GAINES COUNTY SINGING CONVENTION A SUCCESS

The Gaines county singing convention held in Seagraves at the First Baptist church, Sunday, was pronounced one of the most successful sessions held in the county. There were several hundred persons from far and near in attendance and most excellent vocal music was rendered by talented singers.

The crowd was well cared for in an orderly manner and an abundance of good things to eat was spread in the basement of the church. A young yearling was slaughtered for the occasion and with other additional food too numerous to mention, no one went away hungry. It is estimated that more than 500 persons partook of the feast.

The next session of the convention will meet in the Loop community the 5th Sunday in March, 1925.

The following officers were elected: R. N. Shelton, president; E. D. Farris, vice-president.—The Seagraves Progress.

REV. ATTICUS WEBB TO SPEAK HERE TUESDAY NITE

Rev. Atticus Webb, superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, of Texas, will address the people of Brownfield at the First Baptist Church auditorium, Tuesday night, Dec. 16th. Rev. Webb is said to be one of the best platform speakers in Texas, and he has a unique message for the citizenship of Brownfield and Terry county, and whether you agree with him or not, it is said that he will at least entertain you as few public orators do or can.

The lecture will be accompanied by stereopticon slides.

Remember the date and place and be on hand.

THREE INCH SNOW FELL HERE TUESDAY

Terry county was becoming real dry and the streets and roads had become a dust muck and disagreeable to travel over, and every wind filled the air with dust, until a snow, which melted fast at first, fell here all day Tuesday, amounting to about three inches.

Besides putting better spirits in the people, it will also have the added effect of helping the roads and the streets for awhile.

The thermometer also took a tumble downward, and we are having real holiday weather.

Hurrah!! Christmas Is Coming

52 CARS OF MERCHANDISE HERE AT ONE TIME

By-actual count one day last week there was on the sidings at Brownfield to be unloaded 53 cars of merchandise, building and fencing material, etc., and local draymen were working day and night to keep down demurrage. This has been the case for the past several weeks, and the congestion grows greater as the holidays approach.

Something like two-thirds of the freight cars on this branch that leave Lubbock are unloaded in Brownfield. This gives one a fair insight of the business that is being done here, and we understand the Santa Fe has under consideration building additional sidings here to take care of the rush of business, as it is a problem with the switchmen to find room for the cars to be parked here.

As a consequence of the rush of business here and other places along the line, the train is usually from two to four hours late. The Santa Fe should be asked to put in a switch engine at Lubbock during the fall rush, and then if there were no results, apply to the railroad commission for relief.

MARRIED

Mr. Redford Smith, local contractor, and Miss Dora Daugherty, one of Winkler's very efficient clerks put one over on their many friends by becoming husband and wife last Saturday night.

Mr. Smith has been a citizen of Brownfield a little more than a year, and has made many close friends. Miss Daugherty was among Terry's first families, and is therefore well known and her friends here are legion. May their married life be long and happy.

ENGINEER HERE INSTALLING NEW LIGHT PLANT ENGINE

An engineer from the Fairbanks-Morse Company, is here this week installing the new 100 horse power engine purchased some time ago by the city council. The engineer thinks he will have the new engine going in about ten days, and when it does, there will be no lack of light and power for some time.

However, scores of houses are now ready to be tied in, and have been denied service for the reason that the 75 horse power was already overloaded.

We have heard some remark that the little 75 horse power engine was about done for, but the Fairbanks-Morse engineer has a different opinion of the matter. He says it is for all purposes practically as good as it was the day it was installed. On his opinion in the matter, will just say that the company have offered the city council the price of a new 75-horse power engine in trade for it on a new 150 horse power engine.

We learn that the city council has this trade under advisement now, and we are of the opinion that their business judgment will lead them to close the deal for they have seen the municipal plant grow from nothing to a paying proposition, and become overloaded with business hardly before they realized it, and before they could get a heavier engine.

With the present business and the scores of other business, and residences to be tied in for lights, and those installing motors for this or that purpose, the capacity of the 75 and 100 horse engines will have been reached by directly after the first of the year, and the sooner they trade for the 150 horse power engine the better the service they can maintain. Service is what people want, and what they demand.

TEXTILE BUILDING FOR TECK UNDER CONSTRUCTION

James T. Taylor, contractor, has made good progress in laying the foundation for the Textile and Engineering building for the Texas Technological College, and a large force of workmen are kept busy further advancing the building program. The building is 81x218 feet, and is built along the same plan of architecture as the administration building, which is also under construction at this time.

The progress that has been made during the past few months on the college buildings is a credit to the building committee and the board of regents as well as the contractor, and all indications are that the college system will be well developed for the opening of the term in Sept. 1925.—Lubbock Avalanche.

CHAS. METCALFE FILLS PULPIT AT CHURCH OF C

Elder Chas. E. Metcalfe, of Lubbock filled the pulpit at the Church of Christ Sunday and Sunday night for the first time in about three or four years. His many friends here were glad of this accidental means of hearing him again, as he was really due at Johnson school house, but because of the inclemency of the weather, and his poor health, he was unable to get out there. He was unable to preach Sunday night on account of a bad throat condition, but said a few words of encouragements to the audience, and thanked them for coming out.

On Monday night the church had Elder J. H. Lawson, of Houston, with them, traveling or field, supt. of the Tipton Ophans Home, of Tipton, Okla. Bro. Lawson is the right man for the place, as this line of work seems to be his second nature. Besides his own seven children, he has raised three orphan children. He is also fitted to the work on account of previous experience in organization work, having had charge of the Camp Bowie Tabernacle during the war, and later field man for the University of Texas Bible Chair at Austin.

Though but a few heard him, his talk was pronounced one of the best of its kind ever delivered in Brownfield Church of Christ.

Owing to inclemency of the weather Elder J. H. Lawson was unable to make his appointments at Gomez and Meadow the first of the week and will preach here Sunday morning, at Gomez about 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon and at Meadow Sunday night. All are invited to hear this splendid speaker.

THE 1924 NEEDLE CLUB

The 1924 Needle Club met with Mrs. Brothers Nov. 28th. The afternoon was spent in making gifts of all kinds.

The hostess served sandwiches, tea and cake to the following members and guests: Mmes. Jones, Holgate, Ditto, Collier, Longbrake, Scudday, Kendrick, Gracey, Johnston.

The next meeting of the club will be with Mrs. Carver Dec. 12, 1924.—Reporter.

MAX BENTLY, STAR-TELEGRAM WRITER HERE MON.

One of the greatest boosters for West Texas and especially the South Plains, in all west Texas, not excepting many of the natives, is Mr. Max Bently, of Abilene, and special writer and staff correspondent of the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, was in our city most of Monday afternoon gathering data for a special article about Brownfield and Terry county. It is also not out of place to mention here that the paper he writes for has no superior as a west Texas booster.

Mr. Bently visited our banking and other institutions and found that a rise of $1,100,000.00 was on deposit in the Brownfield banks, and that the gains were running day and night and that there was six of them.

He also visited the Herald office and statistics and official weather and rain data had to be shown him to convince him that our big cotton and feed crop was made on less than 8 inches of rain in 1924. Bently remarked that this record was the best advertising that we could possibly give him, and he frankly admitted he did not believe another country existed that could duplicate the record. He said it was nothing less than remarkable, and that while he expected few people in the east to believe it, he was going to broadcast it thru the columns of the Telegram anyway.

He was however informed that we had good fall rains last year which left a good season to start the 1924 crop off right, and the fact that no rainfall runs off in creeks, branches or lakes here, and that our genuine clay subsoil retains moisture like a jug, overlaid with our sandy loam mulch, accounts for the fact that we can beat the world on producing with a shy rainfall.

CALIFORNIAN GLAD TO HEAR OF OUR PROGRESS

Los Angeles, Dec. 5.—"I am in receipt weekly of your interesting and welcome paper. It is very pleasing to observe the steady and rapid march of progress in the conquest of those almost boundless plains in the midst of which you dwell, and where the youthful Brownfield grows and thrives as queen of the prairie. What herculean tasks the pioneers of a new country must face? And how deserving they are of consideration and honor, who blaze the trails and open the highways: plant schools and churches, and build the first rude homes of a civilization, which is soon to follow, and enjoy those things which the "path-finders" made possible.

It has been my privilege to have an intimate knowledge of this kind of life: first in the northern wilds of the state of Indiana, and later in the opening up of the Oklahoma country—and have long felt that the first settlers of a new country should be pensioned for the service they rendered and the hardships they endured. Do I think of the heroic men and women who are now so bravely making conquest of the almost limitless plains of Texas. What an empire is there! What untold wealth! What happy homes!

May the good people who have part in this conquest live long to enjoy the fruits of their labors. Please find my check for $1.50 for another year with the Herald.

Faithfully and truly,
D. D. DeLong

CONFEDERATES TO GET MONEY IN 1926

Austin.—Answering a bombardment of questions from lawyers and Confederate veterans as to when the new pension amendment becomes effective, Comptroller Smith today announced no payments would be available until 1926.

The amendment changes the date of residence from 1900 to 1910, permitting claims to persons who become citizens prior to that date. Widows who married veterans prior to 1910 also are eligible.

This change must be ratified by the legislature and the additional tax provided for must be levied and collected, which makes it improbable any money will be available before 1926, Smith said.

Pension warrants for the current quarter are now being mailed so the veterans will have their money for Thanksgiving. The allotment this time is $35, except for veterans in the State Home, who get $17.50. About 13,000 claimants will be paid.

BROWNFIELD MERCHANTS FIXED FOR CHRISTMAS

Not in the history of the town has anything like the preparations been made before to provide suitable and appropriate gifts for all, rich and poor, old and young, big and little, as our merchants have prepared for them this season. The markets of the country have been invaded, and heavy purchases made in keeping with any demand that might be made on them, and as a result there is an array of holiday goods here this season that would do credit to a town many times the size of Brownfield.

All they are asking is that you give them a chance to show their holiday stock; compare their prices with those of any town or any mail order catalogue, and they believe they can convince you that it is cheaper and better for you to buy what you want at home. You see just what you are buying and you run no chance whatever in having your package that you have ordered delayed or smashed in the Christmas mail rush.

The Herald advises its readers to see the Brownfield merchants early for their holiday purchases, and you run no risk whatever in being disappointed in them either in the price or quality.

Do your Christmas Shopping at home and do it early.

I. H. HUDSON HAS GATHERED 45 BALES OF COTTON

Mrs. I. H. Hudson, of the Johnson community was in one day last week to renew her paper and informed us that they had already gathered 48 bales of cotton this year and expected to get between 55 and 60 bales in the final wind up.

Asked if they had made plenty of feed on the farm, Mrs. Hudson remarked that cotton was their secondary crop, and that they always tried to make sure on the feed proposition. She said they had lots of feed for all their stock, and had no fear of having to buy anything like that with their $7,000.00 cotton crop.

Mrs. Hudson, to our notion has the right idea about this matter. The idea of working hard all year making and harvesting a big cotton crop only to have to spend it for high priced feed the next year is nothing short of foolishness. When feeds of all kinds are so easily produced here.

ROAD EAST MUCH IMPROVED ACROSS TEXAS

Considerable local interest is being taken on the big improvements being made on the road by Terry county, Texas. The stretch of road from Brownfield east to the Lynn county line has not been as good as the other roads in that county, but Terry county has met the need and is now making a splendid graded highway out of it.

The Roswell Chamber of Commerce has been in touch with the communities in West Texas along this highway and the news of the improvement is very welcome here. The highway is coming to be one of the main thoroughfares of travel, and especially so since the summer travel has been developed from Texas to the Lincoln National Forest.

The good work being done now by Terry county means a big improvement on this highway and it certainly results in a greater volume of travel both for the communities over there and for Roswell—Roswell Record.

We stated in the columns of the Herald recently that Commissioners Cunningham and Barrett were responsible for the work referred to above, but have later learned that it was our two incoming commissioners, Messrs. W. E. Harred and W. F. Stewart, of No. 1 and 2, respectively, that advanced money they are to receive when they take office, for this important road building. The Herald is always willing to place honor where honor is due, and is glad to make this correction. Flowers for the living.

TOBACCO WILL GROW ON THE SOUTH PLAINS

O'Donnell, Texas.—That tobacco will grow here was proven when C. A. Baldwin planted a small plant of the long leaf variety on the first of August, and by the first of November the plant had reached a stage of maturity. The plant grew large and put on a heavy foliage and those who are posted on tobacco growing say that when properly cured, it will be equal to that grown anywhere.

LITTLEFIELD $30,000 HIGH SCHOOL BUILDING COMPLETE

Last Friday the new $30,000 high school building in Littlefield, was completed and formally accepted by the board of trustees. It is a magnificent structure, worthy to adorn the campus of a city of 100,000 population.

The new building is equipped with steam heat, electricity, inside toilets, hot and cold water, shower baths and with special rooms adapted for the teaching of domestic science, vocational agriculture, manual training, chemistry, music and commercial courses. There are sixteen rooms in the building, also a large auditorium and gymnasium.

The building will be occupied by the pupils next week, and it is planned to have a formal dedicatory service sometime about the middle of the coming month, the exact date not yet having been fixed.

Educational facilities is one subject that Littlefield has always stressed, and with her consolidated system of schooling she has one of which the entire community may well be proud. Occasionally one hears a derogatory remark, but in the main the excellence of local educational advantages are generally highly appreciated.—Littlefield News.

J. H. Hand and sister, Mrs. John Scott, of Abilene, came up last Thursday to visit contractor John Scott, who is erecting the two-story building for E. G. Alexander. Mr. Hand is just from China where he deals in stocks and bonds. He intimated that he had heard more about the Chinese war since he returned than when he was there.

C. C. Rose, farmer of the Union community has sold his land and is putting on a sale of his household goods and farm implements. He has gone about it in a business way by having plenty of large, attractive circulars struck, and a good ad in the Herald. We predict for him a very successful sale.

Americans have won unprecedented fame this year in international contests requiring supreme endurance, skill and courage. Their great victories in the Olympic games, in tennis, polo and practically every department of outdoor sport have demonstrated American superiority as never before. The crowing glory of their achievements was the successful completion of the flight of army airmen around the world, which has given their fellow citizens an intense thrill of pride and has won the admiration of all the nations of the earth.

Some sections are now witnessing a three cornered feud between prohibition officers, boot-leggers and hi-jackers. The hi-jacker holds up and robs the bootlegger and the enforcement officers are after both. Several innocent citizens have been shot recently by being mistaken for one or the other. All of them are entirely too handy with their pistols.

Remember the home merchants in the market for your holiday purchases.

That old one about "fighting duels" will be given to Ma Ferguson just the same as it was given to all her illustrious predecessors, and she is to say yes or no right before Pa Ferguson. But that old duel question applied to swords and pistols and not to rolling-pins and flat-irons.

Ma Ferguson reports that she is to put on a genuine house-cleaning at Austin when she takes charge in January. Well, that is nothing unusual. It is not even a precedent, for if we are not mistaken it was that immortal Democrat, Andrew Jackson, that started the fashion of calling out all off brands at the national capitol, and the custom soon drifted into all the state capitols, and the incoming conquerors delivered the pie to their own lieutenants. "To the victors belong the spoils."

Two men up at Littlefield the other day had, instead of a cotton picking contest, what they called a cotton snapping contest. One man by the name of Freeman, and who won the contest, pulled 1318 pounds, while his nearest competitor, W. W. Morton, snapped 1317 pounds. The owner of the cotton patch offered a ten dollar prize to the one who would pull the most, but when the two contestants ended so close together he made it twenty dollars and divided it equally among the two winners. Nine and one half hours of actual work was spent in gathering the cotton.—Crosbyton Review.

The West Texas Chamber of Commerce recently made protest through both the State and Federal departments of agriculture against the promiscuous shipping of cotton seed in from boll weevil infested areas, and they were surprised to receive replies from both departments to the effect that these pests would never bother west Texas. That these pests have been shipped in and have naturally flew in by the millions for the past 23 years, yet their depredations have never been noticed. The climate don't spit 'em and they just won't stay, says these experts. So far as the Herald is concerned, this is one immigrant that will never receive the invitation, "Come to Terry."

Editor Luke Roberts, of the Lovington (N.M.) Leader took his citizenship and official family to a gentle good editorial lashing last week over the prevalence of bootlegging in the city of Lovington and thereabouts. He inferred that the officers were either criminally negligent or the citizenship careless in supporting the officers in their official duties. Editor Roberts said it would not be quite so bad if the booze peddlers would only barter their wares to the old toppers, but that these criminals against the law were selling their vile stuff to school boys and girls. The Herald will say for the benefit of the juice hunters in Brownfield that the above is no advertisement from the Lovington booze hounds—we never saw any of them in our lives and have made no advertising contracts with them. But if you are in a big hurry to deliver your insurance to your much better half, go on over there and buy their stuff.

On account of the fact that he is unable to move his family to Seagraves for the time being, R. B. Haynes, proprietor of the Seagraves Signal has turned over the editorship and management of that journal to Albert L. Curry, of Tahoka, who has the following to say in his initial issue last week.

"In taking the editorship of the Seagraves Signal, we wish to say to the people of Seagraves and surrounding country, that we are glad to have the opportunity of coming here. We have had several years' experience in the newspaper business, and hope to give you the best paper possible. Mr. Haynes has published you a splendid paper since coming here three months ago, and we are sure his many friends will regret to see him give up active management of the paper. We want to meet you and get acquainted and with your assistance we expect to make the Signal one of the best papers published on the South Plains."

The Brownfield Herald and the Panhandle Herald are Plains newspapers which have recently erected homes for their plants and will hereafter put the rent check into income taxes. There is a lot of satisfaction in owning one's place of business as well as one's home and a majority of the Panhandle gang enjoy that satisfaction. A building erected especially for a newspaper plant is sure to be much more convenient, better lighted and more conducive to greater efficiency than one not planned for the business, and we congratulate Stricklin and Satterwhite upon this addition to their worldly possessions.—Southwest Plainsman.

It has been a long time, some 12 or 13 years since the Herald has paid any rents, being then in its own little rat-row, and though humble it was, we were proud of it, and appreciated it much more than a rented place where the landlord would forbid us cutting windows where we pleased. Just the same we appreciate the congratulations of the Plainsman, and assure it we are very, very proud of our new modern home.

A GROUP OF YOUNG FOOLS

The old saying that there is no fool like the old fool must be amended so as to except a group of young fools, acting in concert.

Picture the scene at Baton Rouge, La., last week, when the freshmen of the State University, after having their heads shaved by the upper classmen, invaded the local high school, cutting the hair of three female teachers and a number of students. The freshmen invaded the school during school hours, dragging boys and girls, screaming into the halls and yards where the tonsorial artists did their stuff.

In this action you have a remarkable exhibition of the insanity that often breaks out on a college campus. In every state, in every school, there are stories of similar foolish acts by the supposedly level headed and intelligent young people. It seems that once in awhile the strain of imbibing knowledge breaks the bounds of reason in the weakness of youthful bravado, and students forget the rights that are due others.

When you read of such outbreaks it is not hard to believe that some of the outrageous tales that follow in the wake of every country after a revolution. If educated young men act like half civilized Indians, without provocation from their victims, there is no telling what the people of this republic would do if they had a real cause.—Exchange.

W. P. Watts and son of Abernathy were down last week, and he reported that he had gathered 85 bales of cotton, and had told the folks that he did not believe we would print that. Sure we will; isn't Hale county on the great South Plains? Is there an imaginary line of prejudice to dense for us to see over between here and there? In fact the Herald has not tried to pick the largest crops in old Terry to report, if he had, he would certainly have interviewed a man last week who said he still had 150 bales in the field. In fact, we may do so yet when the time is ripe. Right now we are reporting those about done.

Will C. Brown, popular Johnson community farmer was in one day last week and had the Herald sent to his father at Cuero, Texas.

The bonds for waterworks at Jayton carried by a vote of 126 to 18.

FUTURE IS SAFE AS TO OUR FUEL AND ENERGY

Dr. E. R. Weidlein, director of the Mellon Institute for Industrial Research, told members of the American Gas Association recently that there is no need for alarm over the possible depletion of our known store houses of fuel and energy, but that science is rapidly developing new sources which would be utilized long before present supplies are exhausted. Natural gas will soon be higher priced and will be utilized for far more valuable purposes than it is being used today. Dr. Weidlein predicted.

There has been spent in the last two years something over six million dollars in plant equipment for the utilization of natural gas in an entirely different way," he said. "It is going to be made the basis of one of our great organic chemical industries. The manufactured gas industry which is redeeming the by-products and essential value of raw coal, offers innumerable opportunities for research work, because Dr. Weidlein said, "whenever we discover and utilize one particular by-product we have hundreds of other by-products as a result of that particular investigation which requires further investigation and utilization. It has been estimated that the contribution of the research laboratories in America at the present time is creating a half million dollars a year in new wealth. Materials that were formerly cast aside as waste are now being utilized. The productive capacity of the nation is greatly increased. Scientists are not nearly so much concerned with the statements of alarmists that the world is being impoverished and posterity embarrassed by the enormous consumption of our fuels, coal and petroleum. We feel that we will not long be handicapped, because of our knowledge already gained into energy changes of reacting chemicals and also the possibility of obtaining our motive fuel from sources not now utilized, and we are quite certain that these can be developed long before our present sources are exhausted."

This brings to mind the appalling fact that more than 85,000 Americans have been murdered during the last ten years. As the murder rate is increasing faster than the population, the next ten years may be expected to witness close to 150,000 of our people done to death in the same manner. Pistol toting, laxity of criminal procedure and too much liberality in granting paroles and pardons will continue to contribute to this growing result.

Free distribution of fifty million trees and shrubs to prairie farmers by the Canadian government during the past few years has proven to be a far sighted and beneficial public policy. This sort of paternalism accomplishes great good, without giving much opportunity for dishonesty.

HARRIS HAPPENINGS

By Sand Bur.

The Thanksgiving program and pie supper at the school house was enjoyed by all present. The program was well prepared and rendered, after which the pies were sold and eaten. The proceeds which amounted to about $15.00 will go to buy maps for the school.

J. A. Taylor spent Tuesday night with M. E. Ellington.

Mr. and Mrs. Raleigh Glimp ate Thanksgiving with the latter's sister, Mrs. Glenn Harris and family at Brownfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander and M. E. Ellington and family spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Harris.

The following persons enjoyed a turkey dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. S. T. Murphy, Sunday: Mrs. J. W. McDowell, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Check and daughters, Reta Mae, Marie and Louise and son Robert; Mrs. C. S. Jones and children, Wanda and Ray; Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Ellington and children, Eileen and Wayne; Winnie and Vivian Clare; Izella and Ardella Childers; Vivian Maroney and Wilburn Ham.

Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Alexander recently entertained the latter's brother, Lynn Harris and family from S. Dakota.

Mrs. Ham visited Mrs. Maroney one afternoon this week.

Mildred Ellington finished getting his cotton out this week.

MIDLAND & NORTHWESTERN ORDERED TO OPERATE.

The following letter from Clarence Gilmore, of Austin, one of the State Railroad Commissioners and addressed to a Seminole citizen is self explanatory:

"Under date of Nov. 10, this Commission issued an order directing the Texas & Pacific Railroad Co. to make repairs to the railroad formerly known as the Midland & Northwestern within 90 days from the date of the order, and further directing said Texas & Pacific Railway to operate this line after repairs ordered have been made.

The Texas & Pacific Railway Co. doubtlessly will strenuously oppose the enforcement of this order and probably litigate the matter with us as far as they may. The order that we have issued was approved by the Attorney General, and goes, we think, as far as we may, to bring about the results desired by you and other citizens dependent upon the Midland & Northwestern for transportation."

W. A. Bell, cashier of the First National Bank was called by wire last Thursday night to Mineral Wells to attend the sick bedside of his sister, Mrs. Ora Slater. A telegram since then from Mr. Bell states that his sister's condition is not at all satisfactory. Mrs. Slater is well known to many of the old timers here, having at one time held the position of bookkeeper in the Brownfield State Bank, who hope for her speedy recovery.

Legends of Gods and Goddesses in Hawaii

Near the city of Hilo, on the island of Hawaii, are the locally celebrated Rainbow falls, around which many legends center, says the Detroit News. One is that the goddess Hina lived underneath the falls in a cave and that the dragon Kuanoo tried to drown her by throwing up a dam below the falls. She called for aid to her son Maui, who at the time was trying to lasso the sun at a distant point because of the complaint by the natives of the shortness of the summer season. The fable has it that the son in his canoe crossed the ocean from a nearby island in two strokes and chased the dragon to what is known as the "Boiling Pots," where he threw red-hot stones into the water, scalded the monster and finally killed him.

The Naha stone, one of the historical relics of the Hawaiian islands, is found on the grounds of the Hilo public library. An old prophecy concerning the Naha stone was that he who could move it would be king of the island of Hawaii, but that to him who could overturn it would be given sovereignty over all the islands in the group. Kamehameha the Great, who finally conquered all the other islands, visited the island in his youth to test the efficacy of the prophecy, and, having succeeded in turning the stone, was so inspired that he entered upon the career which ended in the union of all the Hawaiian islands under his control. Native Hawaiians put full faith in the story as having been handed down to them from generations to the days of Kamehameha.

Dried Rice Fatal to One Household Pest

Whence do all the beetles, ants and flies come that swarm about the house, and particularly in the kitchen and larder? And what is the best way to get rid of them? These two questions are always very much in the minds of householders.

The first is not easy to answer. The intrusiveness of beetles and cockroaches is something uncanny. They are found down deep mines, and they appear in new ships the moment steam is raised. Wherever there is a moist heat there they come quickly.

The entry of ants into a house is often traceable to some opening near the ground, such as a ventilator. Moths come in through the open windows after the lamps are lighted. Windows closed or guarded by mosquito nettings after lighting up time should keep them out.

The ant is, of course, intelligent. But ground rice, it is said, finds his weakness. Sprinkle the rice in his track, and he will eat of it greedily. Then it swells within him and kills him. But the rice must not be thrown down on a wet floor or it will swell before he eats it, and he will come to no harm.

English Law a Paradox

One may be fined for stopping a dog fight or not stopping a dog fight. But the post office can record something even better, the Manchester Guardian relates. At a seaside town a man walked into a post office followed by a huge dog. A woman was already at the public counter, and she also had a dog. The two dogs began to fight.

The man did not attempt to interfere. He appealed to the girl assistant, who was on the safe side of the counter, to come over and part the combatants. She declined, very naturally. Eventually the turmoil ceased, and then the dog owner lodged a complaint with the postmaster that his subordinate had permitted confusion in the office and upset the public.

Famous Roman Monument

Trajan's column is a superb marble column in Trajan's forum at Rome, erected in 114 A. D., by the senate and the Roman people, to commemorate the victories of Emperor Trajan (98-117 A. D.) over the Dacians, the Kansas City Times tells us. It is 132 feet high and about 12 feet in diameter, and is constructed of 34 blocks of Carrara marble, adorned with sculptures in bas-relief. The summit, which is reached by a spiral staircase of 185 steps, was originally surmounted by a colossal gilded statue of the emperor; but this, having fallen to the ground, was replaced by Pope Sixtus V in the sixteenth century with one of St. Peter, 11 feet high. The ashes of Trajan rest beneath this column.

Financial or Otherwise?

The tongues of the gossips were busy in the suburban town, over the latest marriage. "Have you seen the bride?" asked one. "Has her husband any money?"

"I don't know about that," replied the other with some reluctance, "you know he didn't live here."

"Well," said the first speaker, "you know she said she never would marry a poor man."

"I know, my dear, but she hasn't been married a month, yet everybody is saying, 'poor man.'"

Freak Indian Ocean Island

Midway between Africa and Australia and about 1,500 miles north of the Antarctic circle, Kerguelen Island or Inosolation land, as it is called, presents one of the most perplexing mysteries of the Indian ocean. It is covered with strange vegetation unlike that found in any other part of the world. There are also millions of cabbage trees which bear large heads of leaves 18 to 20 inches across.—Popular Mechanics Magazine.

'Service' Is Our Motto

"What in the world did you mean by introducing me to Mr. Brown as your aunt?" inquired the mother with some wrath. "Forgive me, mother," said Dorothy, "but Mr. Brown seemed to be on the point of proposing and I felt that it would not do to take any risks. He has a strong prejudice against mothers-in-law."

The light plant at Tahoka broke down last week causing Editor Hill to have to chase off to Slaton to get the news printed.

Harry N. Stone, editor of the Seminole Sentinel came through Wednesday on his way to Lubbock where he had business.

W. M. Ball, Gordon, Texas, is here visiting his son, Rev. C. E. Ball. Mr. Ball has written some unique poetry about this country and addressed to a cousin back in Georgia that we have obtained permission to print in these columns next week. Watch for it next week.

Our forefathers fought against taxation without representation. We'd fight today if any foreign or domestic force should attempt to deprive us of the ballot. Yet in the last presidential election only 49 per cent of eligible citizens voted, and in many primary elections less than 25 per cent cast their ballots. This indifference to one of our fundamental civic duties is a menace to representative government. Those who deliberately disfranchise themselves are unworthy of citizenship.

Youthful murderers under sentence of death in various sections of the country are appealing for clemency in view of the escape of Leopold and Loeb from the gallows. If capital punishment is ever justified it certainly should have been meted out to the fiendish slayers of Bobby Franks. Poor, ignorant criminals deserve of some consideration when rich and highly educated ones are shown mercy. We should abolish capital punishment if there is no way whereby the law may be applied to rich and poor alike.

LEE CLARK OF GAINESVILLE, STATE TEACHER PRESIDENT

Fort Worth, Dec. 7.—Lee Clark of Gainesville was elected president of the Texas State Teachers Association at the election held Friday, in San Antonio during the association convention. He succeeds G. O. Clough, of Tyler, who planned the splendid program just closed at San Antonio. Clark is one of the best known school men in Texas, and has a record of building wherever he has been. Mr. Clark defeated J. H. Morgan, of Eagle Lake for the presidency in a hotly contested election. The men are close friends.

E. K. Barden, of Livingston, was elected to succeed Bonner Frizzell, of Palestine as first vice president; Miss Mary Nash, of Kaufman, succeeds Miss Mahmie Bastin, of Houston as second vice president; and Miss Stella Cole, of Breckenridge succeeds T. D. Brooks of Waco, as third vice president. R. T. Ellis continues as secretary-treasurer and Clough continues to serve on the executive committee as past president.

G. D. Staton of Canton was elected to succeed Miss Mary Nash, of Kaufman, as a member of the executive committee; L. V. Stockard, of Dallas, was elected to succeed Julius Dorsey, also of Dallas; Miss Harriett Smith, of Huntsville succeeds R. M. Wood, also of Huntsville; Miss Mary Carroll, of Corpus Christi, succeeds W. J. Knox, of San Antonio; Miss Clyde Duncan, of El Paso, succeeds Miss Lillian Haggitt, of El Paso; P. E. Shotwell, of Abilene, succeeds R. D. Green, of that city. Two other members of the executive committee, T. J. Yoe, of Brownsville and E. M. Day, of Gonzales, were elected to succeed themselves, they having been appointed during the past year to succeed resigned members.

The teachers carried out a program that will be far reaching in its influence in the subsequent history of public school development. All phases of school activity were discussed with a view of giving Texas the best possible school program.

El Paso, Dallas, Austin, Houston and Fort Worth invited the convention for 1925. The convention city will be selected in January by the executive committee.

LYNN COUNTY FARMERS TO SECURE PURE SEED

A. L. Robertson, county agent, and W. R. Lacey, teacher of agriculture in the Tahoka public schools, went to Lubbock Saturday to interview the superintendent of the United States Experiment Station there relative to procuring a supply of pure seed for the farmers of Lynn county. They succeeded in arranging for a limited supply of maize, dwarf kaffir, and Spur feterita seed. These seed are pure and of the finest quality that the experiment farm has been able to produce. Mr. Robertson will be glad to supply limited amounts at reasonable prices to all Lynn county farmers making requests for them.—Lynn County News.

Mr. M. E. Tarwater, of Columbus, N. M., is here visiting his son-in-law, G. G. Gore, who has been ill for some time. Mr. Tarwater was at Columbus when raided by Villa's outlaws, or at least a few miles out, and talks very interestingly of that affair.
