by a pass interception by Bennett on Anson's 36-yard line. Coahoma elected to try for two points, but Choate was stopped just short of the mark.

Anson came back quickly and took the kickoff on their own 49 and then used a questionable pass interference penalty to get down to a 14-yard line. Quarterback Tony Watts scored on a keeper with :46 left in the half and then kicked the extra point to give the Tigers a 14-12 lead at half-time.

Coahoma got a big break in the third quarter after Anson took the kickoff on their own 23 and then was thrown for losses back to the 10 yard line and was forced to punt. Anson's punter, John Booker couldn't handle the snap and the ball went out of the endzone for the safety that tied the game at 14-14.

The Bulldogs got the ball in good shape on their own 47 after the kick after the safety, but the Anson defense held them on downs at the Tiger 29 yard line and promptly drove the 71 yards needed for the touchdown.

The scoring play was a 16-yard pass from Watts to Monte Schmitt in the third quarter, giving Anson a 20-14 lead after three quarters, after the extra point kick was blocked.

Coahoma came right back on the next possession, driving 74 yards for the touchdown which came on fourth and long on a pass from Bennett to Joe Brant for 14 yards. Coahoma had a chance to win the game on the extra point try, but Anson's defenders came pouring through to block the kick with 5:20 left in the game.

The Bulldogs had at least two more chances to win the game in the last few minutes as they took a punt on their own 34 and drove down to Anson's 20 yard line.

Coahoma lost yardage on the next three plays, with help from a penalty, and was forced to give up the ball on downs at Anson's 40 yard line

Bronte Rambles By Sands In B

ACKERLY — Bronte ran roughshod over Sands, 49-2, in a District 3-B game here Friday night.

The visitors managed one touchdown in the opening period, three in the second, one in the third and two in the fourth. Halfback Wayne Alexander ran in from seven yards away in the opening round and Alan Barbee added the PAT.

QB Nelson Coulter, a thorn in the side of the Mustangs all night, threw a seven-yard scoring pass to Bobby Bailey early in Round Two. Barbee booted the point. Coulter and Jim DanRaughton hooked up on a 72-yard scoring pass later in the second and Barbee tackled on the point.

Before the half ended, Marvin Ensor scored from the six and Barbee again made good on the extra point try. Barbee broke loose on a six-yard scoring jaunt in the third, then added the PAT.

Sands escaped a shutout by scoring a safety in the third. The ball was snapped over the punter's head and the ball was downed in the end zone. Barbee intercepted a Sands pass in the fourth and returned it 40 yards to pay dirt, after which he added the point.

Sands tried a pithout with disastrous results late in the game. Coulter piked it off and ran in for the scoring, after which Barbee again converted.

Next week Coahoma travels to Winters for another District 6-AA contest.

Homecoming Spoiled By Cooper

ODESSA — Led by Scott Ritchey, who awoke from a three-game slump, Abilene Cooper tied it on Odessa, 28-12, to spoil a homecoming here at Barrett stadium Friday night.

Ritchey ran for 258 yards in 28 carries, scoring TDs of 21, 31 and 67 yards. Quarterback Kelly Gill picked up the other score, and Ricky Lewis added all four extra points. Odessa completely broke down at the terminals with Cooper scoring practically all its yardage on the sweeps.

Still, Cooper trailed 12-7 in the first half before two fourth-down tries kept the ball for Cooper. This permitted Gill to cap an 80-yard drive on a quarterback sneak for the tying score.

Cooper scored first in the opening period when Woodie Shepard fumbled at the Odessa 27. Ritchey circled end untouched for the TD.

Odessa had taken over on its 36 and in six plays had first score when Darrell Shepard hit Mike Price for 64-yard TD. Darrell Shepard got a hot hand minutes later, then crossed the opposition by rolling out for the final three yards.

Ritchey scored on a 31-yard run in the third, and finally in the fourth in a 67-yard gallop. Cooper had 14 first downs, Odessa 12, also 383 total yards to 129 for Odessa.

Lee Roars Back With 21-7 Win

MIDLAND — Midland Lee Rebels spotted the San Angelo Bobcats a first-quarter touchdown, then roared back with potent defense and relentless offense to win a district 5-AAAA contest, 21-7.

Larry Thompson took a 12-yard pass from Rudy Izzard for San Angelo's only score. Vance Jenkins added the point in the first.

In the third quarter, Greg Randell, quarterback sneaked in from the one to put Midland's first points on the board. Wayne Murray took a 20-yard heave from Randell in the fourth, then carried over from the three for the final score. Milton Jones added all the extra points.

Midland Lee now is 5-0, for the season, 2-0 in district

Badgers Crushed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Archie Griffin rushed for more than 100 yards for the 16th straight game, and Cornelius Greene ran for two touchdowns and passed for another Saturday, powering top-ranked Ohio State to a 52-7 Big Ten football victory over No. 13 Wisconsin.

A record Ohio Stadium crowd of 87,717 gave Griffin a standing ovation when he left the game in the fourth quarter with 112 yards in 18 carries.

The junior tailback has gained more than 100 yards in 15 consecutive regular-season games, plus the 1974 Rose Bowl.

The victory extended Ohio State's undefeated streak to 16 games.

Griffin's performance leaves him two games shy of the record 17 in a row established by Steve Owens of Oklahoma.

Actually, the architect of Ohio State's fifth straight victory this season was Greene. His running and passing handed the Badgers their second loss in five games, and knocked them from a share of the conference lead.

The junior quarterback darted 11 and 6 yards for touchdowns and passed six yards to wingback Brian Baschnagel for another score.

Participants may register for the classes by calling the Y at 267-8234. Fees for the course are $8 for members and $12 for non-members for each eight-lesson session.

Irish Top Owls, 10-3

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (AP) — Fullback Wayne Bullock bulled over two yards out with 3:08 left and lifted sixth-ranked Notre Dame to a 10-3 victory over the stubborn Rice Owls in an intercollegiate college football game Saturday.

Bullock, who entered the game as the nation's 10th-ranked scorer with an average of 10.5 points per game capped the only long drive of the day for the harried Irish, who went 80 yards in 20 plays.

The Owls, winless in four outings, used a stingy defense to keep the Irish out of scoring territory when necessary.

Although there were no lost fumbles or pass interceptions, mistakes kept both teams from racking up more points.

Rice held a 3-0 lead most of the first half on Alan Pringle's 36-yard field goal. It wasn't until 1:03 remained in the second quarter that Notre Dame pulled even on Dave Reeve's 45-yard boot.

The Owls, after fumbling on their first play of the game, held the Irish, who drove to a first-and-goal at the five. A penalty moved the ball back to the 20 and Reeve missed a 38-yard field goal attempt.

BS Toros Tie Game

MIDLAND — The Austin Orange of Midland scored with just seconds left in the game to tie Big Spring Toros 18-18 here Saturday.

The Toros had taken the lead with just 35 seconds left in the game with Wade Cobb passing to Victor Reyne for a 25-yard TD.

Midland grabbed the punt kickoff and raced it back 60 yards with 20 seconds left to deadlock the final outcome.

Cobb started off Toro scoring as the third frame closed out. He passed to Dan Robinson for 35 yards which spotted the ball on the one. At the start of the fourth, Cobb sneaked across Austin's end zone.

Midland blocked a Toro punt eight minutes in the fourth and moved for a TD in five plays.

With five minutes remaining in the final stanza, Cobb passed to Tommy Worsham for 35 yards and paydirt.

Midland scored first in the game on a one-foot second frame QB sneak.

This was one of the best games played this campaign by the Toros. Outstanding Toro leadership was shown by: Mark Spannaus, linebacker, Tony Mann, tackle, Mitch Harris, tailback, Mike Blalack, safety and Kenneth Coffey, receiver.

Street Facing GraveCrisis of Trust

NEW YORK (AP) - Wall Street, almost everyone is too practical to say, is eight blocks and a million dreams long. It begins at Trinity Church on Broadway where Alexander Hamilton is buried and ends at the East River, a sometime Mafia cemetery.

Wall Street is one-way, down-hill, from the church to the river.

But in a larger sense, Wall Street spans the nation. It reaches into pocketbooks and safe deposit boxes from Kennebunkport to San Clemente.

There are few smiles on Wall Street today. The Dow Jones averages have been falling, almost without interruption, since January, 1973.

And in the hustle of the specialists on the floor of the New York Stock Exchange, in the quiet concentration of brokerage offices, in the restrained seventh floor member's luncheon club, in the razzle-dazzle service of Eberlin's Restaurant a block away, the recurring explanation is as much political as financial.

INFLATION HURT

How could the great American public have lost faith in great American institutions?

Inflation, tight money, high interest rates, Watergate credibility, a President who did the unthinkable - another who pardoned the unpardonable, all of these things weigh on the spirits of men who live with the public confidence.

The 1,366 seats on the New York Stock Exchange are selling for $66,000, against a modern high of $155,000 six years ago - and ominously the all-time high of $625,000 in 1929. There are only 514 member firms to deal with the public, the lowest number since the late 1800s.

The Dow Jones average has dropped from a high of 1,051.70 on Jan. 11, 1973, to the low 600s today, rubbing out more than $200-billion in the value of Big Board stocks alone. Seven thousand brokers have left the business.

Eugene Lampel is 52, 18 years a stock broker. His words: "Pretty horrible. I've never seen anything like it. Not for this period of time, this degree of bearishness. You can't really find words on how badly people have been hurt and how badly they feel."

Sol Ellman is 51, his income in six figures in his prime. His words: "A demoralized public and market. I've been around for 25 years and I've never seen anything like it. We had stocks drop 50, 60, 80 per cent in price. To use a cliché, it's basically a credibility gap. The people just don't believe."

Different Talk

Now the men and women who used to tout stocks are talking of total asset management, innovative investments, helping a client's capital keep pace with the inflation - a waiting game until the stock market bottoms out. The fittest are determined to survive.

Steve Unger is 31, three years on Wall Street's firing line, an emigre from the oil industry, now an ardent disciple of total asset handling. His words: "Discouraged? Well there are times of course when everything looks black. But I'm not a quitter. I sort of put it in the back of my mind and go ahead... If you look back you're sunk."

Steve Kraus, a vice president of Paine, Webber, Jackson and Contis, says, "The purchase of common stocks is really a bet on the future... You're talking about confidence factors, credibility factors... Now, a few weeks ago we figured Watergate was a dead issue. We had a new President, looked to be Middle Western, square shooter, Boy Scout type and would address severely and critically the inflation problems. Then you had a pardon two weeks ago that destroyed that image.

"Inflation gets worse. Everything you pick up shows a deterioration of the economy... Instead of a turn in interest rates which we would have expected by now, an end to Watergate which we would have expected by now, buried and finished, and an aggressive fight on inflation, we have maybe some fight on inflation and none of the other problems solved."

Upwards to 175 people attended the annual banquet of the employees of the Big Spring post office, held Saturday evening in the Howard College cafeteria.

Jim Baum, introduced to the crowd as Big Spring's answer to Howard Cosell, chose as his subject "Everything You Wanted to Know About the Post Office But Were Afraid to Ask."

Similarity to the subject and what he said was co-incidental. In fact, anything he said and that was said in previous speeches could only be described as co-incidental - even Baum's speeches. His oratory was laced with humor the listeners obviously appreciated.

Most everyone left the college grateful that the walls didn't come tumbling down.

Baum was introduced by Postmaster Frank Hardesty, who earlier had paid homage to an estimated 20 retired employees of the local facility and passed out notices of certificates of merits to the wives of deceased postal employees, Mrs. Otis Smith and Mrs. Joe Barron.

'A Swartz Gala'

By JO BRIGHT

"The Swartz Gala," a fashion show which has become a tradition at Webb Air Force Base, will be held Saturday in the Officers' Club where decorations will transport guests to a Grecian garden.

The special event, sponsored by the Officers' Wives Club to raise funds for its many charities, will be open to townspeople as well as military personnel.

This year's gala will feature a complimentary champagne fountain, hors d'oeuvre buffet before and after the show, and music for dancing to complete the evening. Tickets, which are $3.50 each, are available at Swartz, Barnes-Pelletier, La Contessa and the Webb Officers' Club. The social hour will begin at 7:30 p.m., with the show to follow at approximately 9 p.m. Dress will be short or long cocktail attire for the women and suits and tie for men.

General chairman is Mrs. Anne Lowry, assisted by Mrs. Pat Berry, decorations; Mrs. Kathy MacGhee, tickets; and Mrs. Annie Moore, invitations.

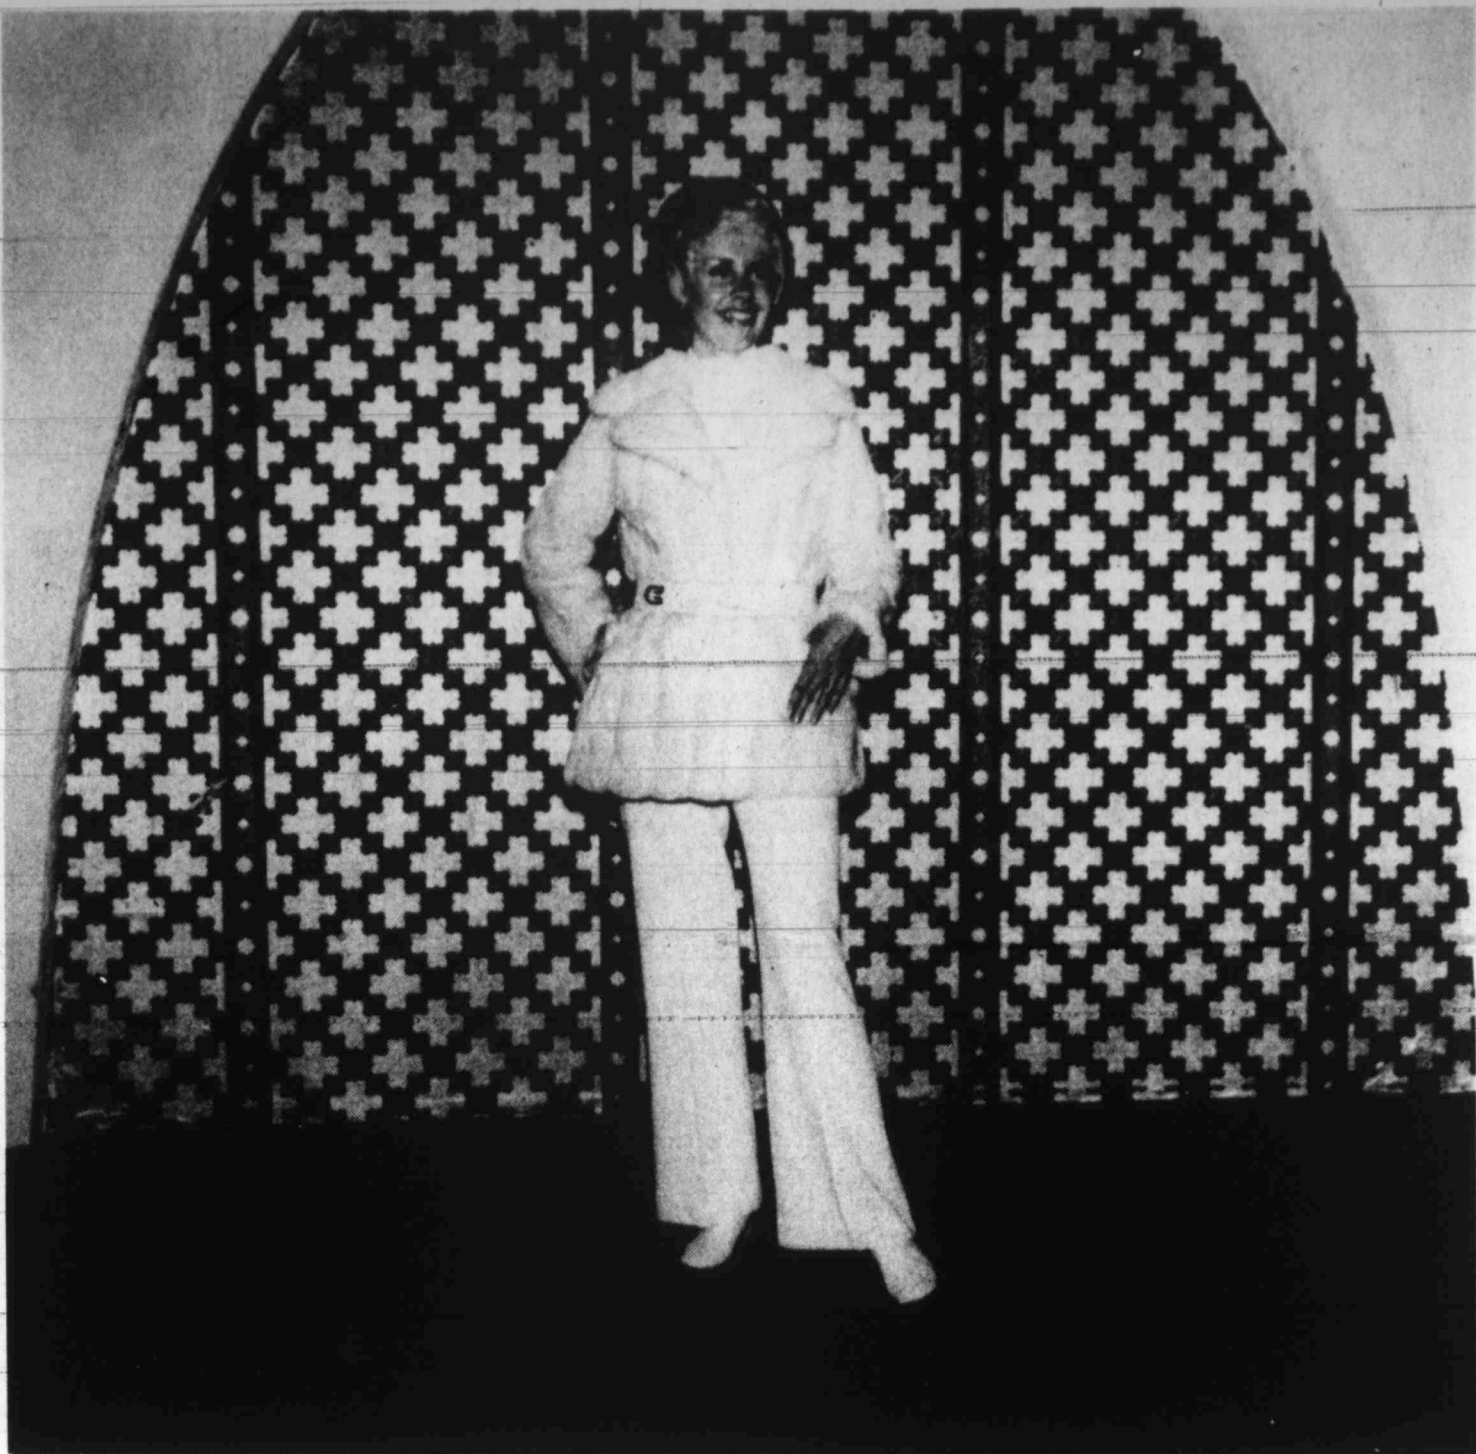

The fashion commentary will be by Mrs. Janie Ward, with Capt. Jeff Muchow as organist.

Modeling fashions of the moment — and showing trends in styles to come — will be Mrs. Katie Miller, Mrs. Carolyn Courington, Mrs. Debbie Davenport, Mrs. Kathleen MacGhee, Mrs. Barbara Burg, Mrs. Rosiland Thiele, Mrs. Nancy Breary, Mrs. Kathy Haines, Mrs. Karen Henn, Mrs. Jan Stephens, Mrs. Christi Malone and Mrs. Sue Moore. Each model will appear in three different ensembles.

Highlighting the show will be elegant fashions in furs.

The Officers' Wives Club invites the citizens of Big Spring to join them for a memorable evening — truly a "Swartz Gala."

Business Women's Week Starts Oct. 20

Plans for observing National Business Women's Week, and tentative plans for a bazaar were discussed by the Business and Professional Women's Club at a dinner meeting Tuesday in the Pioneer Gas Flame Room.

Mrs. Willard Sullivan is local chairman of National Business Women's Week, Oct. 20-27, and Mrs. Charles Summers, finance chairman, is in charge of the bazaar, currently scheduled Dec. 7 in Highland Shopping Center.

Mrs. Bert Affleck, president, reported plans for the District Eight meeting in El Paso, Oct. 19-20, at Rodeway Inn. Local members who will participate are Mrs. Cass Hill, who will read the collect at the Sunday morning business meeting; Mrs.

MRS. W. SULLIVAN

Summers, who is to be timekeeper; and Mrs. Affleck, who will present the conference rules. Mrs. Jerry Barker will also attend. Principal speaker for the convention will be the state president, Mrs. Chloe Monroe.

Mrs. Rozelle Dohoney was appointed secretary to fill the unexpired term of Mrs. John Hardy who resigned.

The club will sell shelled pecans at $2.50 per pound, beginning in November.

The Big Spring club has the distinction of being the first in the state to send its contribution to the M.D. Anderson Cancer and Tumor Clinic fund. This has been declared BPW's top state civic participation project.

The meeting was hosted by Mrs. Summers, Mrs. Barker, Mrs. Affleck and Mrs. Phillip Palmer.

The next meeting will be Oct. 22 at Coker's Restaurant with the same committee as hostesses.

Precautions Against Electrical Appliances

By SHERRY MULLIN
(County Extension Agent)

Shock from an electrical appliance is a warning of danger. To avoid electrical shocks, a serious burn or even death, follow the simple precautions or electrical safety.

Don't touch water, water pipes or the sink while in contact with an electrical appliance, including a mixer, radio, hair dryer or electric shaver.

Prevent curious children from sticking a knife, fork or bobby pin into a wall plug; buy and install plastic inserts for the plugs in your home, the specialist suggest.

The inserts can be easily removed by an adult when the outlet is needed.

Always unplug the toaster before trying to remove toast that is stuck. Avoid putting a fork or any object in the toaster as the wires are not insulated.

To avoid a shock, unplug appliances at the wall outlet before disconnecting the appliance outlet. Always connect the appliance first before plugging the cord into the wall outlet.

Check the wiring in your home. Is it grounded? If the wall plug outlets have 3 slots for the 3 prongs on the plug, your electrical system is probably grounded. Grounding is particularly important when you are using an appliance defective with age.

If your system is not grounded, improve its safety by grounding the more hazardous appliances. Simply loosen a bolt or screw on the frame of the appliance and fasten one end of the wire under it. Sandpaper a cold water metal pipe and securely clamp the other end of a wire to the pipe. The pipe must be metal—not plastic. For safety, have an electrician ground your appliances.

School Counselor Views 'Growing Up'

"Growing up is hard, and every experience is part of the educational process," said Mrs. Jimmy Ray Smith, counselor for College Heights Elementary School, when she spoke to the Parent-Teacher Association Thursday afternoon.

"No one child fits into an educational mold," continued Mrs. Smith. "Elementary guidance is to be an aid in the growth of children. The counselor is to augment or enhance the well being of the child in working with the teachers." She emphasized that the counselor is an empathetic person but not necessarily a "sympathetic person." The main goal, she stressed, is to help the child understand self confidence and gain a positive self image. Mrs. Smith closed her talk by reading Dorothy Law Nolte's poem, "Children Learn What They Live."

Mrs. Jimmy Townsend, president announced the district meeting Oct. 23 at the Second Baptist Church in Odessa and the state convention in Corpus Christi Nov. 13-15. She will attend both meetings.

The Halloween supper and carnival will be held at the school beginning at 6 p.m., Oct. 19. A chili supper will be served.

Miss Jamie Belew Marries Frank Davis

Miss Jamie Diane Belew and Frank Davis were united in marriage Friday at 7:30 p.m. in College Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. James Belew, 3309 Cornell, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Davis, Gail Rt., Big Spring.

Dr. Jimmy Law, church pastor, officiated as the vows were repeated before a heart-shaped arch trimmed with boxwood foliage and accented with blue and white carnations, wedding bells and doves, Palm trees, white candles and carnations flanked the arch, and baskets of white chrysanthemums and carnations completed the altar decorations.

Mrs. Donald Richardson, organist, accompanied the bridegroom's father who was the vocalist.

The bride was attired in a formal gown of Chantilly lace combined with organza. The white ruffled lace trim on the bodice was threaded with white ribbon, and the gown was complemented with a matching train. Her lace and seed-pearl-trimmed headpiece held a tiered veil of illusion.

The bride's flowers were a cascade of white Fuji mums, blue frenched carnations and cucalyptus tied with satin streamers accented with silver.

ATTENDANTS
Two sisters-in-law of the bride, Mrs. Darrell Belew, Abilene, and Mrs. Don Belew, served as her attendants, as did Mrs. Ricky Baker, Coahoma. Each carried a long-stemmed blue carnation trimmed with blue and white streamers.

Ricky Baker served as best man. Groomsmen were Russ Davis, Alpine, brother of the bridegroom, and Glenn Watkins, Steve Ray and Don Belew, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Dear Abby

Man Of Honor Man Attend The Bride

DEAR ABBY: I've never seen a problem like mine in your column, but here goes.

First off, I'm a girl. I've always lived out in the country. I grew up near a neighbor kid I'll call Danny. He was just like a brother to me and he has always been my closest and dearest friend.

I am engaged to a fellow I'll call Earl. We're getting married in the country church and I'm planning my wedding.

I know the bride is suppose to ask her best friend to stand up for her. Well, I don't have a girl friend I'm really close to, or a sister or even a cousin I can ask, so instead of having a "maid of honor," why can't I ask Danny to be my "man of honor?" He is certainly my best friend, and I can't see anything wrong with it.

Earl thinks it's a neat idea, and Danny said he would be honored to stand up for me, but my parents say people will think we are crazy.

What do you think?

MAKING PLANS
DEAR MAKING: I think it's a neat idea, too. A friend is a friend. What difference does gender make?

DEAR ABBY: I sure get a lot of laughs out of your column. It brightens my day. But something bothers me. Why is there is so much jealousy in marriage?

My late husband used to call up some of his old girl friends and play records to them over the phone. So what? He knew these ladies before he knew me, and he could have married any one of them, but he married me instead, so what did I have to be jealous of?

This was a second marriage for both of us. I was a "girl" of 68, and he was a "kid" of 86. We both loved to dance, and he took me dancing three nights a week until he was 95. Then his doctor told him to cut it down to once a week so he did. He passed away at 97, and I sure do miss him.

I'm not complaining. We had eleven good years together, which we never would have had if we had been jealous of each other.

You can print this if you want to. It might teach something to those young folks who think if you're not jealous you're not in love. And you can sign it "Edna" because that's my real name.

EDNA
DEAR EDNA: thanks for a wonderful letter. You've brightened MY day.

CONFIDENTIAL TO JINNY: No need to feel phony. A good wife laughs at her husband's jokes — not because they're clever, but because SHE is.

Everyone has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A. Calif. 90069. Enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Calif. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Dr. McKenzie Speaks To Medical Auxiliaries

Child Study Club members here, Mrs. Margaret McKenzie, superintendent of Big Spring schools, tell his basic philosophy of education when the group met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. W. A. Riley. Mrs. Calvin Daniels was cohostess.

In sharing some of his goals for Big Spring, the speaker emphasized that the system should strive to have a personalized educative opportunity for every child.

He pointed out that to individualize in a system of a mass education is most difficult. He noted that teachers should become effective in creating high self-esteem in every student, for a child whose self-esteem is low loses hope and becomes a poor student.

In discussing the role of parents McKenzie urged that parents be well informed and brought to the club's attention new legislation that entitles parents to see permanent school records. The women will bring Christmas gifts for men and women patients at Big Spring State Hospital to the meeting Nov. 13 in the home of the president, Mrs. Bill Reynolds.

Rape Cases Here Less Than National Average

By JOHN EDWARDS
Either men are less aggressive, or women are more agreeable here than elsewhere in the nation.

Forcible rape is growing as a national problem, but officials in Big Spring say reports of the crime are infrequent here.

INCREASING IN U.S.
The FBI says there is one forcible rape in the United States every 10 minutes, and the total during the first six months of 1974 increased 10 per cent compared with the same period last year.

In the past 13 years, rape has increased 119 per cent, according to the FBI.

FBI statistics show 51,000 reported rapes in 1973, a total that works out to 47 rapes per 100,000 women.

This means slightly more than eight rapes per year is the average for 18,926 women, the female population of Howard County — according to the last census.

Police Chief Vance Chisum said his office has not been notified of a forcible rape this year.

RARE RAPE

"It's rare that we work a case out in this county," Sheriff A. N. Standard said. He felt this form of assault was more common in metropolitan areas.

The Howard County Sheriff's Office investigated that rare case early in the morning of Saturday, Sept. 21.

Rogelio Duran, 16, of Big Spring, has been certified as an adult for trial. He is charged with rape of a 23-year-old woman whose car was said forced off U.S. 87 some 10 miles north of Big Spring.

Bond for Duran, who remains in county jail, was set at $25,000 by Peace Justice Walter Grice.

Standard knew of only the one forcible rape in Howard County this year "even though I'm quite sure there've been other cases committed."

District Attorney Robert H. (Bob) Moore III said that was the only forcible rape case he has heard of while in office. Moore, who prosecutes in Howard, Martin and Glasscock Counties, took office Jan. 1, 1973.

Only one forcible rape indictment remains pending in Howard County. Larry Burklow is charged with this offense on April 1, 1971.

FILE BARE

Moore said his office files contain no statement from the victim. Former District Attorney Wayne Burns said, to the best of his memory, the case was presented directly to the grand jury, with no prior statement recorded.

George T. Thomas, attorney for Burklow, filed a motion on June 30, 1972, for taking a deposition from the alleged victim. District Judge Ralph W. Caton granted the motion, but Jerry Spence, the court reporter specified, said he had not taken the deposition.

Moore admitted conferring with the woman a couple of months ago, but said: "I don't even remember what we talked about. She called me."

D.A.: "NO"

Could a reporter see the statement from the latest alleged victim?

"If he (Moore) had no objections, I don't," Standard said. The sheriff mentioned the possibility of prejudicing potential jurors.

Moore simply said "no."

With longer tenure than Moore is District Judge Ralph Caton.

"I think I have only tried, before a jury, one (forcible rape case) in 15 years.

That was in Martin County. The defendant was accused of raping and murdering his grandmother, the rape possibly happened after the victim died. Tried for murder, not rape, the defendant was sentenced to life imprisonment.

Men may be convicted for statutory rape, or sexual intercourse with a youth under 17 years of age, even though the victim consents.

Proof the victim had "engaged promiscuously in sexual intercourse or deviate sexual intercourse" prior to the incident if she was 14 or older is a defense. Also, being within two years of the juvenile's age is a defense.

Statutory rape appears to be more common than forcible rape here. Caton could remember only one statutory rape case tried by jury, however.

MELON PATCH

The offense occurred in Glasscock County while a couple was crawling through a watermelon patch. A jury found the man guilty, and he was given a five-year suspended sentence.

Only one statutory rape indictment is pending in Howard County. Wilbert Earl Clemons, now 36 (and then a shoeshine man), was charged with an incident dated in February 1969.

In February 1973, Caton granted attorney Lanny Hamby a first continuance.

"Defendant's counsel talked with defendant for the first time in almost three years yesterday for a short time," the motion stated.

"Defendant has not had a sufficient time to refresh himself as to the case and defense."

So far this year, police have been contacted about only one statutory rape,

Chief Chisum said. The parents of the assaulted girl decided not to have the case prosecuted.

'BACKED OFF'
Since becoming district attorney, Moore said he has been consulted about three statutory rapes involving juvenile girls.

After the parents of the girls learned about the requirements (the girl's testimony) they refused to proceed, he said.

The prosecutor mentioned investigating two attempted rapes of minor girls.

"Both times, the parents backed off," Moore said.

"In three of the five (statutory and attempted statutory rapes), it was not reported for over a month, and none of those was forcible," Moore said.

The mothers practically dragged their daughters up to his third-floor office, Moore said.

'CONSTANT CALLS'

Caton said he has "constant calls" — "one was 30 minutes ago" — from parents requesting court orders permitting their daughters under 16 to marry.

If the boy or girl is under 16, a district judge may grant permission for marriage.

'Grease'

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The popular '50s rock 'n' roll musical "Grease," which is enjoying a successful run in San Francisco, was so named because of the hair preparations used by teenagers of that era.

It is no wonder then that in Mexico the musical was tagged "Vaseline."

Bum Affidavit Flips Conviction

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — A three-judge panel of the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, citing the vagueness of an affidavit requesting a search warrant, has overturned the conviction of an alleged drug pusher.

Government attorneys told the court the Drug Enforcement Agency in El Paso, Tex., used information supplied by an informant as the basis for a search warrant to search the home of Alfonso Acosta.

During the search the DEA agents found one and one-quarter ounces of heroin.

Judges Elbert P. Tuttle of Atlanta and John Minor Wisdom of New Orleans Thursday reversed the ruling of a Texas federal court that convicted Acosta.

The majority opinion said, "The affidavit on its face fails adequately to set out facts sufficient to enable an impartial magistrate to conclude that probable cause existed to permit issuance of a search warrant."

Circuit Court Judge Thomas Gibbs Gee dissented.

"The results reached by the majority seems to me very grievous," he said.

"Under it (the decision) a rather high-level heroin dealer—not a mere street pusher—goes free, unpunished and as a practical matter likely unpunishable, for acts in which he was caught red-handed."

Hit Amnesty

LAMESA — The Disabled American Veterans chapter No. 34 at Lamesa has gone on record strongly opposing amnesty to those who did not serve in the military when called.

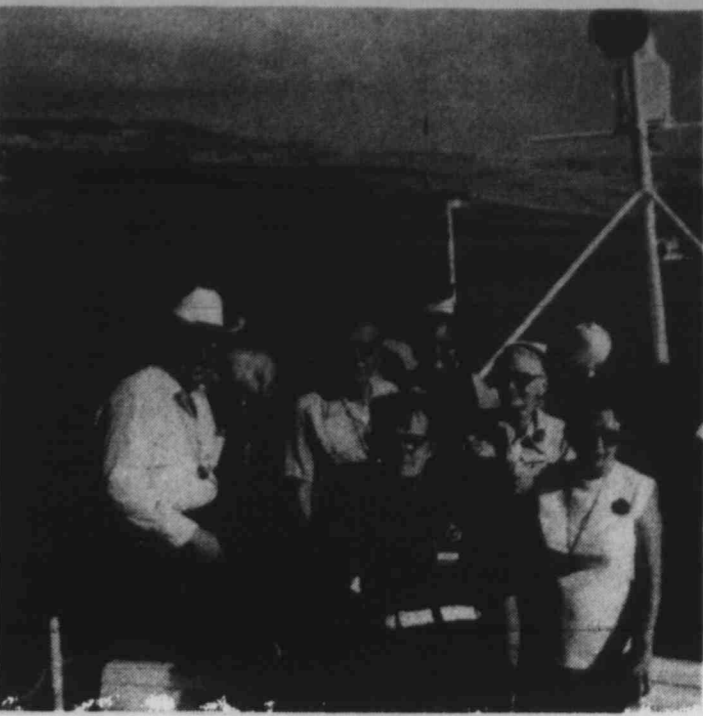

"Some (DAV) are veterans who left legs, arms in Germany and the South Pacific, and parts of their bodies in Vietnam," said the resolution. "While the overwhelming majority of us served with honor, others called upon sought not to accept their responsibility, abandoned their country or went underground, or chose to desert rather than discharge their sworn duties."

To grant amnesty of any kind to those draft dodgers and deserters... would be a gross injustice... to the sacrifice made by those of us who served and are still serving... We fully reject the fallacious notion that only those calling for amnesty have compassion; our compassion is reserved for those who fought for their families." The resolution reiterated a "total commitment to pursue the 'no amnesty doctrine' in appeals to members of the congressional delegation."

He Dug In

YUBA CITY, Calif. (AP) — As Mrs. Shirley Cartosdelli, wife of Sutter County undersheriff Frank C. Cartosdelli, drove down Yuba City streets recently, she wondered why everyone was pointing to her car and waving something other than a hello. When she got to her shopping center she discovered the reason.

In the luggage rack atop the car was the family cat. It was his favorite napping spot, but he didn't count on taking a ride. It took 10 minutes to pry him loose.

ON THE SEA OF GALILEE — Rev. and Mrs. Tommy Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Holder, Stuart Forest, Donnalita Cooksey and Pearl Mann are shown on a boat on the Sea of Galilee on their recent tour of the Holy Lands.

Local Group On Tour Of Holy Land Sites

A tour to the Holylands is the lifelong dream of many Christians.

Several local people of the Christ's Fellowship Center, located at FM 700 and E. Eleventh Place, have returned from a study trip to Israel. The study seminar was led by Dr. Roy Blizzard and his wife, Gloria. He spoke recently in Big Spring.

The tour included the areas around Jerusalem, Masada, the Dead Sea, Bethlehem, Samaria, Tiberias, the Sea of Galilee, the Golan Heights, coastal plains and Negev.

The trip lasted 15 days from Sept. 18-Oct. 2. Those going from Big Spring included Rev. and Mrs. Tommy D. Williams, Mr. and Mrs. William Holder, Stuart Forest, Pearl Mann and Donnalita Cooksey.

Purpose of the trip was to equip the scholars, minister,

Bible school teachers, Bible college students or church members with a thorough knowledge of the land of the Bible and the book of the land.

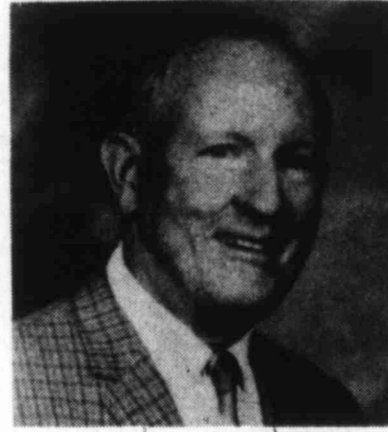

In Jerusalem, they visited the city as it once looked at the time of Jesus. They also drove to the Mount of Olives and visited the Garden of Gethsemane.

At Masada and Jerusalem, they went by Bethany, home of Mary, Martha and Lazarus to the Inn of the Good Samaritan. They also visited the Herod Royal Family, Rachel's tomb and the shepherds' field.

They also visited such places as the Cave of Machpelah, the site of the burial of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, Solomon's pools; and many other locations, each discussed in relation to the Scripture.

Bronson Revisits Harlem For Film

Charles Bronson used to be a New Yorker himself. When he abandoned working in the Pennsylvania coal mines for a career in the theatre, he came to New York and worked in various off-Broadway productions. He used to live on the upper west side where Harlem begins.

Recently Charles Bronson was back again on the same grounds. This time he was making a film called "Death Wish" now being screened at the Cinema, in which he plays a typical New Yorker who, when his wife and daughter are savaged by muggers, sets himself up as bait for mugging. And when the muggers attack, he shoots them dead. By the film's end he has killed a score or more.

"I know this part of New York very well," Bronson reminisced on location. "You see sometimes there were long periods where there was no acting work to be had. I remember at Christmastime

I could always get a job at the post office — delivering special delivery letters and packages. My beat was Harlem. I didn't know how people had to live up there.

"It seemed simple. You'd have a name and an address where the party was supposed to live. But when you came there you'd find that many people with different names all lived in the same apartment. And half the time they'd moved on to some other address, usually in some other part of Harlem. And so you'd have to go on and try to find them."

Harlem knows Charles Bronson, too. One "Death Wish" sequence takes place at 126th Street and Broadway and another in Riverside Park in Harlem.

DOG MUST GO — Cynthia Smith, who portrays Cindy in "Benji," sobs as she gives Benji a goodbye hug. Her father told her the dog must go. "Benji" (G) is now being shown at the Ritz Theatre. The film was shot in and around McKinney, Texas.

Soviets Applaud Nashville Music

MOSCOW (AP) — A Communist youth publication today characterized a country music show headed by Tennessee Ernie Ford as a bright portrayal of working America's folk music tradition.

"This is a bright show with a precisely adjusted tempo, listening to which does not blind one but softly depicts the characters appearing on the stage," wrote the Komsomolskaya Pravda reviewer. The newspaper is the organ of the Communist Youth Organization.

The 23-member troupe from Opryland in Nashville, Tenn., mostly sings about American cowboys, miners and railroad workers.

It opened Monday night in Moscow after a three-week tour of four other Soviet cities. The tour will end Friday, and the group will fly home Sunday.

Singer Tired But On Scene

TOKYO (AP) — Soprano Maria Callas finally has arrived for a Japan concert tour postponed because of illness in May.

She told newsmen Thursday, "I'm still a little tired and a bit thinner but we're here at last."

Miss Callas, who will sing with Italian tenor Giuseppe DiStefano, said she is much better now and "I would have been very unhappy if I couldn't come. I know the Japanese are great lovers of music and singing."

After a nine-year absence from the opera stage because of her health, Miss Callas began singing again last November. She was touring in the United States when she became ill.

NEW YORK (AP) — NBC's hit "Sanford and Son" and "Chico and the Man" comedy series, which appear back to back on Friday nights, were last week's most popular entertainment shows, according to the A. C. Nielsen ratings.

But ABC's entire Friday and Saturday night lineup—seven series in all—continued to score the lowest ratings points, with "The New Land" ranked last for the fourth straight week, according to the Nielsen survey made public Tuesday.

Sex Education Methods In Sweden Are Studied

STOCKHOLM (AP) — Some 40 American health educators went to Uppsala, Sweden, this past summer to study sex education. Swedish, looking not for sin which is always there in the eye of the beholder but for advice on how to teach the controversial subject. Sweden is one of the very few countries in the world where sex education is compulsory from the first grade when the child is 7 and up.

"I was surprised to learn that the Swedes are not as uninhibited in sex matters as we were made to believe back home," said the Rev. William R. Grosh from University of Hawaii.

MORE LIBERAL

"But it is true, though, that both the government and the people here seem to have more liberal ideas about sex than we. They don't fuss so much about it."

The Rev. M. Grosh is Episcopalian campus minister at a community college in Hawaii and he teaches human sexuality "with the bishop's permission."

Steve Sloan from Paducah, Ky., graduate student at New York University NYU, was disappointed.

"No beautiful Swedish blondes swarmed around me when I arrived. The image of Swedish Sin in the United States has proved wrong — but the Swedes do seem more liberal in their attitudes towards sex. There's not so much talk about it," he said.

The eight-week, 13-credit course, labeled the NYU graduate study of human sexuality, marriage and family life in Sweden, was located in this faraway corner of Europe because "Sweden provides a particularly interesting laboratory since its industrial progress has developed all the illnesses of advanced societies," said NYU professor Dr. Marian Hamburg, director of the human sexuality program.

She conducted the first half of the course in Uppsala. "Sweden has pioneered in health care as well as programs of early sex education," she added.

Sex education has been taught in Swedish schools for more than 20 years and was made compulsory in 1956.

OPPOSITE VIEWS

Those opposed to sex education at the time said, as they do in the United States and elsewhere now, that it would encourage license and that young people would not marry as they could enjoy sex anyway. They maintained the new generation would not want to bother with children, and venereal diseases would spread like wildfire.

But the reality seems to be different. So far, there have been no signs of family life being destroyed in Sweden. In fact, the latest vogue among the youngsters is to have a real wedding. A study made at Stockholm University in 1967 showed that 80-85 per cent of the girls thought it right to have intercourse only if one was in love. Roughly half the boys asked agreed.

VD has undeniably increased, particularly gonorrhea, but that is a global phenomenon.

The NYU students, however, this summer found out that the ambitious sex education programs do not always work out well. Teachers are frequently not adequately prepared to deliver such education despite the elaborate government instruction.

"The teacher is the key to a sensible sex education," said Ronald Moglia of Philadelphia, Pa., who himself trains teachers in health education.

Older Japanese Are Breaking Traditions

TOKYO (AP) — Quarreling with the kids and crowding in tiny apartments are problems that confront many old people in Japan, but not Mrs. Asa Koizumi, one of the few Japanese living in an old people's home.

She is typical of a growing number of Japanese who are breaking with the traditional Asian custom which demands that aged parents live with their children.

The changing attitudes between generations often make it hard for old and young Japanese to get along together. And, as in the case of Mrs. Loizumi, there isn't enough room in many crowded apartments for the elderly.

MORE PRESSURE

Japan's population is aging with unusual speed and the trend is expected to put more pressure on the government for improved welfare programs while burdening the economy with more nonproductive consumers. Both the political and economic changes are expected to be profound, according to various experts.

Mrs. Koizumi is an 83-year-old grandmother with deep wrinkles and strong, steady hands. She is healthy and able to move easily about her modest traditional straw-mat room and the various buildings where she lives at the Shisei Old People's home. It is in Tachikawa, a city on the western outskirts of Tokyo.

The widow moved into the home 10 years ago. Before that she had been living with her eldest son, his wife and their two children in a three-room apartment in Hachioji west of Tachikawa. The apartment's biggest room was only about 8-by-10 feet and the smallest of the three rooms was like a walk-in closet in a Western home.

"My grandson got bigger, so I gave up my space to the children," she said. "But I'm very happy here... and I'd like to stay."

She said she thinks that it is the duty of children to take care of their parents, but she is not sure that means they must live in the same home.

GOREN ON BRIDGE

Dear Mr. Goren:

Q.—Would you comment on the bidding of both East and West? Both sides vulnerable, North-South have 60 on score.

West	East
♦ J x x x	♦ x x
♥ x x x	♥ A K x
♦ x x x	♦ K Q x x
♣ x x x	♣ A K x x

The bidding:
North East South West
1♥ Dble. 1♦ Pass
Pass Dble. Pass Pass
Pass

The hand caused considerable discussion at our bridge club.—R. R. Raymond, Naperville, Ill.

[This question has been awarded the weekly prize.

A.—I find East entirely without fault. He was too strong to overcall one no trump at his first turn, since that shows the equivalent of a one no trump opening bid. Since West has not yet bid, East's second double is still for takeout. Now, it asks West to bid his better minor, and West should heed his partner and bid two clubs. His not to reason why... To pass is to invite the opponents to wrap up the rubber, perhaps with one or two doubled overtricks.

Q.—South opened the bidding with one club and West overcalled two hearts. Is this a strong bid or a preempt?—Naomi Peer, El Paso, Texas

A.—That depends on partnership agreement. For many years, a jump overcall showed an extremely strong hand. In recent years, however, more and more players are adopting weak jump overcalls, especially in tournament play. Suit your own preference as to which way you want to play it, but partner must know what you are doing. Also, the opponents are entitled to know whether you are using weak or strong jump overcalls.

Q.—Can you defeat 4♦ on this hand:

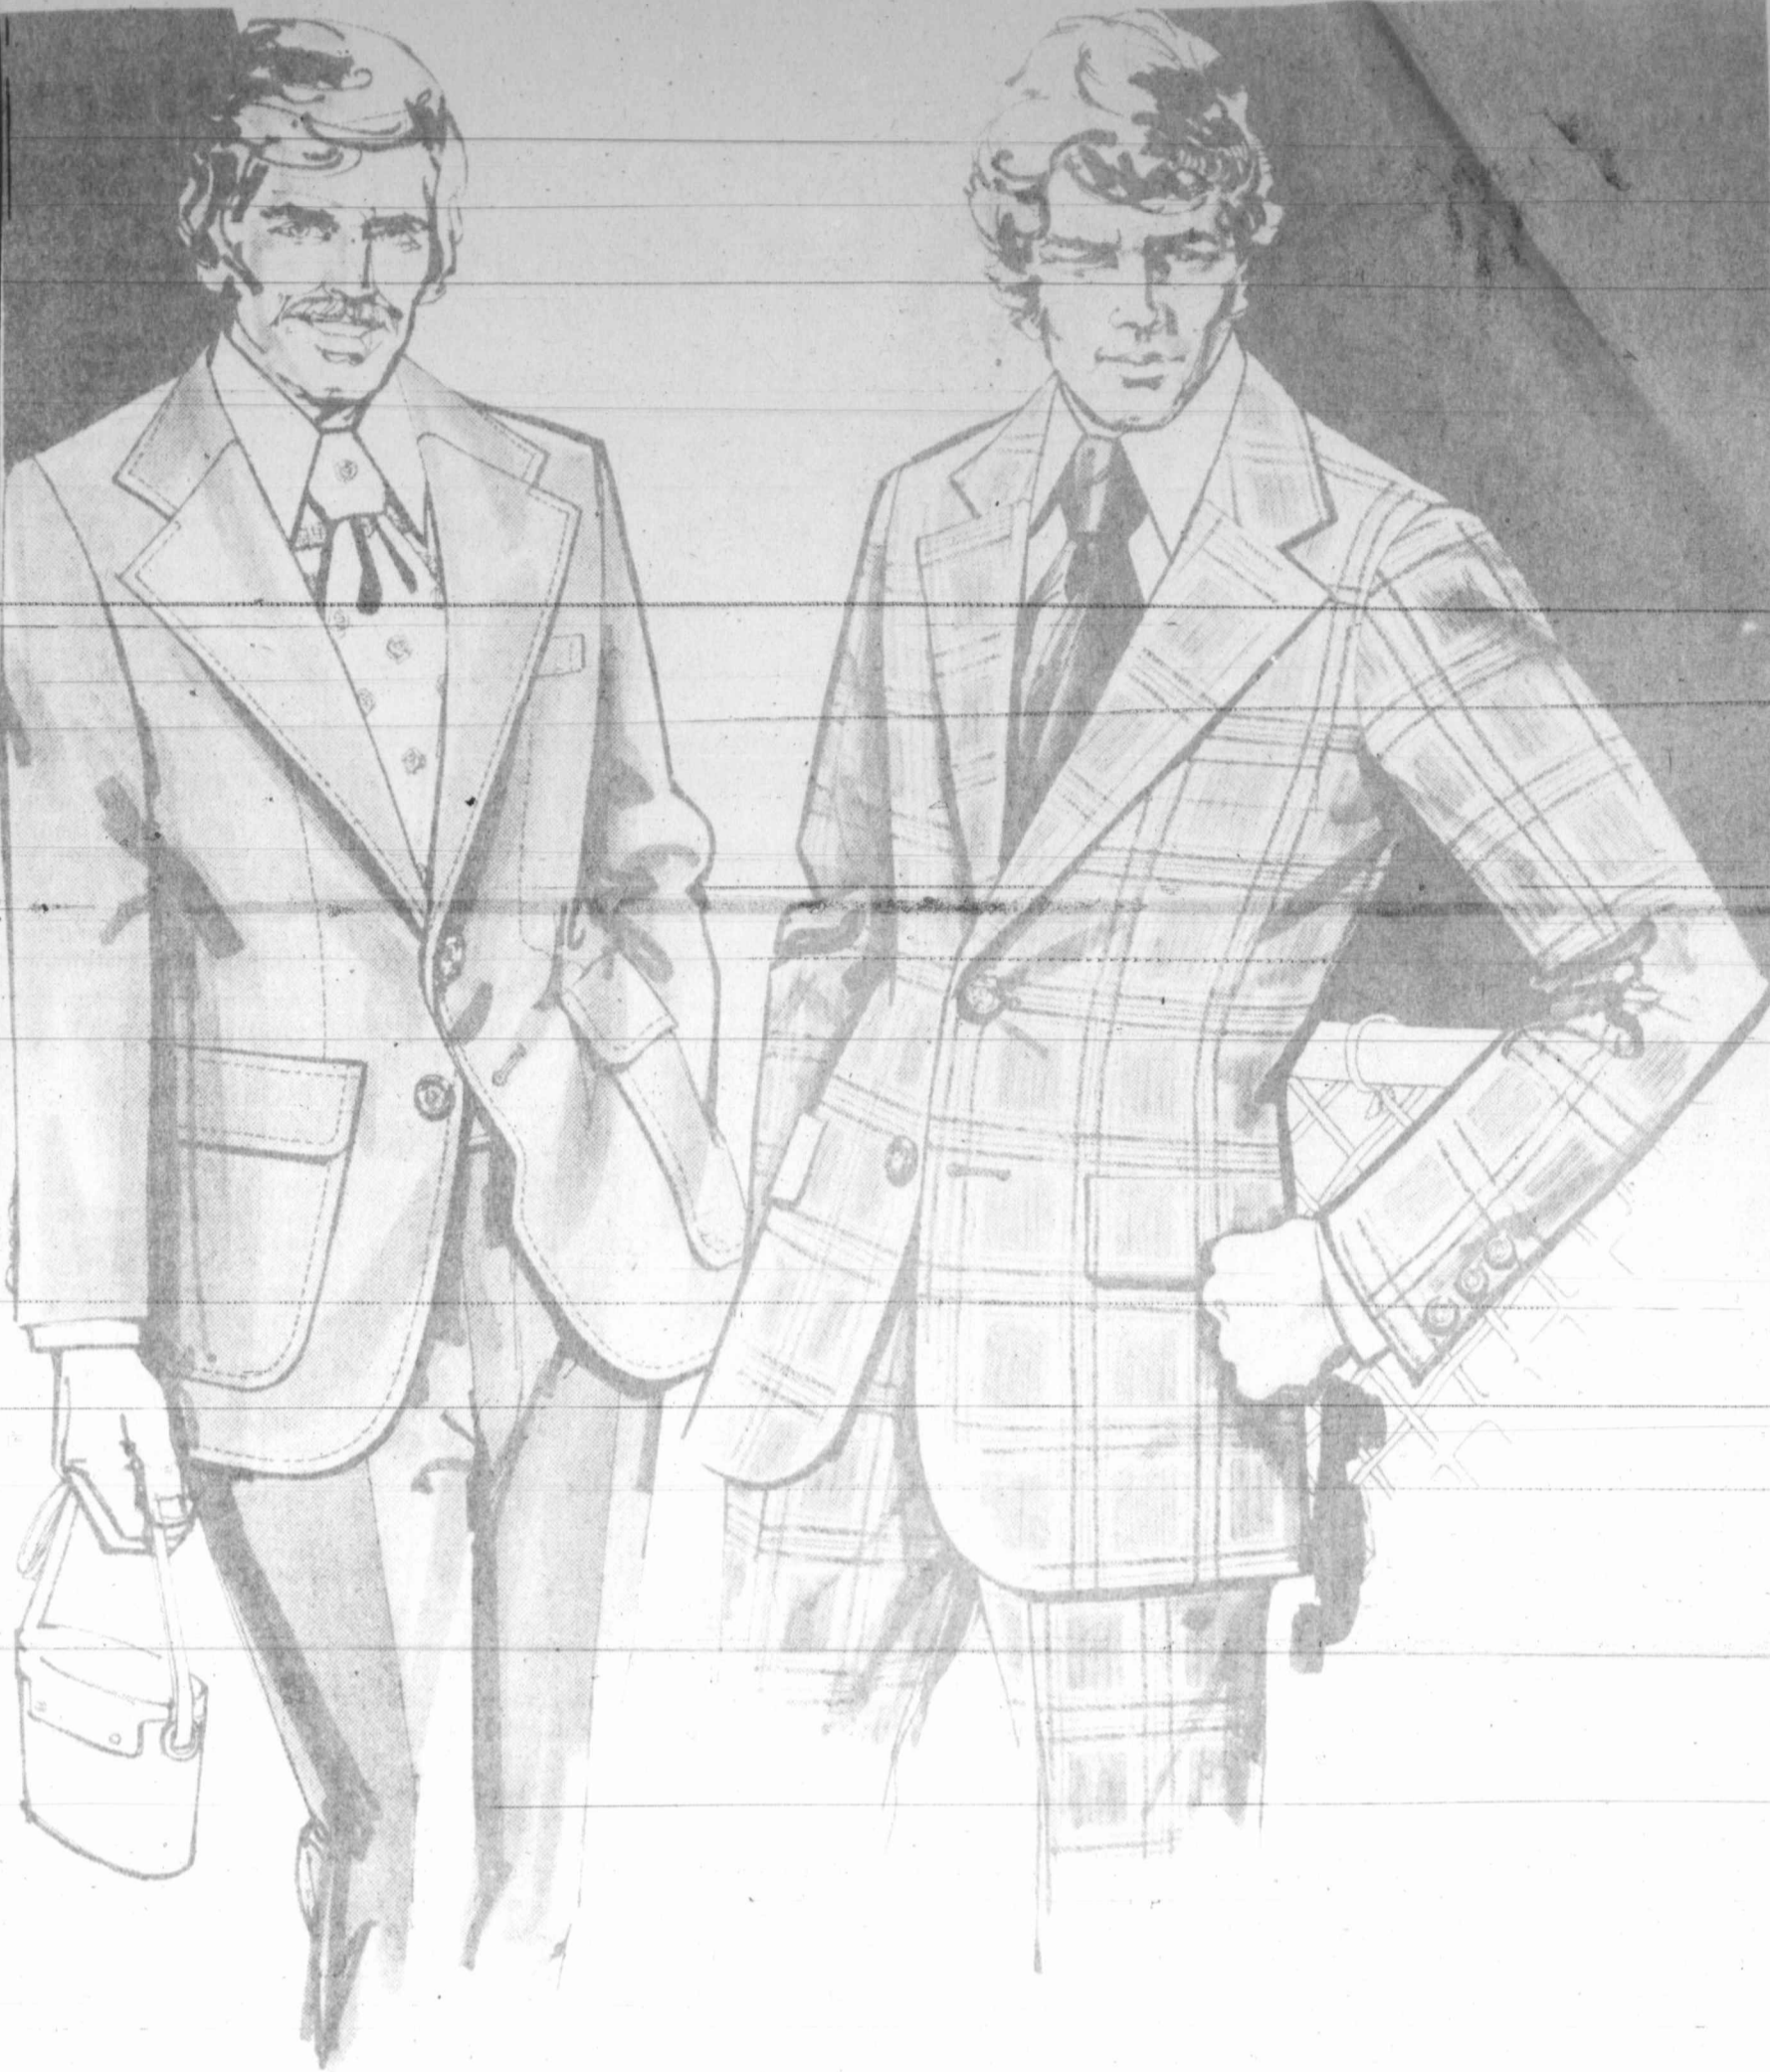

♦ 8 5 4	♦ J 3
♥ J 5 2	♥ A 9 6 3
♦ A K Q 6	♦ 10 7 5
♦ 8 5 4	♦ J 10 7 6
♦ K Q 10	♦ A 9 7 6 2
♥ K 10 8 4	♥ Q 7
♦ J 9 8 2	♦ 4 3
♦ 9 2	♦ A K Q 3

West led two of diamonds. J. Marshall, New Haven, Conn.

A.—After the fortunate diamond lead, there is no way to beat the hand if declarer plays properly. Declarer must play four rounds of diamonds, discarding both his losing hearts. West wins and shifts to a heart, which declarer ruffs. Now he can duck a spade, win any return, cash the ace of spades, leaving a high trump out, and play clubs. West can make only a trump trick, since the fourth club can be ruffed in dummy.

Note that, if declarer fails to play a fourth diamond to discard his queen of hearts, he can be defeated. If he ducks a spade, West wins, cashes the king of hearts and then plays the jack of diamonds. East ruffs this with the jack of spades, upcutting declarer who must overruff with the ace and so set up two trump tricks for West. It is no better if declarer plays ace and another spade after three rounds of diamonds. West wins and leads a third spade, and declarer has a losing club that he cannot handle.
